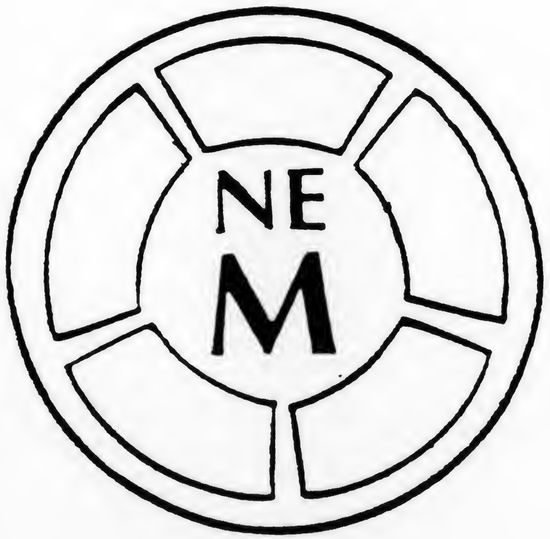
START

L.A.W. BULLETIN

ROLL CONTENTS



VOLUMES 4 - 6

ROLL NO. 2

MICROFILMED FROM COLLECTIONS IN BOSTON PUBLIC LIBRARY

MICROFILMED 1993

FILMED BY:

New England
Micrographics, inc.

344 Boston Post Road, Marlboro, MA 01752

1-800-433-4065

A C A

PM-PLN 11"x14"
PLANETARY PHOTOGRAPHIC

150mm

POINT SIZE

4 Z35lg Hq47j Su1xi Y5a5
6 Hg47j W9pa9 A7o7q Ge92
8 Su1xi 33q7n Oelvf 4ef8k
10 2xbiy Gmn0c Y5a5o E1t9g
12 7n34a K2b8t D6fmh 9ss9d
14 Wcuzl L1cdg 6Y3sl Okjdg

FUTURA

NEWS GOTHIC

14 K2b8t Okjdg 4ef8k Gmn0c
12 Zlo6x Ge92 7n34a 6Y3sl
10 Y0r8j A7o7q Oelvf 2xbiy
8 9ss9d L1cdg 33q7n E1t9g
6 Z35lg Hq47j Su1xi Y5a5
4 D6fmh Wcuzl Ljb7 W9pa9

POINT SIZE

1.0 1.1 1.25 1.4 1.6 1.8 2.0 2.2 2.5 2.8 3.2 3.6 4.0 4.5 5.0 5.6 6.3

4 CUTRO NZAU5 BYWCU ZLCD IZC6B
6 IZC6B U5M7P PN6SB OIKOG
8 XMBBO HWEKH XYAHQ SIDDS
10 VILNU MZHSF XMBBO HWEKH
12 6FRKM EB7AU FUDWM BOONF
14 C9E83 BI8AJ Z7QYI OKJDQ

POINT SIZE SANS SERIF (MICROFONT)

6"

Tlwh2 2h9oz bun3r Dm325
KP7yc Rho9t Umkh9 Eeafd
C6jfm Zm79a 3s431 rskrY
Oz7h9 B5e1P Wo8nk 8tizx

SERIF (BASKERVILLE)

New England Micrographics, inc.

344 BOSTON POST RD.
MARLBORO, MA. 01752
1-800-433-4065

B B

12X

VOLUME NO.

4

THE

L. A. W. BULLETIN:

A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA.

THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN.

VOLUME IV.

JANUARY 7, 1887, TO JULY 1, 1887.

BOSTON, MASS.:

ABBOT BASSETT, EDITOR AND PUBLISHER.

1887.

Sterling Elliott
June 13, 1895.
4 v. cont

PUBLIC LIBRARY
OF THE
CITY OF BOSTON

INDEX.

PAGE

Aaron, E. M., accepts 266
Aaron, E. M., removed 266
Aaron, E. E., resignation 30, 298
Aaron, to League Members 30
A Correction 164
Additional Representatives 335
Ah Fong 11
Annual Election 228, 248
Annual Meeting at St. Louis 395
Annual Meeting of Board of Officers 69
Annual Meeting Connecticut Division 466
Annual Tour Illinois Division 473
Appointments by President:
  Chief Consul of Pennsylvania 266
  Standing Committees 437
  Tourmaster 331
  J. A. Wells 30
Appointment of Consuls:
  California 96, 267
  Connecticut 418
  Illinois 228, 401, 437
  Indiana 267, 351
  Kentucky 228
  Louisana 366, 454
  Massachusetts 366
  Michigan 228, 437
  New Hampshire 454
  New York 166
  Ohio 350
  Pennsylvania 12, 74, 351, 418, 454
  Tennessee 481
  West Virginia 228
Appointment of Hotels:
  California 96
  Connecticut 147
  Colorado 266
  Kentucky 228
  Indiana 351
  Illinois 437
  Massachusetts 228
  Michigan 228
  Missouri 248, 298
  New Hampshire 154, 492
  New Jersey 96
  New York 166
  Ohio 350
  Pennsylvania 74
  Tennessee 418
  Virgina 186, 454
  Vermont 186, 492
Appointment of Representatives:
  California 437
  Connecticut 382
  Illinois 437
  In Iana 492
  Iowa 418
  Maryland 228
  Massachusetts 382, 437
  New Jersey 382
  New York 333
  Ohio 166
  Pennsylvania 350, 454
  Virginia 454
Appointments:
  Missouri Touring Board 248
  Racing Committee, Rhode Island 266
  Secretary-Treasurer, Ohio 306
  Secretary-Treasurer, New Jersey 306
Arkansas 434
A Talk About Bicycling 94
Ariel A-wheel 95, 488
Around the World 432
Assignment of Two-Mile State Championship, California 96
A Virginia Run 313
Banquet to President Kirkpatrick 431
Baltimore 45, 95
Bay City Wheelmen 24
Bicycle Loss and Repairs Company 451
Bicyclists Afloat 92
Boston Man in Philadelphia 92
Board of Officers Meeting 112, 143
Brooklyn to Montreal 382
British Notes 69
Brooklyn 28, 66, 325, 407, 486
Buffalo Notes 242
Business at New York Meeting 27
Calendars for 1887 7
California Championships 228
California Division 228
California Members 12
Central Park Bill 279
Central Traffic Association 350
Century Run 12
Change in By-Laws 147
Championship to California Division 96
Chief Consul Wells Removed 266
Chicago 278, 346, 487
Cincinnati 44
Clearfield 6
Club Secretaries 314
Coming Wheels 90
Connecticut Meet 418

PAGE

Connecticut Members 46, 220
Connecticut Road Laws 25
Contused and Lacerated Wounds 435
Correspondence:
  A Betting Book 244
  A Whopper 244
  Ball Heads 262, 329, 293, 279, 283
  Behavior 416, 365
  Big Feet 399
  Book on Approval 469
  Cheaper Wheels 5
  Chicago to Buffalo 434
  Coming Wheels 90
  Cost of Club Life 328
  Cost of Wheels 142
  Dr. Butler 207
  Election by Popular Vote 243
  Foreign Machines 401
  For the Members 125
  Harlem Wheelmen Records 142
  Information 32
  J. E. Harder 279
  Karl Kron's Book 263
  League Farms 469
  Massachusetts Road Book 469
  Memphis 382
  Michigan Chief Consul 193
  Mr. Clark's Nomination 279
  Mr. Luscomb Wanted 244
  Mr. Pontious Withdraws 163
  Nickel 262, 434
  New York Bicycle Club 5
  Nomination of Kirkpatrick 142
  Omaha's 149
  Pitman's Rug 185
  President 185
  Popular Vote 365
  Professionals 5
  Road Rollers 226
  Route from Chicago to Buffalo 379
  Sidewalks 365
  St. Joseph 365
  Southern Century 416
  Tangent or Direct Spokes 203, 329
  The BULLETIN 5, 280, 348
  The Owl 263
  The River Route 280
  Thomas Stevens 5
  Troughs 382
  Transportation 49
  Uniform 244, 3294
  Victory for Wheelmen 24
  Voice from Buffalo 185
  Winter Wheeling 32
Cow Boy Land 68
C. T. C. and L. A. W. Badges 7
Cycling Aphorisms 246
Cycling Dictionary 169
Daisie 182, 226, 261, 278, 294, 361, 377, 432, 468
Davenport 116
Detroit 451
District of Columbia Election 382
Dogged Ride 470
Down East Tourists 311
Dr. Blackham's Mail Vote 110
Ducker's Farewell 489
Ducker, Mr. 431
Election returns 332
Elizabeth Notes 295
English Tricycle Records 451
Editorials:
  Abolition of Amateur Clause 23
  Advertisers 261
  Advertising Receipts 345
  American Roads 429
  Amateur Rule 89
  Annual Election 141
  Assistance Fund 203
  Beats the Record 455
  Bicycling World 261, 361
  Board of Officers 309
  BULLETIN 3, 225, 261
  BULLETIN from Boston 181
  Citizen's Bicycle Club 225
  Clarksville Road Race 345
  Col. Pope 429
  Commissions on Advertising 161
  Comparisons 465
  Committee of Rights and Privileges 345
  Contracts 261
  Correspondents 141
  Cycle Racing 449
  Entrance Fees 309
  Figures 225
  Governor Hill 429
  Guide Board Bill 277
  Indiana Division 309
  John A. Wells 261
  League Clubs 89, 309
  League Meet 393
  League Office 297
  League Uniforms 89

PAGE

Liberty Bill 23
Mail Vote 261
Massachusetts 89
Medium of Communication 23
Meeting at St. Louis 23
Membership 449
Money 345
Mr. Holly 261
Mr. Shriver 241, 285
New Secretary-Editor 65
New Jersey Association 293
New York Meeting 23, 65
New York Road Book 377
Pictures 413
Pennsylvania 181
Proxy Voting 361
Racing 277, 485
Racing Board 309
Racing Rules 309
Renewals 89
Reorganization 449
Resignation 23
Renton Case 226
Reduced Rates 293
Riding Sidewalks 429, 485
Road Racing 413
Rowdyism 377
Secession 405
St. Louis 377, 393
Stenographer's Report 161
Sunday Riding 325
The League 261, 293
The Liberty Bill 485
The Owl 325
Tickets 345
To Club Secretaries 89
European Roads 93
European Trip 142
Fashion in Uniforms 96
Financial Statement 252
First of the Season 226
Flushing 380
From Credential Committee 207
Fort Wayne 44
Half a Million Cyclists 401
Hand Books 75
Health Precautions 435
Hearing at Albany 465
Hotels at St. Louis 298
H. S. Owen's Birthday 380
Hum of the Hub 8, 27
Ideran's New Home 295
Illinois Election 366
Illinois Division 208, 454
Indiana Chief Consul 97
Indiana Tour 227
Indiana Wheelmen 350
Injured by a Bicycle 431
In Memoriam 66, 363
Iowa Wheelmen State Tour 473
Iowa, Illinois, and Minnesota Members 350
Iowa Division 166
Iowa Financial Report 418
Jersey 327, 347, 393, 378, 394, 415, 433, 452, 479, 485
Kansas City 45, 402
Kansas Members 334, 164
Kenton Wheel Club 110
Law of the Road 7
L. A. W. Members, Feb. 28 209
League Badge Design 68
League Clubs 366, 454
League Club Renewals 141, 164
League Meet 327
League Programme 350
League Stencils 165
League Tour 326
Liberty Bill 480
Limited Pass Trains 229
Location of Championships 473
London 44
Long Island 451
Long Island Wheelmens' Club House 111
Loss of the Outing 78
Macadam 295
Machine Marking 105
Manatqua's Musings 8
Massachusetts Club 435
Massachusetts Division 209, 163, 207
Massachusetts Consuls 437
Massachusetts Division at Martha's Vineyard 454
Maryland Division 264, 489
Meeting of Board of Officers, Michigan Division 437
Michigan 469
Michigan Road Book 440, 454
Missouri Road Race 243
National Championships 282
National Drill 351
New Hampshire Division 313
New Hampshire Annual Meet 418
New Racing Rules 313
New Uniform 183
New Jersey Division Winter Annual Meeting 454

	PAGE
New Jersey State Meet	473
New Orleans	6, 11, 45, 75, 310, 349, 467, 277
New York Road Book	49, 379, 418
New York Members	229, 248
New York Spring Meeting	465
New York State Division Meeting	49, 417
New York Championships	248
Nominations:
Annual Election	186, 228, 269, 248
Connecticut Division	186
Illinois Division	186
Kentucky Division	186
Pennsylvania Division	74, 229
Tennessee Division	186
North Carolina Case	166
Northern League Tour	401
Notes and Queries	249, 284, 299, 314, 335, 352, 367, 382, 402, 430, 450, 455, 465, 494
Notice of Amendment	350
Ohio Clubs	382
Ohio Members	48
Ohio State Meet	454
Ohio	10, 28, 47, 66, 94, 208, 247, 265, 278, 309, 301, 346, 377, 393, 413, 432, 468, 487
Pennsylvania Division	228
Peoria	380
Plainfield Bicycle Club	164
Poetry:
Eugene M. Aaron	75
The Bicycle Bill	491
Welcome Stevens	30
Prospect Park Regulations	228
Procession of the Kat	184
Punch	47

	PAGE
Quakertown Quillings	347, 362, 378, 394, 414, 433, 459, 467, 486
Quebec Tour	431
Quickest Time	243
Race Meeting at St. Louis	166
Rates to Meet	331
Reading Notes	43, 311, 348
Reply of Credential Committee	242
Report of Kentucky Division by Secretary-Treasurer	401
Report of Executive Committee	201
Report of Secretary-Treasurer of Connecticut	46
Report of Rules and Regulations Committee	30
Resolutions of Massachusetts Bicycle Club	348
Resolutions of Pennsylvania Division	141, 147
Resignation of S. P. Hollingsworth	418
Rhode Island	451
Rhode Island Division Meeting	417
Road Hog	434
San Francisco Races	331
San Francisco	348
Salt Lake	109
Scranton	277, 310
Secretary-Treasurer's Report of New York Division	282
Shock	380
State Division Officers	25
Stanley Show	162, 181
Stevens	183
Stamford	8, 43, 111, 184
Southern District Tour	27, 155, 262, 281
St. Louis	4, 29, 48, 68, 110, 265, 310, 345, 362, 379, 434, 452, 466, 487
Suggestions Wanted	154
Summer Outings	16
Talk about Bicycles	94
Tennessee Division	451

	PAGE
Tennessee Members	166
The Annual Meet	426
The Club	78, 165, 116, 247, 265, 330, 383, 418, 453, 483, 437, 492
The District Division	185
The Press and Half Holidays	469
The Right of Appeal	76
The Trade	186, 229, 249, 331
The Standard	400
The Wheel	24
The Wheelman's Humble Plea	381
Thomas Stevens	92, 97
Tioga	142
Transportion to Meet	141, 333, 350
Transportation	298
Tobogganing	23
Tourists' Attention	350
Tourists and others	493
Tour of Minnesota Division	363
Uniform Contract	350
Vermont Annual Meet	418
Vermont Division	489
Virginia	454
Virginia Members	382, 473
Wanderers' Century Run	435
Washington	10, 45, 109
Western Warblings	29
Where to Locate a Member	298
Wilson, A. J., Report	265
Wisconsin Division Meet	477
Wheel Board of Trade	110
Won the Cup	415
Woodside	311
Wounds	460

THE BULLETIN

OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN

PUBLISHED WEEKLY:

A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA:

$1.00 A YEAR. 3 CENTS PER COPY.

Philadelphia, January 7, 1887.

VOLUME IV. No. 1. WHOLE NUMBER 80.

From Manitoba to the Gulf of Mexico, from Eastport to the Golden Gate, the Majority of Wheelmen

RIDE COLUMBIAS.

POPE MFG. CO.

79 Franklin St.,

BOSTON.

BRANCH HOUSES:—12 Warren Street, New York; 291 Wabash Avenue, Chicago.

These are our Witnesses.

Nine years of hard service upon every grade of American road has not worn out a Columbia.

THE WORLD'S STORY

of the road and path is a recapitulation of victories by riders of Columbias.

THE WISE WHEELMAN

rides a Columbia; the unwise is getting wisdom and a Columbia.

Mr. Alfred A. McCurdy made the accompanying remarkable record on a 48-inch STAR Bicycle over the Boston Cycle Club's 50 mile course, under A. C. U. Rules, breaking all previous records above 100 miles.

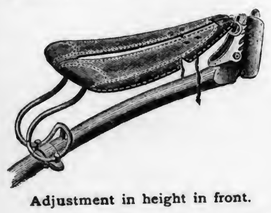
305 Miles in

The following are the new records accepted by the A. C. U.:

150	Miles,	10	hours	24	minutes	30	seconds.
200	"	14	"	35	"
250	"	18	"	58	"
300	"	23	"	38	"
302 3/16	"	23	"	48	"	50	"
304 1/8	"	23	"	57	"	45	"

The eight trips to and from his hotel to the point of starting carries the distance up to fully 305 miles.

★ WORLD'S RECORDS ★



This record proves most conclusively the superiority of the STAR over all crank action bicycles. This is McCurdy's fourth attempt at the 24 hour record, the first two trials being made on crank machines.

His present performance EXCELS BY 50 MILES his best effort on a crank bicycle weighing about 15 pounds less than his present mount.

24 hours

The STAR is the only bicycle that combines in the highest degree the qualities of safety, speed, and hill-climbing.

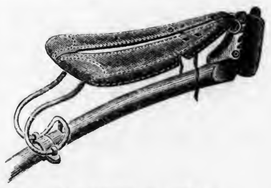
H. B. SMITH MACHINE CO.,
SMITHVILLE, N. J.

Adjustment in height in front.

Adjustment in height in rear.

Adjustment in width.

When you buy, buy the best.
When you order your new mount, order it with only the old reliable



Lillibridge Saddle.

FOR SALE EVERYWHERE.

Price, Nickeled, - - $5.00

Adapted to all makes of machines.
Special styles for the Safeties and Star.

FREEMAN LILLIBRIDGE,
ROCKFORD, ILL.

Adjustment in length.

A Bifurcated Seat.

A Comfortable Coasting Plate.

THE BULLETIN
OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN — PUBLISHED WEEKLY — A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY
EUGENE M. AARON.
For the Executive Committee of the League of American Wheelmen.
AT THE L. A. W. OFFICE,
506 WALNUT STREET, ROOM 12, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

Entered at the Post Office as Second-Class Matter.

SINGLE COPIES, - - - - - - 3 CENTS.
SUBSCRIPTION PRICE TO OTHER THAN LEAGUE MEMBERS, $1.00 A YEAR.
CLUBS OF FIVE, - - - - - - $4.00 "

EUGENE M. AARON, - - - EDITOR
P. O. Box 916, Philadelphia, Pa.

Subscribers should be careful to notify the EDITOR promptly of any change in their address. Great care is taken with the mailing list; failure to receive THE BULLETIN may usually be traced to carelessness on the part of the subscriber.

All matter for publication, whether reading or advertising matter, should be addressed to the EDITOR. All checks should be made payable to his order.

Reading matter, to insure publication in the following issue, must be in the EDITOR'S hands not later than Saturday afternoon; advertisements not later than Monday morning.

Personal controversy, fault-finding, and allusions to manufactures and manufacturers will not be admitted to the columns devoted to reading matter.

The EDITOR must in all cases have the full name and address of the authors of contributed articles as a guarantee of good faith. As the Executive Committee has decided that it is best to discourage the use of assumed names by writers for THE BULLETIN, the EDITOR will publish the author's name unless particularly requested not to do so.

ADVERTISING RATES ON APPLICATION.
Our Circulation this Week is
11,500 Copies.

No. 1. JANUARY 7, 1887. VOL. IV.

OUR FOURTH VOLUME.

With this issue we begin Volume IV of the BULLETIN, and celebrate that event by presenting a much more artistic heading on our front page, which we hope will be appreciated by our readers, who must, by this time, be tired of seeing the hastily wrought design that has done service for 18 months, and which was the product of that period of nine days' notice, when, by order of the League's Executive, we brought forth our first number.

At the beginning of a new volume it is so easy to promise great things for the numbers to come—promises that may or may not be realized—that we believe our readers will appreciate a change from the usual policy in cycling journalism, and be pleased to have instead a resume of the work done by the BULLETIN during the year 1886.

The indices for Vols. II and III, January 1st to December 31st, 1886, contain over 2,500 references, though most items of minor importance are not indexed and many items of club and other news are not indexed save under the title of the article in which they appear. Of these 2,500 references about 1,100 refer to Vol. II, and 1,400 to Vol. III. A summary of these index items brings out some interesting facts, all the more interesting as the BULLETIN is the only accurately indexed cycling periodical published.

Let us first take a look at League affairs and see what these indices show us of the League growth for 1886. These two volumes have contained 50 lists of applicants for League membership containing over 5,200 names, or an average increase of 100 per week. They have contained 60 notices of appointments by the President, most of them being to Board membership. Over 200 items of "Club Life," chronicling the doings of as many cycling clubs during the year, have appeared. The formation of nearly a dozen divisions, and the business transactions of 25, have been noticed, and in many cases most fully reported. The appointments and official acts of all Chief Consuls have been most faithfully chronicled, and the number of the new Consuls and hotels that have been reported therein runs well up toward 1,000. The various League and division committees that have had any work to report have done so in those columns, and these reports alone afford a most excellent index of the growth and work of the League.

To turn from League growth to division growth, we find, as has already been said, that all the division meetings and their official transactions have been noticed, in very many cases full detailed accounts of their proceedings being given. Thus we see that California members have formed a Division; have held a meet; have had a Division tour; have won a legal victory; have awarded championships; have won Presidential appointments; have published a Road-Book; have had a corps of officers and a series of hotels appointed; and have, in fact, as twenty-three index references show, gone through all the phases of growth that mark the progress of the healthy and active division; and what is true of California our indices show to be true of the others of our twenty-eight divisions, New York requiring forty-eight references to tell of her growth and prosperity. So, too, of the racing interests in the various divisions. Where, either under or in conjunction with State division auspices, race meetings have been held, the fullest and most accurate accounts, as a rule, have appeared in the BULLETIN.

We would call to the particular attention of all our readers, and especially those who are workers in the League's behalf, to a call to California members, which is published in our "official announcements" column this week.

This call has the true ring to it. It should win a large percentage of renewals from California, and it will serve as an excellent campaign document for all who at this time are striving to make 1887 the banner year in respect to the percentage of renewals and increase of membership. Nothing but a most earnest and determined effort all along the line will bring this about, and nothing will do more to brace the League worker for this effort than a careful perusal of Chief Consul Welch's stirring call.

Though the amateur question is voted by all hands to be a fossil from the earliest known strata, and its discussion has made such an impression in the past that he who would now dare unearth it for another overhauling must indeed be a brave soul, still, surprising as it may seem, it has received so little attention in these columns during 1886 that but nine index references suffice to do it justice.

As was pointed out in our editorial in last week's issue, while the racing and sub-amateur interests have languished, those of the tourist and of him who would use his wheel for recreation or health alone have claimed much more attention from the League than ever before. This disposition to turn from discord-provoking to the refreshing and stimulating features of cycling has been strongly encouraged by the BULLETIN both in the correspondence and editorial columns. Though containing far more reading-matter for 1886 than any of its American rivals, the BULLETIN has earned the proud distinction of giving less space to the racing interests than they, and at the same time it has devoted far more attention to those more permanent features of cycling which go to make up the sum of the tourist's happiness.

To the health-seeking tourist we have offered articles descriptive of Bermuda, Old Point Comfort, the Berkshire Hills, the Catskill and White Mountains, Colorado, Southern California, the Shenandoah Valley, and many other points of equal merit and interest. The most excellent series of accurate descriptions of localities of the greatest interest to the wheelman, known as "The Famous Riding Districts of the United States," have attracted attention from all quarters and have been largely copied in local papers. The over thirty articles on the subject of highway construction and maintenance—a subject very near the heart of every ardent cyclist—have also earned that sincerest form of flattery, widespread copying.

So, too, the great tours of the year have been well represented in our columns. Nineteen references under the title of "Thomas Stevens" stand as testimony that the travels of that monument of Anglo-Saxon grit and audacity have been well chronicled. The happenings on other notable tours—New Orleans to Boston, the first annual League et al.—have been carefully spread before our readers in 41 articles, and have won so many encomiums that ere long we shall produce a long and extremely readable account of the "Big Four Tour" of 1885, which, strange to say, has never yet been carefully described in any columns.

From the doings of the tourists we naturally turn to those of the stay-at-homes. In local news and gossip the BULLETIN has been particularly rich; all the large cycling centres have been well represented for many months past, and during the publication of Volume III a full corps of paid correspondents have been procured and maintained. Over 100 letters of this sort—an average of two per week for the year—have kept our readers well informed of the League and general cycling events and prospects in all the large centres. In addition to these local letters, most of the large division and race meetings have been specially reported by extra correspondents, the Editor alone having traveled considerably over 3,000 miles to attend all the tournaments of the fall circuit, at which the notable flyers were present.

While the large centres and large gatherings have been thus well represented, the smaller though none the less agreeable events have had their share of our space. Volunteer talent has kept the BULLETIN well supplied with items of news and the more pretentious forms of correspondence, so that it can well be claimed that the over 600 index references to events of this nature comprise the fullest published epitome of American wheel life for 1886.

Legal rights and victories, a brief summary of the most important of which was contained in last week's editorial, have called for 21 references—references which lead the reader to accounts of 20 victories without one case where the League standard has been even temporarily lowered.

Thus it will be seen that the BULLETIN contained during 1886 an unequaled chronicle of the cycling events of the year, all of which have been carefully indexed and all of which are furnished to the League member at a price that is much less than one-quarter the amount that is charged for a less amount in other quarters. This we do not say with a view to discrediting the most excellent work done by our contemporaries—no one is more convinced of their worth and usefulness than is the Editor of the BULLETIN—but simply to show our members the advantages of that form of co-operative publication which produces our journal. We also, at this time, call the attention of our readers to the many strong points of the BULLETIN, as we do to those of other branches of League work, that such information may be used by the League worker in procuring applications and renewals. Many members who anxiously await the arrival of the BULLETIN each week are in the habit of devouring its contents without giving one thought to the labor that produces it or the aggregate of information contained in one of its volumes, or of the surprisingly low figure at which it is being produced.

Enough of the BULLETIN in 1886. Let us now turn our attention to its future in 1887, and see where it stands in need of improvement. At this word we think we can see numbers of our readers all over the country prick up their ears and show evident signs of increasing interest; for nothing so impresses the Editor of a club or association journal as the fact that many of his readers consider him the least fit man in their midst to fill the position to which he has been chosen, and consider him the fair target for advice unlimited and criticisms innumerable. When he took the care of the journal he became public property, and he alone of all the members of the organization is without rights, and is not entitled to possess feelings that can be hurt or a temper than can be ruffled. But it is not of personal matters or the failings of the Editor that we wish to speak—of the latter we are painfully conscious, and they are the constant theme in the editorial columns of some of our envious rivals, and to them we can always turn for such information.

The needs of the BULLETIN may be briefly stated to be as follows:

1st. An increased force of regular correspondents.

2d. Occasional illustrations of the better sort.

3d. Sketches and short stories of good quality.

4th. A more thorough representation of the more remote localities from volunteer pens.

5th. A greater amount of contributions of such a nature that they will appeal to the tastes of the novice or even the non-wheelman.

The first two, and to a certain extent the third of these, needs will come with growth in our earning capacity which is materially augmented by the increase in our advertising rates which go into effect with this issue. These are but improvements that will be sure to come in time—and that quickly on the opening of the riding season.

The last two needs, and the third to a great extent, must come of volunteer effort. A paid corps of newsgathers outside of the large cities will probably never be at the call of the BULLETIN, certainly not for several years to come. So, too, with stories and sketches, the BULLETIN can hardly be expected to furnish these where cash must be paid therefor, save on rare occasions; they will usually have to come, if come they do, from volunteers.

This is a matter that should have the careful attention of the many talented writers in the League. That the matter may have still more careful attention we will refrain from attempting to discuss it in these already overcrowded columns, but will again call it to the attention of our readers in some future issue.

Capable volunteers, however, need not feel called upon to wait for any further reminder; the BULLETIN stands in need of their efforts at this time especially.

OUR ST. LOUIS LETTER.

How are you feeling this year? We are right on deck and ever ready for the fray. With the last day of 1886 ended an interesting chapter of cycling enterprises in St. Louis, and all things but one seemed to have shaped themselves for a complete and happy close. New Year's Day, cold, clear, and beautiful, must seem to our veteran workers like the restful calm before a busy year—a standing start, as it were, before another long and hard race.

The Ramblers were unable to carry out their good resolutions last night relative to securing the record for the first ride in 1887, being prevented by several inches of soft snow and a cold and bitter wind. There was a pleasant gathering at their Club-room, though, and this bird did not miss the rare chance to fill the place with smoke and ashes. With song and chat the time passed until the minute-hand crossed the midnight mark, when the boys dispersed and plodded home. I think that some of the chatters went away convinced that another year, if not the next few months, would see further and all-important changes in the affairs of the Club. I saw the lights go out at the Missouri Club-House as I passed, so I judge there must have been a party of watchers there, too.

By next Tuesday all club committees will have been elected to meet Burley Ayers and his merry crew of Chief Consuls who will be with us next Sunday. For the result of that meeting we are waiting with interest, as it will shape the work for the meet, which will probably be commenced with a vim immediately after. The boom which Mr. Kirkpatrick gave the meet when he was in Boston is thoroughly appreciated and has awakened a good deal of pride and enthusiasm. Mr. Kirkpatrick's impression, though, that the St. Louis Fair Association is interested in the meet makes us smile sadly. We only wish it were so, for the Association could undoubtedly do much to help the meet and its own money-box by simply opening its grounds to wheelmen in May. There is much discussion as to the proper dates for the meet, but general opinion seems to favor Friday and Saturday, May 20th and 21st, holding the banquet on the evening of Saturday and following it up with the big boat-trip up the Father of Waters to the scene of the Wheelman's road race, which will probably occur on Monday, May 23d. The Wheelman is endeavoring to make this a world's championship race. This will require the sanction of both the L. A. W. and N. C. U., and if the grant is obtained it will make the race all the more interesting, and on that course, with its fine facilities for viewing the event, it will be a day which will never be forgotten by those lucky enough to witness it.

Our wheelmen were agreeably surprised this evening to see the cycle column of the Post-Dispatch (the only daily budget) show something like its old-time enterprise as a vendor of genuine news and original ideas. The Post-Dispatch is out to-day with a suggestion that the L. A. W. form itself into a beneficiary association for the protection of its members against accident or even death from cycling causes by an assessment of, say, 50 cents per member in each case. I quote below the views of several prominent cyclists, who seem to clearly define the idea:

E. B. Page said: "It is a good idea, and ought to commend itself especially to married cyclists, but I am afraid its workings would be too intricate for the League. In the preliminaries even, there would be much difficulty experienced. The organization would require a large capital, and in some States would have to provide a deposit with the State Insurance Department. But I hope all these can be arranged."

E. R. Stettinius, ex-Grand Marshal of the illuminated parade, said: "I shall strenuously oppose the plan. The idea of adding a striking and distinctive feature to the League is a good one, but I don't think this feature is practicable. In the first place, say the assessment on each member would be $6.00 per annum, for twice that insurance can be got in any company against all accidents. In the second place, the insurance feature would increase the duties of Division Consuls and Secretary-Treasurers. It should be their effort to secure better roads, promote touring, gain more protection for wheelmen, and encourage a more general use of the wheel among riders themselves. The insurance scheme would render these duties secondary. Again, the financial work of the Chief Consuls and other officers would be worthy of some compensation, and thus the expenses would be materially increased. An increase of dues would be necessary and a much more careful conduct of affairs than now exists. However, some arrangement might be made by the League for some company to insure all League members against bicycle accidents, and I should think a great organization like the League could secure quite a reduction in rates."

Professor C. H. Stone, the Nestor of St. Louis wheeling, took a different view: "No better thing could be devised to build up the League. The fact that insurance can be got in certain accident companies does not militate against it. A cycler's sympathy goes out to any injured fellow-wheelman, and why shouldn't his money go as willingly when all stand on the same basis of expectation of returns? It seems to me the League could handle such a scheme without any difficulty. It is a large and complete institution, thoroughly organized, with great resources at its back. The League is now an assured business success, and it can carry out a scheme like this. In regard to the collections and capital required, I believe that the L. A. W. is as able to meet those requirements as well as certain lodges I know. Why should not a membership having so many interests in common have benefits in common?"

Mr. R. F. Foster, of Baltimore, was in the city a few days ago. It will be remembered that Mr. Foster was expelled from the League some two years back. I would be treating this gentleman unfairly by publishing a conversation I had with him, but some of the statements made by him regarding his expulsion were so startling as to make a strong impression, and it seemed to some of those who heard him that he should verify them before the League, for its own sake as certainly as for his own. Mr. Foster tells us that Baltimore is unusually well provided with Club-house comforts, and says the Maryland Club, with but 40 cycles in the Club, has a membership of about 125, and derives an income from its house.

Bob Gordon recently came down from Kansas City. He tells me that the Outing Cyclists up there are having very jolly times at their handsomely furnished rooms, which are located in the heart of town. A weekly whist party is one of the diversions. The K. C. Wheelmen are equally well fixed for the winter.

I consider it only fair that I be allowed space to answer with a few direct statements the slurs which the Oracle of the Post-Dispatch cast upon my motives as a correspondent. After showing him to be in the wrong, and proving to my own satisfaction that St. Louis readers do not look upon these letters as "repositories of venom," I fully intended to shut up like a clam. I cannot, however, consent to play the part of a corpse while the P.-D. vindicates itself at the expense of truth and the veracity of a 'prominent wheelman. In the BULLETIN of December 24th I reported an interview with Captain W. M. Brewster, and a portion of it referred to the methods of the Post-Dispatch. I selected Mr. Brewster as a representative spokesman, and he gave his honest opinion that the cycle editor of the Post-Dispatch, some months back, caused ill feeling between local clubs. On December 29th the P.-D. contained an article in which Mr. Brewster was made to deny this statement. The following morning, in his own office, Mr. Brewster indignantly and decidedly told the Oracle that his version was utterly false, whereupon the latter replied that he could not consistently retract the article. I now do so for him.

It must have been noticed by local wheelmen that the Post-Dispatch in its controversy with the BULLETIN has been indorsed by the cycle editor of the Spectator. This has been remarked as very singular. They would probably be surprised to learn that the Oracle of the P.-D. was his own backer; but in spite of a probable denial, if circumstantial evidence amounts to anything, and I believe it does generally, this is certainly a fact. The fact that the Spectator did not have the fairness to print Editor Aaron's statement of the controversy started the hunt for this evidence. It is high time that this sort of business was brought to an end. The Oracle has repeatedly been told by his best friends that his system of throwing dirt at anybody and everything connected with cycling in St. Louis is getting to be disgusting, and I have voiced this as the open opinion of prominent wheelmen. He has never yet been known to meet an issue fairly and squarely, and circumstances show that he has even descended to double-dealing. I have been showing his course up in its true light, and he evades the issue and says I am causing discord. Thank goodness! it is only the unmusical noise incident to the choking of a viper. By this term I refer to the course, not to the person. He asks protection from these charges as a League member. Let him enter his complaint, and as another League member, I am prepared to hold up my end, and feel that I will have the backing of fair-minded wheelmen. How long the latter will bear with the disturbing element created by the "little" Post-Dispatch squibs remains to be seen, but I would like to see the strong talk which I have heard resolve itself into sufficient pluck to rise up and kick once for all.

Tobogganing has taken a great hold in the West End. There is a natural slide in Cabanne Place, which is some 800 feet in length, and steep enough to bring one's hair to a vertical position without any trouble whatever. PHŒNIX.

January 1st, 1887.

Correspondence.

The Editor wishes it distinctly understood that he is not responsible for the statements and opinions expressed in these columns.

THEY WANT CHEAPER WHEELS.

PITTSTON, PA., December 30th, 1886.

EDITOR L. A. W. BULLETIN:

I give my hearty concurrence in regard to the price of bicycles and tricycles, as set forth under the head of "Current Notes and Comments" in the BULLETIN of 24th inst.

The cycle trade is now just what the sewing-machine trade was 20 years ago. When the sewing-machine first came among us the price was $125; now a better machine can be bought for $35; and the same rule applies to every new invention—those who use them at first have got to pay in many cases about double what the thing costs. There is money in the cycle business at one-half the price now existing. Of course, the first cost of a machine is considerable on account of the fine and accurate machinery required, but the price need not be put at such an exorbitant figure that the whole outlay will be returned the first year. I know that the manufacturers in this country are paying large dividends, and it is a rare thing to hear of a firm of the nature under comment going to the wall under financial difficulties. I also heartily applaud the idea of making the BULLETIN independent of all manufacturers. This will give each and every one a chance to criticise the different manufacturers, and the riding public will in time, through this medium, secure the best results of mechanical skill, and all makers not up to the standard will have either to make machines equal to their competitors or close shop.

Yours very truly,
FRANK SNYDER (L. A. W. 2,067).

CHEAPER WHEELS.

EDITOR L. A. W. BULLETIN:

I was very glad indeed to read in "Current Notes" of the December 24th BULLETIN the extract from the letter of an "Active Wheelman."

In support of his statement as to the price of bicycles, the writer bought a wheel of first-class, "foreign" listed at £18, at a discount of one-third. This without any solicitation on his part. I suppose the large dealers in this country get one-quarter to one-third off.

If membership in the L. A. W. gave us the privilege of this discount it would probably be appreciated by the general membership as heartily as is the saving of 15 to 25 cents by the tourist.

Our Club applied for membership in the L. A. W. February 3d, 1881. We dropped out, concluding the organization was run entirely in the interest of the manufacturers. I have seen but little during the past five years to change the opinion then formed.

I trust you will find space for this communication in the BULLETIN, even at the risk of being deemed eccentric, and I hope the "active wheelmen," who are in favor of their membership in the L. A. W. saving them a discount of from $25.00 to $50.00 on a wheel, as well as the 25 and 50 cents on the hotel bill of the tourist, will cogitate over and shake this idea until it "ferments" successfully.

Fraternally yours,
PIONEER.

[As a member of the League, in equal standing with the above two writers, the Editor wishes to disclaim any responsibility for their utterances. Their motive is a good one; but they are evidently far from right in their deductions, and we have every reason to believe that their ideas of enormous profits are erroneous.

"Pioneer's" insinuation that the L. A. W. is run entirely in the interests of manufacturers is too foolish and unworthy of an enlightened League member to call for further comment.—ED.]

NEW YORK BI. CLUB RECORDS.

NEW YORK, January 3d, 1887.

EDITOR L. A. W. BULLETIN:

Below I give summary of riding for 1886 by the New York Bicycle Club, as far as reported, and totals of the same members for 1885, in reference to which it is only fair to say that Mr. Kitching was disabled from riding for the best part of 1886, and Mr. Jimenis was also ill for several months in the spring and early summer. The routes included traverse eleven counties in New York State, four in Massachusetts, one in Vermont, one in Connecticut, four in New Jersey, two in Pennsylvania, and one in Colorado, beside the Island of Bermuda. Of the 3,418 miles covered by Messrs. Roy, Jimenis, and Shriver, 1,878 were outside of the New York city riding district, i. e., Manhattan Island and Westchester County, within a radius of 25 miles from our Club-House. Every month in the year is represented, the best month record being 1,657½ miles in October, and the lowest 96¼ in December.

The first ride began with the birth of the New Year, but our courage failed us on the night of December 31st, and the last ride was taken on the 26th.

Member.	Days.	Best in one day.	Total 1886	Total 1885
F. M. Daniels,	112	71¼	2063	1484
E. J. Shriver,	50	74	1454	736
G. S. Daniels,	55	61	1169	755
J. B. Roy,	38	104⅛	1008	574
J. O. Jimenis,	33	113½	956	663
F. W. Kitching,	51	47	777	1466
H. S. Ruven,	43	38	634	1158
M. L. King,	33	50	521
E. H. Adams,	25	32	343	400
J. C. Mott,	20	32	283	119
L. O. Macdaniel,	20	30	244	214
C. L. Childs,	10	25	160	96
R. R. Haydock,	9	30	138	127
W. A. Whiting,	12	22	131	377
H. Conkling,	5	30	74	83
C. L. Gridley,	6	20	61	229
			10016	8481

Yours truly,
EDW. J. SHRIVER,
Sec'y N. Y. Bicycle Club.

ADMIT THE PROFESSIONAL.

MINE LA MOTTE, MADISON CO., MO.,
December 3d, 1886.

EDITOR L. A. W. BULLETIN:

I am a professional (mining engineer). Our professional societies (such as the American Institute of Mining Engineers) admit non-professionals interested in our work as associates. It has occurred to me, while pondering over Mr. Herring's "solution," that perhaps some such arrangement would help "solve" our problem. I would suggest as follows: Change Article III of the Constitution by inserting after the words "membership in this League," the following:

"And any professional wheelman in good standing shall be eligible as associate" upon, etc.

Our professional brother would then be welcome in our midst, as he now is usually in our company. The League would be the gainer by the amount of his dues.

Mr. Herring's ambitious amateur could race with the professionals to his heart's content, the amateur rule need not be troubled, and beyond this the organization, by admitting the professionals, would have some control over their racing by enacting certain rules the infraction of which would forfeit the L. A. W. standing, etc.

The associate would have no vote in L. A. W. affairs and not be allowed to compete for L. A. W. championships.

Submitting the above to the consideration of our fellow-members, I am, fraternally,

JAS. W. NEILL, E. M.,
L. A. W. Rep.

[Our apologies are due Representative Neill for the delay in the appearance of this letter. It got among our answered letters through carelessness on our part.—ED.]

THOMAS STEVENS' ADDRESS.

DEAR SIR:—So many inquiries are made at this office for the post-office address of Thomas Stevens, that I beg you will inform his friends through your columns that I am sending letters for him to the care of the San Francisco Bicycle Club, 1428 Market Street, San Francisco, where he expects to arrive about the middle of January.

Yours, truly,
POULTNEY BIGELOW, Editor of Outing.

WELCOME TO THOMAS STEVENS.

The Chairman of the Reception Committee of Thomas Stevens, of the San Francisco Bicycle Club, writes under date of December 21st, in a letter to the editor of Outing:

"DEAR SIR:—All arrangements have been made for the reception of Mr. Stevens on his arrival here. The Olympic Club have joined with us, and when he arrives will receive him down the bay. I, as Chairman of the Reception Committee, have obtained permission from the Custom House authorities and the quarantine officer to allow the Committee to board the steamer down the bay. The officers and directors of the San Francisco Bi. Club, in connection with the officers and Board of Directors of the Olympic Club, will give Mr. Stevens a banquet and also hold a reception in the latter's rooms, to which only members of both Clubs and their lady friends will be admitted. This Club will also invite Mr. Stevens to their annual banquet, which takes place about the time of his arrival here. You can rest assured that the San Francisco Bi. Club will receive him with open hands and look after him while he is with us. Wishing you a 'Merry Christmas' and a 'Happy New Year,' I remain, etc."

WANTS MORE OF IT.

FORT WAYNE, IND., December 28th, 1886.

EDITOR L. A. W. BULLETIN:

DEAR SIR:—The Christmas number of the BULLETIN was exceptionally good, and we think that a cycling story or an account of some interesting tour should be made a permanent feature of each BULLETIN, as well as the letters from the regular correspondents and the League news. By all means let us hear from the author of "Cedar Hill" again.

12,180.

P. S.—We see very little news in the BULLETIN from this part of the State. An occasional letter from a correspondent here to the BULLETIN would no doubt please our large L. A. W. membership. We have, I think, 32 members in this town.

[The BULLETIN would be very glad to be financially able to treat its readers each week as it did in its issue for December 24th, but it will readily be understood that it is not in that condition. An occasional letter from Fort Wayne will be received with thanks by the Editor.]

CLEARFIELD (PA.) NOTES.

It has been several months since you have heard from the Clearfield wheelmen, and it is our intention to let our cycling friends and co-workers hear from our mountain fastness at least twice a year. Here we are away up in the clouds, so to speak. The elevation above the sea is 1,100 feet, and yet we have quite a number of cycling tourists pass through our beautiful, shaded town during the season of riding. The country round about for miles is hilly and mountainous, but the roads generally are good. On some of our tours we are compelled to trundle up the mountain-side for four miles. On the return trip one is repaid for his exertions up the mountain by riding down. It is a brave wheelman who rides down the Anderson Creek and Rockton Mountain roads into Clearfield, and yet we have several riders who do it. These rides afford some wild and romantic scenery—I believe equal in a degree to that of Switzerland. From one spot on the Rockton Mountain road, several miles out from Clearfield, the town can plainly be seen away down in the valley, 1,100 feet below. Mountain-tops and farm lands can be seen for miles away. This spot is 2,200 feet above sea level. It is truly a grand sight, and one worthy of a special trip to Clearfield during the summer months. About two years ago Mr. J. V. Stephenson, of Greensburg, Pa., who, by the way, is one of Pennsylvania's best road riders, was touring toward Clearfield, and coming to the top of Anderson Creek Mountain Road looked down, and thinking the coast clear—so far as he could see, which is not more than 100 yards or so—started on the descent on his 58-inch wheel. After going about a mile his hand, no doubt, became tired of holding the brake-lever, and, slacking his grip, he began speeding down at terrific pace, when he took a severe header. Strange to say, the only damage done was a broken handle-bar. He remounted at the bottom and rode the remaining six miles into Clearfield with but one handle. I notice in the Road-Book that Mr. S. reports "this hill dangerous." Under the circumstances, one would.

Early in October last Messrs. J. A. and Herb. Smith passed through this place awheel, en route for York, Pa. These gentlemen left Louisville, O., several days before and were taking things easy during the 300 miles or so that they had toured. They were in excellent health, and looked good for the balance of the journey. They are not League members, but promised me faithfully that they would join. Will some missionary wheelman in their vicinity look them up and bring them into the fold? They spoke in the highest terms of our worthy Consul, Mr. J. B. McKnight, of Brookville, Pa., who, by the way, is one of the most generous, self-denying, and accommodating gentlemen in the League. Our Chief Consul done well in making Mr. McKnight a Consul. Some of our wheelmen have had the pleasure of enjoying Mr. McKnight's hospitality at different times during the past two or three years. Distance to Brookville from Clearfield is 42 miles, over hill and dale, and is a good day's journey awheel.

Mr. C. R. Overman tarried in our town a day last month. We found him to be a very pleasant gentleman and fluent conversationalist, who knows a few things about wheels, especially the Victor. Your representative took him to the top of Cemetery Hill, which he pronounced more difficult to mount than Corey Hill, and yet we have a few riders who can do it.

We pity Thomas Stevens when he arrives in the United States, if he attends all the banquets, dinners, dances, et al., that are now being arranged for him. We are afraid that large doses of calomel will be needed to keep him "moving" around. His muscles must now be hard as whalebone. Just think of it—a constant tramp, pedal tramp, for two years through sunshine, rain, wind, snow, torrid climates, over mountains, through valleys, fording warm streams one day and the next ice-ladened mountain torrents, through disease-infected countries, imperiled and threatened by robbers, wild beasts, and hunger, detained by authorities, turned back and made to retrace long distances gone over before. At last he has succeeded in "doing" the crust of the earth, 25,000 miles, and, not sick, dead, or disheartened, this intrepid, brave, and strong man returns, full of life and humor. I say, "feed" him, fellow-wheelmen, feed him. Give him plenty, leaving out of your menu "black bread," "mastic," etc., of which he has had enough. He has just accomplished a feat that no other has ever attempted, and not likely to try. Give him a rousing reception, and do him great honor. All of which he is justly entitled to.

A word to the L. A. W. wheelmen of this vicinity, and especially our Clearfield members, send in your $1 bill, name written plainly, with address and League number, in envelope to Secretary-Editor E. M. Aaron, box 916, Philadelphia, Pa., and have your membership renewed at once for 1887. It will pay you tenfold in a great many ways to stay with the thousands who renew every year. Do not procrastinate, please.

We don't put away our machines for the winter in vaseline—we ride.

When did you say Karl Kron was buried? It seems to me that it was some few years ago; was it not? I picked up an ancient almanac the other day and saw therein that one Karl Kron would have before the public, in about two or three months, a book entitled, Ten Thousand Miles on a Bicycle. There is no doubt but that book was interesting in its day. Now we have a man who has done 25,000 miles. Allow me to introduce to you my friend, Thomas Stevens, circumbicyculatitudinarian—yes, this word is original.

Who is Manataaqua?

We wish all other State Divisions had as efficient Chief Consuls as Pennsylvania has in John A. Wells. No thanks, Mr. Wells, it is "straight from the shoulder."

A little over a year ago the 24-hour road record was 207½ miles, made by Fred Russ Cook. To-day it is nearly a hundred miles better. Who can guess what it will be next fall? we will put it down at 357½ miles for 1887. Mark it down.

The "Mountain Wheelmen," of Philipsburg, Pa., made our town a number of visits last summer and fall awheel. They generally came Saturday and returning the following Monday. The ones who call the oftenest are Representative C. B. Holly, Dr. Ashman, Messrs. Davis, Young, Lee, Switzer, and one or two others that I do not think of at present. They have a fine Club of jolly good riders.

Why don't somebody give the amateur question a rest?

Why don't Ducker reorganize the A. C. U. for the benefit of Rowe and Hendee?

Why don't all the other cycling papers in the United States combine their circulation and then compare it with that of the BULLETIN? Because it would not even then make a fair showing.

DURIOR.

NEW ORLEANS NOTES.

NEW ORLEANS, December 21st, 1886.

Harry H. Hodgson, the recently appointed additional Representative of the Louisiana Division, L. A. W., is an energetic, pushing wheelman fully alive to the requirements of the interests which he represents. His latest idea is a lantern parade, which was expected to occur when the new Club-House would be ready for occupation, in conjunction with the house-warming, which it was proposed to hold in celebration of that event. It is quite probable that such a parade will be given by local riders just previous to the approaching carnival, which occurs on February 21st next.

Harry is corresponding with everybody liable to be of assistance to him in the matter, and the prospects are that he will succeed in arranging quite a handsome affair.

Since giving up its old Club-rooms the New Orleans Bicycle Club has held its meetings at the residence of one of its members, Mr. B. C. Rea, on St. Charles Avenue.

Prince Wells, trick and fancy rider, has been filling an engagement at Robinson's Dime Museum in this city. Numbers of our riders have been to see his performances, which are pronounced excellent, notwithstanding the limited stage space at his command.

On the evening of Tuesday, the 22d, the local Club, in a body, attended the performance, having front seats in the theatorium reserved for them. Their presence called for an unusual display by Prince, who fairly outdid himself and was warmly applauded by the wheelmen present.

The season has been a glorious one for riding, the weather not too cool, no rain, and most delightful moonlight nights. Some eight or ten new wheels have been sold here within the last two months, most of the riders of which will be connected with our Club should it succeed in securing a new Club-House.

One of the coming wheelmen of this city is Mr. Ritchie G. Betts, now about 18 years of age, and who, since beginning riding on the 3d of last June, has covered upward of 2,100 miles.

He is a living example of the development and improvement incident to bicycling and has explored most of the hitherto unknown, and what had been considered heretofore as inaccessible, roads in the vicinity of this city. Too young a rider to belong to the New Orleans Bicycle Club or League, he was largely instrumental in organizing our Junior Club, known as "Crescent Wheelmen," and has done much and will do more for the furtherance of the interest of our sport. He is an indefatigable newspaper correspondent, and several very practicable suggestions of use to the wheelmen have been advanced by him.

DIXIE.

SUMMER OUTINGS.

A club run had been called, and as some of the members were missing, a few of the faithful ones, tired of waiting, as during the past season we had too often, mounted to look up some of the laggards. The knowing one knew where "Fifty" was well enough, and

> "We heard a stolen smack,
> And the gate swung quickly back,
> As we silently rounded the corner."

The culprit explained his delay and the blissful situation we found him in by saying that he was getting points on the route we were to take, as the young lady was an experienced equestrienne and knew the road, over which many of us had never been.

There were presentations amid the roses, and presently, as we regained our saddles, those who were far enough along lifted caps in varying degrees of gracefulness and were away on the road at last. The culprit was all animation and good spirits, as well he might be from what we had unintentionally seen, and the way he took us over that bit of road was a caution to slow-goers. Some of the party, though, were cast down not only of countenance but in their entirety, as they went down one after another of those stony-hills-with-sand-at-the-bottom.

F. A. Sill, who always made the best of such happenings to his fellow-riders, said, "A kind Providence must have put that sandy cushion there for the saving of the lives of the header contingency."

What charming vistas of a pleasant country flitted past as we flew along on the fine stretches of road, and then sauntered at will, taking in more of the wayside details where less speed paid best.

How the birds evidently tried to outdo all previous efforts, and seemed to have an especial programme for our benefit, or did the scribe imagine it? There were times when some of the riders swung out their arms with a reaching, grasping motion, as if trying to absorb great quantities of ozone, as they sped onward, but the knowing one bluntly said they were "stavin' off headers."

The course led us through silent, wooded sections, where few sounds broke upon the ear, and when a rubber tire snapped a small stick in the road it gave out a startling report. A squirrel now and then skipped in chattering wonder across the dusty way, as if forbidding our intrusion upon his quiet haunts, and he continues his barking remarks, head downward on a tree trunk, as the last cycler wheels past. What delight is ours on a run awheel like this! Wild flowers are on every side, and spicy beds of mint send up their incense to us who ride leisurely enough to note such things. The music of falling water comes to us from far ahead, and its murmur grows more pronounced until we halt upon the old bridge, and try to trace the winding waters up the rocky, bush-bound hillside, or down in the shadowy depths below, where it loses itself so easily, and is unexplored except by mink or catbird.

What a revelation such a ride is to those who are closed in behind counters all the week, and there is little wonder—and little harm, if they ride quietly—that many go out on Sundays for a run that does so much real good and which they really need, too.

Not being, fortunately, bound to any man who can say to us, Come here, or, Go there, we ride but seldom on Sunday, but have been out a few times, generally alone, and when we felt in a much more reverential mood and like praising "Him from whom all blessings flow," than we have many a time in a grandly frescoed church edifice, where, in some cases, we have been put on a back seat after getting by mistake in the finely upholstered pew of some money king. In Nature's church, which we prefer to attend, the seats are all free, and those from the highways and byways are treated with as much respect as the richest man of earth. Here money and raiment does not make the man, and there is no affectation, but sincere and heartfelt worship can be and is sent up to the Creator and Giver of all things good.

While we have loitered on the old bridge and taken our own time and some notes, the vanguard, and, in fact, the entire company, has disappeared, and we stroll on, taking a route that reveals some of Nature's pleasant things that the others will miss as we wend our homeward way.

THE SOLITARY CLUB.

BADGES OF THE C. T. C. AND L. A. W.

The club uniform is of a special make of gray cloth, "upon which no braiding, epaulets, or trimmings shall, under any circumstances, be permissible," and "no local club shall adopt this uniform as their own unless all the members join the C. T. C." Of course, no one is obliged to purchase either uniform or badge, but members are requested to wear the latter upon the left breast. The badge in use for seven years or more was a simple shield of silver or silver-plate, with the Club's name spelled upon it in square, raised letters. Copies in gold were also made for use on the scarf or watch-chain. Badges for Consuls had red enamel, those for the Council had blue enamel with "R. C." or "C. C." added in gilt, and that for the Secretary had green enamel and gilt. "The Octopus" thus announced a change (Wheeling, September 8th, 1886): "The C. T. C. mountain has been in labor, and has produced the most ridiculous mouse in the shape of a badge that it has ever been my lot to see. After all the talk, froth, and gas that appeared in the Gazette, I expected something very special, but, if imitation is the sincerest form of flattery, the L. A. W. ought to feel proud over this exact fac-simile of its design." Three weeks later the same writer added: "It is a most truly ludicrous thing. Ever since October, 1884, Messrs. Tanner, Hills, and R. E. Phillips have been considering the question of the badge, and now, after nearly two years, they present a design which has been duly registered, and which is neither artistic nor novel—being simply a wheel with three wings upon it dangling by chains from a bar. The act of 'invention' could not have taken very long, for the L. A. W. design has been almost exactly copied, and the 'patenting' could not have been a mammoth undertaking, for Mr. P. is a patent agent of experience, but the Committee seem to fancy that they have done something very clever, as this is what they say about themselves and their work: 'In concluding our report, we would point out that the matter we have had to deal with has been one of no ordinary caliber, and has received at our hands an amount of attention in accord with its importance.'" With similar complacency, the editor of Gazette remarks (October, p. 382): "None of the many comments called out by the wood-cuts of the badge in our last issue can be considered other than satisfactory. It is generally conceded that the new article is graceful, symbolical, and appropriate, and there appears to be little doubt as to its ultimate popularity." He then explains that, as the certificate of membership (changed in color or design each year) is to be framed in the wheel and show only on the reverse side, the badge is necessarily swung on chains from a bar-brooch "to avoid the trouble of removing it from the coat whenever a member desires to prove his identity at a hotel headquarters—which necessity arises on an average two or three times a day." This little circular ticket will hereafter be issued to all members, as a receipt for their fees instead of the larger angular one of former years, but no one will be obliged to inclose it in the badge-locket if he prefers some less secure mode of carrying it whenever he wishes to prove that "its details are readily decipherable" by country innkeepers.

—

The foregoing extract from p. 639 of the not yet-completed Ten Thousand Miles on a Bicycle was sent in to us by Karl Kron, with the following note: I trust you may not only judge this of interest enough to be worth printing in the BULLETIN, but may also allow me to print with it a "moral," for the consideration of those who agree with your Brooklyn correspondent, "Bon" (December 3d, p. 557), that the League ought to go into the badge-business as a money-making scheme, even if it has to discard its present time-honored and universally satisfactory symbol, and search the earth for a new one. "Bon" seems to be a ready convert to the very plausible offer proclaimed by Mr. F. A. Egan (Bi. World, November 9th, p. 39), for annually turning into the League treasury "at least $1,000 of profits on the sale of badges," and no doubt there are many other members whose mouths fairly water at the appetizing thought of such a magnificent increase of revenue "for nothin'."

Its capture appears "as easy as falling off a log," and the incompetence of the League officers in neglecting so golden an opportunity may be called little short of criminal. And yet—and yet—there is reason in all things, my brethren. Behind this assumed neglect lies the "moral" which I wish to bring out, as showing why the L. A. W. seems to me a more respectable institution than the C. T. C. The brief experience which the former had with its "ham-and-handle-bar badge," between January and September, 1881, did indeed produce a revenue; but it also produced much wailing and gnashing of teeth on the part of those who wore "that leaden monstrosity—the result of two months' artistic sketch-as-sketch-can wrestling with the subject by an appointed committee." I quote from Mr. Egan's article, which also says that when Mr. C. H. Lamson offered the substitute badge, which he had invented and patented, "it came in with a rush, which seems to have kept up to the present time unabated."

The implication of Mr. Egan's argument is that there was no particular reason for this "rush," that any common clod of a jeweler could supply the League, off-handed, with another "original and distinctive design," which would be just exactly as popular among the members. The probable fallacy of this notion is well shown by the fact that a special committee of the "largest athletic club ever known in the world," after two years' investigation, could do no better than "pirate" the Lamson design, which has proved so pleasing to the League. The C. T. C. has been content to peddle out its "door-plate badges" these many years for the sake of making money; and when, finally, the members insist on something "more artistic" for their cash, it "adopted" the League's design. But why, in the face of this superlative tribute to its excellence, should any just man in this country now rise up and propose to despoil the inventor of his reward? I don't know whether Mr. Lamson's annual profits on his patent are $1,000 or $2,000 or $5,000; but if they were double the last-named sum they would be no more than he deserves, and I would urge him not to abate his rights to the extent of a dollar. For my own part, I like to see a man well paid for getting up a good thing; and I have too much respect for the League to believe that it will either try to "beat down" Mr. Lamson, or try to make money by a second experiment like that whose monument is the "sugar-cured-disc."

The strength of the League is the sentiment behind it, and a suitable badge, which is accepted as a tradition and a permanency, is a help to that sentiment, like a national flag. Supposing it were possible for some syndicate to make $20,000,000 by persuading the United States Government to supersede the Stars and Stripes, would they find it easy to secure a congressman brazen enough to propose such a scheme? Supposing a large gang of scribblers would jump at the chance of taking the Secretary-Editor's office at $500 a year, is that any reason for not trying to get good work done by the payment of $1,500? In general, I urge that the fewer "trading transactions" the League undertakes, the better for its officers' reputation and for its own prosperity.

THE LAW OF THE ROAD.

We reprint the following from a proof of p. 680 in Ten Thousand Miles on a Bicycle, which Karl Kron expects to publish this winter:

The Road and the Roadside, by Burton Willis Potter (b. Feburary 8th, 1843), a lawyer of Worcester (Boston: Little, Brown & Co., 120 pp. of 30,000 words; cloth, $1) is a well-written and neatly printed book which ought to be owned by every American wheel club and read by every rider. Its preface, dated May, 1886, says: "The laws as herein stated are the present ones of Massachusetts relative to public and private ways, and therefore may not all be applicable in other States, but inasmuch as the common law is the basis of the road law in all the States, it will be found that the general principles herein laid down are as applicable in one State as in another. These chapters were written and read as a lecture before the Massachusetts Board of Agriculture, in December, 1885, at Framingham, and have since been published in the Report on the Agriculture of Massachusetts, for 1885. They are now given to the public with the hope that they will exert some little influence in promoting good roads and the love of rural life—two things which I sincerely believe are essential to the lasting prosperity of any people." The author's enthusiasm for open-air progress is that of a pedestrian simply, but it shows such a hearty sympathy for the true spirit of wheeling that I hope he may soon decide to attach the bicycle's wings to his feet. His book wholly ignores the tiresome legal verbiage of the statutes and judicial rulings, but gives the gist of them in simple and clear-cut phrases which are pleasant to read and easy to remember. He deserves the thanks of all wheelmen for putting in their reach so compact a statement of the defense which the common law offers them against "repressive local legislation," aiming at interference with their equal rights upon the road. He demonstrates that there, as elsewhere, the one essential thing for them to remember is the ancient axiom (which, except for my dislike of a Latinized title-page, I should have adopted as a motto for this book): "Sic utere tuo ut non alienum lædas." That maxim is only a Roman amplification of the sturdy Saxon phrase, "Mind your business," and those three words, when rightly interpreted and obeyed, seem to me a sufficient rule for insuring to any man an honorable progress along the great highway of life.

TWO 1887 CALENDARS.

Wanamaker has sent us two calendars for 1887, Dickens and Tennyson, both entirely new, and both as bright as his last year's Dickens, which is said to be the finest calendar ever made in this country.

They both consist of an 9x12¾-inch picture panel with calendar-block or book, a leaf for every day in the year, with a pithy saying out of the author.

The Dickens panel has these several pictures: "Lady Dedlock at the Churchyard Gate," "What are the Wild Waves Saying?" "Tilly Slowboy and the Baby," "Pickwick," the "Rookery," "Captain Cuttle with Breakfast in Prospect," and "Autumn Leaves."

The Tennyson panel has: "Locksley Hall," the "Brook," the "Princess." "Where Claribel Low Lieth," "Gareth and Lynette," and "Falling Rose-Leaves."

On the Dickens panel the "Sea."

On the Tennyson panel the "Brook."

They are not the brightest pictures. They are, perhaps, the least impressive at first. But the sea has a strange fascination. It isn't the sight so much as the thought of the sea that rests, refreshes, stirs, enlarges, inspires. And the brook, apart from its musical name, is a pleasing thing. A sedgy brook, a marshy brook, not a purling stream with a murmur, a glassy repose of unseen water—no foot of man comes near. That lonely brook will last one the year out and never grow dull company.

The Yonkers Bicycle Club, of Yonkers, N. Y., gave, on the 14th inst., a concert, which was attended by a large audience, made up of the best people of that city, who heartily enjoyed the entertainment, and who pronounced it a social success. Quartettes and solos by the Dudley Buck Quartette Club and instrumental music were features of the evening.

THE HUM OF THE HUB.

There is a deal of talk about town regarding the meeting of the L. A. W. Board of Officers which is to be held in New York on the 17th. It is generally understood that the meeting is to be one of great importance, but it is not definitely known just what important business is to be transacted. Why it is to be held a month earlier than usual is not known, and this uncertainty only tends to excite the interest that is felt in the affair. It is likely that the Massachusetts Division will be represented by a goodly delegation of Representatives, and if they decide to vote together the Division will be only next to New York in power.

All sorts of rumors are flying about as to what measures will be proposed at the meeting. It is understood that the Committee on Rules and Regulations will again bring up its proposed amendments regarding the tenure of the Secretary-Editor's office, and the other changes that the Chairman recommended at the Buffalo meeting. I find, from talking with our more prominent Representatives, that they are not at all in favor of the proposed changes, but, on the contrary, disapprove of them. The way that they were disposed of at Buffalo is a very good indication of how the general body of officers feel.

So far as I can ascertain, the general feeling is that it is for the best interests of the League that the Secretary's office be conducted as it has been in the past, and that it would be very unwise to make a change at this time. Regarding the management of the BULLETIN, it has certainly been highly satisfactory to the general body of League members. Every one must acknowledge that to the BULLETIN the League owes, in a very large degree, its increased membership during the past year. It is all very well to talk about public spirit, that the wheelmen should join the League for the general good of cycling, but it does not work in practice. Tangible benefits is what you must give the average wheelman to extract from his pocket the little dollar. Sentiment is all right so far as it goes, but it won't reach half so far as hard cash.

The BULLETIN has been during the past six months decidedly the leading cycling paper in America. One can obtain more news and information of a general cycling nature from it than can be found in all the other papers combined. The improvement in the paper has been something remarkable. That it has cost a good deal of money is not surprising. Who ever heard of a newspaper that did not lose money when it was first started? In the paper with which I am connected there were many thousand dollars sunk before it was placed on a paying basis, while now its proprietors enjoy an annual income of several hundred thousand. Of course, it is to be regretted that the BULLETIN has cost so much during the past year, but there have been many expenses which are not likely to be incurred again. To change the management could not tend toward a reduction of expenses, unless the quality of the paper was materially cheapened. The experience gained by the present management may have cost a good deal, but it would cost a new management just as much to place itself where the present management now is.

I think that there is every reason to believe that the BULLETIN will pay its own expenses next year. Its circulation is now an assured one, and the advertising rates have been increased. The extensive advertising patronage obtained by the low rates is pretty sure to be retained, and this should be sufficient to place the BULLETIN upon a paying basis. I have heard it stated that it would be better to change the BULLETIN to a monthly, making it after the style of the C. T. C. Gazette. This is utter nonsense, and if the change were made a decrease in the membership would soon be shown. I hear wheelmen every day say that the only reason they belong to the League is that they may receive the BULLETIN. To turn the BULLETIN into a monthly circular would be most unwise. The C. T. C. Gazette is little better than a circular, and I doubt if it is very generally read. If there was anything in it worth reading, I should be sure to peruse it.

The BULLETIN was at one time nothing better than such a circular, and then we were continually hearing complaints from members that they threw it in the waste basket with its cover unremoved. I have not heard any complaints of that kind lately. Have you? It is plain that it is decidedly for the best interests of the League that it maintain a weekly newspaper, and a first-class one at that.

New Year's was not very generally observed among the local clubs. The Boston Club, however, kept open house, and a jolly time the members had. It is a time-honored custom with the members of this Club to gather at the Club-House on New Year's evening and offer to one another the compliments of the season. There was a very large attendance of members, and a good many friends came with them. The entertainment was, of course, of an entirely informal nature. The Boston men hate any entertainment of a formal nature. There have been a good many quiet gatherings at the Boston Club-House of late, and they are proving very enjoyable. A birthday party will be given on the second Wednesday in January by members whose birthdays occur during that month. A big time is expected.

The annual meeting of the Boston Club will be held on next Wednesday evening. It is not likely that there will be a great many changes made in the present Board of Officers. It is understood, however, that Captain Toombs has declined to serve another year, and it is pretty certain that he will be succeeded by Mr. C. P. Donahoe. Besides his universal popularity, Mr. Donahoe has shown himself thoroughly fitted for the duties of Captain.

The annual meeting of the Massachusetts Club does not occur until next month, but at the meeting which is to be held to-morrow evening, a committee will be appointed to nominate a list of officers to be voted upon at the next meeting. It is understood that there will be a number of changes made in the present Board. It is not likely that Colonel Higginson will care to serve another term as President. He has not worked particularly hard during the past year. I believe he has never presided at any meeting. All the duties of President have therefore devolved upon Vice-President Parsons—a task he has been fully equal to.

Tobogganing is all the rage among local wheelmen. Slides are being put up all around and cyclists are among their best patrons. I understand that one of the larger clubs contemplates putting up a slide. A great many ride to the slides on their wheels.

The Massachusetts Club will give a big athletic entertainment next Thursday evening. It is expected to prove the greatest affair of the kind yet given. There is considerable talent among the members, and in addition to this a number of outsiders have kindly volunteered their services. Boxing is usually among the chief features of these entertainments, but is conducted in such a way as to be in no way objectionable.

Woodside and Morgan are coming here on the 11th. It is announced that they will give some sort of an exhibition while here. HOWARD.

MANATAAQUA'S MUSINGS.

You must not expect a very brilliant effusion from me this week, Mr. Editor, on account of a heavy New Year's dinner of roast turkey and plum pudding, washed down with a bottle of Roederer Carte Blanche, this last being a New Year's present—do not think for a moment, Mr. Editor, that my pecuniary condition would warrant such extravagance otherwise. After dinner, while I sat musing and enjoying the perfume of a fragrant Havana (also a New Year's present), I called to mind a little incident which happened two or three years ago, which partakes somewhat of the nature of a romance. Now I am perfectly aware, Mr. Editor, that you do not permit the insertion of romance in the BULLETIN, but owing to the scarcity of news at this season of the year, you may perhaps permit this to successfully run the gauntlet of your murderous blue pencil.

On the shore of Long Island Sound, about 100 miles from New York city, lies the little city of New London, and, as some of your readers may know, about two or three miles from the city, connected by a shell-road, is the Pequot House, a summer hotel, surrounded by cottages and occupied during the season by guests principally from New York.

At the time this incident occurred, Mr. Printz, the eminent dry-goods merchant, was staying there, and the New York Evening Postagestamp, wishing to obtain the gentleman's opinion as to what effect the death of the King of the Cannibal Islands (which had recently occurred) would have on the wholesale calico trade, sent one of their reporters named Smith to interview him on the subject. Now, the editor of the New York Evening Tellemallaboutit, a rival sheet, hearing of it, immediately dispatched one of their reporters named Jones to secure an interview also.

Smith, who was a bicycle-rider, decided to take his wheel along and spend two or three days in recreation, notwithstanding the fact that the greedy N. Y. & N. H. R. R. would charge him one dollar for transportation of the bicycle. Our two reporters arrived safely at their destination and secured the interview, but so late that it was necessary to hurry in order to send their reports to their respective papers in time to appear in that evening's issue. Jones arrived first at the telegraph office, which is located in the hotel, but was informed by my friend Wilder—who was then operator, and who, by the way, is now a reporter on the Philadelphia Press—that during the thunderstorm which had occurred that morning lightning had struck a pole and all communication was cut off. He must, therefore, go to New London in order to send his dispatch. He hastened down to the dock just in time to catch the Niantic, a small steamboat plying between the city and Osprey Beach. He quickly scrambled aboard, and Smith, who had just discovered how matters stood, arrived just in time to receive an ironical adieu from him as he steamed away.

Smith, however, was not to be left in that manner, and remembering his wheel, hastened back to the hotel to obtain it, and was soon spinning away over the smooth shell road toward New London. The road is in sight of the water nearly all the way, and Smith bent far over the handles and made his feet go so fast you could scarcely see them, and soon had the satisfaction to see that he was gaining on the boat. He caught up with it as he flew past Fort Trumbull, notwithstanding that Jones had offered the captain a dollar to put on extra steam, and had climbed up and sat on the safety-valve. He rattled into the city over the blocks on Bank Street at such a pace that he nearly jolted his liver up into his mouth, and dismounted at the telegraph office with the perspiration streaming from every pore. As good luck would have it, all the operators were away at dinner except one, who was busily engaged sending Smith's two-column article, when Jones rushed breathlessly in. He soon saw that he had been beaten, and invited Smith to go up to the Crocker House with him and he would "set 'em up." But on his return to New York he immediately commenced taking lessons in riding the bicycle, and could soon ride as well as his friend Smith, and he may now be one of the 11,000 and odd members of the L. A. W. for all I know to the contrary. MANATAAQUA.

STAMFORD, CONNECTICUT-INGS.

After four trials to get a partner in a Christmas run to Rye and around there, we secured Mr. Frank Palmer and pushed out down the railroad track, the only smooth wheeling we have in winter.

Counting trains and cattle-yards, we had a good many dismounts, but the trip was not without its bright side.

A wind from the nor'west did its very level best to hinder our progress, but despite it we rode safely over the long railroad bridge connecting Riverside with Coscob and on down the line.

Men and boys varied skating by spearing eels through the ice on the pond at the old Davis Mill.

The old mill shall have a chapter to itself later.

Hunters we met along the way admitted having more hunting than game.

At Greenwich we ran up-town to do an errand, and saw Cyclists J. L. Mead and E. W. Reynolds, but the tussle for the mighty "cartwheel" kept them indoors, and we saw no other wheelmen out during the day. After seeing "a turkey shoot," which was a tame affair—both turkeys and shooting—when compared to cycling, we returned to the track. Here, owing to lack of time, Frank was obliged to turn homeward, while "the Club" kept on down to Port Chester and Rye. The bloom may have been on it in the month of blossoms, but on this December afternoon

> "It showed only brown and gray, > Viewed from each and every way."

So much of isinglass (we are not mineralogist enough to know its other name) was intermixed with the clay of one bit of sidepath in Rye that the sun gave it a brilliant, silvery appearance, and it was appropriate that as we were improving the golden opportunity of a bright day we should ride over "pictures of silver."

Some people may have their Rye brought to them, but we went to ours, and in the sleepy little place could not find a restaurant where a lunch could be had and tried to be content with a questionable pie at a dirty old hotel.

A Sabbath-like quiet prevailed everywhere, and the knots and lots of corner loafers helped keep up the semblance. In some cases their running chat and raillery was checked by our short and cool "N'York to Boston;" but they must say something to a passing wheelman.

Returning, the mild sunshine that had seemed to apologize for the most too cold wind, had an effect in our favor, for the run up was delightful, and we could the better enjoy the pretty bits of sound and shore, and we welcomed them the more, as breaks in the sometimes monotony of this wheeling down the track, which would soon be tiresome otherwise.

Hills with a good road surface are not without their attractions, and we think somewhat as a writer in Bicycling News does, who "abhors a flat country."

A change is desirable, and the scenery is always better in rolling sections. By the way, we see the BULLETIN frequently quoted in those papers devoted to cycling beyond the sea.

Say, you year-'round road riders, have you ever been on the road in a fog so dense you couldn't see the fence on either side, nor any object ten feet off, and at times found it safer to send a boy away for some distance ahead with a lamplight of red, and to yell wi' a' his might that people turn to the right?

We have, minus the boy, and found people going in their usual careless way, with heads down, as if in no danger of colliding with teams or their "fellow-hap-hazards."

By doubling the lookouts we get through in safety.

It's a pleasure to note that so popular a Captain of the Stamford Wheel Club as Mr. W. A. Hurlbutt is recovering from typhoid fever, which recently laid him so low that he almost had a glimpse of the gates ajar, leading into the city whose streets are paved with gold. That he is still with us he has the congratulations of THE SOLITARY CLUB.

BRITISH NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Christmas Day sees your faithful scribe pausing from the delirious joys of the season, abandoning the Christmas tree, and turning a back upon the soothing influences of the half-cooked turkey in order to pen these notes. Much would he like to make allusion to the difficulties of the Israelitish brickmakers, and to draw a comparison between their lack of straw and his want of topics, but the comparison smacks of the "chestnut," and he will forbear.

Talking of chestnuts, Wheeling's Christmas annual, which takes its name from that succulent but indigestible nut, is out and should be read with interest on your side of the ocean as well as on this. Unlike many of its predecessors among cycling Christmas numbers, it deals openly with the men to whom it refers. Fancy names, not to be understanded of the people, are eschewed, and the book, which is a travesty of the old children's book, Sanford and Merton, is readable throughout. It is built on a small scale, and it is evident that the advertisers have not been hard pressed, though it should show a greater business profit than any of its contemporaries. Of these the Cyclist Christmas number is a beautiful production, printed and illustrated to perfection, but its interest is scarcely on a par with that of "chestnuts."

It is interesting to note how widely spread is the influence of the L. A. W. BULLETIN, and with what annoyance the facts in connection with British cycling which appear in these columns are read by those to whom they are unpalatable in their truth. The statement appears in one of your contemporaries, and is quoted with great gusto here, that you are wrongly informed as to the state of matters at home. This is naturally absurd, as you, Mr. Editor, are supplied with the English wheel papers, and can judge for yourself whether or no you are properly posted up. In addition to which absolutely false statements made by an anonymous letter writer to the effect that a division of the abolition question has taken place, are to your own knowledge or by reference to an English paper without any foundation.

There are rumors of trouble in the air for the N. C. U., and it is to be feared that the views of a possibly bad future for that body which have been expressed in these columns ever since the Union struck at half a dozen promateurs, run every risk of being borne out by facts. The Executive has stopped short in its work, leaving dozens of minor promateurs unsuspended, while the cream of our racing men have gone. In addition to this, the loss of £150 on the championships has been followed by a successful demand from the Council for still greater irresponsibility on the part of the Championship Committee. This has added fuel to the flame which was already blazing in the Birmingham and New Castle districts, where the provincials claim to possess equal knowledge of how a race meeting should be conducted as the Londoners. They resent the introduction of London officials into the management of championships held in their town, and the more so as the Union pays the railway fares of these same Londoners. The popularity of the suspends and the evident partiality displayed in the sentences upon them, are all combining with the other influences at work to effect the disruption of the Union, and it only needed the finishing touch of the Treasurer's childish financial proposals to complete the ruin. As it is, many influential clubs are vacillating in their adherence, and the situation is undoubtedly strained.

On the motion of Mr. Sturmey, a committee has been appointed to consider the question of professional racing, and this departure has been met with strong opposition from the representatives of the professionals and from the Wolverhampton and Leicester track proprietors. Mr. Atkinson of the Sporting Life, who is more in touch with both these parties than any one else, has expressed their disinclination for any N. C. U. interference in very plain language, and though Mr. Sturmey returns to the charge with all the gallantry imaginable, it is to be feared that love's labor will be lost in this wooing.

It would appear that the rage for record is to suffer no diminution during the coming year, as Messrs. Hillman, Herbert & Cooper are out with an offer of £100 in cash or prize to any man riding a mile in 2.25, or 22½ miles in the hour, on a path, or 100 miles in six hours on the road on one of their machines. The other firms may be trusted to follow suit, and the old game will go on.

It was chiefly owing to the freely distributed satire of the members of a small London Club—the Hampstead—that the old cycling follies of bedizening the costume with gold braid, plunging the head in enormous helmets, and the hands in preposterous gauntlets died an untimely death. Curiously enough, five of these men, who used to write anonymously in the cycling press of five years ago—viz.: Messrs. Low, McCandlish, Kelly, Lloyd, and Swindley—are now prominent pressmen on opposition journals to each other, but the work of reform goes on. The first two, in Wheeling, have strongly deprecated the custom of inviting the press to club dinners, and the experiences of this season have shown that the Clubs are taking this advice to heart. Not only was the custom a heavy tax upon the club funds, owing to the necessity of asking each paper to send a representative, but, save to such pressmen as have no home ties and who consider a wearisome series of speeches compensated for by a good dinner and a bottle of champagne, the boredom of setting out three or four of these ghastly entertainments a week was insufferable. The rank and file of the clubs did not care a jot for the presence of the pressmen, and their appearance was generally ascribable to the Secretary's desire for a wine-born complimentary notice.

The election of the N. C. U. Executive will come on shortly, and it is expected that an attempt will be made to infuse some fresh blood into it. Among others, Harry Etherington thinks of standing, and as that energetic Briton has not used a pen journalistically during the past year, perhaps he will succeed in obtaining a seat. His revolutionary common sense would be of great use, and the groove into which the Union has got might be broken up by his influence.

At the present time it is impossible to say whether Mr. J. R. Hogg will bring forward his motion for the abolition of the definition or not. His Club has almost decided to leave the ranks of the Union, and if this happens the apostle of amateur abolition will probably content himself with this protest and take no further step this year. Such a step will not be thoroughly unwelcome even to the London party in favor of the abolition, as it is felt that the financial position of the Union is so critical that it is not safe to risk so searching a reform at present. Indeed, McCandlish has placed on the Agenda paper for the coming Council a proposal to found a racing register, with an entry fee of five shillings, to be paid by every man who races under N. C. U. rules, and as this was one of the Wheeling proposals in case of abolition being carried, it may be taken as an evidence of a desire to consolidate the Union's position ere it embarks on the logical course which may be deferred, but must come sooner or later, viz.: that of abolishing the amateur definition. LARS PORSENA.

Christmas Day, 1886.

This is the way a special path for the use of cyclists strikes Bi. News:

The cinder or asphalt path maniac has appeared in America, for we find some men are advocating the building of a six-feet cinder path from Jersey City to Philadelphia near the line of the railroad. We do not believe for one moment that such a plan is more feasible than our own London to Brighton racing track, which was so laughed to scorn a few years back; and even if such a path were laid we doubt whether men in their senses would use it. Can one imagine anything more monotonous than riding along a railroad for miles and miles? Yet this is what these men suggest cyclists doing, for, of course, as the railway went through cuttings the path would follow it, as it passed along an embankment the path would be clinging to the side, and through tunnels the path would be locked to the road of the iron horse in a very close embrace. No, let us have something more reasonable, Brother Jonathan, and don't attempt to take up as something new our discarded ideas.

The Post-Despatch has not yet learned what is meant by an "official" communication to the BULLETIN. Were we to bind ourselves to promptly publish every production that comes from a Club official, our paper would have to be extended to forty-eight pages at once. It is a communication from a League official on League business that is never delayed beyond the necessities of the case. These always appear under our "Official Announcements" column. Many letters from club officers for good and sufficient reasons never see the light.

A certain parson is very much opposed to tandem riding. He said, recently, to a young lady of the congregation:

"Are you one of those giddy girls to whom tandem riding is a heavenly pastime?"

"No, I don't think tandem riding is perfectly heavenly."

"Ah, that's right."

"Tandem riding is not perfectly heavenly," continued the young lady, "for you see it comes to an end too soon, but it is very much like heaven while it lasts."

RECENT CYCLING PATENTS.

Joseph Butcher, Boston, Mass., cyclometer.

J. B. Herboldshimer, Chicago, Ill., oil-can.

Robert Rodes, Jr., Nashville, Tenn., bicycle-handle.

L. A. Rust, Loudonville, Ohio, bicycle.

J. K. Starley, Coventry, Eng., roller-bearing for velocipedes.

THE OWL.

Promateurship is now a thing of the past, but while it lasted it paid—the promateur. Take the case of Rowe, for instance. Under a contract for nearly a year, receiving a stated salary and all of his expenses, he was, I am informed, paid $100 for each record he secured and was offered $1,000 for one other that he failed to accomplish, presumably some low figure on the mile. Rowe now rests on his laurels and boodle, particularly on the latter, and will, all the reports to the contrary, be seen upon the racing track next season. Hendee does not seem to have fared as well as the above, and he is contemplating opening a wheel agency during the winter; in fact, there are rumors of his having signed with a new make of wheel in Springfield for that time.

The number of colored people who have been body-servants, nurses, cooks, etc., to the late lamented George Washington is about equal to the sum total of cyclists claiming to be the first rider in America. I have looked this claim up, with the aid of the "old vet.," Pitman, and some back numbered literature in my possession, and I am going to award the honor of being the very first, bona fide, bicycle rider in this country to Mr. A. D. Chandler, a lawyer, of Boston, who owned and rode a bicycle early in the spring of 1877, and was a rider for several months before joined by others. He made the first long road ride in America in a journey from Fitchburg to Boston. I know this claim is going to be disputed by over 1,000 claimants, some of whom are going to put in that old plea of having ridden at the Centennial in the preceding year to the one I claim for Mr. Chandler, and to meet this I will have to establish for this gentleman a new record, i. e., "Around the world in ten minutes," which I am sure none can claim to have beaten. This was the title of an article, written by Mr. Chandler in a Boston daily paper in 1876, describing a trip on a bicycle around the Main Building of the Centennial, and is to-day one of the most readable things I have ever seen regarding cycling.

The inspired Shakespeare neglected to inform us as to whether that "divinity which doth hedge a king" also surrounded the "Prince of Liars." If so, the man who has a great deal more than his share of such divinity is a gentleman named Callan, of Glasgow, Scotland, the winner of the 50 pound prize offered by an English paper called Tit-Bits for an article on the experience of a cyclist. In five closely printed columns in that paper appear Mr. Callan's experiences in a cycling direction, and never before have I seen condensed in so small a space so many lies and impossible accidents and escapes. He has them spread over all Europe and Asia, from London to St. Petersburg, in every conceivable place and position, and tops off his experiences with a description of riding on a street in Patras, Greece, while an earthquake takes place. When in the course of time there shall be a monument erected to the champion liar of all time the name of Callan is bespoken by me for the place of honor thereon.

Tobogganing now steps in and pushes cycling down the list on the record for the fastest methods of man's locomotion for a mile. Recently at Tuxedo Park, a measured mile was covered by one of Frank Whit's Star toboggans in 55 seconds. Speaking of Star, reminds me that the present wheel of that name had a predecessor in a vertical forked wheel of the same name as far back as "78." It was made in England, and I suppose has long since gone the way of many a poorer make.

"Whatever you do, my boy, always begin at the bottom and work your way up," said smart Aleck's father to him on New Year's Day, when the usual turning over of a new leaf was being gone through with. "But, father," replied his son, "supposing I want to coast a hill?"

A good motto for beginners—divided we stand, united we fall.

Miss Cripper.—You are wrong; a special club is not a bicycle constructed especially for club-footed riders. Get thee gone.

I met a prominent Anglomaniac belonging to one of our city clubs the other day, during the pleasant streak of riding weather we were then enjoying, and I was astonished that he was not availing himself of the opportunity. I asked a friend of his the reason, and he explained it all in a few words: he had heard of the great fall of snow in England.

The L. A. W. certainly does not offer any specia, inducements for lady members. Take, for instancel the appointment of the League hotel in Racine, Wis. Why did they not appoint the Huggin House? It is true that the name would mislead some into believing it was a court house, but even that might become true if the L. A. W. had selected it, and our touring lady members had sojourned there long enough for the remainder of the 11,000 Leagueites to hear of the fact.

There is a small, sandy-haired ex-member of one of our prominent city clubs who is devoting his feeble brain to circulating untrue and damaging statements regarding the Club which formerly labored under the disadvantage of his membership. I am requested to thus kindly hint to him the advisability of his ceasing his slanders. After learning of his reports, Ananias immediately appealed for commutation of sentence, and declared himself no longer worthy the position which he has occupied since the beginning of the Christian era, i. e., liar extraordinary. This sandy-haired product of the 19th century had distanced him. "Nuf ced."

I see that a Mr. E. Moody Boyton appeared before a meeting of business men at Haverhill, Mass., and submitted plans for the building of a "bicycle railroad." I don't know just what kind of a railroad he intends building, but the idea is a good one, and most anything will be an improvement on the ones we now have, which, as a rule, are as strongly anti-bicycle as a prohibitory tariff for the carriage of wheels can make them.

A gentleman, Mr. J. Percy Phelan, while riding with his gloved hands in his pockets, suffered severe injuries by being thrown from his wheel recently in Boston. It is unfortunate, but natural, that riding with his hands in his pockets should result in J. Percy Phelan striking the pavement with his head.

The Cycle evidently does not want to encourage contributors, since it has a standing notice regarding its "Contributors' Club." I have seen many dodges, both to catch and to scare contributors, but the introduction of a club in these directions marks another of the new departures in cycling journalism. I am afraid my old friend Bassett is getting in over his head. The management of this Club, the running of his steam piano factory, and an endeavor to supply his readers each week with a "daisy" in and out of season, all for 75 cents, will be too much for even the chairman of the Racing Board to stand up under.

I am sorry to see a gentleman whose reputation for sobriety of living has heretofore escaped even suspicion has so changed it that every cycling paper contains a notice to that effect. I refer to Harry Corry. Every one of the papers agree that it is evident he "was not asleep while in England." It's a slander, and I won't believe it of Harry. He didn't have the inclination, and if he had, he nor no other man has the ability to stay without sleep for two weeks, no matter what inclination he might have on the subject.

Arthur J. Wilson, the greatest of English cycling journalists, will "Faed" away from bachelordom, and become a Benedict early in the coming spring.

"Rain out the old year and rain in the new," was the way the weather clerk fixed affairs for the Citizens on Friday evening, so while the rain poured outside, the wheelmen poured inside, till full a hundred of the latter thus escaped the wetting of the former. Mr. William Leonard opened the ball with an original composition entitled, "A Spring Symphony in the Far West," in which he, by the combined use of music and oratory, explained to the audience how the "morn kept breaking." A competitive bean bake between Richard Nelson, of the Citizens, and the "old vet.," Pitman, then took place, and the products of the trial were placed before the audience as jurors, but as is usual now in New York, the jury was tampered with, and the result was declared a dead heat. Dr. Beckwith made the coffee in his inimitable style, and did not fail to put in plenty enough sugar to make the audience's teeth need attention in the near future. Messrs. Dobson and Ashley produced from tensioned catgut more than the ordinary amount of music than can be produced from a banjo. The card of the evening was Mr. William Spear, of the Citizens. He did everything a man could do, and many that most men can't, in the line of being funny. His field of imitations included everything, from Dante to a dying hog, and when I left there, in time to get home just after the milkman made his New Year's call, the last thing I saw was this same Spear, with a feather duster stuck down his back, leading such sober and scholarly gentlemen as Ally, Martine, and Eaton in a genuine Indian war dance a la Buffalo William around an improvised camp-fire. Large bodies move slowly, and the Citizens Club is a very large body, hence, perhaps, its seeming slowness in falling into line in the festal direction, but, like a heavy wheel in coasting, the impetus once given, its weight carries it far ahead of lighter and smaller ones. So with the Citizens. Now they have gone in for social features, they are fast leaving all the other metropolitan clubs in the lurch, their facilities for entertaining and ability as hosts having placed them at the top in this, as they have always been in other directions.

Stevens has escaped the dangers of a three years' trip around the world only to run into those of a more deadly kind at home. From being in danger of dying for want of something to eat, he seems doomed to death from an over indulgence in banquets, if he accepts and partakes of all that are apparently going to be offered him. THE OWL.

WASHINGTON CYCLE CLUB NOTES.

December 31st, 1886.

A young naval fried of the writer, after traveling thousands of miles and visiting most of the large cities of the world (as well as having been to the Arctic regions with the Greely Relief Expedition, where he found that the Esquimaux had not yet taken to cycling but doubtless would when they reached a higher grade of civilization), said that he had yet to see a more beautiful city than Washington. He might have added that he had yet to see a city better adapted to the use of wheels. If a cycler had a city made to order he could not improve on the capital of these United States, which is, par excellence, the paradise of cyclists. Even at this period of the year, when most wheelmen of other cities have abandoned their bikes and trikes to disuse and consequent rust, Washington city wheelmen, and, of course, prominent among them members of the Washington Cycle Club, use their wheels daily. Just now they can be seen with skates strapped across their backs gliding along through the snow to Babcock Lake or the Potomac, where the skating is fine.

We claim the honor of having among our members the makers of the "largest bicycle ever built for road use" and regularly ridden by a cyclist, and would like to correct an erroneous impression given by the BULLETIN of recent date by asking the insertion of the following, which is a copy of a paragraph which appeared in the Cyclist (English) of November 17th, 1886:

"The American press are paragraphing a 64-inch "Expert Columbia," which has just been built by the Pope Company for R. B. Bolton, of Whitesborough, Texas, a six feet seven inch rider, as the 'largest bicycle ever built for road use.' We can beat this, for several years since the brother of P. G. Hebblethwaite had a 66-inch machine built for him by Smith, Sons & Co., of Sheffield, and not only rode it, but got run away with down a Yorkshire hill on it, croppered, and nearly killed himself."

The above mentioned Smith Sons have become American citizens, and made Washington their home. They are now members of our Club, and it is but right that they should get the credit which is due them of having built the largest bicycle ever regularly ridden for road use. Charley Smith, who is now our Captain, states that Mr. Hebblethwaite was six feet four inches high, 19 years old, and that his first ride on this 66-inch machine was for a distance of over 200 miles.

The dances regularly given by the Cycle Club are becoming very popular and will be continued through the season. The girls seem to take to cyclists here, and we don't blame them, for a better set of fellows can't be found anywhere. Their hospitality is Southern in its character. We are looking forward in high glee to our next hop on January 7th, 1887, the first in the new year.

The Club (which is L. A. W.) has adopted the uniform of the League of American Wheelmen, but is becoming dissatisfied with the poor quality of cloth furnished by Messrs. Browning, King & Co., of New York. A suit bought by a member about four months ago and not overmuch used is faded and hardly presentable. We hope the BULLETIN will exert its influence to improve the quality of cloth furnished.

On this, the last day of the old year of 1886, the Washington Cycle Club sends to all wheelmen, and especially to those who are members of our League, its greetings, and wishes that the New Year of 1887 may be to them one of happiness, and that they may enjoy in the fullest possible measure that greatest of all pleasures—cycling.

CHRONICLER.

FROM NEW ORLEANS.

That the BULLETIN's efforts in the cause of better streets and roads have not been wholly without results is evinced by the fact that the Times-Democrat, one of our leading morning dailies, in a recent editorial on the subject of street-paving saw fit to draw extensively on some of the BULLETIN'S recent productions, giving proper credit to that paper, and thus making we cycling mortals' breasts swell with pride. Ahem!

After all necessary arrangements had been completed and the contractors about to commence tearing down the structure which occupies the lot on which the projected Club-House of the New Orleans Bicycle Club was to be erected, it was discovered that there was a mortgage on the property, on learning which the builder very naturally refused to touch a brick in the building, and so once more the Club is forced to swallow the bitter pill of disappointment. Another site, however, has been offered them in a locality even more desirable than the first, and before a great while the long-contemplated, much-talked-of Club-House may become a reality.

The boys, as a Club, have done very little riding the past few months, though individually many of them have covered quite respectable distances. Don't think any of them have quite as large a mileage as the Westfield riders, but know that not a few of them have considerably more than 1,000 miles to their credit, and if they will but put their scores together, I have no doubt but that the New Orleans Bicycle Club can show as good a riding record as the average club.

Prince Wells, the professional trick and fancy rider, is now in the city opening the eyes of the visitors at the Dime Museum. Several nights since the New Orleans Club attended in a body, in honor of which Wells prolonged his programme to double its usual length. During the performance some one cracked that cycling chestnut of "What's the matter with Wells?" to which the entire Club responded the usual "Oh! he's all right," completely astonishing the non-wheeling audience. BIKE.

THE MYSTERY OF AH FONG.

The mystery of Ah Fong has proved about the biggest joke on record, and laughter was predominant at our office all last week. We cannot, however, better describe the scene than by quoting the following, which appeared in the Birmingham Daily Times last Saturday: A gigantic hoax has been perpetrated on the cyclists of the Midlands. Some months ago paragraphs appeared in the newspapers stating that a new trick bicycle rider had arisen in the person of a Celestial named Ah Fong. The most marvelous feats were said to be easy of accomplishment to Ah Fong, who, it was affirmed, could ride on one wheel along a tight-rope. Ah Fong's fame increased with the lapse of time. His capabilities were discussed in America, the Bicycle World uttering a loud protest against every walk of life being blocked by the cheap Chinese, while the French papers more generously spoke of the new rider as the "grande equilibriste." But there was a mystery about Ah Fong. Everybody had read of him, everybody talked of him, but no one could be found who had seen him. Suddenly a report was started that he would appear at Coventry in December. Mr. S. Golder, of The Cyclist, while dining with the Leamington Cyclists' Club, incidentally mentioned the matter, and remarked to the Secretary, "I suppose you will come to Coventry to see Ah Fong on the 17th?" The Secretary was in an ecstacy at the prospective treat, and Mr. Golder magnanimously extended his invitation to the whole of the Leamington Club. Circulars were sent to all the members, and the proposed visit to Coventry became the most popular fixture of the Club's arrangements. Ah Fong's reputation grew amazingly as the 17th approached and the anticipated performance got wind at Coventry. The city of spires and cycles could not be ignored in such a matter, so the Secretary of the Coventry and District Cyclists' Club obtained permission to issue a circular, too, inviting the members "to a private performance by Ah Fong, a Chinese mandarin, and the champion trick bicycle rider of the world," on the 17th. Admission was to be by ticket only, and members who wished to be present were asked to inform the Secretary by the 10th, in order that the passes might be ready by the 14th.

The assiduity with which the Secretary of the Coventry Club carries out all his undertakings has won for him the cognomen of Mr. Secretary Energetic Hayward, and in this matter, as the reporters would say, he fully maintained his reputation. He obtained a promise from the Mayor to attend; he received a representative of the Corn Exchange Company respecting the hiring of the room; he entertained no end of local applications for passes—in fact, he did everything that was possible to secure for Ah Fong a fitting reception. Tradesmen in the city exhibited immense anxiety to witness Ah Fong's performance, and vied with each other to obtain tickets. A prominent cycle manufacturer complained in high dudgeon that the trade had been slighted in not receiving special invitations—which was a great shame—and jealousy began to manifest itself where all had been peace and concord. The buzz of excitement spread far and wide, and applications for tickets to see the great Chinaman came from Leicester, Nottingham, Derby, Bristol, Leamington, Birmingham, Wolverhampton, Rugby, and many other centres.

Meanwhile, nothing had been seen of Ah Fong, and suspicions were entertained that something was going wrong. The passes were not forthcoming, and the Corn Exchange was still disengaged. But on Tuesday a member of the Coventry Club rushed home with the glad news that he had seen an heathen Chinee at Birmingham Station, and in the supposition that this must be Ah Fong the demand for tickets was redoubled. But the mystery grew more mysterious than ever. Evidently some one had blundered, for the Exchange was still to let and no one knew Ah Fong's whereabouts.

But on Wednesday the secret was out. The Cyclist Christmas number was published on that day, and its contents included a sketch entitled "Ah Fong: His opinion of Cycling Men and Things." This was the climax. Ah Fong's personality was destroyed, but it was no easy matter to persuade the disappointed cyclists that he was a myth. Mr. Golder communicated with the Leamington Club, who abandoned their visit and relished the joke immensely; Mr. Secretary Energetic Hayward waited on the Mayor with explanations and a Christmas number, and had his revenge by referring all applicants for passes to Mr. Golder; Mr. Golder, groaning in spirit, floundered among the almost numberless pressing requests, which still poured in up to last night, for "the favor of a ticket;" the jealousy of the manufacturers was appeased and died away in broad smiles; and the cyclists accepted their disappointment with as good a grace as they could.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

The Wheel says: "The record for the biggest wheel now stands at 66 in. We should be pleased to hear from any one who has even heard of, or seen, a larger machine." If it is of any interest to our contemporary, we may say that Mr. Potts, of the Edinburgh Amateurs, has, and occasionally rides, an 84-inch wheel. This is geared down to 50 inches by chain wheels on the forks in the same manner as the "Kangaroo" is geared up, and was built several years since by the Centaur Cycle Company for an Edinburgh professional trick-rider, who performed with it in the Waverley Market, and at whose failure Mr. Potts bought it for "a mere song."—The Cyclist.

To those of our members who imagine that any organization, however powerful, can successfully publish an official journal which openly wages war against the manufacturers as a class, especially when those very manufacturers are members in good standing in that organization, we commend the following sensible paragraph from London Wheeling:

"Again in the matter of the C. T. C. We read a great deal of noble sentiment from the pen of the editor of the Gazette, and enterprising firms who overstep the bounds of discretion receive the castigation of that plenipotentiary. But, with a trade combination and trade action away would go the C. T. C., for its income without the advertisements could never keep the Gazette, and ergo the Club, alive. What we wish to argue is that however much the young, middle-aged, and decrepit lions of 'cycledom celebrated' may roar, the trade is the supreme arbiter. Resolved into its component parts, rent apart by jealousies and struggles for supremacy, it is temporarily weak. But if it combines and insists on its voice being heard, neither C. T. C. nor N. C. U. could stand against it. Everything goes back sooner or later to the trade, and it is a thousand pities that the N. C. U. is not more en rapport therewith. The financial troubles now looming in the near future would not look so dark were such an understanding and consequent good feeling established."

Bi. News greatly exaggerates the influence of the C. T. C. Gazette in America, and at the same time shows its ignorance of the contents of these columns for the past six months in speaking as follows:

"E. R. Shipton, some little time back, criticised the cloth which is used for the L. A. W. uniform, and quoted the remarks of an expert concerning its wearing and color-retaining qualities as compared with our own C. T. C. cloth. His observations seem to have put the L. A. W. officials on their mettle, for we notice in the BULLETIN of December 3d that President Beckwith 'has ordered Messrs. Browning, King & Co., the League tailors, to stop the manufacture of any more League suits until a guarantee has been furnished the League from the Middlesex Mills that the goods will have fast colors.'"

It is very doubtful if half a dozen of the two hundred members of our Board have read Mr. Shipton's criticism; the L. A. W. does not need to go to England for that kind of knowledge. Among ten thousand members we have several who can tell whether a piece of cloth has faded or not, strange as that may seem to our Yankeephobist.

Says Bi-News:

"A correspondent, not desirous of participating in the curious competition the result of which we gave last week, writes to say that if we want to get known among cyclists who do not read cycling papers as a rule, we had better take Karl Kron on to the staff at once, for he is the finest ingenious advertiser of the cyclonic age. We agree with our correspondent that Karl would be a valuable acquisition for this purpose, and without further to-do we beg to ask the rider, writer, and advertiser of Ten Thousand Miles on a Bicycle what his terms would be to forsake America and come over here to blow our trumpet all over the United Kingdom instead of his own. Should we succeed in catching this 'knowing old bird,' we shall expect large presents from every reader of American journals devoted to the sport for removing a source of irritation—they can look upon him as nothing else—out of their midst."

You are wrong, Brother Hillier; America values "K. K." and that highly. He may seem slow; but those of us who have had the pleasure of inspecting the first five hundred or so pages of his book know that the pains that have been expended thereon warrant this extraordinary degree of caution. "K. K." will put forth a book that will be in great contrast to the many specimens of slipshod work that we have had in the past, and one that will long stand as a vade mecum of things historical, scientific, and theoretical in cycling.

Says the Buffalo Courier:

The witty and pugnacious Dr. George H. Blackham, of Dunkirk, who is equally well known to the wheelmen and microscopists of Buffalo, is to lecture before the Rochester Academy of Science, January 10th, on "The Bicycle and Tricycle as Factors in our Civilization." The Rochester scientists will be wise to shut up their sun spots for one evening and be temperate in any objections which may suggest themselves to Dr. Blackham's theories, even if he lays down the proposition that the earth was created chiefly to furnish a surface upon which to trundle wheels.

We are glad to learn from Secretary-Treasurer Perkins, of the Rhode Island Division, that his Division has made arrangements with the Massachusetts Division to have the two States publish a Road-Book together in the spring.

From Editor Charles Lee Meyers we learn with pleasure that the Jersey City Athletic Club were remarkably successful in their fair. The receipts were $18,000, of which about two-thirds is profit. As the building is already paid for, this money furnishes the house.

Official Announcements.

LEAGUE OFFICERS.

OFFICERS OF THE BOARD.

PRESIDENT.—Dr. N. M. Beckwith, 21 W. Thirty-seventh Street, New York.
VICE-PRESIDENT.—T. J. Kirkpatrick, Springfield, Ohio.
TREASURER.—Sanford Lawton, Springfield, Mass.
SECRETARY-EDITOR.—E. M. Aaron, P. O. Box 916, Philadelphia, Pa.

STANDING COMMITTEES.

EXECUTIVE.—N. M. Beckwith, 21 W. Thirty-seventh Street, New York; T. J. Kirkpatrick, Springfield, Ohio; John C. Gulick, 132 Nassau Street, New York city.
MEMBERSHIP.—E. F. Hill, Chairman, P. O. Box 797, Peekskill, N. Y.; Dr. G. Carlton Brown, 16 Broad Street, Elizabeth, N. J.; J. R. Dunn, Massillon, Ohio.
RACING.—Abbot Bassett, Chairman, 22 School Street, Boston, Mass.; Ewing L. Miller, 134 S. Front Street, Philadelphia, Pa.; W. M. Brewster, 300 Olive Street, St. Louis, Mo.; Chas. H. Potter, Cleveland, Ohio; Gerry Jones, Binghamton, N. Y.
RULES AND REGULATIONS.—W. I. Harris, Chairman, Box 5132, Boston, Mass.; Dr. C. S. Butler, 263 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.; Knight L. Clapp, 328 West Sixtieth Street, N. Y.
RIGHTS AND PRIVILEGES.—Charles E. Pratt, 597 Washington Street, Boston, Mass.; John C. Gulick, 132 Nassau Street, N. Y.; A. S. Parsons, Cambridgeport, Mass.
TRANSPORTATION.—Burley B. Ayers, Chairman, 152 S. Hoyne Avenue, Chicago, Ill.; Geo. R. Bidwell, 313 W. 58th Street, New York city; W. S. Bull, 587 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.; J. H. Livingston, Editor The Reformer, Bennington, Vt.; Fred. T. Sholes, Marsh-Harwood Co., Cleveland, O.; Frank Read, Record Building, Philadelphia; Frank A. Elwell, Transcript Office, Portland, Maine; Columbus Waterhouse, 16 Beale Street, San Francisco, Cal.; M. E. Graves (at large), Mannheim Building, St. Paul, Minn.

OFFICIAL HANDICAPPER.

N. P. Tyler, M. D., New Rochelle, N. Y.

PROPOSED CHANGES IN THE BY-LAWS.

NEW YORK, January 3d, 1887.

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE BOARD OF OFFICERS, L. A. W.

GENTLEMEN:—I hereby give notice, pursuant to Article VIII of the By-Laws, that I shall present for your consideration at the meeting of the Board on January 17th inst., an amendment to the By-Laws providing that vacancies in the office of Representative shall be filled by the Chief Consul of the State in which such vacancy occurs, and taking this power of appointment from the President of the League.

Yours, fraternally,
C. H. LUSCOMB, Repesentative from New York.

APPOINTMENT FOR PENNSYLVANIA.

NEW YORK, December 30th, 1886.

Upon the recommendation of Chief Consul Wells, of Pennsylvania, I am pleased to appoint as an additional Representative for that State, Mr. Seward H. Murray, of Sewickley, Pa., who is mentioned as a hard worker and enthusiastic wheelman, and will, no doubt, prove a valuable acquisition to the Division force.

Fraternally,
N. MALON BECKWITH, Pres. L. A. W.

TO CALIFORNIA MEMBERS.

To retain your membership in the L. A. W. you must remit to Eugene M. Aaron, Secretary, P. O. Box 916, Philadelphia, Pa., in time to reach there before the 1st of March next, one dollar, annual dues for the year 1887. When you joined you paid one dollar initiation fee and dues for so many quarters of the current year as were then unexpired. In other words, you paid dues to December 31st, 1886, and your membership then expired. You are allowed until the 1st of March to renew, and failing to do so your membership is lost and you will have to join again.

California closes the year with a membership of 210. We do not believe there is one of this number but is satisfied with the investment he made and is willing to keep up his interest. But this is not enough. We expect more than this. We expect during the next year to see California League membership reach 500. It can easily be done. There are more than enough wheelmen in the State to render it possible, and their number is constantly increasing. We make a personal appeal to every present League member to aid us in bringing about this result. Represent to your non-League friends the advantages of membership. Show them what has been done in so young and as yet scarcely organized a Division as California; how wheelmen throughout the State have been brought into closer relationship and acquaintance; how at every important point where wheelmen are likely to visit a Consul has been appointed whose duty it is to give them all needed information and assistance; how hotels have been selected as headquarters where wheelmen are sure to obtain every attention at reasonable rates; how road information has been gathered and disseminated for the benefit of touring wheelmen; tell them that one-half of their annual dues are returned to the Division, and that the more members there are from the State the more money the Division will have in its treasury and the more it can accomplish. If your friend remains obdurate, if he is of that class who are perfectly willing to avail themselves of every benefit that organized effort may obtain for wheelmen in general without giving in return the assistance of his personal influence and the trifling contribution we ask from his purse, then show him as an absolute and tangible return for his money the L. A. W. BULLETIN. Ask him to compare it with any other cycling publication and decide if it is not the best publication of the sort in the world to-day. If he is still unconverted, if he does not care enough about the sport to keep posted in its doings, let him alone; he is beyond the pale of hope, and we can only pray that he may not long encumber the road.

Do not delay renewing. To join costs $2.00. No one is entitled to vote for Chief Consul and officers at the election to be held between the 10th of March and 10th of April who is not a member on the 1st of March. Applicants do not become members until two weeks after their names appear in the BULLETIN, so to be a member on the 1st of March, and entitled to vote, your application must reach Philadelphia not later than the 5th of February. The Chief Consul and Secretary-Treasurer will take charge of and remit at the cost of the Division all moneys intrusted to their care. We commend to clubs the plan adopted by the Bay City Wheelmen. Their Treasurer remits for the entire Club, and charges each member with his fee.

ROBERT W. WELCH, Chief Consul.

WEST VIRGINIA APPOINTMENT.

WHEELING, W. VA., December 30th, 1886.

EDITOR L. A. W. BULLETIN:

W. L. Wright, Chief Consul, has appointed C. C. Lewis, Jr., as Consul for Charleston, W. Va.

Fraternally yours,
H. P. WILKINSON, Secretary-Treasurer.

TO TENNESSEE MEMBERS.

MEMPHIS, TENN., December 29th, 1886.

EDITOR L. A. W. BULLETIN:

I have appointed the following League Hotels: Chattanooga, the Gow House; rate not given. Murfreesboro, the Jordon; rate, $1.50.

The following circular letter has been mailed to each member in the State, and we produce it here to impress it upon the minds of our members and urge them to renew:

MEMPHIS, TENN., December 24th, 1886.

DEAR SIR AND BROTHER WHEELMAN:

The League year is now drawing to a close, and I would earnestly call your attention to the fact that you should send in your renewal AT ONCE. It is important that this should be done, so that at the League meeting, to be held in St. Louis in May next, Tennessee may have a Representative on the Board of Officers. Let us have one, at any rate, and if possible more. In the words of a forgotten poet:

"Turn, turn, my wheel! 'Tis nature's plan
The child should grow into the man."

Come, let our Division grow during '87 as it has never grown before.

I trust that you will at once respond to this call by sending your renewal to E. M. Aaron, Box 916, Philadelphia, Pa., inclosing $1.00 for your 1887 dues. With the compliments of the season, I am

Yours, fraternally,
W. L. SURPRISE, Chief Consul.

IMPORTANT TO BOARD MEMBERS.

GENTLEMEN OF THE BOARD:

Owing to an unfortunate blunder in this office, the envelopes inclosed with the mail vote on Dr. Blackham's motion were not those intended for that purpose. They were not printed in the corner, as they should have been, as follows: "Mail vote, L. A. W., closes February 1st, 1887."

To remedy this blunder as far as possible, I would respectfully request all who care to vote on this motion to plainly write the above words on or near the upper left hand corner of the inclosing envelope.

Fraternally,
E. M. AARON, Sec'y.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date and published in accordance with Article III of the Constitution, which is as follows:

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Applicants will please bear in mind that in addition to the two weeks, as above, it must necessarily take several days for their ticket to be issued, as it passes through two hands before being mailed to them. After four weeks from date of publication you may look for your ticket.

It is expected, and it is the duty, of all members to examine the list of applications for their respective States and report at once any error in name or address, and see that no objectionable person is admitted to the League. Any objection must be made to the Secretary within two weeks from date of publication. It will be considered confidential.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct, and report any error at once to

E. M. AARON, Secretary-Editor,
P. O. Box 916, Philadelphia, Pa.

No. 68—Total, 51.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., January 3d, 1887.

ARKANSAS—1.

Unattached—1.
13159 Rogers, G. B., 19th and Main Sts., Little Rock.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION—4.

Oakland Ramblers—1.
13166 Haven, Chas. D., 416 California St., San Francisco.
Unattached—3.
13143 Colville, Frank C., 1503 7th Ave., Oakland.
13127 Esler, Charles, 431 Bryant St., San Francisco.
13158 Hall, Leon M., San Jose.

CONNECTICUT DIVISION—3.

Stamford Wheel Club—1.
13157 Brown, Wm. E., Stamford.
Unattached—2.
13156 Lockwood, Robt. D., Stamford.
13138 Remer, Chas. E., Ansonia.

ILLINOIS DIVISION—1.

Unattached—1.
13128 Ehlert, Robt., care Union Nat. Bank, Chicago.

INDIANA DIVISION—3.

Fort Wayne Bi. Club—2.
13176 Pullam, A. J., 142 W. Jefferson St., Fort Wayne.
13175 Shorey, W. H., 18 Butler St., "
Unattached—1.
13174 Wilson, Frank W., 76 Breckenridge St., Fort Wayne.

KANSAS DIVISION—4.

Unattached—4.
13152 Dinsmore, Robert, Lyons.
13153 Everest, C. H., "
13155 Gilmore, J. E., "
13154 Perry, A. L., "

MARYLAND DIVISION—1.

Unattached—1.
13129 Mitchell, Chas. L., 222 Chew St., Baltimore.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION—1.

Unattached—1.
13161 Perry, Geo. H., Crescent Ave., Dorchester.

MISSOURI DIVISION—8.

Marion County Wheelmen—7.
13167 Appler, C. H., care Hayward Groc. Co., Hannibal.
13171 Hall, W. H., 103 Mohawk St., "
13169 Irwin, J. C., care U. S. Int. Rev. Office, "
13168 Miller, A. C., care Park Hotel, "
13170 McRae, M. D., 211 Bird St., "
13172 Richmond, Price, 314 Chestnut St., "
13173 Summers, Ivy B., care Journal, "
Unattached—1.
13130 Case, Geo. A., Joplin.

NEW JERSEY DIVISION—2.

Brunswick Bi. Club—2.
13140 Brown, Daniel, New Brunswick.
13139 Van Anglen, Cornelius, New Brunswick.

NEW YORK DIVISION—9.

Brooklyn Bi. Club—3.
13131 Blauvelt, J. M. S., 314 Baltic St., Brooklyn.
13132 Blauvelt, Chas. A., 400 DeGrau St., "
13133 McGrady, Jas. 327 S. 5th St., "
Morrisiana Wheelmen—3.
13164 Arbogast, C. O., 847 E. 165th St., New York.
13163 Rogers, Jason, Boston Ave. and Horne St., "
13162 Simpson, G. Harry, 1255 Boston Ave., "
Binghamton Bi. Club—1.
13144 Ford, Virgil W., Binghamton.
Unattached—2.
13141 Hirschhorn, Clarence, 57 E. 59th St., New York.
13160 Settle, Charles T., 363 a 6th, S. Brooklyn.

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION—11.

Philadelphia Bi. Club—6.
13145 Bement, Frank, 2181 and Callowhill St., Phila.
13146 Bement, Wm. P., 1827 Mt. Vernon St., "
13147 Biddle, Wm. F., 4305 Spruce St., "
13150 More, Rev. J. J. J., 2906 Poplar St., "
13148 Ridpath, Samuel, 1239 Shackamaxon St., "
13149 Wistar, Dillwyn, 702 Chestnut St., "
Unattached—5.
13142 Bright, Hermon L., 2024 N. Broad St., Phila.
13135 Fraser, Chas., 450 Richmond St., "
13165 Heitzmann, Fred. M., Wilkes-Barre.
13134 Lukens, James C., 1556 E. Montgomery Ave., Phila.
13151 Sheeley, Rev. V. G., Bridgeville.

VERMONT DIVISION—1.

Mystic Cycling Club—1.
13136 North, J. B., St. Johnsbury.

VIRGINIA DIVISION—2.

Old Dominion Wheelmen—1.
13137 Lockhart, A. P., 901 E. Main St., Richmond.
Unattached—1.
13177 Graham, H. Tucker, Millwood.

APPLICATIONS FOR LIFE MEMBERSHIP.

No. 2—Total, 11.

PHILADELPHIA, January 3d, 1887.

ILLINOIS DIVISION—1.

Unattached—1.
1782 Marsh, I. Clarence, 4900 Washington St., Chicago.

MISSOURI DIVISION—1.

Unattached—1.
6639 Stewart, A. C., 404 Market St., St. Louis.

NEW YORK DIVISION—1.

Citizens' Bi. Club—1.
3277 Huss, G. Martin, 1285 Broadway, New York.

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION—7.

Pennsylvania Bi. Club—1.
2181 Detwiler, Frank, 812 Market St., Phila.
Century Wheelmen—1.
5421 Snyder, Chas. A., Box 349, Phila.
Philadelphia Bi. Club—1.
279 Hart, H. B., 811 Arch St., Phila.
Unattached—4.
8406 Fry, Ed. L., 115 Dock St., Harrisburg.
2222 Gorgas, George L., "
4165 Snyder, A. F., Weissport.
3512 Stephenson, Jno. V., Greensburg.

RHODE ISLAND DIVISION—1.

Unattached—1.
6126 Perkins, Howard L., Providence.

LEAGUE CLUB RENEWALS.

The following League Clubs have renewed through the proper officers the number of members given below:

Dec. 27th, Brooklyn Bi. Club, Brooklyn, N. Y., 52
" 28th, Middletown Wh. C., Middletown, Conn., ... 28
" " Brunswick Bi. Club, Brunswick, N. J., 20
" 29th, Plainfield Bi. Club, Plainfield, N. J., . 53
" " Phila. Bi. Club, Phila., Pa., . . 44
" 30th, Stamford Wh. C, Stamford, Conn., . 20
" 31st, Morrisiana Whm., New York city, . 16
" " Allegany Co. Whm., Friendship, N. Y., 12
" " Eurota Bi. Club, St. Louis, Mo., . 15
" " Ft. Wayne Bi. Club, Ft. Wayne, Ind., 20

RENEWALS.

No. 4.—Total, 638.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., January 3d, 1887.

ALABAMA DIVISION—1.

3997 Zacharias, C. R.

ARKANSAS DIVISION—8.

10302 Appersen, R. D.
12556 Baird, H. P
12476 Bernays, P. H.
12557 Dungan, J. M.
12477 Fletcher, F. L.
12478 Jones, A. C.
12558 Ostrander, L. F.
10525 Polk, L. E.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION—1.

10542 Hevener, W. C.

COLORADO DIVISION—5.

11661 Cooper, W. W.
8816 Ferrin, C. B.
8817 Knight, E. E.
7410 Morton, R. F.
12447 Ramsay, J. P.

CONNECTICUT DIVISION—61.

10322 Babbitt, S. W.
3668 Baldwin, W. L.
2789 Ballard, J. H.
412 Benedict, G. S.
4447 Brockway, G. L.
4450 Burr, R. H.
5557 Butler, D. D.
5501 Camp, E. G.
5999 Camp, H. L.
4446 Caulkins, F. L.
2275 Clark, E. J.
2286 Coffin, S. V
2788 Cummings, T.
7245 Davenport, T.
2421 Davis, F. W.
10743 Douglas, W. B.
11871 Dowe, C. A.
11496 Drew, F. M.
12574 Goodsell, P. L.
8459 Hampshire, P.
2215 Hendrie, C. W.
4212 Hendrie, C.
11495 Hitchcock, M. C.
4993 Horne, R. H.
9993 Howland, C. F.
12198 Hubbard, G. T.
3131 Hurlbutt, W. A.
6552 Ingraham, C. L.
2213 Jessup, N. R.
12870 Jerman, F.
9028 Kenward, C. T.
2288 Leach, C. H.
12990 Lockrow, P.
12122 Matthews, R. W.
3228 Munson, A.
405 Michels, W. J.
4809 MacKee, H. E.
10324 Nettleton, W. E.
6223 Payne, W. E.
12199 Pease, W. W.
2281 Perry, C. S.
4364 Rockwell, G. F.
9026 Ronald, W. L.
5555 Rutty, A. H.
550 Sanford, W. H.
5471 Shaw, S. H.
2273 Singleton, F. E.
6000 Spear, J.
7246 Stockwell, H. C.
5550 Starr, H. B.
4872 Stewart, J. S.
10655 Stevens, E. B.
7219 Stiles, E. S.
7218 Stiles, H. R.
9029 Toelken, H.
11916 Vanderwerken, E.
4445 Ward, H. C.
5861 Warren, H. J.
4873 Wetherbee, J. B.
7771 White, E. R.
10328 Wells, C. E.

DELAWARE DIVISION—1.

11095 Merrihew, S. W.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA DIVISION—2.

7063 Crenshaw, M. K.
691 Crenshaw, A. P.

FLORIDA DIVISION—1.

5766 Woodward, G. M.

ILLINOIS DIVISION—11.

6900 Barnes, E. S.
12825 Bickham, W. R.
805 Brown, E. T.
258 Carter, H. W.
11321 Dickey, C. F.
7240 Gardner, R. S.
11959 Greer, P. E.
7955 Ingalls, F. A.
2846 Koetter, F. W.
7960 Thorne, C. H.
8196 Tripp, S. H.

INDIANA DIVISION—44.

11695 Banks, L.
12279 Beck, C. D.
11324 Bertsch, J. M.
416 Bishop, H. C.
9848 Bostick, W. D.
12196 Caldwell, D. H.
9364 Crawford, C. F.
9853 Lightfoot, F. S.
10764 Meyer, H. J.
7181 Miller, O. G.
11844 Nicholson, T. B.
10765 Ohnhaus, L.
10007 Overton, M.
12008 Paul, W.
7252 Crawley, M. D.
11657 Crowder, C. H.
9849 Dehaven, P. D.
11846 Eastlack, F. E.
9850 Edgerton, C. W.
10763 Evans, J. S.
12773 Gardner, I. J.
5154 George, W. A.
12006 Guild, C.
12180 Hanna, J.
11754 Harding, B. A.
12217 Heeb, W. E.
5153 Hunt, R.
12183 Jaxtheimer, A. W.
9852 Kuhns, J. M.
12009 Phillips, F.
12528 Pickard, H. R.
3035 Pontius, W. H.
12181 Riblet, F.
9854 Ross, G. A.
10009 Robinson, F. H.
490 Sample, K. G.
10195 Saunders, E. M.
12529 Schlatter, D. D.
9855 Scheiman, C. J.
9856 Siemon, H. T.
11507 Stutsman, C. B.
6007 Tillson, C. D.
9857 Thieme, F. J.
9859 Vogel, H. A.

IOWA DIVISION—6.

8112 Barnes, S. G.
4944 Hull, O. E.
10011 Hull, F. G.
8471 Kirshbaum, D. G.
9711 Stilson, A. C.
5774 Washburne, G. H.

KENTUCKY DIVISION—4.

8211 Grant, C. L.
12357 Johnson, E. M.
12358 Lemke, F. M.
2817 Thompson, A. L.

KANSAS DIVISION—2.

8186 Everest, J. H.
9018 Wakenhut, P. G.

LOUISIANA DIVISION—3.

11139 Pea, B. C.
8667 Sentell, G. W.
7412 Shields, E. A.

MAINE DIVISION—1.

11510 Goodwin, W. C.

MARYLAND DIVISION—6.

5100 Cunningham, J. H.
12797 Dashiell, L.
10777 Eisenbrandt, E. B.
12826 Eisenbrandt, F. B.
2059 Hodson, C.
923 Thomas, D. M.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION—38.

806 Adams, J. F.
9217 Baxter, J. R.
12248 Belcher, E. S.
12024 Bliss, W. H.
12376 Booth, C. H.
1645 Bond, W. A.
10038 Bonney, C. D.
9218 Bolen, L. C.
7222 Chase, H. A.
7855 Chase, G. F.
8114 Crane, C. K.
5348 Dale, C. E.
9595 Draper, F. A.
8115 Dunn, W. W.
9221 Emery, A. L.
5253 Farr, H. M.
11148 Frye, J. H.
8760 Fuller, H. A.
12178 Griffin, W. W.
10397 Hurd, J. A. V.
5998 Harris, A. W.
3311 Hawks, F. E.
11426 Mayo, F. H.
9227 Means, H. F.
10091 Morgan, C.
10820 Nash, C. S.
12498 Parker, G.
3332 Purinton, A. J.
9203 Richardson, J. W.
9438 Smith, H. F.
1691 Stone, H. D.
2085 Swslow, F. O.
10236 Todd, E. H.
4970 Todd, G. W.
7274 Trowbridge, J. S.
161 Warren, H. W.
6491 Williams, F. H.
9097 Winter, W. E.

MICHIGAN DIVISION—7.

6840 Denton, W.
10414 Henion, F. N.
12317 Jenkins, O. G.
11164 Kellogg, W. K.
11429 King, F. B.
12772 Osgood, F. G.
11673 Woodman, F.

MINNESOTA DIVISION—1.

5050 Welles, A. M.

MISSOURI DIVISION—24.

7555 Bakewell, G.
4019 Bakewell, R.
1091 Beckers, C. F. A.
6641 Carpenter, W. W.
4028 Congelman, T.
1154 Cranz, H. C.
4023 Cushing, E. F.
4024 Francis, G. M.
12999 Graham, W.
4018 Hoffman, G. E.
10847 Kearney, M.
8024 Merkel, J. B.
7298 Perry, L.
4013 Perry, R. E.
11986 Philley, C. U.
12519 Sergeant, W. G.
2010 Senseney, E. M.
10605 Smith, C. S.
2695 Stettinius, E. R.
7020 Snyder, W. S.
2824 Thorn, H. C.
7192 Walden, H. P.
12409 Wiekes, F. C.
1990 Young, A.

NEBRASKA DIVISION—1.

12073 Chandler, M. B.

NEW HAMPSHIRE DIVISION—2.

988 Campbell, F. P.
10852 Gale, F. E.

NEW JERSEY DIVISION—103.

1927 Acken, J.
4481 Ackerman, E. R.
4973 Adams, D. C.
1457 Allen, H. T.
8361 Allen, F. J.
2446 Anderson, R. W.
10866 Bergen, J. A.
10902 Beebe, G. S.
10877 Brinkerhoff, W. R.
4048 Burr, T. S.
8548 Burr, L. G.
9105 Chew, E.
1827 Clarkson, R. C.
2836 Cooley, J. H.
3452 Cooke, C. D.
3977 Craig, G. H.
5534 Crane, J. M.
3520 Dalton, F. A.
9024 Daniels, I.
8452 Decker, J. S.
3523 Decker, F.
2439 Demarest, F. A.
9628 Murry, R. F.
8555 McCure, J. C.
5950 McFadden, J. M.
9625 McKinney, A.
6143 Oakley, F.
10631 Owrid, W. J.
5960 Parker, F. E.
472 Palmer, T. D.
3975 Pound, R.
1898 Price, J. C.
1926 Provost, F.
10081 Randolph, W. W.
3973 Runyon, D. M.
9629 Runyon, H. J.
3516 Rushmore, T.
9630 Rushmore, R.
5958 Rule, H. C.
10867 Runyon, J. B.
10434 Sanford, J. W.
10435 Sanford, C. W.
12407 Sanford, W. M.
1141 Serrell, H.

RUDGE TELEPHONE MAN.

Hello!

Before you put your machine away for the winter, cover all the nickeled parts with Vaseline, and then send 75 cents to Stoddard, Lovering & Co., Boston, for a bottle of Ardill's Liquid Enamel. It will pay you ten times over.

Brooke's Long Distance Lever Tension Saddles, which we are closing out at $2.25 each. No rider can afford to be without one. Order early, as our supply is limited. Former price, $4.00.

STODDARD, LOVERING & CO.,
152 to 158 Congress St., Boston

Special Terms to the Trade.

12406 Dorrance, H. L.
6270 Drayton, J. B.
5844 Evans, A. W.
2838 Evans, C. W.
10433 Fairbairn, R.
10878 Felsinger, W.
8033 Giffin, A. M.
10903 Gillette, N. H.
4799 Gregson, J.
11939 Greenfield, H.
7562 Havre, W. H.
12233 Haynes, J. A.
3519 Heyniger, F. D. H.
8551 Holloway, R. B.
4991 Holmes, S. J.
11876 Holly, A. A.
3998 Hoagland, C.
4795 Johnson, R. C.
7675 Kilbourne, I. W.
12320 Larkins, C. N.
9267 Maisbury, S.
12048 Markham, W. T.
1139 Marsh, A. L. C.
6745 Martin, F. L. C.
9626 Martin, H. M.
9627 Martine, J. B.
1922 Merritt, D. H.
4796 Merritt, J. L.
3162 Miller, B. O.
8958 Millikens, W. H.
3979 Serrell, W.
6559 Slevin, A. G.
2634 Snedeker, C. D.
11683 Spengeman, H. H.
6494 Squires, G. H.
3525 Stover, H. W.
9631 Stover, C. A.
10436 Suydam, G. P.
3341 Timpson, L. G.
10437 Van Buren, F. P.
11877 Van Buren, E. M.
10438 Vincent, G. E.
7677 Vignes, W. D.
3884 Voorhees, A. C.
4794 Waldron, W. H.
6148 Waldron, E. A.
4974 Watson, C. A.
9633 Walz, F. W.
9634 Walz, L. E.
8244 Wallace, G. K.
825 Weir, R. W.
8943 Weir, W. B.
9635 Whitfield, J. M.
7196 Wilde, J.
1385 Worth, J. A.
168 Woodruff, E. P.
7097 Wright, A. J.
6064 Wycoff, E. B.
1365 Yates, F. W.

NEW YORK DIVISION—149.

8376 Abrams, G. W.
3929 Adams, W.
11992 Alling, D. G.
2448 Amerman, F. H.
4353 Amerman, W. L.
8363 Appleton, J. W.
981 Bancroft, G.
5177 Barkman, A. B.
10642 Blood, A. H.
464 Blackham, G. E.
3879 Black, A.
12173 Brooks, C. M.
12861 Brunn, L.
2560 Brush, A. C.
9141 Burdick, H. L.
2232 Burchell, J. A.
9126 Campbell, W. W.
10086 Carey, W. J.
3876 Carpenter, W. A.
2434 Camehl, G. H.
10068 Chadeayne, J.
6823 Cloyes, W. D.
10657 Clark, C. W.
11839 Cock, L. V.
10089 Cole, D. N.
1213 Coaney, C. F.
8364 Cranford, R. N.
12863 Day, J. B.
2570 Davis, E. L.
12864 Dickinson, G. B.
10643 Dunnell, F. L.
7422 DeCamp, G. R.
4316 Earle, C. J.
8365 Edsall, F. D.
3086 Elliot, H. R.
11690 Ellsworth, E. P.
3858 Faile, W. H.
3864 Faile, G. E.
7324 Finlay, J. W.
11213 Ford, J. G.
12860 Fuller, W. E.
9910 Gallien, A. J.
11292 Goodenough, J. O.
7326 Gray, H. P.
12222 Guppy, H. H.
643 Gullen, W. F.
4736 Hawkins, F. B.
9127 Hall, H. L.
10091 Haviland, W. D.
10090 Haviland, A. S.
12443 Hall, G. E.
4755 Hamilton, D.
3867 Hall, H. E.
4774 Hanford, F. W.
3877 Hanford, H. B.
11824 Hamilton, M. K.
11823 Hamilton, E. E.
5520 Homan, W. F.
4319 Hocum, L. W.
13006 Hurd, E. F.
12702 Ilck, H.
254 Jones, F. B.
4772 Jones, E. C.
5958 Kellum, B. J.
12865 Kenmore, W. J.
631 Koop, H. H.
11295 Krumholz, J. F.
12203 Lane, W. T.
2431 Latta, A. C.
2581 Latta, E. G.
2432 Latta, S. G.
9939 Leech, J.
11549 Lyon, N. I.
7330 Leonard, E.
6395 Whiteside, W.
11301 Whitney, C.
4742 Wilson, G. T.
12314 Wilke, H.
8372 Williams, E.
10645 Winchell, M. R.
11822 Wilkens, W.
3865 Williams, P.
9925 Wood, C. W.
11001 Zabriskie, A. M.

OHIO DIVISION—15.

11700 Cadman, W. S.
1959 Griesinger, C. L.
2520 Hawley, F. H.
215 Hendrickson, B.
12670 Mathews, V. S.
12256 Mitholland, W. H.
5291 McDowell, B.
11377 Odlin, W. T.
8379 Ridenour, J. F.
11373 Richmond, A. I.
1086 Spindler, F. N.
11703 Stanley, A. D.
11930 Turner, W. M.
8993 Wilcoxon, C. S.
11569 Wilbor, L. A.

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION—117.

11966 Arnold, A. J.
11704 Bard, B. F.
1264 Bartol, G. E.
11052 Barlow, C. H.
12817 Beierschmitt, E. L.
7084 Beach, W. B.
12987 Beekley, W. M.
555 Belfield, A. L.
275 Blakiston, H. A.
271 Blair, H. C.
11060 Bowman, J. S.
487 Brown, B. F.
1266 Butterworth, H. W.
1273 Burt, E. W.
12627 Buchman, C.
8624 Bunker, G. R.
5422 Clarendon, T.
1228 Cliff, G. H.
12885 Crocker, D. H.
6407 Cummings, T. F.
11053 Deitrich, F.
5098 Ehret, H. S.
12986 Emmert, M. H.
7360 Engart, J. S.
7596 Evans, L. L.
1216 Fox, J. J.
1274 Freeman, G. M.
4177 Fulton, G. H.
5096 Gale, J. A.
11852 Gault, H. R.
11236 Gawthrop, J. R.
3892 Gilbert, S. E.
10168 Greer, C. M.
11579 Gregory, C. R.
2325 Harrison, W. H.
9805 Hafer, W. C.
12638 Harris, E. P.
6292 Henszey, S. C.
10169 Hughes, J.
7749 Inglis, O. E.
12886 Innis, S. E.
2776 Janney, G. F.
2184 Janney, M. P.
2603 Jarrard, O. O.
9312 Jones, W.
10129 Keith, W. M.
12082 Kirk, W. H.
3893 King, C. G.
8983 Kohler, C.
3664 Kutzner, J. D.
246 Landis, D. B.
11976 Lamb, J. R.
12105 Leffler, H.
8285 Lewis, W. F.
1788 Lewis, F. S.
12559 Long, M. F.
11071 Lund, A.
9665 McAlpine, A.
12893 McCully, C. H.
12894 McCully, J. F.
1229 Manning, E. N.
10509 Mason, A. C.
11054 Madden, J. C.
10503 Martin, J. G.
6462 Mayer, E. N.
1226 Middleton, W. H.
12581 Mitchell, S.
5097 Middleton, R. T.
4649 Miles, T. H.
997 Miller, E. L.
4652 Morris, W.
9066 Niles, I. W.
4655 Obreiter, C. H.
285 Osborne, G. N.
1656 Palmer, W. S.
7750 Peterson, A. S.
11309 Patterson, C. R.
10712 Phillips, W. J.
2575 Price, E. A.
11848 Reynolds, A.
12301 Reefer, J.
11853 Reynolds, H.
8784 Richardson, C.
2771 Roberts, W. H.
3804 Roberts, C. C.
8785 Roberts, J. B.
4760 Ross, I. G.
8410 Rohrer, F.
4061 Ruddle, R. S.
2182 Rutter, C. A.
11384 Sauber, C. A.
1284 Sartain, P. J.
3650 Safford, N. D.
12628 Scattergood, H. W.
6212 Scheffey, A. M.
1915 Selden, R. C.
4162 Small, C. H.
4163 Small, M. J.
10713 Smith, O.
12629 Speier, W. G.
3720 Stall, S.
293 Stokes, F. C.
2772 Stevenson, J. E.
557 Streeter, G. M.
8800 Stokes, W. P.
993 Tucker, W. R.
10514 Troth, H.
8630 Uhler, W.
2773 Warder, C. B.
6771 Watt, L. H.
9171 Walenta, E. J.
11056 Weller, M.
9157 Whittaker, A. D.
8782 Williams, R. B.
651 Williams, W. L.
1279 Woodward, W. H.
2774 Young, B. F.

RHODE ISLAND DIVISION—8.

8177 Barton, A. C.
9813 Dyer, H. L.
8178 Mills, W. S.
3703 Pope, L. A.
9676 Richardson, W. A.
7754 Speirs, J. L.
13034 Stillman, F. R.
13032 Schofield, A. A.

VERMONT DIVISION—2.

12214 Taft, F.
12644 Webster, H. C.

VIRGINIA DIVISION—10.

7760 Barrett, R.
7943 Bargelt, R. L.
7411 Barton, L. N.
3305 Harris, F. L.
10730 Logan, J. L.
9020 Long, J. H.
11109 Duval, S. G.
11110 Hazelgrove, R. L.
11114 Meserole, J.
9023 Thomas, F. S.

WISCONSIN DIVISION—3.

6030 Lindquist, N. E.
6557 Powers, H. D.
6558 Warren, W. W.

BERMUDA—1.

9818 Godet, F. L.

The Rudge Bicyclette, which Messrs. Stoddard, Lovering & Co., propose to bring out in the spring, is the original machine of this type, having been patented in England and America in 1879, by Messrs. Rudge & Co. It has had two years' trial in England, and possesses several valuable features of special excellence, which will only be found in this machine.—Adv.

Captain Peck, of the Massachusetts Bicycle Club, finished a riding season of nearly 5,000 miles in 1886, all being accomplished on a 55-inch Rudge Light Roadster.—Adv.

Among the many letters which Stoddard, Lovering & Co. received in their mail last week, were three which are curiosities. In one a man wishes to exchange 40 acres of land for a Rudge Humber Tandem. In another a man has 200 pounds of gunpowder which he will exchange for a bicycle, and another wishes to dispose of 200 pairs of roller skates for any kind of a Rudge.—Adv.

IMPORTANT.

The Grand Union Hotel, opposite the Grand Central Depot, New York City, is the L. A. W. and C. T. C. Headquarters. European Plan. Rooms, $1.00 per day and upward. First-class Restaurant, at moderate prices. Good care taken of wheels.

FOR SALE, EXCHANGE, ETC.

Advertisements will be inserted in this column as follows:

THREE CENTS PER WORD.

No advertisement taken for less than 50 cents. Ten per cent. will be deducted from the bill for two or more insertions.

FOR SALE.—Keystone Bicycle Saddle. Business of manufacturing and Patent. A proved success and fine chance to develop. C. M. CLARKE, P. O. Box 969, Pittsburgh, Pa. 4t.*

VICTORS.—25 brand-new, to close, $25 down and $10 per month. Orders received at once will be filled. We cannot duplicate them on these terms after this lot is sold. tf. LOWE BICYCLE CO., Fitchburg, Mass.

WANTED.—Bicycles and Tricycles for Cash. Give make, finish, style bearings; state when new, exact condition of all parts, and bottom price, or no notice taken. NEW YORK BICYCLE CO., 4t-101. 21 Worth Street, New York.

TO EXCHANGE.—A 52-inch Royal Challenge in good condition, for Remington Type-writer, upper and lower case, EDWIN M. MAYER, tf.*. 520 Walnut Street, Philad'a, Pa.

PATENTS secured on reasonable terms. Work reliable. Papers carefully and legally drawn. Special attention given to inventions in cycling by an experienced wheelman and League member. Write for particulars. N. L. COLLAMER, Patent Attorney and Mechanical Engineer, Room 47, St. Cloud Building, Washington, D. C.

A RARE BARGAIN.—A genuine Beeston Humber Tandem Light Roadster of the very latest pattern, with all improvements. Has never been used. Must go at a sacrifice. PHILADA. CYCLIST'S SUPPLY CO., Box 170, Philada., Pa.

The Atlantic Monthly

FOR 1887

Will contain, in addition to the best Short Stories, Sketches, Essays, Poetry, and Criticism, two Serial Stories:—

The Second Son,
By MRS. M. O. W. OLIPHANT
And T. B. ALDRICH.

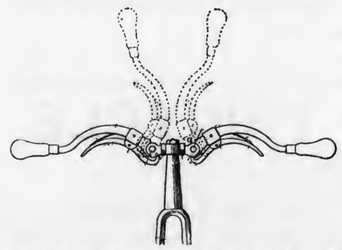
Paul Patoff,
By F. MARION CRAWFORD,
Author of "A Roman Singer," "Mr. Isaacs," etc.

Papers on American History,
By JOHN FISKE,
Whose previous papers have been so interesting, full of information, and generally popular.

French and English,
A continuation of the admirable papers comparing the French and English people,
By P. G. HAMERTON.

Essays and Poems,
By OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES.

Occasional Papers,
By JAMES RUSSELL LOWELL.



Contributions may be expected from JOHN GREENLEAF WHITTIER, THOMAS WENTWORTH HIGGINSON, CHARLES DUDLEY WARNER, E. C. STEDMAN, HARRIET W. PRESTON, SARAH ORNE JEWETT, CHARLES EGBERT CRADDOCK, ARTHUR SHERBURNE HARDY, HENRY CABOT LODGE, EDITH M. THOMAS, HORACE E. SCUDDER, GEORGE E. WOODBERRY, GEORGE FREDERIC PARSONS, MAURICE THOMPSON, LUCY LARCOM, CELIA THAXTER, JOHN BURROUGHS, JAMES FREEMAN CLARKE, ELIZABETH ROBINS PENNELL, BRADFORD TORREY, and many others.

TERMS:—$4.00 a year in advance, POSTAGE FREE; 35 cents a number. With superb life-size portrait of Hawthorne, Emerson, Longfellow, Bryant, Whittier, Lowell, or Holmes, $5.00; each additional portrait, $1.00.

Postal Notes and Money are at the risk of the sender, and therefore remittances should be made by money-order, draft, or registered letter, to

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN AND COMPANY,
4 Park Street, Boston, Mass.

RODES' SAFETY HANDLE.

No more headers. It can be applied to any bicycle. Impossible not to light on your feet. The legs will open the handles without the rider being aware of it. Simple, cheap, and weighs no more than the ordinary handle. Price, $10.00. For sale by

Robt. Rodes, Jr., 40 N. Cherry St., Nashville, Tenn.

BICYCLES ON EASY PAYMENTS.

Columbia, Champion, Challenge, Facile, Otto, and other Bicycles and Tricycles sold on easy payments, with no extra charge, except for interest. Prices guaranteed as low as the lowest. Low freight and express rates to all points. Large stock of accessories, including all latest novelties. Nickel-plating and repairing.

SECOND-HAND WHEELS

bought for cash, taken in exchange, and sold on installments. Liberal discounts to agents. One of the largest stocks of new and second-hand wheels in America; rarely less than 200 wheels on hand to select from. Send for large illustrated catalogue and latest descriptive second-hand list and terms of easy payments; of interest to every actual or prospective wheelman. Correspondence solicited.

GEO. W. ROUSE & SON, 25 G Street, Peoria, Ill.

KEYSTONE WATCHES

ARE THE BEST

BECAUSE They contain everything essential to Accurate Time Keeping found in any watch, and in addition have the following important improvements, for which we have patents:
The PATENT DUST PROOF protects perfectly the balance and hair spring (the most delicate and vital parts) from damage, dirt and dampness.
Our Patent Compound Regulator has absolutely no lost motion.
Our PATENT STEM WIND is the strongest and simplest made.
Our Patent Dust-proof movements are free from all variations caused by dirt or dampness: an advantage which no other maker does or dare claim.
We are the only Factory using only Genuine Ruby Jewels in every grade, and all our Watches are made of the best material, and are accurate time keepers, under our own guarantee.

ATKINSON BROS., 926 Chestnut St., PHILADELPHIA, Pa
General Agents for the Keystone Standard Watch Co.
ASK YOUR JEWELER FOR THEM.

Ira Perego

128 and 130 FULTON ST., 87 NASSAU ST.
NEW YORK.

The only Official Outfitter to the L. A. W.

L. A. W. REGULATION CAP,	-	$1 75
" " HELMET,	-	1 75
" " SHIRT,	-	2 25
" " HOSE,	-	1 50
" " SILK BELTS,		1 00

All orders must be accompanied by money order for the amount, also name and League number.

English C. T. C. Cloth, double width, $4.00 per yard.

BARGAINS!

Now is the time to buy Second-Hand Bicycles. Send size and price you wish to pay. Prices low. Send for Catalogue of the New Rapid.

WM. M. FRISBIE & CO.,
P. O. Drawer 64. New Haven, Conn.

BINDERS FOR THE BULLETIN.

To all who wish to preserve their Copies of the Bulletin in good shape, we can offer a "Common Sense" Binder, like the above cut, for One Dollar, post free.

E. M. AARON,

Don't send Checks. Box 916, Philad'a, Pa.

OUR SPECIALTY.

Columbia and Rudge Bicycles and Tricycles rented to non-owners for long or short periods at reasonable rates. Only first-class wheels offered. Send for terms. Bicycles and Tricycles also sold on easy payments.

GEO. R. BIDWELL,
Dealer in Bicycles, Tricycles, Etc.,
313 West 58th Sreet, New York City.

BICYCLING * WORLD.

Only One Dollar a Year!! Full Value!!

BICYCLING * WORLD.

Latest and Freshest News and more of it than in any other Independent American Cycling Weekly. Send to

BICYCLING WORLD CO.

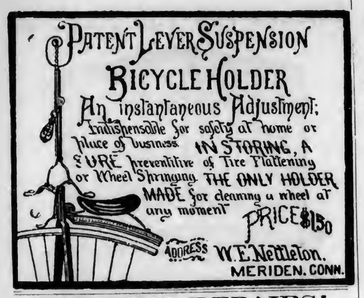
For Combination Rates,

179 Tremont Street, Boston, Mass.

Patented 1881.

L. A. W. BADGES.

For Gold Pins of the Official Design, send direct to



CHAS. H. LAMSON,
177 Middle St., Portland, Me.,
The Designer and Sole Authorized Maker.

Prices for handsome Solid Gold Pins (stone centres) $3.50, $5.00, $7.00, and $8.00, according to finish and fineness (kt.) of gold. Diamond Badges, $15.00 to $50.00 for the larger pins, and $10.00 to $30.00 for the small size. Send for circular free. Orders by mail, inclosing money order and League number, will receive prompt attention.

Also for sale in New York at M. J. Paillard & Co.'s, 680 Broadway; in Philadelphia by H. B. Hart, 811 Arch St.; in Boston by The Pope Mfg. Co.; in Chicago by The John Wilkinson Co.; in Newark, N. J., by Howard Smith & Co.; in Minneapolis by T. F. Heath & Co.; and in San Francisco by Osborn & Alexander.

New Style H.

REPAIRS! REPAIRS!

To Save Delay and Expense

send your machines now. We are prepared to do repairing cheaper and QUICKER NOW THAN EVER BEFORE.

HOWARD A. SMITH & CO.

Oraton Hall, Newark, N. J.

"Fairie Club" vs. Toboggan.

The "Fairie Club" Coaster belongs to the double runner class, and is intended for both ladies and gentlemen. It is sure to make the exhilarating sport of coasting more common and popular than ever. The Toboggan is deservedly a favorite, but for pure delight and comfort combined, nothing equals the "Fairie Club." No expensive slide is required, and the steering apparatus is just as deftly and easily governed by a lady's touch as by the stronger sex. Send for descriptive circulars to

S. L. ALLEN & CO., Manufacturers, 127 and 129 Catharine St., Philadelphia.

BROWNING, KING & CO.,

406, 408, 410, and 412 BROOME STREET, NEW YORK.

THE ONLY OFFICIAL CONTRACTORS FOR THE

LEAGUE UNIFORM.

LIST OF PRICES:

Plaited Blouse, $9.50; KneeBreeches, $6.00; Suit, $15.50. Regulation League Cloth, made by the Middlesex Mills, cost $2.00 per yard. League Buttons, large size, 5 cents each; Small size, 2½ cents each. Full set for suit, 55 cents.

TERMS:

All uniforms or parts of uniforms sent C. O. D., with privilege of examination. All orders for cloth or buttons must be accompanied by Money Order. Blank forms for self-measurement furnished on application. Orders for L. A. W. Goods will be received at any of our branch stores, as follows:

36 and 138 Madison St., 1144 to 148 Clark Street, } CHICAGO, ILL. | 210 and 212 N. Broadway, St. Louis, Mo. Wisconsin and E. Water Street, Milwaukee, Wis. 76 and 78 West Fourth St., Cincinnati, Ohio; 910 and 913 Chestnut Street, Phila., Pa.

All orders must be accompanied by League number will be interested to learn that we are supplying a line of tool-bags equal to imported goods, and at lower prices. We are preparing to manufacture a full line of leather goods for the coming season. Before placing your orders, write McCOY & WILLIAMS, 373 Main Street, Orange, N. J.

DEALERS

BEFORE ◆ YOU ◆ BUY ◆ A ◆ BICYCLE

of any kind, send stamp to

A. W. GUMP, - Dayton, Ohio,

for Large Illustrated Price-List of New and Second-Hand Machines. Second-Hand Bicycles taken in Exchange and Bought for Cash.

Largest Stock of Second-Hand Bicycles in America.

BICYCLES REPAIRED and NICKEL-PLATED.

A. W. Gump, Dayton, Ohio.

SECOND-HAND GUNS TAKEN IN EXCHANGE FOR BICYCLES.

THE "NEW AMERICAN" TRICYCLE,

639 Arch Street, Philadelphia.

We make but one style of machine, and that the best. There are no extras.

NO DEAD CENTRES. FULL POWER UTILIZED. CLIMBS ANY HILL.

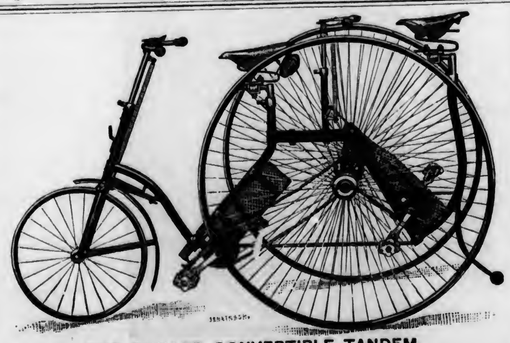
The best machine for ladies, as there are no revolving pedals to catch the skirts. The only Tricycle that can be ridden equally well by lady or gentleman, grown person or child.

EITHER RIDER CAN STEER.



May be Ridden by Two Ladies.

HAS AUTOMATIC STEERING.

Reduces in Width to 27 inches.

Has Folding Handle Bar, for Easy Access to Front Seat.

Is the Most Unique Machine of its Class.

THE CUNARD CONVERTIBLE TANDEM.

CUNARD

Bicycles,
Tricycles,
Tandems,
Safeties.

D. Rogers & Co.,

SOLE U. S. AGENTS,

75 Clinton Avenue,

NEWARK, N. J.

☞CATALOGUES FREE.

THE NEW

"Rapid Bicycle"

With The Famous TRUE TANGENT WHEELS AND PALMER DETACHABLE HANDLE BAR.

Confidently OFFERED AS THE HIGHEST GRADE AND EASIEST RUNNING BICYCLE EXTANT.

Send For Catalogue & Testimonials — Photos. 10 & 15 cts.

ENERGETIC AGENTS WANTED

SAML. T. CLARK & CO. IMPORTERS

BALTIMORE, MD.

THE COVENTRY MACHINISTS CO., LD.

239 Columbus Avenue, Boston.

Before buying a Tandem, you should see the new "CLUB" TANDEM, with automatic steering, and the MARLBORO TANDEM, the best three-wheel Tandem made.

CATALOGUE FREE.

KIRK BROWN,

6 SOUTH BROAD (MERRICK) STREET, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

SOLE PHILADELPHIA AGENT.

THEOPHILUS WOBBLE'S

Trip Around the World

ON A BICYCLE,

ILLUSTRATED,

Commenced in

TEXAS SIFTINGS,

July 3d, 1886.

FOR SALE BY ALL NEWSDEALERS.

Back numbers can be obtained from Texas Siftings Publishing Co., 240 Broadway, N. Y.

If you want to come out in the Spring with your Bicycle or Tricycle looking like new, before putting your machine away use a bottle of

ARDILL'S

LIQUID ENAMEL!

For touching up or entirely re-enamelling

BICYCLES AND TRICYCLES

Hard as Marble. Dries Instantly, without any unpleasant smell, and produces a Jet Black enamel surface in One Operation. It is thoroughly impervious to wet, cold, or heat. Will not crack, and is not liable to chip off. Any one can apply it. A suitable Brush given with each bottle.

Price, 75 cents a bottle. Cannot be sent by mail.

For sale by all Agents, and by

STODDARD, LOVERING & CO.,

152 to 158 Congress St., Boston.

Special terms to the trade.

THE AMERICAN CHAMPION

STILL IN THE LEAD.

20 Miles on a straightaway country road in the marvelous time of 59 Minutes 35⅘ Seconds.

A World's Record.

50 Miles in 2 Hours 55 Minutes 46½ Seconds, the American Record for the distance, and 100 Miles in 6 Hours 1½ Minutes.

A World Record, and better than the American Track Record.

All the preceding by S. G. Whittaker, on an ordinary roadster, excepting a somewhat lighter rim, and the course an ordinary surveyed country road.

If road-records talk, then the American Cycles are the easiest running machines in the World.

Manufactured by

GORMULLY & JEFFERY, Chicago, Ill.

CATALOGUE FREE.

HOW TO JOIN

THE

L. A. W.

Fill up the blank in the adjoining column and, together with TWO DOLLARS, send it to the Secretary of the League,

E. M. AARON,

Box 916, Philadelphia, Pa.

Write your FULL NAME, your FULL ADDRESS, and your CLUB name IN FULL.

Write very plainly.

Application for Membership in the L. A. W.

EUGENE M. AARON, Secretary-Editor,

Box 916, Philadelphia, Pa.

Dear Sir:

Inclosed you will find $2.00 for initiation fee and annual dues in the League of American Wheelmen. I hereby certify that I am over 18 years of age, and that I am an amateur within the meaning of the definition printed below. I refer to the persons named below.

Signed,.....

Club,..... Residence,.....

City and State,..... Date,.....

ARTICLE IV. SECTION 4, of the L. A. W. By-Laws, contains the following Definition of an Amateur:—"An amateur is one who has never engaged in, nor assisted in, nor taught any recognized athletic exercise for money or other remuneration, nor knowingly competed with or against a professional for a prize of any description. To prevent misunderstanding in interpreting the above, the League draws attention to the following explanation: A cyclist forfeits his right to compete as an amateur, and thereby becomes a professional, by engaging in cycling or any other recognized athletic exercise, or personally teaching, training, or coaching any other person therein, either as a means of obtaining a livelihood, or for a stated bet, money prize, or for gate money, competing with, pace-making for, or having the pace made by, a professional, in public or for a prize; selling, realizing upon, or otherwise turning into cash any prize won by him. This rule does not apply to teaching the elements of bicycling solely for the purpose of effecting the sale of a bicycle. The League recognizes as athletic exercises all those sports under the jurisdiction of the National Association of Amateur Athletes of America, including running, walking, jumping, pole-leaping, putting the shot, throwing the hammer, throwing the weights, tug of war, and rowing, boxing, sparring, Lacrosse, polo, roller and ice skating."

TO L. A. W. MEMBERS.

Read the Letter in the adjoining columns, and AT ONCE fill out the blank at the bottom and send it with ONE DOLLAR to

E. M. Aaron, Box 916, Philadelphia, Pa.,

and thus secure for another year your membership in the largest and most popular athletic organization in the country.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY-EDITOR, LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN,
PHILADELPHIA, PA., December 6th, 1886.

TO ALL LEAGUE MEMBERS:

THE ADVANTAGES OF MEMBERSHIP in the L. A. W. are so well known and understood that to most of you anything that I might say on the subject would seem superfluous. But to those who, either from the brief duration of their association with our organization or from the fact that they have not availed themselves of their privileges in the League, are not so assured of its great influence for the general good and their individual good in particular, we offer the following brief summary for their careful attention:

The L. A. W. publishes a first-class weekly newspaper, the L. A. W. BULLETIN, which is in itself full return for the annual dues. It will furnish to each member, on application, during 1887, at a nominal price, a HAND-BOOK of useful information, including the Constitution and By-Laws, Racing Rules, Transportation Rates, Rights and Privileges, etc. The L. A. W. affords the privilege of obtaining an excellent UNIFORM at very moderate cost. The L. A. W. stands ready to protect its members in their legal rights, and to sustain them in their efforts to repeal unfavorable legislation. This it has frequently done in the past.

In addition to the above general advantages, most of the State Divisions are striving to outdo the parent body in granting direct benefits to their members, such as Road-Books, maps, Hand-Books, and reduced hotel rates, to say nothing of meets, parades, tours, and entertainments.

The item of the bond of fellowship which exists between League members throughout the length and breadth of our land is admitted by many hundreds to be worth much more than the price of the annual dues.

Believing that all who intend to continue as cyclers will also continue as members of the League, and that most of those who either temporarily or permanently give up active participation in cycling will remain with us for the sake of the past and of the future companionship, I feel that I have but to call your attention to the League's claims on you for 1887 to insure the return of the blank printed below with your signature affixed and accompanied by your annual dues.

Fraternally,

EUGENE M. AARON, Secretary-Editor, L. A. W.

EUGENE M. AARON, Secretary-Editor, L. A. W.,

Box 916, Philadelphia, Pa.

Inclosed herewith you will find ONE DOLLAR for the Annual Dues for 1887, in the League of American Wheelmen, for the undersigned.

Name,.....

League No...... Address,.....

Club,.....

WATCH

this space NEXT WEEK. We shall give a brief description of the

RUDGE

Bicycles and Tricycles for 1887.

THE L. A. W. BULLETIN

OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN

A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA:

PUBLISHED WEEKLY:

$1.00 A YEAR. 3 CENTS PER COPY. | Philadelphia, January 14, 1887. | VOLUME IV. No. 2. WHOLE NUMBER 81.

From Manitoba to the Gulf of Mexico, from Eastport to the Golden Gate, the Majority of Wheelmen

RIDE COLUMBIAS.

POPE MFG. CO.

79 Franklin St.,

BOSTON.

BRANCH HOUSES:—12 Warren Street, New York; 291 Wabash Avenue, Chicago.

These are our Witnesses.

Nine years of hard service upon every grade of American road has not worn out a Columbia.

THE WORLD'S STORY

of the road and path is a recapitulation of victories by riders of Columbias.

THE WISE WHEELMAN

rides a Columbia; the unwise is getting wisdom and a Columbia.

Mr. Alfred A. McCurdy made the accompanying remarkable record on a 48-inch STAR Bicycle over the Boston Cycle Club's 50 mile course, under A. C. U. Rules, breaking all previous records above 100 miles.

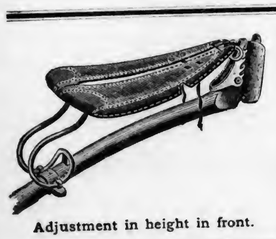
305 Miles in

The following are the new records accepted by the A. C. U.:

150	Miles,	10	hours	24	minutes	30	seconds.
200	"	14	"	35	"
250	"	18	"	58	"
300	"	23	"	38	"
302 3/5	"	23	"	48	"	50	"
304 3/8	"	23	"	57	"	45	"

The eight trips to and from his hotel to the point of starting carries the distance up to fully 305 miles.

★ WORLD'S RECORDS ★



This record proves most conclusively the superiority of the STAR over all crank action bicycles. This is McCurdy's fourth attempt at the 24 hour record, the first two trials being made on crank machines.

His present performance EXCELS BY 50 MILES his best effort on a crank bicycle weighing about 15 pounds less than his present mount.

24 hours

The STAR is the only bicycle that combines in the highest degree the qualities of safety, speed, and hill-climbing.

H. B. SMITH MACHINE CO.,
SMITHVILLE, N. J.

Adjustment in height in front.

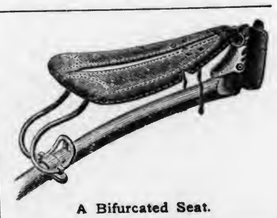
Adjustment in height in rear.

Adjustment in width.

When you buy, buy the best.
When you order your new mount, order it with only the old reliable

Lillibridge Saddle.

FOR SALE EVERYWHERE.



Price, Nickeled, - - $5.00

Adapted to all makes of machines.
Special styles for the Safeties and Star.

FREEMAN LILLIBRIDGE,
ROCKFORD, ILL.

Adjustment in length.

A Bifurcated Seat.

A Comfortable Coasting Plate.

THE BULLETIN
OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN. PUBLISHED WEEKLY. A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY
EUGENE M. AARON
For the Executive Committee of the League of American Wheelmen.
AT THE L. A. W. OFFICE,
508 WALNUT STREET, ROOM 12, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

Entered at the Post Office as Second-Class Matter.

SINGLE COPIES, - - - - - - 3 CENTS.
SUBSCRIPTION PRICE TO OTHER THAN LEAGUE MEMBERS, } $1.00 A YEAR.
CLUBS OF FIVE, - - - - - $4.00 "

EUGENE M. AARON, - - - EDITOR
P. O. Box 916, Philadelphia, Pa.

Subscribers should be careful to notify the EDITOR promptly of any change in their address. Great care is taken with the mailing list; failure to receive THE BULLETIN may usually be traced to carelessness on the part of the subscriber.

All matter for publication, whether reading or advertising matter, should be addressed to the EDITOR. All checks should be made payable to his order.

Reading matter, to insure publication in the following issue, must be in the EDITOR's hands not later than Saturday afternoon; advertisements not later than Monday morning.

Personal controversy, fault-finding, and allusions to manufactures and manufacturers will not be admitted to the columns devoted to reading matter.

The EDITOR must in all cases have the full name and address of the authors of contributed articles as a guarantee of good faith. As the Executive Committee has decided that it is best to discourage the use of assumed names by writers for THE BULLETIN, the EDITOR will publish the author's name unless particularly requested not to do so.

ADVERTISING RATES ON APPLICATION.
Our Circulation this Week is
11,600 Copies.

No. 2. JANUARY 14, 1887. VOL. IV.

As is known to our readers, a mail vote is now being taken in the Board of Officers on the resolutions offered by Dr. Blackham and recently published in these columns. These votes are being returned at this time, and a large vote is promised.

Dr. Blackham has already explained in sending in these resolutions for a vote the alterations that he has made in them. These alterations are of such a nature as to remove the cause of the objections contained in our editorial of last September. The criticisms contained therein we wish to withdraw on that account, and feel no hesitancy in expressing our thorough accordance with the resolutions, as now framed. We predict their adoption.

* * * * *

The official columns of this issue will be found to contain a surprise for many of our readers. No doubt the resignation of the present Editor will cause regret in many circles—in most circles, we are glad to believe—but that regret will, we feel sure, give way to one of satisfaction that the office is likely to be filled by one who is thoroughly conversant with all of its duties, and also to a desire to congratulate the present incumbent that his term has extended until every reform in the organization which was dear to his heart and to which he stood pledged has become an accomplished fact, and that his administration leaves behind it nothing unfinished which he desired to finish.

* * * * *

Elsewhere will be found a brief agendum of the Board meeting to be held in New York on the 17th inst. This is an important item of interest to all Board members and one with which they should become thoroughly familiar before the meeting.

* * * * *

Since our last issue an important meeting of prominent League officials in the West has been held in St. Louis. "Phœnix," in his St. Louis letter, this week, tells us of their actions at this meeting. These actions will be found to have been of the first importance. We trust that some of those present at that meeting will be with us on next Monday to speak for the West and its wishes.

There can be but little doubt that the dates and plans chosen by these enthusiastic and hard-working officials will be adopted as those of the Board as well. If they are, our knowledge of the push and originality of the West leads us to predict without any hesitation that St. Louis and her coadjutors will give us this coming May the greatest and most enjoyable meet of cyclers ever held in the world.

* * * * *

It is now quite certain that the abolition of the amateur clause in our Constitution will be moved at our next annual meeting. Those who propose this action are not waiting for conviction to bring them adherents, but they evidently intend that all shall be well educated on the subject, and that no one shall plead ignorance of the subject as an excuse for either an affirmative or a negative vote.

To all who are contemplating any action looking toward a constitutional change in the League's government we would offer the following extract from our present Constitution:

"ART. V. This Constitution shall not be altered or amended except by a majority of the members present and voting at a Constitutional Convention of the League, called by the President on the written application of not less than 25 members, said Convention to be held at the date and place of the annual meeting, at least one month's notice thereof having been given in the columns of the official organ, or by a majority of those voting by a mail vote, notice of such alteration or amendment having been given at least two weeks previous to the meeting or the dispatch of the blanks for the mail vote."

It will be clearly seen from the above that no authority is given to what is usually termed "the general meeting of the League," which is, in fact, but a creation of the Board of Officers, who are themselves the creatures of the general membership.

By an overwhelming affirmative vote, taken by mail last March and announced in the BULLETIN of April 30th, 1886, the general membership decided that thereafter the Constitution should not be at the beck and call of any locally strong general meeting, but amendments should be made at a special convention called for that purpose, or by a mail vote sent out to every member of the League.

We throw this hint out at this time simply because our experience in the past has taught us that many would-be reformers of our Constitution and By-Laws are not in the least familiar with the very articles which they seek to reform.

* * * * *

The amount of mail matter now pouring in upon the Secretary's office is greater than ever before in the history of the League. We must, therefore, ask correspondents who have not received prompt replies to their letters to be patient for a few days longer.

TOBOGGANING.

"New Yorkers will 'tobog' at the Polo Grounds this winter. The lights, the music, the flash of bright eyes, the falling-star-like rush, the half scream of frightened pleasure—"

I pause and smile. With the lips, not with the eyes! a smile that makes not others smile.

I "tobogged" once.

The dull, gray sponge that masqueraded as a brain dwelt on this "falling-star-like rush" till it showed like to thirty seconds of elysium, with the feet of all the female angels in the laps of the male ones. The most driveling dolt could go no further, you think? I did.

You have seen a tobogganing uniform? I bought one. I strove to persuade myself that it became me, supremely conscious all the time of the burning libel that I was on the unfeathered biped. Mad? By my side the March hare was a very tower of intellectual strength.

Encased in this flannel nightmare, I started for the Orange Hills. My fellow-passengers made merry. Several of them lost all connection with their handkerchiefs in their frantic endeavors to get them down far enough to dam their bubbling mirth. Each catastrophe of this sort was followed by much encouraging gasping and gagging; but nothing fatal. Though I am not of an unamiable disposition, the sight of two or three of those merry mortals in the final throes would have afforded me the liveliest satisfaction.

That suit's preternatural ugliness arrayed all Orange dead against me. Half-a-hundred juvenile enticements to murder escorted me from the station, and jammed the surrounding ether with ribald terms and "soakers." Their old brutes of fathers and forefathers coughed themselves into all sorts of mirthful convulsions, and the Orange constabulary was in ecstasies until an itinerant "soaker" went in at his right ear with an unceremonious energy that promised well for its speedy exit from the corresponding orifice on the other side. This angered him. While he was patiently trampling a consumptive little cripple into the crusted snow, I made for the slide.

The hill had a slope to it like the forehead of a Bowery-What-Is-It. A torrent of toboggans plunged headlong down its polished surface, with all the kindly regard for one another's safety and comfort exhibited by the particles of a ton of Red Ash, when the much begrimed Jehu turns on the "black Niagara." Just as we arrived two toboggans came together with a crash, and their contents went up toward fair Luna, as though anxious to emulate the bovine that so tickled the canine's risibility. I felt more like tobogganing than ever!

I mount the hill and straddle a machine. I do this stout-heartedly. Then comes the reaction. A feeling, closely akin to that which the bridge-dropping crank must experience just ere he lets go his hold of everything in the world, is on me. The number of emotional lumps swallowed is fairly beyond all computation. If somebody would only make a break for the station! But, no!

"Feet up," screamed a copper-fastened voice. The fair shade in front gathers my gaiters in her lap; the gentleman behind winds his legs about my body, as though illustrating the first movement toward the achievement of the top of a greased pole, and off we go. I smile, but I don't mean it.

Faster and faster we go. We strike a half-buried stump. Everybody goes into the air and sits down with much vigor. I am reconciled to the peculiar life-line! Faster and faster. A wild shout. I look back, and am dimly conscious that when we do stop that gigantic "tobog" just behind will grind us to powder. But will we ever stop? Another bump sees us over the brow of the hill. Faster and faster we fly. Fly is now the precise word. We touch mother earth only to acquire elasticity for another bound through star-strewn space. Every hair is on tip-toe, peering over the heads in front of it, into the carnage-fraught future.

The unfailing little failings join hand-in-hand for the execution of the customary scalp-dance in and out of the caverns of the memory, and the stereotyped recollections of "Now I Lay Me" jostle the moss-grown fragments of "Greenland's Icy Mountains." All the conventional proprieties for an idealistic demise are at hand.

And the blessed machine swings around the corner and comes to a quiet stop!

"SMITH" in Puck.

"THE WHEEL."

BY REV. CHARLES HERR.

[Written for the Journal of the Jersey City Athletic Club's Fair.]

He should be a genius who would write adequately concerning that marvel of grace and usefulness—the wheel. He ought to have in high development the faculty of enthusiasm, for he must fail unless he can speak from a very vivid and ardent appreciation. He ought more than other men to have the sense of beauty, for his work must be inadequate unless some of the glittering charm of the silver circle can get itself reflected in his luminous and mirroring lines. He needs a lively imagination also, in order that he may rise to the height of so eloquent a subject, and interpret the large and the gracious things that congregate about his theme. He ought to be able to make statistics interesting, to point each new record of growing achievement with some special gleam of taking rhetoric. He ought to have, on the one hand, a radiant mental picture of the grace and glory of the bicycle, and on the other, be persuasive in the description of its power and utility. And for all these things genius is indispensable. This article makes no pretension of meeting this requirement. It is written on demand and without the impetus of creative genius. Therefore if any one misses herein the incommunicative fire of the true cyclist's enthusiasm or seeks in vain for the appreciative eloquence which is alone worthy of the subject, he will know the reason why.

It has been said above that an adequate essay on the bicycle is conditioned on a thorough conception and expression of its rare grace and beauty. That assertion is not unadvised. For it may be considered certain that all men whose opinion has taste and value will freely consent that the wheel is a marvel of loveliness and charm. It possesses such qualities as never fail to captivate the eye and hold the regard. It has such unrivaled grace in its proportions; it has such an unbroken continuity of fair lines and perfect curves; it has such a suggestion of infinity in its endless round; it has such a majestic ease and lordly silence in its motion; it is so clean and chaste in construction; so lithe and strong, so poetic and so practical, so rhythmic and so rigid,—that it conquers admiration from unwillingness and excites among its devotees a deep and undying enthusiasm. Every perfection of mechanism seems to be realized in it; every demand of æsthetics in form and movement seems to be fulfilled. And when once a consenting appreciation has been bestowed, it is never recalled. The moralists and poets are continually warning us against all those false types of beauty that lessen and fade with time. Thomas Adams said once: "Beauty is like an almanac; if it lasts a year it is well." And Keats has insisted on this essential permanence in true beauty, in lines with which we are all familiar:

> "A thing of beauty is a joy forever,
> Its loveliness increases; it will never > Pass into nothingness; but will still keep
> A bower quiet for us, and a sleep
> Full of sweet dreams, and health and quiet breathing."

As well as anything else on earth, the bicycle meets these demands. Beauty's cheek will pale; the fair scenes of nature, the winning sunlight, and the radiant sky may sometimes fail to please; but never can the silver circle grow less lovely to its admirers or cease to dwell in their praises.

The wheel never disappoints. Those whose admiration has been engaged by its outward beauty and fair promise are confirmed in their devotion when they have tested its practical qualities. Already bicycle literature is of large volume, and it is characterized universally by an ever-renewed freshness and enthusiasm. The breath of the hills is in it. The wholesome effervescence and vigorous vitality of the open country are in it. The song of the birds, the cool sweep of the wind, the patter of the brooks over pebbles have their tones reproduced in essay and poem. No morbidness and no discoloring sentimentality mark the literature of the wheel; but an alertness of mind, a vigor of spirit, a freshness of heart, like when the world was young. Now nothing can contribute this excellence and healthfulness of tone but the rare, fine sensational life which cycling produces and sustains. A leaping joy, a boundless exhilaration, are the assured and permanent experience of the wheelman. The ease of self-propulsion, the control of power, the rapidity of motion, the pleasurable excitement of exercise, create a lofty and generous exaltation, which is to be derived from no similar source. These rich and unusual glories of sensation are not due at all to any sense of adventurousness or danger, but simply to the essential novelty, freedom, and power of the wheel. It lifts one above the world, and somehow the sordidness and dust no longer influence the mind. No sable imp of anxious care sits behind on the saddle. Malice, hatred, and all uncharitableness are crushed under the revolving tire. The difficulties, the temptations, the tensions of life are left on the retreating way. And the rider, by an even and captivating exertion, by easy and delightful movement, and by all the charms of atmosphere and landscape is thrilled with a continuous exhilaration and bounding joy.

This explains the healthfulness of wheeling. For most ordinary physical difficulties, it is better than all physicians and all potions. It is like a whole Pharmacopœia in itself. It has wrought the most unlikely cures. It has healed all sorts of distempers and diseases. It has cured affections of the stomach, of the blood, of the nerves, of the brain, of the lungs. It has brought many from death unto life. More fascinating than any other sport human invention has introduced, it is at the same time the most healthful and nerve restoring of exercises. If any sufferer will begin propelling the bicycle, it will very likely not be long before he shall say, "Good-bye, sick list!" (This is another man's joke.)

It is certain that no other achievement of modern mechanical skill possesses, with equal pretensions to beauty and healthfulness, so great and wide utility as well. It is, of course, not worth while to say that the wheel is signally adapted to the wants and tastes of youth. Such is now, and will probably always be, its chief adaptation. Its aspect of light joyousness, of enthusiasm, of amateurism, will always make it seem primarily suited to the energetic ardor and the full vitality of early life. But it withholds none of its best benefits from any class of mankind. Its broad kindliness is exemplary. For the mature in years, for the fair in sex, it provides its ample uses and its rich pleasures. Wherever the local conditions are favorable, the mature and the old vie with the young in the flush, and glow, and vigor of cycling. Gray hairs and long beards and weakened muscles constitute no impediment, but rather an additional and peremptory reason why the providential privilege should be embraced and the wheel pushed till the muscles grow hard and the head clear, till the blood runs warm and the nerves are unconscious of themselves. Major Knox Holmes, an Englishman of 77 years, recently made 11 miles an hour for 10 consecutive hours, beating an ex-champion of England by the feat. Why should the mature deny themselves the rare refreshment and exhilaration and bracing healthfulness that come from wheeling? And as for the gentle sex, the sovereign fiat has issued which secures to the tricycle the right of fashion and popularity among women. The female royalty of England has given it the honor of imperial indorsement, and so assured its position among our sisters. Even our self-relying republican matrons and maidens will feel influenced by the seal of Victoria's approbation on their choice of pleasures and activities. Much prejudice, or at least unbelief, needed to be overcome before the tricycle could realize its well-earned and deserving claims upon the esteem and utilization of the fair. But the world moves and the tricycle begins to move with it. Many ladies have already ridden most successfully, and thousands of miles stand to their credit. Miss J. Chaice, of South London, England, has ridden 113 miles in 15½ hours. There is a ladies' tricycle club in New York city; and in Washington, the paradise of wheelmen, the exactionary public sentiment caused by the spectacle of Mrs. Belva A. Lockwood on a tricycle has given away before the arguments of reason and the persuasion of happier examples, and lady-riders are now no longer a noticeable rarity as they move with grace and swiftness over the asphalt streets.

Not only for all ages and sexes, but for all sorts and conditions of men, the wheel is of most important, and often priceless, value. Its varied and admirable uses are only beginning to be realized. For every conceivable purpose for which facility and rapidity of motion are within certain limits essential, the wheel is unrivaled. Its superiority over the horse on many accounts is manifest on the briefest examination. Cowper wrote once:

> "Noblest of the train
> That wait on man, the flight-performing horse."

But the horse's pre-eminence is disappearing. The most ordinary rider can distance a horse in a day; an accustomed and expert rider can pass the swiftest within the hour. A wheel is better to own than an animal, both for swiftness, for endurance, and for economy. It was these considerations which induced the National Board of Health at Washington to mount its messenger on a bicycle. Many systems of telegraph and messenger service execute their deliveries by the agency of the wheel. Large stores in the cities of Europe and the United States; the Parcels Post, conducted by the Post-Office of Great Britain, deliver their goods by tricycle, and the method has thoroughly approved itself by time. Even in duties for which the horse would seem absolutely indispensable, his importance has been immensely lessened. The army couriers of several European nations are furnished with bicycles as a means for the more prompt and successful discharge of orders. For almost all men, in almost all circumstances, the wheel will justify itself and exhibit its surpassing merits. For farmers and journeymen-laborers, for ministers and doctors, for clerks and bankers, for young and old, for woman and child, the wheel is a boon and a power. In a word, it was launched on our modern life for the use and pleasure of all the world—and his wife.

May all the world, therefore, come to know and enjoy its benefits, and say somewhat in the words of the renowned Sancho Panza, "Blessings on the man who first invented the wheel!" Thou hast taught me, my wheel, to wish well unto all men. Thy genial and rounded generosity, thy lavish favor, thy unvarying constancy forbid niggardliness in thy devotee. I sum up all charity and benevolence of mind in desiring that every man might find in the wheel that which it is able to prove itself, a fair and gracious and faithful servant and companion. Such it is to all who have pursued its use and yielded themselves to its witchery—a most substantial benefit, a most vivid fascination. The wheelman can look back upon the past without bitterness, without sorrow; he has ever a buoyant mind and unabating zest for the experiences of the present time, for every interest that plays pleasingly upon the senses. And he can wish no better happiness than to look into the future from the saddle, to urge his obedient and delightful wheel into new days and feel serenely and unfearfully the cool breath of their dawns upon his face.

[We would recommend the above to our readers as an excellent article to bring to the attention of those of their acquaintances who are halting between two opinions and are not yet decided whether to become wheelmen or not.

No better work for the general good could be done than to have this article copied in local dailies or weeklies. Duplicate copies of this issue will be supplied.—ED.]

THE BAY CITY WHEELMEN.

We take the following from a neat little pamphlet containing the By-Laws, etc., of the above Club, and reproduce it here, as we feel sure it will prove of interest:

The Bay City Wheelmen organized at the residence of Mr. Edwin Mohrig, San Francisco, on the evening of September 1st, 1884, with a charter list of some 12 members. Mr. Edwin Mohrig was chosen President of this new Club; Mr. George F. Day, Vice-President; F. R. Cook, Captain; S. F. Booth, Jr., First Lieutenant; George Butler, Second Lieutenant, and Thomas L. Hill, Bugler. For a number of months the business meetings were held in turn at the residences of the various members, and some look back to those days as the most delightful in their Club experience. But it was not possible to long keep a growing and aspiring club on a sufficiently congenial basis to render a continuance of this custom desirable. The Club began to grow famous, recruits swelled its ranks, and it soon realized that it had become the representative in California of all that was active and vigorous in cycling, and that its mission plainly was to foster and advance the interests of the sport. Gratifying as this may have been to the ambition of the Club, it was not without a sigh of regret that it left the pleasant paths of its early existence, and went out from the home circle of its members to take a place in the world and meet the harsh criticisms, the jealousies, and animosities that are the consequences of success.

Mr. Joseph Little, a member who had a cycling business on Golden Gate Avenue, offered the use of his store, and here the Club met until August, 1885, when Mr. Little went out of business. The location was convenient and accessible to cyclers, and the Club, therefore, decided to rent the store and fit it up as a Club-Room. Here it very pleasantly passed the winter of 1885–6, and here, on February 18th, 1886, was organized the California Division, L. A. W. In June following it moved to its present quarters, No. 202 McAllister Street, into what is, if anything, a more desirable neighborhood than its previous location.

The Club early in its existence began to develop racing men. Fred Russ Cook, before its organization, had already won fame on the racing path. On Thanksgiving Day, 1884, at games held by the Olympic Club, he put the coast record for a mile at 3.04 4-5, where it still stands. On the 10th of January, 1885, the Club gave the first tournament at the Mechanics' Pavilion. Here F. E. Johnston came to the front, winning the 10 mile race over Cook, Blood, and Munro. Mohrig also came in a winner on this occasion. March 27th following the Clubs of San Francisco and Oakland united in a tourney for the purpose of raising funds to build a track. This furnished Meeker and Tittle an opportunity to win their spurs. Early in May Cook covered 207½ miles in 24 hours, then the best on record in America. May 17th and 18th, at the tournament of the Garden City Bicycle Club, at San Jose, Cook made what was then the world's record for a quarter of a mile, 0.37 2-5. At this meeting Tittle won first place in the mile.

In the latter part of July another tournament was given at the Mechanics' Pavilion, this time to defray the expenses of Cook to the Springfield tournament. It was highly successful, and chiefly notable as introducing Fahrbach to the racing world. The tournament was followed next day by a run and banquet in Golden Gate Park, in which the Club and a large number of invited wheelmen participated.

Cook on his visit to Springfield shared pretty much the same fate as the unfortunate Cola Stone, Hendee, and some other good men, being disabled by accidents and thrown out of his race. However, he did not come back without some trophies.

When the Pacific Coast Amateur Athletic Association was formed the Club associated itself therewith. At the annual championship meeting of September 9th, 1885, S. F. Booth, Jr., won the mile, and W. G. Davis (then a Bay City Wheelman) the five mile run, the only bicycle events of the meeting. About this time the Club withdrew from the Association to form the California Division, L. A. W.

The Club had now begun to wear the proud title of "Masters of the road and path," and a Club was formed in Oakland for the purpose of disputing the Bay City's supremacy on the road. A challenge was issued for a 50 mile road race, which was promptly responded to. The Oakland Club entered a team of three. There had come into the Bay Citys a young man who had at once shown wonderful powers as a pusher and stayer on the road, but he was utterly untried in a contest, and it was with some misgivings that the Committee in charge of the affair selected him as a member of the team. When completed, the Bay City's team consisted of Elwell, Booth, and Tittle. The course selected was 50 miles straightaway from Gilroy to Menlo Park. There was a stream to ford and an ugly hill to climb on one side and descend on the other. The date was Monday, February 22d, 1886. The Club had a run to San Jose on Sunday and on Monday rode to Menlo Park and awaited the finish of the race. One of the timers glanced at his watch. "It is now 3.30 since they started," he said. Just then there was a shout, "Here's one of them!" then, "It is Elwell!" and he rode leisurely across the tape, a winner, in 3.30.-59 4-5. Bowman, of the Oaklands, followed next seven minutes later; then Booth, of the Bay Citys; Losborough, of the Oaklands, next, and Tittle, of the Bay Citys; Churchill, of the Oaklands, took a header and did not finish. The Bay Citys were wild over the result, and felt that they had gained in Elwell a champion who would win additional glory for the Club.

On the 31st of May following the Club held a joint field day with the Albion Athletic Club at Alameda. Here Turner won the mile novice over a large field of entries. It was also Elwell's first experience at track racing, though he was barred from the novice. He took the half mile in 1.33 1-2 and the two mile in 6.59, but lost the mile to Davis of the San Francisco Bicycle Club in 3.10.

On September 9th, at the annual races of the California Division, L. A. W., Elwell took the three mile National Championship, L. A. W., in 9.46 3-5, and the mile State Championship in 3.16. Browning won the mile novice in 3.05 3-5, and the two mile handicap from the 100 yards mark over Booth at scratch in 6.24 3-5. Turner took the five mile handicap, from the scratch, in 17.25. In the three mile National Championship, Booth made the two miles in 6.24, lowering the coast record at that distance.

At Sacramento, on September 15th following, Elwell won the two mile L. A. W. State Championship, the mile handicap from scratch over Browning at 100 yards, and also the five mile handicap from scratch.

For Thanksgiving Day, 1886, the Oakland Ramblers arranged a 25 mile road race. The San Francisco Bicycle Club, the Oakland Ramblers, and the Bay City Wheelmen entered teams of three each. Elwell, Adcock, and Booth formed that of the Bay City Wheelmen. Elwell finished first in 1.37.2 7-8, Adcock third and Booth fifth, winning the race and trophy with 21 points to 12 for the San Francisco Bicycle Club, and nine for the Oakland Ramblers.

Of this record of the prowess of its racing men the Club is justly proud, and whenever it comes to a challenge in the path or road, its motto is "Semper Parati"—we are always ready.

In January, 1886, the Club joined the League of American Wheelmen in a body, and on the evening of February 18th the California Division was organized at its Club-room. At the general election held between the 10th of March and April following, the officers chosen at this organization were, in spite of some opposition, elected by a large majority of the voters of the Division. The success of the Division under the administration of their officers, entitled the Bay City Wheelmen to lay claim to being masters of diplomacy, as well as of the road and path.

The Club enjoys the distinction of being the organized League Club on the Pacific Coast. Its By-Laws provide that every member shall be a member of the L. A. W., and that the annual dues to the League shall be paid from the treasury of the Club.

The Club claims to be the most active and vigorous cycling organization on the Pacific Coast. Its membership consists of young and active riders. There are no fossils in its ranks. It probably gives more for its dues than any other club in existence, for in addition to maintaining a headquarters, it pays all the Club-run expense. Glorious as has been its past, there seems to be nothing in its future but an endless course of unvarying prosperity.

CONNECTICUT ROAD LAWS.

Passenger vehicles meeting, must each turn to the right and give the other half of the traveled path, if practicable. A team need not turn out for a passenger vehicle any further than is necessary to allow it to pass. Any one guilty of negligence in passing is liable for treble damages and costs, and the owner of the vehicle is liable for the same if the team is driven by any of his family or servants. Any one overtaking any team or vehicle is liable for any damage done by running against the other. A team must turn out, if necessary, so as to give a passenger vehicle opportunity to pass, but one passenger vehicle need not, if the driver chooses to the contrary, turn out for another passenger vehicle coming up from behind. Freight trains must not obstruct travel on a highway more than five minutes at any one time.

Towns are liable for any accident caused by their neglect to repair a defect in a highway or bridge, such as a hole or defective railing, unless the injured party also was negligent, provided he gives due notice within 60 days. Where the defect is from snow or ice, the notice must be given within 15 days. The notice must be in writing, and this cannot be waived. Towns are not liable to one injured while traveling for pleasure on Sunday. They are not bound to provide a highway for this purpose. One leaving an obstruction in a highway is liable for the damage caused thereby, and the owner of adjoining land is liable for damage caused by an obstruction which it was his duty to remove. The town would also be liable if the obstruction had so remained for any considerable time. One injuring highway by dragging fog or stone thereon is liable to fine for failure to repair damage. Those authorized to make or repair highways may make necessary drains through adjoining land. Towns are not liable to adjoining proprietors for damages caused by change in grade of highway. Towns may instruct their Selectmen to cause all bushes growing within 12 feet of the centre of the highway to be cut. No encroachment in a highway made since 1809 divests the public right. There is a penalty for injuring or removing a tree from the highway of from $7 to $50.—Connecticut Almanac.

STATE DIVISION OFFICERS.

As no list of these has appeared in the BULLETIN since September, we now, for variety's sake, present the names in a new shape, as arranged for the pages of X. M. Miles on a Bi. Three separate appeals have been made by Karl Kron in these columns for officers' birthdays, but the result seems quite incomplete:

"In the following list of State officers who are serving the League, October 30th, 1886, the first-named in each case is Chief Consul, whose term expires at the next annual meeting, and the second-named is Secretary-Treasurer, whose term expires about a year from the designated date of his election. The date after each State's name shows when its Division was organized; and the undated States are those having no organization or Secretary-Treasurer Birthdays, when known, are inclosed in parentheses; and re-elections are designated by the *. The States are named geographically,—brackets being used for those where no officers have been chosen or appointed, though League members reside in most of them.

MAINE—May 20, 1886; F. A. Elwell* (b. November 7, 1858), 44 Exchange Street, Portland; A. L. T. Cummings, Biddeford, May 20, 1886. NEW HAMPSHIRE—September 18, 1882; H. M. Bennett,* Manchester; G. F. Hill, Great Falls, July 5, 1886. VERMONT—October 22, 1884; C. G. Ross* (b. July 21, 1862), Rutland; F. E. DuBois* (b. June 14, 1859), West Randolph, July 5, 1886. MASSACHUSETTS—October 21, 1882; H. M. Hayes (b. March 16, 1861), 91 State Street, Boston; S. Lawton* (b. June 20, 1858), Springfield, August, 1886. RHODE ISLAND—December 9, 1885; J. A. Chase, Pawtucket; H. L. Perkins, Providence, December 10, 1885. CONNECTICUT—January 22, 1884; C. G. Huntington,* Hartford; D. J. Post (b. January 28, 1861), Hartford, June 29, 1886. NEW YORK—May 29, 1883; G. R. Bidwell, 313 W. Fifty-eighth Street, New York; E. K. Austin* (b. December 4, 1860), 55 Hart Street, Brooklyn, N. Y., September 3, 1886. NEW JERSEY—May 30, 1883; E. W. Johnson, 212 Broadway, New York; F. R. Bonnell, 51 Crescent Avenue, Jersey City, August 28, 1886. PENNSYLVANIA—June 17, 1883; J. A. Wells, 321 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia; T. H. Wright* (b. March 24, 1860), Box 1619, Philadelphia, August 19, 1886. DELAWARE—J. E. Palmer, 1225 Market Street, Wilmington. MARYLAND—June 27, 1884; J. K. Bartlett, South and Second Streets, Baltimore; W. S. Bayley,* 366 North Avenue, Baltimore, June 2, 1886. DISTRICT COLUMBIA—November 24, 1884; E. T. Pettengill,* 1713 New York Avenue, Washington; G. M. Myers, Citizens' National Bank, Washington, March 31, 1886. WEST VIRGINIA—August 31, 1886, W. L. Wright (b. April 8, 1859), Wheeling; H. P. Wilkinson, Wheeling, August 31, 1886. VIRGINIA—October 21, 1886; F. I.. Harris, Harrisonburg; A. K. Schaap, Richmond, October 21, 1886. NORTH CAROLINA—J. L. Yopp. Wilmington. [SOUTH CAROLINA, GEORGIA.] FLORIDA—W. J. Farrell, Fernandina. [ALABAMA.] MISSISSIPPI—J. P. Bruce (b. June 7, 1865), Vicksburg. LOUISIANA—March 3, 1885; E. A. Shields (b. November 28, 1859), 93 Race Street, New Orleans; George Baquié, Box 782, New Orleans, June 23, 1886. TEXAS—W. A. L. Knox (b. June 16, 1857), Dallas. [ARKANSAS.] TENNESSEE—January 18, 1886; W. L. Surprise (b. December 9, 1859), 254 Front Street, Memphis; C. J. Scherer, 211 Main Street, Memphis, January 18,

1886. KENTUCKY—1884; N. G. Crawford, Louisville; T. J. Willison, Dayton, July 3, 1886. OHIO—July, 1883; J. R. Dunn, Massillon; G. S. Atwater, Massillon, September 6, 1886. MICHIGAN—May 30, 1883; J. H. Johnson* (b. March 18, 1860), 107 Spruce Street, Detroit; J. E. Beal (b. February 23, 1860), Ann Arbor, June 29, 1886. INDIANA—September 27, 1883; A. B. Irwin (b. July 14, 1850), Rushville; J. Zimmerman, 37 S. Alabama Street, Indianapolis, May 15, 1886. ILLINOIS—May 31, 1884; J. O. Blake* (b. May 23, 1848), 68 Wabash Avenue; B. B. Ayers* (b. October 8, 1858), 152 S. Hoyne Avenue, July 5, 1886. MISSOURI—June 18, 1885; J. S. Rogers (b. August 19, 1864), St. Louis; J. A. Lewis, U. S. Treasury, St. Louis, June 19, 1886. IOWA—May 31, 1884; W. M. Ferguson, Jefferson; J. F. Rall* (b. March 18, 1863), Iowa Falls, December 3, 1885. WISCONSIN—A. A. Hathaway, Box 454, Milwaukee. MINNESOTA—September 10, 1883; S. F. Heath,* Armory Hall, Minneapolis; H. A. Alm (b. November 27, 1849), Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank, Minneapolis, September 22, 1885. [DAKOTA.] NEBRASKA—April 29, 1886; W. F. Rogers, 1321 Farnam Street, Omaha; Benn Fell, 2502 Harney Street, Omaha, May 10, 1886. KANSAS—September 22, 1886; J. H. Everest (b. December 11, 1863), Lyons; C. C. Candy (b. June 22, 1865), Fort Leavenworth, September 23, 1886. [INDIAN TERRITORY, NEW MEXICO.] COLORADO—February 17, 1886; L. B. Johnson (b. November 13, 1863), Denver; F. J. Chamard, 442 Glenavon Street, Denver, February 17, 1886. WYOMING—F. H. Clarke, Cheyenne. [MONTANA.] IDAHO—E. C. Coffin. [WASHINGTON, OREGON, UTAH, NEVADA, ARIZONA.] CALIFORNIA—February 18, 1886; R. M. Welch (b. November 13, 1856), Stock Exchange, San Francisco; P. E. Haslett (b. November 11, 1865), Green and Front Streets, February 20, 1886. (A. W. Laird was elected Sec.-Treas. of Minn. Div. September 23, 1886.)

THE HUM OF THE HUB.

League affairs are on the boom in Boston. Last week our two large Clubs voted to renew their membership in the League for another year, and the meeting of the Division held Saturday evening proved a success. We have heard a good many express surprise that the Boston Club should decide to remain in the League by an unanimous vote. Why any one should suppose that the Boston Club is not to-day just as much interested in the League as is any other club I fail to understand. I can assure you that the League has no more loyal club on its membership rolls. There was a time, perhaps, when the Boston Club felt a little hostile to the League, but those days are past, and now among its members are several of the State Division's most active workers.

While the dinner and meeting of the Division on Saturday evening was the last event of the week, it was also the most important; so it will be proper to give an account of it first. There was an attendance of 25, which is very good, considering that 18 is the largest number attending any previous affair of the kind. I think that more would have attended had it been more widely known that the dinner was not for officers only, but for all the League members who wished to attend. Why any one should not know this I cannot tell, but it is certain that there were some; for I was told last evening by a scribe who is supposed to be well informed on all matters of a cycling nature that he should have attended had he not supposed that none but Division officers would be present.

Chief Consul Hayes, of course, presided, and although no business of particular importance was transacted, a deal of interest was manifested in League work and one given the impression that everything possible would be done during the coming year to promote the interests of the League in Massachusetts. It is not unreasonable to prophesy that at the close of the year 1887 the Division will have 2,000 names on its membership rolls.

Undoubtedly these meetings are of great benefit to the Division. Whether they are attended for the sake of the dinner or for the business to be transacted it matters not. The Chief Consul has received a letter from one of the officers protesting against a dinner being held in connection with business meetings. He says that this is practically charging members a couple of dollars for the privilege of attending the business meeting. This letter seemed to worry Mr. Hayes a great deal, for he is very desirous of doing nothing which may be against the wishes of the Division members, and he brought the matter up Saturday evening for discussion. It is not desired that any one feel obliged to attend the dinner; he can come to the meeting held afterward, with perfect propriety. Hereafter the dinner and the meeting will be held in separate rooms.

Mr. Dean, in reporting for the Committee appointed to consider the advisibility of holding a meet of the Division at Martha's Vineyard next summer, said that it was thought by the Committee a good idea, and requested that they be continued. I wonder how much real thought the Committee gave to the matter?

The Vineyard is a delightful summer resort, and a meet held there could not but prove enjoyable.

Mr. Hill, of Worcester, sent in a report of what had been done in the way of preparing danger signboards. His report showed that no definite action had, as yet, been taken in the matter, but he had under consideration various plans.

Mr. A. Kennedy-Child, who was recently a member of the C. T. C. Executive Committee, and the designer of the first danger sign-board used in England, was invited to "expound on sign-boards." This he did very willingly, and said that, after numerous experiments, it had been found that the only suitable sign that could be made was of annealed iron with letters cast upon it. These would last forever, and he thought that the expense would be about $120 per 100 signs. Undoubtedly such signs as these would be very desirable, but in the present condition of the Division's finances it seems that a plain board with large black letters painted upon it could be made o answer the purpose. It would be better to have 500 cheap signs than 100 of the elegant affairs recommended by Mr. Child.

It was voted to appropriate the sum of $100 for the annual expenses of the Chief Consul's office. This is a step in the right direction, for the expenses of this office are pretty heavy, and it is unfair to force the Chief Consul to pay them as well as contribute his time.

It was voted to hold the next dinner on February 12th, the place of meeting being left to the discretion of the Chief Consul.

Though of an informal nature, a large part of the discussion at the dinner of the Division was relative to the coming meeting of the L. A. W. officers. As to the mail vote sent out by request of Dr. Blackham, I could not find one who had voted in favor of his resolution. Several said that they had voted against it, but the majority thought the whole matter of such little consequence that they had not voted at all. All that is of any consequence is the clause relating to the expulsion of League members on account of action by some other organization. What effect, beyond the ridiculous, it would have for the League to "assert its supreme and sole jurisdiction over legitimate amateur cycling athletics in the United States of America" it is difficult to comprehend. In this country it is generally supposed that a government exists only by the consent of the governed. I am obliged, though with deep regret, to admit that the A. C. U. apparently amounts to little or nothing, but if any organization of consequence came into existence and made a bid for the control of racing interests, it would have little effect whether or not the League "refused to acknowledge any division of its jurisdiction."

There was one matter that was discussed at considerable length, and regarding which no little dissatisfaction was expressed. That is, why is it that the Executive Committee does not make known the action taken at its private meetings? I understand that there is one member of our Division who has been informed regarding matters of great importance by the Executive Committee, but that he has been instructed to, as he expressed it, "keep his mouth shut." This certainly seems very strange. If a League Representative is to know nothing of how the organization is being conducted, what is the use of his holding office? It is to be hoped that the Executive Committee will explain this little matter at the New York meeting.

There has been a good deal said of late about the proposal to amend the rules relating to the Secretary-Editor, making the office elective annually. I have nothing further to say upon this matter, except to ask if it is not strange that those who were most anxious last year to make the office a permanent one are now most active in their efforts to bring about a change?

The Somerville men have been doing some fine riding during the past season. Captain Sanger said to me yesterday: "During the season of 1886 we have had 21 runs, which will aggregate the distance of 770 miles, or an average of 37 miles for each run. Six members of the Club have together ridden about 16,412 miles, or an average of about 2,735 miles. Two members have made century runs—that is, 100 miles a day—one of whom, H. L. Billings, had learned to ride but four months previously."

The Massachusetts Club has appointed the following gentlemen to prepare a list of candidates for the Club election at the next meeting: E. W. Pope, Charles Richard Dodge, A. D. Peck, Jr., D. W. Colbath, H. B. Salkeld.

The Chelsea Club has made a good showing as an organization of active riders. Three members of the Club have a record of over 3,000 miles—F. A. Woodward, 700; G. H. Danforth, 3,400; W. S. Fraker, 3,300. Messrs. Frost and Pratt cycled over 2,000. The Club members are to have a supper at their monthly meetings.

The Boston Club have elected officers as follows: President, E. C. Hodges, re-elected; Secretary, E. W. Hodgkins, re-elected; Treasurer, C. W. Fourdrinier; Captain, E. G. Whitney; First Lieutenant, Theodore Rothe; Second Lieutenant, W. E. Jones; Club Committee, active representative, C. P. Donahoe; associate, H. H. Gage, re-elected; W. W. Keith, re-elected; W. Crafts; J. R. Chadwick, re-elected.

President Hodges, the promoter of a contemplated trip to Montreal during the Carnival season next month, said, at the meeting Wednesday night, that a most enjoyable time was anticipated. He had already received the names of 25 members who had promised to go. It is intended to have a special drawing-room car, or, if enough go, there will be two special cars. This Club has a great many friends in Montreal, and those who go are assured of a royal reception.

The Club voted to hold its annual dinner on February 5th, and the following were appointed a committee to make all arrangements: Messrs. Dean, Chadwick, Wright, Voorhees, and Nelson.

HOWARD.

Touring Department.

B. B. Ayers, Tourmaster, Chicago; A. B. Barkman, Bookmaster, 608 Fourth Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.; Geo. R. Bidwell, Chief Marshal, New York; Dr. W. G. Kendall, Marshal Eastern Division, Boston, Mass.; W. S. Bull, Marshal Middle Division, Buffalo, N. Y.; W. G. E. Peirce, Marshal Western Division, Chicago; N. L. Collamer, Marshal Southern Division, Washington, D. C.; Joseph Pennell, Marshal Foreign Division, London, England; H. D. Corey, General Agent, Boston, Mass.; Fred. Jenkins, Chief Quartermaster, New York; Edwin Oliver, Secretary, Chicago, Ill.

The following L. A. W. works are officially recommended by the L. A. W. Bureau of Information. No preference is expressed, and each reader must draw his own conclusions as to relative merit.

HAND-BOOK OF MASSACHUSETTS (1884):—Hotels, repair shops, the principal through routes, condition of roads by districts, bound in stiff cloth. Address H. E. Ducker, Springfield, Mass.

L. A. W. ROAD AND HAND BOOK OF PA., N. J., AND MD. (Official):—Two hundred pages, 12,000 miles separately reported in tabular form, general description of riding districts, eight diagram maps, complete Consul, hotel, and repair shop lists, no advertisements, bound in flexible leather. A copy of the revised and enlarged 1886 edition was furnished free last year to every League member in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and Maryland who joined before April 1st. A limited supply sold to League members only or to those ineligible to membership. Price, $1.00. Inclose cash to T. Houard Wright, Box 1619, Philadelphia, Pa.

L. A. W. HAND-BOOK OF OHIO (Official):—Complete official lists of officers, Consuls, hotels, etc. General description of riding districts, fine large folding road-map of the State. Price, $1.00; address T. J. Kirkpatrick, Springfield, Ohio.

L. A. W. ROAD-BOOK OF LONG ISLAND, with the best riding within 50 miles of New York City—very thorough. Three fine maps on one sheet folded in the book, style of tabular form, same as Pa.-N. J.-Md. Book, advertisements, bound in flexible cloth. Price, $1.00; address A. B. Barkman, 608 4th Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y. For sale with Brooklyn and New York bicycle dealers, etc.

L. A. W. ROAD-BOOK OF BOSTON AND VICINITY, paper cover, advertisements. Price, 15 cents; address A. L. Atkins, 597 Washington Street, Boston, Mass.

IN AND AROUND CAPE ANN, bound in cloth; finely illustrated. The wheelmen's hand-book of Gloucester, Mass., and vicinity. Price, 75 cents; address John S. Webber, Jr., Gloucester, Mass.

ROAD-BOOK OF CONNECTICUT, in progress. Address for information, Charles G. Huntington, Hartford, Conn.

ROAD-BOOK OF MICHIGAN, in progress. Address for information, J. H. Johnson, 107 Spruce Street, Detroit, Mich.

L. A. W. ROAD AND HAND-BOOK OF NEW YORK (Official):—Ready in March, 1887. 200 pages. All sections of the State are well reported, except the northern or Adirondack region. The routes will extend east to Boston, south to Staunton, Va., and it is expected west to Chicago. The compiler hopes to have the books ready for delivery by the 1st of March next. The method of distribution as adopted by the Committee is as follows: All persons renewing or joining between January 1st and March 31st, 1887, will receive one copy free. All persons joining between April 1st and June 30th will receive a copy upon payment of 13 cents. All persons joining between July 1st and September 30th will receive a copy upon payment of 25 cents. All persons joining after October 1st will receive a copy upon payment of 37 cents. The book will be sold to League members of other States, or to those who are not eligible to League membership, at $1.00 per copy. Address A. B. Barkman, 608 4th Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

ROAD-MAP OF BOSTON AND VICINITY (Warren's).

ROAD-MAP (WHEELING CHART) OF SPRINGFIELD AND VICINITY. Address Henry E. Ducker, Springfield, Mass.

ROAD-MAP OF NEW JERSEY (L. A. W. Official):—Three parts, Northern, Central, and Southern, folded in stiff covers; price, 50 cents each or $1.50 for the set. Address Dr. G. Carleton Brown, Elizabeth, N. J.

COLTON'S ROAD-MAP OF PENNSYLVANIA:—Three parts, Eastern Counties, Central Counties, Western Counties. Price, $2.00 per section. J. L. Smith, Map Publisher, Sixth Street, above Chestnut, Philadelphia, Pa.

MARTINET'S ROAD-MAP OF MARYLAND:—Splendid work. Price, $10.00. J. L. Smith, as above.

ROAD-MAP OF OHIO. See Ohio Hand-Book.

THE WHEELMAN'S HAND-BOOK OF ESSEX COUNTY, MASS. Sketches of cities and towns, objects of interest, hotels, clubs, officials, roads, etc. Also a sketch of the League of Essex County Wheelmen and a chapter on wheel literature. By George Chinn. Third edition. Beverly, Mass., 1886, 20 cents.

L. A. W. ROAD AND HAND BOOK OF CALIFORNIA (Official):—Officers, Consuls, members, hotels, and By-Laws of California Division. California bicycle clubs and officers; advertisements. Issued in monthly parts, 75 cents to League members. Part I now ready, bound in flexible cloth, 25 cents. Address J. W. Gibson, No. 612 Hyde St., San Francisco, Cal.

Persons connected with the above publications who wish changes or corrections made in the above list will please address A. B. Barkman, 608 Fourth Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

SOUTHERN TOURISTS' NOTICE.

The troublesome question of the tours for the coming season has been taken up by the Touring Department, and much difficulty is being found in selecting routes for the various Touring Districts that will be acceptable to each and every would-be tourist. The strict plan of District tours in its perfection has not been yet carried out, but it is intended that it shall be this spring, and it is, of course, desirable that the initial attempt to please all in time, locality, and duration should be at least partially successful. I have talked and corresponded with the leading wheelmen throughout the Southern District, and have endeavored to reconcile widely differing opinions with but little success to my endeavors or satisfaction to myself.

It is predicted, and I think rightly, that the coming season will be the brightest and most prosperous our pastime has yet witnessed; and the riders that will look forward to the tours to be held, and the routes to be covered thereby, are legion. Moreover, covering, as it does, a very large section of the country, and embracing localities in which widely different opinions as to touring are held—the Southern District contains men, and good men, who, while honest and sincere in their sentiments, yet differ widely. I apprehend that it will be hard to please all, and I venture the assertion at the outset that I shall not be able to do so; but with the hope that as many as possible may be allowed a voice in the matter, I earnestly request that all who care enough about it to do so, will write me at length in answer to the following questions: When is it most advisable to hold the Southern District Tour? What course is preferable? How many days should be consumed in the tour proper? What average mileage per diem? What expense per capita should the cost be limited to?

In the consideration of this subject it must be borne in mind that the Inter-State Competitive Drill which is to occur in this city in May, will probably cause a reduction in railroad fares, which might be taken advantage of, or a similar reduction at about the time of the Fourth of July may be used to advantage. I trust all who have an opinion will express it freely in their letters to me, and that I may not be censured if I am not able to make such selectoins of time, place, duration, and expense as will place the tour within the reach of all.

N. L. COLLAMER,
Marshal S. D.
ST. CLOUD BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D. C.

INFORMATION FOR 10,563.

Michigan Road-Book (January, 1887) will contain two routes from Chicago to Detroit and one from Detroit to Buffalo via Canada. New York and Pennsylvania books will give balance of route.

Fraternally,
J. H. JOHNSON, C. C. Mich. Div.

BUSINESS BEFORE THE BOARD.

MATTERS LIKELY OR OF NECESSITY TO COME BEFORE THE BOARD MEETING, JANUARY 17TH, 1887.

PHILADELPHIA, January 12th, 1887.

GENTLEMEN OF THE BOARD:

The following is offered as a list of all matters that, to my knowledge, are likely to come before you for your consideration at your next regular meeting at the Grand Union Hotel, New York city, at 9.30 A. M., January 17th.

Calling the roll.

Announcing the appointments to Board membership by the President.

Action on same by the Board.

Announcing the holders of proxies. (These must be in the hands of the Secretary by 8 A. M. on the morning of the meeting, or they will not be called by the Secretary.)

Reading of the records of the last meeting. (This has always, on motion, been dispensed with, as these records are published in full in the BULLETIN after each meeting.)

Report of the President.

Report of the Treasurer.

Report of the Secretary, and his resignation.

Communications from divisions or officers, committees, and members thereof. (None are as yet in my hands.)

Report of Committee on Membership.

Report of Committee on Rules and Regulations.

(Under this head will come the report from this Committee, published elsewhere in this number, and also, possibly, the miniority report submitted to the last Board meeting [see BULLETIN, Vol. III, p. 208, August 27th, 1886], which was "referred back to the Committee for a majority report.")

Report of Committee on Rights and Privileges.

Report of Racing Board.

Report of Touring Board.

Report of Transportation Committee.

Report of Executive Committee.

Report of Special Committees.

(The only Special Committees now known to be in existence are those on Incorporation and Petitioning Manufacturers. The latter was empowered to use every honorable endeavor to bring about a uniformity of thread on nuts and bolts and of general parts of cycles, but it has not yet been appointed.)

Unfinished or referred business. (Unless the minority report referred back to Rules and Regulations Committee at the September meeting can be called such, I do not know of any unfinished business.)

Complaints and appeals. (None are in my hands.)

Under new business the following are likely to come up:

Amendment proposed by the Executive Committee (Vol. III, p. 622) to increase the initiation fee and annual dues.

Amendments proposed by Representative W. I. Harris, of Massachusetts (BULLETIN, Vol. III, p. 640), looking toward the following:

To elect the President and Vice-President in the general meeting.

To elect the Secretary annually.

To govern the manner of holding the election for President and Vice-President.

Amendments proposed by Representative Abbot Bassett, of Massachusetts (BULLETIN, Vol. III, p. 640), looking toward the following:

A change in the phraseology of the Amateur Rule which enables the Racing Board to declare a cyclist's non-amateur standing without declaring him to be a professional, and thus run the risk of a lawsuit for damages.

An addition to the amateur rule which, as already adopted by the N. C. U. and A. C. U., tightens the lines around the amateur.

A change in the phraseology of the rule setting forth the duties of the Racing Board Chairman in the same direction as the first change noted above.

Amendments proposed by Representative E. M. Aaron, of Pennsylvania (BULLETIN, Vol. III, p. 641), looking toward the following:

The taking up of any portion of the minority report of the Rules and Regulations Committee made at the September meeting of the Board.

The changes in the rules affecting the annual elections which he offered as a substitute for Representative Luscomb's amendments adopted at the September meeting (BULLETIN, Vol. III, p. 301).

Certain changes in the rule providing for the disposition of Life Membership fees.

Certain changes in the rule providing for representation by a general meeting of the membership.

Amendments proposed by Representative C. S. Butler, of New York (BULLETIN, Vol. III, p. 641), looking toward the following:

Making the Secretary-Editor ineligible to membership in the Board.

Doing away with the present appointing power of the President, whereby he is enabled to appoint additional Representatives from the various States.

Doing away with the present provisions whereby a question can be submitted to a mail vote of the Board.

Making the Treasury a salaried office.

Amendments proposed by Representative C. H. Luscomb, of New York (BULLETIN, Vol. IV, p. 12) looking toward:

Taking from the President the power to fill vacancies in the office of Representatives, and vesting that power in the Chief Consul of the State in which the vacancy occurs.

In addition to these amendments to the By-Laws, of which due notice has been given, a number of motions affecting routine work, etc., will doubtless be offered. These do not require previous notice, but among those likely to be brought forward the following may be mentioned:

A motion to instruct the Rights and Privileges Committee to prepare a new circular setting forth the legal rights of wheelmen and the victories that have been gained by or for them, in place of the very imperfect one which has done duty ever since 1882, and instructing that this circular shall first be published in the BULLETIN.

A motion instructing the Chairman of the Racing Board to publish in the BULLETIN, at as early a date as possible, a complete set of tables, whether American or foreign, of all the best cycle records, and also instructing that a report of all changes therein made in future seasons shall be prepared for the BULLETIN on or before December 1st of each year.

A motion looking toward the adjustment of the present differences between the L. A. W. and A. C. U.

A motion looking toward the coming to some conclusion between the L. A. W. and N. C. U. as to a series of international championships.

A motion looking toward the improvement of the League uniform cloth and a removal of the contract from the present contracting tailors.

As the foregoing will show, the coming meeting of the Board is likely to prove one of the most interesting and profitable yet held. It is very desirable that there shall be a full attendance, and that all shall be on hand promptly at 9.30 A. M., as the session is likely to prove to be a long one.

I will be at the Grand Union by noon of the 16th inst. and shall be glad to see any members at my rooms. All who have proxies in their possession are requested to deliver them to me at the earliest possible moment, that my list may be complete so early that the meeting may not be delayed thereby. Though it was nearly 11 o'clock when the Board was called to order last September, having been delayed in this way, a member came in after that with nearly a dozen proxies in his possession.

Respectfully submitted,
EUGENE M. AARON,
Secretary L. A. W.

THE OWL.

Abram S. Hewitt, the newly elected Mayor of New York, in his inaugural address, gives the cyclists a hope for something better in the way of streets in the following: "There is general demand for better pavements and cleaner streets, and, indeed, the latter cannot be had without the former." Mr. Hewitt was elected on the cry of "Reform," and any reformation he may attempt in the line of street paving improvements will bring him the hearty support of all cyclists and other intelligent voters. I wonder if his son, who is a cyclist, didn't get this portion of his father's speech up!

A scientific periodical recently said that in 4,399 years from now the sun will have burned itself out. The League should take warning from this and lay in a supply of candles, so that the then Secretary-Editor may be enabled to attend to the wrangle over amateurship, as from present outlook it will be worse then than now, and no nearer settlement.

Did you ever read what purported to be a cycling story that did not begin with the hero's taking a header opposite the window of some susceptible damsel, who nurses him back to health and elopes from an irate parent on a tandem? Well, I never did, at any rate. Here is a case, though, where fact equals this very poor style of fiction. A pair of New Jersey lovers, bent on connubial connubiality, with the thermometer something less than 75 degrees below zero, started on a tandem to find a minister to complete their misery for life, through marrying them. Their hands and ears were frostbitten during the ride, but so ardent and true were the lovers, that even this failed to produce a coldness between them. The minister thawed them out and then married them.

Mr. John. S. Crimmins, long noted as being a rank anti-cyclist member of the Park Board, has resigned, and it is rumored that Mr. M. C. D. Borden, who is also a rank cyclophobiac, is contemplating doing the same, which would be the only sensible action he has ever done since he became a member of the Board. In my notes of week before last I expressed the expectation that sooner or later the Park Board, like the balance of New York's pot-house politicians, would be called to the bar to answer for the trusts belonging to the people, which they labored under the impression belonged to themselves. Tax Commissioner Coleman has made charges against his department, so that we may yet have a chance to see our dear friends the Commissioners do a little of the pleading they have enjoyed so in the cyclists, and my sincerest hope is, that they will attain just the same results as the cyclists did.

I understand that one of your Boston contemporaries intended to follow an English plan of securing subscribers by guaranteeing to pay to the heirs of any cyclist $100, provided the cyclist was killed while or through riding a wheel, and upon his person was found a copy of the paper of the latest issue. Upon due consideration, and advice from prominent medical men, the proprietor of the paper decided not to attempt this, however, as the doctors declared that a trivial accident would be likely to produce fatal results upon any brain or constitution weakened by the reading weekly the combined products of "Daisey," the pun factory, and the Abbott.

Nothing to me so much evinces the fact of cycling having come to stay as the almost total absence today of those papilionaceous riders of the past, who, not satisfied with decking themselves out in all the colors of the rainbow, used to resort to sundry bows of ribbons on their handle-bars, etc., which rightly caused sensible onlookers to think the cycle a toy, and its rider either a child or an ass.

Dr. N. M. Beckwith's room in the Citizens' Club is not only a most gorgeously fitted up one, but contains many novel appliances for comfort and convenience, prominent among which is a system of electric lighting and extinguishing of the gas. The opening of the door turns on and lights the gas, or the Doctor, while in bed, can accomplish the same thing by pressing a button upon the wall at his head. To such of us who these cold winter nights are wont to lie abed and read the BULLETIN I need not say how much we would appreciate an invention of this kind, when, our reading completed, we lie in bed and contemplate about ten feet of ice-cold space between us and the gas-jet, which must be traveled to accomplish the extinguishment of the light.

Mr. W. C. Herring, whose recent proposed solution of the amateur squabble was so widely circulated, has departed for Florida, where he will pick oranges from the teeth of somnolent alligators, for which sport he probably secured the sundry guns, rifles, etc., with which he started, and which will cause him to be apprehended as a filibustering expedition of some sort or another if he is not careful.

Mr. Eugene S. Hoffman, a well-known member of the Citizens' Club, also seeks health and pleasure in Southern California.

Mr. George A. Wells, a pioneer member of the above Club, and an enthusiastic worker for its success in the younger days of its existence, has resigned, owing to continued ill health. In this, the days of the Club's strength, while the cause and the fact of his resignation are both sincerely deplored, it will not retard the onward march of the Citizens' prosperity, but had it happened only a few years since the Club would not yet have reached its present greatness, as no one has done as much as Mr. Wells to place it in its present position. He it was who engineered the building of the original Citizens' Club-House, and devised and planned many new features for the members' comfort therein. Cycling, as well as his Club, sustains a loss in Mr. Wells' retirement which it will be hard to refill.

Mr. M. G. Peoli, Captain of the Ixions, was the only one to answer "Ready" at roll call of the Club run called by him for New Year's Eve at 11.30 P. M. When that time had arrived, in a pouring rain storm, he took the pedal mount at the Park gate and sped away in the darkness, returning at 12.30. This makes the fifth year that the Ixions have thus met the new year as best befits a cycler, and it is the first time that only one member has upheld the honor of the Club in this direction.

In consequence of the Ixions resigning from the C. T. C., they have been forced to adopt a new uniform, and have accepted from Browning, King & Co. a splendid pattern of cloth for sample. The pattern is a check on a gray background, not greatly differing in general effect from their present C. T. C. uniform.

So the cycling menagerie has been increased by the addition of the "Raven" to the already overstocked aviary thereof. I suppose one is expected to say "welcome" to all new arrivals, and I will do so to this one, but—well, never mind, it will be a case of "nevermore" with this Raven after he has ground out copy for a few months, though anything he turns out cannot, of course, be considered original, as it will always be the product of a "caw-cuss."

I saw an original method of proselyting lately. A member of an up-town cycling club, who is proprietor of a large printing establishment, having completed the printing of his Club's Constitution and By-Laws, affixed to it his imprint and submitted it to those desiring specimens of his work. He thus "killed two birds with one stone," securing the credit for an extremely nice piece of typography and spreading the gospel of club and cyling at one and the same time.

The original missionaries of Mahomet went forth with a copy of the Koran in one hand and a scimiter in the other, inviting all the unhappy people whom they met to take their choice. As a rule, they used the scimiter first. I am somewhat reminded of them by the attitude of the "road-hog" toward all other users of the public highways, save that in the case of Mahometan missionaries there was something to admire in their church militant way of conversion, while in the "road-hog's" case, even his brethren of the pig-pen could teach him manners.

It is said here that your St. Louis correspondent is an agent of the Post-Dispatch, employed by that paper to let the public at large know that it is in existence, through the medium of the BULLETIN. There is a semblance of truth in this assertion, when one sees in a letter, a little over two columns in length, the name of that paper appearing thirteen times.

No, Clara, the bicycle cannot be classed as a boat simply because iron ores are so important a part of its construction. Get thee to a cyclery.

I have been watching the papers each week for the record of some idiot who has coasted down a toboggan slide on a bicycle and escaped with his neck unbroken, but it seems our cycling ones are so busy at some other foolishness that they have not yet thought of this, the latest way to tempt Providence.

The records of the New York Bicycle Club show that they yet maintain their reputation for being a club of riders. F. M. Daniels, the winner of the prize for the year's record, covered 2,063 miles in 112 riding days, and the Club awarded him as a prize a Butcher hub cyclometer. J. O. Jimenis now wears a magnificent moonstone scarf-pin, in consequence of his covering 113 miles in a day. In all these divisions of spoils the great and glorious West has not been forgotten, since Mr. W. A. Whiting, known wherever he goes as a prince of good fellows, captured the "booby" prize, one of Papa Weston's log books, as a somewhat ironical memento of having ridden but 131 miles in the year. It will be highly gratifying to our Western brethren to see this ex-Cincinnatian, thus at the end of eight years of riding, at last capture a prize, even if it is only a "booby" one. These records, with the exception of Mr. Whiting's, will provoke a smile, perhaps, among those resident amid more favorable riding districts, but to such my advice is, don't laugh until you have been here and attempted these feats under the existing difficulties, and then, perhaps, neither your smiles nor your miles will be so plentiful. THE OWL.

NOTES FROM BROOKLYN.

So we are to lose our worthy Secretary-Editor. Much as we may regret this, it is a fact. He has accepted a position in the Philadelphia office of the New York Life Insurance Company, and his resignation is now in the hands of the Executive Committee of the League, and will be acted upon at the coming meeting of the Board of Officers, at the Grand Union Hotel, New York, on January 17th. He certainly has served us well, and leaves us with the sincere regrets of thousands, and perhaps the censure of a few; for "censure is the tax a man pays to the public for being eminent." The question now is, who shall succeed him? Boston has the Racing Board, New York has the largest part of all the committees, to say nothing of having had the Presidency for a number of years, and the West aspires to having the next President, and should have it if she wants it. If, therefore, Pennsylvania, with her second largest membership in the League, desires to retain the office of Secretary-Editor, is she not fairly entitled to it? She does so desire, and has nominated Chief Consul John A. Wells for the position. All who know Wells know him to be just the man for the place. An indefatigable worker, careful, conservative, and popular, well versed in the methods of conducting the League routine, and with considerable experience in journalism, what more could you desire? Let us hope that those to whom we have intrusted the important duty of selecting a successor to the outgoing incumbent will bury sectional feeling, and elect the man best fitted to fill the position, giving us no cause to lament

"Hereafter, when the evil shall be done,
And shall admit no cure."

Dr. A. C. Brush, the statistician of the Brooklyn Bicycle Club, has prepared a very elaborate table of statistics of that Club for the year 1886. The appended summary of the same will doubtless prove of interest to many readers, and will perhaps induce other clubs to adopt a similar system.

The membership on December 31st, 1886, was 65. The maximum duration of membership was seven years seven months, the minimum duration was one month, the total duration was 109 years, and the average duration was one year ten months. The small average duration was made by the number of new members lately received.

As to age, 65 reporting, the maximum was 34 years, the minimum 18 years, the total of all the ages 1,469 years, and the average 22½ years.

In height the maximum was six feet three inches, the minimum was five feet four inches, the total height of all members 365 feet four inches, and the average five feet eight inches, 65 reporting.

In weight, 65 reporting, the maximum was 195 pounds, the minimum 122 pounds, the total weight 9,244 pounds, and the average 142 pounds.

The mileage for 1886, with but 48 reporting, was, maximum 8,086 miles, the minimum 100 miles, the total mileage was 55,793 miles, and the average 1,162 miles.

Number of wheels reported, 54, classified as follows: Expert, 24; Victor, 12; American Club, 5; Rudge Light Roadster, 3; Columbia Light Roadster, 2; British Challenge, 1; Yale, 1; Apollo, 1; Pilot, 1; Spalding, 1; and unknown makes 3. The largest wheel was 60 inches and the smallest 48 inches, the average being 53 inches.

The total mileage, as reported by but 48 riders, viz.: 55,795 miles, shows that the boys are frequently on the road, and have well earned their title of being a hard-riding club. Among the individual scores may be mentioned those of the President, A. B. Barkman, who heads the list with 8,086 miles to his credit, F. B. Hawkins comes next with 4,751, then Elmer Skinner with 4,000, and Eugene Williams and Dr. Brush with 3,000 each, followed by L. W. Slocum with 2,556, and M. R. Winchell and J. R. Nafis with 2,000 each. In addition to these, ten other members rode 1,000 miles or over. The boys are to have an entertainment about the middle of the present month, at which will occur the presentation of the medals won during the past season. Due notice will be given, and all are invited to be present.

The King's County wheelmen, while perhaps deficient in the matter of statistics, are alive to the times, as a visit to their headquarters will show. The first thing that greets you are those bewitching eyes of "His Owlship," perched upon the handsome clock presented to the Club by Congressman Hodges. While unable to say whether or not this is the great and only "His Owlship," his twin brother, or a lineal descendant of "the only," I know "owlships" must be the craze, or else the BULLETIN would not have secured one.

What are they doing? Well! They propose holding a pool tournament at the Club-rooms on the 18th inst., open to Club members only, but at which all cyclers interested are invited to be present. Handsome cues will be presented to the winning and second men, and it is said Bawden will do the talking. Their Glee Club is now to be a permanent affair and under the leadership of Shanks. The boys have proved that they can warble as well as ride, and a generous mixture of the two during the coming riding season will be a pleasant feature. Their Annex Committee is hard at work, and it is now rumored that they will move their headquarters to the vicinity of Bedford Avenue and Fulton Street, and maintain an annex at their present location; indeed, all sorts of rumors are flying about regarding the future policy of the K. C. W., and startling developments may be looked for at any moment. I have it from authority that something definitely will be settled upon during the present month. Their apostle of light wheels, our worthy Secretary-Treasurer, E. K. Austin, has purchased a Star, and the fever grows apace among the K. C. W's. It's a light one (for a Star) but it don't touch 35 pounds, Austen—45 pounds is the figure now—again we forgive you, Austen, but then—

The K. C. W. have received a challenge for a match at bowling from the Long Island Wheelmen, and have accepted the same. A date for the match will be set in the near future and a lively time may be expected.

What a chance for missionary work! Here on Long Island, which is the Second Election District of our State Division, we have but a membership of 390 odd, while there are certainly more than three times that number of eligible cyclers in the District. Every member should wake up. Don't fail to renew and be sure to secure at least one new member—every one of you. In renewing be sure to see that you renew from your resident address, and see also that all new names sent in have their addresses on Long Island, or else New York or some other locality will get the benefit of their votes. Recollect: as a Division we are to-day the largest and foremost of all, and this prominent position we wish to maintain. We have a thorough organization, an elaborate system of Consuls and hotels, and are now publishing a Road-Book that will surpass any yet issued, and which will be given free to every member of our Division. In addition to this you receive the BULLETIN, the best of all the cycling papers, free, and find fraternal feeling, good fellowship, and welcome wherever you go. Surely, there are therefore some benefits, and appreciable ones, too, in League membership; so put your shoulder to the wheel and help us double our membership. Don't stop until our Division has 2,500 and the League 20,000 members. Then you may take a rest prior to striking out for 50,000.

The Long Island Wheelmen have not as yet succeeded in securing a suitable Club-house for their new requirements. They have doubtless found out, as others have before them, that to secure a building well adapted for the purpose required, in a good neighborhood at a moderate figure, is no easy task in this city of exorbitant house rents and poor pavements.

We hear nothing from the Park Commissioners about that application of the wheelmen of this city, requesting increased privileges in the Park, which was made some time ago, and which was received so favorably by the said Commissioners. Is it not about time that somebody shook them up a little?

The past week has been very favorable for tobogganing. The slides are in splendid condition and are crowded nightly. Wheelmen are taking largely to the sport; at least Spalding thinks so, as he says he sold four hundred toboggans lately through the medium of one advertisement in the BULLETIN. This speaks well for the wheelmen, likewise for the BULLETIN.

It is presumed that at the coming Board meeting some action will be taken to improve the League uniform, which, as made during the past season, has given but poor satisfaction.

It is rumored that Spalding intends bidding for the contract, and will guarantee to furnish the finest quality of all-wool cloth, thoroughly dyed and finished, made up by the very best workmen into a first-class tailor-made suit—fit, style, and workmanship guaranteed—at a price not more, and probably less, than we are now paying for very inferior goods. He also proposes bidding for the caps, shirts, stockings, and fixings generally. Spalding always does just what he says he will, and those who have traded with him know things are always just as represented, and as Mr. White, of his bicycle department, is one of the best and most genial of good fellows, being popular with everybody, it would seem that the placing of the League contract in such good hands would meet with universal approval East and West, as all know they will be fairly and courteously treated and receive honest value for their money. BON.

WESTERN WARBLINGS.

The "Oracle" of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch seems to be catching it from all sides now. I never liked that man Hicks. He seems to have no regard whatever for the feelings of others. I was once walking along the streets of St. Louis with him, and in the course of our conversation gave a chaste and truthful account of how Tom Hardwick, the "Kansas Cowboy" professional bicyclist, once saved himself from a severe fall when his wheel broke through a crude board track on which he was riding by throwing himself back and putting on a spurt, thus running the wheel under himself again. Immediately afterward he showed the most brutal disregard for my love of truth by relating as true an altogether impossible story of a St. Louis bicyclist, who, while riding across a bridge, the sides of which were not guarded by railings, one very dark night, ran off the side and fell into the dry bed of the creek several feet below. The bicycle retained its upright position. Its rider remained in the saddle and regained the road without a dismount. Since that time I have always regarded newspaper articles or narratives emanating from Hicks with suspicion.

I met the Kansas City member of the Missouri Division Touring Committee the other day and asked him whether the Division Road-Book would be issued in the spring. He said: "I think it very unlikely, especially if the other members of the Committee have had no more success in gaining road information than I. I have sent out numerous requests for descriptions of different roads, always accompanied by blanks which are easily understood and filled out, yet only one wheelman in my district, which comprises 33 counties, has filled out and returned the blanks. If the book is to be issued the Committee must have the co-operation of wheelmen throughout the State. It is impossible for them to gain the information from their personal observation, and unless the wheelmen will assist them it will not be obtained at all. It would seem that the reason members of the Division do not manifest more interest in the work is because they do not believe the book will be of any value to them." If they never ride beyond the corporate limits of the town in which they live, perhaps they are right, but even in this case they should furnish what information they possess on account of the good it will do others.

I accepted an invitation to a progressive euchre party given by the "Outing Cyclists" a short time since, and spent a very pleasant evening at the Club-rooms. This Club seems determined to prevent the interest of its members from flagging during the winter months, and has given two progressive euchre parties this season, at each of which the cozy Club-rooms were comfortably filled with guests. At these parties only gentlemen were invited. I hear, however, that one will be given some time during the present month at which both ladies and gentlemen will be invited. Monday evenings are devoted to scientific whist, and are greatly enjoyed by the players. The annual banquet of the Club will probably occur during the second week of this year. The Club-rooms are centrally located, expensively and comfortably furnished, and are heated by steam. The reading-room is provided with all the standard magazines and weeklies of the country and with nearly all the cycling papers. Three or four members may be found "at home" almost any evening, and visitors are made to feel that they arrived at just the right time to be most welcome. The Club is an honor to the city and to cycling. Long may it wave!

SCRIBBLER.

OUR ST. LOUIS LETTER.

Something has happened. The "all-important changes" in the Ramblers' Club have already come, and the Club is now practically a thing of the past. The detailed story of last Tuesday's meeting is so interesting that it shall not go untold, though I feel I cannot do justice to it. It was a regular meeting, and by a tacit understanding that something was about to occur, all the old standbys made it a point to be there. Before order was called it was learned that the applications of four good members were being acted upon that very night at the Missouri Club, just a square away. This was hardly a surprise, but there was a heavy feeling of expectancy in the air, and the clouds of tobacco smoke which the nervous ones puffed away absolutely refused to rise, the air was so depressing.

Chief Consul Rogers took the chair and called the meeting to order, and as Secretary Bob Holm read the minutes, somehow his basso voice had the mournful sound of a deep-toned bell at a funeral. As he finished, the Oracle came in, looking solemn, too, and walked silently to the rear. The routine work over, Chairman Rogers said the meeting would proceed to elect its League Meet Committee. Here the Oracle arose to a point of information, and looking at the Chairman between two thick layers of smoke, plied him with a few questions which served to correct a muddle made in the P.-D. Everybody smiled.

The Committee was elected and a calm ensued. All apprehended the coming storm, but each waited for the other to furnish the first clap of thunder.

Finally, Edward Stettinius opened the ball, and his lead was followed by others, who clearly defined the position in which the Club stood realative to the League meet and its own immediate advancement. While it had practically gone into the new year clear of debt, it was evident that there were three conflicting elements in the Club, one favorable to a club-house venture, the second content with the present quarters, and the third satisfied with neither. There was the rub, and something had to be done at once, so after several wild proposals had been made as leaders they were capped by a flat motion to disband.

A heavy silence fell upon the assembly for just one minute, and the layers of smoke descended fully a foot, when a noise was heard in the rear. It was the Oracle, who had overturned his chair and was making for the centre of the room. He posted himself under the dim light of the chandelier, ran his fingers through his hair until it was sufficiently disheveled, and swung his arms around a few times, apparently to dispel the murky gloom; but the smoke clouds only writhed in obvious agony a little while, and then stubbornly settled back just where they were before. "Mr. Chairman," he said, pointing a long finger of suspicion at Mr. Rogers, until that gentleman cowered under the table—"Mr. Chairman, I want to ask if there is a possibility—can such a thing be thought of?—that under this motion to disband there is concealed a game of freeze-out?

Pandemonium would not describe the situation at this moment. The tone of gurgling contempt actually jarred. The stove rattled and the smoke fled in affright to the upper regions, while every man seemed to lose his head. Amendment followed motion, and the table took them both. There was a wild shuffling of feet and a mass of bobbing heads, with the Oracle appearing and disappearing like some spirit or expert in theosophy, until all was intermingled and jumbled into a state of utter confusion.

Ah! what's this? Ally Stewart rises and says: "Gentlemen, I have a little scheme. Let us not disband yet, but die gracefully by all making application to the Missouri Club."

"Oh!" shrieked the Oracle, "is there no alternative? I can never get in"—piteously. "Can we not join some other club, with whom there is no strife? Is it not plain to you," pointing again at the Chairman, who quaked visibly, "that some of us who may have gained some prominence are disliked, and will be sure to be blackballed?"

"Yes," moaned the Chairman—and their eyes met in a lingering look of sympathy—"I know I would get every black ball in the ballot-box."

"Then let us die—yes, die like dogs!" The words came with a gulp, as the Oracle sank into a chair the very picture of despair, while a myriad of little black spheres seemed to dance before his eyes in mocking glee.

"There is no alternative," said Ally Stewart, "except to go in as a body or not at all, and I promise that we can—make it a consolidation."

"Consolidation!" exclaimed Ladish, who up to this point had maintained an amused silence; "it would be no consolidation at all—merely a 'swallow.' Let us rather disband."

"That's me!" shouted Lin Gordon, and his quivering lip showed that he meant it. "If we can't consolidate in fact, don't let's go down on our hands and knees, but break up and each man walk in on his own legs."

Ladish then put a motion proposing to consolidate the club names and lost, whereupon he and Gordon resigned. The resignations were laid on the table to cool, and Stewart's scheme finally carried, the motion to disband having been withdrawn until the result is known.

So ends the life of what was the brightest and first League Club in the West. Verily, the pretty name "Rambler" seems to bear an evil omen. Wheeling will not suffer, though. The Club started a cycling boom in St. Louis by means of a big race meet, and the second time bit off more than it could chew. It swallowed the lump, but the tired working members did not recover from the task, so they drop the helm and go their different ways. Some will join the Eurotas, but the majority will go over to the Missouris. Others, who want to walk into the Missouri Club on other men's legs, and who are odious to that Club for one reason or another, are likely to remain out in the cold, as the proposal, which has been submitted to the Missouri Club, despite the strong attempt made to head it off, is almost sure to be rejected.

I was glad to see Treasurer Miller skirmishing around for League renewals even on the last night, just as though nothing were going to happen. After the meeting, Sanders and Davis, men of muscle, put on the gloves and pounded one another as if it were their last chance on earth for a thumping match, and —would you believe it—half a dozen members captured the piano and yelled with great gusto, "I'm a Rambler from Way Back."

The delegation of wheelmen from neighboring States arrived in the city this morning. They were met at the Union Depot and escorted to the Lindell Hotel, which has lately been appointed as the League headquarters. The city clubs were represented by Brewster, Cooke, and Smith for the Missouri Club, Stewart, Ladish, and Stettinius for the Ramblers. The members of the Division Board present were J. S. Rogers, Chief Consul, J. S. Lewis, Secretary-Treasurer, and J. W. Neill, of Mine La Motte, and Geo. C. Oeters, Representatives. The visitors were Burley Ayers, Edwin Oliver, and C. R. Griffiths, Jr., Consul, all of Chicago; A. B. Irvin, Mr. Gleason, Indiana. Chief Consul Johnson, of Michigan, sent a telegram pledging the support of his Division. The gentlemen sat down to a specially ordered dinner at nearly 2 o'clock, and it proved so enticing a meal that they did not get down to business until 3.15. The meeting, which was strictly informal, closed at 5 o'clock with these results: Chief Consul Rogers was chosen as general manager of the League meet, and Burley Ayers as manager of all transportation matters. The city Club representatives will meet some night this week and select the chairmen of the various other committees, they to appoint their own assistants. The programme decided as best for the meet is as follows: Friday, May 20th, meeting of Board of Officers, 8.30 A. M.; general meeting, 11 A. M. At 4 P. M. a special steamer will take the wheelmen south on the Mississippi River to the renowned summer resort, Montesano Springs, where supper will be served. The steamer will then return to the city, and the cabin will be cleared for a ball, which will close on the arrival at St. Louis, about midnight. The supper and ball are estimated to cost $1,500.

On Saturday, May 21st, the order will be—10 A. M. parade, 3 P. M. championship races, 7 P. M. banquet, 12 P. M. American Wheelman special steamer for Clarksville, 100 miles up the picturesque Mississippi. The League meet proper ends on Saturday eve.

On Sunday an informal tour of Pike County will be made, and on Monday the American Wheelman will hold its annual road race, which I am assured will be a world's championship, as the N. C. U. has surrendered all control of road racing, and the sanction of the A. C. U. has practically been already obtained. The first prize for this race will be a $250 cup, donated for the purpose by the citizens of Pike County.

On Monday evening a banquet will be held on the steamer, and this will be followed by a ball, the boat arriving in St. Louis about 6 o'clock Tuesday morning. The total cost of the meet is estimated at fully $5,000. A glorious outlook for a glorious time, is it not?

This morning before dinner a sort of informal gathering was formed, with W. M. Brewster as chairman, and a few important issues were discussed in an off-hand but earnest manner. A motion to abolish the amateur rule, and thereby rid the wheeling fraternity of a discussion which was fast becoming a nuisance, was carried unanimously: as was another motion that Burley B. Ayers be the meeting's choice as the next President of the League of American Wheelmen. Phœnix.

January 9th, 1887.

Bicycle riders of Hannibal, Mo., met December 8th, at the Park Hotel for the purpose of forming an organization. The meeting was called to order and the ensuing year: A. C. Miller, President; J. C. Irwin, Vice-President; C. H. Appler, Secretary and Treasurer; J. B. Merkle, Captain; W. H. Hall, First Lieutenant; W. D. McRae, Bugler; J. B. Burkholder, Color Bearer. The Club will be known as the Marion County Wheelmen, and will enter the L. A. W. immediately.

WELCOME, STEVENS, WELCOME!

Open wide, ye 'Frisco cyclers, the Goldent City gate!
Onward speed, O ocean steamer! we're impatient of the wait.
Back! ye storms, ye winds and waters, that would hold him from us now.
Aid us! Aid us! King of Tempests, for we long to keep our vow
To give a royal welcome to the wheelman's cycling knight,
That has belted the round earth through its darkness and its light.

Starting out from shores Pacific, on to where Atlantic rolls,
Then across to Merrie England, that all cycling hearts enfold,
Through Europa's southern countries, to the Key to all the East,
Out across Arabian deserts, with barbarians to feast,
Riding steed of steel in Persia, to India's coral strand,
Passing China's mobs and robbers, to the shores of long Japan,

Comes the gallant Thomas Stevens, standing on the vessel's prow.
Receive him, O ye cyclers! listen, and I'll tell you how:
After feasting him in banquet, take him to the highest peak
Of the Rockies, and there mount him on toboggan rare and fleet,
Fasten it to his Columbia—send them flying 'cross the plain—
You will hear such cheering echoes as will ne'er be heard again—

From the wheelmen of St. Louis, from Chicago and New York,
And the Hub of all the world, with its far-famed beans and pork.
There's a Club, ycleped Massachusetts, in the old State on the Bay,
They have never doubted Thomas, and will toast him when they may,
From its Pope unto its steward, "He's all right!" you hear them shout,
And the latch-string of their Club-House for him ever will hang out.

D. W. Colbath.

152 Newbury Street, Boston, January 8th, 1887.

Official Announcements.

SECRETARY-EDITOR AARON RESIGNS.

New York, January 11th, 1887.

To Members L. A. W.:

The following letter has been received by me:

MR. AARON'S RESIGNATION.

Philadelphia, Pa., January 1st, 1887.

Dr. M. N. Beckwith, President L. A. W.:

My Dear Sir:—A very flattering business offer has been made me by the Pennsylvania-Ohio Department of the New York Life Insurance Company, the acceptance of which will necessitate my giving that corporation my whole time and undivided efforts. That being the case, I am compelled to give the first consideration to my duty to my family and myself, and do most respectfully, and on some accounts regretfully, hereby tender you my resignation as Secretary-Editor of the L. A. W., to take effect on the election of my successor at the regular Board meeting in New York, January 17th next.

With the sincerest wishes for the continued and ever-increasing prosperity of the organization, which, together, we have had the pleasure of serving for nearly three years—prosperity which I pledge myself to continue to labor for to my utmost—I remain, as ever, Sincerely yours,

Eugene M. Aaron.

—

MR. WELLS' APPOINTMENT.

New York, January 11th, 1887.

Gentlemen of the Board:

In accepting the above it becomes my duty to appoint a successor to Secretary Aaron to fill the vacancy arising pending the appropriate action of the League's Board of Officers.

It affords me pleasure to appoint to this responsible position Mr. John A. Wells, Chief Consul of the Pennsylvania Division, and I take this opportunity to congratulate the League on the fact that a gentleman of Mr. Wells' well-known abilities has been induced to accept the position.

Respectfully,
N. Malon Beckwith, Pres. L. A. W.

—

Philadelphia, January 10th, 1887.

To all League Members:

Gentlemen:—Causes which are explained in the above letter to our President lead me at this time to tender to him my resignation, to take effect at the earliest moment at which it can be accepted by your Board of Officers. As much as I regret the necessity for this step at this time, self-interest imperatively requires that I shall not longer allow the rapidly multiplying duties that fall to the lot of your Secretary-Editor to so hamper my actions that my future usefulness in even more important fields shall be jeopardized. It has been my study for some time past to so arrange my business engagements that I could remain in the office, to which I have become sincerely attached, owing to the fact that it has enabled me to number among my friends all of the great army which now composes the League of American Wheelmen, but the stern limitations of a day that contains but 24 hours, and of a constitution that contains only too little of vitality and reserve force, have at last proved too much for me, and I am compelled to choose against my sentimental dictates and in favor of more practical and realistic arguments.

No doubt the editorials published in these columns the past two weeks have by their tendency prepared many of you for this step on my part. To those of you to whom the notice seems surprisingly short I would only say that, while it has been under consideration and advisement for some months, the effort to otherwise arrange my time, above alluded to, prevented my taking the final step until the first of this month.

Our President has, with his usual promptness in our behalf, appointed as my successor, pending suitable action by our Board of Officers, Chief Consul John A. Wells, whose active endeavors in behalf of the Bulletin's success have been untiring for months past, and I do not doubt that the wisdom of his choice will meet with an emphatic indorsement by our Board. Mr. Wells' acceptance of the trust assures the League that a conservative and able administration will be the result of such a choice.

I shall take the liberty of bidding you a more formal and lengthy adieu in our editorial columns for next week, and at that time shall also undertake to point out to you wherein you may make the pathway of my successor even more pleasant, if that be possible, than the one which for the past three years I have had to tread in your behalf.

Fraternally yours,
Eugene M. Aaron, Secretary-Editor L. A. W.

RULES AND REGULATIONS COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

The following report of the Committee on Rules and Regulations addressed to our Board of Officers, though dated December 27th last, was not received at the office of the Secretary-Editor until the morning of the 11th inst., having been mailed from New York at 11 A. M., January 10th.

Article VIII of the League By-Laws provides as follows: "Additions or amendments to the By-Laws may be made after notice, by mail or otherwise, to every member of the Board of Officers at a meeting of the Board, or as provided in Article II, Section 5." As the Bulletin will not reach some members of the Board for five or six days after the meeting of the Board on the 17th, the present publication is inadequate; but it has been deemed best to put it in printed form for the information of those whom it may concern.

—

December 27th, 1886.

To the President and Board of Officers of the League of American Wheelmen:

Gentlemen:—The Committee on Rules and Regulations beg leave to herewith submit a report containing the changes in the rules that they will ask you to pass on at the spring meeting of the Board to be held at New York, January 17th, 1887. The Committee have no arguments to offer at this time in support of the report, but hope to show good cause for its adoption when it comes up for your consideration.

Very respectfully,
W. I. Harris, Chairman.
C. S. Butler,
Knight L. Clapp,
Committee on Rules and Regulations L. A. W.

Article I.

In the first line of the second paragraph of Section 1 strike out the word "remove" and insert in lieu thereof the word "suspend," and add after the words the "officer so charged" the following: "And said request, to which shall be attached the specific charges in writing, together with the evidence on which they are based, shall be referred to the Committee on Rights and Privileges, who shall furnish the accused officer with a copy of said charges, and allow him ten days in which to file his answer to the same. If after a full investigation the Committee report that the charges are sustained, the President shall at once remove from his office the official against whom the charges were made. Should the Committee report that the charges have not been sustained, the President shall at once restore the accused officer to good standing in the League, and the report of said Committee shall be printed in the Bulletin. It is provided further, that should the officer accused fail to file his answer with the Committee on Rights and Privileges within ten days of the receipt of a copy of the charges against him, the said charges shall be considered as sustained, and the Committee shall so report to the President of the League."

Strike out, after the words "then current" in line three of paragraph "e," Section 4, "and 50 per cent. of the receipts from life memberships," and insert in lieu thereof the following: "And 25 per cent. of the receipts from initiation fees."

Insert in paragraph "f," after the word "status" in last line, the following: "Together with a balance sheet showing the financial condition."

section 5.

Insert after the words "members thereof," in line six, Section 5, the following: "He shall hold as a reserve fund all receipts from life memberships, and shall make no payments from said fund except for such purposes as the Board of Officers shall from time to time direct."

Add to Section 6 the following: "He shall cause to be published in the 'Official Organ' of the League all appointments made by him, and shall promptly furnish the Secretary of the League reports of business meetings of his division."

Article II.

Strike out the word "general" in the fifth line of Section 1, and substitute the word "annual."

Add to Section 1, as follows: "Fifty members shall constitute a quorum. Each member present shall have one vote on any question, and no proxies shall be allowed; provided, however, that clubs whose entire active membership has joined the League, being required so to do by their rules, may choose by ballot one or more members of the League as delegates for the Club to represent them at the annual business meeting, and each delegate upon presentation of credentials, signed by the President and Secretary of the Club, may cast as many votes as provided for in his credentials in all proceedings of the meetings; but no delegate may cast more than 50 votes, and no such delegate shall cast a vote for a member present at the meeting if that member shall choose to cast his own vote."

Add to Section 4, after the words "for six members," in line 12, the following: "Provided, however, that no officer shall be proxy for another, and vote in his stead, unless he be designated by name, in the handwriting of the officer signing the proxy; and, further, no officer holding a proxy shall be empowered to transfer the same to any other officer under any circumstances."

Insert in Section 7, after the words "Constitution and By-Laws," in line six, as follows: "Provided, however, that any State division may elect its Secretary and Treasurer in such manner as its By-Laws may provide."

Article III.

Strike out Section 1 (a), and substitute the following: "(a) The following standing Committees shall be appointed by the President to serve one year, or until their successors be properly appointed: A Committee on Membership; on Rules and Regulations; on Rights and Privileges; on Racing, to be called the Racing Board; on Touring, to be called the Touring Board; and on Transportation."

Strike out paragraph "b" Section 1, and substitute the following:

"(b) The Committees on Membership, on Rules and Regulations, and on Rights and Privileges shall each consist of three members of the Board of Officers; the remaining Standing Committees may be appointed from the membership at large. The Racing Board and Transportation Committee may each consist of six members, and the Touring Board shall consist of two associate chairmen of sub-committees, to be known respectively as the Tourmaster and the Bookmaster. No member shall be on more than two committees, and two shall constitute a quorum in each, and they shall report to the Board or to the President thereof within one month after reference of any matter to them by the President, or by the Board, or by the Rules."

Strike out the words "one member" in Section 2, and substitute the words "three members."

Add to Section 5 the following: "And to said Committee shall also be referred all charges of malfeasance against League officials."

Add to first sentence of paragraph "b," Section 6, after the words "of that Board," the following: "Pending investigation, the party against whom charges are brought may be suspended from the track."

Strike out in line 18, paragraph b, Section 6, the words "Within thirty days," and insert the same words after the word "reply" in line 17.

Strike out the words "this department" in the first line of Section 7, paragraph a, and insert in lieu thereof the words "the Touring Board."

Strike out paragraph c, Section 7, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"(c). The Bookmaster is empowered in the name of the L. A. W. to obtain duplicate copies of road report, maps, hand or road books, transportation rates, periodical touring articles, lists of hotels, Consuls, and (in non-officered localities) of representative riders, together with any other information of records of use or interest to cycling tourists."

Article IV.

Add to Section 2 the following: "If, in making the canvass of said votes, the Committee shall find that any member has voted for more Representatives than his State is entitled to, as of March 1st, the Committee shall erase from said ballot all names over and above the number the member is entitled to vote for, counting in regular order beginning with the first name on the ballot, and the ballot shall then be counted."

Article V.

Strike out the word "four" in line two of paragraph a, Section 5, and insert therefor the word "twenty." Strike out in line three of the same paragraph the words "any member," and insert therefor the words "five members."

Add Section 9: "Any cycle club within the jurisdiction of the United States, that shall insert in its By-Laws a provision rendering it obligatory upon every active member to join the League of American Wheelmen shall become a League club and entitled to all the privileges accorded League clubs under these By-Laws; provided, however, that each and every active member of said club shall have conformed with the provision requiring them to join the League. The number of votes that any League club shall be entited to cast through their delegates, shall be one vote for every member of said club upon the rolls of the League in good standing."

Article VIII.

In Section 1 strike out all after the word "made" in line two, and insert in lieu thereof, "either at a meeting of the Board of Officers, or as provided in Article II, Section 5, but no amendment shall be made unless 10 days' notice thereof shall have been given through the columns of the Official Organ."

NEW YORK STATE DIVISION.

SECRETARY-TREASURER'S FIFTH QUARTERLY REPORT.

BROOKLYN, January 8th, 1887.

MEMBERS N. Y. STATE DIVISION, L. A. W.:

DEAR SIRS:—I have the pleasure of submitting you my fifth quarterly report as follows:

1886.	CASH.	DR.
Oct. 20th.	To Balance per BULLETIN Oct. 29th, 1886,	$1,214 85
	Total receipts,	$1,214 85

1886.	CASH.	CR.
Oct. 30th.	By Stationery and printing, 1,000 letter-heads and 1,000 envelopes, for E. K. Austin, Secretary-Treasurer,	$ 6 75
Nov. 8th,	" Stationery and printing, 1,500 copies Constitution and By-Laws,	5 75
" "	" Stationery and printing, 300 postal cards,	4 00
" 9th	" Road-Book account, Chairman Barkman's postage for August and September,	5 63
Dec. 21st.	" Expense, Chief Consul Bidwell's bill for postage, Aug. 16th to Nov. 6th,	9 45
" "	" Stationery and printing, paid Chief Consul Bidwell, per his bill of Nov. 6th,	7 72
" 31st	" Expense, paid Chief Consul Bidwell's bill for stenographer's services from June 12th to Sept. 14th, amount to be refunded the Division if not approved by the Board,	48 00
1887.
Jan. 4th.	" Expense, Chief Consul Bidwell's bill of postage to Jan. 1st, 1887, in full,	6 30
" 8th	" Road-Book account, Chairman Barkman's bill of expense, postage, etc., for Oct., Nov., and Dec., 1886,	9 44
" "	" Road-Book account, envelopes and letter-heads, printed for Committee, per bill,	4 50
" "	" Expense, postage, etc, Secretary-Treasurer, to date,	2 70
	Total expenditures,	$110 24
Jan. 8th.	By Balance in Market National Bank of New York to credit New York State Division, L. A. W., E. K. Austin, Secretary-Treasurer,	$1,104 61
		$1,214 85

At this time, the close of the fiscal year, I desire to refer you to my several reports in completion of same in BULLETIN issues of January 8th, April 16th, July 16th, and October 29th, 1886.

You will note our increase of balance in treasury from $515.47 on January 2d, 1886, to our present balance as above, which assures the successful completion of the practical work of our Division now under way. You will further note from the above-mentioned reports that our receipts from membership dues for the year 1886 have been as follows:

Renewals, 827 at 50 cents,				$413 50
Applications, 1st quarter, 316 at 50 cents,				158 00
"	2d "	343 " 37½	"	128 61
"	3d "	197 " 25	"	49 25
"	4th "	65 " 12½	"	8 13
Total,				$757 49

The fourth quarter I have not, however, received settlement for from Mr. E. M. Aaron, Secretary-Editor.

Your attention is here called to the fact that for the same period, based on the present initiation fee of one dollar, the League would have received from our Division membership as above, as follows:

Renewals, 827 at 50 cents,				$413 50
Applications, 1st quarter, 316 at $1 50				474 00
"	2d "	343 " 1 37½		471 61
"	3d "	197 " 1 25		246 25
"	4th "	65 " 1 12½		73 13
Total,				$1,678 49

This (see Mr. H. S. Wood's able article in BULLETIN of May 21st, page 447) is surely an injustice. The percentage of dues that under the present Constitution and By-Laws goes to the League is too large, and if nothing more, is very unjust to its divisions, and the percentage of dues that goes to the divisions is altogether too small to carry on and complete the work that is laid out for them to do. In my opinion Mr. Wood's solution, arrived at last May, is the correct one, and divisions should at least receive 50 cents for each renewal, as now, and 75 cents for each new member without respect to his time of joining.

It is my sincere hope that, for the welfare of our Division, and all others, that Representatives will give this matter early and careful attention, and, I doubt not, the adoption of the above or some other equitable apportionment of dues will be the result.

Of our membership for the year 1886, I am pleased to place before you the following facts: Numerically, we lead all other Divisions, having a total membership of 1,748, represented in districts (see Constitution and By-Laws, page 538 of BULLETIN) as follows:

DISTRICT.	MEMBERSHIP.	HAS REPRESENTATIVES.	ADDITIONAL ENTITLED TO.
First,	518	8	1
Second,	341	9	0
Third,	229	3	1
Fourth,	148	3	0
Fifth,	192	2	1
Sixth,	320	5	1
Totals,	1,748	30	4

The above shows the various districts of our Division to be about equitably represented, inasmuch as the First District would certainly, if members were correctly addressed, be loser to the Second District at least 50 members, and as the nine Representatives of the Second District includes your Secretary-Treasurer, who can hardly be applied to any one district, and also the Chairman of your Road-Book Committee.

Here I would again call members' attention to the necessity of renewing from and being addressed at their resident address where it affects their district's representation. Be sure to be addressed in the district in which you desire to be represented. It is interesting to note that of our 1886 membership of 1,748—1,055 are owned by the five cities of: New York, with 429 members; Brooklyn, with 294 members; Buffalo, with 183 members; Troy, with 83 members, and Albany with 66 members, and that there are in our State some 150 cities, towns, and places claiming one or more memberships with us, this as against some 115 cities, towns, and places in 1885.

Trusting that all of the foregoing may meet your approval, I remain,

Respectfully yours,

E. K. AUSTIN, Secretary-Treasurer.

Correspondence.

The Editor wishes it distinctly understood that he is not responsible for the statements and opinions expressed in these columns.

WINTER WHEELING.

FERNANDINA, FLA., December 30th, 1886.

EDITOR L. A. W. BULLETIN:

Permit me to call the attention of League members to a matter which I've intended for some time to bring to their notice, and which would perhaps have brought a more satisfactory result if published earlier.

As most of the L. A. W. members probably know, Florida is a very popular winter resort, and from October to May our State is largely populated by visitors from the colder States; but in my four years' sojourn here I have yet to see the first bicycle or tricycle brought to Florida by a tourist: and the reason is obvious to all who have visited the State, that there is apparently no part of Florida that is enjoyably rideable. This conclusion is arrived at from the fact that the greater part of the State has a sandy soil, and the roads generally are distinctly unrideable.

Still we have here in Fernandina a bicycle club, with a membership of eight riders, six of whom are L. A. W. members, and in town there are several wheels whose owners have not yet joined our Club.

Having made the statement that Florida roads generally are distinctly unrideable, the fact of our having about a dozen bicycles in town will, no doubt, seem quite a paradox; the more so when I add that, until last spring, a genuine modern bicycle had never been seen here.

The mystery is disclosed by the following explanation:

Fernandina is famous for its magnificent beach, and the beach is about two miles from the town. The connecting link between the town and beach is a straight shell road, always in good condition for riding. Now, besides being magnificent, our beach affords a gloriously fine wheeling bottom, and many a delightful ride have our boys had upon it.

A wheelman from Ohio happened here about two weeks ago, and, upon seeing our bicycles, exclaimed: "Hello! Bikes, hey! Why, where do you ride here?" Upon being informed that our best riding was on the beach, he seemed astonished, and said: "Isn't it too soft to ride without great exertion?" I answered by inviting him to take a run out with me and try it. Having procured a mount for him, we started, and soon reached the beach, where we enjoyed a most delightful ride, which frequently caused my companion to utter enthusiastic compliments to our beach, and upon our return to town he stated that, although he had ridden over most of the State of Ohio, and largely in other States, his ride on Amelia Beach was, by long odds, the best he had ever taken.

Now to the beach! Amelia Beach, situated on Amelia Island, Florida, two miles distant from the city of Fernandina, is 20 miles in length without a break, and at low water is about 500 feet in width. The surface is as level and hard as the best manufactured paving, and as free from obstacles as a ball-room floor.

We ride the year round, even in the hottest summer days, for the beach is always cooled by a gentle breeze.

This letter is particularly addressed to wheelmen who contemplate coming to Florida, and to those who may be induced to come and enjoy a perfect wheeling bottom; and to such I say, when you do come, don't forget to bring your wheels.

We have here one of the best hotels in the State, and several others that are good.

Plenty of storage room can be had for wheels if their owners desire to go farther into the State and leave the machines until their return.

The Mallory line of steamers perform a weekly service between Fernandina and New York, and railroads connect with everywhere.

I shall be pleased to answer all inquiries.

Fraternally yours,

G. R. HUBBY (No. 11,115),
Capt. Fernandina, Fla., Bicycle Club.

INFORMATION WANTED.

NO. 9 BLEECKER STREET, NEWARK, N. J.,
January 6th, 1887.

EDITOR L. A. W. BULLETIN:

Will you kindly permit me, one of the very oldest English wheelmen, to ask any of your numerous corresponding wheelmen if they have any idea as to the whereabouts of a man (lately from Birmingham, England) named David Jones. He is a bicycle-smith of the first order, and hailing from the immediate neighborhood, I have a great desire to shake hands on this side of the pond with him.

Thanking you very kindly in advance in anticipation of your insertion of this, I am

Yours, very respectfully,

THOMAS PALMER.

[Mr. Palmer is the father of the once famous J. H. Palmer, 17 years ago a champion bicycle rider; also of the three years' amateur bicycle rider, C. A. Palmer, whose career lasted '81, '82, and '83.—ED.]

CLUB PRECEDENCE.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 28th, 1886.

EDITOR L. A. W. BULLETIN:

Will you kindly answer the inclosed queries through the columns of the BULLETIN?

A. If in a "L. A. W. division" there are several clubs, one of which is a League club, but in one of the clubs not in the League there is a Captain who is older, in a military sense, i. e., he has held office longer, should the League club or the one with the oldest Captain take the right of line?

B. Now, if either of the above has right of line, how should the other clubs be arranged, those in the League and those not?

These queries came up in a discussion among several riders here, and as no one seemed sure of the answer, I determined to write to a higher tribunal.

Truly yours,

HARRISON HOUSEWORTH.

[If Mr. Houseworth refers to precedence in League or division parades, the answer is set forth in the L. A. W. By-Laws, wherein it is provided that "clubs shall have precedence in accordance with their seniority in joining the League." We know of no rule or precedent governing any other case.—ED.]

The members of the Murfreesboro (Tenn.) Bicycle Club have recently "wheeled" into line and have had nice apartments fitted up in the Free Press Building, which they will use hereafter as their Club-room. The space is very limited, only an office or reading-room and a wheel-room, with all the tools for repairing small breaks that occur occasionally. They are supplied with all the wheeling periodicals of the day, and prominent among them is the BULLETIN.

Club officers were elected on the evening of the 3d, with the following to act for the next six months: R. L. Jetton, President; H. L. Fox, Vice-President; Chip Henderson, Secretary-Treasurer; J. W. Sparks, Jr., Corresponding Secretary; J. B. Smith, Captain.

They speak of giving an entertainment in the near future and appointed a Committee on Arrangements, etc., composed of C. F. Cox, H. B. Sparks, and O. S. Miller. The young lady friends promise their assistance.

The uniform is blue, with white shoes for summer. The colors of the Club will be black and gold.

The most prominent feature is that the rooms are to be used exclusively by the members and visiting cyclers, who are always welcome, no one else being allowed unless specially invited by the Invitation Committee.

The Williamsport (Penna.) Wheel Club, 61 L. A. W. members strong, have built a toboggan slide, and thus far it has proven very successful. They opened it on Monday, December 27th, and it has been with difficulty that they have accommodated the people. It is of the regulation size—40 feet high, 18 feet wide, and 176 feet long in the chute. Three chutes, steps, and drawway. The entire distance or length of runway about 1,000 feet. The chutes and runways are paved with ice six inches thick. Besides many private ones, 50 toboggans are also kept for rent. They have already about paid all expenses on it. They are a pushing Club.

RENEWALS.

No. 5.—Total, 661.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., January 10th, 1887.

ALABAMA—1.

3632 Aylett, L. D.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION—27.

12847 Austin, B. C., Jr.
7940 Churchill, J. P.
2500 Davenport, E. L.
7611 Davis, W. G.
7610 Davis, C. L.
9695 Dimond, E. R.
9696 Eggers, H. C.
9697 Feintuck, M.
8424 Fonda, C. P.
13051 Givovich, N. A., D.D.S.
9518 Gibbs, H. T.
8425 Gibson, J. W.
8426 Giffin, O. F., Jr.
8427 Greene, H. A.
11875 Hoover, W. S.
7616 Houseworth, H.
8428 Hobe, G. J.
9519 Larzelere, L. R.
10176 Letcher, B.
9517 Mauran, J. R.
8430 McCarthy, J. F.
8431 McDonald, C. A.
8432 McLaughlin, F. A.
8434 Osborn, F. F.
556 Strong, G. H.
8435 Waterhouse, C.
11994 Wheaton, C. B.

COLORADO DIVISION—3.

12457 Barnes, M. O.
9336 Bennett, H. I.
12874 Howard, E. L.

CONNECTICUT DIVISION—40.

1445 Allen, W. H.
4716 Barnes, F. H.
10552 Bassett, J. C.
12421 Benjamin, F. C.
6782 Birdsey, H.
3946 Boardman, W. R.
1477 Burroughs, F. C.
7241 Cole, C. M.
59 Curtis, L. B.
7748 Frederickson, G.
8302 Frederickson, P.
6975 Fryer, G. R.
6222 Havens, E. H.
10741 Hall, D. C.
4101 Healey, W. F.
8193 Hibbard, W. E.
10742 Isbell, F. S.
5211 Johnson, G. H.
7772 Latham, C.
7774 Lauridsen, G. M.
9839 Lambert, F. J.
2777 Middlebrook, W. B.
6458 Morgan, E. J.
6983 Moore, C. E.
12283 Moore, C. H.
5935 Post, A. B.
1479 Post, F. W.
7744 Ray, A. B.
6710 Richardson, W. M.
11490 Rogers, W. H.
8106 Stanton, A. N.
11500 Staples W. G.
11261 States, W. H.
1493 Sumner, E. S.
12103 Urlan, O. C. G.
9840 Watson, J. H.
1480 Wheeler, R. E.
5888 Wilkinson, J.
6115 Wilmot, F. A.
12445 Webster, G. W., Jr.

DAKOTA—1.

9682 Krantz, R. N.

DELAWARE DIVISION—4.

11640 Palmer, J. E.
9819 Smith, C. H., Jr.
9821 Todd, C. W.
9822 Wiley, H. J.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA DIVISION—4.

8658 Collamer, N. L.
8661 Johnson, T. J.
531 King, A. T.
3699 Pettengill, E. T.

ENGLAND—1.

14 Pennell, J.

FLORIDA—2.

11115 Hubby, G. R.
8686 Rose, J. S.

GEORGIA—1.

12461 Burroughs, H. W.

ILLINOIS DIVISION—15.

8304 Bliss, C. L.
12280 Brown, K.
156 Clark, H., Jr.
8844 Dickenson, J. S.
9189 Hamilton, R. E.
6890 Houghton, I. H.
660 Kusel, I. J.
670 Olmstead, W. W.
4285 Smith, W. H.
9035 Sperry, E. H.
9847 Sperry, W. L.
11654 Stevens, A. J.
8197 Whitford, F.
2725 Zaph, A. E.
11792 Ziegler, S.

INDIANA DIVISION—16.

8466 Ballenger, W. E.
10569 Devore, C. E.
222 Devore, W. E.
6093 Devore, G.
2803 Dunn, W. E.
12508 Foster, V.
535 Gleason, J. A.
9037 Goodwin, M.
12442 Kirk, C. B.
3709 Lewis, F. A.
11845 Manson, J. M.
12489 Moore, A. F.
12653 Rettig, F. J.
6794 Shirts, E.
12493 Warren, W.
2775 Winterrowd, E. O.

IOWA DIVISION—13.

11132 Bader, H. D.
12126 Bales, W.
10196 Clark, F. B.
10197 Cummings, F. S.
9044 Elliott, W. E.
9104 Koetter, J. R.
9862 Krantz, L. G.
11835 McEllhiney, B. S.
3710 Schooley, F.
10198 Spielman, F. A.
11134 Templeton, J. E.
11133 Weston, E.
10572 West, C. F.

KENTUCKY DIVISION—3.

5875 Longely, H. W.
12757 Speth, F.
12756 Speth, H. C.

KANSAS DIVISION—6.

11733 Alford, E. M.
3321 Candy, C. C.
817 Norton, M. J.
6779 Schott, W. C.
11734 Trussell, E. A.
11736 Wulfehuhler, O.

LOUISIANA DIVISION—1.

4801 Randall, R. P.

MAINE DIVISION—2.

11746 Thayer, W. M.
12608 Torrey, A. L.

MARYLAND DIVISION—23.

7790 Baumgartner, N. H.
8669 Breckenridge, W. C.
11333 Clotworthy, F. M.
11140 Emmert, E. B.
10013 Geigan, J. E.
11272 Gibbons, W. H., Jr
11334 Hall, W. P.
11791 Head, F. S.
10771 Head, A.
10772 Irvin, H. B.
11524 Lechleider, F. A.
10779 Macgill, M. P.
7787 Peed, J. W., Jr.
12673 Rogers, W. F., Jr.
10773 Schlosser, Dr. V. F.
7712 Snyder, C. M.
10774 Stouffer, H. McC.
10775 Stover, G. E.
9196 Sykes, C.
9368 Sykes, Dr. M. G.
10776 Updegraff, W. M.
4911 Updegraff, G. F.
11525 Wilson, W. R.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION—75.

9583 Arms, F. L.
2540 Ball, A. H.
9056 Barker, C. L.
10808 Barter, E. H.
1163 Bassett, C. F.
232 Benson, W. H.
8476 Brainard, E.
7271 Isham, L. F.
12113 Ivory, J. C.
9731 Jenkins, E. L.
9209 Kendall, M. K.
9224 Kirkwood, W.
1452 Larkin, J. H.
9210 Ladd, C. B.
12925 Brett, G. E.
7661 Burns, R. O.
1238 Burbank, J. P.
7223 Bullock, C.
8216 Campbell, H. S.
8113 Cooke, V. M.
12614 Cutler, O. M.
4516 Dellingham, W. C.
9591 Dewey, F. E.
3385 Dow, C. F.
9206 Edmester, F. C.
9581 Evans, E. A.
10042 Foque, A. N.
9867 Furie, N. J.
8530 Gage, F. V.
10043 Gardner, W.
9592 Gavin, J.
3415 Gibson, G. W.
6907 Gregson, J.
5624 Hale, G. F.
7983 Haven, H. B., Jr.
795 Hammond, A.
9377 Hall, A.
9370 Hill, E. F.
910 Hollister, E. S.
9868 Hoit, E. P.
9207 Holman, C. F.
11526 Hoffman, W. G.
7720 Howe, E. P.
11474 Hubbard, C. D.
11345 Hunneman, J. A.
3382 Lawton, S.
12905 Labaree, C. W.
10399 Laws, J. R.
9211 Leavitt, E. E.
10400 Lean, G. R.
9424 Lowe, J. A.
9600 Martin, C. F.
10216 Menns, W. K.
8227 Merrill, C. A.
11947 Moulton, H.
9081 McCune, J. B.
8731 Owen, O. L.
11796 Parker, W. G.
9873 Penniman, Miss G. F.
5047 Pearce, F. A.
9715 Pickering, J. F.
9869 Pike, W. A.
11420 Platt, C. M.
8892 Reed, H. W.
7548 Reynolds, H. R.
6722 Sampson, F. H.
9213 Shute, F. E.
7861 Shaw, C. D.
9729 Simmons, F. N.
12315 Smith, J. K.
11348 Stearns, G. M.
10048 Temple, W. G.
11665 Thayer, W. H.
12223 Webster, F. J.
4610 Williams, F. J.

MICHIGAN DIVISION—16.

7279 Anderson, S. W.
7278 Anderson, J.
9736 Armstrong, T. J.
11901 Beach, W. E.
7280 Bills, O. P.
9611 Butterfield, W. J.
9613 Dean, W. C.
7087 Escott, L. W.
10833 Fitzsimmons, P. A.
10246 Graves, W. J.
7004 Hayden, W. H.
11002 Hendrick, F. H.
11165 Maas, F. N.
11166 Maas, W. J.
7281 Satterthwaite, E. N.
7224 Turner, W. S.

MINNESOTA DIVISION—2.

3639 Graves, L. B.
11432 Savage, E. A.

MISSOURI DIVISION—15.

7009 Cooke, D. A. P.
10606 Crosby, D. S.
9846 Crabb, C. J.
10648 Hodgen, J. M.
7674 Ludwigs, E. A.
1059 Pattison, E. W.
10849 Petty, W. J.
6665 Pratt, W. J.
10474 Ranney, F. E.
12652 Silliman, F. F.
2670 Stone, C. H.
12159 Steelman, J. H.
8227 Tebbetts, G. S.
8540 Witte, C.
12470 Wolzendorf, H. G.

MONTANA—1.

10424 Hasley, J. A.

NEW HAMPSHIRE DIVISION—7.

9621 Bliss, J. H.
6812 Estes, J. C.
9448 Place, G. A.
10856 Robinson, E.
1261 Saunders, C. H.
956 Sawyer, B. O.
6644 Sturtevant, A. F.

NEW MEXICO—1.

10427 Kellerhouse, B.

NEW JERSEY DIVISION—41.

11545 Baker, H. S.
9736 Barnes, Mrs. E. W.
9685 Barnes, E. W.
7303 Brunner, J. A.
6351 Burnet, T. H.
9263 Candy, J. D.
7364 Carberry, J.
6367 Chamberlain, T., Jr.
7708 Crans, F., Jr.
9264 Crossley, H.
9114 Dean, E. W., Jr.
7305 Downer, J. L.
9117 Fish, Mrs. W. L.
9116 Fish, W. L.
7306 Hatfield, J. Z.
8253 Harrison, J. L.
8950 Hartshorne, E. E.
4074 Hunt, C. H.
7307 Irving, A. B.
12391 Jewett, F. P.
7348 Keer, F. J.
1386 Kinch, F. A., Jr.
8029 Klotz, L. S.
10256 Lawrence, G. H.
7886 Mix, E. C.
1374 Miller, F. S.
6155 Moore, E. B.
7421 Newell, T.
12129 Osborn, J. H.
1391 Pierson, A. W.
11437 Reese, F. F.
10919 Reese, C. D.
1388 Ruggles, E. D.
10082 Searles, E. C.
7711 Truitt, J. S.
8243 Van Nest, J. R., Jr.
9122 Van Nest, J. F.
3647 Van Ens, J.
10885 Vogel, H. G.
12992 Warner, J. E.
8032 Winter, A. G.

NEW YORK DIVISION—83.

10267 Adair, W. J.
4344 Adriance, F.
3819 Atkins, F.
11856 Austen, E. W.
12234 Bancker, W. D., Jr.
8742 Barrett, C. K.
10602 Bemus, W. P.
3376 Bigelow, P.
11686 Booth, W. P.
1166 Brady, C. A.
1018 Brown, W.
2908 Brooks, G. F.
1545 Cant, R., Jr.
4388 Carpenter, S.
12641 Caulkins, J. R.
9282 Choate, W. A.
6669 Clarke, C. C.
6319 Cluett, G. T.
7202 Comings, G. R.
2540 Ball, A. H.
9056 Barker, C. L.
10808 Barter, E. H.
1163 Bassett, C. F.
232 Benson, W. H.
8476 Brainard, E.
11687 Klady, A. J.
12035 Knight, H. W.
9762 Landon, S. E.
9473 Libeneau, F. E.
8246 Linden, H. V.
12625 Lyons, F. R.
12527 Meyer, T. G.
4805 Noël, W. J.
9144 Parris, P. J.
7329 Percival, G. S.
10086 Perkins, C. H.
7894 Price, C. A.
8378 Raymond, W.
289 Roberts, T. W.
2118 Schwartz, F. J.
12480 Shaw, C. F.
11909 Shepard, Mrs. E. J.
2136 Sisson, H. T.
276 Simpson, W.
11688 Sidell, E. V.
11689 Smith, G. H.
12552 Steede, F. B.
4343 Sterling, G. D.
10471 Sterling, W. C.
11697 Sutton, J. E. S.

RUDGE TELEPHONE MAN.

Hello!

Before you put your machine away for the winter, cover all the nickeled parts with Vaseline, and then send 75 cents to Stoddard, Lovering & Co., Boston, for a bottle of Ardill's Liquid Enamel. It will pay you ten times over.

Brooke's Long Distance Lever Tension Saddles, which we are closing out at $2.25 each. No rider can afford to be without one. Order early, as our supply is limited. Former price, $4.00.

STODDARD, LOVERING & CO.,
152 to 158 Congress St., Boston

Special Terms to the Trade.

5032 Giering, C. J.
7321 Gilson, W. S.
6053 Gilson, W. H.
3134 Gifford, S. D.
17325 Gorham, J. E.
12034 Gourley, N. R.
0385 Granger, R.
6949 Groot, J. H.
1353 Haman, G. E.
8386 Hanley, H. E.
2469 Holmes, G. W.
8957 Johnson, D. W. W.
9757 Johnson, H. B.
8988 Johnson, C. A.
13045 Kenyon, E. P.
3037 Kirby, L.
9653 Kiernan, W. F.

12728 Sulton, F. M.
12531 St. John, Fred.
948 Tanner, F. A.
6320 Thompson, J. M.
11690 Timmins, E.
755 Toplitz, H. L.
9461 Van Denbergh, R.
10106 Wagner, H. A.
6535 Walsh, H. S.
9778 Waters, N. F.
4342 Ward, W. T.
11816 Westervelt, J. R.
1244 Whittemore, W. J.
1310 Whittemore, C. E.
9479 Wildforester, E.
124 Wolf, L. S.

North Carolina—1.

11728 Flanner, A. J.

Ohio Division—35.

9664 Beazle, J. S.
12321 Blankley, J. A.
11908 Blatt, W. G.
12258 Bose, J.
8661 Byers, J.
7736 Carnahan, R. B.
2965 Casselbery, F. L.
1737 Davidson, L. B.
10273 Dombaugh, V. E.
9790 Flinn, E. T.
4793 Francis, H. S.
12658 Garvin, D. M.
5144 Goodrich, F. R.
5292 Griffin, C. H.
3911 Hane, H. B.
2813 Harmony, W. P.
11757 Hewitt, J. C.
6597 Hobart, J. C.

1529 Hughes, F. W.
11918 Jones, F. A.
8052 Judson, O. H.
7127 Kennedy, J. A.
7126 Knapp, M. J.
6671 Lee, W. G.
5143 Lotze, E. H.
12917 Mathews, C. L.
5926 McTigue, J. J.
8144 O'Brien, W. J.
9661 Peirce, W. C.
3623 Perley, W. B.
10276 Rogers, W. K.
11956 Shannon, C. B.
8141 Tewksbury, R. B.
11831 Twing, E. L.
10274 Vincent, B. F.

Pennsylvania Division—157.

2514 Achenbach, W. T.
5418 Acker, W. W.
9158 Allen, C. M.
2604 Andrews, E. B.
56 Andrews, W. T.
8392 Bastian, G. B.
8790 Berry, C. F.
2068 Berry, W. W.
2178 Best, G. U.
7049 Berger, G. B.
7352 Bickings, L. L.
2180 Bloom, W. H.
2154 Bowman, J. W.
11865 Boyd, J. M.
12408 Brady, Dr. C. R.
8162 Brandon, E.
6686 Brown, O. P. H.
2251 Brown, J. G.
2155 Brown, B.
8621 Brickers, S. T.
8391 Butler, W. A.
1672 Byers, H. C.
11632 Caley, M. J.
6775 Chapin, A. R.
12359 Chamberlain, G.
8395 Clapp, F. S.
9402 Clapp, H. U.
6958 Colket, J. E.
8394 Cook, G. D.
8393 Coryell, R. S.
198 Crawford, W. A.
180 Crawford, J. C.
6031 Crissman, F.
7593 Cubbison, H. B.
4685 Culler, C. L.
196 Cunningham, J. P. H.
8216 Davis, C. E.
174 Dannals, W. G.
2612 Dampman, F. M.
7353 Davis, A. S.
2626 Darnell, H. H.
4687 Dayton, I. A.
12025 Dean, W. F.
6950 Donahoe, J.
4686 Eder J. F.
12412 Evans, H.
6969 Evans, T. R.
12985 Ewing, I. P.
9310 Fessenden, C. E.
1648 Filer, H. J.
6297 Fisher, E. J.
11462 Foulk, S. W.
11786 Fox, H. W.
7214 Fox, J. W.
8665 Funston, C. W.
3638 Gammon, H. E.
6952 Gann, J.
2151 Gibson, R. W.
1938 Gillingham, H. E.
6954 Gohl, E. W.
10127 Gohl, C.
12392 Gohl, W. T.
7919 Hamlin, H. B.
8793 Hampton, L. B.
5599 Hanna, W. P.
202 Hanna, M. L.
8066 Hartman, E. V.
6153 Harris W. J.
21636 Herr, H. L.
6953 Hess, J. G.
13047 Howell. J. B.
11305 Horner, W. L.
2156 Howard, J.
11574 Hough, C. N.
12393 Hopkins, C. E.
11573 Hoffman, R. E.
2159 Hubbard, N. R.
2078 Jones, N. L.
6763 Johnson, W. L.

5257 Strieby, J. F.
8403 Tate, H. F.
7048 Taggart, J. C.
1952 Terry, H. W.
7595 Terry, J. E., Jr.
2611 Thalimer, A. G.
8404 Thornton, F. P.
7600 Umbach, C. M.
12027 Updegraff, B. C.
4788 Van Harlingen, T. W.
6951 Wagner, A. C.
10697 Wallace, R. A.
5419 Wanner, E. J.
8405 Watson, J. H.
11469 Welliver, W. W.
12398 Wheeler, H. C.
11758 Whigham, W.
11993 White, C. L.
10516 Wilde, C. L.
12518 Wolle, W. S.
12856 Wood, C. S.
10716 Zern, J. F.

Rhode Island Division—16

12471 Barrows, A. E.
9507 Bliss, F. A.
10293 Bixby, E. M.
3708 Collins, A.
12167 Day, W. A.
12273 Godding, E. A.
7926 Greene, C. W.
12238 Hopkins, S. T.

12445 Himes, S. W.
10720 Leland, G. H.
12071 Martin, W. H.
7461 McAuslan, G. R.
7462 McAuslan, J. W.
8414 Perry, A. N.
11473 Pope, W. H.
7604 Wright, F. E.

Texas—2.

3634 Haney, O. P.

3939 Hope, E. W.

Tennessee Division—24

11474 Aebli, C.
12535 Bunting, R. F., Jr.
11776 Carhart, J. D.
12778 Callahan, S. P.
11475 Dawes, S.
12779 Donovan, C. D.
11843 Droege, J. A.
7380 Duffy, I. I.
11775 Godfrey, E. M.
11476 Hessler, L. C.
7383 Karr, C. H.
9677 Macrae, J. M.

7373 Mallalieu, S. M.
9678 Miller, J. S.
12780 McAdoo, M. R.
11478 McCampbell, J.
7386 McOmber, D. A.
9969 Payne, W. S.
12749 Roler, J. S.
7392 Taylor, I. F.
12977 Viser, S.
12707 Whitmore, W. A.
11479 Williams, E. L.
1471 Wilson, J. R., Jr.

Utah—2

8647 Margetts, F. E.

5038 Pembroke, H.

Vermont Division—7.

1098 Bardy, N. R.
149 Bartes, J. R.
6776 Hutchins, C. P.
2387 Knapp, F. W.

2386 Marshall, A. S.
8636 Potter, T. M.
979 Walker, A. F.

Virginia Division—9.

11103 Baker, W. L.
7761 Carroll, J. C.
10729 Farwell, W. B.
4197 Field, C. A.
9693 Hall, C.

12521 Mercer, W. C.
7765 Tait, W. L.
7764 Tait, J. C.
11989 Turbiville, H. M.

W. Virginia Division—2.

12618 Haines, J. S.

12619 Palmer, O.

Wisconsin—1.

12729 Hopkins, W. J.

Wyoming—1.

12424 Chandler, W. D.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

No. 69—Total, 53.

Philadelphia, Pa., January 10th, 1887.

California Division—10.

San Francisco Bi. Club—9.

13185 Brown, Arthur M., 429 California St., San Francisco.
13191 Clairmont, R. de, Box 2153, "
13188 Haslett, O. C., Second and Townsend Sts., San Francisco.
13187 Kelleher, Alfred J., 2324 Clay St., San Francisco.
13186 Patrick, Benj. H., 410 Pine St., "
13189 Quinn, John C., 220 Sansome St., "
13190 Verrinder, R. T., 37 Post St., "
13196 Waterhouse, F. A., 1622 Beale St., "
13184 Whitely, Henry M., 423 California St., "

Unattached—1.

13193 Burmester, Henry W., 12 Seventh St., San Francisco.

Indiana Division—1.

Unattached—1.

13224 Williamson, Goldsmith G., Muncie.

Maine Division—1.

Unattached—1.

13222 Clark, Harry W., Belfast.

Maryland Division—4.

Hagerstown Bi. Club—1.

13223 McKee, Edwin J., Hagerstown.

Ramblers' Cy. Club—1.

13207 Warrington, Lewis, Jr., 1134 N. Gilmor St., Baltimore.

Unattached—2.

13219 Aschenfeld, L. H., Havre de Grace.
13178 Eisenbrandt, C. Henry, 78 W. Baltimore St., Baltimore.

Massachusetts Division—4.

Unattached—4.

13182 Easland, J. N., Gt. Barrington.
13192 Ginn, Wm. E., 41 London St., E. Boston.
13183 Perry, F. P., Gt. Barrington.
13203 Tobey, W. B., "

New Jersey Division—3.

Union County Wheelmen—2.

13226 Collins, Ed., Westfield.
13225 Place, Chas. W., 450 Westminster Ave., Elizabeth.

Unattached—1.

13206 Cramer, Frank W., 805 Penn St., Camden.

New York Division—9.

Unattached—9.

13199 Bull, John P., Chester.
13194 Campbell, Chas. S., 115 Broadway, New York City.
13229 Gearn, Geo. F., Newburg.
13227 Gould, Chas. V., Cohoes.
13205 Laidley, E. T., Port Jervis.
13204 Lundelins, A., "
13214 Mitchell, Chas. L., Queene.
13215 Sherman, J. D., Port Jervis.
13201 Shumway, W. M., Geddes.

Ohio Division—5.

Unattached—5.

13181 Bonnell, D. W., Hubbard.
13212 Crowell, H. P., Ravenna.
13213 Crowell, E. R., "
13197 Eberly, Chas. E., 382 E. Rich St., Columbus.
13208 Stone, O. W., North Bend.

Pennsylvania Division—14.

Lancaster Cy. Touring Club—1.

13209 Brosey, Frank B., Manheim.

New Castle Bi. Club—1.

13220 Kirk, Howard M., New Castle.

South End Wheelmen—1.

13198 Edwards, J. R. Lincoln, 1419 Wharton St., Phila.

Williamsport Wheel Club—1.

13202 Merrit, Adrian H., 142 W. Fourth St., Williamsport.

Unattached—10.

13211 Adams, Robert M., 201 W. Chestnut St., Lancaster.
13180 Bair, G. Milton, Hanover.
13228 Bowers, Chas. V., Johnstown.
13200 Carter, Marvin P., Scranton.
13210 Dissinger, Frank R., Campbellstown.
13217 Hammitt, J. L., Box 586, McKeesport.
13195 Henry, Wm., Summit Hill.
13218 Shafer, W. E., Bloomsburg.
13179 Stewart, Henry A., Gettysburg.
13221 Welsh, R. S., Brockwayville.

Rhode Island Division—1.

Unattached—1.

13230 Claflin, Wm. S., 17 Maple St., Providence.

Virginia Division—1.

Unattached—1.

13216 Scott, James H., Richmond.

IMPORTANT.

The Grand Union Hotel, opposite the Grand Central Depot, New York City, is the L. A. W. and C. T. C. Headquarters. European Plan. Rooms, $1.00 per day and upward. First-class Restaurant, at moderate prices. Good care taken of wheels.

FOR SALE, EXCHANGE, ETC.

PATENTS secured on reasonable terms. Work reliable. Papers carefully and legally drawn. Special attention given to inventions in cycling by an experienced wheelman and League member. Write for particulars.
N. L. COLLAMER,
Patent Attorney and Mechanical Engineer,
Room 47, St. Cloud Building, Washington, D. C.

"In a word, a cycle bearing must be in that apparently paradoxical condition, at the same time very tight and very loose; that is, perfectly free to spin, and entirely rigid, allowing no shake in the parts."—Victor Catalog.

IT BEATS THE WORLD,

AND THE WORLD IS HARD TO BEAT.

1405 Miles in 142 Hours!!

Ridden by ALBERT SCHOCK, at Minneapolis, in competition with most of the great American professionals.

Mr. Schock writes:—"I am pleased with the Victor in every respect. I soon found it a vast improvement on all other wheels ridden by me."

Victor Wheels are built to ride Bicycles, Tricycles, Safeties. Catalog free.

OVERMAN WHEEL CO., - - 182 Columbus Avenue, Boston.

FOR SALE, EXCHANGE, ETC.

FOR SALE.—Keystone Bicycle Saddle. Business of manufacturing and Patent. A proved success and fine chance to develop. C. M. CLARKE, P. O. Box 969, Pittsburgh, Pa. 4t.*

WANTED.—Bicycles and Tricycles for Cash. Give make, finish, style bearings; state when new, exact condition of all parts, and bottom price, or no notice taken. NEW YORK BICYCLE CO.,
4t-101. 21 Worth Street, New York.

FOR SALE.—Dirt cheap. One 50-inch full nickeled Standard Columbia, '86 pattern. Condition guaranteed good. Cow-horn and straight bars. C. W. FUNSTON, 2t* Box 375, Bloomsburg, Pa.

FOR SALE.—58-inch Expert Columbia Bicycle, in good condition, cheap for cash. Address Lock Box No. 14, Turner's Falls, Mass. 104

TO EXCHANGE.—A 52-inch Royal Challenge in good condition, for Remington Type-writer, upper and lower case. EDWIN M. MAYER, tf.* 520 Walnut Street, Philad'a, Pa.

REPAIRS! REPAIRS!

To Save Delay and Expense

send your machines now. We are prepared to do repairing cheaper and QUICKER NOW THAN EVER BEFORE.

HOWARD A. SMITH & CO.

Oraton Hall, Newark, N. J.

BROWNING, KING & CO.,

406, 408, 410, and 412 BROOME STREET, NEW YORK.

THE ONLY OFFICIAL CONTRACTORS FOR THE

LEAGUE UNIFORM.

LIST OF PRICES:

Plaited Blouse, $9.50; KneeBreeches, $6.00; Suit, $15.50. Regulation League Cloth, made by the Middlesex Mills, cost $2.00 per yard. League Buttons, large size, 5 cents each; Small size, 2½ cents each. Full set for suit, 55 cents.

TERMS:

All uniforms or parts of uniforms sent C. O. D., with privilege of examination. All orders for cloth or buttons must be accompanied by Money Order. Blank forms for self-measurement furnished on application. Orders for L. A. W. Goods will be received at any of our branch stores, as follows:

136 and 138 Madison St., } CHICAGO, ILL. | 210 and 212 N. Broadway, St. Louis, Mo.
144 to 148 Clark Street, } | Wisconsin and E. Water Street, Milwaukee, Wis.
76 and 78 West Fourth St., Cincinnati, Ohio; 910 and 912 Chestnut Street, Phila., Pa.

All orders must be accompanied by League number

TOBOGGANING!!

SEND FOR CIRCULAR. DISCOUNTS TO CLUBS.

The most fascinating of winter sports.
Headquarters for Tobogganing Outfits.
Agents for the celebrated "PROCTOR" Toboggan, which for STRENGTH and SPEED excels all others.

NEW YORK BICYCLE CO.
38 Park Place.

DEALERS

will be interested to learn that we are supplying a line of tool-bags equal to imported goods, and at lower prices. We are preparing to manufacture a full line of leather goods for the coming season. Before placing your orders, write McCOY & WILLIAMS, 373 Main Street, Orange, N. J.

BEFORE ◆ YOU ◆ BUY ◆ A ◆ BICYCLE

of any kind, send stamp to

A. W. GUMP, - Dayton, Ohio,

for Large Illustrated Price-List of New and Second-Hand Machines. Second-Hand Bicycles taken in Exchange and Bought for Cash.

Largest Stock of Second-Hand Bicycles in America.

BICYCLES REPAIRED and NICKEL-PLATED.

A. W. Gump, Dayton, Ohio.

SECOND-HAND GUNS TAKEN IN EXCHANGE FOR BICYCLES.

"IDEAL" QUININE & SULPHUR SOAP.

There is no skin disease this soap will not benefit

STOP SCRATCHING!!

WELL, WHY NOT?

IDEAL QUININE AND SULPHUR SOAP will certainly cure all ITCHING skin diseases.

Ask any dealer in Toilet Soaps for it. Or sent to any address, postpaid, 25 cents per cake, 3 cakes for 60 cents. Q. & S. Shaving Soap, 15 cents.
VAIL BROTHERS, 239 Market Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

USE IDEAL TOOTH POWDER. Price, 25 cents per Bottle.

AT the annual meeting of the UNION COUNTY WHEELMEN, of Westfield, N. J., held December 6th, 1886, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Dr. Fred. A. Kinch, Jr., President; Arthur N. Pierson, Secretary; Albert Farrington, Treasurer; Frank S. Miller, Captain; Thos. H. Burnet, First Lieutenant; John Z. Hatfield, Second Lieutenant; John A. Bruner, Color Bearer. The Club is in a very prosperous state, and are always glad to see their friends and lend a hand to aid the tourist.

KEYSTONE WATCHES ARE THE BEST. ASK TO SEE THEM.

ATKINSON BROS.
926 Chestnut St., PHILADELPHIA, PA.

ONLY $4.00 ONLY $4.00

for a pair of Punnett's celebrated jersey cloth knee breeches. Durable, comfortable, and neat fitting. Try a pair; you will use no other. Send regular measures. Write for sample of cloth and measure blanks.

PUNNETT, Merchant Tailor,
1y-2-5-86. ROCHESTER, N. Y.

THE SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER,

MANUFACTURED BY THE

Springfield Bicycle Manufacturing Co.

(Yost & McCune Patents),

19 PEARL STREET, BOSTON.

The only absolutely safe wheel against "Headers" made.
It is the best, and it is also the cheapest.
Do not buy a wheel before you see the Springfield Roadster.
Coasting without danger. Hill-climbing to perfection. Invented by riders of experience.

PRICE, COMPLETE, - $75.00.

THE "NEW AMERICAN" TRICYCLE,

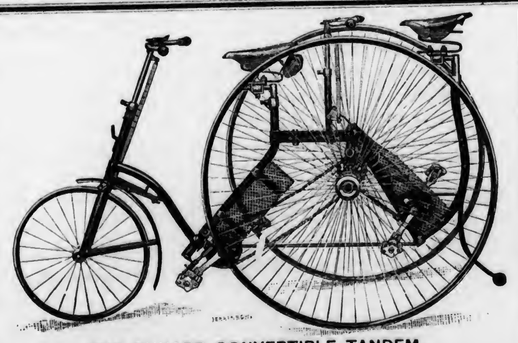
639 Arch Street, Philadelphia.

We make but one style of machine, and that the best. There are no extras.

NO DEAD CENTRES. FULL POWER UTILIZED. CLIMBS ANY HILL.

The best machine for ladies, as there are no revolving pedals to catch the skirts. The only Tricycle that can be ridden equally well by lady or gentleman, grown person or child.

EITHER RIDER CAN STEER.



May be Ridden by Two Ladies.

HAS AUTOMATIC STEERING.

Reduces in Width to 27 inches.

Has Folding Handle Bar, for Easy Access to Front Seat.

Is the Most Unique Machine of its Class.

THE CUNARD CONVERTIBLE TANDEM.

CUNARD

Bicycles,
Tricycles,
Tandems,
Safeties.

D. Rogers & Co.,
SOLE U. S. AGENTS,
75 Clinton Avenue,
NEWARK, N. J.

CATALOGUES FREE.

"Rapid" THE NEW "Bicycle"

With the Famous TRUE TANGENT WHEELS AND PALMER DETACHABLE HANDLE BAR.

Confidently OFFERED AS THE HIGHEST GRADE AND EASIEST RUNNING BICYCLE EXTANT.

Send For Catalogue & Testimonials — Photos. 10 & 15 cts.

ENERGETIC AGENTS WANTED

SAML. T. CLARK & CO. IMPORTERS
BALTIMORE, MD.

THE COVENTRY MACHINISTS CO., LD.

239 Columbus Avenue, Boston.

Before buying a Tandem, you should see the new "CLUB" TANDEM, with automatic steering, and the MARLBORO TANDEM, the best three-wheel Tandem made.

CATALOGUE FREE.

KIRK BROWN,

6 SOUTH BROAD (MERRICK) STREET, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

SOLE PHILADELPHIA AGENT.

THEOPHILUS WOBBLE'S

Trip Around the World

ON A BICYCLE,

ILLUSTRATED,

Commenced in

TEXAS SIFTINGS,

July 3d, 1886.

FOR SALE BY ALL NEWSDEALERS.

Back numbers can be obtained from Texas Siftings Publishing Co., 240 Broadway, N. Y.

If you want to come out in the Spring with your Bicycle or Tricycle looking like new, before putting your machine away use a bottle of

ARDILL'S

LIQUID ENAMEL!

For touching up or entirely re-enamelling BICYCLES AND TRICYCLES

Hard as Marble. Dries Instantly, without any unpleasant smell, and produces a Jet Black enamel surface in One Operation. It is thoroughly impervious to wet, cold, or heat. Will not crack, and is not liable to chip off. Any one can apply it. A suitable Brush given with each bottle.

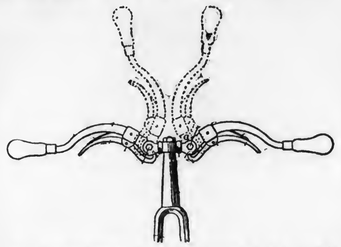
Price, 75 cents a bottle. Cannot be sent by mail.

For sale by all Agents, and by

STODDARD, LOVERING & CO.,

152 to 158 Congress St., Boston.

Special terms to the trade.



REBER & SAICH,

Agents for the well-known Club, Premier, and Spalding Bicycles and Tricycles. Old style parts and difficult REPAIRS a specialty.

SALESROOM AND REPAIR SHOP,

149 Academy St., Newark, N. J.

RODES' SAFETY HANDLE.

No more headers. It can be applied to any bicycle. Impossible not to light on your feet. The legs will open the handles without the rider being aware of it. Simple, cheap, and weighs no more than the ordinary handle. Price, $10.00. For sale by Robt. Rodes, Jr., 40 N. Cherry St., Nashville, Tenn.

Ira Perego

128 and 130 FULTON ST., 87 NASSAU ST.

NEW YORK.

The only Official Outfitter to the L. A. W.

L. A. W. REGULATION CAP,	-	$1 75
" " HELMET,	-	1 75
" " SHIRT,	-	2 25
" " HOSE,	-	1 50
" " SILK BELTS,		1 00

All orders must be accompanied by money order for the amount, also name and League number.

English C. T. C. Cloth, double width, $4.00 per yard.

BARGAINS!

Now is the time to buy Second-Hand Bicycles. Send size and price you wish to pay. Prices low. Send for Catalogue of the New Rapid.

WM. M. FRISBIE & CO.,

P. O. Drawer 64. New Haven, Conn.

BINDERS FOR THE BULLETIN.

To all who wish to preserve their Copies of the Bulletin in good shape, we can offer a "Common Sense" Binder, like the above cut, for One Dollar, post free.

E. M. AARON,

Don't send Checks. Box 916, Philad'a, Pa.

OUR SPECIALTY.

Columbia and Rudge Bicycles and Tricycles rented to non-owners for long or short periods at reasonable rates. Only first-class wheels offered. Send for terms. Bicycles and Tricycles also sold on easy payments.

GEO. R. BIDWELL,

Dealer in Bicycles, Tricycles, Etc.,

313 West 58th Sreet, New York City.

BICYCLING * WORLD.

Only One Dollar a Year!! Full Value!!

BICYCLING * WORLD.

Latest and Freshest News and more of it than in any other Independent American Cycling Weekly. Send to

BICYCLING WORLD CO.

For Combination Rates,

179 Tremont Street, Boston, Mass.

Patented 1881.

L. A. W. BADGES.

For Gold Pins of the Official Design, send direct to

CHAS. H. LAMSON,

177 Middle St., Portland, Me.,

The Designer and Sole Authorized Maker.

Prices for handsome Solid Gold Pins (stone centres) $3.50, $5.00, $7.00, and $8.00, according to finish and fineness (kt.) of gold. Diamond Badges, $15.00 to $50.00 for the larger pins, and $10.00 to $30.00 for the small size. Send for circular free. Orders by mail, inclosing money order and League number, will receive prompt attention.

Also for sale in New York at M. J. Paillard & Co.'s, 680 Broadway; in Philadelphia by H. B. Hart, 811 Arch St.; in Boston by The Pope Mfg. Co.; in Chicago by The John Wilkinson Co.; in Newark, N. J., by Howard Smith & Co.; in Minneapolis by T. F. Heath & Co.; and in San Francisco by Osborn & Alexander.

New Style H.

HOW TO JOIN

THE

L. A. W.

Fill up the blank in the adjoining column and, together with TWO DOLLARS, send it to the Secretary of the League,

E. M. AARON,

Box 916, Philadelphia, Pa.

Write your FULL NAME, your FULL ADDRESS, and your CLUB name IN FULL.

Write very plainly.

Application for Membership in the L. A. W.

EUGENE M. AARON, Secretary-Editor,

Box 916, Philadelphia, Pa.

Dear Sir:

Inclosed you will find $2.00 for initiation fee and annual dues in the League of American Wheelmen. I hereby certify that I am over 18 years of age, and that I am an amateur within the meaning of the definition printed below. I refer to the persons named below.

Signed, ...

Club, ... Residence, .....

City and State, ... Date, .....

ARTICLE IV, SECTION 4, of the L. A. W. By-Laws, contains the following Definition of an Amateur:—"An amateur is one who has never engaged in, nor assisted in, nor taught any recognized athletic exercise for money or other remuneration, nor knowingly competed with or against a professional for a prize of any description. To prevent misunderstanding in interpreting the above, the League draws attention to the following explanation: A cyclist forfeits his right to compete as an amateur, and thereby becomes a professional, by engaging in cycling or any other recognized athletic exercise, or personally teaching, training, or coaching any other person therein, either as a means of obtaining a livelihood, or for a stated bet, money prize, or for gate money, competing with, pace-making for, or having the pace made by, a professional, in public or for a prize; selling, realizing upon, or otherwise turning into cash any prize won by him. This rule does not apply to teaching the elements of bicycling solely for the purpose of effecting the sale of a bicycle. The League recognizes as athletic exercises all those sports under the jurisdiction of the National Association of Amateur Athletes of America, including running, walking, jumping, pole-leaping, putting the shot, throwing the hammer, throwing the weights, tug of war, and rowing, boxing, sparring, Lacrosse, polo, roller and ice skating."

TO L. A. W. MEMBERS.

Read the Letter in the adjoining columns, and AT ONCE fill out the blank at the bottom and send it with ONE DOLLAR to

E. M. Aaron, Box 916, Philadelphia, Pa.,

and thus secure for another year your membership in the largest and most popular athletic organization in the country.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY-EDITOR, LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN,
PHILADELPHIA, PA., December 6th, 1886.

TO ALL LEAGUE MEMBERS:

THE ADVANTAGES OF MEMBERSHIP in the L. A. W. are so well known and understood that to most of you anything that I might say on the subject would seem superfluous. But to those who, either from the brief duration of their association with our organization or from the fact that they have not availed themselves of their privileges in the League, are not so assured of its great influence for the general good and their individual good in particular, we offer the following brief summary for their careful attention:

The L. A. W. publishes a first-class weekly newspaper, the L. A. W. BULLETIN, which is in itself full return for the annual dues. It will furnish to each member, on application, during 1887, at a nominal price, a HAND-BOOK of useful information, including the Constitution and By-Laws, Racing Rules, Transportation Rates, Rights and Privileges, etc. The L. A. W. affords the privilege of obtaining an excellent UNIFORM at very moderate cost. The L. A. W. stands ready to protect its members in their legal rights, and to sustain them in their efforts to repeal unfavorable legislation. This it has frequently done in the past.

In addition to the above general advantages, most of the State Divisions are striving to outdo the parent body in granting direct benefits to their members, such as Road-Books, maps, Hand-Books, and reduced hotel rates, to say nothing of meets, parades, tours, and entertainments.

The item of the bond of fellowship which exists between League members throughout the length and breadth of our land is admitted by many hundreds to be worth much more than the price of the annual dues.

Believing that all who intend to continue as cyclers will also continue as members of the League, and that most of those who either temporarily or permanently give up active participation in cycling will remain with us for the sake of the past and of the future companionship, I feel that I have but to call your attention to the League's claims on you for 1887 to insure the return of the blank printed below with your signature affixed and accompanied by your annual dues.

Fraternally,

EUGENE M. AARON, Secretary-Editor, L. A. W.

EUGENE M. AARON, Secretary-Editor, L. A. W.,

Box 916, Philadelphia, Pa.

Inclosed herewith you will find ONE DOLLAR for the Annual Dues for 1887, in the League of American Wheelmen, for the undersigned.

Name, ...

League No. ..... Address. .....

Club, ...

To the Reader.

Although it may be a trifle early, we take great pleasure in calling your attention in a general way to our plans and machines for 1887.

We have investigated every improvement that has appeared upon Bicycles and Tricycles, both in England and America, and have satisfied ourselves as to its value; and although the Rudge machines for next year will not contain any very startling novelties, which are often used for advertising purposes, you can rest assured that we have not been negligent in our efforts to perfect them.

We have been in active correspondence during the last year with a large number of reliable, enthusiastic road riders in regard to improvements on the Rudge machines, and after a careful examination, we have decided to adopt those which we have thoroughly tried and can fully recommend.

Rudge Light Roadster.

We are not quite prepared at present to lay before you the detailed specifications of the RUDGE LIGHT ROADSTER for 1887, but when they are submitted to you, we feel you will at once say, "It stands at the head." We have spared no pains in any respect, and the old favorite comes forward this year better than ever. Be sure and see this machine before deciding on your mount for the year.

Rudge Roadster.

We have entirely remodeled the American Rudge and improved it in many points. In consequence of the large number of cheaper machines, we have discarded the word American, and re-named it the RUDGE ROADSTER.

For a good, strong, reliable roadster, at a moderate price, we think it will lead all others, as it has done for the last three years. It is a machine that we can recommend as a reliable mount at a low price.

Rudge Bicyclette.

We shall also place upon the market the RUDGE BICYCLETTE, the original safety bicycle of the Rover type. This was patented by Rudge & Co. in 1879, both in England and America, and all machines of this pattern are imitations of the original.

The many advantages that the BICYCLETTE possesses in point of safety, comfort, and speed, together with the many valuable specialties, which can be found only on this machine, will at once be appreciated by the large number of wheelmen and intended wheelmen, and as we predict a large sale for it for the coming year, orders should be booked for it early.

Crescent Tricycle.

Owing to the enormous demand in England last year for the RUDGE CRESCENT TRICYCLE, we were unable to fill orders as we desired; but we have made arrangements this year to carry a large stock on hand. This tricycle contains all the essential points of the very latest improvements, being fitted with a large front wheel, bicycle-steering, and a long wheel base, and combines lightness, speed, and ease of running.

We shall carry it in two weights, one for gentlemen and one for ladies, and our new pattern contains many valuable points of special interest.

THE RUDGE FOR 1887

Rudge Humber Tandem.

This popular Tandem is so well known that it needs no description. While we have not altered the main features, it may be seen that the details have received our careful consideration, and many points have been altered with satisfactory results.

Rudge Crescent Tandem.

To meet the general want for a tricycle that can be ridden by two ladies, or by a lady and gentleman, we introduce the RUDGE CRESCENT, feeling sure it will meet the demands of the riders.

It is of the Cripper form, with patent automatic bicycle-steering, and contains all the valued features of Rudge & Co.'s experience.

With these popular machines, it will be seen that we cover all the ground, and we claim that no importer or manufacturer handles so extensive a line of Cycles as ourselves.

These machines are not experiments, but they have been given from one to three years' careful trial in England before we introduced them upon the American market, and the prestige which they have in England, combined with Rudge & Co's. experience and skill in material and workmanship, leave nothing to be desired, and we can with confidence recommend them to our agents and their customers.

All of these machines have been built under our manager's personal supervision; and we place them upon the market, knowing that our reputation is at stake, and feel sure that you will appreciate our efforts, for it has always been our aim to suit the riders.

At present we are very busy in preparing our catalogue, which we propose to lay before you very early in the season, and trust that you will favor us with an order.

Agency.

We have had numberless applications for the agency of the Rudge Bicycles and Tricycles from all over the United States, and we wish to say that we desire only to establish agencies in the bicycle centres, and desire only representatives who are willing to push the sale of our machines.

We invite correspondence on this subject.

Yours very truly,

STODDARD, LOVERING & CO.

No. 152 Congress Street, Boston, Mass.

THE L. A. W. BULLETIN

THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN

PUBLISHED WEEKLY: A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA:

$1.00 A YEAR. 3 CENTS PER COPY. | Philadelphia, January 21, 1887. | VOLUME IV. No. 3. WHOLE NUMBER 82.

From Manitoba to the Gulf of Mexico, from Eastport to the Golden Gate, the Majority of Wheelmen

RIDE COLUMBIAS.

POPE MFG. CO.

79 Franklin St.,

BOSTON.

BRANCH HOUSES:—12 Warren Street, New York: 291 Wabash Avenue, Chicago.

These are our Witnesses.

Nine years of hard service upon every grade of American road has not worn out a Columbia.

THE WORLD'S STORY

of the road and path is a recapitulation of victories by riders of Columbias.

THE WISE WHEELMAN

rides a Columbia; the unwise is getting wisdom and a Columbia.

Mr. Alfred A. McCurdy made the accompanying remarkable record on a 48-inch STAR Bicycle over the Boston Cycle Club's 50 mile course, under A. C. U. Rules, breaking all previous records above 100 miles.

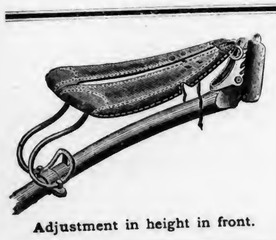
305 Miles in

The following are the new records accepted by the A. C. U.:

150 Miles,	10	hours	24	minutes	30	seconds.
200	"	14	"	35	"
250	"	18	"	58	"
300	"	23	"	38	"
302 5/16	"	23	"	48	"	50	"
304 1/8	"	23	"	57	"	45	"

The eight trips to and from his hotel to the point of starting carries the distance up to fully 305 miles.

★ WORLD'S RECORDS ★



This record proves most conclusively the superiority of the STAR over all crank action bicycles. This is McCurdy's fourth attempt at the 24 hour record, the first two trials being made on crank machines.

His present performance EXCELS BY 50 MILES his best effort on a crank bicycle weighing about 15 pounds less than his present mount.

24 hours

The STAR is the only bicycle that combines in the highest degree the qualities of safety, speed, and hill-climbing.

H. B. SMITH MACHINE CO.,
SMITHVILLE, N. J.

Adjustment in height in front.

Adjustment in height in rear.

Adjustment in width.

When you buy, buy the best.
When you order your new mount, order it with only the old reliable

Lillibridge Saddle.

FOR SALE EVERYWHERE.

Price, Nickeled, - - $5.00

Adapted to all makes of machines.
Special styles for the Safeties and Star.

FREEMAN LILLIBRIDGE,
ROCKFORD, ILL.

Adjustment in length.

A Bifurcated Seat.

A Comfortable Coasting Plate.

THE BULLETIN
OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN
A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA
PUBLISHED WEEKLY

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY

ABBOT BASSETT,

For the Executive Committee of the League of American Wheelmen.

AT THE L. A. W. OFFICE,

506 WALNUT STREET, ROOM 12, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

Entered at the Post Office as Second-Class Matter.

SINGLE COPIES, - - - - - - 3 CENTS.
SUBSCRIPTION PRICE TO OTHER THAN LEAGUE MEMBERS, } $1.00 A YEAR.
CLUBS OF FIVE, - - - - - $4.00 "

TO LEAGUE MEMBERS.

Until further notice address all letters to the Secretary-Editor to Abbot Bassett, Box 1184, Philadelphia, Pa.

Subscribers should be careful to notify the EDITOR promptly of any change in their address. Great care is taken with the mailing list; failure to receive THE BULLETIN may usually be traced to carelessness on the part of the subscriber.

All matter for publication, whether reading or advertising matter, should be addressed to the EDITOR. All checks should be made payable to his order.

Reading matter, to insure publication in the following issue, must be in the EDITOR'S hands not later than Saturday afternoon; advertisements not later than Monday morning.

Personal controversy, fault-finding, and allusions to manufactures and manufacturers will not be admitted to the columns devoted to reading matter.

The EDITOR must in all cases have the full name and address of the authors of contributed articles as a guarantee of good faith. As the Executive Committee has decided that it is best to discourage the use of assumed names by writers for THE BULLETIN, the EDITOR will publish the author's name unless particularly requested not to do so.

ADVERTISING RATES ON APPLICATION.
Our Circulation this Week is
11,700 Copies.

No. 3. JANUARY 21, 1887. VOL. IV.

By request of the Executive Committee, Mr. John A. Wells has taken charge of this week's issue of the BULLETIN.

READING, PA., NOTES.

Pray, Mr. Editor, does not Webster define "Owlet" as "a little owl"? I believe so. Will you, therefore, kindly advise your e. c., the Bi. World, that if they wish to preserve their "little owl's" life they had better caution him that the line of poetic critic which he has taken up lately (vide Bi. World of December 3d) is loaded and likely to go off at any time. The "Owl" himself goes for "Owlet" in a late issue of the BULLETIN, so that between the two of us he is likely to have a pleasant time. But I took a sweet revenge out of him. I say, did you ever ride on one of those long bob-sleds? They are used quite extensively for coasting in New England and up in this part of the country, and I can assure you they can make a toboggan look sick when it comes to speed. They have two small, solid sleds connected by a long, springy board, and are from six to ten feet long.

The rear of the sled is the business end; and as I induced Mr. Owlet into taking a trip on one of them, I feel as though I had gotten even with him. Every time these long coasters strike a gully or an elevation the front steering sled takes it nicely, but the rear one first fires you into the air, from a couple of inches to two feet, according to the size of the obstruction struck, and then flies up to meet you with a degree of vigor hardly to be looked for in so innocent-looking a creation. Groans and grunts from our poetic critic soothed my wounded feelings all the way down the hill. I hope he enjoyed the ride.

When he found himself safely unloaded he remarked: "The steering seems to be rather unsteady. I think ball-bearing steering would be an improvement, and I would recommend one of the latest style suspension saddles for the stern sheets. I don't care particularly about riding bareback myself."

Apropos of The Owl: Tell us, does his Owlship sit up nights studying out the admirable lot of puns which he dishes up for us in each issue of the BULLETIN? The worst of this delectable habit is that it is so abominably contagious. There is the staid old "Solitary Club" getting taken in the same way. Would not a gentle "official" admonition have some effect?

Cycling is at a discount up here among the hills. Snow? Bad weather? We have had more winter to the square inch this season than for a number of years past. I have been hunting most diligently for the "oldest inhabitant" who prophesied we were to have an open winter. From the blizzard which opened December up to the present time we have had one storm after another. To-day the snow lies about twelve inches deep on the level. However, with it all, we managed to get in our annual Christmas ride. That is, the High Private and the Quill Driver did. The rest of the boys had not sufficiently recovered from the effects of the turkey and stuffin', all except the Captain. The Captain would scorn to let any turkey keep him from riding. He was indisposed. But the H. P., with malice aforethought, did basely enveigle the unsuspecting Q. D. out, and by a series of gross misrepresentations as to the condition of the roads, got his wheel into the finest condition it has presented for many a day. The day was glorious overhead, but under foot it was—not. Mud? Ye gods! Talk about Hot Springs mud baths as a cure for rheumatism! I haven't had a touch of rheumatism since that Christmas day ride, and I have been a sufferer for years!

We got as far as Jacksonwald (some five miles) and then, mutually agreeing that we had done enough for glory, we turned our wheels supper-ward. I must say that I enjoyed the ride wonderfully. I had not been on my wheel for a month, and it was like greeting an old friend to find myself once more in the saddle. How I envy the lucky ones whose lines are cast in pleasant places below the regions of snow and ice. The H. P. said that if he had not had an engagement with a friend (?) that evening he would liked to have ridden further down the pike.

Your Number 1, of Volume IV, promises well for '87, Mr. Editor. If you succeed in maintaining the rate of improvement of the past year the BULLETIN will be a paper to brag by—not that it isn't that now. I always have held that the BULLETIN in itself was more than an equivalent for the L. A. W. dues. The index for 1886 is a great idea, at least for cycling scribes. Heretofore I have had to take memoranda of any article to which I wished to refer. Now I simply turn to my index and save time and temper.

"Cheaper wheels" is a taking theme; one upon which, I'll venture to say, nine-tenths of the League will sing the same song, and I should be delighted myself to seize the chance of securing a high-grade light roadster for one-half (I believe that is Mr. Snyder's figure) what we pay at present. But—and this "but" represents a very large rub indeed—the fact remains that patentees and pioneers in a new and risky business usually expect to derive a fair share of profit from their enterprise. At least that has been the rule in the history of all new and taking inventions, and I fancy that our manufacturers will hardly show sufficient liberality to voluntarily reduce their prices by one-half. From $125 down to $62.50? Scarcely. Well, now, what are you going to do about it? You don't need to buy 'em if you don't want to, don't you know. I'd like Mr. "Pioneer" to attempt to get a discount of "one-third"—or any discount at all, for that matter—from any reputable dealer or agent of our leading American wheels. And I know a little something of the business myself. As to "making the BULLETIN independent of all manufacturers," just go a little slow. I have an idea that it is the advertising patronage of the makers that renders the BULLETIN so nearly self-supporting, and I think the Editor could give a few cold figures as to the cost of running the official organ without advertising patronage that would make these gentlemen open their eyes.

Let us hear from the manufacturers' side, won't you, Mr. Editor? If I am paying $125 for the privilege of riding a bicycle that would yield a fair profit at half the figure, then I am going to boycott that "soulless corporation" and give up riding.

The Reading Bi. Club have organized an orchestra for the purpose of keeping themselves in tune during the winter months, but I can't vouch for their proficiency, as I have not yet received an invitation. Can you take a hint, gentlemen?

One of the "Ariels," and probably the oldest member of the L. A. W. in this section, Mr. J. L. McLenegan, has gone into journalism, having joined the staff of the Herald, our liveliest daily. Now for a boom on the subject of good roads, the adaptability of the wheel to all purposes, etc., etc., ad lib. L. A. W., Number 312, do your duty. "CYCLE."

January 10th, 1887.

STAMFORD, CONNECTICUT-INGS.

In a last summer's note-book we find:

"Mr. Phil.—Star—N. Canaan—mtns to N. Stfd—Old Mill—Inds—deer—brk straps—Banan. weed—B'l's hd—Smr. St. 20 m."

And the whole delightful experience comes back to us with a "yesterday's vividness," thanks to the old book and a moment's indulgence in noting on the spot.

It relates to a pleasant run "our Club" had with Mr. Phillips, of Washington, who was summering at Sound Beach, to New Canaan and over the mountains to North Stamford.

It was our first ride in a mountainous region (the inhabitants call them hills, but in so doing do them an injustice), and the climbing and coasting qualities of Star and Facile were well tested. There were steep and winding descents that would raise the hair of one on a big wheel if he was rash enough to start down, and oblige him to walk down as well as up.

Down in a valley beyond New Canaan a stream twists its way among the rocks and foliage, showing itself here and there in pretty views, and at one place, as we sped along on a sharp down-grade, we had a glimpse of an old mill, or what was left of it, and the water reflected the mossy old timbers in its depths as if to make the most of the old relic while it lasts, and it added much to the picturesque bit we saw.

Just above the bridge the water tumbles down a fall of five or six feet and foaming air-castles eddy about in deep, dark pools far down below the road among massive, gray, lichen-clad rocks that give the scene a rugged attractiveness that we could not pass without a halt.

Many a deer or other wild rover of that wilderness has slacked his thirst in that brawling brook in the years gone by, and Indian hunters and fishers have built many a camp-fire along its banks.

What record lines the waters have written on their rocky barriers as the seasons have come and gone, and what stories they might tell. How deep snows have muffled all nature hereabouts, excepting the noisy little brook, and blotted out every vestige of the old earth's stains.

We saw little of humanity down among the mountains, and they had a startled and surprised look as the two cyclers sped past their humble homes, but there were birds, bees, and butterflies, and wild flowers on either hand, and that peculiar silence and charm of a wooded highway.

Soon we saw the steeple of the little church among the buildings and foliage of North Stamford as we pushed up the last of the hills on that hilliest and crookedest four miles in Connecticut. In climbing this last one our Star friend broke a strap and had to propel his machine with one foot the seven miles home, often sitting side-saddle, as ladies do on horseback. We procured spring-water and bananas at Mr. Alvin Weed's, lounged on the grass under wayside trees, coasted the long hills ending at Bull's Head, wheeled serenely into town through Summer Street, and have little else than pleasant memories of a 20 mile cycle jaunt in July on a day that was cool enough for comfort.

Owing to the ice on our road home and about town lately, our back wheel has acquired a habit of writing short-hand notes, dollar marks, etc., and in going down hills is apt to throw in a line or two of Greek and Latin in a way that would make "Mr. Bird O. Prey's" eyes bulge more than usual, but "the Club" is used to winter riding and rather enjoys it. No headers in ours, Messrs. Secretary-Editor and K. K.

Business is so quiet over in a near-by town that you could hear a snowdrop, yet they talk of having a toboggan slide.

We understand that "nothing personal to us" was intended by a local pastor, who in a lecture likened "Time" to a winged Cupid riding a swiftly revolving wheel.

A drunk, who may have been trying to lower his record (which was useless), got under such headway while crossing the street here as to pitch headlong upon the sidewalk and knock down a sober and well-behaved bicycle, which, being tired, was leaning against a post. Had the fracas ended thus no great damage would have been done to the bi.'s feelings (here the writer and owner of the wheel beg to assert that it "is possessed of better sense and more of it," and is of infinitely more use in the world than is the said drunk), but the evil, alcoholic spirit prevailed upon him to pick up the wheel, which, in revenge for the insult, pushed the "no 'count" over backward, and, planting a pedal squarely against his bread-basket, punched with all its weight and might.

Then when the twain came to the scratch for round three, the bi. pulled him over and the drunk found the floundering wheel an uncomfortable bed, for the same pedal struck him amidships and was getting ready to break him up entirely when the owner came upon the scene of action. The "excrescence" was shoved to one side, as one would an old wet rag, and the steel would-be executioner was taken away.

A coldly interesting sight is a snow-storm on the water—provided the spectator is not exposed to a cutting wind from the "nor'west by nor', half-west." Great flakes come down as if they would add to the white of the whitecaps, but, instead, are swallowed up, and the blue-gray waters only look the colder and more forbidding.

The vessels come and go as silently as the snow and vanish into the snowy veil as into a fog, and are so soon gone that we look up in surprise to find yonder schooner seemingly transformed into a sloop and bound the other way. Maybe she is a phantom ship, the ghost of a privateer in chase of some luckless merchantman, and has just cut away a mast the more thoroughly to disguise herself; possibly her skipper is a madman, chiefly mad on account of the snowy fog, which doubles the lookout and risk, and riles his temper in more than one way.

How the steamers boom out their long and repeated signals of danger and steam on through this white bridal veil of old Mrs. Neptune as if they disdained any such freak of the elements as this! Little of it can they blot out with their black clouds of coal smoke, which only looks less dense and black as it mingles with it.

Steersmen of small craft have to keep out of the way of the larger, as do the scaly denizens of the deep beneath them, lest they are run down and swallowed up in the twinkling of a flying-jib.

The Secretary of "our Club" averages about 10 miles daily for 315 of the 365 days of the year, and in moments of dejection threatens to give up cycling in order to reduce his inordinate appetite, and, if possible, reduce the grocer's bills! But as soon as the snow or any special hinderance to wheeling disappears, he is as bad as ever again and says that his wheel runs so easy that he has "caught himself back-pedaling on levels and putting on the brake up hills." In view of the 4-going cold facts, who would not be a wheelman and with the cyclers ride? Echo—or the "Night Prowler"—may answer, "Wah-who!"

THE SOLITARY CLUB.

P. S.—We are pleased with the BULLETIN's new heading—that cycles are so prominent and that a lady drives one of them—but the softies, although left out, "nevertheless arrive"—that is, ours does. Say, cannot we have a ladies' column, or, at least, some tidings from them in the BULLETIN?

"Respectfully suggested,"

THE S. C.

OUR CINCINNATI LETTER.

CINCINNATI, January 10th, 1887.

Since it has been such an age since we have seen any correspondence from a Cincinnati cycler to the L. A. W. BULLETIN, a stranger would naturally conclude that cycling in this city of 300,000 was indeed at a standstill. And such, we are sorry to confess, is almost the case, but must add that, like the man in the fight, "though slightly disfigured, we are still in the ring."

Owing to the passage of the "Four Million" bill for improving the streets here, we anticipate a decided boom the coming year. We now have one road to boast of, Race Street, about a mile and a half in length, laid with Trinidad asphalt. It was the racing of the "kids" on this thoroughfare that caused the startling announcement last fall that the Mayor had prohibited bicycle riding in our city. A large conference of wheelmen was held with the Mayor and other officials, explanations followed, and the obnoxious order was rescinded. This now leads us to the subject of parks. We have a beautiful park of over six hundred acres, overlooking the Ohio River, on whose splendid drives wheelmen are never seen (i. e., by the police). The cyclers have made several attempts to gain admittance to this park, but all alike have been fruitless. In a few months another decided "kick" is to be raised, when it is hoped more success will follow.

We can only boast (?) of 200 wheelmen in this vicinity, a mere handful, against which the most rural districts show up as shining lights. The Cinti Club, the first organization, founded in 1880, is now defunct in all but name and lingering memories. The Wanderers (1882) ditto. The Avondale Bi. Club, the latest in the field, and now the largest and most thriving club, has a membership of 30. They have lately purchased a lot on one of the prominent streets of that suburb and have started to erect a two-story club-house, to cost in the neighborhood of a thousand dollars.

The Kentons in Covington, the Brightons and the North Side Wheelmen are still in existence, though lying low this frigid weather. They will be heard from in due season, as spring opens up.

In our next letter we shall try and give a short history of the clubs in our vicinity, and perhaps, also, a description of some of our best "runs." Until then let all bear in mind that this city is not dead, but sleeping, as far as cycling is concerned.

REX.

FT. WAYNE ITEMS.

In our town cycling has made great advances during the past year, for we have excellent gravel roads about us. Indeed, for touring, we believe Indiana, as a whole, has better roads than any other Western State. By March 15th our State Division will have finished a road map and guide to the celebrated turnpikes of central Indiana, where Whittaker and Hollingsworth made their records. These roads can be reached from here over good pikes, with only six miles of ungraveled road, which is rideable at nearly all seasons of the year. The roads are smooth and generally level, with just enough hills to break the monotony and give an occasional exciting coast.

Monday, January 10th, occurred the first of a series of four "promenade concerts," given by the Ft. Wayne Bicycle Club, and was a grand success, over 200 couples being in attendance. The Princess Rink, with a waxed dancing surface of 80x150 feet, was handsomely decorated for the occasion. The concert and dancing music was furnished by our celebrated full brass band of 24 pieces, which has a standing offer of $1,000 to play any band in the State. Financially the concerts are an assured success, and will materially help the Ft. Waynes in their Club-House project.

A header under any circumstances will almost always appear amusing to an on-looker, but one I saw the other day brought a broad smile to the faces of the hard-hearted spectators. The snow here is about 12 inches deep on a level, and in some places has been shoveled off the sidewalks into great heaps. A daring cycler, who thought it would be great fun to take a spin with the thermometer lurking in the neighborhood of zero, had just mounted his machine on the icy pavement when his wheel slipped from under him, and he plunged headforemost into a deep snow bank, and stuck there with his heels dangling gracefully in the air until he was extricated by kind friends. It is needless to say that his machine is now done up in vaseline and hidden from the sight of man.

The "Owl" is continually harping on everything that is Western as "rural." However, we think that our new weekly, The Wheelman's Record, issued at Indianapolis, by P. C. & G. S. Darrow, will compare very favorably with any of the Eastern cycling journals. The first number was issued January 6th, and gives promise of something very great in the future. Verily, Indiana and the West, in a cycling way, is "booming."

KE-KE-ON-GA.

LETTER FROM LONDON.

EDITOR L. A. W. BULLETIN:

I send you the inclosed reprint of the motion regarding reciprocal membership passed at the last half-yearly meeting of the C. T. C., held December 11th, 1886.

RECIPROCAL MEMBERSHIP.

The meeting proceeded to consider the advisability of authorizing the Council to arrange with the German Cyclists' Union and other similar bodies a system of reciprocal membership at a reduced fee for the benefit of English members visiting Germany, and vice versa.

The Secretary introduced the subject. It had always been, he remarked, one of the objects of the Touring Club to spread itself all over the globe, or, at any rate, as far as it was possible. At first sight the above motion might appear to be an abandonment of that old policy. It was, however, really to the benefit of the Club that they should work in harmony with the German Union, and, possibly, with other associations formed upon a similar basis. After speaking of the present arrangement as regards the Continental system of hotel tariffs, he said that it was suggested that members of this Club going on a tour in Germany should apply to him, as the Secretary, for a ticket that would entitle them to the benefits of the German Union; and, similarly, German members coming to this country would apply to the Secretary of their Union for a ticket entitling them to the benefits of the Touring Club in England. The German Union, he said, would only be too glad to enter into some such arrangement, and their official representative in Germany, himself an Englishman, was very strongly in favor of this proposal.

Mr. Sidey (Edinburgh) moved that the Council be authorized to arrange with the German Cyclists' Union accordingly.

Mr. Laing (also of Edinburgh) seconded.

Mr. Logan (Glasgow): "There is only one observation I would make. That is, change the word English into the word British." (Loud cheers from the Scottish members.)

Mr. Sturmey asked whether this was intended to apply to the Continent only, or whether it was intended to take into communication on the same lines the League of American Wheelmen, because arrangements, or, rather, propositions, were brought up and a scheme Committee appointed some years back to go into that matter? He should like to know if anything had been done finally with that, and if this resolution had anything to do with America as well as the Continent and other countries?

The Secretary replied that it appeared to those who had discussed this question that, during the interval since the Committee referred to by Mr. Sturmey was appointed, both the League of American Wheelmen and the German Union had made very remarkable strides, and really it would be out of the question to make exhaustive arrangements—at any rate, in Germany. He did not think that by passing this resolution they would be tying the Council to adopt the same system in America. That was a matter which the Council would have to decide on its merits. The German Union was not a new body nor a small body

It possessed good members, and that was, he thought, a very good start.

The resolution was thereupon unanimously agreed to.

As the Cyclists' Touring Club offers no earthly advantage to its American members, I do not see why the L. A. W. should not secure for our members touring in England the same reciprocal privileges that the German Cyclists' Union and the C. T. C. hope to obtain for their respective members, more especially in view of the coming L. A. W. tour. The present C. T. C. tariff arrangements are of no value, there being absolutely no reduction excepting in very rare cases; more frequently the tariff is higher than the ordinary hotel charges. But the hotels are good, the hand-book is extremely valuable to a tourist, and the Chief Consuls supply the most desirable information on every subject freely and generously. Though I am now receiving letters from L. A. W. members who contemplate touring over here, and I have advised many to join the C. T. C., would it not be better for the L. A. W. Board at its next meeting, or sooner if it can be done by any of the committees, to enter into negotiations with a view to reciprocal membership with the C. T. C. and the German Cyclists' Union, and possibly other Continental cycling institutions? If the Board thinks well of it, and authorizes me to act in this matter, I will endeavor to carry it out to the best of my ability. Such a reciprocal arrangement would greatly facilitate next year's L. A. W. tour.

JOSEPH PENNELL.

WESTERN WARBLINGS.

KANSAS CITY, MO., January 15th, 1887.

Harry G. Stuart, First-Lieutenant of the "Outing Cyclists" and Kansas City correspondent for several cycling papers, has semi-officially announced his intention of making his future home in the far West—in short, in the glorious climate of California. I believe the time for his departure is not yet definitely settled, but we shall probably lose him early in the spring. The wheelmen of this city, and especially of the Club of which he is a member, will miss him very much. Like that of Lydia E. Pinkham, his sweet smile will haunt them long after his departure.

* * * * *

Mr. T. W. Overall, League Representative from Kansas City, has gone East on a business trip and will attend the next meeting of the Board of Officers before he returns. He has made a very satisfactory Representative to the wheelmen of this city and his re-election is almost unanimously desired by them. He is a responsible business man, an enthusiastic wheelman, and possesses considerable influence among our citizens. He makes at least two trips to the East each year. These he is able to make at the time of some of the meetings of the Board of Officers, so that Kansas City is represented in at least one of those august assemblages each year. This cannot be said of St. Louis, with its boasted preponderance of members and Division officers.

* * * * *

The American Wheelman (St. Louis) in its fight for the abolition of the amateur definition is sometimes obliged to exaggerate to a somewhat painful extent in order to give weight to its alleged arguments. In a recent issue it begins an article on this question with the following:—"We present below a number of opinions from some of the most prominent members of the League, men of standing and experience both on the track and in the League legislative body." To many wheelmen who doubtless imagined themselves tolerably well informed on League matters in general, and especially of the most prominent men in the organization, before reading this article, the information that among the aforesaid most prominent members are numbered E. P. Burnham, Chas. P. Adams, L. B. Hamilton, W. W. Stall, R. H. Punnett, S. P. Hollingsworth, T. R. Finley, A. O. McGarrett et al., will be considerable of a surprise. That their opinions on League affairs should have any more weight than those of the plain every-day private in the rear ranks of the League will hardly be acknowledged by thinking men. Many wheelmen will probably wonder how it happens that O. A. McGarrett, Secretary of the American Cyclists' Union; T. R. Finley, professional cyclist; E. P. Burnham and Chas. P. Adams, promateurs, and W. F. Knapp, are prominent League members. The article also says: "The other class, which seems to be in a decided minority, expresses itself as decidedly opposing any change." Of course! Why shouldn't they appear in the minority in this article? Even with my limited knowledge of the feeling of individual League members and other cyclists toward the amateur rule, I feel able to make such a selection of names that the space devoted to the answers in this article would be entirely filled with those in favor of abolition. This, however, does not prove the feeling of a majority of League members to be in favor of it. "The other class" is not in the habit of doing very much or very loud talking, but when the time for voting comes it advances in solid column. This class has heretofore proved itself to be in anything but a decided minority, and present appearances indicate that it will keep right on saying nothing and voting for the retention of the present definition.

SCRIBBLER.

WASHINGTON CYCLE CLUB NOTES.

Judge Snell, who presides over the police court of our city, is a very impartial judge so far as cyclists are concerned, and it is so much the better for them that it is so. The other day a colored cycler (and by the way, we have quite a number of colored cyclers in our city, and, I believe, a colored cycle club) violated the well-established law relating to cyclists riding on sidewalks, and not only violated the law, but ran over and injured a child of tender age. For this offense our impartial judge fined the young man $10. Our Club, as representative of the cycling fraternity, deeming it proper that Judge Snell's action in thus promptly punishing willful negligence should receive the approval and indorsement it deserved, and to show that cyclists are in favor of impartial judgments in relation to cyclists, adopted resolutions to that effect, and forwarded a copy to the Judge. The Judge has promised to stand by us whenever our rights are abused by the drivers of vehicles, and we propose to stand by him in condemnation of illegal acts on the part of wheelmen.

The last hop, given Friday, January 7th, was the greatest success of the season. The large hall of the Club-House was thronged, but not uncomfortably crowded. The music was good, and the dancing was thoroughly enjoyable. The members had brought their "best girls," as was evident by the many pretty faces floating around, and when the > "Music arose with its voluptuous swell,

> Soft eyes looked love to eyes which spake again,
> And all went merry as a marriage bell."

Walter G. Coburn, who has been our Secretary for a long period, and well known to cyclists in and out of the city, having accepted an appointment in the Pay Department of the Navy, was forced to resign his office and membership this week. Quite a party of friends saw him off Tuesday on a journey across the continent to the Mare Island Navy Yard, where he joins the "Alert," which goes on the Pacific station. The poor fellow's face was bathed in tears, so affected was he on leaving home and friends. Our Club has lost an enthusiastic member and a hard worker. Upon resigning his membership, he was presented by the President with a gold Club badge as a reward for having brought the greatest number of new members to the Club during the past year.

Mr. M. L. Croxall, lately our Vice-President, has been elected Secretary to fill the office vacated by the resignation of Walter Coburn, and, having the interests of the Club thoroughly at heart, is an acceptable acquisition to our list of officers.

CHRONICLER.

NEW ORLEANS NOTES.

A new idea has seized the largely developed brains of our Club members, and once more hope of securing a Club-House animates them to new zeal. The well-known skating-rink building, at the corner of Prytania and Washington Streets, is for sale, and no less a project than its purchase by the Club is what occasions our activity.

The rink is situated in the very fashionable centre of the "Garden District" of New Orleans, and is only one square distant from the asphalt of Saint Charles Avenue—the wheelman's highway. The building is substantial in structure, ornamental in design, and boasts a maple floor of super excellence—costing alone more than $1,000. The rink is erected upon leased ground, and is offered to the Club, together with its complete equipment of skates, chairs, lamps, cisterns, etc., at a remarkably low figure.

At a meeting of the Club, 12th inst., the proposition for purchase of the rink was referred to a committee consisting of W. L. Hughes, A. M. Hill, and Frank Fenner, who will report at a special meeting to be called for their benefit.

Much is expected of the present plan, and renewed progress and advancement is assured the New Orleans Bicycle Club should it succeed in securing such elegant and desirable quarters.

"Charlie," otherwise Chas. M. Fairchild, is one of the best known of Southern wheelmen. His riding experience goes back over several years, during part of which his racing exploits put him in the front of local ranks. His quarter-mile spurt to-day cannot be excelled in this part of the country. Fairchild is not only zealous in Club affairs, but is an indefatigable road rider. One of the originators of the "New Orleans to Boston Ride," now so celebrated, his experience on that trip has only tended to increase his zest in this branch of wheeling, and his efforts are now devoted to the compilation of what will be an excellent Road-Book of New Orleans and vicinity. This, when completed, will be presented to the Louisiana Division, L. A. W., by which it will, in all probability, be printed.

The cycle notes of our evening Daily City Item have gotten to be quite a readable specialty with that paper, and show the results of the careful editing of one of our most popular Club members.

Who is it that is responsible for the utter worthlessness of all hub lamps? In a lengthy and varied experience with the most expensive articles in this line of "sundries," the writer has yet to find a perfect lamp. Even where one is found that won't jar out, smoke, or melt off some part, the universal leakage of the oil reservoir is someting all manufacturers fail to find a remedy for.

A Flambeau Club has been organized for participation in our coming Mardi-Gras Carnival, and Harry Hodgson is still working on his idea of a lantern cycle parade during the same jolly season.

DIXIE.

ORIOLE NEWS.

BALTIMORE, January 10th, 1887.

EDITOR L. A. W. BULLETIN:

In reading our BULLETIN we very seldom see an article from the "land of oysters," so, if you will pardon our liberty, we will try and send you some little news.

The Rambler Cycle Club, a young body of wheelmen, will soon be in new and more commodious quarters, with Harry W. Barrington as President and John C. Turner as Captain. This Club now numbers about 40, and excepting some two weeks of its early history, has been at home on Madison Avenue Ext., where its quarters, though small, have been very homelike. We wish them great success in the future.

On Christmas night a jollier set would have been hard to find than the one at the "Home" of the Baltimore Cycle Club, which entertained its friends in fine style from 2.30 until 10 P. M. There was singing and dancing going on all the while, as every one after leaving the lunch-room felt in just the mood to participate in such fun. We did, and hope all others had the same happy state of mind. The Baltimores number 70, active and associate, and their house walls show evidence of a large circle of lady friends.

We hear nothing of any note from the Marylands, but hope to soon, as they are the "father Club" of cycling in our city.

Hoping these little articles may some day see the light through your columns, we are

Yours, truly,

"LONE STAR WHEELMAN."

Official Announcements.

LEAGUE OFFICERS.

OFFICERS OF THE BOARD.

PRESIDENT.—Dr. N. M. Beckwith, 21 W. Thirty-seventh Street, New York.
VICE-PRESIDENT.—T. J. Kirkpatrick, Springfield, Ohio.
TREASURER.—Sanford Lawton, Springfield, Mass.

STANDING COMMITTEES.

EXECUTIVE.—N. M. Beckwith, 21 W. Thirty-seventh Street, New York; T. J. Kirkpatrick, Springfield, Ohio; John C. Gulick, 132 Nassau Street, New York city.
MEMBERSHIP.—E. C. Hill, Chairman, P. O. Box 797, Peekskill, N. Y.; Dr. G. Carlton Brown, 16 Broad Street, Elizabeth, N. J.; J. R. Dunn, Massillon, Ohio.
RACING.—Abbot Bassett, Chairman, 22 School Street, Boston, Mass.; Ewing L. Miller, 134 S. Front Street, Philadelphia, Pa.; W. M. Brewster, 309 Olive Street, St. Louis, Mo.; Chas. H. Potter, Cleveland, Ohio; Gerry Jones, Binghamton, N. Y.
RULES AND REGULATIONS.—W. I. Harris, Chairman, Box 5132, Boston, Mass.; Dr. C. S. Butler, 263 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.; Knight L. Clapp, 328 West Sixtieth Street, N. Y.
RIGHTS AND PRIVILEGES.—Charles E. Pratt, 597 Washington Street, Boston, Mass.; John C. Gulick, 132 Nassau Street, N. Y.; A. S. Parsons, Cambridgeport, Mass.
TRANSPORTATION.—Burley B. Ayers, Chairman, 152 S. Hoyne Avenue, Chicago, Ill.; Geo. R. Bidwell, 323 W. 58th Street, New York city; W. S. Bull, 587 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.; J. H. Livingston, Editor The Reformer, Bennington, Vt.; Fred. T. Sholes, Marsh-Harwood Co., Cleveland, O.; Frank Read, Record Building, Philadelphia; Frank A. Elwell, Transcript Office, Portland, Maine; Columbus Waterhouse, 16 Beale Street, San Francisco, Cal.; M. E. Graves (at large), Mannheim Building, St. Paul, Minn.
BUREAU OF INFORMATION.—A. B. Barkman, Chairman and Bookmaster, No. 608 Fourth Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

OFFICIAL HANDICAPPER.

N. P. Tyler, M. D., New Rochelle, N. Y.

THE NEW YORK ROAD-BOOK.

January 15th, 1887.

GENTLEMEN:—On behalf of the Touring Committee, I would report that the New York Road-Book is making most satisfactory progress.

Twenty pages are now in type, and proof is being received from the printers daily.

The style of the route-slip page will, it is thought, be an improvement on both the Pennsylvania and New Jersey, and the Long Island Road-Books—in fact, the Chief Consul of Pennsylvania has already requested permission to adopt our style of page in the proposed revision of the Pennsylvania Road-Book.

The method used to designate quality of grades and surfaces has been proved by practical experience to be far superior to the former method of allowing persons reporting to use their individual adjectives expressing quality, which vary much as to definition, according to the riding ability of the person reporting. The method adopted gives a specific and unmistakable definition to each quality of surface and grade, and does away with any doubt as to exactly what is meant by the symbol used. It also reduces the width of the surface and grade columns, improving the general appearance of the page, and giving more room where it is most needed, in the general directions column.

It is intended to have the method of arrangement of the routes such as will bring the riding of each section together as much as is possible, and in one portion of the book, and not scattered promiscuously throughout the whole work.

The work will therefore be divided broadly into six divisions, namely:

1st.—The Long Island District.

2d.—The Hudson River District and contiguous riding.

3d.—The through routes to Boston and points East.

4th.—The northern route to Buffalo and contiguous riding.

5th.—The Southern route to Buffalo and contiguous riding.

6th.—The routes to Philadelphia, Baltimore, Shenandoah Valley, and the South.

The routes will extend east to Boston, west to Chicago, north, it is hoped, to Canada, and South to the Natural Bridge, Virginia.

The question of maps is receiving the most careful attention, and it is hoped that those issued with this work will excel anything of the kind yet published.

The method of distribution, provided the division of League moneys remain as at present, will be as follows:

All persons joining or renewing membership in our Division during the first quarter will receive the book free.

All joining in the second quarter, upon payment of 13 cents.

All joining in the third quarter, upon payment of 25 cents.

All joining in the last quarter, upon payment of 37 cents.

The book will be sold to League members of other States, and to persons who are not eligible to League membership, at $1.00 per copy.

I would strongly recommend that this Board indorse and most vigorously prosecute the proposition of our Secretary-Treasurer, that the Divisions receive from the national body of the League 75 cents for every new application, as the present distribution of the League moneys is most unfair to the divisions.

Such an arrangement would enable us to give the Road-Book free to every member, no matter what the date of his membership.

Respectfully submitted,
A. B. BARKMAN,
Chairman Touring Committee.

To the Board of Officers, New York State Division, L. A. W.

CONNECTICUT DIVISION.

FIRST SEMI-ANNUAL REPORT OF SECRETARY-TREASURER.

1886.—Dr.
To balance from former Secretary-Treas....	$95 73
July 3d. Cash from E. M. Aaron, dues, etc.	222 28
July 12th. " " "	35 63
Nov. 5th. " " "	10 50
	$364 14

1886.—Cr.
July 1st. By expenses of annual meeting...	$7 50
Sept. 8th. By expenses State parade.....	72 24
Total for stationery and printing..	18 55
Total for postage.....	3 65
Consuls' certificates.....	50
Hotel certificates.....	37
Balance deposited with Connecticut River Banking Co., Hartford, Conn.....	261 33
	$364 14

I hereby certify the foregoing to be a full and true account of all moneys received and paid by me on account of the Connecticut Division of the League of American Wheelmen for the six months ending December 31st, 1886. DAVID J. POST,
Sec'y-Treas.

HARTFORD, January 1st, 1887.

TO CONNECTICUT MEMBERS OF THE L. A. W.

The record of the League of American Wheelmen for the year just closed should strengthen the faith of all American wheelmen in its worth as an organization. It thoroughly demonstrates the reality of the practical benefits which the League places at the disposal of its members as individuals, and fully proves the value of its potent influence as a great organization for the promotion of the cause of cycling at large.

During the year hundreds of touring members saved many times the cost of their membership by availing themselves of reduced hotel and transportation rates, the use of Road-Books, Hand-Books, and other special facilities for obtaining information—all products of the League's organized action. The year's record of law cases, successfully conducted by the League to vindicate the rights of its members as wheelmen, sufficiently attests its claim to afford legal protection. The L. A. W. BULLETIN, aside from its special importance and interest to League members as their official organ, has commended itself as an excellent general cycling newspaper, dealing directly and effectively with all important current questions and topics of the cycling world. For solidity and permanent value, this paper compares most favorably with the best of its contemporaries, and alone is worth more to the wheelmen than the cost of League membership.

But the claims of the League to the wheelman's patronage are not confined to the sum of its contributions to his direct personal advantages. It is largely due to the latent strength of the bare fact that American wheelmen have made themselves known, not as individuals, but as a body thoroughly organized for the advancement and protection of cycling, that the earlier objections to the use of the wheel which assumed that it was a plaything and a nuisance have been gradually overcome during the last few years, and that it is now substantially recognized throughout the country as a legitimate vehicle, and accorded the rights and privileges due to it as such. The deference paid by the world to the combined action of the adherents of a common cause reverts to their benefit as individuals, and to the benefit of all individuals who may have anything to gain by reason of similar interest, and it is especially for what the League has thus indirectly done and is continually doing for American cyclists that every rider in the land eligible to its membership should tender to it his allegiance and continued support. It should not be supposed that the present flourishing condition of American cycling precludes the necessity of future organization work in its behalf. "American roads" is a term full of significance to the cyclist the world over. If the League continues to maintain its last year's percentage of growth in members and strength, the near future will find it able to greatly influence the improvement and better maintenance of many of our highways. It is already bending some of its energy in this direction, and with good results in certain sections. And road improvement by no means exhausts the possibilities of the League's future usefulness. We should not forget the part it plays in administering to the pleasures as well as the necessities of its members. It is certainly desirable that future "meets," meetings, tours, and other fraternal gatherings held under the League's auspices be as pleasantly remembered as occasions marked by the promotion of acquaintance and fraternal good-fellowship among its members as has those of the past. Neither should we overlook the importance of the League's continued jurisdiction over all matters peculiar to the cycling world in America.

During the year 1886 the CONNECTICUT DIVISION OF THE L. A. W. fully kept pace with the National organization in growth and progress. Though territorially a very small State, Connecticut now ranks sixth in the order of precedence as a Division of the League, and on the last day of the year had, in proportion to its population, more League members than any other State in the Union. On December 31st, 1885, we had 355 members, 7 Representatives on the L. A. W. Board of Officers, 23 Consuls, and 13 regular appointed hotels; a year later, and we have 584 members, 11 Representatives, 48 Consuls, and 30 hotels. A marked increase of interest in all matters pertaining to League work has been noticeable. The attendance at our annual meeting, held June 29th, was four times larger than at any previous business meeting of the Division. The annual meet and parade, September 8th, was thoroughly enjoyed, and in every way a pronounced success. That the amount of money used during the year was comparatively small, and strictly and scrupulously appropriated to our actual necessities, may be seen by Secretary-Treasurer Post's report, printed on another page. Work on the Connecticut Road-Book has been somewhat delayed by the continued illness of a valued member of our Touring Committee, but every effort will be used to have it published early in this year's riding season.

The work of the League of American Wheelmen is a good work—better than it would appear from only casual observation. What has here been written concerning the merits of the organization, has been written in the hope that it may possibly present to Connecticut members a more comprehensive view of its best uses; that none of them (if there are such) may be left to suppose that the only incentive to its continued support is to be found in its mere strength in tradition, or the amount of direct personal gain contemplated.

Let every Connecticut member see to it that membership is renewed for 1887.

Let each and every member lay before every desirable wheelman of his acquaintance who is not a member the best reasons for his becoming one speedily.

It may not be inappropriate for the Chief Consul here to state that, even should you so desire, it would be impossible for him to again become a candidate for re-election to the office. He would sincerely thank his constituents for their cordial co-operation and assistance tendered him in the promotion of League work in Connecticut during his two official terms, trusting that the same may be as cordially continued to his successor.

CHARLES G. HUNTINGTON,
HARTFORD, January 1st, 1887. Chief Consul.

KENTUCKY'S ROAD-BOOK.

COVINGTON, KY., January 11th, 1887.
EDITOR L. A. W. BULLETIN:

The result of the vote on issuing a Road-Book by the Division was 37 in favor and one against. By this you see that it was carried by a large majority, and the Committee will at once begin work upon it.

Yours fraternally,
THOS. J. WILLISON, Div. Sec.

THE OWL.

Recently a man was picked up dead on School Street, Boston, and tightly grasped in his hand was a slip of paper upon which was written the following: "The candidates for League President, Bidwell to Terry-fy Kirkpatrick, but if he Bates Rogers you can put on Ayers because Gulick me." The Coroner's jury rendered a verdict of "accidental death from injuries received while discharging his duties as engineer in a pun factory."

I have at last succeeded in getting a daily newspaper here to recognize the importance of cycling to the extent of devoting a space to their interests, and hereafter in Saturday's Mail and Express I shall have a column devoted to the local wheelmen of New York and vicinity. My thanks for the opening are due to Mr. H. Percy Ashley, of the Citizens' Club, whose influence alone secured the placing of such a column in the paper.

Mr. Ed. Blue, of the Citizens' Club, is probably one of the best caricaturists in America, and Puck shows its belief of his ability by paying him $10,000 per year for two illustrations per week, but whatever may have been his successes before, he has fairly eclipsed himself in the designs for the menu of the forthcoming banquet to be given to Thomas Stevens upon his arrival in New York. It will be such a work of art as never has been seen before in the history of cycling, and if the dinner be but in keeping with the menu card, Stevens has a treat in store for him which will go a long way toward making him forget the trials and hardships he has so bravely met and overcome.

The Kings County Wheelmen will indulge in saltatorial amusement on Thursday, the 27th inst. To such as indulge in dancing, this will be a gala occasion, as the K. C. W.'s do such things up in the best of shape.

I hope it was not an attempt on the part of the Executive Committee to corrupt the morals of the out-of-town members of the Board of Officers in calling the meeting for the same night that the great French Ball takes place. I just note this fact here for the benefit of married members, who intend attending the Board meeting, so their wives can understand why their husbands had to arrange to spend the night in New York on business.

I remember well the first time that Doctor Beckwith acted in the capacity of a presiding officer in a public event in connection with a cycling event. It was an awfully cold night in November, '82, and the Ixions had assembled in old 791 Fifth Avenue, the cradle of cycling in New York, to bestow the last funeral ceremonies upon the old building before it was torn down to make room for the present immense grocery store that adorns the site. Doctor was chosen the high-priest of the event, and the unequaled dignity and impressive manner which he fulfilled the position convinced me that his first appearance as a ruler of cycling ceremonies would not be his last, though little did I think then that to-day would see him seated fort he third year in the Presidential chair of the League, and controller of nearly 11,000 members.

Mr. Poultney Bigelow, editor of Outing, speaking of the roads in Japan, regarding which he is thoroughly posted, declares that they are unsurpassed by any place in the world from a cycling standpoint of view. Owing to the almost total absence of any horses there, the roads are broad paths, made from the clayey soil of the country, and beaten hard and smooth by the traffic of tens of thousands of barefooted travelers thereon, so that for cycling purposes their counterpart does not elsewhere exist.

Frank White is happy. President Bowditch, of the Ridgefield Athletic Club, of Albany, has had the timing of toboggans in the club slide carefully made and repeated time and time again by competent timers and a civil engineer, and has proved that the "Star" toboggan is the fastest means of man's locomotion, as they attain a velocity of 93 miles per hour at the point of their greatest speed, which is when they leave the chute and strike the ground.

I made a claim for Mr. A. D. Chandler, a couple of weeks since, as being the first bicycle rider in America, and in connection with same incidentally mentioned him as also holding the globe-girdling record. I give you below his own account of same, published at the time, as I believe not many of your present readers ever saw it when it was issued. It is as follows:

"'Forty miles in four hours' [this has reference to Mr. Chandler's ride from Worcester to Boston on 52-inch 'Special Challenge,' which was the first long road ride in America.—OWL.] was very well by way of diversion; but round the world in four minutes will startle even Jules Verne. Yet the feat has been performed. A few days ago I strolled into the Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia. Where thousands of visitors were to be seen before, I noticed now scarce half a dozen, and these few were lost in the immensity of the place. A little weary on entering, I was soon fatigued with the extent and variety of the show. There were no rolling chairs; I was about to leave, when of a sudden I discovered an exhibit of seven bicycles. Here was the greatest bicycling rink in the universe. It was a chance not to be lost. A few words to the attendant, my overcoat was laid by, and I was off with the world all before me. There was a quickening of pulse; at home in the saddle; and at rest, I could now fly wholly free from fatigue. A few circles in a corner of Canada; then a quiet run in the countries near by; now dismounting for a clearer gaze; now seeing it all from the saddle. But there was a wish to be off; so I took the grand aisle, and bore down with a rush toward the centre. Did an official give chase? What folly! With grand curves I swept by the fountain and seats. Scarce a visitor was seen, so the way was all clear. Now I threaded the intricacies of the Brazilian arcades; now I dashed under the entrance to Spain; and then I was seen afar off in Bengal, on the way to the sights in old China. Taking an aisle at one side, the run would be made at a rate that defied all pursuit; and for sport I would wind around each alternate pillar, till the speed was too great for a curve. Again darting by lofty cases and mirrors, where a spill might have cost a large sum, I raced round the world till the world seemed so small that I stopped from sheer surfeit of travel. My frolic was over; I had condensed a year into a day; yes, much less; so, taking my coat and cane, I walked out with a bow to the officials."

"The Solitary Club" complains of the difficulty he had to get some one to accompany him to Rye on Christmas Day. Had he been in New York he would have experienced greater difficulty in keeping his acquaintances away from rye (whisky) than inducing them to go to it.

"Mud-larking" is the latest and most English way of referring to cycling upon muddy roads.

It was probably after reading something akin to the recent article in the American Wheelmen, signed "The Listener," that Solomon went home and wrote that all men were liars. I differ with the scope of the wise King's assertion, but thoroughly agree with him in its application to the present case in point. It is needless for me or any one else to attempt to refute such childish twaddle, but in regard to Mr. Ducker's candidacy, I would like to say that as for that gentleman, he as far back as a year ago virtually declared his unfitness for the position, and that he neither wanted nor would take the position of President. In a letter to him from Karl Kron occurs the following: "It was a gratification for me to discover, in the course of a talk had with you about this subject last winter, that you agreed with me in thinking yourself not to be a proper person for the Presidency," again in the same letter, "The point which concerns my argument is, that you do not want the place, and cannot afford to take it." This letter, Mr. Henry E. Ducker printed in the Springfield Wheelman's Gazette last May, and by doing so he logically debarred himself from professing to be a candidate, just as certainly as if he had printed the statement over his own signature, and the gentlemen with whose names, appearances, and intentions Mr. Ananias Listener makes so free knew this then and know it now, and were therefore not called upon to adopt Mr. A. L.'s cry of "Down Ducker or Die," or to form the subsequent conspiracy to that end, which is the product entirely of Ananias Listener's empty stomach and still emptier head.

An English cycling paper remarks concerning ladies tricycling, that "the coming girl will ride ten miles a day." She will be sure to get here then.

W. C. Herring is contemplating a tricycle journey through Japan, starting from San Francisco early in June. Such a trip would certainly contain all the essentials of a perfect trip, good roads, novelty, cheapness, and adventure.

I understand that the makers of a popular brand of cigarettes, who have advertised them very extensively through the medium of photographs of their young lady employees in base-ball costume, propose next season to introduce a cycling series of the same kind, entitled "the queens of the wheel."

In the Oranges, both the laws and the girls are against the appearance of tandems on the roadways without belles.

The more I listen to the reasons for and against each of the several hundred candidates for the League Presidency, the more I am convinced that the only one who would thoroughly meet the requirements of the case is such a man as would be eligible for the position of a juror in a New York alderman's trial, where the only ability required is for one to look cheerful, say nothing, and know less.

The sound of the hammering, whereby the plowshares are turned into swords, even now comes with a mutter as from Thor's anvil from across the sea, and in event of the mutter thus given terminating in a European war cry, we may yet see the practicability of cycles for war purposes tested. The first part of this paragraph I stole, the last part, constituting the cycling addition, is original. THE OWL.

PUNCH, THE OWL, AND EAGAN.

"Punch, have you seen the last BULLETIN?"

"Yes, but why the question?"

"'The Owl' gets back at you for your reply to Eagan. Come in."

I wondered why The Owl should "turn me over," so stepped in the office of my friend to be enlightened. I am sorry I did.

The idol of my heart, so far as "picturesque and graphic" language is concerned, had been touched by some withering hand, and I found him transformed into a rat-eating, mouse-devouring Owl. O Egan! I thought your breath smelled badly, but I should never have accused you of this. Now, thou bird so nearly resembling a poor marksman, I wish only to say:

First.—That I shall try to instruct you no further, until you improve somewhat in your reading. By the time you can read well I may have another installment at your disposal. It requires too much time to correct your statements. You ought to take something for it—

Second.—I "kick." I am perfectly willing to be criticised, lectured, "cussed," and thumped for my failures and shortcomings. When, however, it comes to loading up a sentence with 75 words (actual count) in it, and firing it at me, I respectfully object. The line must be drawn somewhere. Think of it. A great, greasy, hissing globule, seething with information (?) and advice, containing 75 words. It is more than a human, especially if he be a "Hoosier," can bear. Who but an Owl would do such a thing? You have done with your yellow fever simile. I do not blame you. There was just as much sense in it as in this sentence of 75 words.

Call again, Owl—call in the day time; you may not see so well, but I can much better. PUNCH.

ST. LOUIS NOTES.

The unwelcome news of Editor Aaron's resignation reached us this week, and was the cause of sincere and unqualified regret on every hand. We feel that the League has lost in him an invaluable worker and the West its most ardent and impartial supporter. There are some who hope he may reconsider his step, and all feel uncertain as to his probable successor, and leading wheelmen are unwilling to venture an opinion, preferring to wait until after the meeting of the National Board. The matter of life tenure of the Secretary-Editor's office, however, elicits but one opinion—strongly in favor of it. We know Mr. Aaron too well to believe that he will desert the League altogether, and will look for an occasional evidence of his continued faith from the straightforward pen with which we have become so familiar.

A meeting of city club representatives was held at the Missouri Club-House on Thursday evening, and the list of League meet committeemen was completed, the following named chairmen being elected: Finance, J. E. Smith; Reception, Edward Sells; Programme, A. K. Stewart; Entertainment, H. C. Cranz; Banquet, G. F. Baker; Races, F. S. Carpenter; Auditing Committee, Messrs. Cooke, Chauvenet, and Young; Runs and Tours, L. J. Berger; Parade, C. H. Stone; Press, W. E. Hickes. General Treasurer, W. M. Brewster, and General Secretary, L. J. Berger. Chief Consul Rogers is General Manager of the meet and Burley Ayers has charge of transportation matters, and has already began operations by endeavoring to secure a reduced rate from Chicago and other points to the city.

Burley Ayers' plan, which is to induce Eastern wheelmen to come to the meet via Chicago, spending a day at that point, is commendable, and the meet will also afford a fine opportunity for Eastern cyclists to make a circuit of the principal Western cities. At home here things are going along smoothly generally, and the outlook for a successful meet grows brighter as the time draws near. The clubs are showing a great deal of enthusiasm in a financial way—in fact, they are now having a little squabble as to how the various funds shall be disposed of. The Eurota Club met on Wednesday and the eight members present started things with a rush, $215 being subscribed on the spot. This Club numbers only fourteen members but is well known as being right on hand when there is a call for assistance. The Missouris have set $1,000 as their mark, and with the Eurotas are only awaiting the time for a proper disposal of the money. The Ramblers, whose demise was a foregone conclusion last week, have made an assessment to cover a $600 fund, of which I will speak below. It is rumored that they intend using this as a separate fund for exclusive Club use, and this is the bone of contention, the others sitting back and saying that if that is to be the caper they will have to do likewise. I do not apprehend any trouble, if, indeed, the Ramblers succeed in collecting their assessment.

The special meeting of the Ramblers last Monday was a large-sized surprise in that the Club did not disband. The application for admission to the Missouri Club having been rejected, it was the general sentiment that dissolution was at hand. During his preliminary remarks on Monday, however, Mr. Glover, a member, who was not aware of the Club's position, not having attended the previous meeting, arose and made a rousing speech which went straight to the boys' hearts, and which would have made his brother, who is a member of Congress, green with envy. To satisfy Mr. Glover, and also to prove his assertion that the Club could no longer pull together, Jack Rogers then moved an assessment for meet purposes, and, to his surprise, the motion and an amendment calling for expulsion if assessments were not paid, was carried. There has been considerable kicking about the legality of the amendment, however, and as the Club's affairs remain in the same unsatisfactory shape, it is again confidently asserted that the next meeting will be the last. Resignations are becoming numerous, and it seems a good plan for the Club to take time by the forelock and not wait for the old fellow to catch them napping by clinging together for the sake of a name when there is no harmony to warrant it. The members show no apathy and have been earnestly discussing the situation, generally coming to one and the same conclusion.

I have been trying to get some expression of opinion in regard to the League Presidency next year, but there seem to be so many candidates in the field, and we know so little of them, with a few exceptions, that those who are asked merely shake their heads. It is believed by a great many that Burley Ayers would receive a very strong support, both East and West, and his ability as an actual worker, and, above all, a peacemaker, is not doubted for a moment. Mr. Kirkpatrick, of Ohio, would very probably get the support due a representative of Western interests if he would reconsider his refusal of last year. C. G. Huntington has no support in the West for the reason that he is not at all known. To put opinion in a nutshell, from what I have heard I believe that if it were not that the West is anxious to see one of its own workers in the executive chair, Dr. Beckwith would be as likely as any one to get the hearty support of Western Representatives.

In connection with League matters, I understand that Chief Consul Rogers has sent on a number of proxies to be voted at to-day's meeting in New York, calling for a changing of the rules so as to dispense with the championship races at the coming meet. St. Louis is in a bad way at present for race tracks, the only available course being a four-lap cinder-path with dangerous corners, and it is generally conceded that the time and trouble incident to the races could be spent to much better advantage in other directions. I hear, too, that a determined effort is on foot to abolish the amateur definition. This means the re-opening of a ticklish question and a vast amount of argument and wrangling, from which I, for one, hope the annual meeting will be spared.

I beg to differ with the "Owl" when he claims that a Mr. Chandler, of Boston, was the first real live bicycler in America. Mr. Richard Garvey, formerly Chief Consul of this State, is authority for the statement that there were two bicycles of French manufacture exhibited in Philadelphia at the Centennial. One of the wheels was purchased by Mr. Chandler, the other by Mr. Garvey, who brought it home to St. Louis. The old wheel, which has a peculiar contrivance for tightening the spokes, is still in the city and is regarded as a great curiosity.

We are on the lookout for Thomas Stevens, and should the great wheelman pass through this burg he will be tendered a royal reception. A man remarked to me the other day, after I had related the exploits of Mr. Stevens, that "it must have been trying, even to a man of his velocipedestrianisteal proclivities." We were standing near the well-known "bakery" of local cycling fame, and I presented the establishment to the gentleman without further ado.

PHŒNIX.

January 15th, 1887.

Official Announcements.

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE OHIO DIVISION.

MASSILLON, O., January 13th, 1887.

At the last meeting of Board of Officers, held at Mansfield, January 11th, a great amount of good work was accomplished—work that is believed will be very beneficial to the Division.

During the year 1886 the growth of our membership has been flattering in the extreme, the percentage of increase being 48. We are, therefore, entitled to a corresponding increase in the number of Repre sentatives, and the Chief Consul has every reason to be congratulated on his recent appointments, having, in every instance secured men who will make efficient workers, and who will be an honor to the Division.

In a great many cases during the year just closed, the Representatives, owing to their limited number, have labored under a disadvantage, as their districts were entirely too large. This year, however, they will be able to manage their work with more system. The State has been redistricted as follows:

First District embraces the counties of Williams, Fulton, Lucas, Wood, Henry, and Defiance.
Representative, J. M. Tryon, Toledo.

Second District embraces the counties of Ottawa, Sandusky, Seneca, Erie, Huron, Lorain, and Medina.
Representative, Colvin B. Brown, Cleveland.

Third District embraces the single county of Cuyahoga.
Representative, Fred. T. Sholes, Cleveland.

Fourth District embraces the counties of Lake, Geauga, Trumbull, and Ashtabula.
Representative, A. E. Ives, Jefferson.

Fifth District embraces the counties of Paulding, Van Wert, Putnam, Allen, and Hancock.
Representative, Dr. J. H. Boger, Findlay.

Sixth District embraces the counties of Morrow, Crawford, Wyandot, Marion, and Hardin.
Representative, George E. Crane, Kenton.

Seventh District embraces the counties of Richland, Knox, Holmes, Wayne, and Ashland.
Representative, A. P. Seiler, Mansfield.

Eighth District, the single county of Stark.
Representative, F. L. Casselberry, Canton.

Ninth District embraces the counties of Summit, Portage, Mahoning, and Columbiana.
Representative, Dr. C. H. Griffin, Ravenna.

Tenth District embraces the counties of Mercer, Auglaize, Shelby, Darke, and Miami.
Representative, W. P. Harmony, Sidney.

Eleventh District embraces the counties of Logan, Union, Champaign, Clarke, Madison, Fayette, and Greene.
Representative, T. J. Kirkpatrick, Springfield.

Twelfth District embraces the counties of Delaware, Franklyn, Fairfield, Pickaway, and Licking.
Representative, Chas. J. Kray, Columbus.

Thirteenth District embraces the counties of Coshocton, Tuscarawas, Guernsey, Muskingum, Carroll, Harrison, Jefferson, and Belmont.
Representative, H. S. Francis, Uhrichsville.

Fourteenth District embraces the counties of Preble, Montgomery, Butler, Warren, Clinton, Highland, Brown, Clermont, and Hamilton.
Representative, Walter H. Aiken, College Hill.

Fifteenth District, the city of Cincinnati.
Representative, A. A. Bennitt, Cincinnati.

Sixteenth District embraces the counties of Hocking, Vinton, Ross, Pike, Jackson, Gallia, Lawrence, Sciota, and Adams.
Representative, Frank M. Smith, Portsmouth.

Seventeenth District embraces the counties of Monroe, Noble, Morgan, Washington, Athens, and Meigs.
Representative, W. H. Slack, Marietta.

As a number of changes have taken place since the 1886 Hand-Book was issued, it has been decided to publish an addenda to the book, containing a complete and correct list of officers, local Consuls, hotels, and such late information regarding routes, etc., as can be obtained. The addenda will be printed upon pages exactly the size of those contained in the Hand-Book, and will be found an excellent addition to the work. They will be mailed free to every member of the Division as soon as published.

A number of complaints have been heard regarding the habit of obtaining reduced rates at League hotels by wheelmen who are not L. A. W. members. It has been determined by your officers to break up this "dead-beat" system if possible, and the following plan has been adopted. A printed notice with a ribbon attached for hanging in some convenient place will be sent to each League hotel in the Division. The card will contain a notice to the landlord instructing him to require any wheelman who receives entertainment at his hotel to produce his League membership ticket before granting him a reduction in the rates. It is expected that local Consuls and members will see that this rule is enforced so far as in their power. Hereafter when touring do not forget to take your membership ticket with you, as you will certainly be refused a reduction in case you cannot produce it.

An invitation from the Richland Ramblers to hold the next annual meet at Mansfield was accepted.

The Ramblers are a wide-awake Club, and there is every reason to believe that the 1887 meet will be the most enjoyable one in the history of the Division. The programme is in the hands of a competent Committee, and when announced will be found an excellent one. It is deemed advisable to hold the meet on an earlier date than that of last year, owing to the fact that a large number of the members find it impossible to leave their business in September, therefore it has been decided to place the date about the middle of July.

It is earnestly hoped that every member of the Division will renew his membership at once, thereby lending his aid to an organization which has done so much for the cause of cycling.

In closing let me urge every member to undertake a little missionary work among the wheelmen in his respective locality. There are a large number of unattached wheelmen all over the State who would make good members, and can be induced to join our ranks. It will only require a little extra effort on the part of each member to show them the error of their way and bring them into the fold. It costs you nothing, and it will help the L. A. W. So wake up! Make up your mind that you will be the means of bringing in at least one member from your neighborhood, and by this time next year the increase will be 100 per cent. instead of 48.

The Board of Officers desire to thus publicly express their thanks to the Richland Ramblers for the use of their Club-Parlors and the very courteous entertainment and attention shown them during the late meeting.

Fraternally yours,
GEO. S. ATWATER, Sec.-Treas.

MINUTES BOARD MEETING NEW YORK STATE DIVISION.

AT GRAND UNION HOTEL, NEW YORK, JANUARY 15TH, 1887.

Meeting called to order at 8 P. M., Chief Consul Bidwell presiding. Representatives Messrs. Barkman, Luscomb, Beck, Butler, Moses, Bridgman, Gulick, Beckwith, Shore, Warner, Alley, DeGraaf, Potter, and Vice-Consul Bull personally present.

Chief Consul Bidwell spoke at length regarding the proposed State encampment at Otsego Lake, Cooperstown, N. Y., as in connection with the annual meeting, and called for a full discussion of the matter. Several of the Board responded as in favor of the same.

Dr. Butler moved that the encampment be held. Carried unanimously.

Dr. Butler moved that a committee of three be appointed to make arrangements and take full charge. Carried.

Mr. Luscomb moved that a regular heading of letter heads and envelopes be adopted for use by the officers and committees of the Division, and a committee of the Chief Consul, Chairman of Touring Committee, and Secretary-Treasurer be empowered to secure the same. Carried.

Mr. Gulick moved that the Chief Consul, Secretary-Treasurer, and all chairmen of committees be provided with stamped envelopes as in connection with the previous motion of Mr. Luscomb. Carried.

Chief Consul Bidwell spoke regarding a Club in New Brunswick desiring to join the New York State Division, which was conceded would be unconstitutional.

Moved that Chief Consul Bidwell's bill for stenographic services of $48.00 be approved. Carried.

Mr. Luscomb moved that the Secretary-Treasurer be directed to pay the railroad fare of a sufficient number of Representatives to cast the entire Representative vote of New York State at the meeting at St. Louis next May, and that the Chief Consul appoint the Representatives who shall be so selected, himself to be one. Carried.

Report of Touring Committee was read and adopted.

Mr. Luscomb moved that the meeting assembled go into Executive Session as a Committee of the Whole, to discuss important matters to be brought before the National Board, at the meeting of the 17th inst. Carried unanimously. At 9 P. M. the meeting went into executive session.

At 11.30 P. M. the Board reconvened. Mr. Gulick, Chairman of the Committee, moved that the report as a whole be adopted and placed on file. Carried. Mr. Potter moved that the Chief Consul, with such members as he may choose to be associated with him, draft resolutions looking toward the punishment of the party, a member of the League, publishing the libelous articles in the Wheelman's Gazette aimed against the President of the League. Carried. Meeting adjourned at 12 P. M.

Respectfully submitted,
E. K. AUSTIN.
Secretary-Treasurer.

INDIANA NOMINATION.

We, the undersigned L. A. W. members of the Crawfordsville Ramblers, nominate Mr. W. H. Pontious, of Crawfordsville, Ind., as a candidate for the office of Chief Consul for the State of Indiana.

Respectfully,
TOM. B. NICHOLSON, 11,844,
HARRY T. COONS, 12,418,
HARRY C. BISHOP, 416,
DADE S. CADE, 9,191,
ALONZO J. LEE, 12,419.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, IND., January 17th, 1887.

Correspondence.

The Editor wishes it distinctly understood that he is not responsible for the statements and opinions expressed in these columns.

WINTER WHEELING.

FERNANDINA, FLA., January 10th, 1887.

EDITOR L. A. W. BULLETIN:

In a previous letter I was so much absorbed in portraying the cycling advantages of Fernandina beach that I neglected to make mention of the Tallahassee hills, and I hope the genial members of the Florida Cycling Club will not take umbrage that I failed to make their roads an exception when I made the assertion that Florida roads generally were distinctly unrideable, for the Tallahassee boys certainly have some very good riding in and about their city, as four members of the Fernandina Bicycle Club discovered while on a visit to the "Floral City" last summer.

We were obliged to transport ourselves and wheels by rail from Fernandina, but were amply repaid for the journey by the hospitality shown us by the Florida Cycling Club and the pleasure experienced in the riding while in Tallahassee.

The roads about Tallahassee are very hilly, and at times are particularly hard to ride, as the soil is of clay and sand, which in wet weather makes very muddy and hard wheeling. Still, our visit was made immediately after several days of rain, and we found but little trouble in riding all the hills, but this is probably accounted for by the fact that the time of our trip was during the heated season, and the ground was prepared to take care of much more moisture than it is in the spring or autumn.

To our Fernandina party the hills were a source of great enjoyment, as our home riding is quite on the level, and hills were a delightful innovation for us.

The writer will not forget the Tallahassee hills for some time to come, particularly will the "Beard Hill" be borne in remembrance, and I guess the Tallahassee boys will not forget the "header" that Hubby took in an attempt to get his feet on the pedals when coasting it. Had it not been for something that was "bottled expressly for Perkins' use," I probably would have remembered the occasion more emphatically than I now do. G. R. HUBBY.

OMAHAHAS.

OMAHA, January 9th, 1886.

EDITOR L. A. W. BULLETIN:

Last evening witnessed another large gathering of Omaha's beauty and chivalry at the Exposition building, called out in answer to the announcement that the world's champion, John S. Prince, and Frank Dingby, champion of the Northwest, would meet in a 50 mile trial of speed. It is only necessary to announce a bicycle race in Omaha to draw out the very best of Omaha's people to see it. Cause why? For the simple reason that Prince don't allow even such a thing as a whisper about the magic word "hippodrome." It makes him as mad as a March hare, and the people here have confidence in his assertions that everything is straight, and stand by him in good shape.

Last night both men showed up in magnificent form, and their appearance was the signal for tremendous applause. Every record up to 40 miles was knocked cold. Dingby downed the five mile time by 19 seconds, and between the two they went on smashing records until 20 miles was reached, Prince doing the 20 in 1.2—the best time by one minute and three seconds. At this time it became evident that the pace was entirely too fast to leave any hope of beating Prince's own 50 mile record, which is 2.38.26. The enthusiasm was high, and the anxiety of the boys so great to please the spectators, that they allowed themselves too much go. The race was finished with Prince about 10 feet in the lead; time, 2.51.31.

These men are remarkably well matched, and the spectators came as near standing on their heads as was possible, so exciting was the contest.

Omaha is getting rapidly to the front in wheeling matters and proposes to get still further.

Saturday, January 22d, Prince gives a grand athletic tournament, assisted by the Omaha Turners, at which time Dingby, Prince, and Bullock will ride a five mile handicap spurt, and Omaha's fast amateurs will contest for a medal, given by Mr. Prince.

We are still waiting for Mr. "Spokes" Morgan to show up, but he don't show, and, what is more, it is very evident he is afraid to do so. Another letter next week. LUCIEN STEPHENS.

TRANSPORTATION.

The following notice has been issued by D. M. Kendrick, General Passenger Agent of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad, dated January 1st, 1887:

"Bicycles, when accompanied by the owner, or some person in charge, who is without other baggage, and holds a first-class passage ticket, will be carried free by this company, at owner's risk, in baggage cars of local trains, when they can be handled conveniently, provided they are delivered to station baggagemen and release of liability signed at least ten minutes before time of departure of train. Train baggagemen must not receive bicycles for transportation in baggage cars unless they come to them through the station baggageman.

"Tricycles will not be received for transportation in baggage cars." B. B. AYERS, Chairman.

RECENT CYCLING PATENTS GRANTED.

Nat. Brown, Emporia, Kansas, swing bicycle.
W. S. Evans, Clyde, Ohio, bulletin board.
Wm. C. Hall, Sycamore, Ill., laying concrete.
A. P. Merrill, Fall River, Mass., wheel for velocipede.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date and published in accordance with Article III of the Constitution, which is as follows:

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Applicants will please bear in mind that in addition to the two weeks, as above, it must necessarily take several days for their ticket to be issued, as it passes through two hands before being mailed to them. After four weeks from date of publication you may look for your ticket.

It is expected, and it is the duty, of all members to examine the list of applications for their respective States and report at once any error in name or address, and see that no objectionable person is admitted to the League. Any objection must be made to the Secretary within two weeks from date of publication. It will be considered confidential.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

No. 70—Total, 88.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., January 17th, 1887.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION—6.

Bay City Wheelmen—3.
13301 Cox, Joseph G., 321 Capp St., San Francisco.
13303 Lund, Arthur, 1012 Union St., "
13302 Milroy, D. W., 728 Hayes St., "
Los Angeles Wheelmen—2.
13274 Bullard, F. D., Los Angeles.
13275 Ellis, H. Bert, "
San Francisco Bi. Club—1.
13263 Cobden, T. S., 607 Market St., San Francisco.

CONNECTICUT DIVISION—1.

Ramblers' Bi. Club—1.
13250 Booth, Frank S., Waterbury.

ILLINOIS DIVISION—2.

Unattached—2.
13241 Kelley, J. M., 359 Chestnut St., Chicago.
13248 Walker, W. Ernest, 610 Division St., "

MAINE DIVISION—3.

Portland Wheel Club—3.
13276 Ayer, Charles F., 67 Spruce St., Portland.
13277 Libby, Walter C., care Owen & Moore Co., Portland.
13278 True, F. D., 217 Commercial St., Portland.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION—4.

Cambridgeport Cy. Club—1.
13271 Roop, W. T., 557 Main St., Cambridgeport.
Merrimac Cy. Club—1.
13251 Adams, W. L., Merrimac.
Unattached—2.
13254 Nye, Jos. K., New Bedford.
13308 Porter, Harry L., North Easton.

MINNESOTA DIVISION—1.

Unattached—1.
13244 Rank, E. E., Dover Center.

NEW HAMPSHIRE DIVISION—1.

Manchester Bi. Club—1.
13279 Salls, Herbert, A., care Manchester Print Works, Manchester.

NEW JERSEY DIVISION—1.

Camden Wheelmen—1.
13314 Hurst, Levi, Federal and Haddon Avenues, Camden.

NEW YORK DIVISION—33.

Albany Bi. Club—1.
13236 Michel, F. G., 276 Madison Ave., Albany.
Cortland County Cy. Club—1.
13258 Knickerbocker, Irving B., Cortland.
Ilderan Bi. Club—21.
13280 Barrett, Miss C. A., 21 Concord St., Brooklyn.
13281 Bradley, W. H., 175 S. Oxford St., "
13282 Barker, D. W., 383 Dean St., "
13283 Backus, C. D., First National Bank, New York.
13284 Borland, J. F., 213 Washington Ave., Brooklyn.
13285 Carshaw, E. C., Box 2075, New York.
13286 Denison, C. H., 20 Bedford Ave., Brooklyn.
13287 Hall, E. L., 1238 Fulton St., "
13288 Hawkins, Fred., 637 President St., "
13289 Hornbostel, E., Jr., 39 Second Place, "
13290 Hornbostel, H., " " "
13291 Kepple, H. B., 134 Vanderbilt Ave., "
13292 Manning, Geo., 493 Myrtle Ave., "
13293 Oliver, Thos. E., 328 Degraw St., "
13294 Rogers, N., 641 N. Baltic St., "
13295 Schoefer, J. W., Box 2666, New York.
13296 Seixas, P., 415 First St., Brooklyn.
13297 Wagenfeuhr, E. A., 178 Water St., New York.
13298 Walker, F. W., care Garner & Co., Hudson and Worth Sts., New York.
13299 Warner, G. L., 175 Atlantic Ave., Brooklyn.
13300 Wood, P. L., 191 Schermerhorn St., "
Unattached—10.
13260 Castle, Wilmot, Rochester.
13261 Castle, Arthur, 50 Park Ave., Rochester.
13262 Crouise, Adelbert, 398 E. Main St., "
13316 Elliott, Geo. A., 18 S. Division St., Buffalo.
13315 Hall, Roy C., Westfield.
13305 Jones, Hadley, Little Falls.
13234 McLaren, Chas., 141 Macon St., Brooklyn.
13306 Stacey, Irving F., Little Falls.
13307 Waite, E. B., Jr., "
13317 Wright, A. B., Westfield.

OHIO DIVISION—8.

Toledo Cy. Club—1.
13253 Eldridge, A. W., 155 Michigan St., Toledo.
Unattached—7.
13235 High, E. C., Medina.
13243 Hole, Charles M., Salem.
13246 Holt, E. W., 86 W. Front St., Cincinnati.
13242 Mendenhall, Frank, Salem.
13249 Proctor, Patterson, Navarre.
13312 Skenck, Jos. E., Jr., 73 Clinton St., Cincinnati.
13313 Skenck, Wm. E., " " "

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION—21.

Allegheny Cyclers—1.
13255 Grove, John W., 504 Wood St., Pittsburgh.
Ariel Wheel Club—2.
13273 Holl, Peter S., 251 S. 10th St., Reading.
13272 Willson, Frederick G., cor. 4th and Washington Sts., Reading.
Lancaster Cy. Touring Club—1.
13309 Cooper, Milton C., Terre Hill.
New Castle Bi. Club—1.
13258 Siegle, A. H., New Castle.
Scranton Bi. Club—7.
13266 Beyea, E. M., 131 Wyoming Ave., Scranton.
13267 Beyea, H. D., Dunmore.
13265 Francke, T. H., 421 Franklin Ave., Scranton.
13264 Hull, T. H., Olyphant.
13268 Knight, M. S., Dunmore.
13269 McDougall, J. A., 405 Wyoming Ave., Scranton.
13270 Van Nort, Geo. L., 435 Adams Ave., "
Unattached—8.
13247 Barclay, W. C., Sun office, Altoona.
13233 Focht, Cyrus G., Gettysburg.
13311 Gilgore, Charles H., 18 N. Jefferson St., Lancaster.
13232 Hoffman, Ernest, Gettysburg.
13257 Painter, A. P. N., Kittanning.
13310 Reist, E. G., Terre Hill.
13231 Smiveley, I. N., Gettysburg.
13259 Walker, W. E., 147 N. River St., Wilkes-Barre.

VERMONT DIVISION—1.

Unattached—1.
13304 Moulton, C. E., W. Randolph.

W. VIRGINIA DIVISION—2.

Unattached—2
13245 Bedient, E A., Parkersburg.
13246 Skirvin, Will E., "

UTAH—4.

Unattached—4.
13240 Adams, Willis A., Ogden.
13238 Jennings, Chas. P., "
13237 Lewis, J. S., Jr., "
13239 Nichols, F. E. "

APPLICATIONS FOR LIFE MEMBERSHIP.

No. 3.—Total, 6.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION—1.

Unattached—1.
4275 Mead, Edward E., Northborough.

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION—4.

Pennsylvania Bi. Club—2.
3428 Lewis, Henry A., 1909 Green St., Phila.
3431 Lewis, Arthur P., " " "
Unattached—2.
12118 Lewis, Frank N., 1909 Green St., Phila.
3246 Ludlow, David Hunt, 233 W. Biddle St., Baltimore, Md.

VIRGINIA DIVISION—1.

Unattached—1.
3245 Ludlow, Henry H., Fortress Monroe.

LEAGUE CLUB RENEWALS.

The following League Clubs have renewed through the proper officers the number of members given below:

Jan. 10th, Orange Wanderers, Orange, N. J., . . 42
" " Owl Bi. Club, Bordentown, " . . 20
" 12th, Toledo Cy. Club, Toledo, Ohio, . . . 27
" 13th, Los Angeles Wheelmen, Los Angeles Cal., 10
" " Scranton Bi. Club, Scranton, Pa., . . . 39
" 14th, Bay City Wheelmen, San Francisco, Cal., 38
" " Illinois Cy. Club, Chicago, Ill., ... 32

RENEWALS.

No. 6.—Total, 636.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., January 17th, 1887.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION—53.

9828 Abel, P. L.
12252 Adcock, C. E.
7605 Angel, C.
6610 Biedman, C. A.
7607 Booth, S. F., Jr.
8417 Browning, F. E.
11646 Cole, L.
7609 Cook, F. R.
7638 Cope, R. J.
11647 Cummins, H. C.
6846 Downing, W. W.
11648 Edgar, R.
9698 Ehrenpfort, G. F.
7612 Elwell, F. D.
7613 Farbach, E.
12771 Gilmore, T. W.
7614 Haslett, P. E.
7615 Hill, T. L.
12895 Hopkins, J. R.
12896 Hopkins, W. L.
11490 Humphrey, J. G.
8640 Ireland, A. S., Jr.
7617 James, F. V.
7618 Johnston, F. E.
8422 Magill, R. H., Jr.
7620 Meeker, W. M.
12746 Mohrig, Mrs. E.
7621 Mohrig, E.
7622 Monroe, W. J.
7623 Moore, C. C.
7648 Olds, F. E.
7608 O'Callaghan, D.
7625 Parsons, S.
7640 Plank, J. F.
12927 Robinson, N. A.
9700 Russ, R. R.
7627 Schuster, C. J.
7470 Sears, L.
4210 Smith, O. C.
12851 Sheldon, W. D.
7628 Smyth, R. A.
7630 Thornberg, T.
7632 Tietjen, W.
7634 Tittle, R.
7635 Turner, R. W.
11396 Valiant, F. G.
4720 Von Brandis, G. A.
12945 Welch, J.
7636 Welch, R. M.
11493 Whitson, W. W.
7642 Wilgus, D. C.
7643 Woodworth, R. C.
9701 Zimmer, J.

CANADA—1

9432 Havener, L. C.

COLORADO DIVISION—3.

12784 Allers, J. F.
5632 McKenney, C. F.
8818 Parsons, M.

CONNECTICUT DIVISION—14.

7171 Barnum, G. P.
11125 Burritt, D. F.
9528 Derby, E. G.
11596 Dockendorff, J. A.
10188 Evarts, A. F.
8824 Hubbard, J. B.
1491 Lathrop, W. W.
11869 Lemp, H.
3227 Miller, C. E.
5832 Norton, W. A.
9525 Raymond, L.
10190 Skinner, J. F.
6974 Townsend, C. H.
10540 White, C. T.

DELAWARE DIVISION—3.

6528 Curtis, H. H.
13005 Du Pont, S. F.
12674 Mount, E. M.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA DIVISION—10.

12010 Babcock, W. C.
12991 Berdan, C. E.
2542 Duryea, C. E.
7064 DeMeritt, J. H.
12697 Eisenbeiss, J. A.
12699 Hill, L. C.
1858 Miller, A. J.
1822 Newman, T. A.
12804 Stearns, W. E.
12866 Walker, B. L.

FLORIDA—1.

11118 Southwick, R. W.

GEORGIA—1.

12467 Slocumb, J. E.

ILLINOIS DIVISION—50.

2074 Ayers, B. B.
12831 Baucher, J. J.
6378 Bishop, H. P.
12365 Bowbeer, M.
9186 Brenneman, E. E.
12721 Bristol, W. J.
12512 Broadhurst, T. W.
6866 Buckley, W. B.
12366 Carqueville, E. H.
8198 Carson, J. H.
13049 Cutter, F. B.
3034 Davis, W. A.
12260 Deeves, G. H.
12832 Ferguson, E. L.
10760 Field, A. C.
12604 Fordham, A. C.
11265 Foster, G. B.
7289 Frohock, J. L.
12722 Gale, F.
5874 Gard, J. L.
8846 Gates, H. W.
12175 Goring, J. M.
10333 Griffith, C. R., Jr.
7073 Gross, C. F.
12605 Harris, C. S.
6096 Hartwell, M. W.
12723 House, S. L.
12010 Howe, W. D.
12687 Ingalls, R. S.
12660 Kester, W. C.
10323 Keyes, J. L.
8110 Kintze, G. A. W.
12368 Kloch, C. L.
9546 Lawrie, J. P.
12901 Lamb, C. A.
8847 Lemm, W.
11987 Mason, J.
12724 Mason, G. A.
7776 Miner, L. H.
9362 Neeros, C. S.
12607 Oliver, J. Jr.
12262 Palmer, J. F.
13004 Riggs, F.
10762 Sanders, C. H.
12471 Sloan, T. L.
12020 Street, A. J.
11859 Weil, O. J.
9999 Wilber, M. D.
8199 Wiley, W. L.
10336 Woodruff, F. G.

INDIANA DIVISION—7.

12440 Abbott, J. C.
12814 Heller, J. M.
7253 Johnson, A. D.
11829 Lakin, J. M.
11270 Rieman, C. K.
10010 Roth, W.
11404 Streeter, H. W.

IOWA DIVISION—10.

247 Adams, S. W.
1369 Grosheim, F.
1986 Jarvis, H. E.
6524 Jones, L. E.
5488 Krotzer, J. T.
10570 Krotzer, O.
6556 McGowan, B.
6925 Rall, J. F.
7525 Schultz, L. C.
5780 Seymour W.

IDAHO—1.

11586 Northop, W. N.

KENTUCKY DIVISION—1.

2757 Crawford, N. G.

RUDGE TELEPHONE MAN.

Hello!

Before you put your machine away for the winter, cover all the nickeled parts with Vaseline, and then send 75 cents to Stoddard, Lovering & Co., Boston, for a bottle of Ardill's Liquid Enamel. It will pay you ten times over.

Brooke's Long Distance Lever Tension Saddles, which we are closing out at $2.25 each. No rider can afford to be without one. Order early, as our supply is limited. Former price, $4.00.

STODDARD, LOVERING & CO.,
152 to 158 Congress St., Boston

Special Terms to the Trade.

KANSAS DIVISION—4.

7473 Huston, O. S.
12172 Swift, W. E.
12147 Lydecker, W. S.
12152 Thorp, L. H.

LOUISIANA DIVISION—3.

1685 Hill, A. M.
8214 Hill, Mrs. A. M.
11827 Ruhlman, A. A.

MAINE DIVISION—1.

2042 Dunton, G. E.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION—27.

2051 Arthur, A.
5640 Bryson, A. A.
7856 Cushman, A.
10586 Eustis, W. T., Jr.
11936 Fielden, R. S.
9599 Fitch, A. L.
11664 Goodrich, H. E.
1362 Goss, E. O.
8474 Hanner, J. R.
11335 Hastings, H. B.
10818 Hubbard, J. S.
11946 Jefts, O. A.
9225 Land, L. P.
913 Lou, R. H.
4275 Mead, E. E.
9054 Metcalf, A. A.
12715 Miller, M.
7373 Parker, G. W.
9871 Perry, G. H.
12448 Roots, W. H.
10825 Sargent, P.
9437 Small, L. F.
12858 Tibbitts, F. R.
7184 Wadsworth, H. B.
12802 Wade, W.
4615 Wentworth, W. E.
2705 Young, J. M., Jr.

MICHIGAN DIVISION—9.

4881 Bassett, H. J.
3481 Beal, J. E.
11670 Dean, H. D.
9737 Hankerson, A. H.
10600 Nichols, F. W.
3719 Snow, H. M.
7277 Starr, J. T.
4880 Steel, R. G.
12998 Von Essen, A.

MINNESOTA DIVISION—1.

6918 Manchester, M. J.

MISSOURI DIVISION—9.

8004 Ashcroft, H.
9743 Beach, E. N.
9233 Bremser, J. W.
12459 Campbell, A. H.
1576 Ellis, C. B.
10603 Lewis, E. S.
7013 Louderman, H. B.
9241 McDonald, C. L.
11535 Parsons, L. H.

NEW HAMPSHIRE DIVISION—14.

2939 Bennett, H. M.
2744 Berry, W.
12416 Fish, C. H.
1096 Kennard, S. C.
12417 Laing, E. R.
2745 Moulton, F. O.
3760 Newton, J. E.
10860 Palmer, C. D.
1202 Parker, F. R.
5928 Price, W. J.
8942 Price, D. E.
2743 Sheriff, M.
4456 Temple, C. E.
10861 Webster, H. E.

NEW JERSEY DIVISION—86.

1540 Baird, E. P.
1819 Baird, W. T.
8944 Baldwin, Mrs. C. W.
7688 Baldwin, C. W.
5023 Barnes, H. S.
9459 Beebe, E. C.
7689 Belcher, W. A.
7690 Belcher, W. H.
8237 Booth, C. M.
8238 Booth, W. L.
9758 Brewster, E. M.
9753 Brewster, Mrs. E. M.
10624 Brick, J. E.
2371 Brokaw, W. H.
3792 Burr, C. E.
10440 Cole, T. B.
8948 Compton, J. H.
7691 Coursen, F. E.
8945 Cowdrey, A. E.
5000 Cutter, W.
10622 Day, J. W.
8949 Dey, C. L., M. D.
12075 Dodd, E. W.
7693 Douglass, H. C.
12886 Elliott, I. L.
2169 Franklin, B. W.
12302 Freeman, C. W.
8946 French, C. S.
12890 Garwood, C. R.
8737 Gilbert, F. C.
7695 Gray, Dr. T. N.
8733 Grover, W. R.
10913 Harris, J. E.
26 Hass, E., Jr.
12633 Hawkins, D. L.
7696 Hening, C.
3793 Hoffman, C. P.
11288 Hornberger, A.
8552 Howell, N. P.
30 Hudson, P. O.
7698 Johnson, Dr. A. H.
7699 Johnson, L. H.
7700 Johnson, Mrs. L. H.
12504 Joy, C.
766 Kellogg, E. L.
8947 Kellogg, Mrs. E. L.
10625 Kenner, J.
12070 Landesman, H.
1400 Leddell, C. S.
10623 Lindsley, C. A.
11613 Lloyd, B.
3790 Mathews J.
9895 Meeker, A. S.
6716 Miller, E. D.
9754 Miller, R. S.
7701 McCoy, W. D.
3791 Newell, H.
12309 Osmond, G. P.
6257 Phipps, G.
5678 Porter, L. H.
7309 Porter, Mrs. L. H.
9755 Rodman, R.
7702 Root, T. S.
4503 Sanger, Dr. R. M.
12133 Saylor, W.
8544 Saylor, W. B.
11548 Smith, H. W.
509 Smith, Mrs. J. W.
310 Smith, J. W.
4105 Solymon, C. J.
7887 Spencer, F. A.
10922 Stephenson, C. S.
9896 Stetson, H.
12004 Sullivan, H.
9897 Taylor, Rev. W. F.
7704 Thomas, H. B.
7705 Wells, H. H.
12091 Whittemore, S. W.
2558 Wiese, F. G.
3652 Wiese, L. W.
3653 Wiese, H. B.
9454 Winans, I.
10258 Wolcott, H. A.

NEW YORK DIVISION—99.

10466 Abbotson, J. D. Jr.
7897 Alexander, J. A.
5980 Allen, C. W.
10635 Anderson, L. P.
10636 Austin, E. M.
8595 Babcock, Rev. M. D.
8572 Bailey, W. C.
280 Beck, A. R.
2175 Bergtold, W. H., M. D.
6936 Bierce, M. S.
3878 Birdsall, E. T.
9765 Bradley, H. L.
11783 Brown, C. G.
9930 Butler, S. M.
7731 Calkins, R. L.
6747 Clark, E. S.
1769 Coykendall, E. H.
9931 Cunningham, W. M.
11205 Darrison, F. G.
9767 Davison, A. L.
11616 De Rouville, H.
1339 Edmans, F. P.
4907 Edmans, A. F.
8963 Ehlers, R. J.
3089 Elliott, W. S.
12776 Emanuel, O. W.
9912 Farnsworth, F. C.
8574 Far, H. H.
9932 Ferris, W. A.
12615 Field, H. H.
6396 Fitch, G. S.
4390 Garrison, J. W.
8575 Greason, J.
8576 Greenman, H.
12186 Griffen, H. E.
7898 Guild, E. L.
9934 Harer, A.
8578 Hayes, L. L.
2468 Howe, F. E.
7040 Hutton, W. O.
7041 Hutton, S.
7042 Hutton, L. H.
7436 Hutton, F. J.
6539 Ingalls, L. W.
9652 Insley, E.
10587 Ives, W. T.
11781 Jackman, J. C.
5 Jenkins, F.
10988 Johnson, W. C.
267 Kittinger, H. D.
10071 Hughson, W.
10072 Hughson, Mrs. W.
12805 Hussey, F.
10466 Abbotson, J. D. Jr.
7897 Alexander, J. A.
5980 Allen, C. W.
10635 Anderson, L. P.
10636 Austin, E. M.
8595 Babcock, Rev. M. D.
8572 Bailey, W. C.
280 Beck, A. R.
2175 Bergtold, W. H., M. D.
6936 Bierce, M. S.
3878 Birdsall, E. T.
9765 Bradley, H. L.
11783 Brown, C. G.
9930 Butler, S. M.
7731 Calkins, R. L.
6747 Clark, E. S.
1769 Coykendall, E. H.
9931 Cunningham, W. M.
11205 Darrison, F. G.
9767 Davison, A. L.
11616 De Rouville, H.
1339 Edmans, F. P.
4907 Edmans, A. F.
8963 Ehlers, R. J.
3089 Elliott, W. S.
12776 Emanuel, O. W.
9912 Farnsworth, F. C.
8574 Far, H. H.
9932 Ferris, W. A.
12615 Field, H. H.
6396 Fitch, G. S.
4390 Garrison, J. W.
8575 Greason, J.
8576 Greenman, H.
12186 Griffen, H. E.
7898 Guild, E. L.
9934 Harer, A.
8578 Hayes, L. L.
2468 Howe, F. E.
7040 Hutton, W. O.
7041 Hutton, S.
7042 Hutton, L. H.
7436 Hutton, F. J.
6539 Ingalls, L. W.
9652 Insley, E.
10587 Ives, W. T.
11781 Jackman, J. C.
5 Jenkins, F.
10988 Johnson, W. C.
267 Kittinger, H. D.
11617 Lansing, C. E.
11560 Lassiter, R. T.
9138 Leach, A. M.
836 Lefferts, J. A.
1312 Lowey, W.
12244 Mailler, E. S.
7437 Marks, S. W.
8579 Mettler, H. C.
9289 Meyer, C.
4908 Metzger, M.
3065 Milhau, R. L.
11912 Miller, W. F.
11618 Miller, H. S.
7110 Miller, W. J., Jr.
8388 Morse, F. K.
10460 Oliver, R. B.
2594 Pringle, F. G.
2593 Pringle, W. E.
10262 Rathman, J. H.
286 Raymond, C. T.
6756 Redmond, C. H.
469 Riesenberg, A.
8984 Rich, W. G.
8582 Richardson, W. L.
190 Roy, F. A.
666 Salter, W. B.
8583 Savoye, W. J.
10056 Scott, W. J.
10998 Searles, J. E.
7900 Seeley, G. C.
11206 Shaw, W. E.
11553 Shaut, T. J.
991 Sinclaire, H. P., Jr.
6538 Smith, G. L.
4776 Smith, W. F.
7901 St. John, F. A.
8604 St. John, J. W.
8605 Sutphen J. S., Jr.
8598 Taber, F. C.
11830 Topliff, W. A.
11782 Trevor, J. E.
9279 Ventres, C. C.
277 Ward, C. A.
7902 White, J. P.
9770 Wheaton, A. C.
10107 Wheeler, C. V.
9916 Wilde, L. S.
359 Wise, L. H.
974 Wood, A. G.

OHIO DIVISION—77.

7132 Ambler, C.
11453 Austin, E. F.
2121 Barnett, E. G.
11015 Beard, V. V.
11016 Berdan, L. B.
9132 Berringer, D. F.
1727 Bigelow, C. S.
6588 Bissell, A. F.
10116 Bissell, F.
10669 Blue, O. P.
12689 Boice, F.
1723 Brown, A. H.
12691 Brown, Mrs. I. A.
10679 Clarke, O. C.
10477 Comly, S. M.
12086 Cronacher, F. A.
6830 Davis, C. E.
350 Draper, C. T.
1730 Elliott, W. H.
4136 Embrey, J.
533 Evans, K. T.
11698 Fessler, C. H.
9486 Grah, E.
1734 Grah, W. Jr.,
11021 Graves, C. L.
1704 Gump, A. W.
10680 Harford, F.
11376 Harper, W. M.
12801 Hart, D. C.
5232 Hubbard, L.
7579 Humphrey, W. H.
7133 Hunt, C. B.
343 Hurford, E. B.
54 Hyde, F. W.
6580 Irwin, C. G.
11006 Jones, T. H.
4241 Kepsay, G.
1944 Kirkpatrick, T. J.
7910 Kirkpatrick, Mrs. T. J.
1728 Kirk, E. A.
10692 Kishler, W.
1736 Kitchen, J. H.
2207 Krause, N. T.
340 Kuhn, W. T.
6087 Lindsley, W. B.
2120 Maxwell, C. E.
12873 Medill, W. D.
2944 Mergenthaler, A. E.
1733 Miller, R. H.
12600 Miller, N. W.
6586 Morgan, W.
11002 Morrow, W. H.
11454 Newton, E. W.
11008 Oberly, C. L.
9298 Olds, H.
2939 Olds, D. H.
10475 Painter, C. D.
9299 Pierce, R.
8612 Piper, L. R.
12807 Plessner, W.
5365 Potter, W. J.
576 Rice, W. G.
1342 Richards, E. E.
5616 Richards, H. E.
2629 Scudder, J. K.
341 Shanafelt, W. H.
11028 Shaver, C. F.
4295 Spahr, J. W.
8059 Thompson, L.
11010 Tonner, J. A.
1726 Tryon, J. M.
12050 Vogel, W. C. H.
10480 White, G. A.
9303 Wheelock, A.
2212 Winter, C. A.
2278 Worthington, R. A.
10676 Young, B. S.

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION—95.

7141 Arnold, C. W.
12092 Biery, A. L.
8618 Black, T. A.
9495 Bradley, J. J.
2017 Campbell, A. B.
11063 Carpenter, T. J.
11064 Collins, J. W., Jr.
288 Conklin, C. C.
4058 Connolly, B. P.
11461 Critchlow, L. W.
6943 Critchlow, J. N.
7918 Crocker, H. W.
10704 Crowther, H.
306 Dotter, W. H.
4253 Dotter, J. C.
12082 Essich, W. W.
12083 Essich, W. S.
2579 Escher, B.
5882 Evans, E. P.
8152 Felt, J. P.
8150 Felt, C. H.
11941 Firmin, G. D.
3330 Fillmore, H. A.
1234 Franklin, E. B.
2543 Franklin, W. M.
4059 Geiger, J. A.
1240 Gillespie, C. J.
11819 Gleim, W. S.
5275 Goodman, J.
1907 Hand, F. C.
7455 Harding, H., Jr.
10508 Heaton, R. A.
12544 Heeley, E.
9491 Henwood, S. R.
11047 Hill, C. L.
12578 Hoffman, C. P.
11944 Hull, J. A.
6688 Hull, H.
8619 Ives, H. M.
1619 Jermyn, G. B.
11851 Jessop, C. J.
4778 Jessup, G. A.
908 Kelly, D.
2768 Kelly, H. P.
1901 Kolp, A. J.
4160 Langfeld, S. C.
9163 Lanning, A. H.
4783 LaTouche, R. M.
7141 Arnold, C. W.
12092 Biery, A. L.
8618 Black, T. A.
9495 Bradley, J. J.
2017 Campbell, A. B.
11063 Carpenter, T. J.
11064 Collins, J. W., Jr.
288 Conklin, C. C.
4058 Connolly, B. P.
11461 Critchlow, L. W.
6943 Critchlow, J. N.
7918 Crocker, H. W.
10704 Crowther, H.
306 Dotter, W. H.
4253 Dotter, J. C.
12082 Essich, W. W.
12083 Essich, W. S.
2579 Escher, B.
5882 Evans, E. P.
8152 Felt, J. P.
8150 Felt, C. H.
11941 Firmin, G. D.
3330 Fillmore, H. A.
1234 Franklin, E. B.
2543 Franklin, W. M.
4059 Geiger, J. A.
1240 Gillespie, C. J.
11819 Gleim, W. S.
5275 Goodman, J.
1907 Hand, F. C.
7455 Harding, H., Jr.
10508 Heaton, R. A.
12544 Heeley, E.
9491 Henwood, S. R.
11047 Hill, C. L.
12578 Hoffman, C. P.
11944 Hull, J. A.
6688 Hull, H.
8619 Ives, H. M.
1619 Jermyn, G. B.
11851 Jessop, C. J.
4778 Jessup, G. A.
908 Kelly, D.
2768 Kelly, H. P.
1901 Kolp, A. J.
4160 Langfeld, S. C.
9163 Lanning, A. H.
4783 LaTouche, R. M.
7141 Lee, P. B.
7134 Leigh, W. H.
12118 Lewis, F. M.
3428 Lewis, H. A.
3431 Lewis, A. P.
12308 Lippincott, J. T.
1900 Levy, S. C.
1232 Merritt, J. W.
3917 Monies, A.
3284 Morris, H.
2537 Mosher, L. O.
6290 Mott, G. S.
6838 Moxley, F. C.
1893 Musser, J. S.
312 McLenegan, J. L.
4780 Parrott, F. E.
3271 Paxson, C.
3361 Potter, H. W.
12316 Ranck, S. H.
12084 Ray, W. H.
1627 Roe, J. F., Jr.
1903 Sanderson, G., Jr.
4059 Schlager, J. R.
12996 Schmidt, J. C.
3241 Shank, C. E.
6963 Silkman, C. W.
4782 Simpson, H. P.
9320 Smith, F. A.
2711 Spencer, J. A.
705 Stern, H. B.
4161 Stern, M. B.
474 Stites, Rev. W. S.
10139 Stuckey, J. S.
11571 Sweet, F. G.
867 Taylor, F. H.
4060 Van Nort, J. J.
1245 Van Storch, T. C.
2533 Vandling, E. M.
1863 Wallace, H. C.
1231 Ward, F. B.
2535 Ward, C. S.
2538 Warner, W. F.
3138 Watts, F. D.
3331 Weston, C. S.
8620 Wheeler, W. H.
3543 Willson, C. G.
1057 Wright, C. A.

RHODE ISLAND DIVISION—8.

11083 Carr, Miss J.
8412 Crawley, W. H.
11244 Cross, Jo H.
10142 Gladding, C. F.
12496 Howland, A. W.
12545 Knight, A.
12070 Sammis, F. E.
11242 Wilks, H. G.

TENNESSEE DIVISION—1.

12716 Endsley, W. McG.

UTAH—1.

5790 Griffin, S. J.

VERMONT DIVISION—7.

7757 Bass, A. E.
734 Bragg, F. W.
5981 Holmes, J. E.
12213 Hubbard, W. E.
2210 Marshall, N. S.
2388 Ross, W.
1462 Weatherhead, F. S.

VIRGINIA DIVISION—3.

9826 Henning, W. S.
7055 Schaap, A. K.
6907 Spindle, J. P.

WEST VIRGINIA DIVISION—25.

10536 Beal, L. A.
10732 Bodley, W. K.
11592 Brast, C. E.
7239 Bullard, Dr. R. H.
11111 Burt, R. B.
12743 Byers, C. C.
12384 Cecil, J. M.
12101 Glass, J. P.
3313 Gruber, H.
9330 Grubb, J. W.
3739 Hoge, T. A.
12787 Hughes, J. E.
11645 Kleives, C. A.
3700 Morrison, Dr. F. S.
12388 Myers, Dr. E. C.
2203 McCoy, W. D.
12389 Northwood, H.
12914 Prickitt, W. B.
7650 Smythe, R. J., Jr.
12915 Stachlin, J. M.
7554 Van Keuren, C. E.
12916 Ward, C. E.
253 Wheat, A. A.
8102 Winship, F. L.
3695 Wilkinson, H. P.

WISCONSIN—5.

7162 Blakeslee, O. S.
7163 Canfield, E. L.
12040 Earle, L. W.
8090 Moulton, H. T.
7217 Peck, G. W., Jr.

WYOMING—6.

3621 Corthell, N. E.
331 Dimmitt, J. M.
2953 Greenbaum, C. S.
2954 Owen, W. O.
3307 Seeman, J. W.
3078 Wassing, C. P.

"In a word, a cycle bearing must be in that apparently paradoxical condition, at the same time very tight and very loose; that is, perfectly free to spin, and entirely rigid, allowing no shake in the parts."—Victor Catalog.

IT BEATS THE WORLD,

AND THE WORLD IS HARD TO BEAT.

1405 Miles in 142 Hours!!

Ridden by ALBERT SCHOCK, at Minneapolis, in competition with most of the great American professionals.

Mr. Schock writes:—"I am pleased with the Victor in every respect. I soon found it a vast improvement on all other wheels ridden by me."

Victor Wheels are built to ride Bicycles, Tricycles, Safeties. Catalog free.

OVERMAN WHEEL CO., - - 182 Columbus Avenue, Boston.

Club Life.

MANCHESTER BICYCLE CLUB.—Officers elected December 3d: F. O. Moulton, President; C. H. Fish, Secretary; C. E. Temple, Treasurer; H. M. Bennett, Captain; J. Newton, First Lieutenant; D. E. Price, Second Lieutenant; C. D. Palmer, Color-Bearer; F. O. Moulton, C. H. Fish, H. M. Bennett, E. R. Laing, and C. F. Sawtell, Club Committee.

KANSAS CITY WHEELMEN, Kansas City, Mo.—Officers elected December 8th for the ensuing year: J. A. DeTar, President; *Wm. Exley, Secretary; A. M. Windolph, Treasurer; *G. L. Henderson, Captain; Henry Ashcroft, First Lieutenant; R. B. Hall, Second Lieutenant; J. Wilfly, Color-Bearer; J. A. DeTar, A. M. Windolph, G. L. Henderson, J. Wilfley, and Frank White, Club Committee; Wm. Exley, J. C. Higdon, House Committee.

OUTING CYCLISTS, Kansas City, Mo.—Officers elected for the ensuing year: *J. F. McKee, President; T. W. Overall, Vice-President; *Nelson T. Haynes, Secretary and Treasurer; F. F. Austin, Captain; *Harry G. Stuart, Lieutenant; Messrs. McKee, Haynes, P. H. Kelley, F. S. Ray, and T. W. Overall, Executive Committee.

CRAWFORDSVILLE RAMBLERS, Crawfordsville, Ind.—Organized December 13th, 1886. Officers elected: W. H. Pontious, President; H. F. Hutton, Vice-President; T. Rass, Secretary-Treasurer; F. B. Nicholson, Captain; H. T. Coons, Lieutenant; Mort. Insley, Bugler; Mort. Keegan, L. E. Cumberland, F. E. Eastlack, Mort. Insley, H. F. Koons, Club Committee.

PENNSYLVANIA BICYCLE CLUB, Philadelphia.—Officers elected for 1887: *Isaac Elwell, President; *C. D. Williams, Vice-President; *Lee R. McKinstry, Secretary; *W. S. Harper, Assistant Secretary; E. M. Aaron, Treasurer; *C. A. Roberts, Captain; The above, with Messrs. H. B. Worrell, John A. Wells, and W. D. Supplee, form the Board of Directors.

NEW HAVEN BICYCLE CLUB, New Haven, Conn.—Officers for 1887: Wm. M. Frisbie, President; H. N. Redfield, Secretary; W. H. Hale, Treasurer; W. H. Hale, Captain; C. E. Larom, First Lieutenant; C. S. Shepard, Second Lieutenant.

LANCASTER CYCLE TOURING CLUB, Lancaster, Pa.—Officers elected January 6th, for the ensuing year: John A. Burger, President; Geo. F. Kahler, Vice-President; C. H. Obreiter, Secretary-Treasurer; S. B. Downey, Captain; D. S. Smith, Lieutenant; Geo. F. Kahler, Bugler; John A. Burger, Color-Bearer.

BAY CITY WHEELMEN, San Francisco, Cal.—Officers elected for the ensuing six months: C. C. Moore, President; W. W. Whitson, Vice-President; Emilio Fahrbach, Secretary; R. M. Welch, Treasurer; W. M. Meeker, Captain; F. V. James, First Lieutenant; P. E. Haslett, Second Lieutenant; C. C. Moore and L. W. Cole, Buglers; F. E. Browning, Color-Bearer.

*Re-elected.

NIAGARA FALLS BICYCLE CLUB, Niagara Falls, N. Y.—Annual election resulted as follows: H. W. McBean, President; W. A. Shepard, Captain; W. S. Campbell, Lieutenant; Geo. G. Shepard, Secretary-Treasurer; A. G. Reeve, Color-Bearer; Otis Phillips and Neil Campbell, Directors.

WALTON BI. CLUB, Walton, N. Y.—Officers elected for the ensuing year: J. W. St. John, President; F. A. St. John, Vice-President; Geo. C. Seeley, Treasurer; John P. White, Secretary; E. L. Guild, Steward; Geo. S. Fitch, Captain.

HYDE PARK RAMBLERS, Hyde Park, Mass.—Officers elected: T. A. Walter, President; F. E. Norris, Secretary-Treasurer; H. S. Pearce, Captain; John Walters, Color-Bearer; Wm. Scott, First Lieutenant; F. G. Head, Second Lieutenant.

GREENFIELD WHEEL CLUB, Greenfield, Mass. Semi-annual election January 4th.—Officers elected: F. R. Hollister, President; G. H. Wright, Captain; F. A. Smith, Secretary-Treasurer; H. E. Ames, First Lieutenant; R. S. Bascom, Second Lieutenant; C. H. Field, Standard Bearer; F. L. Gaines, Bugler; G. H. Wright, F. A. Smith, F. A. Gaines, Executive Committee.

Mr. Hill, whose advertisement of Norwegian snow shoes is in this number, sends us the New York Sun, containing an article descriptive of the Norwegian Skus, or snow shoes, which records a clear leap of 83 feet made on them at the meet of the National clubs in Norway. This seems to be about the liveliest kind of a snow shoe. Send for circular to Mr. Hill.

IMPORTANT.

The Grand Union Hotel, opposite the Grand Central Depot, New York City, is the L. A. W. and C. T. C. Headquarters. European Plan. Rooms, $1.00 per day and upward. First-class Restaurant, at moderate prices. Good care taken of wheels.

FOR SALE, EXCHANGE, ETC.

PATENTS secured on reasonable terms. Work reliable. Papers carefully and legally drawn. Special attention given to inventions in cycling by an experienced wheelman and League member. Write for particulars.
N. L. COLLAMER,
Patent Attorney and Mechanical Engineer,
Room 47, St. Cloud Building, Washington, D. C.

WANTED.—Bicycles and Tricycles for Cash. Gi make, finish, style bearings; state when new, exact condition of all parts, and bottom price, or no notice taken. NEW YORK BICYCLE CO., 21 Worth Street, New York. 4t–101.

FOR SALE.—Club Tandem, new June, 1886; run less 250 miles; fine order, balls all round, safe and very fast. A highly satisfactory machine. Price, $175.00. Address, TANDEM, P. O. Box 1071, Pittsburgh, Pa. tf.*

TO EXCHANGE.—A 52-inch Royal Challenge in good condition, for Remington Type-writer, upper and lower case. EDWIN M. MAYER, 520 Walnut Street, Philad'a, Pa. tf.*

A RARE BARGAIN.—A genuine Beeston Humber Tandem Light Roadster of the very latest pattern, with all improvements. Has never been used. Must go at a sacrifice. PHILADA. CYCLIST'S SUPPLY CO., Box 170, Philada., Pa.

FOR SALE.—Humber Light Roadster 52-inch Bicycle, enamel finish. Run 100 miles. $125; cost $142.50. 1t-ex*.

BICYCLE BUSINESS FOR SALE.—Well established in a city in Massachusetts. The only business of the kind in that section; agents in all surrounding towns also. Well situated, with low rents. Reason for selling, proprietor going abroad. Inspection invited. Address, 237 B., Globe Office, Boston, Mass. 2t-106.

NEW YORKERS, ATTENTION!—A Seventh Regiment Outfit, complete, good as new, in part exchange for a 54-inch Bicycle or Tricycle. Address, P. O. Box 2,901, New York City. 2t-105.

FOR SALE.—Full nickeled Expert, 54-inch, with King of the Road Lamp and other sundries—all in excellent condition. Price, $75. Wish to buy larger wheel. W. H. SLACK, Marietta, O. 107.

STEEL BALLS OF BEST CAST STEEL. For Anti-Friction Bearings. Hardened, Ground, and Burnished. 3-16" to 3" diam. Samples and Prices on application. Simonds Rolling-Machine Co., Fitchburg, Mass.

BROWNING, KING & CO.,

406, 408, 410, and 412 BROOME STREET, NEW YORK.

THE ONLY OFFICIAL CONTRACTORS FOR THE

LEAGUE UNIFORM.

LIST OF PRICES:

Plaited Blouse, $9.50; KneeBreeches, $6.00; Suit, $15.50. Regulation League Cloth, made by the Middlesex Mills, cost $2.00 per yard. League Buttons, large size, 5 cents each; Small size, 2½ cents each. Full set for suit, 55 cents.

TERMS:

All uniforms or parts of uniforms sent C. O. D., with privilege of examination. All orders for cloth or buttons must be accompanied by Money Order. Blank forms for self-measurement furnished on application. Orders for L. A. W. Goods will be received at any of our branch stores, as follows:

136 and 138 Madison St., 144 to 148 Clark Street, } CHICAGO, ILL.
210 and 212 N. Broadway, St. Louis, Mo.
Wisconsin and E. Water Street, Milwaukee, Wis.
76 and 78 West Fourth St., Cincinnati, Ohio; 910 and 912 Chestnut Street, Phila., Pa.
All orders must be accompanied by League number

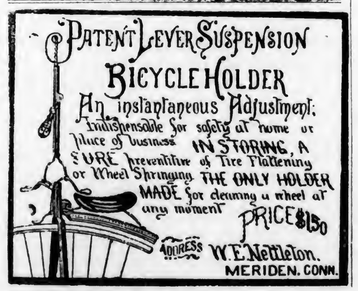
A Tip for You

Have no opinion on Bicycles, Tricycles, Safeties, till you have seen the new Victors. Ready soon.

FOR SALE, EXCHANGE, ETC.

FOR SALE.—Keystone Bicycle Saddle. Business of manufacturing and Patent. A proved success and fine chance to develop. C. M. CLARKE, P. O. Box 969, Pittsburgh, Pa. 4t.*

The most PLEASING and HEALTHFUL of Winter Sports.

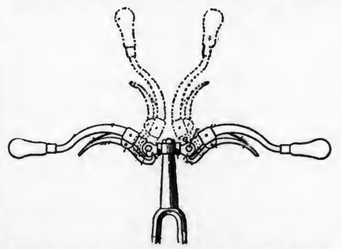


THE NORWEGIAN

Snow Shoe or Snow Skate

enables one to enjoy the most healthful and exciting of winter sports. Over 12 miles per hour on the level, and coasting speed on slopes. A mile a minute has been made on them. Send for illustrated circular Shoes sent to any address for $3.25 if prepaid, or $3.50 C. O. D.

Address, B. B. HILL, 332 East 14th St., New York City.



FOR SALE.—Dirt cheap. One 50-inch full nickeled Standard Columbia, 86 pattern. Condition guaranteed good. Cow-horn and straight bars. C. W. FUNSTON, 2t* Box 375, Bloomsburg, Pa

REBER & SAICH,

Agents for the well-known Club, Premier, and Spalding Bicycles and Tricycles. Old style parts and difficult REPAIRS a specialty.
SALESROOM AND REPAIR SHOP,
149 Academy St., Newark, N. J.

RODES' SAFETY HANDLE.

No more headers. It can be applied to any bicycle. Impossible not to light on your feet. The legs will open the handles without the rider being aware of it. Simple, cheap, and weighs no more than the ordinary handle. Price, $10.00. For sale by

Robt. Rodes, Jr., 40 N. Cherry St., Nashville, Tenn.

OUR SPECIALTY.

Columbia and Rudge Bicycles and Tricycles rented to non-owners for long or short periods at reasonable rates. Only first-class wheels offered. Send for terms. Bicycles and Tricycles also sold on easy payments.

GEO. R. BIDWELL,
Dealer in Bicycles, Tricycles, Etc.,
313 West 58th Sreet, New York City.

BINDERS FOR THE BULLETIN.

To all who wish to preserve their Copies of the Bulletin in good shape, we can offer a "Common Sense" Binder, like the above cut, for One Dollar, post free.

E. M. AARON,
Don't send Checks. Box 916, Philad'a, Pa.

REDUCED TO FIVE DOLLARS to close them out.

The Old Reliable Excelsior Cyclometer.

Each instrument warranted.

KEEP A RECORD FOR 1887, and begin now.

Indorsed by all riders. Send for circular.

Frederick Jenkins, - - 291 West 11th Street, New York.

CUT THIS OUT, AS IT WILL ONLY APPEAR ONCE.

BEFORE ◆ YOU ◆ BUY ◆ A ◆ BICYCLE

of any kind, send stamp to

A. W. GUMP, - Dayton, Ohio,

for Large Illustrated Price-List of New and Second-Hand Machines. Second-Hand Bicycles taken in Exchange and Bought for Cash.

Largest Stock of Second-Hand Bicycles in America.

BICYCLES REPAIRED and NICKEL-PLATED.

A. W. Gump, Dayton, Ohio.

SECOND-HAND GUNS TAKEN IN EXCHANGE FOR BICYCLES.

Before purchasing your mount for this year, see the celebrated

"ROVER" BICYCLE.

FITTED WITH EVERY POSSIBLE IMPROVEMENT.

Faster than a Bicycle.

Safer than a Tricycle.

The "ROVER" BICYCLE as ridden by the Right Honorable Viscount Bury, President of the National Cyclists' Union.

No Skidding or Side-Slipping on Greasy Roads

And no Fear of Falls.

Starley's new Patent Spring Fork is now ready, whereby entire insulation from shocks is obtained in handles, pedals, and seat.

This Fork can also be applied to any tricycle.

Price-lists, testimonials, etc. (including one from Viscount Bury, which every rider should read), post free.

Complete catalogue of all our machines, 2 stamps.

STARLEY & SUTTON, Meteor Works, - Coventry, England.

Ira Perego

128 and 130 FULTON ST., 87 NASSAU ST.,
NEW YORK.

The only Official Outfitter to the L. A. W.

L. A. W. REGULATION CAP,	-	$1 75
" " HELMET,	-	1 75
" " SHIRT,	-	2 25
" " HOSE,	-	1 50
" " SILK BELTS,		1 00

All orders must be accompanied by money order for the amount, also name and League number.

English C. T. C. Cloth, double width, $4.00 per yard.

Patented 1881.

L. A. W. BADGES.

For Gold Pins of the Official Design, send direct to

CHAS. H. LAMSON,
177 Middle St., Portland, Me.,
The Designer and Sole Authorized Maker.

Prices for handsome Solid Gold Pins (stone centres) $3.50, $5.00, $7.00, and $8.00, according to finish and fineness (kt.) of gold. Diamond Badges, $15.00 to $50.00 for the larger pins, and $10.00 to $30.00 for the small size. Send for circular free. Orders by mail, inclosing money order and League number, will receive prompt attention.

Also for sale in New York at M. J. Paillard & Co.'s, 680 Broadway; in Philadelphia by H. B. Hart, 811 Arch St.; in Boston by The Pope Mfg. Co.; in Chicago by The John Wilkinson Co.; in Newark, N. J., by Howard Smith & Co.; in Minneapolis by T. F. Heath & Co.; and in San Francisco by Osborn & Alexander.

New Style H.

TOBOGGANING!!

THE POPULAR TOBOGGAN.

SEND FOR CIRCULAR. DISCOUNTS TO CLUBS.

The most fascinating of winter sports.

Headquarters for Tobogganing Outfits.

Agents for the celebrated "PROCTOR" Toboggan, which for STRENGTH and SPEED excels all others.

NEW YORK BICYCLE CO.
38 Park Place.

DEALERS

will be interested to learn that we are supplying a line of tool-bags equal to imported goods, and at lower prices. We are preparing to manufacture a full line of leather goods for the coming season. Before placing your orders, write McCOY & WILLIAMS, 373 Main Street, Orange, N. J.

BARGAINS!

Now is the time to buy Second-Hand Bicycles. Send size and price you wish to pay. Prices low. Send for Catalogue of the New Rapid.

WM. M. FRISBIE & CO.,
P. O. Drawer 64. New Haven, Conn.

KEYSTONE WATCHES

ARE THE BEST. ASK TO SEE THEM.

ATKINSON BROS.
926 Chestnut St., PHILADELPHIA, PA.

BEST GOODS. LOWEST PRICES.

L. A. W. SUITS,	$12.00
JERSEY CLOTH SUITS,	13.00
CYCLISTS' TOURING CLUB SUITS,	13.00

All garments custom made.
Send for circulars and measure blanks.

Punnett, Tailor and Outfitter, - Rochester, N. Y.

THE SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER,

MANUFACTURED BY THE

Springfield Bicycle Manufacturing Co.

(Yost & McCune Patents),

19 PEARL STREET, BOSTON.

The only absolutely safe wheel against "Headers" made.

It is the best, and it is also the cheapest.

Do not buy a wheel before you see the Springfield Roadster

Coasting without danger. Hill-climbing to perfection. Invented by riders of experience.

PRICE, COMPLETE, - $75.00.

THE "NEW AMERICAN" TRICYCLE,

639 Arch Street, Philadelphia.

We make but one style of machine, and that the best. There are no extras.

NO DEAD CENTRES. FULL POWER UTILIZED. CLIMBS ANY HILL.

The best machine for ladies, as there are no revolving pedals to catch the skirts. The only Tricycle that can be ridden equally well by lady or gentleman, grown person or child.

EITHER RIDER CAN STEER.

May be Ridden by Two Ladies.

HAS AUTOMATIC STEERING.

Reduces in Width to 27 inches.

Has Folding Handle Bar, for Easy Access to Front Seat.

Is the Most Unique Machine of its Class.

THE CUNARD CONVERTIBLE TANDEM.

CUNARD

Bicycles,
Tricycles,
Tandems,
Safeties.

D. Rogers & Co.,
SOLE U. S. AGENTS,
75 Clinton Avenue,
NEWARK, N. J.

☞CATALOGUES FREE.

Copy of Testimonial from T. J. Kirkpatrick, Esq., Vice-President of the L. A. W.

SPRINGFIELD, O., January 11th, 1887.

D. ROGERS & CO.

GENTLEMEN:—Respecting the Cunard Tandem, I have to say that it is beyond question the best tandem yet produced. Its compactness, ease of handling, light running, safety, and the ease with which it may be mounted or dismounted, by either a lady or gentleman, leave nothing to be desired. Its folding handle bar, and the fact that it can be quickly and readily taken through a common door, are features which make the machine a pleasure. I have owned other tandems, but this is the only one that was worth house-room as a convertible machine. I find it a perfect machine, in perfect balance, either as a single or a tandem. I have sought carefully for some three years now for the best tandem, and have given the matter a great deal of thought and attention, and if asked to-day to suggest an improvement in the design and arrangement of the Cunard, I would be free to say that it is as nearly perfect as this type of machine ever will be.

Yours truly,

[Signed] T. J. KIRKPATRICK.

SEND YOUR ORDERS AT ONCE FOR SPRING DELIVERY, AND DON'T GET LEFT.

☞ACTIVE AND RESPONSIBLE AGENTS WANTED.

EXTRACT FROM "CUNARD CYCLE COMPANY'S" PROSPECTUS.

"D. Rogers & Co., Limited, of Newark, New Jersey, will continue to act as agents for the United States. In a recent communication from them they state that the Cunard Machines are very popular, and that they anticipate a large increase of orders for next season."

D. ROGERS & CO. (Limited).

Incorporated under the Laws of the State of New Jersey. CAPITAL $100,000, IN 20,000 SHARES OF $5 EACH. Issue of 5,000 Shares.

Payment to be made as follows:—$2.00 on application, and $3.00 on allotment.

DIRECTORS.

James Smith, 677 High St., Newark, N. J.; D. H. Rogers, 75 Clinton Ave., Newark, N. J.; G. S. Woolman, Orange, N. J.; and two other Directors to be elected at first meeting of Shareholders.

BANKERS:—Manufacturers' National Bank, Newark, N. J. COUNSEL:—Messrs. Coult & Howell, 766 Broad St., Newark, N. J.

PROSPECTUS.

This Company was organized on August 2d, 1886, for the purpose of carrying on the Sole United States Agency for the sale of the celebrated Cunard Bicycles and Tricycles, manufactured by Frank Gibbons, of Wolverhampton, England, and appointing sub-agents therefor; and although its business commenced so late in the season, it has met with unprecedented success, and is already in receipt of numerous testimonials from American Wheelmen.

In December, 1886, however, Mr. Gibbons' business was converted by him into a Limited Company, under the name of the "Cunard Cycle Co.," with a capital of $250,000, which amount was subscribed several times over by public subscription. The following gentlemen constitute the Board of Directors of the English Company:

Viscount Pollington, Sir Stephen Hill, C. B., Major Harry Creigh, W. H. Maitland, C. and M. E., and Mr. Henry Osborne, Late Manager of Messrs. Rudge & Co., Limited, of Coventry, England, who has been appointed Manager of the "Cunard Cycle Co.," reports as follows:

"LONDON, November 26th, 1886.

"THE DIRECTORS OF THE 'CUNARD CYCLE CO.'

"GENTLEMEN:—I have been to Wolverhampton, and carefully inspected the works and plant of the 'Cunard Co.' These works require to be extended to be able to turn out 3,000 'Cunard' machines per annum; but with additional buildings and machinery, for which I have specified, which will cost the sum of £7,000, this could be done, and would show a profit of 25 per cent. on the capital of £50,000. This result is obtained, to my knowledge, by the principal firms in the trade at Coventry, and with Mr. Gibbons' machines, which are equal to those of any other maker, and are becoming very popular, there would be no difficulty in realizing this result.

"[Signed] HENRY OSBORNE."

D. Rogers & Co. have secured most favorable terms from the "Cunard Cycle Co.," and it is on this account, and to provide for the increased business expected in the spring, also for the purpose of establishing branch depots in the most important cities, that the extra capital is required.

It is a notorious fact that all the existing companies for the manufacture of bicycles and tricycles are paying enormous dividends, and that the public has until now had no opportunity of participating in such profits, the capital in nearly every case having been privately subscribed by a few individuals, and no shares can be purchased, even at a very high premium. In the present case, however, it will be readily seen that the low price of the shares ($5) will enable wheelmen and others to invest a smaller or larger sum at their option, thereby availing themselves of the full benefits arising from such investment, in proportion to the amount subscribed.

To enable subscribers residing at distant places to have the full privilege of their votes at any meeting of Stockholders, the Directors have made adequate arrangements, whereby such may be recorded by proxy.

As the Directors anticipate a very large number of applications, they wish it to be understood that the shares will be allotted in strict proportion to the total quantity applied for. If no allotment be made, the amount paid on application will be returned in full.

Prospectuses, and forms of application, with testimonials, can be obtained at the Company's Offices, 75 Clinton Avenue, Newark, New Jersey. The Certificate of Organization may be seen at the offices of the Company's Solicitors.

"Rapid" THE NEW Bicycle"

With The Famous TRUE TANGENT WHEELS AND PALMER DETACHABLE HANDLE BAR.

Confidently OFFERED AS THE HIGHEST GRADE AND EASIEST RUNNING BICYCLE EXTANT.

Send For Catalogue & Testimonials — Photos. 10 & 15 cts.

ENERGETIC AGENTS WANTED

SAML. T. CLARK & CO. IMPORTERS
BALTIMORE, MD.

THE COVENTRY MACHINISTS CO., Ld.

239 Columbus Avenue, Boston.

Before buying a Tandem, you should see the new "CLUB" TANDEM, with automatic steering, and the MARLBORO TANDEM, the best three-wheel Tandem made.

CATALOGUE FREE.

KIRK BROWN,

6 SOUTH BROAD (MERRICK) STREET, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

SOLE PHILADELPHIA AGENT.

THEOPHILUS WOBBLE'S

Trip Around the World

ON A BICYCLE,

ILLUSTRATED,

Commenced in

TEXAS SIFTINGS,

July 3d, 1886.

FOR SALE BY ALL NEWSDEALERS.

Back numbers can be obtained from Texas Siftings Publishing Co., 240 Broadway, N. Y.

If you want to come out in the Spring with your Bicycle or Tricycle looking like new, before putting your machine away use a bottle of

ARDILL'S

LIQUID ENAMEL!

For touching up or entirely re-enamelling

BICYCLES AND TRICYCLES

THE RUDGE.

Hard as Marble. Dries Instantly, without any unpleasant smell, and produces a Jet Black enamel surface in One Operation. It is thoroughly impervious to wet, cold, or heat. Will not crack, and is not liable to chip off. Any one can apply it. A suitable Brush given with each bottle.

Price, 75 cents a bottle. Cannot be sent by mail.

For sale by all Agents, and by

STODDARD, LOVERING & CO.,

152 to 158 Congress St., Boston.

Special terms to the trade.

THE AMERICAN CHAMPION

STILL IN THE LEAD.

20 Miles on a straightaway country road in the marvelous time of 59 Minutes 35⅘ Seconds.

A World's Record.

50 Miles in 2 Hours 55 Minutes 46½ Seconds, the American Record for the distance, and 100 Miles in 6 Hours 1½ Minutes.

A World Record, and better than the American Track Record.

All the preceding by S. G. Whittaker, on an ordinary roadster, excepting a somewhat lighter rim, and the course an ordinary surveyed country road.

If road-records talk, then the American Cycles are the easiest running machines in the World.

Manufactured by

GORMULLY & JEFFERY, Chicago, Ill.

CATALOGUE FREE.

HOW TO JOIN

THE

L. A. W.

Fill up the blank in the adjoining column and, together with TWO DOLLARS, send it to the Secretary of the League,

E. M. AARON,

Box 916, Philadelphia, Pa.

Write your FULL NAME, your FULL ADDRESS, and your CLUB name IN FULL.

Write very plainly.

Application for Membership in the L. A. W.

EUGENE M. AARON, Secretary-Editor,

Box 916, Philadelphia, Pa.

Dear Sir:

Inclosed you will find $2.00 for initiation fee and annual dues in the League of American Wheelmen. I hereby certify that I am over 18 years of age, and that I am an amateur within the meaning of the definition printed below. I refer to the persons named below.

Signed,.....

Club,..... Residence,.....

City and State,..... Date,.....

ARTICLE IV, SECTION 4, of the L. A. W. By-Laws, contains the following Definition of an Amateur:—"An amateur is one who has never engaged in, nor assisted in, nor taught any recognized athletic exercise for money or other remuneration, nor knowingly competed with or against a professional for a prize of any description. To prevent misunderstanding in interpreting the above, the League draws attention to the following explanation: A cyclist forfeits his right to compete as an amateur, and thereby becomes a professional, by engaging in cycling or any other recognized athletic exercise, or personally teaching, training, or coaching any other person therein, either as a means of obtaining a livelihood, or for a stated bet, money prize, or for gate money, competing with, pace-making for, or having the pace made by, a professional, in public or for a prize; selling, realizing upon, or otherwise turning into cash any prize won by him. This rule does not apply to teaching the elements of bicycling solely for the purpose of effecting the sale of a bicycle. The League recognizes as athletic exercises all those sports under the jurisdiction of the National Association of Amateur Athletes of America, including running, walking, jumping, pole-leaping, putting the shot, throwing the hammer, throwing the weights, tug of war, and rowing, boxing, sparring, Lacrosse, polo, roller and ice skating."

TO L. A. W. MEMBERS.

Read the Letter in the adjoining columns, and AT ONCE fill out the blank at the bottom and send it with ONE DOLLAR to

E. M. Aaron, Box 916, Philadelphia, Pa.,

and thus secure for another year your membership in the largest and most popular athletic organization in the country.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY-EDITOR, LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN,
PHILADELPHIA, PA., December 6th, 1886.

TO ALL LEAGUE MEMBERS:

THE ADVANTAGES OF MEMBERSHIP in the L. A. W. are so well known and understood that to most of you anything that I might say on the subject would seem superfluous. But to those who, either from the brief duration of their association with our organization or from the fact that they have not availed themselves of their privileges in the League, are not so assured of its great influence for the general good and their individual good in particular, we offer the following brief summary for their careful attention:

The L. A. W. publishes a first-class weekly newspaper, the L. A. W. BULLETIN, which is in itself full return for the annual dues. It will furnish to each member, on application, during 1887, at a nominal price, a HAND-BOOK of useful information, including the Constitution and By-Laws, Racing Rules, Transportation Rates, Rights and Privileges, etc. The L. A. W. affords the privilege of obtaining an excellent UNIFORM at very moderate cost. The L. A. W. stands ready to protect its members in their legal rights, and to sustain them in their efforts to repeal unfavorable legislation. This it has frequently done in the past.

In addition to the above general advantages, most of the State Divisions are striving to outdo the parent body in granting direct benefits to their members, such as Road-Books, maps, Hand-Books, and reduced hotel rates, to say nothing of meets, parades, tours, and entertainments.

The item of the bond of fellowship which exists between League members throughout the length and breadth of our land is admitted by many hundreds to be worth much more than the price of the annual dues.

Believing that all who intend to continue as cyclers will also continue as members of the League, and that most of those who either temporarily or permanently give up active participation in cycling will remain with us for the sake of the past and of the future companionship, I feel that I have but to call your attention to the League's claims on you for 1887 to insure the return of the blank printed below with your signature affixed and accompanied by your annual dues.

Fraternally,

EUGENE M. AARON, Secretary-Editor, L. A. W.

EUGENE M. AARON. Secretary-Editor, L. A. W.,

Box 916, Philadelphia, Pa.

Inclosed herewith you will find ONE DOLLAR for the Annual Dues for 1887, in the League of American Wheelmen, for the undersigned.

Name,.....

League No...... Address,.....

Club.....

To the Reader.

Although it may be a trifle early, we take great pleasure in calling your attention in a general way to our plans and machines for 1887.

We have investigated every improvement that has appeared upon Bicycles and Tricycles, both in England and America, and have satisfied ourselves as to its value; and although the Rudge machines for next year will not contain any very startling novelties, which are often used for advertising purposes, you can rest assured that we have not been negligent in our efforts to perfect them.

We have been in active correspondence during the last year with a large number of reliable, enthusiastic road riders in regard to improvements on the Rudge machines, and after a careful examination, we have decided to adopt those which we have thoroughly tried and can fully recommend.

Rudge Light Roadster.

We are not quite prepared at present to lay before you the detailed specifications of the RUDGE LIGHT ROADSTER for 1887, but when they are submitted to you, we feel you will at once say, "It stands at the head." We have spared no pains in any respect, and the old favorite comes forward this year better than ever. Be sure and see this machine before deciding on your mount for the year.

Rudge Roadster.

We have entirely remodeled the American Rudge and improved it in many points. In consequence of the large number of cheaper machines, we have discarded the word American, and re-named it the RUDGE ROADSTER.

For a good, strong, reliable roadster, at a moderate price, we think it will lead all others, as it has done for the last three years. It is a machine that we can recommend as a reliable mount at a low price.

Rudge Bicyclette.

We shall also place upon the market the RUDGE BICYCLETTE, the original safety bicycle of the Rover type. This was patented by Rudge & Co. in 1879, both in England and America, and all machines of this pattern are imitations of the original.

The many advantages that the BICYCLETTE possesses in point of safety, comfort, and speed, together with the many valuable specialties, which can be found only on this machine, will at once be appreciated by the large number of wheelmen and intended wheelmen, and as we predict a large sale for it for the coming year, orders should be booked for it early.

Crescent Tricycle.

Owing to the enormous demand in England last year for the RUDGE CRESCENT TRICYCLE, we were unable to fill orders as we desired; but we have made arrangements this year to carry a large stock on hand. This tricycle contains all the essential points of the very latest improvements, being fitted with a large front wheel, bicycle-steering, and a long wheel base, and combines lightness, speed, and ease of running.

We shall carry it in two weights, one for gentlemen and one for ladies, and our new pattern contains many valuable points of special interest.

THE RUDGE FOR 1887

Rudge Humber Tandem.

This popular Tandem is so well known that it needs no description. While we have not altered the main features, it may be seen that the details have received our careful consideration, and many points have been altered with satisfactory results.

Rudge Crescent Tandem.

To meet the general want for a tricycle that can be ridden by two ladies, or by a lady and gentleman, we introduce the RUDGE CRESCENT, feeling sure it will meet the demands of the riders.

It is of the Cripper form, with patent automatic bicycle-steering, and contains all the valued features of Rudge & Co.'s experience.

With these popular machines, it will be seen that we cover all the ground, and we claim that no importer or manufacturer handles so extensive a line of Cycles as ourselves.

These machines are not experiments, but they have been given from one to three years' careful trial in England before we introduced them upon the American market, and the prestige which they have in England, combined with Rudge & Co's. experience and skill in material and workmanship, leave nothing to be desired, and we can with confidence recommend them to our agents and their customers.

All of these machines have been built under our manager's personal supervision; and we place them upon the market, knowing that our reputation is at stake, and feel sure that you will appreciate our efforts, for it has always been our aim to suit the riders.

At present we are very busy in preparing our catalogue, which we propose to lay before you very early in the season, and trust that you will favor us with an order.

Agency.

We have had numberless applications for the agency of the Rudge Bicycles and Tricycles from all over the United States, and we wish to say that we desire only to establish agencies in the bicycle centres, and desire only representatives who are willing to push the sale of our machines.

We invite correspondence on this subject.

Yours very truly,

STODDARD, LOVERING & CO.

No. 152 Congress Street, Boston, Mass.

BICYCLES and TRICYCLES,

New and Second-Hand.

CASH AND EASY PAYMENTS.

GEORGE R. BIDWELL,

313 West 58th Street, New York.

Rented for Long and Short Periods.

[OVER.]

TREAD ON THE L. A. W.

by ornamenting your room, office, house, club, or parlor with a

Smyrna Rug with the League Badge Woven in it.

THE Rug will be 30 inches in width, by 60 inches in length, and will weigh 5½ pounds. It will be alike on both sides, and handsomely fringed at the ends. The League Badge will be brought out prominently in the centre of the Rug, in a harmonious contrast of rich colors, while a border of a cycling pattern will surround the entire rug.

These Rugs will be of the finest grade of Smyrnas made in America, and are a unique and handsome ornament and convenience. The usual price of similar rugs is $7.00, but as I desire to test the demand for the above pattern before making extensive preparations for their manufacture, I will fill all orders received till February 15th at only $5.00 each. I shall weave but 150 of these Rugs to start with, and if I find there will be no large demand for them, I will cease their manufacture at that number, so that any member who really wants one of them, had better send his order to me at once.

WILL R. PITMAN.

351 West 59th Street, - - - - - New York.

[OVER.]

THE BULLETIN

THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN

A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA:

PUBLISHED WEEKLY:

$1.00 A YEAR. 3 CENTS PER COPY. | Philadelphia, January 28, 1887. | VOLUME IV. No. 4. WHOLE NUMBER 83.

From Manitoba to the Gulf of Mexico, from Eastport to the Golden Gate, the Majority of Wheelmen

RIDE COLUMBIAS.

POPE MFG. CO.

79 Franklin St.,
BOSTON.

BRANCH HOUSES:—12 Warren Street, New York; 291 Wabash Avenue, Chicago.

These are our Witnesses.

Nine years of hard service upon every grade of American road has not worn out a Columbia.

THE WORLD'S STORY

of the road and path is a recapitulation of victories by riders of Columbias.

THE WISE WHEELMAN

rides a Columbia; the unwise is getting wisdom and a Columbia.

Mr. Alfred A. McCurdy made the accompanying remarkable record on a 48-inch STAR Bicycle over the Boston Cycle Club's 50 mile course, under A. C. U. Rules, breaking all previous records above 100 miles.

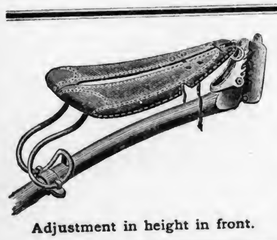
305 Miles in

The following are the new records accepted by the A. C. U.:

150	Miles,	10	hours	24	minutes	30	seconds.
200	"	14	"	35	"
250	"	18	"	58	"
300	"	23	"	38	"
302 5/16	"	23	"	48	"	50	"
304 3/8	"	23	"	57	"	45	"

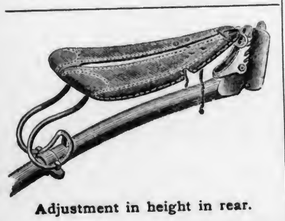
The eight trips to and from his hotel to the point of starting carries the distance up to fully 305 miles.

★ WORLD'S RECORDS ★



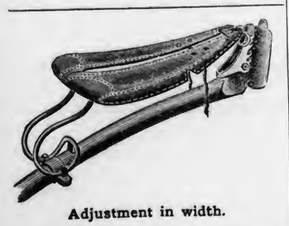
This record proves most conclusively the superiority of the STAR over all crank action bicycles. This is McCurdy's fourth attempt at the 24 hour record, the first two trials being made on crank machines.

His present performance EXCELS BY 50 MILES his best effort on a crank bicycle weighing about 15 pounds less than his present mount.



24 hours

The STAR is the only bicycle that combines in the highest degree the qualities of safety, speed, and hill-climbing.



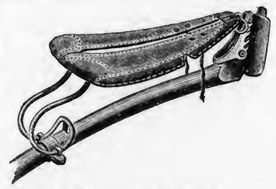
H. B. SMITH MACHINE CO.,
SMITHVILLE, N. J.

Adjustment in height in front.

Adjustment in height in rear.

Adjustment in width.

When you buy, buy the best.
When you order your new mount, order it with only the old reliable

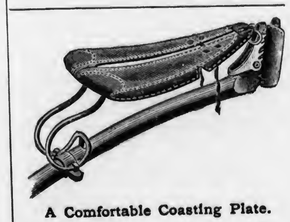


Lillibridge Saddle.

FOR SALE EVERYWHERE.

Price, Nickeled, - - $5.00

Adapted to all makes of machines.
Special styles for the Safeties and Star.



FREEMAN LILLIBRIDGE,
ROCKFORD, ILL.

Adjustment in length.

A Bifurcated Seat.

A Comfortable Coasting Plate.

THE BULLETIN
OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN. PUBLISHED WEEKLY. A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY

ABBOT BASSETT,

For the Executive Committee of the League of American Wheelmen.

AT THE L. A. W. OFFICE,

506 WALNUT STREET, ROOM 12, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

Entered at the Post Office as Second-Class Matter.

SINGLE COPIES, - - - - - - - 3 CENTS.
SUBSCRIPTION PRICE TO OTHER THAN LEAGUE MEMBERS, } $1.00 A YEAR.
CLUBS OF FIVE, - - - - - - $4.00 "

TO LEAGUE MEMBERS.

Until further notice address all letters to the Secretary-Editor to Abbot Bassett, Box 1184, Philadelphia, Pa.

Subscribers should be careful to notify the EDITOR promptly of any change in their address. Great care is taken with the mailing list; failure to receive THE BULLETIN may usually be traced to carelessness on the part of the subscriber.

All matter for publication, whether reading or advertising matter, should be addressed to the EDITOR. All checks should be made payable to his order.

Reading matter, to insure publication in the following issue, must be in the EDITOR'S hands not later than Saturday afternoon; advertisements not later than Monday morning.

Personal controversy, fault-finding, and allusions to manufactures and manufacturers will not be admitted to the columns devoted to reading matter.

The EDITOR must in all cases have the full name and address of the authors of contributed articles as a guarantee of good faith. As the Executive Committee has decided that it is best to discourage the use of assumed names by writers for THE BULLETIN, the EDITOR will publish the author's name unless particularly requested not to do so.

ADVERTISING RATES ON APPLICATION.

Our Circulation this Week is

11,800 Copies.

No. 4. JANUARY 28, 1887. VOL. IV.

The New Secretary-Editor assumes the duties of his office with many misgivings, and with an appeal for charitable consideration while he is yet unfamiliar with the exacting demands of the position. He has no hobby to ride, no policy beyond the desire to do that which will best advance the interests of the League, and, as yet, no well-defined plan regarding the conduct of the BULLETIN. Mr. Aaron has made so good a record in the editorial chair that it will be no easy task for his successor to maintain the high standard of excellence reached. A change in one direction or another is, however, imperative. The very large loss on the BULLETIN must not continue. We cannot say, at this time, just how an improvement will be sought, but we hope to receive the indorsement of the membership at large even though they get very much less matter in the paper. Quality, not quantity, shall be the end we aim at until we can see that we may have a balance on the right side of our ledger and quantity combined with quality in the columns of the BULLETIN.

* * * * *

By order of the Executive Committee the stenographer's report of the meeting in New York will not be published in the BULLETIN. The Secretary-Editor has prepared as full and complete a statement of the business then and there transacted as it is possible for him to do without the report of the stenographer, which has not been received at the time of this writing—too late for use this week. In the report we have given nothing is omitted but the debate. That debate was long, heated, and filled with unpleasant personalities. The Executive Committee is well satisfied with the results of the meeting, and they do not think it for the best that the war should be waged over again on paper. This action of the Committee does not follow the directions given them by vote of the meeting, but they feel that it will be indorsed, for the state of affairs in League circles at the present time is not such as it gave promise of being when the vote was passed. The new Secretary-Editor is in peaceful possession of his office, and he is indebted to the ex-Secretary-Editor for many courtesies and favors. The Executive Committee feels that the best interests of the League demand the action they have taken, and they are in a position to do what they have done without loss of dignity or the sacrifice of principle.

* * * * *

The New York meeting was one of the most protracted and eventful of all those that have been held by the League. It was an important meeting from a business point of view, for very much was done that is calculated to make the wheels of the League's machinery run easier, and many very important additions and alterations were made to the rules.

* * * * *

The Board put itself on record against the abuses of the proxy system. It will be impossible in the future for any official of the League to get control of a meeting and carry it in favor of a pet scheme. The Board not only established a precedent, but they went further, and made a by-law in accordance with their ideas.

* * * * *

One other important decision was made. In future a man vacates the office of Chief Consul or Representative when he takes up his permanent residence in another State.

* * * * *

Chief Consuls may in future fill all vacancies in the office of Representative. It has been the practice for the Consuls to recommend candidates to the President for appointment, and few appointments have been made save in this way. The Chief Consul has virtually held the appointing power, and now he does so in fact.

* * * * *

A League club is now defined and its powers and privileges clearly set forth. Such an article has never before been on the books. In former days the status of a League club has been hinted at in the rules, and beyond this precedent has been its only foundation.

* * * * *

The right of appeal from the action of the Board at its meetings to a mail vote of the members of the Board has been repealed. It was the opinion of the Board that those who go to the trouble and expense of attending the meetings should not have the result of their careful deliberations set aside by those who have less opportunity to weigh the pros. and cons. of a question. And, moreover, the proxy system gives each and every member a chance to be represented.

* * * * *

The amateur rule has been amended. The ground was taken that the League goes far enough when it says to a man, "You are not an amateur, and cannot be one of us," and it exceeds its privileges when it goes farther and tells a man what he is. The Board decided that it could say no more than that a man has ceased to be an amateur. One other change is important. The A. C. U. is, or is supposed to be, made up of racing men, or men who claim to know what the racing man wants. The Union says that a man cannot be an amateur who receives his expenses from a dealer or manufacturer for cycle riding. The League has never taken this ground, but in the face of a precedent of this kind, and in view of the fact that the A. C. U., of England, takes the same position, it felt bound to put itself on record in the same direction.

* * * * *

The League has taken steps to procure a new uniform. The old one was not altogether a success, and exceeding care will be practiced in selecting cloth for the new garments. Bids have been received from leading dealers which guarantee a good article at a moderate price. It is not probable that the cost will be less than that which we have been paying, but it can safely be said that a better uniform will be had.

* * * * *

For several years it has been possible for four members of the League to protest a fellow-member and bring charges which may lead to his expulsion. The number has now been increased to ten, and the possibility of hasty or frivolous action in this direction is now more remote than before.

* * * * *

The Board has accepted the suggestions of the Missouri Division and decided to meet in St. Louis May 20th and 21st, and engage in the programme set down for them by their generous hosts.

* * * * *

Regarding life memberships, we desire to say that all who now apply for them must send $11.00 with their application, unless they have renewed their annual membership. To become a life member one must already be a member of the League, and since all annual memberships lapsed on January 1st, an applicant must first regain this standing before he can be entered upon the roll of life members.

* * * * *

By advice and with the consent of the Executive Committee an arrangement has been made with a well-known lady writer to furnish a ladies' column for the BULLETIN. We have tested the popularity of such a department during our connection with other journals, and we know that it will find favor. We believe that the ladies who have joined the League will hail this announcement with delight, and that they will co-operate with "Daisie" to make this an important feature of the BULLETIN.

TO LEAGUE MEMBERS.

Until further notice address all letters to the Secretary-Editor to Abbot Bassett, Box 1184, Philadelphia, Pa.

THE OWL.

With unvarying monotony comes always the news from Springfield of "All well. Write soon," from which I conclude that health there is as plentiful as correspondents are scarce.

It is pleasant each week to turn from the tentative immaturity of the horde of inchoate wheeling periodicals to the well-matured miscellany of the BULLETIN or the World, and there enjoy the literary cycling feasts prepared for their readers.

Professionals, as a rule, in winter are like angels. They have nothing to wear and less to eat.

Charles Renton, the father of D. H. Renton, and the actual mover of the libel suit brought in the name of the son against the League for his expulsion, has gone to Central America, having gone out of the International Collection Agency owned by himself and son. This puts an end to above-mentioned case.

The Cycle says: "The Massachusetts Division will encamp at Cottage City the coming summer. The Islanders will make it pleasant for the visitors." It might also have added that the bicyclers won't fail to make it pleasant—yes, very pleasant—for the Islanders.

One of the applicants for membership in the C. T. C. last week hails from Saddle River, N. J. Here at last is found a cyclist who may truly claim to live in the saddle.

The medal offered by Mr. Charles J. Scherer, of Memphis, for the best road record made during '87, of not less than 3,000 miles, on a certain make of wheel, will be made by Jens F. Pedersen. I have seen the design, and when I declare that it is one of Pedersen's best efforts in artistic medal making, I think I have said all that will be required to induce hundreds of riders to be awheel early and late during the coming season.

From having no regularly constructed cycling clubhouses, Brooklyn bids fair to have a surfeit of them. Following the L. I. Wheelmen's example in building, the K. C. W.'s will erect a four-story building 20x80 feet, which will be a model structure of its kind. I understand that these two club-houses are to go up within a couple of blocks of each other, which will make both of these Clubs feel that the other is encroaching upon their territory.

Mr. Charles Schwalbach is pushing his business plans. He proposes to have a place in New York as a branch of his Brooklyn store. The Royal Mail will be his pet still. I understand that the importers of this wheel find it cheaper to manufacture here than import, and a contract to build the Royal Mail has been given to a firm not a thousand miles from Chicopee, Mass.

No higher compliment has ever been paid the New York State Division than a recent application to Chief Consul Bidwell from a gentleman representing fifty wheelmen in St. Johns, New Brunswick, who said they were willing and anxious to join the L. A. W., but would only do so provided they could get in the New York State Division. This application shows that the New Brunswickers know a good thing when they see it, and want to share in it.

They are not all flowery roads that the cycling photographer travels. Dr. Kendall once struck a village at the end of a long day's run, and came near getting filled full of buckshot just because he refused to take a hayseed's picture by candle light.

A young lawyer in New Jersey was called upon to defend an equally young client from the suit of an irate horse-owner for suppositious damages resulting from the cyclist having scared the horse. The young lawyer, in the course of his argument for his client, happened to use the word "disparagement," when he was interrupted by the Judge hastily rapping him to order and delivering thefollowing caution: "You gist stop using them Latin words in this here court, or, by gosh! I'll fine yer six shilling for contempt. Go'ing with the case."

Justice is the soapsuds with which we wash the racing lights of record upon the washboard of investigation.

Not the least among the many attractions that will be offered by St. Louis for the entertainment of her League guests will be free beer for all cyclists who visit the Anhauser Brewing Company's establishment during their stay there. I expect this note will bring at least one hundred men to the next meet who did not before intend going. I don't know Mr. Anhauser, and I don't think many wheelmen in my section do, but I am willing to wager an Aaron proxy that darn few of us will come back from St. Louis without affording him that pleasure, if he don't retract this offer before we get there. He needn't trouble himself to send us any further invitation to call. In affairs of this kind the memory of the aver age wheelman is something wonderful, and can be relied on implicitly.

It took New York and Pennsylvania against Massachusetts to put Mr. Aaron into office at Washington three years ago, and it took New York and Massachusetts against Pennsylvania to put him out, and the latter was just as successful as the former. It is an old political axiom that "as Pennsylvania goes, so goes the Union," but when in cycling politics the same rule is threatened to be made toward secession, then I am of the opinion it will fail, as I think Pennsylvania too loyal to the League to secede, and the League too strong to fall even if it did.

In a talk with Henry E. Ducker, I gathered that he was through with cycling, at least that part with which he has always been so prominently identified, i. e., racing and politics. He intends to retire from any active participation in either direction henceforth. In fact, Mr. Ducker this winter is fast going down hill—he is a tobogganist.

I hardly know which was the pleasantest at the meeting, the seeing of many old and familiar faces, each one bringing back to me pleasant associations of events in the past, or the forming the acquaintance of so many new ones, that I know will prove a welcome addition to that already large acquaintance of cycling good fellows with which my journey through wheel life has been crowded. Whether I was entertained at the headquarters of the New York Division by the sedate Buffalo Bull, or at the Massachusetts parlor by the courteous Hayes or that Division's learned medical member and adviser, Dr. Emery, it was always the same; goodfellowship and good company were wherever one went, till it seemed that the two were synonymous with wheelmen, and I believe they are.

Racing Board to Promateurs, Professionals, etc. etc.: "You can't eat your cake and have it too," and adding, somewhat significantly, "You have eaten your cake." Promateurs, Professionals, etc., in chorus. "We know we have, so now let us have the Amateurs' cake."

THE OWL.

IN MEMORIAM.

For the first time since its organization, the Buffalo Bicycle Club is called upon to mourn the death of a member. ALFRED R. GEORGER passed away on the morning of Monday, January 17th, after a brief and painful illness, at the age of 31 years, 1 month, and 11 days.

It is quite safe to say that no man in the Club was more heartily respected and beloved than Alfred Georger. He was always and under all circumstances the same quiet, modest, gentle, genial comrade and friend. His courtesy and kindness of heart were unfailing. While riding on the road he would dismount half a dozen times in as many miles to avoid the risk of frightening a horse. "I can't bear," he would say, "the thought of causing an accident to anybody, however innocently, especially when it's so very easy to avoid it."

He was one of our most enthusiastic and persistent riders. While he never attempted great speed upon the road, he could keep at it as long as anybody, and was one of the very few of our members who have succeeded in accomplishing their hundred miles in twenty-four hours. His was usually among the long distance records at the end of a season. He was also one of our best foot-ball players, playing much in the same manner as he rode—never violently, but always with coolness and self-possession, and generally contriving to be in the right place at the right time.

For fourteen years he was an employee of the German Bank, of this city, and during that time he rose from the position of messenger to that of general bookkeeper of the establishment. Finding that his health was failing from too close confinement to business, he took a trip to Europe last August, but returned without receiving as much benefit as he had hoped. He kept failing gradually, and at last was stricken down in the street with hemorrhage of the lungs. He was taken home and was never again able to leave the house. He suffered greatly, but endured all patiently; and when we looked our last upon his face as he lay prepared for burial, it wore that same gentle, quiet, peaceful look that we knew and loved so well. Peace be unto him!

We met the night before his funeral and adopted this memorial of our departed friend:

MEMORIAL.

Death having removed from our number ALFRED R. GEORGER, we, his fellow-members of the Buffalo Bicycle Club, in special meeting assembled, desire to express our sorrow for his loss. Showing the courtesy and considerate regard for others which spring from a gentle heart, he combined therewith a bearing of unassuming dignity which won for him the respect, as well as the affection of all who knew him.

As an officer of this Club he was regarded as most reliable and trustworthy, and their confidence in him led to his continuance from year to year in positions of trust.

Resolved, That we extend to the bereaved family our sincere sympathy; that this memorial be entered upon the minutes of the Club, and that a copy of the same be delivered to the family.

1611.

BUFFALO, January 19th, 1887.

NOTES FROM BROOKLYN.

At a recent meeting of the Board of Officers of New York State, it was decided that instead of the customary annual meet, we should this year have a State encampment at Cooperstown on the shores of Otsego Lake, this place being chosen on account of its accessibility from all parts of the State. This idea is decidedly novel and will assuredly meet with hearty approval from all sections.

Otsego Lake is about nine miles long and from one to one and a-half miles in width, and is described by Cooper as "a broad sheet of water, so placid and limpid that it resembled a bed of pure mountain atmosphere, compressed into a setting of hills and woods. Nothing is wanted but ruined castles and recollections to raise it to the level of the Rhine." The shores are bold and diversified, and the clear waters teem with fish.

Cooperstown is situated at the south end of the lake, and is about 95 miles from Albany, from whence there is very good riding through a hilly and picturesque country. The beautiful situation of the town, high up in the mountains, with a clear, bracing atmosphere, in the midst of delightful scenery, renders it a charming summer resort. Cooperstown was the home of J. Fenimore Cooper, the novelist, and his pen has rendered the whole region classic. "The same points still exist which Leather-Stocking saw; there is the same beauty of verdure along the hills; and the sun still glints as brightly as then the ripples of the clear water." The site of the old Cooper mansion, burned in 1854, is still pointed out, as is also the tomb of Cooper, near Christ Church. Two miles from the village, on the west shore of the lake, is Hannah's Hill, whence a fine view is obtained; and on the east shore, two miles from the village, is Mt. Vision, which commands a very beautiful view of the lake and the country adjacent, while Rum Hill, seven miles distant, is said to command a prospect of over sixty miles. Leather-Stocking's Cave is on the east shore, one and one-half miles from the village; and the Leather-Stocking Falls (or Panther's Leap) are on the same side, at the head of a wild gorge. The Mohican Glen is on the west shore, three miles from the village, and contains a series of small, but picturesque cascades. There are many pleasant rides in the vicinity, and good highways lead to Cherry Valley, 13 miles; Richfield Springs, 14 miles, and Sharon Springs, 20 miles.

The details of the encampment have as yet not been agreed upon, except that arrangements will be made whereby the touring cycler may pass as many or as few days in this delightful region as he may elect, enjoying every comfort at a much reduced figure. We all anxiously await the final arrangements, and feel sure that when the official programme comes to hand the number of applications for accommodation will be very flattering to the committee having charge of the details.

The roads from Brooklyn to Jamaica have long been a thorn in the side of every cycler of this city who tours on Long Island. All who have ridden thence, and the number is great, will agree that, as a whole, the roads are good, and that it is only in occasional spots the perplexing question of riding or walking arises. Having personally gone over all the routes a number of times, and tried various combinations, I am convinced that all the poor portions of one of the routes could be put in good, if not first-class, rideable shape by the expenditure of about one hundred dollars and the time necessary for some capable individual to oversee the work. The route selected as most feasible for this project is that via New Lots, for two reasons: first, that it avoids that sheol for wheelmen, East New York, and, second, because less requires to be done to put it in shape. The first terror for the novice by this route is the short, sandy hill just beyond the Flatlands Neck Road. The sand here can as a rule be ridden in the horse rut, as can also the very narrow and precarious sidepath on the edge of the bank. An ordinary laboring man could widen this narrow sidepath and put it into good shape, together with the poor piece just beyond, in a day, or at most two days. This would give us good riding to the Bone Factory, where is one hundred yards of deep sand, caused by washing of the rains, and around which a cinder path must be made. Thence we have good wheeling to the Church in New Lots, excepting one spot where sand has been thrown on the path, and which could be removed in an hour. The next spot requiring attention is the sand just before and past the Water Works. A week's labor here would convert the weed-grown turf at the side into a good path, and this, with an occasional patch or two just beyond, would bring us to Liberty Ave. Here lies the important part of the work, which would be to improve the long and very sandy hill by the cemetery. This would require the making of a sidepath of cinders for about a half mile, which could easily be done, and then all would be fair sailing except one sandy hollow about a mile beyond, which could be improved in the same manner. An allowance of thirty days' labor, at two dollars per day, and forty dollars for cinders and incidentals, would, I think, cover every expense. I think this is a matter that should be seriously considered by the Brooklyn Clubs, and if they would get together and form a plan of action, each being assessed for the work, pro rata in proportion to their membership, very much would be done to increase their popularity, and stimulate Long Island touring. The same might be accomplished with much less expense if each club would organize a working body among its members, and undertake to improve a certain portion of the road. This latter plan is quite feasible, and that Club who takes the initiative in this matter will be more than repaid by the popularity they will hereafter attain.

The important event in club life during the past week was the entertainment of the Brooklyn Bicycle Club, on Wednesday evening, January 19th, at which occurred the presentation of the Club medals won during the past year. The cozy parlors had been tastefully decorated for the occasion, and while they were in themselves beautiful, and had hitherto been regarded as commodious, they were totally inadequate to accommodate the number present. The entertainment consisted of musical renditions by the Club quartette, and Messrs. Waterhouse, tenor; Williamson, violinist; Fuller, flute; Day and Major, pianists, and Raymond and Johnson, banjoists; together with recitations by Messrs. Spelman and Wheeler. The presentation of medals then occurred, which event was prefaced by some remarks from Mr. L. W. Slocum, Captain of the Club, who for some months past has been very little with his fellow-clubmen, having been suffering from serious and complicated illness.

His presence on this occasion was much appreciated, and his remarks commanded the intense interest of all present, and were as follows:

"My fellow-clubmen and gentlemen, the medals which are to be awarded this evening were offered, as most of you know, to stimulate and promote touring and road riding among the members of this Club, and the results attained have far exceeded our most sanguine expectations.

"A year ago a record of 2,500 miles was considered a most creditable performance, and was attained by only two members of this Club. To-day we have six who have ridden that distance, two of whom have pressed on to 3,000 miles, one to 4,000 miles, one to nearly 5,000 miles, and lastly, in the person of our worthy President, one who has rolled up the enormous total of 8,086 miles, an authenticated record which is perhaps unparalleled in this country.

"Again, a year ago, 77 miles was the greatest distance accomplished by any member of this Club in a single day. To-day we have eight members who have each covered distances ranging from 100 to 140 miles, and in addition to this we have two who have covered over 200 miles in 24 consecutive hours on Long Island roads, a feat so great that it has led certain unscrupuluous persons to attempt to tarnish our honest achievements by libelous cartoons and innuendoes.

"I would mention, incidentally, for the benefit of those strangers who are with us, that the contest for this 24 hour record medal was particularly interesting and exciting. The first ride of any note was made in the early spring by Mr. B. F. Hawkins, who surprised us all by riding 135 miles inside of 15 hours. This was followed shortly after by a ride made by Mr. A. B. Barkman and myself, in which, after completing a century, we pushed on, more in the spirit of fun and in order to keep the interest alive, until we had in all a total of 140 miles.

"But this was child's play to what followed. In September Mr. Hawkins gave me formal notice that he would attempt to make a record. Scorers, checkers and pace-makers were secured and the trial made, which resulted in a total of 202 miles. A month later Mr. Barkman notified me that he would attempt to break the previous record, and he succeeded in covering 205 miles, while only about 20 hours in the saddle. The season was then drawing to a close, and it was thought by many that this record would stand; but late in November, notwithstanding adverse circumstances, Mr. Hawkins decided to make one more effort. He started, and after riding 22 hours, when almost exhausted by supreme effort and stiffened by the chilling wind, darkness came upon him; but with that grit and perseverance that is characteristic of the man he pressed on, accompanied by our sturdy little 48, and indifferent to numerous falls occasioned by weakness and exhaustion, he finished with a total of 207 miles, a record which, considering the many unfavorable circumstances, is a credit to any man and to his club. Out of 48 men who have reported mileage we have a grand total for the year of 56,000 miles or thereabouts. These figures go to show that, while our home comforts and social enjoyments are not forgotten, we are essentially a wheeling Club.

"It affords me great pleasure to be with you this evening, and for several reasons. It has not been my privilege to be with you much of late, either at your meetings, your social gatherings, or your many entertainments, and I scarcely dared hope to be with you to-night. It gives me double pleasure, therefore, primarily so, to be here in my official capacity, and to welcome you, friends, one and all, and to congratulate the Club on its achievements and success in the year that is past. And on this, the initial entertainment of the New Year, I would urge and encourage you to still greater effort in the year to come, a year which will be to us one of increasing usefulness and still greater prosperity."

Mr. Potter, Vice-President of the Club, then formally presented the medals, 20 in all, with suitable remarks to the recipients, after which the company adjourned to the supper room, and passed the remainder of the evening in discussing the good things and having a jolly time generally. The affair was voted to be the most successful of the many this Club has had of late.

BON.

CURRENT NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Rev. Sylvanus Stall, who is known to many wheelmen as the projector of the clerical tours of '84, '85, and '86, is arranging for a cycling trip to Europe, which will include the Scandinavian Peninsula. The reverend gentleman has recently had his name in the papers for refusing to marry a man who had been drinking. Let us hope that he will find many followers in this stand for what is eminently right.

No. 10,635 takes up the suggestion of Governor Hill, of New York, that "A permanent system for the employment of prison labor be adopted," and suggests that the New York Division use its influence to convince legislators that the roads are in a bad way and sorely in need of a great deal of work. He does not believe that the idea will be carried out at present, but would like to see the ball set in motion that good may come in the near future.

The Chicago Club will remain with the League another year, and the Owl Club will not be outdone in loyalty if the logic of events can be depended upon.

The following Missouri men are Chairmen of the Committees on the League meet: Finance, J. E. Smith, of the Missouri Club; Reception, Edward Sells, Missouri; Programme, A. K. Stewart, Ramblers; Entertainment, H. C. Cranz, Eurota; Banquet, Geo. F. Baker, Missouri; Racing, F. S. Carpenter, Missouri; Tours and Runs, L. J. Berger, Ramblers; Parade, Professor C. H. Stone, Missouri; General Secretary, L. J. Berger, Ramblers; General Treasurer, W. M. Brewster, Missouri.

The Pope Manufactory is now "at home" in its new office on Franklin Street. Mr. Drew, who has been all over America painting advertising signs on dead walls, fences, and old barns, has painted a mammoth sign on the dead wall which rises at the side of the entrance to the new warerooms, and Washington-Street promenaders can read as they pass by.

A very large accummulation of matter on the desk of the Editor demands the services of the editorial-cook. There is a prejudice in the minds of many against cooked-up news, but few will object to boiled down items.

Chas. E. Slick, of Johnstown, Pa., writes: We have in this town a unicyclist who is seen every day upon the toboggan slide on one wheel. He has the advantage of the tobogganists. He rides up the steps and deliberately coasts down the slide; he therefore makes about three trips to the tobogganists' one.

Several correspondents have written us to know if there is any truth in the statement that the Pennsylvania Division is going to "secede." We can give an emphatic "No" to all such inquiries. In the heat of excitement threats of this kind were made last week, but those who threatened would find it no easy matter to carry out the threat. The League has no more loyal Division than that of Pennsylvania. Many of the members of that Division are now anxious to know why certain proxies were thrown out by the meeting in New York. We believe that the action of the Board will commend itself to every fair-minded man. There was a principle at stake, and the Board put itself on record against an abuse of the proxy system that has long existed. Had this action not been taken, and had not the Board inserted a by-law in the code, we undertake to say that we could use our position as Secretary-Editor and employ the stationery of the League in such a way that, with the help of a few friends at St. Louis, we could control the next meeting of the Board of Officers, and direct its legislation in whatsoever way we pleased to turn it. This is all wrong. No servant of the League should have the power to do this, and the League should not leave the way open for an abuse of this kind to creep in. We know that the reasons on which the action was based will commend themselves to the Pennsylvania members, and that they will look beyond the personal matters connected with the struggle and heartily indorse the broad principle that has been set up.

OUR ST. LOUIS LETTER.

If ever the advent of the BULLETIN was anxiously awaited, it has been the case here this week. The daily press brought the first news of the trouble at the Board meeting, but with the exception of these reports, which are believed to be somewhat stretched, we have heard nothing and so look for the official organ to elucidate matters. Small wagers have been made as to its appearance, one report reading that the BULLETIN was being transported bodily to Boston. Discussion waxes warm over the New York unpleasantness and the rejection of certain proxies, and a feeling prevails that the old League is about to suffer a repetition of the troubles which hurt it so a few years ago.

The warm weather of the past week has made the meet seem but a short time ahead, and interest in the great coming event increases accordingly. General Treasurer Brewster has expressed the opinion that the meet fund can be raised among the merchants of the city and the cyclists. Doubtless wheel manufacturers will duly appreciate this desire to lighten the load which usually falls upon them by lending a willing hand if occasion requires. I do not wish to boast, but I am proud of the progressive spirit of a set of wheelmen who are as willing to toe the financial chalk-mark as the local clubs seem to be.

The absence of side issues at the national meet of 1887 will, I think, make it all the more enjoyable. The suggestion that a cycleries be opened in the Exposition Building was promptly sat upon, and if the question of club entertainments or receptions is as easily disposed of, visitors and all will pass the four days of business and pleasure in a harmonious body. In this connection, however, I do not admire the kicking which is being made against the entertainment of guests at the Missouri Club-House. The fact that they have beautiful quarters does not warrant the establishing of rival attractions at the Lindell Hotel.

Another old wheelman has left us and gone over to the great majority. This time it is Louis Lueders, one of the very oldest riders in the city, who died suddenly in Appalachicola, Fla., last Saturday. His remains were brought home, and the funeral was attended by a number of cycling friends.

Scribbler's notes on road-book matters were right to the point. The Touring Committee of five men, in whose hands the work was placed, has thus far been left entirely to its own resources, and I am informed that in some cases repeated appeals for road reports have not even been treated to the courtesy of an answer. J. W. Neill, in the southern section, has tackled any one, from a wheelman to a common, everyday mayor, with varying success, and other members of the Committee express themselves in strong terms when speaking of their thankless task. Several important reports have been obtained, however, notably of two routes from Kansas City to St. Louis. St. Louis to Cincinnati, Quincy to Trenton, and Clarksville to Sedalia. The Kansas City and St. Louis districts are very poorly reported, and it behooves the club captains of these cities to awake with the riding season in this respect.

Speaking of road-books reminds me that when Dick Garvey was about to close his term as Chief Consul, some years ago, he purchased a stencil outfit and tried to organize "sign-board expeditions" into various parts of St. Louis County. Somehow the scheme failed to pan out, the wheelmen, I believe, concluding that if the danger-boards were to placed according to Eastern standards, the number and cost of the boards they would have to lug about the country would be something enormous.

There was a gay time up at the Missouri Club's quarters last night, and it is the opinion of the members that each monthly hop is excelling its predecessors. Captain Brewster has not lost a single opportunity to bring stray talent, either musical or literary, to the front on these occasions, and last night was voted exceptionally good in this respect. The programme consisted of several fine vocal and instrumental solos and side-splitting recitations by some of the best amateurs in the city. The usual hop was enjoyed by over 150 cyclists and ladies, and dress suits and Knickerbockers were en regle. A delicious lunch was spread, and the Decorating Committee spared no pains to make things look comfortable, the dancing hall being ornamented with a cupola of Chinese lanterns, strung from walls to ceiling. The dancers finished the last lap shortly after midnight.

The active membership in the Missouri Club has almost reached the limit of 100, there being, I believe, 90 active members. The troubles in the Ramblers' camp make the prospect of applications grow brighter than ever, but I hear that in spite of the valuable acquisitions which could be made in this way, there will be strong effort made, when the time for discussion of the limit question comes up, to fix the number finally at 100, the argument in its favor being that the quarters are already becoming crowded.

That was a hard dig, dear Owl, but the "advertising" was badly needed. I am "on," however, and will take your hint.

PHŒNIX.

January 22d, 1887.

HISTORY OF THE LEAGUE BADGE DESIGN.

In view of the recent prominence given the subject, many of the later League members will be interested in the following facts about the origin of the League badge design. Directly after the early spring meeting of the officers of the League, held in Boston in the year 1881, the President, Chas. E. Pratt, Esq., suggested to Mr. C. H. Lamson (who was at that time one of the State Directors, as the Chief Consuls were then styled), the desirability of having some neat and appropriate design for a small badge-pin which could be worn on any occasion, with any suit (much as the Free Masons wear a square and compass, or the members of the Loyal Legion wear a small bow in the button-hole), by which symbol wheelmen might recognize each other anywhere. Acting from this suggestion, the three-winged wheel badge was invented, and a patent on the design, with various modifications, was taken out by Mr. Lamson. The design as patented consists of an emblematic representation of a suspension wheel, with three wings radiating from the hub at equal distances from each other, and having alphabetical letters on the spokes between the wings. As adapted to the League of American Wheelmen, these letters are the now famous and familiar initials of that organization, viz.: L. A. W. The President and others were so well pleased with this design that they determined to try to secure its adoption by the League. The matter was brought before the officers at the October meeting in New York, and being approved, it was adopted as a League design (without reference to size or material), the old badge not then to be discontinued, but the new one to be worn as supplementary or alternative. At the next meeting in New York, March 27th, 1882, action was taken to the effect that in return for the League having the sole right to issue without royalty a standard size of silver badge of the new design, that the patentee should retain the exclusive right to make and sell them in gold, and also a small size in silver. Acting under this arrangement, Mr. Lamson has since manufactured the gold badges so generally worn. At the L. A. W. meeting in Chicago, a sample of a large silver badge of a new design was shown and approved. The old badge being unpopular, it was discontinued, and the whole matter referred to a committee, with power to have the silver badges manufactured, if they thought best; but previous experience having proved it to be unsatisfactory for the League to make and own its badges, and there being no call for them, none were ever manufactured, and the smaller gold pins have taken their place and given universal satisfaction.

The old badge was dropped just at the right time while the League was small and but few had been issued. At this time, 1887, thousands of the later gold badges are in use, and there is no probability that it will ever be superseded, as the design has always been very popular. Besides this, the symbol has been thoroughly engrafted into cycling literature, poetical and pictorial. It has been wrought into banners and club-room decorations, it ornaments cards, note-heads, and cycling souvenirs of all descriptions, etc., etc. After a member has bought a badge it is, of course, beyond the control of the manufacturer, and one may occasionally get into the hands of an outsider, but their being worn by such should be discountenanced. When a member is in doubt of the standing of a man wearing a badge he should demand a sight of that man's League ticket before granting favors intended for League members only. A man who has invested in a nice gold badge which he wishes to wear unchallenged has one more incentive to pay his annual dues, or, better still, he should buy a life membership ticket good for all time, making him eligible to all the rights and privileges of the League, and helping along the cause of that great association, which has done so much for cycling in this country, and which needs his counsel, his influence, and his cash to make it still more effective.

FROM COW-BOY LAND.

"Garden of the Gods!—Ah!"
"Pike's Peak!—Oh!"
"Colorado Springs—Um!"

I've seen them!—yes—grand!—The first two. The latter rather pretty—but too many "barkers," or, in other words, "lungless invalids," to be pleasant. Pike's Peak has become a common sight to us now—for we've had it in sight for two weeks traveling as we are within fifty or seventy-five miles of "His Highness," as I sit here now at the window of my hotel in Pueblo and see it rising up—snow capped and grand in the distance.

Not even dreaming that the "Garden of the Gods" was rideable by wheel—my brother and I started off yesterday on a couple of Bronchos and "did it"—and then and there only did I realize what a magnificent "wheel" it would be—rolling hard roads—easy grades—and doubtless few dismounts—save for a sandy spot now and then. It would be impossible for me to describe the beautiful grandeur of the Garden—its grotesque rocks—assuming, as they do, all sorts of shapes—its magnifient entrance gates of naturally formed rocks rising upright to the height of 360 feet in the air! and the Peak ("Pike's") rising beyond, like its sentinel—gray-headed and majestic. All this I can't write, and do justice to, but will reserve them in "memory's sweet chain" until I come East next July.

Colorado roads are fine in season for wheeling. I took a ride in Longmont a few days ago, and was surprised at their hardness and easy grades, even at this time of year. The air is grand, the people hospitable, and from May to October or November I think I envy the native riders, living, as I do, in the stony mountain roads of Northern Pennsylvania. Denver has a fine wheel club of 35 or 40, and Greeley, Longmont, Ft. Collins, Boulder, Colorado Springs, La Salle, Golden Cheyenne (Wy.) all have from six to a dozen riders, there being 18 or 20 at the Springs.

I miss my wheel sadly, boys, and long for next summer and my mountain roost. We shall be in 'Frisco soon again, for a five weeks' stay at the "Aleazar Theatre," and then I will send the BULLETIN a letter pertaining to the wheels and wheelers of the Golden Gate City. I am with you all in spirit, and many a pleasant memory steals over me as I think of—

New York.—"Ah! there Egan—give me Nashville."
Boston.—"Best respects, Col."
Wilkesbarre.—"Hello! 'Rapid' Carpenter."
Binghamton.—"Jones pays the freight."
Elmira.—"Get thar, Hersey."
Williamsport.—"Joe-hous the tow-path?"

and many other places which hold the jolliest boys on earth.

Yours, 'mongst the cow-boys,
ED. DAVENPORT.

Thomas Stevens is expected in New York in about two weeks. Immediately upon his arrival he is to be tendered a reception and banquet by the Citizens' Bicycle Club. During his stay it is quite probable that the New York Press Club and other societies will honor him with receptions.

We have received a copy of the Hand-Book just issued by the Connecticut Division. It contains the rules, lists of officers, Consuls, and hotels, the report of the Secretary-Treasurer, and an address to the members.

THE ANNUAL SPRING MEETING OF THE BOARD OF OFFICERS, L. A. W.

The annual spring meeting of the Board of Officers, L. A. W., was held in Parlor A, of the Grand Union Hotel, New York city, on Monday, January 17th. The delay, always incident to an important meeting like this, caused a postponement of the call to order from 9.30 A.M., the advertised hour, to 11 A.M., when President N. Malon Beckwith brought down the official gavel and the preliminary business was entered upon. Mr. John A. Wells, of Philadelphia, was appointed Secretary pro tem.

The first business in order was the appointment of Messrs. Charles E. Pratt, of Boston; C. S. Luscomb, of New York, and James R. Dunn, of Ohio, a Committee on Credentials. At previous meetings of the Board there has been no such Committee appointed, the right of a Representative to vote, and the correctness of his proxies, being left for the Secretary to determine.

There was a feeling that the proxy system had been abused in times past, and that the time had now arrived to call a halt, and accordingly the Committee was instructed to exercise the utmost care in making its report. That these instructions were fulfilled was shown by the fact that the preparing of the report required six hours.

This long delay was exceedingly vexatious, and almost everybody was actually ill-natured before the business of the meeting was commenced. Four times the meeting was called to order, and four times a recess taken. At 5 o'clock, however, the Committee, after being sent for innumerable times, made its appearance, and was received with cheers.

The meeting voted to sit with closed doors, but by a special vote Mr. Walter H. P. Veysey, the expert accountant, and Mr. F. P. Prial, the representative of the New York Wheel, were allowed to be present.

Mr. Pratt presented the report, and after stating that the delay had been caused by the unexpected amount of work devolving upon the Committee, and by the great care that had been taken to guard against mistakes being made, he presented the following report:

The Committee on Credentials appointed by the President to ascertain, examine, and report the number of members of the Board of Officers present, and the number of absent members duly represented by proxy, beg to report that they have attended to that duty, and find that there were present, at the time they were instructed to retire, in person 46 members, by proxy 104 members, entitled in all to 150 votes; and they herewith present a classified list of said members present and represented by States. We also present a list of proxies not found by us to be duly authorized. Two of these are for persons not present members of the Board. Two of them purport to have been telegraphed, and fifteen of these we find to have been proxies sent to the Secretary-Editor officially, in response to an official circular and an official notice on the proxy blank, and to have been without specific instructions as to how they should be filled out and used, and we submit that these are properly in possession of this meeting, and if used at all can only be used by the direction of the Board.

CHARLES E. PRATT,
CHARLES H. LUSCOMB,
JAMES R. DUNN.

The Committee had rejected proxies as follows: Those of G. N. Osborn and Freeman Lillibridge, because they were sent by telegraph; those of C. R. Zacharias and H. S. Wood, because they did not reside in the States they tried to represent. The following eleven proxies were thrown out because the Committee considered that their makers had not given the Secretary instructions as to how the proxies should be used: W. S. Wright, of Wheeling; S. F. Heath, Minneapolis; C. H. Porter, Winona, Minn.; Geo. A. Gorgas, Harrisburg; W. C. Stone, Franklin; J. S. Miller, Tennessee; E. A. Shields, Louisville; C. W. Abbott, Baltimore; W. L. Surprise, Memphis; C. G. Ross, Vermont; A. F. Peck, Milwaukee, Wis.

The members present in person were as follows: E. M. Aaron, Kirk Brown, S. B. Vaughn, Frank Read, John A. Wells, C. B. Holly, Pennsylvania; E. W. Johnson, J. A. Bolard, A. J. Wright, J. H. Cooley, G. C. Brown, F. K. Chew, New Jersey; James R. Dunn, T. J. Kirkpatrick, Ohio; J. K. Bartlett, Jr., Geo. F. Updegraff, Maryland; J. E. Palmer, Delaware; Wm. M. Frisbie, W. T. Williams, E. J. Morgan, Connecticut; Chas. S. Davol, Rhode Island; Chas. H. Lamson, Maine; Geo. R. Bidwell, W. S. Bull, Fred B. Graves, M. L. Bridgman, John C. Gulick, I. R. Adriance, Knight L. Clapp, C. H. Luscomb, Frank A. Egan, Simeon Ford, C. K. Alley, Oscar G. Moses, Albert B. Barkman, N. M. Beckwith, Chas. Schwalbach, W. L. Beck, C. S. Butler, New York; H. W. Hayes, W. I. Harris, C. E. Pratt, C. S. Howard, Abbot Bassett, Wm. H. Emery, E. G. Whitney, Massachusetts.

A very long debate took place over the report of this Committee. The one side sustained the Committee, and claimed that no official of the League should use his position and the stationery of the League to gather in proxies and distribute them among his friends. The other side stood out for precedent, and said that it had been common usage in the past for members to send proxies without instructions. The Committee urged that while there might be no objection to any member of the Board receiving and using proxies without instructions, the case was altogether different when the Secretary received a proxy not filled out in response to the following notice in the corner of the official blank.

"IMPORTANT.—This blank should be returned to E. M. Aaron, Box 916, Philadelphia, by January 15th, or to him at Grand Union Hotel, New York city, January 17th. If it does not reach him by the last-mentioned date, it will be too late to be used."

On motion of Mr. Harris, of Boston, the Board passed the following votes:

Voted, that no proxies sent to the Secretary-Editor in his official capacity and without instructions be counted.

Voted, that a man who permanently locates in another State vacates the office of Chief Consul or Representative to which he may have been elected in the State which he has removed from, and therefore proxies coming from such should not be counted.

Voted, that proxies sent by telegraph are not in proper form.

REPORT OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

The report of the Executive Committee was as follows:

Your Executive Committee, in making their report, present the result of the examination of their expert accountant, who has just returned from Philadelphia, and whose labors disclose the condition of affairs in the Secretary's office to the end of business on January 15th, 1887. By the report of Mr. Veysey it appears that the BULLETIN has been published at considerable loss to the organization. For any information in regard to the cause of this loss we beg leave to refer you to the late Secretary Editor under whose administration the loss occurred. We append Mr. Veysey's report, and will furnish all the explanation in regard to the matters therein referred to that lies in our power, and which may be required by your Board. At the Buffalo Convention your Committee was instructed to cause the League to be incorporated. After a careful consideration of the subject your Committee arrived at the conclusion that the organization can be most advantageously incorporated under the laws of the State of New York, the statutes of which relieve the individual members of any personal responsibility for indebtedness of the corporation, but while your Committee is firmly convinced of the wisdom of such change it desires to say that it cannot be effected without a radical alteration of the present form of government, and under those circumstances we wish further instructions before finally taking any step which might be objected to by the League at large. Respectfully submitted.

(Signed) N. MALON BECKWITH,
T. J. KIRKPATRICK,
JOHN C. GULICK.

REPORT OF THE EXPERT ACCOUNTANT.

DR. N. MALON BECKWITH, President, T. J. KIRKPATRICK, Vice-President, JOHN C. GULICK, Esq., Executive Committee, L. A. W.:

DEAR SIRS:—Referring you to our previous reports, showing conditions of the books of the Secretary-Editor, L. A. W., Mr. Walter M. P. Veysey, of our firm, having made an audit to January 15th, 1887, we attach the balance-sheet to that date, which shows that after charging up the expenses and losses on BULLETIN to the Treasurer; and when the proportion of dues, etc., or receipts to date are credited him, there would remain only $25.98 to his credit, thus wiping out the working capital, $2,075.51, as well as before mentioned share of dues.

Taking as a basis the printed lists in the BULLETINS of applications, renewals, and life members, we find that all the money received has been duly accounted for, viz.:

THIRD QUARTER, 1886.

Applications.

Lists 42 to 54, July 2d to Sept. 27th, 8 @ $1.25,	$ 10 00
1,047 @ 1.50,	1,570 50
Together,	$1,580 50

FOURTH QUARTER, 1886.

Lists 55 to 64, Oct. 1st to Dec. 3d, 416 @ $1.25,	$520 00

FIRST QUARTER, 1887.

Lists published Dec. 17th, 1886, to Jan. 21st, 1887, Lists 65 to 70, 201 @ $2,	$520 00

Renewals.

Lists 1 to 6, 2,693 @ $1,	$2,693 00

Life.

Lists 1 to 3, 38 @ $10,	$380 00
	$3,595 00

We also attach draft of Treasurer's account (on books of Secretary-Editor), and a detailed statement of BULLETIN account, July 1st, 1886, to January 15th, 1887.

As requested, have looked over the bills of E. Stanley Hart & Co. for prices, but as to the various technicalities of the printing business, we have not, for lack of time, gone further. As to amounts charged advertisers, they appear charged in a separate book for that purpose, but to verify them should have to go over the contracts; as we informed your Committee, this has not been done. We found the prices charged by Messrs. Hart & Co. to be correct.

We wish to give Mr. Aaron and also Mr. Aaron, Sr., credit for keeping the new books, and to acknowledge the courtesy shown by them.

Commending this report and accompanying schedules to your considerate attention, we remain,

Very truly,

31 NASSAU ST., NEW YORK, January 17th, 1887. VEYSEY & VEYSEY, Accountants.

SECRETARY-EDITOR'S REPORT.

The Secretary-Editor read that portion of his report which had a bearing on the report of the expert, but we will insert the whole report at this point. It was not read in full before the Board, but was given to us after adjournment.

REPORT OF THE SECRETARY.

L. A. W. OFFICES, PHILADELPHIA, January 17th, 1887.

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE BOARD:

MR. PRESIDENT AND GENTLEMEN:—In rendering this, my eighth and last report to you, I shall go more fully into details than has been my custom in the past, not confining myself to the requirments of our By-Laws, but making the report as comprehensive as possible.

As I have remarked in previous reports, many of the duties of the Secretary, which are provided for in seven subdivisions of our By-Laws, are of such a nature that I can only report in a general way that I have discharged them to the best of my ability. I have, to follow the order of our By-Laws, kept complete lists of members and officers; have kept suitable books of registry and account, and have received and answered all correspondence, except such as I have referred to Committees. I have caused to be made and preserved full records of all meetings of the League and of this Board, and have kept accurate directories of the entire membership. Many of these items I shall refer to at some length further on in this report.

Since I last reported to you at our meeting in Buffalo in September last, the long-sought 10,000 members have been obtained, and the 9,696 members then reported have increased to 10,264, distributed over the following territory as set forth:

STATES.	NO. MEMBERS.
Alabama,	17
Arkansas,	11
Bermuda,	1
California,	210
Canada,	7
Colorado,	50
Connecticut,	584
Dakota,	8
Delaware,	27
District of Columbia,	72
England,	2
Florida,	10
Georgia,	28
Germany,	1
Idaho,	20
Illinois,	491
Indiana,	207
Iowa,	112
Kansas,	76
Kentucky,	87
Louisiana,	66
Maine,	101
Maryland,	920
Massachusetts,	1,444
Michigan,	226
Minnesota,	108
Mississippi,	4
Missouri,	258
Montana,	3
Nebraska,	70
New Hampshire,	144
New Jersey,	944
New York,	1,747

STATES.	NO. MEMBERS.
North Carolina,	12
Nova Scotia,	4
Ohio,	847
Oregon,	3
Pennsylvania,	1,488
Rhode Island,	148
South Carolina,	1
Tennessee,	80
Texas,	14
Utah,	13
Vermont,	103
Virginia,	58
West Virginia,	51
Wisconsin,	37
Wyoming,	49
Total,	10,264

The interests of these 10,264 members are looked after by four general officers, 38 members of standing committees, 34 Chief Consuls, and 170 State Representatives, thus giving us two hundred and four (204) members of this Board. This is about four times the number of Board members on our rolls when I first reported to you nearly three years ago, and it is a number which clearly indicates that the Board will soon, at the present rate of increase, outgrow all bounds and become too large for the purpose for which it is intended. The larger it grows the less likely it is that its gathering will bring together a fair proportion of its members; at our last meeting a membership of about 195 was represented during most of the session by the presence of about 20 members. A change that will allow the Chief Consul or a Representative specially chosen by his colleagues to cast the entire vote of his State Division, or one that will make it possible for divisions to choose non-resident Representatives, would seem to be an imperative need of the near future.

Since I last reported to you I have rendered to our Secretary-Treasurer and to each of the Division Secretary-Treasurers two quarterly accountings of all moneys received by me that was due to them. The first of these settlements was made in October last, and was for the third quarter of the year, and the last one was made last week for the fourth quarter, and closed up the affairs of 1886.

In the case of the Treasurer, I have not transmitted any funds with the settlements, as—as is natural—at the close of the year, when applications are unusual, the expenses of my office have been far in excess of the very meagre returns from membership fees. But in the cases of the Secretary-Treasurers of the Divisions, I have in every case accompanied the statement of account with a check in full. The amounts that I have received and thus accounted for to the Divisions are as follows:

Divisions.	For Third Quarter.	For Fourth Quarter.	Total.
California,	$ 4 63	$ 6 50	$11 13
Colorado,	75	50	1 25
Connecticut,	9 03	1 13	10 76
District of Columbia,	1 36	1 63	2 99
Illinois,	14 90	4 88	19 78
Indiana,	13 25	75	14 00
Iowa,	3 25	13	3 38
Kansas,		75	75
Kentucky,	2 00	70	2 70
Louisiana,	2 00	75	2 75
Maine,	1 40	63	2 03
Maryland,	2 50	4 88	7 38
Massachusetts,	7 88	2 88	10 76
Michigan,	1 00	75	1 75
Minnesota,	3 00	13	3 13
Missouri,	8 75	1 75	10 50
Nebraska,	4 13		4 13
New Hampshire,	50		50
New Jersey,	16 50	2 50	19 00
New York,	34 99	1 13	36 12
Ohio,	13 50	2 75	16 25
Pennsylvania,	43 25	5 88	49 13
Rhode Island,	2 00	1 13	3 13
Tennessee,	2 13	1 50	3 63
Vermont,	1 00	38	1 38
Virginia,		25	25
West Virginia,		63	63
Totals,	$204 05	$42 64	$246 69

These amounts are for the fiscal year 1886; they are frequently odd sums, owing to the fact that many of the Divisions purchased supplies of me to be charged to them. I have already in a former report (See BULLETIN, Vol. III, p. 208, first col.), explained the term "fiscal" as here used. It will be understood that these items of payment do not in any way account for the sums of money so far received by me for applications and renewals for this year.

During the year 1886 I have received $12,739.05 from membership fees and applications. Since that I have received $3,597. for 1887, in the shape of renewals, applications, and Life Membership fees. In addition to that sum I have received $10,337.85 from advertisers during 1886 making a grand total of $26,673.90, which has been satisfactorily accounted for, as the report from our Executive Committee will doubtless show. The sum received for 1887 for Life Memberships is accounted for elsewhere in this report. The table that follows will show how the receipts from applications and renewals are divided among the various States:

	Applications.	Renewals.
Alabama,		2
Arkansas,	1	8
Bermuda,		1
California,	22	101
Canada,		1
Colorado,		13
Connecticut,	5	131
Dakota,		1
Delaware,		8
Dist. Columbia,	1	24
England,		4
Florida,		4
Georgia,		2
Idaho,		1
Illinois,	3	91
Indiana,	4	76
Iowa,	1	39
Kansas,	5	16
Kentucky,	1	9
Louisiana,		11
Maine,	4	4
Maryland,	6	39
Massachusetts,	13	201
Michigan,	2	34
Minnesota,	1	6
Mississippi,
Missouri,	11	83
Montana,		1
Nebraska,	3	3
New Hampshire,	1	24
New Jersey,	9	352
New York,	65	498
North Carolina,		1
Nova Scotia,
Ohio,	16	165
Oregon,
Pennsylvania,	65	547
Rhode Island,	5	54
South Carolina,
Tennessee,	2	34
Texas,		2
Utah,	4	3
Vermont,	2	19
Virginia,	6	28
West Virginia,	1	10
Wyoming,		7
New Mexico,		1
Totals,	261	2,693

The 10,264 members for 1886 were divided as follows:

	Renewals.	Applications.
Alabama,	1	16
Arkansas,		11
Bermuda,		1
California,	11	199
Canada,	4	3
Colorado,	24	26
Connecticut,	299	285
Dakota,	4	4
Delaware,	4	23
District of Columbia,	35	37
England,		2
Florida,		10
Georgia,	3	25
Germany,	1
Idaho,		20
Illinois,	228	263
Indiana,	55	152
Iowa,	65	65
Kentucky,	47	60
Kansas,	6	70
Louisiana,	22	44
Maine,	52	49
Maryland,	80	140
Massachusetts,	537	907
Michigan,	73	153
Minnesota,	57	51
Mississippi,		4
Missouri,	81	177
Montana,	2	1
Nebraska,	15	55
New Hampshire,	69	75
New Jersey,	457	487
New York,	827	920
North Carolina,	6	6
Nova Scotia,	2	2
Ohio,	475	372
Oregon		3
Pennsylvania,	721	767
Rhode Island,	29	119
South Carolina,	1
Texas,	3	11
Tennessee,	5	75
Utah,	6	7
Vermont,	45	58
Virginia,	6	52
West Virginia,	14	37
Wisconsin,	14	23
Wyoming,	34	15
Totals,	4,385	5,882

Arranged in the order of their precedence according to proportionate growth, the State divisions stand as follows:

	Per cent. of Increase.
1. California,	1,515
2. Tennessee,	1,233
3. Virginia,	1,060
4. Kansas,	986
5. Delaware,	575
6. Rhode Island,	393
7. Nebraska,	367
8. Michigan,	194
9. Indiana,	176
10. Missouri,	174
11. Louisiana,	154
12. Maryland,	150
13. Massachusetts,	144
14. West Virginia,	143
15. Kentucky,	107
16. New Jersey,	91
17. Colorado,	78
18. Vermont,	78
19. Pennsylvania,	77
20. New Hampshire,	76
21. Illinois,	73
22. New York,	70
23. Iowa,	67
24. Connecticut,	64
25. Minnesota,	60
26. Maine,	46
27. District of Columbia,	46
28. Ohio,	46

In making up this grand total, I have received $380 from applicants for Life Membership. Those who applied for Life Membership prior to the close of 1886 were required to pay $10 each, as they were then members in full standing. But those who have applied since December 31st last have been required to pay $11 each, as an extra dollar was first due for their renewal for 1887 before they could be said to be eligible to Life Membership, as their membership in the League in reality expired on that date.

These Life Membership applications have been received as follows from the various States:

Connecticut,	1	New Jersey,	1
Illinois,	1	New York,	7
Massachusetts,	4	Pennsylvania,	18
Missouri,	1	Rhode Island,	2
New Hampshire,	2	Virginia,	1
		Total,	38

No tickets have been issued for these Life Memberships, nor have any been provided. Though clearly compelled by our By-Laws to settle with the Treasurer and the various division Secretary-Treasurers for those payments on Life-Memberships which were received prior to January 1st, I have, at the urgent request of our President, refrained from doing so. This I did as he desired, that money from that source be kept in a separate accounting, and as he stated that our Executive Committee had in contemplation certain modifications of those By-Laws which provide for the investment and distribution of the fund derived therefrom.

The two quarterly settlements already alluded to have contained total receipts for non-division members in the sum of $194.50, all of which went into the League treasury. This sum, in addition to the sum due as the percentage of the various divisions, which is readily calculated from the table just read, will make a total of $1,812.05.

As reported to you in September, I retained on the second quarter's settlement with our Treasurer a balance of $403.67, that being one-third the total balance due him. This I did in accordance with the provisions of our By-Laws regulating my settlement with him, which allows me to hold such percentage to cover the expenses for the ensuing quarter. This addition to the sum already accounted for from division and non-division membership on those two quarters and so far for 1887, will make a total of $2,215.72. This sum, plus the $3,597 already accounted for as for 1887, minus the net expenses of running the League office up to the same period, $4,670.16, leaves a balance at the end of last week of $1,142.56. This balance was made up as follows:

In the Bank of the Republic,	$1,136 05
Railroad ticket (redeemable),	1 50
Janitor's account (held over),	5 00
Currency,	01
	$1,142 56

Since the day that I first had the honor to be elected Recording Secretary of the League at Washington, May 14th, 1884, I have issued 22,409 tickets. Every one of these tickets has carried with it the necessity of entering its owner's name on four written and three printed lists, the necessity of paying his division and our Treasurer their proportion of his dues, and the necessity of keeping his address correct on two and sometimes three lists. This last item alone, coming up as it does for attention every week, frequently requires from 250 to 400 entries at each weekly revision.

The maintaining of these lists of membership, together with our books of account, does not comprise all of the duties of the Secretary's office. Card catalogues are kept up to date of all League clubs, of non-League clubs, and of the contents of the current volume of the BULLETIN. From the latter the very complete indices which accompany the last number of each volume of our journal are compiled. In addition to these lists, others are kept of local Consuls and League hotels; of members of this Board; of all libraries and reading-rooms where the BULLETIN is on file; of all active bicycle agents through whom extra copies of the BULLETIN are distributed, and, in fact, of every class or organization in which it is believed the League has an interest.

I have already given you an account of the contents of the most important of these lists of reference. A hasty glance through the minor lists shows us, among other things, the following:

As a fair sample of the life and activity of the divisions, the following table of local organization and representation is likely to prove of interest to you:

Divisions.	Representatives.	Consuls.	Hotels.
California,	4	9	13
Connecticut,	11	47	14
District of Columbia,	1		1
Illinois,	9	20	6
Indiana,	4	29	17
Iowa,	2	24	13
Kansas,	1	27	17
Kentucky,	1	3
Louisiana,	1	3	2
Maine,	1	8	1
Maryland,	1	7	3
Massachusetts,	28	64	44
Michigan,	4	35	30
Minnesota,	2	16
Missouri,	5	6
Nebraska,	1	11	12
New Hampshire,	2	20	19
New Jersey,	10	25	22
New York,	30	89	118
Ohio,	16	69	95
Pennsylvania,	30	70	99
Rhode Island,	2	5	5
Tennessee,	1	3	6
Vermont,	2	12	2
Virginia,	1	13	21
West Virginia,	1	2	3
Totals,	170	617	563

We have on our lists 160 duly accredited League clubs. There are, doubtless, many other clubs which consider themselves League clubs, but as they refuse to comply with our rules governing them and continue to ignore our requests for the required information, we continue, as in duty bound, to ignore them. These rules, be it understood, are not in any way binding, other than precedent can make a rule binding; but the addition to our By-Laws which will come before you to-day is in effect but the rule long established by common consent put into this more binding and permanent form.

The card catalogues that have been kept, and the indices that have resulted therefrom, have contained references and cross-references in excess of 3,300; and several hundred agents, libraries, and reading-rooms help to bring the League before the public by aiding us in the circulation of the BULLETIN.

During 1886 there have been reported to me the deaths of eleven League members; six have been dropped from our rolls by resignation; twenty-four on account of expulsion, the loss of amateur status being the principal cause leading thereto. Thirteen protests have been lodged with me and have been forwarded either to the Membership Committee or the Racing Board. Three of these cases are yet pending, but three of them have been expelled, as they were already members. One has been rejected by our Membership Committee, and the rest, so far as decided, have been reinstated, and their tickets have been issued in due form.

Acting under instructions from the Executive Committee, Messrs. Browning, King & Co., the tailors of the League, have refused to manufacture suits or deliver League goods unless the order has had indorsement from me to the effect that the applicant for the goods was in full standing in the League. This has added largely to the volume of correspondence at certain times, and has, as you are aware, created considerable comment in the BULLETIN and other cycling journals. An estimate that I have made from two standpoints leads me to believe that Messrs. Browing, King & Co. have manufactured or sold the material for considerably over 4,000 uniforms. I am sorry to have to add that during the last three or four months the complaints of the wearing quality and the color of the uniform cloth have been almost as numerous as the orders for new material.

Had the League a contract with this house or any other house of like standing whereby they would be bound to manufacture the uniforms to a certain grade and at the same time pay into our Treasury a royalty, or say $1.00 on each suit manufactured, and 50 cents for each suit the materials for which were furnished, it is safe to say that we would now be in possession of a sum more than equal to the amount it has cost us to publish our official organ. I feel that it is quite safe to say that our members would have gladly paid this additional tax for the purpose of assuring themselves that the uniform would be satisfactory in every particular, and I am much of the opinion also that the present contractors could have afforded to pay such a royalty and still have had a very handsome return from the contract at the present figures.

Turning from the routine duties attached to the office of Secretary to those of the Editor of the BULLETIN, we find at once that we come upon more difficult ground to tread. More difficult ground because a much higher order of skilled labor is required to fill the duties with satisfaction, and more difficult to appreciate and describe because the results of their discharge are far less tangible.

It has been frequently pointed out in the editorial columns of the BULLETIN, and once before in my report to you, that the relationship of an association journal is, of all editorial positions, the most difficult to fill with credit to the incumbent and satisfaction to the constituency for whom the journal is published. Each reader is a part owner, in a certain sense, of the journal, and is therefore, in common with all the others, an employer and overseer of the Editor. Strange as it may seem, this joint ownership and joint overseership, while it makes a vivid impression on many of the readers, fails to enter into their minds with its true significance. Entirely oblivious of the fact that the Editor himself is one of these owners and is in all things on an equal footing with them, they at once see but two objects in the field—the poor, deluded Editor who thinks he can manage the journal, and the great Ego, sole owner, censor, and critic of that journal. Now, while these persons are an inconsiderable minority, our 10,000 membership does furnish us enough of them to be a thorn in the flesh of the Editor, and it is frequently only by the exercise of the greatest forbearance and caution on the Editor's part that open hostilities can be prevented.

This I have said, not because I have considered it necessary in my report, but because I did wish it to precede the apology which I hereby extend to you for ever having had any newspaper controversies with any of our members.

It will always be my chiefest pride, in cycling affairs, that against great odds and with the active, constant opposition of certain ones in our organization, that I have never, from the time of my maiden effort at Washington in 1884 to this moment, wavered in my loyalty to the idea that the League could, should, and would own and publish its organ; that that organ should be a weekly, and that it should be the best cycling weekly that the circumstances would allow.

Long ago 99 out of every 100 members were convinced that we should do this; soon after this that we would and did became patent to all. That we could and can is, I am sorry to say, not yet an item of knowledge in every League mind, and I am even more annoyed to know that still the principal doubters are among those who should be best posted in the matter. Recently newspaper squibs, largely based on unofficial utterances, have been going the rounds to the effect that the BULLETIN was losing money, and that it was not a success.

These comments, however, have invariably come from persons who are not at all acquainted with the newspaper publishing business, and to whom the undertaking appears as of the simplest and most profitable kind. Those, however, who are acquainted with the extreme difficulties experienced by those who undertake to build up a newspaper, however wide the field, and who have had an opportunity to watch the history of any special journal from its inception to the day of its assured success, are well aware that the BULLETIN'S showing to the present date is far above the average.

Perhaps no member of this Board, or, in fact, of the League, is better acquainted with what is possible and what is absolutely necessary in the building up of a journal than is Representative Chas. S. Howard, of Massachusetts, nor can any one have had a better opportunity to become thoroughly posted on this subject. The Boston Globe has been monumental in its successes, and when Mr. Howard, who has for some time been associated with that paper, speaks as he does in the following words, we can depend upon it that they are the words of one who has this knowledge of himself. Mr. Howard has recently said in print: "Regarding the management of the BULLETIN, it has certainly been highly satisfactory to the general body of League members. Every one must acknowledge that to the BULLETIN the League owes in a very large degree its increased membership during the past year. It is all very well to talk about public spirit, and that the wheelmen should join the League for the general good of cycling, but it does not work in practice. Tangible benefits are what you must give the average wheelman to extract from his pocket the little dollar. * * * The BULLETIN has been during the past six months decidedly the leading cycling paper in America. One can obtain more news and information of a general cycling nature from it than can be found in all the other papers combined. The improvement in the paper has been something remarkable; that it has cost a good deal of money is not surprising. Who ever heard of a newspaper that did not lose money when it was first started? In the paper with which I am connected there were many thousand dollars sunk before it was placed on a paying basis, while now its proprietors enjoy an annual income of several hundred thousand. Of course, it is to be regretted that the BULLETIN has cost so much during the past year but there have been many expenses which are not likely to be incurred again."

These are the words, as I have said, of a gentleman who has had considerable experience in journalism, and I am glad to state that in every case where a person of like authority has commented on the same subject either in print or to me by letter, the opinions have been of a like nature. The BULLETIN has grown to its present scope and size and circulation before you all. Repeatedly the general membership and this Board have expressed their desire for a newspaper of the first class, from a cycling standpoint. This they must have done with their eyes wide open, knowing that a newspaper could not be supplied at the comparatively slight expense of a mere official circular. Had the BULLETIN during the past year been published as an official circular, confining itself to a statement of the business of the League past and prospective, and reproducing in but a faint degree the items of the present, it would have doubless been possible to have furnished it to the League members free of expense; but had this been done, I do not hesitate to say that instead of doubling its membership, as the League has in 1886, it would gone behind, as it did in 1885, and I feel positive that there is no one dare gainsay this. There are on file in the League office at this present time scores upon scores of letters which bear ample testimony to the fact that their writers have joined the League from the benefit derived from the BULLETIN, that they used the BULLETIN as the principal lever wherewith to bring others into the organization.

Nothing of this sort occurred during the time that the League published an official circular in the columns of another paper, and I have every reason to feel assured that either a reversion to that system of publication or to a monthly issue of our paper will result in the same state of affairs in a very short period.

A careful estimate, based on the offers of two cycling papers received at about the time the publication of the BULLETIN was decided upon by your Committee of 1885, shows that had either one of them been adopted the expenses would have been greater than it has been by our present method, and we would have had a paper that, in addition to its not belonging to us, would have been in every particular inferior to the BULLETIN.

Under the old regime which the League tried for one year before it began the publication of the BULLETIN an average circulation of less than half the average circulation of the BULLETIN for 1886 cost about $2,500. For this sum the League controlled five columns of poorly printed matter, with an occasional overflow edition of two or three pages, for which extra was always charged by contract. The official list, or rather the paper, that was tried the year before, was equally as expensive, though on some accounts more interesting to the general reader. Both of these plans were found to be entirely inadequate, though their expense was fully twenty-five per cent. greater than the present expense of issuing the BULLETIN. Any one present to-day who was a member of the Board for a few months prior to the first appearance of the BULLETIN will remember the constant complaint that was heard from the League membership, and will remember how unpleasant was the necessity of explaining to the general membership that the contract was binding upon the League, and must be lived up to to the end of the term.

All of the estimates of expense and of income on which the success of the BULLETIN was prophesied during its early days were based upon a possible edition of 7,500 for its first year, and on the fact that the advertising patronage would be largely increased by the individual efforts of the members, and that the rates could be increased after the first six months of the paper's existence. From the first the paper has had such a reception that 7,500 copies has been about the minimum issue, while at the present time 11,600 is the edition. This, of itself, has been the source of a great deal of expense, as all will understand.

The anticipation that among the large number of active members many would be found who would gladly solicit advertising for the paper in the interests of the organization has, much to the surprise and disappointment of the active workers on the BULLETIN, failed of realization. I cannot at this moment think of a single case where a member of the League has obtained for the BULLETIN advertising patronage without expecting and receiving a percentage therefor, and in many cases my appeals to prominent wheelmen in large centres has either been productive of nothing but apologies and excuses, or else has failed to elicit any reply, and to-day, notwithstanding its unprecedented circulation, the BULLETIN is not able to win the esteem and appreciation of a large body of advertisers, whose blindness to their own interests alone prevents them from awarding it the share of their support which it richly deserves.

Instead of being able to increase the advertising rates within six months of the appearance of the first issue, 18 months have elapsed, and we are now, for the first time, about to report that increased rates are in force. This is partly due to the fact that, just after it had become firmly established, the BULLETIN, in common with all other cycling periodicals, entered into that period of depression which always comes with the close of the full trade. During this time it was deemed by our Executive Committee best to make special efforts to keep our advertisers with us, and, to do this, very low rates for a term of months had to be offered them. This was done, and in some cases these rates were accepted, and the following season—when the circulation was increased by 30 or 40 per cent.—saw us carrying advertisements at rates not much greater than 60 per cent. of the sum that we otherwise would have been able to obtain. It was not until their meeting in Cleveland, in September, that the Executive Committee decided to raise the advertising rates, and I was then instructed to notify advertisers that these rates would go into effect January 1st. This I have done, and I now have much pleasure in reporting to the Board that sufficient contracts are already awarded to amount in a year to an additional sum almost equal to the amount lost on the BULLETIN during 1886. These contracts cover but about one half the advertising space in the BULLETIN and I now say with every assurance of its proving to be a safe prophecy, that all things point to the fact that the BULLETIN can be published during 1887 at much nearer cost, or certainly not to exceed 15 cents per year per member.

A tabular statement of the affairs of the BULLETIN for each month in 1886 is as follows:

Number Issues.	Total No. Copies.	Total No. Pages.	Printing Expenses.	Net Receipts Adv'ts.	Expense.
Jan.,	5	31,600	84	$ 747 88	$ 453 06	$ 294 82
Feb.,	4	27,900	96	798 53	717 30	81 23
Mar.,	4	29,300	104	947 20	674 28	272 92
April,	5	38,400	112	1,052 01	968 29	83 72
						Profit.
May,	4	35,300	108	1,066 98	1,197 54	130 56
						Expense.
June,	4	37,000	124	1,280 51	1,005 64	274 87
July,	5	48,050	124	1,353 21	1,103 54	249 67
Aug.,	4	40,300	104	1,214 26	1,018 16	196 10
Sept.,	4	42,000	120	1,467 94	1,052 34	415 60
Oct.,	5	53,700	112	1,403 12	859 87	543 25
Nov.,	4	44,000	80	1,038 40	611 85	426 55
Dec.,	5	56,600	108	1,438 72	675 98	762 74
Total,	53	484,150	1,276	$13,803 76	$10,337 85	$3,470 91

This table shows that 484,150 copies cost, after all deductions and allowances, $3,470.91. This, a simple calculation shows, is at the rate of 34 cents per year per member; or, in other words, the League member is now by this co-operative plan furnished with a weekly paper which is by all now admitted to be superior to any other cycling weekly published in the world, as far as the American public is concerned. We have heard a great deal lately, both in the cycling papers and in the cycling columns of the daily press, of the hey day loss sustained by the League in publishing its paper. Some have expressed surprise that such was the case, and have hinted that nothing but gross mismanagement on the part of our Executive Committee and your Secretary could account for this loss.

During the fall of 1885 the BULLETIN was reduced to 16 pages, and for a few numbers to 12 pages. This created considerable dissatisfaction among League members, as they claimed that they had a right to expect a larger paper, and many claimed that on account of the small size of the paper they were unable to get in their communications as promptly as they wished. These complaints were well founded; but the reduction in size was thought at that time to be necessary on account of the very small amount of advertising space which was then occupied. Fearing that the same might be necessary this year, I came on to this city soon after the end of the tournament season, and consulted our President on this subject, and from him received instructions to keep the BULLETIN up to 20 pages at the least. This I have done to the present time, and the special features of the Christmas number and the last number of the volume, containing its very complete index, required that each of those issues should contain 24 pages. These issues, and, in fact, all of the issues of the fall, have been put out at a considerable loss; but I feel that our President was wise in his decision, as a show of timidity and a disposition to give less for the money at that time, would doubtless have materially affected the rate at which renewals would come in during this season.

But this additional expense pales into insignificance when the expense of reporting the various League meetings is considered. What I said to you at your last meeting holds true to an even greater extent now. A careful computation shows that more than one-third of the income of the parent body from membership fees and dues was expended for reporting the meetings of the past year, and for putting them into print.

An interesting comparison is that which shows us that the simple and unusually brief discussion of amateur and racing affairs at your last meeting cost us to report and put before our 10,000 members more than the income of the parent body from the New Hampshire Division with its nearly 150 members. This ought to illustrate very clearly to us that we cannot afford to continue this expensive method of reporting the meetings. It seems very clear that while a stenographically accurate report is necessary that it may be filed, it is at the same time quite unnecessary to report the utterances of every member on every subject in full, as at present done. No other organization with which I am acquainted thinks of putting its members to this expense; and I don't believe that this Board should longer countenance such a use of the League's money. The full reports of the four Board meetings and the general annual meeting for 1886, together with the expense of laying them before our readers, has been somewhat in excess of $1,000.

The ignorance exhibited by very many League members of the affairs of the BULLETIN has contributed largely to the difficulties that the Executive Committee and the Secretary-Editor have experienced in explaining to the League that the expenditures on the BULLETIN were wisely had. An article in a recent issue of a cycling journal illustrates this ignorance very clearly. Alluding to the BULLETIN, an anonymous writer uses the following words: "There has never, to my knowledge, been a good, business-like statement of its financial condition printed. In fact, at the last meeting of the Board of Officers of the League at Boston, the Executive Committee were directed to investigate the matter of the BULLETIN thoroughly, and print their report. This has not been done, but there is no concealment of the fact that those officials are not satisfied with the present results." It is hardly necessary for me to point out the many inaccuracies of statement in the foregoing. Several tables which have given the exact indebtedness of the BULLETIN to the League have been published during the year 1886. At least two of these, one published in the report of the meeting of the Board at Boston, and the other in the report of the Board at Buffalo, have been as full as such reports could be expected to be. The last meeting of the Board was not held at Boston, as the anonymous writer imagines, but at the meeting in Buffalo three months subsequent; and the report which the Executive Committee were directed to make was made, and was published in full in the BULLETIN of September 17th last.

The same writer asks a few questions which I think it would be appropriate to answer in this report, as it may shed some light upon the discussion which is likely to follow, and will prove interesting reading to the members of the League when this report is printed.

He first asks, "Does not the BULLETIN absorb too great a proportion of the funds of the League of American Wheelmen?" The BULLETIN has certainly absorbed a very large amount from the Treasury of the League during 1886, but this I think I have shown elsewhere to be largely due to the fact that the needed co-operation and assistance has not been rendered to those on whose shoulders the success of the BULLETIN has largely rested. But sight must not be lost of the fact that while the BULLETIN has been for 1886 a very considerable expense to the League, it has been, during that time, in the condition that all journals must pass through, its principal effort being to prov. to advertisers that it was an unequaled medium for their purposes. This it is clear it has now succeeded in doing, and the contracts which are already signed prove conclusively that the BULLETIN can be published at about cost during 1887. This whole question is one of time and of courage. If League members will remain contented to publish their BULLETIN at either a slight expense or slight profit for a year or two, it is perfectly safe for us to assure them that the time will come, and that before long, when the BULLETIN will not only cease to be an expense to the League, but will be the source of considerable revenue. It would indeed be a great mistake and a sad loss to the League if we should now decide, just as the hard work in building up this paper is well through with, to abandon it or practically ruin its prospects by publishing it less frequently.

Again, the writer asks, "Does it not absorb too much of the attention of League officials which could be better directed in other channels?" It would seem as if the answer to this question should have been clear to him. If he will look through the columns of the BULLETIN carefully for the past year he will certainly be surprised to find how very few League officers pay any attention to the columns of the BULLETIN as a newspaper, or have contributed to its success. Taking from it those items of routine work and dry report which they must of necessity send to the BULLETIN, there is hardly a member of this Board present to-day who has done anything to advance the interests of the BULLETIN; and the work that has helped to build it up has been from the rank and file. This, doubtless, is as it should be; for the League officers have, if they discharge their duties, plenty to attend to without indulging in literary efforts, and if the BULLETIN has in the future a warm and active support from the general membership, the attention of League officers to the BULLETIN, with the exception of the Editor, will not be required.

Again, he asks, "Would not an official circular issued once a month be an economy worth considering, and at the same time be as much practical benefit as the present weekly budget?" Perhaps no better answer to this question can be offered than to point the writer to the call for this meeting. A monthly would have been inadequate, and the necessity of publishing in the number following the one that contained the call for the meeting all items regarding changes in By-Laws and other proposed business would have made it necessary to have postponed the meeting for at least six weeks or two months, and it would probably have exceeded that time. Take, too, the last annual meeting of the League; had the BULLETIN been a monthly, the League would have been compelled to depend upon other cycling journals, none of which reach nearly half of the League membership, for the announcements of the business and other arrangements for that meeting. So it has been in every matter that the League has undertaken—a monthly would have proved inadequate.

Aside from these reasons we have a still more valid one. A monthly would prove a failure in the place of a weekly journal. The failure of the Cyclists' Touring Club Gazette to receive a fair proportion of advertising patronage among the English dealers is admittedly due to the fact that that paper is but a circular or gazette, as its name implies, and that it is not a newspaper, and is therefore not read largely. The BULLETIN can only hope to win the confidence and retain the support of advertisers throughout the country by remaining an active weekly newspaper. So soon as it ceases to be such, it will cease to receive from manufacturers and dealers the support of which it stands in absolute need.

The great need of the BULLETIN is co-operation between its readers and its management. Aside from the need of an increased corps of volunteer correspondents—for we can only afford to pay correspondents from large centres—are our needs of assistants who will aid us in procuring outside subscriptions and in procuring us advertisers. Had one out of every five members of the League succeeded during 1886 in sending us one subscriber who was not a League member, and a one-inch advertisement for one insertion, the BULLETIN, instead of showing a loss, would show a gain of nearly $1,000. The total of the effort would have been a grand sum to our credit, and the individual effort would have been so inconsiderable in most cases as to have been mere child's play. It has been this lack of support, not only from the rank and file, but from the active workers and representative men in the Division, that has made the position of your Editor a still more difficult one to fill.

I think I am quite safe in saying that no organization of a similar nature and size in America has as great an amount of diversified talent as has the League of American Wheelmen, and yet the active, constant supporters of your Editor, the men who have come to his relief with practical suggestions, with interesting matter to fill his columns, and with valuable assistance of various sorts, will hardly number fifty. If, therefore, the League has any cause to be disappointed at the outlay on the BULLETIN, at its partial failure to occupy the literary plane that all naturally desire to see it placed upon, the members have none but themselves to blame. The hopeful estimates and the bright prospects which were held before our members at the start of our journal were based entirely upon the belief that in a short time a corps of correspondents and workers would spring up from the Atlantic to the Pacific, which would make it possible for the BULLETIN to choose from the best productions that the subject-matter would allow. At its inception one well-known League member, now a Chief Consul, wrote to your Editor stating that he had a plan almost perfected and soon to be put in operation whereby all I would have to do would be to edit and put together the matter sent me and reject that which was least valuable for my columns. That plan has never yet gone into operation, and its originator maintains a silence that can almost be felt. He is a sample of many.

The By-Laws provide that I shall report quarterly to every Secretary-Treasurer of a division and remit to him the share of application fees and dues for the quarter just passed. They also provide that I shall report at the same intervals to the Treasurer, rendering to him a full statement of the moneys received, and an itemized statement of the expenditures with vouchers for the same, and if a balance be in my hands at the time, that two-thirds of that balance shall be sent to him. They also provide that I shall report every other month the affairs of the BULLETIN, its receipts and its expenses, to our Executive Committee. All of these reports have been promptly made since my last reporting to you, and in the case of the report to the Executive Committee, I have rendered them in place of a bi-monthly report a monthly report, and also a trial balance sheet of all League affairs.

A statement of the principal effects of the League office is as follows:

Large table,	$12 50
Bookcase,	14 00
High desk,	9 00
Seven chairs,	4 55
High chair,	3 50
Bureau,	5 00
Stove,	8 50
Low writing desk,	22 50
Carpet for main room,	13 00
Caligraph and table,	90 00
Hanging shelf,	3 00
Ice cooler,	2 00
Copying press,	5 75
Towel rack,	1 25
Coal scuttle,	65
S. & T. Letter Files,	7 30
Sundry furniture, zinc, pictures, maps, etc.,	21 80
	$223 30

While on this subject of reports, I would take the liberty of suggesting to the Board that all of our By-Laws covering official reports need remodeling. It was impossible at the time at which they were formed to foresee the great growth of the League and just what its needs would be. Now it is quite clear that our Treasurer, our Secretary, and each of the Chairmen of our Standing Committees should report to our Executive Committee a little while before each meeting of our Board, and from their reports our Executive Committee should make up a general report for the membership. Many of the matters which I report to you to-day are duplicated by the report of the Treasurer and the report of the Executive Committee. The report of the latter duplicates some of the items of the report of the Treasurer, and much time and space in our paper, as well as some of the patience of this meeting, are wasted by this duplication of reports. Were all of these reports condensed into one by the Executive Committee the affairs of the League would be much more readily understood than they are at present, and a considerable amount of discussion would be saved. It will occur to all that many of the items in this report are items which more particularly belong to the Executive Committee's report than they do to the report from your Secretary-Editor. It has been largely on account of this feeling on my part that my reports in the past have not been fuller than they were.

While on the subject of reports, I wish to say something as a comment on the statements frequently made to the effect that it should take but a few hours at any time to make ready a complete statement of the financial status of the League. Mr. W. H. P. Veysey, expert accountant to the Executive Committee, has just finished such a statement, and though he has had the almost constant help of one of my assistants, he has required about 25 hours of working time to prepare a trial balance on which such a statement is to be based.

In my last report I alluded to the system that at that time had been recently devised by Messrs Veysey & Veysey, whereby accurate accounts were kept of all funds and items passing through my hands, and whereby prompt estimates of the same could be furnished. These books of account are still in use with slight modifications, and with certain additions made necessary by the opening of the renewal season; and I have pleasure in reporting that the system, taken as a whole, has now proved itself thoroughly satisfactory, and I believe will prove a permanent one. The system is very complete, and of necessity covers the use of a considerable number of books; and on that account the clerical force has needed reinforcement, and a somewhat larger appropriation will be necessary for the coming year. Though the appropriation of $2,000 which went into effect the first of last March has not been exhausted, it is very clear to all acquainted with the needs of the office that the probability of the increase of membership to 15,000 during this year will make it impossible for my successor to keep the expense within that sum. The items charged against expense account in my office amount to a considerable sum above this figure; but that is due to the fact that a large amount of printing and other work has been done for the various Committees and Divisions, and still has been charged to the Secretary's office. Allowing for these items I find that a little over ninety per cent. of the amount appropriated for each month has been expended.

Of course, it will be understood that all of foregoing statements of account are subject to correction for omission and duplication of membership. It occasionally occurs that a mythical name is sent, owing to a misapprehension on the part of some official, or that the wrong name is published, and the error not being discovered for some time after, statements of this sort have then to be corrected. Secretary-Treasurers and other officials who do not carefully scan the list of applications each week may at some future time detect such errors, and for weeks they may have remained on my books without discovery. Hence, the accuracy of these accounts is always likely to be invalidated to that extent, and returned fees and dues and adjustments of the accounts with the Divisions and the League Treasurer are constantly in order, but, so far as I am aware, the status of a quarterly settlement has never been changed five dollars one way or the other since I have been in the office.

The above statements of account have been audited by your Executive Committee, to whom monthly balance-sheets have been rendered, and they have found them to be accurate, and have satisfied themselves of the existence of the balance above accounted for.

As proof of this I will offer the following:

PHILADELPHIA, January 16th, 1887.

MR. EUGENE M. AARON.

DEAR SIR:—Having made an audit of the books of the "League of American Wheelmen" to January 15th, 1887, we would state there appears, as shown in trial balance of said date, the sum of $28 to your credit for salary.

Very truly,
VEYSEY & VEYSEY, Accountants.

31 NASSAU STREET, NEW YORK.

Respectfully offering the above, and with thanks for those acts of courtesy and such support as I have had from you,

I am your ex-Secretary,
EUGENE M. AARON.

APPOINTMENTS BY THE PRESIDENT.

President Beckwith read the following list of appointments, made by him since the last session of the Board, and they were confirmed by the Board:

CALIFORNIA.

Representatives—S. F. Booth, Jr., W. W. Haralson.

DELAWARE

Chief Consul—J. E. Palmer.

ILLINOIS.

Chief Consul—Burley B. Ayers.
Representatives—E. H. Sleight, Edwin Oliver, Freeman Lillibridge, Charles Hansel, J. P. Maynard.

INDIANA.

Representative—J. A. Gleason.

KANSAS.

Representative—W. L. Bates.

KENTUCKY.

Chief Consul—C. F. Johnston.

LOUISIANA.

Representative—Harry H. Hodgson.

MARYLAND.

Representatives—Geo. F. Updegraff, W. L. Seabrook.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Representatives—J. Fred Adams, W. A. Bond, W. H. Silvey, A. G. Hill, W. E. Wentworth.

MINNESOTA.

Representative—Charles Johnson.

MISSOURI.

Representative—James H. Neill.

NEW YORK.

Representatives—Dr. H. T. Appleby, Frank Egan, E. K. Austin, Fred. Brigham, Simeon Ford, W. L. Beck.

OHIO.

Chief Consul—James R. Dunn.
Representatives—A. P. Seiler, T. J. Kirkpatrick, Fred. T. Sholes, A. A. Bennett, Dr. C. H. Griffin, H. S. Francis.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Representatives—W. W. Berry, Kirk Brown, Samuel A. Boyle, Seward H. Murray.

TENNESSEE.

Representative—John S. Miller

VERMONT.

Representative—Lewis P. Thayer.

VIRGINIA.

Representative—C. A. Field.

At 8.15 the meeting adjourned until 9 o'clock, not yet having transacted any of the regular business of the Convention.

The night session began at 9.30 o'clock. A long debate was entered upon as to what business should next be in order. The discussion continued for one hour and ten minutes, when it was at last voted that nominations for Secretary-Editor should be taken.

George R. Bidwell, of New York, nominated Abbot Bassett, of Boston. James R. Dunn, of Ohio, seconded the nomination.

John A. Wells was nominated by Mr. J. Kemp Bartlett, of Baltimore, and seconded by Mr. Davoll, of Rhode Island.

The casting and counting of the votes occupied half an hour, and then the Committee was ready to report on the result of what has practically been the whole work of the meeting during its session of 14 hours.

The result was as follows: Total number of votes cast, 136, Abbot Bassett receiving 85 and John A. Wells 51.

Adjournment at 10.45 P. M.

SECOND DAY.

The session of the second day was called to order by the President at 10.15 A. M.

There were present during the meeting, President Beckwith, Vice-President T. J. Kirkpatrick, Secretary Abbot Bassett, Geo. R. Bidwell, H. W. Hayes, C. S. Butler, C. K. Alley, W. H. Emery, I. Reynolds Adriance, C. H. Lamson, E. G. Whitney, W. W. Sharp, A. B. Barkman, C. E. Pratt, C. S. Howard, C. S. Davoll, W. I. Harris, F. A. Egan, C. S. Luscomb, F. B. Graves, W. L. Beck, T. S. Rust, G. B. Holly, I. B. Potter, Simeon Ford.

On motion of Mr. Pratt, of Boston, a vote of confidence was passed declaring the faith of the Board in the Executive Committee and indorsing all that they have done to bring order out of chaos in the office of the Secretary-Editor.

On motion of Mr. C. E. Pratt, the Executive Committee was instructed to take such steps as they may deem expedient to get possession of the books and papers pertaining to the office of Secretary-Editor.

On motion of Mr. C. E. Pratt, the Executive Committee was instructed to take all necessary steps to prevent the issue of the BULLETIN until they have a chance to revise it.

On motion of Mr. Pratt, it was voted to be the sense of the meeting that Mr. Eugene M. Aaron and Mr. John A. Wells were deserving of censure for acts committed in their official capacities.

On motion of Mr. Pratt, it was voted to be the sense of the meeting that the President ought to remove from their respective offices Chief Consul John A. Wells, of Pennsylvania, and Representative Eugene M. Aaron, of the same State.

It was voted to remove all restrictions on the members of the press that were imposed by the Board on the first day.

On motion of Mr. Pratt, the Executive Committee was instructed to examine and report on the condition of the accounts and contracts with E. Stanley Hart & Co., that they may discover how the very large loss on the BULLETIN occurred, and report at the next meeting of the Board.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

SANFORD LAWTON, TREASURER, IN ACCOUNT WITH L. A. W.

DR.

To Balance as per report rendered at Buffalo meeting, September 9th, 1886,			$1,302 10
CR.—1886.
Sept. 8th.	By ck. Veysey & Veysey, examination of Sec'y-Editor's books, and organizing new set,	$250 00
	Traveling expenses,	116 12
			366 12
" 16th.	W. I. Harris, expense to Buffalo meeting,	21 30
	Expense of office as Ch. Com. Rules and Reg.,	6 65
			27 95
" 16th.	J. E. Gulick, expense of office as mem. Executive Com., June 26th, to September 4th,		49 46
" 17th.	T. J. Kirkpatrick, expense to meeting Ex. Com., Cleveland, Sept. 2d,		15 30
" 24th.	Thornton, Briggs & Close, report B. of C. meeting, Buffalo, Sept. 9th		50 00
Oct. 6th.	Weaver, Shipman & Co., printing Treas. signature on tickets,		3 25
" 6th.	S. Lawton, Treas., expense of office June 9th to September 9th,		10 29
" 11th.	A. Bassett, expense of office, Ch. Racing Board, to October 1st,		122 00
Nov. 1st.	Dr. N. M. Beckwith, expense of President's office, June 1st to October 26th,		52 33
Dec. 21st.	T. J. Kirkpatrick, expense to meeting Ex. Com., Philadelphia,		50 50
" 28th.	Sp'l'd Pt. Co., printing for Treas.,		1 00
1887.
Jan. 6th.	A. Bassett, expense of office, Ch. Racing Board, Oct. 1st to Jan. 1st,		69 25
" 14th.	Cash on hand deposited in Agawam National Bank, Springfield, Mass.,		484 65
			$1,302 10

SPRINGFIELD, MASS., January 14th, 1887.

This is to certify that Sanford Lawton, Treasurer L. A. W., has to his credit on the books of this bank, at the close of business this day, the sum of $484.65.

A. L. SPOONER, Bookkeeper.

RESOLUTIONS OF INQUIRY.

Representative I. B. Potter, of the New York Division, presented the following resolutions. They were passed unanimously after the insertion of a direction to the Committees marked "Third," which was not in the original draft:

"WHEREAS, In a late issue of the Wheelmen's Gazette, published at Springfield, Mass., and widely circulated among the wheelmen of the United States, there appeared an article reflecting upon the personal character of the President of this body and imputing to him dishonest methods in the administration of certain matters relating to the executive office, and

"WHEREAS, The publisher and proprietor of the said publication is a member of the League of American Wheelmen; therefore,

"Resolved, That, in view of the high character of our said President and the uniform confidence and respect with which he is regarded by the members of this body, it is the sense of this meeting that the reasons and motives which prompted the publication of said article and the object of its publication should be investigated and made known, to the end that proper action may be taken with relation thereto; therefore, further

"Resolved, That a Committee, consisting of the Chief Consuls of the States of Massachusetts, New York, and Connecticut, be appointed, and that such Committee is hereby empowered and directed as follows:

First. To demand of said publisher a full and complete explanation of the said article, its object, and its specific meaning.

Second. To demand of said publisher the grounds and sources of information, if any, upon which the imputations contained in said article are founded.

Third. To ascertain if any other official of the League shares the imputations cast upon the Executive.

Fourth. To proceed upon its said duties with all convenient speed, and to report in full thereon to this body at its next meeting.

The article referred to in the foregoing preamble and resolutions is contained in Vol. I, No. 9, of said publication, at page 148, and is hereto attached:

Item A. "In the event of the League electing a new Executive at the annual meeting next spring, the question arises, Who will receive the commission on League uniforms? Echo answers—(?)."

Item B. "Considerable is being said relative to the League owning the League pins and having the profits of same revert to the League Treasury. On the same line of reasoning, why is it that the League cannot receive the commission on League uniforms?"

Chief Consul Hayes, of Massachusetts, Chief Consul Bidwell, of New York, and Chief Consul Huntington, of Connecticut, will serve on this Committee.

A communication was received from E. F. Hill, of the Membership Committee, in which he explained that the absence of any report from him could be accounted for from the fact of sickness, from which he has been suffering for many weeks. In regard to the life memberships, he explained that his Committee had, as yet, taken no action.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON RULES AND REGULATIONS.

MR. W. I. HARRIS, of Boston, presented the report of the Committee on Rules and Regulations, and it was taken up seriatim.

[Here follows, in brief, the result of the action of the Board on the By-Laws. We have not given the amendments as they were taken up, nor have we printed the debate. Our idea has been to present the changes to the members in the clearest way, that they may see at a glance the new order of things. All changes not credited to members were suggested by the Committee].

ARTICLE I. Section 1, is amended by adding the italicized words shown below. (Mr. Luscomb's amendment.)

SECTION 1. The President shall preside at all meetings of the League and of the Board of Officers; shall appoint all committees not elected by ballot; may fill pro tempore any vacancy in any office or committee not otherwise hereinafter provided for until the next ensuing business meeting of the Board; shall exercise a general oversight in the affairs of the League, and shall make a report at its annual business meeting next subsequent to his election.

ARTICLE I. Section 4, Clause (f), relates to the duties of Secretary-Editor. The italicized words shown below were added by the Board.

(f) He shall give bonds for the faithful discharge of his duties in the sum of $3,000, and the bond must be acceptable to the Executive Committee; he shall at all times be under the control of the Executive Committee; he may be suspended by them to await the action of the Board; he shall report to the Board of Officers at their meeting, and once every three months he shall publish in the Official Organ a report of the general status together with a balance-sheet showing the financial condition of the League.

ARTICLE I. Section 5 is amended as follows:

SECTION 5. The Treasurer shall receive and be accountable for all moneys paid over by the Secretary or received from other sources; he shall keep suitable books of account of all receipts and expenditures; he shall pay out funds of the League only upon order of the Executive Committee or any two members thereof. He shall hold as a reserve fund all receipts from life memberships, and shall make no payments from said fund except for such purposes as the Board of Officers shall from time to time direct. He shall give bonds for the faithful discharge, etc.

ARTICLE I. Section 6 of Article I defines the duties of Chief Consul. The italicized clause shown below was inserted on motion of Mr. Luscomb.

SECTION 6. Each Chief Consul shall have general management and oversight of the affairs of the League in his respective State and shall fill all vacancies in the office of Representative therein and therefor, subject to the approval of the Board at its next succeeding meeting. He shall call and preside at all State meetings, shall approve and appoint one Consul for each locality that in his judgment is entitled thereto, and shall appoint League hotels.

The following clause was added on motion of the Committee on Rules and Regulations.

He shall cause to be published in the Official Organ of the League all appointments made by him, and shall promptly furnish the Secretary of the League reports of business meetings of his division.

ARTICLE II. Section 1 of Article II provides for the "Annual Business Meeting" of the League. In the 5th line the meeting is referred to as a "general" meeting. The word "general" is changed to "annual."

ARTICLE II. Section 1 of Article II is amended by the addition of the following clause relative to the annual meeting.

Fifty members present shall constitute a quorum. Each member present shall have one vote on any question, and no proxies shall be allowed; provided, however, that League Clubs may choose by ballot one or more members of the club to represent them at the annual business meeting or at any Constitutional Convention, and each delegate upon presentation of credentials, signed by the President and Secretary of the Club, may cast as many votes as provided for in his credentials in all proceedings of the meetings; but no delegate may cast more than 50 votes, and no such delegate shall cast a vote for a member present at the meeting if that member shall choose to cast his own vote.

ARTICLE II. Section 4 of Article II relates to the meetings of the Board of Officers. A new clause has been added as follows:

"At these meetings any member of the Board may be represented by proxy, provided that the person holding the proxy shall be a member of the Board, and that no person shall be proxy for more than three members, unless he be a Chief Consul, when he may hold proxies for six members. Provided, however, that no officer shall be proxy for another, and vote in his stead, unless he be designated by name in the handwriting of the officer signing the proxy; and further, no officer holding a proxy shall be empowered to transfer the same to any other officer under any circumstances. The Board of Officers shall be required, etc."

ARTICLE II. Section 5 of Article II provides for a mail vote of the Board of Officers on any matter of business that may come before the Board. The following clause was stricken out on motion of Dr. C. S. Butler, of Buffalo:

"And an appeal may be taken to the full Board in the foregoing manner when six or more members desire to appeal from the action of any business meeting at which they may have been present or not."

ARTICLE II. Section 7 of Article II is amended by the addition of a clause shown below:

"Each State Division shall appoint its own meetings, provided at least one shall be held each year at which its Secretary-Treasurer shall be elected, and appoint its own parades and races, all of which shall be subject to the general provisions of the L. A. W. Constitution and By-Laws. Provided, however, that any State division may elect its Secretary and Treasurer in such manner as its By-Laws may provide. State divisions shall have power to appoint such committees from their own members as they shall deem expedient."

ARTICLE III. This article relates to the committees. We give below, clause (a) of Section 1 as it originally stood and the one substituted by the Board.

"1. (a) There shall be a Committee on Membership, a Committee on Rules and Regulations, a Committee on Rights and Privileges, a Committee on Racing (to be called the Racing Board), a Committee on Touring (to be called the Touring Board), and a Transportation Committee, to be appointed by the President (except the Executive Committee) from the Board of Officers (except the Racing Board, the Touring Board, and the Transportation Committee), to serve for one year, or until their successors be properly appointed."

THE SUBSTITUTE (a). "The following standing Committee shall be appointed by the President to serve one year, or until their successors be properly appointed: a Committee on Membership; on Rules and Regulations; on Rights and Privileges; on Racing, to be called the Racing Board; on Touring, to be called the Touring Board; and on Transportation."

Clause (b) of the same section is repealed and a substitute adopted as shown below:

"(b) Each committee shall consist of three members (except the Racing Board and the Transportation Committee, which may consist of six, and the Touring Board, which shall consist of two associate Chairmen of sub-committees, to be known as the Tourmaster and the Bookmaster respectively), and no member shall be on more than two committees, and two shall constitute a quorum in each, and they shall report to the Board or to the President thereof within one month after reference of any matter to them by the President or by the Rules."

THE SUBSTITUTE (b). "The Committees on Membership, on Rules and Regulations, and on Rights and Privileges shall each consist of three members of the Board of Officers; the remaining standing committees may be appointed from the membership at large. The Racing Board and Transportation Committee may each consist of six members, and the Touring Board shall consist of two associate chairmen of sub-committees, to be known respectively as the Tourmaster and the Bookmaster. No member shall be on more than two committees, and a majority shall constitute a quorum in each, and they shall report to the Board or to the President thereof within one month after reference of any matter to them by the President, or by the Rules."

ARTICLE III. Clause (b) of Section 6 defines the duties of the Racing Board. A new clause is added as shown by the italics below:

"(b) It shall be their duty to make inquiry regarding any wheelman whose amateur status is questioned, and all protests or charges shall be entered with the Chairman of that Board, who will provide for an investigation by a member or members of that Board. Pending investigation the party against whom these charges are brought may be suspended from the track. Suspicious circumstances, which are in the judgment of any member of the Board, sufficient to make the status of any wheelman a matter of reasonable doubt, shall be the basis of an investigation in the absence of formal protests or charges. The member or members to whom the work of investigation is assigned shall immediately communicate with the party under suspicion, either in person or by registered letter, lay all charges before him, or set forth the circumstances which lead to a reasonable doubt and call for an answer to the charges or a removal of the reasonable doubt. Silence and failure to reply within thirty days to charges presented will be considered an admission of guilt. If the charges are proved, or the reasonable doubt is not removed, it shall be the duty of the Chairman to report the findings in the 'Official Organ' declaring that the party has forfeited his amateur status and warning all amateurs not to compete with him; and such official declaration shall carry with it expulsion from the League if the person concerned be a member thereof."

ARTICLE III. Clause (a) of Section 7 is amended by striking out two words, "this department," and inserting the words the Touring Board. The change is made merely to make the clause less obscure.

ARTICLE III. Clause (c) of Section 7 relates to the duties of Bookmaster. We give below the clause as it stood and the substitute.

"(c) The Bookmaster is empowered in the name of the L. A. W. to obtain duplicate information or copies of road reports, maps, hand or road books, transportation rates, Consuls and hotels, representative riders (in non-officered localities), periodical touring articles, and anything else connected with the minutiæ of the information of interest to cycling tourists."

THE SUBSTITUTE (c). "The Bookmaster is empowered in the name of the L. A. W. to obtain and keep copies of road reports, maps, hand or road books, transportation rates, periodical touring articles, lists of hotels, consuls, and in non-officered localities) of representative riders, together with any other information of records of use or interest to cycling tourists. This expenditure shall be subject to the approval of the Executive Committee."

ARTICLE V. Section 4 of this article contains the definition of an amateur. The new rule now reads as below, the italicized words being new. (Moved by Mr. Bassett).

"ARTICLE V. Sec ion 4.—An amateur is one who has never engaged in, nor assisted in, nor taught cycling, nor any recognized athletic exercise for money, or other remuneration, nor knowingly competed with or against a professional for a prize of any description.

"To prevent any misunderstanding in interpreting the above, the League draws attention to the following explanation: A cyclist ceases to be an amateur by

"(a) Engaging in cycling, or any other recognized athletic exercise, or personally teaching, training, or coaching any person therein, either as a means of obtaining a livelihood, or for a stated bet, money prize, or gate money.

"(b) Competing with, or pace-making for, or having the pace made by a professional in public or for a prize.

"(c) Selling, realizing upon, or otherwise turning into cash prize won by him.

"(d) Accepting, directly or indirectly, any remuneration, compensation, or expenses whatever from a cycle manufacturer, agent, or other person interested in the trade or sport for cycle riding.

"(e) This rule does not apply to the teaching of the elements of bicycling solely for the purpose of effecting the sale of a bicycle.

"The League recognizes as athletic exercises all the sports under the jurisdiction of the National Association of Amateur Athletes of America, viz.: Running, walking, jumping, pole leaping, putting the shot, throwing the hammer, throwing of weights, tug of war, and also rowing, boxing, sparring, lacrosse, polo, roller and ice skating."

ARTICLE V. Clause (a), Section 5, provides that "If any member shall be promoted in writing by four or more members of the League, etc.," the word "four" is changed to ten.

ARTICLE V. A new section called Section 9 is added. It reads:

"Any cycle club in the United States that shall have in its By-Laws a provision requiring every active member to join the League of American Wheelmen, shall become a League Club, and entitled to all the privileges accorded League clubs under these By-Laws. The number of votes that any League club shall be entitled to cast through its delegates at the annual meeting, or at any Constitutional Convention shall be one vote for every member of said club, in good standing, upon the rolls of the League."

ARTICLE VIII. Section 1, of Article VIII is amended as shown by comparison of the original and the substitute given below.

ORIGINAL.—"Additions or amendments to the By-Laws may be made after notice by mail or otherwise, to every member of the Board of Officers at a meeting of the Board, or as provided in Article I., Section 5."

THE SUBSTITUTE.—"Additions or amendments to the By-Laws may be made either at a meeting of the Board of Officers, or as provided in Article II, Section 5, but no amendment shall be made unless 10 days' notice thereof shall have been given through the columns of the Official Organ."

After passing the amendments in detail, the Board took a vote and passed all the amendments as a whole.

The following resolution was introduced by Mr. Bassett and passed unanimously:

"Resolved, That the League of American Wheelmen recognizes all sentences of disqualification and suspension passed by the National Association of Amateur Athletes of America, in consequence of the violation of the amateur rule, so-called, in the sports under its jurisdiction, but the League recognizes the ruling of no other American organization upon the conduct of cyclists, as such."

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON RIGHTS AND PRIVILEGES.

NEW YORK, January 17th, 1887.

In pursuance of the instructions voted at the meeting of the Board of Officers in February, 1886, and with the advice and concurrence of the Executive Committee, we authorized Mr. James L. Yopp, C. C. of N. C., who has represented the wheelmen of Wilmington, N. C., in the matter of their turnpike controversy, to retain two eminent counsel, and pursue as nearly as they might find to be practicable the course indicated in our previous report.

Messrs. D. L. Russell and George Davis were retained and after some preliminaries, and failure of the wheelmen to get obstructed or put off the turnpike or indicted by the Company, so as to have ground for suits, a modified course was taken. In a letter written on the 11th instant, by Mr. Yopp, he thus recapitulates: "On the 5th of July Mr. Burkheimer and myself rode our bicycles on the Wilmington and Coast Turnpike Road. We offered toll, but were refused. We informed the gatekeeper that our object was to make a test case. We waited some time for them to indict us, but they would not accommodate us: they wanted to get a number of cases against us and then indict us for all. We were advised by our lawyers to force the case on the State, which we did by complaining of each other, and were tried at the September term of the Criminal Court, when the Judge decided the act constitutional and fined me one cent and costs. I asked for an appeal to the Supreme Court, which was granted. Our lawyers argued the case before the Supreme Court at Raleigh over two months ago, but no decision has been rendered yet. The Judges appear to "hang fire" most on the part of the Act which gives the Superintendent power to say who shall or shall not ride bicyles on the road. We are feeling very confident of gaining the case. Our only fear is that the Legislature, which is in session now (it only sits every two years), may, if the Judges decide in our favor, be induced by the Turnpike Company to amend the Act so that we could not do anything. I do not like to ask the League to furnish us a lawyer to oppose this should we need one, for it has been extremely liberal; but our number is small and we cannot well pay him ourselves. Is the League willing to pay a reasonable fee for opposition to such an amendment to the Act as would prohibit us?"

The case has been conducted very reasonably so far, the counsel using our L. A. W. abstract opinion with a leaf attached, to save printing, and their charges being moderate. The whole amount paid by the League to date is $150. Your Committee believe that the request for further funds, if necessary, should be granted, and recommend that the North Carolina wheelmen and their counsel be encouraged to pursue their course by every right means, and be assured of funds to meet all reasonable expenses. This case illustrates to some extent "the law's delays;" but sometimes delay accomplishes more than swift action.

Your Committee have no other litigation at general League expense to report. They receive many applications for advice and assistance from time to time other than funds, and render it. In pursuance of our recommendations of a year ago, several of the State divisions, notably Ohio, New York, and Massachusetts, have attended to personal cases in their districts with successful results, and without calling on the general officers. The practice of League or division attention to all just cases is increasing, and your Committee believe that it ought to prevail more and more.

The petition of the N. Y. Bicycle Club in reference to the Orange, N. J., ordinances was considered, and after an investigation we are satisfied that the matter has been practically settled, and recommend that the petition be placed on file.

Respectfully submitted, for the Committee,
CHARLES E. PRATT, Chairman.

THE LEAGUE MEET.

The following communication was received from the Secretary-Treasurer of the Missouri Division:

ST. LOUIS, MO., January 10th, 1887.

N. M. BECKWITH, ESQ., President L. A. W., New York.

DEAR SIR:—At a recent meeting of the Committee appointed to make the preliminary arrangements for the annual meet of the League of American Wheelmen, which is to be held in St. Louis this spring, the following resolution was unanimously adopted, viz.:

Resolved, That we respectfully recommend to the Board of Officers of the League of American Wheelmen the adoption of Friday and Saturday, May 20th and 21st, as the dates for holding the meet of 1887 in St. Louis.

The meeting referred to was attended by the Chief Consuls of Illinois and Indiana, besides other representative wheelmen from adjacent States, and the selection of the dates named was only arrived at after very careful consideration. We trust that the resolution will receive favorable action at your hands.

Respectfully and fraternally,
W. M. BREWSTER, Secretary.

The following letter supplementary to the communication of the Secretary-Treasurer was received from the Chief Consul:

ST. LOUIS, MO., January 11th, 1887.

DR. N. MALON BECKWITH, President L. A. W.:

DEAR SIR:—A meeting of the Committee having the League meet in charge was held on the 9th, at which meeting were present Chief Consuls Irwin and Ayers and other prominent Western members. As the Secretary of the meeting has no doubt notified Secretary Aaron, it was decided to recommend to the Board of Officers that the meet be held on Friday and Saturday, the 20th and 21st of May. Our reasons for this were that at that time the weather will probably be more suitable than at any other.

June is likely to be very hot, but about the time specified it is generally mild and pleasant. The time, you will observe, is only one week earlier than the Boston meet.

The programme for the meet was roughly arranged as follows:

FIRST DAY.

Morning.—B. of O. meeting; general meeting.

Afternoon.—Leave city about 4 o'clock on steamer "Chas. P. Chouteau" for excursion down the river; reach Montesano Springs about 6 P. M.; supper at the hotel or on the boat.

Evening.—On down the river; ball on board; return in the small hours.

The "Chouteau" is one of the largest boats on the Mississippi River, having carried 13,000 bales of cotton at one trip. It is well fitted up for excursions, and has a ball-room on the lower deck. There are many points of interest down the river, and the Committee judged that such an excursion would be of interest to all.

SECOND DAY.

Morning.—Parade.

The parade will be over asphaltum streets, and out Lindell Boulevard to Forest Park, where a photograph can be taken and lunch served.

Afternoon.—Races.

Evening.—Banquet.

In connection with the races I desire to say that it is the unanimous opinion of the Committee that if it were possible to omit the races very much pleasanter forms of amusement for the afternoon could be substituted. We could undoubtedly better our finances more or less by the races, but it is our desire to crowd the greatest possible amount of pleasure into the two days, and, therefore, it is practicable, and, if the Board is willing, we should greatly prefer to substitute for the races some plan of entertainment likely to afford the members greater pleasure.

The transportation arrangements for the meet will be in the hands of Mr. B. B. Ayers, and a Reception Committee will make suitable hotel arrangements.

I would be glad to have you lay this letter before the Board of Officers, at their meeting on the 17th, for their information, and, in conclusion, let me say that St. Louis intends to do her utmost to sustain the reputation for hospitality which she has, the '87 meet every member who can make arrangements to correctly or otherwise, acquired, and that she desires to see at come.

Yours respectfully,
JOHN S. ROGERS, C. C. Mo.

The recommendation contained in the resolution was adopted, and the League voted to meet at St. Louis on the dates suggested by the Division.

By a unanimous vote President N. M. Beckwith was chosen Chief Marshal of the parade to be held on the occasion of the League meet at St. Louis.

On motion of Mr. Pratt, the Secretary-Editor was instructed to prepare and have printed at as early a date as possible a hand-book of the League, which shall contain the Constitution and By-Laws of the League, and such other matter as the Executive Committee deem it expedient to insert, the book to be sold to members at a price not exceeding ten cents.

On motion of Mr. Bidwell, a committee of three was appointed to consider and report on the expediency of a change in the League uniform. The committee appointed consisted of President Beckwith, Geo. R. Bidwell, of New York, and Chief Consul Elliott W. Johnson, of New Jersey.

On motion of Mr. Pratt, of Boston, the Executive Committee was instructed to communicate with the officers of the Cyclist Touring Club, of England, and protest against the use of the emblem of the League on the Club badge adopted by that organization.

At seven minutes before 4 o'clock P. M. the meeting adjourned.

Official Announcements.

LEAGUE OFFICERS.

OFFICERS OF THE BOARD.

PRESIDENT.—Dr. N. M. Beckwith, 21 W. Thirty-seventh Street, New York.
VICE-PRESIDENT.—T. J. Kirkpatrick, Springfield, Ohio.
TREASURER.—Sanford Lawton, Springfield, Mass.

STANDING COMMITTEES.

EXECUTIVE.—N. M. Beckwith, 21 W. Thirty-seventh Street, New York; T. J. Kirkpatrick, Springfield, Ohio; John C. Gulick, 132 Nassau Street, New York city.

MEMBERSHIP.—E. F. Hill, Chairman, P. O. Box 797, Peekskill, N. Y.; Dr. G. Carlton Brown, 16 Broad Street, Elizabeth, N. J.; J. R. Dunn, Massillon, Ohio.

RACING.—Abbot Bassett, Chairman, 22 School Street, Boston, Mass.; Ewing L. Miller, 134 S. Front Street, Philadelphia, Pa.; W. M. Brewster, 309 Olive Street, St. Louis, Mo.; Chas. H. Potter, Cleveland, Ohio; Gerry Jones, Binghamton, N. Y.

RULES AND REGULATIONS.—W. I. Harris, Chairman, Box 5132, Boston, Mass.; Dr. C. S. Butler, 263 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.; Knight L. Clapp, 328 West Sixtieth Street, N. Y.

RIGHTS AND PRIVILEGES.—Charles E. Pratt, 597 Washington Street, Boston, Mass.; John C. Gulick, 132 Nassau Street, N. Y.; A. S. Parsons, Cambridgeport, Mass.

TRANSPORTATION.—Burley B. Ayers, Chairman, 152 S. Hoyne Avenue, Chicago, Ill.; Geo. R. Bidwell, 313 W. 58th Street, New York city; W. S. Bull, 587 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.; J. H. Livingston, Editor The Reformer, Bennington, Vt.; Fred. T. Sholes, Marsh-Harwood Co., Cleveland, O.; Frank Read, Record Building, Philadelphia; Frank A. Elwell, Transcript Office, Portland, Maine; Columbus Waterhouse, 16 Beale Street, San Francisco, Cal.; M. E. Graves (at large), Mannheim Building, St. Paul, Minn.

BUREAU OF INFORMATION.—A. B. Barkman, Chairman and Bookmaster, No. 608 Fourth Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

OFFICIAL HANDICAPPER.

N. P. Tyler, M. D., New Rochelle, N. Y.

PENNSYLVANIA STATE NOMINATING COMMITTEE.

PHILADELPHIA, January 25th, 1887.

TO THE PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION.

GENTLEMEN:—I have this day appointed Messrs. Col. Geo. Sanderson, of Scranton; C. D. Williams, of Philadelphia, and Seward H. Murray, of Sewickley, as a Committee on Nominations to prepare a State ticket for the annual election next March. As they will be duly informed by the Secretary-Editor of the exact number of Representatives for which our State will be entitled to vote, I feel sure that this Committee will prepare the ticket with a care that will render it impossible for the Committee on Rights and Privileges to unjustly make a farce of our election.

Fraternally yours,
JNO. A. WELLS, Chief Consul.

CONNECTICUT APPOINTMENTS.

CONSUL.

Ansonia—Fred. M. Drew, Ansonia National Bank.

HOTELS.

		Regular rate.	L. A. W. rate.
Ansonia,	Dayton House,	$2 50	$1 75
Bridgeport,	Atlantic House,	3 00	2 50
Birmingham,	Bassett House,	2 50	2 00
Branford,	Branford Point House,	2 25
Colchester,	Hooker House,†
Daniel-onville,	Attawaugan House,	2 50	2 00
Danbury,	Turner House,	2 50	2 00
Greenwich,	Lennox House,
Hartford,	United State Hotel,	3 00	2 50
Lakeville,	Wonasco House,*
Meriden,	Winthrop House,	$3 50 3 00	$3 00 2 50
Middletown,	McDonough House,	2 50	2 00
New Britain,	Hotel Russwin,	$3 00 2 50	2 40 2 10
Norwalk,	Norwalk Hotel,	1 50	1 25
Norwich,	Wauregan House,	3 00 2 50	33 per cent. off.
New London,	Crocker House,	$3 50 3 00	2 50
North Manchester,	Cowles Hotel,	2 00	1 50
New Haven,	Tremont House,	3 00	$2 50 2 00
Plantsville,	Hotel Central,	2 00	1 00
Plainville,	Allderidge House,	2 00	1 50
Putnam,	Bigbee House,*
Rockville,	Rockville House,	2 00	1 50
Stamford,	Stamford House,
Suffield,	Suffield Hotel,†
Stratford,	Benjamin's,		1 50
Stonington,	Ocean House,		2 00
Westport,	Westport Hotel,	2 00	1 75
West Haven,	Sea View House,	3 00	2 50
Willimantic,	Commercial Hotel,	2 00	1 50
Waterbury,	Scovill House,	2 50	2 00
Winsted,	Beardsley House,		2 00

* Reduced rates to be announced later.
† Twenty per cent. discount from regular rates.

TO CONNECTICUT MEMBERS.

A pamphlet containing the rules of this Division, hotel and Consul lists, and other matter of interest has been mailed to each member. It should be preserved for future reference. If any have not received it, they should address Secretary-Treasurer D. J. Post, Drawer 11, Hartford.

CHARLES G. HUNTINGTON,
Chief Consul.

TO EUGENE M. AARON.

When, in the battle's rush against the foe,
One soldier falls, unheeded is his groan;
His place is filled, his loss is hardly known,
As on to victory his comrades go.
But when, in time of peace, one whom we know—
And love, too, for the friendship he hath shown,
Drops from our ranks, we can but pause to own
Our loss, nor fear a manly grief to show.
Then, AARON, since thine editorial pen,
Its work accomplished, now is laid aside
At duty's call, believe me, all who wear
The lettered, winged wheel will miss thee when,
In days to come, they seek a loyal guide,
Or steadfast friend in cycling joys to share.

DUDLEY C. HASBROUCK.

L. A. W., No. 1984.

NEW ORLEANS.

The suggestion that an illuminated parade of cycles would add to the attractiveness of the approaching Carnival (February 16th–23d) has now developed into an assured fact.

All hands are hard at it; the arrangements are assuming a definite character, and success is almost certain. A meeting of local wheelmen is fixed for Tuesday, the 25th inst., when the arrangements will be completed, the night for the parade will be set, officers chosen, and the men assigned to the different divisions.

It is expected that there will be nearly a hundred local riders in line, and possibly visiting riders will swell this number very considerably.

In former years this city has always been filled with visitors during the annual Mardi Gras festivities, and this year promises to be no exception; and, as wheelmen have always been of the number, I desire to say a few words to those who may come among us this year. Briefly, it is this: Bring your wheels with you, and take part in the parade. This will be the first appearance in the South of any considerable number of cyclists in a body, and we are, therefore, desirous of making as large and favorable a display as is possible, and to this end invite all intending visitors to take part, and if such parties will forward their names and addresses and size of wheel ridden in advance to Harry H. Hodgson, 13 Carondelet Street, this city, it will facilitate matters.

It will cost nothing for the transportation of the wheels, as all railroads leading into the city carry them free, and, once here, riding can be enjoyed to the heart's content; no ice, no snow; asphalt pavement, shell roads, or cobble stones if you want them; so, reader, if you are coming bring your wheel with you, and we will help to make your stay pleasant, and you in turn can help us by swelling the ranks of the parade.

BI.

ENGLISH RECORDS.

The Records Committee of the N. C. U. has passed the following claims:—

Bicycle (road), 24 hours, G. P. Mills, Anfield B. C.; distance 295 miles, on 5th October, 1886.

Tricycle (road), 100 miles, Syd. Lee, Kildare B. & T. C.; time, 8h. 29m. 44s., on 28th August, 1886.

ANOTHER YEAR OF THE MANHATTAN.

The annual statement of the MANHATTAN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY, which appears in another column of this paper, reflects the general improvement in business during the past year. An increase in net assets, in the volume of insurance written, in the income, and a general strengthening of the lines in all directions, are features which will clearly appear to any one interested to make the comparison with the statement of one year ago. The patrons of the Manhattan have, by such long and unshaken experience, become so thoroughly accustomed to this state of affairs that they will find little that is new or surprising in this report. Doubtless, the even tenor of steady growth and unshaken integrity will amply compensate for the absence of the excitement of "brilliant" experiments or risky ventures in uncertain fields. The administration of the new President of the Manhattan, Mr. James M. McLean, is characterized by the same conservative judgment and sound policy which have made the record and position of the Company so uniformly creditable to its officers and satisfactory to all its patrons.—Adv.

L. A. W. HAND-BOOK.

We have on hand a large number of copies of the Hand-Book which we desire the members to relieve us of. These books are not correct to date, for they contain none of the changes made in the By-Laws at the last meeting of the Board of Officers; but they have a deal of interesting matter and many hints and suggestions to members. We give below a table of contents:

Constitution,
By-Laws (not correct),
List of Officers and Committees,
Objects of the L. A. W.,
Suggestions to League Clubs,
Suggestions from Membership Committee,
Racing Rules,
League uniform (now practically abandoned),
The L. A. W. and Legal Rights. By Chas. E. Pratt, Esq.,
The Law of Cycling. By I. B. Potter, Esq.,
List of Railroads which carry bicycles free,
List of hand and road books,
The League and highway improvements,
Pavements,
Suggestions as to where to get information on League questions,
Consuls and Hotels,
Information regarding the routine of League work,
Advice to State Divisions,
Cycle records,
Bugle Code, Music, and Explanation,
League Stencils,
A Typical Lawsuit,
Pennsylvania Highway Laws,
Connecticut Highway Laws.

We will send one or more copies of this book to any League member on receipt of four cents in stamps for each copy, to cover cost of mailing. A new Hand-Book will be issued within a short time which will be sold for ten cents. It will contain no more than the one we now have, but will be correct to date of issue.

The Secretary-Editor has been appointed a committee to count the mail vote on Dr. Blackham's resolutions. The polls close on the first day of February at noon. All who desire to express an opinion on this question should do so forthwith.

Mr. J. R. Hogg, the leader of the small faction in England that is working for the abolition of the amateur rule, has decided not to press the question at the next meeting of the N. C. U., and has withdrawn his notice of intention to make a motion to this effect. Certain defeat stared him in the face.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

The efforts of the Pope Manufacturing Company will not hereafter be confined wholly to the manufacture of bicycles and tricycles. Engines, typewriters, and sewing-machines are among the announced objects of the corporation, as set forth in its new charter. The officers of the company are as follows: President, Albert A. Pope; Treasurer, Edward W. Pope; Directors, Albert A. Pope, Edward W. Pope, Charles F. Joy, Charles E. Pratt, and Henry D. Hyde.—Boston Globe.

A new notion comes to us from Boston and the Boston Bicycle Club. All the members of the Club whose birthdays come within a given month are expected to join together and receive the members of the Club on such an evening during the month as they may select. There were six members whose natal day occurred in January, and last Saturday evening they held open house at the Club-rooms on St. James Avenue.

"Ladies' Night" at the Club-House of the Massachusetts Club, of Boston, is one of the most popular of the many social events this Club conducts. The last one occurred on Saturday evening, and besides an hour of social intercourse, dancing, and refreshments, the following programme was carried out: Piano duet by Messrs. E. Registein and J. Chelius; song by Charles Ryder; trio, 'cello, violin, and piano, by Messrs. Bowen, Chelius, and Rickertson; recitation by Miss Hattie Fay; solo by Miss Olivier, of the Ladies' Schubert Quartet; song by Mr. Benjamin Oliver; address by Colonel Higginson; song by Miss Ollivier, with cello and violin accompaniment; cornet solo by Mr. Charles E. Lindell, and barytone solo by E. C. Thorndike.

Dr. W. G. Kendall, of Boston, has notified League Tourmaster B. B. Ayers of his resignation as Marshal of the Eastern Division of the Touring Department.

The Marblehead Cycling Club is out with a defiance signed by Captain C. W. Ware, as follows: "The Marblehead Cycling Club hereby challenges the Peabody Cycling Club to a series of races—a game of polo, race on skates, and a race on bicycles. The Salem Rink is preferred as a place of meeting. The club which wins the greater number of points is to receive a bugle, the value of which shall not be less than $35."

The Springfield Bicycle Club will give no ball February 22d, but will give a minstrel entertainment at the Opera House, February 22d and 23d, the proceeds to be given to the Women's Christian Association.

Mr. C. T. Guernsey will start July 1st from Buffalo, N. Y., to ride to Macon, Ga. The distance is 1,200 miles, and he hopes to cover it in 22 days. He will remain in Macon about five weeks. He requests that information be sent to him regarding route, quality of roads, hotels, etc. He will go first to Cleveland, than to Cincinnati, Chattanooga, Memphis, Atlanta, to Macon. Address at 136 S. Division Street, Buffalo.

A clergyman resident in New York State writes: "My standing in the League saved me an annoying lawsuit this fall. The promise of State Consul Bidwell to furnish 'men and means' convinced plaintiff that action would hardly be worth taking. It is needless to assure me, then, of the benefits of League membership."

The new Secretary-Editor has received messages of congratulation, kind words, and good wishes from all parts of the country. For these he is very grateful. To answer one and all would take more time than he can well spare, and so he begs that this acknowledgment will stand in the stead of a more formal one. He hopes to prove worthy of the expressions of good will and confidence that he has received.

Mr. Albert H. Overman, of the Overman Wheel Company, sailed for England last Saturday. He will attend the Stanley Show.

Mr. Chas. R. Eisenbrandt asks for a good route from Baltimore, Md., to St. Louis. Will some one send the same to his address, 112 S. Broadway, Baltimore?

The annnual meet of the Ohio Division will be held at Mansfield in July.

Correspondence.

The Editor wishes it distinctly understood that he is not responsible for the statements and opinions expressed in these columns.

THE RIGHT OF APPEAL.

DR. N. MALON BECKWITH, PRESIDENT, MR. ABBOT BASSETT, SECRETARY, LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN:

GENTLEMEN:—One of the last acts of the Board of Officers, at their recent meeting, was the introduction of a resolution to change or amend Article II, Section 5, of the By-Laws, by striking out all that portion following the words, "and it shall be taken as the action of this Board," and reading as follows: "as if done at a regular meeting; and an appeal may be taken to the full Board in the foregoing manner when six or more members desire to appeal from the action of any business meeting at which they may have been present or not."

The introduction of such a resolution was out of order, and the action of the Board on the matter is of no effect, the By-Law remaining unchanged, and will so remain until amended as provided for in Article VIII.

[We think our correspondent is in error. Dr. Butler gave notice of this amendment in the proper manner and in accordance with the provisions of Article VIII.—ED.]

I consider that the portion of the Article which it was proposed to strike out is most vital and important to every member of the League and of the Board, and as we are at present passing through a crisis in which men's minds are much disturbed, it is not expedient to add fuel to the flame of discontent which is abroad.

If the acts of the Board are such as are for the benefit of the League, and are upright and honorable we should never fear the result of an appeal; but if they are otherwise, the sooner an appeal is taken and the matter set aright, the better for our organization.

I consider that the expunging from the By-Law of that portion which was proposed would be a most serious step, bringing fatal results, and I think that upon a proper consideration of the matter my fellow-members of the Board will agree with me.

Very truly yours,

A. B. BARKMAN.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., January 20th.

Touring Department.

B. B. Ayers, Tourmaster, Chicago; A. B. Barkman, Bookmaster, 608 Fourth Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.; Geo. R. Bidwell, Chief Marshal, New York; Dr. W. G. Kendall, Marshal Eastern Division, Boston, Mass.; W. S. Bull, Marshal Middle Division, Buffalo, N. Y.; W. G. E. Peirce, Marshal Western Division, Chicago; N. L. Collamer, Marshal Southern Division, Washington, D. C.; Joseph Pennell, Marshal Foreign Division, London, England; H. D. Corey, General Agent, Boston, Mass.; Fred. Jenkins, Chief Quartermaster, New York; Edwin Oliver, Secretary, Chicago, Ill.

The following L. A. W. works are officially recommended by the L. A. W. Bureau of Information. No preference is expressed, and each reader must draw his own conclusions as to relative merit.

HAND-BOOK OF MASSACHUSETTS (1884):—Hotels, repair shops, the principal through routes, condition of roads by districts, bound in stiff cloth. Address H. E. Ducker, Springfield, Mass.

L. A. W. ROAD AND HAND BOOK OF PA., N. J., AND MD. (Official):—Two hundred pages, 12,000 miles separately reported in tabular form, general description of riding districts, eight diagram maps, complete Consul, hotel, and repair shop lists, no advertisements, bound in flexible leather. A copy of the revised and enlarged 1886 edition was furnished free last year to every League member in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and Maryland who joined before April 1st. A limited supply sold to League members only or to those ineligible to membership. Price, $1.00. Inclose cash to T. Houard Wright, Box 1619, Philadelphia, Pa.

L. A. W. HAND-BOOK OF OHIO (Official):—Complete official lists of officers, Consuls, hotels, etc. General description of riding districts, fine large folding road-map of the State. Price, $1.00; address T. J. Kirkpatrick, Springfield, Ohio.

L. A. W. ROAD-BOOK OF LONG ISLAND, with the best riding within 50 miles of New York City—very thorough. Three fine maps on one sheet folded in the book, style of tabular form, same as Pa.-N. J.-Md. Book, advertisements, bound in flexible cloth. Price, $1.00; address A. B. Barkman, 608 4th Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y. For sale with Brooklyn and New York bicycle dealers, etc.

L. A. W. ROAD-BOOK OF BOSTON AND VICINITY, paper cover, advertisements. Price, 25 cents; address A. L. Atkins, 597 Washington Street, Boston, Mass.

IN AND AROUND CAPE ANN, bound in cloth; finely illustrated. The wheelmen's hand-book of Gloucester, Mass., and vicinity. Price, 75 cents; address John S. Webber, Jr., Gloucester, Mass.

ROAD-BOOK OF CONNECTICUT, in progress. Address for information, Charles G. Huntington, Hartford, Conn.

L. A. W. ROAD-BOOK OF MICHIGAN; with best roads of Ontario and through route from Chicago to Buffalo. Sectional and general maps; complete lists of Consuls, hotels, repair shops, and points of interest. Flexible leather cover. Free to Division members joining before April 1st. Price to L. A. W. members of other States, $1.00. For further information, address J. H. Johnson, 107 Spruce Street, Detroit, Mich. Remit to J. E. Beal, Sec.-Treas., Ann Arbor, Mich.

L. A. W. ROAD AND HAND-BOOK OF NEW YORK (Official):—Ready in March, 1887. 200 pages. All sections of the State are well reported, except the northern or Adirondack region. The routes will extend east to Boston, south to Staunton, Va., and it is expected west to Chicago. The compiler hopes to have the books ready for delivery by the 1st of March next. The method of distribution as adopted by the Committee is as follows: All persons renewing or joining between January 1st and March 31st, 1887, will receive one copy free. All persons joining between April 1st and June 30th will receive a copy upon payment of 13 cents. All persons joining between July 1st and September 30th will receive a copy upon payment of 25 cents. All persons joining after October 1st will receive a copy upon payment of 37 cents. The book will be sold to League members of other States, or to those who are not eligible to League membership, at $1.00 per copy. Address A. B. Barkman, 608 4th Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

ROAD-MAP OF BOSTON AND VICINITY (Warren's).

ROAD-MAP (WHEELING CHART) OF SPRINGFIELD AND VICINITY. Address Henry E. Ducker, Springfield, Mass.

ROAD-MAP OF NEW JERSEY (L. A. W. Official):—Three parts, Northern, Central, and Southern, folded in stiff covers; price, 50 cents each or $1.50 for the set. Address Dr. G. Carleton Brown, Elizabeth, N. J.

COLTON'S ROAD-MAP OF PENNSYLVANIA:—Three parts, Eastern Counties, Central Counties, Western Counties. Price, $2.00 per section. J. L. Smith, Map Publisher, Sixth Street, above Chestnut, Philadelphia, Pa.

MARTINET'S ROAD-MAP OF MARYLAND:—Splendid work. Price, $10.00. J. L. Smith, as above.

ROAD-MAP OF OHIO. See Ohio Hand-Book.

THE WHEELMAN'S HAND-BOOK OF ESSEX COUNTY, MASS. Sketches of cities and towns, objects of interest, hotels, clubs, officials, roads, etc. Also a sketch of the League of Essex County Wheelmen and a chapter on wheel literature. By George Chinn. Third edition. Beverly, Mass., 1886, 20 cents.

L. A. W. ROAD AND HAND BOOK OF CALIFORNIA (Official):—Officers, Consuls, members, hotels, and By-Laws of California Division. California bicycle clubs and officers; advertisements. Issued in monthly parts, 75 cents to League members. Part I now ready, bound in flexible cloth, 25 cents. Address J. W. Gibson, No. 612 Hyde St., San Francisco, Cal.

Persons connected with the above publications who wish changes or corrections made in the above list will please address A. B. Barkman, 608 Fourth Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

IMPORTANT.

TRANSPORTATION ARRANGEMENTS TO THE LEAGUE MEET AT ST. LOUIS, MAY 20TH AND 21ST.

NEW YORK, January 22d, 1887.

CIRCULAR LETTER, TRANSPORTATION COMMITTEE, L. A. W.

The Committee is now perfecting the transportation arrangements from the East to the League meet, and it is designed to make this trip to St. Louis complete in every detail. Special limited trains and buffet sleeping-car service will be among the features. It is intended to consolidate into one grand party all wheelmen from New York, Massachusetts, and the East, New Jersey, Philadelphia, and vicinity, and the South. By this plan better rates can be secured, special trains placed at our command, and other little comforts of travel insured, which we will lose if our party is not consolidated.

I have undertaken, on behalf of the Committee, to make these arrangements for the territory named, and will publish plans in detail as soon as completed. Clubs or individuals will be furnished with all particulars on application to me, and later I will be in a position to name the rates from any point in the territory to St. Louis and return. I trust the wheelmen will support the Committee in this undertaking, and aid us in making this a grand excursion. Watch the cycling press for particulars.

GEO. R. BIDWELL,
313 W. 58th St., New York,
For the Committee.

The Overman Wheel Company will put upon the market for the coming season three high-grade bicycles, the Victor Roadster, Victor Light Roadster, and Victor Safety; also a Cripper tricycle and an imported tandem, all of the highest grade. All ready next month.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date and published in accordance with Article III of the Constitution, which is as follows:

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Applicants will please bear in mind that in addition to the two weeks, as above, it must necessarily take several days for their ticket to be issued, as it passes through two hands before being mailed to them. After four weeks from date of publication you may look for your ticket.

It is expected, and it is the duty, of all members to examine the list of applications for their respective States and report at once any error in name or address, and see that no objectionable person is admitted to the League. Any objection must be made to the Secretary within two weeks from date of publication. It will be considered confidential.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

No. 71—Total, 76.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., January 24th, 1887.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION—1.

Livermore Bi. Club—1.
13340 Morrill, Geo. A., Livermore.

CONNECTICUT DIVISION—4.

Pequonnock Wheel Club—1.
13320 Horr, Weston H., 96 State St., Bridgeport.
Stamford Wheel Club—2.
13318 Durham, Walter D., Stamford.
13319 Pinney, Frank R., "
Unattached—1.
13372 Culver, A. E., Bridgeport.

ILLINOIS DIVISION—5.

Chicago Bi. Club—1.
13321 Sniffen, J. B., 91 Adams St., Chicago.
Champaign Cy. Club—2.
13323 Patton, J. A., Charleston.
13322 Taylor, J. W. "
Peoria Bi. Club—2.
13353 Hanna, T. B., North Peoria.
13354 Kneer, Fred. F., 314 W. Jefferson St., Peoria.

INDIANA DIVISION—6.

Ft. Wayne Bi. Club—2.
13376 Bond, S. B., Ft. Wayne.
13374 Ross, John E., "
Unattached—4.
13375 Detzer, Martin E., 260 Calhoun St., Ft. Wayne.
13373 Keplinger, Harry A., care Keil Bros., "
13391 Richards, E. E., Roanoke.
13338 Stanton, Howard M., care Seneca Larne, Riverside, California.

IOWA DIVISION—4.

Clinton Bi. Club—1.
13337 Jones, H. B., Box 483, Clinton.
Ottumwa Bi. Club—2.
13324 Hedrick, H. M., Ottumwa.
13325 Spilman, T. H., "
Unattached—1.
13336 McFarland, A. E., care Ogden House, Council Bluffs.

KENTUCKY DIVISION—1.

Unattached—1.
13377 Cochrane, J. Hoadley, care Ky. Nat. Bank, Louisville.

LOUISIANA DIVISION—1.

Crescent Wheelmen—1.
13355 Betts, R. G., care Illinois Central R. R., New Orleans.

MARYLAND DIVISION—5.

Baltimore Cy. Club—4.
13344 Chandler, Dr. Henry, 181 Linden Av., Baltimore.
13343 Draught, A. M., corner Patterson Av. and Snicker St., Baltimore.
13341 George, I. Stewart, 113 German St., Baltimore.
13342 Mealy, A. E., 45 S. Howard St., "
Unattached—1
13392 Gernand, R. H., Waverly.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION—2.

Chelsea Cy. Club—1.
13326 Bassett, Mrs. Abbot, 84 Beacon St., Chelsea
Unattached—1.
13345 Richards, J. R., Quincy.

MICHIGAN DIVISION—3.

Unattached—3.
13357 Howland, C. E., 2d, Blissfield.
13327 Parsons, Wm. T., 164 National Av., Detroit.
13356 Scott, E. W., Blissfield.

MINNESOTA DIVISION—2.

Unattached—2.
13346 Hanford, H. C., 1st Nat'l Bank, Minneapolis.
13363 Ward, Chas. E., "

MISSOURI DIVISION—3.

St. Louis Ramblers—1.
13328 Westlake, C. T., 1213 N. Main St., St. Louis.
Unattached—2.
13359 Goodall, A. W., 1740 Dolman St., "
13358 Mehlig, Frank, 1726 Linn St., "

NEW HAMPSHIRE DIVISION—1.

Exeter Bi. Club—1.
13347 Ellison, Forrest L., Exeter.

NEW YORK DIVISION—27.

Binghamton Bi. Club—2.
13390 Bresee, H. G., Binghamton.
13389 Weed, Charles A., "
Buffalo Ramblers—1.
13393 Reimann, A. F., 153 Fremont Place, Buffalo.
Cortland Co. Cy. Club—1.
13366 Brown, David J., Cortland.
Genesee Bi. Club—2.
13384 Lund, James N., 25 Elizabeth St., Rochester.
13385 Roy, Joseph, Thompson, St., "
Hoosac Wheelmen—3.
13379 Allen, Victor M., Hoosick Falls.
13378 Boyd, Douglass, "
13380 Brown, Dean, "
Hornellsville Bi. Club—3.
13369 Baldwin, C. H., Hornellsville.
13388 Burnham, R. W., "
13387 Rodgers, Elbert, "
New York Bi. Club—2.
13331 Daniels, Dr. J. G., 264 W. 43d St., New York
13332 Knothe, Frank, 521 Broadway, "
Olean Bi. Club—2.
13365 Kerr, Boyd M., Olean.
13364 Rockefellow, L. H., Olean.
Walton Bi. Club—2.
13367 DuBois, Calvin, Walton.
13368 Fitch, Roderick, "
Unattached—9.
13348 Burnham, Charles S., Yonkers.
13382 Lasor, Charles, Hoosick Falls.
13381 Lovegrove, Walter W., "
13330 Marshall, Dr. Henry G., 343 E. 123d St., New York.
13383 Montgomery, Warren T., Hoosick Falls.
13349 Stegman, Charles G., 77 Main St., Lockport.
13360 Taylor, A. N., Sherman.
13386 Washburn, R. M., Canandaigua.
13329 Willett, Ernest, 47 John St., New York.

OHIO DIVISION—2.

Unattached—2.
13362 Slocum, Charles E., M. D., Defiance.
13361 Wells, O. S., Le Roy.

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION—2.

Pottsville Bi. Club—1.
13370 Patterson, Benjamin F., Pottsville.
Unattached—1.
13339 Earnest, Stanley M., 718 Arch St., Philadelphia.

RHODE ISLAND DIVISION—1.

Brown University Bi. Club—1.
13333 Briggs, Frederick H., 27 University Hall, Providence.

TENNESSEE DIVISION—2.

Unattached—2.
13334 Denpree, Tom J., Jr., 340 Main St., Memphis.
13335 Hayley, H. S., care Drillard & Coffin, "

WISCONSIN—1.

Unattached—1.
13371 Andrae, F. T., 225 W. Water St., Milwaukee.

WYOMING—3.

Cheyenne Bi. Club—3.
13352 Holt, H. W., Cheyenne.
13351 Knox, S. B., "
13350 Mason, M. M., "

RENEWALS.

No. 7.—Total, 700.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., January 24th, 1887.

ALABAMA—2.

7464 Barnett, J. T. 7466 Whitlock, G. W.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION—14.

11394 Frost, G. H. 12017 Kusel, C. E.
12878 Goldstein, M. 12881 Munsil, J.
11395 Green, M. J. 12516 Palache, W.
8490 Hupers, F. H. 12695 Ruthard, C.
12879 Hosley, R. D., Jr. 12576 Sadowski, C.
10318 Knapp, S. H., Jr. 12018 Simon, S. S.
12880 Kusel, E. E. 12577 Titus, H.

COLORADO DIVISION—2.

6105 Alter, J. J. 6970 York, M. W.

CONNECTICUT DIVISION—10.

7773 Bowman, C. W. 11398 Prudden, H. J.
6977 Cowles, C. W. 9974 Rand, R. F.
106 Honiss, W. H. 8107 Reynolds, E. W.
12307 Mead, N. B. 9703 Squire, W. H.
120 Mildrum, W. W. 6059 Wilson, J., Jr.

DAKOTA—2.

1241 Harvey, E. W. 10419 Ried, G. E.

DELAWARE DIVISION—4.

12704 Sadtler, E. B. 9820 Tatnall, W.
374 Tatnall, R. R. 11097 Wilson, C. S.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA DIVISION—5.

712 Dougal, W. M. 12700 Muehleisen, W.
1841 Eppley, J. K. 747 Smith, J. C. V.
12920 Lang, T., Jr.

ENGLAND—1.

8316 Heard, S.

ILLINOIS DIVISION—55.

7966 Allis, C. D. 12176 Maas, W. J.
9531 Andrus, F. H. 9032 Matile, H. O.
8662 Andrews, W. H. 5315 Maynard, J. P.
12041 Barbour, F. 3286 Mehring, E.
6612 Beers, M. L. 5302 Meldrum, W. P.
5329 Beak, R. A. 7958 Merritt, C. T.
4539 Bennett, A. G. 2689 Miller, T. S.
3954 Bennett, R. J. 9535 Miner, N. J.
12677 Boynton, S. D. 9706 Mumford, W. O.
10562 Burton, E. F. 8834 Oliver, E.
7952 Cassard, M. 5318 Peirce, W. G. E.
2295 Clarke, R. S. 8111 Piper, R. N.
2073 Conkling, L. W. 12983 Phinney, C. C.
9533 Cook, H. B. 11923 Roe, T. F.
7954 Crennan, J. M. 4540 Ruhling, A.
11126 Davis, A. M. 11925 Schmidt, R. E.
5322 Ellis, J. C. 6476 Shepherd, N. F.
10330 Fulton, H. L. 6893 Steel, W. W.
11312 Garden, R. D. 5743 Surbridge, R. G.
6859 Gormully, R. P. 6341 Thorne, W. C.
11267 Halliday, W. P., Jr. 7961 Unzicker, O.
13003 Harrison, W. P. 5300 Vowell, S. H.
11927 Heywood, C. G. 9707 Warner, C. H.
12348 Heywood, J. R. 5312 Warner, M. P.
9704 Hills, C. B. 12045 Whitney, C. P.
8833 Kluge, G. J. 12683 White, J.
7956 Leonard, A. G. 5327 Wilkinson, J.
3194 Wright, S. B.

INDIANA DIVISION—13.

10568 Allen, A. W. 12419 Lee, A. J.
12182 Blondoit, W. 7254 Peigh, J. H.
8467 Darrow, P. C. 4014 Smith, C. F.
10192 Darrow, G. S. 9858 Thieme, T. F.
9851 Fee, F. F. 12100 West, G. M.
12007 Hanna, S. 6010 Zimmerman, J.
11131 Heit, A. W.

IOWA DIVISION—13.

6515 Baker, C. W. 3810 Pallister, J. A.
3816 Gibbs, J. D. 8201 Phillips, T. C.
10571 Harlow, J. W. 3814 Post, A. B.
1459 Howell, C. D. 7979 Silliman, H. N.
12868 McConaughy, D. L. 9045 Voiland, F. B.
9365 Pallister, Miss V. 2793 Ward, H. C.
3811 Pallister, W. H.

KENTUCKY DIVISION—2.

12520 Kennedy, T. W. 42 Verhoeff, J. M.

KANSAS DIVISION—5.

8084 Chandler, C. W. 12835 Phelps, A. N.
12372 Crane, F. S. 9036 Van Tuyl, F. R.
3325 Dusenburg, A.

LOUISIANA DIVISION—1.

8668 Bayne, T. L., Jr.

MAINE DIVISION—2.

5634 Hall, G. O. 8438 Weston, F. C.

MARYLAND DIVISION—42.

8321 Abbott, C. W. 9567 Isaacs, C. C.
9555 Appleby, S. N. 5121 Jacobi, G. N.
8472 Atkinson, H. F. 3576 Kreis, H. P.
1579 Baetzer, J. F. 9568 Laws, C. E.
1053 Bayley, W. S. 5537 Lockwood, R. M.
9556 Bayley, H. D. 9569 Ludwig, C. B.
9578 Bates, J. O. 9570 Marine, J. H.
9577 Bard, E. 9571 Mentzel, A. W.
11141 Beard, J. W. 12943 Murphy, F. J. A.
9557 Boyd, C. H. 5710 Robinson, E. A.
9558 Brown, W. B. 6992 Sadtler, Dr. C. E.
9559 Campbell, F. G. 8473 Scott, R. P.
8322 Davidson, J. E. 10015 Schroeder, J. F.
9561 Day, E. W. 10769 Seving, H. F.
9563 Emory, A. 9572 Sheppard, J. B.
9562 Emmert, P. 9573 Sprugg, W. F.
8671 Fagneux, A. 9049 Torsch, F. A.
10012 Fitzpatrick, T. 9575 Tyler, G. G.
11841 Gaskins, C. C. 9574 Tyler, H. G.
10014 Godwin, T. E. 9576 Warner, J. H.
9566 Harvey, E. E. 7221 Worthington, C.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION—53.

4971 Avery, G. F. 10782 Hardy, G. H.
10347 Barnett, F. M. 3215 Keene, C. J.
2880 Bassett, A. 5855 Kennedy, E. H.
4273 Beekman, G. 9197 Leeson, G. A.
633 Boudreau, B. J. 9078 Marston, H. B.
2330 Brigham, L. E. 7084 Meader, E. H.
4961 Brown, F. H. 2308 Merrill, S. S.
10206 Burnett, R. E. 9055 Metcalf, W. H.
10351 Carroll, T. A. 3474 Miller, D. E.
7083 Case, W. W. 4863 Moseley, J. O.
10810 Claflin, R. F 11793 Nash, G. W.
3147 Clarke, E. C. 11274 Phemister, E. A.
3766 Curtis, C. E. 11421 Pratt, P. E.
10388 Dow, J. L. 8893 Prince, A. D.
10352 Durgin, W. N. 10046 Rice, J. M.
10353 Durgin, Mrs. W. N. 4968 Senior, H. M., Jr.
12957 Faxon, H. M. 10211 Seward, J. B., Jr.
9429 Fisher, F. A. 7862 Sheen, W. W.
5049 Fobes, A. A. 4971 Smith, D. H.
2310 Fox, C. F. 9588 Taylor, H. M.
10208 Fracker, W. S. 860 Turner, H. W.
10209 Frost, L. H. 2081 Tuttle, C. A.
4960 Garvin, F. O. 10212 Walker, C. E.
12791 Gibbs, C. M. 9589 Webb, R. A.
12792 Gibson, A. J., Jr. 4262 Williston, C. H.
298 Green, W. O. 8501 Woodman, F. A.
9585 Grout, C. H.

MICHIGAN DIVISION—9.

11669 Adams, E. C. 12766 Osborne, F. S.
8341 Davison, C. B. 9877 Seeley, W. G.
10240 Ely, N. W. 3859 Vernor, F. A.
4884 Hastings, C. D. 537 Wills, T., Jr.
5617 Johnson, J. H.

MINNESOTA DIVISION—3.

7283 Smith, B. E. 499 Woodruff, C. B.
12994 Tiffany, E. W.

MISSOURI DIVISION—34.

8003 Alderson, R. F. 2627 Lee, R. E.
6810 Ashby, J. 11533 Lionberger, C. E.
12594 Belden, C. H. 11534 Lycan, V. E.
2660 Berger, L. J. 7297 Miller, G. O.
8023 Brant, P. 6740 Oehlein, H.
12595 Cake, D. S. 10843 Oeters, O. F.
12081 Carpenter, J. M., Jr. 1989 Oeters, G. C.
2633 Davies, D. R. 10607 Pigott, J. C.
2709 Glover, R. G. 2623 Reynolds, T. J.
2657 Gordon, L. 1780 Rogers, J. S.
2686 Hart, A. A. 7869 Rosborough, W. M.
2664 Hildebrand, C. C. 2649 Sanders, E. N.
7300 Holm, R. 12891 Stone, Miss L.
2687 Horn, E. S. 12597 Tivy, G. E.
9883 Jaccard, W. M. 5928 Williams, W.
2697 Klipstein, E. C. 11536 Wilson, F. J.
7014 Ladish, L. S. C. 7011 Wylie, W. H.

MISSISSIPPI—1.

9825 Bruce, J. P.

NEBRASKA DIVISION—2.

12250 Hansen, F. G. 12249 Steidl, E. J

NEW HAMPSHIRE DIVISION—8.

10865 Carey, D. M. 8234 Giddings, A. H.
8229 Dorr, A. N. 9243 Hutchinson, H. S.
8232 Folsom, W. B. 10838 Little, G. F.
8231 Fellows, F. S. 3743 Sykes, J. A.

NEW JERSEY DIVISION—18

10076 Browaski, E. 2834 Norwood, J. S.
1450 Camp, S. P. 3657 Norwood, W. G.
3455 Clark, A. J., Jr. 5414 Spinning, L. N.
5361 Clarkson, J. L. 9640 Stout, W. C.
12164 Feury, N. E. 10923 Terry, H. L.
12910 Garwood, W. 112 Waterman, G. O.
7420 Godfrey, C. W. 4073 Warner, J. W.
8241 Hedden, C. B. 10083 Wood, E. S.
11840 Jones, C. E. 9641 Wright, W. R

NEW YORK DIVISION—204.

187 Adams, E. W. 1582 Isham, J. H
1542 Adams, C. W. 1583 Jackson, W. K.
10651 Adams, D. W. 11893 Jenkins, W. S.
10259 Adrien, J. L. 3543 Jimenis, J. O.
11370 Allen, C. L. 9278 Johnston, D. C.
11872 Allen, Dr. C. A. 4900 Jones, G.
2410 Alexander, R. E. 11216 Kaffenberger, W.
3756 Anthony, W. R. 12061 Kellner, J. S.
1837 Appleby, Dr. H. T. 9937 Kernan, W. B.
5166 Armstrong, C. N. 2407 Ketcham, A. E.
8561 Armstrong, D. R. 9769 Ketcham, E. D.
11889 Aspinwall, E. P 9770 Ketcham, W. P.
9465 Arnold, W. D. 4076 Klingsbury, J. S.
5794 Ault, R. A. G. 10098 King, Dr. M. L.
11192 Bagley, B. D. 3544 Kitching, F. W.
8562 Baker, L. A. 11200 Knox, J. F.
1182 Baker, E. E. 11199 Knight, W. B.
11890 Baker, H. M. 2451 Lambert, W
8970 Baldwin, J. R. 12062 Laub, G. C.
8563 Ball, R. F. 419 Lawrence, J. J.
11443 Barnes, F. A. 11894 Lewis, F. D.
10264 Behrends, H. J. 9287 Lockwood, A. W.
8971 Bidwell, C. 410 Lorini, M.
3284 Bly, J. G. 11201 Love, B. B.
10087 Bogert, F. E. 9276 Lyons, W. H.
9275 Brinker, F. M. 2455 Lyons, A. W.
11211 Brien, L. J. 7113 Macdaniel, L. O.
2993 Brown, H. H. 782 Maclay, J. C.
12054 Brinch, L. 3934 Mandell, D. W.
8738 Bull, A. P. 1588 Mang, A. G.
1546 Bull, L. A. 10647 Mathews, A. D.
1343 Bull, W. S. 8569 Matz, H. L.
1549 Butler, Dr. C. S. 428 Maurer, E. J.
3383 Card, E. 2391 Meldrum, A. R.
418 Carling, H. C. 1966 Meyer, H. H.
7904 Case, G. W. 1642 Miller, F. C.
11892 Caulkins, F. W. 1587 Milley, D. N.
5163 Champlin, O.P.H., Jr. 7116 Millard, C.
3882 Chapin, H. C. 11895 Montgomery, H. F.
5795 Chase, G. W. 11202 Morey, A. H.
1544 Choate, H. E. 7114 Mott, J. C.
5796 Churchill, C. P. 9143 Mudgett, G. A.
2008 Child, C. L. 490 Munroe, J. O.
11193 Clark, L. B. 4280 Murry, G. W.
11288 Clark, H. S. 1586 Newman, J. B.
1088 Conkling, H. 760 Noyes, J. H.
8282 Constant, J. A. 437 Oliver, E. A.
2453 Cowl, C. 1595 Outerstatter, J. H.
111 Cochran, E. P. 1589 Otis, W. H.
6445 Courter, G. H. 5172 Otto, W. E.
6529 Curtis, C. H. 4089 Oxholm, T. S.
4337 Currier, C. T. 2412 Pagan, H. W.
607 Dakin, G. 8570 Parsons, H. A.
2011 Daniels, G. S. 6397 Peacock, E. C.
2009 Daniels, F. M. 5164 Pferd, J. A.
11547 Denny, C. 2015 Power, C.
6313 Doetschman, A. 2398 Ramsdell, W. M.
1194 Doyle, H. B. 6036 Raven, H. S.
8972 Driess, J. S. 9130 Rawson, F. B.
1860 Drullard, H. L. 1611 Richardson, A. C.

RUDGE TELEPHONE MAN.

Hello!

Before you make up your mind for 1887, see the Rudge Bicycles, Tricycles, and Safeties.

Catalogue ready very soon.

Cast your eye on the back page.

10261 De Wilde, P.
1561 Ehrlich, J. J.
6530 Eisele, E. A.
10683 Flagg, G. W.
10085 Flansburgh, W. A.
1548 Foster, J. F.
5797 Fox, G. C.
12057 Frank, D.
12058 Fuchs, W. L.
322 Gallagher, F. B.
8566 Geer, D.
4910 Gething, C. G.
8565 Gilson C. C.
4361 Gleason, H. N. E.
6533 Gowans, J. H.
6532 Gowans, B. R.
11445 Graham, W. O.
3755 Gridley, E. L.
7403 Guernesey, C. T.
9920 Hamlin, R. S.
1641 Harriman, G. A.
11289 Harriman, F. C.
1581 Hastings, C. R.
8567 Haswell, J. C.
11195 Hauenstein, O. H.
12060 Hauenstein, J.
1089 Haydock, R. R.
6334 Henderson, S.
1571 Hedge, J. S.
11196 Hinman, L. S.
5170 Hoddick, A. E.
11197 Hoffman, R. B.
8387 Hoffman, S. V.
414 Holbrook, D. G.
2411 Holden, E. R.
12071 Holland, C. W.
12072 Holland, F. E.
1962 Hotchkiss, C. F.
12073 Hughes, S. M.
1569 Hunt, F. G.
4340 Hunter, L.
6935 Hyatt, F. O.

NORTH CAROLINA—4.

3389 Gilmer, T. T.
6416 Latimer, H. G.
7759 Overcash, B. J.
6608 Shaw, W. E.

OHIO DIVISION—67.

830 Atwater, G. S.
5433 Atwater, C. M.
7566 Atwater, F. M.
5448 Bates, E. C.
10682 Baumann, C. L.
6675 Bissell, H. H.
6464 Bosworth, N. C.
5615 Breed, W.
7338 Brown, J.
7368 Brown, W. F.
6677 Canfield, Rev. H. L.
4216 Caskey, C. E.
5141 Dickson, E. C.
3950 Dupuy, V.
11375 Ertle, J. B.
11020 Fast, R. K.
11019 Fast, F. M.
3900 Ferguson, R. E.
10118 Galbreath, E. J.
12631 Gierach, E. H.
3386 Griffith, J. B.
9306 Griffith, W. W.
7570 Hardigrove, R. S.
5431 Hellenthal, C.
7571 Hess, F. E.
8439 Hopkins, L.
4219 Howland, C. E.
4220 Howland, C.
8899 Jones, H. E.
6741 Keith, C. S.
3160 Knight, R. G.
6663 Kryder, J. F.
12659 McLain, F. C.
3903 McNeil, G. C.
12497 Robertson, W. H.
4330 Romaine, G.
12063 Root, H. B.
1092 Roy, J. B.
1610 Rummell, R. W.
5799 Russell, T. A.
9940 Sayres, G. B.
11290 Schieffelin, H. H.
12065 Schwinn, F. R.
7890 Schachtel, M., Jr.
6655 Sherman, F. A.
1567 Shepard, F. J.
2449 Shriver, E. J.
11897 Sippel, F. C.
12974 Sloan, W. E.
11898 Smith, H. W.
12066 Smith, H. B.
1634 Spann, A. C.
11696 Spaulding, P. D.
5802 Spencer, J. C., Jr.
6565 Starrett, W. H.
1061 Thompson, E. M.
1060 Thompson, W. M.
1239 Thorne, W. L.
1913 Thorne, E. C.
12067 Toulmin, W. B.
10666 Viele, C.
3830 Volger, E. C.
3832 Volger, O. W.
12130 Wader, S. F.
11900 Wagner, J. C.
4096 Wait, W.
820 Walton, A. H.
10092 Wanenmacher, C. G.
11203 Watson, H. R.
1773 Whiting, W. A.
1422 Williams, F. F.
1670 Williams, J. R.
2406 Williams, R. H.
12225 Wilson, E. R.
7893 Wright, O. S.
10265 Young, J. F., Jr.

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION—76.

11463 Andrews, Dr M. E.
7343 Ashman, Dr. G. H.
12911 Barnes, S. H.
5027 Baumeister, J. F.
7138 Beatty, E. G.
9798 Biddle, W. C., Jr.
8280 Brandt, A. G
9002 Brandt, G. D.
4176 Brechbill, M.
5649 Brewster, J. H.
9668 Burgoon, B. G.
12685 Carlisle, L.
12191 Morris, R. L.
8161 Muil, R. F.
12611 McCarthy, J.
7916 Nallin, J. B.
4695 Niles, A. J.
9318 Nichols, G. R.
10491 Patterson, J. F.
2245 Phillips, A. L.
12192 Potter, R. F., Jr.
10493 Rabenau, J. H.
10494 Reber, J.
7142 Reid, N. S.
4066 Cilley, J. H.
11460 Clark, C. E.
9161 Clephane, W. C.
10488 Daddow, H. L.
7345 Davis, N. N.
7344 Davis, C. H.
435 Deans, F. A.
10489 Edmonds, W. P.
11577 Ensworth, G. B.
5356 Hawthorne, F. C.
7346 Holly, C. B.
12579 Hance, E. A.
433 Hoak, G. W.
11390 Howell, E. I. H.
7347 Hoyt, S.
11665 James, E. F.
9003 Jones, G. S.
7745 Jones, A.
478 Kinnear, C. F. L.
9670 Kitchen, J. W.
7348 Lee, T. J.
3754 Longaker, D. A.
10486 Loraine, H. McD.
10131 Melhorn, C. V.
482 Messner, W. F.
10490 Mills, R. J.
10517 Reynolds, B. G.
8798 Richie, E. B.
10511 Richwine, W. A.
9795 Ross, E. H.
11961 Scharver, C. C.
11629 Scott, R. L.
10495 Seidel, C. A.
7951 Shaff, G. N.
12136 Showers, S. H.
7753 Siebecker, E.
4694 Spaulding, G. M.
12730 Sprague, F. E.
7359 Starkey, F. W.
10496 Stichter, W. H.
7350 Switzer, O. F.
11630 Switzer, Miss B.
9811 Taft, W. S.
10715 Turner, W. L.
9010 Vaughan, T.
9797 VanHorn, W. D.
2267 Wally, J. H.
4024 Wells, E. L.
4790 Whitney, L. B.
12080 Wilson, W. O.
7351 Young, W. S.
7925 Zern, E. G.

RHODE ISLAND DIVISION—2.

12351 Crossman, J. B.
12352 Marvel, W. M.

TENNESSEE DIVISION—1.

8635 May, D.

VERMONT DIVISION—2.

12005 Burbank, F. D.
8294 Scott, F. H.

VIRGINIA DIVISION—1.

12356 Dickinson, C. H.

W. VIRGINIA DIVISION—1.

8812 Emmons, J. A.

WISCONSIN—12.

9333 Bates, H.
12138 Bull, F. K.
12711 Griffith, F. J.
2682 Hathaway, A. S.
12712 Lewis, D. M.
12713 Lovell, C. C.
12140 Mitchell, H. G.
12139 Mitchell, F. L.
12726 Pugh, A.
3781 Reynolds, I.
12141 Rogers, H. J.
12714 Van Arsdale, H.

WYOMING—29.

10174 Baxter, J. A.
3581 Bond, F.
3588 Bond, F.
7156 Bon, S., Jr.
3584 Clarke, F. H.
3615 Corey, J. D.
8092 Covert, P. S.
3601 Colwell, E.
8993 Cowhick, W. S.
3587 Duffey, J. J.
3304 Duffey, E. T.
11870 Gillespie, F. A.
218 Hamma, M. M.
3591 Hebard, F. S.
11594 Idelman, S.
3593 Inman, G. F.
1873 Johnson, M.
3631 Knabe, W. N.
8094 Morgan, G. F.
7157 Nairn, J. J.
3604 Pollard, J. B.
1876 Ransom, F. W.
3605 Rice, H. B.
3595 Riner, C. W.
7155 Sparhawk, F.
9334 Swan, W. R.
7945 Whipple, H.
3582 Williams, R.
7154 Zehner, P.

LOSS OF THE "OUTING."

A special dispatch to the New York Herald tells of the wreck of the "Outing" on the Florida coast. It will be remembered that Captain Cloudman started last November on a voyage around the world in a small boat 24 feet long. He proposed to do by water what Thomas Stevens did by land, and, like Stevens, he represented Outing as special touring correspondent. On Tuesday, January 18th, the boat was washed ashore on the wreck-famed shores of Florida, and the voyage came to an end. The "Outing" put in at Jacksonville December 18th. She left that port January 1st, after taking on board a mate, one George Muller, and went to St. Augustine, leaving there January 12th. A storm met them and the boat succumbed to it. The Captain and mate tried the virtues of oil on the waters and claim that it saved them, for it calmed the waves and let them swim ashore. The crew is now in Jacksonville waiting orders from the publishers of Outing. He says of the boat: The directors of the magazine company came down and examined her and vetoed the purchase of any extra ropes, a small boat and life-saving apparatus, or any new sails. There was not a preserver on board nor any extra rope. He said they told him to wait to buy such in Nassau, where they were cheaper. He says the yacht agents from whom she was bought deceived the publishers. The boat was fastened together with eight and ten penny nails, unclenched, and not copper-fastened as claimed. She was well modeled to ride over heavy seas, but strained like a basket. The captain attributes her wreck to losing the sails. He says the sails were rotten and blew away quickly.

The captain is a great believer now in oil on waves. Muller sat for several hours in the bow with a can of oil carefully watching to throw a cup full on the water as the waves came. As the oil diminished he found a tablespoonful did as well as a cup. They also suspended a stocking full of rags, saturated with oil, over the bow into the water. The strain on the physical and mental powers of both men was great. They were saved by the life-saving crew, who also saved the craft's binnacle, compass, barometer, taffrail log, and ship papers. The yacht went to pieces 200 yards from the beach.

Club Life.

Club officers are invited to keep us posted about all changes in their officers, past and future events in which their clubs have participated, and such gossip relating to them or their members as will be of interest to our readers. Write all communications for this column on one side of the paper, with plenty of room for interlineation, and not on same sheet that contains other matter.

CHEYENNE BI. CLUB, Cheyenne, Wyo.—Officers elected January 3d, for the ensuing six months: E. T. Duffy, President; F. S. Hebard, Vice-President; Fred. Bond, Secretary; J. J. Nairn, Treasurer; J. A. Baxter, Captain; W. R. Swan, Lieutenant.

OWL BICYCLE CLUB, Bordentown, N. J.—Officers elected January 4th for the ensuing year: Professor C. P. Hoffman, President; Isaac Elliott, Jr., Vice-President; Charles Burr, Secretary-Treasurer; Fred. G. Wiese, Captain; Charles B. Garwood, Lieutenant; Paul O. Hudson, Color-Bearer; L. W. Wiese, Bugler.

GENESEE BI. CLUB, Rochester, N. Y.—Officers elected for 1887: A. B. Rapalje, President; C. J. Conolly, Vice-President; C. J. Lund, Secretary; W. W. Kenfield, Treasurer; M. F. Shafer, Captain; B. Van Zant, Property Clerk; J. W. Pitt, G. S. Montgomery, Henry Goetzman, Jr., Executive Committee.

CENTURY WHEELMEN, Philadelphia.—Officers elected January 7th for the ensuing year: Kirk Brown, President; Frank Read, Vice-President; H. W. Brown, Secretary; A. G. McGlathery, Treasurer; A. D. Pedrick, Captain; Thomas Hare, Wallace Mayhew, J. C. Eastlake, R. C. Swayze, Board of Directors.

CHICAGO BI. CLUB.—Officers elected January 11th for 1887: R. Philip Gormully, President; John C. Ellis, Vice-President; Fred. A. Ingalls, Captain; R. J. Schmitt, Secretary-Treasurer; Samuel B. Wright, Quartermaster.

ATLANTA WHEELMEN, Atlanta, Ga.—Officers elected January 14th for the ensuing six months: R. L. Cooney, President; E. P. Chalfant, Secretary-Treasurer; D. B. Osborne, Captain; C. H. Freyer Bugler.

"In a word, a cycle bearing must be in that apparently paradoxical condition, at the same time very tight and very loose; that is, perfectly free to spin, and entirely rigid, allowing no shake in the parts."—Victor Catalog.

IT BEATS THE WORLD,

AND THE WORLD IS HARD TO BEAT.

1405 Miles in 142 Hours!!

Ridden by ALBERT SCHOCK, at Minneapolis, in competition with most of the great American professionals.

Mr. Schock writes:—"I am pleased with the Victor in every respect. I soon found it a vast improvement on all other wheels ridden by me."

Victor Wheels are built to ride Bicycles, Tricycles, Safeties. Catalog free.

OVERMAN WHEEL CO., - - 182 Columbus Avenue, Boston.

IMPORTANT.

The Grand Union Hotel, opposite the Grand Central Depot, New York City, is the L. A. W. and C. T. C. Headquarters. European Plan. Rooms, $1.00 per day and upward. First-class Restaurant, at moderate prices. Good care taken of wheels.

FOR SALE, EXCHANGE, ETC.

PATENTS secured on reasonable terms. Work reliable. Papers carefully and legally drawn. Special attention given to inventions in cycling by an experienced wheelman and League member. Write for particulars.
N. L. COLLAMER,
Patent Attorney and Mechanical Engineer,
Room 47, St. Cloud Building, Washington, D. C.

FOR SALE.—Club Tandem, new June, 1886; run less 250 miles; fine order, balls all round, safe and very fast. A highly satisfactory machine. Price, $175.00. Address, TANDEM, P. O. Box 1071, Pittsburgh, Pa. tf.*

FOR SALE.—Humber Light Roadster 52-inch Bicycle, enamel finish. Run 100 miles. $125; cost $142.50. 1t-ex*.

BICYCLE BUSINESS FOR SALE.—Well established in a city in Massachusetts. The only business of the kind in that section; agents in all surrounding towns also. Well situated, with low rents. Reason for selling, proprietor going abroad. Inspection invited. Address, 237 B, Globe Office, Boston, Mass. 2t-106.

FOR SALE.—A 52-inch full nickeled, ball bearing, new pattern, standard Columbia Bicycle, with Rudge ball pedals, tools, and bag; Hill & Tolman bell; in first-class order; cost $140, will sell now at $70, crated and delivered at depot. J. E. HARDER, Clearfield Pa. 1t

FOR SALE.—Humber Light Roadster 52-inch Bicycle, enamel finish. Run 100 miles. $125; cost $142.50.
W. D. ANDERSON, Jr.,
Box 298, East Orange, N. J.

FOR SALE.—One 57-inch (1886) Columbia Light Roadster, balls all over, including pedals. Used but three months. Price, $125. Correspondence solicited.
WEST & ALLEN, 50 N. Penn, Indianapolis, Ind. 109.

WANTED TO EXCHANGE.—One of Bonchill's Field Guns, with auxiliary rifle-barrel, for an American Star Bicycle.
FRANK WOODMAN, Northville, Mich. 110.

FOR SALE.—54-inch Spalding, enamel finish, practically new—only run about 100 miles. Cheap.
G. M. ELLSWORTH, Altoona, Pa. 2t*.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

TO MEMBERS OF

Penna. Division, L. A. W.

You are respectfully and earnestly invited to attend a Meeting of members of the Penna. Division, L. A. W., to be held at the Phila. Bicycle Club House, 26th and Perot Sts., Phila., on Tuesday Evening, February 1st, at 8 o'clock SHARP, to discuss the action of the Board of Officers at their Meeting held in New York City on January 17th, relative to proxies of officers in this Division, as well as other matters to be presented at that meeting.

EWING L. MILLER, Chairman.
GUS. N. OSBORNE, ISAAC ELWELL,
STEPHEN B. VAUGHN, FRANK READ,
KIRK BROWN, T. HOUARD WRIGHT,
GEO. E. BARTOL.

BICYCLES ON EASY PAYMENTS.

Columbia, Champion, Challenge, Facile, Otto and other Bicycles and Tricycles sold on easy payments, with no extra charge, except for interest. Prices guaranteed as low as the lowest. Low freight and express rates to all points. Large stock of accessories including all latest novelties. Nickel-plating and repairing.

SECOND-HAND WHEELS

bought for cash, taken in exchange, and sold on Installments. Liberal discounts to agents. One of the largest stocks of new and second-hand wheels in America; rarely less than 200 wheels on hand to select from. Send for large illustrated catalogue and latest descriptive second-hand list and terms of easy payments; of interest to every actual or prospective wheelman. Correspondence solicited.
GEO. W. ROUSE & SON, 25 G Street, Peoria, Ill.

37th ANNUAL REPORT

Manhattan

LIFE INSURANCE CO.

OF NEW YORK,

Nos. 156 and 158 Broadway.

ORGANIZED IN 1850.

President, JAMES M. McLEAN.

First Vice-President, J. L. HALSEY.
Second Vice-President, H. B. STOKES.
Secretary, H. Y. WEMPLE.
Actuary, S. N. STEBBINS.

GROWTH OF THE COMPANY.

Net Assets, December 31st, 1885,	$10,695,438 85
Income Accounts, year 1886,	2,164,787 36
Total,	$12,860,226 2

DISBURSEMENTS.

Paid claims by death, matured endowments, and payment of annuities,	$801,095 89
Paid dividends,	261,887 56
Paid purchased policies,	164,583 29
Paid salaries, office, agency, real estate, commissions, taxes, medical department, advertising, and other expenses,	322,601 29	1,550,168 43
Balance,		$11,310,057 78

LIST OF ASSETS.

Cash on hand,	$1,928 87
Cash in bank and Trust Company,	191,041 84
Bonds and mortgages,	3,456,795 15
Loans on policies in force,	1,057,745 78
United States and N. Y. stocks and other bonds (market value),	2,131,713 50
Real estate at cost,	778,113 37
Premiums deferred and in course of collection and transmission,	163,963 03
Loans on stocks and bonds,	3,426,762 50
Interest due and accrued, and all other property,	99,058 76
Gross Assets,	$11,310,057 78
Reported claims awaiting proof, etc., $185,443 00
Dividends unpaid and other liability, 131,747 43
Reserve on existing policies, estimated by New York standard, 8,780,185 00	9,097,375 43
Surplus by above standard, viz.: Amer. Ex. 4½ per cent.,	$2,062,682 35

BROWNING, KING & CO.,

406, 408, 410, and 412 BROOME STREET, NEW YORK.

THE ONLY OFFICIAL CONTRACTORS FOR THE

LEAGUE UNIFORM.

LIST OF PRICES:

Plaited Blouse, $9.50; KneeBreeches, $6.00; Suit, $15.50. Regulation League Cloth, made by the Middlesex Mills, cost $2.00 per yard. League Buttons, large size, 5 cents each; Small size, 2½ cents each. Full set for suit, 55 cents.

TERMS:

All uniforms or parts of uniforms sent C. O. D., with privilege of examination. All orders for cloth or buttons must be accompanied by Money Order. Blank forms for self-measurement furnished on application. Orders for L. A. W. Goods will be received at any of our branch stores, as follows:

136 and 138 Madison St., 144 to 148 Clark Street, } CHICAGO, ILL. | 210 and 212 N. Broadway, St. Louis, Mo. Wisconsin and E. Water Street, Milwaukee, Wis. 76 and 78 West Fourth St., Cincinnati, Ohio; 910 and 912 Chestnut Street, Phila., Pa.

All orders must be accompanied by League number

"IDEAL" QUININE & SULPHUR SOAP.
There is no skin disease this soap will not benefit

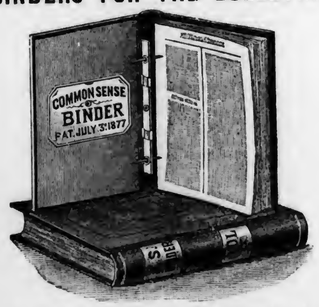
STOP SCRATCHING!!

WELL, WHY NOT?

IDEAL QUININE AND SULPHUR SOAP will certainly cure all ITCHING skin diseases.

Ask any dealer in Toilet Soaps for it. Or sent to any address, postpaid, 25 cents per cake, 3 cakes for 60 cents. Q. & S. Shaving Soap, 15 cents
VAIL BROTHERS, 239 Market Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

USE IDEAL TOOTH POWDER. Price, 25 cents per Bottle.



FOR SALE, EXCHANGE, ETC.

FOR SALE.—Keystone Bicycle Saddle. Business of manufacturing and Patent. A proved success and fine chance to develop. C. M. CLARKE, P. O. Box 969, Pittsburgh, Pa. 4t.*

NEW YORKERS, ATTENTION!—A Seventh Regiment Outfit, complete, good as new, in part exchange for a 54-inch Bicycle or Tricycle. Address, P. O. Box 2,901, New York City. 2t-105.

PATENT LEVER SUSPENSION BICYCLE HOLDER
An instantaneous Adjustment;
Indispensable for safety at home or place of business IN STORING, A SURE preventitive of Tire Flattening or Wheel Springing. THE ONLY HOLDER MADE for cleaning a wheel at any moment. PRICE $1.50
ADDRESS W. E. Nettleton, MERIDEN, CONN.

BINDERS FOR THE BULLETIN.

To all who wish to preserve their Copies of the Bulletin in good shape, we can offer a "Common Sense" Binder, like the above cut, for One Dollar, post free.

E. M. AARON,
Don't send Checks. Box 916, Philad'a, Pa.

FOR SALE.—Dirt cheap. One 50-inch full nickeled Standard Columbia, 86 pattern. Condition guaranteed good. Cow-horn and straight bars. C. W. FUNSTON, Box 375, Bloomsburg, Pa 2t*

REBER & SAICH,
Agents for the well-known Club, Premier, and Spalding Bicycles and Tricycles. Old style parts and difficult REPAIRS a specialty.
SALESROOM AND REPAIR SHOP.
149 Academy St., Newark, N. J.

THEOPHILUS WOBBLE'S
Trip Around the World
ON A BICYCLE,
ILLUSTRATED,
Commenced in
TEXAS SIFTINGS,
July 3d, 1886.
FOR SALE BY ALL NEWSDEALERS.
Back numbers can be obtained from Texas Siftings Publishing Co., 240 Broadway, N. Y.

STEEL BALLS For Anti-Friction Bearings.
OF BEST CAST STEEL.
Hardened, Ground, and Burnished.
3-16" to 3" diam. Samples and Prices on application.
Simonds Rolling-Machine Co., Fitchburg, Mass.

OUR SPECIALTY.
Columbia and Rudge Bicycles and Tricycles rented to non-owners for long or short periods at reasonable rates. Only first-class wheels offered. Send for terms. Bicycles and Tricycles also sold on easy payments.
GEO. R. BIDWELL,
Dealer in Bicycles, Tricycles, Etc.,
313 West 58th Sreet, New York City.

If you want to come out in the Spring with your Bicycle or Tricycle looking like new, before putting your machine away use a bottle of

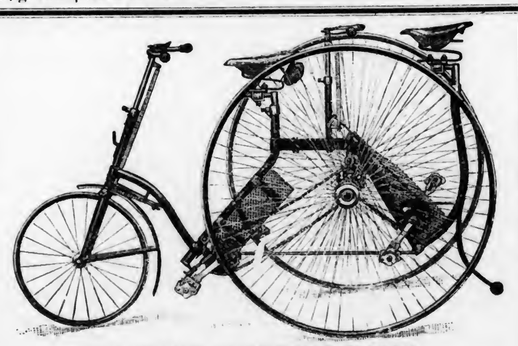
ARDILL'S
LIQUID ENAMEL!
For touching up or entirely re-enamelling
BICYCLES AND TRICYCLES

THE RUDGE.

Hard as Marble. Dries Instantly, without any unpleasant smell, and produces a Jet Black enamel surface in One Operation. It is thoroughly impervious to wet, cold, or heat. Will not crack, and is not liable to chip off. Any one can apply it. A suitable Brush given with each bottle.
Price, 75 cents a bottle. Cannot be sent by mail.
For sale by all Agents, and by
STODDARD, LOVERING & CO.,
152 to 158 Congress St., Boston.
Special terms to the trade

BEFORE ◆ YOU ◆ BUY ◆ A ◆ BICYCLE
of any kind, send stamp to
A. W. GUMP, - Dayton, Ohio,
for Large Illustrated Price-List of New and Second-Hand Machines.
Second-Hand Bicycles taken in Exchange and Bought for Cash.
Largest Stock of Second-Hand Bicycles in America.
BICYCLES REPAIRED and NICKEL-PLATED.
A. W. Gump, Dayton, Ohio.
SECOND-HAND GUNS TAKEN IN EXCHANGE FOR BICYCLES.

BARGAINS!
Now is the time to buy Second-Hand Bicycles. Send size and price you wish to pay. Prices low. Send for Catalogue of the New Rapid.
WM. M. FRISBIE & CO.,
P. O. Drawer 64. New Haven, Conn.



KEYSTONE WATCHES ARE THE BEST. ASK TO SEE THEM.
ATKINSON BROS.
926 Chestnut St., PHILADELPHIA, PA.

BEST GOODS. LOWEST PRICES.
L. A. W. SUITS, - - - $12.00
JERSEY CLOTH SUITS, - - 13.00
CYCLISTS' TOURING CLUB SUITS, 13.00
All garments custom made.
Send for circulars and measure blank.
Punnett, Tailor and Outfitter, - Rochester, N. Y.

THE SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER,
MANUFACTURED BY THE
Springfield Bicycle Manufacturing Co.
(Yost & McCune Patents),
19 PEARL STREET, BOSTON.
The only absolutely safe wheel against "Headers" made. It is the best, and it is also the cheapest
Do not buy a wheel before you see the Springfield Roadster.
Coasting without danger. Hill-climbing to perfection. Invented by riders of experience.
PRICE, COMPLETE, - $75.00.
JOHN P. LOVELL'S SONS, 147 Washington St., Boston, Sole Agents for New England.

THE "NEW AMERICAN" TRICYCLE.
639 Arch Street, Philadelphia.
We make but one style of machine, and that the best. There are no extras.
NO DEAD CENTRES. FULL POWER UTILIZED. CLIMBS ANY HILL.
The best machine for ladies, as there are no revolving pedals to catch the skirts. The only Tricycle that can be ridden equally well by lady or gentleman, grown person or child.

EITHER RIDER CAN STEER.
May be Ridden by Two Ladies.
HAS AUTOMATIC STEERING.
Reduces in Width to 27 inches.
Has Folding Handle Bar, for Easy Access to Front Seat.
Is the Most Unique Machine of its Class.

THE CUNARD CONVERTIBLE TANDEM.

CUNARD
Bicycles,
Tricycles,
Tandems,
Safeties.
D. Rogers & Co.,
SOLE U. S. AGENTS.
75 Clinton Avenue,
NEWARK, N. J.
CATALOGUES FREE.

Copy of Testimonial from T. J. Kirkpatrick, Esq., Vice-President of the L. A. W.
SPRINGFIELD, O., January 11th, 1887.
D. ROGERS & CO.
GENTLEMEN:—Respecting the Cunard Tandem, I have to say that it is beyond question the best tandem yet produced. Its compactness, ease of handling, light running, safety, and the ease with which it may be mounted or dismounted, by either a lady or gentleman, leave nothing to be desired. Its folding handle bar, and the fact that it can be quickly and readily taken through a common door, are features which make the machine a pleasure. I have owned other tandems, but this is the only one that was worth house-room as a convertible machine. I find it a perfect machine, in perfect balance, either as a single or a tandem. I have sought carefully for some three years now for the best tandem, and have given the matter a great deal of thought and attention, and if asked to-day to suggest an improvement in the design and arrangement of the Cunard, I would be free to say that it is as nearly perfect as this type of machine ever will be.
Yours truly,
[Signed] T. J. KIRKPATRICK.
SEND YOUR ORDERS AT ONCE FOR SPRING DELIVERY, AND DON'T GET LEFT.
ACTIVE AND RESPONSIBLE AGENTS WANTED.

EXTRACT FROM "CUNARD CYCLE COMPANY'S" PROSPECTUS.

"D. Rogers & Co., Limited, of Newark, New Jersey, will continue to act as agents for the United States. In a recent communication from them, they state that the Cunard Machines are very popular, and that they anticipate a large increase of orders for next season."

D. ROGERS & CO. (Limited).

Incorporated under the Laws of the State of New Jersey. CAPITAL $100,000, IN 20,000 SHARES OF $5 EACH. Issue of 5,000 Shares.

Payment to be made as follows:—$2.00 on application, and $3.00 on allotment.

DIRECTORS.

James Smith, 677 High St., Newark, N. J.; D. H. Rogers, 75 Clinton Ave., Newark, N. J.; G. S. Woolman, Orange, N. J.; and two other Directors to be elected at first meeting of Shareholders.

BANKERS:—Manufacturers' National Bank, Newark, N. J. COUNSEL:—Messrs. Coult & Howell, 766 Broad St., Newark, N. J.

PROSPECTUS.

This Company was organized on August 2d, 1886, for the purpose of carrying on the Sole United States Agency for the sale of the celebrated Cunard Bicycles and Tricycles, manufactured by Frank Gibbons, of Wolverhampton, England, and appointing sub-agents therefor; and although its business commenced so late in the season, it has met with unprecedented success, and is already in receipt of numerous testimonials from American Wheelmen.

In December, 1886, however, Mr. Gibbons' business was converted by him into a Limited Company, under the name of the "Cunard Cycle Co.," with a capital of $250,000, which amount was subscribed several times over by public subscription. The following gentlemen constitute the Board of Directors of the English Company:

Viscount Pollington, Sir Stephen Hill, C. B., Major Harry Creigh, W. H. Maitland, C. and M. E., and Mr. Henry Osborne, Late Manager of Messrs. Rudge & Co., Limited, of Coventry, England, who has been appointed Manager of the "Cunard Cycle Co.," reports as follows:

"LONDON, November 26th, 1886.

"THE DIRECTORS OF THE 'CUNARD CYCLE CO.'

"GENTLEMEN:—I have been to Wolverhampton, and carefully inspected the works and plant of the 'Cunard Co.' These works require to be extended to be able to turn out 3,000 'Cunard' machines per annum; but with additional buildings and machinery, for which I have specified, which will cost the sum of £7,000, this could be done, and would show a profit of 25 per cent. on the capital of £50,000. This result is obtained, to my knowledge, by the principal firms in the trade at Coventry, and with Mr. Gibbons' machines, which are equal to those of any other maker, and are becoming very popular, there would be no difficulty in realizing this result.

"[Signed] HENRY OSBORNE."

D. Rogers & Co. have secured most favorable terms from the "Cunard Cycle Co.," and it is on this account, and to provide for the increased business expected in the spring, also for the purpose of establishing branch depots in the most important cities, that the extra capital is required.

It is a notorious fact that all the existing companies for the manufacture of bicycles and tricycles are paying enormous dividends, and that the public has until now had no opportunity of participating in such profits, the capital in nearly every case having been privately subscribed by a few individuals, and no shares can be purchased, even at a very high premium. In the present case, however, it will be readily seen that the low price of the shares ($5) will enable wheelmen and others to invest a smaller or larger sum at their option, thereby availing themselves of the full benefits arising from such investment, in proportion to the amount subscribed.

To enable subscribers residing at distant places to have the full privilege of their votes at any meeting of Stockholders, the Directors have made adequate arrangements, whereby such may be recorded by proxy.

As the Directors anticipate a very large number of applications, they wish it to be understood that the shares will be allotted in strict proportion to the total quantity applied for. If no allotment be made, the amount paid on application will be returned in full.

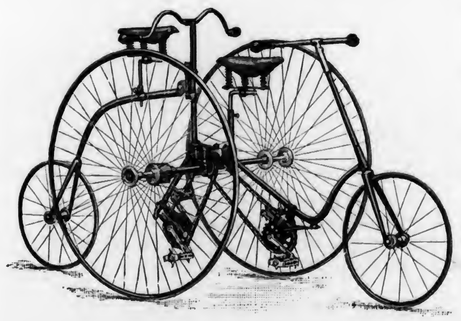
Prospectuses, and forms of application, with testimonials, can be obtained at the Company's Offices, 75 Clinton Avenue, Newark, New Jersey. The Certificate of Organization may be seen at the offices of the Company's Solicitors.

"Rapid" THE NEW Bicycle"

With The Famous TRUE TANGENT WHEELS AND PALMER DETACHABLE HANDLE BAR.

Confidently OFFERED AS THE HIGHEST GRADE AND EASIEST RUNNING BICYCLE EXTANT.

Send For Catalogue & Testimonials — Photos. 10 & 15 cts.



ENERGETIC AGENTS WANTED

SAML. T. CLARK & CO. IMPORTERS

BALTIMORE, MD.

THE COVENTRY MACHINISTS CO., LD.

239 Columbus Avenue, Boston.

Before buying a Tandem, you should see the new "CLUB" TANDEM, with automatic steering, and the MARLBORO TANDEM, the best three-wheel Tandem made.

CATALOGUE FREE.

KIRK BROWN,

6 SOUTH BROAD (MERRICK) STREET, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

SOLE PHILADELPHIA AGENT.

Before purchasing your mount for this year, see the celebrated

"ROVER" BICYCLE.

FITTED WITH EVERY POSSIBLE IMPROVEMENT.

Faster than a Bicycle.
Safer than a Tricycle.

The "ROVER" BICYCLE as ridden by the Right Honorable Viscount Bury, President of the National Cyclists' Union.

No Skidding or Side-Slipping on Greasy Roads
And no Fear of Falls.

Starley's new Patent Spring Fork is now ready, whereby entire insulation from shocks is obtained in handles, pedals, and seat.

This Fork can also be applied to any tricycle.

Price-lists, testimonials, etc. (including one from Viscount Bury, which every rider should read), post free.

Complete catalogue of all our machines, 2 stamps.

STARLEY & SUTTON, Meteor Works, - Coventry, England.

Ira Perego

128 and 130 FULTON ST., 87 NASSAU ST.,
NEW YORK.

The only Official Outfitter to the L. A. W.

L. A. W. REGULATION CAP,	-	$1 75
" " HELMET,	-	1 75
" " SHIRT,	-	2 25
" " HOSE,		1 50
" " SILK BELTS,		1 00

All orders must be accompanied by money order for the amount, also name and League number.

English C. T. C. Cloth, double width, $4.00 per yard.

Patented 1881.

L. A. W. BADGES.

For Gold Pins of the Official Design, send direct to

CHAS. H. LAMSON,
177 Middle St., Portland, Me.,
The Designer and Sole Authorized Maker.

Prices for handsome Solid Gold Pins (stone centres) $3.50, $5.00, $7.00, and $8.00, according to finish and fineness (kt.) of gold. Diamond Badges, $15.00 to $50.00 for the larger pins, and $10.00 to $30.00 for the small size. Send for circular free. Orders by mail, inclosing money order and League number, will receive prompt attention.

Also for sale in New York at M. J. Paillard & Co.'s, 680 Broadway; in Philadelphia by H. B. Hart, 811 Arch St.; in Boston by The Pope Mfg. Co.; in Chicago by The John Wilkinson Co.; in Newark, N. J., by Howard Smith & Co.; in Minneapolis by T. F. Heath & Co.; and in San Francisco by Osborn & Alexander.

New Style H.

TOBOGGANING!!

THE POPULAR TOBOGGAN.

SEND FOR CIRCULAR. DISCOUNTS TO CLUBS.

The most fascinating of winter sports.
Headquarters for Tobogganing Outfits.
Agents for the celebrated "PROCTOR" Toboggan, which for STRENGTH and SPEED excels all others.

NEW YORK BICYCLE CO.
38 Park Place.

DEALERS

will be interested to learn that we are supplying a line of tool-bags equal to imported goods, and at lower prices. We are preparing to manufacture a full line of leather goods for the coming season. Before placing your orders, write McCOY & WILLIAMS, 373 Main Street, Orange, N. J.

HOW TO JOIN THE L. A. W.

Fill up the blank in the adjoining column and, together with TWO DOLLARS, send it to the Secretary of the League,

ABBOT BASSETT,
Box 1184, Philadelphia, Pa.

Write your FULL NAME, your FULL ADDRESS, and your CLUB name IN FULL.

Write very plainly.

Application for Membership in the L. A. W.

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary-Editor,
Box 1184 Philadelphia, Pa.

Dear Sir:

Inclosed you will find $2.00 for initiation fee and annual dues in the League of American Wheelmen. I hereby certify that I am over 18 years of age, and that I am an amateur within the meaning of the definition printed below. I refer to the persons named below.

Signed,.....

Club,..... Residence,.....

City and State,..... Date,.....

ARTICLE IV, SECTION 4, of the L. A. W. By-Laws, contains the following Definition of an Amateur:—"An amateur is one who has never engaged in, nor assisted in, nor taught any recognized athletic exercise for money or other remuneration, nor knowingly competed with or against a professional for a prize of any description. To prevent misunderstanding in interpreting the above, the League draws attention to the following explanation: A cyclist forfeits his right to compete as an amateur, and thereby becomes a professional, by engaging in cycling or any other recognized athletic exercise, or personally teaching, training, or coaching any other person therein, either as a means of obtaining a livelihood, or for a stated bet, money prize, or for gate money, competing with, pace-making for, or having the pace made by, a professional, in public or for a prize; selling, realizing upon, or otherwise turning into cash any prize won by him. This rule does not apply to teaching the elements of bicycling solely for the purpose of effecting the sale of a bicycle. The League recognizes as athletic exercises all those sports under the jurisdiction of the National Association of Amateur Athletes of America, including running, walking, jumping, pole-leaping, putting the shot, throwing the hammer, throwing the weights, tug of war, and rowing, boxing, sparring, Lacrosse, polo, roller and ice skating."

TO L. A. W. MEMBERS.

Read the Letter in the adjoining columns, and AT ONCE fill out the blank at the bottom and send it with ONE DOLLAR to

Abbot Bassett, Box 1184, Philadelphia, Pa.,

and thus secure for another year your membership in the largest and most popular athletic organization in the country.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY-EDITOR, LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN,
PHILADELPHIA, PA., December 6th, 1886.

TO ALL LEAGUE MEMBERS:

THE ADVANTAGES OF MEMBERSHIP in the L. A. W. are so well known and understood that to most of you anything that I might say on the subject would seem superfluous. But to those who, either from the brief duration of their association with our organization or from the fact that they have not availed themselves of their privileges in the League, are not so assured of its great influence for the general good and their individual good in particular, we offer the following brief summary for their careful attention:

The L. A. W. publishes a first-class weekly newspaper, the L. A. W. BULLETIN, which is in itself full return for the annual dues. It will furnish to each member, on application, during 1887, at a nominal price, a HAND-BOOK of useful information, including the Constitution and By-Laws, Racing Rules, Transportation Rates, Rights and Privileges, etc. The L. A. W. affords the privilege of obtaining an excellent UNIFORM at very moderate cost. The L. A. W. stands ready to protect its members in their legal rights, and to sustain them in their efforts to repeal unfavorable legislation. This it has frequently done in the past.

In addition to the above general advantages, most of the State Divisions are striving to outdo the parent body in granting direct benefits to their members, such as Road-Books, maps, Hand-Books, and reduced hotel rates, to say nothing of meets, parades, tours, and entertainments.

The item of the bond of fellowship which exists between League members throughout the length and breadth of our land is admitted by many hundreds to be worth much more than the price of the annual dues.

Believing that all who intend to continue as cyclers will also continue as members of the League, and that most of those who either temporarily or permanently give up active participation in cycling will remain with us for the sake of the past and of the future companionship, I feel that I have but to call your attention to the League's claims on you for 1887 to insure the return of the blank printed below with your signature affixed and accompanied by your annual dues.

Fraternally,
ABBOT BASSETT Secretary-Editor, L. A. W.

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary-Editor, L. A. W.,
Box 1184, Philadelphia, Pa.

Inclosed herewith you will find ONE DOLLAR for the Annual Dues for 1887, in the League of American Wheelmen, for the undersigned.

Name,.....

League No...... Address,.....

Club,.....

To the Reader.

Although it may be a trifle early, we take great pleasure in calling your attention in a general way to our plans and machines for 1887.

We have investigated every improvement that has appeared upon Bicycles and Tricycles, both in England and America, and have satisfied ourselves as to its value; and although the Rudge machines for next year will not contain any very startling novelties, which are often used for advertising purposes, you can rest assured that we have not been negligent in our efforts to perfect them.

We have been in active correspondence during the last year with a large number of reliable, enthusiastic road riders in regard to improvements on the Rudge machines, and after a careful examination, we have decided to adopt those which we have thoroughly tried and can fully recommend.

Rudge Light Roadster.

We are not quite prepared at present to lay before you the detailed specifications of the RUDGE LIGHT ROADSTER for 1887, but when they are submitted to you, we feel you will at once say, "It stands at the head." We have spared no pains in any respect, and the old favorite comes forward this year better than ever. Be sure and see this machine before deciding on your mount for the year.

Rudge Roadster.

We have entirely remodeled the American Rudge and improved it in many points. In consequence of the large number of cheaper machines, we have discarded the word American, and re-named it the RUDGE ROADSTER.

For a good, strong, reliable roadster, at a moderate price, we think it will lead all others, as it has done for the last three years. It is a machine that we can recommend as a reliable mount at a low price.

Rudge Bicyclette.

We shall also place upon the market the RUDGE BICYCLETTE, the original safety bicycle of the Rover type. This was patented by Rudge & Co. in 1879, both in England and America, and all machines of this pattern are imitations of the original.

The many advantages that the BICYCLETTE possesses in point of safety, comfort, and speed, together with the many valuable specialties, which can be found only on this machine, will at once be appreciated by the large number of wheelmen and intended wheelmen, and as we predict a large sale for it for the coming year, orders should be booked for it early.

Crescent Tricycle.

Owing to the enormous demand in England last year for the RUDGE CRESCENT TRICYCLE, we were unable to fill orders as we desired; but we have made arrangements this year to carry a large stock on hand. This tricycle contains all the essential points of the very latest improvements, being fitted with a large front wheel, bicycle-steering, and a long wheel base, and combines lightness, speed, and ease of running.

We shall carry it in two weights, one for gentlemen and one for ladies, and our new pattern contains many valuable points of special interest.

THE RUDGE FOR 1887

Friebie, Wm M dr...

Rudge Humber Tandem.

This popular Tandem is so well known that it needs no description. While we have not altered the main features, it may be seen that the details have received our careful consideration, and many points have been altered with satisfactory results.

Rudge Crescent Tandem.

To meet the general want for a tricycle that can be ridden by two ladies, or by a lady and gentleman, we introduce the RUDGE CRESCENT, feeling sure it will meet the demands of the riders.

It is of the Cripper form, with patent automatic bicycle-steering, and contains all the valued features of Rudge & Co.'s experience.

With these popular machines, it will be seen that we cover all the ground, and we claim that no importer or manufacturer handles so extensive a line of Cycles as ourselves.

These machines are not experiments, but they have been given from one to three years' careful trial in England before we introduced them upon the American market, and the prestige which they have in England, combined with Rudge & Co's. experience and skill in material and workmanship, leave nothing to be desired, and we can with confidence recommend them to our agents and their customers.

All of these machines have been built under our manager's personal supervision; and we place them upon the market, knowing that our reputation is at stake, and feel sure that you will appreciate our efforts, for it has always been our aim to suit the riders.

At present we are very busy in preparing our catalogue, which we propose to lay before you very early in the season, and trust that you will favor us with an order.

Agency.

We have had numberless applications for the agency of the Rudge Bicycles and Tricycles from all over the United States, and we wish to say that we desire only to establish agencies in the bicycle centres, and desire only representatives who are willing to push the sale of our machines.

We invite correspondence on this subject.

Yours very truly,

STODDARD, LOVERING & CO.

No. 152 Congress Street, Boston, Mass.

THE L. A. W. BULLETIN

THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN: PUBLISHED WEEKLY: A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA:

$1.00 A YEAR. 3 CENTS PER COPY. | Philadelphia, February 4, 1887. | VOLUME IV. No. WHOLE NUMBER 84.

From Manitoba to the Gulf of Mexico, from Eastport to the Golden Gate, the Majority of Wheelmen

RIDE COLUMBIAS.

POPE MFG. CO.

79 Franklin St.,

BOSTON.

BRANCH HOUSES:—12 Warren Street, New York; 291 Wabash Avenue, Chicago.

These are our Witnesses.

Nine years of hard service upon every grade of American road has not worn out a Columbia.

THE WORLD'S STORY

of the road and path is a recapitulation of victories by riders of Columbias.

THE WISE WHEELMAN

rides a Columbia; the unwise is getting wisdom and a Columbia.

RUDGE TELEPHONE MAN.

Hello! I just want to say a word about the

RUDGE LIGHT ROADSTER

For 1887.

Among the improvements in it you will notice the following:

SPADE HANDLES, perfectly adjustable and detachable.

FULL FRONT FORKS, without adding to its weight.

LONG CRANKS, thereby obtaining great power.

SADDLES. We have a daisy. Details later.

BACKBONES, large section.

These are only a few changes, but every part of the machine has been carefully considered in detail.

GUARANTEED TO STAND 200 POUNDS.

Wait until you see this machine before purchasing.

Catalogue ready in a few days. Reliable Agents wanted.

STODDARD, LOVERING & CO.,

152 Congress St., Boston, Mass.

N. Y. Headquarters: GEO. R. BIDWELL, 313 W. 58th St.

THE BULLETIN

OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN. PUBLISHED WEEKLY. A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY

ABBOT BASSETT,

For the Executive Committee of the League of American Wheelmen.

AT THE L. A. W. OFFICE,

506 WALNUT STREET, ROOM 12, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

Entered at the Post Office as Second-Class Matter.

SINGLE COPIES, - - - - - - - 3 CENTS.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE TO OTHER THAN LEAGUE MEMBERS, } $1.00 A YEAR.

CLUBS OF FIVE, - - - - - - $4.00 "

TO LEAGUE MEMBERS.

Until further notice address all letters to the Secretary-Editor, Abbot Bassett, Box 1184, Philadelphia, Pa.

Subscribers should be careful to notify the EDITOR promptly of any change in their address. Great care is taken with the mailing list; failure to receive THE BULLETIN may usually be traced to carelessness on the part of the subscriber.

All matter for publication, whether reading or advertising matter, should be addressed to the EDITOR. All checks should be made payable to his order.

Reading matter, to insure publication in the following issue, must be in the EDITOR'S hands not later than Saturday afternoon; advertisements not later than Monday morning.

Personal controversy, fault-finding, and allusions to manufactures and manufacturers will not be admitted to the columns devoted to reading matter.

The EDITOR must in all cases have the full name and address of the authors of contributed articles as a guarantee of good faith. As the Executive Committee has decided that it is best to discourage the use of assumed names by writers for THE BULLETIN, the EDITOR will publish the author's name unless particularly requested not to do so.

ADVERTISING RATES ON APPLICATION.

Our Circulation this Week is

11,950 Copies.

No. 5. FEBRUARY 4, 1887. VOL. IV.

Renewals are coming in very fast, and yet we are not satisfied. One month of the two in which renewals are allowed is about gone and less than half the members have renewed. This means a heavy draft upon our clerical force during February. Will each and every member of the League regard this as a gentle reminder of his duty and proceed forthwith to place his name upon our rolls for another year? Don't wait for the circular to delinquents, but act at once.

* * * * *

There seems to be a great deal of misapprehension regarding what a League club is. At the officers' meeting in New York a By-Law defining a club of this kind was added to the Code, but it is necessary for this office to hold a certificate to the effect that the club has complied with the By-Law before an entry can be made on the books. Clubs desiring to be enrolled should send to this office a certificate which shall answer the following questions:

1. Name of club?
2. Date of club organization?
3. Date of joining the L. A. W.?
4. Club address?
5. President?
6. Captain?
7. Secretary?
8. Treasurer?
9. Number of members?

We have given the form which has been in use in this office in the past. The third question is not, to our mind, what it should be. Secretaries will please answer this question by giving the date when the rule was passed which qualifies the club for admission to the League. The date of joining the League can only be fixed in this office, and it must be that on which the entry is made. League clubs are entitled to a club copy of the BULLETIN.

* * * * *

A valued correspondent, for whose opinion we have much respect, has sent us his ideas of what the BULLETIN should be. We reproduce his words: "Make the BULLETIN a medium of communication between all Leaguers. Let us have an open correspondence column, free for an exchange of ideas and views on all cycling subjects. This I feel would make it still more interesting and valuable to members. The BULLETIN is for the benefit of the League and its members, and I see no earthly reason why correspondence on subjects of special or general interest to League men should not be printed in the official organ, as well as the stenographic reports of what the officers say. Let the small fry be heard. In other words, the BULLETIN should be the organ of the members at large, not the officers only—should be a true barometer of the general sentiment of the League. We cannot be heard at nor can we attend the meetings. Why can we not express our opinions through the only medium which we have, viz.: the official organ?" The foregoing views are in accord with our own. We agree most heartily with the idea that the BULLETIN should be a medium for the interchange of ideas between the members, and we shall do what we can to make it so. There must be, however, two parties at work to bring about such results as our correspondent would like to see. The BULLETIN is ready and willing. How is it with the members?

* * * * *

Many correspondents are writing us regarding the League uniform. The matter is now in the hands of a committee, and it will receive careful attention. Hasty action would be a mistake. The League has had a sad experience in the past, and this should teach them to make a careful selection of material for the uniform that is to be. Undoubtedly, many wheelmen will be put at a disadvantage by the delay, but in this, as in everything else that the officers do, the greatest good of the greatest number must be sought.

* * * * *

Mr. J. R. Hogg, the leader of the party in England which would abolish the amateur rule, explains his position to the Cyclist. He withdrew his notice of motion for the next meeting of the N. C. U., because, as he says, "I don't choose to travel six hundred miles to move a resolution with the absolute certainty of an overwhelming defeat. * * * * That the principles I have endeavored to enunciate are not indorsed as yet by the majority of cyclists I freely admit."

One who has acted as English correspondent of the BULLETIN has made it appear that there was a very strong feeling in England in favor of a repeal of the amateur rule. The above words from Mr. Hogg are the best answer to what has been said. The BULLETIN recognizes that the great majority of wheelmen in America favor the strictest kind of an amateur law, and from what it can glean from the men of England who have best represented English ideas in the past, it believes that the abolition party is very small in numbers and very weak in influence.

* * * * *

It will be well for Club Secretaries to bear in mind that no person can vote at the annual election, next month, unless he is a member of the League of record March 1st, and that no applicant can thus qualify unless his application is published in the next issue of the BULLETIN. The Constitution provides that an applicant shall become a member "upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the Official Organ." Under this provision a person whose name is published in our issue of February 18th does not become a member till March 8th. We shall hold our forms open as long as possible to accommodate the late ones.

All the gold and silver medals owned by Dr. P. E. Doolittle, of Toronto, Ont., which were won by him at bicycling contests, and said to be worth from $400 to $500, have been stolen from his residence, No. 237 Front Street, East. The thieves found their way into the house through the cellar, and had the case where the medals were stored removed to the back yard, where it was emptied of its contents.

TO LEAGUE MEMBERS.

Until further notice address all letters to the Secretary-Editor, Abbot Bassett, Box 1184, Philadelphia, Pa.

Give a Dollar to the Cause!

He who gives quickly, gives doubly. Don't come in with the great rush which comes during the last week in February. Get your renewal off your mind, and give us the night work early in the month. Send all letters to

ABBOT BASSETT,

Box 1184. Philadelphia, Pa.

Give a Dollar to the Cause!

He who gives quickly, gives doubly. Don't come in with the great rush which comes during the last week in February. Get your renewal off your mind, and give us the night work early in the month. Send all letters to

ABBOT BASSETT,

Box 1184. Philadelphia, Pa.

COMING WHEELS.

WHAT ENGLAND IS DOING IN WHEEL MANUFACTURE.

THE BICYCLE, THE TRICYCLE, THE TANDEM.

LONDON, January 8th, 1887.

DEAR BULLETIN:—Doubtless you have despaired of ever receiving a reply to your request that I should write you a few lines, for publication, of course, giving my impressions of the state of the wheel trade in England, the changes that have taken place since my last visit to this "right little tight little island," the styles and types of machines that will be used in '87, etc., etc.; and I must apologize humbly for keeping you waiting so long; but the fact is, I have read so many "impressions" of late which point so plainly to self interest, that I feared you might consider another letter replete with "impressions" flat, stale, and unprofitable. However, as I have not confined my observations to any one particular make, and am not writing in the interest of any firm, I shall venture to spread before your readers, in plain words, a few "impressions" of one who has been an ardent wheelman since 1878, riding in Europe and North America, who for the past four years has yearly visited nearly every important cycle factory in England, and who, being a mechanic and inventor, as well as a rider, therefore feels hiinself qualified to speak.

IMPRESSION NO. 1.

In my peregrinations I eagerly sought for changes and improvements in my first love, the vertical fork two-wheeler, for I feared that so much attention being paid to tricycles, my old friend might have been neglected. This was not the case, however, and I found marked improvements that had passed beyond the experimental stage, and had now become indispensable in a strictly high-class bicycle. Certainly the most important of these is the mode of building bicycle wheels with "true tangent spokes." I remember seeing the first wheel built on this principle, which was exhibited by a Birmingham company at the International Inventions Exhibition, held in London in 1885, and I was immensely pleased with it. I saw at once that it was mechanically correct, and I was pleased to hear that it had received from the jury of award the only gold medal for bicycles. It and some other machines with "true tangent wheels" were afterward exhibited at the Stanley Show, where they again scored, receiving the unstinted commendations of all the cycle experts and critics; one well-known authority, a writer for a cycling trade paper with pages of manufacturers' advertisements, going so far as to pronounce these "the best wheels ever built," and predicting that no first-class manufacturer could afford to be without machines with "true tangent wheels."

And it came to pass. The firm that first introduced this mode of wheel building did an immense trade. On every side sprang up imitations and copies, and there was a rage for "true tangent wheels," and my recent visit to the various factories, where I saw the leading types for 1887, has convinced me that this will be decidedly a "true tangent" year. Makers have not been slow to recognize the signs of the times, and most of them have prepared themselves accordingly, yet there are some who are troubled with that most terrible of bugaboos, "Big stock made up," who cannot afford to make so radical a change in wheel construction, and they, of course, cry down the "true tangent wheels;" but that another season will see them in line is a foregone conclusion. By the way, I note that a prominent manufacturing firm on your side of the pond has recognized the value of the "true tangent wheel" to such an extent as to adopt them in their racers, and it was on a machine so constructed that William A. Rowe did his marvelous times, and established world's records from one-quarter to 24 miles. So much for the "true tangent wheels" and William A. Rowe. Doubtless the Birmingham firm feels happy over this.

IMPRESSION NO. 2.

Speaking of manufacturers with "big stock" crying down improvements, I remember, when I was here last year, a small firm introduced a ball-bearing head, put it on their own machines, and induced one or two other firms to adopt it. What a howl went up from the big stock people! They pooh-poohed it right and left; they wrote and talked it down, and tried in every way to smother it—but it would not down. It grew steadily in public favor, until this year it is recognized as a sine qua non to a strictly first grade bicycle, and those who do not have ball-heads will not rank among the highest grade mounts. Of course the extra cost of construction will preclude its being used on second grade machines, but that it is a vast improvement over the Stanley head, with cone or hemispherical centres, however true and well hardened, is a fact that the experience of 1886 has settled beyond a peradventure of a doubt. In corroboration of this please note the reports of the next Stanley show, which will be on in February, and scan the number of patented ball-heads and necks advertised in the wheel press.

Just a word of caution, however. There are ball-heads and ball-heads. Many are incorrectly constructed, theoretically and practically, and will cause endless trouble. Without attempting to point out the good and the bad, I will simply advise intending purchasers of machines to have only those which have ball-heads that are thoroughly adjustable for unequal wear, which are made interchangable, and afford a ready means of extracting a broken ball and inserting a new one.

IMPRESSION NO. 3.

I have always held that the handle-bar of a bicycle should be readily detachable. The reasons for this are so obvious that they do not require explanation. Four years ago I cannot recall that there was a single make of bicycle in England that was put on the market with a detachable handle-bar. Since then, the increasing demand has produced a number of devices, the most of which, however, "died a bornin'," owing to the fact that the constant twisting strain on the bar soon wrenched it loose, and, as every cyclist knows, there is nothing worse than a loose, rattling handle bar. The past year's demand showed conclusively that roadster bicycles (excepting Safeties) must have detachable bars, and most makers are putting them on stock machines. Very few of the patterns, however, fill the requirements of a bar that may be almost instantaneously detached without removing the handles, that will not wear or shake loose when in place, and will not ruin the detaching device when a bad header is taken.

Very few, I say, will come up to the requirements; in fact, I know of but one that has practically demonstrated these claims. It is the patented invention of a famous Midland rider. The hollow bar, a one piece tube, is squared at the centre by pressure, and fits neatly into a recessed lug in front of the head, and is held firmly in place by two taper cotters bearing against the bar. Being square, it cannot twist or turn, and every pull on the bar tends to tighten it. It can be detached in 30 seconds.

It is by no means the handsomest device, but it is certainly the most effective I have yet seen. Perhaps the Stanley show will reveal something better. Beyond these points there is practically nothing new and startling. Cowhorn-shaped bars obtain everywhere; T handles are the rage; machines well within the reach of the rider, with six inch cranks, distinguish the mounts of the men who tour and ride long distances; and very light (i. e., under 34 pounds for 50-inch) machines are giving way to the better judgment of the makers who take pride in building durable machines, even at the expense of slight extra weight.

In saddles for vertical fork bicycles England is way behind America. The Englishman is just beginning to realize the luxury of the Kirkpatrick, Lillibridge, and Victor saddles, but I think the present year will see those types fairly in use, and then good-bye to the flat spring and metal plate seats.

Townsend, of Redditch, however, has introduced a new combination spring and saddle for Safeties and tricycles which is undoubtedly the best thing ever produced. It is practically a well-made long distance saddle, mounted on a spiral spring frame. It avoids perineal pressure, adjusts itself to any weight rider, and completely absorbs all shock and vibration. It is indeed a luxurious seat; and, judging from the orders the maker has from all parts of England, it will be most generally used. On dit, that he has almost ready for the market a detachable suspended saddle that promises to lick creation; but of this more anon.

IMPRESSION NO. 4.

I make this assertion boldly, and without fear of contradiction, that in Safety bicycles there will be but one type, and that type will be the Rover. When I say this, please understand that I do not mean to convey the idea that all other types will be extinct, that they will be neither made nor sold, nor do I mean that the Rover only, as made by Starley & Sutton, will be the machine, but I do mean to say that the sales at list price of all the rest put together will be very small indeed compared to the immense sales of the countless varieties of the equal (or nearly equal) wheeled Safety, of which Starley & Sutton's Rover was the heavy pioneer. No maker will be in it at all without a Rover type Safety.

It being, however, a decided innovation, and the makers having no old stock to work off, their hands and minds were free, and they have all started in to invent and improve, and the result is they will all have some kind of a Rover. Last year when Starley & Sutton sprung the Rover on them, they all said it was a passing fancy, and that they would not manufacture; then they went to work to bring out their own distinctive Rover as rapidly as possible, and the harder they worked the more they inveighed against it.

It reminds me of the year all the farmers in Michigan (I believe it was) swore they would never again plant hops. Swearing in Michigan must be a trifling matter, for they all did plant hops the next spring, and the result was that hops did not fetch a penny a bale. Unlike the over-shrewd Michiganders, however, the Rover manufacturers will sell their products, for, besides the immense army of ready-made cyclers who will join for this type of machine, the introduction of a machine which is so unquestionably safe, the riding of which may be so readily learned (the reports to the contrary notwithstanding), and which is so speedy, must necessarily bring into the cycling ranks many who were too old, too stout, too timid, to ride the vertical fork bicycle, and who recognized that the claim to safety of the dwarf bicycles (so called Safeties) was a snare and a delusion.

Of course, the matter of greatest popularity will be a question of the survival of the fittest; but already the wonderful performance of Mills on the Ivel has shown the capabilities of the straight backbone variety for speed, and whilst this form may be theoretically weaker than the heavier and more cumbrous quadrilateral frame variety, in practice it has shown itself to be far less liable to breakages, and a better hill climber. Constructed properly of honest materials, therefore, there is no doubt that it will be the preferred variety. I can only add that with true tangent wheels, stiff forks, perfectly hardened bearing parts, and Townsend's combined spring and saddle, this would be the perfection of a mount, with nothing to touch it on hill or level, rough roads or smooth.

IMPRESSION NO. 5.

This is on tricycles. By the way, if some of you dealers want to get a cheap lot of tricycles you can get them in England. I know of some splendid job lots of a once famous two-track (singles and tandems) and any number of loop and T frame small pilot wheel side-steering machines. You won't require much money—you can take them at your own price. I make this suggestion because I see that there are some people in America who are compelled to still push and advertise these obsolete patterns (another case of big stock, perhaps, or maybe reluctancy to adopt improvements until forced to do so), and as these machines are just as good as they sell, you might as well save the great difference in price.

If you do buy these machines, don't try to sell them to anybody who has read this article, and be sure that they are not aware that the small front wheel, the Stanley head, rack and pinion steering (or side steering by whatever device), single axle (i. e., without the extended bridge), single-driving—two-track—loop frame, etc., are dead or dying devices, and that here, at least, machines so built or fitted are sent to backwoods purchasers in the colonies, or find their way to the hiring depots, to be let out on bank holidays or Saturday afternoons, to haberdashers' clerks or cheesemongers' apprentices at sixpence an hour. That is rather a sweeping assertion, I'll admit, but you must remember that the whirligig of time has made wonderful changes in the tricycle since James Starley first rode through the streets of Coventry on his three-wheeler, and many busy brains have striven to produce the perfect machine; and it is not strange that each year produces improvements in form and style and mechanism, and consigns to oblivion patterns that were but a short while gone reckoned good. No field offered a wider scope for inventive genius than the domain of tricycle building, and perhaps no field has been more assiduously explored to find a type that approaches the ideal. It would be a sad commentary on the skill and genius of the eminent engineers and mechanics, numbered by hundreds and thousands on this island, if they did not yearly, nay, daily, come nearer to the prize they seek.

That they are approaching it is evidenced by the fact that they are pretty well settled on the essential points. These are, to quote the Cyclist of October 6th, 1886, "Front bicycle steering, guide wheels 24 to 30 inches, some method for reducing vibration, horizontal fork, with handle post behind the wheel (a strongly favored style), three or four bearings well spread over the axle, the stuffing box system (i. e., firm steering), will in the majority of cases replace the automatic gear"—to which I will add that the large pilot wheel now so decisively settled by public opinion, must be mounted on a rigid frame, and in such a manner that the rider should be perfectly free from vibration—that the machine should have an extended bridge for the bearings of the main axle, ball bearings everywhere (and nowhere can these be used to more advantage than in the pedals), Townsend's combination spring and saddle.

Perfect fitting, interchangeability, and honest materials are details of course, but a machine built as above must be and is strong and rigid, must be and is a demon on hills and level, and must be and is a king amongst cycles, standing peerless and alone. I know of such a machine which has gone steadily on against adverse criticism and prejudice until to-day it stands as a model in form and principle for all manufacturers, and is more sought after by gentlemen riders at home and on the Continent of Europe than any other type, and the makers are reaping richly their reward. To-day it holds the record for the fastest mile ever ridden on the road (2 min. 38 sec.), it won the N. C. U. 25 mile championship, climbed the famous Muswell Hill three times without stopping (no other tricycle has succeeded in climbing this hill more than once), and has carried numberless gentlemen riders to victory on the path and road at home and abroad.

I mention this machine and its performances only as corroboration of the correctness of the principles as set forth in the Cyclist's article just quoted.

I shall not mention its name, from the double fear of having the editor place these "impressions" in the advertising columns and charging me the "minimum price of 50 cents per line," and also that the makers, seeing this, should send me one of their tricycles, carriage paid, invoice receipted, and ask me to climb Corey, Eagle Rock, or Breakneck Hill on it, and compliance with this request might bring down upon me the wrath of Brother Bassett and have me consigned to the ranks of promateurism—"horrible dictu"— and none of my friends in the blanched calcimining line. The saints forbid that I should say ought to bring upon me the catastrophe. I shall not mention it, therefore, but the fact remains that it has no compeer, although it is notorious that the skilled cycle mechanics and eminent engineers of England and America have racked their brains in the vain endeavor to imitate, and at the same time circumvent, the patent devices which make this machine pre-eminent of its type.

I will only add another fact which impressed me forcibly. I have noticed time and again, especially in America, weak ladies whose individual weight could not have exceeded 120 pounds, attempting to ride tricycles weighing not less than 100 pounds. "Heaven save the mark"—and still the wonder grows that amongst ladies cycling does not flourish like the traditional green bay tree. Fancy our friend Tombs of the Boston on a 200 pound tricycle—the comparison is correct—don't you think he would honor cycling more in the breach than the observance?

Why, then, should we expect ladies to take kindly to tricycling when thus handicapped?

I should advise ladies who desire to thoroughly enjoy the pleasures and reap the benefits of cycling, to fight shy of the maker or dealer who attempts to sell them the same heavy tricycle that he would to a 180 pound man. Procure a machine in proportion to your weight. Do not let them argue that a light tricycle will not stand your riding. It is either a concession that their make of machine will not prove durable, or, more likely, that they haven't a light-weight machine built especially for ladies' use. Shun them and go to a dealer who can give you what you want and who will guarantee his goods. In addition to your weight being considerably less than your brother cyclist, you will probably never want to drive your machine at scorching pace, you will select smoother roads for your outings, and you will not or should not take the coasting risks that men so often take, hence you will not subject your machine to the same strains; on the other hand, your strength is less, and the hills you want to climb quite as steep. Select, then, a machine especially constructed for your requirements, and, above all things, let me impress upon you, see that your machine is built in accordance with the requirements of the Cyclist article previously quoted, for such a machine is the "fashion," and if these are essential in a tricycle for a man, you may depend upon it they are even more essential as a tricycle for a woman. Whilst in Birmingham I had the pleasure of viewing and mounting a tricycle designed for ladies' use, which embodied all the cyclist's requirements, which permitted mounting and dismounting in no undignified or indelicate manner, and which scaled barely 50 pounds, yet seemed to be as strong and certainly was as stiff as any tricycle I ever mounted weighing 25 pounds more. It was, indeed, a little gem, and by far the handsomest machine I ever saw.

A promise to the makers, who honored me with an introduction to this little beauty, prevents me from giving a detailed description of its form and mechanism (it is being held back as a piece de resistance for the Stanley show), but the curious will, I think, readily identify it by reading the reports of the Stanley show in the English wheel press, for it is sure to attract universal attention; besides, I am told by the makers that they are now building a number of these machines to fill an American order, the only difference being that they will be a few pounds heavier in the frames and somewhat thicker and more elastic tries, in order to make assurance doubly sure with regard to their durability when used on American roads.

With this increase in weight, however, I know of no tricycle that will approach it in lightness and be nearly so strong.

IMPRESSION NO. 6.

Every American tourist in England who mingles with the wheeling fraternity must necessarily be impressed with the growing popularity of the tandem tricycle.

That two men or a man and a woman can propel a tandem tricycle further in a given time than the average distance that the same two riders can propel two singles in the same time, is an axiom which has been settled beyond dispute.

This is so even when the relative strength and abilities of the riders are equal or nearly equal, but it becomes more evident when their powers are unequal, because, with a well-constructed tandem, on which the wheel load has been properly distributed, a moderately strong rider has very little difficulty in maintaining quite a fair pace, and even mounting ordinary gradients, whilst his companion enjoys perfect rest with his or her feet lightly resting on the pedals or foot-rest. Such has been my experience, and that of others.

This, then, is the tricycle of all others for a man who would enjoy the companionship of wife or sweetheart, and would, as occasion requires, permit her weaker muscles to enjoy a rest without delay in the journey.

When I was in England in 1885 I found an endless variety of tandems, and at least six distinct types, viz.:

1. The two-track single driver.
2. The two-track double driver.
3. The four-wheel or quadricycle tandem.
4. The small pilot wheel-side steering—three wheels with a tandem adjunct.
5. The three-track open-front or Humber type.
6. The Cripper, or bicycle steering three-track, with tandem adjunct.

This year I found a much greater variety, so far as mere details are concerned, but of distinctive types only two remained to command public favor and patronage, notwithstanding the frantic efforts of the "big stock" manufacturers to boom their specialties through the medium of ensnaring advertisements, and record-breaking by soi disant amateurs and retained professionals, on specially built machines, after months of training. Numbers One and Two are out entirely—"dead as Hector." Numbers Three and Four are in their last throes—leaving the field open to Numbers Five and Six, but it must be confessed that Number Five has not escaped unscathed. It is wounded at least. "Not so deep as a well, or so broad as a church door, but—"

No type has so many valiant champions and at the same time so many resolute enemies as Number Five, and it will still command the attention of the fearless and intrepid, but the day is not far distant when it will be pointed out as "one that has gone before." Number Six, therefore, is the real master of the situation. So much for the type. That settled, the details only remain. In a nutshell, they are precisely the same as in the prevailing single: Larger front wheel, horizontal forks, handle-bar or bicycle steering, etc. These features secure the two great points of perfect safety and certain steering, without which no tandem can live (the lack of these points has become painfully apparent in Number Five), and this type enables the makers to build machines adapted to the use of either two men, two women, or a pair of riders of opposite sex, in which either may ride front or back, and both have the advantage of bicycle or bar steering.

The same general principles prevail in the tandem as obtain in the single, viz.: decreased size of driving wheels—40-inch seems to be the happy medium—rigid or firm steering, and handle-bar post behind the pilot wheel.

Convertibility has been carried to an extreme, and all makers strongly advertise this point. I think

RENEW!

RENEW!

RENEW!

RENEW!

Don't delay longer. Why do you oblige us to send you a circular calling attention to your failure to renew? Send all letters to

ABBOT BASSETT,

Box 1184. Philadelphia, Pa.

however, that the craze in this direction has had more to do with preventing the conception of the perfect tandem than any other cause. I have never yet seen a really good tandem which could be converted into an equally good single, and I do not think I ever will, unless the designer can contrive to suspend the laws of mechanics and physics.

I believe, therefore, that in producing the ideal tandem the designer must discard this feature entirely and confine himself solely to the one essential, a tricycle which shall carry two persons and possess all the good qualities of a machine designed to carry but one, and in which the full powers of both riders are fully utilized, and the disadvantages of extra weight diminished or converted into power.

I know that several prominent makers are turning their minds in this direction. There is plenty of scope for conception and freedom for design. Perhaps the coming Stanley show will reveal some of the results of their thought and genius—but if not, I am quite sure that the year 1887 will not pass away without an unconvertible tandem.

Now, Mr. Editor, it may be that some who take the trouble to read these impressions will say that I have written nothing new, that they were cognizant of all that I have said. So much the better. It will only prove the truth of my assertions. Others will question and take exception to my facts. I quite expect those who are interested in some of the defunct types of machines and obsolete or expiring devices to do so; I must say, therefore, in my own defense that I am writing for neither of these, but rather to the army of your readers who are remote from cycling centres, to enlighten them as to what is going on in the Old World, that not only gave birth to the cycle, but also developed it to its present form, with scarcely a suggestion from the New World—and also to collaborate for them the views of a disinterested, unbiased, and careful observer; and if a perusal of my letter will stimulate in them a further study of the principles and mechanism of the cycle, aid them to secure a modern and approved mount, or induce them to demand that American manufacturers and importers shall discard old ideas and serve the riding public with the latest wrinkles, then I shall be repaid for my efforts and feel that I have not written in vain.

With the season's compliments,

Yours, REMUS.

A BOSTON MAN IN PHILADELPHIA.

He was a stranger and they took him in. He entered Philadelphia with a rush, and his experiences set his head awhirl. They were of a club whose history reaches way back to the beginning of things, and "Ab Initio" was inscribed upon their banners. He was from Boston, the place where everything is good and true. His first set-back occurred in a restaurant, where he read on the list of good things: "Pork and Beans, 25 cents." Horrors! In Boston the same dish is served with coffee for 10 cents. One more luxury must be stricken from the list of those which his salary would allow him to indulge in. He met Don Cæsar, and was taken to the Club House of the "Ab Initios." He was received with open arms and crooked elbows. He was happy, but the boys determined that his cup of bliss should run over. They undertook to introduce him to a characteristic Philadelphia dinner. He was drawn in. The bill of fare was one to fill him with hesitating expectancy, "Saur Kraut, Sausages, Boiled Pig, Beer." Ye gods, what a feast! Think of that for a bill of fare to set before Jupiter and Juno and Minerva! Think of Hebe going about and turning out beer with a head on it three inches long! The boys looked at him as he attempted the ordeal. His sensitive Boston stomach shuddered, but bade him go on. He determined to go through the feast if he came out of it a corpse. He ate and lived. His internal experiences must go unrecorded. One owes a duty to his hosts. He has none but the most emphatic words to describe the time he had. He had been told that the Germantown Club was dead. He found it a very lively corpse. He has entered upon his list of friends very many jolly good fellows, whose only weakness is a love for saur kraut and sausages, and whose only shortcoming is a want of appreciation of Boston's favorite dish.

Renew!

Renew!

Renew!

Renew!

Don't delay longer. Why do you oblige us to send you a circular calling attention to your failure to renew? Send all letters to

ABBOT BASSETT,
Box 1184. Philadelphia, Pa.

THOMAS STEVENS IN CALIFORNIA.

SAN FRANCISCO, January 19th, 1887.

Fifteen hundred miles out on the broad bosom of the Pacific, we, aboard the City of Peking, were hailed by a cockle-shell cruiser containing some half dozen waifs of the ocean. On their breasts glittered a circular gold badge, adorned with three wings and the mystic letters L. A. W.

"Revenue officers, by jingo! what are they doing away out here?" says the boatswain.

"Have you anything in the way of eatables?" shouted the castaways, in the feeble, tremulous tones of men famished with hunger.

"Hear that?" remarked the steward. "I'll bet a bottle of the Cap'n's private Hock, they're bicyclers"—and the sagacious dispenser of the ship's provisions handed the hungry waifs a loaf of bread and a bottle of Thistle Blend.

Between wolfish attacks on the loaf, and the gentle, mellifluous gurgle of the bottle's neck, the rescued party told a pathetic tale of rowing back and forth for the last three weeks, across several degrees of latitude, to make sure of intercepting the City of Peking; of running out of provisions and water; of casting lots for a sacrifice of one to save the others. Reviving under the magic influence of the Thistle Blend, they inquired eagerly if I was aboard. "Yes, he's aboard," says the Captain, "he's aboard." The news seemed to act like magic on the rescued party, who now appeared to forget their sufferings, and with the greatest enthusiasm waved aloft a couple of stovepipes and several Derbys, and shouted "Hurrah!" three times and a tiger. "What's the matter with Stevens?" then queried one, as the echoes of the tiger penetrated the cabin and brought several of us up the companionway. "He's all right! you bet!! ev-ry time!!!" roared the others in reply. The ship's company looked at each other in amazement, and a returning missionary bolted into the social hall and locked himself in, fancying the Pirates of Penzance had boarded the vessel. The party turned out to be 'Frisco wheelmen who had been meeting incoming steamers for weeks past for the diabolical purpose of killing me with a two weeks' round of banqueting, theatre-parties, receptions, etc. Ere leaving the vessel, the beautiful blue and gold badge of the San Francisco Bicycle Club shone like a "candle in the window of home" on the lappel of my coat. Whilst yet the Pacific steamer was miles away from the pier, I found myself an honorary member of this enterprising Club; and, by preference, accepted a niche in the charming family circle of their ex-Captain Greene, during my stay here, rather than rooms at the Baldwin Hotel, generously placed at my disposal by Mr. Welsh, L. A. W. Consul for the Pacific Coast Division, on behalf of the California Division, L. A. W. How cozy! how delightful! seems a quiet California home, after the worry, the annoyances, the inquisitive crowds, the public life of travel! The L. A. W. hotel in San Francisco, however, is, beyond doubt, the finest League hotel in the world, making no exceptions whatever—the Baldwin, a world-renowned hotel, co-equal with the Palace. My intention was to remain in San Francisco about three days; the boys would listen to nothing less than three weeks; we finally compromised on a fortnight. The programme for the first week was arranged in a way shown by the following extract from a daily paper:

"Yesterday morning Thomas Stevens, the hero of 12,500 miles on the wheel, rode out with a party of friends to the Cliff House and visited Sutro Heights. Adolph Sutro received the party and entertained them at breakfast, after which a spin through the park drives and along the beach road was in order. During the afternoon an informal reception was held at the San Francisco Bicycle Club Rooms, 1428 Market Street, where a number of the lovers of cycling congregated. The following is the corrected programme for Stevens' entertainment during his stay in this city, which will probably last a fortnight:

"Monday—Presentation of certificate of honorary membership of the San Francisco Bicycle Club to Mr. Stevens.

"Tuesday—Banquet of California wheelmen at the Baldwin under the auspices of the Bay City Wheelmen.

"Wednesday—San Francisco Bicycle Club theatre party.

"Thursday—Reception of the San Francisco Bicycle and Olympic Clubs at the rooms of the latter.

"Friday—Banquet tendered to Mr. Stevens by the officers and Directors of the San Francisco Bicycle and Olympic Clubs.

"Saturday—Smoker at the Bay City Wheelmen's Club Rooms.

"Sunday—The California Division of the League of American Wheelmen, to the number of 300, will escort Mr. Stevens in a spin to Haywards, where dinner will be served. San Francisco wheelmen leave Market Street Ferry at 9.15 A. M., and will meet the Oakland riders at the foot of Broadway. This will be the largest meet ever witnessed in this State."

The spin through Golden Gate Park was delightful, and, for me, full of reminiscences of my maiden struggles on the wheel, the smooth drives of this famous park being the theatre of my first attempts to ride. Methought, as we wheeled gayly toward the Cliff House, I could even yet detect the furrows and indentations in the graveled road, the result of learning to ride without a teacher. A pleasant hour with Mr. Sutro at his famous place near the Seal Rocks and Cliff House, and then the return to the cozy rooms of the San Francisco Bi. Club. On Monday evening came the formal presentation of the certificate of honorary membership of the San Francisco Bi. Club at their rooms. Mr. Hobe, for several years the Secretary and Treasurer of the Club and who well knows his part on all and every occasion, fairly outdid himself in the presentation speech, and at the conclusion stepped forward and fastened a specially engraved badge of the Club to my breast, backed by a rosette of the white and blue ribbons that comprise the colors of the Club. The certificate of membership is a 24x18-inch card, beautifully and artistically engraved by hand. Hanging at one end of the room was a card of similar size, executed by Mr. Patrick, of the Club, a large L. A. W. badge at each corner, and in the centre the legend, "Welcome to our hero wheelman, Thomas Stevens." On the table stood the "Old Reliable," appropriately ticketed, and in front of it the Indian solar topee that saved my life at Kin-gan-foo.

The banquet, under the auspices of the Bay City Wheelmen, was pronounced by all present the finest thing of the kind seen on this coast. The Bay City boys have in their ranks an enviable number of good speakers and a quartette whose productions that evening were talked about on the streets for days after. Mr. Samuel Booth, the famous poet of California, was present and eulogized the "Tour around the World" in verse, comparing the bi. with sundry famous steeds of old, and the men who rode them with—ahem!

The theatre party on Wednesday was delightful, and enabled me to compare the "funnyosities" of burnt-cork artists and Milesian impersonators with the lutis and the wandering troubadours of Iran, and the serio-comic danseuse of the footlights with the Nautch girls of Hindostan and the Geishas of Japan. The reception of the San Francisco Bi. Club and the Olympic Club on Thursday was pronounced a great success, and at the conclusion Mr. Green Harrison, President of the Olympic Club, in moving a vote of thanks for the few remarks I had been making, honored me with a title native modesty forbids repeating here. The complimentary banquet by the officers and directors of the above two Clubs on Friday—well, confidentially to the boys, 3 30 A. M.

On Saturday came the smoker at the Club-Rooms of the Bay City Wheelmen. This likewise proved a most happy affair; on the wall, framed and glazed, was suspended a collection of illustrations from the narrative of my tour in Outing, my own classic features in the centre, turned lovingly toward the "maiden with the grapes," and on the left, the race with the Torkish sopteh. Wreaths and bouquets of January gathered violets spoke eloquently of both the glorious climate of California and the fair fingers of the Club's lady friends. In consideration of the wee sma hours above mentioned, we were permitted to retire at a reasonable hour; but not until after an exposition of the various modes of using the weed in different countries traversed had been given. On Sunday morning the 9 o'clock ferry to Oakland carried an almost exclusive company of uniformed cyclers, and the foredeck presented the appearance of some large bicycle warehouse; nearly a hundred wheels glinted there in the morning sunbeams. The San Francisco Club's blue knickerbockers, white flannel shirts, and dark helmets, adorned with the wheel and wings of the L. A. W. and the bear and bicycle of their own handsome badge, and colors; the Bay City's tasteful gray; the Oakland Ramblers; the "Alameda Schorchers," and the variform costumes of the G. A. G. U., all made up a scene most interesting to the crowds of people gathered about the slip. Buglers blew Club calls in merry competition as the ferry-boat started, and the melodious voice of a stray Kazoo now and then echoed over the placid waters of the bay. Curious crowds awaited us on the Oakland side, and evinced the greatest curiosity in the bicycle that had been round the world and the man who rode it. "He don't look like the feller, does he?" remarked an imaginative youngster among the throng, who no doubt had been feasting his imagination on some bizarre combination of Occident and Orient, and was deadly disappointed in the absence of Turkish fez and seven-league boots. An ancient representative of the shamrock and the shillaleh in a battered stovepipe and odd shoes, not being in the secret of why and wherefore this grand muster of whirling wheels, eyed the travel-stained proportions of "Old Reliable," and comparing it with the bright nickeled steeds about it, remarked: "Begorrah! the feller ferninst the front roides a rusty lookin' pheel." A large Oakland contingent joined us here, and under the pilotage of Mr. G. H. Strong, one of the founders of the San Francisco Club we rode, sometimes two, and sometimes four abreast, through the smooth and level streets of Oakland, halting a few minutes to face a dangerous looking battery of three cameras. Threatening weather had characterized Friday and Saturday, but on Sunday even Wiggins smiled serenely upon our programme, and everything was lovely and enjoyable. A brief halt for "bicycle punch" at a roadside house, where the proprietor seemed pretty well acquainted with the boys, having seen them no doubt quite frequently—as they pass by—and then the bugles rang out right merrily the order to fall in line and on to Hayward's. One of the funniest sights of the occasion was the extraordinary manner in which the tide of "bicycle punch" ebbed in the tumbler of ex-Captain Greene as he sucked it through a straw. It was scarcely credible that so small an escape-pipe as a wheat straw could be the medium of so rapid an ebb in the tumbler; but Mr. Patrick and others explained that Mr. Greene in the earlier stage of his existence had actually sustained life by the process of sucking, and so had acquired this extraordinary proficiency. On through San Leandro pedaled the long, bright column, the inhabitants turning out en masse, and lady friends of the 'Frisco Club making glad our hearts with a huge bouquet gayly adorned with white and blue ribbons. And here again is heard the blarney-toned voice of the shamrock, but this time from an old lady, who, as we rode slowly past, remarked aloud, "Aint yez all darr-lints? and phwere is the wan from around the phourrold?" Arriving at Hayward's-foo, a mob of Celestials pelted us with oysters, boned turkey, ice cream, and other diabolical objects, many of us having hair-breadth escapes. A large blue-point bivalve struck your humble servant square in the mouth shortly after our arrival; fortunately, my mouth happened to be wide open at the moment, otherwise the result would have been less satisfactory. The cows looked sad and reproachful over the fences at us, as, after a few extra glasses of milk, we started in groups toward home. Story-telling was the order of the return ride; but the Californian boys are too truthful to make good story-tellers. One humble follower of George Washington, who rode alongside me, happening to nearly run over a dog, occupied the next ten minutes in telling of a small coach dog he had trained to lope serenely along between the two wheels of his bike. On the return ferry-boat, as a knot of us were standing talking, an individual came up and inquired, "Which is Mr. Stevens?—ah! glad to meet you, sir; shake; you're the champion in your line; I'm the champion in mine; I'm a sword-swallower;" in a trice the man jerked out a straight sword, and thrust it two feet down into his internal department to prove his assertion, shook hands again, and disappeared. And so a week rolled round—but I have no more time now to write and tell of the remainder, and you will probably be sorely taxed to find space for this.

Sincerely,

THOMAS STEVENS.

You can help the League!

If you renew now, it will not be necessary to send you a delinquent's notice.

You can help the League, by saving this office the expense and labor of this notice. Send all letters to

ABBOT BASSETT,
Box 1184. Philadelphia, Pa.

EUROPEAN ROADS.

Would it be out of place for me to add a few words to the very important subject of roads and paving, which you are at present agitating in the BULLETIN? There is a prevalent idea in America that English cyclers have the best roads in the world, while, as a matter of fact, the roads of Great Britain are the worst of what one might call well known Europe. First, as to the paving of the towns. Nearly all the streets of the large ones are laid with small Belgian blocks much worse to ride on than our own, owing to the ruts and holes in them, while two-thirds of the year the surface is covered with a slimy, sticky mud, and down the middle runs a horse-car track with a groove in it about the size of a cycle wheel, apparently specially constructed to smash machines. London, about which we hear so much as a cycling centre, possesses but two long and continuous decently paved streets, on which, naturally, all cycles going from east to west are seen in an almost endless procession, one of which commences with an asphalt surface in the city and continues west as Holborn and Oxford Street and Notting Hill almost to the western end of London. As to asphalt, I believe it is generally admitted that although noiseless and delightful to travel over, both for vehicles and cycles, it is intensely slippery and treacherous in wet weather. One continually sees cyclers and horses falling on it, the horses struggling for a long time in vain to get up, smashing wagons and blocking traffic. On this account, it is not regarded as a success, and very little new asphalt is being put down in London. But with all roads, asphalt as well as others, European road-makers, or more especially Continental ones, recognize the fact that not only is a magnificent road-bed necessary, without which a perfect surface is impossible, but constant and daily care is indispensable, so that one sees all the time, even in London, the asphalt companies repairing small bits of the road. And this is really the whole secret of the perfection of European roads. The pavement of which more is now being put down in London than anything else is wood. These small square blocks are covered with a slight surface of gravel. When new there is absolutely nothing equal to it. There is no slipping, and it seems very popular, but in the course of a year or so it becomes exceedingly lumpy and rutty, and has to be all taken up and relaid.

Another cause of the perfection of European roads is that no one would ever be allowed to tear up the road-bed in the way we do to put water or other pipes into his house. The road-bed, therefore, becomes so solid and compact that to get it up drills have to be used. The approaches to nearly all European towns are bad and played out macadam and not a bit better than American suburban roads. On the Continent, as soon as one gets out of the city limits and on to the national roads under government control, they invariably improve, becoming, indeed, simply perfect—that is, in France, Germany, and Italy. In France, for example, road menders are stationed at very short distances from each other, and they not only keep the surface in constant repair, but sweep it every day, while at certain stated seasons all the roads are re-surfaced—usually in the autumn—allowing the whole winter for the surface to re-form. In England there is no such thorough system, things being generally done by parishes, the result being something not much better than ordinary American road mending. The advantage is that in England the old road-bed is so fine that it has not yet been spoiled by neglect. What I should like to impress upon American cyclers desirous of improving the roads is this: Get the best foundation you can for your road, put on it fire-brick, asphalt, macadam, wood, or what you will, and then keep it there by daily and even hourly repair and attention. And as for the first contractor who comes along with a job for a water-pipe, shoot him on the spot.

JOSEPH PENNELL.

CURRENT NOTES AND COMMENTS.

We shall have to ask those members who have renewed to exercise a little patience if they do not receive their tickets promptly. The new order of things calls for a change in the face of the ticket, and therefore some delay is unavoidable.

On Tuesday evening last was held in Philadelphia, at the house of the Philadelphia Bicycle Club, a meeting of members of the Pennsylvania Division, called to take action regarding certain alleged informal proceedings at the meeting of the Board of Officers in New York, January 17th. Resolutions were passed calling for a mail vote of the full Board of Officers, which Board was asked to set aside all the proceedings of the New York meeting. Accompanying the resolutions was a long report of the Committee, which contained statements affecting the integrity and the motives of many League officials. A full report of the meeting will be sent to the BULLETIN for publication. We shall not refuse it, but it cannot go forth until it has been placed in the hands of the Executive Committee for a reply. That they can answer all the allegations set forth in the report to the satisfaction of all fair-minded members, that they can expose the incorrect statements, and that they can justify each and every action of the New York meeting we do not doubt. We promise to give all the facts in the case at a very early day.

Mr. Marriott C. Morris, of Germantown, has left with us a souvenir of the Bermuda tour of 1886. It is a photograph of the party on the piazza of Hotel Hamilton, and contains many faces well known in wheeling circles.

We have received from Messrs. Stoddard, Lovering & Co. a photograph of their principal bicycle salesroom in Boston. It shows to a good advantage some 300 Rudge bicycles and tricycles, and we believe it is one of the largest bicycle salesrooms in the world. At one end of the room the offices are situated, and the whole building is fitted with every modern convenience for doing business. The photograph would make an excellent picture to hang in any club-room, and no doubt could be had from them if applied for by the Secretary.

THE OWL.

The newly coined degree of D. C., Doctor of Cycling, has been conferred upon the old veteran, Pitman.

A Riverside Longfellow is the title of a new book, and wheelmen are purchasing it extensively, supposing it is a narrative of some adventure of Dr. Beckwith's on Riverside Drive.

In an uptown concert hall is a life-sized pastile portrait of a young lady mounted upon a bicycle, bearing the title of "the queen of the wheel," attached to which is a legend that somebody or other's cigarettes are the best. The painting is the product of a Boston artist, who, from his residence, one would expect to have had opportunity to study perfect posing in cycle riding, which the picture referred to shows an utter disregard of.

A stay of proceedings—a header.

I have seen no notice in print of the able and manly course of the Rev. Sylvanus Stall at the recent Board of Officers' meeting. Untrammeled by any party feeling or prejudice, he is a gentleman whom his constituents in the Pennsylvania Division may well be proud of, and certain that their interests will be well and properly cared for while in his hands.

No wonder cycling prospers in the West, when even a short residence there can make Prince so virtuous that "even such a thing as a whisper about the magic word 'hippodrome' makes him as mad as a March hare." Why, I can remember, and it's not long ago either, when press and public fairly thundered it at Prince, and while not being an expert as to what degree of insanity March hares indulge in, yet, if Prince's madness then was a standard, I can't for the life of me understand why these hares should be held up as an example of madness. Prince's new-born virtues in the anti-hippodrome direction must have improved him as much physically as morally, since he is now able to "spurt for five miles," and that's record. I thoroughly agree with your correspondent, Mr. Stephens, to whom we are indebted for these novelties in his letter in the beginning of the ult., that "Omaha is getting rapidly to the front in wheeling," if both these points are true. I do hope, though, he will use his influence and prevent his neighbors from carrying out their threat of going "still further," at least in the direction before noted, or the first thing we know they will have John going to church, winning races with his feet, instead of with his mouth, and that would change him so that we in the East would never recognize the gentleman in this disguise.

It seems but natural that when the League wanted an examination of their books that they should get an Expert accountant, who would perform the labors allotted him in a Rapid manner.

He had been telling her that the only reason he had not presented her with a tricycle as a birthday gift, was that the monopolists who controlled their manufacture kept the price so high that he could not afford the purchase of one off of a salary of $10 a week. A silence had fallen after the foregoing explanation had been made, which was finally broken by Miss Cripper murmuring fondly: "George, do you believe in supporting a monopoly?" "No, dear, I don't. I believe in helping a monopoly along just as little as I can. But why do you ask?" "Oh! I don't know; only I thought maybe if you didn't you would have turned down the gas."

"The mills of the gods grind slowly," but when they do grind, they grind exceeding small. Our dearly beloved Park Commissioners, who are charged with official corruption, are now accompanied by their brothers in Brooklyn. The Grand Jury of Kings County handed in on Friday last a presentment against the Brooklyn Park Commissioners, claiming that the Commissioners "engage in a recklessness wholly unwarranted, in violation of the law, etc., etc." How pleasant it is for cyclists to sit by and see "the shoe on the other foot" for once, and the Commissioners who have kept them from their legal rights themselves called upon to answer the charge of "recklessness," when they have so long used the same charge as an excuse against granting the cyclists their rights.

A recent issue of the BULLETIN contains the nomination of Mr. W. H. Pontious for the position of Chief Consul of Indiana. From an acquaintance of purely an epistolary nature, I am in favor of the gentleman for the position named, though I think there is liable to arise a grave complication between his name and the office, of which, probably, he has not thought, and my interest in him makes me thus call his attention to it before it is too late. Has he thought that, as the director-in-chief of wandering League men throughout Indiana, he will assume the duties upon land that a pilot does upon water, and that, hence, he lays himself open to being called a Pontious Pilot!

Pitman's experiment in introducing "red paint" into the BULLETIN in an advertising form seems to have been a successful novelty, judging from the hundred odd replies he has received from it. Nothing to me is so convincing as to the way the BULLETIN is received and read as a test like this, and, to advertisers in a cycling line, the opportunity to reach thus over 11,000 of the most progressive wheelmen in the country at the price charged is one that ought to make space at a premium, instead of going begging for clients.

It has often been alleged that the line of profit on wheels was too large and that it should be diminished, so as to bring a good wheel down to a price that would put it at the command of those who were kept from purchasing at present prices through not being blessed with a sufficiency of the "root of all evil" to warrant them investing. This may or may not be true. At any rate, one of our most prominent dealers will shortly present a plan to the readers of the BULLETIN that will admit of wheelmen making their own prices on wheels, and we will then see what the rider considers a fair price for a good wheel. The way it is proposed to do this is to insert in the BULLETIN a complete description of nearly 200 wheels, all new, with the regular price opposite each one. A bidding-blank will accompany the description, which each intending purchaser will fill out with the price he is willing to give for the wheel he desires to purchase. At the end of a certain period all bids will be opened, and each machine will be sent to whoever has bidden the highest price for it. This seems to me to be an extremely fair way of dealing, and when my readers see the name of the firm who will introduce it to them, it will carry sufficient reputation to warrant them in having perfect confidence in the fairness of the dealing they will receive.

The Harlem Wheelmen are contemplating securing the Academy of Music for a promenade concert by Gilmore's Band. The undertaking is one of considerable magnitude, and shows much more faith in the inclination of the New York cyclists to support an affair of this kind than I am inclined to have after an intimate acquaintance with them for nearly seven years on my part.

The Harlems deserve success, though, if they do attempt the foregoing plan, if only for the faith they show in thus making so splendid a bid for the metropolitan wheelmen's support.

The members of the American Racing Team have been in this city for the past week. If Woodside's speed, with Morgan's oratory and Friedberg's skill, don't get away with the Englishmen's ducats, then for the present we must be content to boast of our ability to beat all comers on our own soil, even if we can't "carry the war into Africa" and win.

THE OWL.

The Brookline (Mass.) Bicycle Club dedicated its new rooms by a reception, January 21st.

RENEW!
RENEW!
RENEW!
RENEW!

Don't delay longer. Why do you oblige us to send you a circular calling attention to your failure to renew? Send all letters to

ABBOT BASSETT,
Box 1184. Philadelphia, Pa.

A TALK ABOUT BICYCLING.

DR. BLACKHAM BEFORE THE ACADEMY OF SCIENCE.

Dr. George E. Blackham, of Dunkirk, spoke before the Academy of Science, on Monday evening, on "The Bicycle and Tricycle as Factors in our Civilization." Dr. Blackham is an enthusiastic bicyclist. He opened his address with the statement that the amusements of a people are at once an index of their rise and fall. He continued with a review of the history of the bicycle and the improvements which have been gradually added to the machine, changing it from the heavy, cumbersome one as first used to the light and rapid ones now in general use. He described the gradual introduction of the wheel into this country, and then spoke of the physical effects of cycling. He said:

"Bicycles afford incomparably the best and most agreeable form of exercise yet devised—better than gymnasia, health lifts, etc., in that they take the cycler out of doors into the pure, fresh air and sunshine; better than walking, rowing, or horseback riding, in that they exercise more muscles more evenly and gently. With their hollow backbone forks and felloes and delicate wire spokes their weight is reduced to a minimum without sacrifice of strength; with their exquisite anti-friction bearings, friction is almost abolished, and with their spider wheels, rubber tires, and spring-supported saddles the jar of riding over the inequalities of the roadway is neutralized, and the happy possessor of a good, modern bicycle may speed along over a fair road at his ease, making about three times the speed of walking with less than half the exertion. The idea that the muscles of the legs only are developed by cycling is a very common and exceedingly erroneous one. In point of fact, nearly every muscle in the body is brought into gentle use. The lungs draw in deeper inspirations of pure air; the heart beats fuller, quicker, and more freely, and sends the blood more rapidly to be aerated and thence onward to the remotest capillaries, renewing and re-creating every nerve and muscle-cell; the tired brain is relieved of its weary load of surplus blood, and the happy cycler returns from his run of five, 10, or 20 miles refreshed and rested, with an appetite and digestion like a wood-chopper, and a capability for sweet and restful sleep that goes only with a clear conscience and a healthy body.

"The Pharmacopœia contains no tonic, blood purifier, and hypnotic at all comparable for agreeableness and efficiency to the combination of steel and rubber in a good bicycle. I know whereof I speak, for I rode my wheel out of the valley of the shadow of cerebral exhaustion and insomnia into excellent health.

"The tricycle, though neither so graceful nor swift as the bicycle, is equally excellent in its effects upon the physical health, and is, I am satisfied, the form of exercise for delicate women, being extremely beneficial to many to whom the jar of walking is unendurable torture. I know of cases of spinal irritation, so-called, that could not bear even short walks and so failed of needed exercise, that improved so much through riding the tricycle that their health is now perfect, and they have made long tricycle runs—50 miles in a single day in one case—and are able to walk 5 or 10 miles at a time without undue fatigue. Of course, like all other human devices, the wheel is capable of abuse. Foolish boys, who will persist in riding wheels too large for them, may suffer strains in consequence. Young enthusiasts who indulge in racing—that bane of athletics, that intemperance of exercise—may, and often do, suffer heartstrain in reward for their foolishness; but the number thus injured is utterly insignificant in comparison to those who are benefited. In a strictly moral sense, the wheel has a good influence. It insists upon sobriety upon the part of the rider; its races, foolish as they are, are at least free from the curse of the bookmaker and the poolseller.

"Here in Rochester, where wheelmen have always been freely given the rights they have had to struggle for in many other places, where many of the most graceful and skillful riders in the country are grouped in the Rochester and Genesee Bicycle Clubs, where Messrs. Kaufman and Barber have made Breitman's ironical dream of a one-wheeled velocipede a practical reality—here, where the wheel has long been in use and its excellences are well known, there is but little need of an advocate of cycling. Yet I may hope to have shown to some who may not have given the matter much thought, that the bicycle and tricycle are of use for business and for pleasure, for health and for morals in social and political life, and thus are factors, and benevolent factors, in our civilization."—Rochester Herald.

ARIEL A-WHEEL.

"Ariel.—What would my potent master?
Here I am."—Tempest.

The winged messenger of Prospero, held in an unwilling and yet not ungrateful servitude, is perhaps the fittest type of that light and delicate airy modern conception, the wheel. (And be sure that had the great master, who touched all the chords of life with such consummate skill, lived in this day, the wheel had played its mimic part in more than one of his creations.)

Unlike Puck, who was the soul of unbridled mischief, Ariel is an unbodied joy, too much a creature of light and air to know human affection or human sorrow; and even the wheel itself, so essentially the very picture of poetic grace and motion, not the less in its harmonious lines than in its curving flight, seems too material and gross for so ethereal a spirit. But in his passionate love of sunlight and heaven's blue—in his longings for freedom in the summer's zephyrs—

"I do fly
After summer merrily"—

he is the incarnation of the joys which only they who stride the magic steed can know; which belong to no other delight and are born of no other knowledge of mankind.

Was e'er a simile pictured by the pen truer to the cycler's thought than Ariel's—

"I drink the air before me, and return
Or ere your pulse twice beat?"

That aspiring young journalist, the versatile Mr. "Cycle," having undertaken the task of writing up our Reading news items, appears to have come so far short of his entire duty in this respect as to have neglected giving you pen-pictures of our respective Club members, so let it be mine in this present article to repair his omission.

"Age before beauty," and as the Ariel Wheel Club is the oldest in the average age of its riders, these lines are dedicated to them with all due respect.

"President.—Mr. H. W. Potter is the gentleman who fills this office, and he is noted for the promptness of his decisions no less than for the urbanity with which he sits down on kickers. Also for the facility with which he rides anything from a 58-inch ordinary to a 40-inch Facile. He is said to be extremely susceptible, and the handle-bars of his bicycle are usually decorated with a knot of ribbons (the present color is yellow and black). A 52-inch Harvard, kept in such splendid condition that the nickle dazzles the eye, is his mount. Age, 22; trade, dry-goods, with bicycles as a side-issue. (See last clause under head of Secretary-Treasurer.)

Vice-President.—Mr. Charles G. Willson; age, 22; jeweler. Mr. W. is in search of absolute perfection. He has ridden everything in the wheel line and at present bestrides a 48-inch Victor. The trouble with Mr. Willson is that he tries to make a 46-inch leg fit a 48-inch wheel. Consequently he sometimes comes to grief, particularly on hills. It's a sight to get a rear view of him, digging away from side to side on a steep hill. He is a plucky, long-winded rider though, and there are few who can show him the way in on a long run.

Secretary-Treasurer.—Mr. H. Crowther; age, 32; but doesn't look it. Bookkeeper. A pair of black eyes and a notable mustache—one of the sort which W. S. Gilbert's term, "shadow of a shade," best describes—are distinguishing personal characteristics. He rides a 52-inch Victor, which he swears by, for which there is a "why," as he and the worthy President are agents for the Overman Wheel Company, and whenever Potter or Crowther start in to talk "Victor," the rest of the members flee in self-defense.

Captain.—Mr. John C. Dotter; age, 23. Of surpassing personal dignity, a blonde mustache sets off the van of the club runs with great grace. He usually rides a 52-inch Victor, with six-inch cranks (on which he is a terror on hills—Chief Consul Wells ought to tackle him), but sometimes makes his appearance with his brother on their Rucker tandem. J. C. is a confirmed misogynist, in which he is quite the reverse of Billy.

In fact, the Ariel Wheel Club, taken all through, is a remarkably modest one for such a good-looking set of riders. There's Hoffman; he daren't look at a girl, for his wife won't let him, and he's sure to be found out if he does. Crowther is in the same boat. Dotter (J. C.), Overlies, Hall, and Fred. Willson won't, for they are too modest. McLenegan daren't either, for good and sufficient reasons. Likewise Essick and Satterthwait. And Potter, Willson (Charles), Dotter (William H.), Ray, and Smith would like to, but the girls won't have 'em.

Now for the rank and file:

Collins, J. W.—Age, 25; profession, designer. Rides a full-nickeled Expert, and together they usually present the appearance of having just come out of a band-box. For Mr. Collins is the "lady killer" of the Club, no one else approaching him in this respect except Mr. W. H. Dotter, who is slightly given that way himself.

Dotter, W. H.—Jeweler; age, 26. He is indispensable on the road, a blood curdling yell of his own invention—modeled on the bay of a hound—being the terror of all the dogs in the country 'round. As above intimated, he and another club-member absorb all the admiration of the country girls, whereat the President frequently waxes wroth. Mount, a 52-inch Harvard, which he knows how to ride. The oldest L. A. W. man in the Club, his number being 306.

Essick, W. S.—Age, 25; draughtsman. Rides a 54-inch Expert, and reckless from way back is the way in which he drives that machine. Gutters, curbs, the ubiquitous small boy, likewise the small dog, are all of no moment so far as his care and speed are concerned. Consequently he may be frequently seen dismounting over the handle-bars of his machine to pick something out of the street.

Hoffman, C. P.—Age, 21. Rides a 50-inch Victor when he is not cultivating a pair of fire-escapes. Took to riding as naturally as walking, and is never left behind except when Collins is along and they are going down hill. Then he gets half a mile in the rear.

Hall, P. S.—In striking contrast to Mr. Essick's riding is that of Mr. H. Mounted on a 52-inch Cornell, he rides like a man who has the greatest possible respect for his own bones. He is something of a politician, too, and the Club are looking forward to having him work up the street question for them. Age, 29.

McLenegan, J. L.—Another one of the old L. A. W. men, No 312, I believe. A 58-inch Rudge Light Roadster is his mount, and his control of that machine is perfect. Has not done much riding during the past season, but expects to begin again with "the flowers that bloom—" (Ding! Ding!) Owns a mustache on the order of the Secretary-Treasurer's, only his is white and t'other's is black.

Oberlies, J. L.—Age, 30. Mount, 46-inch Facile. One of the most steady riders we have in town. Rain or shine, summer or winter, his Facile can be seen driving along the streets. Of a quiet disposition, few even of his own Club can be said to know much of Mr. Oberlies' opinions. He and the Captain are the two regular riders of the Club.

Ray, W. H.—Age, 26. One of the "coffee-mill" men, riding a Pony Star, although I am informed that he is going back to his first love—the Ordinary—this year. He and Essick are inseparable. He is quite an athlete, and a Y. M. C. A. man.

Satterthwait, A. H.—The latest accession to the Club ranks. Age, 27; merchant. Another Star man. He beams over his spectacles with an air of good humor that is irresistible.

Smith, J. C.—Is the muscular man of the crowd, and as he could probably lick any two men in the Club, I shall be compelled to handle him gently. Began riding last fall on a 58-inch Victor with six and one-half inch cranks (imagine his leg measure; he could probably ride a 62 with short cranks), and his lightning dismounts are already a source of envy among our local wheelmen. "Catch me, Billy! Catch—" There! let us draw a veil over the harrowing scene.

Willson, F. G.—Last, but not least, although he is the youngest member of the Club, having just reached the limit of age for L. A. W. membership. One good point about the Ariels is the fact that League membership is compulsory. It is a League club throughout. Mr. Willson's mount is an Expert Columbia, and his greatest weakness is a mania for riding at the head of the procession. Ask Crawford and Kohler of your city about it, Mr. Editor.

* * * * *

"Whom the gods love, die young." May I escape it.

ARIEL.

READING, PA., January 28th, 1887.

Give a Dollar to the Cause!

He who gives quickly, gives doubly. Don't come in with the great rush which comes during the last week in February. Get your renewal off your mind, and give us the night work early in the month. Send all lettters to

ABBOT BASSETT,
Box 1184. Philadelphia, Pa.

ORIOLE NEWS.

BALTIMORE, January 26th, 1887.

The Ramblers met with a slight accident about a week ago. One of their members went out to the Club-House early in the evening expecting to have a good time; and instead of seeing everything in its usual good shape, he found about three inches of water covering the wheel and locker rooms; he sent for a plumber, and in half an hour the water, as well as the Club treasury, was considerably down. They expect to be in their new "home" about February 12th.

I was pleased to see several well-known wheelmen attend the Charity Ball in knee-breeches and silk stockings. Wheelmen, take this as an example all should follow.

The Marylands will give their annual Club Banquet to-morrow night, and I will try to let you have a full account of it if possible.

There is, we hear, a movement on foot in the Baltimore Cycle Club to admit members free of charge from February 1st until September 1st, in hopes to raise the membership from 70, the present number, to 100. It is said if they succeed they will move to better quarters. We cannot vouch for this, but we got it from good authority.

We hear all sorts of good wishes for the welfare of the new editor and his paper, and we join in with the rest in wishing him unlimited success.

We hope we are not going to get into such a difficulty with the "Solitary Club" as the "Owlet" did with the venerable "Owl." We think it a mean "owl'd" trick in him (Owl) to get mad.

We see that some of your correspondents think winter wheeling a great thing, yet our wheelmen ride in the coldest weather. A few weeks ago H. L. Kingsland and J. E. Eberman rode eight miles out our pike and back, and declared they never had such pleasant riding and felt the cold less than they do when bundled up in overcoats skating. The snow was two or three inches deep all over the route, and they claim to have ridden through drifts 10 inches deep.

Our Chief Consul was over in New York last week, and we will try to see him and find out if he did any great and noble deeds for our Division. We hope he did.

The Columbia Calendar is a beauty, is it not?

We all are in hopes of a grand race meet this spring, and would be pleased to see you all.

"LONE STAR WHEELMAN."

FASHION IN UNIFORMS.

The thought has come into my head, and I hope I may be pardoned for giving utterance to it, that it would be indeed a sad thing for the cycling world in general if the frivolities of fashion were allowed to sway us in the matter of our uniforms. For a dress uniform I admire a plain black, close-fitting suit, or perhaps some other very dark color, ornamented only by small, dark buttons. Such a suit answers every purpose, and the wheel may be ridden in it with impunity; but the addition — or, may I say, disfiguration?—of bright buttons, or a militaire watch-cord, in my opinion so detracts from the plain beauty of the more sombre colors as to rob this uniform of its chief merit, which is simplicity or neatness. For a riding suit for all ordinary purposes, the more cheerful or lighter colors may be worn to advantage. The uniform is thus relieved of its staid, quiet appearance, and the wheelman given a more hail-fellow-well-met air—striking the spectator at once with the idea which it is advisable to convey, that we are jolly. This is to counteract the eager, almost scared cast of countenance some riders assume when astride their wheels. My preference is for gray, as over blue, but as this article is not to voice my opinions so much as to cry down an anticipated evil, I will magnanimously allow my readers to choose their own colors (as they, in all probability, will do, volens volens). For touring, as is well known, the tougher and heavier cloths are more desirable; and here the League suit stands to its best advantage. Corduroy, too, is serviceable.

But I drift from the theme. A sentiment has manifested itself to alter our bicycle uniforms as the fashion plates change. This is probably seconded by the tailors with a hearty good will and a smile of serene satisfaction. I understand the present League uniform was cut with the "Norfolk" jacket, to accord with the then popular idea that that style of coat was "just the thing," and the fact seems deplorable, if true. There certainly is nothing of real advantage gained by adding to a close-fitting coat the plaits possessed by the Norfolk, and, in my opinion, but little of ornament. On the contrary, the plaits are likely to catch and become torn, and the coat is necessarily heavier and warmer on their account. As to the dropped-visor cap, I may as well state at once that I do not like it. It is not as pretty as a straight visor, and its only merit is when used in riding toward the setting sun. In this event it may be pulled down so as to cover and protect the eyes, but the head must be thrown back to look above the ground. At all other times the cap is tilted back on the head, giving a rowdyish appearance, in order that the wearer may have free and unobstructed vision.

Let us adopt a standard plain uniform, one that will meet every demand made upon it, that is not too light nor too heavy, that will not fade or tear, that can be manufactured quickly and economically; and then let us stick to it to the end of time! A change, an alteration, an improvement, made upon the national uniform, necessarily throws hundreds out of fashion. Hence the undesirability of such change. As a remedy, let us perfect the suit in every detail—as far as the present state of improvement, utility, and economy will permit—then let us cling to it despite the protestations of a few or the solicitations of the tailors to try this or that new thing.

I think all will agree with me, after the test to which the League uniform has been put, that it is not just what is wanted, but before a change is made, I trust the officers having the matter in charge will consider how important it is that what is next adopted be something that will not need another revision, either as regards the cut of the suit or the material of which it is made.

These suggestions apply with equal force to club-uniforms, and I think it advisable that the same spirit of conservatism be instilled into us all. I know the protestations of the tailors, and even perhaps of some of the more fashionable of the riders themselves, will be heaped upon us—I know a hue and cry will be raised when the idea is suggested that we must never alter our uniform after having once chosen it, but I submit the wisdom of the suggestion and the spirit of true economy with which it is made to all fair-minded and philosophical wheelmen who may chance to read this article.

This question is a comparatively new one, but I hope it may be agitated and well discussed. My own Club has a constitutional provision which requires a much larger majority to vote for a change in uniform than to amend the Constitution or to admit or expel members, and another whereby it takes three months and two separate notifications to every member before such a change can go into effect. We have considered the matter from all its points, as will be readily seen; and I trust the League of American Wheelmen may do the same.

N. L. COLLAMER.

Official Announcements.

LEAGUE OFFICERS.

OFFICERS OF THE BOARD.

PRESIDENT.—Dr. N. M. Beckwith, 21 W. Thirty-seventh Street, New York.
VICE-PRESIDENT.—T. J. Kirkpatrick, Springfield, Ohio.
TREASURER.—Sanford Lawton, Springfield, Mass.

STANDING COMMITTEES.

EXECUTIVE.—N. M. Beckwith, 21 W. Thirty-seventh Street, New York; T. J. Kirkpatrick, Springfield, Ohio; John C. Gulick, 132 Nassau Street, New York city.

MEMBERSHIP.—E. F. Hill, Chairman, P. O. Box 797, Peekskill, N. Y.; Dr. G. Carlton Brown, 16 Broad Street, Elizabeth, N. J.; J. R. Dunn, Massillon, Ohio.

RACING.—Abbot Bassett, Chairman, 22 School Street, Boston, Mass.; Ewing L. Miller, 124 S. Front Street, Philadelphia, Pa.; W. M. Brewster, 309 Olive Street, St. Louis, Mo.; Chas. H. Potter, Cleveland, Ohio; Gerry Jones, Binghamton, N. Y.

RULES AND REGULATIONS.—W. I. Harris, Chairman, Box 5132, Boston, Mass.; Dr. C. S. Butler, 263 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.; Knight L. Clapp, 328 West Sixtieth Street, N. Y.

RIGHTS AND PRIVILEGES.—Charles E. Pratt, 597 Washington Street, Boston, Mass.; John C. Gulick, 132 Nassau Street, N. Y.; A. S. Parsons, Cambridgeport, Mass.

TRANSPORTATION.—Burley B. Ayers, Chairman, 152 S. Hoyne Avenue, Chicago, Ill.; Geo. R. Bidwell, 313 W. 58th Street, New York city; W. S. Bull, 587 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.; J. H. Livingston, Editor The Reformer, Bennington, Vt.; Fred. T. Sholes, Marsh-Harwood Co., Cleveland, O.; Frank Read, Record Building, Philadelphia; Frank A. Elwell, Transcript Office, Portland, Maine; Columbus Waterhouse, 16 Beale Street, San Francisco, Cal.; M. E. Graves (at large), Mannheim Building, St. Paul, Minn.

BUREAU OF INFORMATION.—A. B. Barkman, Chairman and Bookmaster, No. 608 Fourth Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

OFFICIAL HANDICAPPER.

N. P. Tyler, M. D., New Rochelle, N. Y.

CALIFORNIA CHAMPIONSHIPS, 1887.

SAN FRANCISCO, January 10th, 1887.

By a unanimous vote of the Division Racing Board the following State championships for 1887 have been established: One half mile, one mile, two mile, five mile, and ten mile.

Applications will be received from Clubs for assignment of any of the above, excepting the one mile, which is reserved for the Division meet.

The Board has decided that the championship medals must be of uniform design. Messrs. Wagner & Ott, of 13 Trinity Place, San Francisco, have the contract to furnish same at $25 per set of two, gold and silver.

FRED RUSS COOK,
Chairman Div. Racing Board.

CALIFORNIA APPOINTMENTS.

On recommendation of Representative Smith, I take great pleasnre in appointing Mr. George H. Frost Consul at Pasadena.

On recommendation of Consul Simon, the Union is appointed the L. A. W. hotel at Oroville. Rates, $2 per day. To L. A. W. members, $1.50 per day.

ROBERT M. WELCH, Chief Consul.

ASSIGNMENT OF TWO MILE STATE CHAMPIONSHIP, CALIFORNIA DIVISION, L. A. W.

SAN FRANCISCO, January 10th, 1887.

By a unanimous vote of the Division Racing Board the two mile State championship for 1887 has been located with the Los Angeles Wheelmen, and will be contested at Los Angeles on Tuesday, February 22d proximo.

FRED RUSS COOK,
Chairman Div. Racing Board.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS., January 27th, 1887.

TO THE BOARD OF OFFICERS, MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION, L. A. W:

There will be a business meeting of the Board on Saturday evening, February 12th, 8:30 P. M., at Young's Hotel, Boston.

The Committee on Rules and Regulations will present a new Constitution and By-Laws.

Apportionment of the State for the coming election of Representatives and other matters of importance will be presented for discussion at this time.

Previous to the business meeting the usual dinner will be held at 6 o'clock. Members of the Board are at liberty to invite any member of the Division to join us. Kindly advise the Chief Consul the number of plates desirable to engage at as early a date as possible. Preparation will be made only for those so applying. A full attendance at both meeting and dinner is desired. Fraternally,

SANFORD LAWTON, Secretary-Treasurer.

TO TENNESSEE MEMBERS.

At a recent meeting the Memphis Cycle Club nominated the following gentlemen for the officers of the Tennessee Division, and respectfully request the support of all Tennessee members for their election:

Representative—J. S. Miller, Clarksville.
Chief Consul—W. L. Surprise, Memphis.
Secretary-Treasurer—A. Friedman, Memphis.

S. W. HAMPTON, JR.,
Secretary M. C. C.

MEMPHIS, TENN., January 29th, 1887.

We, the undersigned members of the L. A. W., nominate Captain O. C. White, of Memphis, as a candidate for the office of Chief Consul, and Dr. C. J. Scherer, of Memphis, as a candidate for the office of Secretary-Treasurer, for the State of Tennessee:

R. W. SLUSSER,
DAVID MAY,
H. I. MORGAN,
F. BYRD,
F. B. SCHABEL,
J. L. HABERLING,
CHARLES FEUCHT,
CHARLES H. KARR,
ERASTUS UNDERWOOD,
JOS. SPECHT, JR.

W. L. SURPRISE WITHDRAWS.

[By telegraph.]

Publish my withdrawal as candidate for Chief Consul of Tennessee Division, L. A. W.

W. L. SURPRISE.

NEW JERSEY APPOINTMENTS.

Mr. John Bickley is this day appointed Local Consul of Dover, N. J.

Hotel "The Rockingham," Absecon, N. J., is hereby appointed an L. A. W. Hotel. Regular rates, $2.00 per day; League rates, $1.50.

ELLIOTT W. JOHNSON,
Chief Consul New Jersey State Division.
JERSEY CITY, February 1st, 1887.

INVITATION FROM NEW ORLEANS.

JERSEY CITY, February 1st, 1887.

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE NEW JERSEY STATE DIVISION:

I am requested by Mr. H. H. Hodgson, Representative L. A. W. Louisiana Division at New Orleans, to extend a general invitation to all L. A. W. riders of the New Jersey Division to participate in a grand night-parade, which is to occur on the night of February 21st. This parade is to be one of the features of the Mardi Gras at New Orleans.

ELLIOTT W. JOHNSON,
Chief Consul New Jersey State Division.

INDIANA CHIEF CONSUL.

EDITOR L. A. W. BULLETIN:

Whom should we elect as Chief Consul of the Indiana Division for the ensuing year?

The undersigned thought it to be a foregone conclusion among all the members, that the present incumbent should be re-elected to another term. This supposition was, however, dispelled by reading the announcement of another aspirant's name, put forth by some of his admirers.

The writer wishes to state here, that he is a "pronounced non-believer" in the practice of continuing one and the same person in office for a consecutive number of times.

Under the existing circumstances, however, it is also his "positive" belief, that it would retard the progress of the Division should the members fail to re-elect an official to whose "tireless energy" is due in a great measure the present prosperity of our Division.

Take, as an instance, the amount of labor and perseverance required in the compiling of the Division's road-maps. Being perfectly aware that good material is not wanting from which to make selection for a competent Chief Consul, we ought, nevertheless, to remember that "true merit" should be rewarded. Can we, therefore, conscientiously nullify the above maxim by displacing the present efficient Consul, when his labors in behalf of our Division are but partially completed.

Let the well-thinking members take it into consideration, and the writer doubts not in the least but that they will concur in his views, that A. B. Irvin "should" be the next Chief Consul of the Indiana Division.

J. FRED. PROBST.
TERRE HAUTE, IND., January 31st, 1886.

TOURING DEPARTMENT.

Wheelmen intending to tour through Indiana this summer will do well to look over the road-map compiled by A. B. Irvin, Chief Consul of Indiana. This map is now being engraved and shows all the celebrated routes in that touring district, including the Crawfordsville record-breaking roads. The Indiana Division have this map for sale through Mr. Irvin, whose address is Rushville.

B. B. AYERS, Tourmaster.

THOMAS STEVENS' PLANS.

The Editor of Outing has received the following communication from the returned wheelman, which will explain to his friends his movements after reaching Chicago:

"SAN FRANCISCO, January 18th, 1887.

"I shall leave here Saturday, January 23d, traveling east via Portland, St. Paul, and Minneapolis to Chicago. Upon my arrival at Chicago I want everybody to consider me as blotted out of existence for the brief space of a week, while I scurry off down into the backwoods of Missouri to pay my respects to a certain old lady who has shed silent tears on the pages of the Outing magazine as she has read there of dangers and difficulties about my path; and who has prayed as regularly for my safe return as ever faithful Musselman prostrates himself toward Mecca. After that I shall take pleasure in endeavoring to show my great appreciation of the kindly welcome I hear awaits me at the hands of my fellow-wheelmen. Fraternally and sincerely yours,

(Signed) "THOMAS STEVENS."

INVITATION FROM NEW ORLEANS.

The L. A. W. Louisiana Division desire to extend to all members of the L. A. W. throughout the United States an invitation to visit New Orleans during the Carnival week, from February 16th to 22d inclusive, and to participate in the Lantern Parade to be given by the L. A. W. Louisiana Division on the night of February 21st, the night before Mardi Gras. Those wheelmen who anticipate visiting our city during the Carnival are earnestly requested to bring their wheels with them and to notify me of their intention to participate not later than February 17th, stating size of wheel, so as to be properly assigned to place in line of parade. The route of march is along St. Charles Avenue, all asphalt, and after the parade those participating will be entertained by the New Orleans Bicycle Club at their new Club-Rooms. With best wishes, and hoping to see a large number of L. A. W. members present, I am,

Fraternally yours,
HARRY H. HODGSON,
Representative L. A. W. Louisiana Division,
13 Carondelet Street, New Orleans, La.

CURRENT NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Have you renewed? If not, why not? Your renewal should be attended to at once.

Tickets for members will be sent out this week. We had to change a single name on them, hence the delay.

Wood and James send word that they are having a royal time in Australia.

The Canadian Snow-Shoe Club will visit Boston, and the Bostonese wheelmen will open their club-houses to receive them.

The members of the A. C. U. are voting for officers. The announcement of the balloting is the first official utterance that we have seen regarding the membership of the Union. It now appears that the members of the Boston, Lynn, Nonantum, Springfield, and Connecticut Clubs and the Lynn Cycle Track Association constitute the Union.

In the course of our journalistic career we have had to say to correspondents no less than 4,000,000 times: "Write only on one side of the paper." Our experience in the BULLETIN office tells us that we must start on the next million, and therefore we commence: "Correspondents will aid us materially and perhaps save their communications from the w. p. b. if they will write only on one side of the sheet."

If you have never done anything for the League, do it now. Send in your renewal and help along the work in this office. Don't drive the clerks to insanity by sending in your name with the grand rush at the final.

Mr. H. D. Corey, of Boston, has been elected Secretary of the Wheel Board of Trade in that city.

The Massachusetts Division will meet at Young's Hotel February 12th. A dinner will precede the business meeting, and the members in the glow of the post-prandial moment will attend to very much important business.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date and published in accordance with Article III of the Constitution, which is as follows:

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Applicants will please bear in mind that in addition to the two weeks, as above, it must necessarily take several days for their ticket to be issued, as it passes through two hands before being mailed to them. After four weeks from date of publication you may look for your ticket.

It is expected, and it is the duty, of all members to examine the list of applications for their respective States and report at once any error in name or address, and see that no objectionable person is admitted to the League. Any objection must be made to the Secretary within two weeks from date of publication. It will be considered confidential.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

No. 72—Total, 54.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., January 31st, 1887.

ARKANSAS—2.

Champaign Cy. Club—1.
13397 Norton, Fred E., Champaign, Ill.
Unattached—1.
13396 Baltzell, Charles, Knobel.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION—4.

Bay City Wheelmen—2.
13409 Howard Clarence A., 12 Albion Ave, San Francisco.
13408 Parsons, James A., 645 Market St., "
San Francisco Bi. Club—1
13428 Lawton, Aug. F., 213 Sansome St., "
Unattached—1
13429 Woodworth, Mrs. R. C., 318 S. Main St., Los Angeles.

CONNECTICUT DIVISION—3.

Waterbury Wheel Club—1.
13442 McKinnon, J. H., Waterbury.
Unattached—2.
13443 Dorn, Arthur A., Lime Rock.
13410 Gladding, H. H., Room 18, City Hall, New Haven.

DAKOTA—5.

Unattached—5.
13434 Gilbert, J. E., Mitchell.
13433 Kilbee, H. R., "
13432 Layton, Wm., "
13431 Montelius, Frank A., Mitchell.
13430 Winegar, Ed. F., "

ILLINOIS DIVISION—5.

Champaign Cy. Club—1.
13411 Eichberg, Louis R., Champaign.
Unattached—4.
13412 Ackerman, A. J., Ottawa.
13413 Nash, W. W., "
13414 Strawn, H. L., "
13435 Douglass, Leonard, 185 Wabash Ave., Chicago.

INDIANA DIVISION—2.

Unattached—2.
13444 Hild, Wm. F., 601 S 8th St., Terre Haute.
13445 Stark, J. F., 206 S. 9th St., "

KENTUCKY DIVISION—1.

Louisville Wheel Club—1.
13446 Thomson, H. H., 728 2d St., Louisville.

MARYLAND DIVISION—3.

Ramblers' Cy. Club—3.
13439 Boyd, Wm. A., Jr., 33 South St., Baltimore.
13440 Boyd, Saml. R., " "
13441 Day, Ira, Jr., 224 Druid Hill Ave., "

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION—1.

Unattached—1.
13447 Carr, Frank H., North Easton.

MISSOURI DIVISION—1.

Unattached—1.
13436 Sergeant, W., Joplin.

NEW JERSEY DIVISION—4.

Daretown Bi. Club—4.
13418 Afflerbach, George, Daretown.
13415 Foster, Jeremiah W., "
13417 Franklin, Benjamin, "
13416 Knowles, Adam, "

NEW YORK DIVISION—6.

Kings County Wheelmen—1.
13419 Wellding, A. S., 68 N. 1st St., Brooklyn.
Unattached—5.
13437 Hauxhurst, William S., 189 Quincy St., Brooklyn.
13438 Lewis, C. S. E., Little Genesee.
13398 Marshall, Curier R., Clifton Springs.
13420 Wilcox, Frank E., Hudson.
13421 Wells, George M., Monticello.

OHIO DIVISION—2.

Unattached—2.
13423 Hendrixson, W. S., Yellow Springs.
13422 Wells, Amos R., "

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION—10.

Echo Bi. Club—8.
13406 Carey, Dr. C. S., Avoca.
13405 Flock, F. A., "
13401 Graham, T. W., "
13402 Graham, John M., "
13400 Manners, W. R., "
13407 McMillan, W., "
13403 Snyder, E., "
13404 Wilson, J. G., "
Pittston Bi. Club—1.
13399 Bevan, J. L., Pittston.
Unattached—1.
13424 Hoey, R. W., Brockwayville.

RHODE ISLAND DIVISION—3.

Unattached—3.
13425 Campbell, Henry F., 99 Orange St., Providence.
13426 Grant, W. B., 230 Prairie Ave., "
13427 Leland, Wm. H., 91 Westminster St., "

TENNESSEE DIVISION—1.

Clarksville Cy. Club—1.
13395 Nicholossen, G. F., Clarksville.

TEXAS—1.

Unattached—1.
13394 Bolton, R. B., Whitesboro.

RUDGE TELEPHONE MAN.

Hello!

Before you make up your mind for 1887, see the Rudge Bicycles, Tricycles, and Safeties.

Catalogue ready very soon.

Cast your eye on page 88.

YOU CAN HELP THE LEAGUE!

If you renew now, it will not be necessary to send you a delinquent's notice.

You can help the League, by saving this office the expense and labor of this notice. Send all letters to

ABBOT BASSETT,

Box 1184. Philadelphia, Pa.

RENEWALS.

No. 8.—Total, 412.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., January 31st, 1887.

ALABAMA—1.

8637 Goodwin, W. L. D.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION—11.

8601 Alley, B.
9520 Barnich, I.
11318 Chapman, R. J.
12919 Hartman, C.
12745 Hatch, H.
11820 Parsons, E.
10177 Radke, E. N.
10178 Stevens, F.
13029 Stow, H. P.
10545 Woodman, E. D.
12696 Woodworth, E. P.

CANADA—1.

10145 Orr, G. H.

CONNECTICUT DIVISION—13.

393 Acheson, H. M.
2877 Bird, R. R.
8652 Brown, C. H.
5565 Hurlbutt, H. W.
7170 Knox, C. D.
4168 Manville, E. L.
13014 Peck, H. F.
6851 Upson, Dr. C. R.
7061 Upson, Mrs. Dr. C. R.
5564 Walsh, E. S.
4022 White, L. A.
9356 White, L. S.
164 Wyman, H. C.

DAKOTA—2.

7401 Colvin, W. G.
3933 Smith, F. S.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA DIVISION—5.

7065 Graves, B. S.
1783 Morrison, J. G.
397 Putnam, T. J.
5019 Solyom, L.
2528 Stewart, H.

ILLINOIS DIVISION—11.

9534 Crane, C. F.
4827 Forrest, T. L.
3724 Fuller, H. F.
12293 Hosford, M. A.
2489 Kellogg, P. V.
11836 Madden, O. B.
11268 Moore, O. W.
6617 Morison, C. A.
12044 Pratt, G. H.
7974 Ross, H. K.
11263 Staudt, A. J.

INDIANA DIVISION—14.

8305 Bartlett, O.
6383 Baur, C.
12441 Beemer, C. D.
12841 Deibert, W. C.
8307 Fisbeck, F. C.
7779 Hall, C. E.
7778 Hulman, A.
8308 Hulman, H.
11658 Hulman, E.
8309 Kern, G.
357 Powell, G. A.
8311 Probst, J. F.
11504 Wilson, J. H.
9549 Winship, J.

KENTUCKY DIVISION—1.

6715 Goodin, J. W.

KANSAS DIVISION—9.

12046 Bates, W. L.
12374 Curdy, A. E.
10960 Hall, D. L.
375 Irwin, W. R.
3433 Kidder, H. S.
12375 Morison, W.
12377 Patterson, F.
113 Reed, C. E.
12074 Taylor, W.

LOUISIANA DIVISION—4.

11821 Boullemet, W. W.
12612 Hobson, W. E.
11738 Kells, C. E., Jr.
12112 Mugnier, G. F.

MAINE DIVISION—10.

8295 Ayer, W. L.
11762 Cobb, C. H.
8296 Cummings, A. L. T.
8297 Dennett, J. V.
8298 Eichells, J. E.
24 Fairfield, R. A.
8299 Girouard, E.
8301 Henchey, D.
371 Merrill, E. R.
4259 Read, G. T.

MARYLAND DIVISION—30.

7785 Audoun, F. P.
5863 Bishop, W. G.
12938 Bokel, J. A.
13036 Cassard, S. S.
11522 Cassard, D.
5720 Chesney, J. M.
12939 Cole, E. H.
12153 Denmead, E.
7791 Diggs, H.
12988 Dryden, R. W.
2336 Eberman, J. W.
5864 Frisli, S. M.
12396 Gavin, Dr. F. D.
5703 Hayden, J. M.
12806 Hoover, F. H.
10016 Jones, E. B.
11523 Loane, E. D., Jr.
7786 Orem, D. T.
12941 Pitts, J.
10370 Shaw, W. C.
13025 Slothower, F.
5724 Smith, C. C.
10144 Sutton, J. S.
6987 Sutton, J. H.
11520 Taylor, G. W.
7788 Toland, J. C.
6991 Townsend, F. W.
11867 Turner, J. C.
12560 Wingo, C. E.
6990 Zerckle, C. W.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION—33.

9379 Ames, H. E.
9380 Bascom, R. S.
12732 Benson, A. B.
3310 Butler, B. F.
1519 Burley, F. G.
10387 Corliss, C. B.
10028 Craft, C. E.
10041 Dutton, F.
1393 Eldred, F. A.
1359 Field, C. H.
10587 Fisher, H. S.
5199 Forbes, F. P.
5194 Gaines, F. O.
7663 Gaines, F. L.
11340 Gillett, G. W.
3312 Hollister, F. R.
962 Holland, L.
12733 Howland, E. A.
441 Marsh, W. C.
3745 Maynard, J. F.
9426 Norcross, W. E.
7540 Peel, G. W.
1607 Robson, R. H.
4473 Sawtelle, E. E.
8326 Scott, W.
7665 Smith, F. A.
1423 Speirs, J. C.
9439 Sprague, C. L.
6055 Stursburg, H., Jr.
6842 Wengren, E. L.
5197 Wright, G. H.
7668 Wright, W. C.
11780 Wyman, W. H.

MICHIGAN DIVISION—12.

8118 Blodgett, F. C.
11154 Grant, J. W.
5619 Huse, T.
10241 Isham, A. F.
10832 Miller, B. H.
10242 Prall, D. E.
2331 Richardson, F. T.
3713 Seyffardt, W.
11156 Smith, G. W.
10244 Ten Eyck, C. D.
10245 Treanor, P. F.
6916 Watrous, C. A.

MISSOURI DIVISION—11.

7293 Allison, G. E.
10054 Bohn, J. V.
9741 Chauvenet, L.
7190 DeCamp, A. P.
6921 Hall, F. W.
7209 Hilber, J.
12117 Hulburt, O. L.
10845 Paillou, E. R.
8025 Pasqueth, W. C.
8940 Pasqueth, G. S.
8226 Pope, C. H.

NEBRASKA DIVISION—1.

11610 Dort, F. O

NEW JERSEY DIVISION—15

8034 Adams, J. Q., Jr.
7106 Barnes, J. W.
9636 Broome, W. T.
7692 Crane, W. F. D.
11358 Fuller, H. W.
5862 Hutchinson, R. G.
9248 Janvier, H. A.
10253 Johnson, L. M.
213 Knight, C.
6646 McDermott, J.
7099 Osmun, A. B.
8732 Osmun, W. L.
10905 Parisen, G. W.
11547 Sheppard, J. E.
9751 Watkins, S. C. G.

NEW YORK DIVISION—143.

3885 Abrams, E. H.
7035 Adams, E. L.
6932 Amerman, W. H.
10937 Anderson, A. E.
4378 Austin, E. K.
1271 Austin, W. H.
13055 Barnaby, F.
5674 Bawden, G.
7936 Beecher, Rev. T. K.
11362 Benham, F. I.
13056 Beasley, L. W.
6316 Blauvelt H. E.
1276 Bloodgood, W.
310 Bowdish, I. S.
9456 Boyd, I. P.
9281 Brainard, E. F.
3663 LeVino, M.
11441 Lewis, F.
4384 Locke, W. A.
5179 Locke, H. E.
1309 Long, J. H.
5880 Long, C. I.
10990 Long, O. C.
1307 Loucks, A. C. D.
4398 Loucks, F.
11741 Lovejoy, F. W.
10941 Marion, W. C.
427 Mason, E.
4133 Mason, Mrs. E.
3597 Meeker, F. H.
5881 Miller, J. D.
7907 Mooney, H. W.
1283 Bridgman, M. L.
3561 Britton, G.
1282 Brown, C. R.
10939 Brown, F. G.
10938 Brown, A. S.
11907 Budd, E. W.
1285 Candidus, Dr. E. W.
6570 Carpenter, H. K.
8559 Case, J. C.
4385 Chapman, V. W.
3348 Clapp, K. L.
10260 Clemishire, T. H.
5879 Comes, A. N.
10940 Courtney, G. L.
10102 Cox, F. S.
3417 Coykendall, J. B.
10646 Creuzbaur, R. W.
4295 Crichton, T. C.
1555 Danelson, J. E.
3570 Dennis, A. J.
12190 Dockstader, O.
4430 Don, P. C., Jr.
7034 Doolittle, F. E.
1286 Douglass, F. N.
9123 Dunn, A. P.
3412 Ellis, S.
1288 Fenstermaker, F. N.
1287 Fisk, E. F.
11797 Fisk, A. G.
6127 Fraser, A. C.
12774 Froehlich, L.
11363 Garretson, C. A.
4740 Giffin, J. H., Jr.
11771 Green, M. P.
9645 Groat, L. W.
5877 Grosch, Dr. A.
6654 Hale, W. A.
1302 Hall, T. J., Jr.
3446 Hall, H. J., Jr.
3583 Hall, Mrs. H. J.
1393 Hegeman, T. B.
11749 Hegeman, C.
3513 Hersey, H. C.
8036 Hickon, W. C.
1290 Hibson, R. F.
12400 Jenkins, J. G., Jr.
1304 Johnson, E.
3687 Judson, A. L.
2566 Klots, W. J.
7726 Knight C. S.
6300 Knox, R. J.
3585 Knox, J. H.
9938 Knothe, F.
5878 Koehler, G.
7013 Lantaff, C.
326 Leighton, M. H.
11784 Moore, H.
117 Moore, H. C.
7026 Morehouse, C.
3550 Mostert, E. T.
7728 Mums, R.
7727 Mums, C. A.
5521 McDougal, C.
11566 McKee, J.
11364 Neppert, J. D.
11365 Neville, G. R.
7028 Nichols, C. L.
5522 Otis, C.
4100 Pabst, E. E.
1314 Pettus, E.
3001 Purdy, F.
12918 Rahmer, L.
11219 Raisbeck, A.
10665 Raisbeck, T. A.
1482 Rich, A. B.
7729 Robins, H. W.
1315 Rogers, F. W.
1319 Schwalbach, C.
6299 Seibert, E. S.
3411 Shoemaker, G. W.
3887 Smith, F. I.
12401 Smith, A. H.
12402 Smith, H. M.
11742 Snyder, T. S.
1322 Sorzano, J. M., Jr.
9644 Spear, C. A.
10942 Steeves, W. R.
11367 Sillwell, W. B.
1554 Stratton, T. C.
1794 Stratton, A. E.
4380 Stults, H. H.
9764 Tagliabul, G.
2028 Thomas, F. C.
8939 Thomas, H.
3901 Todd, W. G.
9194 Travis, J. C.
8222 Truslow, J. K.
10447 Upson, W. F.
11619 Van Buren, C. H.
8131 Vanderbilt, W. W.
2179 Walters, W. J.
4383 Watson, H.
3514 Weber, L. P.
12575 Welch, A. M.
11864 Wemple, H. Y.
12220 Wills, J.
11798 Willcox, H. P.
1327 Williams, R. V.
12219 Woodruff, W. H.
1269 Wright, J. J.
3416 Zimmerman, J. C.

OHIO DIVISION—39.

5233 Antibus, R.
5139 Austin, W. C.
6602 Austin, W. E.
3156 Balliett, B. J.
9302 Bissman, W. H.
10111 Bonar, J. G.
6573 Bushnell, C. B.
1185 Campbell, P. F.
8385 Campbell, W. F.
7737 Chubb, W. H.
4235 Crane, G. E.
6656 Day, W. F.
8342 De Camp, B. C.
3625 Dunn, E. F.
8994 Eiwell, C. E.
4243 Foos, P.
8996 Gadsby, F. D.
2507 Goldsmith, L.
5902 Grove, I.
2512 Hammond, M. W.
9185 Harbeson, W. A.
8997 Henry, J. P.
10113 Hott, J. L.
5851 Jacobs, E.
5123 Johnson, C. E.
4238 Knest, J. A.
6577 Krause, J. H.
2572 Lindenberg, L. B.
4269 Manning, W. B.
11003 Mathews, J. F.
10114 O'Neil, W. E.
6578 Porch, D. L.
5378 Sawin, W. E., Jr.
4236 Schultz, B. F.
3095 Seiler, A. P.
7342 Thompson, C. L.
5377 Tracy, D. L.
10115 Wagner, C. C.
6582 Wright, J. M.

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION—33.

7598 Aylsworth, Rev. R. M.
11234 Banman, J. A.
2072 Berry, W. M.
8164 Bryden, J. H.
8168 Burchfield, J. N.
2065 Cole, H. M.
2101 Foster, W. L.
11088 Griffin, A. La M.
978 Haberbush, C. E.
11586 Hoskins, G. W.
2070 Howitz, C.
11230 Hubbard, W. H.
1674 Kern, L. S.
8281 King, C. W.
2087 King, C. C.
2563 Klinker, F. J.
3420 Maris, F.
11042 Morgan, E. R.
11464 McCurdy, I. P.
2088 Notman, W. B.
11638 Raser, H. A.
2080 Reed, F.
2079 Reed, S.
9962 Rice, C. A.
2061 Sacks, M. F.
11382 Schoch, H. A.
9966 Simons, G. W., Jr.
2067 Snyder, F.
2063 Staley, W. F.
8067 Staver, J. M.
3895 Taylor, J. H.
2085 Underwood, S. L.
2091 Waters, C.

SOUTH CAROLINA—1.

3644 Bateman, J. M.

TEXAS—1.

299 Smith, C. F.

TENNESSEE DIVISION—2.

7477 Petre, T. C.
13016 Sparks, J. W., Jr.

VERMONT DIVISION—4.

10300 Brown, J. G.
6969 Livingston, J. H.
11581 Silsby, E. A.
7394 Tiffany, L. L.

VIRGINIA DIVISION—3.

9980 Emmerson, J. C.
13028 Mathews, W.
9982 White, W. N.

WEST VIRGINIA DIVISION—1.

11112 Loftus, J. B.

WISCONSIN—1.

926 Hathaway, A. A.

LEAGUE CLUB RENEWALS.

The following League Clubs have renewed, through the proper officers, the number of members given below:

Jan. 3d,	Everett Wheel Club, Everett, Mass.,	16
" 5th,	Williamsport Wheel Club, Williamsport, Pa.,	23
" 6th,	Union Co. Wheelmen, Westfield, N. J.	14
" "	Ariel Wheel Club, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.	23
" 7th,	Pequonnock Wheel Club, Bridgeport, Conn.,	25
" "	New Castle Bi. Club, New Castle, Pa.	23
" 17th,	Chicago Bi. Club, Chicago, Ill.,	45
" "	Chelsea Cy. Club, Chelsea, Mass.,	14
" "	Buffalo Bi. Club, Buffalo, N. Y.,	85
" "	Mountain Wheel Club, Philipsburg, Pa.	14
" "	New York Bi. Club, New York City,	27
" "	St. Louis Ramblers, St. Louis, Mo.,	20
" 18th,	Holyoke Bi. Club, Holyoke, Mass,	12
" "	Yonkers Bi. Club, Yonkers, N. Y.,	17
" 19th,	Baltimore Cy. Club, Baltimore, Md.,	37
" 21st,	Pottsville Bi. Club, Pottsville, Pa.,	13
" 22d,	Akron Bi. Club, Akron, Ohio,	10
" "	Hoosac Wheelmen, Hoosick Falls, N. Y.,	12
" "	Ramblers Bi. Club, Buffalo, N. Y.,	17
" 26th,	Greenfield Wheel Club, Greenfield, Mass.,	14
" 27th,	Kings Co. Wheelmen, Brooklyn, N. Y.	83
" 28th,	Richland Ramblers, Mansfield, Ohio,	18
" 29th,	Alert Bi. Club, Baltimore, Md.,	8
" "	Elmira Bi. Club, Elmira, N. Y.,	12
" "	Waterbury Wheel Club, Waterbury, Ct.	10

TRADE ITEMS.

Schwalbach & Willdigg will open a store for the sale of cyles on Prospect Park Plaza, Brooklyn, N. Y., on or about the 15th. They will also do repairing and keep a full line of sundries.

R. Howell, the English champion, intends to do considerable racing on the Rudge Bicyclette the coming year. He believes it to be faster than the ordinary.

"In a word, a cycle bearing must be in that apparently paradoxical condition, at the same time very tight and very loose; that is, perfectly free to spin, and entirely rigid, allowing no shake in the parts."—Victor Catalog.

IT BEATS THE WORLD,

AND THE WORLD IS HARD TO BEAT.

1405 Miles in 142 Hours!!

Ridden by ALBERT SCHOCK, at Minneapolis, in competition with most of the great American professionals.

Mr. Schock writes:—"I am pleased with the Victor in every respect. I soon found it a vast improvement on all other wheels ridden by me."

Victor Wheels are built to ride. Bicycles, Tricycles, Safeties. Catalog free.

OVERMAN WHEEL CO., - - 182 Columbus Avenue, Boston.

Mr. G. R. Bidwell, of 313 West 58th Street, New York city, recently sold Mr. Cornelius Vanderbilt a 54-inch Rudge Light Roadster.

The Captains of the Massachusetts, Newton, and Brookline Bicycle Clubs have already pinned their faith to the 1887 pattern Rudge Light Roadster.

The Coventry Machinist Company will bring out a new bicycle this year called the "King of Clubs." It is a light roadster with tangent spokes, hollow handle-bars and felloes. It is a high-grade machine in every respect. Also the same firm are to introduce a new three-wheeled tandem, and it will be known as the new Marlboro tandem. The lines will be very similar to the present racing tandem of that firm's make.

One of the most marvelous performances of last year was the 10,002 miles ridden by Emerson Burt, a 15 year old lad, of Westfield, Mass., in competition for the gold cyclometer offered by J. A. Lakin & Co. His mount was a 42-inch American Ideal Bicycle, 1885 pattern, and a valuable testimonial to the enduring qualities, as well as its capacity, was this wonderful ride. Its manufacturers, the Gormully & Jeffery Manufacturing Company, presented the little fellow with a 46-inch Ideal, 1887 pattern, with ball bearings all over, as soon as they heard of the performance, and as this was entirely unexpected, the petite long distancer naturally swears by them.

The American Ideal is the oldest high-grade machine of its class and is regarded as the standard boys' bicycle all over the world. In Canada the dealers will handle nothing else, and its riders are to be found in Continental Europe; even makers of inferior machines have for the past two years been copying the finish of the Ideal, that they might the more readily impose their wheels upon the market, and Gormully & Jeffery Manufacturing Company in consequence will finish the Ideal in black hereafter, beautifully striped in gold and with nickel trimmings.

English papers say that the American agent of the St. George Engineering Company has placed an order with that concern for 500 machines. Evidently Mr. Clark expects to do a driving business the coming year.

America will have a new wheel. Wm. Read & Son, of Boston, for many years importers of the Royal Mail Cycles, will put a new wheel upon the market the coming season which will be made for them by the Ames Manufacturing Company, of Chicopee, Mass.

BINDERS FOR THE BULLETIN.

To all who wish to preserve their Copies of the Bulletin in good shape, we can offer a "Common Sense" Binder, like the above cut, for One Dollar, post free.

E. M. AARON,

Don't send Checks. Box 916, Philad'a, Pa.

BROWNING, KING & CO.,

406, 408, 410, and 412 BROOME STREET, NEW YORK.

THE ONLY OFFICIAL CONTRACTORS FOR THE

LEAGUE UNIFORM.

LIST OF PRICES:

Plaited Blouse, $9.50; KneeBreeches, $6.00; Suit, $15.50. Regulation League Cloth, made by the Middlesex Mills, cost $2.00 per yard. League Buttons, large size, 5 cents each; Small size, 2½ cents each. Full set for suit, 55 cents.

TERMS:

All uniforms or parts of uniforms sent C. O. D., with privilege of examination. All orders for cloth or buttons must be accompanied by Money Order. Blank forms for self-measurement furnished on application. Orders for L. A. W. Goods will be received at any of our branch stores, as follows:

136 and 138 Madison St., } CHICAGO, ILL. | 210 and 212 N. Broadway, St. Louis, Mo.
144 to 148 Clark Street, | Wisconsin and E. Water Street, Milwaukee, Wis.
76 and 78 West Fourth St., Cincinnati, Ohio; 910 and 912 Chestnut Street, Phila., Pa.

All orders must be accompanied by League number

Any bicycle is good enough

If it has compressed cushioned tires;
Bown's adjustable ball bearings all round;
is every ounce forged steel;
has a detachable saddle;
and has square rubber pedals.

If you do not know of such a machine, send to the Overman Wheel Company for a suggestion.

IMPORTANT.

The Grand Union Hotel, opposite the Grand Central Depot, New York City, is the L. A. W. and C. T. C. Headquarters. European Plan. Rooms, $1.00 per day and upward. First-class Restaurant, at moderate prices. Good care taken of wheels.

FOR SALE, EXCHANGE, ETC.

PATENTS secured on reasonable terms. Work reliable. Papers carefully and legally drawn. Special attention given to inventions in cycling by an experienced wheelman and League member. Write for particulars.
N. L. COLLAMER,
Patent Attorney and Mechanical Engineer,
Room 47, St. Cloud Building, Washington, D. C.

FOR SALE.—Club Tandem, new June, 1886; run less 250 miles; fine order, balls all round, safe and very fast. A highly satisfactory machine. Price, $175.00. Address, TANDEM, P. O. Box 1071, Pittsburgh, Pa. tf.*

FOR SALE.—54-inch Spalding, enamel finish, practically new—only run about 100 miles. Cheap.
G. M. ELLSWORTH, Altoona, Pa.
21*.

DEALERS!

We manufacture TOOL BAGS, equal to English, and cheaper. Write to us.

McCOY & WILLIAMS, Orange, N. J.

ARE THE BEST

BECAUSE They contain everything essential to Accurate Time Keeping found in any watch, and in addition have the following important improvements, for which we have patents:
The PATENT DUST PROOF protects perfectly the balance and hair spring (the most delicate and vital parts) from damage, dirt and dampness.
Our Patent Compound Regulator has absolutely no lost motion.
Our PATENT STEM WIND is the strongest and simplest made.
Our Patent Dust-proof movements are free from all variations caused by dirt or dampness, an advantage which no other maker does or dare claim.
We are the only Factory using only Genuine Ruby Jewels in every grade, and all our Watches are made of the best material, and are accurate time keepers, under our own guarantee.

ATKINSON BROS., 9236 Chestnut St., PHILADELPHIA, Pa
General Agents for the Keystone Standard Watch Co.
☞ASK YOUR JEWELER FOR THEM.☜

FOR SALE.—Spalding 52-inch bicycle, nickeled, used only one month; price, $125, cost $147.50; reason for selling, owner hard up. Address CASH, Box 14, 932 Eighth Avenue, New York City.

A. A. C., L. A. W.

Benefit at the Chestnut Street Theatre, Philadelphia, Wednesday, March 2d, 1887.

Attraction, MISS KATE FORSYTH, in a Powerful Comedy.

On this occasion the orchestra will play the

L. A. W. WALTZ.

All those wishing to aid the Association for the Advancement of Cycling in the good work it has undertaken, can obtain tickets for the above from Thos. E. Cookman, 7 South Third St., Philadelphia.

THEOPHILUS WOBBLE'S Trip Around the World ON A BICYCLE,

ILLUSTRATED,
Commenced in

TEXAS SIFTINGS,

July 3d, 1886.

FOR SALE BY ALL NEWSDEALERS.

Back numbers can be obtained from Texas Siftings Publishing Co., 240 Broadway, N. Y.

STEEL BALLS For Anti-Friction Bearings.
OF BEST CAST STEEL.
Hardened, Ground, and Burnished
3-16" to 2" diam. Samples and Prices on application.
Simonds Rolling-Machine Co., Fitchburg, Mass.

If you want to come out in the Spring with your Bicycle or Tricycle looking like new, before putting your machine away use a bottle of

ARDILL'S LIQUID ENAMEL

For touching up or entirely re-enamelling
BICYCLES AND TRICYCLES

Hard as Marble. Dries Instantly, without any unpleasant smell, and produces a Jet Black enamel surface in One Operation. It is thoroughly impervious to wet, cold, or heat. Will not crack, and is not liable to chip off. Any one can apply it. A suitable Brush given with each bottle.
Price, 75 cents a bottle. Cannot be sent by mail.
For sale by all Agents, and by
STODDARD, LOVERING & CO.,
152 to 158 Congress St., Boston.
Special terms to the trade.

Mr. Alfred A. McCurdy made the accompanying remarkable record on a 48-inch STAR Bicycle over the Boston Cycle Club's 50 mile course, under A. C. U. Rules, breaking all previous records above 100 miles.

305 Miles in

The following are the new records accepted by the A. C. U.:

150	Miles,	10	hours	24	minutes	30	seconds.
200	"	14	"	35	"
250	"	18	"	58	"
300	"	23	"	38	"
302 3/16	"	23	"	48	"	50	"
304 1/4	"	23	"	57	"	45	"

The eight trips to and from his hotel to the point of starting carries the distance up to fully 305 miles.

★ WORLD'S RECORDS ★

This record proves most conclusively the superiority of the STAR over all crank action bicycles. This is McCurdy's fourth attempt at the 24 hour record, the first two trials being made on crank machines.

His present performance EXCELS BY 50 MILES his best effort on a crank bicycle weighing about 15 pounds less than his present mount.

24 hours

The STAR is the only bicycle that combines in the highest degree the qualities of safety, speed, and hill-climbing.

H. B. SMITH MACHINE CO.,
SMITHVILLE, N. J.

Adjustment in height in front.

Adjustment in height in rear.

Adjustment in width.

When you buy, buy the best.
When you order your new mount, order it with only the old reliable

Lillibridge Saddle.

FOR SALE EVERYWHERE.

Price, Nickeled, - - $5.00

Adapted to all makes of machines.
Special styles for the Safeties and Star.

FREEMAN LILLIBRIDGE,
ROCKFORD, ILL.

Adjustment in length.

A Bifurcated Seat.

A Comfortable Coasting Plate.

Before purchasing your mount for this year, see the celebrated

"ROVER" BICYCLE.

FITTED WITH EVERY POSSIBLE IMPROVEMENT.

Faster than a Bicycle.

Safer than a Tricycle.

The "ROVER" BICYCLE as ridden by the Right Honorable Viscount Bury, President of the National Cyclists' Union.

No Skidding or Side-Slipping on Greasy Roads

And no Fear of Falls.

Starley's new Patent Spring Fork is now ready, whereby entire insulation from shocks is obtained in handles, pedals, and seat.

This Fork can also be applied to any tricycle.

Price-lists, testimonials, etc. (including one from Viscount Bury, which every rider should read), post free.

Complete catalogue of all our machines, 2 stamps.

STARLEY & SUTTON, Meteor Works, - Coventry, England.

Ira Perego

128 and 130 FULTON ST., 87 NASSAU ST.,
NEW YORK.

The only Official Outfitter to the L. A. W.

L. A. W. REGULATION CAP,	-	$1 75
" " HELMET,	-	1 75
" " SHIRT,	-	2 25
" " HOSE,	-	1 50
" " SILK BELTS,		1 00

All orders must be accompanied by money order for the amount, also name and League number.

English C. T. C. Cloth, double width, $4.00 per yard.

Patented 1881.

L. A. W. BADGES.

For Gold Pins of the Official Design, send direct to

CHAS. H. LAMSON,
177 Middle St., Portland, Me.,
The Designer and Sole Authorized Maker.

Prices for handsome Solid Gold Pins (stone centres) $3.50, $5.00, $7.00, and $8.00, according to finish and fineness (kt.) of gold. Diamond Badges, $15.00 to $50.00 for the larger pins, and $10.00 to $30.00 for the small size. Send for circular free. Orders by mail, inclosing money order and League number, will receive prompt attention.

Also for sale in New York at M. J. Paillard & Co.'s, 680 Broadway; in Philadelphia by H. B. Hart, 811 Arch St.; in Boston by The Pope Mfg. Co.; in Chicago by The John Wilkinson Co.; in Newark, N. J., by Howard Smith & Co.; in Minneapolis by T. F. Heath & Co.; and in San Francisco by Osborn & Alexander.

New Style H.

TOBOGGANING!!

THE POPULAR TOBOGGAN.

SEND FOR CIRCULAR. DISCOUNTS TO CLUBS.

The most fascinating of winter sports.
Headquarters for Tobogganing Outfits.
Agents for the celebrated "PROCTOR" Toboggan, which for STRENGTH and SPEED excels all others.

NEW YORK BICYCLE CO.
38 Park Place.

BEFORE ◆ YOU ◆ BUY ◆ A ◆ BICYCLE

of any kind, send stamp to

A. W. GUMP, - Dayton, Ohio,

for Large Illustrated Price-List of New and Second-Hand Machines. Second-Hand Bicycles taken in Exchange and Bought for Cash.

Largest Stock of Second-Hand Bicycles in America.

BICYCLES REPAIRED and NICKEL-PLATED.

A. W. Gump, Dayton, Ohio.

SECOND-HAND GUNS TAKEN IN EXCHANGE FOR BICYCLES.

BARGAINS!

Now is the time to buy Second-Hand Bicycles. Send size and price you wish to pay. Prices low. Send for Catalogue of the New Rapid.

WM. M. FRISBIE & CO.,
P. O. Drawer 64. New Haven, Conn.

★ NO PATENT! ★

THE STAR HOME TRAINER

Riding day or night, rain or shine. You can make it yourself. Cost, $3.00. Send 25 cents for cabinet photo. of it. Address

WILL H. LEIGH, Lock Box 24, BEAVER FALLS, PA.

BEST GOODS. LOWEST PRICES.

L. A. W. SUITS, - - -	$12.00
JERSEY CLOTH SUITS, - -	13.00
CYCLISTS' TOURING CLUB SUITS,	13.00

All garments custom made.
Send for circulars and measure blanks.

Punnett, Tailor and Outfitter, - Rochester, N. Y.

THE SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER,

MANUFACTURED BY THE

Springfield Bicycle Manufacturing Co.

(Yost & McCune Patents),

19 PEARL STREET, BOSTON.

The only absolutely safe wheel against "Headers" made. It is the best, and it is also the cheapest.
Do not buy a wheel before you see the Springfield Roadster.
Coasting without danger. Hill-climbing to perfection. Invented by riders of experience.

PRICE, COMPLETE, - $75.00.

JOHN P. LOVELL'S SONS, 147 Washington St., Boston, Sole Agents for New England.

THE "NEW AMERICAN" TRICYCLE.

639 Arch Street, Philadelphia.

We make but one style of machine, and that the best. There are no extras.

NO DEAD CENTRES. FULL POWER UTILIZED. CLIMBS ANY HILL.

The best machine for ladies, as there are no revolving pedals to catch the skirts. The only Tricycle that can be ridden equally well by lady or gentleman, grown person or child.

EITHER RIDER CAN STEER.

May be Ridden by Two Ladies.

HAS AUTOMATIC STEERING.

Reduces in Width to 27 inches.

Has Folding Handle Bar, for Easy Access to Front Seat.

Is the Most Unique Machine of its Class.

THE CUNARD CONVERTIBLE TANDEM.

CUNARD

Bicycles,
Tricycles,
Tandems,
Safeties.

D. Rogers & Co.,
SOLE U. S. AGENTS,
75 Clinton Avenue,
NEWARK, N. J.

☞CATALOGUES FREE.

Copy of Testimonial from T. J. Kirkpatrick, Esq., Vice-President of the L. A. W.

SPRINGFIELD, O., January 11th, 1887.

D. ROGERS & CO.

GENTLEMEN:—Respecting the Cunard Tandem, I have to say that it is beyond question the best tandem yet produced. Its compactness, ease of handling, light running, safety, and the ease with which it may be mounted or dismounted, by either a lady or gentleman, leave nothing to be desired. Its folding handle bar, and the fact that it can be quickly and readily taken through a common door, are features which make the machine a pleasure. I have owned other tandems, but this is the only one that was worth house-room as a convertible machine. I find it a perfect machine, in perfect balance, either as a single or a tandem. I have sought carefully for some three years now for the best tandem, and have given the matter a great deal of thought and attention, and if asked to-day to suggest an improvement in the design and arrangement of the Cunard, I would be free to say that it is as nearly perfect as this type of machine ever will be.

Yours truly, [Signed] T. J. KIRKPATRICK.

SEND YOUR ORDERS AT ONCE FOR SPRING DELIVERY, AND DON'T GET LEFT.

☞ACTIVE AND RESPONSIBLE AGENTS WANTED.

Send for list of shopworn machines, which must be sold to make room for spring stock.

ROYAL MAIL!

The Most Complete and Improved Bicycle Ever Offered!

Best Road Record of 1885, 5,056 Miles on One Wheel, Won by ROYAL MAIL!

With the Greatest of Modern Improvement,

Trigwell's Ball-Bearing Head.

1,000 Miles Without Oiling or Adjustment.

Perfect Rigidity and Ease of Steering.

In Use Over Three Years, With Great Approval.

Wheelmen are aware that ordinarily constant watching and tightening up of the Head is necessary, owing to the wearing of the cones by friction. In this Ball Head the cones move on the balls smoothly, without wear, and one adjustment serves for a very long time—for months, in fact—and no loosening nor setting up is necessary. There being no friction, oiling is rarely needed. These Heads are made by the finest machinery, all perfectly alike and beautifully finished, every part mathematically true, and

ALL PARTS INTERCHANGEABLE.

Detachable Handle Bars and Lillibridge Saddle.

Best Warwick Rim and Cemented Tyre.

True Tangent Spokes, tied and wound SEVEN times, giving great rigidity and strength.

The Royal Mail is too well known to need minute description. It has, as a Light Roadster, for the past four years been in the front rank; gained the prize for the greatest amount of road work in 1885, with 5,056 miles to the credit of one wheel, and has increased in popularity each year. We claim no other in the market is of such first-class workmanship, and we think it is conceded to be the handsomest wheel in the market. Having a small lot which came from the factory last fall, too late for sale, and hence carried through the winter, we offer these few, and these only, before the regular season opens and new lots arrive,

TO EXCHANGE FOR OTHER WHEELS

on very low terms—in fact, at such terms as we would not entertain after the season opens, in another month. This is the opportunity of the season to wheelmen desiring to exchange their old mounts for a Superb Light Roadster.

Also a very few in second-hand state, but perfect as new.

Write at once, giving full particulars of your wheel. We have but a few.

WILLIAM READ & SONS, 107 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

HOW TO JOIN

THE

L. A. W.

Fill up the blank in the adjoining column and, together with TWO DOLLARS, send it to the Secretary of the League,

ABBOT BASSETT,

Box 1184, Philadelphia, Pa.

Write your FULL NAME, your FULL ADDRESS, and your CLUB name IN FULL.

Write very plainly.

Application for Membership in the L. A. W.

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary-Editor,
Box 1184 Philadelphia, Pa.

Dear Sir:

Inclosed you will find $2.00 for initiation fee and annual dues in the League of American Wheelmen. I hereby certify that I am over 18 years of age, and that I am an amateur within the meaning of the definition printed below. I refer to the persons named below.

Signed,..... .....

Club,..... Residence, .....

City and State,..... Date,.....

ARTICLE IV, SECTION 4, of the L. A. W. By-Laws, contains the following Definition of an Amateur:—"An amateur is one who has never engaged in, nor assisted in, nor taught any recognized athletic exercise for money or other remuneration, nor knowingly competed with or against a professional for a prize of any description. To prevent misunderstanding in interpreting the above, the League draws attention to the following explanation: A cyclist forfeits his right to compete as an amateur, and thereby becomes a professional, by engaging in cycling or any other recognized athletic exercise, or personally teaching, training, or coaching any other person therein, either as a means of obtaining a livelihood, or for a stated bet, money prize, or for gate money, competing with, pace-making for, or having the pace made by, a professional, in public or for a prize; selling, realizing upon, or otherwise turning into cash any prize won by him. This rule does not apply to teaching the elements of bicycling solely for the purpose of effecting the sale of a bicycle. The League recognizes as athletic exercises all those sports under the jurisdiction of the National Association of Amateur Athletes of America, including running, walking, jumping, pole-leaping, putting the shot, throwing the hammer, throwing the weights, tug of war, and rowing, boxing, sparring, Lacrosse, polo, roller and ice skating."

TO L. A. W. MEMBERS.

Read the Letter in the adjoining columns, and AT ONCE fill out the blank at the bottom and send it with ONE DOLLAR to

Abbot Bassett, Box 1184, Philadelphia, Pa.,

and thus secure for another year your membership in the largest and most popular athletic organization in the country.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY-EDITOR, LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN,
PHILADELPHIA, PA., December 6th, 1886.

TO ALL LEAGUE MEMBERS:

THE ADVANTAGES OF MEMBERSHIP in the L. A. W. are so well known and understood that to most of you anything that I might say on the subject would seem superfluous. But to those who, either from the brief duration of their association with our organization or from the fact that they have not availed themselves of their privileges in the League, are not so assured of its great influence for the general good and their individual good in particular, we offer the following brief summary for their careful attention:

The L. A. W. publishes a first-class weekly newspaper, the L. A. W. BULLETIN, which is in itself full return for the annual dues. It will furnish to each member, on application, during 1887, at a nominal price, a HAND-BOOK of useful information, including the Constitution and By-Laws, Racing Rules, Transportation Rates, Rights and Privileges, etc. The L. A. W. affords the privilege of obtaining an excellent UNIFORM at very moderate cost. The L. A. W. stands ready to protect its members in their legal rights, and to sustain them in their efforts to repeal unfavorable legislation. This it has frequently done in the past.

In addition to the above general advantages, most of the State Divisions are striving to outdo the parent body in granting direct benefits to their members, such as Road-Books, maps, Hand-Books, and reduced hotel rates, to say nothing of meets, parades, tours, and entertainments.

The item of the bond of fellowship which exists between League members throughout the length and breadth of our land is admitted by many hundreds to be worth much more than the price of the annual dues.

Believing that all who intend to continue as cyclers will also continue as members of the League, and that most of those who either temporarily or permanently give up active participation in cycling will remain with us for the sake of the past and of the future companionship, I feel that I have but to call your attention to the League's claims on you for 1887 to insure the return of the blank printed below with your signature affixed and accompanied by your annual dues.

Fraternally,
ABBOT BASSETT Secretary-Editor, L. A. W.

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary-Editor, L. A. W.,
Box 1184, Philadelphia, Pa.

Inclosed herewith you will find ONE DOLLAR for the Annual Dues for 1887, in the League of American Wheelmen, for the undersigned.

Name,..... .....

League No...... Address, .....

Club, ...

It would seem to be fate.

It is, however, a fact that the riders of

The American Champion

Have made the most phenomenal long distance and road times of the season.

HERE IS ANOTHER MARVELOUS RECORD

BY JOHN S. PRINCE, AT OMAHA,

On a carefully surveyed indoor and ten lap track, in 48 hours.

767 and 3/10 MILES.

A WORLD RECORD BY 27 MILES.

They all say the same thing, viz.: "the easy running qualities of the G. & J. Bearings."

Then there is the

10	miles in	29	minutes	1¾	seconds.
20	"	59	"	35¼	"
50	" 2 hours	55	"	46½	"
100	" 6 "	1½	"

All of these world records made by a roadster on a country road.
Facts of this sort talk.

BY the way, gentlemen, if you want your machine overhauled or repaired, don't wait until the busy spring, and then expect the work to be promptly done. Send your machine to us now and have it ready for the first bit of good riding weather. It stands to reason that it will be more thoroughly done, and at a much more reasonable price.

Since we have completed our manufactory, we can devote a good deal more space to this branch of the business.

Respectfully submitted,

GORMULLY & JEFFERY, Chicago, Ill.

THE L. A. W. BULLETIN.

THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN.

A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

$1.00 A YEAR. 3 CENTS PER COPY. | Philadelphia, February 11, 1887. | VOLUME IV. No. 6. WHOLE NUMBER 85.

From Manitoba to the Gulf of Mexico, from Eastport to the Golden Gate, the Majority of Wheelmen

RIDE COLUMBIAS.

POPE MFG. CO.

79 Franklin St.,
BOSTON.

BRANCH HOUSES:—12 Warren Street, New York; 291 Wabash Avenue, Chicago.

These are our Witnesses.

Nine years of hard service upon every grade of American road has not worn out a Columbia.

THE WORLD'S STORY

of the road and path is a recapitulation of victories by riders of Columbias.

It requires the STANCHEST MACHINE to withstand the strain of Fancy Riding.
IT IS A FACT THAT nearly every Fancy Bicycler Rides a Columbia.

WATCH THIS SPACE NEXT WEEK

WE SHALL GIVE A DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF THE

RUDGE LIGHT ROADSTER

FOR 1887.

Stoddard, Lovering & Co.

THE BULLETIN

OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN. PUBLISHED WEEKLY. A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY

ABBOT BASSETT,

For the Executive Committee of the League of American Wheelmen.

AT THE L. A. W. OFFICE,

506 WALNUT STREET, ROOM 12, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

Entered at the Post Office as Second-Class Matter.

SINGLE COPIES, - - - - - - 3 CENTS.
SUBSCRIPTION PRICE TO OTHER THAN LEAGUE MEMBERS, } $1.00 A YEAR.
CLUBS OF FIVE, - - - - - $4.00 "

TO LEAGUE MEMBERS.

Until further notice address all letters to the Secretary-Editor, Abbot Bassett, Box 1184, Philadelphia, Pa.

Subscribers should be careful to notify the EDITOR promptly of any change in their address. Great care is taken with the mailing list; failure to receive THE BULLETIN may usually be traced to carelessness on the part of the subscriber.

All matter for publication, whether reading or advertising matter, should be addressed to the EDITOR. All checks should be made payable to his order.

Reading matter, to insure publication in the following issue, must be in the EDITOR'S hands not later than Saturday afternoon; advertisements not later than Monday morning.

Personal controversy, fault-finding, and allusions to manufactures and manufacturers will not be admitted to the columns devoted to reading matter.

The EDITOR must in all cases have the full name and address of the authors of contributed articles as a guarantee of good faith. As the Executive Committee has decided that it is best to discourage the use of assumed names by writers for THE BULLETIN, the EDITOR will publish the author's name unless particularly requested not to do so.

ADVERTISING RATES ON APPLICATION.

Our Circulation this Week is

11,950 Copies.

No. 6. FEBRUARY 11, 1887. VOL. IV.

The stenographer's report of the meeting at New York can no longer be withheld. In justice to the officials of the L. A. W. and the majority party in that meeting all the facts must now come out. The Executive Committee were of the opinion that the minority party would accept the issues of the meeting, and allow what was done and said there to pass into history with no further publicity than that which it gained at the time. But the minority does not accept the issue. It comes forward as an aggrieved party, claiming that its just rights have been invaded. By hint, innuendo, and direct statements, it charges the officials of the League with trickery, deceit, and bad faith. It demands all the facts in the case. It makes good men and true who appeared as spokesmen for the majority party to pose as persecutors and double dealers. It uses every epithet at its command to denounce the work of the New York meeting and those who were responsible for it. The trusted officers and the workers of the League must no longer rest under these imputations. The truth must be known, and known entire. For reasons which can be deduced from these facts, emphasized by the demand of members of the Pennsylvania Division—in the shape of resolutions unanimously passed at a mass meeting—we have commenced this week the publication of the stenographer's report. The report of the first day's proceedings will be followed by that of the second day in our next issue, and then will come a report of the meeting held by the Pennsylvania Division, and a reply to the statements and charges there brought out. The Executive Committee would gladly have spared the League members the expense of publishing this large amount of matter, and what many will consider the annoyance of reading it; but all their efforts for peace, harmony, and economy have been misunderstood and condemned, and they must now lay aside the moss and take up the stones.

* * * * *

Correspondents and reporters will oblige us by withholding all but items and notices which demand instant notice. We shall have little room for anything but the stenographer's notes for several weeks.

A CYCLING DICTIONARY.

The Bicycling News has been asking its readers for definitions of things cycling. The following list was the one selected as the best of all those sent in. It is concise and complete. It was contributed by W. C. Goulding:

Axle.—The rod passing through a single wheel, or connecting the drivers of a tricycle.

Amateur.—One who rides for honor!

Ball.—A steel sphere used in ball bearings.

Bearing.—The part of a machine with which friction is caused by the revolution of wheels, pedals, etc.

Bike, Bicyle —A two-wheeled machine.

Boneshaker.—One of the first type of bicycles.

Backbone.—The tube which carries the rear wheel of a bicycle.

Brake.—An attachment to a cycle used to stop it when in motion.

Buckle.—To bend up (of a wheel).

Chain.—A series of links used as driving gear.

Coast.—To fly a hill.

Crack.—A first-class rider.

Crank.—The lever driven by the foot.

Cropper.—A fall from a cycle.

Cyclometer.—An instrument to measure distance covered.

Danger-board.—A warning-board erected at the summit of a dangerous hill.

Dress-guard.—A cover to a driving-chain to prevent the dress being caught.

Felloe.—The rim of a wheel.

Foot-rest.—A part of a machine on which to rest the feet when going down-hill.

Fork.—That part of a machine which holds the wheel.

Gate.—Admission fees to a race-meeting.

Gear.—Driving or steering tackle.

Gravel-rash.—A complaint caused by a fall.

Handicap.—A race in which starts are allotted.

Handicapper.—An allotter of starts.

Head.—The pivot on which the guiding-wheel turns.

Header.—A dive over the handles.

Hub.—The centre of a wheel.

"Jigger."—A bicyle.

Limit.—The greatest start allotted in a handicap.

Maker's Amateur.—A riding advertisement.

Neck.—The part which joins the backbone to the head.

Novice.—One who has never won an open race.

Nut.—A small block of metal containing a female screw.

Odometer.—See cyclometer.

Pacemaker.—One who sets the rate of motion in racing.

Pedal.—The part on which the foot is placed when driving a cycle.

Professional.—One who makes cycling his means of livelihood.

Promateur.—By professional out of amateur.

Pot-hunter.—A racing-man who attends many small meetings or belongs to a number of clubs for the sake of winning prizes.

Pots.—Prizes in racing.

Racer.—A machine built for work on a track.

Rat-trap.—A toothed pedal.

Record.—The best time for a given distance, or vice-versa.

Rim.—The outside circle of the wheel through which the spokes pass.

Roadster.—A machine for riding on the road.

Roller.—A bearing used before balls were in fashion.

Rope.—To race unfairly.

Safety.—A dwarf bicycle.

Scorcher.—One who races on the road.

Scratch.—The starting point where no start is given.

Sociable.—A double tricycle where the riders sit abreast.

Spanner.—A tool for tightening nuts, etc.

Spoke.—The radius of a wheel.

Spoke-tightener.—A tool for taking up a spoke.

Sprint.—A short distance race.

Spurt.—A sudden increase of speed.

Suspends.—The riders prohibited from racing as amateurs.

Tandem.—A double tricycle on which the riders are seated one behind the other.

Track.—A racing path.

Train.—To prepare for a race.

Trainer.—One who prepares men for racing.

Trike, Tricycle —A three-wheeled machine.

Tyre.—The band surrounding the wheel and fixed in the rim.

Wrench.—A spanner.

WASHINGTON CYCLE CLUB NOTES.

On the 17th instant "The Cyclers" took advantage of the perfectly clean condition of the streets and inaugurated the riding season by a grand parade around the capital. Leaving the Club-House at 2.30 P. M., they started off at a lively pace via Massachusetts Avenue—which is three miles long and asphalt all the way—and P Street, through that ancient burgh, Georgetown (so named after the Father of our country), to the Georgetown College, through the grounds of which they intended riding. Finding the grounds unrideable, they were forced to forego this pleasure, and returned to Washington.

Rolling along Pennsylvania Avenue, the finest highway in the world (extending from Georgetown, on one side of the city, to Uniontown, on the other), they glided along in single file, attracting much attention and admiration. It is thought that while passing the White House the President (of the United States) was attracted to the window by the glitter of the wheels and the beauty of the scene.

Continuing on to the Navy Yard, wheels were stacked, and the United States Revenue steamer Dale visited. After inspecting the Navy Yard and everything worth seeing, they turned again toward the central portion of the city. Having reached the Peace Monument at the foot of the hill on which the Capitol is built, a triangle was formed and not broken until the Treasury was reached. At this point they turned down Fifteenth Street to Babcock Lake, where they amused themselves riding on the ice.

The next feature of the day's ride was a drill and parade on the broad space in front of the Arlington Hotel. Much fancy riding was done here, many of our members being proficient in that art.

A move was then made out Sixteenth Street toward Standpipe Hill, where it was determined to try the mettle of the boys in hill-climbing. Owing to the very poor condition of the hill, Lieutenant Muchleisen was the only one to reach the top.

This finished the parade, and the boys returned to the Club-House very well satisfied with their day's work. CHRONICLER.

SALIENT POINTS FROM SALT LAKE.

Would a few words from "Zion's Centre Stake," as Salt Lake is termed in the phraseology of the dominant Church here, be welcomed by you? You are so far away—or we are so far away from the vast army of cycling brothers of the East—that as the reports of the gatherings in all parts of the country are read by us in the BULLETIN, a feeling of solitary loneliness steals o'er us.

We have a Club here or at least had. At present it appears to exist only in name. "Apathy" is a slow word to express our Club status, and with the end of the year there will be a proposition to disband and reorganize doubtless made. A year ago a vote was affirmatively taken on the question of joining the League in a body, but an old and respected member "sat down" upon it, and rather than wish him to resign, the Club tabled the business.

Six of our riders joined the League ranks afterward, and as far as this one of said six is concerned, he will "stay there."

The effeminate "in Howard's place" should live in the West. It is amusing to a Western man who pushes his machine through snow and mud all winter, simply from a determination to conquer the road and still ride, to read that "to my mind it is high time to put the wheels away in vaseline till the flowers that bloom, etc." Ah! ah! We shall frame that and label it Boston.

What a sympathy is there between us, O "Cotton Bug!" We dream here that we shall have good roads before we die, or a single stretch of at least a mile on any of our city or country roads devoid of rocks, mud hole, or a "chuck." "Cotton bug," of Fall River, here is our hand.

Friend Darrow, in his "Hub to Hoosierdom" (in Wheelmen's Gazette), has been faithfully followed (in mind) by his brother penning this. The scene of the tramp who had "set from the brevier by the stove" was pathetic, and full of reminiscences of the old printing offices which were trodden by your present correspondent in his race from devildom to superintendency. Friend Darrow, think kindly of that poor tramp. Don't let your mind linger round the sticks and rules which left with him, but think of him as a fellow human being, whose form will in all probability be laid upon the stone, locked up in the cold embrace of death without a friend to plane down and make smooth the memory of the rugged hardships of his life.

And whilst in this strain, the letter from your St. Louis correspondent, in speaking of the locker in the Ramblers' rooms on which is written "C. E. Stone," having been saved from the painter's brush, brings to the mind a feeling of sadness over the fate of poor Cola (for although I never saw him or knew him, I still feel that he was a brother of mine), and it also shows that warm hearts beat in the breasts of the hardy "Ramblers." I want to know the "boys," and when next visiting St. Louis shall certainly make their acquaintance.

We have about 40 wheelmen here, about 20 club members, six League members, and three genuine enthusiasts on wheel matters, who never cease to praise their mounts.

SALT LAKE CITY.

KENTON WHEEL CLUB.

I am afraid Rex, from "across the creek," does not drop into our rural precincts very often, or he would not have said that the Kentons are lying low, as we have been up and hustling during the entire winter. True, there has not been much road riding done, but we have been exceedingly busy in the concoction of schemes for the advancement of cycling during the coming season. We petitioned the Covington and Cincinnati Bridge Company at its annual meeting in January for a reduction of fare for bicycles, and were successful. They reduced the fare from five cents to three, or two coupon punches (which cost one and a half cents apiece). We are very jubilant over the success of our petition, not because the fare is reduced so much, but simply because we are recognized by the Bridge Company, it being a genuine monopolist, the people having to do just as it dictates. We are compelled to trundle our wheels at this price, but expect in our next petition to do away with this order.

In December we gave an entertainment at the Grand Rink and netted a nice little sum for our treasury. It was the only successful entertainment held at the rink this season. We are now raffling off a new 1887 Victor bicycle.

We have the largest membership of any club in this section and, I can truly say, the most active. Our Club-House, which is situated in the centre of our city, is handsomely fitted up for the convenience of wheelmen. On the first floor we have a repair shop, gymnasium, and a large room for the storage of wheels, while on the second floor is our reception-room and a bed room fitted up for the convenience of out-of-town members. If Rex will call at our Club-House we will make him acquainted with our schemes and doings, and I am sure that he will then admit that the Kentons are not sleeping.

ORC.

COVINGTON, KY., January 23d, 1887.

DR. BLACKHAM'S MAIL VOTE.

I have to report the following as the result of the mail vote taken in Board of Officers on the resolutions offered by Representative George E. Blackham, of Dunkirk, New York. The resolutions are as follows:

WHEREAS, The L. A. W. requires pure amateurship as a qualification for membership, and, therefore, should have full control of the question of amateurship,

Resolved, That the L. A. W. hereby asserts its supreme and sole jurisdiction over legitimate amateur cycling athletics in the United States of America.

Resolved, That it refuses to acknowledge any division of this jurisdiction.

Resolved, That the Racing Board and Membership Committee be instructed to ignore any action or pretended action on the part of any other organization claiming to affect the amateur standing of any wheelman for acts done, or omitted to be done, in connection with cycling in the United States of America. Nor shall the record of such action be admitted even as collateral evidence in cases before the Racing Board or Membership Committee.

Resolved, That if any wheelman has been suspended or expelled by our Racing Board or Membership Committee on account of said pretended action of any other organization, they are hereby restored to full and unblemished amateur standing.

The polls closed on February 1st, at noon. The vote was as follows:

Whole number of votes,	111
In favor of the resolution,	80
Against the resolution,	30
Unsigned,	1
	111

Respectfully submitted,
ABBOT BASSETT, Scrutineer.

ST. LOUIS NOTES.

A quiet week. Continued fine weather has turned the attention of wheelmen from politics to roads and wheels, and there is every indication of an early opening of the regular riding season. The boys are putting away their old "duds," and sprouting out with new wheels and uniforms. However much the League cloth may be improved this year, it will not be worn as generally as last season, especially by the Missouri Club, whose new color of dark blue, with black stripes, is taking greatly.

Cycling life will be very interesting next week. The applications of several more Ramblers, among them Secretary Holm, will be acted upon by the Missouri Club. The Ramblers' differences are not quieted by any means, but the factions seem to have decided their courses, and the question of disbandment will very probably be decided by a final vote and without further trouble, though the disposition of the Club name may cause a hitch.

A visit from Mr. Kirkpatrick has been expected, but he has not turned up. I learn from very good authority that Mr. Kirkpatrick will consent to run for the League Presidency after all, and that Burley Ayers will strongly support him. This ought to be happy news regardless of sectional feeling, and the League should be proud to get a leader who has done so much practical work for his own Division and the League as well.

All sorts of rumors are afloat as to the ways and means which are to be used in reducing the expense of the BULLETIN. The matter of increased dues is discussed in this connection, and quite a number of League members have expressed the opinion that the BULLETIN, as the chief proselyting medium, should be maintained at its present standard by all means, even by raising the annual dues to $2 00. There is not a member in this city whom I have met who would not willingly pay this amount for the BULLETIN alone.

A. K. Stewart, who has in charge the programme of the coming meet, is in the East putting in some good strokes on his work. Regarding the championship races, which are called for by the rules, it seems Chief Consul Rogers sent on some 16 proxies to Mr. Huntington, of Connecticut, to be voted against the holding of the races, at the Board meeting. The proxies were not voted, and the races will have to be run, probably on the Union Grounds cinder track. Aside from bad corners, there is nothing to prevent some interesting races at a 2.55 gait, and the seating arrangements are first class. [The Racing Board has the power to decide whether races shall be run or not, and it is not likely they will have them if St. Louis doesn't want them.—ED.]

T. W. Eck, Shock, and Mlle. Armaindo have been giving some races at the Globe Rink. Without any apparent cause these races, do not seem to take well with the wheelmen.

PHŒNIX.

January 29th, 1887.

DAVENPORT, IOWA.

We have looked for "Bike" news from Davenport for some time past, but as yet have been unsuccessful in even finding the smallest scrap. We thought (with your permission) that probably a few laconic notes from here might be of interest, and, at the same time, afford an opportunity to inform the bicycle world that Davenport is not entirely dead to the virtues of the silent "steed"—but, to the contrary, not one week has passed this winter without one or more having been seen on our streets. Although our city, which it might seem when you cast your eye up one of the principal streets, but located on "seven times seven," yet, with all these natural disadvantages, there has been quite a stir in cycling circles this winter, and prospects for the coming spring are very encouraging. Several new wheels have come to town, and, consequently, as many riders have been made during the "off" part of the season, and we are consequently looking forward to a very busy year.

While passing one of our numerous coasting hills, for which our city is famous, I noticed a "bob" having the rear "pew" finely upholstered and padded. I wondered to myself why so much attention was paid that particular seat while the rest were bare, but finally came to the conclusion that it was the "seat of honor" (probably the owner's place). But after perusing "Cycle's" lucid description of how he succeeded in "getting even" with his friend by giving him the "tail end of the bob," I fully comprehended the necessity for such a padded seat.

LEE.

THE WHEEL BOARD OF TRADE.

The above body have organized and are now practically in working order, says the Bicycling World. The officers elected are: John Read (of William Read & Sons), President; H. D. Corey (of Stoddard, Lovering & Co.), Secretary. Members: Pope Manufacturing Company, Overman Wheel Company, W. B. Everett & Co., A. G. Spaulding & Bros., Coventry Machinists' Company, W. Read & Sons, Stoddard, Lovering & Co. The prime objects of the organization will be to protect themselves against imposition at the hands of agents, a "black list" of whom has already been started, and the names of those individuals who, in their business dealings with any member of the Board have not been on the square, do, and will be placed on this roll of "crooks." Again, the Board will establish a price on different machines and the extras that may be added, and the agents representing the members of the Board will be compelled to maintain these prices. The prices will be substantially as they are now. Woe be to the agent hereafter who does not keep his agreement. The trade will know him no more. Then, again, the members of the Board of Trade have their eyes and minds on certain amateurs and promateurs and professionals, whose methods heretofore have not been above reproach or suspicion. To such the B. of T. will be as an iceberg, very cool. Of course, we are not in possession of names, but the B. of T. is, and we would therefore suggest to agents and riders to walk a chalk line or lightning will strike in their vicinity, sure. To sum up, the object seems to be a worthy one; it appears the aim is to purify the cycle business of all leeches, barnacles, and dishonest men. Relentlessly and honestly carried out, the Wheel Board of Trade has a mission that all wheelmen will wish success to.

NEW CLUB-HOUSE OF THE LONG ISLAND WHEELMEN.

In order to meet the demand for larger accommodations the Long Island Wheelmen, of Brooklyn, have been incorporated and are about to build a new Club-House which shall fully meet the most advanced wheelman's conception of comfort, adaptability, and pleasure. This elegant and commodious building will be located on Bedford Avenue, between Fulton and Atlantic Avenues. It is to be built of brick with terra-cotta trimmings, and ornamented with large bay-windows on the second and third stories. There will be two entrances at the first floor, which is nearly level with the sidewalk, and the general decorative work on the front elevation will be of a character consistent with the objects for which the Club-House will be used. The interior arrangement of the building will be as follows:

The first floor clear will be 100 feet in depth. This is for the purpose of affording ample room for the bicycles and tricycles of the members. In the rear of this hall a complete repair shop will be set up, with all facilities for the numerous small repairs and adjustments that wheels require. On this floor, too, closet room for lamps, oil, etc., will be supplied.

From the wheel-hall an elaborate staircase will lead to the reception parlors and assembly rooms on the second floor. Here the depth of the building is 70 feet, and the arrangement provides for a room 40 feet in depth, separated by arch and portières from a central room, which will be used either as a reading-room or thrown into the reception-room at pleasure. At the rear two rooms, each 15 feet in depth, open into the central room, affording accommodations for committees and for chess, checker, or card parties.

On the third floor, the entire central part of the building, lighted by side windows and roof skylight, is occupied by lockers and dressing-rooms, lavatories, closets, and gymnasium. In front is the billiard-room, with two tables, and in the rear the janitor's quarters are placed.

The elaboration of details is in the hands of the trustees and the architect, and the matter of interior decoration has not yet progressed so far that a full description can be given.

When completed this will be the finest wheeling Club-House in the country, and will present facilities and accommodations to wheelmen superior to any ever offered before. The cost of the structure will be about $15,000, but the members of the Club, understanding the advantages of being their own landlord, have carried the cost within the Club and, therefore, own the quarters themselves.

On account of the delay in building, consequent upon the prevailing weather at this season of the year, the exact time when the new Club-House will be completed cannot be stated, but it is the intention of the Long Islanders to celebrate the event by a house-warming in keeping with the magnificence of their new quarters.

Captain C. H. Luscomb is a lawyer located in the Stewart Building, New York, and is now upon his second term as Captain. He is also Representative to the League, Chairman of the State Division Committee on Rules and Regulations, and a member of the Executive Committee of the New York and New Jersey Team Road Racing Association, of which the Long Island Wheelmen was one of the organizing clubs.

At present constituted the Club is officered as follows: William W. Share, President; Edward A. Bradford, Vice-President; Michael Furst, Secretary; Joseph D. Huggins, Treasurer; William W. Share, Edward A. Bradford, Charles H. Luscomb, George W. Mabie, William H. Hoole, Leonard G. Wilder, and Alphens L. Brown, Trustees.

The Road Officers of the Club are: Charles H. Luscomb, Captain; R. N. Chichester, First Lieutenant; George G. Teller, Second Lieutenant; Charles E. Jayne, Lieutenant of Tricycles; Henry F. Donaldson and Charles A. Pray, Color-Bearers; E. H. Fisher and Ira M. Clapp, Buglers; Dr. Hudnut, Surgeon.

Mr. Share is an electrical expert and a professor in Columbia College. He is now upon his fourth term as President, and was one of the charter members of the Club. He is an enthusiastic wheelman and particularly delights in leading his less nervy fellow-members along the narrow side-paths and under the low-growing trees between Brooklyn and Patchogue. Mr. Share is also a Representative to the League, and a member of the State Division Committee on Rules and Regulations.

The Club as a Club has been for years a member of the national body of the League, and has taken considerable part in its affairs. It has been represented in the many important questions upon the wheeling interests that have engrossed the attention of that large association, which numbers about twelve thousand men, and has ever exercised its influence for the advancement of the cause of wheeling.

In connection with the old Board of Park Commissioners, this Club drew up and secured the observance of a series of park rules for the better supervision of bicycle and tricycle riding in Prospect Park, and on the parkways and the boulevard, and it was also successful with the present Park Commissioners in securing such concessions to the wheelmen as they are entitled to under the well established law—that the bicycle is a vehicle. Its members have at present under consideration in the Park Commission certain amendments to the park rules, looking toward such extension of riders' privileges as may be had consistent with proper protection to the rights of pedestrians, and the Club Representatives and the Commissioners are in full accord upon the questions that have been raised for discussion upon this subject between them.

Although the Long Island Wheelmen is not now and never has been a racing club, it lends its influence, countenance, and aid to the encouragement of wheeling in all its phases, whether on the track, on the road, or in touring.

The Club uniform is of gray cloth—Norfolk jacket, knee breeches, and cap, and black stockings. The emblem or badge is a wreath in bronze, inclosing the letters "L. I. W.," in silver, superimposed upon a topographical representation of Long Island, with the rising sun in gold at the upper border of the island. Official rank is designated by suitable emblems placed upon the collar of the coat.

It is the intention of the Club at the opening of the riding season to make strenuous efforts to secure the repair of the street leading from Beaford avenue to the Eastern Parkway. This long-neglected piece of road is an annoyance and a menace to wheelmen and horsemen alike, and an improvement in its condition would be most advantageous to all kinds of wheels passing over it.—New York World.

STAMFORD, CONNECTICUT-INGS.

It seems as if when a cycling scribe begins this pun-y business, 'Egan not get enough!

According to one of the cycling papers, the League's affairs are pretty well "muggled up," but instead of "going out in a body," our Club voted to hol' on a bit and see what the outcome will be. While regretting to lose Mr. Aaron, we hope that his successor will prove as popular with the members at large as we believe he was. Few will doubt that the BULLETIN "is a power in the land," and we hope it will be kept up to as near the top as circumstances and the Powers will permit, and that whatever happens, the road improvement and touring interests may have the prominence and earnest attention of League workers that they so much deserve. Thus saith the ninety-and-nine.

The loose and festive cobbles on our streets cause the street railway companies much trouble, and will make paving their track necessary, which will give us cyclers "cars" for rejoicing.

It is a pleasure to welcome into the L. A. W. fold such a gentleman as Robert D. Lockwood, and he may imagine some 10,000 or 12,000 right hands held out to him, among them that of the Secretary-Editor and (by your leave) that of "our entire Club!"

One of our enthusiasts is already planning a tour to Washington, D. C., and wants to tangle ye scribe up in it somehow.

One bloomin' would-be road scorcher has got things down so fine that his diet between now and July will consist largely of ketchups, to which should be added beef lozenges ad lib., if he expects to ride with "our Club."

What gives us joy, among other things, is the possible removal here from Elizabeth, N. J., of three gentlemanly cyclers and League members.

"There," said the lad who is lean and whose fine nickeled machine is done up in vaseline, as he rushed into our den, "the backbone is broken!"

"To your wheel?" we asked.

"No, to winter, of course; isn't this the last month of it, and—" But we hustled him out with little ceremony.

And now we have a toboggan slide, and Cyclist Lewis has spells of joyousness that vary as the amount of snow and ice does.

Two new wheels have already been sold here in readiness for the spring opening of wheelings.

We have put on a pair of spade handles, and, especially for winter riding, they are miles ahead of any other.

THE SOLITARY CLUB.

CURRENT NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Woodside, Morgan, and Friedberg will sail for Europe by the Anchor Line steamer Belgravia next Saturday.

Mr. W. C. Herring, of the Ixion Club, of New York, will start for Japan in April or May. He will make an extensive tour over the beautiful roads of that country, enjoying its scenery and studying its quaint inhabitants.

The Kansas City Wheelmen held their third annual banquet at their Club-Rooms Saturday evening, January 22d. Owing to the extremely bad weather, only 25 cyclers were present. At 10 o'clock the folding doors were thrown open, showing a long table laden with everything that a cycler could wish for. The speech of the evening was by Dr. G. L. Henderson, who gave a general outline of wheeling as it was and as it is. Several original poems were read. After supper guitars and mandolines were brought forth, and the evening, or rather morning, given up to song and general merrymaking. So closed one of the most enjoyable suppers this Club has ever given.

A correspondent from Covington, Ky., writes: "The Kenton Wheel Club has been quite active lately. We have succeeded in obtaining a reduction of toll for bicycles upon the Covington and Cincinnati Bridge, which for years has been an extra charge for the wheel and a positive prohibition of riding. We obtained instead a reduction of the toll to that of a foot-passenger, though we must be content, for the present, with walking across it. The roadway is, however, extremely rough, and riding possible only to good riders, so that the foot-path is the more preferable. A few days ago our headquarters were entered by a burglar, but though things were ransacked pretty thoroughly only a few articles of value were taken. The thief is now serving 90 days on the rock-pile for his exploits."

Actual experience of tandem-riding on ice has disabused our mind of many erroneous ideas we had formed with respect to this experiment. (Item.) Ice of the smoothest is not faster than a thoroughly good stretch of flint road. (Item.) The machine will steer well, neither the steering nor driving-wheels skidding as long as the sweep taken is not too small. (Item.) The brake on the steering-wheel (the machine experimented with was a "Premier" Cripper type tandem), when applied with all possible force, only caused the wheel to skid, and scarcely arrested the progress of the machine, but the band brake on the main axle was as efficacious as usual. (Item.) The average skater could not hold the tandem for more than 30 or 40 yards.—Cyclist.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE BOARD OF OFFICERS OF THE L. A. W.

AT A MEETING HELD IN PARLOR A, OF THE GRAND UNION HOTEL, NEW YORK, JANUARY 17TH AND 18TH, 1887.

FIRST DAY'S SESSION.

At 11 A. M., President Beckwith, in the chair, said:

The President.—Gentlemen, come to order, please. It may seem a little strange, gentlemen, that the meeting, being called for 9.30 o'clock, should not be called to order until 11; but, as most of you are aware, there are certain preliminaries which have to be gone through with, especially where gentlemen hail from all parts of the country, that are unavoidable, and in consequence of this we meet with a delay. There is a great deal of business to come before the meeting, and I wish only to caution the gentlemen that, in making arguments on the various questions which may arise, they say all please be as explicit as possible and speak directly to the point, as we shall need all the time we have to transact the business. A great many gentlemen hail from distant parts and are no doubt anxious to take the early evening trains home, so that each and all of you will observe the wish which is expressed by the Chair.

The first order of business to come before the meeting will be the appointing of a Committee on Credentials, and the gentlemen whom I shall select to compose that Committee will be Mr. Pratt, of Boston, Mass.; Mr. Luscomb, of New York, and Mr. Dunn, of Ohio. Those gentlemen will proceed to the duties of their appointment, and report to the meeting at the earliest moment.

The Committee will put themselves in position to receive the proxies. As there is no further business to be transacted until the report of the Committee has been received, the gentlemen will be at liberty to converse, if they choose, until the meeting is again called. I trust, however, that no gentleman will leave the room. We would like to have them all present.

Mr. Kirkpatrick (in the chair).—The Chairman of the Committee on Credentials has a statement which he wishes to make and to which I invite your attention.

Mr. Pratt.—I have only to repeat the suggestion just made to you that the Committee think it will facilitate matters if they sit here at the table, and each member of the Board in the room comes up and gives his name and the names of the proxies he intends to use—different proxies—so that we may make a list of those present and of the proxies represented.

Mr. Kirkpatrick.—Gentlemen, you have heard the request of the Chairman of the Committee and you will govern yourselves accordingly. The matter will be done with as little delay as possible.

Mr. Harris.—Mr. Chairman, I have a suggestion to make. Considering the large number of gentlemen present and the smallness of the room, I move that no smoking be allowed in the room.

Mr. Butler.—I second the motion.

The motion was thereupon put and declared carried.

Mr. Pratt.—Mr. President, we find there is a little slackening of those coming up with proxies, and we suggest that it does not seem to be understood that those who have no proxies should also come up and give their individual names, so that the Committee can report how many are present.

Mr. Kirkpatrick.—Gentlemen, you have heard the request of the Chairman of the Committee. Will you comply with that request as promptly as possible?

Mr. Pratt.—Of course, we have in the list the names of those who have presented proxies, but not the names of those who have not presented proxies.

Mr. Pratt.—Mr. Chairman, the Committee would like me to ask instruction, as they are through with those coming up for registry, as to whether there are any others to be registered, or whether the Committee shall retire and report?

Mr. Kirkpatrick (in the chair).—We will wait just a moment for any others who are not registered. There seems to be no others, and the Committee will prepare their report.

Mr. Harris.—Mr. President, I move that this meeting of the Board of Officers be held with closed doors, and that all persons, not members of the Board, be requested to retire from the room.

The President.—Gentlemen, you hear the motion. Is that motion seconded?

Mr. Egan.—I second the motion.

The President.—Gentlemen, you hear the motion made by Mr. Harris, that those gentlemen present who are not members of the Board be requested to retire, and the meeting be held with closed doors. Is there any argument?

Mr. Gulick.—Mr. President, I would just like to make one exception, and that would be made in favor of Mr. Vesey, the expert employed by the Committee.

Mr. Prial.—Mr. President, I am here to report for New York. I see Mr. Egan, of the Bicycling World; Mr. Bassett, of the Cycle and Mr. Howard, of the Globe. They are all Representatives, and we will all give our word of honor that the transactions shall not be made public, if not authorized. I am the only newspaper man present who is not a Representative, and I do not see why I should be forced from the room. I believe the League has never done this thing before, and I think it would hurt it more to do so now than to sit with open doors. I do not see why I, as the New York man (I am also a member of the League, and we represent the League at large), should be put out of the room because I am not a Representative, but am a newspaper man.

Mr. Harris.—If the gentleman will furnish me his name I will be happy to add his name to the exception, with the understanding that nothing shall be printed except what the Board authorizes to be printed. Will the gentleman give me that assurance?

Mr. Prial.—Yes, sir.

Mr. Prial's name was included in the exceptions mentioned in the motion, and the motion was then put and carried.

The President.—The gentlemen mentioned in the motion will please retire.

Mr. Pratt.—Mr. President, we have been delayed in complying with your instructions on account of several gentlemen coming in. As there appears to be no more, we ask for instructions.

The President.—I did not hear the last remark.

Mr. Pratt.—There appear to be no more to register. We ask for instructions as to whether we shall now retire and count the vote.

The President.—I so instruct you, Mr. Pratt.

Mr. Frisbie.—Mr. President, one year ago at this time, we, in the course of business, had the interruption of a question in regard to dinner. I think that perhaps it would be well to have that thing settled now before we get to business, and then when the time comes for dinner we will be ready to go down, knowing the number that want to go. I don't know if any arrangement has been made. We had a pleasant time last year; we all went down together, and perhaps we might do the same thing this year. I think that matter might be settled now, when we are practically doing nothing, and at the same time find out how many want to go down to dinner.

The President.—I will say, in regard to that point, that the matter was mentioned to me by one of the proprietors, and I remarked to him that, owing to the lateness of the hour in starting the meeting, it would be somewhat uncertain as to what time we could be ready, and whether we should be ready at all or not, to take lunch, and under the circumstances I thought he had not better make any arrangements, except to accommodate those who saw fit to take a lunch, and to make it such as they should see fit to order. So that there has been no regular dinner provided.

Dr. Butler.—Mr. President, it strikes me that most of us will want some dinner between now and bedtime in the way of lunch. I am beginning to feel that way already. [Laughter.] I move you, sir, that we take a recess at 1.30 for lunch.

Mr. Read.—I second that motion.

The President.—The gentleman will give a time limit as to what time will be consumed.

Dr. Butler.—How long do you want? Thirty minutes will satisfy me.

Mr. Harris.—Mr. President, I ask the gentleman to amend that by making it 2.30. We will just get to business about 1 o'clock.

Mr. Gulick.—Why not make it now?

Mr. Bull.—Mr. President, if the gentleman will permit me, I would like to suggest that we have lunch now while this Committee are out, so that we shall not retard business at all. We will have lunch, and that will be over, and we will get to business.

Dr. Butler.—I was about to make the suggestion that we take recess until 1 o'clock.

Mr. Davol.—Wouldn't that be hard on the Committee?

Mr. Harris.—I would suggest that the list of appointees—of these gentlemen that were recently appointed, and those appointed during the year—be read, and confirmation made, before we go to lunch, so that every gentleman will be fully qualified.

The President.—I will say that that point will occupy several minutes, and if we are to adjourn for lunch, we had better be about it, it strikes me. However, I will do as the gentlemen wish.

Dr. Butler.—It will save time.

The President.—Will Dr. Butler incorporate the amendment which Mr. Bull suggests?

Dr. Butler.—I will be very glad to.

Dr. Johnson.—I suggest that the landlord be notified immediately, so he can prepare for us, if it be necessary.

The President.—It is not necessary. I believe the cooks are all on guard, and ready for us. [Laughter.]

The motion was then put, and the meeting declared adjourned until 1 o'clock P. M.

At 1.30 P. M. the meeting was called to order by the President, who said:

The President.—Gentlemen, I have to announce, after a visit to the Committee on Credentials, that owing to the excessive labors before that committee, they will be unable to report before 3 o'clock. That is an unfortunate condition of things, but there seems to be no way out of it, and we will accordingly take a recess, and be called together at 3 o'clock sharp.

Mr. Vaughn.—Mr. President, cannot we proceed with other business?

The President.—No, sir, there cannot be any business done until the report of the Committee on Credentials. If I were to open the meeting formally, and a motion should be made in which a vote by proxy should be called for, we would be at sea—we could not do a thing. Consequently you see the necessity of having the credentials in before any business can be transacted at all.

Mr. Hayes.—Mr. President, if there be no objection, may I ask that the appointments made by the Chair be confirmed without a formal proxy vote. We might get that done and out of the way.

The President.—That is a matter of a very few minutes. It will only take perhaps two or three minutes. The list can be read off, and the appointments confirmed. I will say further, gentlemen, that it is positively necessary that the gentlemen should not leave this vicinity, for the reason that the Committee on Credentials probably will want to see some of the gentlemen present, and we want them all within reach, so they can be found at a moment's notice. This matter is very important. The meeting stands adjourned until 3 o'clock.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

At 4.30 o'clock P. M., the members being present, Mr. Kirkbrown addressed the Chair.

Mr. Kirkbrown.—Mr. President, was not this meeting adjourned to be called to order at 3 o'clock?

The President.—Yes, sir.

Mr. Kirkbrown.—Should it not have been called to order at that hour, then? You did not make another adjournment, I believe. Under those circumstances that motion is in order.

The President.—Just as the gentlemen say. I can call it to order.

Mr. Kirkbrown.—I think under the circumstances it should be called to order, if only that a motion could be made.

The President.—I have no objection to calling the meeting to order. The meeting will come to order, please. Any motion that is desired to be made can be made now, and will be heard.

Dr. Cooley.—Mr. President, I move that the Committee be called before the Board.

Dr. Wright.—I second the motion.

The motion was put and carried.

The President.—Dr. Butler, will you proceed to the committee-room with Mr. Kirkpatrick (No. 83, I think it is), and notify them of the action taken by the meeting?

Mr. Bull.—I have to report that they have the Committee looked in their room, and they are ready to report as soon as the Pennsylvania delegation make it an object for me to unlock the room and let them out. [Laughter.] In other words, they will be here in just a moment; they have their report prepared.

Mr. Bidwell.—I move that a committee be appointed to wait upon the Committee that were appointed to wait upon the question to be raised as to the telegrams; you will all see they would not be admitted anywhere as a proxy) includes the names of Mr. G. N. Osborne (it purports to be), of some place, Philadelphia, perhaps; and one is from Mr. Freeman Lillibridge, of Rockford, Ill. Mr. C. R. Zacharias is not a member of the Board. Mr. H. S. Wood is not a member of the Board—I believe the proxy is in the bunch.

Of those included in the other list, numbering 15, are: Mr. W. L. Wright, of Wheeling, W. Va.; Mr. S. F. Heath, of Minneapolis, Minn.; Mr. C. H. Porter, of Winona, Minn.; Mr. George A. Gorgas, of Harrisburg, Pa.; Mr. William E. Stone, of Franklin, N. H.; Mr. John S. Miller, of the Tennessee Division; Mr. E. A. Shields, of the Louisiana Division; Mr. C. W. Abbott, of Baltimore, Md.; Mr. W. L. Surprise, of Memphis, Tenn.

In regard to this, Mr. President, I have nothing further to say in explanation of the report of the Committee, except to say that it is within the power of this Board to move that those names and proxies be added to the list, by a ballot, and that it is also in the power of the Board, as it seems to me, to direct as to how those proxies shall be distributed.

I may perhaps be permitted to add a word. The present is an interesting moment. The minds of this meeting are very much agitated as to one or two questions that are likely to come up in this meeting, and these are questions that affect very particularly and personally the interests and the personal wishes of him who was until yesterday the Secretary-Editor of the League. It would seem to the Committee that under those circumstances, when he had solicited votes officially from the members, as a matter of routine, and their sending them directly through official channels, and without instructions, he should have placed them at least disinterestedly before the Board, and it seems to the Committee that the way to place them before the Board is to place them before the President and the meeting, when it is called to order, and let the meeting itself direct how they shall be distributed. We may be in error in regard to this, and I do not mean to report from the Committee, or to say now personally, that I think that the Secretary-Editor distributed the ballots with wrong intent—the proxies with wrong intent—or that he intended to use them in any different way from what he had always understood that such proxies might or could be used. But I do mean to say this: that, generally speaking, without reference to any personal allusion in the matter, it is a loose, unsatisfactory manner of sending proxies, and that it is not authorized by the rules of the League, since there is nothing in the rules requiring the members to send their proxies through the Secretary-Editor; that it gives an opportunity, as you will readily see, were there anything which it were the desire of the Secretary-Editor to carry through the Board of Officers by the force of proxy vote, against the majority vote of the officers present; and if he could, by this official method, at the expense of the League, and with the official backing and prestige, collect from the members all the proxies in his hands, and without personal instructions, for the use of the League, and then could place such of them as he could with his trusty lieutenants, and destroy or suppress the rest, he could carry the meeting for any measure which he chose. Understand, I do not say that that has been practiced. I am only pointing out now that the course of the Committee seems to be justified to us on that ground—that it is the only consistent application of the present rule in regard to proxies, and the only one that is not fraught with danger to the interests of the League.

Mr. Aaron.—Mr. President, Mr. Pratt's conversion is a recent one. Mr. Pratt here a year ago voted proxies which I gave him, which came to me as first choice, with perfect freedom. Mr. Pratt has been a member of this Board off and on during most of the history of the League, and he seems to have just waked up to the idea that this thing is all wrong, and, in fact, as he expresses it, is not warranted by the By-Laws. Mr. President, this is a matter that is established on precedent. These proxy blanks and instructions are exact fac similes, with the exception of a change in the date and the place of meeting, of those that have been issued for several years past. There is no change. It does not say that these proxy blanks must be in my hands or that they must come directly to me, but that they should be in my hands at a certain time in Philadelphia or at a certain time here; and there is nothing there to indicate that they should not come thr ugh half a dozen channels. There is nothing to indicate that they should be mailed to me directly. There is nothing to indicate that the Chief Consul should not receive all those proxies of his division and transmit them to me. It has been the custom of the League for years past—in fact, before I had a voice in this Board—to receive proxies in this way, and it has certainly been their custom to have the matter sent to the Secretary. I never have known of any other ruling.

Now, as to the use these cases as they arise, I wish to offer, if you permit me, Mr. President, the following:

Mr. Zacharias wrote me a personal letter. He may not be a lawyer—

Dr. Butler.—I rise to a point of order. I do not understand that there has been a motion made yet to receive this report, and until such motion is made I cannot understand how it is debatable. I move you, therefore, that this report be received.

Dr. Emery.—I second the motion.

Mr. Aaron.—I thought, perhaps, Mr. President, that I had the floor on a question of privilege. It seemed to me that I had been personally attacked in rather an unpleasant manner, and I thought I would be allowed the privilege of explaining exactly how I stood.

Dr. Emery.—Afterward.

The President.—The motion is open for a seconder.

Dr. Emery.—I seconded it.

Mr. Aaron.—Then I have the floor?

Mr. President.—Yes, sir: the motion is before the house.

Mr. Aaron.—I was not aware that Mr. Zacharias had resigned from this Board, Mr. President. Were you?

The President.—No, sir.

Mr. Aaron.—I am, of course, open to instruction. I don't know what constitutes a resignation. Mr. Zacharias did write that he proposed resigning from the Board after this meeting. I saw that in a personal letter. I do not remember that he has resigned. He wrote to me personally on that subject.

I have already told the Committee that Mr. Surprise had written me on the very matter of these votes. The question has never been brought up here before, or I could have come on with a number of letters on this subject; and I have only with me the letters I have shown to the Committee that have come to me here among some thirty or more I have received. I unfortunately did not bring some of those letters. I have received a letter from Mr. Surprise. He understands clearly that I was to act for him. I think that the Chief Consul of Maryland can speak for Mr. Abbott's understanding in the matter. I know that Mr. Shields, as I told the Committee, wrote me another letter—a personal letter—a complimentary letter. I told the Committee I could say nothing of Mr. Miller—that I didn't remember. Mr. Stone I am not positive of, though I think I got a letter from him. Mr. Gorgas has a clear understanding that his proxy is in my hands, to use or to give out to an alternate. Mr. Gorgas is a personal friend of mine—not by correspondence but by meeting. Mr. Porter wrote, as I told the Committee, a slip stating this was for my use in case he was not present. Mr. Heath sent this proxy in my name, and that is his writing—"E. M. Aaron." It is not sent here in blank. It was sent for me to use. That is Mr. Heath's writing. Mr. Wilbur L. Wright wrote me a personal letter regretting he could not be here, and clearly signifying his intention to have me vote for him or select some one as alternate, and indicating that after the Board meeting he would resign, as he was about to go West. Mr. Osborne, of Philadelphia, I know well, and I know a number can vouch for Mr. Osborne here. He telegraphed in reply because Mr. Miller, who was to be his alternate, could not be here at the last moment. And Mr. Lillibridge telegraphed that one in reply to me when I telegraphed to know if he would not be here. There are only two that are uncertain, and I know, if this matter goes on record, it would be very easy for me to prove of the other 13 that it was intended that I should either vote or select some one to act as my alternate.

This is an unusual proceeding, Mr. President. We have never had anything of the sort before. The gentlemen who bring in this report have voted in the same way before, and I know, as I said, that the Chairman has voted that way before, and there has never been any objection; and I reiterate that those proxy blanks are exact fac similes of what the League has always sent out, and are therefore established by precedent; and that the call is worded, with very slight exceptions, just as close as possible to the calls that have been sent before. It is simply a statement that those proxies should be in my hands at a certain time. The method of their coming to me was not stated, and the idea simply in my mind, I can assure the gentlemen present, was that they should be here in a certain time, or in Philadelphia at a certain time, so that we might not undergo the hideous delay which has put us back so to-day.

Mr. Bartlett.—I notice that Mr. Abbott's proxy has been thrown out by the Committee. I am fully aware of Mr. Abbott's views and wishes on the important measures to come before this Board; I had a conversation with him a short time before leaving Baltimore, and he informed me that he had sent a proxy to Mr. Aaron, not being sure that he would attend. I don't know whether that was one of the proxies that I was to vote or not; but if not, I certainly think I am capable of voting Mr. Abbott's proxy, as I am aware what he would vote if he was here himself.

Mr. Aaron.—I forgot to say that Mr. H. S. Wood has not resigned from the Board. Mr. Wood is a member of this Board of Officers, and was empowered to send through his Chief Consel, Mr. Wells, his proxy. He has resigned as Bookmaster of the League, but not from the Board.

Mr. Clapp.—I would like to suggest that this report has not yet been received, and consequently the discussion is a little out of order. The motion was made and seconded, but not voted upon. Don't you think it is proper to receive this report before we discuss it?

Mr. Pratt.—Before the vote is put on the reception of the report, I would like to say that I was misunderstood, if Mr. Aaron understood me to say that those two gentlemen had resigned. I simply stated, on the matter of knowledge of the Committee and also by the instruction of the corroboration of the President to that effect, that they had ceased to be members of the Board.

As to the matter of letters in regard to the proxies, I won't go into that. I simply say that if it is the sense of this meeting that these proxies ought to be voted after this report has been received, and there is a duly found list of persons who can vote, then this meeting can vote to authorize these votes to be thrown out or not, just as it chooses. But that seems to be the way to present it. But I will say this, that the matter which the Committee think is involved is not one of intention on the part of the party whom the proxy purports to represent. I may know perfectly well, Mr. President, what your views are in regard to a question coming up at this meeting, and you may have gone out, and I have no right to vote on your views, unless I have a proxy duly made out under the rules of this Board. So we say in regard to those that technically we do not find that they are duly authorized proxy votes to be cast; and having reported that, the Committee has nothing further to do with it.

Mr. Potter.—Mr. President, I think that there are at least some of the members here who do not exactly understand this question. What I would like to know is, what specific rule or provision in the Constitution and By-Laws of this body, or in any of the provisions covering the voting by proxy, has been violated in the making and bringing here of these proxies reported on by the Committee. If there is anything of that sort we can examine it and decide for ourselves before we come to a vote on this question.

Dr. Butler.—I rise to a point of order, and that is that this report is not debatable until it is received. The motion before the house is to receive the report. I call for a vote on that question.

The question on the reception of the report of the Committee on Credentials was here put, and the motion declared carried.

Dr. Brown.—Mr. President, if it is in order now, I would like to know by what authority the Committee threw out Mr. Zacharias. I merely rise for information. I thought he had been elected a member of the New Jersey Division Representatives at least, and has not resigned. Is there any rule throwing him out?

The President.—I think it was on the ground of his taking up a permanent residence somewhere in the Southern States.

Dr. Brown.—Is there any rule in the Constitution or By-Laws which covers that?

The President.—I was under the impression there was, but I am not sure that there is.

Mr. Pratt.—Mr. President, it may save time for the Committee to explain what is the rule requiring that Representatives shall be residents in the States where they are elected. The common law, which does not need to be expressed in any rule, is that when a man removes out of the State in which he is elected he ceases to hold office dependent upon his residence there. Any member of the Legislature who removes out of the State ceases to be a member by the fact of removal. Any member of the city government who moves out of the city ceases to be a member, or even if he removes from one ward to another in that city, and represents a ward, he ceases to be a member of the Common Council by the fact of his removal. And the Committee were informed by the President of this Board that they had ceased to be members because they had removed out of the States which they represented.

Mr. Davol.—I would like to ask if a man removes from one State to another, if he has not lived in the one State long enough to claim a residence there, can he vote in the other?

The President.—I am not posted on that; I am not enough of a lawyer to know. We have legal talent with us.

Dr. Wright.—I believe I represented Mr. Wright at the Boston May meeting, and I think I am competent to represent him here to-day. If he has not resigned from this Board I think he is entitled to a vote, even if he intends, as other men have signified their intention, to resign after this meeting.

Mr. Wells.—I ask Mr. Pratt for his authority for the statement that a Representative must live in the State which he represents.

Dr. Brown.—If a gentleman simply removes from one State to another, and has not lived in the second State long enough to acquire a legal residence there, is he not a citizen of any State?

The President.—It seems to me that this point is a little foreign to the question. Now, whether we have a rule that covers this matter or not, it seems but common justice that when we come to declaring what shall be a man's right in the matter, if a man living in the State of New York moves to South Carolina, he is bound to abide by the rules of New York State—that, whatever questions may arise there of importance, or otherwise, he is incompetent, unless he is depending entirely upon associates which he made formerly, to judge of the merits of the question. I think the most natural interpretation of a man's right in that particular would be, that moving from one State to another would disqualify a man for holding office in the State that he had moved from. That would be my judgment in the matter. I do not see how there can be any other construction put upon it. Supposing I, for instance, should move to California (which is a supposable case), it would not occur to any of you that I, living in California, perhaps for six or eight months, or may be only a month, would be competent to pass on matters of importance that might arise here before this meeting or before the meeting of the New York State Board. Of course, this is a matter of some importance, as it may establish a precedent.

Mr. Clapp.—We have had a committee appointed, two of whom I know are eminent lawyers. They have occupied nearly the whole day in discussing this question. I move, therefore, that their report be adopted as reindered.

Mr. Adriance.—I second the motion.

The President.—You hear the motion as made by Mr. Clapp and seconded by Mr. Adriance. Is there any argument?

Mr. Aaron.—Mr. President, on the subject of establishing a precedent, you have already allowed Mr. Wood to vote since he has lived in Ohio. Mr. Wood lives right over the border of the State of Pennsylvania, in Ohio. He is back and forth in Pennsylvania, and he feels, as we all know, a warm interest in Pennsylvania. He has done, perhaps, as much for that Division as any one who ever belonged to the League from that State, and is proud of his position as Representative on this Board. Mr. Wood was allowed to vote by common consent, or allowed to vote by proxy by common consent, at the Buffalo meeting in September. That thing has happened before in several cases, though I do not think that I can call them to mind just at present. Mr. Wood has not sent in any resignation, nor has he been notified that he was unqualified, nor has there been any attempt made to fill the vacancy, if such existed. It is eminently unjust, it seems to me, to him, to rule Mr. Wood out from representation in this Board at the present time, when he has already been represented in September, and moved over the border line in the early part of June.

As to Mr. Zacharias's case I am not so well posted.

The President.—I will say that personally I have no objection at all to admitting Mr. Wood's vote. In fact, perhaps, under the circumstances, it would be better to do so. But to show you the obvious injustice of the thing, I must cite, now that the matter has been brought before me, and an instance of Mr. Wood's being allowed to vote has been cited, the fact that Mr. Wood has written me letter after letter trying to force upon me his resignation from the office of Bookmaster. I tried to prevail upon him to retain the office, knowing he was a valuable man, but he signified in various letters to me his entire incompetency to fill the office, from the fact that his duties were of such a nature that it would be impossible for him to give any further attention to the League work. Now, if that is the case, how can a man, whose time is completely taken up in other matters, be posted and give proper attention to the affairs which are likely to come before this Board. I only cite this as an instance where, in my opinion, it is hardly a fair thing to allow a man, who changes his residence in that way, to represent another State. As I said before, this is a rather important question, and I think there should be a precedent established; and in this case of Mr. Wood's I am perfectly willing, so far as I am concerned (I don't know how the gentlemen may feel), to admit his proxy here at this time.

Mr. Harris.—Mr. President, I rise to a question of information. I have known Mr. Wood since he was first made a member of this Board. It was by virtue of his office, I understand, of Bookmaster. I would like to ask of the Secretary whether Mr. Wood, in addition to that, was elected a Representative in Pennsylvania?

Mr. Wells.—He was.

Mr. Kirkpatrick.—I rise only to ask information. Supposing that Mr. Wood should now renew his membership for the coming year, will the Ohio Division get the credit for one-half of his membership fee, or will Pennsylvania? As I understand it, the one-half of his membership or renewal fee would come to the Ohio Division. Now, he is a member of the Ohio Division, or he is a member of Pennsylvania, and it all hinges upon the question of residence—what is meant by the term "residence"—if that is found in our law.

Mr. Dunn.—Mr. President. I have been very glad, indeed, to learn that Mr. Wood does not consider himself a member of the Ohio Division, as I have been attempting for several months to appoint him to one of the vacancies arising there in Ohio as a Representative from that State. I am very glad I have been saved that annoyance.

The question has been raised here and not been definitely denied, does a man lose his residence in the country—I suppose the question is—if he removes from one State to another until such time as he becomes a legal resident or a citizen—a voting citizen, in other words—of the State to which he removes? Now, I am not a lawyer, but I am just about enough of a politician to know that a man, while he is a resident of the United States and a member of the body politic—if you want to say it in that way—while he is a resident of Pennsylvania, for instance—after he removes over the border line and takes up his residence and acknowledges his residence in the State of Ohio, and when he leaves Pennsylvania he becomes a resident of Ohio, and he cannot vote in Pennsylvania after that time, and he cannot vote in Ohio until he has been there long enough to do so. It seems to me that the question of citizenship is what the whole matter of Mr. Wood's and Mr. Zacharias' rights here hinges upon.

I have one little apology to make for this Committee. I am a member of the Committee. I say, with the Chairman, that we have worked just as faithfully and just as hard as if there was money in it; and you know how hard all wheelmen work when there is money in it. We have labored and probably been just as much annoyed as the rest of you have. But while we have given the best energies possible to-day to this Division, we were assailed, when ver it was possible for a rumor to get to us, by such stories as, "It is all around the corridors that you are going to throw out the Pennsylvania vote."

I want it distinctly understood, on my part and on the part of the other members of this Committee, that there was no feeling aroused by any such unkind and unjust rumors which would lead us to do any injustice to Pennsylvania, although, we consider that Pennsylvania has done us an injustice. Whatever men in that Division or any other division started or circulated any such rumor as that to-day did us such an injustice as will take a great deal to atone for.

I want to say further that, for myself, I feel that the proper way to dispose of this report is to adopt or reject that part of it which the Committee recommends. The meeting can act then seriatim upon that part of the report which we do not recommend, and let the votes of the members be cast upon such testimony as shall be given as those points are taken up. It seems to me that is the only proper and the only just way.

There are certain matters which the late Secretary-Editor says he gave us certain testimony about. It may be possible that there may be some points which may have come to him since then. I am perfectly willing, if he can prove that in a single instance the Committee has done him or any other member of the Board an injustice, to vote with him.

Dr. Wright.—Mr. President, the gentleman who was elected as United States Senator for New York State has voted for years from Owego. He has not lived there for seven years. He has lived in New York city all the time.

Mr. Frisbie.—Mr. President, I understand the matter in regard to Representatives, a gentleman is elected a Representative for one year, or until his successor is appointed, or until he be expelled by the President for bad conduct, or something of that kind. Now, then, if a gentleman is elected as Representative for one year, isn't he a member of this Board until he has resigned or until his successor has been appointed? Now, it seems to me as though he was. If that is the case, I don't know why any member of this Board has not a right to send a proxy here, whether he lives in New York or Virginia. And so far as discussing this matter any longer is concerned, it seems to me as though we ought to get to business pretty soon; and we will quickly dispose of this, as it is a matter of only one or two votes any way. And it seems to me as though we might dispose of these things without all this talk and get to business. If, for one, would like to get through here some time in the course of a week.

Mr. Aaron.—Mr. President, as I read the Constitution, it says: "Its officers (that is, the League) shall be a President, a Vice-President, a Secretary, a Treasurer, Chief Consuls, one Senator from each State, and each State shall be entitled to one Representative for every fifty members; and these officers shall form a Board of Officers." It does not say that these Representatives shall be selected from that State, and I am not aware that that statement is in any of the By-Laws. It has been common talk in the newspapers for months past, and a source of considerable amusement to the reading public, that one of the Senators from Florida has been on a futile love hunt up in Detroit, and has not been in his State for two years and more. He is entitled to vote. He does not reside in that State now. He has taken up his residence there. I know that one of the Senators of Pennsylvania legally has a residence in Washington. We all know that very many employees of the Government and very many employees in large corporations are sent temporarily, as Mr. Wood is, to another point (a corporation that has its headquarters in Youngstown), keep their voting residence in their old place. I know that Mr. Wood still considers Philadelphia as his residence, and he is renewed by the Germantown Club, a League club, and would be accredited at his special request to Pennsylvania; and I feel very certain we will do Mr. Wood a grievous injustice (and I believe the same is true of Mr. Zacharias) if we remove from him the right to be represented here to-day.

Mr. Clapp.—In order to expedite matters, I move that the portion of the report upon which there is no difference of opinion be adopted, and that we then proceed to take up seriatim the proxies which have been thrown out by the Committee, and act upon each one, and settle the point upon each one as presented on its merits.

Mr. Aaron.—Mr. President, do I understand that is the motion? Isn't there a motion before that?

Mr. Clapp.—I made a motion. I move that be substituted; and if the seconder accepts it, it will expedite matters still further.

Mr. Adriance.—Accepted.

The President.—Gentlemen, you have heard the motion. Any argument?

Mr Aaron.—I dislike, Mr. President, to take up so much time, but I am not as clear as I would like to be in my mind about the effect of this. We have here (I will try to sink the personal entirely) a certain number of votes that were sent to a member of this Board, who claims that they were sent to him on account of his individuality as a Representative, and not on account of his holding the office of Secretary-Editor. He naturally has considered that he controlled these votes, and he believes, I assure you, honestly, that he is backed by the senders of those votes in that way. Now, if this motion, substituted by Mr. Clapp, is adopted, as I understand it, it will give at once a vote—a certain proportion of the vote—of the proxy vote—to this meeting, and will temporarily give that portion of the meeting the power to do as they please with the remainder. It seems to me that it is not justice to a considerable number present to treat it in this way. It seems to me that we should have a vote directly upon the recommendations under the report of the Committee; that otherwise it gives a certain proportion of the voters present, and holders of proxies present, an undue advantage.

Mr. Harris.—Mr. President, I wish to offer a substitute for Mr. Clapp's motion, which I will do—that the report of the Committee, together with their recommendations entire, be adopted by the Board of Officers.

The President.—Is that satisfactory?

Mr. Clapp.—Do I understand that that brings the matter back to the original motion as made?

Mr. Harris.—Not the original motion. The original motion was to receive; but this motion of mine obviates the difficulty that Mr. Aaron claims is an injustice. We vote upon the whole thing at once. If we throw out any, we have to take up the whole seriatim, if my motion is defeated. Then, if your motion is carried, it will give Mr. Aaron the right to vote for those gentlemen here—to vote on those proxies—as to which he claims an injustice. I do not like to see anybody suffer injustice, and therefore I make the motion.

The President.—Is Mr. Harris' motion seconded?

Mr. Gulick.—I do not see, Mr. President, how we are going to avoid any question of the right to vote by a disposition of the matter on the motion suggested by the gentleman who has just spoken. The votes and the proxies here in regard to which there may be any question whatever, can only be decided by the votes of those in regard to which there is no question. That seems to be the only proper, systematic, and practical way of settling the question—to carry out the amendment as proposed by Mr. Clapp. Otherwise, the whole report may be rejected. We have nothing to go by, none of us may vote.

Mr. Dunn.—Allow me to speak again, Mr. President. I appeal to the members of the Board, all of them, to act upon this report in the way that has been suggested. I ask it in a spirit of perfect fairness, and for the purpose of giving every one his just dues, and all of us our just dues. I do sincerely request that this Board will act upon, and act favorably, if it chooses, upon that part of the report upon which there is no question; and that then Mr. Aaron be heard as speedily as possible, if you are not satisfied with the statements made by your Committee, or even if you are, and choose still to give him an opportunity to make a statement in regard to these matters, and have it out as quickly and as speedily as possible. I am going to vote "yes," if that is brought up in that way, as to some matters; because there are some matters about which the remarks the Secretary has made since I came down here seem to me fuller than were the answers to the questions that were made up-stairs. I ask it not only as a member of the Committee, but as a friend to perfect fairness, that this report be taken up in this manner and disposed of; and I believe this to be the most speedy and most fair and most honorable way to do it.

Mr. Luscomb.—I hope this same course will be pursued. This matter of proxies is a very delicate one indeed. When these very numerous proxies were brought before the Committee a great many of them were in very peculiar form, and it was a serious question whether they could be adopted. The Committee adopted what they thought was a fair course that would not disfranchise any person, any man who came here with a proxy that would properly enable him to vote. It was a very delicate duty, and they only rejected such votes as they thought there was no doubt of the illegality of. I know myself, and I certainly think all my associates on the Committee desire that all these members here should hear the same statement we heard, and exercise their judgment in the same way we exercised ours. If that be done there can be no question of shutting any one out.

The President.—The motion, as I understand, without referring to the minutes, is on the adoption of the report, which is acceptable to the members present, and that part of it which is in question to be acted upon seriatim.

Mr. Luscomb.—Mr. President, you say, "That part that is acceptable to the members." By that do you refer to the fact that certain Representatives are entitled to seats and to such and such proxies?

The President.—I mean the part on which there was no question raised.

Mr. Luscomb.—As to their right to vote?

The President.—Yes, sir.

Motion put and carried.

Mr. Bartlett.—Let us take it up seriatim as suggested; let every name be brought forward, and if a man's proxy has not come in proper form shut it out. As we are to take these proxies up one by one, suppose we commence at the first of the alphabet. And I would like to ask the Committee for what reason they turned down the proxy of Mr. Abbott, of Maryland?

Mr. Pratt.—Mr. President, our Committee has been over these matters more carefully than this meeting can go over them, unless it stays here for an hour and a half or two hours. Your Committee has come to its conclusions, as each of us three believes in respect to himself and to his associates, without any prejudice against any member whose proxy was rejected or placed on the question list, and content simply to express our opinion thereon. Now, we have examined those 15 proxies—I think it is 15 or 13—and we have examined Mr. Aaron at considerable length, and we have examined one or two other parties, and we have found to our satisfaction that those proxies were not sent to Mr. Aaron personally with instructions to vote them, or with instructions how to fill the space for the alternate; that they were not sent to him as Representative; and that they could not have been, because, if they had been, every man who sent them here would know he could not vote but three as Representative; and we came to the conclusion that those votes ought not to be counted. But we said, "We won't throw them out, we will present the list of them, lay them on the table, state our reasons for not counting them in, and then we will leave it to the meeting." Now, I do not care (for myself, I speak only for myself now) to defend the Committee's report any longer. I simply say that what Mr. Aaron said in here to the Board just now does not correspond in all respects with what he said before the Committee. What he might say now or half an hour later might not correspond in all respects with what he said then, because, you see, he is very indefinite about it, and, of course, he must be. Unless he shall go to his satchel here, or to his office in Philadelphia, and find all his correspondence, he cannot testify as to whether he had letters, or what those letters were.

In the committee-room he told us that he could not remember that he had letters, or, if he had letters, that they did not come at the same time with the ballot, or, if they came at the same time with the ballot, they did not give any instructions in regard to the ballot. The Committee went one step further, and they believe they are justified by the sentiment of the members of this Board, because this matter has been discussed before outside this Board meeting, and that was this: that no officer in this Board, or in the League of American Wheelmen, ought to have it in his power to send out an official circular, an official notice on the proxy, that shall require the members to send their proxies through only one channel, and then have the power to say those are personal to him, and to place them with his friends, or suppress them, so that nobody else can vote on them—unless those votes are sent with express instructions to him personally, so that there can be no doubt about it. So that your Committee, when they come here to receive credentials, can know that he is authorized personally, and not as Secretary of the Board, to cast those votes, just the same as you or I are authorized, when we have a proxy handed to us in our own State, or have it sent to us with our name filled in. That is the view the Committee took. Now, if that is not the view of the meeting, let us dispose of that altogether. It is not any use to fritter away the time of this meeting for two hours, making a case, and taking evidence and hearing arguments, on every one of those thirteen names. They are all in a box together, those thirteen. If you say that proxies sent in that way, and without any verification as to which there may be any question whatever, can only be decided by the votes of those in regard to which there is no question. That seems to be the only proper, systematic, and practical way of settling the question—to carry out the amendment as proposed by Mr. Clapp. Otherwise, the whole report may be rejected. We have nothing to go by, none of us may vote.

Mr. Dunn.—Allow me to speak again, Mr. President. I appeal to the members of the Board, all of them, to act upon this report in the way that has been suggested. I ask it in a spirit of perfect fairness, and for the purpose of giving every one his just dues, and all of us our just dues. I do sincerely request that this Board will act upon, and act favorably, if it chooses, upon that part of the report upon which there is no question; and that then Mr. Aaron be heard as speedily as possible, if you are not satisfied with the statements made by your Committee, or even if you are, and choose still to give him an opportunity to make a statement in regard to these matters, and have it out as quickly and as speedily as possible. I am going to vote "yes," if that is brought up in that way, as to some matters; because there are some matters about which the remarks the Secretary has made since I came down here seem to me fuller than were the answers to the questions that were made up-stairs. I ask it not only as a member of the Committee, but as a friend to perfect fairness, that this report be taken up in this manner and disposed of; and I believe this to be the most speedy and most fair and most honorable way to do it.

Mr. Luscomb.—I hope this same course will be pursued. This matter of proxies is a very delicate one indeed. When these very numerous proxies were brought before the Committee a great many of them were in very peculiar form, and it was a serious question whether they could be adopted. The Committee adopted what they thought was a fair course that would not disfranchise any person, any man who came here with a proxy that would properly enable him to vote. It was a very delicate duty, and they only rejected such votes as they thought there was no doubt of the illegality of. I know myself, and I certainly think all my associates on the Committee desire that all these members here should hear the same statement we heard, and exercise their judgment in the same way we exercised ours. If that be done there can be no question of shutting any one out.

The President.—The motion, as I understand, without referring to the minutes, is on the adoption of the report, which is acceptable to the members present, and that part of it which is in question to be acted upon seriatim.

Mr. Luscomb.—Mr. President, you say, "That part that is acceptable to the members." By that do you refer to the fact that certain Representatives are entitled to seats and to such and such proxies?

The President.—I mean the part on which there was no question raised.

Mr. Luscomb.—As to their right to vote?

The President.—Yes, sir.

Motion put and carried.

Mr. Bartlett.—Let us take it up seriatim as suggested; let every name be brought forward, and if a man's proxy has not come in proper form shut it out. As we are to take these proxies up one by one, suppose we commence at the first of the alphabet. And I would like to ask the Committee for what reason they turned down the proxy of Mr. Abbott, of Maryland?

Mr. Pratt.—Mr. President, our Committee has been over these matters more carefully than this meeting can go over them, unless it stays here for an hour and a half or two hours. Your Committee has come to its conclusions, as each of us three believes in respect to himself and to his associates, without any prejudice against any member whose proxy was rejected or placed on the question list, and content simply to express our opinion thereon. Now, we have examined those 15 proxies—I think it is 15 or 13—and we have examined Mr. Aaron at considerable length, and we have examined one or two other parties, and we have found to our satisfaction that those proxies were not sent to Mr. Aaron personally with instructions to vote them, or with instructions how to fill the space for the alternate; that they were not sent to him as Representative; and that they could not have been, because, if they had been, every man who sent them here would know he could not vote but three as Representative; and we came to the conclusion that those votes ought not to be counted. But we said, "We won't throw them out, we will present the list of them, lay them on the table, state our reasons for not counting them in, and Mr. Egan.—There is already a motion before the house.

Mr. Bartlett.—There is a motion already before the house.

The President.—Mr. Harris' motion is out of order until the other is disposed of.

Mr. Bartlett.—I wish to repeat my motion, as gentlemen may not have recollected what it was. There was no reason given why Mr. Abbott's proxy was turned down, and there being no reason given, I made a motion that he be allowed to vote at this meeting.

In Mr. Aaron's remarks a few minutes ago a valid reason was given why he should be allowed to vote. I do not think it is necessary to take up any more time with that question.

Mr. Harris.—Mr. President, I disagree with the gentleman. The Chairman of the Committee has given a valid reason when he says that all those proxies thrown out or laid aside were laid aside because they conflicted with three vital points. I do not see that the Committee are called upon to state which one of the points these proxies conflict with. If this Board of Officers vote that the Committee are not right upon these points, then these proxies stand accepted, without anything further to be done. If they vote that they are right, then it is useless to waste our time in discussing seriatim these matters. None of these proxies have the requisite authenticated returns necessary to make them valid, except the bare word of a member, which the Committee very rightly say they cannot take. I hope, gentlemen, the motion will be voted down, and we will decide these points.

Mr. Aaron.—The proxy of Mr. Abbott was not sent in blank. Mr. Abbott wrote the name of Chief Consul Bartlett in it. And, as I said to the Committee, most of the Board members before the meeting have had proxies with them with their names written in that a total blank. I have seen quantities of such proxies here last night and this morning. Such proxies have come before. And I demand, as a Representative of Pennsylvania, to know why I should be cut off from being represented, or should not be allowed to voice the sentiment of these men simply because I have happened to be Secretary-Editor. What right has this Committee to say that they have happened to know or have reason to believe that these men are not to be represented by me?

In the case of Mr. Porter I read them a note which Mr. Porter sent to me. In the case of Mr. Abbott I told them very plainly that Mr. Abbott had sent me the proxy and written me a letter. As to some of the other cases, I do not recollect now. Those men have filled in those names themselves. It is very odd, indeed, if 15 men, men some of whom are to my knowledge (I know them personally) men of calibre, quite the peers of any here to-day, cannot tell who shall vote for them or who shall select their proxies. It is, indeed, odd if these men do not know the difference between sending a proxy to the Representative of Pennsylvania and the Secretary-Editor. The whole standpoint is preposterous.

Mr. Pratt.—I should like to ask Mr. Aaron a question or two, and first I would like to state for his information, if he does not know it, that Mr. Aaron has not been deprived by the Committee of the right to vote as Representative on as many votes as he is entitled to vote upon. So that that question is removed. The proxies which Mr. Aaron represented himself as Representative of Pennsylvania were not found objectionable by the Committee, and are in the part of the report which has been accepted. I would like to ask Mr. Aaron simply if it is not true that that proxy of Mr. Abbott was sent to him without instructions.

Mr. Aaron.—That proxy of Mr. Abbott's, so far as I recollect now (I would not say positively), was sent me without any comments; that is, without any comments requiring me one way or the other to vote. It certainly was sent without instructions. There are a great many proxies to be voted here to-day that have been sent without instructions.

Mr. Pratt.—Allow me to ask one other question. Isn't it true that the proxy blank was not filled as to the name of the alternate when it was sent?

Mr. Aaron.—It certainly is true.

Mr. Pratt.—Is it not true that it was passed around by you to a member of this Board to whom it had not been sent by the one who gave the proxy?

Mr. Aaron.—The present use of the language "passed around" is not expressive. Yes, it is expressive—it is meant to be expressive—of something that I would not accept.

Mr. Gulick.—I rise to a point of privilege. I think the gentleman ought to answer the question, yes or no.

Mr. Aaron.—I would answer that "No."

Mr. Pratt.—I will ask another question. I will ask if it was not handed here to an alternate whose name did not appear in the proxy, and was not known to the person who sent it as being the alternate who would vote for him?

Mr. Aaron.—It certainly was.

Mr. Pratt.—It seems to me that those cover the point. That will be found to be the case with all of the 13 or 15, whichever it is. They were simply proxies; some small number of them had Mr. Aaron's name written in the space for the proxy, in the first blank; some of them did not have that, but were simply sent by the person sending the proxy; they were simply inclosed in the official envelope, printed at the expense of the League, directed to the Secretary of the League, officially, upon a blank official in its character, instructing, officially, the sender to send it to him as Secretary.

Mr. Aaron.—I cannot agree to me that those cover the point. That will be found to be the case with all of the 13 or 15, whichever it is. They were simply proxies; some small number of them had Mr. Aaron's name written in the space for the proxy, in the first blank; some of them did not have that, but were simply sent by the person sending the proxy; they were simply inclosed in the official envelope, printed at the expense of the League, directed to the Secretary of the League, officially, upon a blank official in its character, instructing, officially, the sender to send it to him as Secretary.

Mr. Pratt.—I cannot agree to me that those cover the point. That will be found to be the case with all of the 13 or 15, whichever it is. They were simply proxies; some small number of them had Mr. Aaron's name written in the space for the proxy, in the first blank; some of them did not have that, but were simply sent by the person sending the proxy; they were simply inclosed in the official envelope, printed at the expense of the League, directed to the Secretary of the League, officially, upon a blank official in its character, instructing, officially, the sender to send it to him as Secretary.

Mr. Pratt.—I cannot agree to me that those cover the point. That will be found to be the case with all of the 13 or 15, whichever it is. They were simply proxies; some small number of them had Mr. Aaron's name written in the space for the proxy, in the first blank; some of them did not have that, but were simply sent by the person sending the proxy; they were simply inclosed in the official envelope, printed at the expense of the League, directed to the Secretary of the League, officially, upon a blank official in its character, instructing, officially, the sender to send it to him as Secretary.

Another point brought before you is that of non-residence—that Senators moving out of a State, or virtually outside of the State, are allowed to represent their political constituency in Congress. What have the rules of Congress to do with the rules of this Board? Haven't we rules that govern us? If by this Constitution these members are not allowed as Representatives, after they have removed out of their jurisdiction, then they are not. If by that book (indicating the Hand-Book) they are allowed to represent a constituency from which they have removed, then they are members of the Board. It seems to me that it is a question for the Board to decide, and not to talk around it and make it ridiculous.

Mr. Potter.—If we can divest this question of any bearing upon what we think may come after it, I think we are more likely to get at a fair decision. Last evening, at a meeting of the New York Division, I gave my proxy to a gentleman now in this room, naming him as the person who was to represent me in the ballot here; and that proxy will not be used, simply for the reason that, with the permission of the body, I expect to do my own voting. But there was no alternate named in that proxy; and I said to my friend that he was to use his judgment in case I was not here.

I believe that to be a perfectly proper and legitimate method of disposition of my vote; I believe it to be the same method that has been used by members of this body in former years, and one that can do no harm in the long run to the administration of the League affairs. Now, upon the action of this Committee, which nobody is disposed to criticise them as to their disposition to do the perfectly fair thing, I would like to call the attention of the members to this fact. I may say first that if instead of inquiring into the legitimacy of the proxies offered by Mr. Aaron, the proxies offered by every member who brought proxies here had been questioned in exactly the same manner—now, I have no personal acquaintance—

Mr. Pratt.—Mr. President, if the gentleman will allow me to make a suggestion I will state, for the Committee, that the proxies of the others were examined in precisely the same way. I will also state that what the gentleman just now stated in regard to the proxy left by himself—that he authorized the person to whom he gave it to fill the alternate space as he chose, and as the Committee would say, in a perfectly proper manner—that wherever the Committee could find that there was any authority given for a man to fill the alternate space, the ballot was counted without question. And Mr. Aaron was asked if he had instructions in regard to the ballots to fill those spaces, and the Committee were unable to find that anybody had authority to write the name in that was there. So I simply say this to ask the gentleman to reach our point—which is, that when the blank is found filled by somebody else without authority, or without an expression of authority from the—

Mr. Potter (interrupting).—The explanation of the gentleman is precisely what I supposed it would be. I believe it to have been the practice (if I am wrong, I desire to be corrected), a very common practice in former years, and in former meetings of this Board, that members who desired to express their opinion upon any matter by proxy, in very many instances would give their proxies to other members of the Board upon whose judgment they alone relied, and allowed them to do very much as they pleased upon that point. I do not understand that this matter has ever been inquired into in the same manner before. It may have been. But here are 15 names of 15 men in good standing in this body. They have received these blanks, have been entirely apart from Mr. Aaron and from anybody else, and have set themselves down deliberately and signed their names to a document which they are just as capable of understanding as we are, and have authorized somebody to vote for them at the meeting. Now, if we throw out these proxies, we have got to assume, to put it in good, plain words, that those men did not know what they were doing, that they did not know the rights of a Secretary-Editor of this body, just as well as we know them—where they commenced and where they ended. These proxies are in form correct, and upon their face show exactly what the other proxies show, it strikes me as rather assuming to impose what might be termed "gag law" if we say that these men shall not vote. Now, what I have said, I say as not indicating in any manner what I think upon the questions that are liable to come before this meeting. I do not wish to be classed with one party or another party on any question. Because, as I understand the sentiments of the gentleman who brings these proxies here, we are diametrically opposed upon most of the important matters that come before this meeting. But, upon the question which ought to be at the foundation of all other questions, the question whether a man is to be allowed to express his own opinion, or to allow a man that is intimately connected with him, or who can in any way assume to express any opinion for him to do it for him—upon that question, whether by fair or unfair means, we shall be deprived of his vote, when in good faith he intends to vote,—that is a question upon which I stand ready to say that I am in favor of these proxies.

Mr. Harris.—On this one point—I did not want to go into personal matters with regard to Mr. Abbott. I don't know the gentleman. It seems to me that the Committee have found that the gentleman who wrote the name in there for that alternate had no instruction of any kind to do it. Unless some evidence is produced that he had the right to do that, I do not see how it could be admitted. There is one point in connection with the question of this official blank sent out. With the blank that I received, I received an official letter from the Secretary-Editor, in which he informed me that unless I was present, or sent a proxy (I have forgotten the exact words, but if I am wrong, the circular will be here in a minute, and it can be found out)—that unless I sent a proxy, or was present in person, I need not hope to be re-elected. Now, Mr. Chairman, the eyes of our constituents are upon us, and he who neglects to represent those who elected him to the important office of a member of the Board cannot go before them for re-election next March with any claim to be re-elected. I do not want to make any reflections upon the gentlemen who sent these ballots; I want simply to state that fact, and you may believe it or not, but I believe it to be true: I know a gentleman that received one of these proxies (I might say more than one, but one I know certainly) who misunderstood it. He supposed that he must write in the name of the Secretary-Editor, and send it to the Secretary-Editor, and when I asked him if he wanted to vote so and so, he said, "No." I said, "Well, you want to give your proxy to somebody who will vote the way you want to vote." He said, "I have given my proxy." I said, "Whom have you given it to?" He refused to tell at first, but finally acknowledged that he had sent it to a man who was going to vote the very opposite he wanted to vote. That is a fact. And I think many of the votes were sent in that peculiar way. And unless these gentlemen show that the intentions of these gentlemen were that Mr. Aaron should be appointed substitute, I do not see how we can accept these votes.

Mr. Read.—Mr. President, it seems to me that the Secretary-Editor of this League, by virtue of his office, is entitled to certain extraordinary powers which are inseparable from his office. He first of all is elected to be Secretary-Editor because he more nearly represents the sentiment of the League than any other man, not excepting the President, by the Board of Officers; and on account of his peculiar fitness to form the sentiment and formulate the views he is put in as Secretary-Editor. Now, if votes or proxies are sent to the Secretary-Editor, they are sent to him with knowledge on the part of the sender that they will be used in accordance with the views of the Secretary-Editor. Now, I wish to disassociate myself from any allusion to Mr. Aaron in this connection. If any other gentleman occupies that position, he will be clothed with the same powers, and he will inflict upon us the same penalties, if penalties there may be, by the use he makes of these proxies. These gentlemen in different parts of the country, being unable to come here to-day, have sent these proxies to Mr. Aaron, because he was Secretary-Editor, with the assumption upon their part that he would use these proxies in this Board of Officers to accomplish the purpose of carrying on the business of this organization; and he hands these proxies around to different Representatives to use in accordance with their judgment. And now, gentlemen, I have had three of these proxies handed to me. I do not claim to be a first-class fool. I would not like anybody else to assume I am. I propose to use the proxies that have been given into my care in a conscientious manner, and with a high regard for the interests of this Board. And I conceive that a great many gentlemen who have had proxies handed to them by Mr. Aaron will make just precisely the same use of them that I intend to make of them. It looks to me as though a large body of Representatives spread over this country are going to be disfranchised by a technicality. I oppose that. I do not believe it would be right for this League to go out on record and let it be known that proxies that have been sent to the Secretary-Editor, with power to distribute them around among the different Representatives, have been thrown out by this Committee having this matter in charge. I think every one of them ought to be used in the way that they have been distributed by Mr. Aaron.

Mr. Harris.—I admire very much the sentiments spoken by the gentleman who has just taken his seat; but there was one objection to his great point, and that is the fact that the Secretary-Editor is not the great I Am of the League of American Wheelmen. He is an officer and servant of the League, and he is under control of the Executive Committee; and if those proxies are sent to him to be used for the best interests of the League, he has no right, I think, and I believe I am right, to use those proxies for any purpose without consulting with the Executive Committee, who have, under our Constitutional laws, perfect and supreme control of his actions, of the actions of the Secretary-Editor.

Mr. Potter.—It strikes me that my friend who last spoke is mistaken on a small point, and I am sure he will be glad to be corrected. He read to us a few remarks from a circular which purports to come from the Secretary-Editor, addressed to different persons—I assume from whom these proxies came, with other persons—in which the Secretary-Editor said to the persons to whom that circular is addressed that if they failed to represent the views of their constituents, they failed to do their duty. That is in substance what the circular did say. Now, there is nothing in that language which, even by implication, tends to fool anybody, or to mislead them. And if that circular was sent to the different members of this body who have chosen to be represented by proxy here, through the hands of the Secretary-Editor, it strikes me that no better evidence can be offered by either side on this question that they knew exactly what they were doing when they sent them. If they had confidence in the Secretary-Editor and his judgment to see that they were properly represented here to-day, they best expressed it by sending him the proxies.

Mr. Harris.—I cannot let the gentleman place me on record in a position which I have not taken. I do not insinuate, nor have I ever insinuated, that these gentlemen do not know what they are about. I simply say that other cases have occurred where gentlemen did not know; and while I do not think and do not know that any of these are such cases, I simply say this to show that under the system such things could occur, and that we must have a rule, and must have a way. And as our Committee, who are all very competent men, have decided that these proxies are not in proper form, if the gentlemen who made them out neglected to protect themselves by putting them in proper form, and the gentlemen who received them have no evidence of what they claim, I do not see how on the face of it we can accept it. I do not wish to make any charges or any insinuations, or say that any one of these gentlemen did not know what he was about, because I know several of them, and I know they are competent men and know what they are doing.

Mr. Luscomb.—If the views presented by my friend on the other side of the room were the facts of the case, I have no doubt that the Committee would have arrived at a different conclusion. My friend says that it was the intention of all these gentlemen in different parts of the States that all of these votes should be cast in a certain way, and therefore they sent them to the Secretary-Editor to have them so cast.

Mr. Reed.—In accordance with the judgment of the Secretary-Editor, that they should be used by the Secretary-Editor, and distributed in such a way as his judgment would dictate.

Mr. Luscomb.—Now, if the Secretary-Editor had been able in any instance of the 15 to inform us that any of these people had given instructions that their vote should be cast in a certain way, the proxy would undoubtedly have been received. In this way, the proxy would undoubtedly have been received. In those cases that he did read from letters the Committee said, "Well, we will give him in this case the benefit of the doubt, and let the proxy go in, because there may be sufficient here to indicate that this man did want Mr. Aaron—Representative Aaron, not Secretary-Editor Aaron—to express such and such views on a certain question at a certain meeting of the Board. But, in case after case, starting with Mr. Abbott, and going down the list, the answer was, "No instructions." Now, if there was no instruction at all given, and the proxy comes down here with Mr. Aaron's name in it, but sent in answer to "Please sign the inclosed proxy and return to E. M. Aaron," what does it mean? You have no more right to go and say that such and such a thing should be done by the Secretary than you have to say that he had the right to send the official call, "Send down your proxy and it will be represented."

Now, this question, as to Mr. Abbott, while it may be that Mr. Abbott's case possessed certain claim, it all comes down to one underlying principle, and that is the abuse of the proxy system. We have been getting to it for some time. At several meetings the question of proxies has come up. They have been criticised—the manner of distribution has been criticised. Now, we have it pretty well developed, and I think it is time to cry a halt right here now. We have here a plain, clear, flat abuse of the proxy system. It is something we must surround with the greatest possible safeguards. It is all very nice, I have no doubt, it is good-nature, and pleasant and agreeable, to say, "I guess so and so wants to cast that vote. Let him do so; don't shut him out; don't apply the gag law. I am acquainted with him; I had a personal interview with him, and know how he thinks on the matter." That is good-nature, gentlemen; we all like, I myself like, first-rate, to do so; but it is not the straight way to do business. And when this League of American Wheelmen reaches the point that it has reached at the present time, with the importance that it possesses, with the momentous questions that come before it, it is not safe to go along in this pleasant, easy, loose fashion of doing things, and we must draw a line somewhere. And where we ought to draw it is where proxies come in in this way. How does the proxy read? "This is to certify that I, a member of your body, authorize Blank, a member of your body, to vote for me on all questions that come before the Board at the regular spring meeting. In case Mr. So-and-so cannot discharge this duty, I empower M. So-and-so to act." Not you empower. I say, "If you cannot act, John Smith must." I do not say, "If you cannot act, please have the kindness to select some gentleman to act for you." That is the condition of those proxies. That is where the proxy hits. I say there is the point to draw this line, and now is the time to prevent this proxy question becoming a greater abuse than it is now.

Mr. Butler.—Mr. President, I move the previous question on this motion.

Mr. Wells.—I second the motion.

Mr. Brown.—I don't know what the previous question is exactly.

Dr. Butler.—I rise to a point of order. The previous question is not debatable.

Mr. Brown.—I do not wish to debate, but I want to know what the previous question is.

Dr. Butler.—The previous question is, "Shall the main question be now put?" If that is voted down, then the question is open for discussion.

The President.—Are you ready for the question? Shall the main question be now put?

Dr. Butler.—I call for the main question.

The President.—The main question is on allowing the proxy of Mr. Abbott to remain in force.

Mr. Bartlett.—I can hardly remember that the main question was that Mr. Abbott be allowed to cast a vote at this meeting. The motion did not embody who should cast that vote for him, but that he should be allowed to cast a vote. He is not here. He has signified his d sire to vote by sending a proxy. I leave it to the meeting as to whom they shall authorize to vote for him.

The President —Those of you who favor the original motion as made by Mr. Bartlett will manifest it by saying Aye; contrary, No.

A Voice.—I call for a division.

The President.—The Chair is unable to decide, and will call for a rising vote.

The result of the vote was declared to be 17 in the affirmative, 25 negative.

Mr. Harris.—I now renew my motion that no proxies which were sent without instructions to the Secretary-Editor officially shall be counted, or, rather, that proxies sent to the Secretary-Editor without instructions shall not be counted.

Mr. Capp —I second the motion.

The President.—You hear the motion. Is there any argument?

Mr. Read.—Before that motion is put I would like to say that the call for this meeting filled me with astonishment. In reading the By-Laws we see that the meeting must be called not l nger than four months and closer than two months to a certain period in May. Now, yesterday was the earliest possible date at which that meeting could have been legally called for the discussion of the important business that comes before this Board. In the first place, this meeting was called—

Mr. Ball.—I call the gentleman to order.

The President.—I th nk the gentleman is right in calling you to order. You are not speaking to the question at all.

Mr. Read.—Mr President, a motion is about to be put by which a large number of gentleman are going to be disfranchised.

The President.—C nfine yourself to the question.

Mr. Read.—Coming events cast their shadows before, and some gentlemen from Pennsylvania are not satisfied with the way in which this meeting has been called. There are going to be very imp rtant matters for discussion and decision, and it looks as though this meeting has been called in a corner.

The President.—I must call the gentleman to order. The meeting was called as prescribed by the By-Laws and in the regular order. We shall not admit any criticism on the method of calling this meeting at this time.

Dr. Butler.—I wish to offer a slight amendment to the gentleman's motion, and that is, that all proxies sent to the Secretary-Edit r which are not—

Mr. Harris.—The motion was that all proxies sent to the Secretary-Editor officially without instructions shall not be counted.

Dr. Butler.—I should like to have included in that—"To any other member of the Board," without instructions, shall not be counted.

Mr. Harris.—I ask if, in such a case, when proxies be sent to anybody with a statement in the letter that the man should be at liberty to use his judgment, and should the name be positively filled in by the Representative—

Dr. Butler.—My idea would be that it should be accompanied by his instructi ns, which should be necessary to admit the proxies already reported favorably by the Committee

Mr. Harris.—Perhaps the gentleman has misunderstood my motion. While I am in accord with the spirit of his motion, yet I want to say this: My motion is that proxies sent without instructions to the Secretary officially shall not be counted. Now, no other member can receive proxies officially. My motion is that it be sent to the Secretary-Editor officially. If the gentleman wants to make another addition when we have settled that point, I have no objection.

Mr. Davol.—I come from the small State of Rhode Island, and I called personally on my Chief Consul and received instructions verbally. I had no letter, and I did not get written instructions to cast the vote. I did not think that was necessary. I called at his office and had a talk with him, and I know what he wants, but I have no letter of instructions to cast the vote. It is a small State that I can run around almost any time in the day.

Mr. Harris.—I cannot accept the amendment.

Mr. Dunn.—It seems to me that the amendment is entirely out of order, and that part of our report has been already adopted which covers all but these cases, and all those members are now entitled to vote in this body in this meeting today who have been favorably reported upon by the Committee. I sincerely wish that it might be possible for us to get at this matter in the one way which I consider to be, in view of the personal feeling and the little matters of political feeling and animosity which have cropped out here, that it might be possible, I say, to get at this thing in a perfectly fair, honest, just, legal, legitimate way. Let us make legal such actions as seem to us based upon a correct principle, if no other way will satisfy the gentlemen who claim to be badly treated, and who claim that this meeting has been called in a corner, and who claim all such things as that—amongst other things the remark I spoke of some time ago, which lacerated the feelings of some of the members of this Board. I wish that it might be possible for me, and in perfect order, to ask the Secretary-Editor just a few questions, and ask him to answer those questions here, and then let us vote intelligent y upon these matters. I have stated myself that, as a member of this Committee, I am now prepared, if he answers things in a fuller or more specific way than he did to us up-stairs, which I am quite sure he will do from some remarks he made down here on some of these cases which will be admitted, and I am very positive that there are some which will not be admitted by the most candid of the gentlemen here to-day a right to vote—if I be permitted to ask the Secretary Editor [addressing Mr. Aaron]:—Did you send out this circular as Secretary-Editor or as a pers nal member of the League—the circular which accompanied this [indicating paper]?

Mr. Aaron.—I am not Secretary-Editor. I am "Ex"-Secretary-Editor.

Mr. Dunn.—I beg your pardon. "Ex"-Secretary-Editor.

Mr. Aaron.—Yes, sir.

Mr. Dunn.—And the envelope accompanying, was that also sent in an official way?

Mr. Aaron.—Why, certainly; I cannot say in every case. I cannot answer in every single case. Are you asking in reference to a specific case?

Mr. Dunn.—Where it accompanied an official circular which you sent, with an official proxy blank, was the envelope considered an official matter?

Mr. Aaron.—Not always. I don't catch the drift of the question at all.

Mr. Dunn.—In what cases was not this envelope, which is addressed "Eugene M. Aaron, Box 916, Philadelphia, Pa," which accompanied these circulars, in the nature of an official document?

Mr. Aaron.—That envelope was not returned to me [alluding to the one in Mr. Dunn's hand]. A number of these came to me in another envelope which I have for my own use, printed in a different way, that was sent out. Some were sent to the Pennsylvania Division members with certain remarks.

Mr. Dunn.—Was not that official circular sent to all the members of the League?

Mr. Aaron.—No, sir; to every member of the Board.

Mr. Dunn.—I mean to every member of the Board. And that envelope was sent with every circular?

Mr. Aaron —I did not say that. I said that some were sent out. S me proxy blanks were sent in another envelope.

Mr. Dunn.—They were sent in duplicate?

Mr. Aaron.—I am not asked that question.

Mr. Dunn.—I won't ask that question now. I will waive that question. Did you send out the proxy blanks with the circular which was forwarded, and did you send with them this envelope also addressed to you as an official document?

Mr. Aaron —Certainly I did, sir.

Mr. Dunn.—Can you give us any idea of the number of these 15 men, whom we recommend be not admitted to vote here—the number of those men who sent their proxies to you in that official envelope?

Mr. Aaron.—I cannot now, sir; no. sir. You understand, if you will allow me to reply a little fuller—you understand, Mr. Dunn and gentlemen, that this is entirely a new procedure; that such scrutiny has never been gone through with before; that every one has been allowed to vote proxies as they brought them in, and as they were given to them; and if I had known that such an unusual thing as five or six hours' scrutiny, by a specially selected committee, was to be the order of the day, I certainly would have had the letters, as I told the Committee. It is out of the question, with the other matters I have on my mind, for me to remember all these cases specially, but I have it very clear in my mind that most, if not all, these cases are from persons with whom I have an acquaintance, who are friends of mine, who I believe sincerely sent these here for me to vote not because I have been Secretary-Editor, but because I am a Representative, and they trusted to my opinion and my go d judgment to vote for them.

The President.—I wish to correct Mr. Aaron's statement that this was a "specially selected Committee," unless he means by that that they were especially fitted for the position.

Mr. Aaron.—Mr. President, that is not exactly the way I meant to express it, if you understood it so; but I meant simply that it was a special committee. It is not a standing committee. We have no law for such a committee, and there was not, as I know, any motion for that committee; but it was a special committee.

Mr. Potter.—I believe the day will come, if not to-day, when every thinking member in this body will consider that we have undertaken now a most extraordinary proceeding. I do not understand by what rule of equity or fairness the ex-Secretary-Editor is subject to cross-examination upon this point.

Mr. Dunn.—Mr. President, may I answer the gentleman? I meant in no possible way for my remarks to be taken or construed as a cross-examination of the ex-Secretary-Editor. We asked the ex-Secretary-Editor when he came before us, as we did other members of the Board of whom we had questions to ask, and I have before me the statements made by him before that Committee, which, if they were called for, or desirable, I would read in each case, and I would be very grateful to the members if they would permit Mr. Aaron to make such a statement as he desires to make in regard to these cases.

Mr. Potter.—Allow me, Mr. Dunn, to see the envelope which you just had. [Receiving the envelope, Mr. Potter continues:] This envelope is addressed to Eugene M. Aaron, Box 916, Philadelphia, Pa. It is printed with a printing press, but I suppose the same press does lots of other printing, and there is nothing about this envelope to show it was official, or intended to be official. There is nothing to show but it is the same envelope which was used in his private correspondence in cases in which he desired an answer.

Mr. Dunn.—Mr. Aaron says it was.

Mr. Potter.—I did not understand him so. There is nothing so far before this meeting that would not show that every member who obtained a proxy here obtained it in exactly the same way. Now, these proxies are here for something. They mean just exactly as much as any proxies mean that are here before this Board; and if we throw them out, look at it in any view you like, it operates with no other effect than to just tear out from the voice of this body as a whole the votes of a certain number of Representatives who are entitled to just as much respect and consideration as any member who sits here to-day: and the question as to how they were obtained is not, I submit, a fair question to be submitted to anybody. If we call any member who has a proxy in this Board before us, and say, "How did you obtain this proxy? Where did you get it? Under what circumstance? Where was the correspondence? What was it? What was the conversation?"—we are going into matters which impute to him something which is not exactly right.

These proxies are brought here exactly as other proxies have been brought, as I understand, to former meetings. They are good on their face. There is nothing, so far as the face of the proxy is concerned, which shows it to be anything but entirely straight and regular; but it appears that there has been a circular sent out by the ex-Secretary-Editor, and that has disturbed the Committee to such an extent that they have inquired particularly into these proxies. If there is anything in the action of the ex-Secretary-Editor in sending out that circular which would bring upon him any blame, that is entirely another matter; but there is nothing in that circular which would deceive any man here in saying—and I say, sir, there is no man here who would stand up and say—that there is anything in the circular which would mislead him as to the powers of the ex-Secret ry-Editor and the Board of Officers, or which would mislead him to send a proxy to him only rather than to somebody else. The proxies are here. They are here regularly. They stand the test that has been applied in every other case that has ever been presented, as I understand it. They stand exactly the same test that has been applied, or might be applied, to some of the proxies that we have admitted here to-day impliedly. Because when I gave my proxy last night, I left it entirely to the option of another man as to who should be the alternate, not only as to who should be the alternate, but as to how the alternate should vote upon that proxy. There could not be, by any possibility, a wider proxy given to any Representative or alternate. I say there is nothing in these proxies of these 15 gentlemen which would disclose any difference in their cases—nothing in the proxy or in the manner that they were presented—which militates against them, or by which we should say that they should be rejected.

The President.—If you will allow me just a word. I discover that the time is being frittered away the whole evening without accomplishing anything of the vast amount of business we have before us. I believe actually that every man has his mind made up just how he will vote, or he certainly ought to have by this time, and I, for one, have become somewhat satisfied with this argument. I think that that is the mind o every one here.

Mr. Harris —I move the previous question.

Mr. Bidwell.—I would like to say that the gentleman who has just taken his seat has stated that he had a proxy made out to a friend, and that when he handed it to him he did not know whether he should be here at this meeting or whether his friend to whom the proxy was made would be here, but he instructed his friend to make that proxy, according to his own judgment, to any gentleman whom he should think best. Now, I think it is a point which the Committee has tried to make plain that Mr. Aaron has not stated that he was instructed by gentlemen who had given him a proxy as principal as to whom he should appoint as his alternate, or to use his judgment as to appointing an alternate.

A Voice.—Question.

The President.—Gentlemen, are you ready for the question? Those of you who favor the question as offered by Mr. Harris and seconded. The motion is on the throwing out of the—

Mr. Harris.—I will repeat the motion. The motion is that the proxies sent without instruction to the Secretary-Editor officially shall not be counted.

The motion was hereupon put to the house, and declared carried.

Mr. Harris.—I will now take up the second point of Mr. Pratt's statement, and that is the question, shall Mr. Wood and Mr. Zacharias be considered members of this Board, notwithstanding that they have removed from their respective States? I move that they be not considered members of this Board.

Dr. Butler —I second that motion.

The President —Is there any argument?

Dr. Brown —Mr. President, I would like again to know on what authority or rule these gentlemen are thrown out. There is nothing, I think, in the Constitution or By-Laws that affects it. And, as the gentleman said just before, the rule as to the Senate of the United States or any Legislature, may not affect the question at all. Then what does affect it? On what grounds do we throw them out? Mr. Zacharias was elected a Representative of New Jersey; he has not resigned; there is nothing to show that Mr. Zacharias' moving from the State would disfranchise him. He has sent in his proxy. And I, as a Representative of New Jersey, would like to know how it is that this body can throw out Mr. Zacharias in this way.

Mr. Harris.—The gentleman is from New Jersey and is my friend, and perhaps he can give me a little information; and if he will give it in one way, I will be willing to withdraw my motion. Before asking this question I will state one thing, and that is; it will be found that every Representative in Congress, every Senator in Congress, every clerk in the Government departments or in corporations who may remove from his State temporarily and who goes home and votes, expressly says that is his home, and that he has not lost his residence; and the law provides particularly that employees whose work is in Washington shall not lose their residence. And I ask the gentleman if he knows or can produce any evidence that Mr. Zacharias said that he still lives in New Jersey and claims New Jersey as his home.

Dr. Brown.—Mr. President, I do not think that Mr. Zacharias does live in New Jersey or claims New Jersey as his home now. He was elected from New Jersey; he has not resigned from the League; he has not had a successor appointed; and, according to Mr. Zacharias' understanding of the case, he is a Representative of New Jersey. If you throw out Mr. Zacharias, we come here to-day without our proper representation. And I think any State is entitled to consideration in that matter. If it is going to have its Representative thrown out, it should have a chance to have another appointed in his place. I bring up this question merely as a point of precedent. If it is established now, we will have to keep it up.

Mr. Harris.—Mr. President, I would like to ask the Secretary if it is a fact that Mr. Zacharias has renewed his membership for the State of Alabama.

Mr. Wells.—I am not able to inform Mr. Harris on this question.

Mr. Harris.—Mr. President, I want to say that I don't know Mr. Zacharias. I have no personal animosity against Mr. Zacharias or Mr. Wood, but we have appointed a Committee, who have given six hours' deliberation to this question and to the questions involved in the subject of the motions I have made and intend to make. That Committee was composed of three gentlemen, one of whom, I am proud to say, is a very eminent lawyer, and who hails from the State of Massachusetts; and I have every confidence in that gentleman's judgment (I do not profess to be able to judge of that question), and I believe he knows what he talks about, and if he did not, he would not do it, and I believe that we ought to support him; and I vote to support him because I do not want to fritter away any more time, and that is the only way not to do it.

Mr. Wells.—Mr. President, I would like to place against this six hours' labor of the Committee just spoken of a paragraph in our By-Laws which seems to me as explicit and straight to the point as anything can well be. I refer to Article IV, section 5, subdivision "b": "All Officers of the Board shall hold office until their successors are elected or appointed." Mr. Wood and Mr. Zacharias were elected officers of the Board, and the successor of neither of them has been elected or appointed.

A Voice.—Question.

Mr. Williams.—Mr. President, I will ask the gentleman to take and read the whole of that section. I will ask for information as to whether 50 members in the State of Pennsylvania cannot choose for their Representative a man who lives in the State of Ohio? Is there anything in the By-Laws which prevents those 50 members from doing that?

The President.—I do not know that there is any rule that applies directly to that case.

Mr. Luscomb.—Section 7 of Article I of the By-Laws seems to bear on that: "Representatives shall recommend to their Chief Consuls names of members of the League to serve as Consuls, and shall recommend hotels for appointment as League headquarters. They shall, in connection with their Chief Consul have power to decide all local matters in their States, as provided for in these Rules, and shall have a general oversight over the affairs of the League in their immediate district." That does not mean some other district.

The motion was hereupon put and carried.

Mr Harris.—Mr. President, the third question which Mr. Pratt presented was, shall telegrams be received as duly authenticated proxies? I move, Mr. President, that telegrams shall not be received as duly authenticated proxies.

Mr. Hayes.—I second the motion.

The motion was hereupon put and carried.

Mr. Harris.—Mr. President, I move we proceed to other business.

The President.—The regular order of business, I believe, will be the election of a Secretary-Editor, as at this time we are without an officer of that kind.

Mr. Bidwell.—Mr. President, I move you, sir, that the regular order of business be varied, and that the report of the Executive Committee be taken up, read, and considered.

Mr. Harris.—I second that motion.

I think it is a point which the Committee has tried to make plain that Mr. Aaron has not stated that he was instructed by gentlemen who had given him a proxy as principal as to whom he should appoint as his alternate, or to use his judgment as to appointing an alternate.

A Voice.—Question.

The President.—Gentlemen, are you ready for the question? Those of you who favor the question as offered by Mr. Harris and seconded. The motion is on the throwing out of the—

Mr. Harris.—I will repeat the motion. The motion is that the proxies sent without instruction to the Secretary-Editor officially shall not be counted.

The motion was hereupon put to the house, and declared carried.

Mr. Harris.—I will now take up the second point of Mr. Pratt's statement, and that is the question, shall Mr. Wood and Mr. Zacharias be considered members of this Board, notwithstanding that they have removed from their respective States? I move that they be not considered members of this Board.

Dr. Butler —I second that motion.

The President —Is there any argument?

Dr. Brown —Mr. President, I would like again to know on what authority or rule these gentlemen are thrown out. There is nothing, I think, in the Constitution or By-Laws that affects it. And, as the gentleman said just before, the rule as to the Senate of the United States or any Legislature, may not affect the question at all. Then what does affect it? On what grounds do we throw them out? Mr. Zacharias was elected a Representative of New Jersey; he has not resigned; there is nothing to show that Mr. Zacharias' moving from the State would disfranchise him. He has sent in his proxy. And I, as a Representative of New Jersey, would like to know how it is that this body can throw out Mr. Zacharias in this way.

Mr. Harris.—The gentleman is from New Jersey and is my friend, and perhaps he can give me a little information; and if he will give it in one way, I will be willing to withdraw my motion. Before asking this question I will state one thing, and that is; it will be found that every Representative in Congress, every Senator in Congress, every clerk in the Government departments or in corporations who may remove from his State temporarily and who goes home and votes, expressly says that is his home, and that he has not lost his residence; and the law provides particularly that employees whose work is in Washington shall not lose their residence. And I ask the gentleman if he knows or can produce any evidence that Mr. Zacharias said that he still lives in New Jersey and claims New Jersey as his home.

Dr. Brown.—Mr. President, I do not think that Mr. Zacharias does live in New Jersey or claims New Jersey as his home now. He was elected from New Jersey; he has not resigned from the League; he has not had a successor appointed; and, according to Mr. Zacharias' understanding of the case, he is a Representative of New Jersey. If you throw out Mr. Zacharias, we come here to-day without our proper representation. And I think any State is entitled to consideration in that matter. If it is going to have its Representative thrown out, it should have a chance to have another appointed in his place. I bring up this question merely as a point of precedent. If it is established now, we will have to keep it up.

Mr. Harris.—Mr. President, I would like to ask the Secretary if it is a fact that Mr. Zacharias has renewed his membership for the State of Alabama.

Mr. Wells.—I am not able to inform Mr. Harris on this question.

Mr. Harris.—Mr. President, I want to say that I don't know Mr. Zacharias. I have no personal animosity against Mr. Zacharias or Mr. Wood, but we have appointed a Committee, who have given six hours' deliberation to this question and to the questions involved in the subject of the motions I have made and intend to make. That Committee was composed of three gentlemen, one of whom, I am proud to say, is a very eminent lawyer, and who hails from the State of Massachusetts; and I have every confidence in that gentleman's judgment (I do not profess to be able to judge of that question), and I believe he knows what he talks about, and if he did not, he would not do it, and I believe that we ought to support him; and I vote to support him because I do not want to fritter away any more time, and that is the only way not to do it.

Mr. Wells.—Mr. President, I would like to place against this six hours' labor of the Committee just spoken of a paragraph in our By-Laws which seems to me as explicit and straight to the point as anything can well be. I refer to Article IV, section 5, subdivision "b": "All Officers of the Board shall hold office until their successors are elected or appointed." Mr. Wood and Mr. Zacharias were elected officers of the Board, and the successor of neither of them has been elected or appointed.

A Voice.—Question.

Mr. Williams.—Mr. President, I will ask the gentleman to take and read the whole of that section. I will ask for information as to whether 50 members in the State of Pennsylvania cannot choose for their Representative a man who lives in the State of Ohio? Is there anything in the By-Laws which prevents those 50 members from doing that?

The President.—I do not know that there is any rule that applies directly to that case.

Mr. Luscomb.—Section 7 of Article I of the By-Laws seems to bear on that: "Representatives shall recommend to their Chief Consuls names of members of the League to serve as Consuls, and shall recommend hotels for appointment as League headquarters. They shall, in connection with their Chief Consul have power to decide all local matters in their States, as provided for in these Rules, and shall have a general oversight over the affairs of the League in their immediate district." That does not mean some other district.

The motion was hereupon put and carried.

Mr Harris.—Mr. President, the third question which Mr. Pratt presented was, shall telegrams be received as duly authenticated proxies? I move, Mr. President, that telegrams shall not be received as duly authenticated proxies.

Mr. Hayes.—I second the motion.

The motion was hereupon put and carried.

Mr. Harris.—Mr. President, I move we proceed to other business.

The President.—The regular order of business, I believe, will be the election of a Secretary-Editor, as at this time we are without an officer of that kind.

Mr. Bidwell.—Mr. President, I move you, sir, that the regular order of business be varied, and that the report of the Executive Committee be taken up, read, and considered.

Mr. Harris.—I second that motion.

I think it is a point which the Committee has tried to make plain that Mr. Aaron has not stated that he was instructed by gentlemen who had given him a proxy as principal as to whom he should appoint as his alternate, or to use his judgment as to appointing an alternate.

A Voice.—Question.

The President.—Gentlemen, are you ready for the question? Those of you who favor the question as offered by Mr. Harris and seconded. The motion is on the throwing out of the—

Mr. Harris.—I will repeat the motion. The motion is that the proxies sent without instruction to the Secretary-Editor officially shall not be counted.

The motion was hereupon put to the house, and declared carried.

Mr. Harris.—I will now take up the second point of Mr. Pratt's statement, and that is the question, shall Mr. Wood and Mr. Zacharias be considered members of this Board, notwithstanding that they have removed from their respective States? I move that they be not considered members of this Board.

Dr. Butler —I second that motion.

The President —Is there any argument?

Dr. Brown —Mr. President, I would like again to know on what authority or rule these gentlemen are thrown out. There is nothing, I think, in the Constitution or By-Laws that affects it. And, as the gentleman said just before, the rule as to the Senate of the United States or any Legislature, may not affect the question at all. Then what does affect it? On what grounds do we throw them out? Mr. Zacharias was elected a Representative of New Jersey; he has not resigned; there is nothing to show that Mr. Zacharias' moving from the State would disfranchise him. He has sent in his proxy. And I, as a Representative of New Jersey, would like to know how it is that this body can throw out Mr. Zacharias in this way.

Mr. Harris.—The gentleman is from New Jersey and is my friend, and perhaps he can give me a little information; and if he will give it in one way, I will be willing to withdraw my motion. Before asking this question I will state one thing, and that is; it will be found that every Representative in Congress, every Senator in Congress, every clerk in the Government departments or in corporations who may remove from his State temporarily and who goes home and votes, expressly says that is his home, and that he has not lost his residence; and the us the amount now standing in the bank—the balance that belongs to the League?

"Mr. Wells.—I would state here that the Secretary has two bank accounts—one, the Secretary's account of membership, and the other the BULLETIN account. The balance on hand in the National Bank of the Republic to the credit of the Secretary is $602 73, as is shown in the balance-sheet here. The balance on hand in the Provident Life and Trust Company is $3,835.50."

Now, Mr. President, I would like to ask the Executive Committee to tell me, or to read to us, the report of the accountant that was made in June, which ought to give us some idea as to whether that answer was correct. I do not intend to say here that it was not. But I ask the Committee if they can satisfy my curiosity, and tell me whether that report made in June shows whether or not that answer was correct.

Mr. Aaron.—Mr. President, as I understand it, the Executive Committee have handed in their report as they intended to make it. The order of business has been reversed. My report naturally comes before, and I have it ready for you, and my report will answer those questions, perhaps.

Mr. Harris.—I rise to a point of order—that we are considering the report of the Executive Committee. That was the motion that was made. I did not ask the gentleman for information; I asked the Executive Committee. If I had wanted any information from the ex-Secretary-Editor, I should have asked him for it.

Mr. Aaron.—I rise, Mr. President, to a point of order—that Mr. Gulick stated that that was the Executive Committee's report, and that therefore any other report to be read, a later or an earlier report, would come under this motion calling for that report. The motion called for the report of the Executive Committee. Mr. Gulick has stated that he has read that report; and I say that Mr. Gulick, in reading the report of the Executive Committee, has called attention to certain losses of the BULLETIN and certain other matters. My report explains those, as I think, and my report answers the very questions of Mr. Harris so exactly the way he wants it answered, and in exactly the way that the Executive Committee wants it answered. And I claim, on the point of privileg-, and as a point of order, that I should have a right to read my report.

Mr. Harris.—I have no desire, Mr. President, to stop the gentleman from reading his report. But in their report the Committee state that Mr. Veysey has submitted a certain document. In that document he refers to previous documents. Those previous documents the Board has never heard read. And it seems to me that it is perfectly proper to ask the Committee for a little further explanation of their report. If there is anything the gentleman desires to explain, he shall have ample opportunity to do so. I promise him that, for my part, if I have anything to say about it. But we are at present dealing with the report of the Executive Committee. If there are any questions or omissions there, the Committee have said they would give us the fullest information. The gentleman proposes to tell us as to the loss on the BULLETIN. I am not inquiring as to the loss on the BULLETIN; I am inquiring whether that Committee knows, through the report of Mr. Veysey, whether or not the statements made at that time in Boston by Mr. Wells were correct. I do not see that there is any other question at this moment before the Committee.

Mr. Potter.—I rise to a point of order. My point of order is that until some motion is made with reference to the report of the Executive Committee we have no right to consider or act upon it.

Mr. Harris.—Mr. President, I rise to a point of order, that there is a motion that the report of the Executive Committee be read, received, and considered.

The President.—That was the case.

Mr. Gulick.—I understand that there is required from the Executive Committee the previous reports made by their expert. The Committee have those previous reports, and they are three in number—one dated June 30th, 1886, one dated August 11th, 1886, and the third August 31st, 1886. They are as follows:

REPORT NO. 1.

Dr. N. Malon Beckwith, President; T. J. Kirkpatrick, Vice-President; John C. Gulick, Esq., Executive Committee, L. A. W.

DEAR SIRS:—Mr. Walter H. P. Veysey, of our firm, having at your request met you at the Colonnade Hotel, Philadelphia, on Saturday, June 26th, and proceeded with you to the office of Mr. Eugene M. Aaron, Secretary-Editor of the League of American Wheelmen, and after some general conversation commenced, as desired by you, an examination to ascertain in what manner he had kept the books of the League, for the purpose of certifying the accounts as rendered by him, we have to report in regard to the books kept.

First. As to the cash book. He has not got one.

Second. As to the bank account. He has at present one bank account, with the "National Bank of the Republic."

As to check books. In his check books he enters the amounts deposited, but in so doing he has failed to give information as to what is deposited, i. e., as to whether or not the deposit consists of checks, or currency, or both, and from whom received, and, above all (in view of the fact that he has kept no cash book), to give information as to whether the money so deposited belongs to the League, or to himself personally, or to both, thus: Moneys received for dues and initiation fees, and moneys received for advertisements, should have been kept separate from moneys deposited for himself from his private means.

All the information the check book gives, is (say):

Deposited April 28th, $570.00.
Deposited April 29th, $205.05.
Deposited April 30th, $198.14.

And so on without specification, and as Mr. Aaron says he cannot tell how much, either in any one deposit, or in the aggregate, he has deposited of his own money, and as there is no cash book, the only way that at present seems possible to trace the ownership of the money so deposited would be to get from the bank the deposit slips and examine them, but that would be a long, tedious, and uncertain matter.

As to checks. His manner of keeping record of checks drawn is nearly as vague, as he draws some checks to "Bearer" for "Sundries," part of which are for expense of the League and part for himself.

Mr. Aaron has also kept an account with the "Provident Life and Trust Co.," which he informs us he closed in the early part of May this year, but as he is unable to recollect where he has put the check books, pass books, and canceled checks, we were (with the exception of a short time in about June, 1885,) unable to see them, although anxious, as was your Committee, as we both informed Mr. Aaron, to have them for examination. Mr. Aaron stated that as soon as he finds them he will express same to Mr. Gulick's office. We therefore suggest to the Committee that it might be well for them to urge Mr. Aaron to get same, so that when they wish to examine the books they would be on hand.

We have altered the manner of keeping his check book so as to enable him at a glance to tell exactly how his bank account stands. We would suggest that you insist that he should keep a separate bank account for the moneys of the League only, and not mix up his own money with it; at the same time would further suggest that for his own protection he should have some other officer countersign all L. A. W. checks; by so doing he would have an additional voucher for each disbursement and would lessen the labor of the Auditing Committee. We would note here that on June 26th his bank account appears to be overdrawn some $56.93.

Third. Ledger. Contains the Secretary's account with the Treasurer, crediting him with the share of dues, etc., and charging him with cash remitted, etc., and also contains the accounts of the various divisions, but it does not give, except to the bookkeeper who knows the different books kept, the necessary reference to other books containing the details.

Fourth. Membership ledgers. Containing list of members and addresses, with the numbers, are very well kept.

Fifth. L. A. W. BULLETINS. The amounts charged for advertisements are entered in a day book for this purpose, giving details of same, etc., and posted to the BULLETIN Ledger, but this ledger does not give any reference to the folio of the day book, and when any cash is paid by advertisers for amounts due by them, the amount is placed to the credit of the party direct, but, of course, as there is no cash book, there is no reference to it, and the money so paid is in many cases credited without date, so that tracing same would be a somewhat difficult task. This also contains the account with the publishers in about the same manner.

Sixth. He has also a rough book in which he places each day the amount of cash received from members, according to the division they belonged to, and which he erroneously calls a "cash book," but, as a matter of fact, it is nothing but a "memorandum blotter," performing the purpose of keeping each division separate, as far as receipts are concerned, and does not contain any account of payments to the divisions, or of any other disbursements, and has no footings.

We have not, as yet, attempted to v rify the accounts as presented by Mr. Aaron, which, as we explained to you on Saturday, would necessarily take considerable time, but for the present have, as then instructed by you, simply looked over his books with the view of organizing a new set, the plan of which we will present to the Committee for their approval.

Commending this report to your considerate attention, we remain, Faithfully yours,

VEYSEY & VEYSEY,
Accountants.

REPORT NO. 2.

Dr. N. Malon Beckwith, President; T. J. Kirkpatrick, Vice-President; John C. Gulick, Esq., Executive Committee L. A. W.

DEAR SIRS:—Mr. Walter H. P. Veysey, of our firm, having made an examination of the books, subsequent to our first report, we would state:

1st. That we have organized and put in successful operation a new set of books, which will give instant information on any point, and we cheerfully give Mr. Aaron, and Mr. Aaron, Sr., credit for the courtesy shown us during the examination, and for the pains he took to become personally familiar with the working of same.

2d. We find that at the beginning of the present fiscal year, January 1st, 1886, there was due L. A. W. Treasurer, as shown by Ledger, folio 115, as on October 6th, 1885, $1,593.51, with memorandum:

"By written order of Executive Committee this balance was changed to simplify accounts,		$1,575 51
December 27th, 1885, L. A. W. Treasurer, Cr. By cash as additional capital,		500 00
Making due Treasurer,		$2,075 51
To be held by Mr. Aaron as Working Capital. At the same date there was due in addition to "Working Capital," as above,		$2,075 51
To Pennsylvania Division,	$107 50
" District of Columbia Division,	21 50
" Iowa Division,	2 00
		131 00
" E. Stanley Hart & Co.,		1,258 38
" L. A. W. Treasurer (paper sold November and December),		50
And owing By L. A. W. Treasurer (expenses November and December),	$ 87 90
By Advertisers,	1,073 96
Add Loss on BULLETIN to December 31st,	523 02
Leaving a balance to be accounted for as cash on hand,	1,782 51
	$3,467 39	$3,467 39

TREASURER'S ACCOUNT (NEW).

To end of Second Quarter, 1886.

1885.		Cr.
Nov. 9th.	Paper sold,		$1 25
Dec. 9th.	"		1 25
1886.
Feb. 23d.	"		1 25
May 11th.	Stencils sold,		8 00
June 30th.	Electros sold,		4 12
" "	Fees and dues (see detailed statement),	6,722 12
" "	Subscriptions to BULLETIN,	12 15
		6,750 14

1885.		Dr.
Dec. 31st.	Expenses, etc. (November and December), ...	$ 87 90
1886.
Jan. 31st.	Expenses, etc. (including salary of Secretary-Editor, October, November, and December, 1885), .	742 31
Feb. 16th.	Cash paid Treasurer (quasi settlement to Jan. 31st),	672 29
" 28th.	Expenses, etc., February,	232 44
Mar. 31st.	" " March, . .	452 89
April 30th.	" " April, . . .	190 90
May 31st.	" " May (including salary, 1884-5, $250) .	859 72
June 30th.	Expenses, etc., June, . . .	388 47
" "	" at meetings, $113 61
" "	" Renton case, 371 70	485 31
" "	" Loss on BULLETIN, 1,416 90
		$5,529 13
" "	Balance due Treasurer . .	1,221 01
		$6,750 14

3d. On July 1st, 1886, or end of Second Quarter of fiscal year we find:

Due to L. A. W. Treasurer		$1,221 01
" " for "Working Capital,"		2,075 51
Divisions, ...		1,910 80
To E. Stanley Hart & Co., ...		3,593 81
And owing by Advertisers, ...	$3,178 34
Leaving balance to be accounted for as cash on hand, ...	5,532 79
	$8,711 13	8,711 13

On June 26th his bank account appears to be overdrawn some $56.93.

The L. A. W. BULLETIN shows cost to July 1st, 1886:

Amount of E. Stanley Hart & Co.'s bill for 52 numbers of BULLETIN, . . .	$9,713 14
Discounts (net), ...	15 63
Commissions to advertising ag'ts, Rowley,	11 75
Sundry expenses and receipts, balance, .	2 69
Proceeds, ...		$9,743 21
Advertisements charged, ...		8,326 31
Making loss on BULLETIN, ...		$1,416 90

STATEMENT TO JULY 1ST, 1886.

1886.
Jan. 1st.	To balance	$1,782 51
June 30th.	To fees and dues received, acct. Treasurer, $6,722 12
"	" subscriptions, 3,950 89	10,673 01
	Including over-credit, . .	5 01
"	Paper, etc., sold, ...	13 37
"	Subscriptions to BULLETIN,	12 15
"	Cash from advertisers, . .	2,894 85
	Cr.
June 30th.	By paid Treasurer to date,		$4,024 33
"	" divi-ions "		2,171 09
"	" E. S. Hart & Co. to date, . . .		3,647 68
"	Balance to be accounted for as cash on hand, ...		5,532 79
		$15,375 89	$15,375 89

4th. The amount to be accounted for July 1st, or at end of Second Quarter, as shown in foregoing statements, is $5,532 79
And in reduction of same Mr. Aaron, on July 8th, deposited in bank 1,700 00

Leaving yet to be accounted for, ... $3 832 79 subject to some smaller payments and receipts since, there being no assets on hand to represent said amount.

Mr. Wells, of E. Stanley Hart & Co., informed us that his firm had received Mr. Aaron's note for $2,000 (in addition to $1,350 paid them since in cash from receipts, leaving a balance of $153.81 due then to July 1st, 1886).

If Mr. Aaron, personally, pays these notes at maturity it will reduce the amount to be accounted for to $1,832 79. Not having been able to get access to Mr. Aaron's check and bank pass books, with the Provident Life and Trust Co., we could not find at what time or in what amounts the money to be accounted for has accrued.

Commending the above to your considerate attention, we remain,

Faithfully yours,
VEYSEY & VEYSEY, Accountants.

REPORT NO. 3.

Dr. N. Malon Beckwith, President; T. J. Kirkpatrick, Vice-President; John T. Gulick, Esq., Executive Committee L. A. W.:

DEAR SIRS:—Referring you to our previous reports and to trial balance of August 21st, which shows that at that date Mr. Aaron was accountable to the League for $3,747.85, we have now the pleasure of stating that Messrs. E. Stanley Hart & Co. have given their receipt to Mr. Aaron for his notes to them of

July 19, at 2 months for	$1,000
July 28, at 60 days for	1,000
	$2,000

in part settlement of their account for printing the "L. A. W. BULLETIN," which they accept "without recourse to the League of American Wheelmen or its officers," and that Mr. Aaron has further deposited in bank 2,000 thereby making good said $3,747.85, and leaving a balance to his credit of $76.41 on August 30th, as shown in trial balance of that date.

Together $4,000

Faithfully yours,
VEYSEY & VEYSEY, Accountants.

Office, 31 Nassau Street, New York, August 31st, 1886.

L. A. W. TRIAL BALANCE.

AUGUST 21ST, 1886.

		Dr.	Cr.
1	Cash, ...	$ 455 50
2	E. M. Aaron, Special Account, . . .	3,747 85
4	" Salary, ...	287 24
7	L. A. W. Bulletin, ...	291 52
10	Expense, ...	507 37
16	E. S. Hart & Co., ...		$3,000 00
24	L. A. W Treasurer, ...		1,196 87
48	"Working Capital,"		2,075 51
	Due divisions, ...		1,144 18
40	For Sale, etc., account, ...		18 55
50	C. E. Aaron, ...	30 00
	Advertisers' accounts, ...	2,152 43	36 80
		$7,471 91	$7,471 91

E. & O. E., New York, August 24th, 1886.
VEYSEY & VEYSEY,
No. 31 Nassau Street. Accountants.

L. A. W. TRIAL BALANCE.

AUGUST 30TH, 1886.

		Dr.	Cr.
1	Cash, ...	$ 682 65
4	E. M. Aaron, Salary Account, . . .		76 41
6	L. A. W. Bulletin Account, . . .	386 68
9	Overpaid Account, ...	50
16	E. S. Hart & Co., ...		1,214 26
24	L. A. W. Transfer Account (new), .	77 96
25	" (old), ...		403 67
43	Working Capital, ...		2,075 51
50	C. E. Aaron, ...		10 00
	Due divisions, ...		1,303 68
10	Expense, ... $707 37
	" . . . . . 70 92 —	778 29
	Advertisers' accounts	3,160 85	3 40
		$5,086 93	$5,086 93

N. B.—The amounts to the credit of the divisions are for the total receipts, and the sum due to the Treasurer from membership receipts is credited each quarter.

E. & O. E., New York, August 31st, 1886.
VEYSEY & VEYSEY, Accountants.

Mr. Harris.—It appears, then, Mr. President, from the report of the accountant, that the statement made in Boston by Mr. Wells—the unqualified statement—was not correct. Perhaps, no doubt, the gentleman will fully explain that matter when we get to it. It also appears by this report that there is been a discrepancy which has been made good. I would like to ask the Committee if they can tell me what at any time the largest amount of that discrepancy was?—the largest amount that discrepancy ever reached?

Mr. Gulick.—The largest amount was $5,600 and odd—say in round numbers $5,700.

Dr. Butler.—Mr. President, I would like to inquire if these reports are all the documentary evidence which the Committee have of this shortage in the Secretary-Editor's office? Are there any other matters or any other facts which could be brought out in this matter to enlighten the Board of Officers? I have understood indirectly that the Secretary-Editor informed the Executive Committee by letter; and if that letter is in the hands of the Executive Committee, or a copy of it, I would be very glad if it might be read, that we might know precisely the condition of affairs as stated by the Secretary-Editor himself?

Mr. Gulick.—Mr. President, I desire to say, in answer to the inquiry of the gentleman who last spoke, that there was a letter of a semi-official character, addressed to Dr. Beckwith, the original of which is not in the possession of the Committee, but of which they have an accurate and verified copy. This letter was directed to the Doctor by the Secretary-Editor.

Dr. Butler.—Mr. President, would the Committee be kind enough to read that? If it is official, I think it should come before the Board.

Mr. Aaron.—Mr. President, I would like to say on that subject that my report contains all this information, as I shall read you.

Dr. Butler.—Mr. President, I call the gentleman to order till we have finished with this matter of the Executive Committee's report. I would like to have the Executive Committee either read that letter, or state that it will not be proper for the Board to hear it.

Mr. Aaron.—Mr. President, I was simply going to say that that letter as you know, was addressed to you privately, calling your attention to this discrepancy, which Mr. Wells first called my attention to as soon as I returned from a trip which was the result of my ill health. You know that I wrote you a personal letter on that subject, requesting an interview.

Mr. Harris.—I rise to a point of order—that the gentleman is talking on a subject we are not discussing.

Mr. Aaron.—Mr. President, I want to make the point that the Committee have no such letter; that that letter was sent to you personally; that that letter has been returned to me; that that letter is in my possession, and is marked "personal;" and that the Executive Committee have no such letter, and never received such a letter.

The President.—Mr. Aaron, the facts are that you did request that that letter should be made personal. But the contents of that letter were of such a nature that I, as an executive officer of this organization, could not hold to that understanding—to that construction which you placed on it. That I, in my office as Chairman of the Executive Committee, was compelled to place that letter in the hands of the Executive Committee; and that if I had not done so, I should have violated the trust which was placed in me. It became the property of the Executive Committee and, of course, it is out of my individual hands.

Mr. Harris.—I call for the reading of that letter.

Mr. Aaron.—Do I understand, Dr. Beckwith, that that letter has become the property of the Executive Committee?

The President.—Yes, if you so construe it. A letter which is addressed to me, no matter whether it is official or of a private nature, that deals with affairs which I am interested in, I take it, it is my privilege to place in the hands of the Committee who are associated with me in that capacity.

Mr. Aaron.—Is that letter now in the possession of the Executive Committee?

The President.—That letter is not in the hands of the Executive Committee, but a copy of that letter, made and sworn to by a member of the Executive Committee, is in their possession at this time. I believe the letter, copied by a member of the Executive Committee, or by any party who holds it, and sworn to before a notary public, is evidence in law. I so understand it. I think that answers the question.

Mr. Harris.—I ask again for the reading of that letter—I ask the Executive Committee to read it.

The President.—I had hoped, gentlemen, that this matter could be arranged without calling for the reading of that letter; but, of course, if it is insisted upon, the Executive Committee will be compelled to produce the letter. The Executive Committee have been disposed to treat kindly in every way the matter which has come under their jurisdiction; and it is with a great deal of regret on my part individually, and I presume I echo the sentiments of the Committee, that we are compelled to read this letter before you. But, inasmuch as it is called for, and urged, I see no other way for the Committee to do but to produce it. Certainly, the Committee cannot be expected to shoulder the responsibility attached to what may be disclosed in that letter.

Mr. Pratt.—I rise, Mr. President, merely to interpose a suggestion—that the reports which have been read by the Executive Committee, and the statements made by the Executive Committee and the President and Mr. Aaron, would seem to me to leave little doubt that they disclose to this meeting far enough the nature of the contents of that letter, without imposing upon the Executive Committee the burden of reading it, or upon Mr. Aaron the burden of hearing it. I would suggest that the gentlemen who pursue the inquiry be satisfied to let the matter rest.

Mr. Read.—Mr. President, I want to make an amendment—that the Secretary-Editor be permitted to read the report which he a few moments ago intimated he had for the information of this body; and if it then seems to be proper or right that the letter should be read, it will then be for this body to decide whether such course would be in order. It would seem to be a matter of good sense and good fellowship for Mr. Aaron to be permitted to take the floor and make that report, and we can make our own deductions from it as it is read.

Mr. Wells.—I second the motion.

Mr. Harris.—Mr. President, I don't know but what Mr. Pratt is entirely right; and his counsel is in the nature of saving a gentleman whom I once had a very high regard for from much humiliation; and I have no desire to press my inquiries upon the subject. But we are now considering a report of the Executive Committee, and there are a few more questions I would like to ask in regard to that report before I shall move that the report be accepted. Then, Mr. President, I hope and believe that Mr. Aaron will have ample and full opportunity to read his report, and have an opportunity to say anything he desires to say. But I hold that at present we are considering that report, and I think we ought to finish it. I would like to ask the Executive Committee whether or not at the time this discrepancy was discovered Mr. John A. Wells, of Pennsylvania, was employed in the office of the Secretary-Editor, and if so, whether or not, to their knowledge and belief, Mr. Wells was aware of the discrepancy, and was aware of the discrepancy at the time he made the statement in Boston that the accounts were all right, and that the money was deposited in bank—which has been shown was not deposited at that time.

Mr. Wells.—I rise to a point of order.

The President.—What is your point of order?

Mr. Wells.—My point of order is that no member of this Board has any right to villify me in public.

Mr. Harris.—I do not villify the gentleman. I ask a question of the Executive Committee.

Mr. Wells.—Will you allow me to answer the question for the Executive Committee?

Mr. Harris.—I prefer to take my answer from the Executive Committee. You can have your say afterward.

Mr. Wells.—Will the President allow me to answer the question?

The President.—As it perhaps directly affects your standing in that matter, I will allow you to make an explanation previous to the Executive Committee.

Mr. Wells.—Mr. President, in the first place, I would state for Mr. Harris' information—

Mr. Harris.—I rise to a point of order. I do not ask this information for myself—I ask it for the League of American Wheelmen. I have no interest in this matter at all. Personally, I don't care anything about it. I come here as a Representative, or a supposed Representative, at any rate, although Mr. Aaron says I do not represent, the members of the Massachusetts Division; but I come, I suppose, to represent the Massachusetts Division; and I deem it my duty to find out the exact standing of these matters. I hope the gentleman will not refer to me, because I am not desiring to ascertain for myself, but for the League, and the League only.

Mr. Wells.—Then, Mr. President, I would desire to make a statement to correct the impression given to the Board by the last speaker in regard to the quotations he made from the minutes. I would say, in spite of the stenographic report, and my statement will be borne out by the President, that I did not state that the balance in the Provident Life and Trust Company was the amount of money, but should be. As the President and Mr. Aaron can both testify, when Mr. Aaron went on his vacation, I, after taking charge of the books of his office, very soon found that they were not in a condition in which a model bookkeeper would keep them; and he had left with me his bank book of the National Bank of the Republic, but had not left the bank book nor check book of the Provident Life and Trust Company, in which he had up to a short time previous kept all his accounts. I telegraphed him down in North Carolina, where he was at the time, asking him what his balance was in the Provident Life and Trust Company, as it was imperative that I should know this in order to incorporate it in my report for the meeting in Boston. Mr. Aaron was up in the mountains of North Carolina at the time, and did not receive or answer my telegram until after the Boston meeting.

And so I informed the President at that meeting that I could only conjecture the balance Mr. Aaron had in the Provident Life and Trust Company.

Mr. Harris.—Mr. President, the gentleman has started to answer my question, which he has not done. I asked the Executive Committee if they had any reason to believe if he knew at that time that there was any discrepancy. The gentleman undertook to answer that himself, and he has not done so. He has said nothing about it. The gentleman, as reported by the stenographic report, said that the balance in the National Bank and in the Trust Company, whatever it is, is so much money. That is, of course, the stenographic report, edited by himself or Mr. Aaron, and which went into the official minutes, and which, if it were not correct, they should have corrected them; but we won't go back.

If the Executive Committee cannot answer the question, or if the gentleman does not choose to answer it, I will go on.

Mr. Wells.—I refer to the President in regard to my statement as to the balance in the Provident Life and Trust Company.

Mr. Harris.—It was not my question in regard to that balance; it was as to whether Mr. Wells was aware at that time that there was a discrepancy in the office of the Secretary-Treasurer, in which he acted as a clerk?

Mr. Wells.—As I directly informed the gentleman, I telegraphed to Mr. Aaron to find out what the balance was in the Provident Life and Trust Company, as I had no means whatever at my disposal of finding out what that balance was, and the telegram did not reach him in time to be answered until after the Boston meeting. I think I have answered the question.

Mr. Harris.—That does not answer my question. I do not want to know about the Provident Life and Trust Company, I want to know, if the gentleman undertakes to answer the question, whether, at that time, he knew there was a discrepancy in the office of the Secretary-Treasurer, for whom, at that time, he was working as a clerk? If the gentleman does not want to answer the question, I will ask it again of the Executive Committee.

Mr. Wells.—I am perfectly willing to answer the question, and I think I have answered it; but I will endeavor to be a little more explicit. I made a thorough investigation of the books, as far as it was in my power, in order to make a report to the general meeting at Boston in May; and I found, in making that report, that the amount which I informed our President should be in the Provident Life and Trust Company was to be accounted for by the Secretary-Editor. That was as far as my knowledge went.

Mr. Harris.—I again ask the gentleman, and if he cannot answer it I will repeat the question again to the Executive Committee, to answer me, yes or no, whether at that time he knew there was a discrepancy in the office of the Secretary-Editor? That is a plain, unequivocal question.

Mr. Wells.—I will answer the gentleman plainly. I did not know there was any discrepancy in the office of the Secretary-Editor.

Mr. Harris.—The gentleman at that time was engaged as his clerk.

Mr. Aaron.—I would like to say here, and I think I might be permitted to, that he was not engaged as my clerk. Mr. Wells very kindly gave me help. He was nothing of the kind—he was an assistant editor. He had very little time to go through my books very thoroughly. He found I was guilty, if you wish to use that term, of keeping a very wretched set of books, and he found I had not left him the balance book, or cash book, or whatever you call it, of the Provident Life and Trust Company; and he could not go further than that. And I feel very sure in my mind that Mr. Wells did not know at that time the state of affairs; and I assure the gentlemen present that I did not know anything about it at all; and it is not at all likely that Mr. Wells, in the few days he had to look into it, with all the other things he had to do, would know anything about it at all. He was not my clerk. He was there as a volunteer assistant.

Mr. Harris.—On the 28th of May, in explanation of his explanation made on that day, Mr. Wells now says that was made on the authority of a telegram from Mr. Aaron at that time that he had $3,800 on deposit in that bank. Mr. Aaron told you a short time ago, as I understand the report of Mr. Veysey, that some time in May he had drawn all that money out of the bank; he had no money at all there. Mr. Aaron says he did not know there was a discrepancy at that time; and yet, not knowing there was a discrepancy, he telegraphed to the gentleman whom he had left in charge that his balance was $3,800. I simply want to know, for the information of the Board, whether Mr. Wells, who was acting as Mr. Aaron's amanuensis, his friend, his clerk, or whatever you may call it, at that time, knew whether there was any deficiency in the office of the Secretary-Editor. The gentleman says he did not. Now, I will ask the gentleman if, upon the 15th day of June, he knew there was a discrepancy in that office?

Mr. Gulick.—Will the gentleman allow me, for the Committee, to make a statement?

Mr. Harris.—Yes, sir; with pleasure.

Mr. Gulick.—When the Executive Committee proceeded to Philadelphia with their expert they found that Mr. Wells had been acting or was acting—they found him in the office acting—as Mr. Aaron's assistant. As to what his relations were to the office, the Executive Committee had no knowledge. As to whether Mr. Wells knew about this condition of the accounts, the Executive Committee had no knowledge. I think that answers the question.

Mr. Harris.—Mr. President, I have no further inquiries on that point to make, and I move that the reports of the Executive Committee be accepted.

The motion, being seconded, was duly put and carried.

Mr. Harris.—Mr. President, a motion was made by which the gentlemen of the press were permitted to remain as press representatives, under the agreement that they would not print anything except such as was approved by the Executive Committee. I now move that the Executive Committee be directed, or asked, or requested, to instruct those gentlemen that nothing that has been said in regard to the report of the Executive Committee or any of the figures given be printed. I do this because I think it is for the best interests of the League.

Motion seconded.

Mr. Egan.—I do not see how you can avoid printing the full minutes of this meeting in your BULLETIN. As I understand it, this is part of the minutes of your meeting. I do not see how you are going to keep that part out. Any matters that you are going to print in your BULLETIN I do not see how you are going to keep other people from printing them just the same.

Dr. Brown.—I think, Mr. President, that other matters have come before this Board that we have refrained from printing. I think that the precedent has been established.

Mr. Harris.—Mr. President, the reason I did not add that to the motion was because the Executive Committee assured me they would examine the report, and see that nothing that would be to the detriment of the League would be printed. I think we can trust them to do it. I think that we owe them a great deal that this money has all been recovered without any trouble.

Mr. Read.—Mr. President, some men are born bookkeepers, others are not. My confidential bookkeeper said to me the other day, "Mr. Read, have you any idea how much money you have drawn since the first of the month?" I said, "No; I have not at all."

Dr. Emery.—I rise to a point of order—that there is no motion before the house. I do not think we have got any time to waste.

The President.—There is a motion before the house. The motion is on the acceptance of the report of the Executive Committee.

Mr. Harris.—That we carried.

The President.—I should say, the printing and the matter which has been brought before the meeting.

Mr. Read.—If I understand the matter, Mr. President, everything that this man owes the League has been paid to them, and it is entirely within the province of this body not to wash our dirty linen, if you please to call it so, in public. I think the proposition of the gentleman that they be expunged from the records and not given to the public is an entirely proper one, and I don't know any gentleman on this floor that is more entitled to speak on that subject than myself. I am on Mr. Aaron's bond, and, as his bondsman, fully able to make good any deficit to this League that they may discover, and I make the request; and, if it be accepted, I will sustain your order, gentlemen, and sustain your privilege that this part of the report to the Executive Committee be kept in the archives of the body without being given either in the BULLETIN or to the public.

Mr. Harris.—That is in my motion.

Mr. Bidwell.—Mr. President, I heartily agree with the gentleman who has just taken his seat, and I trust that these details will be kept within us, and that every member of this Board will respect them as a part of our proceedings which are not to be divulged. I also favor that they be not printed as the minutes of this meeting in the regular way in the BULLETIN. I also favor that the Executive Committee or this Board request the newspaper men who are present—one of whom is here out of courtesy extended, and others who are members of this Board—not to print any of these details, in part or in general; and that they be not given to the Associated Press. I would also suggest, as a further safeguard in this matter, that some member of the Executive Committee be deputized to examine the reports which go out from the members of the press who are here.

The President.—I should say your Executive Committee will most assuredly do that without any motion.

Mr. Howard.—I would ask Mr. Harris to make his motion a little more definite. Probably he will. Probably the general body of the members would not appreciate this matter; and I am perfectly willing, and I would be glad not to say anything about it; and I think we would all be willing not to say anything about it. And if the motion can be made in a more definite shape, for instance, that no direct reference to the report of the Executive Committee be printed in the BULLETIN, that would do it. As it is now, it is a general matter—some parts of it.

Mr. Kirkpatrick.—Mr. President, the Executive Committee have submitted a report. After the regular report which we have prepared and presented to your body, a question comes calling out other reports in our possession, and which we do not present as part of our report at this time. Now, it seems to me, Mr. Harris, if you will make your motion so definite as to say which part of that report, whether the report proper, or the reports coming out of this inquiry, are included in your motion, it will then be definite. It seems to me that some report from the Executive Committee will be looked for by the membership at large in the report and minutes of this meeting. It is simply to define between the report proper and your inquiry.

Mr. Harris.—Mr. President, I will amend the motion in this way: that that the report of the Executive Committee proper appear in the usual manner in the BULLETIN, and be given in the newspapers, but the further reports and the controversy arising therefrom, both be omitted from the BULLETIN, and that the gentlemen of the press be requested to keep them out of their reports. Then the membership at large will have our regular Executive Committee's report, in which I think there is nothing which will do any particular harm to the League. I desire to shield as much as possible the gentleman that has the misfortune to stand in the position he does, in spite of what he has stated to me to-day, which was directly opposite to what he said to the Executive Committee. I am still anxious that the matter be kept quiet, not only for his sake, but for the League and all of us.

The President.—Gentlemen, you understand the remodeled motion which is now made, and which is to stand in place of the original mot on made by Mr. Harris?

The modified motion of Mr. Harris, being seconded, was duly put and carried.

Mr. Wells.—Mr President, in justice to myself, I would like to make a little fuller answer to the question that Mr. Harris previously asked me; and I will say that in going through the books, preparing for the report for the Boston meeting in May, I found that the amount that was stated should be due in the Provident Life and Trust Company was to be accounted for; but I fully believed at that time that it was in the Provident Life and Trust Company; and after the meeting in May, as soon as Mr. Aaron came home from the South, I reported to him in exactly what condition his books were; and the result of that conference was the letter to the President of the Executive Committee which has been before referred to.

Mr. Harris.—Mr. President, I have asked the gentleman upon the subject; but if he will kindly permit me, I would like to ask him two more questions in regard to that matter. Is the gentleman willing to answer?

Mr. Wells.—Yes, sir.

Mr. Harris.—One is, is the gentleman a member of the firm of E. Stanley Hart & Co., who print the BULLETIN? Is the gentleman willing to answer?

Mr. Wells.—I am a special member of that firm.

Mr. Harris.—Will the gentleman answer me if the Secretary-Editor—if he should happen to be elected to that position—whether it would not be his duty to audit, in the first place, the accounts—

Mr. Aaron.—I rise to a point of order—

Mr. Wells.—The accounts of E. Stanley Hart & Co. have been fully audited by the Executive Committee's expert.

Mr. Harris.—The gentleman evades my question. If he doesn't want to answer—

Mr. Wells.—I am perfectly willing to answer.

Mr. Harris.—The question is that if you should be elected to the position of Secretary-Editor (and there are rumors around that you are a candidate for the position), wouldn't it be your duty in the first place to audit the accounts of E. Stanley Hart & Co. before they were sent to the Executive Committee?

Mr. Wells.—No, sir.

Mr. Harris.—Wouldn't it be your duty to find out how much of the composition had been well done, for which their accounts would be passed, before you reported it to the Executive Committee?

Mr. Wells.—The Executive Committee have—

Mr. Kirkpatrick.—Mr. Harris is pressing a matter which is not relevant to the subject now in hand.

Mr. Harris.—I don't care to say anything more about it.

Mr. Wells.—I move, Mr Pre-ident, that the porion of the Secretary-Editor's report which has reference to the subject under discussion be now read to the members of the League.

Motion seconded.

The President.—You hear the motion just made by Mr. Wells.

Mr. Kirkpatrick.—Mr. President, it seems to me that this is only making two bites of a cherry; that we should ask for it all. Let us have all the report while we are at it; and if the necessity arises to consider it in sections we can do so. Let us have it all together, and save going back.

Mr. Wells.—I accept the amendment.

The President.—I would like first to know what is the expression of the feeling here as regards whether we should have any dinner (this undoubtedly will be a late session), and whether you want to sit it out without refreshment or not, is a question of importance.

Dr. Emery.—I move you, Mr. President, that this meeting adjourn, to be called to order precisely at 9 o'clock.

Mr. Wells.—Mr. President, before the motion is seconded, I would like to state that my object in moving that that part of the report of the Secretary-Editor which referred to this matter be now read, was so that the whole question could be finished before the adjournment for supper. It is not very long, and will not take up much time of the members.

Mr. Dunn.—I second the motion.

Dr. Emery.—My object was not to cut off the Secretary-Editor from any explanation at all, but it was simply this, that if we should proceed with his report, and then to the election of the Secretary-Editor, and finish that business up before supper, many may go home when there is other important business to come before this meeting. If we adjourn now and get our supper, and then come in and hear the report of the Secretary-Editor, certainly there is no injustice done to him in that, because he has the last say, and has a respite from now till 9 o'clock to consider the report of the Executive Committee. So there is nothing unfair about that. I think that course would retain some members here.

Mr. Aaron.—Mr. President, I suppose I am out of order, but I would like to be able to say something on that subject. I have already received a telegram that indicates that I may be called away on business. I would like to read that portion of my report naturally now, while all who have heard the Executive Committee's report and the remarks are present. I know that a number who are present now will not be present after dinner, and I am not at all positive that I will myself, although I expect to be here.

Dr. Emery.—I will withdraw my motion, if Mr. Aaron will tell us about how long it will take him—give us some idea.

Mr. Aaron.—I only propose now to read that part that I think refers to this matter. I think it will take only a few minutes.

Dr. Emery.—How long will that take?

Mr. Aaron.—Two or three minutes.

Dr. Emery.—The whole report?

Mr. Aaron.—I think the whole report will take three-quarters of an hour. There is just a little paragraph that refers to this matter.

Dr. Emery.—I withdraw my motion, and will allow Mr. Aaron to read that paragraph, certainly.

Mr. Harris.—I think we ought to have the whole report. I am willing to sit and hear the whole report.

Mr. Fisbie.—I think we had better go on and get through the business. We have wasted all day long and accomplished nothing, and it is about time we kept on now and got through with the business.

Mr. Howard.—I am decidedly in favor of going down-stairs, and I think we all are, but it is nothing more than justice, after what has been said about Mr. Aaron, that he should have his opportunity to make his reply. I move that Mr. Aaron be allowed to read that portion of his report which bears upon this subject.

Motion seconded and carried.

Mr. Aaron.—Mr. President, this begins on page 33 of my report.

After reading the extract from his report, Mr. Aaron said:

Mr. Aaron.—Now, gentlemen, I want to say that at the time I was elected Secretary-Editor the Board changed the By-Laws, so that the whole order of proceedings was reversed. In the first place, I might say that, as Mr. Read has stated, although all he knows is what he knows to-night, I have never had any education as a bookkeeper, and I am free to admit I am totally unfitted to manage the books of the League. I was going on to say that when the League elected me its Secretary I had to devise new systems, inasmuch as the whole order of procedure was reversed. We had always collected the money in half rates in former years from the Treasurers of divisions. Suddenly the whole plan was changed. All the moneys came to me, and this sum had to be divided and sent to the divisions. We had no system of books that prov ded for this, though Mr. Terry started a system which I supposed was the best and which I followed for a time, and Mr. Terry thought that it was, and it seemed so to me at the time, at any rate. I thought at the time it was exactly the thing we wanted. Then, I also had to take charge, as you know, about the same time, of the affairs of the BULLETIN. The advertising accounts of the BULLETIN could not be collected promptly. I found that in paying bills to E. Stanley Hart & Co. I was personally responsible to them, the League not being incorporated; and they had no agreement with the Executive Committee, but only with me, and they could look to no one else but me; and they gave me to understand very clearly that they expected me to pay these bills. As I told you, I was in a very short time, or at least under seven months, without working capital, and had furnished the League some $1,900. Practically, for some time, instead of there being a balance in my hands for the League, it was reversed. During all this time I naturally drew on my own bank account. I had at that time another bank account, but as I had gone out of the business for which it was kept, I simply transferred my own account to that account. And that wretched state of affairs I followed along after working capital was given me—simply deposited there. Then when the renewal season came, which was totally unprecedented—80 per cent. of the renewals came in within five or six weeks—I was, as you all know, swamped under work. I worked very hard—tried to work conscientiously. I worked, I think I can safely say, on an average sixteen hours a day. I am sorry I haven't it here, but I could bring you the written testimony of my doctor to the effect that I came very near having an attack of brain fever, which I had had once before, and which he thought at this time was going to put an end to my wretched bookkeeping and everything else. I want to say, gentlemen, that I truthfully assure you that I had not the least idea that things were not as they should be. As Mr. Veysey has reported, the cash book was not a cash book. I always called it a cash book and labeled it so, but it was not a cash book. It was arranged by divisions. It was very awkward and very cumbersome, and I had no time to understand how they stood. I took money out of that bank account for my own use and for my own business (because I did not keep my own accounts as I should have kept them) that I sincerely thought that I was entitled to, which belo ged to the League. Mr. Harris says things have been shown to-night to be different from what I told him to-day. He alludes to our conversation at dinner time. I never denied, when anybody asked me, that I had got the League books in a hopeless tangle; that I did not know how I stood; that I did not know about my balance; and if anybody asked me how it was, I have repeatedly told them that I was indebted to the Executive Committee for their leniency, and that now I was square with the League. I should have made this report to you in Buffalo in September; I ought to have done it. I should, perhaps, have resigned at once and told the membership at large my situation, but I do not believe I have anything to lose among those who have known me or those who have had my acquaintance, or, at the same time, that I have anything to lose by the publicity of these facts. I do not ask you to believe me or to believe anything, but I do assure you again (of course I cannot make it any more emphatic) that I was due to carele-sness, due to gross negligence, which shows to you that I was unfitted for the position, and was due entirely, to use a trite expression, to a weakness of the head, and not a weakness of the heart.

Mr. Harris.—Will the gentleman permit me to ask him one question—merely to set myself right?

Mr. Aaron.—Certainly.

Mr. Harris.—I would like to ask the gentleman if he did not tell me to-day that there was nothing that he had written, or said, or done, while Secretary-Editor, that he was unwilling that the public and the members of the League should know all about?

Mr. Aaron.—I did not. If it is necessary for me to make an explanation—

Mr. Harris.—I won't raise a question of veracity with the gentleman.

Mr. Aaron.—I think it is due to me that I should make an explanation. Mr. Harris gave me to understand that if I would use my influence to get his candidate for Secretary-Editor elected, that nothing of the sort would come out, and that it was to my advantage to have this thing hushed up.

Dr. Emery.—I desire to renew my motion to adjourn till 9 o'clock.

Mr. Harris.—Just one moment. The gentleman has made a statement—

Calls for the question.

Thereupon, at 8.15 P. M., the motion being duly put and carried, the meeting adjourned until 9 P. M.

EVENING SESSION.

At 9.30 P. M., President Beckwith, in the chair, said:

The President.—Gentlemen, are you ready to proceed with the regular order of business?

Mr. Schwalbach.—Mr. President, I move that the adjourned election of Secretary-Editor be now in order. I move that the nominations for Secretary-Editor are in order.

Dr. Cooley.—Mr. President, I do not think we have had a full report from the outgoing Secretary-Editor yet. We ought to hear his full report.

Dr. Butler.—I second the motion.

The President.—The motion is made and seconded that we proceed to elect—

Mr. Pratt.—Mr. President, I think it is hardly justice to the meeting that the election should take place without hearing the full report of the Secretary-Editor. It was understood that that part of it which related to the controversy, which sprung up before dinner, should be read then, and the balance of it should be read afterward. It seems to me to be the more orderly proceeding that we should finish that report, and then proceed to something else. So I hope the motion will not prevail.

Dr. Emery.—I would like to ask the Ex-Secretary-Editor if there is anything in his report that he desires to read before the election—any particular portion of it?

Mr. Aaron.—There are portions I should like to read. I should like to read the whole thing. There are portions that I do not know are very pertinent to come out before the election. A very great deal of the report is dry detail, and I cannot see that it has any bearing one way or the other. Certain portions of the report I want to read as soon as possible, for they account for the excessive and, as it seems to many of you, the great and disappointing loss on the BULLETIN; but I don't know that it has any particular bearing on the election.

Mr. Hayes.—Mr. President, as the question before this house is to consider the matter of the election of the Secretary-Editor, and as I am sure there are some Representatives that have to leave on the 10.30 or 11 o'clock trains, they desire to have this matter settled. And it seems to me that, as Mr. Aaron says that his report will take three quarters of an hour, that question can be left until after the election, and allow these gentlemen to participate in what they have waited here all day long for.

Mr. Read.—Mr. President, I do not see how we can intelligently form our conceptions or views upon any new incumbent to this office until we know something as to the transactions of the League organ; and I do not see how we can get that until we have had the report of the retiring Secretary-Editor. I, for one, would not feel competent to cast my ballot, or form any judgment, until I knew exactly the status of the affairs and transactions of the office in the past.

Dr. Emery.—Mr President, Mr. Aaron himself, or the ex-Secretary-Editor, says that there is nothing in his report that is pertinent to the election, as I understand him.

Mr. Aaron.—No, I did not say so; I said I did not think so; I don't know how you would consider it. There are matters that I consider are matters of considerable importance, but, of course, that is my individual view. I think that before we can intelligently act on this, some of these matters should be understood; and I think the general explanation, if I might use the term, of the other side of the question of the BULLETIN loss should be heard. It seems to me that all the Committee reports, or at least such ones of them as leave any bearing on our routine work, should be in, and should have been in long ago. And I would like to make the point, Mr. President, that there are a number with us that have been here during this meeting, a number of Representatives appointed by you since our last meeting, who, so far as I am aware, have not gone through with the usual routine of being confirmed by this meeting. That has been the usual custom. That has been the custom at all the meetings I have attended—the ten previous meetings. That has always been the first order of business; and as there are a number of men present to-night whose appointments have never been confirmed by the Board, it seems to me that that should be the first order of business.

Dr. Emery.—Mr. President, I agree with Mr. Aaron in that particular—that that should be the first business to be done, especially before the ballot, so that there should be no question about those gentlemen's votes. But it seems to me, as in his opinion, there is nothing in the report which would affect the election, that immediately after that confirmation we might proceed without any objection. Mr. Aaron is the most interested party, in one sense, in this matter; and if in his opinion his report has no bearing, why, certainly, it would not have with us.

Mr. Luscomb.—Mr. President, I hardly see how what has been done in the past in the BULLETIN has got to do with our choice of a future Editor. We are measuring not the past BULLETIN but the relative capacity for the office of Secretary-Editor of such candidates as are here brought before us, and that is the question we are considering, not what the BULLETIN has done in the past, whether made or lost, or what the report of the ex-Secretary-Editor in the past may be; it is simply the qualifications of individuals.

Dr. Cooley.—Mr. President, it seems to me quite important, in view of the fact of the many charges that we have heard, and the counter-charges that have been going around through the corridors all day long. I came here this morning with the feeling that I could not possibly stay beyond 5 o'clock, having some very sick patients at home; but I desired to see this matter through. I have been a member of the Board of Officers about—this is the second year—and have only missed in that time attending one meeting, and that was on account of professional engagements. And I know, in view of the charges that I have heard to-day, that it is just as essential that we should hear Mr. Aaron fully and completely in these matters before we dispose of them, as it is that some members that are now present should have a chance to vote on the Secretary Editorship before they go home. I attended at the Boston meeting. I then felt that there was a movement on foot, and any one without any assistance could see that there was a movement on foot, to depose Secretary Aaron. I believed in his entire integrity, and I still believe in it.

Mr. Bidwell.—I call the gentleman to order. His remarks are not relevant to the subject before the House.

The President.—I think the point is well taken. I do not see what the subject of the meeting at Boston, which occurred last spring, has to do with the subject before us.

Mr. Frisbie.—Mr. President, before we went to dinner it was understood thoroughly that Mr. Aaron would have an opportunity after dinner to give his full report; and it seems to me that in justice to Mr. Aaron at this time we should receive the report. We have been here all day long, as I have said before a number of times, and have accomplished but very little. It would seem to me as though in justice to Mr. Aaron we should hear his report now, and then we can go on and proceed with the regular business, and as to the gentlemen who are here who think they cannot stay, I don't know of any reason why they should not stay, if they want to stay to cast their ballots for any particular party, or any particular movement, why they should not have to stay with the rest of us. I know I have important business that I should like to have attended to this noon, but I have had to give it up because this meeting is not through. I wish the gentleman would withdraw his motion, and we would proceed to hear the reading of the Secretary's report in full.

Dr. Butler.—At the adjournment of the meeting the President announced that the order of business was the election of a Secretary-Editor. Upon motion, we agreed to pass that order until after we had disposed of the report of the Executive Committee, when, by proper precedure, that order of business should have been proceeded with; but, out of courtesy to the late Secretary-Editor, he was allowed to read a portion of his report bearing upon the matter of the report of the Executive Committee. It seems to me that the only matter before us now, and the first matter, is to proceed to the election of a Secretary-Editor. It is a matter that ought to come before us.

Mr. Potter.—Mr. President, it will probably strike a good many of the members present as not being quite the fact that this body so far this evening has strained itself to show any courtesy to the retiring Secretary-Editor. I do not say that he has been treated unfairly; but it strikes me that if this motion should prevail, he might very well, after the motion had prevailed, say he had been treated unfairly. The report of the Executive Committee, down to that point where the members of the Executive Committee have affixed their signatures to it, left us in a condition, perhaps, to proceed to the election of the Secretary-Editor. But for some reason the report was not entirely satisfactory, and other matters were called out as a supplementary report which did not seem to be voluntary on the part of the Committee; and these matters reflected very strongly on the management of the BULLETIN during the last year and upon the financial matters connected with it. The fact that those things came out (I do not need to argue on that point) as matter of fair play should lead us to give to the retiring Secretary-Editor, and everybody connected with the BULLETIN, a chance to explain publication of that paper, the BULLETIN, a chance to explain publication of that paper, the BULLETIN, a chance to explain fully, by their report or otherwise, exactly what the state of affairs was, and how they came to be so. We have had so far from the retiring Secretary-Editor a very meager report indeed, listened to by men who were hungry and anxious to get down-stairs. And now we are back, ostensibly for the purpose of hearing the rest of the report. I say that if we have any desire to see fair play as wheelmen, we know that all the rest of the world is not desirous on many occasions to give us fair play, and therefore we should see that we have fair play among play, and therefore we should see that we have fair play among play, and therefore we should see that we have fair play among the wheel, and I think by this system of filibustering we are simply sacrificing all the best interests of Pennsylvania. I believe that we should put the question upon its merits, and we should decide it upon its merits, and let it rest there.

Mr. Aaron.—Mr. President, I have only to say that there are persons here, for instance, there are Chief Consuls here, who have the right to vote seven votes; there are other Chief Consuls here who have the right to vote a very much less number of votes. It simply resolves itself into a question as to whether we will have this ballot at once, or whether we will listen to the candidates, if they want to say anything to us; and I cannot understand why persons who are not present and wish to be represented should not be represented. The fact that 25 gentlemen may be in the affirmative, by a counting vote, and only 15 or 18 in the negative, is no proof that that is free and fair—that is no proof that the majority of the votes that have a right to be polled here are in favor of that. We don't know yet, we have done nothing yet, to ascertain, that a majority are not in favor of listening to these candidates, either of them—to anything that they want to say.

Mr. Pratt.—Mr. President, I rise to a point of order—that a call for a proxy vote is not debatable. The call has been made by one member, and I ask for a ruling by the Pesident as to whether that is in order.

The President.—I shall decide that we proceed at once to the proxy vote.

Mr. Stall.—Upon the question as to whether we will proceed?

The stenographic minutes were here referred to, to find the motion, after which the President said:

The President.—It seems by the report of the stenographer that we proceed to a ballot for Secretary-Editor, and that Mr. Pratt was nominated to represent the State of Massachusetts as teller. Are you ready for the question?

Mr. Aaron.—Is that the question we are to vote on by proxy?

The President.—If you wish to submit this to a proxy vote.

Mr. Pratt.—Mr. President, may I rise to make a suggestion to the Chair?

The President.—If you will.

Mr. Pratt.—You will all recollect that there was a motion made and seconded and carried that the meeting proceed to the nomination and election of a Secretary-Editor. Then the nominations were made. A little filibustering on the left was started. And I moved, for the sake of putting it in motion, that the nominations be made first. I wanted to separate the previous motion. That was carried, and the nominations were made. That being so, there is nothing else to do but to go on according to the rest of the vote, and proceed to the election; and it seems to me that anything else is out of order until that motion is carried out.

The President.—I think that is the proper construction.

Mr. Stall.—I would like to ask a question. Does not the Chair appoint tellers, instead of their being nominated?

The President.—That has been the custom.

Mr Pratt.—In order to save the gentleman embarrassment, I respectfully decline to serve.

The President.—If it is agreeable to all parties present, Dr. Butler and Dr. David will act as tellers.

Mr. Read.—Mr. President, do I understand this to be a proxy vote for nominations, or do we cast our vote for a proxy vote?

The President.—A proxy vote for the candidates.

Mr. Aaron.—Mr. President, I would like to know just what the status of the 15 is. As I understand it, two of them were cast aside because they were received on telegrams; two of the proxies were cast aside because they were not members of the Board; and the rest were disposed of on the ground that such proxies as were sent to the Secretary-Editor in his official capacity should not be voted.

A Voice.—Without instructions.

Mr. Aaron.—Without instructions. I wish to know which ones of those 15 or 11 the Board proposes should be voted. I have told you that some of those were sent—

Mr. Pratt.—Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. No discussion is in order until the ballot has been taken.

Mr. Aaron.—Mr. President, I am not discussing anything, I am asking to know as to which of these votes; I am asking for a decision from you. I am not discussing it. I am sorry Mr. Pratt did not understand it. I want a decision from you to know how many of those 11 can be voted. I claim to know how many of those were not received in my official capacity.

The President.—If the Committee will have—

Mr. Aaron.—I do not understand it should be left to the Committee.

Mr. Pratt.—Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. The President appointed a Committee to examine the credentials and report upon them; the Committee examined the credentials and reported a list; and that list has been accepted and adopted by this meeting. That list shows the votes entitled to be cast at this meeting, if the members are still present here to vote their proxies. No other list is known to the Board; no other list is adopted. I respectfully suggest that all this matter of trying to raise questions that are outside, with respect to the other question being brought in here and discussed now, is merely for delay. I request a ruling on that point of order—that the ballot must be taken according to the list approved and adopted by the meeting.

The President.—That point certainly is well taken. That list, adopted by the meeting, of course must be adhered to. You can not depart from that.

Mr. Dunn.—Mr. President, recognize me just a moment. I have some reason to regret it is necessary, but I really do feel it is necessary for me, unless the members remember exactly the wording of the motion which Mr. Aaron refers to, that we have it read. I am just as positive as I can be that the motion was carried as he states. It was not that those 15 names should be stricken out, but it simply said that those members who sent these proxies officially to the Secretary-Editor without instructions should not be voted; and Mr. Aaron has, just as conscientiously as any of us have, insisted all the time that some of those 15 were sent to him with instructions. I claim that the point that Mr. Aaron makes is well taken, and he has a right to insist that such ones of those that he can prove he was instructed to vote, he has a right to vote. I claim this is perfect fairness.

Mr. Pratt.—Mr. President, if my colleague on that Committee, or ex-colleague (I suppose we are not in existence now) will allow me to suggest, if he opens that question he will keep us here all night—or until next week. That is the practical effect of it. Now, what is the right and proper method of proceeding? This election is proceeding according to the order of business that has been adopted step by step by this meeting, and there is a vote to be taken, and it is demanded that that vote be taken by yeas and nays. That vote is to determine; by what right and by what method of procedure can we now open other matters, and go in and reconstruct and build up another vote upon which that ballot should be taken? I beg pardon for even saying these few words. It seems to me the course is plain to go by the foundation that is already laid, and let the other matter come afterward. I will say that if the other side will agree not to filibuster, I will agree, after this vote is taken—and let everybody else agree—to let all those votes be cast at the end of the other votes that are taken, by common consent, and raise no other question.

Mr Potter.—Mr. President, I think there is no question as to exactly how this thing occurred. When the whole question came up, after the report of the Committee, as to what should be done with those 15 votes, it was distinctly stated by the Chairman of the Committee, if I am not mistaken, and the other members that they made no decision on those 15 ballots; that they merely laid them before this body for decision. Mr. Aaron, upon the suggestion of some member (certainly he was permitted to do it), took those 15 proxies, and went over them, and explained in what manner he came by them—which came to him with instructions, and which ones did not. That was all that was done so far as any action was concerned until somebody made a motion, exactly in the words that I remember that my friend who was on the Committee alleged, and exactly as Mr. Aaron remembers, that those votes of the 15 which were sent to the Secretary-Editor in his official capacity without instructions should be discarded; and that was carried. Nothing can be plainer than that those which did come with instructions are here upon just as good a right as we are here. And it seems to me that it is perfectly fair, and in order, that that decision of the body should be observed without any further discussion.

Mr. Luscomb.—I rise to a point of order. My point of order is, that the Committee reported two things; they reported a list of those proxies that were all right, and they reported another list of proxies that they did not recommend. The list of proxies that were all right was adopted; of the others, the first one, that of Mr. Abbott, was rejected; and with reference to the rest of them this motion was made in the way that has been suggested—that proxies that were uninstructed and sent to the Secretary-Editor officially could not be used. It makes no difference what the form of that was. Those that have been adopted are our regular voting list. These others are not the voting list; they have not been accepted; they have not been adopted. And whatever was the equivocal language that was used, whether it covered them or not, they cannot be voted now, and are not entitled to be voted on at the present time.

Dr. Butler.—Mr. President, I would like to inquire, is this to be an open ballot or a secret ballot? I understand the call for a proxy vote would make it a viva voce vote.

A Voice.—It is not a secret ballot and never has been.

Mr. Hayes.—I move it be an open vote, to save time. I think none of us will have any objection to showing our hands, and show how we are to vote.

Mr. Aaron.—Mr. President, heretofore it was a secret ballot. It certainly was in Buffalo in 1885, when we had three or four ballots on the Treasurer, or the Vice-President, or somebody—we had three or four or five candidates. It has been a secret ballot heretofore.

Mr. Stall.—Mr. President, might not this settle the whole difficulty? Let those present vote by ballot, and the proxies be voted as they are called.

Dr. Emery.—I move that the Representative that has the proxy be called, and that he step up and deposit whatever he claims he has a right to vote—present a ballot with his name and the figure. There are gentlemen here who hold instructions, who desire to cast one vote for one man, and one vote for another; and I think a man should cast one vote for each vote he is entitled to. If a man is entitled to four votes, let him take those four votes and cast them; and the tellers can see that he casts exactly four votes; and there cannot be any misunderstanding about it.

Mr. Aaron, I think the man who wants to split his vote can say, "For so and so, three votes, and for so and so, such a number. I do not see any reason why we should fill up some high hat with tons of paper. [Laughter.]

Mr. Dunn.—That is the proper way. In all such occasions like this, where proxy votes are called, the order is for the person voting to write his name and the number of votes he casts, and how he votes them, on one ballot. If I cast seven ballots, and vote four for one man, and three for another, I have a perfect right to do so on my ballot; but all my votes must be on one ballot, and my name must be on it, in order that the Secretary and Tellers may see that I vote no more than I am entitled to.

The President.—Gentlemen, I am disposed to do this according to your pleasure.

Mr. Hayes.—I made a motion, Mr. President, that that be an open ballot, and that was seconded.

The President.—I did not hear it seconded.

A Voice.—It was seconded.

Dr. Emery.—I would like to ask if we are not compelled to deposit a ballot.

Mr. Dunn.—It is easy enough to write out a ballot.

Mr. Hayes.—I withdraw that motion I made.

Mr. Harris.—Mr. President, I suggest that Mr. Dunn's suggestion be adopted, and every gentleman step forward as his name is called, and deposit his vote.

The President.—I was just about to state that I thought Mr. Dunn's plan was the correct one.

Mr. Aaron.—Mr. President, may I ask another question that is not very clear in the minds of some of us? We have not heard this list. Can a Representative who thinks he is entitled to vote four votes vote them, and then, if he is entitled to vote but three by this report, he will lose one vote, or will one be counted off? I would like to know about that, or else it would be better to read this list.

The President.—I think the proper thing to do would be to read the list—to first read the list of those entitled to vote and how many.

Mr. Harris.—Mr. President, I think it will save time to have the list read, and let the gentlemen walk up and deposit the ballots at the same time. A member then knows how many proxies he can vote for—instead of reading this twice.

The President.—Exactly. As soon as the gentlemen are ready to commence voting the Secretary will read the names.

Mr. Bartlett.—Mr. President, wouldn't it be well to explain to the gentlemen exactly in what manner they are to cast their votes, in order that no gentleman would lose a vote by a mere clerical error.

Mr. Dunn.—Everybody knows how I vote. I have on it, "James R. Dunn—seven votes for Abbot Bassett." That is the kind of ballot that is voted, as a protection to us, in corporations that I have voted in, consequently I think it is right here. I am not doing any electioneering, or anything of that kind, but just showing you how I stand. That is the proper way to fill out the proxy.

The President.—We are now ready to proceed.

Mr. Gulick—There is another question; I don't know that it is important, but it might arise. There happen to be two Abbotts—I have heard two Abbotts mentioned; and it will perhaps be advisable for the full name of the candidate to be put in.

The President.—I do not think it at all essential that the initial should be placed on the ticket. There is no chance for misconstruction.

The roll was here called, and the election proceeded with.

The President stated that he would not cast a vote, as he did not think it was the proper thing that he should vote.

Mr. Kirkpatrick (in the Chair).—Gentlemen, the tellers are ready to report upon the ballot. Mr. Butler, will you give us the report?

Dr. Butler.—Mr. Chairman and gentlemen, your tellers beg leave to report the result of the ballot for the Secretary-Editor of the League as follows:

Whole number of votes cast 136
Of which Mr. Abbot Bassett received 85
And Mr. J. A. Wells 51

making a majority for Mr. Bassett of 34 votes. [Applause.]

Mr. Kirkpatrick.—Gentlemen, you have heard the result of the ballot. Mr. Abbot Bassett is elected.

At 11.15 P. M., on motion of Mr. Luscomb, the meeting was declared adjourned to 9.30 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Official Announcements.

IMPORTANT.

ROUTES TO THE ST. LOUIS MEET.

This department is already in receipt of letters of inquiry regarding best routes to the coming meet at St. Louis in May. Authentic information as far west as Cleveland, O., is now on hand, but west of Cleveland, such information as is on hand is very meagre and unsatisfactory.

I desire specific and authentic information of the best routes and riding from Cleveland to Massillon, thence to Indianapolis, and thence to St. Louis.

The information, to be of use, must be forthcoming immediately; so now, League members, and others of this comparatively unknown district, arise! and let us within the next ten days be in possession of all details.

State distances from town to town, material of road, hilly or level, condition of the riding, and full directions for following the road.

Trusting that this appeal will meet with a hearty response, I remain

Fraternally,
A. B. BARKMAN,
Bookmaster and Chairman Bureau of Information,
No. 608 Fourth Ave., Brooklyn.

Renewals crowded out this week by press of matter.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

No. 73—Total, 170.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., February 8th, 1887.

ARKANSAS—1.

Unattached—1
13459 Smith, Samuel G., Heckatoo.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION—3.

Oakland Ramblers—1.
13460 Lyon, W. Parker, 912 Washington St., Oakland.
Unattached—2.
13497 Melendy, H. Whaites, 14 Battery St., San Francisco.
13610 Ruggles, J. D., Jr., 2210 Jackson St., "

CONNECTICUT DIVISION—17.

Connecticut Bi. Club—6.
13461 Barnard, W. H., Hartford.
13462 Hyde, F. E., "
13463 Rathbun, F. D., "
13464 Saunders, H. H., "
13465 Storrs, W. M., "
13466 Tolles, C. L., "
Naugatuck Bi. Club—1.
13569 Hoadley, Charles H., Naugatuck.
New Britain Cycle Club—1.
13589 Flagg, H. W., 25 S. High St., New Britain.
New Haven Bi. Club—3.
13448 Backus, H. C., Forbes Ave. Annex, New Haven.
13553 Mattoon, A. W., 52 Trumbull St., "
13554 Vann, B. E., 75 Admiral St., "
Winsted Wheel Club—1.
13587 Holabird, William S., 91 Prospect St., West Winsted.
Unattached—6
13602 Briggs, Charles O., East Canaan.
13546 Merritt, Schuyler, Stamford
13449 Richman, Oliver, North Manchester.
13450 Scott, H. Walter, "
13496 Selisam, George, Box 1990, Bridgeport.
13512 Sutton, L. A., New Canaan.

DAKOTA—1.

Unattached—1.
13551 Gillespie, John H., Mitchell.

DELAWARE DIVISION—1.

Wilmington Wheel Club—1.
13525 Jefferis, Albert, 828 Madison St., Wilmington.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA DIVISION—1.

Washington Cycle Club—1.
13590 Wilmarth, Walter G., 1145 21st St. N.W., Washington.

ILLINOIS DIVISION—7.

Evanston Bi. Club—1.
13601 Jenks, Livingston, Evanston.
Unattached—4.
13600 Cotton, W. B., Rockford.
13451 Fish, H. M., 707 Benton St., Joliet.
13586 Lockwood, Charles H., 118 Park Ave., Joliet.
13547 Meyer, L. L., Havana.

INDIANA DIVISION—2.

Unattached—2.
13513 Kepler, Lynn E., Cambridge City.
13514 Young, Isaac B., Connersville.

IOWA DIVISION—1.

Unattached—1.
13452 Luce, F. A., Sioux City.

KANSAS DIVISION—8.

Concordia Bi. Club—1.
13533 Tyner, Elonzo, Concordia.
Paola Wheelmen—1.
13550 Buxton, J. F., Paola.
Topeka Wheelmen—1.
13617 Hixon, W. F., Topeka.
Unattached—5.
13532 Branch, Walter T., Kirwin,
13485 Carruthers, James R., 509 S. 9th St., Salina.
13540 DeLong, Oscar A., Wichita.
13552 Peterson, Ben, Oak St., Ottawa.
13555 Wrightsmann, B. J., "

KENTUCKY DIVISION—1.

Louisville Wheel Club—1.
13599 Noriega, F. X., 1410 12th St., Louisville.

MARYLAND DIVISION—1.

Unattached—1.
13527 Gail, G. W., Jr., care G. W. Gail, Ax, Baltimore.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION—30.

Boston Bi. Club—1.
13562 Child, A. Kennedy, 79 Franklin St., Boston.
Cambridge Bi. Club—1.
13578 Haartz, F. W., 2 Wyatt St., Somerville.
13577 Hayes, C. A., West Somerville.
13560 Hunnisten, F. R., 19 Shepard St. Cambridge.
13581 Mackiernen, T., Somerset Club, Boston.
13582 Ryder, Everett T., 12 Magazine St., Cambridgeport.
13583 Stone, William S., 33 Bowker St., Boston.
Chelsea Cycle Club—1.
13577 Conner, Harry W., cor. Shurtleff and Middlesex Sts., Chelsea.
Columbia Bi. Club—5.
13505 Bens, John. N. Attleboro.
13506 Doran, J. E., Attleboro Falls.
13507 Guild, Fred, N. Attleboro.
13508 Randall, Ray, "
13509 Swift, W. F., "
Hyde Park Bi. Club—6.
S Bayden, J., Hyde Park.
Carter, H. M., "
G loup, E., "
Higgins, O M., "
Meiggs, C. "
2 Norris, F. E., "
Northampton Wheel Club—1.
3606 Partridge, Fred F., Northampton.
Somerville Cycle Club—5.
13473 Bean, J. W., Somerville.
13474 Dodge, H. J. S., Elm Street, Somerville.
13475 Lawrence, W. E., 41 Franklin St., "
13476 Littlefield, H. S., Glen St., "
13477 Thompson, W. L., Marshall St., "
Unattached—5.
13453 Coombs, James Wahlroth, 16 Little's Blk., Cambridge.
13510 Huffbauer, Otto A., 219 Pine St., Holyoke.
13588 Knights, George L., Amesbury.
13595 Smith, Earnest, 28 State St., Boston.
13570 White, A. T., Acushnet.

MICHIGAN DIVISION—3.

Grand Rapids Bi. Club—1.
13607 Mellville, Wm., 17 Caledonia St., Grand Rapids.
Unattached—2.
13511 Gordon, Elden M., Box 893 Flint.
13598 Street, W. F., Caro.

MISSOURI DIVISION—7.

Missouri Bi. Club—5.
13549 Blossom, Russell, 217 N. 3d St., St. Louis.
13529 Christensen, L. C., 404 N. 2d St., "
13596 Hubbell, Ira C., 302 Washington Ave., St. Louis.
13530 Sharpe, R. J., care Simmons Hdw Co., St. Louis.
13531 Simkins, A. T., 3820 Washington Ave., "
Unattached—2.
13494 Fisher, Samuel E., Fulton.
13495 Wenger, Jacob, "

NEBRASKA DIVISION—5.

Omaha Wheel Club—1.
13498 Clarke, Walter G., 1113 Farnum St., Omaha.
Plum Creek Wheel Club—2.
13497 Eaton, Joel, Plum Creek.
13500 Gilmore, Charles W., Plum Creek.
Unattached—2.
13501 Coombe, Florence M., 1413 Douglas St., Omaha.
13502 Smith, Ed. B., Neb. Telephone Co., "

NEW JERSEY DIVISION—7.

Passaic County Wheelmen—3
13478 Finch, Charles, Passaic.
13479 Frishee, Hector, "
13480 Shuit, Fred, "
Trenton Bi. Club—3.
13573 Crozer, E. H., 521 E. State St., Trenton.
13574 Moore, A. W., 169 Greenwood Ave., Trenton.
13575 Watson, Walton M., 102 S. Clinton St., Trenton.
Unattached—1.
13493 Powell, Robert, Box 46, Burlington.

NEW YORK DIVISION—38.

Albany Wheelmen—1.
13515 Fuhrmann, M. Calvin, 365 Broadway, Albany.
County Seat Wheelmen—1.
13481 Lewis, Wilbur F., Goshen.
Facile Bi. Club—1.
13615 Angell, Edw. B., M. D., 261 Alexander St., Rochester.
Genesee Bi. Club—1.
13454 Van Fleet, C. W., Box 229, Rochester.
Greenwich Wheelmen—1.
13516 Bosworth, Harry A., Greenwich.
Harlem Wheelmen—6.
13534 Bangs, McKendell, 313 E. 125th St., New York. "
13515 Graham, Leo, 873 Broadway, "
13536 Halsey, Joseph B., 45 E. 11th St., "
13537 Hoffmann, William H., 109 E. 73d st., "
13538 Lamann, E. E., 106 E. 120th St., "
13539 McLean, Malcolm, 31 E. 126th St., "
Ilderan Bi. Club—1.
13486 Sheffield, W. E., 362 First St., Brooklyn.
Kings County Wheelmen—1.
13456 Ranken, H., 182 Hooper St, Brooklyn.
Long Island Wheelmen—6.
13556 Edgerton, F. O., 439 Greene Ave., Bronklyn.
13557 Healey, C. L., 18 Broadway, New York.
13558 Palmer, A. E., 208 St. Mark's Ave., Brooklyn.
13559 Roth, W. H., 1145 Bedford Ave., "
13560 Share, F. P., 336 Navy St., "
13561 Sniffen, James B., 48 Cliff St., New York.
Troy Bi. Club—1.
13591 Cook, Robley D., 14 Watkyns Blk., Troy.
Unattached—13.
13616 Arnold, Charles H., 41 Rowley St., Rochester.
13563 Beaumont, J. L., Gainesville.
13564 Bristol, F. M., "
13548 DeMott, H. M., Box 36, Brooklyn.
13565 Gale, Walter B., Norwich.
13614 Hedge, Frank G., 106 Monroe St., Brooklyn.
13187 Hotchkiss, A. L., Port Jervis.
13572 Joscelyn, Louis J., 70 W. 11th St., New York.
13593 Monty, J. P., Sandy Hill.
13597 Morris, Eugene, 2 High St., Newburgh.
13592 Munro, William K., Box 691, Cohoes.
13455 Nafis, Burroughs, Woodside, L. I.
13576 Norton, F. E., Warsaw.
13482 Parkin, Charles E., 314 W. 31st St., New York.
13603 Pierson, S. J., 110 W. Water St., Elmira.
13488 Sweitzer, Henry B., Williamsville.
13489 Sweitzer, George F., "
13566 Wighman, Frank L., Norwich.

OHIO DIVISION—6.

Marion Bi. Club—1.
13526 Scofield, George B., Marion.
Richland Ramblers—3.
13611 Gilbert, E. J., Mansfield.
13612 Harn, W. F., "
13613 Huggins, F. M., "
Unattached—3.
13608 Blackmore, George, Painesville.
13584 Fowler, R. S., 18 W. 1st St., Dayton.
13585 McMahon, Owen, South Charleston.

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION—28.

Blossburg Cyclers—2.
13490 Cook, I. H., Blossburg.
13491 Webb, Frank W., Blossburg.
Century Wheelmen—7.
13518 Beitler, Lewis E., 1527 North St., Philadelphia.
519 Collins, Philip S., 603 Brown St., "
14520 Früh, Ernest, M. D., 1225 Oxford St., "
13521 Früh, G. A., " "
522 Knop, B. G., 1763 Warnock St., "
23523 Pedrick, A. D., 1627 Poplar St., "
13524 Sadler, Wm., Jr., 1426 Columbia Ave., "
Keystone Bi. Club—1.
13581 Smith, Benjamin D., 120 Fifth Ave., Pittsburgh.
Pennsylvania Bi. Club—2.
13528 Gillingham, Horace P., 237 S. 3d St., Philadelphia.
Scranton Bi. Club—1.
13517 Godfrey, F. S., Scranton.
Sewickley Valley Wheelmen—2.
13483 Gilmore, J. R., Sewickley.
13484 McKown, A. W., "
Wilkes-Barre Bi. Club—1.
13457 Engelbert, J. R., Wilkes-Barre.
Unattached—3.
13458 Konigmacher, C., Ephrata.
13568 Patterson, W. R., Kittanning.
13542 Powell, E. C., Ridgway.

RHODE ISLAND DIVISION—1.

Rhode Island Wheelmen—1.
13594 Barnes, David L., 58 College St., Providence.

TENNESSEE DIVISION—3.

Nashville Bi. Club—1.
13604 McNish, T. H., Meth. Pub. House, Nashville.
Unattached—2.
13571 Baker, Lewis, 103 Union St, Memphis.
13605 Whiteman, F. S., Meth. Pub. House, Nashville.

UTAH—1.

Unattached—1.
13609 Mears, George A., 218 E. 2d South St., Salt Lake City.

VIRGINIA DIVISION—1.

Unattached—1.
13492 Leonard, M. B., 520 N. 4th St., Richmond.

WEST VIRGINIA DIVISION—4.

Unattached—4.
13567 Bastable, Milton, Buckhannon.
13543 Goetze, Charles R., Wheeling.
13544 Thayer, G. T., Charleston.
13545 Van Gilder, A. C., Point Pleasant.

WISCONSIN—2.

Unattached—2
13503 Keller, Emil H., Sheboygan.
13524 Prescott, Anson. "

ORDER NOW.

Last year there was some delay in filling orders for the League outfits for the reason that they all rushed in at once from different parts of the country. If members would take the trouble to order what they want before they actually want the things to wear annoying delays would be avoided. Special attention is called to Ira Perego's page advertisement and his call to "order early." He has made some important reductions in the prices of the goods which he announces, that will be appreciated by our League men. The regulation helmet has been reduced in price to $1.50, and the regulation cloth vizor cap has also been reduced to $1.50. He offers something new in the L. A. W. belt that promises to be very popular. It is handsomely made, of silk, with silvered trimmings, and the letters L. A. W. embossed on the "S" clasp. This belt his advertisement announces at $1. He has made a large reduction in the price of the regulation hose. The old price was $1.50, but it is now $1.10, and they will be sent by mail upon receipt of that price. Several domestic manufacturers have endeavored to imitate this hose but have succeeded only in putting a very inferior arti-

RUDGE TELEPHONE MAN.

Hello!

Before you make up your mind for 1887, see the Rudge Bicycles, Tricycles, and afeties.

Catalogue ready very soon.

Cast your eye on page 108.

Any bicycle is good enough

If it has compressed cushioned tires;
Bown's adjustable ball bearings all round;
is every ounce forged steel;
has a detachable saddle;
and has square rubber pedals.

If you do not know of such a machine, send to the Overman Wheel Company for a suggestion.

cle on the market. The regulation flannel shirts are $2.25. Our members can certainly find no fault with these prices, and their past experience has taught them to expect fair treatment and that the goods they get are of the best quality and just as represented. Orders are already beginning to pour in, and it is certainly good policy to send in your orders early. It should be borne in mind that in each order the League number should be given.

IMPORTANT.

The Grand Union Hotel, opposite the Grand Central Depot, New York City, is the L. A. W. and C. T. C. Headquarters. European Plan. Rooms, $1.00 per day and upward. First-class Restaurant, at moderate prices. Good care taken of wheels.

FOR SALE, EXCHANGE, ETC.

Advertisements will be inserted in this column as follows:

THREE CENTS PER WORD.

No advertisement taken for less than 50 cents. Ten per cent. will be deducted from the bill for two or more insertions.

PATENTS secured on reasonable terms. Work reliable. Papers carefully and legally drawn. Special attention given to inventions in cycling by an experienced wheelman and League member. Write for particulars.
N. L. COLLAMER,
Patent Attorney and Mechanical Engineer,
Room 47, St. Cloud Building, Washington, D. C.

FOR SALE.—Club Tandem, new June, 1886; run less 250 miles; fine order, balls all round, safe and very fast. A highly satisfactory machine. Price, $175.00. Address, TANDEM, P. O. Box 1071, Pittsburgh, Pa. tf.*

FOR SALE.—48 inch Special Star, with power traps enameled. Bought new last September. Good as new. Cost $112; will sell $85 cash. Address, BICYCLE, Box 264, Sharon, Pa.

FOR SALE.—Cunard Cripper Tricycle; folding handle-bar, ball pedals, buffer-saddle, McDonnell Cyclometer lock and chain. Ridden less than 150 miles. Owner will ride tandem next season. No exchange. Make cash offer.
GEO. O. BEACH, 63 East 125th St., N. Y.

WANTED FOR CASH, OR IN EXCHANGE FOR NEW MACHINE.—Good second-hand bicycle and tricycle. Give make, finish, style bearings; state when new, exact condition, bottom price. NEW YORK BICYCLE CO., 38 Park Place.

FOR SALE.—Kangaroo bicycle in fine order every way. Ball bearings all round. Price, $75 (a bargain). Address, FRANK P. HUDNUT, M. D., 57 Hancock St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

FOR EXCHANGE.—A 48-inch American Safety, with ball bearings. New. Will exchange for Standard Type-writer. C. E. TITCHENER, Binghamton, N. Y.

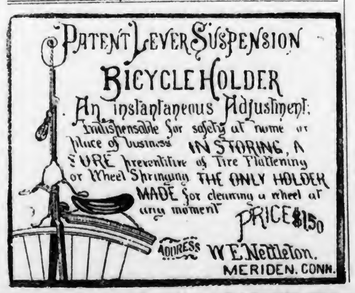
I HAVE the cash to pay for a first-class 48 bicycle. Who has a bargain? FRANK WRIGHT, Cave Spring, Ga.

FOR SALE.—52-in. Expert, all nickel. As good as new. Price, $75. C. H. THOMPSON, Brattleboro, Vt.

STAR BICYCLES ARE TAKING THE LEAD.—Safe and fast. Agents wanted. BARLOW & STARR, General Agents, Coldwater, Mich.

FOR SALE.—51-in. Star. Excellent condition. Hill climbers, rocking pedals, Kirkpatrick saddle, half-nickel, 1885 machine. $60. W. A. DENN, 4721 Jefferson St., Frankford, Pa.

A. A. C., L. A. W.



Benefit at the Chestnut Street Theatre, Philadelphia, Wednesday, March 2d, 1887.

Attraction, MISS KATE FORSYTH,
in a Powerful Comedy.

On this occasion the orchestra will play the

L. A. W. WALTZ.

All those wishing to aid the Association for the Advancement of Cycling in the good work it has undertaken, can obtain tickets for the above from Thos. E. Cookman, 7 South Third St., Philadelphia.

DEALERS!

We manufacture TOOL BAGS, equal to English, and cheaper. Write to us.

McCOY & WILLIAMS, Orange, N. J.

THEOPHILUS WOBBLE'S Trip Around the World ON A BICYCLE,

ILLUSTRATED,
Commenced in
TEXAS SIFTINGS,
July 3d, 1886.

FOR SALE BY ALL NEWSDEALERS.

Back numbers can be obtained from Te Siftings Publishing Co., 240 Broadway, N. Y.

ROYAL MAIL.

The Royal Machine Manufacturing Company, Limited, Birmingham, Sole Makers of the Celebrated "Royal Mail" Cycles, require first-class firms to undertake the sale of their unrivaled machines in New York, Boston, Washington, Philadelphia, and all the principal cities in the States.

Apply direct to

THE ROYAL MACHINE MANUFACTURING CO., Limited, SMALL HEATH, BIRMINGHAM.

"IDEAL" QUININE & SULPHUR SOAP.

There is no skin disease this soap will not benefit

STOP SCRATCHING!!

WELL, WHY NOT?

IDEAL QUININE AND SULPHUR SOAP will certainly cure all ITCHING skin diseases.

Ask any dealer in Toilet Soaps for it. Or sent to any address, postpaid, 25 cents per cake, 3 cakes for 60 cents. Q. & S. Shaving Soap, 15 cents
VAIL BROTHERS, 239 Market Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

USE IDEAL TOOTH POWDER. Price, 25 cents per Bottle.

ROYAL
Fire Insurance Co.
OF LIVERPOOL, ENGLAND.

ESTABLISHED 1845.

Head Office Metropolitan District:
ROYAL INSURANCE BUILDING,
50 Wall St., N. Y.

TRUSTEES:

JACOB D. VERMILYE, E. F. BEDDALL, Manager,
HENRY PARISH, WM. W. HENSHAW,
OSGOOD WELSH, Ass't Manager.

If you want to come out in the Spring with your Bicycle or Tricycle looking like new, before putting your machine away use a bottle of

ARDILL'S
EUREKA ENAMEL!

For Re-enamelling up or entirely re-enamelling
BICYCLES AND TRICYCLES

Is the Machine "DID IT"

Hard as Marble. Dries Instantly, without any unpleasant smell, and produces a Jet Black enamel surface in One Operation. It is thoroughly impervious to wet, cold, or heat. Will not crack, and is not liable to chip off. Any one can apply it. A suitable Brush given with each bottle.

Price, 75 cents a bottle. Cannot be sent by mail.

For sale by all Agents, and by

STODDARD, LOVERING & CO.,
152 to 158 Congress St., Boston.
Special terms to the trade.

STEEL BALLS OF BEST CAST STEEL.

For Anti-Friction Bearings.
Hardened, Ground, and Burnished
3-16" to 3" diam. Samples and Prices on application.
Simonds Rolling-Machine Co., Fitchburg, Mass.

SALESMEN WANTED!!
SALARY AND EXPENSES PAID!!

For terms and particulars address (mention this paper),
W. R. McNARY & CO., Nurserymen, Dayton, Ohio.

NOW

is the time to secure a bargain, as we must make room for new stock; hence a CLEARANCE SALE. Note Prices.

List No.	Size.	Bearings.	Make.	Finish.	Condition.	Price New.	Price.
318	36	Ball	Facile	Enamel	1st Class	$130 00	$65 00
257	36-54	"	Kangaroo	"	Good	130 00	60 00
353	48	Plain	Star	Nickel	Good	100 00	50 00
348	48	Ball	Expert	"	1885 Pattern	137 50	90 00
323	48	"	Rudge	Enamel	1st Class	137 50	95 00
*316	51	Plain	Star	"	Good	80 00	40 00
324	54	Ball	Victor	Nickel	"	140 00	75 00
328	54	"	Harvard	"	"	160 00	80 00
331	54	"	Expert	"	1st Class	145 00	95 00
308	54	"	"	Enamel	"	135 00	85 00
*359	55	"	Humber Racer	"	"	150 00	75 00
358	50	"	Expert	"	"	125 00	100 00
TRICYCLES.
350	40	"	Humber Cripper	Enamel	Good	187 50	120 00
356	42-52	"	Humber Tandem	"	"	260 00	190 00
349	48	"	Col. Two-Track	"	"	160 00	100 00
208	48	"	Victor*	"	1st Class	160 00	65 00
*351	50	"	Howe	Nickel	"	130 00	60 00
*281	54	Plain.	Star	"	Good	110 00	60 00

Any of these machines may be seen and tested at Oraton Hall, Newark, N. J., or they will be shipped to any address C. O. D., with the privilege of examination, provided the person ordering will remit enough money to pay express charges both ways in case machine is not accepted.

HOWARD A. SMITH & CO., Oraton Hall, Newark, N. J.

BROWNING, KING & CO.,

406, 408, 410 and 412 BROOME STREET, NEW YORK.

THE ONLY OFFICIAL CONTRACTORS FOR THE

LEAGUE UNIFORM.

LIST OF PRICES:

Plaited Blouse, $9.50; Knee Breeches, $6.00; Suit, $15.50. Regulation League Cloth, made by the Middlesex Mills, cost $2.00 per yard. League Buttons, large size, 5 cents each; Small size, 2½ cents each. Full set for suit, 55 cents.

TERMS:

All uniforms or parts of uniforms sent C. O. D., with privilege of examination. All orders for cloth or buttons must be accompanied by Money Order. Blank forms for self-measurement furnished on application. Orders for L. A. W. Goods will be received at any of our branch stores, as follows:

136 and 138 Madison St., 144 to 148 Clark Street, CHICAGO, ILL.
210 and 212 N. Broadway, St. Louis, Mo.
Wisconsin and E. Water Street, Milwaukee, Wis.
76 and 78 West Fourth St., Cincinnati, Ohio; 910 and 912 Chestnut Street, Phila., Pa.

All orders must be accompanied by League number

Any bicycle is good enough

If it has compressed cushioned tires;
Bown's adjustable ball bearings all round;
is every ounce forged steel;
has a detachable saddle;
and has square rubber pedals.

If you do not know of such a machine, send to the Overman Wheel Company for a suggestion.

cle on the market. The regulation flannel shirts are $2.25. Our members can certainly find no fault with these prices, and their past experience has taught them to expect fair treatment and that the goods they get are of the best quality and just as represented. Orders are already beginning to pour in, and it is certainly good policy to send in your orders early. It should be borne in mind that in each order the League number should be given.

IMPORTANT.

The Grand Union Hotel, opposite the Grand Central Depot, New York City, is the L. A. W. and C. T. C. Headquarters. European Plan. Rooms, $1.00 per day and upward. First-class Restaurant, at moderate prices. Good care taken of wheels.

FOR SALE, EXCHANGE, ETC.

Advertisements will be inserted in this column as follows:

THREE CENTS PER WORD.

No advertisement taken for less than 50 cents. Ten per cent. will be deducted from the bill for two or more insertions.

PATENTS secured on reasonable terms. Work reliable. Papers carefully and legally drawn. Special attention given to inventions in cycling by an experienced wheelman and League member. Write for particulars.
N. L. COLLAMER,
Patent Attorney and Mechanical Engineer,
Room 47, St. Cloud Building, Washington, D. C.

FOR SALE.—Club Tandem, new June, 1886; run less 250 miles; fine order, balls all round, safe and very fast. A highly satisfactory machine. Price, $175.00. Address, TANDEM, P. O. Box 1971, Pittsburgh, Pa. tf.*

FOR SALE.—48-inch Special Star, with power traps enameled. Bought new last September. Good as new. Cost $112; will sell $85 cash. Address, BICYCLE, Box 264, Sharon, Pa.

FOR SALE.—Cunard Cripper Tricycle; folding handle-bar, ball pedals, buffer-saddle, McDonnell Cyclometer lock and chain. Ridden less than 150 miles. Owner will ride tandem next season. No exchange. Make cash offer.
GEO. O. BEACH, 63 East 125th St., N. Y.

WANTED FOR CASH, OR IN EXCHANGE FOR NEW 50 A. HINE.—Good second-hand bicycle and tricycle. Give make, finish, style bearings; state when new, exact condition, bottom price. NEW YORK BICYCLE CO., 38 Park Place.

FOR SALE.—Kangaroo bicycle in fine order every way. Ball bearings all round. Price, $75 (a bargain). Address, FRANK P. HUDNUT, M. D., 57 Hancock St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

FOR EXCHANGE.—A 48-inch American Safety, with ball bearings. New. Will exchange for Standard Type-writer. C. E. TITCHENER, Binghamton, N. Y.

I HAVE the cash to pay for a first-class 48 bicycle. Who has a bargain? FRANK WRIGHT, Cave Spring, Ga.

FOR SALE.—52-in. Expert, all nickel. As good as new. Price, $75. C. H. THOMPSON, Brattleboro, Vt.

STAR BICYCLES ARE TAKING THE LEAD.—Safe and fast. Agents wanted. BARLOW & STARR, General Agents, Coldwater, Mich.

FOR SALE.—51-in. Star. Excellent condition. Hill climbers, rocking pedals. Kirkpatrick saddle, half-nickel, 1885 machine. $60. W. A. DENN, 4721 Jefferson St., Frankford, Pa.

A. A. C., L. A. W.

Benefit at the Chestnut Street Theatre, Philadelphia, Wednesday, March 2d, 1887.

Attraction, MISS KATE FORSYTH, in a Powerful Comedy.

On this occasion the orchestra will play the

L. A. W. WALTZ.

All those wishing to aid the Association for the Advancement of Cycling in the good work it has undertaken, can obtain tickets for the above from Thos. E. Cookman, 7 South Third St., Philadelphia.

DEALERS!

We manufacture TOOL BAGS, equal to English, and cheaper. Write to us.

McCOY & WILLIAMS, Orange, N. J.

THEOPHILUS WOBBLE'S
Trip Around the World
ON A BICYCLE,
ILLUSTRATED,
Commenced in
TEXAS SIFTINGS,
July 3d, 1886.

FOR SALE BY ALL NEWSDEALERS.

Back numbers can be obtained from Te Siftings Publishing Co., 240 Broadway, N. Y.

ROYAL MAIL.

The Royal Machine Manufacturing Company, Limited, Birmingham, Sole Makers of the Celebrated "Royal Mail" Cycles, require first-class firms to undertake the sale of their unrivaled machines in New York, Boston, Washington, Philadelphia, and all the principal cities in the States.

Apply direct to

THE ROYAL MACHINE MANUFACTURING CO., Limited, SMALL HEATH, BIRMINGHAM.

"IDEAL" QUININE & SULPHUR SOAP.

There is no skin disease this soap will not benefit

STOP SCRATCHING!!

WELL, WHY NOT?

IDEAL QUININE AND SULPHUR SOAP will certainly cure all ITCHING skin diseases.

Ask any dealer in Toilet Soaps for it. Or sent to any address, postpaid, 25 cents per cake, 3 cakes for 60 cents. Q. & S. Shaving Soap, 15 cents
VAIL BROTHERS, 239 Market Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

USE IDEAL TOOTH POWDER. Price, 25 cents per Bottle.

ROYAL
Fire Insurance Co.
OF LIVERPOOL, ENGLAND.

ESTABLISHED 1845.

Head Office Metropolitan District:
ROYAL INSURANCE BUILDING,
50 Wall St., N. Y.

TRUSTEES:
JACOB D. VERMILYE, E. F. BEDDALL, Manager,
HENRY PARISH, WM. W. HENSHAW,
OSGOOD WELSH, Ass't Manager.

If you want to come out in the Spring with your Bicycle or Tricycle looking like new, before putting your machine away use a bottle of

ARDILL'S
...ID ENAMEL!

...g up or entirely re-enamelling
...S AND TRICYCLES

THE RUDGE.

Hard as Marble. Dries Instantly, without any unpleasant smell, and produces a Jet Black enamel surface in One Operation. It is thoroughly impervious to wet, cold, or heat. Will not crack, and is not liable to chip off. Any one can apply it. A suitable Brush given with each bottle.

Price, 75 cents a bottle. Cannot be sent by mail.

For sale by all Agents, and by

STODDARD, LOVERING & CO.,
152 to 158 Congress St., Boston.
Special terms to the trade.

STEEL BALLS OF BEST CAST STEEL. For Anti-Friction Bearings.
Hardened, Ground, and Burnished
3-16" to 3" diam. Samples and Prices on application.
Simonds Rolling-Machine Co., Fitchburg, Mass.

SALESMEN WANTED!!
SALARY AND EXPENSES PAID!!
For terms and particulars address (mention this paper).
W. R. McNARY & CO., Nurserymen, Dayton, Ohio

NOW
is the time to secure a bargain, as we must make room for new stock; hence a CLEARANCE SALE. Note Prices.

List No.	Size.	Bearings.	Make.	Finish.	Condition.	Price New.	Price.
318	36	Ball	Facile	Enamel	1st Class	$130 00	$65 00
257	36-54	"	Kangaroo	"	Good	130 00	60 00
353	48	Plain	Star	Nickel	Good	100 00	50 00
348	48	Ball	Expert	"	1885 Pattern	137 50	90 00
323	48	"	Rudge	Enamel	1st Class	137 50	95 00
*316	51	Plain	Star	"	Good	80 00	40 00
324	54	Ball	Victor	Nickel	"	140 00	75 00
328	54	"	Harvard	"	"	160 00	50 00
331	54	"	Expert	"	1st Class	145 00	95 00
308	54	"	"	Enamel	"	135 00	85 00
*359	55	"	Humber Racer	"	"	150 00	75 00
358	50	"	Expert	"	"	125 00	100 00
TRICYCLES.
350	40	"	Humber Cripper	Enamel	Good	187 50	120 00
356	42-52	"	Humber Tandem	"	"	260 00	190 00
349	48	"	Col. Two-Track	"	"	160 00	100 00
208	48	"	Victor*	"	1st Class	160 00	65 00
*351	50	"	Howe	Nickel	"	130 00	60 00
*281	54	Plain.	Star	"	Good	110 00	60 00

Any of these machines may be seen and tested at Oraton Hall, Newark, N. J., or they will be shipped to any address C. O. D., with the privilege of examination, provided the person ordering will remit enough money to pay express charges both ways in case machine is not accepted.

HOWARD A. SMITH & CO., Oraton Hall, Newark, N. J.

BROWNING, KING & CO.,
406, 408, 410 and 412 BROOME STREET, NEW YORK.

THE ONLY OFFICIAL CONTRACTORS FOR THE
LEAGUE UNIFORM.

LIST OF PRICES:

Plaited Blouse, $9.50; KneeBreeches, $6.00; Suit, $15.50. Regulation League Cloth, made by the Middlesex Mills, cost $2.00 per yard. League Buttons, large size, 5 cents each; Small size, 2½ cents each. Full set for suit, 55 cents.

TERMS:

All uniforms or parts of uniforms sent C. O. D., with privilege of examination. All orders for cloth or buttons must be accompanied by Money Order. Blank forms for self-measurement furnished on application. Orders for L. A. W. Goods will be received at any of our branch stores, as follows:

136 and 138 Madison St., 144 to 148 Clark Street, CHICAGO, ILL. | 210 and 212 N. Broadway, St. Louis, Mo. Wisconsin and E. Water Street, Milwaukee, Wis. 76 and 78 West Fourth St., Cincinnati, Ohio; 910 and 912 Chestnut Street, Phila., Pa.

All orders must be accompanied by League number

NOVEL AND SPECIAL SALE

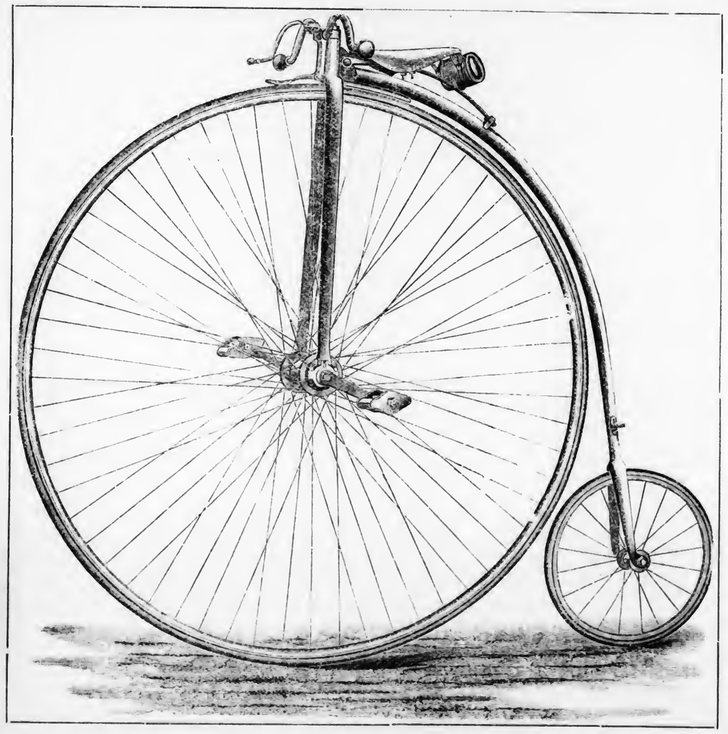
OF

BICYCLES.

We have decided to discontinue further importation of bicycles and confine ourselves entirely to a high-grade wheel of domestic manufacture. Our reason for this is, first, being so far removed from the base of supplies that even with the largest stock and the most careful forethought we were more or less unable to fill our orders promptly, which resulted in great annoyance both to ourselves and our customers. Furthermore, the very heavy expenses attached to the importation of wheels leaves far from a reasonable or satisfactory profit, and any change in construction, if ever so slight, requires such a length of time that the season is practically over before the consumer gets the benefit of it. We have explained thus fully in order that the wheelmen may understand our reasons for this great reduction in the prices of our wheels. Before putting in our new line, we propose to adopt a novel method of disposing of the few wheels we have on hand, and all will readily see that this is an unusual chance to procure a wheel at less than cost. In the following pages will be found a full description and list of our wheels now in stock, numbered in such a way that they can be easily ordered. We have made this list showing the original selling price and the present asking price on an out-and-out sale. In addition to this, we propose to accept bids on any machine in the list up to April 1st, which bids will be carefully recorded, and any wheels that have not been sold at the full prices on that date will be forwarded to the highest bidder. In order that the manner of bidding may be thoroughly understood, we have on a following page a form of blank which may be copied or cut from this paper, and forwarded to us properly filled out. To insure the genuineness of the bids each bid must be accompanied by a cash deposit of $5.00, for which amount a receipt will be sent showing on which number of machine the offer has been made, and in the event the machine has been sold under the circumstances above mentioned, or there has been a higher offer made, the money will be refunded April 1st. Offers can be made on a number of different wheels, but we request a preference if any be stated.

A glance at the list will show all wheels to be high-class, standard goods, second to none, and in every instance been entirely satisfactory both to ourselves and the purchasers. The following pages will contain cuts and full description of each wheel, so those who are not familiar with the wheel will be able to judge. We fully understand this will result in a great loss to us, but we believe wheelmen will appreciate the opportunity of getting a fine wheel at a large reduction.

SPECIAL EXPLANATORY NOTE.



Our stock is divided between our New York and Chicago houses; to prevent mistakes in keeping records, we have prefixed a cipher to numbers of wheels in the New York house. For example: Wheel No. 015 is in the New York store, while No. 15 is in the Chicago store, and correspondence and bids should be directed in accordance therewith.

A. G. SPALDING & BROS.,

241 Broadway, New York. 108 Madison Street, Chicago, Ill.

THE "SPALDING,"

The Best Road Wheel in the Market.

A high grade full roadster bicycle; direct Tangent Spokes, Warwick hollow rims, hollow Forks and backbone, balls to both wheels, head, handle bar and all bright parts nickeled, balance enameled. Light, Strong, Handsome. You will like it.

A. G. SPALDING & BROS.,

241 Broadway, New York, 108 Madison Street, Chicago, Ill.

THE SPALDING.

No.			Old Price.	Special Price.
01	50-inch,	Nickel-Plated, new,	$142 50	$125 00
03	58 "	" "	155 00	125 00
04	58 "	" "	155 00	125 00
05	58 "	" "	155 00	125 00
010	48 "	Enameled, Parts Plated, "	130 00	115 00
011	50 "	" " " "	132 50	115 00
012	50 "	" " " "	132 50	115 00
013	50 "	" " " "	132 50	115 00
015	52 "	Full Enamel, 1885, "	135 00	110 00
016	52 "	Enameled, Parts Plated, "	135 00	115 00
017	52 "	" " " "	135 00	115 00
018	52 "	" " " "	135 00	115 00
020	52 "	Full Enamel, 1885, "	135 00	110 00
021	54 "	Enameled, Parts Plated, "	137 50	115 00
022	54 "	" " " "	137 50	115 00
023	54 "	Full Enamel, 1885, "	137 50	110 00
025	56 "	" " " "	140 00	110 00
026	56 "	Light Roadster, Enameled, "	140 00	115 00
027	58 "	" " " "	142 50	115 00
028	60 "	" " " "	145 00	115 00
029	52 "	Royal Premier, 1887, Enameled, "	140 00	125 00
1	48 "	Enameled, Parts Plated, "	130 00	115 00
2	48 "	" " " "	130 00	115 00
4	50 "	" " " "	132 50	115 00
6	50 "	" " " "	132 50	115
7	52 "	" " " "	135 00	11
9	52 "	" " " "	135 00
10	54 "	" " " "	137 50
11	54 "	" " " "	137 50
13	54 "	" " " "	137 50
14	56 "	" " " "	140 00
15	58 "	" " " "	142 50
16	60 "	" " " "	145 00
17	48 "	Nickel Plated, "	142 50	11
18	50 "	" " "	145 00	12
19	52 "	" " "	147 50	125
20	52 "	" " "	147 50	125 0
23	52 "	" " "	147 50	125 00
24	54 "	" " "	150 00	125 00
25	54 "	" " "	150 00	125 00
26	56 "	" " "	152 50	125 00
27	56 "	" " "	152 50	125 00
28	58 "	" " "	155 00	125 00

A. G. SPALDING & BROS.,

241 Broadway, N. Y. 108 Madison Street, Chicago, Ill.

AMERICAN PREMIER.

This wheel has been on the market for four seasons, and from time to time has been improved, until now it ranks well up as a high-class wheel, and it has won favor wherever used. Enamel finish with head, handle bar, and all bright parts nickeled, balls to front and rear wheels, hollow forks and backbone:

No.			Old Price.	Special Price.
040.	46-inch,	Full Nickel, new,	$100 00	$95 00
041.	50 "	" "	105 00	95 00
042.	50 "	" "	105 00	95 00
043.	52 "	" "	107 50	95 00
044.	54 "	" "	110 00	95 00
045.	56 "	" "	112 50	95 00
050.	48 "	Enameled, Parts Nickel, "	90 00	80 00
051.	48 "	" " " "	90 00	80 00
054.	50 "	" " " "	92 50	80 00
055.	50 "	" " " "	92 50	80 00
057.	52 "	" " " "	95 00	80 00
43.	48 "	" " " "	90 00	80 00
44.	48 "	" " " "	90 00	80 00
45.	50 "	" " " "	92 50	80 00
47.	50 "	" " " "	92 50	80 00
48.	52 "	" " " "	95 00	80 00
49.	54 "	" " " "	97 50	80 00
50.	54 "	" " " "	97 50	80 00
51.	56 "	" " " "	100 00	80 00
52.	50 "	Full Nickel, "	105 00	95 00
53.	50 "	" "	105 00	95 00
54.	54 "	" "	110 00	95 00
55.	56 "	" "	112 50	95 00

KANGAROO SAFETY.

Safety has held its own against all comers, and to-day is the best known and most popular and desirable Safety has elements of safety and ease of running not yet attained or approached on other Safeties, and if you try it good hill climber; an excellent coaster:

			Old Price.	Special Price.
	ameled,	36-inch geared to 54, new,	$130 00	$100 00
	"	36 " " " 54, "	130 00	100 00
	"	36 " " " 52, "	130 00	100 00
	"	35 " " " 52, "	130 00	100 00
	"	35 " " " 52, "	130 00	100 00
	"	38 " " " 57, "	130 00	100 00
66.	"	38 " " " 57 "	130 00	100 00
67.	"	38 " " " 57 "	130 00	100 00
068.	"	38 " " " 50 "	130 00	100 00
069.	"	38 " " " 57 "	130 00	100 00
070.	"	38 " " " 50 "	130 00	100 00
072.	"	35 " " " 52 "	130 00	100 00
30.	"	36 " " " 54 "	130 00	100 00
31.	"	36 " " " 54 "	130 00	100 00
32.	"	38 " " " 57 "	130 00	100 00
33.	"	35 " " " 52 "	130 00	100 00
34.	3 machines geared 36 to 54, new, each,		130 00	100 00

A. G. SPALDING & BROS.,

241 BROADWAY, N. Y. 108 MADISON STREET, CHICAGO, ILL.

HUMBER

BICYCLES AND TRICYCLES.

The Humber wheels, both Bicycles and Tricycles, are recognized everywhere as the very highest grade of goods. They need no extended description. There are but few in this list, and this is a rare chance to get one:

No.		Old Price.	Special Price.
0102.	50-inch Bicycle, Enameled, new,	$150 00	$125 00
0103.	50 " " " "	150 00	125 00
0104.	50 " " " "	150 00	125 00
0105.	54 " " " "	155 00	125 00

TANDEMS.

0110.	Entirely New, Latest Pattern,	$260 00	$240 00
0111.	" " " "	260 00	240 00
0112.	Latest Pattern, slightly scratched,	260 00	225
0114.	" " used once,	260 00
0115.	" " used as sample,	260 00
57.	Entirely New, Latest Pattern,	260 00

HUMBER CRIPPERS.

0120.	Latest Style, slightly marred,	$180 00	$16
0121.	" " used as sample,	180 00	160
0122.	" " used once,	180 00	160 00
0123.	" " "	180 00	160 00
56.	Entirely New, Latest Pattern,	180 00	165 00

TAKE SPECIAL NOTICE of this list of NEW wheels all of which are the latest 1886 patterns, and all standard goo in the market to-day. This offer will positively be discontinued after April 1st, 1887.

We solicit correspondence.

A. G. SPALDING & BROS.,

241 Broadway, New York. 108 Madison Street, Chicago, Ill.

RACERS.

There are many who, for their own pleasure, would occasionally like to "speed themselves" on the track, but the heavy expense of having to pay a high price for a racing wheel deters many from entering into the sport. Here is a chance to get a $140 wheel for $90. Woodside's magnificent riding during the last season was done on a Spalding Racer, when he won more first prizes than any other professional. Any one desiring a fine racing wheel should get it now:

No.		List Price.	Special Price.
0201.	52-inch Enameled, used once,	$140 00	$85 00
0202.	54 " " " "	140 00	90 00
0203.	56 " " " three times,	145 00	90 00
0206.	58 " " new,	150 00	100 00
0204.	57 " " "	150 00	100 00
0214.	55 " " good as new,	145 00	90 00
0207.	57 " Humber, new,	150 00	100 00
0208.	55 " " used once,	145 00	95 00
0217.	58 " " new,	150 00	100 00

HECLA YOUTHS',

S' CHEAP WHEEL, RUBBER TIRE, STRONG AND SERVICEABLE.

	Old Price.	Special Price.
8 inches,	$12 50	$9 00
"	18 00	13 00
"	35 00	21 00

A. G. SPALDING & BROS.,

roadway, N. Y., 108 Madison St., Chicago.

.....1887

071.

SRS. A. G. SPALDING & BROS.

GENTLEMEN:—Inclosed herewith please find $5.00. I wish to enter a bid of $——— on wheel No. ———, as per your advertisement in the L. A. W. BULLETIN.

Name,.....

City or Town,.....

State,.....

Before purchasing your mount for this year, see the celebrated

"ROVER" BICYCLE.

FITTED WITH EVERY POSSIBLE IMPROVEMENT.

Faster than a Bicycle.

Safer than a Tricycle.

The "ROVER" BICYCLE as ridden by the Right Honorable Viscount Bury, President of the National Cyclists' Union.

No Skidding or Side-Slipping on Greasy Roads

And no Fear of Falls.

Starley's new Patent Spring Fork is now ready, whereby entire insulation from shocks is obtained in handles, pedals, and seat.

This Fork can also be applied to any tricycle.

Price-lists, testimonials, etc. (including one from Viscount Bury, which every rider should read), post free.

Complete catalogue of all our machines, 2 stamps.

STARLEY & SUTTON, Meteor Works, - Coventry, England.

Ira Perego

128 and 130 FULTON ST., 87 NASSAU ST.,
NEW YORK.

The only Official Outfitter to the L. A. W.

L. A. W. REGULATION CAP,	-	$1 75
" "	HELMET, -	1 75
" "	SHIRT, -	2 25
" "	HOSE, -	1 50
" "	SILK BELTS,	1 00

All orders must be accompanied by money order for the amount, also name and League number.

English C. T. C. Cloth, double width, $4.00 per yard.

Patented 1881. L. A. W. B[illegible]

For Gold Pi[illegible] Design, se[illegible]

CHAS. [illegible]

177 Mid[illegible]

The Desi[illegible]

Prices for handsome Solid[illegible] $3.50, $5.00, $7.00, and $8.00, a[illegible] ness (L) of gold. Diamon[illegible] $15.00 to $50.00 for the larger[illegible] $10.00 to $9.00 for the small s[illegible] for circular free. Orders by ma[illegible] ing money order and League [illegible] will receive prompt attention.

Also for sale in New York at M. J[illegible] lard & Co.'s, 680 Broadway; in Phil[illegible] phia by H. B. Hart, 811 Arch St.; in [illegible] ton by The Pope Mfg. Co.; in Chicago [illegible] The John Wilkinson Co.; in Newark, N. J., by Howard Smith & Co.; in Minneapolis by T. F. Heath & Co.; and in San Francisco by Osborn & Alexander.

TOBOGGANING!!

THE POPULAR TOBOGGAN.

SEND FOR CIRCULAR. DISCOUNTS TO CLUBS.

The most fascinating of winter sports.

Headquarters for Tobogganing Outfits.

Agents for the celebrated "PROCTOR" Tobo[illegible] which for STRENGTH and SPEED excels all oth[illegible]

NEW YORK BICYCLE CO.

38 Park Place.

BEFORE ◆ YOU ◆ BUY ◆ A ◆ BICYCLE

of any kind, send stamp to

A. W. GUMP, - Dayton, Ohio,

for Large Illustrated Price-List of New and Second-Hand Machines. Second-Hand Bicycles taken in Exchange and Bought for Cash.

Largest Stock of Second-Hand Bicycles in America.

BICYCLES REPAIRED and NICKEL-PLATED.

A. W. Gump, Dayton, Ohio.

SECOND-HAND GUNS TAKEN IN EXCHANGE FOR BICYCLES.

Mr. Alfred A. McCurdy made the accompanying remarkable record on a 48-inch STAR Bicycle over the Boston Cycle Club's 50 mile course, under A. C. U. Rules, breaking all previous records above 100 miles.

305 Miles in

The following are the new records accepted by the A. C. U.:

150 Miles,	10	hours	24	minutes	30	seconds.
200 "	14	"	35	"
250 "	18	"	58	"
300 "	23	"	38	"
302 3/16 "	23	"	48	"	50	"
304 1/8 "	23	"	57	"	45	"

The eight trips to and from his hotel to the point of starting carries the distance up to fully 305 miles.

★ WORLD'S RECORDS ★

This record proves most conclusively the superiority of the STAR over all crank action bicycles. This is McCurdy's fourth attempt at the 24 hour record, the first two trials being made on crank machines.

His present performance EXCELS BY 50 MILES his best effort on a crank bicycle weighing about 15 pounds less than his present mount.

24 hours

The STAR is the only bicycle that combines in the highest degree the qualities of safety, speed, and hill-climbing.

H. B. SMITH MACHINE CO.,

SMITHVILLE, N. J.

[illegible]ht in front.

[illegible]ustment in height in rear.

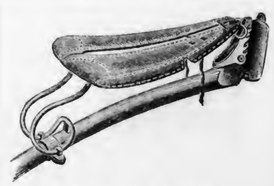
Adjustment in width.

When you buy, buy the best.

When you order your new mount, order it with only the old reliable

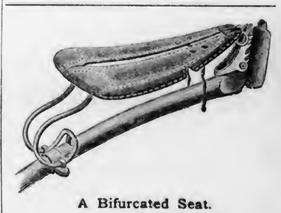
Lillibridge Saddle.

FOR SALE EVERYWHERE.



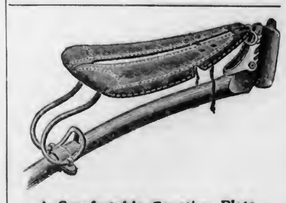
Price, Nickeled, - - $5.00

Adapted to all makes of machines.



Special styles for the Safeties and Star.

FREEMAN LILLIBRIDGE,



ROCKFORD, ILL.

Adjustment in length.

A Bifurcated Seat.

A Comfortable Coasting Plate.

ORDER AT ONCE AND SAVE DELAYS.

Ira Perego—Official Outfitter to the L. A. W.

These goods are of the best quality, fully up to the standard, and the prices have been reduced, as note the following:

THE REGULATION CLOTH HELMET.

THIS article of head-wear has been so generally worn as to need no special description. It is made in a very substantial manner, with ventilated sides and corrugated sweat band. The price last year was $1.75; this year the price is $1.50. The helmet cannot be sent by mail, as it is liable to injury.

THE REGULATION CLOTH VISOR CAP.

THIS cap gave the utmost satisfaction last year, and anticipating a large call for them this year, they have been made up in large orders so as to allow a reduction in price, but still hold to the past excellence. The price of the regulation cap is now $1.50. This cap can be sent by mail, and 10 cents extra must be sent for postage.

League

THE NEW L. A. W. BELT.

THIS is something new and has just been placed on the market, receiving great favor. The "S" clasp and trimmings are silvered, with the letters L. A. W. embossed on the clasp, the web is of silk and combines strength and lightness. A uniform can hardly be called complete without one. The price is $1.00 by mail, postpaid.

Ou

REGULATION HOSE.

THESE are the best goods of foreign manufacture, and it is a pleasure to announce an important reduction in the price. A large order has been placed with the English manufacturers who make them exclusively for our trade. The finest worsted is used and special care given to make a strong, serviceable article, and the price at which they are sold cannot be approached. Price per pair, $1.10, postpaid.

REGULATION FLANNEL SHI

MADE with turn-d lar, pocket, and cut on the same style as sleeve, so as to be mode tight fitting and not clum in the way. Great care is e. cised in the manufacture a
they are thoroughly substantial, as their wearing qualities were thoroughly tested last year, and not a complaint was heard. Price, $2.25.

All orders must be accompanied by money order, with full name and League number.

IRA PEREGO, 128 and 130 Fulton St., N. Y.

BARGAINS!

Now is the time to buy Second-Hand Bicycles. Send size and price you wish to pay. Prices low. Send for Catalogue of the New Rapid.

WM. M. FRISBIE & CO.,
P. O. Drawer 64. New Haven, Conn.

★ NO PATENT! ★
THE STAR HOME TRAINER

Riding day or night, rain or shine. You can make it yourself. Cost, $3.00. Send 25 cents for cabinet photo. of it. Address
WILL H. LEIGH, Lock Box 24, BEAVER FALLS, PA.

BEST GOODS. LOWEST PRICES.

L. A. W. SUITS, - - - $12.00
JERSEY CLOTH SUITS, - - 13.00
CYCLISTS' TOURING CLUB SUITS, 13.00
All garments custom made.
Send for circulars and measure blanks.
Punnett, Tailor and Outfitter, - Rochester, N. Y.

THE SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER,

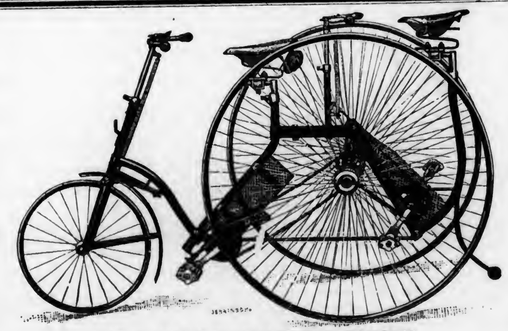
MANUFACTURED BY THE
Springfield Bicycle Manufacturing Co.
(Yost & McCune Patents),
19 PEARL STREET, BOSTON.

The only absolutely safe wheel against "Headers" made. It is the best, and it is also the cheapest.
Do not buy a wheel before you see the Springfield Roadster.
Coasting without danger. Hill-climbing to perfection. Invented by riders of experience.

PRICE, COMPLETE, - $75.00.

JOHN P. LOVELL'S SONS, 147 Washington St., Boston, Sole Agents for New England.

THE "NEW AMERICAN" TRICYCLE.



639 Arch Street, Philadelphia.

We make but one style of machine, and that the best. There are no extras.

NO DEAD CENTRES. FULL POWER UTILIZED. CLIMBS ANY HILL.

The best machine for ladies, as there are no revolving pedals to catch the skirts. The only Tricycle that can be ridden equally well by lady or gentleman, grown person or child.

EITHER RIDER CAN STEER.
May be Ridden by Two Ladies.
HAS AUTOMATIC STEERING.
Reduces in Width to 27 inches.
Has Folding Handle Bar, for Easy Access to Front Seat.
Is the Most Unique Machine of its Class.

THE CUNARD CONVERTIBLE TANDEM.

CUNARD
Bicycles,
Tricycles,
Tandems,
Safeties.

D. Rogers & Co.,
SOLE U. S. AGENTS,
75 Clinton Avenue,
NEWARK, N. J.

☞CATALOGUES FREE.

Copy of Testimonial from T. J. Kirkpatrick, Esq., Vice-President of the L. A. W.

SPRINGFIELD, O., January 11th, 1887.

D. ROGERS & CO.

GENTLEMEN:—Respecting the Cunard Tandem, I have to say that it is beyond question the best tandem yet produced. Its compactness, ease of handling, light running, safety, and the ease with which it may be mounted or dismounted, by either a lady or gentleman, leave nothing to be desired. Its folding handle bar, and the fact that it can be quickly and readily taken through a common door, are features which make the machine a pleasure. I have owned other tandems, but this is the only one that was worth house-room as a convertible machine. I find it a perfect machine, in perfect balance, either as a single or a tandem. I have sought carefully for some three years now for the best tandem, and have given the matter a great deal of thought and attention, and if asked to-day to suggest an improvement in the design and arrangement of the Cunard, I would be free to say that it is as nearly perfect as this type of machine ever will be.

Yours truly, [Signed] T. J. KIRKPATRICK.

SEND YOUR ORDERS AT ONCE FOR SPRING DELIVERY, AND DON'T GET LEFT.

☞ACTIVE AND RESPONSIBLE AGENTS WANTED.

Send for list of shopworn machines, which must be sold to make room for spring stock.

ROYAL MAIL!

The Most Complete and Improved Bicycle Ever Offered!

Best Road Record of 1885, 5,056 Miles on One Wheel, Won by ROYAL MAIL!

With the Greatest of Modern Improvement,

Trigwell's Ball-Bearing Head.

1,000 Miles Without Oiling or Adjustment.

Perfect Rigidity and Ease of Steering.

In Use Over Three Years, With Great Approval.

Wheelmen are aware that ordinarily constant watching and tightening up of the Head is necessary, owing to the wearing of the cones by friction. In this Ball Head the cones move on the balls smoothly, without wear, and one adjustment serves for a very long time—for months, in fact—and no loosening nor setting up is necessary. There being no friction, oiling is rarely needed. These Heads are made by the finest machinery, all perfectly alike and beautifully finished, every part mathematically true, and

ALL PARTS INTERCHANGEABLE.

Detachable Handle Bars and Lillibridge Saddle.

Best Warwick Rim and Cemented Tyre.

True Tangent Spokes, tied and wound SEVEN times, giving great rigidity and strength.

The Royal Mail is too well known to need minute description. It has, as a Light Roadster, for the past four years been in the front rank; gained the prize for the greatest amount of road work in 1885, with 5,056 miles to the credit of one wheel, and has increased in popularity each year. We claim no other in the market is of such first-class workmanship, and we think it is conceded to be the handsomest wheel in the market. Having a small lot which came from the factory last fall, too late for sale, and hence carried through the winter, we offer these few, and these only, before the regular season opens and new lots arrive, on very low terms—in fact, at such terms as we would not entertain after the season opens, in another month. This is the opportunity of the season to wheelmen desiring to exchange their old mounts for a Superb Light Roadster.

TO EXCHANGE FOR OTHER WHEELS

Also a very few in second-hand state, but perfect as new.

Write at once, giving full particulars of your wheel. We have but a few.

WILLIAM READ & SONS, 107 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

HOW TO JOIN

THE

L. A. W.

Fill up the blank in the adjoining column and, together with TWO DOLLARS, send it to the Secretary of the League,

ABBOT BASSETT,

Box 1184, Philadelphia, Pa.

Write your FULL NAME, your FULL ADDRESS, and your CLUB name IN FULL.

Write very plainly.

Application for Membership in the L. A. W.

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary-Editor,
Box 1184 Philadelphia, Pa.

Dear Sir:

Inclosed you will find $2.00 for initiation fee and annual dues in the League of American Wheelmen. I hereby certify that I am over 18 years of age, and that I am an amateur within the meaning of the definition printed below. I refer to the persons named below.

Signed,.....

Club,..... Residence,.....

City and State,..... Date,.....

ARTICLE IV, SECTION 4, of the L. A. W. By-Laws, contains the following Definition of an Amateur:—"An amateur is one who has never engaged in, nor assisted in, nor taught any recognized athletic exercise for money or other remuneration, nor knowingly competed with or against a professional for a prize of any description. To prevent misunderstanding in interpreting the above, the League draws attention to the following explanation: A cyclist forfeits his right to compete as an amateur, and thereby becomes a professional, by engaging in cycling or any other recognized athletic exercise, or personally teaching, training, or coaching any other person therein, either as a means of obtaining a livelihood, or for a stated bet, money prize, or for gate money, competing with, pace-making for, or having the pace made by, a professional, in public or for a prize; selling, realizing upon, or otherwise turning into cash any prize won by him. This rule does not apply to teaching the elements of bicycling solely for the purpose of effecting the sale of a bicycle. The League recognizes as athletic exercises all those sports under the jurisdiction of the National Association of Amateur Athletes of America, including running, walking, jumping, pole-leaping, putting the shot, throwing the hammer, throwing the weights, tug of war, and rowing, boxing, sparring, Lacrosse, polo, roller and ice skating."

TO L. A. W. MEMBERS.

Read the Letter in the adjoining columns, and AT ONCE fill out the blank at the bottom and send it with ONE DOLLAR to

Abbot Bassett, Box 1184, Philadelphia, Pa.,

and thus secure for another year your membership in the largest and most popular athletic organization in the country.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY-EDITOR, LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN,
PHILADELPHIA, PA., December 6th, 1886.

TO ALL LEAGUE MEMBERS:

THE ADVANTAGES OF MEMBERSHIP in the L. A. W. are so well known and understood that to most of you anything that I might say on the subject would seem superfluous. But to those who, either from the brief duration of their association with our organization or from the fact that they have not availed themselves of their privileges in the League, are not so assured of its great influence for the general good and their individual good in particular, we offer the following brief summary for their careful attention:

The L. A. W. publishes a first-class weekly newspaper, the L. A. W. BULLETIN, which is in itself full return for the annual dues. It will furnish to each member, on application, during 1887, at a nominal price, a HAND-BOOK of useful information, including the Constitution and By-Laws, Racing Rules, Transportation Rates, Rights and Privileges, etc. The L. A. W. affords the privilege of obtaining an excellent UNIFORM at very moderate cost. The L. A. W. stands ready to protect its members in their legal rights, and to sustain them in their efforts to repeal unfavorable legislation. This it has frequently done in the past.

In addition to the above general advantages, most of the State Divisions are striving to outdo the parent body in granting direct benefits to their members, such as Road-Books, maps, Hand-Books, and reduced hotel rates, to say nothing of meets, parades, tours, and entertainments.

The item of the bond of fellowship which exists between League members throughout the length and breadth of our land is admitted by many hundreds to be worth much more than the price of the annual dues.

Believing that all who intend to continue as cyclers will also continue as members of the League, and that most of those who either temporarily or permanently give up active participation in cycling will remain with us for the sake of the past and of the future companionship, I feel that I have but to call your attention to the League's claims on you for 1887 to insure the return of the blank printed below with your signature affixed and accompanied by your annual dues.

Fraternally,
ABBOT BASSETT Secretary-Editor, L. A. W.

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary-Editor, L. A. W.,
Box 1184, Philadelphia, Pa.

Inclosed herewith you will find ONE DOLLAR for the Annual Dues for 1887, in the League of American Wheelmen, for the undersigned.

Name,.....

League No...... Address,.....

Club,.....

It would seem to be fate.

It is, however, a fact that the riders of

The American Champion

Have made the most phenomenal long distance and road times of the season.

HERE IS ANOTHER MARVELOUS RECORD

BY JOHN S. PRINCE, AT OMAHA,

On a carefully surveyed indoor and ten lap track, in 48 hours.

767 and ½ MILES.

A WORLD RECORD BY 27 MILES.

They all say the same thing, viz.: "the easy running qualities of the G. & J. Bearings."

Then there is the

10	miles in	29	minutes	1¾	seconds.
20	"	59	"	35¼	"
50	" 2 hours	55	"	46½	"
100	" 6 "	1½	"

All of these world records made by a roadster on a country road.

Facts of this sort talk.

BY the way, gentlemen, if you want your machine overhauled or repaired, don't wait until the busy spring, and then expect the work to be promptly done. Send your machine to us now and have it ready for the first bit of good riding weather. It stands to reason that it will be more thoroughly done, and at a much more reasonable price.

Since we have completed our manufactory, we can devote a good deal more space to this branch of the business.

Respectfully submitted,

GORMULLY & JEFFERY, Chicago, Ill.

THE L. A. W. BULLETIN

THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN

A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA:

PUBLISHED WEEKLY:

$1.00 A YEAR. 3 CENTS PER COPY.

Philadelphia, February 18, 1887.

VOLUME IV. No. 7. WHOLE NUMBER 86.

From Manitoba to the Gulf of Mexico, from Eastport to the Golden Gate, the Majority of Wheelmen

RIDE COLUMBIAS.

POPE MFG. CO.

79 Franklin St.,

BOSTON.

BRANCH HOUSES:—12 Warren Street, New York
291 Wabash Avenue, Chicago.

These are our Witnesses.

Nine years of hard service upon every grade of American road has not worn out a Columbia.

THE WORLD'S STORY

of the road and path is a recapitulation of victories by riders of Columbias.

It requires the STANCHEST MACHINE to withstand the strain of Fancy Riding.
IT IS A FACT THAT nearly every Fancy Bicycler Rides a Columbia.

TWO LEADERS!

The "New Rapid."

FULL ROADSTER, 50-Inch, 40 Pounds.

LIGHT ROADSTER, 50-Inch, 36 Pounds.

Rover Pattern Safety.

All with TRUE TANGENT WHEELS.

The "Quadrant" Tricycles.

No. 8 FOR GENTLEMEN. No. 14 FOR LADIES.

No. 15 TANDEM,

For Two Gentlemen, Two Ladies, or Lady and Gentleman.

BICYCLE STEERING FRONT AND BACK.

You will do wrong if you order your new mount before seeing these machines or reading our catalogue, which illustrates and describes them and their IMPROVEMENTS FOR 1887.

SAM'L T. CLARK & CO., Baltimore, Md.

THE BULLETIN

OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN. PUBLISHED WEEKLY. A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY

ABBOT BASSETT,

For the Executive Committee of the League of American Wheelmen.

AT THE L. A. W. OFFICE,

508 WALNUT STREET, ROOM 12, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

Entered at the Post Office as Second-Class Matter.

SINGLE COPIES, - - - - - - - 3 CENTS.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE TO OTHER THAN LEAGUE MEMBERS, } $1.00 A YEAR.

CLUBS OF FIVE, - - - - - - $4.00 "

TO LEAGUE MEMBERS.

Until further notice address all letters to the Secretary-Editor, Abbot Bassett, Box 1184, Philadelphia, Pa.

Subscribers should be careful to notify the EDITOR promptly of any change in their address. Great care is taken with the mailing list; failure to receive THE BULLETIN may usually be traced to carelessness on the part of the subscriber.

All matter for publication, whether reading or advertising matter, should be addressed to the EDITOR. All checks should be made payable to his order.

Reading matter, to insure publication in the following issue, must be in the EDITOR'S hands not later than Saturday afternoon; advertisements not later than Monday morning.

Personal controversy, fault-finding, and allusions to manufactures and manufacturers will not be admitted to the columns devoted to reading matter.

The EDITOR must in all cases have the full name and address of the authors of contributed articles as a guarantee of good faith. As the Executive Committee has decided that it is best to discourage the use of assumed names by writers for THE BULLETIN, the EDITOR will publish the author's name unless particularly requested not to do so.

ADVERTISING RATES ON APPLICATION.

Our Circulation this Week is

12,000 Copies.

No. 7. FEBRUARY 18, 1887. VOL. IV.

To those correspondents who have written to urge us not to cut off the letters of the correspondents from the chief cities, we will say that this action is not in the line of our policy as mapped out for the BULLETIN; but we are carrying a very large amount of matter for a few weeks, and we have asked them to wait till we get into plain sailing again.

* * * * *

The time for the annual election draws near, and members will soon be called upon to select Chief Consuls and Representatives for another year. We desire to call the attention of State officials to the following extract from the By-Laws, which seems to call upon them for immediate action:

ARTICLE IV, SECTION 3. Each State division may make such rules and regulations, not inconsistent with the Constitution of the League, regarding the method of apportioning, casting, and counting the vote for Chief Consul and Representatives, as its officers may adopt, providing only that the number of Representatives so chosen shall be indicated by the membership of the division on March 1st. Each vote shall be signed by the member voting, and in this case returned to the Secretary of his division before the 10th day of April. A correct copy of such special regulations and official notice of their adoption shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of the League to render this permission operative, and in such cases the vote shall be canvassed in the division and the result thereof certified by the Secretary of the division to the President of the League on or before the 20th day of April in each year.

As yet we have received from no division a copy of the special regulations required. The by-law fixes no date after which such notices will not be received, but it must not be expected that they can be considered after ballots have been sent out from this office on the plan provided in default of the notice.

RESOLUTIONS CALLING FOR STENOGRAPHER'S REPORT.

The following resolutions were passed at a meeting of the members of the Pennsylvania Division held in Philadelphia, February 1st:

"WHEREAS, A meeting of the Board of Officers of the League of American Wheelmen was held in New York city on the 17th and 18th of January, 1887; and

"WHEREAS, Messrs. John A. Wells, Chief Consul, and Eugene M. Aaron, Frank Read, S. B. Vaughn, and Kirk Brown, Representatives of the Pennsylvania Division, members of said Board, were personally present; and

"WHEREAS, The said members did hold proxies of several of their fellow-members in said Board; and

"WHEREAS, Certain of these proxies were rejected, and those holding them were refused the right to vote thereon; and

"WHEREAS, The said proxies were such as had heretofore been used at meetings of the Board of Officers; and

"WHEREAS, This meeting is assured that other proxies, precisely similar in form, were accepted, in the hands of other members of the Board, who were allowed to vote thereon. Therefore, be it

"Resolved, That this meeting regards with deep indignation this arbitrary and unlawful action on the part of the then present Board of Officers, whereby the Pennsylvania and several sister Divisions were deprived of their full right of representation in the Board. And, further, be it

"Resolved, That this meeting hereby protests against said flagrant and reprehensible assumption of power by a majority at said meeting of the Board of Officers. And, further, be it

"Resolved, That as only an incomplete and indefinite report of the proceedings of said meeting has been published, and as a full knowledge of the actions of the Board is desirable, this meeting hereby calls upon the Executive Committee of the Board of Officers of the L. A. W. to make public the full stenographic report of the proceedings of said Board meeting, as provided for in the By-Laws, Article II, Section 4."

The following resolutions were passed by the Camden, N. J., Wheelmen, February 3d, 1887:

"WHEREAS, At a meeting of the Board of Officers, L. A. W., held recently in New York, the Executive Committee were directed to publish the stenographic report of the proceedings in full in the BULLETIN, and

"WHEREAS, Their failure to make such publication deprives the membership of facts necessary to judge of certain disputed matters, and thereby works injustice to every League member, and

"WHEREAS, At said meeting certain members were deprived of their votes, and proxies refused on grounds which were untrue and insufficient. Therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the Camden Wheelmen indorse the action of the meeting held at the Philadelphia Bi. Club-House, February 1st, and respectfully request the full membership of the Board of Officers to decide that all action of the last meeting of the Board of Officers in New York be declared null and void, in consequence of the said illegal disfranchisement of properly accredited members, and request the Executive Committee to print the full proceedings of the said Board meeting in the L. A. W. BULLETIN. And, be it further

"Resolved, That these resolutions be printed in the BULLETIN.

"W. J. ATKINSON, President.

"Attest:

"W. S. RISLEY, Secretary."

TRANSPORTATION—ST. LOUIS MEET.

The Inter-State Commerce Bill is having some relation to the question of reduced rates to the coming St. Louis meet. The terms of the bill are worded in such manner that many have translated it literally to mean that even the usual 4th of July reduced rates are to be done away with, in addition to making full fare to every convention. To correct this impression among wheelmen we would call attention to section 22 of the bill, which provides that nothing therein prohibiting less than established tariff shall apply to rates to or from fairs and expositions, or the issuance of mileage, excursion, or commutation passenger rates. Judge Cooley, the eminent jurist and receiver of the Wabash Railway, declares it as his opinion that the above clause will protect reduced rates to conventions. The Central Traffic Association, at its general meeting of roads interested, has just decided to await an official translation of the commissioners to be appointed by President Cleveland, and until then will make no reduced fares. The great conventions affected by this ruling are the National Educational Convention in Chicago, the National Drill at Washington, and the Grand Army of the Republic reunion. The Central Traffic Association (having control of the making of passenger rates) has laid the meet of the League of American Wheelmen on the shelf beside these conventions, to take up the question of reduced fares after the official translation has been obtained.

Wheelmen need not change their plans with regard to visiting St. Louis, for we have the benefit of judgment of eminent authority that the Inter-State Commerce Bill is not intended, nor can it be translated into the hard lines which the press and public and some railways erroneously construe it now. Our plans for special excursion trains through from the East to St. Louis will in all probability be carried out on reduced rate tickets, although high authority has declared that no such tickets can be issued under the law. It is safe to presume that Government will not translate the bill to work injury to the people, in whose interest it was primarily conceived. The St. Louis Committee therefore begs that wheelmen will have no fears of a favorable outcome, and although the Transportation Committee will not be able to at once declare the price of tickets to the meet, yet plans to bring all wheelmen there will go on just the same, and at just and proper rates that will induce the movement of a large number of people.

B. B. AYERS, Chairman.

LEAGUE CLUB RENEWALS.

The following League Clubs have renewed, through the proper officers, the number of members given below:

Jan. 31st,	Genesee Bi. Club, Rochester, N. Y.	21
" "	Tioga Cycling Club, Philadelphia,	17
Feb. 1st,	Connecticut Bi. Club, Hartford, Conn.,	47
" "	Hyde Park Ramblers, Hyde Park, Mass.,	14
" "	Somerville Cycle Club, Somerville, Mass.,	34
" "	Scranton Bi. Club, Scranton, Pa.,	38
" 2d,	Blossburg Cyclers, Blossburg, Pa.,	9
" 3d,	Calumet Cycling Club, Brooklyn, N.Y.	12
" "	Memphis Cycle Club, Memphis, Tenn.,	13
" "	Omaha Wheel Club, Omaha, Neb.,	14
" 4th,	Albany Wheelmen, Albany, N. Y.,	43
" 5th,	Century Wheelmen, Philadelphia,	31
" "	Columbia Bi. Club, North Attleboro, Mass.,	20
" "	Elgin Bi. Club, Elgin, Ill.,	11
" "	Harlem Wheel Club, New York City,	28
" "	Pennsylvania Bi. Club, Philadelphia,	93
" 7th,	Hartford Wheel Club, Hartford, Conn.,	47
" "	Keystone Bi. Club, Pittsburgh, Pa.,	18
" "	Long Island Wheelmen, Brooklyn, N. Y.,	62
" "	Winona Bi. Club, Winona, Minn.,	23
" 8th,	Trenton Bi. Club, Trenton, N. J.,	19
" 9th.	Vermont Wheel Club, Brattleboro, Vt.,	10
" 11th,	Dorchester Bi. Club, Dorchester, Mass.,	33
" "	Millville Bi. Club, Millville, N. J.,	16
" "	Rockingham Bi. Club, Portsmouth, N. H.,	29

THE EUROPEAN TRIP.

The following anent the European trip is taken from a private letter received from Mr. Joseph Pennell:

"The following is a copy of a letter I have just received from Mr. R. J. Mecredy. Although in my first letter to the BULLETIN I discouraged visiting Ireland, I have since written to Mr. Mecredy, and this is his answer:

"'I think your idea a good one. Killarney or Glengariffe would be a capital place for the two parties to meet, and they could remain for a few days in each others' company. It would be a great pity if the American party did not visit Ireland. I do not believe the scenery can be beaten.

Our party starts early in August. Would that suit? I would suggest that the American party ride from Queenstown to Killarney and meet us there, and then ride with us to Glengariffe, and, if possible, back to Dublin.'"

TIOGA CYCLING CLUB.

The annual meeting of the Tioga Cycling Club was held on January 11th, at Guy's Hotel. The Club is very unpretentious and just about as earnest and active in cycling matters. None of its members are gentlemen of leisure and none lay claim to expertness in cycling, although many of them are "expert" riders. They all ride, although only 17 of the 24 members have reported their runs. Of the seven members who did not report two are members also of older clubs, and did not think it desirable to render duplicate reports. One has ridden 1,500 miles since January 1st, 1886, another rode about as many miles in 1885, but had his machine stolen early in 1886 and has not yet replaced it, and the others probably objected to competing for the booby prize, and so refrained from entering the contest. The annual meeting was taken up with the report of the Captain and with the awarding of the prizes.

The Captain's report showed a total of 9,687 miles, or an average of 47.49 miles a month for each member.

In September 11 members rode 1,586 miles; in October 10 members rode 1,438 miles, and five of the 10 rode 1,229 miles.

In November eight members rode 1,276 miles, and one of the eight, Mr. Clark, rode 688 miles. The report in full is as follows:

	Total Miles.	Longest Ride.	Days.
Clark,	2,050	56	116
Van Deusen, J.,	1,270	95	71
Dunham,	1,094	44	90
Adams,	803	28	91
Bones,	760	50	46
Simons,	713	75	51
Van Deusen, E.,	686	32	46
Dallet, E.,	642	32	35
Strassburger, F. G.,	264	37	11
Dallett, F. M.,	254	31	14
Stewart,	228	42	13
Boyd,	201	30	17
Newbold,	192	25	19
Zook,	185	12½	22
Ellis,	179	38	12
Wright, E. A.,	105	26	13
Clothier,	61	13	8

To Mr. Clark, of course, was awarded the prize for the greatest distance, the club cup to be held for one year and an accompanying gold badge as a permanent momento of his achievement. He also received a gold badge for having ridden on the greatest number of days. (No ride of less than three miles is allowed in competing for this prize.)

Mr. I. Van Deusen received the prize (a gold badge) for the greatest distance in one day, having ridden 95 miles on November 16th, on the roads in the vacinity of Philadelphia, including Lancaster Pike to Paoli and return, and the Park roads and Broad Street.

The booby prize was a very beautifully carved wooden spoon with the word "Booby" engraved in very distinct letters in the hollow of the bowl, and "Clarkson Clothier, 61 miles," neatly engraved on the handle. After the meeting the Club adjourned to the banquet hall and did justice to every course. President Adams officiated as toast-master, and in very graceful speeches proposed the following toasts: "Our Club," responded to by Mr. Clothier; "The Ladies," Mr. Boyd; "The L. A. W.," Dr. Van Deusen; "Our New Members," Mr. Zook.

Our Club is peculiar in some respects, and we think the peculiarities advantages. The majority of our members ride on Sunday when they wish. But in deference to those who object to Sunday riding, no Sunday rides are included in the records. All our members are temperate; few of them are total abstainers, but in deference to those who are, no intoxicants were on the table at the banquet. * * * Best of all, there exists in the Club a spirit of kindly consideration which pervades its every action, and acts as a wonderfully efficient lubricant to the machinery of the organization. 6961.

Correspondence.

The Editor wishes it distinctly understood that he is not responsible for the statements and opinions expressed in these columns.

RECORDS OF THE HARLEM WHEELMEN.

EDITOR L. A. W. BULLETIN:

We send, for print in the BULLETIN, a list of the riding of such of our members as have turned in their accounts for 1886.

The Club did not officially recognize riding records until the meeting held March 12th, 1886; so, consequently, but part of the actual records are here given. As is usual, the members receive a medal and bar for the first 1,000 miles and an extra bar for each successive 1,000.

The result does not appear, as yet, very satisfactory, but at the end of this year a better showing will be made. As the "Owl" remarks, we have the most important feature of riding, for any kind of record, against us, viz.: "our roads."

	Number of riding days.	Longest ride in one day.	Average miles per riding day.	Total number miles for 1886.
E. I. Halsted,	136	166⅝	26½	3,602½
C. M. Phelps,	57	65	17⅞	1,019
Wm. Dutcher,	15	15	7⅜	111
H. D. Cochrane,	33	49	11⅓	375
A. Rauchfuss,	19	45	12⅛	232
F. W. Styles,	211	35	13⅛	2,749
A. T. Steiner,	125	152½	15⅛	1,882
W. H. De Graaf,	158	48¾	15⅝	2,521
F. A. Ridabock,	105	68	10⅞	1,151
B. A. Quin,	120	67	11⅜	1,349
E. C. Parker,	76	53	12⅜	937
F. L. Bingham,	15	45	23⅓	350
Grand Total,				16,270

NEW YORK, January 26th, 1887.

THE COST OF WHEELS.

BORDENTOWN, N. J., January 11th, 1887.

EDITOR L. A. W. BULLETIN:

Every cycler ought to know just a little about the machine he rides, and if he does, how can he compare a bicycle with a sewing-machine—a bicycle made of the very best forged steel with a sewing-machine made of cast iron?

This comparison seems to be the chief stock in trade of those who argue that in a few years you can purchase bicycles from $25 to $50.

Why don't these same persons look at shot-guns. You can get a breech-loader for $3.50 and a fair shooting gun for $10.00, yet sportsmen when they want a fine gun pay from $100 to $500 for them.

No one, more than I, wants to see the prices of cycles come down, for I want a new bicycle in the spring, and though I expect to attain my desire, it will only be by the strictest ecomony, while a tandem I can never hope to possess, though my heart yearns for one above all else.

Eventually I believe, as do all business men, the prices of cycles will be much lower, but never as cheap as sewing-machines.

My experience with cycles so far has been that the best is the cheapest.

The Star, Columbia, and American bicycles are made in several grades, but the buyer will find that it will be money in his pocket in the long run if he gets he best grade, besides deriving much greater satisfaction from the ownership. I have been there.

"STAR," 3653.

FROM MR. PENNELL.

LONDON, E. C., January 7th, 1887.

EDITOR L. A. W. BULLETIN:

Since quite a number of the L. A. W. are, I believe, members of the Cyclists' Touring Club, and since the C. T. C. Gazette for January contains an editorial attack upon me, the statements of which are utterly false, as a member and officer of the L. A. W. I write you to deny each and all of the editor's charges against me, simply saying that in this case the burden of proof rests with him.

JOSEPH PENNELL.

Official Announcements.

LEAGUE OFFICERS.

OFFICERS OF THE BOARD.

PRESIDENT.—Dr. N. M. Beckwith, 21 W. Thirty-seventh Street, New York.

VICE-PRESIDENT.—T. J. Kirkpatrick, Springfield, Ohio.

TREASURER.—Sanford Lawton, Springfield, Mass.

STANDING COMMITTEES.

EXECUTIVE.—N. M. Beckwith, 21 W. Thirty-seventh Street, New York; T. J. Kirkpatrick, Springfield, Ohio; John C. Gulick, 132 Nassau Street, New York city.

MEMBERSHIP.—E. F. Hill, Chairman, P. O. Box 797, Peekskill, N. Y.; Dr. G. Carlton Brown, 16 Broad Street, Elizabeth, N. J.; J. R. Dunn, Massillon, Ohio.

RACING.—Abbot Bassett, Chairman, 22 School Street, Boston, Mass.; Ewing L. Miller, 124 S. Front Street, Philadelphia, Pa.; W. M. Brewster, 309 Olive Street, St. Louis, Mo.; Chas. H. Potter, Cleveland, Ohio; Gerry Jones, Binghamton, N. Y.

RULES AND REGULATIONS.—W. I. Harris, Chairman, Box 5132, Boston, Mass.; Dr. C. S. Butler, 263 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.; Knight L. Clapp, 328 West Sixtieth Street, N. Y.

RIGHTS AND PRIVILEGES.—Charles E. Pratt, 597 Washington Street, Boston, Mass.; John C. Gulick, 132 Nassau Street, N. Y.; A. S. Parsons, Cambridgeport, Mass.

TRANSPORTATION.—Burley B. Ayers, Chairman, 152 S. Hoyne Avenue, Chicago, Ill.; Geo. R. Bidwell, 313 W. 58th Street, New York city; W. S. Bull, 587 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.; J. H. Livingston, Editor The Reformer, Bennington, Vt.; Fred. T. Sholes, Marsh-Harwood Co., Clevelnnd, O.; Frank Read, Record Building, Philadelphia; Frank A. Elwell, Transcript Office, Portland, Maine; Columbus Waterhouse, 16 Beale Street, San Francisco, Cal.; M. E. Graves (at large), Mannheim Building, St. Paul, Minn.

BUREAU OF INFORMATION.—A. B. Barkman, Chairman and Bookmaster, No. 608 Fourth Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

OFFICIAL HANDICAPPER.

N. P. Tyler, M. D., New Rochelle, N. Y.

MASSILLON, OHIO, February 5th, 1887.

EDITOR OF L. A. W. BULLETIN:

I wish to call the attention of the Board of Officers and the members of the League in general to the following extract from the record of the proceedings of the meeting of the Ohio Division, as published in the BULLETIN of September 17th, 1886.

"The following resolution was carried amid thunderous applause: Be it Resolved, By the members of the Ohio Division of the League of American Wheelmen, that the said Division place in nomination before the National Board of Officers of the L. A. W. the name of T. J. Kirkpatrick, of Springfield, Ohio, for the next President of the League."

I am permitted to say that the Board of Officers of the Ohio Division have recently had a positive assurance from our candidate of his acceptance of the nomination. He is in the race to stay! It is conceded upon all hands that the West is entitled to the honor of the Presidency, and we feel that our favorite son possesses in a marked degree the prerequisites of executive ability, zealous enthusiasm, and wide-spread popularity. Fraternally, etc.,

GEO. S. ATWATER,
Secretary & Treasurer Ohio Division. L. A. W

AMENDMENT TO BY-LAWS.

One amendment to the By-Laws passed at the Officers' Meeting in New York was omitted from our report. In Article 1, Section 4, clause (e), the following words are stricken out: "then current and 50 per cent. of the receipts from Life Membership during that year." This paves the way for a later amendment, which provides that the receipts from Life Membership go to the Treasurer, to be carried to a reserve fund.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE BOARD OF OFFICERS OF THE L. A. W.

AT A MEETING HELD IN PARLOR A, OF THE GRAND UNION HOTEL, NEW YORK, JANUARY 17TH AND 18TH, 1887.

SECOND DAY'S SESSION.

The Convention was called to order at 10.15 A. M., January 18th, 1887, by President Beckwith, who said:

The President.—Gentlemen, come to order, please. The first matter of business will be the completion of the report of the ex-Secretary, but the ex-Secretary is not present, and the report is not in our hands. We shall have to pass it over. The report of the Treasurer.

Mr. Pratt.—Mr. President, I would inquire if the Secretary-Editor who resigned on Sunday, or the Secretary pro tem., who served yesterday, is either of them present, or known to be present in town?

The President.—Neither of them is present or is known to be present.

Mr. Pratt.—I would inquire further if you, Mr. President, or either of the officers present, know where they are?

The President.—It is my impression that they have returned to Philadelphia. Mr. Wells told me last night that he was to take the 12 o'clock train home to Philadelphia; that it was imperative that he should leave on that train; and I supposed that he had gone on that train, but I have since learned that he was still in this hotel at about 7 o'clock this morning—he and Mr. Aaron. So that they must have taken an early train, or else they are still in the city.

Mr. Howard.—If you allow me, I might state that when I was down-stairs he left on the 9 o'clock train for Philadelphia.

Mr. Bidwell.—Both of them?

Mr. Howard.—Both left at 9 o'clock.

The President.—I might state, while this matter of the report of the ex-Secretary is before us, that the present Secretary-Editor was told by the ex-Secretary that he should not make the remainder of the report, and it should neither be reported nor printed; that he should not turn it over to the Board of Officers.

Mr. Pratt.—Then I am to understand that he stated that he should not make any report.

The President.—He did.

Mr. Pratt.—I would like to inquire further if the ex-Secretary-Editor had turned over to the Secretary pro tem., or to the Secretary-Editor elected yesterday, the papers and correspondence and effects of the League in his possession as Secretary-Editor at the time of his resignation, or had offered to turn them over?

The President.—He had not.

Mr. Pratt.—I would like to ask, further, if the Secretary pro tem. of yesterday turned over to the Secretary-Editor elected yesterday the records of the meeting so far as taken by him yesterday, or any other papers in his possession as Secretary-Editor?

The President.—The Secretary informs us that he has turned over nothing at all.

Mr. Pratt.—I think he was asked for them.

Secretary Bassett.—Mr. President, I think the records of the meeting are with the stenographers. There are certain papers that I have not received. But, so far as the minutes of the meeting go, we depend upon the stenographic report.

Mr. Pratt.—I understand that the stenographer takes minutes of the proceedings.

Secretary Bassett.—But I have no papers nor any reports except the report of the Executive Committee. That was turned over to me by them.

The President.—The roll-call has not been turned over.

Mr. Pratt.—Did you ask the Secretary pro tem. for the reports of other committees made yesterday, and the papers that should be here this morning?

Secretary Bassett.—No, sir.

The President.—There were no other reports of committees made yesterday, with the exception of—

Mr. Pratt.—I beg pardon; the report of the Committee on Credentials was an important report, and should be in the hands of the Secretary.

The President.—That is true. That is in the hands of Mr. Wells.

Mr. Pratt.—Am I to understand that that has been carried away?

The President.—That has been carried away.

Mr. Pratt.—Is the official list which was here yesterday of the Officers, the members of this Board, in the possession of the Officers here to-day?

Secretary Bassett.—It is not.

Mr. Pratt.—Then, Mr. President, I understand that it appears that Mr. ex-Secretary Aaron has not turned over anything that was in his possession officially at the time of his resignation the day before yesterday, but has intimated his intention of not so turning it over. Is that correct?

Secretary Bassett.—No, sir; that is not correct.

The President.—That relates only to his report as Secretary-Editor, a part of which was read here yesterday. That he positively refuses to turn over to us, or to put us in possession of in any way. He also refuses to turn over the mail and appurtenances pertaining thereto to the Secretary-Editor. Is not that the understanding?

Secretary Bassett.—Mr. President, that is hardly so. His remark was that he did not see what right I had to open letters addressed to him. "Well," I told him, "I must have the right, and must get it in some way;" and left him with the understanding, or I told him, that I thought we could arrange that, and that those letters must be opened. And Mr. Aaron remarked, "Well, perhaps we can make some arrangement about it." But the League there is in possession of an office which Mr. Aaron says is leased to him in his own name, and he does not see how I can go in and use that office; and he also says that the box at the Post-Office is his personal property, leased to him, and that I must make a change of that. That can be very easily done, but it will create some annoyance, I suppose, because the League members have become so accustomed to Box 916 that they easily remember to send to that box always. I suppose it will be very easy to change the box at the Post-Office and to rent another office.

Mr. Pratt.—I suppose it is in order, as germain to the subject which is now on the order of business, namely, the report of the Secretary-Editor.

Mr. Bidwell.—Mr. President, if Mr. Pratt will excuse me, I would like to make a remark that may come in with his remark. Mr. Veysey has just suggested that I state that the rent of the office and the rent of the Post-Office box, while it is in the name of Mr. E. M. Aaron, have always been charged to the League, and paid by the League.

Mr. Pratt.—I assumed that was so. As I understand it now, then, Mr. President, the facts are these: That for good and sufficient reasons the President of this Board requested the resignation of Mr. E. M. Aaron as Secretary-Editor of the League; that Mr. E. M. Aaron, in response to repeated and urgent requests to that effect, offered to the President his resignation, with a condition that Mr. Wells should be immediately appointed his successor; that the President very properly declined that proposition, and insisted upon a resignation, and that Mr. Aaron made that resignation conditional upon taking effect at the meeting of this Board; that the President stated to him that that was not satisfactory, and that he could either resign at once, or that he should feel it his duty to remove him from office, and that under that notice he resigned day before yesterday, to take effect at once. That the appointment of Mr. Wells as Secretary pro tem. took effect then, and Mr. Wells acted as Secretary pro tem. of the session of this Board yesterday; that as such Secretary pro tem. the report of the Committee on Credentials, with the list of accredited members of this Board, and with the organization of this meeting, and the proxy representatives were in his hands, and that the meeting yesterday adjourned to 9.30 o'clock this morning; that now, at nearly 10.30 this morning, an hour after the meeting was adjourned to, it appears to this Board that the ex-Secretary, Aaron, has departed for Philadelphia without leaving the matters in his charge with the proper officers, with a refusal to turn over to the proper officers the effects of his office officially in his possession at the time of his resignation; that the ex-Secretary pro tem. has also departed for Philadelphia, taking with him certain papers that belonged to this Board and are necessary for the further proceedings of this meeting, and that thereby they are obstructing the due and orderly proceedings of the Board of Officers, that thereby they are acting against the interests of the League, and are violating the duty which they owe to the officers they represent, and their duties to this Board.

Mr. President, I am about to move a resolution of censure of both those officers. I might rest my reason for moving such a resolution upon the brief summary which I have just made, but I think it may not be amiss to recapitulate a little further.

It appears from the reports made yesterday that Mr. Aaron, as Secretary-Editor, was short in his accounts to the League by moneys appropriated to his own use, as he himself stated to the Board yesterday, to the amount of $5,800, previous to and at the time of the May meeting of this Board last year. It appears that Mr. Wells became aware that there was a deficiency of that sort. It appears that at the meeting in May Mr. Aaron absented himself and Mr. Wells undertook to make a report for him, and did not make a full and proper report when requested to, or correct answers to the questions propounded in that meeting properly. It was stated by Mr. Aaron, yesterday, that he first requested the Executive Committee to make an investigation of the affairs of his office. I understand that that was not a correct statement, and in order to rest it not upon my understanding, but to have a direct answer, I now ask the Executive Committee who are present here whether Mr. Aaron requested, in his communication to the President or to the Executive Committee relating to his appropriation of League funds, any accountant to be sent to Philadelphia, or any investigation of his office?

Mr. Kirkpatrick—Mr. President, as the Secretary of the Executive Committee I have to say that he made no such request whatever. The letter simply stated that there was a deficiency, and the main purpose of the letter, as nearly as I can gather it, is to ask Dr. Beckwith to borrow the necessary amount and help him out of his trouble. The first suggestion to employ an accountant came from the Executive Committee, and came in this wise: He represented that a certain amount was short, and the question at once came up "Is that all? The only way that we can determine that is to have an expert accountant go to Philadelphia and look over the books." The first that Mr. Aaron knew of an expert accountant, or heard anything about it, was when the Executive Committee, with Mr. Veysey, walked into his office on Saturday morning, and at that time he said: "If I had known that you were coming here with an expert accountant I should have had things in better shape." Am I not correct, Dr. Beckwith?

The President.—That is correct.

Mr. Pratt.—Now I would like to ask one further question: When the Executive Committee had taken this expert accountant to Philadelphia to investigate the affairs of the office, did Mr. Aaron as Secretary-Editor submit at that time, or has he ever to this day submitted to the Executive Committee, or to its expert accountant, all the accounts and vouchers relating to his office?

Mr. Kirkpatrick.—Mr. President, in reply to Mr. Pratt's question I will say that he has not. He represents in the letter which he sent that a check for a large amount was drawn by him. Very naturally, the first inquiry which we made was for that check. We have never been able to find that check; we have never been able to find the pass book, or any track of that voucher—nor has Mr. Veysey. We have insisted upon it time and time again, and have done our best to get it. The only reply which we could get from Mr. Aaron was, "Why, I admit in the investigation the amount claimed by your expert accountant. Why go back of that?" We have never been able to see that check, nor have we known to whom it was drawn, the exact amount of it, or anything in connection with it.

Mr. Pratt.—Now, Mr. President, it further appears from the reports made yesterday that the LEAGUE BULLETIN, under the management of Mr. Aaron, has been published for a period of 18 months at a net loss, so far as those reports show, to the League of $4,900.

Mr. Veysey.—About that sum.

Mr. Pratt.—Was it nearer $4,900 or nearer $5,000?

Mr. Veysey.—$4,900. It was within $200 of $5,000.

Mr. Pratt.—Or about $5,000. Upon that fact it may be more appropriate to make certain comments which I have to make and which probably other members of this Board will be tempted to make in another connection; but it is sufficient to remark in this connection that that loss is most extraordinary; that it is against all proposals and promises; that it appears that the BULLETIN, notwithstanding the steady amount allowed for early loss, and the salaries and expenses paid, and notwithstanding the largely increased earnings and opportunities for earnings of the BULLETIN, has been continued at a loss and has been extravagantly managed and edited. It also appears that Mr. Wells has been an employee in the office of the Secretary-Editor, and at the same time a member of the firm publishing the BULLETIN and doing the printing for the League, and that Mr. Wells has exercised the office, so far as it could be delegated, of both Editor and Secretary in the absence of Mr. Aaron, and in connection with him. It is also a fact which appeared from the reports, and which is known otherwise, that Mr. Wells has been in receipt of a commission upon all advertising coming to the BULLETIN.

Mr. Kirkpatrick.—Mr. Pratt, if you will pardon me, that statement is not strictly correct. It is not upon all advertising which comes to the BULLETIN, but upon such advertising as he, as agent, secures for the BULLETIN.

Mr. Pratt.—Will the Executive Committee allow me to ask—

Mr. Kirkpatrick.—Certainly.

Mr. Pratt.—How much advertising he did not have a commission on?

Mr. Kirkpatrick.—Mr. Veysey, what proportion would you say?

Mr. Veysey.—I would not be able to state that, because the bills simply say 10 per cent. on certain amounts, without specifying whose advertising they were, but I should not imagine that he got by any means 10 per cent. on all the advertisements of the paper.

Mr. Pratt.—Does the Executive Committee know that all the advertising was not included in the amount for which he rendered bills for commission?

Mr. Kirkpatrick.—We know in this way: that the amount of the commissions that have been paid him is considerably less than 10 per cent. upon the amount of advertising received, and therefore his commission would not cover all the advertising receipts.

Mr. Pratt.—Does that mean the total advertising for the year past, for instance, or for the time since he—

Mr. Kirkpatrick.—No, sir; for the month. He is credited once a month with his commission.

Mr. Veysey.—That is not accurate. He is paid—simply paid direct.

Mr. Kirkpatrick.—He is paid direct: he receives it just the same; instead of crediting upon the books it is passed to him by check.

Mr. Pratt.—But you cannot state the proportion of the advertising on which he has received that?

Mr. Kirkpatrick.—No, sir; but I am very sure he is not by any means paid on all of it, but what proportion I would not be prepared to say without looking it up.

Mr. Bidwell.—If you will allow me, I will state that his commission for November was twenty-five dollars and some odd cents.

Mr. Pratt.—For November!?

Mr. Bidwell.—Yes, sir.

The President.—The commissions paid Mr. Wells are really on a small proportion of the amount of advertising—probably not more than one-quarter.

Mr. Pratt.—Mr. President, I will pass this matter for the present, as there does not seem to be any definite knowledge as to how much commission he has received.

Mr. Veysey.—My report shows the exact amount of commissions he has received for the last six months.

Mr. Pratt.—The fact still remains, however, that Mr. Wells was deriving his profits as a member of the firm of Stanley Hart & Co. from the printing done by the League; was exercising the duties of the office of Secretary-Editor, at times at least, and as such having the opportunity to pass upon the bills presented by Stanley Hart & Co., and that he was also receiving a percentage upon the advertising receipts of the BULLETIN; and, to my knowledge, Mr. President, some of the advertising on which he has received that commission at least was not dependent at all upon his obtaining it, and therefore could not be said to be advertising of his deriving or acquisition as soliciting agent. I believe it is the fact, Mr. President, and if I am wrong it may be corrected (since it is well to have a full understanding of these matters here), that upon the announcement of the result of the vote last night, and before the Board dispersed in the evening, Mr. Wells demanded a payment on account of what balance might be due to Stanley Hart & Co., and the officers had to make that payment. Is that correct?

The President.—That is correct.

Mr. Pratt.—Now I understand, Mr. President, that the Secretary-Editor and the Secretary pro tem. refuse to permit the Secretary-Editor-elect, or the Executive Committee, or the Representative of this Board, to receive the official correspondence and mail belonging to the officers and coming in due course of business to the Secretary-Editor at the offices at Philadelphia—refuse to permit them to enter or occupy the office rented for the League and paid for from its treasury, and refuse to turn over the Post-Office box or contents that were also rented and used for the purposes of the League, giving explicit notice that they will not.

Now, Mr. President, I move a resolution of censure, and, if requested, I will put that resolution in writing in fuller form for the approval of the Board before this meeting adjourns; but just at this moment it seems to me that that is a proper subject for the consideration of this Board.

Mr. Davol.—Mr. President, I would like to make a few remarks before it is seconded.

Mr. Hayes.—I second that motion.

Mr. Harris.—Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. My point is that Mr. Davol had the floor, and therefore Mr. Hayes could not second the motion until Mr. Davol got through.

Mr Hayes.—My point was to bring the matter before the meeting.

Mr. Davol.—Some of Mr. Pratt's remarks I have listened to it would have been well if they had been made yesterday morning, before the vote for the Secretary. I might say they would have changed my vote—or perhaps they might. I should think these things ought to have come out after the report to the Executive Committee. I was informed yesterday morning that Mr. Aaron was to be proved a thief, and Mr. Wells a liar and accomplice. I said, "Very well, if you will prove Mr. Wells a liar and accomplice he shall not have my vote." I claim he was not so proven. I do not think that there is any member of the Board here but will agree with me in that. Nothing went to show in any way that Mr. Wells was in any manner an accomplice of Mr. Aaron—before the meeting. I am not supposed to know what is going on in California. Accidentally I heard, previous to the meeting here, that Mr. Aaron had resigned. It was a mere accident. And I came without knowing it at all until I arrived here yesterday morning. I had no way of knowing.

Mr. Dunn.—It was published in the BULLETIN.

Mr. Davol.—I beg your pardon, I have not received my BULLETIN—and do not receive it until Tuesday morning. My BULLETIN is in the Post-Office at home now probably. I left Saturday morning. These remarks that Mr. Pratt has made (I do not mean what occurred last night or this morning, because that was later than the election, but a great many of his remarks and charges, in one way or another), if true, would have materially altered the vote yesterday, or last night, no doubt. There is no doubt in my mind that if those things were true, and Mr. Wells confronted with them, and he could not deny them, or if he showed guilt, he never could have had my vote. But it was not so in any way. He was not proven in any way wrong. Things were hinted, questions asked him, and he denied it. Great stress was laid on his report last May in Boston. I was there and heard his report. He was asked the question, did he know whether Mr. Aaron was short in his accounts? He answered "No" direct from the table. That was all. It was dropped there. He said he did not know it. No one said he did, and it was dropped. And I claim that these things should have come out yesterday morning, or in the afternoon before the election. Now, on the supposition that Mr. Pratt is correct as to what has occurred since yesterday, I wish most heartily to second the motion.

Mr. Harris.—Mr. President, I think it is only right that at this time a few words should be said in regard to the questions asked Mr. Wells and Mr. Aaron yesterday. As you all know, the task I undertook was an exceedingly disagreeable one in every way. It is one which, I am sorry to say, many gentlemen entirely misunderstood; and, sir, in attempting to bring out these very matters of fact which the gentlemen had said should have been brought out, I was derided by certain gentlemen in the room; and when I proceeded still further, on Mr. Pratt's suggestion, to question Mr. Wells, in order to bring these matters out, somebody made the remark in your rear about "persecution," and there was a round of applause. I found that to continue in the course I was pursuing would only subject me to insult after the meeting. And I wish to say here that I was called upon by several gentlemen, and accused of having persecuted this poor, unfortunate gentleman.

Now, gentlemen, if you will recollect, I asked Mr. Wells if he knew whether Mr. Aaron was short in his accounts. Mr. Wells did not answer my question in any shape or form. He spoke about some $3,800 in the bank. I asked him a second time—the same answer; I asked him the third time—the same answer; I asked him the fourth time—the same answer; and all that time Mr. Wells stood there, with his face white, and his lips trembling. I don't know whether that is any sign of guilt or not. Perhaps not. It is not always so. Many men will do that. I was trembling myself when I asked him the question. [Laughter.] The fifth time I asked him the question the gentleman got his courage up. He said that he did not know. What else could he do. I knew it was not so—I believed it was not so; and I am pretty well satisfied that the members here believed it was not so. But I found that when Mr. Aaron and Mr. Wells and their friends said anything, it was applauded, and I was derided throughout. That was the point when I stopped. Mr. Aaron's friends were anxious to protect him, and desired to hush all this matter up. They did not want to humiliate him any further, and I thought that if other gentlemen thought that enough had been brought out to show how the business stood at present—that it was rotten and corrupt to the core—the object was accomplished, and therefore I stopped.

Mr. Davol.—It is very easy to prove anything to anybody that already knows it. I did not know anything about this trouble at all in any way, shape, or form when I came here with my proxies. I had heard nothing. Of course, the New York members, they have the Executive Board here, and have every way of knowing. Nothing was known in Rhode Island about this. My Chief Consul said nothing about it, and when I came here in the morning I was lobbied around, one pulling me one way, and one the other, to get my votes. I firmly believe in the principle that a man is innocent until he is proven guilty. Mr. Wells yesterday was not proven guilty. Things were hinted at, but they do not make a man guilty. One man came and told me Mr. Wells was an accomplice of Mr. Aaron, and five minutes afterward another man told me Mr. Wells was a young God on earth. So I believe that these things ought to have come out before the vote, and not after.

Dr. Emery.—I think Davol is somewhat right in that matter. I think we were too humane yesterday. I, for one, felt, perhaps, that as long as this money was restored—I think that was the idea—through the exertions of the Executive Committee, who found these things in very bad shape, and, I am correctly informed, found that the bond of Mr. Aaron was worthless, and made every exertion to save the funds of the League. That was their great idea, if I understand it correctly. They went to work, and by their efforts have saved this $5,800 to this organization. The amount that has been expended in the extravagant mode of conducting the BULLETIN, of course, they could not get at. That had gone. Now, from the fact that the Executive Committee had saved this $5,800 to this body, and had got this matter fixed up, and the resignation of Mr. Aaron, it was thought that it might be best not to publish these facts—not to spread them broadcast—not to go any further than to show the members that Mr. Aaron had misappropriated the funds of this organization. And, further than that, it was shown to every man who had seemingly a thought on the matter, that Mr. Wells had been in that office, an occupant of a position there, had access to those books, and had repeatedly, from his own statement, looked over those books, and had telegraphed Mr. Aaron, when he was sick, that he wanted to know the exact amount in a certain bank, where, it seems afterward, there were no funds; and that Mr. Wells had been in this office, had been examining these books, had found that there were funds gone somewhere—at least he could not account for those funds, nor could he make any statement at the May meeting which was correct, or which he could vouch for. Now, it seems to me, on that statement, that Mr. Wells must have been knowing to the fact that there were irregularities in that office. Mr. Wells himself stated that when he got there and attempted to make out that report he could not find the funds. But he put it in these words, that he could not find the bank book, nor the check book, nor anything that would tell him what there was in the Provident Life and Trust Company—I believe that is the name of it.

Now, those funds, he said, he supposed to be there. If I recollect rightly, and the stenographic report also of the Boston meeting bears me evidence that I am correct, he said that there had been a great deal of mail thrown, probably we had better not put it in the press. I spoke privately about it outside of the meeting that I did not think it was right. But, being a member of the Board, I did not want to be considered too "fresh" in that action, anyway, and I said nothing about it. But that motion that was made yesterday certainly should be rescinded. You are going to allow these men to get one or two weeks' start. They are going to state their case. They are going to state it everywhere. We will get in ten days later. The man that gets in first, in such a case, in nine cases out of ten will win. That motion was a bad motion. That motion should be taken out, and some freedom of access to the records of this Board should be allowed the press. It is wrong not to do it.

Mr. Pratt.—Mr. President, I think I appreciate the expression that has already been made, and am particularly impressed by the remark made by Mr. Luscomb, that all the members of this Board can see things in a different light to what they could yesterday on account of the criminating behavior of the two persons under consideration in this motion last night and this morning.

The President.—Mr. Pratt, if you will allow me just one moment, I think the discussion is a little informal, as my information is that the motion which you offered has not been seconded.

Mr. Davol.—I seconded it.

The President.—Has it been seconded? Very good. Proceed.

Mr. Pratt.—I think the Board are disposed, very properly, as the Executive Committee has been disposed, very properly, to regard the feelings of persons, and to secure the interests of the League with as little individual suffering as possible. That can be appreciated now, and when I interposed, as you will recollect, at the last session, and some other member seconded the intimposition, to spare the reading of the letter of Mr. Aaron to the President, which was in the possession of the Executive Committee, it was felt that there was humiliation enough; but we have observed that, subsequently to that, with all the boldness and effrontery, and even alertness what seemed to be insolence afterward, that have sometimes characterized the Secretary-Editor, he has relieved us from that feeling of delicacy and hesitation, and I regret now that the letter was not read. I especially regret that the full Board could not see it after the letter read, so that they might compare it with his statements in the Board.

I find here a book purporting to be a Hand-Book of the League of American Wheelmen. I was urged very peremptorily by the Secretary-Editor, more than a year ago, to write something, which also appears in it, because it was to be published in January of last year. I see that it comes with off your own members of this Board from telling the whole "The compliments of the Pennsylvania Division" on the cover, but that on the title-page it says it is "Edited by Eugene M. Aaron, Secretary of the L. A. W." It purports to be an official Hand-Book of the League of American Wheelmen, although it bears the compliments of the Pennsylvania Division, and I don't know, and I don't propose, as it is not germane to the subject, now to inquire whether the Hand-Book was printed at the expense of the League, or whether the receipts from advertising in it were received by the League or not; but I wish to call attention to one paragraph which will be found on page 90, and apparently written by the ex-Secretary-Editor himself: "Advice to State Divisions. Second. Choose for Secretary-Treasurer a man who is thoroughly responsible financially, and who has shown in other capacities an aptitude and exactness in the keeping of accounts. [Laughter.] The sad experience of some of our Divisions whose Treasurer, elected as a 'good fellow,' has withheld or absolutely appropriated L. A. W. funds for his own use, impresses this advice most forcibly on the attention of all." [Renewed laughter.]

Mr. Harris.—Mr. President, I think we have had enough discussion on this motion to censure, and unless some one desires to speak I shall move the previous question; and I desire to give notice that I shall raise a question of privilege And in order to raise the question of privilege I am going to make a motion and say one or two words that I think are absolutely necessary to be said at this time for the best interests of the League. And I move the previous question, unless some gentleman desires to speak.

Mr. Bassett.—Mr. President, the Board has not given to me a path of roses to tread, and I suspect that within the course of the next three or four weeks there will be a good deal of friction.

A Voice.—Put a little vaseline on it. [Laughter.]

Mr. Bassett.—It seems to me if I go to Philadelphia, as I shall go this afternoon, with anything that will antagonize Mr. Aaron and his friends, I shall not be able to deal with him so well as I should be in the absence of such a motion. It is very true that he notified me that the League, not being an incorporated body, could not lease a room; that that room is leased to him, and that he shall hold the lease; and, as he put it, he did not see how I could be there, or any officer, that I should have to go somewhere else. It is very true that he told me that his post-office box was his private property, and that he used it to receive letters from the members of some organization of which he is an officer, and for his personal letters, and had used it, and it was well known among Philadelphians and the members of this other organization, and therefore I must get another box. It is well known that the Secretary who acted yesterday has disappeared with the papers. But there was only one paper of importance, and that was the report of the Committee on Credentials.

Mr. Howard.—We have a copy of that.

Mr. Bassett.—My personal relations with Mr. Aaron have always been very happy, and I think I can deal with him very well. At any rate, we shall make a strong fight. I feel that I have the backing of the Executive Committee, and can call upon them for any help in any direction. I shall go to Philadelphia as soon as this meeting adjourns, taking with me Mr. Veysey, the accountant. We shall go through the books, balance them up, and start anew. Now, I have got to meet some very discordant elements; and it is a question in my mind whether it would be better to throw this additional spark into the already large flame—whether or not it would not prejudice my action a good deal. I say that without regard to the rights of the question. I put it as a question of policy entirely.

Mr Pratt.—Mr. President, allow me a word. It is not a question of policy now; it is a question of upright and downright proper course of action. When this Board passes a vote of thanks it ought to mean something. When it passes a vote of censure, it shows that its other vote of thanks or of confidence also amounts to something, and this vote of censure should amount to something. Now, I appreciate the position in which the Secretary-Editor, newly elected, is placed, and I do not want any of us to interpose any obstacles in the way. That does not seem to me necessary. But it is due to ourselves, and to the Board of Officers, and to the members at large, that we shall pass a vote of censure upon such conduct as has been going on; and that that vote of censure shall go out in the official League BULLETIN, so that members can see what it was that was under consideration at the New York meeting, and why the President called for the resignation of Mr. Aaron, and why the Board of Officers changed the administration of the Secretaryship and the publication of the BULLETIN from its present management. That is our justification that this resolution of censure should be passed. I think the best thing we could do would be to pass it right off now—this vote of censure. Then I propose, if that vote is passed, to move another vote, which I would like to have passed right in conection with that, and that is a vote of confidence in the Executive Committee and of approval of their course [applause], and let them go on and do this. I do not suppose it would be necessary for the present Secretary-Editor to take those votes to Philadelphia and show them to Mr. Aaron; he will have nothing to do with them in that way; but he will send a certified copy to him, if requested. But he will have that published in the ordinary course of business.

Upon the other matters that have been brought up—referred to—and as to proceeding to Philadelphia, I should like to make some suggestions when the time comes, but it seems to me that now the proper thing is to pass this vote of censure.

Mr. Kirkpatrick.—Mr. President, upon the adjournment of the meeting last night, gentlemen came to me with the report that we were going to have a high old time; that they were going to attach, by some sort of a horn-swaggling arrangement that we have over in Philadelphia, the effects of our office in Philadelphia; and that they were going to give us trouble in every possible way. Now, I think my reputation is that I don't go beating about the bush much, and I immediately said —Mr. Wells is standing right there—I put it to him particularly —I said, "Mr. Wells, you can't afford to do anything of that kind, as a matter of business; you can't afford to do anything of the kind; we have always stood, as an Executive Committee, ready to do anything that was fair and right and honorable with you, and we have treated your firm; we have treated you individually with all the respect possible, and we have no ill-feeling against you now. I want to know whether anything of that kind is contemplated?" He assured me positively that there would be nothing of that kind attempted; that there was no intention on the part of his firm, or himself individually, to interpose anything in the way of Mr. Bassett or of this organization. Dr. Beckwith also talked with him, and he assured Dr. Beckwith, if anything, more strongly than he did me.

This morning we come here and find the condition of affairs which has already been recited. I give Mr. Wells the benefit of the doubt in saying that possibly, in the hurry of other matters, he may have put that report of the Credentials Committee in his pocket and forgotten to hand it over. Be that as it may, the fact remains that certain developments have come up which do seriously change my position in regard to this. As a member of the Executive Committee, I have carried out everything as long as I want to have it, and I want to go into this thing like a chicken into dough, and have the whole thing brought up—make a clean breast of the whole affair. I was for peace. I am now for war. I want to have this whole thing straightened out. I am ready and anxious that we should send Mr. Bassett, with some one else, and Mr. Pratt, to Philadelphia, with full power and authority to take hold and conduct things just as they deem best, under whatever circumstances may arise, and that this Board of Officers back them up to the bitter end. [Applause.]

Dr. Emery.—Mr. President, that is the very point I made, and I think it should be attended to at once. Some one should start for Philadelphia in whom we have the utmost confidence, and get possession of those papers and save the money from going into the hands of the receivers, except the officers of this body. Further than that, I think before this motion should be passed, that Mr. Pratt should draw up his resolution; that it should contain a statement of the circumstances leading up to this matter; that it should contain the letter of Mr. Aaron, which we have not read yesterday. That letter, it seems to me, should be made public.

A Voice.—A personal letter?

Dr. Emery.—It is not personal when it admits dishonesty. I believe that our President deserves the thanks of this organization for what he has done, consider it personal, when he, as an executive officer of this body, received a letter stating that a man had misappropriated the funds of this organization to a matter of nearly $6,000. Gentlemen, is there anything personal in that? Our President would have been guilty to all the instincts of honest men if he had not refused to make that matter personal. I believe that letter should come into this resolution. I believe that every member of this League should know that Mr. Aaron, in writing, admitted his dishonesty, so that there could not be a question of it. Now, I understand from what I have heard that that letter contains such an admission to the satisfaction of every member of this organization; and when that letter comes out, and every member of this organization sees that letter, then they will back up this Board of Officers to the fullest extent; then they will see that it is merely a question of honesty and dishonesty; that the welfare of this organization is what is at stake. If they do not have that letter, they may think, just as some other gentlemen thought yesterday, that Mr. Aaron was being persecuted, and that it was best to let up. Let not to be too hard on him. But when that admission is published, it should be published in some way so that there could be no libel claimed, if that can be done; and Mr. Pratt should incorporate a statement of the affairs leading up to this matter in his resolution, and then Mr. Aaron's admission in the matter, and then the facts which were brought out here yesterday, and which have been brought out here to-day. Further than that, I understand that immediately after this meeting (and I received it from a party who is not a member of this Board, who was present, and who advised against it) that a meeting was held on this same floor by Mr. Aaron and his friends, wherein was discussed the matter of a Southern League, in opposition to this body, wherein were discussed other questions which would lead to the disruption and injury of this body; and that, acting under the advice of parties who are disinterested, and who warned them that they were merely injuring themselves if they attempted that, and that they had better not, they finally concluded to postpone the matter, or not to take action at the present time in that room in regard to those matters.

Evidently these parties mean war on this organization. I think an account of this should immediately be sent out to every member of the organization. Every member of the League should know the whole facts in regard to this case, and Mr. Aaron's admission, and everything in regard to it; and then the gentlemen will see, as plainly as we do here, that we are fighting for the life of the organization, where others are willing to put a knife at its throat. [Applause.]

Mr. Luscomb.—Mr. President, yesterday we came to the conclusion that it was about time to stop one abuse, namely, this proxy business, and it was settled. To-day we find the further development of that same spirit in the evidence that has come before us. It seems to me that the case presents something very similar to this: If you have a bookkeeper or an employee in your establishment, and you discover that he has not done exactly what is right, and you say, "I will dispense with your services, and have some one else for a bookkeeper," and he says, "All right; I will gather into my arms what has been in my charge, and carry it off: what are you going to do about it?"—that is a similar situation to our own; and I do not think this is a case where the suaviter in modo should obtain.

I know that Mr. Bassett is a very genial man, and one who would be inclined to treat a matter of this kind pleasantly, and secure all that could be obtained by lenient measures. But it seems to me that the dignity of this body has been set at defiance. They have taken things away and said we cannot have them, and they are going to keep them. Gentlemen, it is not a time to temporize; it is not a time to negotiate; but to go down there and by force of arms take them, and declare ourselves and stand for our position, and demand our rights and get them. I hope there won't be any temporizing—that there won't be any consideration shown. We have been simply ignored, or attempted to be ignored—told we cannot have these things that belong to us; that we cannot have our money; that we cannot have these letters, because they purport to be addressed to Mr. Aaron, not personally, but to Mr. Aaron as Secretary. Let us go down there and assert our rights and take what belongs to us, and if anybody gets in the way perhaps he may get hurt.

Mr. Bidwell.—I think we are all convinced of what should be done here, and I hope the gentlemen will immediately take a vote on the suggestion of Mr. Kirkpatrick, and send our representatives at once to Philadelphia.

The motion as made by Mr. Pratt was hereupon put to the house and declared carried unanimously.

The following is the resolution prepared by Mr. Pratt.

The resolution written out in full, as required by the meeting.

WHEREAS, It now appears to this Board that Mr. Eugene M. Aaron, a Representative from Pennsylvania, and until the day before this meeting our Secretary-Editor, had appropriated to his own use about $5,800 of the League's funds previous to the May meeting of last year; and that Mr. John A. Wells, Chief Consul for Pennsylvania, had become aware that there was a deficiency of that sort; and that at the May meeting Mr. Aaron absented himself and Mr. Wells undertook to make a report for him, and did not make a full and correct report, but made incorrect and misleading answers to questions properly asked him; and that Mr. Aaron, though confessing the greater part of the sum and begging aid to make it up, yet obstructed and still does obstruct a full and complete investigation by an accountant, by carrying off and refusing access to certain accounts and vouchers and other evidences of the disposition of League funds, and has made conflicting and incorrect statements here regarding the matter; and that the BULLETIN has been loosely and extravagantly managed and edited, insomuch that besides the $3,500 a year allowed for salaries and rent and an additional amount for postage and incidental expenses, the BULLETIN has been run at a loss of about $4,000 in eighteen months; and that both Mr. Aaron and Mr. Wells, after their ineffectual struggle to retain control of the Secretary-Editor's office, have refused to make any official report as required by our rules; and that now, this morning, both Mr. Aaron and Mr. Wells have absented themselves from this meeting, and have taken away the official list of membership in this Board, and the report of the Committee on Credentials, and the official list of proxies here, and divers others things belonging in possession of the newly elected Secretary-Editor; and that they have expressly refused to turn over the books, correspondence, office, and effects of the League to the proper officers, and are obstructing the due and orderly proceedings of this Board, and have acted and are acting against the interests of the League, and have been and are grossly violating the duties they owe, not only as Secretary-Editor and Secretary-Editor pro tempore, but also as Representative and Chief Consul of Pennsylvania and members of this Board: now, therefore,

Resolved, That Mr. Eugene M. Aaron, especially, and Mr. John A. Wells, both deserve the severe censure of this Board of Officers and of every member and friend of the League of American Wheelmen, for betrayal of trusts reposed in them, for conduct prejudicial to the League, and for malfeasance in office.

Mr. Pratt.—Mr. President, I now move a vote of confidence in the Executive Committee and the President of this Board, and of approval on the part of this Board of their course in respect to the affairs under discussion.

Motion seconded, put by the Secretary-Editor, and declared carried unanimously.

Mr. Pratt.—Mr. Chairman, inasmuch as my name has been brought into these suggestions, I have sought this opportunity of making a motion myself. I preface it by saying that Mr. Gulick, of the Executive Committee, is a lawyer of acknowledged ability and a faithful officer of this Board, and thoroughly conversant with all the affairs of Philadelphia, and has had these matters which have been under discussion in charge; and he is certainly the proper member of this Board to accompany Mr. Bassett to Philadelphia; and I would suggest, in connection with the matter, that the proper course would be for Mr. Gulick, on behalf of this Board, and as a member of the Executive Committee, and as conversant with these matters, to go with Mr. Bassett, the officer who is entitled to take possession, to Philadelphia; and that they should go at once, to-day; and that they should take such advice as they deem necessary and that they should take the advice of counsel, familiar with the laws of Pennsylvania and the conditions existing in Philadelphia, and should act under his advice with promptness and vigor to obtain all the rights of the League in Philadelphia at once. I move, Mr. President, that the Executive Committee be authorized to take such steps as they may deem expedient, and at the expense of the League, to obtain possession of the property and rights of the League, and to aid the Secretary-Editor in gaining possession of the books, papers, correspondence, and other matters properly appertaining to his office.

Mr. Harris.—I second that motion.

The President.—Gentlemen, you hear the motion as made by Mr. Pratt and seconded by Mr. Harris. Is there any argument upon the question?

On vote, motion declared adopted.

Mr. Harris.—Mr. President, I rise to a question of privilege, and I make it a question of privilege simply because it is a little out of order, and I call it a question of privilege because it is a matter that affects the welfare, and perhaps the future existence, of this League. It is well known that Mr. Aaron and Mr. Wells have departed. At the same time there have departed also a large number of gentlemen who were with them yesterday in all their votes, and who, in spite of the revelations that were made, or partially made, perhaps it had better be said, are still with them. Now, gentlemen, the League of American Wheelmen, the members at large (we must not mince matters), must not be allowed to side with Mr. Aaron and Mr. Wells. We must have the public sentiment at our backs. We must have the good feeling of the League to be with the Board of Officers and against Mr. Aaron and Mr. Wells. We must procure the active co-operation of the wheelmen of Philadelphia; and in order to get that co-operation we must have the records of yesterday's meeting and of to-day's meeting spread not only upon the journals of our organizations, but given out to the newspapers. We must not allow them to gain any advantage over us in that respect. We are not incorporated; and though I know nothing about the law, I still have the idea that when our lawyers get there they will find a great deal of trouble from that fact; and we must have public sentiment behind us in whatever we undertake.

Now, sir, I move that the letter of Mr. Aaron, which was not read yesterday through a mistaken generosity on our part, be read, and spread upon the records of the organization, and that all restrictions imposed upon the members of the press and upon the publication of yesterday's proceedings and of to-day's proceedings, if any were made before I came into the room, will be removed.

Mr. Davol.—Mr. President, if I may be allowed a few remarks, following Mr. Harris', which bear on some remarks that he made, I would like to state that a gentleman by my side, a Representative from Philadelphia, Pa., who says he is not much of a speech-maker (and I am not much better), says that he wishes to assure the Board that he, as a Representative from that section, had no idea as to the transactions of the business in Philadelphia; that the Philadelphians knew nothing about it; that they knew nothing of it yesterday, and now he wants me to assure the Board that he personally is in sympathy with them in this action.

Mr. Pratt.—Mr. President, that is very pleasant to hear. I trust and believe that it is the hope and feeling of every member of this Board that the members of the Board in Pennsylvania, and the members of the League in Pennsylvania, will co-operate and sympathize with the proceedings of this meeting as soon as they are fully informed of the facts on which they have been based. The Pennsylvania Division has been a noble Division. They have shown a commendable loyalty to their own members and a commendable support of the ex-Secretary-Editor, who was also a member of their Board of Officers, upon such facts as were within their knowledge. And whatever remarks may have been made (and perhaps I have not been as careful as I might have been in reference to the Pennsylvania Division), I desire to have it understood fully that whatever I say in this Board shall be with the utmost respect to the Pennsylvania Division, and also with the utmost respect to all those men who voted yesterday in the minority.

Now, Mr. President, the motion of Mr. Harris (which has not been seconded, I am afraid) seems to me to be rather comprehensive and discursive, and I think I can make a better one. I move that the Executive Committee be instructed to prevent the publication of the L. A. W. BULLETIN this week until it has been revised and permitted to be published by them, and that they take such immediate steps as shall secure the prevention of its publication until they have revised it. That is my present motion. I hope that will be put and carried.

Mr. Harris.—I second it.

Motion put and carried.

Mr. Pratt.—Mr. President, I move that it is the sense of this Board that the President ought forthwith to remove from the office of Representative in this Board Mr. Eugene M. Aaron, of Pennsylvania, and Mr. John A. Wells, of Pennsylvania; and I make this motion upon the ground that the whole proceedings of this Board have disclosed the fact that Mr Aaron is no longer worthy of confidence, and is guilty of malfeasance in office as a Representative as well as Secretary-Editor; and also upon the ground that both Mr. Aaron and Mr. Wells, in the course of conduct pursued last night and this morning, are guilty of malfeasance in office, and deserve to be removed from office on that account.

Mr. Holly.—Mr. President, as a Representative from Pennsylvania (and I am the only one here), I should like to be allowed to second that motion.

Motion put and carried.

Mr. Pratt.—Mr. President, allow me to make one more motion. I do not want to make them all. I move, sir, that the vote of restriction on the press, passed yesterday, be rescinded, and that the Executive Committee have authority to prohibit, or to interpose such influence as they choose to exercise, or as they deem best to exercise, upon the publication of any matters that have come before the Board.

Mr. Davol and Dr. Emery.—I second the motion,

Mr. Howard.—Mr. President, would not this resolution that you have proposed making cover this matter in a concise form? We have not a full report of the meeting except the stenographic report, and it would be impossible to send to the press a full report of the proceedings, because we were not instructed to take them; and the only way we could give them would be to give them as we could remember them, which would not be satisfactory; and if this whole matter could be condensed in the slight form of this resolution which was proposed here, wouldn't that be sufficient to send out to the press?

Mr. Pratt.—Mr. President, I have simply proposed that that vote be rescinded.

Mr. Howard.—I understood that the vote had been passed.

Mr. Pratt.—There was a vote passed yesterday excluding from the room and restraining the representatives of the press here from publishing any proceedings that related to certain matters. I move that that resolution be rescinded; and also that the Executive Committee exercise such restraint or prohibition as they may deem best, and are able to, upon the matter of publication of whatever has been read or spoken during the sessions of this meeting. Because they are matters of peculiar importance, and of peculiar personal relation, and it seems to me that they should exercise a little care that libelous or troublesome matters should be handled with a little discretion. That is the reason for my moving that the vote be rescinded. That will practically leave the representatives of the press who are here free to publish such matters as they choose to. It will also leave them a little under the obligation, as members of this Board, or as being here by permission of this Board, to consult with the Executive Committee, and to take a little care not to publish things that would be prejudicial to the interests of the meeting.

Dr. Emery.—Mr. President, that was my idea in asking Mr. Pratt to put into this resolution all these facts—a summary of the case—and to put it into such form as would not allow a lawsuit, if possible—to put it that way so that there could be no lawsuit as a matter of libel. And on the question of libel, on our liability as regards the publication of this matter, it seems to me that Mr. Pratt could put that in such form that we could not be held liable in any way; and we know that Mr. Aaron has had some experience in the law of libel, and he may profit by it.

Mr. Davol.—I do not think that to call a man a thief, and have the power to prove it, that he can bring a libel very well.

Mr. Pratt.—There is nothing that we do or say here, as I understand it, that is actionable for libel, because we are simply acting in our official capacity here as members of the Board of Officers. We imposed a restraint upon the members of the press; they must look out for themselves. We simply withdraw that resolution of restraint, and leave them to exercise their rights under such advice as they may take, with the sole exception and reservation that they confer with the Executive Committee.

Dr. Emery.—Mr. President, I would like to ask Mr. Pratt one question—if our publishing these matters can be considered a matter of libel?

Mr. Pratt.—That is entirely in the hands of the Executive Committee, and that Committee has a good lawyer on its Board. I do not wish to answer the question.

Mr. Bassett.—Mr. President, one thing I think may come in on this point. It is very evident that if the BULLETIN has lost $5,000 and more, a very conservative policy has got to be pursued in the future. One of the steps toward that policy should certainly be the cutting down very considerably of the stenographic reports which have been published in the BULLETIN. I think that a satisfactory report can be made of the proceedings from what I have taken myself, and Mr. Howard, who is working with me on it, and that the bills for composition will be very materially reduced. I talked this over with the Executive Committee, and they agreed with me. Now, I do not want the Board to do all this talking, and have an idea that all of it should come out in the BULLETIN. I want to impress upon them that we shall save the bill for composition just as much as we possibly can. And as the sentiment of the Board as it is being expressed, would seem to point to a publication of all these facts and all these statements that have been made, I would like now to get very clearly from the Board what they want, and what they expect of us.

Mr. Pratt.—Mr. President, I suppose it will be expected by the members of the Board, and I certainly should like to make a suggestion, that the report of this meeting, published in the BULLETIN, should contain the substance of all that has transpired; that is, should contain the official reports that have been made, should contain the substance of the proceedings that necessarily, in order to make the actual votes passed understood by the members, should contain the substance of what has been said and produced upon the principal matters. I think that there could well be omitted from all reports of the proceedings of meetings discussions upon points of order, or upon preliminary questions that involve no principle and involve no matters of importance to the members at large, but that upon important votes the substance of the discussion which has preceded them should be published. I simply make that statement as an expression of my opinion, in order to start off suggestions from members, as that is requested.

Mr. Davol.—Mr. President, I should think that if any meeting should be printed in full this one should be. It is a very important meeting—both yesterday's proceedings and those of last night and to-day. After this meeting it might do to cut it down a little, but I think this one should come out in full. A great many members have changed their minds, and I think their constituencies ought to have the benefit of knowing the reasons why they have done so.

Mr. Harris.—Mr. President, I think Mr. Davol's opinion is periectly right, and I think Mr. Pratt's suggestion will cover the ground that he wants to cover. I believe, though it will be expensive, that all that part of yesterday's proceedings that does not relate to those points of order, and a considerable portion of it in regard to proxies which will be used hereafter as precedents, should be printed, and that the entire proceedings of to-day should be printed in full. That is my idea of it.

Mr. Luscomb.—Mr President, there is another matter in connection with that that I should like to suggest: that we know we are dealing with very technical people, and therefore, in revising what has been said either yesterday or to-day, it must be done with great care, so that no technical point may be permitted to crop out, if any one hereafter should desire to take advantage of it. In doing that, great care must be exercised to see that a different construction cannot be drawn from the remarks that have been made here from what would be conveyed by the remarks themselves as they appear in the stenographic report. For that reason, we should approach that matter with great caution.

Mr. Bassett.—I think we must either have a running report made entirely by the Secretary-Editor and his assistants, or else we must have the stenographic report in full. We have got to do justice to both sides. They claim that gag-l w was introduced here on these very points of order which Mr. Pratt would like to have excluded; and if we cut all of them out, they may claim, perhaps, that they have not been treated as they should. It seems to me if we take the stenographic report at all, we must take it entire.

Mr. Bidwell.—Mr. President, I do not desire to take any more of your valuable time than may be necessary, but I would like to make a few remarks on this question. It has been the supposition of the management, or of the Executive Committee, that all the composition that was possible to be crowded into the BULLETIN has been crowded into it in the past; and while I am in favor of a reform in that direction, in order to save the funds of the League, yet I think the reform should not be instituted especially on this meeting and the meeting of yesterday, and I trust that the full stenographic reports of both meetings will appear in the BULLETIN in the first issue that they can appear in.

Mr. Pratt.—Mr. President, if I may be permitted to say, as a sort of explanation, my attention has just been called by a Representative from Pennsylvania who is present to the fact that, in the motion expressing the sense of the meeting that the President ought to exercise his power of removal of two members of the Pennsylvania officers, Mr. Wells was referred to as a Representative. He is Chief Consul of Pennsylvania; and I understand that the membership of the Board from Pennsylvania that are present agree with me in the belief that Mr. Wells should be removed as Chief Consul of Pennsylvania, that the other Representatives from Pennsylvania, which has always been a loyal, stanch, active, and influential part of the League, and was especially prominent in its foundation, should be unembarrassed at present by the membership of either of those two persons in its Board. It should be able to hold a meeting, if it chooses to call a meeting, to consider the present exigencies, without either of those members being entitled to a seat. And if it requires another motion to express the sense of this Board, so as to include the removal from the Chief Consulship in that State, I make that motion. I ask simply for information.

Mr. Bassett.—The Secretary might correct the record.

Mr. Pratt.—If there is no objection to that—that this motion may be corrected so as to refer to the Chief Consul, instead of Representative—that will do.

Mr. Harris.—Mr. President, in order to test the sense of the Board and settle this question about publication at once, I move that the proceedings of yesterday and to-day be printed in the BULLETIN; that is to say, with the exception that Mr. Pratt spoke of in regard to anything that may prove of a libelous nature, under the laws of the State of New York, that might affect personal members. I think that was the point he desired to make.

Mr. Egan.—I second the motion.

Motion put and carried.

Mr. Adriance.—Mr. President, was the motion voted on rescinding yesterday's resolution?

The President.—Yes, sir, it was.

Mr. Egan.—Mr. President, I think you are in error there. I have not heard that motion carried. I have not cast any vote on it.

The President.—What is that?

Mr. Egan.—On the motion to rescind.

The President.—I stand corrected. It seems that the motion has not been passed.

Mr. Adriance.—I understood that was the motion we were discussing at the time Mr. Harris made his last motion.

The President.—Will the Secretary please read the motion as made in regard to the publication of this matter.

Mr. Bassett.—The motion was by Mr. Pratt; his motion was that the vote of restriction on the press be rescinded, and that the Executive Committee be instructed to revise the matter as they may deem expedient.

Mr. Harris.—I would like to ask Mr. Pratt if he means by that—I don't know whether that is exactly the sense of it—if he means by that to cut out anything more than such matters as prove libelous, or might seem to be so, in regard to some personal member of the Board of Representatives in New York? Was the idea or opinion in regard to that merely to protect those gentlemen that reside in the city?

Mr. Pratt.—I think the Committee are discreet men, and that they will look after the matter in that way, and that they will look after the interests of the League and the membership at large as well as the members of this Board. I think that an indefinite resolution is all that is necessary, and that they will exercise that discretion properly.

Mr. Bassett.—It seems to me that that is going to place upon them a very difficult task. Here is my friend, Mr. Egan, who is correspondent for a paper, and he will probably write his manuscript within two or three days and send it by mail, and here you have him submit that manuscript to the Executive Committee. Mr. Howard, Mr. Prial, Dr. Emery, and a number of others are correspondents also.

Mr. Pratt.—My motion was simply that they be permitted to interpose the exercise of such restraint or prohibition as they shall see fit to make. If they do not think it is expedient for them to interpose any restraint, there will not be any objection. If they think it is necessary to interpose any restraint as to particular matters, then they will indicate that to the members of the press. If they do not, the members of the press will be free. That is my understanding of my motion. I did not think that they would revise matter for the press. I meant that if in their discretion they found it expedient to interpose any restraint, I thought they ought to do it.

Mr. Egan.—Mr. President, if there is any libelous matter gotten off by any newspaper man—printed—he stands responsible for his paper. You are perfectly free of the matter. We have got to take all the risk. You have all the fun and none of the risk. We take some of the risk and get some of the money.

The President.—Mr. Egan, let me correct you. I fail to see where the fun comes in.

Mr. Luscomb.—I do not see where the trouble comes in on this question of libel. I have listened very attentively to everything that has been said so far, yesterday and to-day, and failed to hear a single word that could be construed to be slanderous; and if it is not slanderous when said, it can hardly be libelous when printed.

Mr. Harris.—I do not think that really there should be any restraint upon any members of the press at all. As Mr. Egan very aptly says, our papers are responsible for what is printed in them, and we are responsible for what is sent them, and the Board of Officers can in no wise suffer from it, and I think the restriction should be removed.

Mr. Egan.—Naturally, the allegation cannot be made that we were restricted to anything that would be favorable to our own side. You certainly cannot give any excuse to outsiders. The leniency dodge we have played for all it is worth, and we suffer for it this morning. I think it is wise to let people go out and say what they think. I do not see that any restriction should be put on people or on the right of the press. I do not see it at all in that way.

Mr. Luscomb.—I do not think, Mr. Chairman, that we can go so far as that under the By-Laws. I think it is perfectly competent and proper for us to express our opinion that the President shall do certain things. I do not think we should declare any men guilty of malfeasance without proceeding as our By-Laws order, without proceeding in the regular fashion of preferring charges, and letting them be heard. Of course things have occurred from which we could form a judgment; but I do not think we should declare a regular judgment unless in the regular form, and, therefore, I object to anything more than an expression of opinion that the President should do certain things. Perhaps Mr. Pratt's remarks go further than that, and perhaps they do not.

Mr. Pratt.—I intended to go further, but I withdraw them. I think enough time has been spent on the matter already.

Mr. Kirkpatrick.—We will now proceed with the regular order of business.

[Here follows, in the stenographer's reports, a full and complete account of the business transacted. This has been fully reported in the BULLETIN, and it is not deemed necessary to repeat it.]

the President be requested to exercise his right of removal on that account.

Mr. Luscomb.—I do not think, Mr. Chairman, that we can go so far as that under the By-Laws. I think it is perfectly competent and proper for us to express our opinion that the President shall do certain things. I do not think we should declare any men guilty of malfeasance without proceeding as our By-Laws order, without proceeding in the regular fashion of preferring charges, and letting them be heard. Of course things have occurred from which we could form a judgment; but I do not think we should declare a regular judgment unless in the regular form, and, therefore, I object to anything more than an expression of opinion that the President should do certain things. Perhaps Mr. Pratt's remarks go further than that, and perhaps they do not.

Mr. Pratt.—I intended to go further, but I withdraw them. I think enough time has been spent on the matter already.

Mr. Kirkpatrick.—We will now proceed with the regular order of business.

[Here follows, in the stenographer's reports, a full and complete account of the business transacted. This has been fully reported in the BULLETIN, and it is not deemed necessary to repeat it.]

Official Announcements.

TO KENTUCKY DIVISION MEMBERS.

I notice with regret that but a small percentage of our members have renewed up to the present time, and would urge upon you to do so at once. Our annual election for Chief Consul is very near at hand, and if you have not received your ticket by the first of March you will not be entitled to a vote; another incentive will be offered you this year. Our Division is now working on a Road Map and Guide Book, which they hope to get ready by the 1st of May, and none but L. A. W. members can get it. Let every one now a member renew at once, and then each one try to gain a new member; don't leave all the work for a few officers; they can do very little in this respect, not being able to talk to the great many cyclers in our State. There is plenty of material in your respective localities, so let's to work.

Respectfully yours,
C. F. JOHNSTON, C. C.

TO N. Y. BOARD OF OFFICERS.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., February 9th, 1887.

OFFICERS OF THE N. Y. STATE DIVISION:

DEAR SIRS:—Your Committee, as ordered at your meeting of January 15th, have decided on a regular heading and paper for letter-heads and envelopes. These will be supplied, in lots of not less than 250 each, at cost, on request to the undersigned.

The matter of stamped envelopes your Committee have deferred for your futher consideration.

Respectfully,
E. K. AUSTIN, Sec.-Treasurer.

CONNECTICUT APPOINTMENTS.

The following hotels have been appointed for Connecticut in addition to the list recently published:

Naugatuck—Naugatuck Hotel. L. A. W. rate, $2.00; meals, 50 cents; further reductions to parties.

New Canaan—Crosby House. Regular rate $2.00; L. A. W., $1.50.

CHARLES G. HUNTINGTON,
Chief Consul.

THE PENNSYLVANIA BICYCLE CLUB'S ACTION.

At the recent meeting of the Pennsylvania Bicycle Club the following was unanimously adopted:

"WHEREAS, The Board of Officers of the League of American Wheelman at the recent meeting in New York ruthlessly violated the rights of League members in Pennsylvania and other States, and also undertook to condemn unheard Chief Consul Wells and Representative Aaron, charging them with malfeasance in office; and

WHEREAS, The members of the Pennsylvania Division, L. A. W., after a careful investigation of the facts, have strongly protested against said actions, and cordially indorsed the gentlemen named; therefore, be it

Resolved, That this Club hereby heartily indorses the said action of the Pennsylvania Division, and expresses the fullest confidence in Messrs. Wells and Aaron, to whom this Club, in common with all other lovers of cycling, are indebted for much sincere, intelligent, and unrequited work for the advancement of cycling.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date and published in accordance with Article III of the Constitution, which is as follows:

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Applicants will please bear in mind that in addition to the two weeks, as above, it must necessarily take several days for their ticket to be issued, as it passes through two hands before being mailed to them. After four weeks from date of publication you may look for your ticket.

It is expected, and it is the duty, of all members to examine the list of applications for their respective States and report at once any error in name or address, and see that no objectionable person is admitted to the League. Any objection made to the Secretary within two weeks from date of publication. It will be considered confidential.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

No. 74—Total, 24.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., February 14th, 1887.

CONNECTICUT DIVISION—2.

Stamford Wheel Club—1.
13619 Brush J. Lindsley, Stamford.

Pequonnock Wheel Club—1.
13618 Miller, A. S., 431 Fairfield Ave., Bridgeport.

ILLINOIS DIVISION—3.

Owl Cycling Club—3.
13622 Cory, F. M., 3713 Lake Avenue, Chicago.
13620 Forrest, R. O., 88 25th St., "
13621 Winship, E. R., 636 Englewood Ave., Chicago.

KANSAS DIVISION—1.

Unattached—1.
13623 Wulfekuhler, Albert, Lawrence.

KENTUCKY DIVISION—1.

Louisville Wheel Club—1.
13624 Turner, E. R., 1014 12th Street, Louisville.

MARYLAND DIVISION—3.

Hagerstown Bi. Club—2.
13627 Bomberger, W. S., Hagerstown.
13626 Wolfe, Walter M., "

Unattached—1
13625 Bowers, James W., Jr., 16 E Lexington St., Baltimore.

MISSOURI DIVISION—2.

Unattached—2.
13629 Moder, Chester L., 3307 Washington Ave., St. Louis.
13628 Wetzel, G. E., Jr., 2337 Lafayette Ave., "

NEW YORK DIVISION—3.

Unattached—3.
13632 Burling, George W., Rochester.
13631 Burton, Henry F., 63 East Avenue, Rochester.
13630 Peepels, H. Clay, 261 Alexander St., "

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION—8.

Germantown Cycling Club—3.
13633 Boehm, W. J., 1416 N. 18th St., Philadelphia.
13635 De Ronde, R. D., 26 Letitia St., "
12634 Paramore, Chas., 112 S 4th St., "

University Bi. Club—5.
4789 Humphreys, Henry, care of Society for Savings, Cleveland, Ohio.
13638 Keen, C. Barton, 3913 Chestnut St., Philadelphia.
13639 Miller, A. A., 603 N. 13th St., "
13636 Riddle, Robert N., 4722 Green St., Germantown.
13637 Wilt, M. D., 1417 N. 15th St., Philadelphia.

WISCONSIN DIVISION—1.

Milwaukee Wheelmen—1.
13640 Schroeder, Fred. J., 525 5th St., Milwaukee.

RENEWALS.

No. 10.—Total, 750.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., February 14th, 1887.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION—12.

6700 Bley, M. A.
5791 Cowen, A. H.
7646 Donnelly, D. W.
12037 Goodwin, J. A
7471 Johnson, C. H.
7624 Neal, A. S.
6514 Pickett, B.
7626 Reuman, H. J.
11319 Sanford, Dr. L. N.
10544 Simmons, W. A.
8643 Tenney, H. O.
7631 Thompson, C.

CANADA—1.

3166 Donly, H. B.

COLORADO DIVISION—2.

8815 Ballou, A. R.
5500 Brainerd, W. A.

CONNECTICUT DIVISION—90.

7492 Adkins, F. H.
9337 Allis, T. S.
7494 Ayre, F. H.
12764 Bacon, G. L
3377 Judson, A. F.
5254 Judson, R. P.
7511 King, F. D.
4180 Lee, H. K.
9339 Beardsley, F. W.
7948 Bennett, E. C.
9340 Birdseye, H.
7497 Bill, A. R.
7496 Bill, F. R.
9342 Brewster, S.
7498 Cameron, M.
6705 Candee, J. D.
7499 Chamberlain, J. H.
7500 Chapman, H. H.
11951 Clausscn, E. E.
7501 Cooper, F. L.
9830 Crosby, L. D.
7502 Crygier, F. H.
11595 Dann, C. B.
9831 Damery, F. L.
3949 DeBlois, E. A.
7503 Dresser, S. C.
7504 Eaton, F. E.
7505 Elmer, H. F.
10321 Fahy, T. W.
11952 Fisk, C. D.
10183 Ford, W. B.
8449 Forbes, L. S.
7506 Fuller, M. N.
9346 Gager, E. B.
4214 Goodman, H.
6349 Goodman, J.
7507 Gorman, C. F.
9832 Graham, G. R.
11953 Grace, J. J.
7508 Harding, W.
10744 Harrington, F.
4997 Hill, H. J.
9348 Hickok, L. E.
11954 Hills, B.
6003 Holmes, H. T.
10737 Huntington, B. D.
7510 Jackson, F. C.
8825 Jones, E. L.
324 Jones, W. H.
7512 Lincoln, C. G.
6706 Lounsbury, J. A.
4358 Manson, J. F.
9357 Mills, W. S.
3388 Mix, W. L.
9350 McEnemey, J.
12305 Moore, T. L.
12501 Moorhouse, E. H.
7514 Newton, C. H.
9833 Noble, W. B.
7515 Parker, J. M., Jr.
10185 Pratt, G. C.
7516 Rathbun, E. H.
6709 Repley, G. W.
7517 Richardson, W. S.
3000 Rhodes, W. H.
12533 Saunders, T. W.
9351 Sanford, F. S.
7044 Schneider, A. H.
9352 Scranton, G. H.
2292 Scoville, F. E.
12506 Seixas, G. A., Jr.
1692 Smith, R. A.
7518 Smith, H. H.
6707 Spencer, J. B.
7519 Starkweather, H.
8657 Teames, H. H.
9834 Thorpe, A. N.
9354 Torrance, D.
7520 Tracy, L. A.
12304 Tuttle, C. I.
10747 Waldron, F. A.
7521 Wander, E. A.
7522 Way, C. H.
6708 Way, E. N.
11124 Weed, A. J.
7523 Weildon, F. W.
9605 Wentworth, W. G.
11817 Whittemore, H.
12093 White, F. S.
9834 Wilcox, H. N.

DAKOTA—1.

11251 Moorehouse, F. E.

DELAWARE DIVISION—3.

11093 McDaniel, B. F.
9512 Sheward, C. M.
12185 Talley, F. W.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA DIVISION—2.

3646 Northup, C. G.
7068 Scott, S. T.

FLORIDA—1.

8840 Robb, H.

ILLINOIS DIVISION—56.

7969 Adam, A. R.
12751 Angle, H. M.
9538 Bingham, A. S.
10557 Brookes, F. A.
6793 Chamberlin, H. G.
9034 Cramell, W. W.
6786 Davis, L. A.
8830 Dinnison, G.
1680 Dickinson, F. A.
11597 Donahue, J. W.
11501 Farquhar, W. C.
12539 Frenneson, C. J.
12259 Gardner, H. W.
12854 Gates, A. D.
1660 Gibson, J. S.
4537 Gookin, F. W.
10563 Greenleaf, W. B.
6901 Hansel, C.
1601 Hart, G. S.
6787 Harmon, F. F.
12855 Hay, G.
6902 Hicks, Dr. H. F.
7971 Hinckley, A. M.
8837 Hubbard, W. R.
12933 Johnson, F. N.
7249 Levering, F. D.
3205 Lillibridge, F.
8838 Ludlam, C. A.
9190 McKinley, W. B.
6790 Magill, G. L.
12934 Marsailes, J. H.
7175 Mendell, A.
9361 Mixer, C. T.
6789 Munger, C. H.
11825 Orr, H. G.
10559 Otis, G.
6512 Phillips, W. J.
7173 Pierce, A. S.
7178 Pierce, C. B.
8839 Pope, H. P.
9541 Porter, W. L.
6871 Post, H. D.
6867 Pride, C. B.
12541 Quinby, I.
11598 Randall, C. E.
6849 Ridgely, H. G.
6881 Roper, E. U.
6882 Rugg, O.
12752 Sargent, G. H.
8841 Sieg, C.
593 Slater, S. A.
7976 Strong, A.
11826 Vedor, J. C.
8842 Washburn, G. P.
12853 Winship, H. R.
5979 Yard, B. F.

INDIANA DIVISION—5.

3754 Heberhart, W. G.
10003 Hood, V.
6904 Lambert, C. W.
8470 Morrow, N. F.
5727 Plumb, C. H.

IOWA DIVISION—1.

11834. Johnson, W. E.

KENTUCKY DIVISION—11.

9366 Adams, J. F.
479 Beddo, H.
5709 Esterly, H. T.
2436 Francke, G. A.
8853 Fraser, L. P.
6426 Humphrey, B.
5966 Johnston, C. F.
6471 Raible, W. M.
6470 Schimpeler, F.
5727 Schimpeler, H.
7649 Woodruff, O. F.

KANSAS DIVISION—9.

11755 Baker, I. F.
11731 Boughton, D. H.
7404 Brown, G. N.
5807 Henley, A. J.
7405 Lockwood, H.
11732 McCarthy, D. E.
12309 McLachlin, J. C.
11482 Patrick, L.
7407 Waddell, R. J.

LOUISIANA DIVISION—3.

11281 Butts, R. F.
5016 Genslinger, C. H.
238 Jacobs, M. A.

MAINE DIVISION—1.

6196 Elder, S. A. H.

MARYLAND DIVISION—8.

12543 Ezechiels, D.
5105 Fink, C. F.
11710 Fry, J. F.
12709 Kenly, E. M.
790 Kirkwood, F. C.
8865 McNelly, W. B.
1895 McComas, W. C.
5101 Seabrook, W. L.

[CONTINUED ON PAGE 150.]

THE RUDGE CYCLES, MANUFACTURED BY MESSRS. D. RUDGE & CO., COVENTRY, ENGLAND, AND IMPORTED BY MESSRS. STODDARD, LOVERING & CO., BOSTON, MASS.

INTRODUCTION.

Since the introduction of the Rudge Light Roadster, some four years ago, it has been the aim of the above firm to place a machine upon the market which they can thoroughly recommend, and which has gained an enviable reputation by an honest test, owing to its durability, easy-running qualities, and thorough workmanship.

They do not believe it necessary to place upon any of their machines specialties simply to advertise them, as they have found that a practical test demonstrates that about 90 per cent. of these are not of intrinsic value, although they appear attractive at first sight.

The policy of Rudge & Co., and also of Messrs. Stoddard, Lovering & Co., has been to give the best value for the money and to make their machines as simple as possible, believing that the less parts and complications the better.

With a view to improving their machines, they sent out during the past year, and obtained from over 100 of the best all-around riders in the United States, specifications of what improvements they considered necessary, and after careful examination they have adopted some features on their machines which they have thoroughly tried and can fully recommend.

RUDGE LIGHT ROADSTER.

FIG. 1.

The specifications of this celebrated bicycle remain nearly the same as last year, with some exceptions.

The FELLOES are of the Clement hollow pattern, consisting of one piece of steel tubing, rolled and pressed into the proper shape, and capable of bearing a weight of 200 pounds, even before a single spoke has been inserted. The strength of this felloe will be realized by the fact that, of the many thousands of Rudge Light Roadsters sent out, not one has been returned with a broken felloe that can be traced to the fault of the machine.

The HEAD is of the long-centre Andrews pattern, fitted with a dust shield which is entirely noiseless and entirely protects the head from dust. Five years' experience with this head proves that for durability, rigidity, and simplicity, it remains unequaled, and we therefore adhere to it rather than run the risk of changing simply for an advertising novelty.

The BEARINGS: Two of the most important points in bicycle making are rigidity and minimum of friction, and we would call your attention to one of the principal features of the Rudge Cycles, which are fitted throughout with Rudge's unequaled ball-bearings, which, for simplicity of construction and remarkable ease of running, have gained a world-wide reputation.

As ball-bearings are no doubt one of the greatest improvements in cycles, it is with pleasure your attention is called to these famous bearings, which were invented by Daniel Rudge over nine years ago, and which have been made to revolve over six million times without any perceptible wear or the shaking loose of any of the parts.

ADJUSTABLE PATENT FRONT BEARINGS

FIG. 2.

FIG. 3.

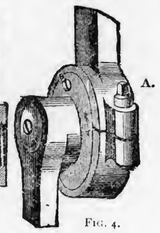

FIG. 4.

When the bearings require adjusting, unscrew the square-headed pin A that is in the lug of the bearing, as shown in Fig. 1.

This has the effect of loosening the disk, which can then be turned round in direction the arrow is pointing in Fig. 1, until the bearing is sufficiently tight. Great care must then be taken to screw the square headed pin A down tightly; otherwise, the disk is liable to shake loose when the machine is ridden.

Figs. 2 and 3 explain the principle of the bearing, in which the manner of adjustment may be readily observed.

ADJUSTABLE PATENT BACK BEARINGS.

The adjustment or the back wheel is quite as easily effected by unfastening the nut on the side where the milled washer is, and then turning the washer round with the fingers from left to right until the bearing is tight; the nut should then be firmly secured again.

Many manufacturers have tried to improve on these famous bearings, but without success, and the Rudge ball-bearings are to-day, as they were eight years ago, without a rival, and so great is their popularity, that many of the makers of other machines are forced to use them. To the superiority of these celebrated bearings for racing, coasting, and hill-climbing, you are respectfully referred to the many thousands of riders of the Rudge.

The SPOKES are tangential, and present the following advantages over others of a similar pattern:

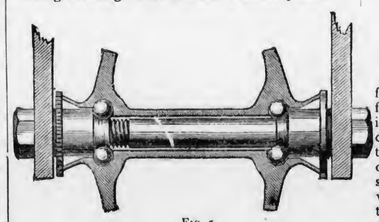

FIG. 5.

First, the tendency of the tangential to snap at the rim is obviated by securing them with a concealed lock-nut and washer, making them practically butt-ended and doubly strong at this point.

Second, instead of lacing back and forth from the rim to the hub in nearly parallel directions, they now end at the hub and are firmly riveted on the inside, after passing through it. The spoke is thus single, and by being made heavier at the hub, the tendency of snapping is entirely done away with. The system of crossing is also a new one, and works to perfection, being accomplished by one spoke passing over and under another in such a way that each spoke holds its neighbor firmly in place, consequently a rattler is impossible. Again, the spokes are placed at right angles to each other, which not only makes the wheel very much stronger and more rigid, but keeps it true, and prevents any possibility of buckling by ordinary use.

The best recommendation for this particular spoke is the universal satisfaction it has given in the last three years.

Many manufacturers have tried to copy it, with a greater or lesser number of crossings, and the result has been that the wheel has been either too loose or far too rigid. If the spokes in a tangent wheel are not laced tightly it will be found that when the rider is on the machine the upper spokes will be very tight while those directly beneath him on the underside of the wheel will be found very loose, making it almost impossible for the wheel to be rigid and to stand the required strain. On the other hand, if the wheel is a complete network of spokes, crossing and recrossing and all firmly brazed to each other, the wheel is practically solid, and although rigidity is to be desired, there must be sufficient GIVE in the machine to be able to stand the wear and tear.

With the Rudge spoke it will be seen at a glance that it is unequaled for simplicity of construction, rigidity, and ease of replacing in case of breakage.

SADDLES: After trying nearly every saddle both in the English and American market, it has been decided to fit the Rudge the coming year with the Townsend Patent Combination Saddle and Spring. This, we believe, is far ahead of anything yet introduced, and although several patent hammock saddles have filled the want to a considerable extent, we believe that the Townsend combines the most valuable features of any saddle extant. The following we quote from an English cycling paper, which speaks for itself:

"One of the most successful efforts in the direction of a perfect saddle and spring has been made by Messrs Townsend & Co., one of whose combination saddle and springs we have been using constantly for the past six months with entirely satisfactory results. The front part of the spring is similar to the ordinary Rudge Spring, having a slot in it of some two inches in length, to allow for adjustment, and running right under the saddle to the coil springs behind, upon which it tests and slides. The frame of the saddle is composed of specially manufactured round steel wire, which, after being bent into the shape on the saddle, takes the form of two coil springs, which descend to the backbone, where they are secured by a clip. The leather top is blocked on and laced underneath, forming one of the most satisfactory seats imaginable. The seat is made from very soft specially tanned leather, of improved shape, thoroughly ventilated, and giving a seat of remarkable ease, and makes it in appearance and actual use one of the handsomest and most luxurious seats of the day, and as advertised, 'the only universal weigh carrier,' this power being gained by the peculiar properties of the steel wire used and formation therewith of its springs.

"This saddle is suitable for a person weighing from 110 to 200 pounds, as it can be adjusted to almost any weight by moving the saddle back and forth upon the springs. One great advantage of it is a side motion, which entirely prevents every particle of discomfort attendant upon other saddles, which have to be broken in before they are comfortable.

"Wherever Messrs. Townsend & Co.'s inventions has been introduced it has met with universal praise, and although this saddle has only been on the market the last year in the principal cycling centres, among amateurs, professionals, and the trade, it has successfully passed through the ordeal, and is now being adopted by many of the leading manufacturers, so that we anticipate next season many inquiries for what we have no hesitation in calling one of the best things on the market."

We recommend, in defense of this article, our readers, one and all, to try the saddle and judge for themselves.

The TREAD: Owing to the above method of building the wheels, it has been found that they can be built perfectly rigid, and, at the same time, narrower than any other make. The advantages of this will be appreciated by all riders of experience, and particularly racing men, as it causes the power to be applied to the best possible advantage. It is due to the peculiar construction of the wheels that it has gained its present enviable reputation as a hill-climber.

The HUBS are of a specially improved pattern, made of the very finest steel, well recessed to admit of the narrow tread, and pierced with holes for the tangential spokes.

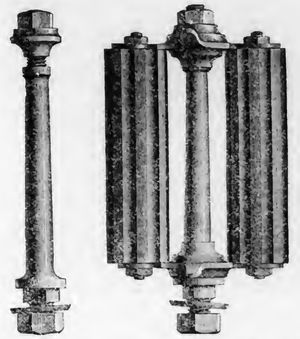
The FORKS: The fork of the 1887 pattern machine has been entirely reconstructed and is now very full and oval in shape, hollow to the front wheel and semi-tubular to the back, combining strength and lightness. Special attention has been paid to this point and they are guaranteed to stand riders weighing two hundred pounds.

The HANDLE-BAR is cow-horn in shape, hollow, and made of steel tubing in one piece.

Since the introduction of the Rudge, some four years ago, its agents have endeavored to find a detachable handle-bar that would combine strength and rigidity, but experience has taught us to adhere to what is known to be thoroughly reliable rather than to make alterations or so-called improvements, which may or may not be found afterward to be what is desired.

The tremendous strain which depends on the handle-bar leaves no room for experiments, and they are prepared to replace, without expense to the rider, any bar that breaks within two years, that can be shown to be the fault of the machine. It is gracefully curved at each end about two inches below the head, and is fitted with spade-handles.

SPADE-HANDLES: The demand for this style of handle, and the ease with which hills can be climbed, demonstrates that it is coming into popularity, so they have decided to adopt them on all Rudge Light Roadsters. Although we have no detachable handle-bar, they have attached these handles in such a way to the bar that they can be adjusted to suit any rider. The hollow handle-bar is threaded on the inside, and the handles screwed in and secured by a lock-nut, which holds them in any position that the riders desire.



The BRAKE is of the spoon pattern, controlled by a powerful lever of good length and fitted with a concealed brake spring under the head, which entirely prevents any rattle.

The CRANKS are of the latest pattern detachable and allow the pedals to be placed at a throw varying from four and three-quarters to a full six-inch on all sizes.

The PEDALS: It is with pleasure we call your attention to Rudge's famous ball-pedals, which are furnished with each Rudge Light Roadster, either rat-trap or rubber. No part of the machine requires more care than the pedals, and we think without doubt the riders will acknowledge that the Rudge pin is the strongest extant.

Its peculiar construction allows the metal to be placed to the best possible advantage and combines great strength with lightness. It is a significant fact that in every bicycle record made in 1887 by any make of bicycles, the riders used Rudge ball-pedals. Comment is unnecessary.

The STEP is of the very latest safety pattern, adjustable and especially designed for this machine, and no holes are drilled in the backbone at this point.

The rake has received especial attention for 1887, and varies from one and three-quarters to two and three-quarter inches.

We quote the following remarks from the advance sheets of Messrs. Stoddard, Lovering & Co.'s catalogue:

In summing up the points of the superiority of the RUDGE LIGHT ROADSTER for 1887, we wish to say that this wheel combines lightness, strength, and speed; but is not, in any sense of the word, the light roadster some manufacturers build, and which are only to be used on smooth roads.

We are willing to guarantee this machine to any person weighing under 200 pounds, and challenge competition with machines 10 pounds heavier. Although its name is the Rudge Light Roadster, and it is lighter than most roadsters, it is so named to distinguish it from the Rudge Roadster, with the direct spokes. It is built from the very best stock to be obtained, and by the largest manufacturers of bicycles and tricycles in the world, namely, D. Rudge & Co., Coventry, England.

The weight of a 50-inch Rudge Light Roadster, complete with saddle, stool, bag, and tools, is thirty-six and a half pounds.

The policy of Messrs. Rudge & Co. has always been to give the best value for the money, and, although in some cases their machines have been somewhat higher in price than others, they have invariably found that it paid to build the best, and as the riders fully realize that a cheap machine is dear at any price, they have no hesitation in paying a trifle more, and getting the best article that can be made.

LIGHTNESS, SPEED, AND STRENGTH.

We point with pride to the record of the Rudge since we have placed it upon the American Market five years ago.

Its principal points of construction remain practically the same, and its large and increasing sale each year proves most conclusively that its sale has not been dependent upon novelties which appear attractive at first sight, and are principally used for advertising.

The long list of famous riders of this splendid bicycle are its best recommendations of its worth, and we have not felt the necessity of placing paid riders upon our machines to make records for us in races.

The success of the RUDGE on the ROAD, on the PATH, and on the HILL, speaks for itself, and we firmly believe that for a roadster that contains the essential qualities of lightness, strength, and speed, it has no equal, and, we might almost say, no competitor.

[CONCLUDED FROM PAGE 147.]

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION—79.

7264 Amsden, L. C.
4922 Archer, F. W.
10577 Bailey, F. L.
9067 Bates, G. R.
7836 Benson, A.
10227 Burleigh, F. E.
1020 Burnett, A.
3714 Butcher, J.
7800 Carney, F.
6272 Cavanaugh, G. H.
11344 Chase, W. A.
6108 Clapp, W. A.
8528 Cook, H., Jr.
2814 Coombs, P. L.
7413 Cunningham, T. M.
4926 Daly, Dr. J. H.
108 Dean, J. S.
4927 Doane, W. S.
2827 Drake, C. I.
10814 Dudley, F. F.
8921 Ducker, Mrs. H. E.
10064 Durkee, R. E.
3365 Ellingwood, E.
2828 Emesson, W.
110 Everett, W. B.
10031 Fay, C. L.
10207 Field, G. F.
11336 Forbes, W. H.
8689 Fourdrinier, C. W.
12720 Freeman, W. P.
7982 Friedrich, A. E.
7837 Gallagher, H. C.
8911 Gilbert, M. H.
257 Gilman, W. E.
11338 Gough, J. W.
11339 Gould, B. W.
1174 Greene, J. T.
7811 Hamblet, E. P.
1014 Harris, H. S.
9587 Harvey, T., Jr.
9586 Harvey, G.
8480 Haven, W.
9721 Haven, H. W.
2802 Haynes, G. L.
9092 Heintz, P. B.
28 Hodges, E. C.
8693 Hodgkins, E. W.
7858 Holmes, J. B.
8324 Huston, H. G.
3043 Jones, G. W.
8921 Lombard, R. S.
9226 Low, W. H.
10578 Mallery, G. T.
10579 Markoe, G. B.
8334 Mason, G. D.
9376 Peinert, A.
4929 Pope, H. A.
8905 Porter, F. H.
9436 Read, A. E.
8339 Ryder, H. G.
8998 Sawyer, F. H.
10023 Schallenbach, W. F.
12177 Schwab, W. C.
1705 Shakespeare, W.
10409 Shute, F. H.
6274 Spear, W. F.
2815 Swan, C. I.
2809 Tavener, A. I.
10410 Thomas, M. M.
2818 Tuttle, E. L. B.
2811 Underwood, J. A. R.
2795 Wall, R.
2830 Wallbury, A. V.
10580 Way F. W.
10411 Webber, J. W.
2810 Wheeler, W. S.
3204 Whitney, E. G.
10829 Wiggin, H. Y.
7984 Wyman, W. H.

MICHIGAN DIVISION—22.

12844 Barringer, M. W.
10595 Bennett, W. H.
4479 Breakey, E. R.
11531 Densmore, E. J.
6804 Escott, F. H.
12347 Frothingham, G. E.
6736 Galasso, T.
7416 Grunaur, B.
6733 Knapp, F. N.
10415 Kyer, H. A.
11162 Loomis, P. B., Jr.
6729 Moore, M. J.
4477 Nettleton, V. L.
8344 Nickels, H. C.
11605 Palmer, O. L.
6803 Richmond, A. B.
11175 Spencer, W. E.
12454 Spencer, F. S.
10239 Todd, W. W
3855 Wagner, C. W.
354 Webster, B. A.

MINNESOTA DIVISION—25.

12630 Barwick, C.
6625 Chandler, W. D.
6631 Charles, G. M.
11169 Clark, J. S.
2952 Elmer, W. H.
6626 Elmer, E. S.
12270 Forbush, C. W.
6629 Goss, M. G.
12266 Gregory, E. S.
2962 Heath, S. F.
9739 Laird, A. W.
12268 Landon, W. J.
8936 Lusk, I. I.
11170 Marfield, J. R.
12269 Maybury, J. N.
8937 Melvin, H. D.
11171 Merigold, J. A., Jr.
12265 Pett, W. F.
447 Porter, C. H.
11173 Remington, W. W.
2939 Roberts, E. M.
6628 Smith, E. C.
12263 Tearse, R. E.
6620 Worthington, L. W.

MISSOURI DIVISION—8.

10846 Bates, E. C.
7296 Harris, W. W.
10425 Henderson, H. L., M.D.
2720 Hicks, W. E.
9240 Jaccards, E.
11998 Methudy, J. P.
12877 Rhodes, F. C. R.
10248 Stubbs, R. N.

MONTANA—1.

11483 Fowler, W. M.

NEBRASKA DIVISION—2.

3813 Eaton, A. L.
9181 Robertson, F.

NEW HAMPSHIRE DIVISION—32.

3741 Alexander, W. J.
10610 Beacham, M. H.
8228 Boynton, H. E.
10862 Boynton, F.
2335 Burley, H. B.
11808 Camp, D. M.
4936 Church, F. F.
992 Davis, W. L.
8230 Elwell, N. W.
8233 Frisbee, W. B.
2338 Gray, C. W.
10058 Hoyt, R.
3764 Hutchinson, H.
10060 Kingsbury, S. L.
694 Knox, J. H.
5157 Montgomery, H. P.
1034 McIntire, L.
3149 McIntire, W. W.
10864 Nickerson, E. C.
8235 Pearson, A. M. P.
1689 Philbrick, F. J.
2714 Philbrick, G. E.
5889 Powers, T. H.
946 Sawtelle, C. F.
7091 Shillaber, C. F.
1051 Sides, A. H.
975 Speed, J. A.
1075 Tilton, J. S.
5529 Tucker, H. M.
2333 Walton, W. C.
3023 Ward, F. H.
977 Yeaton, H. B.

NEW JERSEY DIVISION—65.

22 Kane, J. O.
31 Kerr, Rev. O. A.
8236 Landon, T. D.
4488 Lescom, E. S.
2423 Longenecker, C. B.
10916 Macpherson, G. W.
7311 Mahan, H. L.
3828 Mead, R. D.
7880 Mulford, F. L.
7881 Mulford, H.
5215 McCullough, Dr. W. G.
6741 Reeve, J. N.
6560 Robinson, F. H.
1776 Rose, B. S.
7882 Sensor, T. D.
11440 Eldridge, W. E.
12413 Fenton, C. R.
7105 Forst, A. D.
8550 Fraley, W. H.
9266 Gaskill, A.
8545 Godley, Dr. J.
3526 Grover, J.
4886 Hahne, A.
7875 Hand, T. L.
7874 Hand, J. S.
7877 Harrison, G. M.
7878 High, S.
8740 Hogate, L. H.
7879 Howell, L. A.
3541 Hubbard, J. L.
1220 Jackson, H. R., Jr.
9902 Jaggers, E. W.
2933 Stevens, C. S.
4979 Surphin, C. T.
6927 Van Gilder, W. H.
6926 Van Gilder, R. S.
7676 Van Rensselaer, J.
11886 Wallington, G. L.
11862 Watson, L. Du B.
6925 Weber, G.
7883 Whitaker, T.
1442 White, H. M.
5323 Whitehead, E.
4976 Whitehead, F. W.
7312 Whitehead, H. F.
4977 Whitehead, R. V.
12813 Wilson, A. C. D.
379 Wood, C. J.
6049 Worstall, W. H.
7225 Wright, E. O.

NEW YORK DIVISION—107.

4093 Babcock, C. W.
757 Baldwin, S. W.
11207 Ballard, S. F.
8961 Bartlett, G. E.
6130 Barnard, H. G.
4128 Bell, H. H., Jr.
12235 Betts, E. S.
5808 Bixby, J. E.
1516 Bradford, E. A.
11863 Brown, A. L.
6307 Brown, E. H.
739 Buchanan, S. E.
3067 Budington, Dr. W. G.
807 Butler, A. R.
12908 Camp, T. C.
9907 Campbell, J. S., Jr.
648 Caney, E. A.
8962 Chichester, R. N.
3077 Clapp, I. M.
1081 Cobb, A. P.
8247 Colwell, F. L.
10638 Conover, S.
8558 Cort, W. L.
3076 Corwin, D. H.
12236 Crafts, E. B.
3882 Crittenden, A. W.
11287 Donaldson, E. L.
525 Donaldson, F. L.
6303 Donaldson, H. F.
9772 Drake, L. F.
9771 Drake, C. P.
1662 Drullard, F. E.
3090 Firth, T., Jr.
8964 Fisher, E. T.
6452 Ford, C. E.
12238 Francis, G. B.
11208 Furst, M.
12906 Galt, W. R.
11209 Gilfillan, Dr. W. J.
10639 Greene, F. D.
756 Guy, A. W.
8133 Hanson, J. H.
11621 Harris, A. H.
746 Harvey, C. E. W.
928 Hibbard, A. S.
7327 Horton, E. P.
12239 Hudnut, Dr. F. P.
5403 Huggins, J. D.
3091 Hulse, W. P.
7317 Hyatt, F. S.
2532 Hyde, S. M.
11622 Isaacsen, I.
11550 Jayne, C. E.
12613 Tollner, E.
10626 Van Dike, F. H.
5404 Vivian, W. H.
9509 Walbridge, G. H.
3110 Warburton, F. J.
6306 Warner, W. H. H.
5396 West, C. C.
2477 Wessells, C. T.
9909 Wheeler, E. J.
6822 Wilder, Dr. L. G.
5296 Williams, W. L.
12812 Wilson, J. E.
9480 Wood, F. H.
8969 Wright, J. B.
12241 Jeffreys, E. A.
8965 Johnson, T. W.
3092 Jones, H. C.
12131 Ketchum, C. E.
2544 Kinch, C. A.
5401 Kolb, A.
12240 Lamberson, T. M.
11447 Land, F.
6305 Luscomb, C. H.
735 Mabie, G. W.
11551 Magee, J.
7203 Mansfield, M. H.
9763 Manson, F. H.
5402 Mersereau, E. W.
13008 Monell, A. Z.
11747 Moore, H. P.
9474 Morrison, W. H.
3483 Muller, C. F. W.
753 McEwan, D. C.
11874 McLafferty, A.
11917 Negus, J. S.
3108 Nichols, E. R.
10640 Orr, R. P.
5398 Powell, A. T.
1331 Pray, C. F.
9908 Rathbone, W. F.
3616 Richards, J. N.
11739 Sammis, F. C.
12242 Sammons, W. H.
12036 Sanders, W. R.
741 Share, W. W.
679 Simonson, F. M.
9292 Smith, A. L.
11552 Smith, F. H.
8771 Spillane, P. H.
12243 Starr, C. W.
6820 Stebbins, W. N.
11555 Swenson, W.
8968 Taft, J. H.
3109 Teller, G. G.
12611 Tollner, E.

NOVA SCOTIA—1.

7164 Hart, H. L.

OHIO DIVISION—40.

4000 Aiken, W. H.
4001 Aiken, L. E.
11928 Ashbrook, C. T.
1874 Avery, C. H.
9782 Blinn, G. A.
103 Bowlby, F. H.
5438 Brobst, W. S.
12404 Brown, S.
3212 Campbell, F. M.
5470 Davis, D. E.
11934 De Camp, F. B.
2237 Goodman, S. M.
11567 Hall, W. H
11811 Hall, W. G.
6575 Harman, L. S.
6668 Hart, F. S.
3211 Henson, S. H.
3180 Higgins, H. E.
2481 Holloway, J. K.
8062 Holcomb, C. E.
5131 Kerch, J.
1299 King, J. T.
11923 Layton, F. S.
10483 Lepper, S. D.
6831 Malone, W. H.
6832 Malone, L. C.
2550 Marsh, W. E. H.
4246 McCully, W. M.
11933 McFarland, E.
2282 Pierson, J. L.
4127 Remsberg, C. P.
6942 Sears, P. E.
5151 Snyder, C.
1535 Spear, H. A.
2219 Upson, C. S.
4143 Wakefield, J. L.
11929 Watters, J. H.
5293 Weiler, H. J.
6669 White, C. E.
9155 Yager, E. B.

Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, etc., Renewals crowded out this week.

RENEWALS.

No. 9—Total, 694.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., February 7th, 1887.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION—6

8641 Cary, A. B.
1936 Crothers, A. M.
8642 DuBois, S. V.
12693 Gordon, W. C.
12965 Lane, M. G.
13020 Nordholdt, W. F.

CONNECTICUT DIVISION—98.

792 Bannihr, C. R.
4442 Barnard, P. H.
8096 Bayliss, C. E.
707 Beach, T. B.
9349 Lessey, S. H.
11498 Mead, W. C.
11320 Middlebrook, L. F.
115 Mildrum, E. W.
710 Belden, F. E.
799 Billings, F. C.
3802 Bradley, A. H.
2752 Brandegee, W. S.
1522 Bronson, A. H.
6379 Burnham, H. A.
3940 Burdett, C. L.
3795 Burt, G. H.
6546 Butler, F. L.
8097 Calhoun, J. G.
12422 Campbell, H. G.
3797 Chase, C. E.
11485 Cheney, E. M.
8655 Clark, C. N.
11484 Cone, R. B.
789 Cornwall, E. T.
8458 Cowles, E. S.
711 Day, G. H.
4731 Douglass, R. M.
8822 Ela, E. E.
9182 Ferris, J. M.
9992 Fisher, A. G.
7167 Flagg, D.
5519 Frisbie, Mrs. W. M.
2334 Frisbie, W. M.
6547 Gillette, T. W.
6544 Griswold, R. S.
1694 Hale, W. H.
1683 Harrington, E. F.
5548 Harlow, F. M.
3805 Hubbard, L. B.
2002 Hubbell, L. L.
2669 Huntington, C. G.
11958 Hyatt, A.
1997 Irving, J. G.
814 Ives, F. A.
9991 Jackson, O. B.
8698 Jewell, C. A.
8853 Jordan, W. P.
7651 Joy, F. T.
8099 Judd, E. Y.
3796 Kellogg, C. A.
611 Knous, J.
492 Latimer, C. B.
573 Lawrence, C.
3804 Leffingwell, G.
3390 Mix, E. E.
6226 Newton, G. B.
171 Oatman, A.
6543 Otis, A. T.
1208 Parmelee, E. L.
6541 Pease, W. C
8100 Peck, R. S.
4098 Peck, W. L.
3343 Post, D. J.
2740 Quiggle, E. C.
6548 Raymond, G. B.
3357 Redfield, H. W.
3378 Redfield, H. G.
1606 Redfield, H. S.
5209 Riggs, W. G.
11486 Riley, C. D.
8654 Royce, C. J.
484 Rogers, C. A.
4854 Shepherd, C. E.
978 Sikes, L. H.
8108 Skelding, A. B.
2784 Skinner, E. J.
6551 Sperry, S. C.
8461 Stannis, W. H.
1840 Steele, T. S.
815 Stoddard, E. J
6549 Swift, O. W.
7950 Taylor, H. H.
3239 Terry, S.
548 Thayer, G. B.
179 Thompson, J. C.
8195 Tinkey, W. W
9359 Tomlinson, E. F., Jr.
1207 Trowbridge, J. M.
9958 Walkley, J. S.
11123 Waterbury, F. S.
3799 Way, R. F.
8101 Way, C. L.
8457 Wells, E. H.
3801 Welles, A. J.
12686 Whittemore, W. E.
6062 Woodruff, H. P.
8102 Wooster, C. K.
5869 Whittlesey, J. C.

DELAWARE DIVISION—2.

9324 Philips, A. C.
11096 Pyle, V. R.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA DIVISION—1.

6385 Crampton, C. A., M. D.

GEORGIA—2.

12462 Flynn, J. C.
10306 Moses, W. F.

ILLINOIS DIVISION—23.

5486 Caldwell, J.
6872 Caughney, J. B.
1757 Chappell, O. A.
7074 Clow, H. B.
12538 Condell, T.
7970 Cornell, L. T.
6611 Drips, W. T.
10331 Gilbert, V. B.
1767 Liedler, J. F.
12043 Lloyd, A. H.
9709 Loose, R. D.
5481 Mehring, H. W.
1775 Mosely, W. M.
1777 Paulus, L.
2680 Peters, W. M.
1779 Samuelson, C. W.
7975 Sleight, E. H.
7959 Stiles, H. B.
6785 Strong, W. H.
9997 Tappe, J. L.
12682 Thain, R. S.
5476 Thrasher, J. M.
2622 Wetzell, W., Jr

INDIANA DIVISION—7.

12475 Bullard, G. C.
8468 Davis, W. C.
6906 Hearsey, H. T.
5910 Marson, F. W.
10004 Martin, L. M.
8313 Mehlig, H.
12361 Shields, M.

IOWA DIVISION—5.

11801 Hodgson, A. E.
11136 Long, D. P.
10204 Simmons, F. D.
9038 Ward, O. A.
4857 Worth, F. E.

KENTUCKY DIVISION—2.

6911 Allison, G. M.
6910 Huber, S. B.

KANSAS DIVISION—5.

11720 Atwood, F. J.
12840 Campbell, C. C.
11722 Harrison, D. B.
11724 Pulsifer, P. B.
11725 St. Clair, J. F.

LOUISIANA DIVISION—2.

7781 Fenner, C. H.
229 Patton, S. M.

MAINE DIVISION—2.

11255 Pinkham, A. S.
1476 Woodman, F. W.

MARYLAND DIVISION—2

5709 Hoblitzell, O., Jr.
7789 Justis, R. C.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION—86.

9870 Abbot, E. E.
8510 Ames, E.
8867 Ames, W. E.
8868 Ames, W. C.
9669 Arnold, H. F.
9584 Bardwell, F. L.
10022 Barrows, C.
8511 Beals, G. G.
12014 Beals, W. H.
8871 Bell, T. E.
8870 Bell, A. R.
12015 Billings, H. L.
9070 Bird, C. B.
9071 Bird, J. P.
11804 Blanchard, G. G.
10807 Bliss, E. J.
8872 Block, W. R.
8873 Brigham, F. B.
4284 Burdett, E. E.
8512 Burckes, F. E.
4040 Burrell, B. W.
8902 Butman, R. J.
10026 Julian, W. H.
8520 Kimball, F. B.
8878 Kurtz, C. F.
9597 Lane, P. A.
9866 Lienhard, H. A.
8521 Lovejoy, W. F.
8879 Lull, W. E.
8522 Maxwell, W. R.
8880 Mills, F. J.
8881 Moore, C.
121 Morris, F.
8882 Northup, F. W.
9216 Norwood, F. B.
9073 Peare, H. S.
9080 Perkins, C. H.
8883 Plattner, J. G.
8884 Pratt, P. L.
5859 Purdy, F.
4307 Sampson, A. R.
8885 Sandland, C. E.
8523 Sanger, E.
9598 Sawyer, E. K.

THE TOWNSEND
Combination Spring and Saddle.
STODDARD, LOVERING & CO., Boston, Mass.

TO YOU.

In presenting this Saddle to the readers of this paper, and to the Wheelmen at large, we feel at first it will not be well received, for it is of a very different style from all the saddles and springs which have been used heretofore.

At first we did not like the looks of it ourselves, but the number of adherents which it has in England led us to believe there was something in it, and a thorough practical test convinced us that it was the best thing we have yet seen.

We do not say this because we advertise and sell it, but because we believe in it; and to the skeptical rider who does not agree with us, we bid him welcome to his opinion, but simply ask him, before finally making up his mind, to give this saddle a fair trial. If he does this, we are convinced that any doubt which he may have had will be removed. Very respectfully,

STODDARD, LOVERING & CO., Boston, Mass.

8903 Cann, J. B.
2319 Chinn, G.
8513 Clark, H. L.
8874 Clifford, O. W.
10029 Cubberly, C. P.
9072 Cummings, F. A.
11094 Delaharre, F. A.
8514 Emerson, W. J.
8515 Fisk, E.
377 Foote, E. H.
8516 Furber, G. E.
8517 Gilkey, D. E.
5203 Given, J. B.
8518 Godfrey, W. J.
8575 Gorton, H. I.
8502 Graves, H. R.
8876 Hall, H. A.
10025 Head, F. G.
8519 Hobart, F. A.
5037 Jennings, W.
10030 Jennings, H.
9074 Scott, W. W.
8524 Shaw, G
8886 Shepardson, G. L.
4041 Sheppard, C. G.
9381 Sherman, L. F.
11347 Sleeper, C. F.
11096 Steele, G. L.
2787 Steele, G. F.
11145 Stodder, C. F.
8525 Theall, D. C.
8906 Timson, C. H.
9613 Tinkham, C. H.
9076 Walters, T.
9075 Walters, J. E.
2043 Walters, T. A.
8526 West, C. H.
8883 Whittemore, C.
12016 Woodbury, F. A.
8537 Woodbury, J. H.
3379 Worthington, A. E.
8387 Wright, P. G.

MICHIGAN DIVISION—6.

12717 Balch, T. B.
7307 Bromley, T., Jr.
9738 Harwood, H.
1041 Kudner, C.
11743 Roehm, A. H.
11168 St. Clair, J. N.

MINNESOTA DIVISION—2.

3734 Willson, J. I.
8939 Youmas, Miss L.

MISSOURI DIVISION—15.

10345 Ashbrook, L. L.
8021 Boswell, G. W.
9444 Carpenter, F. S.
9010 Carter, E. C.
9747 Chauvenet, W. M.
7715 Clark, C. T.
9315 Crane, N.
11178 Hackstaff, J. F.
12875 Hobson, C. W.
12051 Miltenberger, J. J.
9618 Mosby, E.
12382 Seddon, J. A.
9237 Skinner, C. M.
11182 Snow, M. S.
8539 Taylor, J. H.

NEBRASKA DIVISION—27.

8830 Allen, F. G.
4181 Bacon, W. S.
4178 Badollet, P.
4183 Blackmore, T. F.
10311 Branson, L.
10147 Bush, J. C.
7177 Bush, A. H.
4188 Clarke, F. N.
11675 Coombe, W. E.
10312 Dunlap, F. P.
10532 Gilmore, F. B.
10150 Haynes C. M.
4190 Jolliffe, A. C.
12370 Lytle, E.
8440 Maxwell, J. W.
8441 Miller, W. M.
10153 Mittauer, F. T.
10155 Mulford, H. B.
4191 Rumele, R.
10156 Schwarz, G. F.
12251 Scribner, G. O.
10313 Smith, H. O.
9515 Smith, C. E.
10314 Temple, F. L.
4206 Townsend, W. D.
11676 Williams, Dr. G. W.
1150 Woodman, C. M.

NEW HAMPSHIRE DIVISION—11.

4057 Benson, C. E.
6813 Crapo, F. H.
4047 Drew, G. F.
4037 Duffill, T. P.
4063 Hanson, I. E.
4044 Hill, G. F.
4042 McIntire, J. W.
11436 Payne, W. W.
9242 Pierce, G. H
9746 Russell, W. F.
4038 Stiles, P. H.

NEW JERSEY DIVISION—33.

10886 Abbott, W., Jr.
7228 Banker, W. H.
10887 Blake, R. H.
10888 Blizard, C.
12232 Butterworth, F.
12079 Crounse B.
10890 Crounse, D.
1363 Earnshaw, J. C.
9245 Gregory, W. S.
11188 Hancock, F. C.
10891 Hardwick F. W.
3044 Howell, G. F.
10892 Kilgour, F. A.
10893 Macelius, M. DeM.
8543 Mossup, C. S.
7082 McBurney, E. L.
12438 McConaughy, F.
6553 Palmer, N. G.
11677 Pudney, C. A.
2678 Pugh, J. D.
4083 Romaine, DeW.
10894 Rose, G. K.
10632 Rianhard, C. C.
8955 Sengstack, A. E.
10895 Shelp, W. H.
10896 Shepherd, E. P.
7183 Short, G. H.
10897 Simpson, H. L.
7229 Slade, M. P.
11678 Spencer, C. H.
10898 Spencer, B. F.
10900 Turner, Dr. J. A.
7441 Warner, J. L.

NEW YORK DIVISION—111.

3098 Barnum, W. R.
8165 Bartlett, Dr. G. F. H.
116 Benjamin, E. S.
9140 Betts, C. E.
7712 Bingham, F. L.
12642 Bonner, W.
9455 Book, W. H.
10450 Braden, W. W.
9761 Briare, F. M.
13041 Mabie, R.
2384 Mead, S. A.
620 Meldola, H.
11695 Middlebrook, C. F.
6757 Miller, L. F.
724 Mixer, E. A.
9773 Montanye, W. C.
639 Montgomery, G. S.
9650 Mosher, J. J.
9262 Briggs, J. S.
9317 Brigham, F.
5182 Clark, W. L.
6931 Coffin, H. D.
570 Conolly, C. J.
8759 Cornell, E. T.
5008 Covert, M. F.
13038 Davis, I. G.
11055 Dennison, E. V.
3937 Dorr, G.
577 Dukelow, P. J.
177 Dunbar, A. D.
743 Edwards, W. D.
570 Elbs, J. G.
10105 Elsaesser, F. W.
11360 Everingham, B. C.
3936 Fenton, F. A.
2337 Ferris, B. F.
3000 Flockton, W. E.
10930 Gardner, A. K.
8248 Germoud, M. T.
582 Goetzman, H.
966 Gray, W., Jr.
5935 Griffin, C.
10451 Griffith, C. W.
7715 Halsted, E. I.
13939 Hamilton, R. P.
12549 Hansen, P
12543 Hansen, E.
1984 Hasbrouch, D. C.
580 Hasbrouck, R. S.
2567 Hayward, A. A.
13940 Hesse, F. B.
1345 Hill, E. F.
3517 Hodgkins, E. A.
587 Horcheler, W.
6758 Hudnut, J. M.
589 Hughes, F. L.
3947 Jefferds, O. M.
12643 Jones, R. L.
593 Kenfield, W. W.
52 Kies, C. B.
633 Klein, J. F.
11842 Kreger, G. W.
7718 Leggett, C. H.
10453 Locke, E. C.
614 Lund, C. J.
8249 Norman, F. L.
10455 Osborn, L. C.
7719 Parker, E. C.
8250 Pearse, G. A., Jr.
7200 Pitt, J. W.
12727 Pool, G. E.
7723 Powers, J. W.
11700 Prangen, R. M.
3839 Pratt, B. A.
2843 Quackenbush, W. W.
13042 Quail, J. W. B.
10935 Rand, G. F.
9145 Ransom, T. H.
663 Rapalje, A. B.
3941 Rathbone, W. L.
7902 Ridabock, F. A.
13043 Richards, C. W.
585 Robinson, E. S.
7724 Ryer, F. A.
13044 Ryon, J. R.
13045 Schuller, J. D.
664 Shafer, M. F.
3190 Simpson, H.
12571 Sizelan, F. C.
665 Sprague, H. F.
13046 Stone, L. R.
12553 Tainter, H. H.
3192 Tate, H.
672 Thomson, R.
10270 Toplitz, S. B.
10456 Towle, F. E., Jr.
10271 Trowbridge, M. L.
9280 Ulrich, W. H.
6748 Van Zandt, B.
1395 Veysey, W. H. P.
2173 Veysey, W. H.
9311 Vogel, J. H.
10691 Wardlaw, G. A.
10457 Warous, O. J.
3191 Wessells, S.
208 Willis, H.
12997 Wilcox, L. F.
7775 Wills, N. L.
10938 Woodhul, B.
10458 Zugalla, W. T.
3059 Zugalla, A. H.

NORTH CAROLINA—1.

12909 Hall, A. M.

OHIO DIVISION—35.

3119 Arnold, E. L.
1739 Bacon, J. T.
6827 Ball, H
11018 Burris, W. R.
3117 Coleman, A. H.
3502 Corns, A. C.
3118 Dunn, J. R.
11303 Eckert, E. W.
5449 Field, E. H.
3176 Fraw, J. H.
6630 Garber, L.
6670 Gates, E. C.
12981 Goodman, F. S.
6595 Hadley, G. G., Jr.
10683 Huber, F. A.
1742 Hughes, J. H.
3157 Ives, R. E.
7334 Kemmler, C. A.
8381 Kendrick, G.
7572 Kerstetter, D. W.
1078 McFadden, W. C.
1621 Miller, K. F.
11455 Nold, L. S.
8063 Pyle, G. C.
12287 Regenstein, L.
9307 Rogers, H. C.
3113 Russell, C. M.
3199 Skinner, J. V. R.
1636 Stickney, S. W.
4142 Struckman, G. W.
6295 Titus, G. F.
3121 Warwick, W. K. L.
1701 Watkins, H. J.
12326 Weixelbaum, M.
9946 Williams, F.

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION—183.

3 Aaron, E. M.
6834 Adams, J. H.
11059 Allen, A.
7147 Allen, W. S.
5274 Allman, H. D.
11631 Andrews, A. H.
11981 Atkins, E.
2615 Bailey, M. J.
896 Bainbridge, J. C.
4951 Battersby, S. E.
6960 Bones, G. D.
5963 Boyd, J. C.
316 Bradley, T. A.
2565 Brown, K.
3834 Brown, F. A.
8668 Brown, J. T.
11789 Burk, A.
4639 Burk, A. B.
6967 Canfield, F. D., Jr.
4056 Chambers, S. B.
7442 Church, N. W.
7752 Clark, J. W.
6833 Clothier, C.
9496 Connor, H.
6207 Cook, G. E.
3427 Klose, H. K.
5420 Kohler, A.
7358 Kohler, F. W.
6697 Laing, G. T.
3240 Lansinger, J. W.
559 Lehman, J. H.
2050 Lippincott, F. H.
11467 Lore, W. N.
11385 Lowry, A.
7355 Lyman, D. C.
2770 Martin, J. W.
7746 Martin, F. C.
7336 Massey, C. R.
827 Matheys, S.
12976 Mayer, H.
9316 Mayer, C. J.
11814 Mayhew, W.
8156 Metzger, G., Jr.
2231 Moore, C. H.
6205 McCarty, N. H.
9667 McDonald, T. S.
8409 McDougal, J. A.
11383 McGlathery, C.
1675 McGlathery, A. G.
5271 McKinstry, L. R.
12512 Crawford, A. L.
843 Crawford, P. R.
2104 Craycroft, W. B., Jr.
3355 Cressman, N. F.
12832 Curl, E. B.
7489 Dallett, E.
7490 Dallett, P. M.
6139 Deacon, L. J.
9802 Deans, Mrs. F. A.
7212 DeHaven, I. N.
5053 Delany, J. A.
10707 Delany, J. W.
11235 Delp, W. S.
10284 Delp, F. K.
6691 Denn, C.
9497 Denn, W. A.
6692 Denn, W. G.
11812 Dixon, J. H. F.
7443 Doughty, T.
7449 Dunham, C. N.
846 Eastlack, J. C.
8074 Ellis, H.
855 Elwell, I.
11036 Ely, J. F.
2196 Field, F. T.
6214 Fleming, W. T.
9156 Floyd, J. W. C.
10696 Fontaine, P.
6203 Fudge, H. S.
8153 Gallagher, T.
6893 Garreques, F. H.
6209 Gavigan, J. J.
5055 Getz, De S. G.
79 Gifford, J. T.
11388 Gobl, C. E.
868 Goodwin, H. M.
838 Goodwin, G. N.
4622 Goodwin, W. T.
5030 Gould, J. E.
4009 Graham, G. H.
4644 Graw, H. K.
8063 Gressimer, M. R.
638 Grugan, F. W.
4155 Haag, C. B.
8070 Hagginbotham, J.
1639 Hall, H. L. H.
12053 Hallowell, W. S.
9311 Hancock, T. C.
2564 Hare, T.
973 Harper, W. S.
646 Harper, J.
645 Harper, E.
965 Harvey, C.
8282 Hartzell, W. L.
3236 Henszey, M.
8794 High, J. G.
8071 Hill, L. A.
7921 Hill, W. H.
2167 Howell, E. C.
12523 Hubbard, G. L.
4255 Hull, G. S., M. D.
1203 Johnson, F. M.
5568 Johnson, B. D.
2253 Johnson, J. W.
9956 Johnston, J. F.
7592 Kean, T.
4643 Keen, H. H.
495 Kitchenman, J.
3105 McOwen, F.
3430 McOwen, A. H.
6835 Newbold, T. M.
11308 Nevin, F. T.
9317 Nevin, T. H.
866 O'Keefe, W. H.
9007 Pavord, G.
4641 Porter, W. A.
11790 Price, F. C.
12022 Ralston, G. H.
906 Randall, W. W.
877 Read, J. L.
6285 Reese, L. L.
5965 Richwine, F. A.
2038 Richwine, G. F.
5580 Riddle, R.
12437 Riegel, W. A.
9672 Robb, W.
2807 Roberts, C. A.
853 Roberts, H. L.
6200 Russell, F. L.
10512 Seixas, P. M.
10138 Shaffer, R. L.
12898 Shibe, T. S.
2582 Simmons, J. P.
854 Simons, J. F.
8157 Smith, S. S.
941 Smith, C. S.
6698 Smith, E. L.
10714 Soloman, M. S.
4065 Stadelman, W. A.
2578 Steppacher, E. M.
6836 Stewart, W. T.
6233 Stevenson, A. W.
12162 Stacy, A.
12995 Stout, C. E.
10513 Strassburger, F. G.
7924 Sulzner, G.
3372 Supplee, W. D.
3823 Swayze, R. C.
12718 Sweeting T. H.
10497 Taylor, L. D.
10140 Taylor, C. D.
3438 Thatcher, J. W.
315 Thompson, I. C.
9321 Thomas, J.
6961 Van Deusen, E. H.
6962 Van Deusen, I.
11813 Vaughn, C.
7143 Walters, C. W.
933 Walton, H.
6 Wells, J. A.
944 Weston, C. N.
11759 Whigham, H. T.
5954 White, S., Jr.
1149 Williams, C. D.
3257 Wildman, W., M. D.
3229 Winsor, C. C., M. D.
7050 Wright, E. A.
4159 Wright, W. S.
5019 Wright, G. A.
882 Wood, H. S.
2170 Yerkes, C. E.
4640 Young, J. B.
2599 Zimmerman, H. A.

RHODE ISLAND DIVISION—2.

11713 Doe, C. E.
9815 Wheeler, J. B.

TENNESSEE DIVISION—17.

7371 Friedman, A.
7372 Hampton, S. W., Jr.
7384 Klyce, W.
9173 Magill, S. E.
11249 Maydwell, C.
7387 Morgan, H. J.
8416 Raybould, D. J.
5043 Scott, J. R.
7390 Schabel, T. B.
7375 Shelley, M. B.
7391 Slusser, R. W.
5633 Surprise, W. L.
12705 Tompkins, C. R.
11250 Trep, F.
12706 Watkins, T. W.
7391 Wood, W.
7378 Yates, W. F.

VERMONT DIVISION—4.

7374 Howard, E. L.
7939 Thayer, L. P.
62 Walker, G. R.
9322 Warner, E. G.

VIRGINIA DIVISION—1.

7763 Rodman, W. B.

WEST VIRGINIA DIVISION—1.

3320 Dorsey, O. H.

WISCONSIN—2.

2899 Bissell, F. C.
12003 Bloedel, J. H.

Any bicycle is good enough

If it has compressed cushioned tires;
Bown's adjustable ball bearings all round;
is every ounce forged steel;
has a detachable saddle;
and has square rubber pedals.

If you do not know of such a machine, send to the Overman Wheel Company for a suggestion.

An illustrated report of the Stanley show by H. H. Griffin appears in the Wheel of February 18th. Send for sample copy. Post-Office box 444, New York.

Correspondence from all over the United States is published in the Wheel every week. One dollar per year. Post-Office box 444, New York city.

COMBINATIONS.—The Wheel and Outing, $3.00 per year. The Wheel and Bi-World, $1.50. The Outing, Bi. World, and the Wheel, $4.00 per year. Post-Office box 444, New York city.

All the news, first and best; witty and amusing. All new wheels illustrated. $1.00 per year. Post-Office box 444, New York city.

For sale, exchange, and wants advertisements, inserted in the Wheel, 25 words, 15 cents; 8 insertions, 25 cents. Post Office box 444. New York city.

IMPORTANT.

The Grand Union Hotel, opposite the Grand Central Depot, New York City, is the L. A. W. and C. T. C. Headquarters. European Plan. Rooms, $1.00 per day and upward. First-class Restaurant, at moderate prices. Good care taken of wheels.

FOR SALE, EXCHANGE, ETC.

Advertisements will be inserted in this column as follows:

THREE CENTS PER WORD.

No advertisement taken for less than 50 cents. Ten per cent. will be deducted from the bill for two or more insertions.

PATENTS secured on reasonable terms. Work reliable. Papers carefully and legally drawn. Special attention given to inventions in cycling by an experienced wheelman and League member. Write for particulars.
N. L. COLLAMER,
Patent Attorney and Mechanical Engineer,
Room 47, St. Cloud Building, Washington, D. C.

FOR SALE.—48-inch Special Star, with power traps enameled. Bought new last September. Good as new. Cost $112; will sell $85 cash. Address, BICYCLE, Box 264, Sharon, Pa.

WANTED FOR CASH, OR IN EXCHANGE FOR NEW MACHINE.—Good second-hand bicycle and tricycle. Give make, finish, style bearings; state when new, exact condition, bottom price. NEW YORK BICYCLE CO., 38 Park Place.

FOR SALE.—Kangaroo bicycle in fine order every way. Ball bearings all round. Price, $75 (a bargain). Address, FRANK P. HUDNUT, M. D., 57 Hancock St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

BARGAIN.—54-inch Expert, enameled and nickeled, in A 1 condition. Price, $95, and no less. Owner wishes to purchase smaller machine. CASH, P. O. Box 755, Wellsboro, Pa.

FOR SALE.—54-inch Star. Price, $45. Can be seen at Reber & Saich's, 149 Academy St., Newark, N. J.

WANTED.—51-inch Special Star. Address G. B. B., 254 Morris Ave., Elizabeth, N. J.

FOR SALE.—Two stunning bargains; and two lucky men will they be who snap them up. LOOK!—A 52-inch Victor, '85 pattern (better than the '86), lately put in perfect order at the factory and newly enameled and nickeled. Tires worn very little. Complete with large bell, full nickel English K. O. R. Lamp, saddle extension link, tool bag and extra tools, for only $90. This machine looks nice and new, and is practically as good as new. Also, one 52-inch American Challenge, with ball bearings and ball pedals; only used one month; in splendid order, with tool bag and tools complete, for only $65. The order for either must be accompanied with $10 cash. Balance C. O. D. J. N. JORGENSON, Evansville, Indiana.

FOR SALE.—48-inch Star. Light roadster, 1886 pattern, latest improvements, perfect order. Address, W. H. ASHMAN, Lock Box 16, No. Adams, Mass.

FOR SALE.—58-inch Expert Columbia, full nickeled, ball bearing, all sound, including pedals, D. G. cow horn bars, spade handles, and Butcher's Cyclometer (hub). Tires cut some, about 8 spokes stained with rust, otherwise good as new. Price, $100.

50-inch Standard Columbia, full nickeled, except rims P. B., in excellent condition. $50.

50-inch Standard Columbia, cone bearing, new tires, perch and forks nicely nickeled, $45.

50-inch Harvard, forks and perch nickeled, with New Expert wheels and ball bearings. $85.

60-inch Special Columbia, ball bearing to front wheel, full nickeled. Price, $40.

52-inch Expert, full nickeled and bearings, cow horn bars. Price, $75.

Cradle Springs, $3; Long Distance Saddles, $1 and $2; Hill & Talman's, $3; bells, $1.50; Expert, Straight Handle Bars, $75; cost new, $125. McDonnel Cyclometer, $2; cost new, $4.

If you are in want of any sundries or parts send to Spead and get his prices. JAS. A. SPEAD, South Newmarket, N. H.

SALESMEN WANTED!!
SALARY AND EXPENSES PAID!!
For terms and particulars address (mention this paper).
W. R. McNARY & CO., Nurserymen, Dayton, Ohio.

STEEL BALLS For Anti-Friction Bearings.
OF BEST CAST STEEL.
Hardened, Ground, and Burnished
3-16" to 3" diam. Samples and Prices on application.
Simonds Rolling-Machine Co., Fitchburg, Mass

TO CORRESPONDENTS AND EXCHANGES.

On and after March 1st send all
Letters and Papers to
ABBOT BASSETT,
SECRETARY-EDITOR,
No. 22 School Street,
BOSTON, MASS.

BROOKLYN RIDERS,

Take your Wheels to

Schwalbach & Willdigg,

Prospect Park Plaza, and have them Overhauled.

Call and Inspect the WHEEL OF PERFECTION, THE NEW MAIL.

REPAIRS.

Send postal card and have us call for REPAIRS.

BEFORE YOU BUY A BICYCLE
of any kind, send stamp to
A. W. GUMP, - Dayton, Ohio,
for Large Illustrated Price-List of New and Second-Hand Machines.
Second-Hand Bicycles taken in Exchange and Bought for Cash.

Largest Stock of Second-Hand Bicycles in America.
BICYCLES REPAIRED and NICKEL-PLATED.
A. W. Gump, Dayton, Ohio.

SECOND-HAND GUNS TAKEN IN EXCHANGE FOR BICYCLES.

"In a word, a cycle bearing must be in that apparently paradoxical condition, at the same time very tight and very loose; that is, perfectly free to spin, and entirely rigid, allowing no shake in the parts."—Victor Catalog.

IT BEATS THE WORLD,

AND THE WORLD IS HARD TO BEAT.

1405 Miles in 142 Hours!!

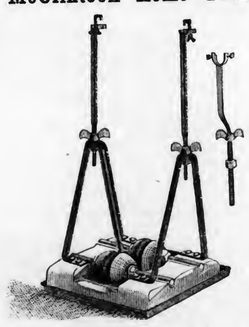
Ridden by ALBERT SCHOCK, at Minneapolis, in competition with most of the great American professionals.

Mr. Schock writes:—"I am pleased with the Victor in every respect. I soon found it a vast improvement on all other wheels ridden by me."

Victor Wheels are built to ride. Bicycles, Tricycles, Safeties. Catalog free.

OVERMAN WHEEL CO., - - 182 Columbus Avenue, Boston.

Bicycle and Gymnasium Goods.

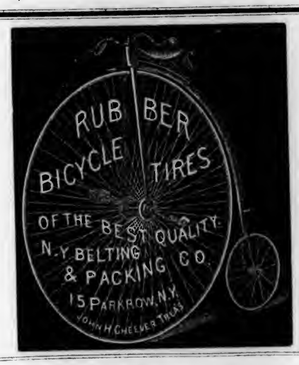


THE KINGSTON KNITTING CO.
No. 27 Kingston Street,
BOSTON, MASS.,

Manufacture from the Finest Worsted Stock all of the latest novelties in Jerseys, Guernseys, Knee Tights, Full Bodied Tights, Hosiery, etc., and in all the Popular Colors—In Plain, Striped, and Trimmed. We make a specialty in these Garments, and our prices are very reasonable. We refer to a large number of Wheelmen who use our goods.

ORDERS SOLICITED.

NOTICE TO BICYCLISTS.



The McClintock Home Trainer.

You can ride at home, rain or shine, snow or mud. It discounts all Home Trainers. It is independent and superior to such machines generally used, from the fact you can use any style of bicycles. You can adjust to suit the rider's muscles. You can raise or lower to any height wheel. It has no equal for a bicycle stand. It is superior to any invention to hold a bicycle to clean or wipe, also tightening the spokes and truing the wheel. It requires no more room than the bicycle does without it. Price, $15.00 (Fifteen Dollars). Heavy discounts to dealers. Send for circulars. Patent allowed January 31st, 1887. All infringers dealt with according to law.

Address all orders to

JAY McCLINTOCK,
No. 208 Hepburn St., Williamsport, Pa

Ira Perego

128 and 130 FULTON ST., 87 NASSAU ST.,
NEW YORK.

The only Official Outfitter to the L. A. W.

L. A. W. REGULATION CAP,	-	$1 75
" "	HELMET, -	1 75
" "	SHIRT, -	2 25
" "	HOSE, -	1 50
" "	SILK BELTS,	1 00

All orders must be accompanied by money order for the amount, also name and League number.

English C. T. C. Cloth, double width, $4.00 per yard.

58-INCH EXPERT COLUMBIA BICYCLE

will be awarded to the highest bid received by the 28th February. Machine full nickeled, some used, in excellent condition, tires equal to new.

THE CINCINNATI BICYCLE CO.,
No. 6 East 4th Street,
A. A. BENNETT, President,
CINCINNATI, OHIO.

Patented 1881.

L. A. W. BADGES.

For Gold Pins of the Official Design, send direct to
CHAS. H. LAMSON,
177 Middle St., Portland, Me.,
The Designer and Sole Authorized Maker.

Prices for handsome Solid Gold Pins (stone centres) $3.50, $5.00, $7.00, and $8.00, according to finish and fineness (kt.) of gold. Diamond Bearers, $15.00 to $50.00 for the larger pins, and $10.00 to $30.00 for the small size. Send for circular free. Orders by mail, inclosing money order and League number, will receive prompt attention.

Also for sale in New York at M. J. Paillard & Co.'s, 680 Broadway; in Philadelphia by H. B. Hart, 811 Arch St.; in Boston by The Pope Mfg. Co.; in Chicago by The John Wilkinson Co.; in Newark, N. J., by Howard Smith & Co.; in Minneapolis by T. F. Heath & Co.; and in San Francisco by Osborn & Alexander.

New Style H.

BROWNING, KING & CO.,

406, 408, 410, and 412 BROOME STREET, NEW YORK.

THE ONLY OFFICIAL CONTRACTORS FOR THE

LEAGUE UNIFORM.

LIST OF PRICES:

Plaited Blouse, $9.50; Knee Breeches, $6.00; Suit, $15.50. Regulation League Cloth, made by the Middlesex Mills, cost $2.00 per yard. League Buttons, large size, 5 cents each; Small size, 2½ cents each. Full set for suit, 55 cents.

TERMS:

All uniforms or parts of uniforms sent C. O. D., with privilege of examination. All orders for cloth or buttons must be accompanied by Money Order. Blank forms for self-measurement furnished on application. Orders for L. A. W. Goods will be received at any of our branch stores, as follows:

36 and 138 Madison St., } CHICAGO, ILL. | 210 and 212 N. Broadway, St. Louis, Mo.
144 to 148 Clark Street, } | Wisconsin and E. Water Street, Milwaukee, Wis.
76 and 78 West Fourth St., Cincinnati, Ohio; 910 and 912 Chestnut Street, Phila., Pa.

All orders must be accompanied by League number.

Before purchasing your mount for this year, see the celebrated

"ROVER" BICYCLE.

FITTED WITH EVERY POSSIBLE IMPROVEMENT.

Faster than a Bicycle.

Safer than a Tricycle.

The "ROVER" BICYCLE as ridden by the Right Honorable Viscount Bury, President of the National Cyclists' Union.

No Skidding or Side-Slipping on Greasy Roads

And no Fear of Falls.

Starley's new Patent Spring Fork is now ready, whereby entire insulation from shocks is obtained in handles, pedals, and seat.

This Fork can also be applied to any tricycle.

Price-lists, testimonials, etc. (including one from Viscount Bury, which every rider should read), post free.

Complete catalogue of all our machines, 2 stamps.

STARLEY & SUTTON, Meteor Works, - Coventry, England.

Adjustment in height in front.

Adjustment in height in rear.

Adjustment in width.

When you buy, buy the best.

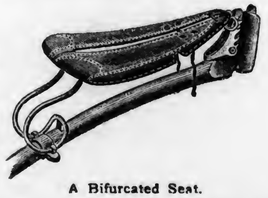
When you order your new mount, order it with only the old reliable

Lillibridge Saddle.

FOR SALE EVERYWHERE.

Price, Nickeled, - - $5.00

Adapted to all makes of machines.



Special styles for the Safeties and Star.

FREEMAN LILLIBRIDGE,

ROCKFORD, ILL.

Adjustment in length.

A Bifurcated Seat.

A Comfortable Coasting Plate.

BARGAINS!

Now is the time to buy Second-Hand Bicycles. Send size and price you wish to pay. Prices low. Send for Catalogue of the New Rapid.

WM. M. FRISBIE & CO.,
P. O. Drawer 64. New Haven, Conn.

DEALERS!

We manufacture TOOL BAGS, equal to English, and cheaper. Write to us.

McCOY & WILLIAMS, Orange, N. J.

BEST GOODS. LOWEST PRICES.

L. A. W. SUITS, - - - $12.00
JERSEY CLOTH SUITS, - - 13.00
CYCLISTS' TOURING CLUB SUITS, 13.00

All garments custom made.
Send for circulars and measure blanks.

Punnett, Tailor and Outfitter, - Rochester, N. Y.

THE SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER,

MANUFACTURED BY THE

Springfield Bicycle Manufacturing Co.

(Yost & McCune Patents),

19 PEARL STREET, BOSTON.

The only absolutely safe wheel against "Headers" made. It is the best, and it is also the cheapest.
Do not buy a wheel before you see the Springfield Roadster.
Coasting without danger. Hill-climbing to perfection. Invented by riders of experience.

PRICE, COMPLETE, - $75.00.

JOHN P. LOVELL'S SONS, 147 Washington St., Boston, Sole Agents for New England.

THE "NEW AMERICAN" TRICYCLE.

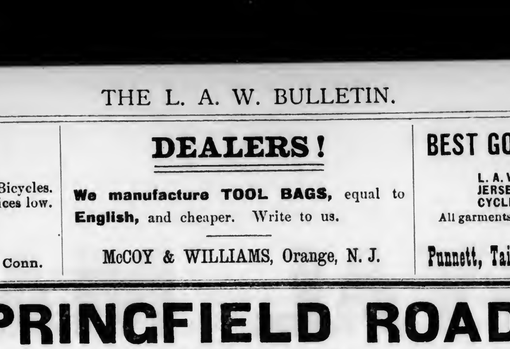
639 Arch Street, Philadelphia.

We make but one style of machine, and that the best. There are no extras.

NO DEAD CENTRES. FULL POWER UTILIZED. CLIMBS ANY HILL.

The best machine for ladies, as there are no revolving pedals to catch the skirts. The only Tricycle that can be ridden equally well by lady or gentleman, grown person or child.

EITHER RIDER CAN STEER.



May be Ridden by Two Ladies.

HAS AUTOMATIC STEERING.

Reduces in Width to 27 inches.

Has Folding Handle Bar, for Easy Access to Front Seat.

Is the Most Unique Machine of its Class.

THE CUNARD CONVERTIBLE TANDEM.

CUNARD

Bicycles,
Tricycles,
Tandems,
Safeties.

D. Rogers & Co.,

SOLE U. S. AGENTS,

75 Clinton Avenue,

NEWARK, N. J.

☞CATALOGUES FREE.

Copy of Testimonial from T. J. Kirkpatrick, Esq., Vice-President of the L. A. W.

SPRINGFIELD, O., January 11th, 1887.

D. ROGERS & CO.

GENTLEMEN:—Respecting the Cunard Tandem, I have to say that it is beyond question the best tandem yet produced. Its compactness, ease of handling, light running, safety, and the ease with which it may be mounted or dismounted, by either a lady or gentleman, leave nothing to be desired. Its folding handle bar, and the fact that it can be quickly and readily taken through a common door, are features which make the machine a pleasure. I have owned other tandems, but this is the only one that was worth house-room as a convertible machine. I find it a perfect machine, in perfect balance, either as a single or a tandem. I have sought carefully for some three years now for the best tandem, and have given the matter a great deal of thought and attention, and if asked to-day to suggest an improvement in the design and arrangement of the Cunard, I would be free to say that it is as nearly perfect as this type of machine ever will be.

Yours truly, [Signed] T. J. KIRKPATRICK.

SEND YOUR ORDERS AT ONCE FOR SPRING DELIVERY, AND DON'T GET LEFT.

☞ACTIVE AND RESPONSIBLE AGENTS WANTED.

Send for list of shopworn machines, which must be sold to make room for spring stock.

ROYAL MAIL!

The Most Complete and Improved Bicycle Ever Offered!

Best Road Record of 1885, 5,056 Miles on One Wheel, Won by ROYAL MAIL!

With the Greatest of Modern Improvement,

Trigwell's Ball-Bearing Head.

1,000 Miles Without Oiling or Adjustment.

Perfect Rigidity and Ease of Steering.

In Use Over Three Years, With Great Approval.

Wheelmen are aware that ordinarily constant watching and tightening up of the Head is necessary, owing to the wearing of the cones by friction. In this Ball Head the cones move on the balls smoothly, without wear, and one adjustment serves for a very long time—for months, in fact—and no loosening nor setting up is necessary. There being no friction, oiling is rarely needed. These Heads are made by the finest machinery, all perfectly alike and beautifully finished, every part mathematically true, and

ALL PARTS INTERCHANGEABLE.

Detachable Handle Bars and Lillibridge Saddle.

Best Warwick Rim and Cemented Tyre.

True Tangent Spokes, tied and wound SEVEN times, giving great rigidity and strength.

The Royal Mail is too well known to need minute description. It has, as a Light Roadster, for the past four years been in the front rank; gained the prize for the greatest amount of road work in 1885, with 5,056 miles to the credit of one wheel, and has increased in popularity each year. We claim no other in the market is of such first-class workmanship, and we think it is conceded to be the handsomest wheel in the market. Having a small lot which came from the factory last fall, too late for sale, and hence carried through the winter, we offer these few, and these only, before the regular season opens and new lots arrive, on very low terms—in fact, at such terms as we would not entertain after the season opens, in another month. This is the opportunity of the season to wheelmen desiring to exchange their old mounts for a Superb Light Roadster.

TO EXCHANGE FOR OTHER WHEELS

Also a very few in second-hand state, but perfect as new.

Write at once, giving full particulars of your wheel. We have but a few.

WILLIAM READ & SONS, 107 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

HOW TO JOIN

THE

L. A. W.

Fill up the blank in the adjoining column and, together with TWO DOLLARS, send it to the Secretary of the League,

ABBOT BASSETT,

Box 1184, Philadelphia, Pa.

Write your FULL NAME, your FULL ADDRESS, and your CLUB name IN FULL.

Write very plainly.

Application for Membership in the L. A. W.

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary-Editor,

Box 1184 Philadelphia, Pa.

Dear Sir:

Inclosed you will find $2.00 for initiation fee and annual dues in the League of American Wheelmen. I hereby certify that I am over 18 years of age, and that I am an amateur within the meaning of the definition printed below. I refer to the persons named below.

Signed,.....

Club,..... Residence,.....

City and State,..... Date,.....

ARTICLE IV, SECTION 4, of the L. A. W. By-Laws, contains the following Definition of an Amateur:—"An amateur is one who has never engaged in, nor assisted in, nor taught any recognized athletic exercise for money or other remuneration, nor knowingly competed with or against a professional for a prize of any description. To prevent misunderstanding in interpreting the above, the League draws attention to the following explanation: A cyclist forfeits his right to compete as an amateur, and thereby becomes a professional, by engaging in cycling or any other recognized athletic exercise, or personally teaching, training, or coaching any other person therein, either as a means of obtaining a livelihood, or for a stated bet, money prize, or for gate money, competing with, pace-making for, or having the pace made by, a professional, in public or for a prize; selling, realizing upon, or otherwise turning into cash any prize won by him. This rule does not apply to teaching the elements of bicycling solely for the purpose of effecting the sale of a bicycle. The League recognizes as athletic exercises all those sports under the jurisdiction of the National Association of Amateur Athletes of America, including running, walking, jumping, pole-leaping, putting the shot, throwing the hammer, throwing the weights, tug of war, and rowing, boxing, sparring, Lacrosse, polo, roller and ice skating."

TO L. A. W. MEMBERS.

Read the Letter in the adjoining columns, and AT ONCE fill out the blank at the bottom and send it with ONE DOLLAR to

Abbot Bassett, Box 1184, Philadelphia, Pa.,

and thus secure for another year your membership in the largest and most popular athletic organization in the country.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY-EDITOR, LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN,
PHILADELPHIA, PA., December 6th, 1886.

TO ALL LEAGUE MEMBERS:

THE ADVANTAGES OF MEMBERSHIP in the L. A. W. are so well known and understood that to most of you anything that I might say on the subject would seem superfluous. But to those who, either from the brief duration of their association with our organization or from the fact that they have not availed themselves of their privileges in the League, are not so assured of its great influence for the general good and their individual good in particular, we offer the following brief summary for their careful attention:

The L. A. W. publishes a first-class weekly newspaper, the L. A. W. BULLETIN, which is in itself full return for the annual dues. It will furnish to each member, on application, during 1887, at a nominal price, a HAND-BOOK of useful information, including the Constitution and By-Laws, Racing Rules, Transportation Rates, Rights and Privileges, etc. The L. A. W. affords the privilege of obtaining an excellent UNIFORM at very moderate cost. The L. A. W. stands ready to protect its members in their legal rights, and to sustain them in their efforts to repeal unfavorable legislation. This it has frequently done in the past.

In addition to the above general advantages, most of the State Divisions are striving to outdo the parent body in granting direct benefits to their members, such as Road-Books, maps, Hand-Books, and reduced hotel rates, to say nothing of meets, parades, tours, and entertainments.

The item of the bond of fellowship which exists between League members throughout the length and breadth of our land is admitted by many hundreds to be worth much more than the price of the annual dues.

Believing that all who intend to continue as cyclers will also continue as members of the League, and that most of those who either temporarily or permanently give up active participation in cycling will remain with us for the sake of the past and of the future companionship, I feel that I have but to call your attention to the League's claims on you for 1887 to insure the return of the blank printed below with your signature affixed and accompanied by your annual dues.

Fraternally,

ABBOT BASSETT Secretary-Editor, L. A. W.

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary-Editor, L. A. W.,

Box 1184, Philadelphia, Pa.

Inclosed herewith you will find ONE DOLLAR for the Annual Dues for 1887, in the League of American Wheelmen, for the undersigned.

Name,.....

League No...... Address,.....

Club,.....

It would seem to be fate.

It is, however, a fact that the riders of

The American Champion

Have made the most phenomenal long distance and road times of the season.

HERE IS ANOTHER MARVELOUS RECORD

BY JOHN S. PRINCE, AT OMAHA,

On a carefully surveyed indoor and ten lap track, in 48 hours.

767 and 2/10 MILES.

A WORLD RECORD BY 27 MILES.

They all say the same thing, viz.: "the easy running qualities of the G. & J. Bearings."

Then there is the

10	miles in	29	minutes	1¾	seconds.
20	"	59	"	35⅘	"
50	" 2 hours	55	"	46½	"
100	" 6 "	1½	"

All of these world records made by a roadster on a country road.

Facts of this sort talk.

BY the way, gentlemen, if you want your machine overhauled or repaired, don't wait until the busy spring, and then expect the work to be promptly done. Send your machine to us now and have it ready for the first bit of good riding weather. It stands to reason that it will be more thoroughly done, and at a much more reasonable price.

Since we have completed our manufactory, we can devote a good deal more space to this branch of the business.

Respectfully submitted,

GORMULLY & JEFFERY, Chicago, Ill.

THE L. A. W. BULLETIN

THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN

A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

$1.00 A YEAR. 3 CENTS PER COPY.

Philadelphia, February 25, 1887.

VOLUME IV. No. 8. WHOLE NUMBER 87.

COLUMBIA BARGAINS.

COLUMBIA DIRECT SPOKE LIGHT ROADSTER.

Price, any size, only - $100 00.

$5 Less if Columbia Parallel Pedals are taken.

This reduction of from $40 to $50 from original price is made wholly on account of the very small stock we have remaining of these machines, and the fact that we can supply only the larger sizes (54, 56, 58, and 60-inch sizes). They are about seven pounds lighter than the Expert, closely resemble it in lines, and are very easy-running bicycles, and are especially recommended for riders who wish light roadsters at a very low price. They have ⅞-inch front and ⅝-inch rear tires, seamless-steel hollow front felloe, 68 and 20 direct spokes, detachable cranks, ball bearings to both wheels, bolted sliding spring, long-distance saddle, straight, hollow handle-bars, ball pedals. If desired, the Kirkpatrick saddle and cow-horn handle-bars will be substituted for the regular equipment. Finish I: enameled wheels, balance nickeled.

An unusual opportunity for a Tall Man to obtain a Low Priced Bicycle.

COLUMBIA GENTLEMAN'S TRICYCLE.

Price, - $165 00.

$5 Less if Columbia Parallel Pedals are taken.

We have constructed a few automatic handle-bar steering light tricycles on the lines of the Racer, shown in the cut, for the use of light gentlemen riders on good roads. They are capable of being used, under these conditions, for high speed, are very true in their steering, and are good hill climbers. The driving wheels are 44 inches in diameter and are constructed with full tangent spokes and ⅞-inch hollow felloes; the steering-wheel, 22 inches, with ⅝-inch crescent felloe and resultant spokes. The saddle-rod and handle-bars are adjustable up and down for riders of different sizes, and the cranks, which are extra long, are also adjustable for reach.

The equipment of the machine includes L. D. saddle, cradle-spring, cow-horn handle-bars, spade handles, "double-grip" ball pedals, and a firm brake operated by the foot. It is geared as a 52-inch driver. Weight, 66 pounds.

POPE MFG. CO., 79 Franklin St., cor. of Arch St., Boston. Branch Houses: 12 Warren St., New York. 291 Wabash Ave., Chicago.

RUDGE TELEPHONE MAN.

HELLO! HELLO!

Cast your eye on the Specifications of the

RUDGE LIGHT ROADSTER

For 1887, and tell me

What's the matter with the Rudge?

ADVANTAGES

OF THE

RUDGE BICYCLETTE.

1. Perfect immunity from headers.
2. Very great brake power.
3. Easy mounting and dismounting.
4. Great power up hill.
5. On account of its dwarf form, it does not offer as great a resistance to the head winds as the ordinary bicycle.
6. Less vibration and bumping.
7. Ability to ride where ordinary bicycle or tricycle could not venture.
8. No skidding when driving up hill.
9. Maximum of speed with minimum of exertion.
10. Comfortable foot rests.
11. Less splashing from mud and wet.
12. Saddle and handles can be raised at will.

BEARINGS. Rudge's unequaled ball bearings to both wheels and pedals.
SADDLE. Townsend.
STEERING HEAD. Long centre; Andrews' patent.
HANDLE-BARS. Hollow weldless steel tubing, cow-horn shape.
SPOKES. Single tangent, riveted at the hub, and attached at the rim with long tube nipples.
HANDLES. Spade handles; detachable and perfectly adjustable.
RIMS. Clement hollow; made in one piece without brazing.
DUST SHIELD. Perfectly tight, with means for oiling head.
FORKS AND BACKBONE TUBING. Very finest cold-drawn weldless steel.
STEP. Latest pattern, adjustable safety.
CRANKS. Long, 6-inch throw
TIRES. Finest Para Rubber; especially manufactured for American roads.
PEDALS. Rudge's ball-tapered pin; warranted not to break. Corrugated rubbers.
FINISH. Two styles. Standard: all nickel, with the exception of the backbone, forks, spokes, and rim. Extra: all nickeled but rims and spokes.
PRICE. 50-inch, enameled and nickeled, complete as per above specifications, $135.

AGENCY.

We are granting a limited number of agencies in unoccupied territory, and application should be made at once.

We hope to see every member of the L. A. W. mounted on a Rudge Cycle in 1887.

SEND FOR 1887 CATALOGUE.

STODDARD, LOVERING & CO.,

152 Congress St., Boston. New York Headquarters, Geo. R. Bidwell, 313 W. 58th St., N. Y.

THE BULLETIN

OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN. PUBLISHED WEEKLY. A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY

ABBOT BASSETT,

For the Executive Committee of the League of American Wheelmen.

AT THE L. A. W. OFFICE,

506 WALNUT STREET, ROOM 12, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

Entered at the Post Office as Second-Class Matter.

SINGLE COPIES, - - - - - - - 3 CENTS.
SUBSCRIPTION PRICE TO OTHER THAN LEAGUE MEMBERS, } $1.00 A YEAR.
CLUBS OF FIVE, - - - - - - $4.00 "

TO LEAGUE MEMBERS.

Until further notice address all letters to the Secretary-Editor, Abbot Bassett, Box 1184, Philadelphia, Pa.

Subscribers should be careful to notify the EDITOR promptly of any change in their address. Great care is taken with the mailing list; failure to receive THE BULLETIN may usually be traced to carelessness on the part of the subscriber.

All matter for publication, whether reading or advertising matter, should be addressed to the EDITOR. All checks should be made payable to his order.

Reading matter, to insure publication in the following issue, must be in the EDITOR's hands not later than Saturday afternoon; advertisements not later than Monday morning.

Personal controversy, fault-finding, and allusions to manufactures and manufacturers will not be admitted to the columns devoted to reading matter.

The EDITOR must in all cases have the full name and address of the authors of contributed articles as a guarantee of good faith. As the Executive Committee has decided that it is best to discourage the use of assumed names by writers for THE BULLETIN, the EDITOR will publish the author's name unless particularly requested not to do so.

ADVERTISING RATES ON APPLICATION.

Our Circulation this Week is

12,100 Copies.

No. 8. FEBRUARY 25, 1887. VOL. IV.

We are forced this week to desist from publishing stenographic reports, explanations, etc., growing out of the late unpleasantness, and must use the columns of our paper as an outlet to the vast accumulation of matter now on our table. We shall not have room for one-half of it, and much that ought to see the light will have to stand aside. We see clear water ahead, but it is at a very long distance.

* * * * *

The following note is taken from the Philadelphia Press of February 19th:

"In the Court of Common Pleas, yesterday, an attachment under the act of 1869 was issued at the instance of John A. Wells against N. Malon Beckwith, T. J. Kirkpatrick, and John C. Gulick, trading as the Executive Committee of the League of American Wheelmen. The defendants publish a paper called the L. A. W. BULLETIN, at 506 Walnut Street.

"The editor of this paper made a contract with Wells to take full charge of the advertising, promising him 10 per cent. on all new contracts, and 10 per cent. on such old contracts as he could get renewed at a higher rate. This contract was approved by the three members. Beckwith paid him his money for some time, but has lately refused to pay any more, and the amount now due plaintiff is $572.52. Wells claims that defendants are about to remove to Boston."

This means that Mr. Wells has presented a bill to the Executive Committee for commissions on advertising during the whole of the year 1887. He claims commission on advertisements inserted by the Pope Manufacturing Company, Stoddard, Lovering & Co., Overman Wheel Company, Gormully & Jeffery Manufacturing Company, and other well-known firms. The Executive Committee are not yet willing to pay the bill, but they have not refused to. Mr. Wells presented his bill on February 1st, and on February 18th he attached all of the effects of the League in Philadelphia, including the office fixtures, bank account, etc. The attachment still holds, and we are unable to avail ourselves of the benefits of the League's resources. This whole matter will soon come before the courts for settlement. Meantime we commend to the attention of League members the action of one who holds the position of Chief Consul of a large division.

* * * * *

"Where is my ticket?" Coming! This is our answer to scores of inquiries. The tickets are going out as fast as they can be written, and we cannot hurry matters. We have but one renewal book and one clerk must do all the work. He is working night and day. We pray thee patience.

PRACTICAL WORK.

EDITOR L. A. W. BULLETIN:—

For the encouragement of our friend Phœnix and the other Missouri wheelmen who made the fight for good roads, we take pleasure in reporting the result of our political campaign for the same object. While, of course, we do not wish to compare the contest in one city to one extending over a large State, yet the result shows what can be accomplished by a determined effort, even against strong opposition.

A short time ago a meeting of some of the members of our Club was held to consider the best move to make to have our principal street repaved. It is now paved (?) with an old worn-out cobblestone pavement, full of holes.

After a full consideration of the matter it was decided that the first step to be taken, and one that was absolutely necessary, was the election of new Councils favorable to the improvement.

We went quietly to work and put things in shape, and then, when the proper time arrived, brought out our candidates, all leading citizens, some of them being members of our Club. This aroused the ire of the old fossils and the politicians who ran the city ring, and brought on the most exciting local election ever held here, but resulted in the election of Councils with a majority pledged for improvements.

We now will go forward and finish the good work, because we believe it to be for the best interests of the city.

May the efforts of all amateur politicians in the same cause meet with as good success. "1952."

NEW CASTLE, PA., February 16th, 1887.

CURRENT NOTES AND COMMENTS.

D. C. H., of Toledo, O., writes that he will ride from that city to Boston the coming summer, and asks for information regarding roads, etc. He should apply to the Bookmaster.

Wife—"Well, Ned, what do you think Charlie wants now? He asked me to-day if I wouldn't help him tease you to buy him a bicycle."

Indulgent Father (who once had ambitions himself)—"Bicycle? Nonsense! The boy can't have it. Tell him to go up in the attic and fall down two flights of stairs. It will be just about the same thing, and will save me $100.—Somerville Journal.

The League of the American Wheelman members are everywhere serving the general public as well as themselves, in striving with all their might to improve the condition of American roads, and keep them from the well-merited reproach of being the worst of those in use by civilized nations.—Harper's Weekly.

TO CORRESPONDENTS AND EXCHANGES.

On and after March 1st send all Letters and Papers to

ABBOT BASSETT,
SECRETARY-EDITOR,
No. 22 School Street,
BOSTON, MASS.

The "non-cropper" is the name of a new device patented by an Englishman and designed to prevent headers from bicycles. It consists of a fine ratchet wheel, fastened to the outside of the hub. In the teeth of this the ratchet falls, one end of which is pivoted on the fork. The moment that a tendency is shown for the fork to pitch forward the ratchet and wheel engage and push it back.

One great little thing about the Ramblers' recent 100-mile ride has not been spoken of much. It has been mentioned occasionally among the wheelmen, but not as frequently as its importance deserves. I refer to the effect of liquor upon the staying powers of the riders. As everybody remembers, the day of the ride was raw and cold, and the temptation to yield to stimulants was great. The majority of the 15 did yield, but they gained nothing by it, as I am told by one who knows that those who imbibed no alcohol finished in better form than the others. They weren't as lively during certain portions of the ride as others, but they "got there" at the finish. One incident of the ride in particular convinced me of the necessity of pointing out the danger of liquors in out-door exercise. A Rambler that day came out of a road-house and swung himself into the saddle, smacking his lips. "Oh! I feel immense," he cried, as he caught up with the crowd, "I just got a good drink of whisky." Twenty minutes later the reaction had set in, and a sickness and weakness came over him that eventually made him abandon the ride.—St. Louis Spectator.

Thomas Stevens is to be invited to attend the annual banquet of the Massachusetts Club, of Boston, which is to be held next month.

Mr. E. N. Blue, of the Citizens' Bicycle Club, was recently engaged by Puck at a salary of $10,000 a year, for which he will contribute a weekly cartoon for the back page of that paper. Mr. Blue designed the covers for the Citizens' race meet programme and he is at present engaged on the menu card for the Stevens' Dinner.—Wheel.

Kaufman's latest achievement is to balance himself on one wheel, and then give a juggling performance. This has taken tremendously in Glasgow, and the local papers speak in the highest terms of his performance.

The publishers of Outing are naturally indignant that Captain Cloudman, who commanded the Outing, and was cast away on the Florida coast, should make statements to a reporter of a New York daily which imply that they pursued a niggardly policy in the purchase of the boat and its fitting-out. No one who knows the liberal policy they have pursued with Thomas Stevens and that which characterizes the conduct of their magazine will for a moment credit the word of one who evidently desires to excuse his want of skill as a navigator by condemning his employers.

Thomas A. Stevens arrived in New York on the evening of February 13th, and was met by members of the Citizens' Bicycle Club, who escorted him to the Club-House on Sixteenth Street, where he received a cordial welcome and was entertained for several hours.

THE STANLEY SHOW.

[Specially reported for the BULLETIN by "FAED."]

The tenth annual exhibition of bicycles, tricycles, and their accessories, promoted by the Stanley Cycling Club, opened last Thursday at the Royal Aquarium, Westminster, London, and is proving to be the greatest success ever achieved. As was the case last year, the Club Committee is strengthened by a committee of ten representatives of the trade, and the "show" is at once representative and comprehensive. The whole of the Aquarium is devoted to the exhibits, the usual music hall entertainments being shifted into the theatre annexed, while Wilson and Alden, two trick riders from America, perform twice daily in an upstairs side-hall. The exhibits, both individually and as a whole, are a distinct advance upon previous shows, and the attendance of visitors is very gratifying.

The gentleman who recently visited England, and returned to America full of "impressions," which he retailed to the copy-seeking reporter, would be startled, indeed, to find how the actual facts differ from his "impressions." If I mistake not, Mr. Corey told the American public that two bearings to the axles of tricycles would remain the predominating style this year, or words to the same effect. Now, I have for four or five years past been persistently pointing out the absurdity of the "Humber" type axle, with two bearings placed close together in the middle, and therefore I was not convinced by the opinions of even such a great man as Corey; and at the Stanley Show I have simply reveled in success, for my views are at last adopted by almost every maker, Rudge & Co. being about the only firm to adhere to the old two-bearing axles. Mr. Corey argued that four bearings would entail extra friction; but any engineer would soon contradict that notion. Although it may seem a trifle egotistical, I must just quote the remarks of a Scottish paper on the subject, as it is really the chief improvement of the year:

"Except, perhaps, for very light riders, and possibly ladies' machines, the single tricycle for season 1887 will be manufactured by all the leading firms with an improved axle-bridge and an extra number of bearings, with the gear-box in centre. It is quite possible that the days of axles with only two bearings in the middle are numbered, so far as gen lemen's mounts are concerned. Mr. A. J. Wilson, better known as 'Faed,' the popular editor of that clever little paper, the Tricycling Journal, which every tricyclist should read, sums up the subject in his issue of 31st ult.: 'Two bearings mean a bending axle; four a straight axle; and although wheels with two bearings to their axle may spin easier when no weight is on them, they will drive harder when carrying a load.' Now, 'Faed' is admittedly a smart amateur mechanic and a thoroughly practiced road and path-rider of many years' experience, and his advice is worth listening to. We are not positive, but from memory we think he has come to grief on more than one occasion through broken axles."

The above was published before the Show opened, and its accuracy is confirmed by an enormous number of makers, the four-bearing axle being, indeed, now the rule, and the two-bearing the exception.

The other notable feature of the Show is the decisive popularity of large steering-wheels to tricycles, and the decadence of spring-to-centre "automatic" steering. The "Cripper" pattern tricycle, in fact, is so far improved as to no longer deserve the name which it originally bore, the present type being more rationally termed the "direct steering" type of tricycle. Not only has the lead set by the Quadrant Company been followed, but 26-inch steerers are even surpassed, and in some cases the steering-wheel of a tricycle is actually larger than the driving-wheels, noticeably in Albone's "Anfield Ivel," and Pansey's "Pioneer C. C. C." tricycles, both of which machines, by the way, are convertible into near-driving safety bicycles. Only one tandem bicycle is on view, but that has, I am given to understand, solved the long-vexed problem by being constructed so that both its wheels steer. Ordinary bicycles have scarcely any alterations in their details, the growth of the American style of combined saddles and springs, and the development of ball steering-heads being the chief advances.

Descending to details, and alluding only to items likely to interest American readers, a stroll round the Show reveals the following exhibits in

BICYCLES.

J. H. Dearlove's "Rational" bicycle is the outcome of an idea that a direct-action bicycle—an "ordinary"—can be made approximately exempt from headers by the use of a driving-wheel well within the rider's height; with narrow tread, long cranks, good rake, large back wheel, and good large rubbers. It has been well tried on the road, and has now a simple form of ball head made out of a Bonn ball pedal. He also makes a rear-driving safety with his patent horizontal spring fork to the front wheel.

W. Travers has reduced his racing bicycle—a 54-incher, upon which he won a race, the first time of using, last autumn—to less than 17 lbs. complete.

Tugwell, Watson & Co., by whom the ball head was perfected, also fit an anti-vibration handle-bar, which is, however, rather too easy in its "give."

Ellis & Co. have taken a new lease of popularity for the Facile, with a geared-up wheel driving by the usual levers, extended in their throw, the speeding being accomplished by a singularly neat and strong sun and planet motion. They have also a rear-driving Facile, which is not a success.

Albone has scored strongly with the "Ivel" rear-driving safety, its steering being so cunningly arranged that it can be ridden for miles at a stretch with the hands off, while its speed is attested by its holding the 50 miles and 24 hour records.

Humber & Co.'s bicycle exhibit consists chiefly of machines upon which records were made last year. In addition to their rear driving safety with small steering wheel, they make an equal wheeled one, with a very expensive-looking frame, spring front fork, and steering arranged so that the centres are theoretically at the right angle, which is found in practice to be all wrong, this machine being one of the most difficult and tricky to steer.

Pansey & Co.'s safeties—of the Ivel pattern—have an exaggerated curve to the front forks, which, although it may be thought pretty in appearance, is detrimental to steering and strength.

Bricknell's "Merlin" this year takes the form of a rear-driving dwarf safety, with the ratchet clutch and lever driving which is familiar to Americans in connection with the "Star" bicycle.

Linley & Biggs introduce a dwarf safety—rear driver, of course—on the principle of their "Whippet" tricycle, the saddle, handles, and treadles being all connected rigidly to one another, but hinged to the rear wheel spindle, and having a strong spring controlling their vertical play in front.

"The Swift" is the appropriate name of the Coventry machinists' rear driving safety, which has the great advantage of coil springs to deaden vibration on the ends of the front fork, just as used so successfully on the Marlboro' Club tricycle. Welch's patent "Club Dicycle" is an improvement upon the original "Otto" bicycle, viz.: it has two equal driving-wheels and a central chain, like a tricycle; but, in place of Otto's difficult and imperfect steering and driving arrangement, there is absolute double driving gear, and the steering is all done by one handle instead of by each handle alternately. If anything can revive the popularity of dicycles, this new patent has a fair chance of doing so.

Especially for the American market the St. George's Engineering Company present their "New Rapid" ordinary bicycle in a guise of enhanced attractiveness, Palmer's patent combined spring and saddle on the bifurcated system, which can be removed from the backbone in a moment, looking very comfortable. These wheels are now made strictly on the interchangeable system, every part fitted to exact gauges, so that repairs and renewals may be effected with facility.

The "Quadrant" safety bicycle is an adaptation of the very successful tricycle of the same name, a rear driving-wheel and triangular frame being steered by a 26 inch front wheel in the rigid "horseshoe" shaped frame. It is strong and rigid, but the steering is not free enough to please most riders who have experienced the value of ball-head steering.

The "Premier" people have always had something novel, and this year is no exception to the rule. A rear-driving safety, weighing 21½ pounds complete for the path, is a surprise; its pedals are extremely light, braced together by cross wires, and weighing 12½ ounces a pair. Another pattern, of equal-wheeled dwarf safety, is made for two riders, tandem fashion, both driving the front wheel by one chain each side; the front rider is considerably forward of the steering post, and the rear rider does the steering and balancing by both wheels, which are connected together by linked levers for the purpose, turning, of course, in opposite directions; thus the steering is very quick, and overcomes much of the difficulty hitherto experienced in steering tandem bicycles.

Singer & Co., although making the fashionable type of dwarf safety, still sell the "Xtraordinary" in both its tall and its dwarf form, the latter being geared up to 60 inch at pleasure, or left at its normal 40 inch for hill climbing by means of the Crypto two-speed gear.

The Surrey Machinists' Company revive an old idea of John Keen's in the form of a single-legged fork, if such a contradictory term is allowable. In the early days Keen made ordinary ball bicycles with an elongated backbone, supported direct on the back wheel pin at one side, instead of terminating in a back fork. This is what the Invincible firm now do with the dwarf safety, putting a single tube to each wheel instead of two forks; this reduces the weight, but is doubtfully advisable as regards strength and durability, as the strain on the wheel pins or spindles must be very great. A most ingenious ball head is made which can only be opened by experts in the secret, the balls being so introduced into their grooves that the parts are locked together, the last ball being smuggled in o position through the small lubricating hole at the top, whence it passes down the oil worm and slips into place, preventing the other balls being removed.

The "Rover" is constantly altering its shape, variations in the details of its tubing taking place so rapidly that one can never tell which is "the very latest" pattern. In addition to the ordinary rigid framed rear driver, Starley & Sutton now cater to the demand for anti-vibratory front forks by setting up a sort of parallel ruler-shaped frame consisting of the steering post carrying the handle-bar, parallel to which is the short post surmounting the front fork, these two being jointed together by diagonal cross-pieces hinged on, and a coiled wire spring, something like the half of a "cradle" spring prevents the two parallel posts completely closing together, allowing a fair amount of "give" whenever shocks are encountered.

F. Week introduces a "safety" 56-inch bicycle, its rake being adjustable by means of a rising and falling back fork controlled from the handle bar.

The "Claviger" bicycles are on all patterns, with a kind of combination of the Facile, Xtra, and parallel ruler lever action. They have been on the market for a few months, but no hing seems known of their value.

H. Sims takes pride in the "Muswell" tall and dwarf bicycles upon which the two hill-climbing competitions were won last autumn. The tall one is a close-built ordinary, with long cranks, skeleton hubs, and very stiff laced spokes; and the dwarf is of the Ivel pattern, also with laced spokes.

Bowley & Co., a new firm, have a "Quickcycle," on ratchet and lever principle, driven by small chains and reciprocating quadrants.

For the prevention of headers from the ordinary bicycle, Fisher's "Non-Cropper" appliance is offered to the trade in a perfected form. Originally consisted of an annular ratchet, screwed on outside one hub flange of the driving-wheel, with a hanging click to gear in with its serrated teeth, so that when the driving-wheel met an obstacle, the momentum of the rider could not force the front fork forward of the vertical, but communicated itself to the driving-wheel by means of the ratchet. This was open to the objection of being noisy; but the improved appliance is quite silent, and consists of a smooth ring and a smooth quadrant piece hanging on it, the latter being so hung from the fork leg as to allow the wheel to turn freely forward, but to jamb against it if a jerk comes, acting, in fact, by frictional jambing instead of by the mechanical action of the serrated teeth. I have tried the appliance on a 56-inch bicycle up and down curbstones, and found that it did its work effectively.

LONDON, February 2d, 1887.

The Kings County wheelmen come into the League this week 83 strong. This is second only to the Buffalo Club, which sent 85 names. We are waiting for the clubs with three figures.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION.

The Board of Officers of the Massachusetts Division of the League of American Wheelmen dined at Young's Saturday afternoon, 12th inst., and after dinner held the usual monthly business meeting. Chief Consul Herbert W. Hayes presided, and the following Representatives were present: Sanford Lawton, of Springfield; Dr. W. G. Kendall, W. I. Harris, J. S. Dean, E. G. Whitney, and Charles E. Pratt, of Boston; Dr. W. H. Emery, of Roxbury; John Amee, of Cambridge; J. Fred. Adams, of Haverhill; W. O. Green, of Holyoke; W. C. Marsh, of Springfield, and H. E. Chase, of Haverhill, of the general membership. Representative Frank P. Kendall, of Worcester, was present before the dinner, but was obliged to leave on account of illness.

Dr. Emery made a speech, highly complimentary to Chief Consul Hayes, and moved that the Massachusetts Division present the name of that gentleman as its candidate for Vice-President at the annual meeting of the national body, to be held at St. Louis next May. The motion was seconded by E. G. Whitney and carried unanimously.

Chief Consul Hayes, in a neat speech, thanked the Board for its mark of confidence, and accepted the nomination.

Mr. Lawton said that the Division had in its treasury about $700, a sum sufficient to more than meet its immediate wants, and he moved that the funds due the Division from the National League be allowed to accumulate in the hands of the Secretary-Editor until such time as the money might be needed by the Division. He offered the motion, as he understood that the national treasury might be somewhat embarrassed during the next two or three months, and because he understood that several other Divisions had or intended to take similar action.

Mr. Pratt dissented. He said it was true that the League might be embarrassed, but he thought the proper way was to move regularly. He contended that the Treasurer of the League had been something of an ornamental officer, and had not been allowed to have the knowledge of the League's affairs that was due him as one of its executive officers, and he thought it was about time that the Massachusetts Division, one of whose members, Mr. Lawton, held the office, should put itself on record as protesting against the little consideration accorded to that officer, who had simply been a machine during the last two years. There should be funds enough in the League treasury to meet all demands. If there was not it was the fault of the Executive Committee, and should be explained by them. When the Executive Committee make it known that they are in need of funds, and explain what for, then if the State cares to do so it can come forward and loan the League such sums as it can. He thought that the Division should collect what was due it from the Secretary-Editor. He referred to the exciting events at the recent Board meeting in New York, and said he was averse to extending any financial aid to the League until the Executive should show by their acts that they intended to take a straightforward course and tell the members at large all about the recent revelations at the officers' meeting. He understood they had decided to do so, and hoped they would.

Mr. Pratt's views were supported by Messrs. Harris and Emery, and Mr. Lawton then withdrew his motion.

Dr. Kendall asked why the facts had not been given out.

Mr. Harris said that the Executive Committee had been directed to publish the proceedings in full, but had decided to disobey the directions of the Board for the good of the League and to save Mr. Aaron from humiliation. Since that decision Mr. Aaron and his friends had arraigned the Committee and the Board for their acts, and the Committee had finally resolved that their leniency had been a mistaken one, and in the next two ensuing numbers of the BULLETIN would give the story in all its details.

Dr. Emery said the League had been paying its printers a very large sum of money, and he understood it had cost the League $40 a page to set it up and print advertisements, for which it received only $20. Some further discussion followed, and the subject was dropped.

Mr. Harris, Chairman of the Committee on Rules and Regulations, presented a new Constitution and By-Laws, which were discussed, amended, and adopted.

The principal matter in the new rules was the method of apportioning the State for Representatives, and the method of casting and counting the votes.

Article V of the Constitution provides that "for the purpose of electing Representatives the State shall be divided into districts, and the number of Representatives that each district shall be entitled to shall be determined by the Committee on Rights and Privileges, subject to the approval of the Board of Officers, to whom said Committee shall report at the March meeting of each year."

Article II of the By-Laws prescribes that the State shall be divided into seven districts, as follows: 1, Norfolk and Suffolk Counties; 2, Middlesex County; 3, Essex County; 4, Worcester County; 5, Plymouth, Bristol, Barnstable, Dukes, and Nantucket Counties; 6, Hampshire and Hampden Counties; 7, Franklin and Berkshire Counties.

It also provides that the Secretary-Treasurer shall, on or before March 25th, send out ballots containing the nominations for Chief Consul and Representatives, and each member in good standing March 1st shall be entitled to vote for Chief Consul and such Representatives as his district may be entitled to, and the ballots must be returned to the Secretary-Treasurer of the Division before April 10th.

All nominations must be sent to the Secretary-Treasurer before March 20th, and no nominations shall be considered by him unless made by ten members of the Division. The votes shall be counted by a Returning Board consisting of the Chief Consul, Secretary-Editor, and the several Chairmen of the standing committees.

Another important section is that relating to the legal rights of wheelmen, which provides that any member of the Division may present his case to the Committee on Rights and Privileges, and if worthy it will be pushed at the expense of the Division.

It was voted to send a sufficient number of Representatives to St. Louis to cast the entire vote of the State, the Representatives to be selected by the Chief Consul, and their transportation expenses to be paid by the Division.

The Secretary-Treasurer was directed to have copies of the Constitution printed and sent to all members of the Division, and also to send out a circular urging all to renew their membership in the League.

This new plan of apportionment is an entire departure from past methods, and gives each Representative a definite constituency. Nominations made by Clubs should be certified by their Secretaries to the Secretary-Treasurer of the Division, and in the ballots sent out the names of candidates will be printed without name of Club, together with full directions for filling out and casting the same.—Globe.

Correspondence.

The Editor wishes it distinctly understood that he is not responsible for the statements and opinions expressed in these columns.

MICHIGAN CHIEF CONSUL.

EAST SAGINAW, MICH., February 14th, 1887.

EDITOR L. A. W. BULLETIN:

I wish through the BULLETIN to caution fellow-members of the Michigan Division against hasty action in the coming election. The present Chief Consul has shown that he is well fitted for that place. Nobody has anything to say against his record; one who should know writes me that "to him more than to all its other members put together is due its—the Division's—present prosperity;" so that prudence as well as gratitude would seem to dictate that he should be allowed to finish the work he has begun. I represent the views of the local members, and of all whom I have consulted elsewhere, when I say that the interests of the Division require that Mr. Johnson should be re-elected.

I write thus early as I think no one has yet been named for the place from which it is proposed to oust him, so that I shall escape suspicion of personal motives. All I want is to warn against hasty action, and to suggest that a good man should not be let go without better cause than a club feud. His usefulness is not local, but for the State.

FRED. T. RICHARDSON, Local Consul.

MR. PONTIOUS WITHDRAWS.

EDITOR L. A. W. BULLETIN:

In your of issue January 21st I find that members of the Club of which I am President have placed my name before the wheelmen of Indiana as a candidate for Chief Consul. To these gentlemen I have tendered my thanks for this expression of their regard and confidence personally, and assured them that while I felt more than honored by their action, that I could not, in justice to myself and the opinions I have always held regarding this office, take the place. The fact that when my friends took this action I was taking a vacation in South Florida, and therefore knew nothing of it until the day before I started North, will account for my delay in withdrawing my name. As it was made without solicitation, so it was as to my knowledge, and came to me in mail forwarded from home.

I wish in this connection to say that personally I favor the re-election of our present Chief Consul for the same reasons that I favored Mr. L. M. Wainwright before him. Mr. W. was a hardworking official, had been largely instrumental in organizing our Division, had done more for the advancement of our interests than any man in it, given more time, and spent more money, and was a capable and painstaking official, and I was in favor of his election against Mr. Irwin. As soon as our organization had assumed a position where any honor might attach to the office of Chief Consul he was turned out in a manner that lacked but little of being underhanded.

Mr. Irwin has made, in my judgment, a good Chief Consul. Some find fault with him, but the Creator don't build a man now who will suit everybody. He has worked hard, is capable and conscientious in the discharge of his duties. What more do we want? What more can we ask of our chief official? There is an old saying which in the brief period of my existence I have noticed to work well, viz.: "When you get a good thing, keep it."

We have a good Chief; let us have him another year. To every one who has asked me in person to take this race (and while their name is not legion the number is respectable), I have invariably declined to do so, so that it does not suit me to be called an "aspirant for the place." The wisest of birds has also had occasion to mention in his inimitable way the fact of my being placed in nomination for our highest office. I must say that he is "galloping with the gang" when he alludes to me as "Pontious Pilot." Very many are not as good to me as this, and suggest "Pontious Pilate." I like the former better.

The name is rather uncommon, and to those to whom I am presented it is not unusual for me to say, "You will find it in the Bible in connection with its most notable event." Respectfully,

W. H. PONTIOUS.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, IND., Feb. 16th, 1887.

ILLINOIS DIVISION ANNUAL TOUR.

CHICAGO, February 13th, 1887.

Annual tour and sports of the Illinois Division will be July 2d, 3d, and 4th. Route from Chicago to Aurora, thence to Princeton, Senachwine Lake, and down the Illinois River bank to Peoria. Details will be planned for hill-climbing contests and road races en route, with appropriate medals.

B. B. AYERS, Chief Consul.

ATTENTION, NEW JERSEY DIVISION MEMBERS!

Your careful consideration is requested to the following matters of correspondence, etc., as the same relates to the coming election of Chief Consul and Representatives for the ensuing year:

PLAINFIELD, N. J., February 16th, 1887.

DR. ELLIOTT W. JOHNSON:

DEAR SIR:—At a meeting of the Plainfield Bicycle Club, held on Monday evening, February 14th, a committee was appointed in connection with the coming election for Chief Consul and Representatives of our New Jersey Division, L. A. W., and it was proposed to give you our support in the event of your running for re-election as Chief Consul.

It has, however, come to our ears that you decline to run again for the office of Chief Consul of our New Jersey Division.

The present is, therefore, to inquire if what we hear is true, and if so, to ask whom you would recommend as a person suitable and capable to fill the office of Chief Consul, in order that we may know to whom it would be best for our Club to give its support.

Yours, fraternally,
HAROLD SERRELL,
JOHN M. CRANE,
R. F. MURRAY.

NEW YORK, February 17th, 1887.

MESSRS. HAROLD SERRELL, ROGER F. MURRAY, JOHN M. CRANE:

DEAR SIRS:—Your favor of 16th inst. to hand in relation the office of Chief Consul of the New Jersey Division, L. A. W.

You are correct in what you have heard, as I most positively decline to be a candidate for re-election as Chief Consul of the New Jersey Division. My business and other engagements positively forbid my taking the office for another year.

I think you need not go far from home for one to whom you can give your support as a candidate for Chief Consul, as I think in Representative Dr. J. H. Cooley, of your city, the President of your Club, you have a man who is enthusiastic as a wheelman, and who is well qualified to fill this office.

Yours, fraternally,
ELLIOTT W. JOHNSON,
Chief Consul New Jersey Division.

PLAINFIELD BICYCLE CLUB.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Feb. 19th, 1887.

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE NEW JERSEY DIVISION, L. A. W.

BROTHER WHEELMEN:—We will soon be called upon to again vote for Chief Consul and Representatives of our New Jersey Division, L. A. W., for the ensuing year.

Our present Chief Consul, Dr. Elliott W. Johnson, positively declines a re-election to office, as will be seen by reference to above correspondence.

The districts of Orange, Elizabeth, and Jersey City have, since the formation of our Division, been represented in the present and past Chief Consuls, and we feel that the Plainfield Bicycle Club, as one of the oldest clubs (No. 47) in the L. A. W. and one of the largest clubs in the New Jersey Division, have a claim upon the office of Chief Consul, and feel themselves privileged to nominate from among their large membership of over 50 a man who will do honor to the office of Chief Consul.

The Plainfield Bicycle Club therefore takes pleasure in nominating and bringing prominently before the members of the New Jersey Division the name of Representative Dr. J. H. Cooley, of this city, as a candidate for the office of Chief Consul for the coming year, believing that in him the Division will find an enthusiastic champion and a gentleman possessing the necessary executive ability, time, etc., to attend to the duties of this office.

The Plainfield Bicycle Club ask that you will indorse and vote for Dr. J. H. Cooley as a candidate for Chief Consul; that you will instruct your Representative to the Nominating Committee to cast your vote for Dr. Cooley, and that you will co-operate with them to secure his election to this office.

The Plainfield Bicycle Club,
G. HAROLD SERRELL,
R. F. MURRAY,
JOHN M. CRANE,
Committee.

TO KANSAS MEMBERS.

The Kansas City Sunday Journal will hereafter contain the official announcements of the Kansas Division, notices affecting the Division, and general news of interest to wheelmen throughout the State. No financial arrangement is made with the Journal, and wheelmen may subscribe or purchase copies at their discretion.

By direction of Chief Consul Everest.
CHAS. C. CANDY, Secretary-Treasurer.

In accordance with the above, I would be pleased to receive cycling items of interest from members of the Division, and also Kansas City members.

Yours, fraternally,
HARRY G. STEWART, Kansas City Journal.

FORT LEAVENWORTH, February 14th, 1887.

A CORRECTION.

EDITOR L. A. W. BULLETIN:

I write to correct a statement made in a late BULLETIN under head of "Oriole News." "Lone Star Wheelman" is usually very correct in his impressions, and we read his notes with much interest. He will pardon me for appearing against him in this instance, as I feel it may do the Club an injustice. The Baltimore Cycle Club have not and do not intend to make a free initiation for the purpose of gaining members sufficient to justify a "move into better quarters," or for any other purpose.

They have a flourishing organization, composed of 63 riding members, and of the large number of clubs throughout the country I think it is no exaggeration to say they rank fifth or sixth so far as club-house and equipments are concerned. 8321.

PHILIPSBURG, PA., February 13th, 1887.

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION, L. A. W.:

GENTLEMEN:—It is well known to you all by this time the position our Representative, Mr. C. B. Holly, took at the last Board meeting, held at New York, and it must be apparent to you, also, that it is by reason of this position that the Nominating Committee, who are all "Aaron-Wells men," have dropped his name from the list of nominations. We therefore nominate Mr. C. B. Holly Representative for Pennsylvania, and hope that you will give him your vote and aid, if, after reading the stenographer's report of the New York meeting, you think he acted wisely and for the good of the Division. Fraternally,

MOUNTAIN WHEEL CLUB.

Attest:
ROBT. F. MULL, Secretary."

NEW HAVEN, February 18th, 1887.

At a meeting of the New Haven Bicycle Club, held at the Club-Rooms on Friday evening, February 18th, 1887, the following resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, Charles G. Huntington, now Chief Consul of the L. A. W. for Connecticut, declines renomination for that office.

Resolved, That we nominate Mr. Winslow T. Williams, of Yantic, Conn., for Chief Consul, and Resolved, That we nominate Mr. Charles G. Huntington, of Hartford, Conn., for Representative for the League year ensuing.

WM. M. FRISBIE, President,
HENRY W. REDFIELD, Secretary.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS., February 21st, 1887.

TO THE BOARD OF OFFICERS, MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION, L. A. W.:

GENTLEMEN:—There will be a meeting of the Board of Officers of the Massachusetts Division, L. A. W., at Young's Hotel, Boston, Saturday evening, March 5th.

The usual dinner will be served at 7.30 o'clock, after which the Committee on Rights and Privileges will report on the apportionment of the State for the coming election, and such other business as may come before the meeting will be transacted. Members of the Division are welcome, as heretofore. Officers intending to be present will please notify the Chief Consul. Fraternally,

SANFORD LAWTON, Secretary-Treasurer.

LEAGUE CLUB RENEWALS.

The following League Clubs have renewed through the proper officers the number of members given below:

Feb. 12th,	Germantown Cycling Club, Germantown, Pa.,	27
" "	Owl Cycling Club, Chicago, Ill.,	30
" "	Pawtucket Bi. Club, Pawtucket, R. I.,	12
" 14th,	Avondale Bi. Club, Cincinnati, Ohio,	21
" "	Essex Bi. Club, Newark, N. J.,	17
" "	Niagara Falls Bi. Club, Niagara Falls, N. Y.,	14
" 16th,	Cambridge Bi. Club, Cambridge, Mass.,	47
" "	Troy Bi. Club, Troy, N. Y.,	40
" 17th,	Ixion Bi. Club, New York, N. Y.,	34
" "	Portland Wheel Club, Portland, Me.,	4
" 18th,	Worcester Bi. Club, Worcester, Mass.,	2

Touring Department.

B. B. Ayers, Tourmaster, Chicago; A. B. Barkman, Bookmaster, 608 Fourth Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.; Geo. R. Bidwell, Chief Marshal, New York; Dr. W. G. Kendall, Marshal Eastern Division, Boston, Mass.; W. S. Bull, Marshal Middle Division, Buffalo, N. Y.; W. G. E. Peirce, Marshal Western Division, Chicago; N. L. Collamer, Marshal Southern Division, Washington, D. C.; Joseph Pennell, Marshall Foreign Division, London, England; H. D. Corey, General Agent, Boston, Mass.; Fred. Jenkins, Chief Quartermaster, New York; Edwin Oliver, Secretary, Chicago, Ill.

The following L. A. W. works are officially recommended by the L. A. W. Bureau of Information. No preference is expressed, and each reader must draw his own conclusions as to relative merit.

HAND-BOOK OF MASSACHUSETTS (1884):—Hotels, repair shops, the principal through routes, condition of roads by districts, bound in stiff cloth. Address H. E. Ducker, Springfield, Mass.

L. A. W. ROAD AND HAND BOOK OF PA., N. J., AND MD. (Official):—Two hundred pages, 12,000 miles separately reported in tabular form, general description of riding districts, eight diagram maps, complete Consul, hotel, and repair shop lists, no advertisements, bound in flexible leather. A copy of the revised and enlarged 1886 edition was furnished free last year to every League member in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and Maryland who joined before April 1st. A limited supply sold to League members only or to those ineligible to membership. Price, $1.00. Inclose cash to T. Houard Wright, Box 1619, Philadelphia, Pa.

L. A. W. HAND-BOOK OF OHIO (Official):—Complete official lists of officers, Consuls, hotels, etc. General description of riding districts, fine large folding road-map of the State. Price, $1.00; address T. J. Kirkpatrick, Springfield, Ohio.

L. A. W. ROAD-BOOK OF LONG ISLAND, with the best riding within 50 miles of New York City—very thorough. Three fine maps on one sheet folded in the book, style of tabular form, same as Pa.-N. J.-Md. Book, advertisements, bound in flexible cloth. Price, $1.00; address A. B. Barkman, 608 4th Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y. For sale with Brooklyn and New York bicycle dealers, etc.

L. A. W. ROAD-BOOK OF BOSTON AND VICINITY, paper cover, advertisements. Price, 15 cents; address A. L. Atkins, 597 Washington Street, Boston, Mass.

IN AND AROUND CAPE ANN, bound in cloth; finely illustrated. The wheelmen's hand-book of Gloucester, Mass., and vicinity. Price, 75 cents; address John S. Webber, Jr., Gloucester, Mass.

ROAD-BOOK OF CONNECTICUT, in progress. Address for information, Charles G. Huntington, Hartford, Conn.

L. A. W. ROAD-BOOK OF MICHIGAN (Official); with best roads of Ontario and through route from Chicago to Buffalo. Sectional and general maps; complete lists of Consuls, hotels, repair shops, and points of interest. Flexible leather cover. Free to Division members joining before April 1st. Price to L. A. W. members of other States, $1.00. For further information, address J. H. Johnson, 107 Spruce Street, Detroit, Mich. Remit to J. E. Beal, Sec.-Treas., Ann Arbor, Mich.

L. A. W. ROAD AND HAND-BOOK OF NEW YORK (Official):—Ready in March, 1887. 200 pages. All sections of the State are well reported, except the northern or Adirondack region. The routes will extend east to Boston, south to Staunton, Va., and it is expected west to Chicago. The compiler hopes to have the books ready for delivery by the 1st of March next. The method of distribution as adopted by the Committee is as follows: All persons renewing or joining between January 1st and March 31st, 1887, will receive one copy free. All persons joining between April 1st and June 30th will receive a copy upon payment of 13 cents. All persons joining between July 1st and September 30th will receive a copy upon payment of 25 cents. All persons joining after October 1st will receive a copy upon payment of 37 cents. The book will be sold to League members of other States, or to those who are not eligible to League membership, at $1.00 per copy. Address A. B. Barkman, 608 4th Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

ROAD-MAP OF BOSTON AND VICINITY (Warren's).

ROAD-MAP (WHEELING CHART) OF SPRINGFIELD AND VICINITY. Address Henry E. Ducker, Springfield, Mass.

ROAD-MAP OF NEW JERSEY (L. A. W. Official):—Three parts, Northern, Central, and Southern, folded in stiff covers; price, 50 cents each or $1.50 for the set. Address Dr. G. Carleton Brown, Elizabeth, N. J.

COLTON'S ROAD-MAP OF PENNSYLVANIA:—Three parts, Eastern Counties, Central Counties, Western Counties. Price, $2.00 per section. J. L. Smith, Map Publisher, Sixth Street, above Chestnut, Philadelphia, Pa.

MARTINET'S ROAD-MAP OF MARYLAND:—Splendid work. Price, $10.00. J. L. Smith, as above.

ROAD-MAP OF OHIO. See Ohio Hand-Book.

THE WHEELMAN'S HAND-BOOK OF ESSEX COUNTY, MASS. Sketches of cities and towns, objects of interest, hotels, clubs, officials, roads, etc. Also a sketch of the League of Essex County Wheelmen and a chapter on wheel literature. By George Chinn. Third edition. Beverly, Mass., 1886, 50 cents.

L. A. W. ROAD AND HAND BOOK OF CALIFORNIA (Official):—Officers, Consuls, members, hotels, and By-Laws of California Division. California bicycle clubs and officers; advertisements. Issued in monthly parts, 75 cents to League members. Part I now ready, bound in flexible cloth, 25 cents. Address J. W. Gibson, No. 612 Hyde St., San Francisco, Cal.

TURNPIKE ROAD-MAP OF CENTRAL INDIANA (L. A. W. Official): Covering an area of 90 miles north and south and 153 miles east and west and showing the roads of the famous Crawfordsville record-breaking district. Contains list of Consuls and hotels, and shows location of all towns, railroads, etc. To be distributed to members of the Indiana Division on the same basis as the New York Road-Book is given to New York members, see above. Price, to other League members, 75 cents. Scale of nine miles to one inch. Address inquiries and remittances to Josh. Zimmerman, Secty.-Treas., 37 Alabama Street, Indianapolis, Ind.

Persons connected with the above publications who wish changes or corrections made in the above list will please address A. B. Barkman, 608 Fourth Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

HOW TO USE L. A. W. STENCILS.

The following instructions accompany each set of Stencil outfits with which local Consuls are supplied by their State Division:

This outfit is the property of your Division of the League of American Wheelmen, and is intrusted to your care with the expectation that it will be promptly used in the interest of touring wheelmen. You are desired to see that the authorized signals are painted on signboards, posts, and fences at such points in your vicinity as you think necessary or desirable, particularly at the tops of dangerous hills and at forks of the road, etc., where a stranger might wish to know which is the best route for bicyclists.

The authorized signals are these:

No. 1 is the O. K., or direction sign. It means: bicyclers, go this way, the best road. At the top of a hill it means: may be safely coasted.

No. 2 is the Cautionary signal. It means: ride with care; at the top of a hill descend carefully, dangerous coasting. (The arrow points in the direction of the danger.)

No. 3 is the Danger signal. It means: better dismount, unsafe riding—no coasting. (The horizontal arrow points in the direction of the danger.)

Always obtain the consent of the local authorities before putting the signs on public or private property, as the person using the stencil will be held responsible.

As far as possible post the signs on the right hand side of the road as you go. Make as neat a job as possible. On fresh paint, if the surface is slightly roughened with sand-paper it will take a better impression, and when extra nice work is desired a subsequent coat of varnish will improve its appearance and add to its durability.

The size of the stencil is thought to be the best for most purposes, but if Divisions desire to have larger ones there is no objection to their use, if they wish to supply them.

A set of letters and numerals added to the outfit would also be convenient.

The three authorized signals are all that are intended to be used at present, but other combinations will suggest themselves. It is important that the uniformity of the signals shall be universal, and to that end the following additional code is presented for optional use. They should be used sparingly to prevent confusion.

No. 4 means O. K., the same as No. 1, but is used on upright posts, where there is not width for the usual form.

No. 5 means you are advised to take the foot-path, but if you are on the footh-path and riding in the contrary direction it means come off here, as if you ride farther a ditch or curb will necessitate a dismount.

No. 6 means the foot-path may be going either way.

No. 7 is the League hotel sign, and may be put at the entrance of a hotel, restaurant, or place of refreshment favoring bicyclers.

No. 8 is the club-room or rendezvous sign, Come in.

No. 9 is a modification of the danger sign used on hills, smooth but crossed by railroads, or other dangerous thoroughfares.

No. 10 means: cyclers, attention! something at this point worth seeing: don't miss it. This sign at convenient intervals on a country road may also mark a pleasant resting place, and may serve, too, as a sort of road post-office, where written instructions may be pinned above or near this sign by the advance guard of a party who wish to leave word for those following them.

No. 11 has a similar meaning, and heads any bulletin or circular addressed to wheelmen. It means, wheelmen, read this.

No. 12. Shape of the Official League Sign-board. The pointed end of the board indicates the direction, and the ground color must be white, with lettering in black. The stencil signals may be used on these boards.

MACHINE MARKING.

An English exchange tells of the latest wrinkle in machine marking: In these days when the cycle thief stalks majestically throughout the land, laying his hands upon whatever machine he happens to find unguarded, cyclists are waking up to the fact that it is necessary to have some mark of identification upon their machines. To have one's name or initials painted upon one's machine is a somewhat expensive and lengthy process, so Mr. Gay has come to the rescue with his metal transfers. The design, whatever it may be, is painted in gold, on very thin tissue paper, and the part of the machine which is to bear the design is cleaned and varnished, the transfer is then placed upon the machine with the color side next the varnish pressed closely, and then the tissue paper carefully washed off with a wet sponge, when the design appears upon the machine, is varnished, and looks exactly as if painted on. These transfers, which are used by a number of the leading makers, can be manufactured in any design. This is what they call "decalcomaine" on this side of the pond.

Club Life.

Club officers are invited to keep us posted about all changes in their officers, past and future events in which their clubs have participated, and such gossip relating to them or their members as will be of interest to our readers. Write all communications for this column on one side of the paper, with plenty of room for interlineation, and not on same sheet that contains other matter.

ELIZABETH WHEELMAN, Elizabeth, N. J., officers elected January 12th: President, Russell A. Clapp; Vice-President, Thomas Bergen; Secretary, George C. Pennell; Treasurer, Edward A. Faulks; Captain, George J. Martin; First Lieutenant, L. B. Bonnett; Second-Lieutenant, L. K. Hayard; Sergeant, A. S. Brown; Color-Bearer, Bicycle Division, W. H. Caldwell; Color-Bearer, Tricycle Division, Mrs. D. B. Bonnett; Bugler, S. B. Bowman; Surgeon, Dr. A. H. Oliver; Counsel, J. C. Garretson; Associate Trustees, Paul A. Oliver, Augustus S. Crane, C. A. Hutchinson, J. C. Clirehugh.

THOMASTON CYCLE CLUB, Thomaston, Conn. Officers elected January 3d for the ensuing six months: President, G. I. Tuttle; Vice-President, T. F. Sheridan; Secretary-Treasurer, H. H. Teames; Captain, A. B. Schneider.

The Seventh Annual Dinner of the New Haven Bicycle Club was held at Downes' Restaurant, January 24th, at 9 P. M. Twenty-eight of the members of the club and nearly a dozen invited guests sat down to the tables, which were arranged in the form of a rectangle, open at one end. In front of President Frisbie were the club colors, and at his right was Toastmaster Thomas, while Captain Hale was at his left. During the dinner and afterward speeches were called for on "The Club," by President, Wm. M. Frisbie; on "Roads," by Captain W. H. Hale; on "Headers," by First-Lieutenant C. E. Laron. Harry Thompson gave a humorous recitation, and Toastmaster Thomas recited the Accolade. Following the dinner nearly every one present was called on and replied. The exercises were not concluded until midnight.

THE BUFFALO RAMBLERS' BICYCLE CLUB has elected officers for 1887 as follows: John S. Kellner, President; Emmet S. Wade, Vice-President; Louis Bruch, Secretary; George C. Laub, Treasurer; Financial Secretary, C. G. Wanenmacher; Captain, Wm. L. Fuchs; First Lieutenant, John Hauenstein; Second Lieutenant, Frank R. Schwinn.

The Ramblers have had a hard struggle for existence during the past year, fire having destroyed their former quarters in the early spring. The Club now numbers 30, and has quarters over No. 531 Main Street, directly opposite the League Hotel, the "Genesee," and visiting wheelmen are requested to bear in mind that the L. A. W. sign of welcome is upon the door; and a cordial greeting waiting them within. That the Ramblers are all active wheelmen is shown by the fact that no member has made less than 500 miles during the past season. The Club proposes offering a suitable badge the coming season to all members making century runs, which will undoubtedly take place over the fine 100-mile straight-away course from Erie to Buffalo, described by "K. K." 12,056

LONG ISLAND WHEELMEN, Brooklyn, N. Y.—Officers elected January 4th for the ensuing year: W. W. Share, President; E. A. Bradford, Vice-President; Michael Furst, Secretary; Joseph D. Huggins, Treasurer; George W. Mabie, W. H. Hoole, L. G. Wilder, and A. L. Brown, Trustees; Charles H. Luscomb, Captain; R. M. Chichester, First Lieutenant; George G. Teller, Second Lieutenant; C. E. Jayne, Lieuteant of Tricycles; H. F. Donaldson, First Color-Bearer; C. F. Pray, Second Color-Bearer; E. T. Fisher, First Bugler; Ira M. Clapp, Second Bugler; F. P. Hudnut, M. D., Surgeon.

CHICAGO BICYCLE CLUB, Chicago, Ill.—Officers elected January 12th: R. P. Gormully, President; John C. Ellis, Vice-President; F. A. Ingalls, Captain; Richard E. Schmidt, Secretary-Treasurer; B. B. Ayers, W. G. Peirce, S. M. Crennan, Lieutenants; S. B. Wright, Quartermaster; Edwin Oliver, Librarian.

Official Announcements.

LEAGUE OFFICERS.

OFFICERS OF THE BOARD.

PRESIDENT.—Dr. N. M. Beckwith, 21 W. Thirty-seventh Street, New York.

VICE-PRESIDENT.—T. J. Kirkpatrick, Springfield, Ohio.

TREASURER.—Sanford Lawton, Springfield, Mass.

STANDING COMMITTEES.

EXECUTIVE.—N. M. Beckwith, 21 W. Thirty-seventh Street, New York; T. J. Kirkpatrick, Springfield, Ohio; John C. Gulick, 132 Nassau Street, New York city.

MEMBERSHIP.—E. F. Hill, Chairman, P. O. Box 797, Peekskill, N. Y.; Dr. G. Carlton Brown, 16 Broad Street, Elizabeth, N. J.; J. R. Dunn, Massillon, Ohio.

RACING.—Abbot Bassett, Chairman, 22 School Street, Boston, Mass.; Ewing L. Miller, 134 S. Front Street, Philadelphia, Pa.; W. M. Brewster, 309 Olive Street, St. Louis, Mo.; Chas. H. Potter, Cleveland, Ohio; Gerry Jones, Binghamton, N. Y.

RULES AND REGULATIONS.—W. I. Harris, Chairman, Box 5132, Boston, Mass.; Dr. C. S. Butler, 263 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.; Knight L. Clapp, 328 West Sixtieth Street, N. Y.

RIGHTS AND PRIVILEGES.—Charles E. Pratt, 597 Washington Street, Boston, Mass.; John C. Gulick, 132 Nassau Street, N. Y.; A. S. Parsons, Cambridgeport, Mass.

TRANSPORTATION.—Burley B. Ayers, Chairman, 152 S. Hoyne Avenue, Chicago, Ill.; Geo. R. Bidwell, 313 W. 58th Street, New York city; W. S. Bull, 587 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.; J. H. Livingston, Editor The Reformer, Bennington, Vt.; Fred. T. Sholes, Marsh-Harwood Co., Cleveland, O.; Frank Read, Record Building, Philadelphia; Frank A. Elwell, Transcript Office, Portland, Maine; Columbus Waterhouse, 16 Beale Street, San Francisco, Cal.; M. E. Graves (at large), Mannheim Building, St. Paul, Minn.

BUREAU OF INFORMATION.—A. B. Barkman, Chairman and Bookmaster, No. 608 Fourth Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

OFFICIAL HANDICAPPER.

N. P. Tyler, M. D., New Rochelle, N. Y.

NEW YORK APPOINTMENTS.

NEW YORK, February 5th, 1887.

NEW YORK STATE DIVISION, L. A. W., CONSUL APPOINTMENTS.—LIST NO. 8.

No.	Place.	Name.
96.	Jamaica, L. I.,	Newton F. Waters.
97.	Suspension Bridge,	Otis Phillips, c. Phillips & Co.
98.	Gerry,	Charles E. Gates.

RESIGNATION.

I have to announce the resignation of A. G. Hills, Consul at Brighton, N. Y.

CHANGE OF ADDRESS.

The address of Consul James P. Becker, Syracuse, N. Y., will hereafter be 40 West Fayette Street.

REPAIR SHOPS APPOINTED.—LIST NO. 4.

No.	Place.	Name.
30.	Rochester,	Thompson & Kenfield, 92 South St. Paul Street.
31.	Jamestown,	Clark Salisbury, East Second Street.

GEORGE R. BIDWELL,
Chief Consul.

NEW YORK, February 5th, 1887.

NEW YORK STATE DIVISION, L. A. W., HOTEL APPOINTMENTS.—LIST NO. 8.

No.	Place.	Hotel.	L. A. W. Rate.	Regular Rate.
120.	Bainbridge,	Central,	$1 60	$2 00
121.	Castleton,	Pecks,	2 00	2 50
122.	Scott,	Dunbar,	1 00
123.	Amenia,	Amenia,	2 00
124.	Oswego,	Lake Shore,	1 50	2 00
125.	Castile,	Lane House,	2 00

The League Hotel at Batavia will now be known as "Purdy's," with Certificate No 30, the hotel having changed proprietors, and re-named.

GEORGE R. BIDWELL,
Chief Consul.

NO RACE MEETING AT ST. LOUIS.

By a unanimous vote of the Racing Board it has been decided inexpedient to hold a race meeting in connection with the Annual Meet of the L. A. W. for 1887, at St. Louis, Mo. The one mile championships will be allotted to such club or clubs as the Racing Board may select later in the year.

ABBOT BASSETT,
Chairman Racing Board.

TO IOWA DIVISION.

JEFFERSON, GA., February 1st, 1887.

All members of the Iowa Division are requested to report as per following section of article 4, so that appointments may be completed by March 1st:

SEC. 1.—The members shall report to the nearest Representative, or the Chief Consul, the choice of their respective wheelmen for Consuls, and their choice for League hotels, and the Representative shall recommend upon approval the appointment as designated.

W. M. FERGUSON, C. C.

TO TENNESSEE MEMBERS.

CLARKSVILLE, TENN., February 12th, 1887.

We, the undersigned members of the League of American Wheelmen, nominate the following gentlemen as officers of the Tennessee Division. We believe it is to the interests of the Division to have these nominees elected:

For Chief Consul—E. D. Fisher, of Nashville.

For Representative—J. S. Miller, of Clarksville.

For Secretary-Treasurer—C. J. Scherer, of Memphis.

J. M MACRAE,
WM. S. PAYNE,
JEFF. D. HERNDON,
S. M. VISER,
G. F. NICOLASSEN,
R. F. BUNTING, JR.,
WM. EMERY,
JOS. R. WILSON, JR.,
Consul.

OHIO APPOINTMENTS.

No. 2.

District 2.	Representative,	Rollin B. Cary, Elyria, vice C. B. Brown, resigned.
" 4.	Representative,	R. E. Ives, Jefferson, vice Lew V. Snow, resigned.
" 17.	Representative,	W. H. Slack, Marietta.

CONSULS.

District 4.	Jefferson,	Sherry Fetch, vice R. E. Ives.
" "	Warren,	C. D. Rice, vice W. D. Packard

HOTELS.

District 1.	Toledo, The Jefferson,*	$2 00
" "	Defiance, The Crosby, ...	2 00
" "	Bryan, Bryan House, ...	2 00
" "	Bowling Green, Central, ...	——
" "	Perrysburgh, Exchange; meals, .	30
" 3.	Cleveland, Hawley,*	2 00
" 12.	Columbus, Park,*	2 50–2 00

Let me caution every member of the Division not to delay the renewing of his membership. Blanks for renewal and applications can always be obtained from your local Consuls and Representatives.

Fraternally yours,

JAMES R. DUNN,
Chief Consul.

MASSILLON, OHIO, February 1st, 1887.

THE NORTH CAROLINA CASE.

Following is a letter written to Mr. H. Burkheimer by the attorney that was sent to Raleigh to labor with the Legislature to the end that the discriminating act be repealed. Mr. Burkheimer writes that, although the Legislature would not repeal the act, he is in hopes that the Supreme Court will decide in favor of the wheelmen.

February 10th, 1887.

MR. H. BURKHEIMER, President Bicycle Club:

DEAR SIR:—Replying to your request that I would state in writing how the bill to repeal the act forbidding the use of bicycles on the Wilmington and Coast Turnpike was defeated in the Legislature, I have to say:

1. That I went to Raleigh, had the bill introduced in the House, and referred to the Committee on the Judiciary, appeared before the Committee, got a favorable report, and the bill was made a special order for Saturday.

2. That Lieutenant Governor C. M. Stedman, President of the Senate, who is also President and attorney of the Turnpike Co., after sending a message to the Judiciary Committee not to take any action on the bill until he could be heard, vacated the chair of the Senate on several days, and went over to the House, where, as he frankly informed me, he diligently "lobbied" against the bill day by day during the week and during the sessions of the Senate, until the hour for the special order arrived (Saturday, 12 o'clock), at which time he was on the floor of the House, near the Speaker's desk, actively at work among members.

3. I told him I was not a lobbyist, and had not asked and should not ask any Senator or Representative to vote for the bill; that with the favorable report of the Judiciary Committee my duty as attorney for the Club ceased.

4. The official position and influence of the President of the Senate, thus brought to bear in behalf of the corporation of which he is President and attorney, was, of course, irresistible, and the bill was overwhelmingly defeated.

Yours respectfully,

A. M. WADDELL.

CURRENT NOTES AND COMMENTS.

The London Daily News proclaims the fact that an Englishman named Stevens has been riding around the world on a bicycle in the interest of a San Francisco sporting journal. This is news indeed.

Bicycling is rapidly taking its place among the older and established sports and pastimes, the indulgence in which is not limited to the youthful portion of the community but continues an equal pleasure to the man as well. So it has come to pass that the hoodlum and street gamin are slowly learning that the sight of a "man with whiskers," mounted upon a wheel and riding through the streets of the city, is not an object to be contemplated and addressed as would be a circus, and such an appearance even now, except in cases of unusual depravity, does not stimulate and encourage an expression of juvenile wit.—N. Y. World.

*By recent action of the Board of Officers the appointment of additional hotels (second-class) in these cities, was required.

RENEWALS.

No. 10.—PHILADELPHIA, PA., February 14th, 1887.

[CONCLUDED FROM PAGE 150, LAST NUMBER.]

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION—107.

11233 Achre, H. T.
11044 Atwood, J. W.
2289 Beck, J. A.
6679 Bidwell, F. C.
4952 Bidwell, H. E.
2616 Bigham, L. W.
11465 Burger, J. A.
6685 Calder, J. W.
10279 Carmack, F. S.
11960 Chayne, C. H.
10701 Cheney, F. J.
4145 Clarke, C. M.
5061 Cone, L. H.
12246 Cook, F. L.
876 Craven, G. F.
11971 Cueto, J. de.
895 Curran, J. P.
2588 Daugherty, J. M.
12188 Daugherty, C. S.
10705 Davidson, G. H.
2892 Delbert, S., Jr.
7772 Doblebower, I.
4950 Downey, S. B.
6765 Foster, J. R.
12060 Fowler, L. C.
12787 Fry C. F.
11705 Garvin, M. T.
353 Gideon, G. D.
4637 Gideon, S. M.
2426 Gorrecht, F. W.
8781 Groves, G. F.
2590 Guthrie, S. W.
4656 Hambright, A. B.
11304 Hansen, A.
907 Harley, C. R.
852 Harris, F. S.
7581 Harris, J.
7743 Hering, C. O.
2893 Hering, W. E.
10286 Heilig, G. T.
13002 Heritage, A. N.
8170 Hiorns, E. B.
6501 Higbie, H. C.
7582 Humphreys, R. E.
6604 Johnson, A.
6684 Kaercher, J. B.
10287 Kershner, E. C.
883 Knerr, C. B.
9166 Lanning, P. L.
10316 Lee, W. M.
7583 Lee, T. B.
10710 Lincoln, N. G.
11937 Livsey, J. H.
1637 Lord, E. A.
4633 Lorimer, E. D.
11974 Luckey, F. E.
7584 Magill, F.
6768 Macomb, W. S.
7744 Makuen, G. H.
2432 Miller, C. M.
9807 Miller, F. V.
5270 McCormack, J. S.
7459 McFarland, E. E.
12150 McGowan, J. W.
7586 McKown, J. C.
870 Nicholson, J. W.
4635 Nichols, C. B.
2814 Norman, W.
4647 Owrid, J.
6460 Paramore, E.
4949 Peiffer, A. H.
1905 Pentecost, J. W.
11711 Peters, F. S.
1638 Randle, G. M.
514 Read, F.
6502 Reeves, W. H. T.
3406 Reid, A. B.
3404 Reid, C. V.
3234 Rice, R. A.
6504 Rittenhouse, D. S.
9169 Robinson, T.
927 Rogers, H. T.
2428 Rudy, M.
11075 Sair, I. M.
1020 Scism, D. W.
11077 Sharpe, J. H.
7923 Shepard, C. B.
731 Shirk, J. G.
11627 Smith, G. A.
6837 Smith, I. N.
11991 Smythe, R. F.
6683 Sneathen, F. S.
502 Spain, E.
6375 Talmage, E. A.
7590 Tate, R. S.
8175 Tatnall, J. E.
5430 Thorne, J. T.
878 Trotick, E.
9009 Turney, A. R.
2596 Vogle, E.
11972 Voorhis, C. B.
9490 Walker, W. S.
12323 Wells, J. E.
2591 Wheiling, F.
2143 Williamson, C. D.
862 Wright, C. G.
2291 Wright, T. H.

RHODE ISLAND DIVISION—28.

7602 Borden, F. H.
12168 Bosworth, C. T.
12544 Bullen, J. E.
10518 Carpenter, A. G.
3818 Chase, Dr. J. A.
9814 Danforth, E. C.
8081 Doyle, H. C.
12494 Eastman, S. E.
3837 Gardner, B. W.
12096 Hayward, A. H., Jr.
12495 Horton, S. L.
1121 Henry, C. W.
8683 Hodges, W. H.
11239 Kelley, G. H., Jr.
8631 Lee, H. C.
1129 Littlefield, A. H., Jr.
1117 Mann, A. B.
11086 Maxfield, C. A.
3836 Metcalf, A. H.
1301 Newell, G. C.
4368 Newell, C. H.
8293 Payne, C.
7928 Peck, E. H.
9011 Place, L. E.
8803 Sanford, L. S.
1115 Spencer, H. L.
7603 Williams, A. N.
6101 Wilbur, H. J.

TEXAS—2.

11100 Monagan, T. L.
7410 Knox, W. A. L.

TENNESSEE DIVISION—1.

8632 Specht, J., Jr.

UTAH—4.

9329 Angell, T. O., Jr.
119 Davis, D. L.
5036 Johnson, C. E.
12584 Wood, J.

VERMONT DIVISION—13.

4410 Atherton, E. H.
4412 Childs, N. W.
4413 Crosby, C. R.
3682 Emerson, H. L.
7395 Gordon, W. E.
3921 Kirkland, S. W.
3693 Leonard, O. R.
7397 Marshall, O. A.
3684 Reed, G. J.
4404 Reid, F. T.
9975 Rolfe, G. H.
7398 Scott, L.
3685 Shaw, F. L.

VIRGINIA DIVISION—1.

12430 Leigh, S.

WEST VIRGINIA DIVISION—6.

10166 Behrens, F.
10734 Broch, A.
12913 Lewis, C. C., Jr.
10733 Menkemeller, C.
3924 Singleton, S. I.
8191 Smith, C. C.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date and published in accordance with Article III of the Constitution, which is as follows:

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Applicants will please bear in mind that in addition to the two weeds, as above, it must necessarily tade several days for their ticdet to be issued, as it passes through two hands before being mailed to them. After four weeds from date of publication you may look for your ticdet.

It is expected, and it is the duty, of all members to examine the list of applications for their respective States and report at once any error in name or address, and see that no objectionable person is admitted to the League. Any objection must be made to the Secretary within two weeds from date of publication. It will be cousidered confidential.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

No. 75—Total, 105.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., February 21st, 1887.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION—2

Unattached.
13655 Gibson, M. R., 612 Heyde St., San Francisco.
13686 Libby, P. A., 8 California St., "

CONNECTICUT DIVISION—3.

Rutherford Bi. Club.
13730 Smith, Louis S., Box 1016, Middletown.
Cincinnati Bi. Club.
13725 Somers, A. D., Ansonia.
13641 Woodford, Leon M., Naugatuck.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA DIVISION—2.

Capital Bi. Club.
13743 Jannus, Frankland, 938 F St., Washington.
13744 Macdaniel, N., 601 Pennsylvania Ave., "

ILLINOIS DIVISION—7.

Ill nois Cycle Club.
13690 Morris, H. E., Chicago.
Owl Cycle Club.
13727 Stevens, W. S., 3701 Ellis Ave., Chicago.
Unattached.
13676 Denton, G. H., Sycamore.
13685 Dole, M. O., Paris
13673 Downing, W. R., 177 South Adams St., Peoria.
13699 Miller, W. D., 2125 58th St., Hyde Park.
13728 Trewren, John, 51 and 53 North State St., Chicago.

KENTUCKY DIVISION—7.

Harrison Wheel Club.
13720 Cooper, T. Y., Cynthiana.
13722 Martin, J. T., "
13724 Northcutt, John K., "
13721 Redman, H., "
13723 Stevens, J. R., "
13719 Wittmann, E. A. "
Unattached.
13658 Verhoeff, W. L, 1001 Second St., Louisville.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION—5.

Cambridge Bi. Club.
13671 Clark, C. S., care Taylor Bros., Boston.
Jamaica Cycle Club.
13698 Mosman, W. A, Jamaica Plane.
Unattached.
13734 Ferguson, C. S., 69 Bedford St., Boston.
13643 Roberts, Robert A., care Nat. Needle Co., Springfield.
13642 Ross, David, care Southworth Paper Co., Mattiweague.

MISSOURI DIVISION—1.

Unattached.
13737 Ocker, Louis H., 522 North 2d St., St. Louis.

NEBRASKA DIVISION—3.

Omaha Wheel Club.
13644 Conner, F. N., Creighton Block, Omaha.
13646 Mayne, Miss Winifred M., 2520 Douglas St., Omaha.
13645 Moyer, Miss Nello A., 2520 " "

NEW JERSEY DIVISION—7.

Essex Bi. Club.
13647 Hurd, Frank F., 13 Vanderpool St., Newark.
Ixion Bi. Club.
13696 Sutherland, J. A., 65 Grand St., Jersey City.
Passaic County Wheelmen.
13708 Harmon, B. S., Passaic.
Rutherford Bi. Club,
13729 Morgan, A. L., Rutherford.
13726 Morgan, Stephen L., "
Trenton Bi. Club.
13710 Biddle, Horace, 148 North Green St., Trenton.
Unattached.
13731 Mead, Harry D., Hanover.

NEW YORK DIVISION—34.

Brooklyn Bi. Club.
13711 Abby, Chas. T., 431 a Fifth St., Brooklyn.
13712 Oakley, Chas. M., 88 Monroe St., "
Calumet Cycle Club
13672 Montgomery, F W., 176 Lewis Ave., Brooklyn.
Ixion Bi. Club.
13694 DeGoicouria, W. A., 261 West 45th St., New York.
13691 Lansing, H. E., 220 West 124th St., " "
13695 Lockwood, G. O., 1597 Broadway, " "
13693 Stub, C. W., St. James Hotel, " "
13692 Wall, W. F., 4 East 54th St., "
Long Island Wheelmen.
13700 Evans, Robert, 366 a Monroe St., Brooklyn,
13701 Miller, A., 979 Bergen St., "
13702 Richards, C. M., 916 Gates Ave., "
13703 Smith, E. W., Box 180, "
New York Bi. Club.
13654 Archer, H. W., 14 West 52d St., New York.
Troy Bi. Club.
13669 Alexander, L., Troy.
13667 Baker, J. H., 3d St. and Broadway, Troy.
13662 DeGolyer, J., Troy.
13665 Hagben, A., 5th St. and Canal Ave., Troy.
13663 Hanley, P. F., 337 Broadway, "
13664 Kelley, H. R., 45 Pine St., Green Island, "
13660 Morris, Dr. J. M., "
13668 Robinson, A. L., 4 Museum Building, "
13659 Smith, S. G., 8 Third St., "
13661 Streckler, E., 166 First St., "
13666 Zeiser, J. J., "
Walden Bi. Club.
13745 Tears, Erwin, Walden.
Unattached.
13705 Blennerhassett, H , 210 Quincy St., Brooklyn.
13649 Grosse, Emil A., 37 Chester St., Buffalo.
13674 Helms, H. B., 18 East 17th St., New York.
13688 Hunt, A. S., 16 Spring St., Utica.
13648 Patterson, G. J., Box 2599, New York.
13706 Parker, O. E., 166 14th St., Brooklyn.
13657 Sankey, J. F., 148 South Oxford St., "
13687 Stallman, W. G., Mansion St. near Cottage, Rochester.
13733 Widmayer, H., Jr., 435 West 61st St., New York.

OHIO DIVISION—9.

Avondale Bi. Club.
13650 Diss, A., care Belding Bros., Cincinnati.
Cincinnati Bi. Club.
13742 Schultz, T. H., 64 Hopkins St., Cincinnati.
Dayton Cyclers.
13718 Altick, H. M., 131 Jones St., Dayton.
13715 Baumann, O., East 3d St., "
13717 Chamberlin, H. T., Summit St., "
13714 Kiser, W., "
13716 Kohnle, F., 35 East 2d St., "
13713 Protzman, D. K., "
Unattached.
13732 Norten, E. J., Burton.

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION—19.

Belmont Cycle Club.
13653 Buckley, J. H., S. E. cor. 52d and Master Sts., Phila.
Germantown Bi. Club.
13652 Binder, R., 808 North 7th St., Phila.
Homestead Wheel Club.
13741 Nicholson, Robert, Homestead.
Westminster Cyclers.
13738 Elliott, A. H., New Wilmington.
13740 Kraeer, S. M., " "
13739 Sininger, J. C., " "
Unattached.
13678 Bailey, F. W., 702 Sassafras St., Erie.
13677 Bliss, G. T., 204 West 6th St., "
13679 Brown, L. J., 801 French St., "
13697 Brown, J. S., Pottstown.
13680 Fairbairn, F., 513 West 11th St., Erie.
13682 Crawford, D. S., 1022 Sassafras St., Erie.
13689 Kress, C. F., Jr., Johnstown.
13681 Leask, J., 217 West 3d St., Erie.
13683 McIntire, G. B., 223 West 11th St., Erie.
13685 Patterson, J. E., Williamsburg.
13684 Pressly, W. W., 2104 Myrtle St., Erie.
13675 Spano, le, E., Lewistown.
13670 Weber, W. E., 509 South 10th St., Phila.

RHODE ISLAND DIVISION—2.

Unattached.
13709 Blaisdell, S. S., 435 Potters Ave., Providence.
13704 Eddy, C. E., 8 Ring St., "

WISCONSIN DIVISION—4

Milwaukee Wheelmen.
13736 Hosch, A. S., 785 Marshall St., Milwaukee.
13651 Kassuba, W. H., 111 Wells St., "
13735 Mayer, F., Jr., 172 Walnut St., "
13707 Wood, C., 270 13th St., "

RENEWALS.

No. 11.—Total, 674.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., February 21st, 1887.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION—12.

7467 Akin, A. J.
11489 Beulah, E. J.
11259 Brenner, J., Jr.
13018 Field, F. W.
7469 Kryzer, C. J.
4524 Little, A. E.
10543 Mason, G. H.
7639 Percival, J. P.
7941 Rosborough, A. J.
13052 Searles, W. A., Jr.
13021 Smith, H. C. F.
4718 White, N.

CANADA—1.

2989 Rubenstein, Louis.

COLORADO DIVISION—3.

5499 Kennedy, H. G.
11494 Kittredge, C. M.
7161 Van Horn, W. L.

CONNECTICUT DIVISION—13.

3007 Adams, F. M.
9338 Bassett, T. W.
2277 Brainerd, W. H.
2779 Buxton, G. B.
9344 Clark, C. E.
9838 Codding, Dr. C. F.
1515 Hubbard, S. H.
261 King, E. A.
10325 Platt, J. M.
6003 Pratt, E. R.
1808 Stephens, F. L.
10327 Stowe, C. E.
2229 Tucker, B. A.

DELAWARE DIVISION—2.

11098 Kurtz, C. C.
2754 Robinson, J. N.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA DIVISION—4.

5982 Foote, A. R. S.
1996 Forney, E. B.
740 Myers, G. M.
1039 Rawlings, F. T.

FLORIDA—5.

9005 Coulter, J.R.
5625 Farrell, W. J.
12299 Perkins, L. A.
12297 Rawls, T. G.
12298 Rawls, W. A.

ILLINOIS DIVISION—21.

4800 Avery, F. C.
12511 Baldwin, R. H.
12261 Boyden, F. K.
2147 Brown, W. C.
9845 Burrows, T.
5731 Camp, E. N.
12042 Close, D. R.
9360 Cragin, G. A.
5320 Fanning, A. L.
10752 Frazier, E. S.
12648 Jenkins, G. H.
12513 Jamison, J. W.
12515 Kurtz, G. E.
13050 Parker, M. F.
9998 Redington, F. B.
12834 Simons, E. M.
9536 Smith, C. R.
4532 Stine, W. C.
4030 Van Sicklin, N. H.
12725 Wimmerstedt, O.
8463 White, T. C.

INDIANA DIVISION—11.

6221 Blair, W. H.
7660 Cosand, A. P.
6905 Hug, H. M.
2128 McWorkman, W,
223 Metzger, L. J.
12526 Newmeyer, E.
11402 Phillipson, J.
12573 Taylor, A. B.
4268 Wainwright, L. M.
72 Wooden, W. H., M. D.
12530 Young, J. H.

IOWA DIVISION—1.

6527 Post, F. A.

KENTUCKY DIVISION—27.

8202 Baldwin, R. B.
8203 Beach, G.
11787 Brown, W. W.
11137 Campbell, A. C.
9712 Clark, J.
9046 Condell, W.
6909 Creaghead, T. J.
9047 Croninger, C. M.
8209 Croninger, E. H.
8851 Currie, H. S.
11509 Enslow, L. B.
8204 Fenley, G. D.
11407 Gedge, L. H.
9713 Gregson, H.
7258 Gilbert, C.
8206 Hanauer, F. C.
11325 Johnson, F. C.
10341 Kerr, C. L.
8212 Murray, W. H.
8207 Ramsey, W. J.
8208 Rogers, H. S.
6716 Smith. L. C.
12899 Spaulding, L. F.
7255 Toie, E. C.
11832 Tresise, E. G. N.
12200 Watcher, A. M.
8210 Willison, T. J.

KANSAS DIVISION—9.

12839 Bitterman, M. K.
9976 Chambers, R. S.
11886 Clark, E. S.
7057 Davis, C. S.
11883 Dixon, C.
12340 Dorn, T. W.
8809 Hale, H. S.
11884 Hogan, T.
8776 Parsons, G. W.

LOUISIANA DIVISION—7.

8666 Fairfax, H. W.
7783 Fenner, F.
7782 Fenner, E. C.
6014 Hughes, W. L.
1682 Tyler, L. E.
12381 Wooldridge, E. T.
100 Zeigler, F. M., Jr.

MAINE DIVISION—53.

373 Adams, J. H.
10528 Ayer, H. W.
12775 Barnes, G. W.
3685 Batchelder, C. D.
6024 Beaumont, C. H.
5631 Beckett, W. W.
6251 Bickford, L. M.
6026 Brewer, E. E.
6023 Cahill, H. D.
5630 Carney, L. J.
485 Clarke, F. S.
9978 Clark, I. E.
11419 Clifford, N. J.
11413 Cole, H. R.
8187 Coombs, C. R.
7474 Dow, Dr. G. E.
6396 Elwell, F. A.
11414 Fassett, F. G.
12486 Fox, S. C.
3702 Gardiner, H. S.
13054 Goody, J. J.
11330 Hamilton, C. S.
4728 Higgins, H. S.
1861 Howell, W. E.
1865 Kennard, E. S.
11238 Kilborn, A. S.
10307 King, W. T., Jr.
1307 Lamson, J. H.
698 Lamson, C. H.
11764 Leavitt, G. M.
12379 Longley, J. H.
1866 Lord, F. F.
1867 Mitchell, C. B.
10300 Moore, J. B.
4727 Morrill, G. B.
10308 McDowell, F. W.
6025 Palmer, F. H.
8188 Palmer, F. W.
6048 Payson, E. R.
11365 Pendexter, E. S
6250 Pierce, F. H.
1488 Pitcher, W. R.
13053 Randall, W. M.
5035 Sawyer, R. F.
11415 Seavey, C. L.
7475 Simonds, C. H.
1489 Sparrow, W. K.
184 Stevens, C. C.
11416 Studley, W. A.
12980 Thompson, G. W.
1483 Tukesbury, C. C.
6022 Warren, F. E.
11257 Walker, H. C.

MARYLAND DIVISION—4.

12989 Kingsland, H. L.
12719 Sadtler, C. C., Jr.
2648 Stran, C. T.
12052 Thomas, W. H., Jr.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION—118.

7794 Adams, G. B.
7263 Amee, J.
7795 Amee, A. F.
7527 Arnold, C. W.
10589 Kenney, T. J.
5246 Logan, J. W.
7817 Lombard, H. E.
9200 Lord, T.

THE TOWNSEND Combination Spring and Saddle.

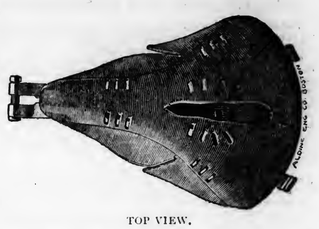
STODDARD, LOVERING & CO., Boston, Mass.

SIDE VIEW.



It is light. It is easy. It does not chafe. Try it. It fits any machine. Thoroughly ventilated. It does not sag or get out of shape. It combines the advantages of every saddle extant. It is fitted to all RUDGE machines.

PRICE, $6.00.

SOLE U. S. AGENTS,

STODDARD, LOVERING & CO.,

152 Congress St., Boston, Mass.

TOP VIEW.

7796 Bailey, F. E.
2160 Barrett, F. W.
7797 Bates, H. H.
9373 Bergholtz, E. F.
10221 Blenus, F. W.
7530 Booker, G. A.
7799 Bowker, A. L.
10017 Brazier, C. G.
9087 Brown, C. W.
7533 Bruso, C.
7993 Caldwell, H. L., Jr.
9088 Campbell, G. A.
2850 Carter, J. R.
6914 Chabot, A. A.
2021 Chandler, L. E.
12857 Chickering, F. S.
9593 Cobb, C. S.
7266 Cobb, S. H.
10386 Collins, G. J.
7802 Coleman, A. W.
7803 Coleman, E. B.
10018 Coon, F. C.
7535 Corbett, G. H.
2613 Corey, H. D.
7805 Danforth, C. O.
11794 Danforth, G. H.
10222 Davis, O.
2365 Davies, O. E.
7806 Dorr, F. R.
9390 Elliot, S.
4963 Farr, D. L.
7808 Faulkner, S. C.
457 Fay, F. L.
12353 French, J. B.
10392 Gay, J. B.
7809 Getchell, H. C.
2257 Gill, W. T.
9393 Glines, A. A.
7810 Gould, G. H.
6993 Grimes, J. H.
3342 Harris, W. I.
7812 Hastings, F. W.
3158 Hayes, H. W.
7414 Haynes, J. E.
10781 Hichborn, H. G.
5207 Higgins, W. H., Jr.
8481 Hill, A. G.
20 Hill, E. K.
8331 Hilton, E. S.
10020 Howes, H. M.
8695 Howard, C. S.
7814 Hunnewell, F. M.
5317 Johnson, D. T.
7815 Kendall, A. S.
1615 Kendall, F. P.

7819 Mason, F. S.
9425 Midgley, J. F.
6994 Mooney, J. T.
6915 Morgan, C. A.
7539 Morse, C. H.
7818 McConnell, J., Jr.
1324 McGarrett, W. J.
7820 McKay, H. S.
7821 McKee, W. H.
11603 McKee, H. F.
10819 McPherson, W. D.
7823 Nash, G. A.
7824 Newman, W. J.
7825 Noyes, C. D.
7826 Noyes, E. I. K.
8215 Pedrick, W. W.
7827 Perkins, G. A.
3299 Pickett, W. A.
27 Pratt, F. S.
9411 Pratt, F. E.
7541 Prichard, A. A.
7542 Putnam, G. D.
9202 Ray, R. S.
7543 Richardson, F. A.
9204 Risteen, A. C.
8531 Ross, W. L.
10824 Russell, G. R.
4601 Saben, H. M.
1176 Sawyer, I. E.
4263 Sharpless, G.
11955 Shaw, H. E.
9205 Shirreff, W. J. F.
7544 Sibley, H. H.
7545 Sibley, L.
7830 Sias, T. C.
7832 Smith, C., Jr.
7831 Smith, C. L.
7833 Stevens, E. C.
8916 Stewart, S. A.
7546 Stewart, R. E.
8117 Strickland, T. J.
4621 Taylor, G. W.
384 Tolman, E. F.
12799 Tracy, A. A.
12230 Ultsch, W. J.
12632 Underwood, C. A.
5046 Vant, A. W.
7548 Wakefield, O. J.
9604 Wentworth, G. S.
12692 Wellington, F. C.
7834 Whitney, G. W.
8339 Wilder, R. S.
7549 Wood, J. F.
10805 Woodard, F. T.
7835 Wright, H. D.

Michigan Division—13.

7188 Cary, E. E.
6731 Carter, B. J.
11152 Final, H. D.
11671 Gage, C. T.
10598 Gray, W. H.
6279 Harris, W. M.
12453 Heim, W.

9875 Irwin, G. B.
8120 Lawrence, W. B.
6805 Mooar, E. M.
Smith, D. W.
11280 Watkins, Dr. R. B.
8182 Wendell, E. B.

Minnesota Division—2.

6809 Dearth, E. H.
12507 Lund, B. C.

Missouri Division—14.

9744 Blanchard, A. M.
10423 DeTar, J. A.
12650 Downing, J. B.
8009 Exley, W.
12654 Forgey, E. M.
12570 Gazzam, J. P.
10053 Ghiselin, R. R.

11350 Glancy, W. H.
2826 Greenwood, H. W.
8010 Henderson, Dr. G. L.
8011 Higdon, J. C.
12651 Moody, E. N.
7793 Peirson, C. J.
12900 Pickering, J. C.

Nebraska Division—4.

12517 Eastman, G. H.
8095 Peabody, C. C.

8490 Smith, R.
10160 Young, E.

New Hampshire Division—4

10065 Hoyt, L. H.
6643 Kendall, F. W.

10855 Proctor, E. H.
8142 Sinclair, C. H.

New Jersey Division—54.

8734 Benedict, H. R.
10073 Benedict, G. B.
5216 Bergen, P. V.
5362 Bickley, J. H.
1756 Browne, J. T.
1411 Brown, S. B.
7308 Buckley, W. W.
3986 Chester, W. W.

7198 Morton, C.
5942 Mount, W. B.
8554 Misskelley, J. M.
7096 McCormick, H. D.
8556 Osmond, W. B.
3258 Parsons, W. H.
3042 Pearson, J. B.
11439 Porter, J. S.

8951 Chittenden, S.
10968 Crabbe, H. W.
1436 Denman, A. R.
10910 Dodd, A. T.
3972 Downs, J. P.
1420 Farnsworth, E. D.
10067 Halsey, E. M.
9246 Halsey, C. G.
1426 Harris, E. C.
2340 Hardham, L. J.
12295 Hawley, S. S.
2339 Hoag, C. R.
12077 Hunt, G. T., Jr.
8553 Hurd, F.
10630 Kattell, J. C.
311 Knight, H. W.
2363 Lunger, J. B.
3770 Manson, L.
10443 Martin, E. M.

10080 Powlison, C. F.
2369 Rhett, W. B.
12074 Righter, W. S
3537 Riker, C. DeK.
12452 Sandy, W. C.
3981 Sargeant, S. H.
7995 Sargeant, E. E.
3994 Smith, H. A.
9623 Snow, A. W.
11356 Speedling, J. J.
2364 Swift, J.
9453 Teel, C. E.
4504 Thompson, C.
10634 Van Cleve, W. S.
4207 Voorhes, G. E., Jr.
3030 Voorhes, J. D.
9270 Watson, J.
12770 Wert, J. R.
3829 Worden, J. H.

New York Division—163.

8585 Agresta, P.
11556 Archibald, G.
5081 Baldwin, R. C.
325 Barclay, J. C.
1816 Bass, W. L.
10929 Benjamin, G. G.
10653 Bentley, D. F.
10947 Benson, O. N.
488 Bidwell, G. R.
8040 Bliss, G. R.
10948 Bovee, R.
8586 Britton, J.
10099 Bruch, E. B.
1797 Burch, J. G., Jr.
10950 Bunny, W. D.
4090 Campbell, H. P.
7423 Campbell, H.
7424 Campbell, W. S.
12867 Carr, J. G.
10946 Cassedy, F. H.
6571 Catlin, O.
10952 Church, H. R.
5810 Clancy, T. H.
8744 Clawson, F. E.
8745 Clawson, J. S.
10984 Cone, G.
5527 Coon, R.
1214 Dailey, S. H.
5806 Darbee, W. W.
4399 DeGraaf, W. H.
12055 Deitzer, E.
11745 Delanoy, E. P.
7426 Devlin, S. J.
6392 Diamond, C. H.
6450 Donald, H. W.
9914 Dunn, C. A.
4400 Dusenbury, L.
2204 Egan, F. A.
10649 Evans, C. H.
6825 Fellheimer, W. J.
624 Frasse, H. F.
12097 Gemmill, G. W.
328 Guiterman, E. W.
12059 Glanz, C. A.
10959 Goss, P. B.
12338 Gow, W.
8587 Gustow, H
6309 Hall, S. L.
6632 Hamill, D. L.
8762 Hance, W. W.
9131 Harriman, C.
2200 Harris, P. M.
11214 Hart, D. B.
9935 Henderson, A. G.
11294 Hepworth, J. T.
7037 Herring, W. C.
8764 Hiller, F. J.
12330 Hill, C. R.
10962 Hislop, T. W.
10964 Hogben, A R.
10965 Hogben, W.
754 Howell, W. E.
4379 Hoyt, G. P. B.
10432 Jackson, V. H.
6816 Jennings, A. B.
8978 Josephs, H. S.
8588 Keddie, W. A.
12647 Keily, F. H.
10967 Kelly, M. R.
989 Kendall, H. H.
3137 Kipp, Rev. P. E.
8589 Knight, F. M.
8130 Knowlson, J. R.
6650 Kolb, R. A.
443 Lane, G., Jr.
1974 Leypoldt, R. G.

6499 Lingle, B. J.
9132 Louderbach, W. B.
12327 Loveland, H.
10661 Lynch, J. F.
7429 McBean, H. W.
7428 McBean, A., Jr.
10968 McKee, J. W.

10981 Woodhull, W.
733 Wyley, W. J.
12616 Young, R. P.
10982 Young, G. B.

North Carolina—1.

1465 Vopp, J. L.

Nova Scotia—1.

11730 Casey, A. C.

Ohio Division—70.

8255 Albrecht, H. E.
3912 Allen, R. G.
2102 Allen, E. H., Jr.
1892 Amann, E.
9481 Andress, F. W.
4295 Bahman, W.
2473 Bebb, M. J.
12276 Belding, T.
9482 Bennett, F. W.
1891 Bennett, A. A.
5898 Benninghofen, E. A.
3244 Benninghofen, P.
8137 Black, W. A.
1894 Brady, G. K.
1626 Brown, O. G.
10109 Burroughs, G.
8256 Burroughs, H. B.
11452 Carruthers, R. W.
5017 Chapman, F. H.
3891 Chiswell, H. G.
10026 Clapsadel, F. A.
5446 Craig, C. H.
9783 Crawford, R. S.
205 Dump, A.
2480 Estabrook, C. T.
4111 Estabrook, W. H.
1830 Flowers, F. W.
1899 Galway, C. M.
2236 Galway, W. H.
669 Garford, A. L.
10110 Hafer, F.
10506 Hafer, G., Jr.
2701 Hall, W. A.
4116 Haven, W. A.
3637 Herman, A. P.

2966 Hough, A. H.
12277 Jennings, S. T.
7122 Justis, H. L.
11017 Ketcham, W. E.
7233 King, R. W.
810 Kitchell, H. N.
12278 Krippendorf, P. C.
4232 Krimm, D.
812 Livingston, H. S.
813 Livingston, S. M.
6764 Love, Rev. R. B.
2482 Magill, R. A.
11024 Matthews, W. T.
1921 Miles, W. G.
9944 Miller, F. J.
6389 Mudd, F. X.
11302 McDermott, J. M.
4139 McMullen, D. B
5974 Pigman, J. R., Jr.
10277 Sammet, D. J.
2548 Sargent, F. L.
8613 Seaman, J. F.
671 Smith, F. N.
12675 Smith, W.
4252 Stevens, C. A.
7735 Steward, E. E.
2505 Taylor, A. A.
6335 Tower, C. A.
2122 Warder, F. W.
9483 Watts, M. T.
5450 Wayne, T. L.
8382 Weeks, D. O.
3152 Wilhemy, A.
10124 Williams, G. T.
11406 Yonce, W. R.

Pennsylvania Division—37.

6406 Aaron, Mrs. E. M.
2141 Ayars, S.
10280 Bates, S.
8300 Brown, T. C.
704 Bucher, J. C., M. D.
9954 Chase, J. A.
8678 Clark, C. C.
9489 Corwin, G. W.
7324 Dawson, S. H.
11466 Douredoure, A.
9804 Elliott, J. M.
9805 Elliott, A. G.
7361 Feurer, C. F.
4636 Harper, T. R.
510 Hazard, H. W.
7599 Henning, F. H.
12023 Hutchinson, J. W.
7238 Hutchinson, W. L.
9669 Jackson, S., Jr.

2135 Kulp, J. S.
942 Merchant, H. W.
4062 Miller, C. W.
8287 Morrison, D. C.
10288 McCutcheon, W. H.
11707 McLaughry, D. O.
888 Nelson, E. K.
2569 Nicholson, G. F.
438 Patton, J. H.
8388 Reifsnyder, J. C.
10137 Schall, J. H.
12187 Seaman, H. B.
3651 Smith, M. E.
11391 Trethaway, J.
9674 Vandegrift, W. H.
11317 Wakefield, H. W.
11639 Weidermann, O. H.
864 Zahn, G. W.

Rhode Island Division—4.

1116 Binford, F.
11088 Bosworth, W. G.

11240 Neff, C. A.
8292 Turner, M. W.

Tennessee Division—6.

8633 Byrd, F.
8634 Dammann, H. E.
11718 Herndon, J. D.

7382 Johnson, F. C.
7388 Reder, H. Z.
7389 Robinson, J. S.

Vermont Division—5.

10297 Allen, F. H.
7929 Ayres, J. H.
10298 Batchelder, F. L.

7396 Houghton, F. H.
8182 Moore, C. A.

West Virginia Division—3.

3316 Cassell, W. H.
11914 Hazlett, S.

6443 Mason, Dr. C. E.

Wisconsin—2.

2382 Hathaway, J. E.
8813 Mercein, T. R.

Any bicycle is good enough

If it has compressed cushioned tires;
Bown's adjustable ball bearings all round;
is every ounce forged steel;
has a detachable saddle;
and has square rubber pedals.

If you do not know of such a machine, send to the Overman Wheel Company for a suggestion.

IMPORTANT.

The Grand Union Hotel, opposite the Grand Central Depot, New York City, is the L. A. W. and C. T. C. Headquarters. European Plan. Rooms, $1.00 per day and upward. First-class Restaurant, at moderate prices. Good care taken of wheels.

FOR SALE, EXCHANGE, ETC.

Advertisements will be inserted in this column as follows:

THREE CENTS PER WORD.

No advertisement taken for less than 50 cents. Ten per cent. will be deducted from the bill for two or more insertions.

PATENTS secured on reasonable terms. Work reliable. Papers carefully and legally drawn. Special attention given to inventions in cycling by an experienced wheelman and League member. Write for particulars.

N. L. COLLAMER,
Patent Attorney and Mechanical Engineer,
Room 47, St. Cloud Building, Washington, D. C.

FOR SALE.—48-inch Special Star, with power traps enameled. Bought new last September. Good as new. Cost $112; will sell $85 cash. Address, BICYCLE, Box 264, Sharon, Pa.

WANTED FOR CASH, OR IN EXCHANGE FOR NEW MACHINE.—Good second-hand bicycle and tricycle. Give make, finish, style bearings; state when new, exact condition, bottom price. NEW YORK BICYCLE CO., 38 Park Place.

BARGAIN.—54-inch Expert, enameled and nickeled, in A 1 condition. Price, $95, and no less. Owner wishes to purchase smaller machine. CASH, P. O. Box 755, Wellsboro, Pa.

FOR SALE.—58-inch Expert Columbia, full nickeled, ball bearing, all sound, including pedals, D. G. cow horn bars, spade handles, and Butcher's Cyclometer (hub). Tires cut some, about 8 spokes stained with rust, otherwise good as new. Price, $100.

50-inch Standard Columbia, full nickeled, except rims P. B., in excellent condition. $50.

50-inch Standard Columbia, cone bearing, new tires, perch and forks nicely nickeled, $45.

50-inch Harvard, forks and perch nickeled, with New Expert wheels and ball bearings. $85.

60-inch Special Columbia, ball bearing to front wheel, full nickeled. Price, $40.

52-inch Expert, full nickeled and bearings, cow horn bars. Price, $75.

Cradle Springs, $3; Long Distance Saddles, $1 and $2; Hill & Talman's, $3; bells, $1.50; Expert, Straight Handle Bars, $75; cost new, $125. McDonnel Cyclometer, $2; cost new, $4.

If you are in want of any sundries or parts send to Spead and get his prices. JAS. A. SPEAD, South Newmarket, N. H.

SPECIAL BARGAINS in New and Second-Hand Machines, prior to removal April 1st to more central location in Orange. Bicycles, Tricycles, Tandems, and Safeties. No list. Write to us what you want, it will pay you.

L. H. JOHNSON, East Orange, N. J.

WANTED.—Racer. Any size or style. State price. F. A. R. CITIZENS, 26 West 60th St., New York.

NEW YORK WHEELMEN can find good storage for machines and pleasant dressing-rooms in immediate vicinity of Riverside and Central Parks and Boulevard, half block from L Station. Call or address, H. WIMMEL, 138 West 104th St., New York.

COLUMBIAS.—Bargains. First-class condition. Two small for owners. One 50-inch Special, bell and lamp. One 52-inch latest pattern Standard, Lillibridge saddle, bell. $55 takes either. C. B. L., 1818 North 21st St., Phila.

54-INCH STAR, power traps, low head, and cow-horn bar. Price $40. In splendid condition.

W. I. WILHELM, Reading, Pa.

WANTED.—50-inch Columbia Bicycle, in good order. Give description, time in use, and lowest cash price.

C. F. STREET, Club House, Johnstown, Penna.

WHO has a 48-inch Star, H. F. L. Roadster, in A 1 order, to exchange for a Columbia Light Roadster, 57-inch, in perfect order and good as new? Write, R. H. HURR, Box 112, Middletown, Conn.

TO EXCHANGE.—A new Canoe (Shadow Pattern), 15 feet long, 28 inches beam, full rigged, and in first class order. Will exchange for a 52-inch wheel in like order. Inquire of THATCHER A. PARKER, Terre Haute, Ind.

KEYSTONE WATCHES ARE THE BEST. ASK TO SEE THEM.

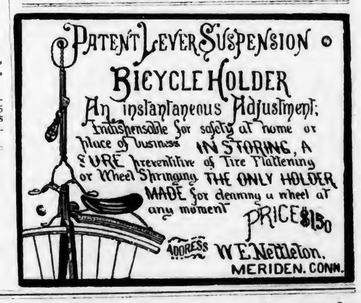
ATKINSON BROS.

926 Chestnut St., PHILADELPHIA, PA.

FOR SALE.—Genuine Beeston Humber Tandem, good as new. Price $200, or will exchange for two Bicycles.



J. C. MOTT, 118 Warren St., New York.

FOR SALE.—48-inch Star Bicycle, full nickel, noiseless ratchets, solid front fork, hollow and cone-bearing levers. Address E., 414 Berkley St., Camden, N. J.

BARGAIN.—56-inch Expert, dropped bars 32 inches long, lamp, swing spring, suspension saddle, square rubber ball pedals, patent stand, extra handle-bars, and spring. All full nickeled and in A 1 condition. $100. Good reasons for selling. C. C. MOWTON, 4 Irving Place, New York City.

PATENT LEVER SUSPENSION BICYCLE HOLDER

An instantaneous Adjustment;
indispensable for safety at home or place of business IN STORING, A SURE preventitive of Tire Flattening or Wheel Springing. THE ONLY HOLDER MADE for cleaning a wheel at any moment. PRICE $1.50

ADDRESS W. E. Nettleton, MERIDEN, CONN.

NOW is the time to secure a bargain, as we must make room for new stock; hence a CLEARANCE SALE. Note Prices.

List No.	Size.	Bearings.	Make.	Finish.	Condition.	Price New.	Price.
318	36	Ball	Facile	Enamel	1st Class	$137 50	$65 00
259	36–54	"	Kangaroo	"	Good	130 00	60 00
353	48	Plain	Star	Nickel	Good	100 00	50 00
348	48	Ball	Expert	"	1885 New	137 50	100 00
351	50	"	Howe	"	Good	140 00	60 00
316	51	Plain	Star	Enamel	"	80 00	40 00
328	54	Ball	Harvard	Nickel	"	110 00	60 00
331	54	"	Expert	"	1st Class	145 00	95 00
359	55	"	Humber Racer	Enamel	"	150 00	75 00
			TRICYCLES.
350	40	Ball	Humber Cripper	Enamel	1st Class	187 50	120 00
356	42–52	"	Humber Tandem	"	"	265 00	200 00
349	48	"	Col. Two-Track	"	"	160 00	100 00

Any of these machines may be seen and tested at Oraton Hall, Newark, N. J., or they will be shipped to any address C. O. D., with the privilege of examination, provided the person ordering will remit enough money to pay express charges both ways in case machine is not accepted.

HOWARD A. SMITH & CO., Oraton Hall, Newark, N. J.

BEFORE ◆ YOU ◆ BUY ◆ A ◆ BICYCLE

of any kind, send stamp to

A. W. GUMP, - Dayton, Ohio,

for Large Illustrated Price-List of New and Second-Hand Machines. Second-Hand Bicycles taken in Exchange and Bought for Cash.

Largest Stock of Second-Hand Bicycles in America.

BICYCLES REPAIRED and NICKEL-PLATED.

A. W. Gump, Dayton, Ohio.

SECOND-HAND GUNS TAKEN IN EXCHANGE FOR BICYCLES.

TO WHEELMEN.

VAIL BROTHERS. Princeton, N. J., February 9th, 1887.

GENTLEMEN:—I have used your Quinine & Sulphur Soap, and find it the best article I have ever tried for chafes and blisters after a day's ride on my wheel, and I have been very badly chafed, especially on hot days.

Yours very truly,

J. A. CALHOUN.

If you choose, you may publish this, as my feelings are somewhat enlisted as regards the comfort and success of brother wheelmen.

USE IDEAL TOOTH POWDER, Price, 25 cents per Bottle.

Messrs. Stoddard, Lovering & Co. have lately received some elegant colored show cards of the Rudge machines, 18x24 inches in size.

On it there are five pictures drawn by George Moore, who is recognized to be the finest artist in the world for cycle drawings, and each machine is represented in a very attractive sketch.

It will be sent to their agents and will make a very handsome picture to hang in a bicycle club-room.

Mr. W. S. Doane, winner of the last 100-mile Boston Club race, has entered the Bicycle Department of Messrs. Stoddard, Lovering & Co., and would be glad to see his friends at 152 Congress Street after this date.

SALESMEN WANTED! !
SALARY AND EXPENSES PAID!!
For terms and particulars address (mention this paper).
W. R. McNARY & CO., Nurserymen, Dayton, Ohio.

Bicycle and Gymnasium Goods.

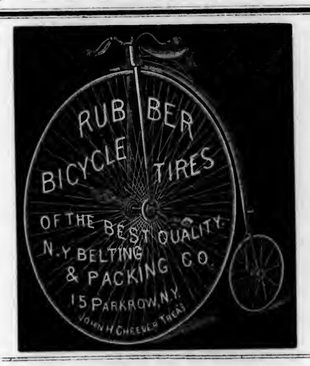
THE KINGSTON KNITTING CO.
No. 27 Kingston Street,
BOSTON, MASS.,

Manufacture from the Finest Worsted Stock all of the latest novelties in Jerseys, Guernseys, Knee Tights, Full Bodied Tights, Hosiery, etc., and in all the Popular Colors—in Plain, Striped, and Trimmed.
We make a specialty in these Garments, and our prices are very reasonable. We refer to a large number of Wheelmen who use our goods.
ORDERS SOLICITED.

STEEL BALLS For Anti-Friction Bearings.
OF BEST CAST STEEL.
Hardened, Ground, and Burnished.
3-16" to 3" diam. Samples and Prices on application.
Simonds Rolling-Machine Co., Fitchburg, Mass

BROOKLYN RIDERS,

Take your Wheels to



Schwalbach & Willdigg,

Prospect Park Plaza, and have them Overhauled.

Call and Inspect the WHEEL OF PERFECTION, THE NEW MAIL.

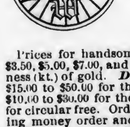
REPAIRS.

Send postal card and have us call for REPAIRS.

Ira Perego
128 and 130 FULTON ST., 87 NASSAU ST.,
NEW YORK.

The only Official Outfitter to the L. A. W.

L. A. W. REGULATION CAP,	-	$1 50
" " HELMET,	-	1 50
" " SHIRT,	-	2 25
" " HOSE,	-	1 10
" " SILK BELTS,		1 00



All orders must be accompanied by money order for the amount, also name and League number.
English C. T. C. Cloth, double width, $4.00 per yard.

58-INCH EXPERT COLUMBIA BICYCLE

will be awarded to the highest bid received by the 28th February. Machine full nickeled, some used, in excellent condition, tires equal to new.

THE CINCINNATI BICYCLE CO.,
No. 6 East 4th Street,
A. A. BENNETT, President,
CINCINNATI, OHIO.

Patented 1881. L. A. W. BADGES.

For Gold Pins of the Official Design, send direct to
CHAS. H. LAMSON,
177 Middle St., Portland, Me.,
The Designer and Sole Authorized Maker.

Prices for handsome Solid Gold Pins (stone centres) $3.50, $5.00, $7.00, and $8.00, according to finish and fineness (kt.) of gold. Diamond Badges, $15.00 to $50.00 for the larger pins, and $10.00 to $30.00 for the small size. Send for circular free. Orders by mail, inclosing money order and League number, will receive prompt attention.
Also for sale in New York at M. J. Paillard & Co.'s, 680 Broadway; in Philadelphia by H. B. Hart, 811 Arch St.; in Boston by The Pope Mfg. Co.; in Chicago by The John Wilkinson Co.; in Newark, N. J., by Howard Smith & Co.; in Minneapolis by T. F. Heath & Co.; and in San Francisco by Osborn & Alexander.

New Style B.

BROWNING, KING & CO.,
406, 408, 410, and 412 BROOME STREET, NEW YORK.

THE ONLY OFFICIAL CONTRACTORS FOR THE
LEAGUE UNIFORM.

LIST OF PRICES:

Plaited Blouse, $9.50; KneeBreeches, $6.00; Suit, $15.50. Regulation League Cloth, made by the Middlesex Mills, cost $2.00 per yard. League Buttons, large size, 5 cents each; Small size, 2½ cents each. Full set for suit, 55 cents.

TERMS:

All uniforms or parts of uniforms sent C. O. D., with privilege of examination. All orders for cloth or buttons must be accompanied by Money Order. Blank forms for self-measurement furnished on application. Orders for L. A. W. Goods will be received at any of our branch stores, as follows:

136 and 138 Madison St., 144 to 148 Clark Street, CHICAGO, ILL.
76 and 78 West Fourth St., Cincinnati, Ohio; 210 and 212 N. Broadway, St. Louis, Mo.
Wisconsin and E. Water Street, Milwaukee, Wis.
910 and 912 Chestnut Street, Phila., Pa.
All orders must be accompanied by League number

TWO LEADERS!

The "New Rapid."

FULL ROADSTER, 50-Inch, 40 Pounds.
LIGHT ROADSTER, 50-Inch, 36 Pounds.

Rover Pattern Safety.

All with TRUE TANGENT WHEELS.

The "Quadrant" Tricycles.

No. 8 FOR GENTLEMEN. No. 14 FOR LADIES.

No. 15 TANDEM,

For Two Gentlemen, Two Ladies, or Lady and Gentleman.

BICYCLE STEERING FRONT AND BACK.

You will do wrong if you order your new mount before seeing these machines or reading our catalogue, which illustrates and describes them and their IMPROVEMENTS FOR 1887.

SAM'L T. CLARK & CO., Baltimore, Md.

GOING FAST.

In the February 11th issue of the "L. A. W. Bulletin" we advertised a special sale of wheels, giving very low prices for NEW wheels; also agreeing to accept bids until April 1st, under plan mentioned therein.

The sales and bids have far exceeded our expectation, and therefore we say the wheels are GOING FAST and you had better write at once if you wish to Secure a New Wheel at Second-hand Price.

Send for circular giving full particulars.

A. G. SPALDING & BROS.,

241 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

108 MADISON STREET, CHICAGO, ILL.

PRICE LIST,

Second-Hand Bicycles, Tricycles, and Tandems.

Note Prices, and Compare with other Lists.

CORRESPONDENCE INVITED.

GEORGE R. BIDWELL,

313 West 58th St., New York.

FINISH.

A. Full nickel.
B. Wheels enameled, balance nickeled.
C. Enameled, except head, handle-bar, spring cranks; these parts plated.

CONDITION.

1. New, never used.
2. Used but little, good as new.
3. Tires showing slight wear; finish excellent.
4. " " newly painted and plated.
5. " " finish marred somewhat.
6. New tires, newly painted and plated.

BEARINGS.

D. Ball, both wheels and pedals.
E. " " plain pedals.
F. Double ball front wheel, single to rear; plain pedals.
G. Ball front wheel, cone to rear; plain pedals.

LIST NO.	SIZE.	MAKE.	FINISH.	CONDITION.	BEARINGS.	PRICE.
1.	40-inch	Standard Columbia,	A	2	G	$ 55 00
2.	46 "	Expert Columbia,	C	2	D	90 00
3.	46 "	American Rudge,	C	1	D	90 00
4.	48 "	Rudge Light Roadster,	B	3	D	90 00
5.	48 "	Expert Columbia,	A	2	D	95 00
6.	48 "	" Light,	A	2	D	95 00
7.	48 "	Rudge Light Roadster,	C	4	D	90 00
8.	48 "	American Club,	A	3	E	70 00
9.	48 "	Harvard,	A	5	F	50 00
10.	49 "	Columbia Light Roadster,	B	2	D	105 00
11.	50 "	Expert Columbia,	A	3	E	90 00
12.	50 "	"	A	5	F	85 00
13.	50 "	"	C	6	D	80 00
14.	50 "	American Club,	A	5	F	55 00
15.	50 "	Rudge Light Roadster,	C	3	D	100 00
16.	51 "	Royal Mail,	C	5	E	90 00
17.	51 "	Star Light Roadster, tangent spoke,	C	1		110 00
18.	52 "	Rudge "	C	5	D	95 00
19.	51 "	" "	C	2	D	110 00
20.	52 "	Victor,	C	5	D	85 00
21.	52 "	Expert Columbia,	C	6	E	75 00
22.	52 "	"	A	2	D	100 00
23.	52 "	American Rudge,	C	2	D	90 00
24.	52 "	Rudge Light, Roadster,	B	2	D	95 00
25.	52 "	" " "	B	2	D	95 00
26.	52 "	American Rudge,	C	5	D	75 00
27.	52 "	Rudge Light Roadster,	C	3	D	95 00
28.	52 "	Expert Columbia,	A	2	D	100 00
29.	52 "	American Challenge,	C	1		55 00
30.	53 "	Rudge Light Roadster,	C	4	D	95 00
31.	53 "	" "	C	5	D	90 00
32.	54 "	Expert Columbia,	A	2	D	100 00
33.	54-inch	Standard Columbia,	C	2	G	$70 00
34.	54 "	Rudge Light Roadster,	C	4	D	75 00
35.	54 "	Invincible,	C	5	D	50 00
36.	54 "	Rudge Light Roadster,	C	4	D	75 00
37.	54 "	American Challenge,	C	1		55 00
38.	54 "	Expert [Light],	A	3	D	100 00
39.	54 "	Herald,	A	3	D	60 00
40.	54 "	Victor,	C	1	D	100 00
41.	54 "	Rudge Light Roadster,	B	2	D	110 00
42.	54 "	Expert Columbia,	A	3	D	90 00
43.	54 "	" "	C	1	D	110 00
44.	56 "	" "	A	3	D	100 00
45.	56 "	Standard "	A	3	G	70 00
46.	56 "	Yale,	B	5	E	50 00
47.	56 "	British Challenge,	C	1	F	90 00
48.	57 "	Rudge Light Roadster,	C	2	D	100 00
49.	58 "	Standard Columbia,	C	5	G	50 00
50.	60 "	Rudge Light Roadster,	C	1	D	110 00
51.	55 "	" Racer,	C	2	D	70 00
52.	52 "	" Light Roadster,	C	4	D	75 00
53.	52 "	Standard Columbia,	C	4	G	60 00
54.	52 "	British Challenge,	C	1	F	90 00
55.	50 "	" "	C	1	F	90 00
56.	52 "	American Rudge,	C	1	E	95 00
57.	50 "	" "	C	1	E	90 00
58.	52 "	Club	A	5	F	70 00
59.	53 "	Rudge Light Roadster,	C	1	D	110 00
60.	56 "	American Rudge,	C	1	E	95 00
61.	52 "	Club,	C	5	F	60 00
62.	52 "	Centaur,	Painted	5	G	25 00

TRICYCLES.

63.	Columbia Two Track,	Enameled	1	Ball		130 00
64.	" "	"	3	"		110 00
65.	" "	"	3	"		110 00
66.	" "	"	3	"		110 00
67.	" Three Track,	"	2	"		90 00
68.	" "	"	3	"		70 00
69.	" "	"	3	"		80 00
70.	Rudge Double Driver,	"	5	"		75 00
71.	Rudge Crescent,	"	3	"		140 00
72.	Gentlemen's Columbia,	"	2	"		140 00
73.	Rudge Cripper,	"	2	"		130 00

TANDEMS.

74.	Humber (Beeston),	Enameled	6	"		175 00
75.	Rudge Humber,	"	3	"		190 00
76.	"	"	3	"		185 00
77.	"	"	2	"		200 00
78.	Marriott & Cooper Humber,	"	5	"		175 00
79.	Coventry Rotary,	"	5	"		135 00
80.	Club,	"	2	"		175 00

IMPORTANT.

Any second-hand machine on this list will be sent C. O. D. to any address, with privilege of examination, providing the person ordering will pay the express charges both ways in case the machine is not accepted. Parties ordering should send with the order a sufficient amount to cover the transportation charges. A detailed description of the machine ordered will be given if requested. Address all orders to

GEO. R. BIDWELL,

313 West 58th Street, New York City.

Before purchasing your mount for this year, see the celebrated

"ROVER" BICYCLE.

FITTED WITH EVERY POSSIBLE IMPROVEMENT.

Faster than a Bicycle.

Safer than a Tricycle.

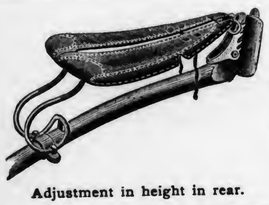
The "ROVER" BICYCLE as ridden by the Right Honorable Viscount Bury, President of the National Cyclists' Union.

No Skidding or Side-Slipping on Greasy Roads

And no Fear of Falls.

Starley's new Patent Spring Fork is now ready, whereby entire insulation from shocks is obtained in handles, pedals, and seat.

This Fork can also be applied to any tricycle.



Price-lists, testimonials, etc. (including one from Viscount Bury, which every rider should read), post free.

Complete catalogue of all our machines, 2 stamps.

STARLEY & SUTTON, Meteor Works, - Coventry, England.

Adjustment in height in front.

Adjustment in height in rear.

Adjustment in width.

When you buy, buy the best.

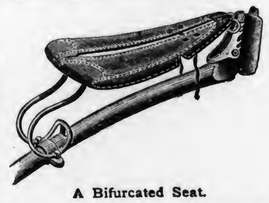
When you order your new mount, order it with only the old reliable

Lillibridge Saddle.

FOR SALE EVERYWHERE.

Price, Nickeled, - - $5.00

Adapted to all makes of machines.



Special styles for the Safeties and Star.

FREEMAN LILLIBRIDGE,

ROCKFORD, ILL.

Adjustment in length.

A Bifurcated Seat.

A Comfortable Coasting Plate.

BARGAINS!

Now is the time to buy Second-Hand Bicycles. Send size and price you wish to pay. Prices low. Send for Catalogue of the New Rapid.

WM. M. FRISBIE & CO.,
P. O. Drawer 64. New Haven, Conn.

DEALERS!

We manufacture TOOL BAGS, equal to English, and cheaper. Write to us.

McCOY & WILLIAMS, Orange, N. J.

BEST GOODS. LOWEST PRICES.

L. A. W. SUITS, - - - $12.00
JERSEY CLOTH SUITS, - - 13.00
CYCLISTS' TOURING CLUB SUITS, 13.00

All garments custom made.
Send for circulars and measure blanks.

Punnett, Tailor and Outfitter, - Rochester, N. Y.

THE SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER,

MANUFACTURED BY THE

Springfield Bicycle Manufacturing Co.

(Yost & McCune Patents),

19 PEARL STREET, BOSTON.

The only absolutely safe wheel against "Headers" made. It is the best, and it is also the cheapest.
Do not buy a wheel before you see the Springfield Roadster.
Coasting without danger. Hill-climbing to perfection. Invented by riders of experience.

PRICE, COMPLETE, - $75.00.

JOHN P. LOVELL'S SONS, 147 Washington St., Boston, Sole Agents for New England.

THE "NEW AMERICAN" TRICYCLE.

639 Arch Street, Philadelphia.

We make but one style of machine, and that the best. There are no extras.

NO DEAD CENTRES. FULL POWER UTILIZED. CLIMBS ANY HILL.

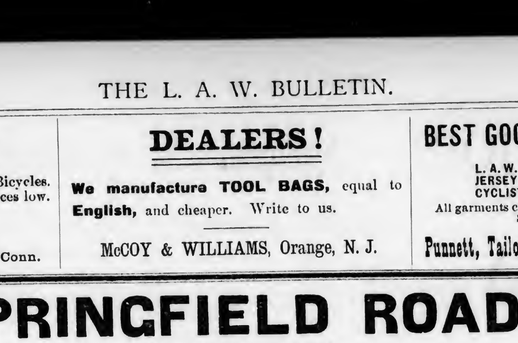
The best machine for ladies, as there are no revolving pedals to catch the skirts. The only Tricycle that can be ridden equally well by lady or gentleman, grown person or child.

EITHER RIDER CAN STEER.



May be Ridden by Two Ladies.

HAS AUTOMATIC STEERING.

Reduces in Width to 27 inches.

Has Folding Handle Bar, for Easy Access to Front Seat.

Is the Most Unique Machine of its Class.

THE CUNARD CONVERTIBLE TANDEM.

CUNARD

Bicycles,
Tricycles,
Tandems,
Safeties.

D. Rogers & Co.,
SOLE U. S. AGENTS,
75 Clinton Avenue,
NEWARK, N. J.

☞CATALOGUES FREE.

Copy of Testimonial from T. J. Kirkpatrick, Esq., Vice-President of the L. A. W.

SPRINGFIELD, O., January 11th, 1887.

D. ROGERS & CO.

GENTLEMEN:—Respecting the Cunard Tandem, I have to say that it is beyond question the best tandem yet produced. Its compactness, ease of handling, light running, safety, and the ease with which it may be mounted or dismounted, by either a lady or gentleman, leave nothing to be desired. Its folding handle bar, and the fact that it can be quickly and readily taken through a common door, are features which make the machine a pleasure. I have owned other tandems, but this is the only one that was worth house-room as a convertible machine. I find it a perfect machine, in perfect balance, either as a single or a tandem. I have sought carefully for some three years now for the best tandem, and have given the matter a great deal of thought and attention, and if asked to-day to suggest an improvement in the design and arrangement of the Cunard, I would be free to say that it is as nearly perfect as this type of machine ever will be.

Yours truly, [Signed] T. J. KIRKPATRICK.

SEND YOUR ORDERS AT ONCE FOR SPRING DELIVERY, AND DON'T GET LEFT.

☞ACTIVE AND RESPONSIBLE AGENTS WANTED.

Send for list of shopworn machines, which must be sold to make room for spring stock.

HOW TO JOIN

THE

L. A. W.

Fill up the blank in the adjoining column and, together with TWO DOLLARS, send it to the Secretary of the League,

ABBOT BASSETT,

Box 1184, Philadelphia, Pa.

Write your FULL NAME, your FULL ADDRESS, and your CLUB name IN FULL.

Write very plainly.

Application for Membership in the L. A. W.

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary-Editor,
Box 1184 Philadelphia, Pa.

Dear Sir:

Inclosed you will find $2.00 for initiation fee and annual dues in the League of American Wheelmen. I hereby certify that I am over 18 years of age, and that I am an amateur within the meaning of the definition printed below. I refer to the persons named below.

Signed,.....

Club,..... Residence,.....

City and State,..... Date,.....

ARTICLE IV, SECTION 4, of the L. A. W. By-Laws, contains the following Definition of an Amateur:—"An amateur is one who has never engaged in, nor assisted in, nor taught any recognized athletic exercise for money or other remuneration, nor knowingly competed with or against a professional for a prize of any description. To prevent misunderstanding in interpreting the above, the League draws attention to the following explanation: A cyclist forfeits his right to compete as an amateur, and thereby becomes a professional, by engaging in cycling or any other recognized athletic exercise, or personally teaching, training, or coaching any other person therein, either as a means of obtaining a livelihood, or for a stated bet, money prize, or for gate money, competing with, pace-making for, or having the pace made by, a professional, in public or for a prize; selling, realizing upon, or otherwise turning into cash any prize won by him. This rule does not apply to teaching the elements of bicycling solely for the purpose of effecting the sale of a bicycle. The League recognizes as athletic exercises all those sports under the jurisdiction of the National Association of Amateur Athletes of America, including running, walking, jumping, pole-leaping, putting the shot, throwing the hammer, throwing the weights, tug of war, and rowing, boxing, sparring, Lacrosse, polo, roller and ice skating."

TO L. A. W. MEMBERS.

Read the Letter in the adjoining columns, and AT ONCE fill out the blank at the bottom and send it with ONE DOLLAR to

Abbot Bassett, Box 1184, Philadelphia, Pa.,

and thus secure for another year your membership in the largest and most popular athletic organisation in the country.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY-EDITOR, LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN,
PHILADELPHIA, PA., December 6th, 1886.

TO ALL LEAGUE MEMBERS:

THE ADVANTAGES OF MEMBERSHIP in the L. A. W. are so well known and understood that to most of you anything that I might say on the subject would seem superfluous. But to those who, either from the brief duration of their association with our organization or from the fact that they have not availed themselves of their privileges in the League, are not so assured of its great influence for the general good and their individual good in particular, we offer the following brief summary for their careful attention:

The L. A. W. publishes a first-class weekly newspaper, the L. A. W. BULLETIN, which is in itself full return for the annual dues. It will furnish to each member, on application, during 1887, at a nominal price, a HAND-BOOK of useful information, including the Constitution and By-Laws, Racing Rules, Transportation Rates, Rights and Privileges, etc. The L. A. W. affords the privilege of obtaining an excellent UNIFORM at very moderate cost. The L. A. W. stands ready to protect its members in their legal rights, and to sustain them in their efforts to repeal unfavorable legislation. This it has frequently done in the past.

In addition to the above general advantages, most of the State Divisions are striving to outdo the parent body in granting direct benefits to their members, such as Road-Books, maps, Hand-Books, and reduced hotel rates, to say nothing of meets, parades, tours, and entertainments.

The item of the bond of fellowship which exists between League members throughout the length and breadth of our land is admitted by many hundreds to be worth much more than the price of the annual dues.

Believing that all who intend to continue as cyclers will also continue as members of the League, and that most of those who either temporarily or permanently give up active participation in cycling will remain with us for the sake of the past and of the future companionship, I feel that I have but to call your attention to the League's claims on you for 1887 to insure the return of the blank printed below with your signature affixed and accompanied by your annual dues.

Fraternally,
ABBOT BASSETT Secretary-Editor, L. A. W.

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary-Editor, L. A. W.,
Box 1184, Philadelphia, Pa.

Inclosed herewith you will find ONE DOLLAR for the Annual Dues for 1887, in the League of American Wheelmen, for the undersigned.

Name,.....

League No...... Address,.....

Club,.....

ROYAL MAIL!

The Most Complete and Improved Bicycle Ever Offered!

Best Road Record of 1885, 5,056 Miles on One Wheel, Won by ROYAL MAIL!

With the Greatest of Modern Improvement,

Trigwell's Ball-Bearing Head.

1,000 Miles Without Oiling or Adjustment.
Perfect Rigidity and Ease of Steering.
In Use Over Three Years, With Great Approval.

Wheelmen are aware that ordinarily constant watching and tightening up of the Head is necessary, owing to the wearing of the cones by friction. In this Ball Head the cones move on the balls smoothly, without wear, and one adjustment serves for a very long time—for months, in fact—and no loosening nor setting up is necessary. There being no friction, oiling is rarely needed. These Heads are made by the finest machinery, all perfectly alike and beautifully finished, every part mathematically true, and

ALL PARTS INTERCHANGEABLE.

Detachable Handle Bars and Lillibridge Saddle.
Best Warwick Rim and Cemented Tyre.
True Tangent Spokes, tied and wound SEVEN times, giving great rigidity and strength.

The Royal Mail is too well known to need minute description. It has, as a Light Roadster, for the past four years been in the front rank; gained the prize for the greatest amount of road work in 1885, with 5,056 miles to the credit of one wheel, and has increased in popularity each year. We claim no other in the market is of such first-class workmanship, and we think it is conceded to be the handsomest wheel in the market. Having a small lot which came from the factory last fall, too late for sale, and hence carried through the winter, we offer these few, and these only, before the regular season opens and new lots arrive, on very low terms—in fact, at such terms as we would not entertain after the season opens, in another month. This is the opportunity of the season to wheelmen desiring to exchange their old mounts for a Superb Light Roadster.

TO EXCHANGE FOR OTHER WHEELS

Also a very few in second-hand state, but perfect as new.

Write at once, giving full particulars of your wheel. We have but a few.

WILLIAM READ & SONS, 107 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

It would seem to be fate.

It is, however, a fact that the riders of

The American Champion

Have made the most phenomenal long distance and road times of the season.

HERE IS ANOTHER MARVELOUS RECORD

BY JOHN S. PRINCE, AT OMAHA,

On a carefully surveyed indoor and ten lap track, in 48 hours.

767 and 2/10 MILES.

A WORLD RECORD BY 27 MILES.

They all say the same thing, viz.: "the easy running qualities of the G. & J. Bearings."

Then there is the

10	miles in	29	minutes	1¾	seconds.
20	"	59	"	35¼	"
50	" 2 hours	55	"	46½	"
100	" 6 "	1½	"

All of these world records made by a roadster on a country road.

Facts of this sort talk.

BY the way, gentlemen, if you want your machine overhauled or repaired, don't wait until the busy spring, and then expect the work to be promptly done. Send your machine to us now and have it ready for the first bit of good riding weather. It stands to reason that it will be more thoroughly done, and at a much more reasonable price.

Since we have completed our manufactory, we can devote a good deal more space to this branch of the business.

Respectfully submitted,

GORMULLY & JEFFERY, Chicago, Ill.

THE L. A. W. BULLETIN.

THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN: PUBLISHED WEEKLY: A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA.

$1.00 A YEAR. 3 CENTS PER COPY. BOSTON, MARCH 4, 1887. VOL. IV. No. 9. WHOLE NUMBER, 88.

FOR THE SEASON OF 1887.

THE

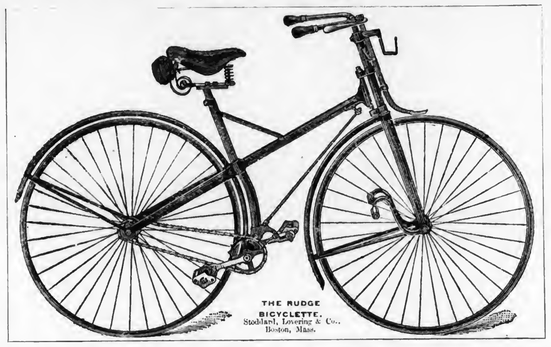
COLUMBIA CATALOGUE

NOW READY.

Fifty-Two Pages, Forty-Eight Engravings. Free by Mail upon Application.

POPE MF'G CO.

BOSTON, NEW YORK, CHICAGO, HARTFORD.



THE RUDGE BICYCLETTE

(Patented 1879.)

PRICE:

Enamelled and Nickelled,

$135.00.

The Fastest and Easiest Running Safety Machine on the Market. Finished in Harrington Enamel. Bright Parts Nickelled.

Extra Ball Pedals. $5.00.

We wish to say a few words concerning this already celebrated machine before describing its specifications.

We believe it to be conceded, both in England and America, that Rudge & Co. have been the most successful in introducing to the cyclist novelties which have resulted in marked improvements; and while it has required some little time for the public to appreciate this fact, the results plainly show that their efforts have been successful.

The RUDGE BICYCLETTE was patented by RUDGE & CO. in 1879, but their time was so taken up in the manufacture of other machines that they could not give it the attention which it required; but the recent enlargement of their works and machinery has enabled them to perfect it, and it is now introduced with the greatest confidence as a SAFETY bicycle, which will, we are confident, be pronounced as one of the most comfortable, safest, and tempting to ride amongst steel steeds. To bicyclists who love bicycling and enjoy something easy in every respect, but feel some slight objection to the risks accompanying high machines, we can with confidence recommend this one with the belief that the result will be very satisfactory.

SPECIFICATIONS.

The WHEELS are thirty inches in size.

The TIRES are seven-eighths inch, and made of the very finest red Para rubber.

The SPOKES are of the direct pattern, forty being fitted to each wheel.

The HUBS are of solid steel, three inches in width, from flange to flange, and five inches between the forks.

The BEARINGS are Rudge's unequalled ball bearings to both wheels.

The FRONT AND REAR FORKS are of the Rudge Light Roadster pattern, very full in shape, and hollow in both wheels, giving to them great strength and rigidity.

The BACKBONE is cold-drawn, weldless steel tubing, one three and quarters inches in diameter. Special attention has been paid to this, as the whole weight comes principally upon this part of the framework.

The HANDLE BAR is hollow and of the same gauge as in the Rudge Light Roadster, and is curved in such a manner that the rider is in exactly the same position on the Bicyclette as he is on the ordinary bicycle.

The HANDLES are horn of the largest size.

The CRANKS vary from four and three quarters to full six inches.

The SEAT ROD is hollow, adjustable, and suitable for a rider varying from 48 in. to 58 in.

The SPRING. — Special attention has been paid to this point in order to make the machine as comfortable as possible, and we have succeeded in placing a spring on this machine which, we think, will obviate all jar or vibration. The spring can be had in different weights to suit the individual rider.

The SADDLE is Brooks' Long Distance, triple tension, which has a motion both forward and back, and from side to side.

The STEERING. — The great fault of most safety machines of this type lies in the fact that it requires great care in steering. We have given special attention to this point, and have attached the neck to the steering head with a hinge joint, which is perfectly adjustable, as in the ordinary head; and after a little practice the rider can ride the Rudge Bicyclette without using his hands, which, we believe, is about the only machine on which this can be accomplished.

MUD GUARDS are fitted to both wheels, being riveted to the framework, thus preventing any disagreeable rattle, and can easily be detached if desired.

The BRAKE is of the spoon pattern, controlled by a powerful lever, which closely follows the handle bar, and which will bring the machine to a standstill, when going at full speed, in its own length.

The peculiar construction of the Rudge Bicyclette gives it numerous advantages without in the least detracting from bicycle action in propulsion, guiding, and balance. It is safe in every respect, a header being impossible,— the seat of the rider being so low he feels as secure as when on his feet; in fact, his feet are only a few inches from the ground, so that if it were possible to fall, no injury would arise. The wheels are of equal size, the hind wheel being the driver by means of an endless chain communicating from the hub to the pedals, which are situated between the two wheels. The front wheel is the steerer, so that the power required to propel the machine does not affect the steering, as in the ordinary bicycle. On this account, and the proximity of the rider to the ground, a learner can make himself master of the art of riding in a much shorter time, and with considerable less danger, than upon the ordinary bicycle.

The seat and handles can be adjusted so that the machine can be altered in a few moments to suit the length of leg or arm of the rider. The weight is a little more than the ordinary bicycle, on account of its great number of parts.

As a runner on level ground, its speed fully equals the ordinary bicycle, and as a hill climber it easily excels any type of bicycle, as this fact has been proved time and again.

As a machine for road use combined with speed, we point to the performance of Mr. G. P. Mills, who recently accomplished 294 1-2 miles in twenty-four hours, on this type of machine. This was his first attempt, but before the close of the year 1887, we predict that all road records will be held on this pattern safety.

Regarding the advantages of this machine, we clipped the following note from the BICYCLING WORLD, under date of Nov. 19, 1886:

"We have received so many questions concerning this type of SAFETY that we have decided to ask our prize hunters to briefly express their opinion about this class of machines, and as nearly every contributor has sent us his opinion, we have gone carefully through each paper, and have selected what appeared to us, after a protracted trial of this SAFETY, to be the best answers.

"ADVANTAGES.

"1. Perfect immunity from headers.
"2. Very great brake power.
"3. Easy mounting and dismounting.
"4. Great power up hill.
"5. On account of its dwarf form it does not offer as great a resistance to the head winds as the ordinary bicycle.
"6. Less vibration and bumping.
"7. Ability to ride where ordinary or tricycle could not venture.
"8. No skidding when driving up hill.
"9. Maximum of speed with minimum of exertion.
"10. Comfortable foot rests.
"11. Less splashing from mud and wet.
"12. Saddle and handles can be raised at will."

See this Machine before ordering.

STODDARD, LOVERING & CO. - - - - 152 Congress Street, BOSTON, MASS.

The L. A. W. Bulletin.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY

ABBOT BASSETT,

SECRETARY-EDITOR,

For the Executive Committee of the League of American Wheelmen,

AT THE L. A. W. OFFICE,

22 SCHOOL STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

Entered at the Post-Office as Second-Class Matter.

SINGLE COPIES - - - - - - - 3 CENTS.
SUBSCRIPTION PRICE TO OTHER THAN LEAGUE MEMBERS, $1.00 A YEAR.
CLUBS OF FIVE - - - - - - $4.00 "

Subscribers should be careful to notify the EDITOR promptly of any change in their address. Great care is taken with the mailing list. Failure to receive THE BULLETIN may usually be traced to carelessness on the part of the subscriber.

All matter for publication, whether reading or advertising matter, should be address'd to the EDITOR. All checks should be made payable to his order.

Reading matter, to insure publication in the following issue, must be in the EDITOR'S hands not later than Saturday afternoon; advertisements not later than Monday morning.

The EDITOR must in all cases have the full name and address of the authors of contributed articles, as a guarantee of good faith. As the Executive Committee has decided that it is best to discourage the use of assumed names by writers for THE BULLETIN, the EDITOR will publish the author's name unless particularly requested not to do so.

THIS issue of the BULLETIN will go from Boston. Such was not our plan, but the step was forced upon us by the firm of printers in Philadelphia who have been printing the BULLETIN since it started. They received an official notice that their contract would be terminated March 1, but it was afterwards understood that they would be expected to print the issue of March 4. On Saturday last, the firm suddenly discovered that they were so busy that they could not print the issue for this week, and we were obliged to make a quick move to Boston. This is only one of the many annoyances we have been subjected to in the City of Brotherly Love by Mr. Wells of the printing firm, and it is in keeping with the attachment of all the League effects in Philadelphia, the refusal to furnish us a mail list, the demand for weekly payment of printing bills, etc., etc., etc. All these things annoy, but do not prevent the prosecution of League work. We are put to a great disadvantage in the matter of the mail list, but it will only be temporary.

CAN it be that Pennsylvania will indorse this action of its Chief Consul? We think not. Mr. Wells has presented a bill to the Executive Committee claiming nearly $600 in commissions on contracts which he claims to have influenced. These contracts the League is powerless to carry out. Mr. Wells claims to have used his influence to persuade several advertisers to pay $20 each for what would cost the League $40 in each case, and for this he wants a commission. The courts will decide the case.

WE are firing at long range this week, since the rush of business at the close of the renewal season keeps us in Philadelphia. We hope for fair results, however, and expect no greater delay than we have experienced several times since we have been here.

THE STANLEY SHOW.

[Specially reported for the BULLETIN by "FARD."]

NO 2.—TRICYCLES.

WITHOUT attempting to report every exhibit, confining myself to such new things as will be readily understood by the American reader is the only course open to me in the limited space at my disposal. On almost every stand, tricycles of the "Cripper" or "Direct-steering" variety are to be seen, the rejection of the original ily-to-centre steering of the small Cripper wheel being very marked, the "Direct steerer" supplanting the Cripper form; large front wheels, and either free or stuffing-box steering, being the essential feature of the time.

Prominent among tricycle makers, Humber & Co. this time follow instead of leading, but are making up for their dilatoriness by the thorough and perfect manner in which they carry out the principle of supporting the axle-bridge upon four bearings instead of two, the outer pair of bearings being so close to the hubs that their cases almost touch the hub-flanges. The first machine made by the firm with this important improvement was the Cripper, upon which G. P. Mills rode from Land's End to John-O'-Groats in the best time on record, last autumn,— a feat which could never have been done with the old style of weak axle. On Humbers' tandems, this feature is especially noticeable, its necessity having been demonstrated by the breakage of three axles during attempts at the twenty-four hours road record last year. A racing tandem, with very large diameter axle and four bearings, is on view, made for A. J. Nilson and G. P. Mills, who will now be able to demonstrate the possibilities of tandem-riding on the road infinitely better than they had a chance of doing on the two-bearing machines last year. Humbers also make a Cripper-pattern tandem, for the first time, with a very long wheel-base and plenty of room between the riders.

The Sparbrook Company have a "Cripper" pattern roadster with a neat right-and-left-handed screw arrangement for tightening up the break connections. A very strong looking tandem of the "Humber" type, with the four-bearing axle-bridge originated by this firm, has the front saddle and the steering-post arranged well apart, to overcome the uncomfortable jolting common to the front seats of this type tandem; the trailing-wheel is of a good size. A central-geared rack-and-pinion-steering tricycle has the two-speed gear actuated by two chains and a foot-striker. There is also a nice-looking "Cripper" style racer, noticeable on which is a strong skeleton bracket to the lower cog-wheel.

Pansey & Co., of Clapham, show some of their old pattern front-steerers, having small but strong driving-wheels, and relatively large steerers, the front forks being curved in a very decided manner. One of these, made on racing lines, is convertible into a rear-driving safety bicycle of the "Ivel" type, by a very clever method; the off-side wheel is detachable from the balance-geared axle, and has a driving-cog on its hub; the back-fork of the frame is released from the axle-bearings by two nuts, and fits over the spindle of the detached wheel already mentioned, the axle and left wheel being discarded, and the machine is a perfect bicycle. A specially constructed ball-bearing spindle is made to facilitate this conversion, and the only defect about it seems to be that the back-fork is higher, and consequently the frame is more tilted forward, in the tricycle form than in the bicycle form. This consideration brings me to Dan Albone's stand, where we find the new "Anfield Ivel" tricycle, in both its forms — for the fair and the stern sexes — but not shown in its convertible form. I am told, however, that the conversion is effected by similar means to that adopted by Pansey, but with the difference that the adjustment is precisely similar in its angles in both bicycle and tricycle form, and also that the Anfield Ivel steers straight without any controller. The two specimens shown are staunch roadsters, the lady's machine having the front frame of a V shape, instead of a straight tube, and the gent's machine being fitted with a long axle-bridge, ball bearings, and Sansome's new balance-gear.

Starley Brothers have a very pretty "Psycho" tricycle, for a lady, with a neat dress-guard arranged flush down the central tube, an elegantly tapered four-bearing axle-bridge with Sansome's balance-gear, and break on the front wheel acting quite vertically. Several other "Psychos" are shown, also with four-bearing axles; and others have two bearings to the axle, placed well apart. Tandems on the lines of the "Psycho" single are exhibited, with band-breaks, and connecting-rods between the right-hand extremities of the steering-bars. The steering centres of most of these machines deserve notice, being of a rational pattern (a plain, right-angled joint), which looks much stronger than the bicycle-shaped necks usually in vogue for this class of steering.

The Centaur Cycle Company's strong point, as usual, lies in their various modifications of roadster tandems of the front-steering variety originally introduced by this firm. One of these, convertible central geared, has a spoon-break on the large front wheel, as well as a grip-lever band-break on the balance-gear, and can be ridden by two ladies. Two other central-geared tandems, and a loop-framed one of the original pattern, are shown, apparently only altered in trifling details from last year's styles, the alternative handle-bar and spade-steering being retained for the back rider's use.

Marriott & Cooper's elegant show of wheels includes the "good old" "Humber" double-steerer, and some very taking "Crippers," having larger front wheels than previously made by this firm. The front part of the central tube, too, is stayed at the bend by a tube shaped in the arc of a circle, which is both pretty and strong, and the axle-bearings are placed further apart than formerly. A "Cripper" tandem, with very small but strongly-made driving-wheels and large steerer, has the handle-bars connected by a rod on their left-hand extremities. A very effective method of attracting notice to this firm's Humber tandem consisted of a couple of wax-work figures — a lady and gentleman — mounted on a tandem, with their feet and hands in natural positions; and the wheels of the machine were revolved — and consequently the figures made to work as in riding — by concealed machinery.

The Crypto Cycle Company display several machines fitted with their unequalled two-speed gearing, a noticeably neat arrangement being that in combination with the balance-gear of a Singer's "S. S. S." tricycle. Also a tricycle which looks like a modernized edition of Kerlign's "Leicester,"— on the lines made familiar by the Ranelagh Club — with large front wheel. A curious tandem called the Rota Pede, is made with perfectly open front, like the old original "Challenge," rear-driving tricycle, the rear rider being perched on top of the large central driving-wheel, both riders driving that wheel by duplex levers.

Rudge & Co.'s exhibit comprises specimens of the "Royal Crescent" in single and tandem form, a very tasty racer being included. Here, again, we find the sensible arrangement of a connecting-rod between the ends of the two handle-bars to the tandem. A rear-steering "Parcels Express" tricycle has its basket mounted on four springs; and in addition to the familiar "Coventry Rotary"— both single and tandem — we see a rear-steering tricycle propelled by hand-levers, and steered by rack and-pinion gear on the right spade-handle.

A. L. Bricknell still clings fondly to his pet ideas, exhibiting three "Merlin" tricycles; one on the old central-geared lines, with spade-handle steering, and two direct Steerers — also with the "Merlin" lever action, similar to that of the "Star" bicycle — upon the handle-bars of which is a very novel and ingenious contrivance consisting of a sort of winch, to screw the break on and off, which also serves to raise and lower the handles when the nut is loosened. The pedals on the ends of the driving-levers have hinged extremities to lengthen or shorten the stroke. By loosening a nut inside the hub of each driving-wheel, the axle telescopes, for purposes of passage through narrow doorways.

Bayliss, Thomas & Co.'s, racing and roadster "Cripper" tandems are a very decided improvement upon the so-called racing tandem of last year's Show. Four bearings to the axle, connected handle-bars, hand-and-foot breaks, are noticeable on these, and a single tricycle on the same lines looks fit for rough work.

The Coventry Machinists' Company have a grand array of "Marlboro' Clubs," many furnished with coiled springs, to deaden vibration, on the front-forks, the two axle-bearings on these are placed well apart; and there are several modifications of the racing "Marlboro'," with balance-gears in centre or at the side, beautifully built at feather weight. The latest form of parcels carrier is an uncommon pattern, the front wheel being steered from behind the box by a handle-bar connected to the steering-post by bridle-rods. Welsh's patent improved

"Club Dicycle" is now made by this company, and contains radical improvements which obviate many defects of the original "Otto," steering both ways by one spade-handle, and driving truly double by a chain instead of by the old alternate and slipping system. The break also acts on both wheels when applied by only one handle; and the handles are adjustable horizontally as well as vertically. The forward position of the handles enables the rider to use smaller wheels, and makes the balancing more easy; the pull is in a direct line with the push of the foot. The "Club" tandem, in both its three-wheeled and four wheeled form, is shown, the three-wheeled form having a new arrangement for the quick removal of the rear parts. A "Marlboro'" tandem has the rear part curved backward, so that instead of the frame forming a V it more resembles a wide U, thus allowing plenty of room for the skirts of a lady, supposing that two of the fair sex ride it together.

A most peculiar sociable is also shown by the C. M. Co., its riders sitting side by side in the old fashioned style; but, instead of rack and pinion steering, the right-hand rider steers the central front wheel by means of a handle-bar on the Cripper pattern. The steering-wheel is large, and the front of the loop-frame curves over it in a broad arch. A large, flat shield is placed on the left, to prevent a lady's dress touching the spokes of the driving-wheel.

J. H. Dearlove's Phantom stands in such guise as to dispel the former idea of its ugliness, a new pattern frame being both taking and strong. This tricycle drives by the rear wheel, steering by the two front wheels; and the front wheels, with their axle, remove by the unscrewing of two nuts only. A new "automatic" controller, adjustable to different powers, is both neat and simple; the chain adjustment is an improvement upon the old "tuning-fork" fashion, and the break is a long spoon on the driving-wheel. When disconnected — the work of a few moments — the whole machine will go into a box 52×35×10 in. The "Cripper" tricycle, with horizontal spring fork, as shown last year, is also on view converted into single Crippers.

Amongst Hillman & Co.s machines are a central-geared spade-handled "Premier"; a "Cripper" pattern single, with not only four bearings to the axle, but also a bridge below as well as above the axle; a neat-looking four-bearing-axle "Cripper" semi-racer; and a tandem of the pattern first introduced last summer; all beautifully finished, and bearing evidences of thoughtful care in their designing.

Singer & Co. have an enormous allotment of space devoted to their many patterns, the "S. S. S.," with its four-bearing axle, enlarged front wheel, and a new-shaped main frame. One of these is fitted with a tube joint behind the saddle, to which the rear driving-wheel and frame of an "Apollo" safety bicycle can be quickly attached, thus converting it into a triple-driving tandem. Another feature consists of two distinct breaks, applied respectively by a hand grip-lever to the front wheel, and by the foot to a band on the balance-gear drum. For a lady, the "S. S. S." is shown with V frame, and band-break applied by a grip-lever. A large assortment of carrier tricycles, in various styles for different trades, is a striking point with this firm. Two new patterns are respectively a carrier in which the rider sits in front of the basket and steers à la "Cripper," and one with two riders in front of the basket, steering like the "Humber,"— this latter being already in use by the postal authorities. Perhaps the greatest novelty of the year is the "Victoria" tandem, which can be ridden by four riders together, or can be converted into two separate tandems for two riders, or one tandem and one single. The "S. S. S." tandem is another new design, the large front wheel having no tall steering-post, but an open front, the steering being thus effected by the rear rider, side handles being provided for the use of the lady in front.

In the Surrey Machinists' Company's stand of large-rubbered light cycles, in addition to several of the patterns shown last year, the "Invincible" makers have a central-geared front-steerer, with a large front wheel minus a fork, supporting the frame by a single tube on one side of the wheel, and steered by a neatly-covered-in rack-and-pinion action. Their new "Cripper" roadster break is cleverly arranged, so that no nuts have to be loosened to make it adjust itself when the handle bar is being raised or lowered, the upper part of the down-lever sliding inside two rings on the lower part. The familiar rear-steering tandem is arranged to afford increased comfort to the front rider, by the more forward position of its handles, and the provision of a foot rest. "The survival of the fittest" is exemplified by the reappearance of our old friend the "Invincible" sociable, — the best of the side-by-side doubles, — this time with separate foot rests in front of each rider; and the racing "Invincibles" of "Cripper" type have single tubes, instead of forks, to the steering wheel. Double-steering "Humber" pattern racers, a two-track front steerer, and a T-frame front steerer, are included in the display. This company was the first to put four bearings to the axle, and the system is carried to perfection in all these tricycles.

The Quadrant Tricycle Company's novelties include a new tandem front steerer, with the guidance under the control of both riders, by means of a pair bridle rods placed low down out of sight. By a new patented arrangement, the front handle is kept well forward, so that a lady can easily get in between the handle and the driving wheel. The break power is applied by V levers at the left-hand side, within reach of both riders. The "Lady's Quadrant" is an adaption of the No. 8, the handle bar being bent back from its centre, and (by a patented catch) being released so as to turn in a semicircle upwards and forwards, thus leaving a very clear space for getting in and out. On the back of the saddle pin a new luggage carrier in two parts is fitted. Last year's patterns of Nos. 8 and 9, in single and tandem form, are all shown, and we are told that this season's machines will all be fitted with but-ended spokes and ball pedals, as well as the travelling mud guard (which is a mud guard) supported on stays which serve the additional purpose of keeping the horseshoe frame more rigid.

Starley & Sutton's "Roamer" tricycle is a four-bearing direct-steerer, with the same kind of parallel-ruler-shaped anti-vibration front as I described on their Rover bicycles.

The "Jewell" is a new invention, shaped just like a Humber ordinary double-steering tricycle, but with a 28-inch rear wheel geared up to drive, the side wheels only steering.

Ellis & Co., of "Facile" bicycle fame, offer a central, rear-driving, double-front steerer, somewhat resembling the old Challenge tricycle, but with modernized details and particularly adapted for ladies.

There are several monstrosities and absurdities, including the inevitable "rowing" tricycle; but none deserve mention.

FROM A FEMININE POINT OF VIEW.

MOST respectfully I make my bow to the ladies and gentlemen of the League, and I beg their kind indulgence. He who has preached in the village pulpit cannot bring himself to look upon his advent to the desk in the metropolitan house of worship without feelings of alarm lest he prove inadequate to the larger and more demanding field of usefulness; and so I, who have been talking to a little coterie of ladies through the columns of another journal, take upon myself my new task with many misgivings, fearing that the intellectual food that I served out to my old friends may not prove palatable to my new ones.

AND yet the effort is well worth the while, and so I will set out upon my task with no further apology. I am talking to the ladies, now. The gentlemen may listen, if they choose to. I want to make this column a medium for the interchange of ideas among the lady members of the L. A. W. Write me if you have anything to say, any question to ask, any suggestion to make, or any criticism to offer. I do not claim to be an infallible guide, and many questions may puzzle me; but I move in a circle of ladies who ride the wheel, and know very much concerning it, and I can depend upon their co-operation in anything that I undertake.

I WANT to give you, for my first instalment, a paper that I prepared for the Cycle. To those of you who were not my readers in that journal, I will say that I was busy collecting and publishing the records of lady riders in America, when my work was abruptly terminated by the discontinuance of that paper. The following would have seen the light had my work gone on: —

THE ability to command and direct the services of others is greatly to be desired, and he who can do this will have more of what is called success in life than he who works out his own destiny. I don't know that anybody ever said that thing in just that way before, but I have been thinking of it the past few weeks as I have looked over what has been done for me by the lady riders, in the way of writing out their experiences on the wheel, for I have found that they have taken a world of weight off my shoulders, and given my column a charm it never had before.

I HAVE a few more letters to lay before you, which, I think, will interest you.

Mrs. Stall writes that she hardly knows what she has done in the way of distance, but estimates that she has ridden five hundred miles on the single, and as much more on the tandem, or one thousand miles in all. She hopes to begin her record for 1887 the present month (January) on the asphalt pavements of Washington. She has her little 48-pound wheel with her, and wants only a fair day to try it. (Perhaps Mrs. Stall can now give us her Washington experience.)

MISS S., of Portland, who was with us on the ladies' runs at the League Meet, tells me that, having to ride much alone, she has not done much on the wheel this year. She says: —

"I know of no other lady rider in Portland, and, of course, I can have little company. I have lots of friends who own and ride bicycles, but I would hesitate a good while before asking one of the dear creatures to sacrifice the pleasure of a long, swift ride through the country for the sake of accompanying my slowly-moving trike on one of my snail-like excursions for a short distance. Our roads are not very well fitted for amateur lady riders, unless the latter be exceptionally strong ones. The longest rides I have taken were those at the League Meet, in Boston, last spring, and I might add, the most enjoyable. As I was one of the weaklings on those excursions, I could have some idea of the pleaure it must have been for the ladies who were fitted by practice and physique to take the lead in some of those jolly rides we took to Brighton, Newton, etc. My swiftest and most novel ride, certainly, was taken on the foaming billow, aboard ship, awheel, on a voyage from Europe to America, nearly two years ago. The gallant captain of the Netherland steamship 'Coland' had my wheel ordered on deck, and as the sea was comparatively calm and smooth, the ride on the July day, a the rate of fourteen knots an hour, was delightfully easy, even to an amateur like myself. The road being hard and smooth, with an occasional ascent, varied by a short coast, as the steamer plowed through the water at full speed.

"I mean to do great things the coming spring and summer in the way of riding, if nothing happens, and hope if ever you make another request for my 'record,' I can send one that even my brethren on the bike would not be ashamed of."

THAT was certainly a novel ride, and one that I would like to imitate. Miss S., like all pioneers in a good cause, has a difficult task to win over the Mrs. Grundy of Portland, and show her that there is something worth having in the wheel. I have been a pioneer myself, and I know very well what the situation is. But my little city is now converted, and the ladies of the place are divided into but two classes, — those who ride, and those who want to. From Yonkers, N. Y., comes the following letter: —

MY husband and I ride a Coventry Rotary tandem. We began riding last April. I was rather timid at taking my first ride, as I knew that, being the only lady rider in this place, I should create a sensation, and I can assure you I did; but after the first few rides, I did not mind the stares and comments of the public, but thought only of the pleasures and comforts I was enjoying. The roads about our city are very fair, although rather hilly. We have ridden to Tarrytown several times, which is a delightful run of about twenty-five miles, there and return. The rest of our riding was done mostly in the evening, taking short runs of from five to twelve miles. My longest ride was about thirty miles, and total for the season about four hundred and fifty. In July I was taken very ill, so that I have not been able to ride much since; so, considering all in all, I think we have done pretty well for our first season. I only wish more ladies would ride here, as I think it would be pleasant to go out in parties for short runs. I think ladies would derive much pleasure and benefit from such exercise. I know that my health has been better for the few rides I have taken. I only hope to be able to send you a much better record for my next season. I remain, L. A. W., No. 10,472.

MRS. WILLIAM L. FISH, of Newark, writes of her season as follows: —

It will be impossible to give you any record for this season, as, owing sometimes to lengthy interruptions, my riding was limited to a hundred or so miles. I will, however, give you this information, which you may use if you wish. During a recent visit to Baltimore, I was entertained with a most delightful reception by the Baltimore Cycle Club on the evening of January 6, at their very chaste and homelike house on Madison avenue. The proverbial hospitality of Baltimoreans made the evening one long to be remembered with most pleasurable recollections.

I HAVE one very charming article written by a well-known lady rider, but this I shall save till next week. DAISIE.

STEVENS WITH THE CITIZENS.

THEY were broad-shouldered, athletic young men, members of the Citizens' Bicycle Club, who gathered last evening (24 Feb.) at Morrelo's, in West Twenty-ninth street, to greet Thomas Stevens, who has just returned from his trip around the world on a bicycle. Instead of knickerbocker bicycle suits the young men wore swallow-tails, and their form of greeting to Mr. Stevens took the shape of an elaborate dinner. There were over a hundred present, and included many well-known wheelmen. Among those present were Col. A. A. Pope of Boston; W. S. Bull, of Buffalo; Frederick Opper and E. N. Blue of Puck; N. M. Beckwith, President of the League of American Wheelmen; Poultney Bigelow, of Outing; William R. Pittman, the first bicycle rider in America; A. E. Paillard, Richard Nelson, George R. Bidwell, Knight L. Clapp, J. S. Wood, Captain T. C. Smith, and John C. Gulick, president of the club.

The machine on which Stevens made his trip around the world was on exhibition, and attracted great attention, showing as it did the many hard knocks received in many climes. About the room in which the dinner was held were hung the colors of the club, and also some souvenirs of the journey which the daring bicyclist had brought back with him. When coffee was served, the toastmaster, Mr. Simeon Ford, introduced the guest of the evening. The introduction was greeted with loud applause. Stevens, in replying to the reception, made a very happy speech. He outlined his trip and told of his adventures in the far East, where he was styled the "foreign devil" by the natives.

He gave a rapid sketch of his journey through Eastern Europe, coasting down the caravan road of Mount Ararat, and his struggles with the Afghan Boundary Commission. Continuing, he said:

In Turkey, the people kissed my feet to get me to ride for them. In Persia, every other man offered to buy my machine, and wanted me to ride and show them how the thing worked. Thus the Yankee-like Persians differed from the straightforward Turk. In India, I found 1,600 miles of the best road in the world, built by the English Government, and called the "Grand Trunk." In China, the bicycle was only an incumbrance. There are no roads in China. The rivers are the only highways.

Colonel Pope, of Boston, spoke for the Massachusetts Club; Captain T. C. Smith did the honors for the Citizens; and J. S. Wood answered for "the ladies."

Then came the innings of the "rag-tag and bob-tail," as they were delicately referred to on the programme. The flights of fancy indulged in by Elliot Mason, Knight L. Clapp, C. K. Alley, G. R. Bidwell, Alfred Eaton, J. T. Francis, W. H. McCormack, the Pool brothers, and the Paillard cousins, were of the kind that only a Citizens' banquet can call forth. The most brilliant of the club galaxy of musical talent, George M. Huss, W. J. G. Yuengling, Dr. J. S. Aitkin, and William B. King, sang as they rarely if ever sang before. Messrs. Stratton, Dobson, Yuengling, and Ashley, each playing on the instrument that he loved best, while Messrs. Burdette and Wilson told all the funny stories they could beg, borrow, or steal for the occasion. The humming wheel of club rejoicing rolled on into the small hours of the morning, with neither brake nor "back pedalling" to check its course.

THE OWL.

"FEW shall be called, but many will come." This paraphase of a Scriptural declaration is designed to apply to the host of volunteer candidates for the L. A. W. presidency.

WHEN the victorious racer in Sweden murmurs his thanks for the congratulations of his best girl, it is sure to be a case of Swedes to the sweet.

FOR comfort and health, cyclists who do much winter riding, will find the use of the dog-skin jackets worn by sportsmen to be unequalled. The coats are light and durable, and both wind and waterproof, and were it not for their expense, they should form a part of every cyclist's winter outfit.

CLUB politics and club rivalry, are making Brooklyn, just at the moment, the liveliest cycling centre in the country.

THE Hudson County Wheelmen are well supplied with officers. They have eight road and six house officers.

ONLY a matter of time, — record.

"A WINTER'S tale"—What the club man is going to do next summer.

A LEADING man — the limit one.

SURE enough — renewal time.

THE beginning of the end — turning into the home stretch.

THE other day a blushing Boston damsel entered the store of George Bidwell, and going to the sundry counter made known her wants to the attentive proprietor as follows: "It is my desire to obtain a pair of circular elastic appendages, capable of being contracted or expanded by means of oscillated burnished steel appliances that sparkle like particles of gold-leaf set with diamonds, and which are utilized for retaining in proper position the habiliments of the lower extremities, while tricycling, which my innate delicacy forbids me to mention." Though a married man, the language and subject were too much for George, and no sooner had the fair rider finished than he fainted, and now the clerk waits on lady customers.

I WOULD not like to say that truth is being used with an alarming scarcity by one side or the other in the present League controversy, but, to put it in the mildest way possible, somebody is decidedly unhistorical, and when the whole affair is published, I am positive that the burden of homœopathic truth employment will be conclusively proven to be nearer Philadelphia than New York.

MR. Oscar G. Moses, for several years President of the Ixion Club, was the innocent cause of his club's secretary giving up a Sunday-school class. It happened thus: Mr. Stott, the secretary, was the teacher of an infant's class in a Sunday-school, and used to entertain his scholars with biblical stories. He had just finished narrating how the scriptural Moses had escaped death through his opportune discovery by Pharoah's daughter, and, to see if his charge fully understood the case, he said: "Now, children, how many of you know anything about Moses?" Only one hand went up, and it belonged to the worst boy in the class, which, as a matter of course, proved somewhat of a surprise to Mr. Stott. "Well, Jimmie, I'm glad to see there's some one in the class who has heard of him before; now, who was Moses?" "He's der president of yer club, and der feller wot dey wants to know where he was when der light went out," exclaimed Jimmie, with great gusto. That ended the Bible lesson for that day, and Mr. Stott resigned the teachership, concluding that infant classes in Sunday-school, and secretaryships of cycling clubs did not go hand in hand, at least in his case.

WHITTIER must just have changed his mount to some Rover patterned wheel, when he went home, and in the joy of his soul, wrote:

No longer forward nor behind,
I look in hope and fear.

A SCIENTIFIC writer tells how water can be boiled in a sheet of writing paper. I don't doubt it. Since the recent exposures in the cycling press of various letters written by prominent wheelmen, I see plainly that it is only necessary for a man to write a few lines upon a sheet of writing paper, to keep him in hot water for the balance of his life. In view of this fact, it would seem advisable for cyclists to follow the example of Mr. J. G. Blaine, and add the legend of "burn this letter" to all of their cycling correspondence; or, better still, to refrain from writing anything of a private or personal character that would cause them to suffer by appearing in print.

"WHO Dodge—d Arthur Pattison" seems to be the question of the hour in Massachusetts club circles.

I DON'T want to question the record of Mr. Emerson Burt, who claims to have ridden 10,002 miles on a bicycle last season, because I know any one who is so careful as to add the extra two miles to such a record as his, would not make a mistake about the other 10,000; but I do want to say right here, that if a ten-year Sunday-school experience has taught me anything about matters celestial, that when this same Mr. Burt struggles up to the Golden Gate, with his record in one hand, and his Ideal in the other, that he will have to give St. Peter an argument of the most convincing kind to keep from being expressed to regions warmer and lower down, that's all.

"CHILDREN of the Abb(ey)ot" — L. A. W. members.

THE Ixions intend putting the new L. A. W. rug to a novel use. They are having a set of furniture made, the covering of which will be made from these rugs. It will make a handsome and appropriate set for a club room.

MR. Richard Nelson, of the Citizens' Club, has just had the title of K. C. B. conferred upon him. This is not the English order of the Knight Commander of the Bath, but a Boston order of the most exclusive and honored nature. The initials stand for "Knowledge Concerning Beans." Any one who has sampled products of Nelson's skill at any of his club's smoking concerts, can testify to his deserving the above title.

RALPH FRIEDBURG, the trick rider who goes to England with the Morgan-Woodside Combination, has cleared over $5,000 within two years, from his fancy riding exhibitions. THE OWL.

THE NEW UNIFORM.

I WISH to add my voice to Mr. N. L. Collamer's and fully endorse all he says in re the new L. A. W uniform to be adopted.

By all means let us have a cap with a straight visor. It is not only, as Mr. C. says, prettier, but much more comfortable. Is there any cap nicer looking than a low, flat naval cap?

For the coat, what looks better than a close-fitting standing-collar, buttoned-clear up-to-the-chin, cadet coat?

Button a celluloid collar on the collar, cuffs in the sleeves, and you will look well dressed enough for almost any occasion. No braid or cord on it anywhere, the pockets can be put on the inside with every advantage Black, of course, would look best, but some riders say it is too warm; still, while I don't wish to argue for or against it, I must say that I rode some of the hottest days both last summer and the summer previous in a black Norfolk jacket and black cap, yet I was happy.

Now that I've started, what is the use of re-enforcing breeches? It makes them heavier and less pliable. When the seat is worn out the breeches are generally gone all over, besides being greasy.

I wish to protest against corduroy. I've tried it for both cycling and gunning, and failed to find a single virtue, while it fades, feels uncomfortable, and speedily looks seedy. This has been the experience of a great many clubs who have forsaken it.

Like Mr. C., I don't take to blue; it is too much used for all kinds of uniforms. Don't fail to note the coat with a standing collar. I have found by experience it's immensely comfortable and convenient.

ONE OF THE OWLS.

CYCLETS.

BACK to Boston,

AFTER a brief season in New York,

AND a longer stay in Philadelphia,

COMES the official organ and the new editor.

THEY came hurriedly, but in good order.

THE new editor said farewell to the organ when it left Boston. He brings it back, and locates it once more in the place of its birth.

HE said farewell to a child that could not stand alone. He brings back a full-grown man, who stands head and shoulders above his fellows.

PHILADELPHIA was loth to part with the organ, but it had to go. No city has a claim over another upon the BULLETIN, unless it can show superior advantages for promoting the business interests of the journal.

BOSTON is the hub of cycling. Here are collected the headquarters of nearly all the cycling firms. She gives the great proportion of advertising to the BULLETIN. We believe that Boston is the best place for the BULLETIN.

THE annual election impends. We hope to get the ballots out without much delay, but some delay is inevitable.

To those chief consuls and representatives who have written us for mail lists, to be used in stirring up the members of their divisions and urging them to vote, we desire to say that were unable to get them. Mr. Wells could not find time to print them, and, moreover, he assured us that there was nothing in his contract with the League that obliged him to furnish more lists than was absolutely necessary to mail the paper.

THE spirit of accommodation was not abroad in Philadelphia while we were there. E. Stanley Hart & Co. have had the printing contract for the BULLETIN for three years. Nearly all the money that has been paid into the League has gone to them, and yet they could not find time to accommodate us with a few mail lists. They demanded and received their money for the BULLETIN each week, and they could not see how they could print the paper for this week.

MARK that we do not say that they refused to do these things, but they put their case in such a way that the League officials would have to assume a very humiliating position in order to get the service from them, and then there was little chance of getting it.

WE have no desire to stir up personal discussions anent our stay in Philadelphia. We are willing to let what occurred there pass into history without much comment, but League members should know that their servant has been annoyed and hampered in the transaction of his business, and has had to work under many disadvantages.

To the Germantown Club alone we are indebted for much kindly assistance and moral support, for which we are deeply grateful.

THE report of the meeting of the Pennsylvania Division was to have appeared in this number. The matter was all in type, and we stood ready to redeem our promise to the Committee that we would publish it. Our quick transfer has prevented us from carrying out our ideas, and we cannot decide at this time whether we will publish it or not. The Executive Committee will have a word to say next week, and since what they put forth will be an answer to what was said at that meeting, it may be thought best to use only the one paper.

WHEN news reached Massachusetts that the League office was attached, came a telegram and letter from Henry E. Ducker, placing his office and his working force at our disposal to help us get out the BULLETIN. It was not necessary for us to take advantage of the offer, but it is appreciated, just the same.

THE record of twenty seconds for the quarter mile, and one minute thirty-five seconds for the mile on the home trainer, is now claimed by F. M. Brown, of the Bristol County Wheelmen, of Warren, R. I.

PAT wrote to his sweetheart, "If you don't get this letter, write and tell me so." We are in the same position that Pat was, and we wish it were practicable to use his plan. Many members may fail to receive this paper, for we have not been able to get all the corrections in the list to date. If any such see this item, we shall be pleased to get a postal giving corrections for the list.

11,323 writes: "Will some of your Virginia readers inform us through your columns as to how early in the season we can rely on finding good riding down the Shenandoah Valley?"

WILL Nos. 10,826 and 10,827, L. A. W., please inform M. C. Morris, Germantown, Penn., of their present address. He thinks they are staying in California, but does not know in what part of the State.

THE Lendell Hotel, at St. Louis, will be League headquarters during the Meet.

DURING last season the Philadelphia Club offered two prizes, open to all members of the club, for the encouragement of riding. One of these was called the "President's cup," having been donated to the club by President Bartol, which cup was to be the property of the member riding the greatest number of times during the season. The other prize, known as the "Captain's cup," presented by Capt. Ewing L. Miller, was to be won by the member riding the greatest number of miles in the same time. Mr. E. W. Burt won both these prizes.

W. T. FLEMING, of Philadelphia, shows up the respectable total of 5,410 miles ridden during 1886. Added to his total of 5,514 miles for the previous twelve months, he gets a total mileage for two years of 10,924 miles.

THE Wisconsin wheelmen have formed a division L. A. W. The meeting for organization was held February 24, at Milwaukee. George W. Peck, Jr., was chosen secretary-treasurer. By-laws similar to those of Ohio were adopted, and a road book of the State was given the initial step.

SECRETARY-TREASURER AUSTIN, of the New York Division, objects to the statement that no division has filed a statement of its provisions for the annual election in this office. We made the statement on the authority of our clerks, but we find that the indefatigable secretary-treasurer of the New York Division was so prompt with his statement, which was made months ago, that it has passed out of the memory of our clerical force. We humbly apologize.

THERE is a division in the Badger State. By a queer contradiction of terms, this means that the Badgers are united for League work.

THE one-mile bicycle championship of the colony, run at Rangiors, New Zealand, on Saturday, 1 January, was won by Bean, of Christchurch, who beat Webb, of Dunedin, by one yard in 3.56 4-5. Bean also secured the ten-mile race in 38.1 2-5.

AN informal business men's reception was tendered Thomas Stevens at the office of the Pope Manufacturing Company in Boston, on Saturday night, 26 February.

PROCESSION OF "THE KAT."

THE members of the Capital Bicycle Club, of Washington, gathered at their clubhouse February 22, and celebrated Washington's birthday by giving a sacred procession in honor of the "klub kat," after Bridman's painting of the procession of the Sacred Bull. The "kat" was wheeled through the rooms securely strapped to a safety bicycle, with a gorgeous canopy overhead, and surrounded by graceful coryphees. The king, queen, high priest, and attendants, burning incense, were all in line, and the costumes, while unique, were particularly correct. Two fat men of the club represented Ceres and Pomona, and brought up the end of the procession. They were well supplied with peanuts and apples for the assembled crowds. After the procession came refreshments, and the remainder of the evening was spent in parlor athletic games, that created a great deal of fun.

STAMFORD, CONNECTICUT-INGS.

LEOPOLD, the trick-y cycler, gives two of his exhibitions under the auspices of the Stamford Wheel Club, at the Rink, on the afternoon and evening of the 22d.

CAPTAIN Hurlbutt is getting to be himself again after "a severe typhoid illness."

THE would-be cycler is reading up on all the new and complicated kinks in wheeldom, and especially attractive to him are the low prices quoted. Some of the said kinks will be very much for sale as second-hands, early in May.

MR. Jo Pennell rather knocks the glamour off England's roads, and we will try to push along over our own a while longer before going over. It doesn't seem possible that they can have as fine cobble-paved cities as Philadelphia, but we will take Jo's word for it. We kind 'o hanker for a run in Canada, if we are successful in making collections,— but hasten to say that we are not a tried and trusted public servant!

WONDER what that "Lone Baltimorean Star" is driving at our Club for now. "Hain't done nothing!"

ALWAYS had an idea the Reading men could cycle right smart," and since "Ariel" has worked their cases up we know it. We are wagering on that Facile man!

SEVERAL times recently we have listened to the continuous swish of the wheels in two to six inches of snow broth, on the regular homeward run, where in summer the dust at times was about as deep. It any cycler has a variety of road conditions, we do, in this year-round riding. In addition to a rubber coat we have often had one of sleet.

A'MOST anybody is welcome to kick the Secretary of this Club, for being three years finding out the superiority of spade handles over the regular old knobs, which are so tire-some on long hills, or on heavy roads. The spades afford such an easy, natural grip that with us the others have no show now.

WHILE hoping that the publication of so much "parched matter" in the BULLETIN, recently, may result in some good to somebody, we still regret that the rank and file are deprived of the usual attractions in the paper, which many have said were the strongest arguments for them to join the League. "Congressional Record matter" never was our especial selection when we have raided editorial sanctums, and added our mite in bothering a weary and busy editor who was making copy by the yard and perspiration of his fo'hd. We await that Ladies' Column.

AS we "opine-yon" duties at Philadelphia may take him away, we would like to know the "Owl's" New York address, and when to find him in, for we desire to at least grasp his right pinion while we are in the city.

GRAY days predominate again since the snow has gone, and we can see better to "take soundings," as our secretary says, when referring to attempts at walking; or is it navigation? the latter is the general term used by The Solitary Club.

P. S.—The landlord of the dirty old hotel where we got the questionable Pie, in Rye [see notes of our Christmas run], soon after tried to shoot himself, and later "tried to kill himself with a locomotive," but was prevented. Probably remorse and a troubled conscience at having treated a cycler so, prompted his attempts at self-destruction.

AND to think "Ye Owl" should give away New York cyclers, as he did in the next number.

The S. C.

BRANDON LEWIS, of Lafayette, Ind., claims to be the pioneer bicycle rider of that State. He rode the wheel in England as far back as 1872, and in 1876 he imported a 46-inch Challenge and rode it in Lafayette.

SAMUEL T. CLARK & Co., of Baltimore, have sent us their new catologue for 1887. It is a beauty typographically, and contains sixty pages descriptive of the New Rapid bicycle and the Quadrant tricycle. The cuts are well worked, and, taking it all together it forms a very beautiful catalogue.

CORRESPONDENCE.

The editor wishes it distinctly understood that he is not responsible for the statements and opinions expressed in these columns.

A VOICE FROM BUFFALO.

LEAGUE OFFICERS FOR 1887.

BUFFALO, Feb. 16, 1887.

MR. EDITOR: — In the last issue of your paper I notice you mention my name, among others, as a suitable candidate for member of the Executive Committee in the League at the next election. I thank you for this kind reference to me, but beg to assure you that I am not a candidate for this or any other office in the gift of the Board. The duties of representative are quite as much as I can attend to in the few leisure moments at my command, out of a busy professional life. Like yourself, however, I have thought much upon the matter of the elections for next year, and, after very careful consideration, have come to the conclusion that the most desirable men before the League to-day are: for President, T. J. Kirkpatrick, of Ohio; for Vice-President, Chief-Consul H. W. Hayes, of Massachusetts; and member of the Executive Committee, Chief-Consul G. R. Bidwell, of New York. The reasons which have led me to this conclusion, briefly stated, are these:

A crisis in League affairs has been met, and, as I believe, fully overcome.

Prostitution of official trust and malfeasance in high position have been exposed and eradicated; but, to guard against a repetition of these abuses, the President should be a man thoroughly acquainted with all these matters, as well as the methods of the Executive Committee in dealing with them.

And who more fully meets these requirements than Mr. Kirkpatrick, the vigilant, hard-working secretary of the present Executive Committee? His election would dispose also of another consideration — which, however, should have no weight against the fitness of the man — namely, geographical distribution of the office, it being held by many that the President should be taken from the West. Add to these the ability of an excellent presiding officer, possessed by him in an unusual degree, and Mr. Kirkpatrick stands before the League, to-day, as its most desirable candidate.

All the qualifications desirable in the President are equally desirable in the Vice-President, and all that I have said of Mr. Kirkpatrick can be said of Mr. Hayes, with equal truthfulness.

His work in the Massachusetts Division, as well as in the Board of Officers, signalize him as the very man needed for this position.

Coming to the member of the Executive Committee, my reasons for believing Mr. Bidwell the most desirable person for the position, are: 1st: He represents the largest and strongest Division in the League. 2d: He is the hardest working, and most unselfish member of the Board of Officers; and 3d: His clear-cut, straightforward, and always vigilant business methods have fitted him in an unusual degree for the Executive.

For Treasurer, I would suggest Chief-Consul Irvin, of Ind., or Mr. Pettengill, of Washington, D. C.

I believe the distribution of officers — aside from fitness — should be numerical rather than geographical.

New York and Massachusetts contain over one-third the entire membership of the League. Add to them Ohio, and you have nearly one-half; and who shall say there is any unfairness to the South or far West in the distribution of offices above indicated, even if that were the only consideration?

The member of the Executive Committee, as well as the Vice-President, should be Chief-Consul of a Division, for Chief-Consuls are directly responsible to the Divisions; so, if at any time he should neglect his work on the committee, the Division can demand the reasons therefore. These two should also reside as near together as possible, so that frequent consultation, and close oversight of the Sec'y.-Editor's office, and the affairs of the League may be had without long journeys and consequent loss of time, and unusual expense.

The consideration of these — and other reasons I will not now mention — has brought me to believe the above mentioned gentlemen the most desirable for the positions named. Whether the Board will agree with me I know not. I only state my individual views, and, while I have only words of commendation for other candidates, I hope to see Messrs. Kirkpatrick, Hayes and Bidwell elected at St. Louis.

C. S. BUTLER.

Rep. in Wheel for N. Y. in L. A. W.

FOR THE MEMBERS.

EDITOR BULLETIN: I heartily endorse the idea to make the BULLETIN a medium of correspondence between all Leaguers. If all members take a hand, this department can easily be filled every week, to the benefit of the fraternity at large. Nothing can be of more benefit. I have never understood whether the uniform committee intend to consider the wants of the League shirt. The shirt, as furnished last year, will bear improving. The color does not hold. The flannel is too heavy. The shirt I ordered last year came to hand about three sizes too small, although I had sent my measurement in a couple of sizes large. After being worn a few times, it was so small I could not get it on.

Are the leading American manufacturers going to incorporate in their high grade wheels for the coming season the "true tangent wheels," ball-bearing heads, easily detachable handle-bars, and "T" handles? Also, what American manufacturers are going to introduce safeties of the Rover type? Can any one answer this? It will prove of interest to many intending purchasers, myself among the number.

Some time since, an article was published in the BULLETIN relative to a proposed movement to be inaugurated by the A. A. C. looking to some means to have the legislature abolish the system of farmers working out their road tax. This system is the curse of Penna. roads. The Penna. Division L. A. W. should make this their special leading object henceforth until this system is abolished and a general road law enacted that would place Penna. roads on a par, at least, with those of some of her sister States. The division can, by earnest, united, continued effort, accomplish this much-to-be-desired purpose. When accomplished, although it may take years, what worthier record would the division wish for? It would be a lasting monument to their energy. Let the division officers wake up, start the ball a-rolling, keep it rolling, and we will all help with our might and main. When wheelmen see that the division is earnest in its efforts to have better roads, it will, undoubtedly, induce them to come in. The legislature will not meet again for two years. Now is, therefore, the accepted time to get up petitions to present to our august body. This road question should not be permitted to die out, but kept continually before the public.

10507.

FROM THE DISTRICT DIVISION.

The District Division held a meeting February 26, and decided to control its own voting this spring. A meeting will be held March 19, for nominations, and another March 26, for the election. A committee, of which Representative De Merritt is chairman, was appointed to consider the advisability of holding a meet in this city on or about May 26, and during the National Drill which will be in progress at that time, and to make arrangements for it. It is thought the Maryland and Virginia divisions will be asked to co-operate, and, in such event, it is highly probable they will do so.

A. VOICE.

WHO IS YOUR CHOICE FOR PRESIDENT?

EDITOR BULLETIN:—In view of your kindly word in the last BULLETIN that its columns are open at all times for correspondence from members on League or general cycling subjects, I beg to suggest that it would be interesting to have opinions from the rank and file as to their choice for President of the League for the ensuing year. More especially would it be interesting to hear from the Western divisions, as they are to hold and entertain the great "Annual" in May, and also because it has already been suggested that the West is entitled to the honor. They are "Rustlers" out there, you know, and many bright lights and hard workers, too, have come to the front among them. Therefore, I say, let us hear from those directly interested. Who have you out there whom you consider THE MAN to steer the ship of (L. A. W.) state? Who do you want? Enlighten us in the East on the subject, so that we can get our proxies properly engrossed in season.

379.

A WHOPPER.

EDITOR BULLETIN: I notice an article in last week's Wheel from E. B. A., about a 96-inch wheel which was seen at Niagara Falls, and was reported to have come from Canada. Now, Mr. Editor, I might state a singular thing that happened me. I am a member of the Wanderers, of Toronto, Can., and was some miles east of the city when a terrible storm set in; a flash of lightning nearly blinded me, and, taking refuge in a country inn, I comp'ained of my eyesight. The landlord advised glasses, so I tried them. I am not sure but that I got away with more than four or five pairs of them before the storm abated. Mounting my wheel with difficulty I perceived ahead of me a man on a wheel of enormous size. He seemed to be some fifteen feet in the air. I endeavored to catch him, but no matter how hard I spurted, this big wheel kept the same distance ahead of me. Arriving in the city, the people all seemed crazy, for, instead of looking with amazement at the enormous wheel, they directed their looks at me, and I did not notice any look at the big one ahead. In fact, I seemed to be the main attraction on the street, for everybody sized me up. In vain I pointed ahead; it only drew more attention to myself. Past the club house we flew. Straight for the lake sped the rider of this terrible wheel, now as high as the house-tops. In vain I shouted and yelled. Into the lake he rode, and as I fell unconscious on the wharf, he was heading for Niagara. Surely this must be the wonderful wheel that E. B. A. saw, or was it imagination?

Toronto, Can. G. H. O.

PITMAN'S RUG.

EDITOR BULLETIN: Having received so many inquiries as to colors, and arrangement of my rug, I would like to say that in the centre of a moresque background appears the L. A. W. badge 19 inches in diameter, and extending around the entire rug is a deep red border made up of five different arrangements of the League stencil board. The predominating colors are black, crimson, rich shades of red, and old gold. The design and colors have received the approval of all who have examined it, Mr. Ed. Beve, of Puck, saying it was one of the most artistic things of its kind he had ever seen. In conclusion, I desire to say to such as are worried about the colors, appearance, design, etc., that they may feel satisfied that the rug will be something that they will appreciate as much as I am proud of it.

Yours truly,

WILL R. PITMAN.

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

THE SOUTHERN DISTRICT LEAGUE TOUR.

THE arrangements for this tour are nearly completed, and when the Marshal is able to present the details of the trip in all their perfection, it is hoped they may be received with favor. Through the courtesy of League officers and members along the proposed route I have been enabled to secure the best of hotel rates; and other information which I have sought has been cheerfully and promptly furnished, for all of which I desire to express my heartfelt thanks.

As at present advised, the Tour will leave Philadelphia on May 10, and, taking route 26 of the Penna. Road Book, will reach Staunton on the 17th, in time to take the cars for St. Louis and the League Meet, or to return to Washington for the National Drill. For the former trip reduced rates are now being negotiated for, and the same for the latter are only a matter of necessity, on account of the large number that will visit Washington at that time.

The following is the programme which may possibly—though not probably—be changed in minor details:

ROUTE OF SOUTHERN DISTRICT TOUR.

May 10.—Leave Philadelphia 9 A. M., 20 miles, Paoli. Dinner. 19 miles, Coatesville. Supper, lodging, and breakfast.

May 11.—Leave 8 A. M., 25 miles, Lancaster. Dinner at Stevens H. On at 1 P. M., 24 miles, York. Supper, lodging, and breakfast at National H.

May 12.—Leave 8 A. M., 28 miles, Gettysburg. Dinner, supper, lodging, and breakfast at Eagle H. In P. M. view Battle Fields.

May 13.—Leave 7 A. M., 25 miles (bad), Waynesboro. Dinner at Leland H. On at 2 P. M., 11 1-2 miles, Hagerstown. Supper, lodging, and breakfast at City Hotel. Reception by Hagerstown Bicycle Club.

May 14.—Leave 9 A. M., 20 miles, Martinsburg. Dinner. On at 1 P. M., 21 miles, Winchester. Supper, lodging, and breakfast at Taylor H.

May 15.—Leave 7.30 A. M., 31 miles, Woodstock. Dinner at Shenandoah H. On at 2 P. M., 19 miles, New Market. Supper at Central H. Leave wheels. 14 miles in carriages to Luray. Lodging, breakfast, and dinner at Hotel Lawrence.

May 16.—In A. M., visit Luray caves. At 1 P. M. take carriages, 14 miles, to New Market. Mount wheels, 19 miles, Harrisonburg. Supper, lodging, and breakfast at Revere H.

May 17.—Leave 9 A. M., 25 miles, Staunton. Dinner and supper at Hale H. In evening take cars for St. Louis Meet, arriving morning of 19th; or lay over and visit Natural Bridge, Weyer's cave, etc., ad lib.

En route will be visited all the points of interest including the historical battle-fields of Gettysburg, the unexcelled scenic views from Pen Mar, and the wonderful Luray Caverns; and the roads traversed will include the famous Lancaster Pike, the sand-papered roads in the vicinity of Hagerstown, and the world-renowned three-notch Shenandoah Valley road. Wheelmen at almost every stopping place will make us welcome, and, where clubs exist, they will vie with each other in their efforts to receive us in the best manner.

The time selected is the best of the year, the winds will be cool* and pleasant, the sun not too warm, and nature at that period clothed in her most beautiful apparel — the fresh, green verdure of spring.* At the close of the Tour, we will have ample time to visit the Natural Bridge if desired, after which the cars may be taken direct for St. Louis or home.

The entire cost of the Tour will not probably exceed $20, though this is a matter of conjecture. The estimate is, however, based on reliable calculations. It will not exceed that amount by five dollars at the highest, and may even possibly be somewhat less.

As stated above, the matter is not as yet fully arranged, but I am working as fast as possible, and will be happy to answer any inquiries that may be made. Of course, I want every one to go, but I especially desire those who contemplate doing so to notify me at the earliest possible moment, in order that they may be put on the roll and secure places before the limit is reached. Particularly do I want a bugler to be on the trip, and if such will toot their own horns to the extent of communicating with me, I will promise to do something fine for them.

Circulars will be issued currently in the BULLETIN informing the League how the matter progresses, and as soon as definitely arranged, the entire programme will be published in these columns.

N. L. COLLAMER, Marshal.

ST. CLOUD BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D. C.

* I suppose it is the correct thing to throw in a little of the flowery. No bouquets desired, however.

NOMINATIONS.

CONNECTICUT. — The Pequonnock Wheel Club, of Bridgeport, nominates Mr. James H. Smith, of that club, for Chief Consul.

ILLINOIS. — The Paris Bicycle Club nominates Mr. Milton O. Dole for representative from the Paris district, which includes Edgar, Douglas, Cole, Clark, Cumberland, Jasper, Crawford, Lawrence, Richland, and Clay counties.

CONNECTICUT. — The Hartford Wheel Club nominates Mr. Louis A. Tracy, of Hartford, for Chief Consul.

KENTUCKY. — The Kenton Wheel Club, of Covington, nominates Mr. Howard S. Rogers, of Covington, for Chief Consul.

TENNESSEE. — Nashville League members have made the following nominations: Chief Consul, Robert Rodes, Jr.; representative, John S. Miller.

APPOINTMENTS.

VIRGINIA. — Chief Consul Frank L. Harris, of the Virginia Division, has appointed League Hotel as follows: Hotel Lawrence, at Luray, Page Co., Va. Rate, $2 per day. Special rates to large parties. Near the celebrated Luray Caverns.

VERMONT. — The Pavilion Hotel, at Montpelier, has been appointed a League hotel by Chief Consul Ross. Regular rates, $2.50 per day; to L. A. W. members, $2 per day.

TOURING DEPARTMENT.

B. B. Ayers, Tourmaster, Chicago; A. B. Barkman, Bookmaster, 608 Fourth Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.; Geo. R. Bidwell, Chief Marshal, New York; Dr. W. G. Kendall, Marshall Eastern Division, Boston, Mass.; W. S. Bull, Marshal Middle Division, Buffalo, N. Y.; W. G. E. Peirce, Marshal Western Division, Chicago; N. L. Collamer, Marshal Southern Division, Washington, D. C.; Joseph Pennell, Marshal Foreign Division, London, England; H. D. Corey, General Agent, Boston, Mass.; Fred. Jenkins, Chief Quartermaster, New York; Edwin Oliver, Secretary, Chicago, Ill.

The following L. A. W. works are officially recommended by the L. A. W. Bureau of Information. No preference is expressed, and each reader must draw his own conclusions as to relative merit.

HAND-BOOK OF MASSACHUSETTS (1884): — Hotels, repair shops, the principal through routes, condition of roads by districts, bound in stiff cloth. Address H. E. Ducker, Springfield, Mass.

L. A. W. ROAD AND HAND-BOOK OF PA., N. J., AND MD. (Official): — Two hundred pages, 12,000 miles separately reported in tabular form, general description of riding districts, eight diagram maps, complete Consul, hotel, and repair shop lists, no advertisements, bound in flexible leather. A copy of the revised and enlarged 1886 edition was furnished free last year to every League member in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and Maryland, who joined before April 1st. A limited supply sold to League members only, or to those ineligible to membership. Price, $1.00. Inclose cash to T. Houard Wright, Box 1619, Philadelphia, Pa.

L. A. W. HAND-BOOK OF OHIO (Official): — Complete official lists of officers, Consuls, hotels, etc. General description of riding districts, fine large folding road-map of the State. Price, $1.00. Address T. J. Kirkpatrick, Springfield, Ohio.

L. A. W. ROAD-BOOK OF LONG ISLAND, with the best riding within fifty miles of New York City — very thorough. Three fine maps on one sheet folded in the book style of tabular form, same as Pa.-N. J.-Md. Book, advertisements, bound in flexible cloth. Price, $1.00. Address A. B. Barkman, 608 Fourth Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y. For sale with Brooklyn and New York bicycle dealers, etc.

L. A. W. ROAD-BOOK OF BOSTON AND VICINITY, paper cover, advertisements. Price, 15 cents. Address A. L. Atkins, 597 Washington Street, Boston, Mass.

IN AND AROUND CAPE ANN, bound in cloth; finely illustrated. The wheelmen's hand-book of Gloucester, Mass., and vicinity. Price, 75 cents. Address John S. Webber, Jr., Gloucester, Mass.

ROAD-BOOK OF CONNECTICUT, in progress. Address for information, Charles G. Huntington, Hartford, Conn.

L. A. W. ROAD-BOOK OF MICHIGAN (Official); with best roads of Ontario and through route from Chicago to Buffalo. Sectional and general maps; complete lists of Consuls, hotels, repair shops, and points of interest. Flexible leather cover. Free to Division members joining before April 1st. Price to L. A. W. members of other States, $1.00. For further information, address J. H. Johnson, 107 Spruce Street, Detriot, Mich. Remit to J. E. Beal, Sec.-Treas., Ann Arbor, Mich.

L. A. W. ROAD AND HAND-BOOK OF NEW YORK (Official): — Ready in March, 1887, 200 pages. All sections of the State are well reported, except the northern or Adirondack region. The routes will extend east to Boston, south to Staunton, Va., and it is expected west to Chicago. The compiler hopes to have the books ready for delivery by the 1st of March next. The method of distribution as adopted by the Committee is as follows: All persons renewing or joining between January 1st and March 31st, 1887, will receive one copy free. All persons joining between April 1st and June 30th will receive a copy upon payment of 13 cents. All persons joining between July 1st and September 30th will receive a copy upon payment of 25 cents. All persons joining after October 1st will receive a copy upon payment of 37 cents. The book will be sold to League members of other States, or to those who are not eligible to League membership, at $1.00 per copy. Address A. B. Barkman, 608 Fourth Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

ROAD MAP OF BOSTON AND VICINITY (Warren's).

ROAD-MAP (WHEELING CHART) OF SPRINGFIELD AND VICINITY. Address Henry E. Ducker, Springfield Mass.

ROAD-MAP OF NEW JERSEY (L. A. W. Official): — Three parts, Northern, Central, and Southern, folded in stiff covers. Price, 50 cents each, or $1.50 for the set. Address Dr. G. Carleton Brown, Elizabeth, N. J.

COLTON'S ROAD-MAP OF PENNSYLVANIA: — Three parts, Eastern Counties, Central Counties, Western Counties. Price, $2.00 per section. J. L. Smith, Map Publisher, Sixth Street, above Chestnut, Philadelphia, Pa.

MARTINET'S ROAD-MAP OF MARYLAND: — Splendid work. Price, $10.00. J. L. Smith, as above.

ROAD-MAP OF OHIO. See Ohio Hand-Book.

THE WHEELMAN'S HAND-BOOK OF ESSEX COUNTY, MASS.— Sketches of cities and towns, objects of interest, hotels, clubs, officials, roads, etc. Also a sketch of the League of Essex County Wheelmen and a chapter on wheel literature. By George Chinn. Third edition. Beverly, Mass., 1886, 20 cents.

L. A. W. ROAD AND HAND-BOOK OF CALIFORNIA (Official): — Officers, Consuls, members, hotels, and By-Laws of California Division, California bicycle clubs and officers, advertisements. Issued in monthly parts, 75 cents to League members. Part I now ready, bound in flexible cloth, 25 cents. Address J. W. Gibson, No. 612 Hyde Street, San Francisco, Cal.

TURNPIKE ROAD-MAP OF CENTRAL INDIANA (L. A. W. (Official), covering an area of 90 miles north and south, and 153 miles east and west, and showing the roads of the famous Crawfordsville record-breaking district. Contains list of Consuls and hotels, and shows location of all towns, railroads, etc. To be distributed to members of the Indiana Division on the same basis as the New York Road-Book is given to New York members, see above. Price, to other League members, 75 cents. Scale of nine miles to one inch. Address inquiries and remittances to Josh. Zimmerman, Secretary-Treasurer, 37 Alabama Street, Indianapolis, Ind.

Persons connected with the above publications who wish changes or corrections made in the above list will please address A. B. Barkman, 608 Fourth Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

THE TRADE.

MESSRS. STODDARD, LOVERING & CO. wish to state that they have an arrangement by which spade handles can be fitted to all of the Rudge Light Roadsters sold by them within the last four years Correspondence invited on this subject.

MR. H. M. SABEN, of the Massachusetts Club, has selected the Rudge Bicyclette for his mount the coming season.

SAMPLE Rudges are now on exhibition as No. 152 Congress st., Boston, Mass., and Messrs Stoddard, Lovering & Co. report a very early season. The reason probably is that they have an entirely new line of machines for 1887, and bicyclers are always eager to see the latest.

THE well-known Lillibridge Saddle, and the patents under which it is manufactured, have recently been purchased by the Gormully & Jeffery Manufacturing Company. The plant has also been purchased by this company, as well as the use of the name Lillibridge, as applied to saddles. The Gormully & Jeffery Manufacturing Company will continue its manufacture at their cycle factories in Chicago, and will use it in their high-grade machines.

THE evening of February 14 added another set of records to the credit of the American Champion, when Ed. N. Bullock, of Omaha, defeated Tom Eck in a hundred-mile race at the Omaha (Neb.) Exposition Building. Eck was ridden off his legs at the seventy-fourth mile. The records were smashed from the sixty-fifth mile (3.52.18) up, and the hundred was made in 5.59.59, better than Ives's track record, and some six minutes better than Morgan's record for the distance. Bullock is a new man at the business, and greatly astonished his friends by his remarkable increase in speed. The Omaha Bee, in commenting on the race, remarked: "Much of Bullock's marked increase in speed is due to his use of his new Champion, which he used in a race for the first time last night."

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows: —

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Applicant will please bear in mind that in addition to the two weeks, as above, it must necessarily take several days for their ticket to be issued, as it passes through two hands before being mailed to them. After four weeks from date of publication you may look for your ticket.

It is expected, and it is the duty of all members to examine the list of applications for their respective States, and report at once any error in name or address, and see that no objectionable person is admitted to the League. Any objection must be made to the Secretary within two weeks from date of publication. It will be considered confidential.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

No. 76 — Total 93.

BOSTON, February 28, 1887.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION — 6.

Los Angeles Bi. Club.
13783 Wedgwood, Chas. H., Los Angeles
San Francisco Bi. Club.
13784 Royce, F. H., 101 California St., San Francisco.
Unattached.
13771 Avery, D. A., 1437 Steiner St., San Francisco.
13812 Bauer, J. E., 232 Van Ness Ave., "
13771 Pierson, Frank W., 1334 Washington St., San Francisco.
13772 Stevens, Geo. F., 1911 Baker St., "
13765 Dorland, Jas. O., Hastings.
13764 Nelson, Jas. M. Jr., Mt. Vernon.
Unattached.
13767 Cook, Jas. S., Port Jervis.
13777 Cooke, Fred. P., 139 West 127th St., New York.
13768 Holley, W. H., Port Jervis.
13769 McKerby, Samuel, Port Jervis.
13832 Pentz, Mrs. W. E., 16 East 75th St., New York.
13832 Schenck, Wm. Walter, Westminster Hotel, New York.
13779 Streett, Ralph S., care 5th Avenue Bank, New York.
13766 Tornow, Fred, Buffalo.

OHIO DIVISION — 4.

Star Bi Club.
13780 Wilson, James B., care of Leader Pub. Co., Cleveland.
Unattached.
13810 Gates, A. R., Garretsville.
13809 Rannells, Chas. F. W., Troy.
13791 Thomas, A. C., Windham.

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION — 6.

Lancaster Cycle Touring Club.
13836 Eichley, H. M., 36 East King St., Lancaster.
13835 Reading, L. F., 36 " " " "
13834 Reist, W. A., 221 West " " "
Unattached.
13750 Mingus, Walter J., 113 Claymont St., Philadelphia.
13782 Nesmith, G. B., Warren.
13770 Pierce, Mrs. F. C., Smithport.

RHODE ISLAND DIVISION — 1.

Unattached.
13792 Dutemple, Wm. R., 227 Eddy St., Providence.

TENNESSEE DIVISION — 2.

Unattached.
13781 Hicks, H. H. Jr., Florence St.
13827 Williams, David R., care of L. & N. Shops, Memphis.

VERMONT DIVISION — 1.

Mt. Kilburn Wheel Club.
13811 Moore, F. A., Bellows' Falls.

RENEWALS.

No. 12. Total, 1019.

BOSTON, MASS., Feb. 28, 1887.

ALABAMA — 1.

6390 Polk. A. H.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION — 8.

6781 Andrews, C. A.
7606 Blood, L. S.
12505 Bell, H. C.
12639 Crowner, W. E.
13019 Judson, E. S. M.
8429 Kerr, J. W.
12473 Liebert J.
12640 Radke, A. F.

CANADA — 1.

674 Lane, A. T.

CONNECTICUT DIVISION — 84.

5661 Andrews, T. A.
4416 Arnold, H. H.
10738 Bemis, F. E.
4952 Bidwell, H. E.
9341 Boyden P.
3524 Bradley, E. K.
11120 Bradley, R. S.
3527 Brainard, J. E.
5652 Brown, J. G.
476 Burritt, W. T.
8450 Camp, E. B.
3522 Casper L.
11057 Chapman, R. H.
4098 Chase, A. W.
3175 Chidsey, H.
10739 Clark, A. B.
3521 Collins, W.
1090 Converse, E. E.
7769 Cowlishaw, W.
7652 Dayton, C. R.
9345 Ewen, A. J.
8451 Fenn, W. I.
10323 Ferrey, P.
3529 Foster, W. I.
256 Gregory, E. L.
2781 Hall, E. A.
11497 Hall, W. A.
1323 Hamilton, L. B.
5039 Hills, F. M.
9086 Hosley, N. D.
6001 Howell, W. A.
6843 Hubbard, J. A.
3531 Hyde, J. M.
3248 Jewett, J. W., M. D.
2761 King, C. J.
9987 King, C. W.
4424 Landers, G. M., Jr.
502 Lane, J. M.
6056 Lawton, L. T.
10740 Little, F. A.
503 Lyon, C. L.
7059 McKnight, E. J.
2780 McMaster, W.
9031 Mead, I. L.
8826 Messinger, W. C.
2782 Miller, M. E.
1062 Miller, H. G.
4522 Miller, A. H.
1063 Miller, L. A.
4472 Mix, E. H.
10746 Noble, J. H.
2786 Norris, C. H.
8696 Pardee, L. C.
554 Pease, F. W.
7796 Penny, F. E.
10554 Pitts, R. L.
8454 Porter, F. A.
8455 Porter, E. J.
1056 Reilly, P. H.
1066 Rice, R. J., Jr.
4418 Rossberg, W. B.
9358 Ruickholdt, A. M. D.
982 Rust, T. S.
9184 Scott, D. A.
1263 Seymour, H. S.
4871 Sibley, H. A.
391 Smith, E. R.
7946 Smith, E. A.
2765 Stetson, A. L.
9988 Stevens, G. B.
4520 Stevens, F. A.
2756 Stockder, F.
3027 Taylor, W.
3669 Tiffany, M. L.
9989 Wadsworth, F. E.
6780 Walsh, J.
6933 Warner, F. G.
10748 Warren, Miss E. A.
185 Whiting, J. H.
7487 Wightman, E. M.
4419 Williams, J. W.
11650 Woodruff, G. B.
9841 Wulf, H. A.
1501 Young, J. H.

DAKOTA — 3.

1381 Beach, L. D.
1700 Finke, E. J.
837 Topliff, F. G.

DELAWARE DIVISION — 2.

11393 Shakespeare, L.
9513 Trump, C. R. V.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA DIVISION — 8.

9501 Ide, G. A.
1221 Kruger, L. M.
12803 Lammond, H. H.
13035 Maloney, W. W.
5162 Moulton, F. W.
11652 Sidwell, T. W.
7637 West, T. J.
7069 West, H. P.

FLORIDA — 2.

12937 Crosby, J. H.
12300 Strum, L. A.

GEORGIA — 4.

10304 Dillingham, C. H.
6778 Ingram, T. L.
8089 Ribble, G. W.
12303 Stoffregen, A. W.

ILLINOIS DIVISION — 61.

9096 Aldrich, C. E.
5470 Beavis, F.
7248 Bowen, H. S.
2280 Bush G. M.
225 Bush, F. H.
9843 Calhon, J. G., Jr.
5345 Coe, W. E.
7963 Comstock, W. F.
1366 Cook, W. M.
9530 Cox, H. W.
1745 Daniels, J. C.
5751 Davies, H. C.
6344 Downing, C. F.
5309 Downs, C. S.
3329 Dunn, W. E.
10526 Eastman, W. H.
5331 Farnsworth, J.
5918 Freeman, C. W.
12324 Frink, F. G.
6826 Gift, F. H.
12540 Herdman, J. N.
5319 Heywood, H. B.
2284 Herzog, G. H.
6874 Higbie, T. C.
11401 Hill, E. S.
9708 Holbrook, C. H.
1781 Hoffman, W. C.
11322 Jackson, D.
6346 James, B. W.
10560 Kenyon F. C.
79 Koch, J. H.
6423 Lauren, C. E.
6818 Lillibridge, J. M.
358 Matern, W. J.
6896 Morris, W. M.
10761 Munroe, E. S.
13009 Myers, C. B.
5543 McCawley, W. F.
12833 Neeves, N. A.
11399 Neiling, E.
12649 Newhall, H. H.
1525 Otto, R. J.
11653 Patterson, W. R.
5467 Plowe, C. H.
6878 Qualman, C., Jr.
12197 Roberts, F. H.
18 Rouse, H. G.
13010 Seery, J. L.
12512 Stapp, G.
11323 Stuart, E. C.
9188 Tawrie, W. F.
11264 Thorne, W.
2295 Vail, C. F.
3233 Valentine, J.
11128 Van Bokkelen, R. C.
4531 Warner, D. D.
10561 Wheeler, C. R., Jr.
12472 Whitlock, H. H.
12648 Williams, S. L.
7964 Welteon, F. D.
1836 Wray, J. W.

INDIANA DIVISION — 11.

9101 Cade, D. S.
8306 Crain C.
6712 Evans, O. E.
4870 Haneisen, W. C.
5914 Hollingsworth, S. P.
11828 Hutto, M. W.
12149 Jones, M. C.
3704 Kerr, D. W.
7928 Kessing, C.
11636 Newby, A. C.
12737 Sonders, W. D.

IOWA DIVISION — 10.

1377 Abbott, L. A.
5752 Abbott, W. C.
8848 Baker, J. O.
9039 Bowen, W. H.
5749 Campbell, J. A.
11508 Clarkson, C. F., Jr.
10201 Dunn, J. M.
5334 Hamlin, G. H.
6517 Sanford, C. W.
10310 Von Berg, C. L., Jr.

KENTUCKY DIVISION — 6.

6714 Currie, C. E.
8205 Greer, R. C.
8856 Jones, H. E.
12754 McClain, C.
12753 McClain, W. C.
12753 Tresice, V.

KANSAS DIVISION — 1.

6281 Tulane, V. B.

MAINE DIVISION — 5.

11328 Bowers, W. T.
11763 Dearborn, E. I.
6193 Humphrey, O. B.
11511 Schryver S.
12609 Weeks, F. L.

MARYLAND DIVISION — 59.

2647 Balderston, O. H.
11512 Bartlett, D. L.
794 Bartlett, J. K., Jr.
6163 Beacham, T. T.
2649 Bennett, E. H.
6982 Bresee, W.
9863 Bridges, J. S.
3737 Brigham, C. P.
11418 Broadbent, S. D.
1573 Brown, H. E.
5108 Canfield, I. C.
2643 Chesney, J. D.
25 Clart, S. T.
3142 Clark, J. N.
2699 Coulson, H. B.
1172 Dausch, Dr. P. G.
5686 Fahnestock, S.
7792 Fulton, D. M.
11866 Griscom, W. D.
10345 Hamilton, F. C.
11513 Harvey, W. T.
2652 Hayden, E. P.
3448 Hoopes, Dr. H. W.
5110 Hutchinson, J. L.
8862 Hyder, G. M.
3143 Jones, E. R.
1170 Kenly, A. C.
5111 Keyser, Dr. N. A. S.
2642 Le Cato, E. F.
9579 Leonard, H. A.
11514 Lewis, W. P., Jr.
12292 Loose, J. P.
2644 Lord, J. D., Jr.
2645 Lord, J. W.
1104 Lynch, B. B.
5717 Macgill, C. C.
5113 Markell, E.
11516 Mason, J. D., Jr.
11517 Mott, A.
1180 Munder, C. F.
11518 Norris, M.
11519 Norris, W. T.
5713 Parker, D. L.
1570 Penniman, C.
5712 Perkins, W. H., Jr.
3347 Price, T. E.
104 Reese, J. S.
6986 Taylor, C. A.
5114 Thompson, A. C.
1179 Thompson, J.
5530 Sappington, H. H.
2654 Schone, J. H.
6983 Shriver, S. B.
9050 Stinemetz, B. H.
5540 Whittingham, R. A.
1209 Wilcox, H. B.
6981 Wilkinson, J. E.
5115 Wolff, O.
11527 Woodruff, C. D.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION — 141.

7985 Abbott, G. F., Jr.
9872 Andrews, E. W.
6723 Baker, C. J.
1690 Ballard, A. A.
4291 Barnes, H. W.
7986 Bassett, E. A.
10378 Basford, G. M.
11666 Beebe, L. M.
7550 Blodgett, C. A.
9214 Boudreau, W. H.
9086 Bradford, A. O.
7992 Briggs, L. W.
11143 Brown, C. J.
8920 Burt, L. I.
5186 Burrill, F.
8217 Campbell, L. L.
7987 Chamberlain, J. A.
1088 Chamberlain, S.
17911 Chester, A. H.
8702 Lee, E. C.
7816 Lister, W. A.
8926 Lloyd, W. J.
7484 Loring, G. A.
10232 Lowe, J. D.
10783 Marble, W. F.
5824 Marcy, A. D.
10220 Metcalf, E. R.
5857 Minott, G. L.
2320 Moore, J. M.
9380 Morse, E. S.
10035 Muse, J.
9085 Noble, J. P.
5823 O'Keefe, C. J.
204 Olmstead, J. C.
8709 Overman, A. H.
10233 Packard, S. T.
7081 Park, C. S.
8498 Parker, W. C.

RECORD FOR ONE YEAR!

13,498 MILES ON A "VICTOR" IN ONE YEAR

Ridden by G. J. LOOMIS.

If you want a machine to get about on, and can't use wings, buy the next best thing,—a VICTOR. They do seem to get there. BICYCLES, TRICYCLES, SAFETIES. Catalog Free.

OVERMAN WHEEL CO., 182 to 188 Columbus Avenue, BOSTON.

8890 Churchill, A. L.
4557 Clark, W. G.
11610 Cobb, F. E.
7669 Coburn, T. W.
629 Conant, H. T.
12759 Coulter, C. C.
2693 Currier, M. D.
7267 Cushman, C. A.
11530 Dakin, E. F.
7804 Damon, H. E.
2041 Davis, E. E.
9514 Davis, H. O.
8895 Dewey, E. H.
109 Diaz, R. M.
8682 Dodge H. C.
6726 Dodge, L. L.
7842 Downey, F. W.
7857 Druce, M.
7526 Edmonds, J. O.
10229 Ellis, W. H.
8478 Feiker, W. H.
9590 Finn, J. F.
268 Fisher, C. H.
11277 Flint, A. W.
8922 Forbes, I. B.
3908 Forbes, C. P.
9223 Foster, J. A.
10390 Fraser, T. J.
8116 Gibbs, F. G.
9090 Gray, C. J.
7185 Green, S. M.
9394 Green, L. E. G.
9596 Hale, C. W.
10213 Hardy, A. H.
9169 Hart, C. M.
2866 Haynes, A. E.
10034 Heath, E. M
8219 Herrick, C. E.
9433 Higgins, J. F.
10817 Hirshberg, S. A.
11278 Holden, W. S.
2322 Holt, G. L.
3718 Humphrey, Rev. J. H.
7985 Hunter, J. T.
4272 Hunter, D. E.
7859 Hutchinson, F.
2034 Jennison, W. A.
327 Jordan, W. H.
3888 Joslin, C. A.
9761 Kells, W. S.
6725 Kimball, F. I.
7070 Knowlton, A. E.

8867 Pickard, M. D. D.
3364 Pinde, J. L.
8336 Plummer, W. D.
3173 Pratt, W. M.
3174 Puffer, W. L.
9964 Read, F. F., Jr.
9371 Robbins, J. N.
10024 Rolfe, C. J.
8713 Rothe, T.
1453 Russell, E. F.
8318 Sanborn, J. S.
8899 Sawyer, C. H.
8488 Schader W. G.
6401 Silvey, W. H.
10036 Sheldon, G. O.
4247 Smith, W. L.
8489 Smith, O. M.
857 Stall, W. W.
7865 Stall, Mrs. W. W.
12567 Stearns, G. H.
10377 Stone, A. F.
7082 Stebbins, W. K.
4610 Temple, O. W.
4606 Tenlon, A. M.
588 Thayer, H. A.
4103 Thorpe, W. S.
2145 Travers, L. C.
10217 Ulrich, F. H.
7864 Wait, W. S.
3475 Walker, E. S.
6724 Wallis, A. W.
8494 Warner, C. F.
9228 Warner, W. S.
8930 Ward, M. P.
4033 Ware, F. P.
7673 Way, W. D.
4020 Webster, W. A.
8724 Weston, F. W.
9110 Wheeler, F. L.
10017 Wilkins, E. A.
9607 Wilcox, H. A.
9422 Williams, G. F.
5002 Williams, E. J.
10325 Wilson, C. W.
4182 Wollison, H. S.
9966 Wollison, R. M.
5510 Wood, J., Jr.
2821 Wood, J. E.
7931 Woodman, C. A.
7890 Woodman, F. R.
10376 Young, E. G.

Michigan Division — 52.

3848 Alvord, C. E.
3723 Ames, J. H.
501 Bates, L. J.
11667 Beecher, I. W.
11588 Brooks, F. E.
7003 Bowby, A. D.
8349 Bowerfine, G.
9609 Brix, H. H.
8350 Burnham, W. H.
9612 Chellis, W. H.
11163 Conklin, W. S.
6441 Coplin, C. M.
4277 Conover, C. A.
12148 Finch, S. F.
7999 Fuller, O.
11153 Goldie, J. S.
8343 Goodyear, J. J.
6999 Hanley, J.
3847 Herrington, W. W.
3842 Holcomb, D. J.
356 Holcomb, G. E.
8000 Hubbard, M. D.
5622 Huntington, H. R.
4211 Ives, A. W.
3722 Jacobsen, P. N.
12039 Jackson, D. G.

10418 Jachnig, A.
8352 Judge H. M.
230 Kech, G. F.
7002 Kneesham, J. W.
8119 Lane, G. E.
15 Lathrop, C. E.
9735 Loring D.
8121 Metzer, W. E.
12038 Moore, J., Jr.
10534 Northwood, F. B.
3728 Peck, A. F.
7815 Parker, H. W.
11150 Reynolds, W. C.
8325 Richmond, W. E.
4121 Rice, C. W.
1731 Spranger, F. X.
8533 Vivian J., Jr.
8534 Vivian, J. H.
10247 Weaver W. L.
8345 Weeks, R. H.
850 Wendell, H.
11279 White, J. S.
8357 Wilsinger, C. G.
7553 Williams, G. O.
11668 Woodward, E. W.
10837 Wright, A.

Minnesota Division — 29.

9917 Achard, P. E.
5755 Alm, H. A.
11666 Baldy, M. L.
7866 Billson, A. C.
6808 Blasing, H. W.
6619 Cutler, J. F.
5771 Dockeray, R. L.
6618 Fuller, D. R.
7867 Hart, G. E.
5070 Hawley, H. W.

8858 Nelson, E.
5869 Nicholson, J.
5770 Parker, C. B.
4258 Pendleton, J. L.
5753 Pillsbury, A. F.
5656 Reed, F. E.
2957 Scheig, P. M.
9880 Schroeder, H.
10839 Scudder, F. J.
6919 Slosson, T. M.

5656 Johnston, C. A.
3447 Kimball, E. J.
3029 Kittson, I. C.
5344 Medcalf, B. M.
4185 Merriam T. H.

6119 Smith, O. W.
11433 Stockdale, J. R.
9882 Van Anda, H.
10840 Wilson, J. F.

Missouri Division — 18.

8605 Austin, F. F.
2638 Beggs, C. H.
6922 Clifford, E. A.
11674 Godfrey, H. R.
2659 Gordon, R. C.
2266 Haynes, N. J.
11881 Jordan, A. L.
7301 Koen, J. H.
5613 McKee, J. F.

2264 Overall, T. W.
7193 Ray, F. S.
8017 Stuart, H. G.
8018 Sutton, W. B.
12098 Wetmore, J.
4036 Whittemore, R. B., Jr.
7418 Whittemore, L. L.
6089 Whiteman, G. R.
2637 Young, F. W.

Montana Division — 1.

2666 Fielding, F. A.

Mississippi Division — 1.

12450 Phillips, J. M.

Nebraska Division — 1.

12506 Rees, W.

New Hampshire Division — 14.

10727 Cheney, C. M.
4834 Clement, L. D.
9145 Davis, W. N.
3761 Dimick, E.
3021 Freeman, A. C.
10611 Grace, W. D.
10853 Harris, A.

10057 Howes, A. F.
10061 Ladd, J. S.
10062 Ladd, W. H.
4278 Neal, A.
3238 Perkins, F. C.
9748 Trickey, W. D.
5662 White H.

New Jersey Division — 109.

3450 Allen, L. H.
6198 Ames, G. J.
8026 Anderson, G. F.
3680 Armeman, J.
3746 Atkinson, C. F.
6648 Badgley, F.
6280 Baggot, E. P.
9109 Barnes, R. H.
12396 Benefict, H. A.
9258 Bettcher, G. L.
3460 Blake, G. H.
2199 Bonnell, F. R.
6561 Bouze, E. E.
3327 Burns, E. F.
9637 Burton, A. J.
3482 Chickering, C. H.
10869 Clark, E. A.
3461 Cobanks, F. E.
1593 Coddington, W. F.
5040 Cole, W. A.
3466 Collard, A., Jr.
10619 Cooper, J., Jr.
9259 Coppinger, C.
7686 Corduer, J. J.
5358 Cornwall, I. W.
6257 Dare, H. B.
8953 Decker, J. F.
3756 Dennis, J. M.
2105 DeWitt, D. G.
6562 Earnshaw, J. I. W.
5673 Edwards, E. I.
10870 Eicke, E. L., Jr.
19 Esterbrook, R., Jr.
10871 Eveland, F.
10620 Ferre, H. C
3467 Fisher, M. F.
11357 Ford, E. J.
5946 Fraser, E. G.
5195 French, A.
9803 Grant, E. R.
2355 Grow, A. R.
7876 Hand, W. S.
10872 Harishorne, H.
3470 Hartmann, J.
9901 Hayward, W. L.
3471 Havens, A. G.
3676 Henning, H.
10873 Herr, R. C.
9115 Hill, W. W.
3161 Jackson, Dr. H.
3473 Jenkins, E. P.
7681 Jenkins, M. C.
10078 Jenkinson, H. D.
1825 Johnson, E. W.

12410 Kiel, A. C.
5959 Kleine, J. J.
3817 Korth, W. C.
4195 Kroech, C. F.
8035 Lee, J. B., Jr.
3479 Lewis, G. Y.
4946 Long, G. E.
6938 Ludlam, P. T.
7622 Lysat, S.
3476 Lyne, L. F.
9260 McAra, R.
3184 Meyers, C. L.
9758 Middleton, A. C.
8560 Molitor, F. A.
9252 More, R., Jr.
10079 Morrison, C.
5937 Mount, J. H.
9251 Mulford, M. B.
3489 Nichols, C.
11081 Parkinson. E. S.
10874 Peters, A.
6817 Ploor, G. J.
10882 Pierson, W. B.
3492 Platt, H. M.
2249 Putnam, S. G.
11838 Reinhold, E.
3493 Reynders, T.
12735 Redman, J. L.
8857 Rowland, E. C.
11191 Salter, W. D.
749 Sayer, D. A.
1418 Segur, W. B.
10921 Shirriff, G. R.
9120 Shipman, W. H.
9892 Sisson, E. H., Jr.
5350 Slater, C. H.
3495 Smith, W. P.
7684 Smith, E. M.
5945 Sneden, R. H.
3504 Soper, F. D.
3508 Soper, C. E.
3497 Stenken, C. A.
6721 Stewart, R. L.
6920 Stokes, J. W.
5944 Sutton, G.
9112 Tenbroek, I. D., Jr.
7688 Thomiar, G. C.
10875 Trantwein, P.
10890 Thompson, A. E.
3510 Uchmann, E.
7686 Weber, A. R.
3511 White, T.
3993 Willever, J. C.
7687 Woodward, W. S.
1850 Young, P.

New York Division — 118.

2177 Alberger, L. R.
6752 Babcock, S. M.
5849 Becker, J. R.
7770 Becker, J. P.
6750 Bennett, J. L.
11441 Betts, R. T.
1007 Bidwell, G. M.
1396 Bingham, W. W.
4793 Bishop, Robert.
1550 Bliss, F. H.
6322 Blessner, H. H.
5979 Borst, C. A
771 Bowen, E. M.
10949 Bovie, F. L.
1162 Brock, W. R.
241 Brown, H. D.
12411 Buttles, E. K.
2517 Calden, G. B.
10937 Carter, A. F.
1235 Chapman, J. L.
4356 Cheesman, F. P.
5182 Clark, W. L.
1475 Coleman, A. G.
10101 Cone. A.
2475 Cooley, A. E.
5171 Cosack, H. Jr.
8240 Crane, S. C.
2012 Davis, F. T.
2377 Derrick, G. W.
3292 Devoe, E. M.
4282 Dods, A. W., M. D.
6053 Doll, J. F
4324 Donaldson, W. E.
2272 Doolittle, J. A.
9915 Duncan, C. H.
10941 Edwards, G. B.
8132 English, E. M.
9135 Fairchild, G. W.
12664 Fales, G. E.
3293 Fauquier, A. E.
7561 Fenton, H. J.
1181 Fox, J. C.
4439 Gates, C. E.
9648 Gibbs, M.
1845 Graves, F. B.
9136 Gurney, I. C.
1431 Hall, H. J.
810 Halleck, S.
12362 Hanvey, W. F.
3057 Hartwell, DeW. C.
5669 Henderson, J. S.
10650 Hoyt, H. L.
12227 Hume, A. K.
493 James, R. H.
5183 Jenkins, A. C.
11108 Johnston, R. W.
10989 Kingman, C. F.
2202 Kissam, W. A., Jr.
1401 Lee, J.

8573 Lewis, G. A.
5184 Lucas, E. J.
9926 Mansfield, R. C.
2408 Maurer, E. F.
6751 Mellen, J. W.
6133 Menge, A. J.
11217 Merrill, W. H.
4499 Metzger, O. I.
8374 Metzger, W. B.
4769 Mirick, F. B., Sr.
4770 Mirick, F. B., Jr.
11296 Montgomery, F. D.
10459 Montgomery, A. M.
6448 Morley, G. L.
12884 McCall, C. W.
10469 McClung, B.
4383 Nichols, E. F.
10903 Oppenheimer, M.
8767 Painter, A. L.
1603 Palmer, R. H.
3046 Paul, D. R.
11450 Peritz, W. E.
1604 Plummer, W. E., Jr.
9090 Powell, H. W.
11691 Putnam, L. W.
5181 Rhenbottom, J. R.
6046 Rhenbottom, H. E.
6749 Rouse, B. E.
12694 Schaaf, A. E.
6774 Schamn, P. H.
11372 Schadermundt, C. A.
11896 Schmidt, F. A.
8455 Schmidt, L. M.
10949 Self. E.
11857 Seymour, E. T.
9775 Shattuck, C. B.
7331 Shelley, H. A.
2138 Southwell, S. C.
2110 Steinbrenner, F. W., Jr.
12072 Stephen, F. J.
11299 Stocum, T. E.
10936 Stadella. W. H.
10472 Taylor, Mrs. A. R.
9963 Taylor, A R.
2271 Taylor, F. R.
7322 Taylor, A.
11565 Taylor, J. H.
11557 Taylor, C.
2119 Terry, G. H.
9177 Thorne, R.
11899 Thornton, G. H.
2403 Wadsworth. H. C.
799 Waldo, R. B.
11982 Walker, H. D.
12907 Ward, C. L.
10097 Washburn, C. A.
1340 Way. T. B.
2011 White, F. W.
6451 Young, P. R.

North Carolina Division — 2.

11727 Bray, C. D.

1174 Burkheimer, H.

Nova Scotia Division — 1.

6173 Clark, J. A.

Ohio Division — 91.

13026 Andrews, C. D.
12562 App, G. H.
1032 Bean, R.
1184 Bechert, E. A.
8696 Bennett, W. A.
9943 Benner, F. M.
11222 Biddle, C. W.
12282 Bigler, C.
12134 Bourgeois, C. A.
7266 Boylan, J. C.
4371 Bradley, L. C.
6910 Calder, W. S.
11649 Carter, G. W.
4120 Christopher, H. I.
5370 Chubb, H. E.
13027 Cochran, J. B.
2506 Collins, W.
6532 Crane, E. I.
1184 Cutter, W. H.
2503 Dickinson, A. F.
3269 Dougherty, Dr. J. F.
6911 Doubet, F. J., M. D.
2483 Dunn, G. J.
2206 Ackis, S. G.
3170 Ellinwood, C. B.

2521 Miesse, L. E.
1598 Moody, M.
7232 Morrow, Dr. E. P.
7014 Mosgrove, W. J.
7130 O'Brien, W. T.
5127 Ochs, H. A.
11026 O'Neill, F.
2492 Ostetine, F. A.
6571 Outcault, C. W.
2062 Packard, W. D.
11093 Patterson, M. J.
1885 Perry, J. W.
1842 Pinkerton, C. E.
1186 Pond, M. S.
12661 Potts, H.
4231 Potter C. H.
1657 Priest, B.
3873 Rice, C. D.
7578 Ricqles, A. E. de.
11223, Rider, H. T.
4373 Ross, T. W.
4935 Ruck, R.
10278 Sabey, T.
6439 Sanderson, F. M.
4227 Sawyer, W. T.

"In a word, a cycle bearing must be in that apparently paradoxical condition, at the same time very tight and very loose: that is, perfectly free to spin, and entirely rigid, allowing no shake in the parts."—Victor Catalog.

IT BEATS THE WORLD!

AND THE WORLD IS HARD TO BEAT.

1405 MILES IN 142 HOURS!!

Ridden by ALBERT SCHOCK, at Minneapolis, in competition with most of the great American professionals.

Mr. Schock writes:—"I am pleased with the Victor in every respect. I soon found it a vast improvement on all other wheels ridden by me."

Victor Wheels are built to ride. Bicycles. Tricycles, Safeties. Catalog free.

OVERMAN WHEEL CO. - - - 182 Columbus Avenue, Boston.

9140 Emerson, G. B.
3362 Eyster, W. N.
12657 Everett, J. A.
8772 Farlin, P. T.
4708 Fleming, G.
8995 Fouser, C. E.
3766 Fry, M. P.
8773 Hackensmith, E. L.
7121 Hale, S. A.
10478 Hayes, S. R.
12767 Hazen, W. L.
5134 Hoskin, C. W.
5146 Iddings F. A.
8576 Julian, J. B.
12565 Kale, S. E.
3040 Kingsbury, S. D.
2214 Kingsbury, R. S.
2216 Kizer, D. T.
6140 Leet. P. C.
1714 McNary, J. W.

12566 Scott, A. R.
11379 Severance, A. D.
6591 Sheets, L.
3222 Spitz, C.
545 Smith, F. M.
4372 Snow, L. V.
11025, Spence, G. L.
11043 Strasser, J. H.
4250 Thackray, G. E.
6590 Tichenor, W. C.
4856 Tischler, J. J.
12500 Tracy, R. A.
2205 Vignos, C. A.
11035 Webb, H. W.
12135 Weidmayer, F.
4122 Weitz, J. A.
12569 Whitworth, H.
10681 Wolf, A. L.
4230 Works, B. G.
8583 Wright, R. W.

Pennsylvania Division — 137.

1219 Albright, H. M.
6211 Altenderfer, E. E.
12739 Atherton, G. W.
12888 Bailey, H.
8792 Banes, B. F.
5574 Bechtel, G. I.
4623 Betts, R. L.
3656 Boyle, S. A.
10700 Bretz. J. S.
9799 Broadbent, E.
12585 Brotherhood, F. G.
5062 Brown, C. M.
6696 Buehler, H. G.
10283 Chambers, J. H.
11614 Chamberlain, F. A.
11057 Chesworth, T.
6074 Clark, R. W.
4654 Corman, C. A. E.
12534 Converse, C.
7046 Cowell, C. H.
7145 Cowan, J. F.
8786 Crawford, C. M.
7269 Crecelius, H. F.
3049 Cruser, W. C.
8625 Darrah, R. P.
10796 Deats, G. C.
2608 Detwiller, J. W.
3678 Donaghy, M.
9408 Dowling, J. D.
11774 Dubbs, J. H.
5575 Eckert, R. R.
2584 Engle, D. D.
11578 Evans, O. H.
12702 Farrell, T. G.
8151 Felt, D. W.
8617 Gehry, A. A.
12731 Gerhard, Dr. M. W.
5587 Glover, J. W.
5577 Graeff, C. C.
6769 Grafly, C., Jr.
12318 Griffith, Rev. H. A.
8626 Grove, D. F.
3642 Harry A. M.
3784 Harris, C. M
7459 Heeneke, F. W.
11035 Hempstead, C. S.
395 Hendel, C. W.
7303 Hendrickson, H. B.
9210 High, H. J.
11065 Hoffman, C. E.
6463 Hollingsworth, G. W.
8396 Housel, W. A.
6411 Hunter, P.
9806 Jarrett, L. P.
6603 Johnson, J. L.
12815 Johnson, H. G.
11068 Kachline, H. W.
2722 Kasson, M.
12718 Kelly, J. S.
1599 King, F. G.
507 Kitchenman, T. D.
5961 Knapp, C. P., M. D.
1222 Koch, W. B.
9313 Kratzer, H. A.
8284 Kuhn, W. F.
11041 Kuhn, W. A.
11070 Kunkle, F. R.
9164 Lanning C. B.
9165 Lanning, H. S.

11506 O'Neil, A.
11108 White, I. B.

West Virginia Division — 4.

7944 Corothers, S. O.
12385 Ebeling, G. H.

12386 Ford, G. M.
10317 Hughes, C. M.

Wisconsin Division — 3.

10167 Meacham, J. C.
1578 Miller, B. K.

4012 Tarbell, E. K.

Rhode Island Division — 9.

1120 Blodgett, E. W.
1135 Boardman, W. H.
2094 Burdick, E. S.
11145 Dawson, J. E.
10519 King, E. E.

12985 Pease, W. S.
10520 Simmons, W. E.
1134 Starkweather, G. M.
5074 Wilbur, R. A.

Texas Division — 1.

5683 Cade, S. I.

Tennessee Division — 3.

546 Garrison, J. R.

9174 Slover, H. K.
13024 Sparks, H. B.

Vermont Division — 14.

5338 Ball, G. F.
6607 Black. C. W
2618 Blakely, J. H.
11180 Chapman, H. B.
7930 Chipman, F. H.
7931 Elliott, H. C.
9974 Gray, H. S.

9679 Headley, C. E.
7033 Hobson, W. L.
5854 Kimball, F. H.
6606 Mitchell, J. T.
7936 Russell, W. T.
7937 Ryder, H. D.
9680 Whiting, G. T.

Virginia Division — 4.

11104 Dodson, W. R.
7762 Ellis, V. P.

IMPORTANT.

The Grand Union Hotel, opposite the Grand Central Depot, New York City is the L. A. W. and C. T. C. Headquarters. European Plan. Rooms, $1.00 per day and upward. First-class Restaurant, at moderate prices. Good care taken of wheels.

FOR SALE, EXCHANGE, ETC.

Advertisements will be inserted in this column as follows: $1.00 for four lines, first insertion; 50 cts. for each subsequent insertion. Extra lines at proportionate rates. About nine words to a line.

NEW YORK WHEELMEN can find good storage for machines, and pleasant dressing-rooms, in immediate vicinity of Riverside and Central Parks and Boulevard, half block from L Station. Call or address, H. WIMMEL, 138 West 104th St., New York.

FOR SALE.—Genuine Beeston Humber Tandem, good as new. Price $200, or will exchange for two Bicycles. J. C. MOTT, 118 Warren St., New York.

SPECIAL BARGAINS in New and Second-Hand Machines, prior to removal April 1st to more central location in Orange. Bicycles, Tricycles, Tandems, and Safeties. No list. Write to us what you want, it will pay you. L. H. JOHNSON, East Orange, N. J.

WANTED FOR CASH, OR IN EXCHANGE FOR NEW MACHINE.—Good second-hand bicycle and tricycle. Give make, finish, style of bearings; state when new, exact condition, bottom price. NEW YORK BICYCLE CO., 38 Park Place.

BARGAIN.—56-inch Expert, dropped bars 32 inches long, lamp, swing spring, suspension saddle, square rubber ball pedals, patent stand, extra handle bars, and spring. All full nickelled and in A1 condition. $100 Good reasons for selling. C. C. MOWTON, 4 Irving Place, New York City.

FOR SALE.—50 inch Royal Mail, balls all around, with ball pedals, and ball-bearing head, cyclometer and bell attached. New last season, never been ridden over three months, and that by an experienced rider. Will sell for $85 cash. Address Box 707, Sharon, Pa.

FOR SALE.—51-inch Star, 58 Royal Mail. Good condition, standard finish. Address P. S. Thomas, Harrisonburg, Va.

A BIG BARGAIN.—a 52-inch Standard Columbia, ball pedals, no signs of use whatever; in fact new; price only $65. W. I. Wilhelm, Reading, Pa.

BARGAINS.—52 inch Victor, good as new, balls all round, $80; 52-inch Rudge, full nickel except wheels, ridden 10 miles, $90; 52-inch Harvard, new last season, a chance at $65; 48-inch Pony Star, good as new, $80; also 58 inch Rudge, Light Roadster, cheap. correspondence solicited. Crowther & Potter, Reading, Pa.

FOR SALE.—56-inch 1886 pattern Royal Mail. Not ridden five miles. Best offer over $95.00 takes it. JUDGE NOYES, La Porte, Ind.

The Jersey Fitting Underwear Co.

Manufacture a large variety of

JERSEY FITTING GARMENTS,

For Men, Women and Children.

We call the special attention of

BICYCLE RIDERS

To our

TIGHTS AND JERSEYS.

Full Tights, Knee Tights, Knee Pants.

A New Thing,

TRUNKS & KNEE PANTS

For Lady Cycle Riders.

TRADE MARK BOYS' TIGHTS AND JERSEYS.

We manufacture the best Fitting Bicycle and Lawn Tennis Jersey in the country, and commend every one to examine these goods before buying any others. Each garment bears our trade-mark, and is indorsed by the best manufacturers of Bicycles and Professional Riders. We invite dealers to examine these goods.

Send for Circular. We send samples to any responsible party in the country.

HOLMES & CO.

17 Kingston Street, Boston, Mass.

SPADE HANDLES!

Handsomest, Strongest, and best Handles in the Market.

Only $3.50.

WE HAVE THEM TO FIT ANY CYCLE MADE.

C. W. SPINNEY - - Fitchburg, Mass.

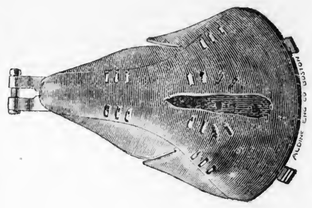
ST. LOUIS WHEEL CO.

Difficult Repairing a Specialty.

Enamelling, Nickelling, Etc. at Lowest Prices

LARGEST STOCK OF SECOND-HAND BICYCLES in the WEST. WRITE FOR LIST.

THE TOWNSEND
Combination Spring and Saddle.
STODDARD, LOVERING & CO., Boston, Mass.



It is light. It is easy. It does not chafe. Try it. It fits any machine. Thoroughly ventilated. It does not sag or get out of shape. It combines the advantages of every saddle extant. It is fitted to all RUDGE machines.

PRICE, $6.00.

SOLE U. S. AGENTS,

STODDARD, LOVERING & CO.,

152 Congress St., Boston, Mass.

FOR SALE.—58-inch Expert Columbia, full nickelled, ball bearing, all sound, including pedals, D. G. cow horn bars, spade handles, and Butcher's Cyclometer (hub). Tires cut some, about 8 spokes stained with rust, otherwise good as new. Price, $100.

50-inch Standard Columbia, full nickelled, except rims P. B., in excellent condition. $50.

50-inch Standard Columbia, cone bearing, new tires, perch and forks nicely nickelled. $45.

50-inch Harvard, forks and perch nickelled, with New Expert wheels and ball bearings. $85.

60-inch Special Columbia, ball bearing to front wheel, full nickelled. Price, $40.

52-inch Expert, full nickelled and bearings, cow horn bars. Price, $75.

Cradle Springs, $3; Long Distance Saddles, $1 and $2; Hill & Talman's, $3; bells, $1.50; Expert, Straight Handle Bars, $75—cost new, $125. McDonnel Cyclometer, $2—cost new, $4.

If you are in want of any sundries or parts, send to Spead and get his prices. JAS. A. SPEAD, South Newmarket, N. H.

DEALERS!

We manufacture TOOL BAGS, equal to English, and cheaper. Write to us.

McCOY & WILLIAMS, Orange, N. J.

BARGAINS!

Now is the time to buy Second-Hand Bicycles. Send size and price you wish to pay. Prices low. Send for Catalogue of the New Rapid.

WM. M. FRISBIE & CO.

P. O. Drawer 64. New Haven, Conn.

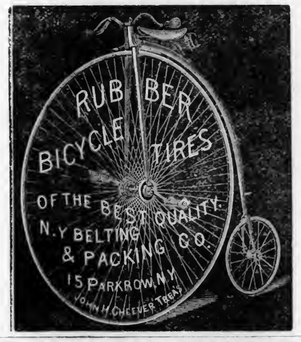
STEEL BALLS FOR ANTI-FRICTION BEARINGS.
OF BEST CAST-STEEL.
HARDENED, GROUND, AND BURNISHED.
3-16" to 3" diam. Samples and prices on application.
SIMONDS ROLLING-MACHINE COMPANY, Fitchburg, Mass.

BROOKLYN RIDERS

TAKE YOUR WHEELS TO

SCHWALBACH & WILLDIGG,

PROSPECT PARK PLAZA,



AND HAVE THEM OVERHAULED.

Call and inspect the

WHEEL OF PERFECTION, THE NEW MAIL.

REPAIRS.

☞ Send postal card and have us call for Repairs.

SALESMEN WANTED!!

SALARY and EXPENSES PAID!!

For terms and particulars address (mention this paper),
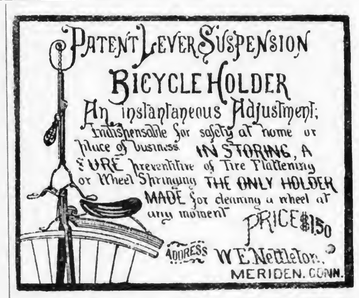
W. R. McNARY & CO., Nurserymen, Dayton, O.

BICYCLE AND GYMNASIUM GOODS.

THE KINGSTON KNITTING CO.



No. 27 Kingston Street - - - - Boston, Mass.

)o(

Manufacture from the Finest Worsted Stock all of the latest novelties in Jerseys, Guernseys, Knee Tights, Full Bodied Tights, Hosiery, etc., and in all the Popular Colors—in Plain, Striped Trimmed.

We make a specialty in these Garments, and our prices are very reasonable. We refer to a large number of wheelmen, and who use our goods.

ORDERS SOLICITED.

Patented 1881

L. A. W. BADGES.

For Gold Pins of the Official Design, send direct to

CHAS. H. LAMSON,

177 Middle St., Portland, Me.

The Designer and Sole Authorized Maker.

Price for handsome Solid Gold Pins (stone centres) $3.50, $5.00, $7.00, and $8.00, according to finish and fineness (kt.) of gold. Diamond Badges, $15.00 to $50.00 for the larger pins, and $10.00 to $30.00 for the small size. Send for circular free. Orders by mail, inclosing money order and League number, will receive prompt attention.

Also for sale in New York at M. J. Paillard & Co.'s, 680 Broadway; in Philadelphia by H. B. Hart, 811 Arch St.; in Boston by The Pope Mfg. Co.; in Chicago by The John Wilkinson Co.; in Newark, N. J., by Howard Smith & Co.; in Minneapolis by T. E. Heath & Co.; and in San Francisco by Osborn & Alexander.

New Style H.

BROWNING, KING & CO.

406, 408, 410, and 412 Broome St., New York.

THE ONLY OFFICIAL CONTRACTORS FOR THE

LEAGUE ✠ UNIFORM.

LIST OF PRICES.

Plaited Blouse, $9.50; Knee Breeches, $6.00; Suit, $15.50. Regulation League Cloth, made by the Middlesex Mills, cost $2.00 per yard. League Buttons, large size, 5 cents each; small size, 2 1-2 cents each. Full set for suit, 55 cents.

TERMS.

All uniforms or parts of uniforms sent C. O. D., with privilege of examination. All orders for cloth or buttons must be accompanied by Money Order. Blank forms for self-measurement furnished on Application. Orders for L. A. W. Goods will be received at any of our branch stores, as follows:

136 and 138 Madison St., 144 to 148 Clark Street, 76 and 78 West Fourth St., Cincinnati, Ohio. } CHICAGO, ILL.

210 and 212 N. Broadway, St. Louis, Mo.
Wisconsin and E. Water St., Milwaukee, Wis.
910 and 912 Chestnut St., Phila., Pa.

All orders must be accompanied by League number.

ORDER AT ONCE AND SAVE DELAYS.

Ira Perego—Official Outfitter to the L. A. W.

These goods are of the best quality, fully up to the standard, and the prices have been reduced, as note the following:

THE REGULATION CLOTH HELMET.

THIS article of head-wear has been so generally worn as to need no special description. It is made in a very substantial manner, with ventilated sides and corrugated sweat band. The price last year was $1.75; this year the price is $1.50. The helmet cannot be sent by mail, as it is liable to injury.

THE REGULATION CLOTH VISOR CAP.

THIS cap gave the utmost satisfaction last year, and, anticipating a large call for them this year, they have been made up in large orders, so as to allow a reduction in price, but still hold to the past excellence. The price of the regulation cap is now $1.50. This cap can be sent by mail, and 10 cents extra must be sent for postage.

League

THE NEW L. A. W. BELT.

THIS is something new, and has just been placed on the market, receiving great favor. The "S" clasp and trimmings are silvered, with the letters L. A. W. embossed on the clasp; the web is of silk, and combines strength and lightness. A uniform can hardly be called complete without one. The price is $1.00 by mail, post-paid.

Outfits.

REGULATION HOSE.

THESE are the best goods of foreign manufacture, and it is a pleasure to announce an important reduction in the price. A large order has been placed with the English manufacturers who make them exclusively for our trade. The finest worsted is used, and special care given to make a strong, serviceable article; and the price at which they are sold cannot be approached. Price per pair, $1.10, post-paid.

REGULATION FLANNEL SHIRT.

not a complaint was heard.

MADE wih turn-down collar, pocket and sleeves, cut on the same style as a coat sleeve, so as to be moderately tight fitting, and not clumsy or in the way. Great care is exercised in the manufacture, and they are thoroughly substantial, as their wearing qualities were thoroughly tested last year, and Price, $2.25.

All orders must be accompanied by money order, with full name and League number.

Ira Perego 128 and 130 Fulton St., N. Y.

TWO LEADERS!

THE "NEW RAPID."

FULL ROADSTER, 50-inch, 40 pounds.

LIGHT ROADSTER, 50-inch, 36 pounds.

ROVER PATTERN SAFETY.

All with TRUE TANGENT WHEELS.

THE "QUADRANT" TRICYCLES.

No. 8 FOR GENTLEMEN. No. 14 FOR LADIES.

No. 15 TANDEM,

For Two Gentlemen, Two Ladies, or Lady and Gentleman.

BICYCLE STEERING FRONT AND BACK.

You will do wrong if you order your new mount before seeing these machines or reading our catalogue, which illustrates and describes them and their IMPROVEMENTS FOR 1887.

SAMUEL T. CLARK & CO. - - - BALTIMORE, MD.

BEFORE YOU BUY A BICYCLE

Of any kind, send stamp to

A. W. GUMP - - DAYTON, OHIO,

For large Illustrated Price-List of New and Second-hand machines. Second-hand Bicycles taken in exchange and bought for cash.

Largest Stock of Second-Hand Bicycles in America.

BICYCLES REPAIRED AND NICKEL-PLATED.

A. W. GUMP, Dayton, Ohio.

SECOND-HAND GUNS TAKEN IN EXCHANGE FOR BICYCLES.

THE SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER,

MANUFACTURED BY THE

SPRINGFIELD BICYCLE MANUFACTURING COMPANY,

(YOSTE & McCUNE PATENTS),

19 PEARL STREET - - - - BOSTON.

The only absolutely safe wheel against "Headers" made. It is the best, and it is also the cheapest. Do not buy a wheel before you see the Springfield Roadster. Coasting without danger. Hill-climbing to perfection. Invented by riders of experience.

PRICE, COMPLETE, $75.00.

JOHN P. LOVELL'S SONS, 147 Washington Street, Boston, Sole Agents for New England.

THE "NEW AMERICAN" TRICYCLE,

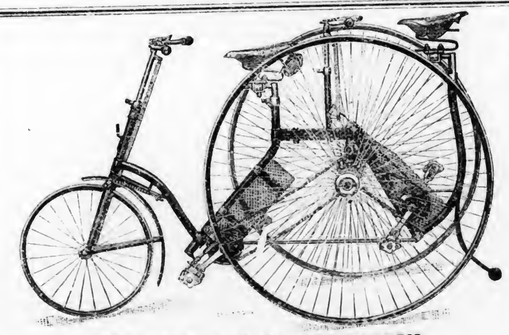
639 ARCH STREET, PHILADELPHIA.

We make but one style of machine, and that the BEST. There are NO EXTRAS.

NO DEAD CENTRES. FULL POWER UTILIZED. CLIMBS ANY HILL.

The best machine for ladies, as there are no revolving pedals to catch the skirts. The only Tricycle that can be ridden equally well by lady or gentleman, grown person or child.

Either Rider Can Steer.



May be Ridden by Two Ladies.

Has Automatic Steering.

Reduces in Width to 27 Inches.

Has Folding Handle Bar for Easy Access to Front Seat.

Is the Most Unique Machine of its Class.

THE CUNARD CONVERTIBLE TANDEM.

CUNARD

BICYCLES,
TRICYCLES,
TANDEMS,
SAFETIES.

D. ROGERS & CO.

SOLE U. S. AGENTS,

75 Clinton Avenue - - Newark, N. J.

Catalogues Free.

COPY OF TESTIMONIAL FROM T. J. KIRKPATRICK, Esq., VCIE-PRESIDENT OF THE L. A. W.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Jan. 11, 1887.

D. ROGERS & COMPANY,

GENTLEMEN: — Respecting the Cunard Tandem, I have to say that it is, beyond question, the best tandem yet produced. Its compactness, ease of handling, light running, safety, and the ease with which it may be mounted or dismounted, by either a lady or gentleman, leave nothing to be desired. Its folding handle bar, and the fact that it can be quickly and readily taken through a common door, are features which make the machine a pleasure. I have owned other tandems, but this is the only one that was worth house-room as a convertible machine. I find it a perfect machine, in perfect balance, either as a single or a tandem. I have sought carefully, for some three years now, for the best tandem, and have given the matter a great deal of thought and attention, and if asked to-day to suggest an improvement in the design and arrangement of the Cunard, I would be free to say that it is as nearly perfect as this type of machine ever will be.

Yours truly, [Signed] T. J. KIRKPATRICK.

SEND YOUR ORDERS AT ONCE FOR SPRING DELIVERY, AND DON'T GET LEFT.

ACTIVE AND RESPONSIBLE AGENTS WANTED.

Send for list of shopworn machines, which must be sold to make room for spring stock.

Before purchasing your Mount for this Year, see the Celebrated

"ROVER" BICYCLE.

FITTED WITH EVERY POSSIBLE IMPROVEMENT.

FASTER THAN A BICYCLE.

SAFER THAN A TRICYCLE.

The "ROVER" BICYCLE,
As ridden by the Right Honorable Viscount Bury, President of the National Cyclists' Union.

No Skidding or Side-Slipping on Greasy Roads

And no Fear of Falls.

Starley's New Patent Spring Fork is now ready, whereby entire insulation from shocks is obtained in handles, pedals and seat.
This fork can also be applied to any tricycle.
Price lists, testimonials, etc. (including one from Viscount Bury, which every rider should read), post free.
Complete catalogue of all our machines, two stamps.

STARLEY & SUTTON, Meteor Works - - Coventry, England.

How to Join the L. A. W.

Fill up the blank in the adjoining column and, together with TWO DOLLARS, send it to the Secretary of the League,

ABBOT BASSETT,

22 School Street, Boston, Mass.

Write your full name, your full address, and your club name in full.

WRITE VERY PLAINLY.

THE LEAGUE DEFINES AN AMATEUR AS FOLLOWS.

ARTICLE V. SECTION 4.—An amateur is one who has never engaged in, nor assisted in, nor taught cycling, nor any recognized athletic exercise for money, or other remuneration, nor knowingly competed with or against a professional for a prize of any description.

To prevent any misunderstanding in interpreting the above, the League draws attention to the following explanation: A cyclist ceases to be an amateur by:—

"(a) Engaging in cycling, or any other recognized athletic exercise, or personally teaching, training, or coaching any person therein, either as a means of obtaining a livelihood, or for a stated bet, money prize, or gate money.

"(b) Competing with, or pace-making for, or having the pace made by a professional in public or for a prize.

"(c) Selling, realizing upon, or otherwise turning into cash, prize won by him.

"(d) Accepting, directly or indirectly, any remuneration, compensation, or expenses whatever, from a cycle manufacturer, agent, or other person interested in the trade or sport for cycle riding.

"(e) This rule does not apply to the teaching of the elements of bicycling solely for the purpose of effecting the sale of a bicycle.

"The League recognizes as athletic exercises all the sports under the jurisdiction of the National Association of Amateur Athletes of America, viz., running, walking, jumping, pole leaping, putting the shot, throwing the hammer, throwing of weights, tug of war, and also rowing, boxing, sparring, lacrosse, polo, roller, and ice skating."

Application for Membership in the L. A. W.

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary-Editor,
22 School Street, Boston, Mass.

Dear Sir:

Inclosed you will find $2.00 for initiation fee and annual dues in the League of American Wheelmen. I hereby certify that I am over 18 years of age, and that I am an amateur within the meaning of the definition printed herewith. I refer to the persons named below.

Signed, ...

Club, ... Residence, .....

City and State, ... Date, .....

REFERENCES: .....

.....

.....

(Each Applicant must give as references the names of two L. A. W. members or three reputable citizens.)

The Sensation of 1887!

ABSOLUTE PERFECTION!!

The Latest American High Grade Wheel,

THE NEW MAIL.

A Perfectly Made Light Roadster.

Ask your Dealer to show it.

See one before purchase.

BALL HEAD.
"PERFECTION" BACKBONE AND FORKS.
SPADE HANDLES.
SQUARE RUBBERS.
NARROW TREAD.
SPOKES WOUND SEVEN TIMES.
CLOSE-FITTING BRAKE.
HARWOOD'S ADJUSTABLE STEP.
NEW KIRKPATRICK SADDLE.
GOOD RAKE.
A HANDSOME WHEEL.
SPOKES NICKELLED UP TO INTERSECTION.
NOTE THE SYMMETRY.

With our Specialty
Trigwell's Ball Head.

Extract from a London letter to the L. A. W. Bulletin, Jan. 8, 1887.

Speaking of manufacturers with "big stock" crying down Improvements, a firm introduced a ball-bearing head, put it on their own machines, and induced one or two other firms to adopt it. What a howl went up from the big stock people! They pooh-poohed it right and left; they wrote and talked it down, and tried in every way to smother it—but it would not down. It grew steadily in public favor, until this year it is recognized as a sine qua non to a strictly first grade bicycle, and those who do not have ball heads will not rank among the highest grade mounts. Of course the extra cost of construction will preclude its being used on second grade machines, but that it is a vast improvement over the Stanley head, with cone or hemispherical centres, however true and well hardened, is a fact that the experience of 1886 has settled beyond a peradventure of a doubt.

For the past four years, as is well known, we have been importers of high grade English bicycles and tricycles, and have controlled the product and been sole agents for the sale of the celebrated "Royal Mail." We think it has been conceded by wheelmen that this latter has been, in proportions and style, the handsomest wheel in the market, while the fact that it has been taken as a model by other manufacturers bears out this claim. While preserving the model (and we ask the reader to glance at the cut and notice the symmetry we speak of), yet in order to get stricter and more perfect interchangeability of parts and absolutely perfect construction throughout, which can only be obtained by accurate machinery, we have decided to manufacture our wheels in this country, and now offer, together with Royal Mails, THE LATEST AMERICAN WHEEL,

THE NEW MAIL,

Made by the finest machinery of the Ames Manufacturing Company, of Chicopee, Mass., who have long been bicycle manufacturers. They are built under our OWN SUPERVISION, and, from their experience coupled with our own, we offer our light roadster for 1887 as the most perfect machine yet made. Every detailed part has been constructed with the greatest nicety and all are Strictly Interchangeable. In fact, a

PERFECT WHEEL.

We ask careful consideration of the distinctive features of the "NEW MAIL," as it has, for the coming season, improvements possessed by no other bicycle.

WM. READ & SONS, BOSTON.

HEAD. — Trigwell's Ball Head, as used by us last year, and which proved so great a Success. We consider it the Greatest Modern Improvement on bicycles, and we have received testimonials from all over the country in its favor. Its merits consist in smooth and perfect steering, lack of wear, and the great rigidity it gives the whole wheel. The steering must be Tried to be Appreciated, — it is Perfect. Its wearing qualities are such that the wheel can be run 1200 to 1500 miles without adjustment of the head, and one oiling lasts three months. It is needless to contrast this with the action of the cone head, which, every wheelman knows from experience, requires adjustment every few miles. It gives GREAT ADDITIONAL RIGIDITY, as with it a PERFECT bearing in the head can be obtained, and the whole wheel rendered solid; whereas, in the cone head the instant the head is tight it "sticks" and is useless, while the Ball Head can be tightened to a great degree before any tendency to stick is observed. We have had only the most perfect success with this Head in the great quantity of machines we have sold. There are many patterns of Ball Heads, but the Trigwell is the only one which can be taken apart without the balls falling out with the liability of being lost. We were the first to use the ball head, and we consider the Trigwell the only one of merit, and our experience of a whole year has borne out our opinion of it. We offer it as the most important improvement made in bicycles of late years. And we wish to impress on wheelmen the fact that the Trigwell Head, controlled by us, is the best, and in fact the only one which has had an extensive use and test, and this too on our machines.

A SPLENDID, COMMON-SENSE IMPROVEMENT.

BACKBONE. — Warwick's Perfection pattern, new this year. It is well known that in all machines backbones are liable to and do break, causing bad accidents. The place of breakage is usually if not wholly at the upper end, under the saddle, where is the greatest strain. We have adopted Warwick's new pattern backbone, which has greater thickness of metal at the large, or neck end, and tapers thinner to the small end; thus obtaining a stouter and stronger backbone, with no danger of breakage, while there is no increase in weight. Also, we preserve the Oval shape, as in the "Royal Mail," which is handsomer and stiffer than the round.

FORKS. — Warwick's "Perfection," having the same construction as the backbone, viz., thicker at the large end and tapering or decreasing in thickness at the small end. This gives very strong rigid forks.

BEARINGS. — Bown's Æolus Ball Bearings, — the best.

CRANKS. — Detachable, with 5 1-4 to 6 inch throw.

PEDALS. — Ball, with square, corrugated rubbers, conforming to the foot.

SPOKES. — 72 True Tangent, tied at intersection and wound seven times, as well as brazed, — no other wheel does this. A single tie often becomes loose like a ring and rattles. Our winding never parts but keeps the whole wheel rigid, and in fact acts like a large hub flange with short spokes. Spokes can be tightened, if necessary through accidents, from the outside, it not being necessary to remove the rubber tire. A washer inside the rim prevents the spoke loosening.

RIM. — Warwick's best, with thickened bottom and joint inside. The whole outside of rim is smooth, no seam. This is a great advantage, as a seam outside looks bad and is liable to open.

TIRE. — Finest rubber, cemented.

HANDLE-BARS. — Detachable, very easily put in place or detached by means of two simple nuts each side of head. We offer it as the simplest and handsomest detachable handle bar in the market.

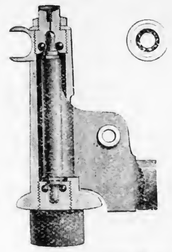
SADDLE. — Kirkpatrick, new style.

TOOL BAG. — Handy.

STEP. — Harwood's adjustable.

RAKE. — From 1 1-2 to 2 1-4 inches. We have a good rake in our wheel, as it makes them safer and less liable to headers.

HANDLES. — Spade handles, adjustable.



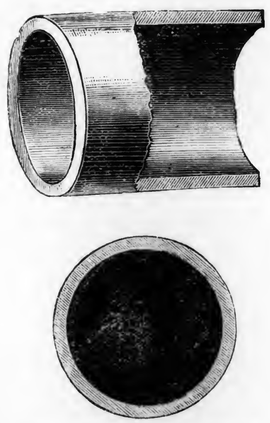
FINISH. — Finest jet black enamel, with bright parts, as head, bars, hubs, cranks, step, etc. nickelled. Also, spokes are nickelled from the hub to their intersection, giving a very Handsome Appearance.

It will thus be seen that this wheel has all the latest improvements, and we include Spade Handles, Square, Rubber Ball Pedals and the now noted Trigwell Ball Head at the price. In fact no other wheel made has the same. We ask an inspection before deciding on your selection for the coming year. See it or send stamp for full descriptive illustrated catalogue, showing all parts in detail, ready March 10.

SEND 14 CENTS IN STAMPS FOR FINE PHOTOGRAPH OF NEW MAIL.

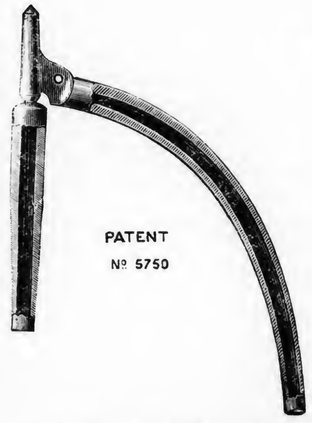
OUR SPECIALTY

THE GENUINE TRIGWELL BALL-BEARING HEAD



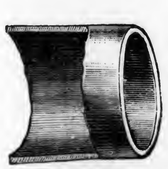
1000 MILES WITHOUT OILING OR ADJUSTMENT.
PERFECT RIGIDITY AND EASE OF STEERING.
ENTHUSIASTIC TESTIMONIALS.
IN USE WITH GREAT APPROVAL.

Wheelmen are aware that, ordinarily, constant watching and tightening up of the Head is necessary, owing to the wearing of the cones by friction. In this Ball Head the cones move on the balls smoothly, without wear, and ONE ADJUSTMENT serves for a very long time — for months, in fact — and no loosening nor setting up is necessary. There being no friction, OILING IS RARELY NEEDED. These heads are made by the finest machinery, all perfectly alike and beautifully finished, every part mathematically true, and

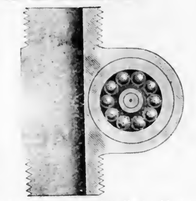


ALL PARTS INTERCHANGEABLE.

PERFECTION BACKBONE and FORKS.

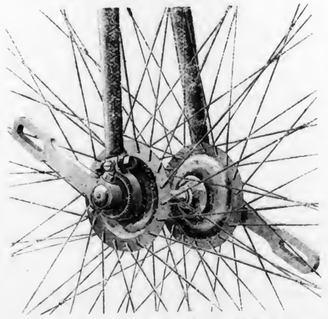


Sectional and end view, showing strengthened neck end of Backbone.



PATENT
№ 5750

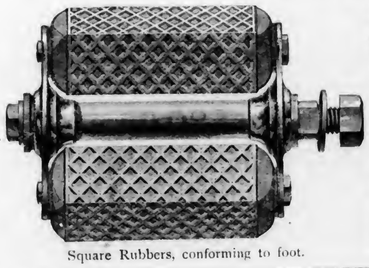
Sectional view, showing Backbone and Forks when made up.



Sectional and end view of back fork end of Backbone.

Arrangement of Balls in Head.

Close Fitting Dust Shield. No side screws. Very neat.



This cut shows the NEW MAIL system of tying its Tangent Spokes at intersections. UNLIKE ANY OTHER! Tied as well as brazed, and wound seven times, giving great strength and rigidity to whole wheel. Impossible for Spokes to separate or rattle. True Tangent Spokes, 72 in number. DETACHABLE CRANKS, 5 to 6 in. throw.

Notice the smooth outside of this rim.

Warwick's New Hollow Rim, with thickened bottom. Seamless and perfectly smooth outside. Cemented Tire.

Square Rubbers, conforming to foot.

Agents Wanted in every Town

MANUFACTURERS.

WILLIAM READ & SONS,

107 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

Good Agents Wanted Everywhere.

Send Stamp for Circulars.

How is this for a line of Wheels, Gentlemen? We think it about fills the bill, and our prices, mind you, are reasonable.

THE AMERICAN CHAMPION, with many improvements, such as a superior crank fastening, which dispenses with use of a hammer, new bearings that are adjustable without loosening a screw even. Price, for 48-inch, $100.00.

THE AMERICAN LIGHT CHAMPION, a light roadster of highest possible grade, with a ball-bearing head, true tangent wheels, and embodying many novel and peculiarly useful inventions. Price, for 48-inch, $115.00.

THE AMERICAN CHALLENGE, much improved and fitted with cow-horn bars, as formerly the best machine on the market for the money. Price, for 48-inch, $70.00.

THE AMERICAN SAFETY, sold last year under our positive guaranty that it was the easiest running bicycle in the world, improved wherever possible. Price, for 40-inch, $74.00.

THE AMERICAN LIGHT SAFETY, after the lines of the regular Safety, but made hollow wherever possible, and will be sold under a guaranty as to its superiority over all other bicycles in easy running. Price, for 40-inch, $115.00.

THE AMERICAN IDEAL, as heretofore, the only high grade and honestly constructed boys' bicycle in the world. Finished in black, with artistic real gold stripes. Price, from $25.00 to $60.00.

THE AMERICAN IDEAL TRICYCLE, two-track, the young ladies' companion to the bicycle of same name, a really beautiful little three-wheeler, in two sizes, 30 and 34 inches. Price, $40.00 and $50.00.

THE AMERICAN CHALLENGE TRICYCLE, two-track, a high grade and honestly constructed three-wheeler, in two sizes, 42 and 44 inches. Price, $80.00 and $95.00.

THE AMERICAN IDEAL TANDEM, a convertible two-track for boys and girls, in two sizes, 30 and 34 inches. Price, $60.00 and $75.00.

THE AMERICAN CHALLENGE TANDEM, a convertible two-track for ladies and gentlemen, in two sizes, 42 and 46 inches. Price, $120.00 and $135.00.

1887 Catalogue, containing detailed description of the foregoing Cycles, will be ready early in March, and will be mailed on application.

RESPECTFULLY SUBMITTED,

GORMULLY & JEFFERY MF'G CO., Chicago, Ill.

THE L. A. W. BULLETIN

THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN: PUBLISHED WEEKLY: A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA.

$1.00 A YEAR. 3 CENTS PER COPY. | BOSTON, MARCH 11, 1887. | VOL. IV. No. 10. WHOLE NUMBER, 89.

THE SEASON OF 1887.

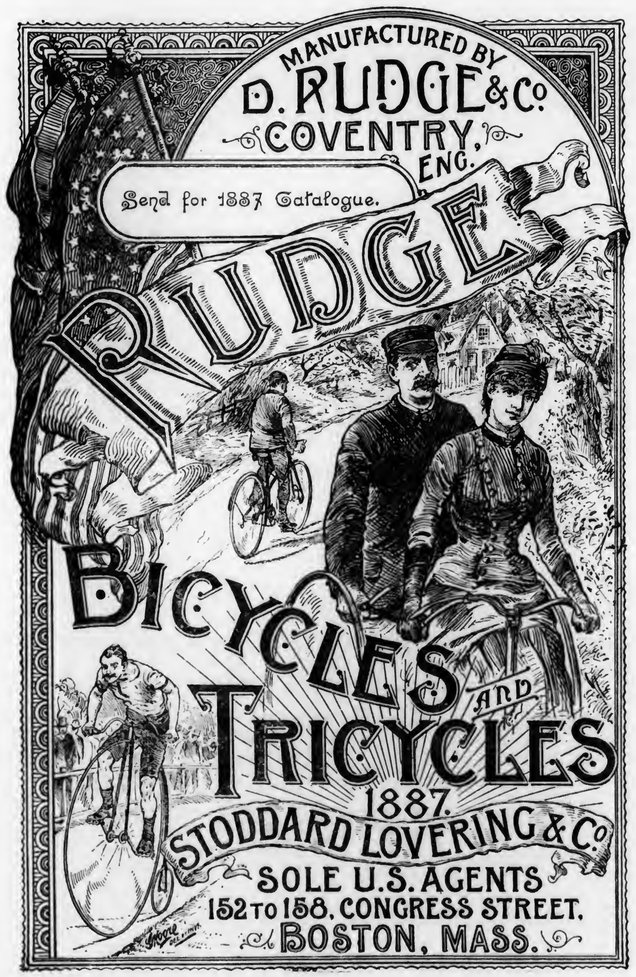
THE COLUMBIA CATALOGUE

NOW READY.

Fifty-Two Pages, Forty-Eight Engravings. Free by Mail upon Application.

Expert
Light Roadster
Standard
Safety
Semi-Roadster
Racer

COLUMBIA BICYCLES.



COLUMBIA TRICYCLES.

Two-Track
Ladies' Two-Track.
Tandem.
Racing.

POPE MFG. CO.,

79 FRANKLIN STREET - - BOSTON, MASS.

Branch Houses: 12 Warren St., New York, 291 Wabash Ave., Chicago.

The L. A. W. BULLETIN.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY

ABBOT BASSETT,

SECRETARY-EDITOR,

For the Executive Committee of the League of American Wheelmen,

AT THE L. A. W. OFFICE,

22 SCHOOL STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

P. O. BOX 5276.

Entered at the Post-Office as Second-Class Matter.

SINGLE COPIES - - - - - - - -	3 CENTS.
SUBSCRIPTION PRICE TO OTHER THAN LEAGUE MEMBERS,	$1.00 A YEAR.
CLUBS OF FIVE - - - - - - -	$4.00 "

A. MUDGE & SON, PRINTERS, 24 FRANKLIN ST., BOSTON.

Subscribers should be careful to notify the EDITOR promptly of any change in their address. Great care is taken with the mailing list. Failure to receive THE BULLETIN may usually be traced to carelessness on the part of the subscriber.

All matter for publication, whether reading or advertising matter, should be addressed to the EDITOR. All checks should be made payable to his order.

Reading matter, to insure publication in the following issue, must be in the EDITOR'S hands not later than Saturday afternoon; advertisements not later than Monday morning.

The EDITOR must in all cases have the full name and address of the authors of contributed articles, as a guarantee of good faith. As the Executive Committee has decided that it is best to discourage the use of assumed names by writers for THE BULLETIN, the EDITOR will publish the author's name unless particularly requested not to do so.

AT the time of writing, the League office is still without its books and its files, and the important business of the League is at a standstill during the very busiest period of the year. Never before were so many renewals to be entered, and never before has there been such a complicated plan of election; and, added to these, comes the legal proceedings which prevent us from employing the resources of the League for the expedition of business. We are, however, making some progress, and we hope to emerge from the sea of difficulties very soon. The greatest delay will be in the issuing of tickets. It will be several weeks before we get those all out, for they have not yet come to us from Philadelphia.

IN this issue we give to the members of the League the long-promised report of the Executive Committee. That Committee has come in for no little abuse from the cycling press, and from the friends of Messrs. Aaron and Wells, and what they have to say should be carefully read and considered.

THE voting blanks for the annual election of officers are now going out. Each blank will state on its face just how many representatives the voter is entitled to vote for, and it would seem impossible that many mistakes can be made. The ballots must be returned on or before April 10th, the day of closing the polls, or they will not be counted.

THE tables in another column show that we had a membership of 8271 on March 1st. In addition to this there can be counted three hundred more applicants whose names have been published. Not so bad a showing.

A STATEMENT BY THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

To the Board of Officers and Members of the League of American Wheelmen:

GENTLEMEN, — The January meeting of the Board of Officers was the climax toward which certain affairs of the ex-secretary had been rising for several months prior thereto. The knowledge of these affairs has been diffused in a more or less imperfect way. That the membership may become aware of our motives in dealing with the facts of the case, that the truth of this lamentable condition of things may be known, and that the falsity of many statements of the interested parties may be exhibited, is the object of this special report, produced by the exigencies of the situation at the demand of many members of the organization, and especially in response to the demand of the Pennsylvania Division, made at its meeting in Philadelphia.

As a preface to our narrative, we wish to call your attention to an incident or two which occurred before the culmination of events in June last, and indicated, as we now perceive, that coming events cast their shadows before. Those who were present at the New York meeting in February, 1886, will remember the questions put to the ex-secretary about his method of keeping his accounts, and the answers which were made to those questions. Reference to the printed report of that meeting will afford food for thought of great significance in the light of subsequent events (see BULLETIN Vol. II., p. 216–218).

Without taking up space to quote at length, a fair summary of that discussion is that the ex-secretary was unable to balance his cash, owing to the supposed peculiarity of the business of his office and the consequent inapplication to his accounts of ordinary commercial rules. The matter was not subjected to investigation, but the fact that it had excited inquiry was noticeable, and indicated a feeling or desire to scrutinize more closely than theretofore the accounts of the ex-secretary. A more active spirit of inquiry appeared at the next meeting in Boston, in May last. The comments upon the delay in settling with the divisions were animated, doubt was raised whether the secretary had accounted for all funds due the treasurer, and suspicion, at least, expressed as to the existence of the funds with which he was chargeable. Mr. John A. Wells, of Philadelphia, represented the ex-secretary, and was acting secretary in his absence on account of supposed sickness. He underwent the fire of questioning, his replies were satisfactory, and his positive statements removed the apparent uneasiness as to our financial condition.

A portion of the remarks have become so important by recent occurrences, that we quote them at length from the report (see BULLETIN Vol. II., p. 536, 1st column, June 11, 1886): —

"SECRETARY. — Mr. President, I would simply state that the accounts of all the different divisions to the treasurer of the League had been made out prior to and prepared ready for mailing the night before the secretary went away on his trip South, and he told his clerk that he was going to mail the accounts and checks that evening. I have not been able to find why he has not done so. He has the money in bank, but he left me no power of attorney on that bank, and no instructions to make settlements. I was simply left in charge of the BULLETIN.

"Mr. SLOCUM. — So that, as I understand it, the money is all ready to be paid off, and, on account of the ill health of the secretary in going away, it has not been done?

"PRESIDENT. — Precisely. That is the idea.

"Mr. PARSONS. — I would like to ask if the secretary can tell us the amount now standing in the bank, — the balance that belongs to the League?

"Mr. WELLS. — I would state here that the secretary has two bank accounts, — one, the secretary's account of membership, and the other the BULLETIN account. The balance on hand in the National Bank of the Republic to the credit of the secretary is $602.75, as is shown in the balance sheet here. The balance on hand in the Provident Life and Trust Company is $3,835.50.

The result of the discussion was that we, as your executive committee, were directed to prepare a report, showing the exact financial condition of the secretary's office. In passing, we desire to call attention to two events, which possibly may have been unnoticed, but which indicated like straws, could one only foresee with the same precision that one looks back, how the wind blew in the vicinity of Philadelphia. A congratulatory telegram was received from the ex-secretary, dated May 26, and purporting to be have been sent from Asheville, N, C. (see same BULLETIN, p. 533), and yet while this message might have led us to believe that he was then recuperating among the mountains, Mr. Wells (see p. 536, 2d column) said that he had returned or was expected to return to Philadelphia on that day. The air of the Carolinian heights apparently possessed active restorative powers.

While we were arranging for our investigations, we were appalled by the President laying before us a letter just received by him from the ex-secretary. Premising that the first two paragraphs relate to appointments not pleasing to the latter, and suggested his desire (not then manifested for the first or last time) to exercise the functions both of secretary and president, we allow the communication to speak for itself: —

506 WALNUT STREET, ROOM 10.
PHILADELPHIA, 6, 16, 1886.

My dear Doctor, — Your telegram was received early yesterday morning; you letter has not yet arrived. Of course, if you have committed yourself, that ends the matter, and I have only to ask you as a friend to believe me when I said that the letter sent in such haste was written for the good of the L. A. W., as I understand it. I naturally think that my position gives me a good chance to compare men's professions and their actions as far as the League is concerned. I am quite certain that the chairman of the R. and R. Committee is neither a true friend of the L. A. W.'s, nor is he a friend of you. Of the latter I am in possession of (and have yet) positive proof.

But I suppose I must bottle my wrath — at the outcome of affairs — not at you, pray understand me, for I recognize that what you have done has been done with the best intentions of furthering the good of the L. A. W. My own special feelings in this matter shall not influence me at present, and I will do my best to take it all with a good grace. It is, however, a bitter pill down here, and words of sedition and rebellion are not uncommon among the members. But these I hope to be able to quiet.

So much for that — now to a much more important and serious matter, which I terribly dislike to communicate to you, and which I hardly see how I can make clear to you on paper. I have been hoping against hope that you would give me an interview, but I seem doomed to disappointment.

When I went away, and for weeks before, I was suffering with a complication of mental prostration and melancholia which the doctors thought threatened softening of the brain. Before that I wrote and did some crazy things, and besides other matters, printed and written, to be repented of, I signed certain papers for others which have left me to-day a man without a dollar in the world, and with no support but my L. A. W. salary. This complication (which I can explain in words, but not on paper) has led to my being thrown out of my other means of employment this week.

But this is not bad enough it seems, for an avenging fate, but worse must follow. I find myself back at work with but a faint remembrance of all that I did for some weeks before my leaving. Among other actions one of the most inexplicable is this: The day I went to see you in New York (with my friend Mr. Lowry), I drew nearly $6,200 from bank, and as I recollect it, now put it into my other bank. Why, I know not; but it is my remembrance that I intended doing so, and Mr. Wells and my father say that they were under the impression that I had done so. On my return I find that I did not do so, and that I cannot find any trace of the money. A government bond was lost at the same time, but this I find wadded down into a pocket of my coat, worn that day in my office, I presume.

Unfortunately Mr. Lowry is now travelling in Europe, and will not return till August, and from him I can get no clue, even if he had anything to suggest. All my effects have been searched, and no clue can be found, and I now fear that the money was in some inexplicable and inexcusable way irrecoverably lost.

The worst of it all is, that at least $4,500 of this $6,000 was money belonging to the L. A. W., and that the financial ruin alluded to above leaves me with not a cent of my own to replace it with. Worse than all, an uncle who has the settlement of an estate, part of which comes to my mother and aunts, is at present (aged nearly seventy years), too low in health to be appealed to for some weeks. My warm friend and brother-in-law, Prof. J. P. Remington, is travelling abroad until October. My mother is unable to do anything for me until the estates alluded to are settled, as until that time she can only use interest, and cannot touch principal. So with a maiden aunt, who would gladly help me, could she. Mr. Lowry, always a kind friend in trouble, is, as I have said in Europe. In every direction that I turn, I find myself blocked. To go from one post to another, as I have done the last ten days, I cannot longer stand. I must have release or give it up and die.

Now I will in less than a year be in better shape. Some property is coming to me, which I will then control. Some property which I cannot now even mortgage will then be mine. I have sold all I had that was worth selling to pay my debts. This I did before I had discovered this indebtedness to the L. A. W., for I left home thinking that I had left Wells sufficient money in bank to pay all my obligations to the L. A. W. This was my firm belief, and not until written to and wired home by my wife, did I realize the truth.

I must now raise for the following — the following sums at once: —

Divisions	$1,500
E. S. Hart & Co.	1,000
L. A. W. Treasury	1,500
Total	$4,000

One amount of $1,000 I have raised, but $4,000 at least I must have at once, or be forever disgraced. Now I can pay a good interest for $4,000 or $5,000, and can give as security in case of my death, $15,000 life insurance in best companies — if necessary. As security as to my payment, if living, I can give my mother and aunt worth at least $20,000 to $25,000 between them, when the afore-mentioned estates are settled.

Now what do you advise me? Can you, among your and my many friends in New York, raise this on this security? Can you not see me soon, and let me tell you more than I care to write. Please bear in mind how terribly hard it is for me to write thus to you, and for the sake of old acquaintance, keep the whole matter as quiet as possible. Such men as Gulick and Bourne and Clapp, etc., can well be trusted if bound to secrecy; but, for the love of heaven, don't let this matter get out. I must arrange it without disgracing myself, and above all without disgracing my family. My head swims with the thought.

Can you not throw some rays of hope on this matter? If so, please cut my misery short by a conversation or some written words of cheer sent by special delivery. Send either a letter or telegram to the address at head of this letter, and not to Fourth street, or my box.

Awaiting your reply, I am your firm friend

AARON.

STATE OF OHIO, } ss.
CLARK COUNTY }

Before me, a Notary Public, in and for said county, personally appeared Thomas J. Kirkpatrick, who, being duly sworn, says that the above is a true and correct copy of a letter addressed to Dr. N. M. Beckwith, New York City; that said original letter is at this date in affiant's possession; that he made said copy from said original letter, and knows that the above is an exact copy of same. T. J. KIRKPATRICK.

Sworn to before me, and subscribed in my presence, this thirteenth day of November, A. D. 1886.

[NOTARIAL SEAL] OSCAR T. MARTIN.
Notary Public, Clark County.

The promised return of the original of above letter, was part of the bait with which we angled for the missing funds. When the deficiency was made good, it was returned to the writer, at his request, the above sworn copy having first been made.

It will be observed that no reference is made to his imperfect system of book-keeping, as explanatory of the deficiency. Bad book-keeping may confuse accounts, but it does not create an actual loss of CASH.

The ex-secretary has maintained that this letter was marked "Personal" (See BULLETIN, Feb. 11, 1887, page 118, 3d column). The original was read by each of us, and when in our hands and under our inspection, was not so marked. The cause of the ex-secretary's illness, and his speedy recovery and return, would seem at once apparent. It would seem as if the cause of his sickness was the meeting, and of his restoration to health was the adjournment of the body, which he might consider was inclined to be so inquisitive about his transactions. No reasonable being of ordinary intelligence and experience will accept the explanation of the default agonizingly confessed in this astounding and pitiful letter. The excuse was so flimsy and transparent that we did not know whether to be more amazed at the guilt of the culprit or at the childishness which attempted thus to palliate the offence. It was evident to our minds that the ex-secretary was afraid to face the men whom he had so grievously wronged, and had devised this convenient scheme of sickness in order to avert the dreaded exposure. As part of that scheme, it was his expectation, after the crisis of the meeting was passed, to avoid an explosion through the amiable assistance of the friends who would act the part of safety valve. He has maintained as evidence of his innocency, that he informed us of the deficiency before our examination was begun. We do not think that he deserves commendation on that account. He knew that the intended investigation which was to be made within a few days would disclose the fraud, and that in the insolvent condition of the treasury, further postponement of the revelation of the financial straits to which he was reduced was impossible. It would seem that his only course was either flight or confession. He had tried quasi flight to the wonderful atmosphere of North Carolina, but to get temporary relief and put off the evil day. His chances might be better by confessing, and he took the risk. Viewed in the light of all that has since occurred, we cannot but believe that he has shown great shrewdness, that he knew the capabilities of his situation better than we did, and that there was more method in his madness than we gave him credit for.

The load of responsibility thus unexpectedly thrown upon us imperatively required an immediate consultation of all the members of the committee. This meeting took place at the Astor House, in New York, on June 19, and the ex-secretary was summoned to appear before us. This, and subsequent consultations, gave us the facts which were discussed at the opening of the second day's session of the late meeting of the Board, and which substantially appear in the report of that day, (see BULLETIN, Feb. 11, 1887, page 143, particularly 2d column, top). There were circumstances, however, in addition to these facts, which were learned from the ex-secretary, and which it is important for you to know. As a further explanation of his aberration of mind, he said that, during his sickness, prior to his journey, he was obliged to resort to a continued use of opium and similar anodynes to an extent which deprived him of all mental accountability; that when his departure for North Carolina was compelled by his sickness, he carried out a long-deferred intention of changing his bank account from the Provident Life and Trust Company to the National Bank of the Republic; that he drew a check for $6,200, his balance in the Trust Company, payable to bearer; that he intended to draw the money for this check, deposit the cash in opening his new account in the Bank of the Republic, and check against it for the amounts due the Divisions; that he prepared the checks on this new account; that he remembered writing out the $6,200 check on the Trust Company, but had no recollection of any event after that; that the Trust Company informed him that his check had been cashed, as the charge appears on their books; that no corresponding deposit was made in the Bank of the Republic, as appears from his account there, and that he could not get any clue or trace to the money. It was in this state of sickness, blankness of memory, and blankness of bank account, that he still retained sufficient consciousness to rush off to North Carolina, when the Boston meeting was impending within a few days, and his presence there as the active officer of the most important department of League work was necessary. He told us, when asked about his ability to make up the loss, that it was impossible to do so; that he had transferred all his property, including his interest in a restaurant, and his only assets were expectancies; that if allowed sufficient time he could raise enough to repay the missing amount; but that, if pressed to the wall, resources otherwise available would be cut off, that his prospects would be ruined forever, and the money irrecoverably gone. When the inquiry was made as to how he expected to continue the publication of the BULLETIN, the existence of which was threatened by this deficiency, he said that he could make arrangements for the necessary credit with the printers, who were friends of his, until sufficient assets came in to pay the bills. The condition of the ex-secretary was almost pitiable, and his plainly manifested dread of criminal prosecution deepened the cloud of fear that appeared to hang over him. Neither at this time had he, or any time has he had the assurance to offer to us his bad system of keeping accounts as an explanation of his shortcomings. This excuse was one that did not appear until long afterwards. At the close of our interview he was directed to go through his books and draw up a statement showing the sum for which he was accountable, and have it ready for us on June 26, 1886, when we would meet at his office in Philadelphia. With these instructions, we dismissed him. There remained for us the vital question of "What was to be done." A criminal prosecution might result in a conviction, but that would not restore the lost money, and, possibly, under the peculiarities of Pennsylvania law, might prove abortive. If the money were refunded, the League would be unaffected by the temporary injury, provided the demoralizing, and perhaps, disastrous effects of a disclosure could be averted. The recent formation of a rival and hostile organization, originating in our ranks, growing out of the dissensions about the amateur rule, and the defection to which from our own body was an unknown quantity, made it of especial importance to avoid an exposure, which would seriously injure us. The damage had been committed; we could not be worse off; the possibilities were that we might be better off if the ex-secretary were allowed an opportunity to refund, and, in any event, we had his official bond to fall back upon. But upon an examination of the document we were deprived of this consolation, since it appeared doubtful to us whether it would be held valid or not. We found that it had been executed in Philadelphia by two gentlemen of that city. The instrument was drawn to "The League of American Wheelmen a corporation," when there was no such body; it purported to be under seal, and no seals were affixed; and it was witnessed by but one witness for each signature, when the rules and practice in Pennsylvania require two. These defects seemed to us to be more serious than mere irregularities, and although they may not have been designed, raised grave doubt as to whether the sureties could be held liable upon the obligation. This is the paper which the ex-secretary has boldly asserted was approved by Mr. Terry, late Vice-President, and of the former Executive Committee We believed Mr. Terry to be too careful a lawyer to accept security in such questionable form. The following letter, since received from him, confirms our belief and leads us to class the assertion among the numerous other invented tales of the late secretary.

Feb. 17, 1887.

Mr. J. C. GULICK,

Mem. Exec. Com., L. A. W.

Dear Sir,—In reply to your inquiry, I would state that I do not remember ever to have seen Mr. Aaron's bond in behalf of the League of American Wheelmen. Soon after the annual meeting of July, 1885, I drafted forms of bonds for both Treasurer and Secretary. There was long delay about the Secretary's bond, which caused me much uneasiness, but I understood that it was at length executed. Your description of the manner of its execution gives me additional confidence that I never saw it.

Respectfully yours,

STEPHEN TERRY,
Ex-Vice-President, L. A. W.

A survey of the whole field brought us to the conclusion that we ought to endeavor to recover the funds if it was at all feasible to do so. We determined however that our investigations of the accounts should be made with the utmost thoroughness under the supervision of an expert accountant whose superior knowledge and experience would produce more reliable results than the cursory and superficial examination which we could only spare the time to make. And here again we will say in passing that the statement of the ex-secretary to the effect that the expert was called in at his suggestion and request is a wilful, deliberate, and repeated falsehood. Not the slightest wish to that effect came from him and on our appearance at his office unexpectedly introducing Mr. Veysey, his discomposure was markedly great, and he said "that if he had known that we were coming with an expert, he would have been prepared for us." The President has informed us that the total expense to the League of our investigations, including the bill of the expert, necessary travelling expenses of the Committee, and other incidentals has been about $750. We think that can safely be stated as the figure. Now, assuming for the sake of argument that the ex-secretary called for the services of an expert to disentangle the snarl, he has never had the honesty to repay or even offer to repay the outlay incurred in tracing out his own irregularities. Such an expenditure on his behalf will more than offset any alleged disbursements which he claims that he has made out of his own pocket for the benefit of the League. Having nailed this lie, our story carries us to our meeting in Philadelphia on June 26, when our expert created such consternation. The statements prepared pursuant to our instructions were laid before us and were most laughably unsatisfactory. They could have been written on one side of a sheet of foolscap, and absolutely gave no information as to the cause of the deficiency, his prior explanation of which, it is scarcely necessary for us to say, we did not and never have accepted. Thereupon Mr. Veysey began his investigation, the result of which appears in his report No. 1 (see Bulletin Feb. 11, 1887, page 117, 2d column). His report, although plain and unassuming in its language, is eloquent in its revelations. Certain incidents occurred which it is important to mention. After the books had been inspected and found imperfect, the check book vouchers and pass book were called for. The ex-secretary demurred to this, because, he said, the bank account not only contained the League's money, but also his own and certain other moneys, belonging to other individuals, and into whose accounts we had no right to go. It thus appeared for the first time that our funds were not kept in a separate and official bank account, but were mingled with funds of other persons, which were all deposited in his individual name, and for aught that appeared on their face, might have been taken as his individual property. He declined at first to permit any examination of the check book and cancelled checks. We pointed out to him that the mingling of the funds permitted us to go into the whole account in order to ascertain what belonged to us, and that his error had made the fund no longer exclusively his own. He said that he did not see why we should not accept his statement of the amount due, as other committees had; that he admitted that he owed the money, and why go to the trouble of further examination? We told him that we were trying not so much to find out the amount of deficiency, but how it came about. He said that he had been advised by good legal authority that the League could not, under Pennsylvania law, enforce any of its claims, because it was an unincorporated association. He thought that before permitting us to examine his check book that he should be allowed to consult his attorney. We said that we should be glad to have him do so, as we felt convinced that his attorney would advise him to allow the freest access to his books in order to relieve him of grave suspicions. At our suggestion, Mr. John A. Wells (whom we found on our arrival actively at work in the office) advised him as a friend to allow the examination. At last he reluctantly produced the check book on the National Bank of the Republic. But little light was gained. The deposits had been made and the checks drawn in the vague way described by Mr. Veysey in report No. 1. More admirable confusion could not have been intentionally created nor a more ingenious method deliberately planned to obstruct the tracing the disposition of the funds. It was evident that the secretary gathered all moneys from all sources into one account, and then drew indiscriminately for his private or any purpose on the total thus collected, regardless of the amounts due to each source of supply. Imperfect book-keeping was quite bad enough but this was much worse. It showed an indifference as to individual rights of property and a breach of the trust confided in him as custodian of the League's funds. Having been thus enlightened, or rather our light obscured, we next called for the old vouchers and check books on the Provident Life and Trust Company. Those were not in the office but had been sent to the ex-secretary's home. He was doubtful whether they could be found, as Mrs. Aaron had packed them up and she was out of town. He thought that he might find them. We requested him to go home and bring them back, particularly the $6200 vouchers which closed the account. We were told that it would take about one hour to go, each way. We said it was important enough for us to wait the necessary time and finding further evasion useless the ex-secretary started for his residence. For three hours, from four o'clock until seven, we waited in patient expectation before he returned, without the vouchers or check book, and reported his inability to find them. We cannot say that we were altogether surprised. We cannot say that we never believed that he went to his house. The reflection, that a three hours' walk around Independence Square was as effectual to hoodwink the Committee about his efforts to hunt up this stray voucher as a three hours' journey to West Philadelphia for papers which he knew were not there, — the reflection, we repeat, which at that time we may have considered as unjust, is shown by the following transcript of account to have had a foundation in truth.

TRANSCRIPT OF LEDGER ACCOUNT OF EUGENE M. AARON, TREASURER.

1886				1886
1	4	Cash,	$299 92	1	1	Cash on hand, $381 76
	6	"	600 00		2	" "	325 00
	9	"	80 00		5	" "	500 00
	13	"	124 75		7	" "	425 00
	16	"	40 45		12	" "	650 00
	18	"	3 00		16	" "	300 00
	19	"	110 57		23	" "	400 00
	20	"	130 50	2	11	" "	1,000 00
	21	"	20 00		19	" "	750 00
	22	"	458 38		26	" "	320 00
	23	"	88 59	3	5	" "	100 00
	26	"	36 00		19	" "	100 00
	28	"	21 50		27	" "	170 00
2	12	"	150 00	4	5	" "	531 75
	18	"	41 00		8	" "	100 00
	19	"	5 00		12	" "	427 00
	20	"	400 00		13	" "	300 00
	23	"	672 39		14	" "	395 00
	24	"	175 00		17	Interest to date,	5 97
	26	"	14 00
3	2	"	32 00
	4	"	44 00
	8	"	300 00
	9	"	50 00
	12	"	58 10
	18	"	500 00
	20	"	35 00
	23	"	7 00
	25	"	35 00
	26	"	85 83
	27	"	27 00
	29	"	113 69
4	3	"	50 00
	5	"	500 00
	6	"	375 00
	10	"	275 94
	12	"	513 50
	13	"	331 00
	14	"	282 00
	15	"	70 00
	17	"	26 37
			$7,181 48				$7,181 48

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA, CITY AND COUNTY OF PHILADELPHIA, } SS
PROVIDENT LIFE AND TRUST COMPANY.

I do hereby certify that the foregoing transcript is a true and correct copy of the ledger account, and of the whole thereof, within the periods above set forth, kept by Eugene M. Aaron, Treasurer, with this Company, and that at those times he had no other account with us.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand this sixteenth day of February, 1887. B. F. JONES, Book-keeper.

Referring to above transcript, we have, at the request of the Executive Committee, made up, and submit herewith, the following table, showing the amounts deposited, checks drawn, and balances to Mr. Aaron's credit in the "Provident Life and Trust Company" at the end of the day at each date therein given.

31 Nassau Street, New York, Feb. 28, '87.

VEYSEY & VEYSEY, Accountants.

DAILY CASH BALANCES. E. M. AARON.

	Day.	Deposits.	Checks.	Balance.	Overdrawn
1886.
Jan. 1,	Balance on hand,	$381 76		$381 76
2,		325 00		706 76
4,			$299 92	406 84
5,		500 00		906 84
6,			600 00	306 84
7,		425 00		731 84
9,			80 00	651 84
12,		650 00		1,301 84
13,			124 75	1,177 09
16,		300 00	40 45	1,436 64
18,			3 00	1,433 64
19,			110 57	1,323 07
20,			130 50	1,192 57
21,			2,020 00	1,172 57
22,			458 38	714 19
23,		400 00	88 59	1,025 60
26,			36 00	989 60
28,			21 50	968 10
Feb. 11,		1,000 00		1,968 10
12,			150 00	1,818 10
18,			41 00	1,777 10
19,		750 00	5 00	2,522 10
20,			400 00	2,122 10
23,			672 29	1,449 81
24,			175 00	1,274 81
26,		320 00	14 00	1,580 81
			32 00	1,548 81
Mar. 2,			44 00	1,504 81
4,		100 00		1,604 81
5,			300 00	1,304 81
8,			50 00	1,254 81
9,			58 10	1,196 71
12,			500 00	696 71
18,		100 00		796 71
19,			35 00	761 71
20,			7 00	754 71
23,			35 00	719 71
25,			85 83	633 88
26,			27 00	776 88
27,		170 00	113 69	663 19
29,			50 00	613 19
April 3,			500 00	600 94
5,		531 75	375 00	369 94
8,		100 00	275 04	94 90
10,			513 50	8 40
12,		427 00	331 00		$22 60
13,		300 00	282 00	90 40
14,		395 00	70 00	20 40
15,			26 37	26 37
17,	Interest,	5 97
17,	Check for bal.,		26 37
	Proof,	$7,181 48	$7,181 48

By this, it appears, that the check which closed the account was $26.37 instead of $6,200, and that at no time between the dates shown did he have as much as the latter amount on deposit. Thus is demolished the structure erected by the ex-secretary to conceal his defalcation. We feel that in the entire Trust Company account, if it could be dissected, would be found the explanation of the loss. It is apparent that the deficiency occurred before the period assigned to it by the ex-secretary. It may have begun weeks or months before that time. Possibly, certain unfortunate speculations which it is rumored he indulged in may be the cause of it. But be that as it may, we have never been able to see these cancelled checks to this day, although we have several times called for them.

Having concluded to attempt the recovery of the money, to repay which we judged the ex-secretary would have every inducement that could be offered by his desire to preserve his good name and reputation, it remained for us to arrange how this was to be done. Of course the safeguard of the new set of books devised by Mr. Veysey was necessary for the protection of the daily receipts. When that system was in operation something more criminal than loss of memory would create a deficiency. The use of the cash book met with some opposition, for the ex-secretary urged that when open it covered the entire top of his desk!! Our insistence overruled this opposition, and the books have been in successful operation with most satisfactory results. The manner in which the money was to be restored was thus: — within five days the Divisions were to be paid, within ten days the League Treasurer, the accounts of E. Stanley Hart & Company were to be adjusted, and a satisfactory understanding had with them, and for the balance he was to have such reasonable time as he required. These periods were fixed at the ex-secretary's own suggestion as convenient to him. We think that at this time the suggestion was made by us that as E. Stanley Hart & Company could not hold us liable under the local laws, but looked to the ex-secretary personally, an acceptance of his note, and a release to the League by them as matter of form, would not affect their legal rights, and on the other hand would entitle him to a credit for the debts thus assumed. In order to find out the amount chargeable to the ex-secretary, Mr. Veysey adopted as correct the settlement made between the former and the late Executive Committee in December, 1885. We were of opinion that it was not necessary for our purposes to go behind that account stated. Taking this as a starting point, he verified the receipts and expenditures, and prepared Report No. 2 (see Bulletin, Feb. 11, 1887, p. 117, 3d column). Pending this latter report and on July 8, $1,700 had been paid in to reduce the shortage. Delay in further payment by the ex-secretary caused great anxiety. Perceiving this, he had offered to permit the President to hold a check for the amount due the Divisions until he had sufficient to settle with them. On this being promptly accepted, he declined to do so, on the alleged ground that he must settle with the Divisions and not the President. This tardiness brought us into the middle of August, when both the President and Vice-president were in Ohio, leaving the third member of the Committee in charge in New York. The latter telegraphed the former that the ex-secretary should be notified to settle in full by August 26. This telegram, forwarded to Philadelphia, was mailed, with the following letter of innocent surprise: —

Aug. 19, 1886.

MY DEAR MR. GULICK —The enclosures herein are just rece'd. fr. Dr. B. I am entirely unable to understand their meaning, or at least that of yr. telegram. Will you kindly enlighten me? This seems to be a case when nothing should be concealed.

What am I to settle by Aug. 26th? I have long ago done all I promised the Committee and all they asked. The Division settlements were made July 8th and 9th. The Treasurer rec'd a statement in full at the same time, but that the Exc. Comm. has never empowered him to pass the acct. by accepting my vouchers for expenses cannot, certainly, be any fault of mine. I regret the delay, most sincerely. I have stood ready to settle that acct. ever since it was rendered, 44 days ago. I do not see how it can be passed upon however until Treasurer Kendall's books are audited. When they are found to be correct, the present Treas. can go ahead.

If you can tell me what I am now to settle and to whom the money is to be paid, I shall esteem it a favor. I have satisfied E. S. Hart & Co., and have their statement to that effect, and Mr. Wells will be in Buffalo to speak for the firm. The Divs. are long since paid and no more is due them until Oct. 11th. The Treasurer's accts. are explained above. What else is there for me to do? An early answer will oblige. Yrs. truly,

E. M. AARON.

N. Y., Aug. 20, 1886.

MY DEAR MR. AARON,—Yours of the 19th makes it very apparent that you do not understand or realize the seriousness of the present state of affairs. Mr. Veysey's report shows that at end of second quarter or July 1st, you were to account for $5,532.29, and in reduction deposited on July 8, $1,700, leaving yet unaccounted for $3,832.79, to offset which you had nothing whatever in bank to meet at that time. Subsequent receipts of course could not affect this shortage. Now, what do you propose to do to make this good? You evidently have not made any return to the League Treasurer or made any special deposit to meet it when your account with him is passed. You can pay him at once the amount due him without our committee auditing your vouchers. If we find that you have paid him too much we can correct that, if on the contrary you have paid too little, it would leave you still chargeable with the difference paid and what should be paid. What I want to see is the amount due the League Treasurer in his hands, and the account with E. Stanley Hart & Co.—adjusted to July 1. This letter will be handed to you by Mr. Veysey who is authorized, 1st.—To obtain from E. Stanley Hart & Co. a statement in writing that they have accepted your personal notes in discharge of their account, and releasing the League and its Officers from any liabilities. This will entitle you to a credit to the amount thus assumed by you and accepted by them, and reduce the total of your indebtedness in a corresponding sum. 2d.—To ascertain whether you are prepared with the money to square up with the League Treasurer, and if not to obtain some substantial collateral or security, to be held by the Committee as a pledge that this will be done. Of course such security will affect the deficiency in this item. 3d.—To see that the funds received by you from July 1st to date of his visit or report to us upon these instructions are properly in bank or the proceeds thereof, crediting you with the proper disbursements.

Unless these requirements are met, I feel constrained to say, speaking for myself (and I have but little doubt that I will be upheld by my colleagues in my opinion) that I have grave doubts as to your continuance in office. Our Committee has a duty to perform which you do not seem to regard, and have shown a leniency towards you which you do not apparently appreciate. I do not call for your resignation, for that is a matter proper to the whole committee and not to an individual member thereof. I make no suggestion even, as to your placing that in our hands because it is a question upon which you must exercise your own judgment. What I have written here is meant to be kindly although it may seem harsh.

My telegram to the doctor was prompted by information obtained here to the effect that unless your accounts, as you reported them at Buffalo, be satisfactory a scene will occur, unpleasant for you and also for the League.

Yours very truly,

JOHN C. GULICK.

This answer awoke the secretary to a realizing sense of affairs, and convinced him that the Committee would tolerate no further delays.

PHILA., Aug. 23, 1886.

MY DE. MR. GULICK:—Have had Mr. Veysey here all day with me, and he has taken the Aug. trial-bal. wh. he will show you.

Have paid Hart & Co. the $2,000, as already stated. Mr. H. is out of town, but Mr. Wells has promised Mr. V. and me that on his return to-morrow the desired paper relinquishing the claim on L. A. W. for that am't ($2,000) shall be signed by their firm and sent to you, by mail. As to the remaining $1,800, or thereabouts, I shall some day this week, probably Thursday, have all that in bank. The bulk of it will be paid right out to Hart & Co. on July bill and to Treas. Lawton. The receipts, therefor I'll have at Buffalo, and the bank recpt for the balance also. Mr. Veysey will explain the latter.

Sin'y Yrs, E. M. AARON.

Let me assure you that I take yr. very plain and matter-of-fact letter in the spirit in which it is intended. I admit that the case calls for plain talk and I feel nothing in the matter save chagrin that it is needed.

On August 27 $2,000 was deposited, the release of E. Stanley Hart & Co. was received, and at the date of Report No. 3 the deficiency had been made good. The final settlement was of unspeakable satisfaction to us.

After this adjustment we determined to obtain a new bond, which would be unquestioned security and protect us fully from further forgetfulness on the part of the ex-secretary. Accordingly, at our Cleveland meeting, he was directed to renew this instrument The matter was placed in the hands of the legal member of the Committee and the ex-secretary notified by the president that we desired the proper obligation. The reply received showed an unexpected unwillingness to comply with this reasonable request, and the narrative of our efforts, as shown by the following correspondence, illustrates the difficulty we have met, not only in this but in other instances, through the intractability, disobedience, and insubordination (verging upon insolence), and general intention of the ex-secretary, to absorb into himself the functions of the entire organization The authority vested in us by the by-laws was never cheerfully acknowledged by him, and this matter of the new bond is but one of several incidents.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28, 1886.

E. M. AARON, Esq., Sec'y Editor,

Dear Sir,—Yours of the 25th from Boston to the Doctor, touching your new bond, has been laid before me and I do not understand why you should object to following the instructions of the Executive Committee. It was clearly indicated to you at Cleveland that the Committee did not consider your present bond satisfactory, and you were directed to procure another bond. Changes have taken place since the approval of the present bond which, in the opinion of the Committee, render a renewal of the security advisable, and in any event, whether such changes have taken place or not, it is but proper that the Committee, occupying the position of responsibility that they do, should require security satisfactory to them, regardless of what might have been approved by a previous committee. You have stated yourself to this Committee, that the League has no capacity to enforce its obligations in the Courts of Pennsylvania, and I desire to say that it is to avoid any such insecurity that the Committee require a bond furnished in this State where the law is sufficiently progressive to afford its sanction to the obligation. It is indifferent to us whether you supply us with an individual as bondsman or a guaranty company, provided he or it be satisfactory. I have inquired of a Surety Company in this city of approved responsibility, and am informed that they will undertake the obligation if your replies to their usual questions meet their approbation. If you can procure an individual of sufficient responsibility, we will take him in place of the Surety Company, provided he is a resident of this State. The object in desiring you to call here on your way back from Boston, was to present you to the officers of said company, so that you could answer in person, any questions which they might want to ask. I don't see that that object can be accomplished by meeting you at Roseville. Briefly and pointedly, the question is, are you willing to provide the Executive Committee with an official bond satisfactory to them? To this question I wait for a reply, stating that this demand is sanctioned by both my colleagues and is made pursuant to instructions by the Secretary of the Committee. I regret (to speak of other matters referred to in your letter) that you should show such trepidation (not to use a stronger expression) about the outcome of the Renton matter; Hill's discharge is evidence that, upon the whole testimony offered, the justice considers the complaint without foundation. The justice has to day informed me that Sperry has advised him that he will offer nothing in the Beckwith case and that he (the justice) will likewise dismiss the charge to-morrow. In fact, he has directed me not to attend the hearing, as it would be a waste of time to do so. The testimony taken involved you in no way, that I can perceive, I am fortunate to learn, however, your intention to throw the blame of this matter upon me. I disclaim and deny that I gave any such construction about its publication, or sanctioned or approved it in any respect.

Yours very resp'y, JOHN C. GULICK.

The ex-secretary thereupon arranged to meet the Sub-Committee on the matter of the new bond, in New York, on October 2. Pursuant to that appointment, on that day he and the Sub-Committee proceeded to the office of the Surety Company in that city, with written answers prepared to their formulated questions. One of these questions was substantially to the effect, "Have you ever been in arrears with your employers, and if so, state the cause." The answer prepared by the ex-secretary was to the effect, "Yes, caused by defective bookkeeping." The counsel of the company did not consider this response full enough, and intimated that the application would not be likely to pass. It was then suggested by the ex-secretary that he could get a bondsman who owned real estate in New York, although he resided in Trenton, New Jersey, and was president of a bank there. This gentleman was a relative, and would have no objection to be his security. It was also then suggested to the ex-secretary, that if he could procure the opinion of some reputable lawyer in Pennsylvania that the League could take a valid bond under the laws of that State, that the old bondsmen would be accepted, providing they executed a new bond. This opinion was obtained, as subsequently appears. The ex-secretary promised to send to the sub-committee on that day the name and address of the Trenton bondsman. Not receiving them, this letter was written and a telegram sent to the same effect: —

Oct. 4, 1886.

E. M. AARON, ESQ.:

Dear Sir,—Please forward to me the name and address of your proposed bondsman. I mean the gentleman who is president of the Trenton Bank (First National, I think you said). There already has been much delay in getting this matter in shape, and I do not wish to lose further time about it. Send me the location of his property within this State, and what it is estimated to be worth. I think that it would be advisable for you to communicate with him at once, and make the arrangements so that he will be aware of the object of my writing him. I trust that you will not delay this. Yours, respy,

JOHN C. GULICK.

If your bondsman has a New York office, I will call upon him myself.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 6, 1886.

MY DEAR MR. GULICK,—I will promptly send you the name of the New York party referred to as soon as I hear from him myself as to his willingness to act in this matter. I do not feel at liberty to allow you to write to him or call and see him until I know that he is willing to act in that capacity. I wrote to him on Sunday last, the first thing in the morning, so that there might be no delay: but have not yet received a reply. As he is frequently away from home for two or three days at a time, I am not surprised at the delay.

I hope to be able to send you the legal opinion you requested either to-morrow or the day after. I have asked it of a well-known lawyer here, who is also a member of the League, and who understands exactly the nature of the case. He makes a specialty of procuring charters, and being a law partner with David W. Sellers, one of the leading counsel of the Pennsylvania Railroad, he is very well posted in such matters. I shall send you his decision as soon as it reaches me.

I regret the delay in this matter, but do not think that any of it can be laid at my door, as I have in each case acted as promptly as the circumstances would admit. I have twice written to Dr. Beckwith, requesting him to send me, through Secretary Kirkpatrick, of your Committee, minutes of such action as your Committee took in Cleveland, affecting my office and my duties. I have never yet, since the Committee was formed, received other than verbal instructions. If I had written instructions to refer to it would be a great help to me at times, and I would not be so likely to fall into misapprehensions. Will you kindly mention this matter to the doctor when you see him? Sincerely yours,

E. M. AARON.

Mr. JNO. C. GULICK,
New York City.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7, 1886.

E. M. AARON, Esq.:

Dear Sir,—I do lay the delay in this matter of the bond to your door, as it has not been attended to with the promptness the circumstances required. You were present at Cleveland, and the request for a new bond was then made to you in person. A period of two months has elapsed, and the bond has not yet been filed. There were two matters which the Executive Committee then required: 1st, this bond; 2d, the change in the bank account, so that the president or vice-president should countersign all checks. Neither has yet been accomplished. It seems to me to be hypercritical for you to ask for written instructions. There can be no doubt that the Committee brought the thing directly before you. Mr. Lawton returned his bond in five days after it was received by him, and I do not see why there should be more delay in your case. Yours very truly,

JOHN C. GULICK.

Let me say again, do not delay this matter. If your friend does not answer your letter, telegraph him and find out something any way.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8, 1886.

MR. JNO. C. GULICK, New York City:

Dear Sir,—Your favor of yesterday is before me for reply. It is a surprising, and—if you will pardon me for saying—a rather amusing letter, and I hardly know whether to take it in earnest or not. You say you do lay the matter at my door, and I am not much surprised to hear you say so, as I judged from some of your former letters that such was the case. You say that I was present at the Cleveland meeting, and that a period of two months has elapsed since that.

I dislike to have to contradict you, but I was not present at any Cleveland meeting two months ago, as but one month and four days have elapsed between your writting this and the Cleveland meeting, and it places me in an unpleasant light for you to double the time.

You speak of Lawton's promptness. May I call your attention to the fact that Lawton was communicated with by writing, and that I was not so communicated with until last Sunday week, and that I replied to the communication in just the same length of time that Lawton did, by coming on to New York to see you? You think it hypercritical for me to ask for written instructions, but as I have had considerably more experience with the Executive Committee than you have, I beg leave to inform you that that body, from time to time, changes its rulings and decisions, and I find it very useful to have written instructions to refer to. With all that is on my mind in League work, I cannot be expected to remember everything unless these written instructions are received: and I do not consider that the hasty verbal information, in no way given me under the head of instructions, just as Kirkpatrick was packing up to rush away to his train, has any binding force on me whatever. He promised me then that he would send me the minutes of the meeting, so far as they affected me, in a day or two, and I, therefore, did not charge my mind with everything that was said to me, as I expected to get these details in full on paper. I am sure that matters were spoken of then which have been overlooked. The fact that as important a matter as the life membership, which the Committee still holds in the balance without constitutional right, was overlooked, shows that it is very desirable that these matters be put on paper.

That long-talked-of safe which has been promised for over a year is not yet arranged for. I simply mention these matters to indicate to you that the Committee is not in a position which enables one of its members to come down quite so savagely on an official, as you have done in your recent communication.

As I told you, I wrote to the Trenton party immediately on returning home, and mailed the letter the first thing Sunday morning. I have just received by to-day's mail, a reply saying that the property which was in his possession in New York up to a recent date, has passed out of his hands, having been transferred to his son-in-law. The son-in-law I do not feel inclined to ask favors of, so that that opportunity has slipped. The gentleman in question was away from home for two days, and I know of no power given me in the by-law that can compel him to come home and answer the letter any sooner.

The lawyer who promised me the decision that you requested as to the Penna. laws governing the rights of unincorporated associations, tells me that he will be able to give it to me, if nothing unforeseen happens, either this afternoon or to-morrow morning. As I have already told you, I will send you his decision as soon as is possible.

You should be sufficiently acquainted with the law's delays to know that a thing of this sort cannot be furnished to order at any moment by a competent lawyer. You, yourself, gave me the option of extending the present bond, providing the Penna. laws were satisfactory to your Committee, or of arranging one through this Trenton party, and yet before it was possble for me to more than get a letter to Trenton, you wrote calling my attention to the delay: and before it was possible to get an answer from there, you sent a telegram again calling attention to it. I do not see why you cannot take my word for it, when I say that I will hasten this matter as much as is possible. I cannot manufacture legal opinions, nor can I make persons stay at their homes so as to write letters promptly. The bond now in force has been accepted by the Executive Committee during whose term I was elected, and it is not at all an analogous case with Mr. Lawton's who was allowed to be in charge of the funds for four months, or one-third of his term, before he was required to give a bond. Of course, if your Committee is unwilling to wait for the legal decision now that the Trenton opportunity is out of the question, there is nothing to do but to go ahead with the New York application which I came on and made as promptly as important business here would allow.

As to the bank account, all that is necessary now is the signature of Dr. Beckwith. That can be arranged as soon as he sends it. A blank check has been forwarded to him so that he may accommodate his signature to the space allotted, and I have no doubt that either to-morrow or the early part of next week, the matter will be finally arranged. Sorry to have to take up so much of your time, but cannot but think that justice demands that I take the opportunity to send this explanation.

Truly yours, AARON.

The ex-secretary no longer felt any "chagrin" that the case needed plain language from us.

N. Y., Oct. 11, 1886.

E. M. AARON, Esq.

Dear Sir,—The error of two months in my last letter was so obviously a slip of the pen as scarcely to call for a contradiction. The Committee have found your errors infinitely more surprising although not so amusing as the perhaps not unpardonable lapse of one of its members. I accept your correction of one month and four days, but do not see that the delay is thereby excused. One month and four days is ample time to have complied with the request for another bond, and I know of nothing that has occurred since then which has led this Committee to change its decision in this respect, or which would intimate to you that there was any intention to change. This Committee has been consistent in all its rulings and is not likely to depart from those already laid down. Such a charge can only have been made to divert the blame incurred in your failure to comply with its directions. I will reiterate that the present bond is not satisfactory, that the Committee require a new bond, that it will accept your present bondsmen, if on inquiry their responsibility is sufficient: provided, however, that their bond will be a valid obligation under the laws of Pennsylvania, and that they will execute a new instrument. That if such obligation is invalid under the laws of Pennsylvania, an individual in this State, or owning real property here, will be accepted; and that, in default thereof, the Committee will take the obligation of any surety company here of approved responsibility. I cannot make myself plainer, all of it was gone over when you called upon me in this city on the 2d inst.

I wish to say, in regard to the admonitions which you have considered proper to make regarding the Executive Committee action upon the question of life membership, and the long-talked safe that the Committee is in no way accountable to you for its conduct. We are aware of our responsibilty and that we can render an account of our stewardship at the proper time and place and to the proper persons. You, on the other hand, in this matter are accountable to us. This bond is a matter of business which we consider of vital importance and I cannot understand, as I stated in mine of the 28th ult, why you should object to complying with our request or why you should hamper the Committee with these delays.

Yours very truly, JOHN C. GULICK.

On the following day the opinion which held that the League could enforce its obligations in Pennsylvania was received, and upon the same day a telegram came from the ex-secretary "Don't fill in bondsmen's name. I may change them." This bond correspondence had begun before September 28, it was now October 12, and the ex-secretary was still uncertain whether he was to have his old bondsmen or new men as security. In other words, he had done nothing whatever to settle this important matter. The blank form and instructions as to executions were sent as follows: —

NEW YORK, Oct. 13, 1886.

E. M. AARON, Esq.:

Dear Sir,—I enclose the new bond to be executed by your present bondsmen. There will have to be two witnesses to the execution. If the same two do not witness as to all signatures, there will have to be two for each signature with the usual reference for whom they witness. I hope that there will be no mistake as to this, as the laws of Pennsylvania (or the practice there, anyway), require two witnesses to each signature to a sealed instrument. Please have the witnesses note their respective addresses. I know nothing as to the responsibility of these bondsmen, and I should, therefore, like them to send me a statement, in a general way, as to their property, so that the Committee can pass upon their qualifications. I don't desire to be inquisitorial about their affairs, but I think that we should have information before us that will show that we have exercised reasonable diligence in securing responsible persons. Let them state their address, both business and residence, nature of business, whether owner of personal or real property, if the latter indicate the location and value above incumbrances, if any, and, approximately what they consider themselves worth, above all liabilities. If these gentlemen are business men, they will understand the object of these inquiries, and I should prefer to accept their statement than to hunt up their responsibility from the usual sources. Of course these statements will be strictly confidential, and returned whenever their bond will be cancelled; also, their present bond will be surrendered upon the approval of the new bond. Let me ask you to attend to the execution and return of it to me as soon as possible.

Yours very truly, JOHN C. GULICK.

I think it advisable to retain Mr. Elwell's opinion for the use of the Committee, but inclose you a copy which I have made for that purpose. J. C. G.

PHILA., October 13, 1886.

JNO. G. GULICK, Esq.,
New York City.

Dear Sir,—Your favor of the 11th was received after I had sent your Lawyer Elwell's opinion, which no doubt you have received before this, as I judge from a telegram just received from you. I note what you say about one month and four days being ample time to make the arrangements, and I do not hesitate for one moment to say that it was ample time: but, my dear Mr. Gulick, do you not remember that the notice was given me informally by Kirkpatrick as he was packing up? It was not done at the meeting of the Committee, and was done as an afterclap at your suggestion, both he and the doctor evidently having forgotten all about it. As you were not a member of last year's Executive Committee, I at once informed you, you may remember, that the former instrument was approved by Mr. Terry, and was an exact copy of the form which he sent.

You expressed surprise on hearing this and said that it was news to you, but that it was not satisfactory you thought, but that you would look into it. Mr. Kirkpatrick told me that he would write me the instructions of the Committee, and I did not take any memoranda or in any way charge my memory with that matter. My memory is always crowded with such encroachments, and I had entirely lost all sight of the matter, until I got the doctor's letter on the subject, which, as I have explained to you, I replied to at once and replied to in person just as soon as I could possibly get to New York. I am sorry that I forgot the matter, but do not consider that it is a thing for which I could be blamed so severely.

This is the whole thing in a nutshell. Since I have been informed of it in writing, I have done my best to hasten matters, and now when I receive the paper which you propose to send, I will do the best I can to get it back to you promptly, though I am not certain that I can get the same names on it now that I once did. They were very good names, and I am afraid that the mere fact of reopening the matter and asking for another set of signatures will balk me in that direction. However, I will do the best I can.

You say that you could not make yourself plainer, and that all of the letter was gone over when I called on you on the 2nd inst. That was the first time that the matter was made plain or that my questions were answered; but I do not think you can say that I did not push the matter as rapidly as possible, when I did in the No. Carolina Case, in Life Memberships, in reform of texture and color of our Uniform, the appointment of a successor to H. S. Wood, who resigned five mos. ago, he says, etc., has been freely commented on as causes of reproach to the L. A. W. and a proof that due interest was not taken in the general good.

This is a plain statement of the facts, and as a Representative of Penna., I claim that I have the right to write in this way. For a substantiation of the facts alluded to in this and former letters I respectfully refer you to Ch. Consul Wells of this State. Ask him if the Life Membership matter will not and has not, to his knowledge, awakened considerable unfavorable comment.

I cannot give you the name of the man who "will not renew," but he is a prominent member of the N. Y. division and a man of weight. I promised not to divulge his name. He wrote to another, and I saw the letter but a few days ago. Way back when I was in Boston, I suppressed a firey article in one of the Boston papers on this subject of life membership, and I gave my promise then (in the interests of harmony) that the matter should be speedily adjusted in some way. When, after seven letters from me on the subject, you get ready to answer me, you simply say that Kirk. & Gulick, against your wishes, have willed that "the matter must lay over." Why must it? What right has the Executive Comm. to will it so? Do you not know that any man, in good standing in the League, can compel me, by law, to publish his application to life memb. to the memb. comm.? and can make them show cause why he is not admitted thereto. Your Committee never had the matter referred to them, and they have no rights, by our or by common law, to consider the general subject. I referred the matter of the kind of tickets to them about 6 mos. ago. That is all they have have with it: that was simply an act of courtesy on my part: I to do full powers in that matter, anyway. If the Board, with 200 members, cannot set aside the constitution, how, in the name of law and common sense, can a committee of 3 set it aside? If you can answer that satisfactorily, then I am done on this score. But I do think I have a right to an answer of some sort. As a representative, as an ex-ch. consul (thrice elected, with a total vote of 17 or 1,800), as president of an organization with 150 League members in its voting quota (the Ass. Adv. Cycl.), as a common-every-day member, and lastly as a three-year incumbent of the most important office in the gift of the Board, I feel that I have a perfect right to ask this. You ask for life memb. applicants. Many have been returned just as rec'd. (an act of obedience to yr. Comm. but of direct *dis*obedience to the const.); and I have kept no list of them. Others I remember who have spoken to me or written saying that they wanted life membership, and would like to know how the matter stood. Among these 2 classes I remember the following: —

H. B. Worrell, W. T. Williams, S. Terry, C. G. Huntington, H. E. Ducker, Jno. A. Wells, C. D. Williams, C. E. Pratt, A. A. Pope, Mr. Overman, E. M. Aaron, J. L. Gibson, J. P. Bruce, J. P. Downs, J. Orr, et al. ad lib.

Now, my dear Doctor, this is written in the best of spirits and humor, with no intention to hurt or annoy. Please take it so, and answer me freely thereon. If the matter "must hold over," say so in point over your signature; it is not fair to expect me to bear the brunt any longer. If this is not done, I will have to insert that or a similar editorial. Sincerely,

AARON.

Will be on to see you soon.

That we had before this colloquially among ourselves, designated the ex secretary as "The League of American Wheelmen," will not be a surprise to you.

That at our Philadelphia meeting on December 14 last, it was at first determined to demand the resignation of the ex-secretary, will not seem extraordinary. Almost every one will own that our long endurance was about exhausted. That on our discovery of the financial mismanagement of the BULLETIN, we did not then at once put this determination into effect may seem more extraordinary. But a consideration of all affairs convinced us that a meeting of the Board of Officers should be called for at the earliest possible date, the entire situation opened before them, and that they properly should settle the question. But it became clear to us, before many days had gone by, that such delay was injudicious, and that the ex-secretary should tender his resignation, be requested to resign, or in default of either be removed from office, before the convention met. A letter from the President to that effect brought the ex-secretary and Mr. Wells to New York for an interview, with the cool statement that the resignation would be offered on the condition that Mr. Wells should be appointed his successor. Neither the incumbent or candidate could be brought to acknowledge the impropriety of this offer, under the peculiar circumstances of this case, and it was not until the matter was referred to the Committee, and we endorsed the President's view, that Mr. Wells, who had remained after ex-secretary's departure, admitted that our standpoint was correct. He assured us he would admit an unconditional resignation, to take effect at once, and we confessed that we thought his own chances would be improved thereby.

The resignation received was by oversight supposed to be such instantaneous resignation, and the following telegram at once sent: —

NEW YORK, Jan. 11, 1887.

To E. M. AARON,
506 Walnut St.,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Your resignation received. Have appointed Wells temporarily.

N. M. BECKWITH.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11, 1887.

To JNO. A. WELLS,
506 Walnut St., Room 12,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Have received Aaron's resignation. Will you accept Secretary-Editor's office until 17 Jan., 1887? If so, publish resignation and appointment in BULLETIN.

N. M. BECKWITH.

No letter of appointment was ever sent (See the BULLETIN, 14 Jan., 1887). The practical control of the columns of the BULLETIN by our opponents, as the ex-secretary and his aid, Mr. Wells, had by this time become, prevented us barring the insertion of the self-laudatory letter of farewell which they had the effrontery to publish. A peremptory order to the secretary, pro tem, not to allow the appearance of the formal letter referred to as thereafter to follow, spared us that further hypocritical infliction. The 17th of January effectually disposed of the ex-secretary to the relief of this Committee, but one or two subsequent incidents must be referred to.

By vote of the Board, we were given discretion as to the publication of any matter that came before the meeting (See BULLETIN Feb. 18, 1887, p. 145, third column). In the depleted state of the treasury, it was our wish to avoid unnecessary expense. Secretary Bassett thought that a running report would give the facts sufficient for all practical purposes, and would save considerable outlay. While this question was still unsettled, the following telegram was received: —

PHILA., Jan. 30, 1887.

To JNO. G. GULICK,
133 Nassau Street, N. Y.

Can you meet me at Astor House, after six this evening; would like to see Dr. Beckwith also. Will bring important letter from Mr Bassett in interest of harmony. Wire appointment 506 Walnut.

E. M. AARON.

An answer that half-past seven that evening would suit, brought this:—

PHILA., Jan. 30, 1887.

To JNO. G. GULICK,
132 Nassau Street, N. Y.
At Astor House, seven-thirty, in first reading-room.

AARON.

Unfortunately, the President was unable to be present; fortunately, the Chief Consul of New York, who for long had been in the confidence of the committee, was able to be present. The ex-secretary produced a letter from Mr. Bassett, and recounted the assistance which he had given the latter in entering upon his duties. The letter corroborated this statement, for although on first reaching the office Mr. Bassett found the ex-secretary disposed to dispute his rights, he receded from this position, and finally gave aid which facilitated affairs. Of course this conciliatory introduction had some object, and a request to know the purpose of the appointment disclosed it. He desired that if it was possible he wished to have the stenographic report of the last meeting of the Board withheld from publication, or at least that part of it which directly affected him. When asked what would be the effect of such publication, the ex-secretary said "it would ruin me." He spoke about the effect that it would have with his new employers, and hoped that a running report would do. He was informed that we had no desire to ruin him, and if such report could be prepared as would vindicate the Board and the Committee, we would not insist upon the printing of the minutes at length; particularly as he assured us that he and his friends were disposed to accept the decision of the meeting without further question. He was much dejected and even humble, and it seemed right to both his hearers that if his faction were inclined to admit the final settlement of the issue we could do no more than acquiesce. It was on this understanding that the present Secretary prepared and printed the report in the BULLETIN of January 28, 1887. It is due to him to say that it was drawn up without the assistance of the stenographic minutes, which were not written out and in his hands until February 5, and the publication of which were at once begun in that of February 11, 1887, the first issue in which they could have appeared in any event. It would have been well for all concerned could matters have rested as then arranged, the memory of the struggle suffered to die out, and the acrimonious feeling aroused permitted to vanish. But the same imprudence and folly which precipitated the original contest prompted its revival. The call for the Pennsylvania meeting, the affidavit of himself and Mr. Wells made for the use of that meeting, and the headstrong behavior of his friends displayed the bad faith of the offered truce. At the time when he appeared before us as a supplicant for our mercy he must have been aware of the intended action of his friends His conduct was a gross breach of good faith, and his treachery is greater in view of the generosity then shown him. The ex-secretary has repeatedly said to us that he could not feel too grateful for our leniency, and that he could never repay us for the kindness that he had received at our hands. We have discovered that his gratitude is only equalled by his honesty, and one instance of the manner in which he has repaid our kindness is shown as follows: —

CHICAGO, Jan. 29, '87.

Dr. N. M. BECKWITH,
Pres't L. A. W., N. Y.

Dear Sir:—We enclose letters from Mr Aaron to our——— Please return same to us after reading. You may however, if you choose, retain a copy of the letter, suppressing———'s name. our object in sending you the letter, is to find out if it is regular to change our contract for '87 and '8 for advertising in the BULLETIN, from the former Sec'y-Editor, in his official capacity, to Mr. Wells, of whom we know nothing, and are told has nothing whatever to do with the BULLETIN. Of course you will understand that———will not care to be personally mentioned in connection with this. Our contract with the BULLETIN calls for the back outside page every issue for $———, and also provides that the Sec'y-Editor ride one of our new light roadsters, the coming season, paying us $105 for same in cash, on receipt of the machine. Aaron's letter was in response to Mr. ———, addressing the BULLETIN at Phil., which he supposed, would of course reach the present Sec'y-Editor. If you will explain the present situation to us, you will greatly oblige.

Yours truly,
GORMULLY & JEFFERY MF'G CO.,
R. PHILIPS GORMULLY,
Pres't.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Jan'y 27, 1887.

MY DEAR ———:

Your favor of the 22d rec'd. The unfortunate individual who is now endeavoring to run the office of Secretary-Editor is totally unable to ride a bicycle, and, so far as I know, has never ridden one in his life. Mr. Jno. A. Wells, Chief Consul of Penna., who conducted all the correspondence relative to your contract, will ride your light roadster and guarantee the fulfilment of your original contract. If you will make out a new contract with him personally, on the same terms as the old one, he will return you your other contract. He is a strong and active road rider, and holds at least one best on record, for road machine.

Sincerely yrs.

E. M. AARON.

A word in regard to Mr. Wells. We have no personal knowledge as to his acquaintance with the facts of the shortage. A belief, however, as to his knowledge can be readily obtained from the circumstances. We know that his positive statements at Boston, as to the cash in bank, were false, that he was left by the ex-Secretary in entire control of the office when the latter took refuge in North Carolina, that the bank was in Philadelphia and his principal was not, and that it was easier to obtain information at the bank than from the remote ex-Secretary; that he told us at our first meeting in Philadelphia that as soon as he began to overhaul the accounts he knew that there was a shortage, although he could not tell how much; that he carefully concealed from us that he was receiving commissions on advertising contracts; that he based his claim to the Secretaryship on the ground that his firm had claims for the publication of the BULLETIN and the League printing; that he insisted upon his right to retain such business; that his relations with the ex-Secretary were so close as to be identical; that he was Aaron and Aaron was he, and that he knew and countenanced the publication of the BULLETIN at a financial loss because it was a financial profit to his firm. We believed that his personal interests would conflict with those of the League, instead of coinciding with them, and that his connection with the wasteful and extravagant administration of the ex-secretary was too intimate to entitle him to the suffrages of his fellow officers. We feel that our opposition was well founded, and that the man who deceived us at Boston; who endeavored to embarrass us on the night of his defeat by a peremptory demand of payment of $1000 on his firm's account (not urgent until that moment); who appropriated official papers and turned them over to the equally felonious Committee of the Pennsylvania Division, whence they were obtained only by threat of legal prosecution; and, lastly, who on February 18, levied an attachment on the bank account and office effects of the organization, and tied up property more than three times the value necessary to satisfy his alleged unfounded claim, — was not fit, ought not to, and should never, under any circumstances, be suffered to hold a position of trust and confidence in the gift of the Board.

The wonderful part of all this sad business is that men so utterly unworthy of support, should apparently have honest and well-meaning followers. Fos-citur ex sociis is a sound though trite maxim, and the adherents of these faithless officers must share with them the obloquy of a bad cause.

There are other facts which we could mention that would correct the persistent misstatements made by the ex-secretary and his satellite, but this report has already far exceeded the length originally intended, and we will bring it to a close. We desire to say but a word about ourselves personally. Our course in these delicate and embarrassing matters was guided by what we considered the best light under the circumstances, and although we are all active business and professional men with duties incessantly calling for our attention, we have given much time to these affairs. We feel that, in all probability, we will not be able to escape the censure of those wise men who always know what others should do in every emergency, and, being themselves infallible, make no allowance for the weakness of less superior beings. We trust that the reflective men of this great organization will understand the difficulties of our task, and in acknowledging with a deep sense of gratefulnesss the vote of confidence passed at the last Board meeting, we respectfully submit the foregoing report.

N. MALON BECKWITH, Prest.,
T. J. KIRKPATRICK, Vice-Prest.,
JOHN C. GULICK,
} Executive Committee L. A. W.

Dated MARCH 5, 1887.

FROM THE CREDENTIAL COMMITTEE.

280 BROADWAY, NEW YORK,
March 2, 1887.

EDITOR OF BULLETIN: When charges are made against a man, fair-minded people usually inquire the grounds thereof, and judge after hearing the evidence. If they are somewhat excited and inclined to prejudge, either from sympathy or because they have been unduly biased, they may forget to inquire for the evidence, and so omitting, reach a conclusion based upon their prejudice or upon the statements of some malicious and unscrupulous person, whose true character they have not yet discovered.

Now, if the gentlemen at the Philadelphia meeting had been in possession of the evidence to warrant it, then they might, with a just grievance, have passed their resolutions; but they have accepted as facts, without sufficient inquiry, those things which, if not true, take from their complaint all its force.

The Committee on Credentials have received a large amount of intemperate criticism and unwarranted abuse, and on behalf of its members, I desire to suggest to my brother wheelmen, that in charging improper conduct, they have been too hasty even to consider upon what their charges are based.

I notice in the report of their proceedings frequent allusions to "gag law" at the Board meeting, but I have been unable to discover an instance where any of the complaining gentlemen have been prevented from speaking fully and at length, and as often as they desired.

It does not appear that any representative was forbidden to attend the second day's meeting, and I have no doubt that if some of the gentlemen who were so anxious to get away had remained, they might have returned much wiser and reported to their constituents much more intelligently and loyally than they apparently have done.

It is true that the majority prevailed, and that the little unhappy minority did not succeed in their filibustering tactics.

This, probably, is what the gentlemen desire to be understood to mean, when they cry "gag law." It is, of course, very improper. In deliberate assemblies, the majority, as a rule, does not prevail!

Upon the subject of the proxies, the Philadelphia meeting first announces that the Credential Committee was partisan. Do they desire, also, to charge that because the members of that committe voted for Abbot Bassett at the election, they were unable to discharge their duties honestly and fairly to their fellow wheelmen? It seems so, for they say in their so-called "appeal,"—

"2. Said Committee on Credentials arbitrarily and wantonly delayed its report for six hours to prevent an organization, whereby voters opposed to Mr. Bassett were obliged to leave for home, etc."

And yet, after making this serious accusation against members of the "L. A. W." in good standing, they offer nothing whatever in support of it, nor can they.

It is an "arbitrary and wanton" charge, and it is singular that intelligent men should indorse such a resolution, without first inquiring, How do you know this to be the fact?

Were any of these gentlemen with the committee during their deliberations? Do they know how the time was occupied and what the committee were doing? Have they anything to say, inconsistent with the faithful discharge by this committee of the duties imposed upon them, or which can in any manner reflect thereon? Did the committee know that "members opposed to Mr. Bassett were obliged to leave for home"? Did any of these gentlemen so inform them?

These charges are wholly untrue.

The committee does not purpose entering upon a defence until something is advanced which can be met and answered.

If a man avers that you are a thief, you deny it; and unless the accuser proves his accusation, the charge falls and he stands condemned as a slanderer.

The weakness and folly of the position taken by the Philadelphia meeting is apparent from the following allegations, one of which appears in the so-called "appeal," and the other in "Resolution, No. 1":—

"Whereas this meeting is assured that other proxies, precisely similar in form, were accepted in the hands of other members of the Board, who were allowed to vote thereon," and

"It is believed that proxies of a similar nature were accepted and cast for Mr. Bassett, at the same time that the above fifteen were rejected."

Who told you so, gentlemen? Can you name your informant, or state one instance where this has been done? Who "assured" the meeting of this fact, and upon what is it "believed" that the committee thus corruptly ruled?

Name the man who made these infamous charges, and I, a representative from New York, will protest him before the Membership Committee, and afford him an opportunity to come forward and justify, or failing therein, show himself to be unworthy of membership in the League of American Wheelmen.

The charge is utterly false.

It is evident that the Philadelphia meeting did not have any particular confidence in this information, or they would not have dodged the issue and fulminated their indignation resolution behind something so very anonymous that it could not even be charged directly.

It is earnestly hoped that when the calm of discrimination and justice shall succeed the heat of imagined injury, the impropriety of their action may become plain, even to the actors themselves.

There is but one more charge in the so-called "appeal" which reflects upon the Credential Committee, and that is, —

"5. The rejection of fifteen proxies sent to E. M. Aaron with power to substitute such alternates as he desired.

Here again the gentlemen are in error.

Notwithstanding that Mr. Aaron came to the Board meeting armed with twenty-two proxies, — while he could only vote three, — yet, in every instance where he could show authority for filling in the name of an alternate in the blank, such proxy was allowed.

It was only where there was "no instruction" that the proxy was rejected. Mr. Aaron was called before the committee, and upon his own testimony, the judgment was rendered. The method by which these proxies came into his hands was explained, and afforded the committee ample proof that these proxies were not such as the by-laws of the L. A. W. contemplate.

If there was any disfranchisement, the members who sent their proxies, thus imperfectly executed, are themselves to blame.

The unreliability of the information upon which this meeting acted is emphasized by its statement that the proxy of J. H. Johnson, Chief Consul of Michigan, was rejected. Chief Consul Johnson's proxy was voted by Mr. Knight L. Clapp, to whom it was made out as alternate. The proxy rejec'ed was that of Mr. Lewis B. Johnson, of Colorado, who sent it to the Secretary-Editor, in his name, as proxy, with the alternate blank, and no instruction accompanying it, authorizing it to be filled out.

I have already said that the committee does not intend to defend themselves against charges in the air, but when any person who thinks he has a grievance, will make a specification upon any one of the matters above referred to, we will meet it with a statement of the committee's acts, in connection therewith, so full, complete, and convincing, that if he be a man of ordinary fairness he will make the retraction due us.

On behalf of my associates and myself, I declare these charges, innuendoes, or whatever they may be termed, contained in the resolutions of the Philadelphia meeting, in so far as they allege improper or collusive action upon the part of the Credential Committee, without any foundation in fact, and unkind, unjust, and unfraternal.

I challenge any member of the League, accepting them, to the proof, and submit, that without verification, they should be disregarded and rejected as unworthy calumnies.

Yours, fraternally,
CHARLES H. LUSCOMB,
Representative for New York.

On behalf of Credential Committee, L. A. W. Board of Officers, at meeting in New York, 17 Feb., 1887.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION.

THE monthly meeting and dinner of the Massachusetts Division, L. A. W., took place at Young's Hotel, Boston, on Saturday evening last.

THE committee appointed to district the State and apportion the representatives submitted its report.

ON March 1st, Massachusetts had 1,007 members of the League and is therefore entitled to twenty representatives, which are apportioned as follows:

District.	Counties	Representatives.
1	Suffolk and Norfolk	8
2	Middlesex	4
3	Essex	2
4	Worcester	2
5	Plymouth, Bristol, Barnstable, Dukes and Nantucket	1
6	Hampshire and Hampden	2
7	Franklin and Berkshire	1
	Total representation	20

The committee stated that, in making up the schedule, it had been governed as nearly as possible by a basis of one representative to fifty members. The report was accepted.

The Division will send out its own ballots and with these ballots will go such nominations as clubs may choose to make, or every ten members may make nominations. Clubs or members must, however, confine their nominations to a Chief Consul and the Representatives of their own districts.

The new constitution has been printed, and copies will be sent out with the ballots.

Chief Consul Hayes presented a sample of sign which has been recommended for use as a danger sign. It is of iron with raised letters in white enamel on a black ground. These signs can be made for one dollar each in large lots, and they seem to be much more suited to the purposes of danger signs than any that have yet been considered.

Dr W. H. Emery paid a high tribute to the efficiency of the Chief Consul during the year, and moved a vote of thanks. Mr. W. I. Harris also spoke in flattering terms of the valuable services rendered by the Secretary-Treasurer, and offered a similar motion. Both the officials were accordingly complimented unanimously.

CORRESPONDENCE.

The editor wishes it distinctly understood that he is not responsible for the statements and opinions expressed in these columns.

DR. BUTLER.

BROOKLYN, FEB. 28, 1887.

EDITOR BULLETIN: In reading the letter of Dr. C. S. Butler, of Buffalo in the "WHEEL" last week, I notice his remark that he is not a candidate for any office in the gift of the Board. This, I trust, does not mean that the Doctor intends retiring from active participation in League affairs. After careful observation, I have been impressed with the good work Dr. Butler is doing and the time and thought he has given to wheeling matters and the general interests of our organization.

From his position on the Rules and Regulations Committee, he has introduced reforms and amendments of undoubted advantage and necessity, and has materially assisted in the wise legislation which has marked recent meetings of the Board of Officers.

Others beside myself, fearing that this utterance of the Doctor's might have some significance, have expressed an opinion that the League would seriously lose by his withdrawal from office or his declination to labor wherever the association shall call him, and in referring to this matter I desire to speak for those who know of Dr. Butler's official career and believe him to be a representative who can be relied upon to stand and speak fearlessly for the best interests of the L. A. W. The proceedings of our Board of officers show his integrity and directness of purpose and indicate that he is too valuable a man to be permitted to get out of the harness.

C. H. LUSCOMB.

ILLINOIS DIVISION.

THE future plans of the Division are as follows: The State is divided into thirteen districts, composing the following counties: Chicago District: Cook, Lake, DuPage, McHenry, Kane, Kendall, Will. Rockord District,: DeKalb, Boone, Winnebago, Ogle, Lee. Freeport District: Stephenson, Carroll, Whiteside, Jo Daviess. Kankakee District: Kankakee, Grundy, Livingston, Iroquois, Ford, Vermillion, Champaign. Peoria District: La Salle, Bureau, Putnam, Marshall, Stark, Peoria, Woodford, Tazewell, McLean, Mason, Logan, Dewitt. Galesburg District: Henry, Rock Island, Mercer, Knox, Warren, Henderson, McDonough, Hancock, Fulton, Schuyler. Paris District: Edgar, Douglas, Coles, Clark, Cumbealand, Jasper, Crawford, Lawrence, Richland. Clay. Decatur District: Piatt, Macon, Moultrie, Christian, Shelby, Montgomery, Fayette, Effingham, Bond. Springfield District: Menard Sangamon, Cass, Morgan, Scott, Green, Macoupin, Jersey, Madison. Quincy District: Hancock, Adams, Brown, Pike, Calhoun. Belleville District: St. Clair. Monroe, Randolph, Perry, Washington, Clinton, Marion, Jefferson, Franklin, Hamilton, Wayne. Cairo District: Jackson, Williamson, Saline, Union, Johnson, Pope, Alexander, Pulaski, Massac. Mt. Carmel District: Wabash, Edwards, White, Gallatin, Hardin.

Each one of these thirteen districts will be represented by a road map 3 x 5⅜ inches, showing every highway, village, city, and stream. These maps will be printed in book form, the maps being accompanied by schedules of tours over principal roads in the respective districts. Besides this, hotels and appropriate divisional information will be also printed.

Each district will have a representative so far as allowable under League rules, which gives a State one representative for each fifty members. At present we are entitled to but nine representatives, and hence only nine of the above districts can have a representative. I would recommend that this be adjusted by leaving out the least populous districts, viz., Mt. Carmel, Cairo, Freeport and Belleville, when balloting for representatives. Then the chief consul would appoint a representative-elect in each of these four districts. Thus the constitution would be adhered to, while we would get our chief man in each district and our state interest would not suffer through legal technicality.

In each of the one hundred and three counties in the State a consul will be appointed, excepting in Cook county, which will be represented by three consuls, representing and residing in the north, west, and south divisions of Chicago city, and that part of the county contiguous thereto, and excepting counties where the nature of the work requires more than one, in which case the section will be equally divided between two or more.

Each representative will be furnished with a large bound volume of township and county maps covering his district, in which every road and all details, as drawn by State engineers, will be shown on a large scale, and to representatives and consuls appropriate stationery. Consuls will furnish their representative with reports of the quality, condition, and grade of every road in their respective counties, which will be duly recorded in the representative's books after the following symbols: Gravel roads, red; clay roads, blue; sand roads, green; dirt roads, black. Grades will be indicated by fringing the side of the road where particularly hilly spots occur. Any extraordinary cases, such as submerged or swampy lands, will be indicated in writing. Representatives will forward their books periodically to the chief consul, who will have copied on the general atlas of the Division.

Representatives will seek knowledge of the political status in their districts and acquaintance of the congressional representative, in order that statistics pertinent to road systems, and the establishment and maintenance of highways (such as may be gleaned from his own investigation or that of consuls, or may be furnished by the League) may be kept before the Legislature. From the united compilations of the representatives, every foot of road in the State will be clearly illustrated as to quality and adaptability to the uses of a public highway; and while serving as a valuable guide to wheelmen seeking tours through the State, will aid in carrying on the road-reform movement already started, and which has a considerable backing among landowners in the State. The Division need not carry on alone this reform movement, but by furnishing, in a manner to which it is peculiarly adapted, statistics of the State's resources, and, through the League machinery, keeping the subject before the people, the object will in time be accomplished.

I believe that it is only by working on some regular system of allotment of task that best results can be obtained. By the above system, each consul will have his county to supervise in detail, and each representative his district from which to draw general information; while the chief consul will have them completed records from which to compile works of importance and convenience to the membership.

It will be necessary to elect representatives for 1887–8 to be in accord with this plan as regards location. At present Chicago district has five representatives, while the Peoria, Rockford, Springfield and Galesburg districts have one each. G. L. Magill, A. G. Bennett, J. P. Maynard and Edwin Oliver, of Chicago, and J. M. Thrasher, of Elgin, now represent Chicago district; H. G. Rouse, of Peoria, E. H. Sleight, Moline; Freeman Lillibridge, Rockford; Chas Hansel, Springfield. Nominations through the Bulletin, for Chief-Consul one representative from each of the thirteen districts, are now solicited. The by-laws provide that between the 1st and 10th day of March, blanks will be sent each member, whereon to return vote for chief-consul and representatives. Heretofore the count has been made in the general office. This year each state will count for itself. I appoint Richard E. Schmidt, E. A. Dickinson, C. R. Griffith, and T. S. Miller, of Chicago, committee to receive and count the votes.

In view of the annual League meet being held in St. Louis, May 20 and 21, annual meeting of the Illinois Division is called simultaneously. Special rooms have been engaged for Division headquarters at the Lindell Hotel, St Louis, at which all Illinois wheelmen are invited to centre. Business meeting will occur immediately after adjournment of the L. A. W. Board of Officers meeting, May 20th, in the Illinois Division rooms. The Division will appear as such in the parade and tour.

Under pledge of the faithful observance of above outlined course, and in token of desire to support the same, the early renewal of old memberships, and applications of the unattached, are respectfully solicited.

BURLEY B. AYERS,
Chief-Consul.

CHICAGO, February 9th, 1887.

THE OWL.

THE steal cruisers of ancient days were the pirates The steel cruisers of to-day are bicycles.

It's a curious fact that when the going is the softest it is the hardest.

"MAMMA, I wish papa would give me a bicycle," said Mr. Amateur's youngest to his mother. "He can't dear, he is n't rich enough." After a pause: "Mamma, may I have some mince pie?" "No, my dear, it's too rich." Another pause. "Mamma, how I do wish papa was like the pie."

ABOUT this season of the year, wheelmen have completed their paving contract in the Sheol-good-intention direction, and begin to talk of a more substantial and terrestrial kind that will prove of cycling benefit to them.

QUEEN VICTORIA'S youngest grandson is to be educated as a wheelman; he is not yet six months old and is already receiving his first lessons in wheeling. He rides a quadricycle, with direct application of power to the rear wheels by the nurse. With the exception of his devotion to the bottle, a practice that has ruined many another wheelman, he bids fair to do his mile inside of four minutes within the next fifteen years.

Wheeling says it has received an intimation that the Century Wheelmen of New York would be "at home" to them. It's a pity that they were not also intimated to that there was no such club here, which would be nearer the truth.

YOUR note in last issue of the BULLETIN, regarding the forthcoming uniforms, reminds me of an incident illustrating the pleasure of being one of the committee having the selection of the new one in hand. Enter Mr. Green, captain of the Bungtown Bikers. "I just thought I would step in and see how you were getting along in regards the L. A. W. uniform, and see if I couldn't give 'yer a lift. Got any samples." Chief Consul Bidwell from the midst of a couple of hundred samples. "Oh! yes, here's a few of the newest shades, elephant's breath, terrapin's memory, onion gin, pug's nose, bruised blueberry, and a lot more, all of them the very latest." Mr. Green, after examining them, "Well thems all good enough for yer city chaps, but what we want is something sorter modest. What der yer say to a plain red and yallar plaid?" He goes, the Chief Consul returns to an effort to arrive at some conclusion only to be almost immediately interrupted by some other kind adviser, with some as equally brilliant suggestion.

WHILE writing upon the subject of uniform, I wish to echo most heartily the sentiments of your correspondent Mr. Collamer, in relation to the abandonment of the Norfolk pattern of coat, agreeing with him that the added pleats upon that form of coat are a useless burden to the wearer, and trouble to the manufacturer. If the weight saved the former, and the cloth and time saved the latter are put into some more useful part of the uniform, through the adoption of a plain sack coat, I think all interested will be benefited.

A GOOD rule for telling the actual age of a second-hand wheel, advertised as "but little used," is to multiply the age given by the rider who wants to sell it by three. That will about get at it.

THE New Mexico Indians are becoming rapidly civilized. One of them recently procured a rail-road pass to Washington and promptly traded it off for a second-hand bicycle and a bottle of whiskey.

MR. PROBST, in a late issue, says he is a "pronounced unbeliever in the practice of continuing one and the same person in office for a consecutive number of times." I am aware that in this opinion he is joined by many other members of the L. A. W. who think the pleasure of putting good men in office to be only equalled by the pleasure of putting them out as soon as they may have become thoroughly conversant with their official duties. It is the prevalence of this disposition on the part of the average leagueite, that will always prove a stumbling block in the direction of the association's getting good men to fill its important offices. An able man will not give up a lucrative and permanent position, to accept any of the important and salaried offices of the League, as long as the present uncertainty of tenure in office exists. He no sooner thoroughly masters the duties of his office than he is ousted, and, while his newly elected successor has to relearn them, the welfare of the L. A. W. suffers. What we want is to elect good men to office, and when they prove themselves zealous and competent keep them there, either by electing them at the start to a long term of service, or by repeated re-elections of shorter terms. The present system of changing, solely for the purpose of making the change, or of giving the office as an emolument or sop to any especial division of the country, or man therein, is a fallacy and a failure, and works harm in many ways to the officers, the members, and the League. I should like to see the terms of office of the President, the Executive Committee, the Secretary-Editor, the Treasurer, and the Chairmanships of the standing committees, made for a term of not less than five years each; and I would at the end of that time vote for a re-election of each of the officers for a succeeding term of same length, if they had proved themselves worthy of their office. As it is now, the average officer is elected for a year, six months of which he spends learning the duties of office, and the remaining six months, is divided in performing the labors of the office, and arranging to vacate it for his successor. I have intended making these remarks for some time past, believing that it was one of the greatest weaknesses in our organization; and whoever the incoming board may consist of, be they from the East or West, North or South, I shall still maintain that permanency in office should be given them, so long as they cause the interests of the association to prosper under their management and care.

I UNDERSTAND Mr. Frederick Jenkins intends to return to active League politics with the spring election. Among some of the most radical and much-needed reforms, that he has promised, is a correction of the misuse of the English language by cycling correspondents, which he thinks prevails since the Fred of former days blossomed into the Frederick of to-day, and changed the pen of the correspondent for the more brawny, if less brainy, implements of a rural resident. He will probably give you an example of pure Jenkinsonian diction very shortly after he reads this, in which I will get handled without gloves, and you will be the gainer of copy by the transaction. THE OWL.

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS., March 5, 1887.

To members of the Massachusetts Division L. A. W.

By vote of the Board of Officers of this Division, the several districts of the State are entitle to representatives as follows: —

District No. 1.	Norfolk and Suffolk countries,	8.
District No. 2.	Middlesex,	4.
District No. 3.	Essex,	2.
District No. 4.	Worcester,	2.
District No. 5.	Plymouth, Bristol, Barnstable, Dukes and Nantucket,	1.
District No. 6.	Hampshire and Hampden,	2.
District No. 7.	Franklin and Berkshire,	1.

Nominations for Chief-Consul and Representatives for each district may be made by the League Club or clubs therein, or by not less than ten League members, resident therein, and shall be voted upon only by the residents members of such district. All nominations must be in the hands of the Secretary-Treasurer on or before the 20th day of March, properly signed by persons making the same.

Fraternally,
SANFORD LAWTON.
Secretary-Treasurer.

CYCLETS.

VOTE.

VOTE wisely.

VOTE as early as possible.

THE Board of officers governs the League. It is important that good men be chosen to serve in it.

BALLOTS should reach the polls on or before 10 April.

THE Massachusetts Division will conduct its own election, sending out its ballots and nominations.

MR. DUCKER says the League has abandoned racing. In what way? The racing rules still exist; we are going to have our championships, and at the last meeting and by mail vote, the Board of officers asserted sole jurisdiction over amateur cycling athletics. We fail to see in what way the League has abandoned racing.

MR. DUCKER also asserts that he has been working the L. A. W. in the interests of the A. C. U., and claims that the friends of the latter who are in official positions in the L. A. W. have shaped legislation in a way to help the A. C. U. If this is so, it is well for voters to know it. If any member of the Board of officers is abusing his position in the way indicated by Mr. Ducker he should not be returned.

THE Big Three! Those who talk in four figures,—New York, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts.

BOSTON looks forward to a cycle track as one of the enterprises of the new athletic club. The club is already an assured success, and as there will be many wheelmen on the rolls, they can well claim a cycle track in arranging for fitting out the grounds.

THOMAS STEVENS has joined the editorial staff of Outing, and will endeavor to make that magazine more interesting to wheelmen.

THE King Wheel Company, of New York, which was incorporated Nov. 24, 1886, has organized with the choice of Rev. Homer A. King as president, Sumner Smith, of Hamden, vice-president, and Albert J. King, of Jersey City, N. J., secretary and treasurer. The Armstrong Manufacturing Company, of Bridgeport, Ct., is building 1,000 of the King bicycles.

THE Massachusetts Division talks of erecting danger signs. The officers have been given very low figures on a metallic sign with enamelled letters, which will not scratch nor be affected by the weather.

RICHARD HOWELL, England's great cycle racer, recently met with a very painful injury. It appears that he was in the act of firing a pistol to start a professional sprinter, when, owing to the weapon being foul, the charge split the handle with considerable force, making an ugly open wound between the thumb and forefinger of Howell's left hand, whilst the lower bone of the thumb is also broken, and the wrist very much sprained. Medical aid was soon obtained, and the injured limb placed between boards. The accident will cause an interference of several weeks in his training.

A CABLEGRAM from Sidney, N. S. W., announces that the series of amateur professional races, — one mile, three miles and ten miles, — sanctioned by the New South Wales Cyclists' Union, ended in the victory of Fred Wood, of Leicester. He won the one mile and three miles, but came to grief in the ten miles, owing to an accident to his machine. Wood, however, won the chief prize by winning two out of the three events. R. James, of Birmingham, competed in the race, and the amateurs included Con Dwyer, C. R. Wood, and Bennett.

WOODSTOCK, VA., March 8, 1887. — In response to 11,323 I have looked up my old diaries and find that good riding on our pike can be expected April 15. Earlier than this showers and heavy winds are to be expected; these do not prevent riding, but render it unpleasant. Our pike extending as far south as Staunton is never unridable except when covered with deep snow. Come along, 11,323, and all the L. A. W. family. We Valley riders are always glad to see you. Stop to see us when passing. N. B. Schmitt, 6,841.

ANSWER TO 11,323. — The Valley Pike can be travelled per wheel every month in the year, except when it is covered by snow, or the murcury is ten below zero. In summer a good rain improves the surface. 3,305.

L. A. W. MEMBERS OF RECORD FEB. 28.

[This list is as near correct as it is possible to make it. Some 200 renewals have been received at the Boston office, and these are credited below. It may be found later that some of these are already on the books, and there is yet time for some of the distant States to be heard from. At time of writing we had no access to the books of the League, which are in Philadelphia, subject to order of the Court.]

State.	Renewals.	Applicants.	Life Members.*	Total.	No. of Reps.
Ala...	6			6	0
Ark ..	8	4		12	0
Berm..	1			1	0
Cal ...	174	30		204	4
Can...	6			6	0
Colo...	31			31	0
Conn .	461	30	1	492	9
Dak ..	11	6		17	0
Del...	24	1		25	0
D. C..	58	2		60	1
Eng ..	4			4	0
Fla ...	12			12	0
Ga	12			12	0
Ida....	1			1	0
Ill.....	343	18	1	362	7
Ind. ..	151	14		165	3
Iowa..	76	6		82	1
Kan ..	58	13		71	1
Ky....	59	5		64	1
La....	34	1		35	0
Me....	83	4		87	1
Md. ..	184	15		199	3
Mass..	958	46	3	1007	20
Mich..	163	8		171	3
Minn .	73	3		76	1
Mo ...	199	22	1	222	4
Miss ..	2			2	0
Mont .	4			4	0
Neb ..	48	8		56	1
N. H.	100	2	2	104	2
N. J..	683	20	1	704	14
N. Y..	1414	135	7	1556	31
N. C..	9			9	0
N.Sco.	3			3	0
Ohio..	619	27		646	12
Ore...	1			1	0
Pa....	1193	94	12	1299	25
R. I...	105	10	2	117	2
S. C...	1			1	0
Tex...	8			8	0
Tenn..	64	8		72	1
Utah..	7	5		12	0
Vt....	75	2		77	1
Va....	40	7		47	0
W.Va.	44	6		50	1
Wis...	35	4		39	0
Wyo..	36	3		9	0
N Mex	1			1	0
	7682	559	30	8271	149

* Eleven life members who applied after Jan. 1, 1887, are included in the number of Renewals.

THE League has held its numbers very creditably this year, We can make it 15,000 before the year is up.

THE maker's amateur question had something to do with the reduction of our membership, but nearly all those who went out for this cause will come back again.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows; —

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Applicant will please bear in mind that in addition to the two weeks, as above, it must necessarily take several days for their ticket to be issued, as it passes through two hands before being mailed to them. After four weeks from date of publication you may look for your ticket.

It is expected, and it is the duty of all members to examine the list of applications for their respective States, and report at once any error in name or address, and see that no objectionable person is admitted to the League. Any objection must be made to the Secretary within two weeks from date of publication. It will be considered confidential.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

List 77 — Total 37.

BOSTON, March 7, 1887.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION — 1.

Unattached.
13838 Adams, George H., 1853 Stevens St., San Francisco.

DELAWARE DIVISION — 1.

Wilmington Wheel Club.
13839 Drake, Harry A., 211 West 9th St., Wilmington.

GEORGIA DIVISION — 1.

Unattached.
13840 Moss, Mrs. W. F., Thomasville.

ILLINOIS DIVISION — 7.

Quincy Bi. Club.
13842 Chandler, Ellis, 503 Hampshire St., Quincy.
13843 Castle, H. D., care of Comstock Castle Stone Co., Quincy.
13844 Hoffman, H. R., 16th and Vermont Sts., "
13845 Nicholf, John H., 805 Ohio St., "
13846 Osborn, H. S., 288 North 6th St., "
13847 Shoutz, D. I., care of Comstock Castle Stone Co., "
Unattached.
13841 Hurlbut, E. S., Juliet.

INDIANA DIVISION — 1.

Unattached.
13809 French, Edgar A., 89 West De Wald St., Fort Wayne.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION — 3.

Massachusetts Bi. Club.
13848 Arnold, Horace D., Newton.
13849 Morton, Gallonje, Swampscott.
13850 Savage, Philip H., 96 Federal St., Boston.

MINNESOTA DIVISION — 1.

Winona Bi. Club.
13851 Vila, Frank, Winona.

MISSOURI DIVISION — 2.

Madison County Wheelmen.
13853 Buford, Samuel, Fredericktown.
13852 Nifong, Walter, "

NEBRASKA DIVISION — 1.

Omaha Wheel Club.
13863 Voss, George R., Omaha.

NEW JERSEY DIVISION — 5.

Hudson County Wheelmen.
13870 De Long, A. D., 272 Montgomery St., Jersey City.
13871 Gubelman, Fred., " "
13872 Manton, L. W., " "
13873 Robertson, William, Jr.,
Unattached.
13854 Clarke, Lewis L., Schraalenburgh.

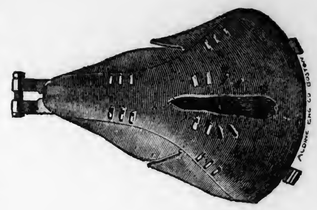
NEW YORK DIVISION — 10.

Ariel Wheel Club.
13868 Trowbridge, George C., Poughkeepsie.
Mercury Wheel Club.
13856 Allen, Berton, Flushing.
13857 Bourne, Frank, "
13858 Garretson, C. H. "
13859 Lincoln, F. W. "
Mt. Vernon Bi. Club.
13874 Lucas, P. H., Mt. Vernon.
Unattached.
13855 Brown, Chas. H., 316 8th St., Brooklyn.
13861 Bull, Sumner, Walden.
13862 Dickinson, E. H., 29 East 61st St., New York.
13860 Tiffany, Henry D., Station R, " "

OHIO DIVISION — 3.

Unattached.
13864 Griffin, Rollin S., 407 Scoville Ave., Cleveland.
13866 Nagel, W. H., 233 West Columbia St., Cleveland.
13865 Rothschild, Max, 35 East High St., Springfield.

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION — 1.



Unattached.
13867 Coville, E. B., Brockwaynee.

THE TOWNSEND
Combination Spring and Saddle.
STODDARD, LOVERING & CO., Boston, Mass.

It is light. It is easy. It does not chafe. Try it. It fits any machine. Thoroughly ventilated. It does not sag or get out of shape. It combines the advantages of every saddle extant. It is fitted to all RUDGE machines.

PRICE, $6.00.

SOLE U. S. AGENTS,

STODDARD, LOVERING & CO.,

152 Congress St., Boston, Mass.

RENEWALS.

No. 13. Total, 557.

BOSTON, MASS, Mar. 7, 1887.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION.—1.

12800 Miller, J. M.

COLORADO DIVISION—10.

8444 Berdrow, A.
3575 Chamard, F. J.
8445 Davison, O. L.
5492 Drury, Dr. J.
5498 Johnson, L. B.
10548 Meehan, M. L.
750 Miller, F. A.
6266 Petrie, H.
7158 Siebold, W. J.
12785 Stewart, G. R.

CONNECTICUT DIVISION—16.

10179 Arnold, E. E.
1163 Bacon, B. M.
7968 Brown, H. P.
7969 Brown, Mrs. H. P.
7768 Dayton, E. S.
8452 Felk, W. P.
10181 Forbes, G. L.
10180 Forbes, A. A.
169 Hall, W. D.
2783 Hine, W. E.
2621 Hubbell, H.
9960 Jackson, E. M.
323 Kellogg, C. W.
7168 Mansfield, A. L.
9524 Olmstead, W. T.
8828 Potter, C. B.

DAKOTA—1.

7282 Burnley, W. M.

DELAWARE DIVISION—3.

11092 Bye, C. C.
11091 Bye, E. T.
8749 Patterson, W.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA DIVISION—9.

2530 Bolan, T. V.
692 Crisp, W. E.
1843 Deshields, W. H.
7651 Doremus, G. S.
12668 Fishback, J. H.
7555 Hardy, W. B.
2530 Kent, W. G.
1842 Moss, C. A.
12921 Oertel, T. E.

GEORGIA—2.

12364 Block, F. C.
11644 Vandenheurk, J. W.

ILLINOIS DIVISION—15.

10332 Ashton, F. J.
2414 Blake, J. O.
10736 Charles, H. H.
894 Dunn, G. D.
10753 Haeni, C.
10558 Jackson, J. C.
9539 Loker, G. T. Jr.
1774 Nielson, F.
6892 Peck, E. J.
11024 Robertson, W. P.
11949 Scott, S. C.
11130 Vaill, J.
8462 White, R. B.
10750 White, J. T.
6239 Wilkinson, D. P.

INDIANA DIVISION—7.

9207 Brill, J. W.
10194 Cilcy, J. B.
2305 Dixon, W. J.
9860 Evans, G. H.
11269 Hatfield, B. H.
518 Price, E. C.
12842 Robison, W. F.

IOWA DIVISION—4.

7565 Clarkson, J. R.
4866 Judson, C. H.
6080 Vermilion, C. W.
6513 Woolworth, C. M.

KANSAS DIVISION—1.

10675 Woodrow, H. G.

LOUISIANA DIVISION—2.

11138 Perrilliat, A.
12469 Williams, J. P.

MAINE DIVISION—4.

11232 Campbell, M. S.
6184 Crosby, C. H.
11329 Fling, F. M.
1869 Richards, C. V.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION—235.

12818 Addick, J. E.
189 Aitken, R. G.
2516 Amoty, Dr. J. S.
380 Andrews, W. H.
4008 Appleton, B. W.
459 Atkins, A. L.
5047 Ball, Dr. W. D.
9427 Bamber, M.
10786 Barnard, C. N.
7478 Barta, L.
7818 Bassett, J. P.
8495 Beazley, R. G.
10787 Beck, E. S.
2047 Bellows, W. H. M.
3140 Benson, E. R.
5209 Bennett, E. R.
4548 Bird, L. J.
2841 Black, G. M.
11311 Bowen, B. J.
9864 Brewer, G. F.
3030 Brown, S. J.
8496 Bunting, W. Jr.
4297 Knight, W. E.
6718 Knowlton, D. S.
10795 Kuhhardt, G. E.
7844 Laue, F.
8504 Laud, E. H.
12821 Lewis, W. K.
4585 Lewis, W. C.
10796 Lindall, C. E.
9093 Livermore, F. H.
4913 Lowe, F. R.
2941 Magee, C. R.
2422 Main, G. B.
10402 Martin, F.
2955 Martin, C. A.
2968 Martin, F. P.
1512 Margot, F. E.
12822 Mason, E. H.
363 Miller, S. C.
2971 Minot, W. H.
8483 Morgan, L. W.
7846 Morton, W. J.
4587 Morton, E. P. J.
4915 Burr, J. M.
1011 Burt, W. V.
2029 Burnham, H. A. Jr.
4914 Canfield, E.
4556 Carpenter, G. S.
141 Carpenter H. I.
2843 Carter, J. W.
7839 Chelius, J. R.
4555 Churchill, G. A.
1005 Claflin, A. D.
4550 Claflin, J. A.
2055 Clark, Dr. A. W.
2859 Clark, J. C.
6273 Cobb, F. C.
2863 Cobb, C. D.
10811 Coburn, M. W.
2842 Colbath, D. W.
4510 Collins, C. A.
4561 Colgau, Dr. A. J.
4553 Cooke, Dr. W. P.
551 Copeland, C.
142 Corken, Dr. C. H.
143 Cowdrey, I. W.
137 Cowdrey, F. W.
12820 Cumner, H. B.
12819 Cummings, G. W.
8689 Dalton, J. G.
4916 Damrell, C. S.
6405 Darbey, J. M.
395 Darling, N.
10789 Davis, C. E., Jr.
7840 Davis, C. H.
2185 Day, Rev. S. H.
10788 DeCourtney, H. W.
2879 Dodge, C. R.
8909 Downs, G. A.
2356 Ducker, H. E.
2274 Drew, E. R.
1652 Dyer, A. W.
2906 Eaton, S. R.
2884 Edgerly, H. A.
5509 Ethier, N.
4917 Evans, L. A.
10217 Ewing, A. W.
4566 Farrington, I H.
2909 Farrington, J. E.
9217 Farrington, W. M.
10790 Farwell, A. L.
10791 Faxon, E. P.
9222 Fillebrown, G. B.
7480 Fisher, O. M.
11143 Forristall, A. M.
3668 Forbes, J. B.
144 Freeboro, F. W.
11620 Gibbs, F. W.
3066 Gilligan, J. J.
2914 Goldthwait, C. B.
10588 Goodwin, F. W.
10356 Gordon, E. G.
2919 Graves, C. D. V.
7481 Green, J. R.
9718 Hadsell, W. D.
4573 Hall, S. L.
930 Hallett, E. A.
7483 Harlow, A. F.
1332 Haradon, C. R.
10792 Harrington, E.
2350 Harwood, G. F.
2021 Hastings, G. H.
10973 Hathaway, F. H.
4569 Haynes, G., Jr.
9059 Henry, H. E.
3301 Heymer, F. W.
11313 Higgins, A. S.
7813 Higginson, T. W.
10794 Hill, C. L.
4571 Hill, F. W.
4918 Hiscock, H. L.
4918 Hobbs, F. W.
4575 Hodgkins, J. W.
2922 Hodgson, R. H.
3967 Holt, C. S.
305 Hovey C. L.
2311 Ingalls, C. E.
4580 Ipsen, L. S.
8497 James, B. F.
2027 Jenkins, C. D.
11314 Jenney, W.
9178 Johnson, W. M.
4581 Jones, E. A.
9719 Jordan, W. H.
147 Joy, C. F.
2912 Morse, J. C.
2970 Myers, E. F.
3978 McCormick, J. A.
7815 McLaughlin, F. H.
11422 McLarren, R. S.
9805 McPhee, D. T.
1660 Nash, N. C.
9405 Needham, J. J.
2972 Newell, R. A., Jr.
9406 Nichols, G.
10591 Nightingale, J. E.
11423 Noble, L. E.
7485 Northup, D. W.
9212 Otis, J. F.
9407 Page, C. W.
6719 Palen, G. A.
4574 Palen, W. W.
8484 Parker F.
150 Parkhurst, H. E.
2351 Parker, F. G.
4 Parsons, A. S.
7847 Patterson, T. F.
4593 Pattison, A. E.
1880 Peck, A. D., Jr.
11146 Penniman, F. E.
8499 Perry, F. W.
10797 Perkins, E. C.
2897 Pettee, J., Jr.
6717 Pierce, D. C.
7080 Pillsbury, E. B.
2385 Pool, F. J.
2981 Pope, G. W., Jr.
1006 Pope, G.
2706 Pratt, J. S.
1268 Pratt, R. D.
1 Pratt, C. E.
3475 Pratt, F. A.
2983 Raymond, F. F.
4595 Read, J.
10368 Reed, W. A.
2988 Regestein, E. C.
11346 Richards, C. D.
8486 Rich, M. W.
3971 Robbins, H. C.
10798 Robinson, J. C.
10799 Ryder, A. N.
10800 Ryder, C. C.
4596 Russell, G.
2091 Salkeld, T. F.
2997 Salkeld, H. B.
2992 Salkeld, A. D.
2048 Savell, J. E.
7486 Schuchman, C.
155 Shilaber, C. P.
10801 Shockley, W. A.
9412 Shumway, H. H.
158 Slocum, W. S.
10047 Smith, A. W.
3968 Smith, L. E. P.
2454 Smith, D. J.
1433 Speirs, F. W.
11604 Sprague, F. D.
10802 Sprague, J. M.
8718 Southard, L. C.
3002 Stahl, W. C.
4017 Stimson, F.
7850 Stoddard, A. B.
10803 Thayer, W. P.
12823 Tilden, G. T.
10049 Tirrell, J. W.
4604 Tobey, R. T.
2999 Tolman, J. P.
378 Valentine, J. J.
4608 Vinton. F. P.
592 Walworth, A. C.
162 Washburn, H. T.
4612 Watson, H. D.
9418 Watt, J. B.
6802 Watkins, R. P.
5934 Webb, F. L.
163 Webster, A. F.
9065 West, H. G.
1012 Wheeler, H. A.
3006 White, G. A.
2974 White, G. R.
4257 Whitehead, G. W.
8511 Whittemore, L. D., Jr.
7851 Whitney, E. H.
12824 Wilder, E. F.
3008 Wilbur, H. B.
7487 Williams, J. T.
751 Williams, H. W.
5045 Kelly, W. W.
9062 Kennedy, C. C.
2928 Kennedy, J. A.
11315 Kilvert, M. A.
4611 Wilson, H. L.
5508 Wimderlick, G.
3005 Wood, J.

MICHIGAN DIVISION—7.

9894 Bland, P. N.
10593 Bradish, W. K.
8225 Ford, F. D.
10599 Gillespie, J. H.
10836 Hedges, J. A.
7006 Tiffany, F. A.
12455 Wood, C. A.

MINNESOTA DIVISION—4.

9232 Graves, M. E.
11430 Hale, E. J.
6621 Norton, H. H.
6630 Rebstock, E. W., Jr.

MISSOURI DIVISION—9.

7284 Cabnon, M. H.
7285 Christopher, H. D.
7288 Edwards, J. E. F.
2733 Nicholson, A.
7491 Nifong, F. G.
4164 Snyder, G. T.
12156 Walker, R. J.
7292 Woolford, J. L.
7577 Yost, W. E.

NEBRASKA DIVISION—5.

11608 Allen, Miss J.
5635 Gordon, O. H.
6770 McConaughy, R.
11607 Rhodes, H. H.
12264 Roberts, W. S.

NEW HAMPSHIRE DIVISION—2.

10249 Gilbert, C. F.
8706 Merrill, C. H.

NEW JERSEY DIVISION—33.

10075 Allen, W. M.
6666 Applegate, G. F.
10879 Bellman, E. R.
3547 Burnett. H. C.
7419 Burkhart, G. F.
3041 Calkins, W. S.
10439 Chamberlin, G. W.
9214 Drabble, S.
10441 Edwards, G. K.
11692 Emans, J. S.
2430 Gray, M. J.
5569 Haas, J. F.
1379 Huff, W. H.
9750 Irwin, Dr. A.
8956 Janvier, T. R.
4502 Littell, H. E.
432 Logan, C. A.
4198 Marsden, Dr. G. F.
1441 Miller, H. B.
3907 Parker, J. L.
1428 Paxton, W. W., Jr.
6216 Robotham, G.
4204 Runyon, J. F.
12216 Scudder, K. L.
9269 Servis, W. H.
3980 Shepard, F. M., Jr.
5842 Sleight, C. H.
3982 Smillie, G. C.
10884 Swartwout, W. H.
1435 Taylor, G. B.
5666 Theberath, T. E.
6744 Tryon, J. M.
3031 Uebelacker, C. F.

NEW YORK DIVISION—66.

97 Adams, H. A.
5525 Akin, A.
7320 Armstrong, J., Jr.
9458 Atchison, E.
12127 Aumock, C. K. B.
9466 Beirel, J. J.
107 Boak, W. C.
10945 Bowne, W.
3271 Bryant, W. A.
10696 Case, H. B.
12810 Chambers, A. N.
7556 Clarke, L. A.
11090 Collamore, G., Jr.
9523 Cook, A. H.
1038 Davis, H. A.
865 Davis, E. M. C.
765 De Forrest, H. P.
7557 De Raismes, F. J. J.
467 Drake, J. S.
5087 Gage, S. E.
12380 Gamble. E. H.
2462 Goodrich, P. R.
7558 Gould, O. B.
6131 Hall, A. H.
6132 Hall, W. H., Jr.
8763 Hicks, W. E.
9051 Hobbs, T.
12811 Hollister, F.
3840 King, Dr. A. F.
4339 Lee, H. F.
10660 Livingston, Dr. M.
1083 Lux. A. J.
9288 McKenna, M. J.
12503 Messenger, E. L.
3959 Myer, F. E.
8752 Nichols, F. W.
3322 Ogen, H. C.
5595 Pangborn, G. W.
11298 Potter, E. W.
10945 Provost, A. J., Jr.
3141 Quackenbush, F.
12013 Raynor, C. R.
11371 Rose. J. A.
10269 Sibell, L.
3843 Scudder, T.
1242 Sibell, H. G.
7112 Smith, D. E.
10470 Smith, W. J.
9460 Steuber, L. W.
12108 Sumner, C. W.
8046 Terwilliger, E. A.
9293 Thompson, E. D.
3841 Turton, C. B.
2691 Tyler, Dr. N. B.
1142 Uhlein, J. C.
5189 Veeder, F. W.
9277 Walker, C. H.
8829 Wardwell, I. F.
7111 Whitson, J. W.
10108 Williamson, C. S.
4387 Wiltsie, H. S.
4082 Winans, W. S.
11099 Young, W. H.
9230 Young, W. B.
4094 Zieley, D., Jr.
10983 Zimmerman, J. G., Jr.

OHIO DIVISION—35.

11400 Ashton, W. H.
347 Bacher, P.
9151 Banker, A. C.
8607 Bergjohn, C.
1738 Berry, E. W.
8777 Molyneaux, W. V.
12229 Nunneker, E. C.
4124 Patric, W. D.
5852 Potter, S. A.
9200 Reid, C. R.

9305 Brunner, A. H.
6465 Caldwell, W. E.
5229 Chamberlin, C. W.
339 Chance, W.
3926 Cochran, T. C.
5850 Deaton, J. W.
7129 Doubet, A. E.
463 Evans, W. H.
2982 Everts, W. P.
389 Ganson, J. E.
6658 Garrison, J. G.
961 Gliddon, H.
11566 Kelly, I. N.
3765 Renzenbrink, G.
11810 Rodgers, A. S.
3906 Sieberling, C. W.
3899 Sheill, W. S.
3904 Shelhart, J. E.
1740 Smith, I.
11749 Snyder, A. L.
11750 Snyder, E. H.
10122 Spence, W.
2602 Staley, P. A.
3914 Stevens, F. M.
1298 Waldron, F. H.

OREGON—1.

7220 Lee, W. H.

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION.—70.

8622 Alderson, W. C.
1846 Ames, E. H.
6948 Bailey L. L.
8623 Baker, W.
10281 Bates, H.
11708 Berger, R. J.
10498 Berlinghof, G. J.
7213 Burkert, C. O.
3729 Burtis, C. W.
8787 Butters, C. H.
7235 Chmnow, W.
2617 Clewell, H. E.
7580 Clark, F. L.
2023 Cohn, A. B.
10484 Cohn, I
11038 Cohn, M.
6773 Cunningsby, A.
2721 Crawford, E. C.
4691 Davis, H. L.
6682 Davison, N. G.
12349 Dean, H. G.
1221 Dilworth, M. H.
2036 Edgett, R. L.
12145 Evans, A.
7146 Haepker, W. A.
8169 Haggerty, J. H.
6160 Hayden, H. M.
8788 Henderson, C. R.
828 Henritzy, J. L.
3235 Houston, H. H.
11306 Hoyt, J. B.
4169 Jacoby, A. G.
11849 Jack, H. E.
7236 Klemmer, P.
11770 Krebs, S. L.
9059 Luken, E. L.
10500 Mack, H. A.
8286 Martin, N. J.
10173 Mcloney, G. R.
12414 Miller, J.
6764 Miller, C. T.
4157 Miller, C. H.
12078 Morison, R.
6849 McNelly, J. H.
2285 McCullough, J. C.
8796 Olney, C. M.
4158 Ormsby, M.
8166 Page, W. B.
1807 Pears, J. W.
9168 Philips, C.
9809 Pyle, F. B.
11570 Randolph, G. F.
11231 Randolph, R. F.
2026 Rhodes, S. C.
9064 Roberts, M. E.
12272 Rogers, J. A.
1919 Rohrer, S. A.
10485 Sage, C. H., Jr.
12600 Schell, P. A.
8789 Schwartz, W.
9170 Shipley, W. P.
7137 Sigworth, H. G.
6159 Summers, F. D.
1629 Small, J. E.
240 Timmer, D. K.
11058 Tracy, P. R.
12291 Varlet, C. H.
12590 Woodruff, G. E.
6444 Wright, W. L.
9506 Zell, F. D.

RHODE ISLAND DIVISION—3.

8179 Staples, A. B.
13033 Stillman O.
11716 Thomson, R. E.

TEXAS—1.

544 Scringeour, C. M.

VERMONT DIVISION—3.

5243 Atkins, F. E.
3922 Dumas, G. E.
9175 Drake, M. M.
7150 Filmore, H. D.
7935 Mosley, L. T.

VIRGINIA DIVISION—2.

13011 Boudar, H. C.
12087 Bruce, E. C., Jr.

WISCONSIN DIVISION—4.

6387 Gates, L. F.
9332 Hill, L. T.
6388 Hinman, J. A.
12367 Hurn, J. M.

IMPORTANT.

The Grand Union Hotel, opposite the Grand Central Depot, New York City is the L. A. W. and C. T. C. Headquarters. European Plan. Rooms, $1.00 per day and upward. First-class Restaurant, at moderate prices. Good care taken of wheels.

FOR SALE, EXCHANGE, ETC.

Advertisements will be inserted in this column as follows: $1.00 for four lines, first insertion; 50 cts. for each subsequent insertion. Extra lines at proportionate rates. About nine words to a line.

WANTED.—King of Road Lantern. State age, condition and lowest cash price. W. J. C., 3408 P O., New York

WANTED.—Star Racer, cash or exchange; 48-in. Roadster Skeleton, ball wheel front. F. A. R., 26 W. 60, New York.

TANDEM AT AUCTION.

The highest bid above $80.00 buys a Rudge Rotary Tandem. Balls all over. In Good order. Strong, light, fast and reliable. Bids close ten days from this issue.
HERBERT W. KNIGHT, Newark, N. J.

BICYCLES FOR SALE.

Bicycles and Tricycles—all kinds, descriptions, and prices—from $15.00 upwards. Call and examine, or send for list to RUDGE AGENCY, 152 Congress St., Boston, Mass.

FOR SALE.—Rudge Rotary Tandem, $125; 52 inch "Expert" Bicycle, $90; 38-inch "Rudge Safety" $90 "Bicycle," Box 1783, New York.

FOR SALE.—An order on the Pope Mfg. Co. for any size or any finish pattern of 1886 Expert. Address 46, Bulletin office.

WANTED.—To hire for the season by a responsible party, a 51 or 52-inch full nickel bicycle. Address, stating terms, etc., "W. A. E.," 50 Church Street, City.

SPECIAL BARGAINS in New and Second-Hand Machines, prior to removal April 1st to more central location in Orange. Bicycles, Tricycles, Tandems, and Safeties. No list. Write to us what you want, it will pay you.
L. H. JOHNSON, East Orange, N. J.

WANTED FOR CASH, OR IN EXCHANGE FOR NEW MACHINE.—Good second-hand bicycle and tricycle. Give make, finish, style of bearings; state what it is now, exact condition, bottom price. NEW YORK BICYCLE CO., 38 Park Place.

BARGAIN.—56-inch Expert, dropped bars 32 inches long, lamp, swing spring, suspension saddle, square rubber ball pedals, patent stand, extra handle bars, and spring. All full nickelled and in A1 condition. $100. Good reasons for selling. C. C. MOWTON, 4 Irving Place, New York City.

FOR SALE.—50 inch Royal Mail, ball's all around, with ball pedals, and ball-bearing head, cyclometer and bell attached. New last season, never been ridden over three months, and that by an experienced rider. Will sell for $85 cash. Address Box 707, Sharon, Pa.

FOR SALE.—58-inch Expert Columbia, full nickelled, ball bearing, all sound, including pedals, D. G. cow horn bars, spade handles, and Butcher's Cyclometer (hub). Tires cut some, about 8 spokes stained with rust, otherwise good as new. Price, $100.
50-inch Standard Columbia, full nickelled, except rims P. B., in excellent condition. $80.
50-inch Standard Columbia, cone bearing, new tires, perch and forks nicely nickelled. $45.
50 inch Harvard, forks and perch nickelled, with New Expert wheels and ball bearings. $85.
60-inch Special Columbia, ball bearing to front wheel, full nickelled. Price, $40.
52-inch Expert, full nickelled and bearings, cow horn bars. Price, $75.
Cradle Springs, $3; Long Distance Saddles, $1 and $2; Hill & Talman's, $3; bells, $1.50; Expert, Straight Handle Bars, $75—cost new, $125. McDonnel Cyclometer, $2—cost new, $4.
If you are in want of any sundries or parts, send to Spead and get his prices. JAS. A. SPEAD, South Newmarket, N. H.

THE BROOKS IDEAL CYCLOMETER.

SIMPLEST, MOST RELIABLE AND BEST.

FULLY WARRANTED, only $5.00.

SEND FOR CIRCULAR TO

BROOKS' ODOMETER CO., LOWELL, MASS.

DEALERS!

We manufacture TOOL BAGS, equal to English, and cheaper. Write to us.

McCOY & WILLIAMS, Orange, N. J.

BARGAINS!

Now is the time to buy Second-Hand Bicycles. Send size and price you wish to pay. Prices low. Send for Catalogue of the New Rapid.

WM. M. FRISBIE & CO.

P. O. Drawer 64. New Haven, Conn.

SPADE HANDLES!

Handsomest, Strongest, and best Handles in the Market.

Only $3.50.

WE HAVE THEM TO FIT ANY CYCLE MADE.

C. W. SPINNEY - - Fitchburg, Mass.

ST. LOUIS WHEEL CO.

Difficult Repairing a Specialty.

Enamelling, Nickelling, Etc. at Lowest Prices

LARGEST STOCK OF SECOND-HAND BICYCLES in the WEST. WRITE FOR LIST.

NOTICE TO BICYCLISTS.

THE McCLINTOCK HOME TRAINER.

You can ride at home, rain or shine, snow or mud. It discounts all Home Trainers. It is independent and superior to such machines generally used, from the fact that you can use any style of bicycle. You can adjust to suit the rider's muscles. You can raise or lower to any height wheel. It has no equal for a bicycle stand. It is superior to any invention to hold a bicycle to clean or wipe, also tightening the spokes and truing the wheel. It requires no more room than the bicycle does without it. Price $15.00 (Fifteen Dollars). Heavy discounts to all dealers. Send for circulars. Patent allowed January 31st, 1887. All infringers dealt with according to law.

Address all orders to

JAY McCLINTOCK,

No. 208 Hepburn St. Williamsport, Pa

$3.00. TOULMIN'S BUFFALO $3.00.

BICYCLE SHOE

Is made of the Finest Kangaroo or Dongola, in any size or width

and warranted superior to any Bicycle Shoe made.

Price, per pair, $3.00.

These shoes being laced to the toe, afford comfort to the wearer, in whatever position the foot is placed; and, also, are the most durable shoe made.

LIBERAL DISCOUNTS TO CLUBS

Ordering six or more pairs. Sent by express on receipt of $3.00, or by mail for $3.30. Send for circular containing prices of other shoes, and directions for self-measurement. Address,

W. B. TOULMIN,

152 to 160 Seneca St. - - BUFFALO, N. Y.

STAR! ★ STAR!

NEW YORK HEADQUARTERS,

A. M. HALL - - - - MANAGER,

115 LIBERTY STREET.

BROOKLYN AGENT - - H. J. HALL, Jr.

Large stock constantly on hand to select from. Repair parts and sundries supplied.

H. B. SMITH MACHINE CO.

Works and main office SMITHVILLE, N. J.

"In a word, a cycle bearing must be in that apparently paradoxical condition, at the same time very tight and very loose; that is, perfectly free to spin, and entirely rigid, allowing no shake in the parts."— Victor Catalog.

IT BEATS THE WORLD!

AND THE WORLD IS HARD TO BEAT.

1405 MILES IN 142 HOURS!!

Ridden by ALBERT SCHOCK, at Minneapolis, in competition with most of the great American professionals.

Mr. Schock writes:— "I am pleased with the Victor in every respect. I soon found it a vast improvement on all other wheels ridden by me."

Victor Wheels are built to ride. Bicycles, Tricycles, Safeties. Catalog free.

OVERMAN WHEEL CO. - - - 182 Columbus Avenue, Boston.

STRIKES DID IT!

They have caused the delay in the delivery of the L. A. W. RUG, which important event will positively take place this week. I might here mention that this beautiful specimen of the weaver's art, which is known as the L. A. W. Rug, is a Smyrna one, 5 feet long by 2 1-2 feet wide, containing 21 colors, the prevailing ones of which are old gold, cardinal and black. Upon a moresque background there is woven in the Rug the L. A. W. badge, 19 inches in diameter. There is a border completely around the Rug composed of 5 different arrangements of the League stencil-board. The Rug weighs 5 1-2 pounds; is alike on both sides, and fringed at both ends. All of this amalgamation of color and design is being fairly thrown away at the price of $5.00 per Rug, to all members who are smart enough to know a good thing when they see it, and in consequence send their early orders to

WILL R. PITMAN,

351 West 59th Street - - - NEW YORK.

THE FACILE.

Patterns of this old Reliable Bicycle for 1887 are :

1. The Regular pattern, called simply FACILE, unchanged from 1886, it having in that year being largely altered and improved.

2. A LIGHT ROADSTER, somewhat changed from 1886, being hollow throughout, levers included. Lever bearings are double-ball. Head is the unapproachable "Abingdon," which is destined to displace all other Ball heads. Every bearing in this machine is adjustable ball. Weight of 46-inch, 34 lbs.

3. The STANDARD FACILE is a good and plain pattern, with plain Enamel finish, weldless steel backbone and front forks, and balls to front wheel only.

4. The new GEARED FACILE has no chain, but drives by a compact, easy and simple Sun-and-Planet Gear, placed on one side only; except that the levers are a little longer and two small-toothed wheels are visible on one side, the machine looks precisely like the usual Facile. It is hollow throughout, and every bearing whatever is adjustable ball, — no less than 21 rows of these, and 250 balls in all. Head is, of course, the "Abingdon." Size is 40, geared to 60. Although this is high gearing, the machine excels all other geared machines in smoothness and ease of running, and it is destined to prove the fastest cycle made, on road and path both. It is recommended to parties who want a "FLIER" for the best roads, and is guaranteed to be found exactly that.

5. The REAR-DRIVER FACILE has a 22-inch steerer, and a 36-inch driver geared to 54 in the same manner as the other. The front driver however, avoids the faults of other front-driven bicycles, and is considered not only as the better of the two-geared Faciles, but as the best geared bicycle ever produced. It will be heard from.

6. The FACILE TRICYCLE is a handy, central-driving, open-fronted, and easy-running machine, with Facile driving. Singularly light, weighing only 40 lbs., yet of ample strength, and is the best machine in market for ladies.

Prices are not exactly fixed, but will probably be: $125 for No. 1, as above; $135 for No. 2; $90 for No. 3; $140 for Nos. 4 and 5, and $150 for No. 6.

If you want a Ball Head, see the "Abingdon," then you will accept no other.

Send for 1887 List, ready soon.

L. A. WILCOX,

33 MURRAY STREET - - - - - NEW YORK.

TO WHEELMEN.

PRINCETON, N. J., Feb. 9, 1877.

VAIL BROTHERS:

Gentlemen, — I have used your QUININE AND SULPHUR SOAP, and find it the best article I have ever tried for chafes and blisters after a day's ride on my wheel, and I have been very badly chafed, especially on hot days.

Yours very truly.

J. A. CALHOUN.

If you choose, you may publish this, as my feelings are somewhat enlisted as regards the comfort and success of brother wheelmen.

USE IDEAL TOOTH POWDER. Price, 25 cents per Bottle.

The Jersey Fitting Underwear Co.

Manufacture a large variety of

JERSEY FITTING GARMENTS,

For Men, Women and Children.

We call the special attention of

BICYCLE RIDERS

To our

TIGHTS AND JERSEYS.

Full Tights, Knee Tights, Knee Pants.

A New Thing,

TRUNKS & KNEE PANTS

For Lady Cycle Riders.

TRADE MARK. BOYS' TIGHTS AND JERSEYS.

We manufacture the best Fitting Bicycle and Lawn Tennis Jersey in the country, and commend every one to examine these goods before buying any others. Each garment bears our trade-mark, and is indorsed by the best manufacturers of Bicycles and Professional Riders. We invite dealers to examine these goods.

☞ Send for Circular. We send samples to any responsible party in the country.

HOLMES & CO.

17 Kingston Street, Boston, Mass.

STEEL BALLS FOR ANTI-FRICTION BEARINGS.

OF BEST CAST-STEEL. HARDENED, GROUND, AND BURNISHED.

3-16" to 3" diam. Samples and prices on application.

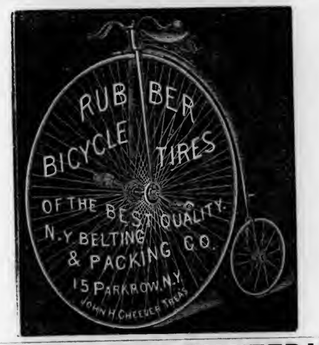
SIMONDS ROLLING-MACHINE COMPANY, Fitchburg, Mass.

BROOKLYN RIDERS

TAKE YOUR WHEELS TO

SCHWALBACH & WILLDIGG,

PROSPECT PARK PLAZA,



AND HAVE THEM OVERHAULED.

Call and inspect the

WHEEL OF PERFECTION, THE NEW&MAIL.

REPAIRS.

☞ Send postal card and have us call for Repairs.

SALESMEN WANTED!!

SALARY and EXPENSES PAID!!

For terms and particulars address (mention this paper),

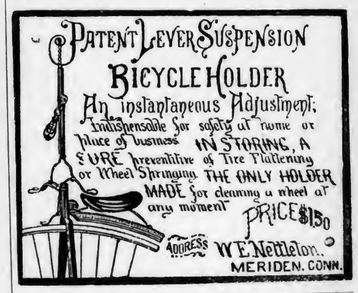
W. R. McNARY & CO., Nurserymen, Dayton, O.

BICYCLE AND GYMNASIUM GOODS.



THE KINGSTON KNITTING CO.

Mo. 27 Kingston Street - - - - Boston, Mass.

Manufacture from the Finest Worsted Stock all of the latest novelties in Jerseys, Guernseys, Knee Tights, Full Bodied Tights, Hosiery, etc., and in all the Popular Colors — in Plain, Striped Trimmed.

We make a specialty in these Garments, and our prices are very reasonable. We refer to a large number of wheelmen, and who use our goods.

ORDERS SOLICITED.

Patented 1881. L. A. W. BADGES.

For Gold Pins of the Official Design, send direct to

CHAS. H. LAMSON,

177 Middle St., Portland, Me.

The Designer and Sole Authorized Maker.

Price for handsome Solid Gold Pins (stone centres) $3.50, $5.00, $7.00, and $8.00, according to finish and fineness (kt.) of gold. Diamond Badges, $15.00 to $50.00 for the larger pins, and $10.00 to $30.00 for the small size. Send for circular free. Orders by mail, inclosing money order and League number, will receive prompt attention.

New Style H.

Also for sale in New York at M. J. Paillard & Co.'s, 680 Broadway; in Philadelphia by H. B. Hart, 811 Arch St.; in Boston by The Pope Mfg. Co.; in Chicago by The John Wilkinson Co.; in Newark, N. J., by Howard Smith & Co.; in Minneapolis by T. F. Heath & Co.; and in San Francisco by Osborn & Alexander.

BROWNING, KING & CO.

406, 408, 410, and 412 Broome St., New York.

THE ONLY OFFICIAL CONTRACTORS FOR THE

LEAGUE ✲ UNIFORM.

LIST OF PRICES.

Plaited Blouse, $9.50; Knee Breeches, $6.00; Suit, $15.50. Regulation League Cloth, made by the Middlesex Mills, cost $2.00 per yard. League Buttons, large size, 5 cents each; small size, 2 1-2 cents each. Full set for suit, 55 cents.

TERMS.

All uniforms or parts of uniforms sent C. O. D., with privilege of examination. All orders for cloth or buttons must be accompanied by Money Order. Blank forms for self-measurement furnished on Application. Orders for L. A. W. Goods will be received at any of our branch stores, as follows:

136 and 138 Madison St., 144 to 148 Clark Street, 76 and 78 West Fourth St., } CHICAGO, ILL. Cincinnati, Ohio.

210 and 212 N. Broadway, St. Louis, Mo. Wisconsin and E. Water St., Milwaukee, Wis. 910 and 912 Chestnut St., Phila., Pa.

All orders must be accompanied by League number.

LAST CHANCE

AT

OUR SPECIAL SALE OF NEW BICYCLES.

The results from our advertisement in the February 11th issue of the BULLETIN have been much better than we expected, and a very large number of most excellent bids have been received. In addition to this, a number of wheels have been sold at the special prices, showing that the wheelmen of the country appreciate the chance of getting a new wheel at second-hand price.

ON THE FOLLOWING PAGE WILL BE FOUND DESCRIPTIONS, NUMBERS, BIDDING BLANKS, ETC., UNTIL APRIL 1, ONLY.

THE SPALDING.

No.			Old Price.	Special Price.
01	50-inch,	Nickel Plated,	new.....$142 50	$125 00
03	58 "	" "	" 155 00	125 00
04	58 "	" "	" 155 00	125 00
05	58 "	" "	" 155 00	125 00
010	48 "	Enamelled, Parts Plated,	" 130 00	115 00
011	50 "	" " " "	" 132 50	115 00
012	50 "	" " " "	" 132 50	115 00
013	50 "	" " " "	" 132 50	115 00
015	52 "	Full Enamel, 1885,	" 135 00	110 00
016	52 "	Enamelled Parts, Plated,	" 135 00	115 00
017	52 "	" " " "	" 135 00	115 00
018	52 "	" " " "	" 135 00	115 00
020	52 "	Full Enamel, 1885,	" 135 00	110 00
021	54 "	Enamelled Parts, Plated,	" 137 50	115 00
022	54 "	" " " "	" 137 50	115 00
023	54 "	Full Enamel, 1885,	" 137 50	110 00
025	56 "	" " " "	" 140 00	110 00
026	56 "	Light Roadster, Enamelled,	" 140 00	115 00
027	58 "	" " " "	" 142 50	115 00
028	60 "	" " " "	" 145 00	115 00
029	52 "	Royal Premier, 1887, Enamelled,	" 140 00	125 00

No.			Old Price.	Special Price.
1	48 "	Enamelled, Parts Plated,	" 130 00	115 00
2	48 "	" " " "	" 130 00	115 00
4	50 "	" " " "	" 132 50	115 00
6	50 "	" " " "	" 132 50	115 09
7	52 "	" " " "	" 135 00	115 00
9	52 "	" " " "	" 135 00	115 00
10	54 "	" " " "	" 137 50	115 00
11	54 "	" " " "	" 137 50	115 00
13	54 "	" " " "	" 137 50	115 00
14	56 "	" " " "	" 140 00	115 00
15	58 "	" " " "	" 142 50	115 00
16	60 "	" " " "	" 145 00	115 00
17	48 "	Nickel Plated,	" 142 50	125 00
18	50 "	" "	" 145 00	125 00
19	52 "	" "	" 147 50	125 00
20	52 "	" "	" 147 50	125 00
23	52 "	" "	" 147 50	125 00
24	54 "	" "	" 150 00	125 00
25	54 "	" "	" 150 00	125 00
26	56 "	" "	" 152 50	125 00
27	56 "	" "	" 152 50	125 00
28	58 "	" "	" 155 00	125 00

A. G. SPALDING & BROS.,

241 Broadway, New York. 108 Madison St., Chicago, Ill.

AMERICAN PREMIER.

This wheel has been on the market for four seasons, and from time to time has been improved, until now it ranks well up as a high-class wheel, and it has won favor wherever used. Enamel finish, with head, handle-bar, and all bright parts nickelled, balls to front and rear wheels, hollow forks and backbone.

No.			Old Price.	Special Price.
040	46-inch,	Full Nickel,	new.....$100 00	$95 00
041	50 "	"	" 105 00	95 00
042	50 "	"	" 105 00	95 00
043	52 "	"	" 107 50	95 00
044	54 "	"	" 110 00	95 00
045	56 "	"	" 112 50	95 00
050	48 "	Enamelled Parts Nickel,	" 90 00	80 00
051	48 "	" " " "	" 90 00	80 00
054	50 "	" " " "	" 92 50	80 00
055	50 "	" " " "	" 92 50	80 00
057	52 "	" " " "	" 95 00	80 00
43	48 "	" " " "	" 90 00	80 00

No.			Old Price.	Special Price.
44	48-inch,	Enamelled Parts Nickel	new..... 90 00	80 00
45	50 "	" " " "	" 92 50	80 00
47	50 "	" " " "	" 92 50	80 00
48	52 "	" " " "	" 95 00	80 00
49	54 "	" " " "	" 97 50	80 00
50	54 "	" " " "	" 97 50	80 00
51	56 "	" " " "	" 100 00	80 00
52	50 "	Full Nickel,	..... 105 00	95 00
53	50 "	"	..... 105 00	95 00
54	54 "	"	..... 110 00	95 00
55	56 "	"	..... 112 50	95 00

KANGAROO SAFETY.

This original Safety has held its own against all comers, and to-day is the best known and most popular and desirable Safety in the market. It has elements of safety and ease of running not yet attained or approached on other Safeties, and if you try it you will like it. A good hill climber; an excellent coaster.

No.	C.		Old Price.	Special Price
060	Enamelled,	36-inch geared to 54, new	.....$130 00	$100 00
061	"	36 " " " 54, "	..... 130 00	100 00
062	"	36 " " " 52, "	..... 130 00	100 00
063	"	35 " " " 52, "	..... 130 00	100 00
064	"	35 " " " 52, "	..... 130 00	100 00
065	"	38 " " " 57, "	..... 130 00	100 00
066	"	38 " " " 57, "	..... 130 00	100 00
067	"	38 " " " 57, "	..... 130 00	100 00
068	"	38 " " " 50, "	..... 130 00	100 00

No.	C.		Old Price.	Special Price.
069	Enamelled,	38-inch geared to 57, new	.....$130 00	100 00
070	"	38 " " " 50, "	..... 130 00	100 00
072	"	35 " " " 52, "	..... 130 00	100 00
30	"	36 " " " 54, "	..... 130 00	100 00
31	"	36 " " " 54, "	..... 130 00	100 00
32	"	38 " " " 57, "	..... 130 00	100 00
33	"	35 " " " 52, "	..... 130 00	100 00
34	3 machines geared 36 to 54, new, each		..... 130 00	100 00

RACERS.

There are many who, for their own pleasure, would occasionally like to "speed themselves" on the track, but the heavy expense of having to pay a high price for a racing wheel deters many from entering into the sport. Here is a chance to get a $140 dollar wheel for $90. Woodside's magnificent riding during the last season was done on a SPALDING RACER, when he won more first prizes than any other professional. Any one desiring a fine racing wheel should get it now.

No.			List Price.	Special Price.
0201	52-inch	Enamelled, used once,	.....$140 00	$85 00
0202	54 "	" " "	..... 140 00	90 00
0203	56 "	" " three times	..... 145 00	90 00
0206	58 "	" new,	..... 150 00	100 00
0204	57 "	" "	..... 150 00	100 00

No.			List Price.	Special Price.
0214	55-inch	Enamelled, good as new,	..... 145 00	90 00
0207	57 "	Humber, new,	..... 150 00	100 00
0208	55 "	" used once,	..... 145 00	95 00
0217	58 "	" new,	..... 150 00	100 00

We have in Stock a few Humber Tandems and Crippers, which come in under the Reduction.

1887.

Form 071

Messrs, A. G. SPALDING & BROS.

Gentlemen:—Inclosed herewith please find $5.00. I wish to enter a bid of $..... on wheel No. ....., as per your advertisement.

Name,

City or Town,

State,

A. G. SPALDING & BROS.,

241 BROADWAY, NEW YORK. 108 MADISON ST., CHICAGO, ILL.

TWO LEADERS!

THE "NEW RAPID."

FULL ROADSTER, 50-inch, 40 pounds.

LIGHT ROADSTER, 50-inch, 36 pounds.

ROVER PATTERN SAFETY.

All with TRUE TANGENT WHEELS.

THE "QUADRANT" TRICYCLES.

No. 8 FOR GENTLEMEN. No. 14 FOR LADIES.

No. 15 TANDEM,

For Two Gentlemen, Two Ladies, or Lady and Gentleman.

BICYCLE STEERING FRONT AND BACK.

You will do wrong if you order your new mount before seeing these machines or reading our catalogue, which illustrates and describes them and their IMPROVEMENTS FOR 1887.

SAMUEL T. CLARK & CO. - - - BALTIMORE, MD.

BEFORE YOU BUY A BICYCLE

Of any kind, send stamp to

A. W. GUMP - - DAYTON, OHIO,

For large Illustrated Price-List of New and Second-hand machines. Second-hand Bicycles taken in exchange and bought for cash.

Largest Stock of Second-Hand Bicycles in America.

BICYCLES REPAIRED AND NICKEL-PLATED.

A. W. GUMP, Dayton, Ohio.

SECOND-HAND GUNS TAKEN IN EXCHANGE FOR BICYCLES.

THE SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER,

MANUFACTURED BY THE

SPRINGFIELD BICYCLE MANUFACTURING COMPANY,

(YOST & McCUNE PATENTS),

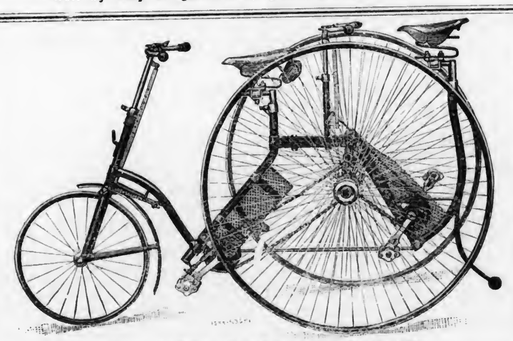
19 PEARL STREET - - - - BOSTON.

The only absolutely safe wheel against "Headers" made. It is the best, and it is also the cheapest. Do not buy a wheel before you see the Springfield Roadster. Coasting without danger. Hill-climbing to perfection. Invented by riders of experience.

PRICE, COMPLETE, $75.00.

JOHN P. LOVELL'S SONS, 147 Washington Street, Boston, Sole Agents for New England.

THE "NEW AMERICAN" TRICYCLE,



639 ARCH STREET, PHILADELPHIA.

We make but one style of machine, and that the BEST. There are NO EXTRAS.

NO DEAD CENTRES. FULL POWER UTILIZED. CLIMBS ANY HILL.

The best machine for ladies, as there are no revolving pedals to catch the skirts. The only Tricycle that can be ridden equally well by lady or gentleman, grown person or child.

Either Rider Can Steer.
May be Ridden by Two Ladies.
Has Automatic Steering.
Reduces in Width to 27 Inches.
Has Folding Handle Bar for Easy Access to Front Seat.
Is the Most Unique Machine of its Class.

THE CUNARD CONVERTIBLE TANDEM.

CUNARD

BICYCLES,
TRICYCLES,
TANDEMS,
SAFETIES.

D. ROGERS & CO.

SOLE U. S. AGENTS,

75 Clinton Avenue - - Newark, N. J.

☞ Catalogues Free.

COPY OF TESTIMONIAL FROM T. J. KIRKPATRICK, Esq., VICE-PRESIDENT OF THE L. A. W.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Jan. 11, 1887.

D. ROGERS & COMPANY,

GENTLEMEN: — Respecting the Cunard Tandem, I have to say that it is, beyond question, the best tandem yet produced. Its compactness, ease of handling, light running, safety, and the ease with which it may be mounted or dismounted, by either a lady or gentleman, leave nothing to be desired. Its folding handle bar, and the fact that it can be quickly and readily taken through a common door, are features which make the machine a pleasure. I have owned other tandems, but this is the only one that was worth house-room as a convertible machine. I find it a perfect machine, in perfect balance, either as a single or a tandem. I have sought carefully, for some three years now, for the best tandem, and have given the matter a great deal of thought and attention, and if asked to-day to suggest an improvement in the design and arrangement of the Cunard, I would be free to say that it is as nearly perfect as this type of machine ever will be.

Yours truly, [Signed] T. J. KIRKPATRICK.

SEND YOUR ORDERS AT ONCE FOR SPRING DELIVERY, AND DON'T GET LEFT.

ACTIVE AND RESPONSIBLE AGENTS WANTED.

Send for list of shopworn machines, which must be sold to make room for spring stock.

Before purchasing your Mount for this Year, see the Celebrated

"ROVER" BICYCLE.

FITTED WITH EVERY POSSIBLE IMPROVEMENT.

FASTER THAN A BICYCLE.

SAFER THAN A TRICYCLE.

The "ROVER" BICYCLE,
As ridden by the Right Honorable Viscount Bury, President of the National Cyclists' Union.

No Skidding or Side-Slipping on Greasy Roads

And no Fear of Falls.

Starley's New Patent Spring Fork is now ready, whereby entire insulation from shocks is obtained in handles, pedals and seat.
This fork can also be applied to any tricycle.
Price lists, testimonials, etc. (including one from Viscount Bury, which every rider should read), post free.
Complete catalogue of all our machines, two stamps.

STARLEY & SUTTON, Meteor Works - - Coventry, England.

How to Join the L. A. W.

Fill up the blank in the adjoining column and, together with TWO DOLLARS, send it to the Secretary of the League,

ABBOT BASSETT,
22 School Street, Boston, Mass.
P. O. BOX 5276.

Write your full name, your full address, and your club name in full.

WRITE VERY PLAINLY.

THE LEAGUE DEFINES AN AMATEUR AS FOLLOWS.

ARTICLE V. SECTION 4.— An amateur is one who has never engaged in, nor assisted in, nor taught cycling, nor any recognized athletic exercise for money, or other remuneration, nor knowingly competed with or against a professional for a prize of any description.

To prevent any misunderstanding in interpreting the above, the League draws attention to the following explanation: A cyclist ceases to be an amateur by:—

"(a) Engaging in cycling, or any other recognized athletic exercise, or personally teaching, training, or coaching any person therein, either as a means of obtaining a livelihood, or for a stated bet, money prize, or gate money.

"(b) Competing with, or pace-making for, or having the pace made by a professional in public or for a prize.

"(c) Selling, realizing upon, or otherwise turning into cash, prize won by him.

"(d) Accepting, directly or indirectly, any remuneration, compensation, or expenses whatever, from a cycle manufacturer, agent, or other person interested in the trade or sport for cycle riding.

"(e) This rule does not apply to the teaching of the elements of bicycling solely for the purpose of effecting the sale of a bicycle.

"The League recognizes as athletic exercises all the sports under the jurisdiction of the National Association of Amateur Athletes of America, viz., running, walking, jumping, pole leaping, putting the shot, throwing the hammer, throwing of weights, tug of war, and also rowing, boxing, sparring, lacrosse, polo, roller, and ice skating."

Application for Membership in the L. A. W.

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary-Editor,
22 School Street, Boston, Mass.

Dear Sir:

Inclosed you will find $2.00 for initiation fee and annual dues in the League of American Wheelmen. I hereby cerlify that I am over 18 years of age, and that I am an amateur within the meaning of the definition printed herewith. I refer to the persons named below.

Signed,

Club, ... Residence,

City and State, Date, .....

REFERENCES:

(Each Applicant must give as references the names of two L. A. W. members or three reputable citizens.)

The Sensation of 1887!

ABSOLUTE PERFECTION!!

The Latest American High Grade Wheel,

THE NEW MAIL.

A Perfectly Made Light Roadster.

Ask your Dealer to show it.

See one before purchase.

BALL HEAD.
"PERFECTION" BACKBONE AND FORKS.
SPADE HANDLES.
SQUARE RUBBERS.
NARROW TREAD.
SPOKES WOUND SEVEN TIMES.
CLOSE-FITTING BRAKE.
HARWOOD'S ADJUSTABLE STEP.
NEW KIRKPATRICK SADDLE.
GOOD RAKE.
A HANDSOME WHEEL.
SPOKES NICKELLED UP TO INTERSECTION.
NOTE THE SYMMETRY.

With our Specialty.

Trigwell's Ball Head.

Extract from a London letter to the L. A. W. Bulletin, Jan. 8, 1887.

Speaking of manufacturers with "big stock" crying down Improvements, a firm introduced a ball-bearing head, put it on their own machines, and induced one or two other firms to adopt it. What a howl went up from the big stock people! They pooh-poohed it right and left; they wrote and talked it down, and tried in every way to smother it — but it would not down. It grew steadily in public favor, until this year it is recognized as a sine qua non to a strictly first grade bicycle, and those who do not have ball heads will not rank among the highest grade mounts. Of course the extra cost of construction will preclude its being used on second grade machines, but that it is a vast improvement over the Stanley head, with cone or hemispherical centres, however true and well hardened, is a fact that the experience of 1886 has settled beyond a peradventure of a doubt.

For the past four years, as is well known, we have been importers of high grade English bicycles and tricycles, and have controlled the product and been sole agents for the sale of the celebrated "Royal Mail." We think it has been conceded by wheelmen that this latter has been, in proportions and style, the handsomest wheel in the market, while the fact that it has been taken as a model by other manufacturers bears out this claim. While preserving the model (and we ask the reader to glance at the cut and notice the symmetry we speak of), yet in order to get stricter and more perfect interchangeability of parts and absolutely perfect construction throughout, which can only be obtained by accurate machinery, we have decided to manufacture our wheels in this country, and now offer, together with Royal Mails, THE LATEST AMERICAN WHEEL,

THE NEW MAIL,

Made by the finest machinery of the Ames Manufacturing Company, of Chicopee, Mass., who have long been bicycle manufacturers. They are built under our OWN SUPERVISION, and, from their experience coupled with our own, we offer our light roadster for 1887 as the most perfect machine yet made. Every detailed part has been constructed with the greatest nicety and all are Strictly Interchangeable. In fact, a

PERFECT WHEEL.

We ask careful consideration of the distinctive features of the "NEW MAIL," as it has, for the coming season, improvements possessed by no other bicycle.

WM. READ & SONS, BOSTON.

SOME of the PRINCIPAL AGENTS for the NEW MAIL.

BROOKLYN, N. Y.	SCHWALBACH & WILLDIG
PHILADELPHIA, PA.	A. CONINGSBY
WASHINGTON, D. C.	CRIST & HIGHAM
CHICAGO, ILL.	HIBBARD, SPENCER, BARTLETT & CO.
DETROIT, MICH.	T. B. RAYL & CO.
INDIANAPOLIS, IND.	INDIANA WHEEL CO.
DENVER, COL.	G. E. HANNON
CLEVELAND, OHIO	BRUSH, MOORE & CO.
CINCINNATI, OHIO	A. A. BENNETT
SPRINGFIELD, MASS.	L. H. MAYOTT
HARTFORD, CONN.	M. CAMERON
NEW ORLEANS, LA.	J. M. GORE
PITTSBURG, PA.	J. B. KAERCHER
POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y.	STERLING BROTHERS
PORTLAND, ME.	G. L. BAILEY
PADUCAH, KY.	J. R. SCATES
PROVIDENCE, R. I.	WHITTEN & CO.
TOLEDO, OHIO	J. M. TRYON
TROY, N. Y.	WILLIAM COUTIE & SON
WORCESTER, MASS.	DR. GEO. F. HARWOOD
WHEELING, WEST VA.	HOGE & CO.
NORFOLK, VA.	J. C. CARROLL
NEW BRITAIN, CONN.	LANDERS & STANLEY
ROCHESTER, N. Y.	J. C. CONNOLLY & CO.
SCRANTON, PA.	A. J. KOLP
TERRE HAUTE, IND.	ANTON HULMAN
WILKESBARRE, PA.	LEWIS L. EVANS
WILLIAMSPORT, PA.	RICHARDS & HUBBARD
BRIDGEPORT, CONN.	W. B. MIDDLEBROOK
CANTON, OHIO	EYSTER & NAUMAN
CAMBRIDGE, MASS.	W. J. NEWMAN
AMESBURY, MASS.	GEO. L. KNIGHTS & CO.
HAGERSTOWN, MD.	H. E. BRANDT
ELYRIA, OHIO	HOYLE & FLOWER
AKRON, OHIO	H. M. HOUSER
WESTFIELD, MASS.	WILLIAMS & WOLCOTT
PLAINFIELD, N. J.	A. L. C. MARSH
PASSAIC, N. J.	E. P. SHEPHERD
NORTHAMPTON, MASS.	WILLIAM H. FEIKER
WINONA, MINN.	JOHN I. WILLSON
BENNINGTON, VT.	J. H. LIVINGSTON
NORTH ATTLEBORO', MASS.	W. C. AMES
BRIDGETON, N. J.	MORE & JANVIER
NORTH ADAMS, MASS.	J. M. DARBY
LE ROY, N. Y.	W. C. BOAK

A SPLENDID, COMMON-SENSE IMPROVEMENT.

BACKBONE. — Warwick's Perfection pattern, new this year. It is well known that in all machines backbones are liable to and do break, causing bad accidents. The place of breakage is usually if not wholly at the upper end, under the saddle, where is the greatest strain. We have adopted Warwick's new pattern backbone, which has greater thickness of metal at the large, or neck end, and tapers thinner to the small end; thus obtaining a stouter and stronger backbone, with no danger of breakage, while there is no increase in weight. Also, we preserve the Oval shape, as in the "Royal Mail," which is handsomer and stiffer than the round.

FORKS. — Warwick's "Perfection," having the same construction as the backbone, viz., thicker at the large end and tapering or decreasing in thickness at the small end. This gives very strong rigid forks.

BEARINGS. — Bown's Æolus Ball Bearings, — the best.

CRANKS. — Detachable, with 5 1-4 to 6 inch throw.

PEDALS. — Ball, with square, corrugated rubbers, conforming to the foot.

SPOKES. — 72 True Tangent, tied at intersection and wound seven times, as well as brazed, — no other wheel does this. A single tie often becomes loose like a ring and rattles. Our winding never parts but keeps the whole wheel rigid, and in fact acts like a large hub flange with short spokes. Spokes can be tightened, if necessary through accidents, from the outside, it not being necessary to remove the rubber tire. A washer inside the rim prevents the spoke loosening.

RIM. — Warwick's best, with thickened bottom and joint inside. The whole outside of rim is smooth, no seam. This is a great advantage, as a seam outside looks bad and is liable to open.

TIRE. — Finest rubber, cemented.

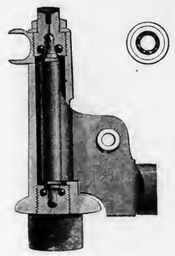
HANDLE-BARS. — Detachable, very easily put in place or detached by means of two simple nuts each side of head. We offer it as the simplest and handsomest detachable handle bar in the market.

SADDLE. — Kirkpatrick, new style.

TOOL BAG. — Handy.

STEP. — Harwood's adjustable.

RAKE. — From 1 1-2 to 2 1-4 inches. We have a good rake in our wheel, as it makes them safer and less liable to headers.



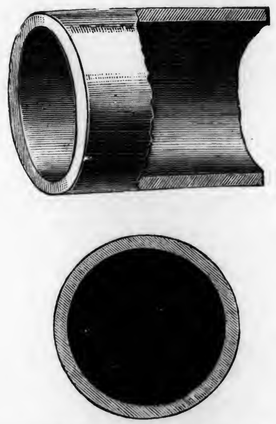
HANDLES. — Spade handles, adjustable.

FINISH. — Finest jet black enamel, with bright parts, as head, bars, hubs, cranks, step, etc. nickelled. Also, spokes are nickelled from the hub to their intersection, giving a very Handsome Appearance. It will thus be seen that this wheel has all the latest improvements, and we include Spade Handles, Square, Rubber Ball Pedals and the now noted Trigwell Ball Head at the price. In fact no other wheel made has the same. We ask an inspection before deciding on your selection for the coming year. See it or send stamp for full descriptive illustrated catalogue, showing all parts in detail, ready March 10.

SEND 14 CENTS IN STAMPS FOR FINE PHOTOGRAPH OF NEW MAIL.

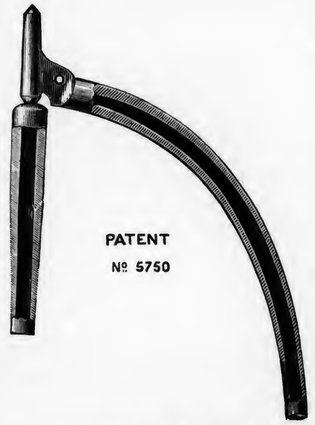
OUR SPECIALITY

THE GENUINE TRIGWELL BALL-BEARING HEAD



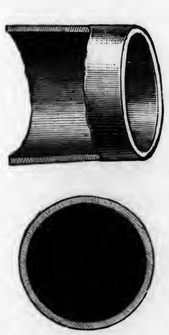
1000 MILES WITHOUT OILING OR ADJUSTMENT.
PERFECT RIGIDITY AND EASE OF STEERING.
ENTHUSIASTIC TESTIMONIALS.
IN USE WITH GREAT APPROVAL.

Wheelmen are aware that, ordinarily, constant watching and tightening up of the Head is necessary, owing to the wearing of the cones by friction. In this Ball Head the cones move on the balls smoothly, without wear, and ONE ADJUSTMENT serves for a very long time — for months, in fact — and no loosening nor setting up is necessary. There being no friction, OILING IS RARELY NEEDED. These heads are made by the finest machinery, all perfectly alike and beautifully finished, every part mathematically true, and

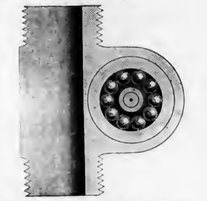


ALL PARTS INTERCHANGEABLE.

PERFECTION BACKBONE and FORKS.

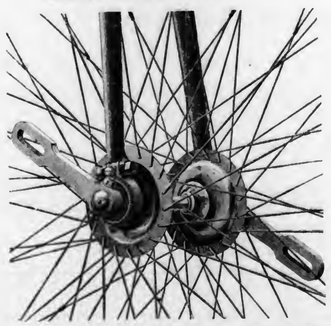


Sectional and end view, showing strengthened neck end of Backbone.



PATENT
№ 5750

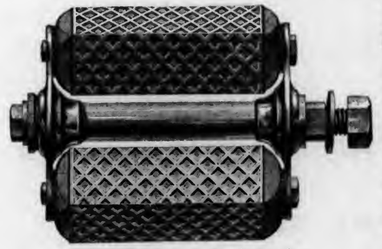
Sectional view, showing Backbone and Forks when made up.



Sectional and end view of back fork end of Backbone.

Arrangement of Balls in Head.

Close Fitting Dust Shield. No side screws. Very neat.



This cut shows the NEW MAIL system of tying its Tangent Spokes at intersections. UNLIKE ANY OTHER! Tied as well as brazed, and wound seven times, giving great strength and rigidity to whole wheel. Impossible for Spokes to separate or rattle. True Tangent Spokes, 72 in number. DETACHABLE CRANKS, 5 to 6 in. throw.

Notice the smooth outside of this rim.

Warwick's New Hollow Rim, with thickened bottom. Seamless and perfectly smooth outside. Cemented Tire.

Square Rubbers, conforming to foot.

Agents Wanted in every Town

MANUFACTURERS,

WILLIAM READ & SONS,

107 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

Good Agents Wanted Everywhere. Send Stamp for Circulars.

How is this for a line of Wheels, Gentlemen? We think it about fills the bill, and our prices, mind you, are reasonable.

THE AMERICAN CHAMPION, with many improvements, such as a superior crank fastening, which dispenses with use of a hammer, new bearings that are adjustable without loosening a screw even. Price, for 48-inch, $100.00.

THE AMERICAN LIGHT CHAMPION, a light roadster of highest possible grade, with a ball-bearing head, true tangent wheels, and embodying many novel and peculiarly useful inventions. Price, for 48-inch, $115.00.

THE AMERICAN CHALLENGE, much improved and fitted with cow-horn bars, as formerly the best machine on the market for the money. Price, for 48-inch, $70.00.

THE AMERICAN SAFETY, sold last year under our positive guaranty that it was the easiest running bicycle in the world, improved wherever possible. Price, for 40-inch, $74.00.

THE AMERICAN LIGHT SAFETY, after the lines of the regular Safety, but made hollow wherever possible, and will be sold under a guaranty as to its superiority over all other bicycles in easy running. Price, for 40-inch, $115.00.

THE AMERICAN IDEAL, as heretofore, the only high grade and honestly constructed boys' bicycle in the world. Finished in black, with artistic real gold stripes. Price, from $25.00 to $60.00.

THE AMERICAN IDEAL TRICYCLE, two-track, the young ladies' companion to the bicycle of same name, a really beautiful little three-wheeler, in two sizes, 30 and 34 inches. Price, $40.00 and $50.00.

THE AMERICAN CHALLENGE TRICYCLE, two-track, a high grade and honestly constructed three-wheeler, in two sizes, 42 and 44 inches. Price, $80.00 and $95.00.

THE AMERICAN IDEAL TANDEM, a convertible two-track for boys and girls, in two sizes, 30 and 34 inches. Price, $60.00 and $75.00.

THE AMERICAN CHALLENGE TANDEM, a convertible two-track for ladies and gentlemen, in two sizes, 42 and 46 inches. Price, $120.00 and $135.00.

1887 Catalogue, containing detailed description of the foregoing Cycles, will be ready early in March, and will be mailed on application.

RESPECTFULLY SUBMITTED,

GORMULLY & JEFFERY MF'G CO., Chicago, Ill.

THE L. A. W. BULLETIN

THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN: PUBLISHED WEEKLY: A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA.

$1.00 A YEAR. 3 CENTS PER COPY. | BOSTON, MARCH 18, 1887. | VOL. IV. No. 11. WHOLE NUMBER, 90.

THE SEASON OF 1887.

THE COLUMBIA CATALOGUE

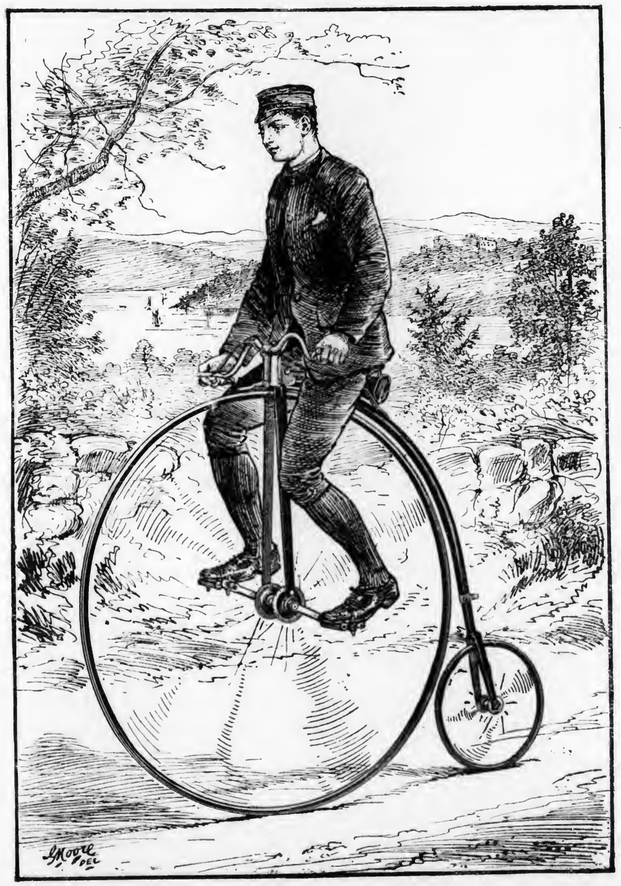
NOW READY.

Fifty-Two Pages, Forty-Eight Engravings. Free by Mail upon Application.

Expert
Light Roadster
Standard
Safety
Semi-Roadster
Racer

COLUMBIA BICYCLES.

COLUMBIA TRICYCLES.



Two-Track.
Ladies' Two-Track.
Tandem.
Racing.

POPE MFG. CO.,

79 FRANKLIN STREET - - BOSTON, MASS.

Branch Houses: 12 Warren St., New York, 291 Wabash Ave., Chicago.

SEND FOR 1887 CATALOGUE.

1887 RUDGE LIGHT ROADSTER. 1887

Combines more valuable features than any bicycle extant.

STODDARD, LOVERING & CO., 152 Congress St., Boston, Mass.

New York Headquarters, GEO. R. BIDWELL, 313 West 58th Street, New York.

The L. A. W. Bulletin

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY

ABBOT BASSETT,

SECRETARY-EDITOR,

For the Executive Committee of the League of American Wheelmen,

AT THE L. A. W. OFFICE,

22 SCHOOL STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

P. O. BOX 5276.

Entered at the Post-Office as Second-Class Matter.

SINGLE COPIES - - - - - - - 3 CENTS.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE TO OTHER THAN LEAGUE MEMBERS, $1.00 A YEAR.

CLUBS OF FIVE - - - - - - $4.00 "

A. MUDGE & SON, PRINTERS, 24 FRANKLIN ST., BOSTON.

Subscribers should be careful to notify the EDITOR promptly of any change in their address. Great care is taken with the mailing list. Failure to receive THE BULLETIN may usually be traced to carelessness on the part of the subscriber.

All matter for publication, whether reading or advertising matter, should be addressed to the EDITOR. All checks should be made payable to his order.

Reading matter, to insure publication in the following issue, must be in the EDITOR'S hands not later than Saturday afternoon; advertisements not later than Monday morning.

The EDITOR must in all cases have the full name and address of the authors of contributed articles, as a guarantee of good faith. As the Executive Committee has decided that it is best to discourage the use of assumed names by writers for THE BULLETIN, the EDITOR will publish the author's name unless particularly requested not to do so.

LEAGUE OFFICERS.

OFFICERS OF THE BOARD.

PRESIDENT. — Dr. N. M. Beckwith, 21 W. Thirty-seventh Street, New York.

VICE-PRESIDENT. — T. J. Kirkpatrick, Springfield, Ohio.

TREASURER. — Sanford Lawton, Springfield, Mass.

SECRETARY-EDITOR. — Abbot Bassett, 22 School St., Boston, Mass

STANDING COMMITTEES.

EXECUTIVE. — N. M. Beckwith, 21 W. Thirty-seventh Street, New York; T. J. Kirkpatrick, Springfield, Ohio; John C. Gulick, 132 Nassau Street, New York city.

MEMBERSHIP. — E. F. Hill, Chairman, P. O. Box 797, Peekskill, N. Y.; Dr. G. Carlton Brown, 16 Broad Street, Elizabeth, N. J.; R. Dunn, Massilon, Ohio.

RACING. — Abbot Bassett, Chairman, 22 School Street, Boston, Mass.; W. M. Brewster, 309 Oliver Street, St. Louis, Mo.; Charles H. Potter, Cleveland, Ohio; Gerry Jones, Binghamton, N. Y.

RULES AND REGULATIONS. — W. I. Harris, Chairman, Box 5132, Boston, Mass.; Dr. C. S. Butler, 263 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.; Knight L Clapp, 328 West Sixtieth Street, N. Y.

RIGHTS AND PRIVILEGES. — Charles E. Pratt, 597 Washington Street, Boston, Mass.; John C. Gulick, 132 Nassau Street, N. Y.; A. S. Parsons, Cambridgeport, Mass.

TRANSPORTATION. — Burley B. Ayers, Chairman, 152 S. Hoyne Avenue, Chicago, Ill.; Geo. R. Bidwell, 313 W. 58th Street, New York city; W. S. Bull, 587 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.; J. H. Livingston, Editor The Reformer, Bennington, Vt.; Fred. T. Sholes, Marsh-Harwood Co., Cleveland, O.; Frank Read, Record Building, Philadelphia; Frank A. Elwell, Transcript Office, Portland, Maine; Columbus Waterhouse, 16 Beale Street, San Francisco, Cal.; M. E. Graves (at large), Mannheim Building, St. Paul, Minn.

BUREAU OF INFORMATION. — A. B. Barkman, Chairman and Bookmaster, No. 608 Fourth Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

OFFICIAL HANDICAPPER.

N. P. Tyler, M. D., New Rochelle, N. Y.

LEAGUE MEET FOR 1887.

St. Louis, May 20 and 21.

FRIDAY, MAY 20. — Board of Officers and general meeting.

SATURDAY, MAY 21. — Parade and Banquet.

COMMITTEES — Chief Consul, John S. Rogers, care of American Wheelman, General Manager; W. M. Brewster, 309 Olive Street, Treasurer; L. J. Berger, Room 9, Equitable Building, Secretary; W. E. Hicks, 2608 Locust Street, Press Committee.

AT date of writing, March 12, we have just received our books from Philadelphia, and we now hope to prosecute the work of the League with some degree of expedition. We are still without many important files and papers, but we hope to get these early next week.

CAN it be that members do not read the BULLETIN carefully? We have explained our unfortunate position each week, and yet we have received scores of letters demanding to know why tickets are not forthcoming. We have been unable to verify lists with State officials, nor have we been able to answer the thousand and one queries that have been put to us regarding the standing of members on our books. It will be seen by this that our correspondence is far behindhand, and that it will take many weeks for us to catch up with the business. We were in hopes to have done with this oft-repeated explanation, but our letters show us that we must employ the iteration so essential for the impressment of the masses with the existing condition of things.

WE want to talk figures now. We have been talking with our advertisers about increasing the rates for advertising space in the BULLETIN, and our figures are so much in advance of those that have been charged, that many think we are extortionate in our demands. We have asked for no more than is demanded by the circumstances of the case, nor do we claim anything more than plain facts and figures demand that we should. To run a paper whose circulation is above ten thousand, takes a great deal of money and calls for a large income. The BULLETIN gets no money, to speak of, from subscriptions, and its advertisements should pay for its maintenance, or should come so near to this that the deficit would be no more than the League was willing to pay for the paper.

GRANTED a paper of twenty pages like the BULLETIN, with an advertising patronage taking ten pages. Granted, further, that the expense of printing this paper is $300. Then each advertising page must yield $30 to cover the printer's bill, and the publishers have still to pay the salaries and running expenses of the office before the proprietor can have a cent. In other words, each advertising page costs $30, and if it be sold for $20, there must be a fat treasury behind the paper to make up losses.

NOW, let us look at what has been paid for printing the BULLETIN. We will go back to the last four months.

In November, 1886, the League paid to E. Stanley Hart & Co. $1,038.40 for printing the BULLETIN, and charged upon its books $606.35 for advertising.

In December, 1886, the League paid E. Stanley Hart & Co. $1,438.72 for printing BULLETIN, and charged upon its books $701.18 for advertising.

In January, 1887, the League paid E. Stanley Hart & Co. $1,213.27 for printing the BULLETIN, and charged upon its books $686.85 for advertising.

In February, 1887, the League paid E. Stanley Hart & Co. $1,352.27 for printing the BULLETIN, and charged upon its books $1,076.24.

For the four months it cost $5,042.66 to print the paper, and the advertising charges were $3,070.63. The first item allows of no reduction. A man seldom gets in all his bills, and the charges on the books will not yield their face value. In brief, the League has paid, during the last four months, about $2,000 in hard cash to the printers, all salaries of officers, all salaries of correspondents, all office expenses, etc., etc. That is what the BULLETIN has been made to cost the League.

WE do not care to have it understood that Messrs. Hart & Co. charged more than a fair price for printing the BULLETIN. Their charges were below the market price for the kind of work done, and the arrangement with them, so far as prices for printing the BULLETIN is concerned, was a very favorable one for the League.

CAN the income be increased? That is the question that now confronts us. The League is bound by contract to furnish nearly every one of the large advertisers with space for a year at the ruinous rates that have been charged, and should they insist upon the agreement, the League must stand to its word and abide the loss. Are they, the advertisers, paying a fair market value for what they are getting? We think not. Any man well up in the science of advertising recognizes that a paper is worth one cent a line per thousand of circulation, and the same man will tell you that class papers are worth more than general advertising sheets. The new rates established bring down the yearly rate to fourteen cents a line, and we shall soon be circulating ten thousand copies, with a prospect of many more thousands before the year is out. The BULLETIN, with ten thousand circulation and above, has been selling space for five cents a line.

ONE word about class papers. The cycle dealer, who advertises in the great dailies, the monthlies, or the religious press, can count on having his advertisement read by about one in twenty. If he advertises in the BULLETIN, he can be sure that only one in twenty will fail to read. This fact alone gives value to advertising that the BULLETIN furnishes far in advance of the small percentage of advance we are asking over what is conceded to be the market value of advertising.

THE Citizens' Bicycle Club of New York has voted to present to the L. A. W. the sum of $50 to help it out of its present financial embarrassment. The check for this amount is now in Treasurer Lawton's hands. The club has acted with its characteristic generosity, and the spirit of loyalty which prompted the gift is well worthy of emulation. The donation was not asked for nor expected at this time, but the money can be used to good purpose, and it will save the officials of the League from some embarrassment.

THE financial condition of the L. A. W. is one that we cannot discuss with any degree of enthusiasm, and yet we believe that the members should know just where we stand. The League is and has been running the BULLETIN at a great loss each week. This fact was patent to us before we had been in the office a single day, and we immediately began to devise plans to stop the leakage. We hoped, among other things, to cut out the long stenographic reports of meetings which entail great expense for composition; but we had to submit to a demand for their publication and pay the bill. It has been no small undertaking for us to go into the office during the renewal season, to get out the voting blanks, to submit to the annoyances of legal proceedings, which have deprived us of our books, and hampered us in many other ways, and we have hardly had time to bring about changes in the BULLETIN which we contemplate.

IT will be apparent to any one who looks with half an eye into the question that the League cannot afford to run the BULLETIN at the loss which is now weekly incurred. The secretary has money enough in hand to pay all the bills now coming in, but when he is doing this he is using money not rightfully his, for much of it belongs to the divisions, and the day of reckoning is not far distant. That we shall be able to pay the divisions in full on the first quarter day we have not the remotest idea. All outside creditors will receive their money, but it is inevitable that the divisions will have to remain creditors to the League long after the day on which their just dues should go to them. Meantime, we are in consultation with advertisers regarding contracts, and we are working in many ways to make our income larger and our outgo smaller.

ON March 2, before the Court of Sessions of Richmond county, at Richmond court house, Staten Island, N. Y., a motion was made to dismiss the indictment for want of prosecution found against Dr. Beckwith and others of the late Executive and Membership Committees. The indictment was found last September for an alleged criminal libel against Daniel H. Renton, of New York, but no move was made by the prosecution to bring it on for trial. The defendants, therefore, made this motion at the first term of court at which it could be brought on for argument. The people were represented by Hon. George Gallagher, district attorney of Richmond county, and the defendants appeared by John C. Gulick, of New York, and Clarence H. Frost, of Peekskill, N. Y. George J. Greenfield, Esq., a prominent member of the Richmond county bar, was associated with the defence as counsel. The complainants having abandoned the case, the motion was granted and an entry in the records made to that effect. This dismissal is a bar to any further indictment. It is said that actions for large damages will be brought against Renton for malicious prosecution.

THE FIRST OF THE SEASON.

THE New Orleans wheelmen have not taken a very active part in the recent League squabble, nor dabbled very extensively in its politics. They have not, however, been asleep, but have been displaying enthusiasm of the proper sort, and shaped in the direction to benefit the cause of cycling generally.

ON February 1, the New Orleans Bicycle Club moved into its new and roomy quarters, and on the 21st gave a most enjoyable smoker.

ON the 23d the lantern parade took place, and proved the biggest thing on wheels yet seen in the South.

ON March 3 a number of races which were postponed by rain from February 19, for the benefit of a local cause, were run, the result of which is given below.

Half-Mile Dash.— C. B. Guillotte, 1; H. L. Cary, 2; W. Dupre, 3. Time, 1.32½.

Half Mile, for boys under fifteen years.— T. D. Warley, 1; Edward Dupre, 2; J. T. Lewis, 3. Time, 1.57½.

One Mile.— B. C. Rea, 1; R. G. Betts, 2; A. A. Ruhlmann, 3. Time, 3.49.

Two Miles.— C. B. Guillotte, 1; H. L. Cary, 2. Time, 7.38.

CYCLETS.

WASHINGTON wheelmen will make preparations to receive all wheelmen who visit the city on the occasion of the National drill in May next.

NOW that Springfield has said that a tournament next fall is an uncertainty, Worcester will organize a grand Fall race meeting.

THE Scranton (Pa.) Bicycle Club has tendered a reception to Thomas Stevens, which will take place on April 12th. While the committees have the arrangements yet to make, the plans, as discussed, are for a reception during the day at the club room. Lecture in the evening at the Academy of Music, and banquet at the Wyoming. All wheelmen of Northeastern Pennsylvania, Pittston, Wilkesbarre, Bloomsburg, Binghamton, and other points included in that section will be invited to join with the club in welcoming the hero of "Around the World on a Bicycle."

MRS. FLORINE THAYER MCCRAY, the authoress of "Wheels and Whims," has a charming story in the current number of Peterson's Magazine. It is entitled "Love on Wheels," and will be read with much interest by ladies interested in health and recreation.

"THE Owl" might have added that the hardest roads are the easiest, but the easiest for headers are the softest.

CALIFORNIA will elect its Secretary-Treasurer by mail vote.

THE Solitary Club Man writes: It is a matter of congratulation to our wheelmen that half a dozen last year's dog nuisances have, during the winter, been given through passes to dog Hades, where it is hoped "the overwhelmingest majority of them ever heard of will convene, at an early date."

Several persons about Greenwich, have died of hydrophobia within the past three years, and others have been bitten by dogs more or less mad, during this winter, who we are afraid will hear from the bites, later. They generally do.

THE members of the Troy (N Y.) Club have been photographed and grouped in a frame holding one-hundred and one pictures. The frame is a most artistic piece of work, designed and made by Secretary H. A. Everett. It is of oak, carved in excellent taste and surmounted by a wheel and the club names.

H. W. GASKELL, Esq., has severed his connection with the Coventry Machinists' Company.

THERE is an impression among many State officials that a division is entitled to one representative for every fifty members or "fraction thereof." The last clause does not appear in our rules. Ninety-nine men will give a division but one representative.

THE K. C. W. drill team will add a charm to the indoor athletic games at the 23d Regiment Armory, on Saturday evening, April 2. Some new movements will undoubtedly be introduced, but their fine work is so well known that it is unnecessary to urge the attendance of wheelmen.

THE opening of Messrs. Schwalbach & Willdiggs' cycling headquarters at Prospect Park Plaza, Brooklyn, which was to have occurred on March 12, has been postponed till April 13. Schwalbach never does things by halves, and finding that the pressure of his new business enterprise would prevent his giving the boys the programme he had laid out, he was forced to await a more favorable opportunity.

"LADIES' Night" at the Massachusetts Club on Saturday next.

THE third annual outing of the Clerical Wheelmen of the United States has been projected for 1888 in Norway and Sweden. It was purposed by Rev. Sylvanus Stall, that it should take place the coming season, sailing June 2, and, returning, reach New York about the middle of August. But when completing the arrangements it was found that the time was too short to enable the tourists to gather up the loins of their financial strength, to arrange for pulpit supplies, and assure that everything would be ready at the appointed time. In view of these facts, the tour has been deferred one year, when some of the restrictions named in the prospectus will be somewhat modified. In other respects the tour will be as projected for this season, simply deferring the time for its enjoyment till the summer of 1888. The Tour Circular and Map of the journey, including the voyage to the Land of the Midnight Sun, is a double-column, illustrated book of twenty-four pages, and is in every respect one of the finest and most complete itineraries of any bicycle tour yet projected. Several are already booked for the ride in 1888.

ON Thursday evening the Washington (D. C.) Cycle Club gave the last of the very successful hops they have given during the season. The large ball-room of the club-house was most tastefully decorated with cycling emblems. A musical entertainment, dancing, and a banquet, formed the entertainment of the evening.

NOTICE our stationery: purple ink. League color, you know.

THE papers from Thomas Stevens that have been running in Outing, up to the time that he arrived in Persia, where he settled himself for the winter, have already been prepared for publication, and will be issued by the Harpers in a few weeks, thus completing the first volume; and the remainder of his trip will appear next autumn in volume No. 2.

MR. GEORGE A. JESSUP, President of the Scranton Bicycle Club, who has received the nomination for Chief Consul of the State of Pennsylvania, at the hands of the Nominating Committee, is a banker in Scranton, Penn. He is a man fifty years of age, yet as enthusiastic in the sport as any wheelman of twenty-five; a man of family, he has a son who is also a wheelman; a liberal, public-spirited man, he has always been identified with every enterprise that has been for the public good in his city. He was suggested for the position by members throughout the State, who think that the best interests of the League, and especially of the Pennsylvania Division, demand that a sterling business man be at the head, in charge of affairs.

THE Orange Wanderers and the East Orange wheelmen have consolidated, and now form one club of fifty-five members, retaining the name, Orange Wanderers, as that of the older and larger organization. The East Orange Wheelmen received three offices in the united organization.

CORRESPONDENCE.

The editor wishes it distinctly understood that he is not responsible for the statements and opinions expressed in these columns.

ROAD ROLLERS.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — Our city is about to purchase a steam road roller; knowing that your section has the finest roads in America, I wish to know what machine is used for making same. Now if you will ask secretarys of clubs to write me regarding road rollers, where they are used, you will confer a boon on cyclers in our city, and boom the wheel in addition. Our council, never having seen any good roads, are liable to go astray in the purchase of a machine.

We would like to become as famous as Boston and vicinity for good roads. To this end will kindly ask through columns of League paper what machine is desirable for making good road. Answers to be addressed to

W. T. ANDREWS,
Williamsport, Pa.

FROM A FEMININE POINT OF VIEW.

I believe I told you last week that I proposed to let a friend talk to you this week, and so, without further remark, I will stand aside and commend "Spinning Jenny" to your attention.

DEAR "DAISIE,"— Having been very much interested in the letters from wheel-women, I am moved to add my mite. I have wheeled but two seasons. It seems hardly possible that it is not a much longer time, so replete with incident and enjoyment has it been.

I own to no very great enthusiasm at the start, thinking with many others that it was too hard work, not considering the fact that the exercise of untried muscles is apt to produce more or less stiffness, which proves but transient, however.

One or two trial trips, and I was astonished at the new world spread out before me, and fairly trembled at the thought of what I might have lost had I yielded to my first impression.

To be sure, we were riding machines much too heavy and cumbersome for a woman's use, and, like all novices, I was prone to overdo and get so far away from home that it was a matter of doubt when to expect me back, or, I should say we, for, but for my husband's never-failing presence and help in overcoming the hills, which at first seemed veritable mountains, and encouragement, when in my enthusiasm I travelled too fast and too far, I should certainly have given up.

I shall never forget my first experience going up a long hill. About a third of the way up we met a gentleman on the same kind of a wheel as our own (he had ridden up and was coasting down). With what astonishment I viewed his exploit, concluding that it was owing to his superior strength, but discovering my mistake when, a few weeks later, I essayed the same hill, climbing it with more ease than I had even hoped for. It was then that a "new heaven and a new earth" seemed created for my especial benefit, for certainly the moon and stars shone brighter, and the lake, with its beautiful surroundings, never seemed so charming as on the night when, lured by the thought of our reward at the top, we perseveringly climbed that hill.

How we did explore the surrounding country within a radius of thirty miles that summer! Hills and valleys, lakeside and shore,— none were exempt from the track of our tires. Home was but a place in which to rest and sleep, to awake fresh and yearning for new ventures.

Our wide, breezy veranda, the stretches of green grass and blue water were left for the delectation of any stray guest who might perchance be tempted by the alluring invitation to "Come out and see us when it threatens to rain, or is too hot to ride."

Veritable vagabonds on wheels were we, and nothing but the fact that my husband's business demanded his presence and would n't run itself, prevented our starting on a journey, if not "around the world," at least, round and about a portion of it

I had always been a great admirer of a horse, and after possessing a gentle animal that I could manage entirely, and having driven about the country at my own sweet will, I was slow to believe that any mere machine would be able to fill the place of my four-footed friend.

But I found very soon many advantages in the spider-wheels. They didn't want to eat and drink at the most inconvenient seasons (although I did). There were no shoes coming loose, or harness giving out at a critical place; no necessity for keeping an incessant look-out for fear something might be going wrong with either horse or carriage.

Now, don't think that I never made any mistakes or met with any mishaps, but such a thing as running one wheel on the sidewalk and the other in the gutter, resulting in a spill and a beautifully buckled wheel was not sufficient to damp my ardor. At first, when long runs were made by the little coterie of wheelers, by whom we found ourselves surrounded, I was left at home, a proceeding which scarcely met with my approbation; and it was not long before I convinced my husband that I was fully able to stand the runs, proving it by riding twenty miles to dinner and returning the same day, none the worse for the ride.

From this time, distance to a given point never counted, only the condition of the roads and the weather.

Right here I would say I am not what would be called a strong woman, although my general health has always been good. I inherited that curse of so many American women, sick headache; not a headache that one can grin and bear, but the kind that makes the sufferer want to crawl off somewhere and die, for the time being, which was usually about twenty-four hours.

The penalty for overdoing in the heat, or being up two or three nights in succession, was always a day and a night in a darkened room, with a thousand imps playing a tattoo on my temples, while that vindictive and hideous demon, King "Bile," held undisputed sway, until a dead stupor would steal over my worn-out brain, and hours afterward a pale, ghost like being would be seen trying to eat a piece of toast and take up the thread of existence once more.

Only a few weeks of wheeling sufficed to exorcise this most dreaded foe, and I wish I could herald to every woman in this broad land the benefit which wheeling has been to me in this one respect, to say nothing of health and strength gained in other ways.

The French have a trite saying that a woman is only as old as she looks, and I know of no better way to cheat old Father Time and renew one's youth than by a judicious use of the wheel. I say judicious use, for it does not do to ride too fast nor too far, until one is a little toughened to this new mode of locomotion, which is hardly riding or walking, but something like Paddy's frog, "begorra, whin he 's settin' down, he 's a-stannin' up!"

Having ridden our single wheels all summer, toward the end of the season my husband began to talk tandem. Previous to this, we had taken a trip of thirty miles, starting at 2 P. M., arriving at our destination at 6.20, and as we wished to repeat this trip, we thought it a good opportunity to test the relative merits of the two styles of machines. The result was that we gained in time nearly an hour, and, whereas, on the first occasion I passed the evening lying at my ease on a wide old lounge in the sitting-room, listening but taking no active part in the conversation, on the second occasion the order was reversed, and my husband seemed uninclined for any unnecessary exertion, proving conclusively to my mind that a tandem possessed decided advantages over a single for me, at all events, and my former objections, such as losing my independence, not having a machine to exclusively control, etc., were permitted gracefully to retire to the background.

We rode until late in the fall; indeed, our last ride was taken in December, but although we spun it out as long as possible, our wheels at last were housed.

When spring opened, a tandem took the place of our singles, and the campaign began. Long trips, short runs, up hill and down, early and late, that tandem went, but I did n't always go on the tandem, for there were so many "sisters and cousins and aunts" (don't ring), who wanted a ride, that your humble servant rode anything, stopping at nothing short of a "bike." Often on long runs, I have relinquished my seat on the tandem and taken some lady's single, thereby giving her a chance to rest and myself an opportunity to try another style of machine. I own to a predilection for trying every style of wheel I meet. I could not now remember the occasions when I indulged, but my husband has furnished me a list, which, perhaps, may be of some interest, as it added greatly to my experience in different styles of wheels and ability to judge of the respective merits of the same, to say nothing of the traditional condiments in the shape of variety.

Singles.— Beeston Humber Cripper. Apollo, centre gear. Apollo, side gear. Victor, old and new style Quadrant. Marlboro. Singer's straight steerer. Royal Mail, two track. Apollo, two track. Columbia, two track.

Tandems.— Springfield, side steerer. Springfield, bar steerer. Royal Mail. Club. Humber. Sociable, style forgotten.

I also had the pleasure of trying Mrs. Stall's machine, which was built expressly for her own use, and I found it without exception the lightest running, easiest managed single I was ever on, and I ceased to wonder at her reluctance to ride any other wheel.

I am afraid I might be accused of exaggeration should I try to enumerate all the "tender feet," male and female, who have occupied my saddle at different times, all unanimous in the verdict "Perfectly splendid," "I had no idea it was such fun riding a tricycle," a number attesting their sincerity by appearing in a short time with a wheel of their own. Many converts to wheeling have we made in this way. It is indeed a good field for missionary work; we have only worked around the edges, but still enough to show that it is almost an unbroken field. How many women there are, who, if they could only be induced to try the wheel, would need no more coaxing, no more argument, to convince them that they can find renewed health and strength in this most delightful and enjoyable exercise.

It has been reiterated so often that the subject is threadbare, that American women are indisposed to any great amount of out door exercise, consequently are too frail and delicate. Now here seems a chance for emancipation; instead of the tired home worker, "working on her nerve," until there is no more nerve left, she breaks down and sends for the doctor, let her get a wheel, and spend only an hour a day even, out in the fresh air, and see what a revolution it would make. The cost will amount to no more than a doctor's bill, and the time required can easily be made up when the blood is stirred, pulses quickened, and a few of the clouds swept from the brain. The subject is too great to more than touch upon now.

I am a believer in woman's rights; that is, her right to be happy and enjoy herself as much as possible, and who can be happy with a burden of ill health to carry? A torpid liver, or an attack of indigestion, will cast a funereal shade over the brightest prospect. Thrice welcome anything that tends to lighten the load! But with all the advantages connected with wheeling, there is one great drawback to perfect enjoyment and that is the imperfections in the wheels themselves.

One never knows when to expect a break-down; it is likly to occur miles away from home, and it is not an exhilarating sight to see a man pushing a broken wheel or carefully carrying it, with the help of a friendly native, to the shelter of the nearest barn, there to stay until it can be forwarded to the repair shop.

There seem to be radical faults in the construction of even the best wheels. I hear great predictions for next season; I hope they will be verified; something certainly will be the outcome of all the experimenting. If it were possible to combine the good features of all, but that is almost too much to ask. But still, if we could have a machine with all the good points of the "Humber," devoid of its cheerful tendency to triumphantly wave its tail in the air, and land its riders anywhere along the road coming down a hill! a tandem warranted not to become knocked-kneed and spavined; a single wheel, light enough for a lady to ride, and still strong enough to carry her away from home, and bring her back again. However, wheeling is yet in its infancy, so let us be patient. This is an age of improvement. Other machines have reached apparent perfection; why should not the tricycle?

My record for '85 was 1,500 miles; '86 a trifle more; my husband making 2,000, the discrepancy occasioned by waiting for repairs, and domestic affairs demanding my attention, I was obliged to forego the pleasure of a great many rides. My longest run in one day was 48 miles, and I felt no undue fatigue in consequence. We never have ridden for a record; never merely to cover miles, always having in view some objective point; at one time social calls in neighboring towns, or perhaps a run to the beach for a fish dinner. For a number of weeks midnight overtook us before sleep. Not that we rode until that time, but on our return from our evenings' run our neglected papers were read for an hour or so. I experienced no ill effects from these late hours (contrary to all precedent); they resulted in nothing more serious than an unusually sound sleep and a dreadful appetite.

"SPINNING JENNY."

Our friend has had a wide and varied experience, and out of it has grown an enthusiasm for the whele which has led her to do much missionary work in its interest. DAISIE.

INDIANA TOUR, 1887.

THE fourth annual tour of the Indiana Division L. A. W. will organize at the Murdock Hotel in Logansport, at 6 A. M. Friday, July 8, and ride that forenoon to Delphi, for dinner, a distance of thirty miles.

In the afternoon the party will proceed to Lafayette, a distance of twenty-five miles, stopping over night and until after dinner the next day at the Lake House.

This will give an opportunity to visit the many points of attraction about the city.

In the afternoon the party will proceed to Frankfort, a distance of twenty-five miles, stopping over night at the Coulter House.

Sunday morning, the 10th, ride to Crawfordsville, a distance of thirty miles, stopping at the Nutt House.

The party will remain here until Monday morning and enjoy an afternoon with Crawfordsville's hospitable wheelmen.

Monday morning the party will proceed to Shades of Death, a wild romantic region between Crawfordsville and Rockville, where a portion of the day will be spent in exploring the many beautiful spots in this locality. Dinner will be served in the neighborhood.

Rockville will be made in the afternoon, making a total distance for the day of thirty-five miles.

Tuesday morning the party will ride to Clinton for dinner, a distance of eighteen miles. In the afternoon the party will proceed to Coal Creek Hill, where a hill climbing contest will take place.

The hill is about twelve hundred feet long with a rise of one foot in ten and a half feet, with fair gravel surface.

Contestants will be started singly and must ride straight up the hill, no "tacking" being allowed.

The contestant making the best time will be awarded a gold medal valued at $25, and the second best man will receive a similar medal valued at $15. Terre Haute riders, and all riders who have ever tried the hill will be barred, but contestants will be allowed to examine the hill on foot.

The awards will be made by a committee of three, to be selected by the party.

For the medals we will be indebted to the Terre Haute wheelmen, who have very kindly volunteered to furnish them.

At the close of the hill-climbing contest, the party will proceed to Terre Haute, a distance of sixteen miles, and stop at the National House.

The next day we will be in the hands of the Terre Haute wheelmen, who expect to have a grand parade in the forenoon, and a race meeting in the afternoon.

A baggage wagon will accompany the party the whole distance, and each member of the party who pays his dues will be allowed ten pounds of baggage, done up in a small compact package, or in a small valise.

"Lame ducks" will be allowed to ride in the wagon when absolutely necessary.

Each League member of the party will be required to pay the treasurer $1, non-League members $2, towards defraying the expenses of the tour.

This programme has been arranged, after consultation with the Board of Officers, and as the roads are all fine, we believe the tour will prove to be more enjoyable than any that have preceded it, and we hope to see every wheelman in the State turn out.

A. B. IRVIN, Chief Consul.

RUSHVILLE, IND., March 1, 1887.

PROSPECT PARK REGULATIONS.

I HEREWITH enclose Prospect Park rules, just promulgated, and at the same time desire to call the attention of wheelmen to the new privileges secured Practically, the entire roadway system of the park is now opened to the bicycle, it being the intention of the commissioners to widen the roadway on the east drive, when the only excepted part will be included in the riding ground.

The Brooklyn commissioners accept the fact that the bicycle is a vehicle with all the rights this implies, and they recognize and provide for it accordingly. At the same time, they yield us what we cannot legally ask, but, nevertheless, esteem as a high favor, the privilege of using the paths when the roads are unridable.

The conservative dignitaries who preside over the rights and privileges of Central Park, might, with considerable benefit to themselves and fairness to wheelmen, take notice of the liberal policy of like officials at the other end of the bridge, and by acting something nearer the spirit of the present time save themselves from the rapidly increasing suspicion that they were built some time in the fourteenth century, and are yet one hundred years or more behind the age. C. H. LUSCOMB.

Bicycle and tricycle riding in Prospect Park is regulated as follows: —

Riding is permitted upon all the roadways, except the East Drive, and the drives through the woods to the point where they enter the Nethermead Circuit Drive.

Special privileges for riding upon the pathways will be issued by the superintendent, upon application, at such times as the condition of the roadways renders them unfit for riding.

Dated, Brooklyn, March 11, 1887.

By order of the park commissioners.

LUKE HARRINGTON, General Superintendent.

Until April 1, 1887, all the pathways may be used for riding by the wheelmen.

LUKE HARRINGTON, General Superintendent.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION.

THE annual meeting of the California Division L. A. W. was held at San Francisco, February 24.

The Secretary-Treasurer submitted his report, which showed a balance on hand of $29.90.

The chief consul, R. M. Welch, submitted his annual report. He gave in brief a history of the division for the past year, and mapped out its course for the year to come. He concluded as follows:

"I am pleased to be able to inform you that at the last meeting of the Board of Officers at New York your entire Division Board was represented by proxies in the hands of Messrs. Bassett and Harris, of Massachusetts. From the stenographer's report of the meeting, now appearing in the BULLETIN, I think you must conclude that the frantic protestations of some people as to the wrongs inflicted and injustice done at that meeting are entirely unwarranted and uncalled for. It is particularly gratifying to note the prompt and fearless manner with which the Board met and disposed of various existing abuses, and there was none more glaring than the former usurpation of proxies by the Secretary-Editor for furthering his own schemes. I feel that we cannot too strongly express our appreciation of the course of the Executive Committee during the past year, as having been wholly in behalf of the best interests of the League."

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION.

PHILADELPHIA, March 9, 1887.

Pursuant to a call of Chief Consul Wells, a meeting of the Board of Officers, Pennsylvania Division, L. A. W., was held Tuesday, March 8, 1887, in the Record Building, Philadelphia.

The meeting was called to order at 8.35 P. M., Chief Consul Wells in the chair, with the following members personally present: Messrs. E. L. Miller, G. N. Osborne, E. M. Aaron, Frank Read, Kirk Brown, and T. H. Wright.

Proxies of the following members were presented: D. K. Trimmer, in favor of Frank Read; Col. Geo. Sanderson, in favor of E. L. Miller; J. G. Carpenter, in favor of E. L. Miller; J. E. Harder, in favor of G. N. Osborne; and S. A. Boyle, in favor of T. H. Wright. On motion, these proxies were accepted and approved.

Proxy of John V. Stephenson, in favor of T. H. Wright, was, on motion, rejected, it being signed "Jno. V. S.," instead of with full name. Mr. Wright stated that he did not feel justified in claiming a vote thereon.

The Chief Consul stated that the principal object of the meeting was to take action to avail of the privileges given to Divisions by Article IV., Section 3, of the L. A. W. By-laws.

On motion, the following resolution (framed in the Committee of the Whole, Mr. E. L. Miller in the chair) was adopted:

Resolved, That a committee of three (3), to be elected by the Board of Officers of the Pennsylvania Division, L. A. W., shall be empowered to count the votes cast by the members of the division in the Annual Election of the L. A. W., as provided for in Article IV., Section 3, of the L. A. W. By-laws; and that votes cast by the members of said division, in order to be counted, must be in the hands of the Secretary-Treasurer at or before noon of the 10th of April in each year, and by him shall be handed to the chairman of said committee.

The chairman shall report the findings of the committee to the Secretary-Treasurer of the division at or before noon of the 15th of April of each year.

The duties of this committee shall be such as are prescribed by the Constitution and By-laws of the L. A. W.

In case a ballot contains the names of a greater number of candidates than the division is entitled to elect, the committee shall count the proper number of names, commencing at the top of the ballot."

Messrs. Geo. E. Bartol, of Philadelphia, Geo. A. Gorgas, of Harrisburg, and T. Houard Wright, of Philadelphia, were elected the committee.

On motion, the Secretary-Treasurer was authorized to refund to such Pennsylvania members of the Board of Officers, L. A. W., as the Chief Consul may designate, the amount of their railroad fares from residence to St. Louis, and return, the object of this resolution being to secure a sufficient representation at the approaching Annual Meeting of the L. A. W., to cast the full vote of the Pennsylvania members therein.

On motion, the Secretary-Treasurer was authorized to pay, as soon as funds be available, properly approved bills for expenses in connection with the mass meeting of wheelmen held at Philadelphia on the 1st of February, 1887, to an amount not exceeding $50.

A communication from Secretary-Editor Bassett was read, whereby it appeared that the Pennsylvania Division was credited with 1,299 members on the 1st of March, and entitled to 25 Representatives in the Board of Officers. Whereupon, it was resolved that as these figures do not agree with the data published in the BULLETIN, the Secretary-Treasurer be instructed to address a communication to Secretary-Editor Bassett, asking him to explain the apparent discrepancy.*

On motion, it was ordered that the Pennsylvania Division publish the stenographic report of the proceedings of the mass meeting held on the 1st of February, 1887, at Philadelphia, in the American Athlete, at a price not exceeding $90, a copy of said paper to be sent to every member of the L. A. W.

On motion, adjourned.

T. HOUARD WRIGHT,
Secretary-Treasurer Penna. Div., L. A. W.

*[The following letter has been received from Mr. Wright by the Secretary-Editor.]

MR. ABBOT BASSET, Sec.-Ed. L. A. W.

DEAR SIR:—Your letter of the 10th inst. is received.

Evidently, I have been misled by a faulty recollection of what Mr. Spencer told me as to the number of renewals yet to be published.

Regretting any trouble I may have put you to, I am, yours truly, T. HOUARD WRIGHT,
Secretary-Treasurer.

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

APPOINTMENT FOR ILLINOIS.

THERE having been a vacancy in the office of Chief Consul for the Illinois Division L. A. W., caused by the resignation of Mr. B. B. Ayers, I am pleased to announce my appointment, made some days since to fill the vacancy, and in the selection of so well known and competent a gentleman as Mr. N. H. Van Sicklen to fill the vacancy, I am in the belief that I carry out the wishes of a large proportion, if not all, of the members of the division. With assurances of confidence in the wisdom of the selection, I am, fraternally,

N. MALON BECKWITH,
President.

NEW YORK, March 12, '87.

APPOINTMENT FOR WEST VIRGINIA.

HAVING received the resignation of Mr. Wilbur L. Wright as chief consul of West Virginia, I now, therefore, declare said office vacant, and appoint to fill said vacancy Mr. Jacob W. Grubb, of Wheeling, believing him to be the choice of the members of the division. Mr. Grubb comes to the office with the strongest assurances for his enthusiasm, activity, and popularity, and, I have every reason to believe, will fill the office with credit to himself and profit to his constituency. Fraternally,

N. MALON BECKWITH.
President.

NEW YORK, March 12, '82.

APPOINTMENTS.

MICHIGAN. — Hotels appointed by Chief Consul J. H. Johnson: Port Huron, Huron House; St. Clair, St. James Hotel; Grosse Pointe, Weaver's; rates special.

MICHIGAN. — Consuls appointed by Chief Consul J. H. Johnson: Blissfield, C. E. Howland, second; Caro, W. F. Street; Dearborn, H. M. Snow; Opechee, F. Klepetko; Pontiac, F. B. King; Red Jacket, W. M. Harris.

MARYLAND. — Representatives appointed by Chief Consul J. K. Bartlett, Jr., Samuel T. Clark, and H. W. Barrington, both of Baltimore.

KENTUCKY. — Consuls appointed by Chief Consul C. F. Johnston; Covington, H. S. Rodgers; Princeton, E. M. Johnson; Danville, C. L. Grant; Cynthiana, H. Redmore; Louisville, J. F. Adams.

KENTUCKY. — Hotels appointed by Chief Consul C. F. Johnson; Danville, Gilcher's. Regular rate, $2; League rate, $1.50. Louisville, Alexander's; $2.50 — $2. Bardstown, Newman House; $2 — $1.40. Covington, Latonia; $2 — $1.50.

MASSACHUSETTS. — Hotels appointed by Chief Consul Hayes; Boston, Tremont House, $3.50; Amesbury, American House, $2; Great Barrington, Miller House, $2; Walpole, Walpole House, $1.50; Holyoke, Windsor Hotel, $2.50; South Framingham, Old Colony House, $2; Manchester, Manchester House, $1.50; Merrimac, Prescott House, $2; Wellesley, Hagar House, $2; Upton, Hotel Pleasant, $2.

ANNUAL ELECTION, 1887. — NOMINATIONS.

CONNECTICUT. — The New Britain Cycle Club nominates Mr. L. A. Tracy, of Hartford, for chief consul, and Mr. A. F. Judson, of New Britain, for representative.

CONNECTICUT. — The Hartford Wheel Club nominates Mr. Robert F. Way, of Hartford, for chief consul.

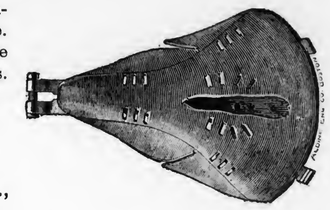
CONNECTICUT. — Mr. Winslow T. Williams, of Yantic, withdraws his name as a candidate for chief consul.

KENTUCKY. — H. S. Rodgers, of Covington, Ky., refuses to be considered a candidate for chief consul.

MASSACHUSETTS. — The Berkshire County Wheelmen nominate Mr. H. S. Wollison, of Pittsfield, and Mr. F. E. Hawkes, of Greenfield, as representatives for the western portion of the State.

PENNSYLVANIA. — The Williamsport Wheel Club nominates Mr. Will T. Andrews, for chief consul.

THE TOWNSEND
Combination Spring and Saddle.
STODDARD, LOVERING & CO., Boston, Mass.



It is light. It is easy. It does not chafe. Try it. It fits any machine. Thoroughly ventilated. It does not sag or get out of shape. It combines the advantages of every saddle extant. It is fitted to all RUDGE machines.

PRICE, $6.00.

SOLE U. S. AGENTS,

STODDARD, LOVERING & CO.,

152 Congress St., Boston, Mass.

RHODE ISLAND. — The Bristol County Wheelmen, of Warren, R. I., nominate Dr. J. A. Chase, of Pawtucket, for chief consul, and Mr. C. S. Davol, of Warren, and Rev. S. H. Day, of East Greenwich, for representatives.

MARYLAND. — The Baltimore Cycle Club nominates the following ticket for officers: Chief consul, J. K. Bartlett, Jr.; representatives, C. W. Abbott, H. W. Barrington, and S. T. Clark, of Baltimore; W. L. Seabrook, of Westminister, and G. T. Updegraff, of Hagerstown. [The State is entitled to but three representatives. — ED.]

NEW HAMPSHIRE. — The Manchester Bicycle Club nominates Mr. Hewey M. Bennett, of Manchester, for chief consul.

NEW JERSEY. — The Union County Wheelmen, of Westfield, nominate Dr. Fred A. Kinch, Jr., for chief consul.

CALIFORNIA. — Officers and members of the division at a meeting have nominated Mr. R. M. Welch, of San Francisco, for chief consul: N. A. Robinson, for secretary-treasurer, and J. W. Gibson, for representative.

KENTUCKY. — The Louisville Wheel Club nominates Mr. Chas. E. Curry for chief consul, and Mr. Horace Beddo for representative, both from Louisville.

WISCONSIN. — Wisconsin wheelmen have nominated Francis Bloodgood, of Milwaukee, for chief consul.

RHODE ISLAND. — The Rhode Island Wheelmen of Providence, nominate Dr. J. A. Chase for chief consul, and Rev. S. H. Day and Charles S. Davol for representatives.

NEW HAMPSHIRE. — Members of the divisions have nominated and will support the following ticket: — Chief consul, H. M. Bennett, of Manchester; representatives, G. E. Philbrick, of Portsmouth, and F. H. Crapo, of New Hampshire.

NEW JERSEY. — Nominations by Committee appointed by Division — Chief Consul, Dr. J. H. Cooley, Plainfield; Representatives, L. H. Porter, Orange; F. D. Sensor, Millville; Dr. G. Carleton Brown, Elizabeth; E. F. Burns, Smithville; John B. Lunger, Newark; W. J. Atkinson, Camden; Willard P. Smith, Jersey City; B. S. Rose, Trenton; Dr. J. A. Wright, Montclair; Howard A. Smith, Newark; Dr. F. A. Kinch, Westfield; N. J. Banker, Passaic; G. O Waterman, Red Bank; D. H. Merritt, New Brunswick.

PENNSYLVANIA NOMINATIONS.

To the Pennsylvania Division:

Your Committee on Nominations beg leave to report the following list as being, in their opinion, the best ticket they can present under existing circumstances. We trust you will appreciate the embarassing position we are placed in at the present time. We have endeavored to do our duty to the whole Division, and hope that you will agree with us that the good of it demands that no feeling should be displayed, but that we should act coldly, deliberately, and with due regard to future success. Some names of prominent wheelmen are not on the list. Some declined to serve again, others were left off, we endeavoring to allot the nominations as suitably as possible to the different sections of the State. The nomination of Mr. Geo. A. Jessup as Chief Consul, by the majority of the committee, we hope will be considered a fit one. Mr. Jessup is a gentlemen of high social standing, of means, middle-age, and sound judgment. An enthusiastic wheelman, he will fill the position, if elected, creditably to himself and our Division.

Chief Consul, — George A. Jessup, Scranton.
Representatives, — H. S. Wood, G. N. Osborne, C. A. Roberts, C. D. Williams, Kirk Brown, Samuel A. Boyle, Frank Read, Philadelphia; J. G. Carpenter, Wilkesbarre; F. A. Deans, Wellsboro; D. K. Trimmer, York; Dr. F. J. Richards, Williamsport; H. V. Crecilius, Reading; Rev. Sylvanus Stall, Lancaster; H. W. Terry, Newcastle; H. E. Bidwell, Pittsburg; J. V. Stephenson, Greensburg; W. S. Winterstein, Bethlehem; J. E. Harder, Clearfield; E. J. Wanner, Norristown; G. A. Gorgas, Harrisburg; G. W. Hamilton, Johnstown; W. W. Berry, Pittston; Dr. Geo. A. Bean, Allegheny City; Isaac Elwell, Philadelphia; S. B. Vaughn, Kingston.

GEORGE SANDERSON,
Chairman Nominating Committee.

SCRANTON, March 11, 1887.

TO CONNECTICUT MEMBERS.

EVIDENTLY looking towards the settlement of certain accounts of a purely political nature, the Hartford Wheel Club has preferred exceptions to the use made of my name as a candidate for Representative for the year ensuing. After holding the Chief Consulship for two years, it is perhaps natural that I should not care to become the object of any controversy over the lesser office, and I have withdrawn in favor of Mr. Robert F. Way, with the understanding that he will receive the undivided support of our Hartford members. Mr. Way has been an active, influential member of the Connecticut Club since its organization; as Consul for Hartford, and Chairman of the State Racing Board, he has in times past rendered the L. A. W. efficient service, and he is in every way qualified to make a valuable member of the Board of Officers. I trust that you will elect him unanimously.

Let me also call your attention to what seems to me the great desirability of your returning to the Board Mr. Williams, of Yantic, Mr. Frisbie, of New Haven, Dr. Upson, of Waterbury, and Mr. Ward, of Middletown. It is to be regretted that Dr. Rust, of Meriden, will not consent to reëlection.

CHARLES G. HUNTINGTON.

HARTFORD, March 11, 1887.

TO NEW YORK MEMBERS.

THE New York road book will not be ready for delivery until the early part of April. Due notice of its issue will be given in the BULLETIN. Members are requested to refrain from writing for copies until such notice is published, as it is impossible for me to keep up with the work, and reply to the numerous requests for information regarding same. — Fraternally, A. B. BARKMAN, Chairman Touring Committee.

NOTICE.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA, L. A. W. WHEELMEN.

AN important meeting, of interest to every member, will be held at the Washington Cycle Clubhouse (1,223 12th street, N. W.), on the evening of March 19, at 7 o'clock, for the purpose of nominating officers of this division, and also to arrange a programme for the proper reception and entertainment of visiting League wheelmen at the coming national drill in May next.

J. H. DE MERITT, Representative.

LIMITED PASSENGER TRAINS.

What is a limited train? It is our province to explain, and an illustration in point will be called to our aid.

There are few limited trains run in this, or in fact any country, according to the original application of the term. By a limited train is meant that accommodations are provided thereon for a limited number of passengers desiring the highest speed, the greatest comfort and luxury yet attained as the result of keen competition between companies operating rival railways.

The limited train, par excellence, is the one designated the "NEW YORK AND CHICAGO LIMITED" now running over the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad in connection with the Lake Shore Railroad. This train is made up exclusively of elegant drawing-room cars and magnificently appointed sleeping cars, with a smoking car furnished with movable easy chairs, couches, etc., and supplied with the current literature of the day, for the use of patrons of the train. Dining cars in which substantial meals are elegantly served at moderate prices, are also attached at suitable hours.

This train leaves the Grand Central depot at 9.50 A. M., and on account of the light train, easy grades and few stops, accomplishes the run to Chicago in twenty-four hours, with entire comfort to the passengers.

The opposite train leaves the Lake Shore station, Chicago, at 5.30 P. M., arriving at Grand Central depot, New York, the next evening. Carriages, cabs, street cars and elevated railroad trains depart every few minutes from the Grand Central depot for every part of the city.

TRADE NOTES.

ONE of the largest cycling agents in this country writes to Messrs. Stoddard, Lovering & Co. as follows: — "The 1887 Rudge Light Roadster arrived, and we are very much pleased with it. Your changes are all improvements, and are according to our notions exactly. If the writer was going to have a wheel built exactly to his order he would not change it a particle from the 1887 Rudge Light Roadster. It simply fills the bill."

WE have received a copy of the Rudge catalogue for 1887, which represents a new departure in the cycling line. The front cover represents a lady and gentleman on the Crescent tandem coming down hill, while a rider on a bicyclette is going up. In the lower left-hand corner is represented a racing scene, while the English and American flags are tastefully grouped on one side. It gives very full information regarding the different specialities for the year, and after a brief description of each machine is given, the opposite page is occupied by a large cut of each individual machine with a rider mounted upon it, showing its position in actual use. All of the above drawings, including the cover, are from the pen of Mr. George Moore, London, England, — he is recognized as the leading cycling artist in the world, and these pictures add very much to make the catalogue not only most complete, but very interesting to all cyclists. Copies can be had by applying to Messrs. Stoddard, Lovering & Co., Boston, Mass., or any of their numerous agents.

L. H. JOHNSON, the "vet," whose name is well known as the first amateur champion of America, and who has for years been identified with the celebrated "Humber" cycles, will remove April 1, to a more central and convenient location in the city of Orange. Fine macadam, electric lights, and the proximity of the L. A. W. hotel will add to the comfort of visiting wheelmen, as well as a repair shop, toilet rooms, etc., on the premises.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows; —

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Applicant will please bear in mind that in addition to the two weeks, as above, it must necessarily take several days for their ticket to be issued, as it passes through two hands before being mailed to them. After four weeks from date of publication you may look for your ticket.

It is expected, and it is the duty of all members to examine the list of applications for their respective States, and report at once any error in name or address, and see that no objectionable person is admitted to the League. Any objection must be made to the Secretary within two weeks from date of publication. It will be considered confidential.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

List 78 — Total 50.

BOSTON, March 14, 1887.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION — 2.

Garden City Wheelmen.
13879 Col, Al., San Jose.
San Francisco Bi. Club.
13924 Treynor, F. F., 814 Fulton St., San Francisco.

ILLINOIS DIVISION — 2.

Moline Wheelmen.
13889 Gould, R. W., Moline.
Unattached.
13887 Wheeler, E. O., Carrollton.

MARYLAND DIVISION — 1.

Unattached.
13905 Hutchins, Stanley, 301 N. Charles St., Baltimore.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION — 16.

Cambridgeport Cycle Club.
13890 Osburn, F. E., 584 Main St., Cambridgeport.
Dorchester Bi. Club.
13907 Farrington, Wilber E., Quincy.
13910 Hunter, Geo. L., Magnolia St., Dorchester.
13911 Mears, H. A., Neponset.
13908 Slade, J. N., Jr., Quincy.
13909 Spear, Horace E., "
13912 Van Wart, Clarence A., Humphrey Sq., Dorchester.
Milford Wheel Club.
13986 Tyler, Harry W., Milford.
Roxbury Bi. Club.
13899 Keltie, James, 63 Fort Ave., Roxbury.
13900 Keltie, Alex.R., " " " "
13901 Scholl, Fred F., 16 Dearborn, "
13898 Tetlow, Edwin F., 121 Warwick St., Roxbury.
Star Wheel Club.
13877 Joslyn, Geo. B., 56 Linden St., Springfield.
Unattached.
13885 Bailey, L. Herbert, 130 Summer St., Boston.
13914 Holmes, Chas. A., 194 Wash. St, "
13875 Tippett, J. E., Art Club. "

MAINE DIVISION — 1.

Unattached.
13880 Burgess, Geo. H., 55 Atlantic St., Portland.

MICHIGAN DIVISION — 3.

Lake Superior Bi. Club.
13903 Klepethe, Frank, Opechee.
Unattached.
13894 Gardner, A. B., Dowagiac.
13876 Marshall, Geo. T., 621 2d Ave., Detroit.

MINNESOTA DIVISION — 1.

Unattached.
13916 Ward, Beecher H., Fairmount.

NEW JERSEY DIVISION — 4.

Orange Wanderers.
13922 Gray, Dr. Wm. K., E. Orange.
13923 Simonson, T. C. H., "
Unattached.
13915 Case, Lewis C., Jr., Three Bridges.
13878 Taylor, Chas. S., Burlington.

NEW YORK DIVISION — 7.

Auburn Cycle Club.
13895 Lawton, Albert W., Jr., Auburn.
Cortland Co. Cyclist Club.
13921 Johnson, W. G., Cortland.
Kings Co. Wheelmen.
13917 Beasley, Dr. C. D., 648 Marcy Ave., Brooklyn.
13918 Beasley, Mrs. Emma, 591 Willoughby Ave., "
13919 McFarland, Robert, 55 Vernon Ave., "
13920 Loucks, J. A., 181 McDonough St., "
Unattached.
13913 Marshall, Mrs. Henry G., 342 E. 123d St., N. Y. City.

OHIO DIVISION — 6.

Toledo Cycling Club.
13902 Lang, W. R., 30 Produce Exchange, Toledo.
Unattached.
13884 Clark, John W., 28 Halstead St., Cincinnati.
13881 Freon, J. V., 63 Johnston Bldg, "
13891 Peters, Geo. A., 71 Lexington Ave., Columbus.
13883 Sharp, Harry B., Lake Ave., Walnut Hills, Cincinnati.
13882 Tozier, Edwin B., 113 Park St. "

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION — 4.

University of Pa. Club.
13888 Whiting, Albert D., 33 Wyoming St., W. Phila.
Unattached.
13893 Henry, Will F., Warren.
13904 Kempton, C. Carroll, 2450 Nicholas St., Philadelphia.
13892 McAlpine, Dr. A. C., Warren.

WISCONSIN DIVISION — 2.

Milwaukee Wheelmen.
13897 Dorsch, Leo, 211 Wells St., Milwaukee.
13896 Stapleton, H., 121 W. Water St., "

VERMONT DIVISION — 1.

Unattached.
13886 Wilson, Frank B., Montpelier.

APPLICATIONS FOR LIFE MEMBERSHIP.

No. 4 — Total, 4.

BOSTON, March 14, 1887.

KENTUCKY DIVISION — 1.

7261 Verhoeff, John M., Louisville.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION — 1.

Holyoke Bi. Club.
6055 Stursberg, H. S., Jr., Holyoke.

NEBRASKA DIVISION — 1.

Ottumwa Bi. Club.
3813 Eaton, A. L., Holdredge.

VIRGINIA DIVISION — 1.

Keystone Bi. Club.
10316 Lee, Wm. McD., Lyndhurst.

RENEWALS.

No. 14. Total, 192.

BOSTON, MASS., Mar. 14, 1887.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION. — 14.

12947 Bailey, R. G.
12948 Black, F. P.
8814 Bowman, W. J.
12949 Brohaska, Fred.
9699 Ezekiel, Edw. T.
3833 Crowell, F. C.
12950 Johnston, W. S.
12951 Lindley, L. F.
8433 Miller, H. L.
12953 Maugrum, A. S.
12952 McKenney, A. C.
6027 Skinner, Wm. C.
12955 Thornton, D. C.
8419 Walsh, F. E.

CANADA — 1.

12142 Karn, W. A.

COLORADO DIVISION — 1.

7166 Hannan, G. E.

CONNECTICUT DIVISION — 5.

4414 Beebe, Stuart.
12123 Casper, Fred.
10551 Hart, Geo. P.
1500 Rossburg, C. C.
7775 Upson, C. H.

DAKOTA — 1.

9040 Burton, E. J.

GEORGIA — 2.

12460 Beeland, Geo.
12463 Gewinner, Dr. N. G.

ILLINOIS DIVISION — 6.

5736 Jefferson, Will T.
10504 Maynard, A. C.
11599 Spooner, F. E.
1681 Stevens, A. L.
3462 Toppan, W. R.
6342 Van Doren, C. L.

INDIANA DIVISION — 8.

12418 Coons, Harry T.
8469 Drischell, B. F.
3346 Hickman, J. R.
9363 Lambert, J. E.
1167 Kelley, Dr. A. F.
10766 Ludwig, J. B.
11403 Rayner, C. E.
11926 Waters, J. T.

IOWA DIVISION — 3.

1410 Clark, John R.
10339 Nicholson, Robert.
968 Taylor, D. L.

IDAHO — 1.

11583 Coffin, S. M.

KENTUCKY DIVISION — 1.

2437 Anderson, O. M.

KANSAS DIVISION — 2.

11167 Parsons, Geo. H.
12378 Wear, F. G.

LOUISIANA DIVISION — 4.

237 Abbott, Robert W.
8315 Crane, W. W.
12194 Mitchell, C. T.
11410 Stream, E. H.

MAINE DIVISION — 2.

10530 Sawyer, Fred W.
6699 Arnold, F. J.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION — 10.

3445 Atwell, W. S.
9057 Bates, Geo. T.
5349 Clark, Chas. A.
12030 Enos, W. B.
11149 Jacobs, A. E.
10364 Noyes, Mary A.
1049 Parker, F. M.
9372 Sheridan, W. H.
8725 Wheeler, Edward S.
10830 Worden, G. M.

MICHIGAN DIVISION — 9.

10831 Babcock, E. C.
9101 Beal, E. R.
12311 Boone, H. J.
3061 Champion, C. U.
7005 Hayden, Levi C.
9442 Jacobsen, W. J.
508 McCaul, J. C.
3726 Park, P. E.
11158 Ten Eyck, Alfred

MINNESOTA DIVISION — 2.

945 Hamlin, H. B.
5762 Hill, E. S.

MISSOURI DIVISION — 6.

6198 Becker, I. M.
10844 Hughes, Walter.
6637 Oswald, A. A.
7016 Page, Elliot B.
10850 Rogers, S. D.
2685 Stewart, A. K.

MONTANA — 1.

1258 Darlington, Wm.

NEBRASKA — 4.

11435 Clark, J. F.
10149 Griswold, Geo.
10151 Hughes, A. D.
10154 Morford, Harry.

NEW HAMPSHIRE DIVISION — 5.

9747 Bowie, D. W.
10055 Duncan, Fred.
10056 Higgins, Fred B.
11184 Lester, Thomas.
10 Pollard, G. M.

NEW JERSEY DIVISION — 1.

12322 Frelinghuysen, Joseph.

NEW YORK DIVISION — 9.

1187 Bronner, W. H.
272 Chalmers, Thos. C.
3956 Hoffman, E. A., Jr.
5857 Howard, H. F.
6202 Miller, W. C.
8766 Newton, A. H.
12474 Thayer, A. W.
12859 Van Vleck, C. E.
9781 Wygant, F. A.

OHIO DIVISION — 75.

2704 Barcley, John.
2093 Beckwith, T. S.
11931 Bennett, C. S.
466 Boger, J. H.
5453 Boggis, Taylor.
3536 Borton, F. S.
2715 Bowler, F. W.
2096 Brewer, Sterling.
7333 Brown, E. C.
8048 Brown, C. B.
5224 Chandler, G. N.
2675 Collister, Geo.
2092 Collister, J. H.
3155 Davis, W. A.
5128 Deckand, J. H.
3167 De Klyn, J. Q.
11129 Devitt, Harry.
2094 Douglas, F. W.
41 Ely, Alfred.
695 Farnsworth, C. E.
8775 Fife, Frank.
2961 Fetch, S. R.
3171 Force, P. G.
5222 Ford, Geo. W.
5219 Fosmire, G. W.
6583 Griffin, F. A.
1925 Hall, Harry.
8051 Harrison, H. H.
11229 Hitchcock, L. W.
12102 Holbrock, W. G.
2718 Hunt, E. P.
3012 Huntington, J. T.
4119 Iams, Chas. C.
3181 James, M. M.
8053 Keim, P. S.
3183 Lynch, W. J.
6760 Martin, D. E.
8054 Martin, W. B.
11701 Milliken, P. M.
9487 Norris, C. E.
1847 Nicholas, A. I.
1741 Oakes, Samuel.
495 Oliver, T. B.
3207 Oviatt, F. L.
599 Paine, C. A.
3208 Palmer, F. H.
8055 Palmer, E. W., Jr.
2713 Payne, H. R.
11024 Pence, W. E.
2676 Potter, G. H.
3217 Ressler, C. F.
653 Rogers, A. C.
5226 Rose, H. E.
2095 Root, F. P.
210 Russell, Howard H.
7341 Russell, P. M.
5223 Rust, F. P.
8056 Sargeant, W. P.
2001 Sholes, F. T.
12449 Shatzman, C. H.
2681 Spranckling, A. E.
9662 Stone, W. C.
4293 Smith, H. K.
4933 Strong, S. E.
9663 Throssell, F. W.
8057 Upson, W. H.
3538 Wade, B. F.
2089 Wade, J. H., Jr.
3209 Wagner, H. G.
6456 Walter, A. R.
3107 Whetmore, W. H.
9789 Williamson, G. H.
8058 Wilmot, J. C., Jr.
11011 Watts, H. M.
3629 Wurmser, O. A.

OREGON — 1.

5896 Hughes, Isaac.

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION — 5.

10696 Autenreith, J. L.
3015 Pierce, J. A.
5013 Pierce, Scott.
5600 Porter, D. P.
5606 Stufft, R. L.

RHODE ISLAND DIVISION — 3.

11471 Buffum, Edw.
11247 Kimball, H. W.
12049 Sayles, A. N.

TEXAS — 1.

11487 Geer, Harvey A.

VERMONT DIVISION — 8.

7152 Andrews, R.
7151 Dillon, F. W.
7153 Dillon, J. E.
5789 Hodgman, F. C.
5784 Johnson, C. W.
9971 La Fountain, A. W.
11582 Sawyer, W. G.
11940 Sparrow, A. F.

WEST VIRGINIA DIVISION — 1.

5423 Kubach, O. C.

IMPORTANT.

The Grand Union Hotel, opposite the Grand Central Depot, New York City, is the L. A. W. and C. T. C. Headquarters. European Plan. Rooms, $1.00 per day and upward. First-class Restaurant, at moderate prices. Good care taken of wheels.

FOR SALE, EXCHANGE, ETC.

Advertisements will be inserted in this column as follows: $1.00 for four lines, first insertion; 50 cts. for each subsequent insertion. Extra lines at proportionate rates. About nine words to a line.

FACILE, 46-inch, for sale. All the improvements of 1886, bought from importer, October, 1886, ridden not 25 miles, is in perfect condition, no marks of use, $110 cash. REV. PROF. J. B. FOCHT, Penna. College, Gettysburg, Penn.

FOR SALE. — A 56 and 50-inch Columbia, both in first-class order and all the latest improvements. Apply for terms to R. ANDREWS, Agent, Springfield, Vt.

BICYCLES AND TRICYCLES second-hand, but in perfect order, all sizes and makes; cheap for cash. Send for list, stating wants. NEW YORK BICYCLE CO., 38 Park Place.

FOR SALE. — At $85, a 50-inch Expert, half enamelled, with drop bars and swing spring. JOHN V. L. PIERSON, Bloomfield, New Jersey.

A FEW WHEELMEN can be accommodated with large, well-furnished sunny rooms, in immediate vicinity of Riverside and Central Parks (West Drive) and Boulevard. Half block from "L" Station. Excellent facilities for storing wheels ("Bikes" and "Trikes"). Breakfast if desired. Call or address H. W., 138 W. 104th Street, N. Y.

BARGAINS. — New 56-inch full nickelled Expert Columbia, 1886, Cowhorn bars, ball pedals, swing spring, only ridden a few miles, and in splendid condition, cost $160, will sell for $110. Good reasons for selling, call or address C. S., 225 Palisade Ave., Jersey City, N. J.

STAR BICYCLES ARE TAKING THE LEAD. — Safe and fast. Agents wanted. BARLOW & STARR, General Agents, Coldwater, Mich.

FOR SALE. — 52-INCH EXPERT COLUMBIA, pattern 1885, ball bearings and pedals; coasts further than any wheel; little used; $95.00. E. H. BROWN, Box 2650, New York.

BARGAINS IN SECOND-HAND BICYCLES. — 48, 50, 52, 54 and 58-inch EXPERTS; 50, 52 and 54-inch STANDARDS, etc. Also, 36 x 54-inch KANGAROO; excellent condition; $65.00. Second-hand sundries at less than half price. JAS. W. SPEAD.

FOR SALE. — An order on the Pope Mfg. Co. for any size or any finish pattern of 1886 Expert. Address 46, Bulletin office. Price, $110.

SPECIAL BARGAINS in New and Second-Hand Machines, prior to removal April 1st to more central location in Orange. Bicycles, Tricycles, Tandems, and Safeties. Send for list. Write to us what you want, it will pay you.
L. H. JOHNSON, East Orange, N. J.

BICYCLES FOR SALE.

Bicycles and Tricycles — all kinds, descriptions, and prices — from $35.00 upwards. Call and examine, or send for list to RUDGE AGENCY, 152 Congress St., Boston, Mass.

JOHN HARRIOTT.

MEDALS AND BADGES,

— ALSO —

Bicycle Club Pins of Every Description.

Designs on application.

3 Winter Street - - BOSTON, MASS.

The neatest and nobbiest line of

L. A. W. CARDS

ON RECORD.

Cabinet photographs of Whittaker, Rowe, Foster, Crocker, Hendee, Crist, Rich, Neilson, Burnham, Adams and DeBlois, in racing costume, twenty-five cents aniece. Send for sample cards and circular to FRANK H. ROBERTS, Collinsville, Ill.

SPADE HANDLES!

Handsomest, Strongest, and best Handles in the Market.

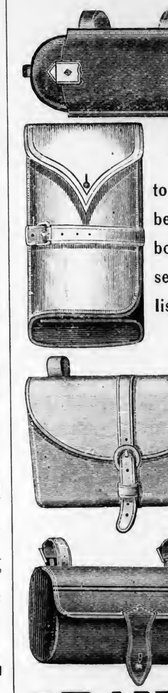
Only $3.50.

WE HAVE THEM TO FIT ANY CYCLE MADE.

C. W. SPINNEY - - Fitchburg, Mass.

ST. LOUIS WHEEL CO.

Difficult Repairing a Specialty.



Enamelling, Nickelling, Etc. at Lowest Prices

LARGEST STOCK OF SECOND-HAND BICYCLES in the WEST. WRITE FOR LIST.

DEALERS!

We manufacture TOOL BAGS, equal to English, and cheaper. Write to us.

McCOY & WILLIAMS, Orange, N. J.

Those who wish to purchase the best tool bags at bottom prices will send for price lists to

McCOY, COLLINS & CO.

LIBERAL DISCOUNT TO DEALERS.

ORANGE, N. J.

$3.00.  $3.00.

TOULMIN'S BUFFALO BICYCLE SHOE

Is made of the Finest Kangaroo or Dongola, in any size or width and warranted superior to any Bicycle Shoe made.

Price, per pair, $3.00.

These shoes being laced to the toe, afford comfort to the wearer, in whatever position the foot is placed; and, also, are the most durable shoe made.

LIBERAL DISCOUNTS TO CLUBS

Ordering six or more pairs. Sent by express on receipt of $3.00, or by mail for $3.30. Send for circular containing prices of other shoes, and directions for self-measurement. Address,

W. B. TOULMIN,

152 to 160 Seneca St. - - BUFFALO, N. Y.

STAR! ★ STAR!

NEW YORK HEADQUARTERS,

A. M. HALL - - - - MANAGER,

115 LIBERTY STREET.

BROOKLYN AGENT - - H. J. HALL, Jr.

Large stock constantly on hand to select from. Repair parts and sundries supplied.

H. B. SMITH MACHINE CO.

Works and main office SMITHVILLE, N. J.

MAIL VOTE OF 1887.

Ballots have been mailed to every League member entitled to vote in the balloting for members of the Board of Officers. It may be that many of these will be lost in the mails, and many men will no doubt lose their blanks. To all who are without blanks we will say that no particular form of blank is called for. Take an ordinary sheet of paper and write upon it the names of the men of your choice for Chief Consul and Representatives.

Each State is entitled to one Chief Consul, and as many Representatives as are indicated in the table below. Sign the ballot with your name, address and League number, and enclose it in an envelope marked "Mail Vote," and send the same to

ABBOT BASSETT,
Secretary-Editor,
22 School Street,
Boston, Mass.

Several States will count their own votes. Those who live in any of the following States must send ballots to the Secretary-Treasurer of the State in which he lives.

MASSACHUSETTS. — Sanford Lawton, Springfield. Vote only for men in your own district. See BULLETIN, March 11.

NEW YORK. — E. K. Austin, 55 Hart Street, Brooklyn. Vote only for men in your own district.

NEW JERSEY. — F. R. Bonnell, 51 Crescent Avenue, Jersey City.

CALIFORNIA. — P. E. Haslett, Green and Front Streets, San Francisco.

PENNSYLVANIA. — T. H. Wright, Box 1619, Philadelphia.

State.	No. of Reps.	State.	No. of Reps.
Alabama	0	Minnesota	1
Arkansas	0	Missouri	4
Bermuda	0	Mississippi	0
California	4	Montana	0
Canada	0	Nebraska	1
Colorado	0	New Hampshire	2
Connecticut	9	New Jersey	14
Dakota	0	New York	31
Delaware	0	North Carolina	0
District Columbia	1	Nova Scotia	0
England	0	Ohio	12
Florida	0	Oregon	0
Georgia	0	Pennsylvania	25
Idaho	0	Rhode Island	2
Illinois	7	South Carolina	0
Indiana	3	Texas	0
Iowa	1	Tennessee	1
Kansas	1	Utah	0
Kentucky	1	Vermont	1
Louisiana	0	Virginia	9
Maine	1	West Virginia	1
Maryland	3	Wisconsin	0
Massachusetts	20	Wyoming	0
Michigan	3	New Mexico	0

"In a word, a cycle bearing must be in that apparently paradoxical condition, at the same time very tight and very loose; that is, perfectly free to spin, and entirely rigid, allowing no shake in the parts."— Victor Catalog.

IT BEATS THE WORLD!

AND THE WORLD IS HARD TO BEAT.

1405 MILES IN 142 HOURS!!

Ridden by ALBERT SCHOCK, at Minneapolis, in competition with most of the great American professionals.

Mr. Schock writes:—"I am pleased with the Victor in every respect. I soon found it a vast improvement on all other wheels ridden by me."

Victor Wheels are built to ride. Bicycles, Tricycles, Safeties. Catalog free.

OVERMAN WHEEL CO. - - - 182 Columbus Avenue, Boston.

STRIKES DID IT!

They have caused the delay in the delivery of the L. A. W. RUG, which important event will positively take place this week. I might here mention that this beautiful specimen of the weaver's art, which is known as the L. A. W. Rug, is a Smyrna one, 5 feet long by 2 1-2 feet wide, containing 21 colors, the prevailing ones of which are old gold, cardinal and black. Upon a moresque background there is woven in the Rug the L. A. W. badge, 19 inches in diameter. There is a border completely around the Rug composed of 5 different arrange ments of the League stencil-board. The Rug weighs 5 1-2 pounds; is alike on both sides, and fringed at both ends. All of this amalgamation of color and design is being fairly thrown away at the price of $5.00 per Rug, to all members who are smart enough to know a good thing when they see it, and in consequence send their early orders to

WILL R. PITMAN,

851 West 59th Street - - - NEW YORK.

SINGER ✲ CYCLES.

◄BUY THE BEST!► 1887 CATALOGUES ◄BUY THE BEST!►

NOW READY.

THE APOLLO

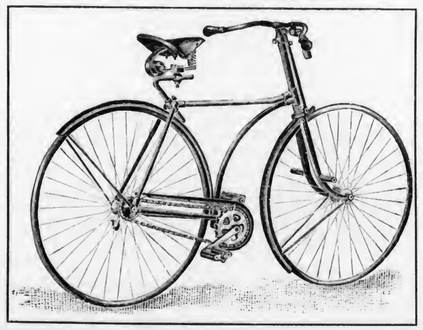
LIGHT ROADSTER

HAS A

Ball Bearing Head,

Spade Handles,



Detachable Bar,

AND

Double Ball Bearings.

THE EASIEST RUNNING AND FASTEST COASTING MACHINE ON THE MARKET.

APOLLO SAFETY. FAST AND LIGHT.

SINGER'S

CHALLENCE

IS THE

Best Wheel ever put out at the Price,

$105.

Balls to Both Wheels,

Detachable Bar,

Spade Handles.

WEIGHT OF 50-INCH, 40 POUNDS.

A Well-Built, Durable Machine. All Steel.

W. B. EVERETT & CO., Sole U. S. Agents,

6 and 8 BERKELEY STREET, BOSTON.

RECORD FOR ONE YEAR!

✲ ✲ 13,498 MILES ON A "VICTOR" IN ONE YEAR ✲ ✲

Ridden by G. J. LOOMIS.

If you want a machine to get about on, and can't use wings, buy the next best thing,—a VICTOR. They do seem to get there. BICYCLES, TRICYCLES, SAFETIES. Catalog Free.

OVERMAN WHEEL CO., 182 to 188 Columbus Avenue, BOSTON.

The Jersey Fitting Underwear Co.

Manufacture a large variety of

JERSEY FITTING GARMENTS,

For Men, Women and Children.

We call the special attention of

BICYCLE RIDERS

To our

TIGHTS AND JERSEYS.

Full Tights, Knee Tights, Knee Pants.

A New Thing,

TRUNKS & KNEE PANTS

For Lady Cycle Riders.

TRADE MARK. BOYS' TIGHTS AND JERSEYS.

We manufacture the best Fitting Bicycle and Lawn Tennis Jersey in the country, and commend every one to examine these goods before buying any others. Each garment bears our trade-mark, and is indorsed by the best manufacturers of Bicycles and Professional Riders. We invite dealers to examine these goods.

☞ Send for Circular. We send samples to any responsible party in the country.

HOLMES & CO.

17 Kingston Street, Boston, Mass.

STEEL BALLS FOR ANTI-FRICTION BEARINGS.

OF BEST CAST-STEEL. HARDENED, GROUND, AND BURNISHED.

3-16" to 3" diam. Samples and prices on application.

SIMONDS ROLLING-MACHINE COMPANY, Fitchburg, Mass.

BROOKLYN RIDERS

TAKE YOUR WHEELS TO

SCHWALBACH & WILLDIGG,

PROSPECT PARK PLAZA,

AND HAVE THEM OVERHAULED.

Call and inspect the

WHEEL OF PERFECTION, THE NEW MAIL.

REPAIRS.

☞ Send postal card and have us call for Repairs.

PATENTS secured on reasonable terms. Work reliable. Papers carefully and legally drawn. Special attention given to inventions in cycling by an experienced wheelman and League member. Write for particulars. N. L. COLLAMER, Patent Attorney and Mechanical Engineer, Room 47, St. Cloud Building, Washington, D. C.

BICYCLE AND GYMNASIUM GOODS.

THE KINGSTON KNITTING CO.

No. 27 Kingston Street - - - - Boston, Mass.

)o(

Manufacture from the Finest Worsted Stock all of the latest novelties in Jerseys, Guernseys, Knee Tights, Full Bodied Tights, Hosiery, etc., and in all the Popular Colors—in Plain, Striped Trimmed.

We make a specialty in these Garments, and our prices are very reasonable. We refer to a large number of wheelmen, and who use our goods.

ORDERS SOLICITED.

Patented 1881. L. A. W. BADGES.

For Gold Pins of the Official Design, send direct to

CHAS. H. LAMSON,

177 Middle St., Portland, Me.

The Designer and Sole Authorized Maker.

Price for handsome Solid Gold Pins (stone centres) $3.50, $5.00, $7.00, and $8.00, according to finish and fineness (kt.) of gold. Diamond Badges, $15.00 to $50.00 for the larger pins, and $10.00 to $30.00 for the small size. Send for circular free. Orders by mail, inclosing money order and League number, will receive prompt attention.

Also for sale in New York at M. J. Paillard & Co.'s, 680 Broadway; in Philadelphia by H. B. Hart, 811 Arch St.; in Boston by The Pope Mfg. Co.; in Chicago by The John Wilkinson Co.; in Newark, N. J., by Howard Smith & Co.; in Minneapolis by T. F. Heath & Co.; and in San Francisco by Osborn & Alexander.

New Style H.

BROWNING, KING & CO.

406, 408, 410, and 412 Broome St., New York.

THE ONLY OFFICIAL CONTRACTORS FOR THE

LEAGUE ✲ UNIFORM.

LIST OF PRICES.

Plaited Blouse, $9.50; Knee Breeches, $6.00; Suit, $15.50. Regulation League Cloth, made by the Middlesex Mills, cost $2.00 per yard. League Buttons, large size, 5 cents each; small size, 2 1-2 cents each. Full set for suit, 55 cents.

TERMS.

All uniforms or parts of uniforms sent C. O. D., with privilege of examination. All orders for cloth or buttons must be accompanied by Money Order. Blank forms for self-measurement furnished on Application. Orders for L. A. W. Goods will be received at any of our branch stores, as follows:

136 and 138 Madison St., 144 to 148 Clark Street, 76 and 78 West Fourth St., Cincinnati, Ohio. } CHICAGO, ILL.

210 and 212 N. Broadway, St. Louis, Mo.
Wisconsin and E. Water St., Milwaukee, Wis.
910 and 912 Chestnut St., Phila., Pa.

All orders must be accompanied by League number.

TWO LEADERS!

THE "NEW RAPID."

FULL ROADSTER, 50-inch, 40 pounds.

LIGHT ROADSTER, 50-inch, 36 pounds.

ROVER PATTERN SAFETY.

All with TRUE TANGENT WHEELS.

THE "QUADRANT" TRICYCLES.

No. 8 FOR GENTLEMEN. No. 14 FOR LADIES.

No. 15 TANDEM,

For Two Gentlemen, Two Ladies, or Lady and Gentleman.

BICYCLE STEERING FRONT AND BACK.

You will do wrong if you order your new mount before seeing these machines or reading our catalogue, which illustrates and describes them and their IMPROVEMENTS FOR 1887.

SAMUEL T. CLARK & CO. - - - BALTIMORE, MD.

BEFORE YOU BUY A BICYCLE

Of any kind, send stamp to

A. W. GUMP - - DAYTON, OHIO,

For large Illustrated Price-List of New and Second-hand machines. Second-hand Bicycles taken in exchange and bought for cash.

Largest Stock of Second-Hand Bicycles in America.

BICYCLES REPAIRED AND NICKEL-PLATED.

A. W. GUMP, Dayton, Ohio.

SECOND-HAND GUNS TAKEN IN EXCHANGE FOR BICYCLES.

THE SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER,

MANUFACTURED BY THE

SPRINGFIELD BICYCLE MANUFACTURING COMPANY,

(YOST & McCUNE PATENTS),

19 PEARL STREET - - - - BOSTON.

The only absolutely safe wheel against "Headers" made. It is the best, and it is also the cheapest. Do not buy a wheel before you see the Springfield Roadster. Coasting without danger. Hill-climbing to perfection. Invented by riders of experience.

PRICE, COMPLETE, $75.00.

JOHN P. LOVELL'S SONS, 147 Washington Street, Boston, Sole Agents for New England.

THE "NEW AMERICAN" TRICYCLE,

639 ARCH STREET, PHILADELPHIA.

We make but one style of machine, and that the BEST. There are NO EXTRAS.

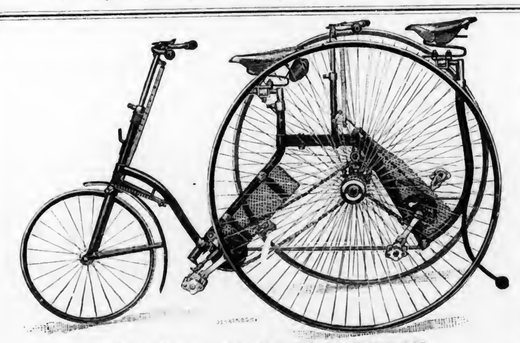
NO DEAD CENTRES. FULL POWER UTILIZED. CLIMBS ANY HILL.

The best machine for ladies, as there are no revolving pedals to catch the skirts. The only Tricycle that can be ridden equally well by lady or gentleman, grown person or child.

* * * * * * *

Either Rider Can Steer.

May be Ridden by Two Ladies.



Has Automatic Steering.

Reduces in Width to 27 Inches.

Has Folding Handle Bar for Easy Access to Front Seat.

Is the Most Unique Machine of its Class.

* * * * * * *

THE CUNARD CONVERTIBLE TANDEM.

* * * * * * *

CUNARD

BICYCLES,
TRICYCLES,
TANDEMS,
SAFETIES.

D. ROGERS & CO.

SOLE U. S. AGENTS,

75 Clinton Avenue - - Newark, N. J.

☞ Catalogues Free.

* * * * * * *

COPY OF TESTIMONIAL FROM T. J. KIRKPATRICK, Esq., VICE-PRESIDENT OF THE L. A. W.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Jan. 11, 1887.

D. ROGERS & COMPANY,

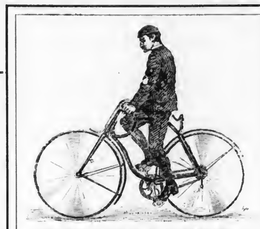
GENTLEMEN: — Respecting the Cunard Tandem, I have to say that it is, beyond question, the best tandem yet produced. Its compactness, ease of handling, light running, safety, and the ease with which it may be mounted or dismounted, by either a lady or gentleman, leave nothing to be desired. Its folding handle bar, and the fact that it can be quickly and readily taken through a common door, are features which make the machine a pleasure. I have owned other tandems, but this is the only one that was worth house-room as a convertible machine. I find it a perfect machine, in perfect balance, either as a single or a tandem. I have sought carefully, for some three years now, for the best tandem, and have given the matter a great deal of thought and attention, and if asked to-day to suggest an improvement in the design and arrangement of the Cunard, I would be free to say that it is as nearly perfect as this type of machine ever will be.

Yours truly, [Signed] T. J. KIRKPATRICK.

SEND YOUR ORDERS AT ONCE FOR SPRING DELIVERY, AND DON'T GET LEFT.

ACTIVE AND RESPONSIBLE AGENTS WANTED.

Send for list of shopworn machines, which must be sold to make room for spring stock.



Before purchasing your Mount for this Year, see the Celebrated

"ROVER" BICYCLE.

FITTED WITH EVERY POSSIBLE IMPROVEMENT.

FASTER THAN A BICYCLE.

SAFER THAN A TRICYCLE.

The "ROVER" BICYCLE,
As ridden by the Right Honorable Viscount Bury, President of the National Cyclists' Union.

No Skidding or Side-Slipping on Greasy Roads

And no Fear of Falls.

Starley's New Patent Spring Fork is now ready, whereby entire insulation from shocks is obtained in handles, pedals and seat.
This fork can also be applied to any tricycle.
Price lists, testimonials, etc. (including one from Viscount Bury, which every rider should read), post free.
Complete catalogue of all our machines, two stamps.

STARLEY & SUTTON, Meteor Works - - Coventry, England.

How to Join the L. A. W.

Fill up the blank in the adjoining column and, together with TWO DOLLARS, send it to the Secretary of the League,

ABBOT BASSETT,
22 School Street, Boston, Mass.
P. O. BOX 5276.

Write your full name, your full address, and your club name in full.

WRITE VERY PLAINLY.

THE LEAGUE DEFINES AN AMATEUR AS FOLLOWS.

ARTICLE V. SECTION 4. — An amateur is one who has never engaged in, nor assisted in, nor taught cycling, nor any recognized athletic exercise for money, or other remuneration, nor knowingly competed with or against a professional for a prize of any description.

To prevent any misunderstanding in interpreting the above, the League draws attention to the following explanation: A cyclist ceases to be an amateur by:—

"(a) Engaging in cycling, or any other recognized athletic exercise, or personally teaching, training, or coaching any person therein, either as a means of obtaining a livelihood, or for a stated bet, money prize, or gate money.

"(b) Competing with, or pace-making for, or having the pace made by a professional in public or for a prize.

"(c) Selling, realizing upon, or otherwise turning into cash, prize won by him.

"(d) Accepting, directly or indirectly, any remuneration, compensation, or expenses whatever, from a cycle manufacturer, agent, or other person interested in the trade or sport for cycle riding.

"(e) This rule does not apply to the teaching of the elements of bicycling solely for the purpose of effecting the sale of a bicycle.

"The League recognizes as athletic exercises all the sports under the jurisdiction of the National Association of Amateur Athletes of America, viz., running, walking, jumping, pole leaping, putting the shot, throwing the hammer, throwing of weights, tug of war, and also rowing, boxing, sparring, lacrosse, polo, roller, and ice skating."

Application for Membership in the L. A. W.

ABBOT BASSETT, Secretary-Editor,
22 School Street, Boston, Mass.

Dear Sir:

Inclosed you will find $2.00 for initiation fee and annual dues in the League of American Wheelmen. I hereby certify that I am over 18 years of age, and that I am an amateur within the meaning of the definition printed herewith. I refer to the persons named below.

Signed, ...

Club, ... Residence, .....

City and State, ... Date, .....

REFERENCES: .....
.....
.....

(Each Applicant must give as references the names of two L. A. W. members or three reputable citizens.)

WILLIAM READ & SONS,

107 Washington Street - - - - - - BOSTON, MASS.

MANUFACTURERS OF

THE LATEST AMERICAN HIGH GRADE WHEEL,

ABSOLUTE PERFECTION,

THE * NEW * MAIL!

A PERFECTLY MADE, LIGHT ROADSTER.

OUR SPECIALTY,
Perfection Strengthened Backbone and Forks.

BACKBONE. — Warwick's pattern, new this year. It is well known that in all machines, backbones are liable to and do break, causing bad accidents.

The place of breakage is usually if not wholly at the upper end, under the saddle, where is the greatest strain.

We have adopted Warwick's new pattern backbone which has greater thickness of metal at the large, or neck end, and tapers thinner to the small end; thus obtaining a stouter and stronger backbone, with no danger of breakage, while there is no increase in weight.

Also we preserve the oval shape, which is handsomer and stiffer than the round.

FORKS. — Warwick's "Perfection," having the same construction as the backbone, viz., thicker at the large end and tapering or decreasing in thickness at the small end.

This gives a very strong rigid fork.

A SUPERB LIGHT ROADSTER, SEE ONE.

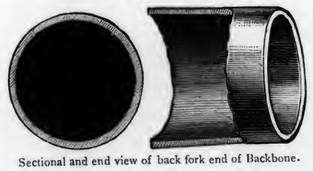
AGENTS:

Indiana Bicycle Co. - - Indianapolis, Ind.
Anton Hulman - - - - Terre Haute, Ind.

With Our Specialty, Trigwell's Ball Head.

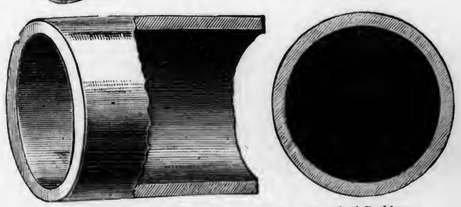
Extract from a London letter to the L. A. W. Bulletin January 8, 1887.

Speaking of manufacturers with "big stock" crying down improvements, a firm introduced a ball-bearing head, put it on their own machines, and induced one or two other firms to adopt it.



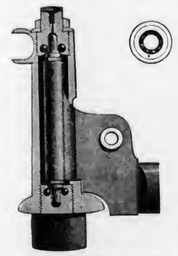
What a howl went up from the big stock people! They pooh-poohed it right and left; they wrote and talked it down, and tried in every way to smother it, — but it would not down. It grew steadily in public favor, until this year it is recognized as a sine qua non to a strictly first grade bicycle, and those who do not have ball heads will not rank among the highest grade mounts.

Of course the extra cost of construction will preclude its being used on second grade machines, but that is a vast improvement over the Stanley head, with cone or hemispherical centres, however true and well hardened, is a fact that the experience of 1886 has settled beyond the peradventure of a doubt.



AGENTS WANTED EVERYWHERE.

SEE THIS WHEEL BEFORE PURCHASING.



ASK YOUR DEALER FOR IT.

Sectional and end view of back fork end of Backbone.

Sectional and end view showing strengthened neck end of Backbone.

Trigwell's Ball Head. Greatest Modern Improvement.

Warwick's New Hollow Rim with thickened bottom. Seamless and perfectly smooth outside.

Sectional view showing Backbone and Forks when made up. A Splendid Improvement.

HANDSOME PHOTOGRAPH
— OF THE —
NEW * MAIL!
— SENT FOR — 14 CENTS IN STAMPS.

CEMENTED TIRE.

SEND STAMPS for Fully Illustrated Circular of this Perfect WHEEL, with Full Representation of All Parts.

PLEASE MENTION THIS PAPER.

How is this for a line of Wheels, Gentlemen? We think it about fills the bill, and our prices, mind you, are reasonable.

THE AMERICAN CHAMPION, with many improvements, such as a superior crank fastening, which dispenses with use of a hammer, new bearings that are adjustable without loosening a screw even. Price, for 48-inch, $100.00.

THE AMERICAN LIGHT CHAMPION, a light roadster of highest possible grade, with a ball-bearing head, true tangent wheels, and embodying many novel and peculiarly useful inventions. Price, for 48-inch, $115.00.

THE AMERICAN CHALLENGE, much improved and fitted with cow-horn bars, as formerly the best machine on the market for the money. Price, for 48-inch, $70.00.

THE AMERICAN SAFETY, sold last year under our positive guaranty that it was the easiest running bicycle in the world, improved wherever possible. Price, for 40-inch, $74.00.

THE AMERICAN LIGHT SAFETY, after the lines of the regular Safety, but made hollow wherever possible, and will be sold under a guaranty as to its superiority over all other bicycles in easy running. Price, for 40-inch, $115.00.

THE AMERICAN IDEAL, as heretofore, the only high grade and honestly constructed boys' bicycle in the world. Finished in black, with artistic real gold stripes. Price, from $25.00 to $60.00.

THE AMERICAN IDEAL TRICYCLE, two-track, the young ladies' companion to the bicycle of same name, a really beautiful little three-wheeler, in two sizes, 30 and 34 inches. Price, $40.00 and $50.00.

THE AMERICAN CHALLENGE TRICYCLE, two-track, a high grade and honestly constructed three-wheeler, in two sizes, 42 and 44 inches. Price, $80.00 and $95.00.

THE AMERICAN IDEAL TANDEM, a convertible two-track for boys and girls, in two sizes, 30 and 34 inches. Price, $60.00 and $75.00.

THE AMERICAN CHALLENGE TANDEM, a convertible two-track for ladies and gentlemen, in two sizes, 42 and 46 inches. Price, $120.00 and $135.00.

1887 Catalogue, containing detailed description of the foregoing Cycles, will be ready early in March, and will be mailed on application.

RESPECTFULLY SUBMITTED,

GORMULLY & JEFFERY MF'G CO., Chicago, Ill.

THE L. A. W. BULLETIN

THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN: PUBLISHED WEEKLY: A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA:

$1.00 A YEAR. 3 CENTS PER COPY. | BOSTON, MARCH 25, 1887. | VOL. IV. No. 12. WHOLE NUMBER, 91.

THE SEASON OF 1887.

THE COLUMBIA CATALOGUE

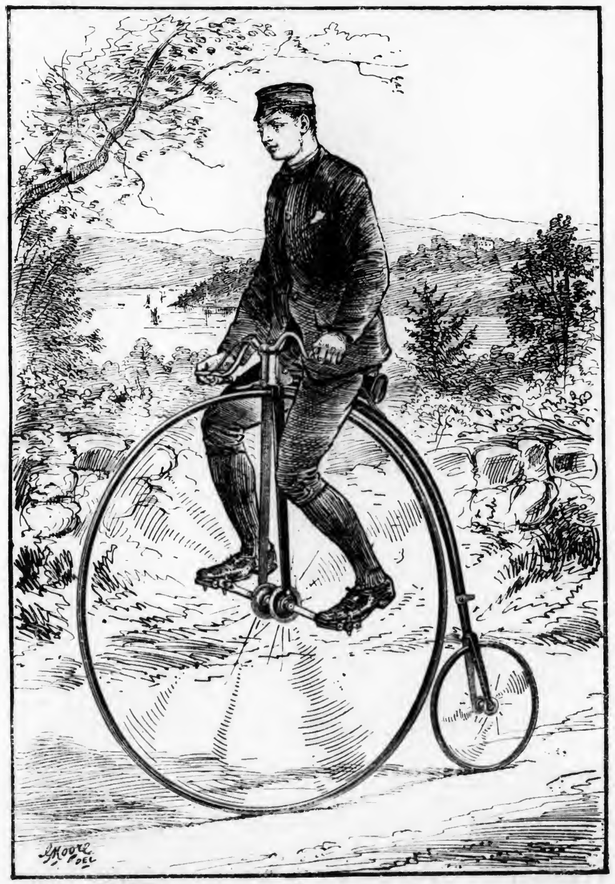
NOW READY.

Fifty-Two Pages, Forty-Eight Engravings. Free by Mail upon Application.

Expert
Light Roadster
Standard
Safety
Semi-Roadster
Racer

COLUMBIA BICYCLES.

COLUMBIA TRICYCLES.



Two-Track.
Ladies' Two-Track.
Tandem.
Racing.

POPE MFG. CO.,

79 FRANKLIN STREET - - BOSTON, MASS.

Branch Houses: 12 Warren St., New York, 291 Wabash Ave., Chicago.

SEND FOR 1887 CATALOGUE.

1887 RUDGE LIGHT ROADSTER. 1887

Combines more valuable features than any bicycle extant.

STODDARD, LOVERING & CO., 152 Congress St., Boston, Mass.

New York Headquarters, GEO. R. BIDWELL, 313 West 58th Street, New York.

The Bulletin

Official Organ of the League of American Wheelmen. A Journal Devoted to the Interests of Cycling in America. Published Weekly.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY

ABBOT BASSETT,

SECRETARY-EDITOR,

For the Executive Committee of the League of American Wheelmen,

AT THE L. A. W. OFFICE,

22 SCHOOL STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

P. O. BOX 5267.

Entered at the Post-Office as Second-Class Matter.

SINGLE COPIES - - - - - - - -	3 CENTS.
SUBSCRIPTION PRICE TO OTHER THAN LEAGUE MEMBERS,	$1.00 A YEAR.
CLUBS OF FIVE - - - - - -	$4.00 "

A. MUDGE & SON, PRINTERS, 24 FRANKLIN ST., BOSTON.

Subscribers should be careful to notify the EDITOR promptly of any change in their address. Great care is taken with the mailing list. Failure to receive THE BULLETIN may usually be traced to carelessness on the part of the subscriber.

All matter for publication, whether reading or advertising matter, should be addressed to the EDITOR. All checks should be made payable to his order.

Reading matter, to insure publication in the following issue, must be in the EDITOR'S hands not later than Saturday afternoon; advertisements not later than Monday morning.

The EDITOR must in all cases have the full name and address of the authors of contributed articles, as a guarantee of good faith. As the Executive Committee has decided that it is best to discourage the use of assumed names by writers for THE BULLETIN, the EDITOR will publish the author's name unless particularly requested not to do so.

LEAGUE OFFICERS.

OFFICERS OF THE BOARD.

PRESIDENT. — Dr. N. M. Beckwith, 21 W. Thirty-seventh Street, New York.

VICE-PRESIDENT. — T. J. Kirkpatrick, Springfield, Ohio.

TREASURER. — Sanford Lawton, Springfield, Mass.

SECRETARY-EDITOR. — Abbot Bassett, 22 School St., Boston, Mass

STANDING COMMITTEES.

EXECUTIVE. — N. M. Beckwith, 21 W. Thirty-seventh Street, New York; T. J. Kirkpatrick, Springfield, Ohio; John C. Gulick, 132 Nassau Street, New York city.

MEMBERSHIP. — E. F. Hill, Chairman, P. O. Box 797, Peekskill, N. Y.; Dr. G. Carlton Brown, 16 Broad Street, Elizabeth, N. J.; J. R. Dunn, Massillon, Ohio.

RACING. — Abbot Bassett, Chairman, 22 School Street, Boston, Mass.; W. M. Brewster, 309 Oliver Street, St. Louis, Mo.; Charles H. Potter, Cleveland, Ohio; Gerry Jones, Binghamton, N. Y.

RULES AND REGULATIONS. — W. I. Harris, Chairman, Box 5132, Boston, Mass.; Dr. C. S. Butler, 363 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.; Knight L. Clapp, 328 West Sixtieth Street, N. Y.

RIGHTS AND PRIVILEGES. — Charles E. Pratt, 79 Franklin Street, Boston, Mass.; John C. Gulick, 132 Nassau Street, N. Y.; A. S. Parsons, Cambridgeport, Mass.

TRANSPORTATION. — Burley B. Ayers, Chairman, 152 S. Hoyne Avenue, Chicago, Ill.; Geo. R. Bidwell, 313 W. 58th Street, New York city; W. S. Bull, 587 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.; J. H. Livingston, Editor The Reformer, Bennington, Vt.; Fred. T. Sholes, Marsh-Harwood Co., Cleveland, O.; Frank Read. Record Building, Philadelphia; Frank A. Elwell, Transcript Office, Portland, Maine; Columbus Waterhouse, 16 Beale Street, San Francisco, Cal.; M. E. Graves (at large), Mannheim Building, St. Paul, Minn.

BUREAU OF INFORMATION. — A. B. Barkman, Chairman and Bookmaster, No. 608 Fourth Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

OFFICIAL HANDICAPPER.

N. P. Tyler, M. D., New Rochelle, N. Y.

LEAGUE MEET FOR 1887.

St. Louis, May 20 and 21.

FRIDAY, MAY 20. — Board of Officers and general meeting.

SATURDAY, MAY 21. — Parade and Banquet.

COMMITTEES — Chief Consul, John S. Rogers, care of American Wheelman, General Manager; W. M. Brewster, 309 Olive Street, Treasurer; L. J. Berger, Room 9, Equitable Building, Secretary; W. E. Hicks, 2608 Locust Street, Press Committee.

MR. SHRIVER is after the Board of Officers for its failure to restore to the membership at large the privilege of electing the Executive Officers of the League. One year ago there were many who thought with Mr. Shriver, and we will confess that we were of that number, but we have come to believe — and now we are not speaking for ourselves alone — that it is better to let the rules stand as they are. The general meeting is a much more unsatisfactory gathering than is an officer's meeting, and we cannot look for such results from it as we can from a body composed of the pick of cyclers, each man of which represents fifty constituents, and may represent two hundred, or, if he be a Chief Consul, three hundred and fifty wheelmen. We question if the membership at large wants the privilege, there is certainly no great clamor for it, and there is little doubt that a debate on this question in a general meeting would be carried on by members of the Board of Officers, who are, after all, the force that gives to the League all the progress that it makes.

WE have started a new department this week, — "Notes and Queries." This is for the benefit of League members. We believe the BULLETIN should be a medium for the interchange of ideas between members, and we think this department will be useful in this direction. We hope it will be well patronized, but we warn contributors that we have a long blue pencil that is eager for work, and brevity is the only thing that will keep it away from MSS.

THE OTHER SIDE.

PHILA., March 15, 1887.

As the BULLETIN has published the full proceedings of the late Board meeting, as, also, the reports of the Executive and Credential Committees, and, inasmuch as the two latter documents reflect severely upon the Philadelphia members of the Pennsylvania Division, justice and fair play demand that some little space be accorded in your columns for a defence of their action, the feebleness thereof to be credited, not to the cause itself, but to the advocate,

The members of this division who availed themselves of the undeniable right to peaceably assemble and talk together respecting their grievances, either real or imaginary — who groped in the darkness for the truth, because the "powers that be" had deliberately shut off all light — these men, so many of whom stand high in the estimation of the best informed of our citizens, and who occupy prominent positions in the mercantile, professional, and best social circles, (and prominence in Philadelphia's "best social circles" mean something) are called "headstrong," the "Aaron faction," the "Aaron clique," and the Anglo-Saxon tongue proving too weak in which to enumerate their atrocities, the latin language is called into requisition, and "Foscitur ex sociis" is launched upon them.

The report of the Credential Committee is mainly directed toward the Philadelphia meeting, and, as a report, fails to fill the bill A careful reading of the document seems to resolve it into three queries, and all addressed to the Philadelphia meeting — they are — "How do you know it is so?" "Who told you?" "Why do you believe it?"

The report says, that we had no proof that the allegations made in the appeal and resolutions were correct; and to our regret, we find, after a careful reading of the report, that we have no proof now that they were not. The "appeal" recited that the committee wantonly delayed its report for six hours, etc. The committee acknowledge the six hours but protest against the "wantonly," and say, "How do you know what the committee were doing?" We don't know, but we would like to; and we had hoped that the report would enlighten us. The "appeal" further recites, that "it is believed that proxies of a similar nature were accepted and cast for Mr. Bassett at the same time that the above fifteen were rejected." To this the committee reply, in these words, "Who told you so, gentlemen?" Then follows something in regard to the terrible fate which is waiting, like a Nemesis on a light roadster, for the individual who, in the venacular of the streets, "gave it away." What the protestants in this city would like to hear would be a positive denial of this charge, or a manly affirmation of the same.

You may not be aware of the fact, but it is, nevertheless, the truth, that the corner-stone of our Quaker belief is "light." We hold that a human being will be held accountable only as light has been vouchsafed to him, and that is the reason why we do not send missionaries to Timbuctoo, and Brooklyn, and Boston, and other out-of-the-way places. Now, as a very humble member of the League, I would like to have the darkness dispelled, as far as I am concerned, and will take the liberty of asking a few questions, both of the Executive Committee and that on Credentials. I will ask the latter body as follows, and believe me, that in this matter, though only a "babe and suckling," I echo the voice of hundreds of more able and experienced members in this locality.

1. In the entire history of the League, has such a committee as yours ever before been appointed? If so, when?

2. Was there on your committee any member who had announced his intention of voting for Mr. Wells?

3. Why were six hours consumed in the examination of proxies?

4. Was, or was not, any proxy rejected that would have been voted for Mr. Basset; and in every proxy afterward voted for him were the instructions that the vote should be so cast plainly stated therein?

5. Had you any way of ascertaining that the proxies held by Mr. Aaron, and rejected by you, were not intended by the senders to be voted as Mr. Aaron desired?

A plain and satisfactory answer to the above questions would do more to heal the differences (if harmony is the desire of the Eastern contingent) than a dozen reports attacking the motives of the Philadelphia members would do. The committee should bear in mind that though the age limit of admittance to membership of the League is eighteen years, yet there are in this city many of its followers who have reached the years of discretion, and as school-houses and other educational institutions are in abundance, some of our members have even advanced far enough to think for themselves, and if the committee will only give them something to think about, they will address themselves to the task.

First of all, there seems to be an entire misunderstanding of the object of the meeting held here. It is assumed by the Executive Committee, and other official bodies of the League, that it was in support of Aaron. The body above named even attack Aaron for his breach of faith in permitting the meeting, in view of the generosity they had shown toward him. The fact is, that neither Mr. Aaron nor Mr. Wells had anything to do with the meeting whatever. It is a pity that the stenographic report of the same was not published in the BULLETIN, so that it could be seen that the facts clearly bear out my assertion.

On the contrary, one of our most influential wheelmen remarked that while Mr. Aaron and Mr. Wells might be estimable gentlemen, this meeting, and this Division had nothing to do with their matter, but had met to consider something entirely different. This was several times affirmed, and a statement by a member that this assemblage intended to "whitewash nobody" met with hearty applause. With a desire to get all the light possible on the subject, Mr. Bassett was invited to address the meeting. The protest was formulated, and sent with the intention of getting from the Executive Committee all the information in its possession no matter whom the lightning struck. The real ground of grievance was not the defeat of Mr. Wells, but the manner in which it was accomplished. We recognize the fact that by the ballot taken, that gentlemen was fairly beaten; but it is not clear to our minds that he had fair play shown him in the matter of disfranchising of so many of his supposed supporters. That such disfranchisement would in no way have affected the result has no bearing upon the question. The disaffected members of the Pennsylvania Division take their stand upon the ground that the Board had no right, either by law or precedent, to appoint a Committee on Credentials, or to throw out proxies which in any other case, would have been received without protest.

The Committee above named state that they do not intend to defend themselves "against charges in the air," but if any one will make a "specification" they will shower down proofs as heaven showered down manna upon the starving Israelites. By this, it would appear that there are two classes in the League, — the governing, and the governed; and that the only way in which the latter can get any information is to make "charges." Well, they have been made, and not by a single individual, but by the wheelmen of the largest cycling city in the Union, backed by supporters in other contiguous cities, and the committee can answer them if they chose. A close acquaintance with very many prominent wheelmen of this city warrants me in asserting that should a satisfactory explanation on these points be given, that the quarrel would die a sudden death. Failure to do so will keep alive the embers of discontent; and this presumptuous letter is written solely in the interests of harmony.

I said I would like to ask the Executive Committee a few questions, but as their report has no bearing upon the real question at issue, I will confine myself to one, and in so doing, say that I am merely the mouthpiece of hundreds of others. It is this: If you had such good, and substantial reasons for the defeat of Wells, and if Mr. Bassett's election was for the welfare of the League, why did you, through your supporters and advisers, rescind the right of appeal which had heretofore been one of the privileges of the minority? C. WALLACE WALTERS.

REPLY OF THE CREDENTIALS COMMITTEE.

NEW YORK, March 20, 1887.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — The statement of the Credentials Committee, in the BULLETIN of March 11, was not and did not purport to be a report. It was an explicit denial of the unsupported charges made at the Philadelphia meeting pointing out that the accusers had offered no evidence, and containing a plain statement that when any one would make a direct specification of facts it would be met and fully answered. There is no utility in fighting windmills. It is very easy to cry "wolf." Even the presence of the animal is not always a necessary accompaniment of the noise. Pennsylvania is criticised for crying out over a purely imaginary grievance. Its representatives were not disfranchised. Certain proxies were taken from them which were not sent to them, but which they received from the ex-secretary, because he had obtained them by means which the committee considered improper and irregular. As he testified, they came to him in response to his official circular, without the name of any alternate filled in, and without authority to fill the blank. He could not vote the proxy personally, for he held his quota, and there was no instruction from the proxy sender saying who should vote if the ex-secretary could not. By what right, then, could he fill in the name of such person as he chose? Consider the possible effect of permitting a method whereby one man may control the acts of a deliberative body! The evils of this peculiar use of the official proxy blank had become so glaringly apparent, that the practice could be no longer tolerated. Are we to see an abuse increasing and take no measures to check it? and must we observe it always as a sacred thing, not to be corrected, because, perchance, our predecessors might have allowed it in a much milder and less dangerous form? Reform is often odious, especially to those whose little schemes may suffer by an exposure. The committee don't offer proof. They are not yet put to a defence. The honesty of their purpose is not in question. When you cry "wolf," they answer "produce your wolf." Let us see the texture and construction of the animal, and we may be able to show you that the ferocious beast is as imaginary as your grievance. The gentleman says they would like to hear a positive denial of the charges. Will he kindly again observe the BULLETIN of March 11, and notice that the denial is even emphasized in italics, and that evidence in support of the charges is invited in language as strong as the by-laws of the L. A. W. will permit.

Now, as he explains that it is not the custom in Philadelphian centres of civilization to send missionaries to benighted Timbuctoo, Brooklyn, etc.; yet, as he yearns for light, we will endeavor to supply the yawning gap in Philadelphia's missionary system by sending an answer to his five questions, even from the desolate depths of Brooklyn.

1. Yes, at the Washington meeting.
2. No.
3. Because, from the necessary nature of the inspection and the rules which the committee adopted before taking up a single proxy for action, the examination could not be concluded sooner. With the exception of forty minutes for lunch, every moment of the time was occupied in this work, strictly and conscientiously.
4. The question of for whom the proxies would have been voted, was not at any time considered by the Committee. The inquiry was only, "Does the proxy comply with the rule established?" and the same rule was applied in every case. This inquiry, therefore, the Committee are unable to answer.
5. The question was not Wells or Bassett. It was the unwarranted manipulation of proxies by a League official. Where more proxies came to him, made out in his name and in response to his official circular, than he could vote, he was interrogated as to any instructions received with the proxies. Where he could show authority, he was permitted to exercise that function and fill in the alternate as his individual preference dictated. Where he could not, and could not himself vote it, it was not allowed to be used. Upon its face and the surrounding facts it was irregular; if the irregularity could be explained, it was received. Here let the gentleman notice, Pennsylvania was not involved, unless the ex-secretary is Pennsylvania. Mr. Wells was not, for in all the numerous proxies sent him, where the alternates were blank, he was permitted to fill out the blanks and the proxies were voted. (This does not include the two telegrams and the case of Mr. Wood.) The only question at issue was the fairness and propriety of the acts of the ex-secretary in this connection. Serious comment upon his practice with proxies had arisen at Buffalo, and the interests of the L. A. W. plainly demanded that any custom whereby one man might control legislation and elections alike, was pernicious and demanded abolition. With this, every thinking man must agree.

Pennsylvania has no grievance. With a single exception, all her representatives voted. She was not disfranchised. Simply this: Certain proxies sent the ex-secretary, which he filled out, or caused to be filled out, and gave around among his friends, were not allowed. They were not sent to these friends, did not purport to be so sent, and there was no evidence that they were intended to be so used. The committee would have been most derelict in their duty, and false to their trust as representatives, had they permitted such a concentration of authority and unauthorized multiplication of voting power in any League official. The gentleman asks a plain and satisfactory answer. We trust our statement is plain; how satisfactory, his own best judgment must answer. He asks it in the spirit of harmony, and we therefore gladly meet him. While a firm and resolute regard for the integrity of our association leads us to declare uncompromisingly against those officers whose actions are now matters of common condemnation, it is not fraternal to perpetuate strife based upon misunderstandings of each others' motives. The Philadelphia meeting was not impartial. It was guarding its idol. For while it based resolutions upon hearsay, it would not accept Mr. Bassett's statement of why the stenographic minutes of the officers' meeting were not published, because he did not personally hear the ex-secretary request it. If there had not been a strong current in favor of somebody, the same rule would have obtained in each case.

What the gentleman means by "the governing and governed" classes is hardly apparent. The committee made a report to the Board, which adopted its recommendations. Later, being accused, they deny, call for the proof and agree to demolish or explain anything specified by any League member willing to materialize it, by assuming the responsibility of its truth. If there is any proof, come up with it. Don't take refuge behind what "a large number of wheelmen" charge. And if you have not got the proof, say so, in a manly way, and don't remain with a miserable suspicion that New York or Massachusetts, or even Timbuctoo, has any desire to oppress Pennsylvania or to deprive her of anything she is entitled to. We are one fraternity, and we don't want to quarrel. Because it has become necessary to discipline a League official or two, is not an assault upon a Division. To make it so, confuses the man and the Division too much.

A word as to the propriety of appointing this committee. No member of the Board objected at the time, none then believed it either improper or irregular. Considering the large number of proxies and the importance of the issues, it was most essential that the ballot be guarded with every precaution. The committee, and the meeting in endorsing the committee, based their action upon a fundamental principle of the greatest importance to the future welfare of the League. The Credential Committee have nothing to defend. They have exercised an honest judgment in a just cause. The success of individuals was not the issue. It was deeper, more pregnant with results, than the election of any man, It was methods and principles which the Committee attacked, and which the meeting, recognizing, set the stamp of legislation upon so strongly, that all opportunity for future manipulation of the ballot in this direction was destroyed.

The suggestion that the amendment curtailing the right of appeal from the action of the Board of Officers was made for any purpose in connection with the proceedings at the meeting, is absurd. By referring to the files of the BULLETIN, it will be seen that notice of the amendment was given by Dr. Butler several weeks before the date of the meeting.

CHARLES H. LUSCOMB,
Of the Credentials Committee.

BUFFALO NOTES.

THE riding season may almost be said to have begun here in Buffalo. Our asphalt pavements and park roads are as dry and smooth as at midsummer, and though the March breezes have lots of teeth in them, yet a considerable number of wheelmen can be seen facing and fighting them daily. Many were out last Sunday for the first time, but a few have been riding since the second week of February. The indefatigable Bowen, late of Bull and Bowen, has been at it all winter. No one expects to see him give it up until either he or his wheel falls to pieces.

Great interest has been excited here by the disclosures in the report of the L. A. W. Executive Committee, and the general sentiment among wheelmen is overwhelmingly on their side. In proof of which may be noticed the fact that the Buffalo Bicycle Club, at their regular meeting on the 14th, adopted the following by a unanimous vote: —

"Whereas, it appears from the statement of the Executive Committee of the L. A. W., published in the BULLETIN of March 11, 1887, that the affairs of the Secretary-Editor's office were grossly mismanaged by E. M. Aaron, the late incumbent thereof; therefore Resolved, that the Buffalo Bicycle Club does heartily approve the action of the Executive Committee and of the Board of Officers in removing said Aaron from that office by compelling him to resign."

If you could have heard the speeches made upon this resolution, you would certainly have felt that it was a very mild expression of the sentiment of the club.

The club also received from Mr. Henry E. Ducker a polite invitation to join the A. C. U., which they unanimously voted to decline, on the ground that "it was the intention of this club to devote its entire energies to the interests and the support of the League of American Wheelmen."

The club now numbers over a hundred active members, and it is safe to say that its vote will be cast solid for G. R. Bidwell, as Chief Consul of New York, if he is nominated, as we hope he will be; and that such influence as the club can exercise will be in favor of Kirkpatrick, Hayes, and Bidwell for the chief executive officers of the L. A. W. What better ticket could be devised? All three are active, energetic business men, thoroughly devoted to League work. Hayes will be in Boston, close to the office of the BULLETIN, and Bidwell within half-a-day's journey. Buffalo wheelmen earnestly desire that this ticket may be successful. 1611.

BUFFALO, March 15, 1887.

ST. LOUIS MEET.

ST. LOUIS, March 14, 1887.

THE following are the chairmen of the various committees selected to superintend the affairs of the League meet, to be held at St Louis, May 20–21. Their duties are sufficiently indicated by their name, and wheelmen who desire information should address the proper chairman, which will prevent the general manager from being overrun with communications and save the time that might be consumed in delivering them to the proper committee.

The general-manager is J. S. Rogers, whose address is 108 N. 4th Street. The chairmen and their addresses are: Finance — J. E. Smith, care Simmons Hardware Co.; Reception — Edward Sells, 105 N. 2d St.; Transportation — B. B. Ayers, 212 Clark St. Chicago, Ill.; Entertainment — George Boswell, 416 N. 2d St.; Programme — A. K. Stewart, 212 Pine St.; Tours and runs — L. J. Berger, Equitable Building; Parade — C. H. Stone, 310 N. 11th St.; Banquet — Geo. F. Baker, Turner Building; Press — care "Post-Dispatch."

The Lindell Hotel has been selected as the headquarters for visiting wheelmen and a general rate of $2.50 a day has been secured. The Lindell is one of the famous hostelries of the southwest and is among the largest in the West. It is situated at the corner of Sixth Street and Washington Avenue, and though in the business centre of the city is surrounded by the excellent square-granite paving for which the "down-town" streets of St. Louis are distinguished.

The committees have organized and are ready to reply to any inquiry or do whatever they may be called upon to do.

PRESS COMMITTEE.

NEW YORK AND NEW JERSEY T. R. R. A.

THE second annual meeting of the New York and New Jersey Team Road Racing Association was held Saturday evening, March 5, 1887. This association is composed of fifteen clubs, as follows: Citizens' Bicycle Club, New York Bicycle Club, Harlem Wheelmen, Brooklyn Bicycle Club, Elizabeth Wheelmen, Hudson County Wheelmen, Ilderan Bicycle Club, Kings County Wheelmen, Long Island Wheelmen, Morrisania Wheelmen, Mount Vernon Bicycle Club, New Jersey Wheelmen, Orange Wanderers, Rutherford Wheelmen, Union County Wheelmen. Each club is entitled to two delegates. Members present: Dr. F. A. Kinch, Jr., Frank S. Miller, Elliott Mason, W. D. Edwards, E. J. Halsted, E. H. Austin, M. L. Bridgman, C. H. Luscomb, W. H. H. Warner, E. J. Shriver, W. W. Hill, E. W. Dean, Jr., G. C. Pennell. Sec.-Treas. Bridgman made his annual report, which was very lengthy, and contained a history of the Association during the past year.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, E. J. Shriver, New York Bicycle Club; vice-president, F. S. Miller, Union County Wheelmen; secretary-treasurer, M. L. Bridgman, Kings County Wheelmen; executive committee, C. H. Luscomb, Long Island Wheelmen; G. C. Pennell, Elizabeth Wheelmen, and W. D. Edwards, of the Harlem Wheelmen.

THE MISSOURI ROAD RACE.

L. S. C. LADISH, of the American Wheelman, has been talking to the Post-Despatch man. He has decided to make the road race next May, a 100-mile contest instead of a 50, as at first proposed. This change, he thinks, will interest the public more. The entries he has every reason to believe will be very numerous. The Smith Manufacturing Company told him they would send out Frazier and McCurdy, and probably Powell, if they found the latter could do anything. A gymnasium has been fixed up at the Smith Company's works, where Frazier and "Mac" regularly train every day. Gormully and Jeffery, of Chicago, will send Whittaker, and Overman will not let Percy Stone do all the work for his wheel, but will reinforce him with Ives and Rhodes. Doane will also probably come out. Ladish says Stoddard, Lovering & Company, having no American riders, will probably get several Englishmen to come over, among whom will likely be young Mills, who holds the John O'Groat's record, and is a phenomenon on the road. Hendee will be out here to ride the new lever wheel and says he is doing so well in practice on it, that he will be at the front in the race. A very interesting thing is the talk Kluge gave. Instead of giving up racing this year as he threatened last fall, he will ride the new King machine. Speaking about his chances he told Ladish: "Don't you fret, I am going to do them up when I go West. Let 'em waste their jokes and guy all they want to; I am going to surprise 'em. All I've got to say is: 'Just wait.'"

The very attractive feature of the Clarksville road race will be the presence, for the first time in a contest, of the new styles of wheels which have been manufactured since last season. As Hendee is to ride one and Kluge the other, the result is awaited with considerable interest. As the new wheels sell for $50 less than the old, should they amount to anything and show speed, a big cut in prices is sure to result. Ladish is of the opinion, anyway, that the big prices will come down this year, and mentions the fact that a reduction is at hand right now.

THE QUICKEST TIME.

RECORDS OF TROTTING, BICYCLING, RUNNING, WALKING, AND SKATING.

BELOW we give a table of the world's records, carefully made, showing the status of different athletics at different distances. It will be noticed that the horse keeps ahead of the cyclist until he reaches the tenth mile. But in making comparisons it should be remembered that the horses are timed from a flying start, whereas the cyclist is timed from a standing start and the crack of a pistol. By this he loses some seconds in getting up speed.

At ten miles the bicycle is on top of the list with the records by Rowe, 27.7 1-5; Controller in harness, 27.23 1-4; John Stewart, to wagon, 28.2 1-2, and Gatehouse, on the tricycle, 29.26 1-5. After leaving the ten-mile post the bicycle and tricycle keep gradually passing ahead of the horse, and at twenty miles we find the bicycle (Rowe) about four minutes ahead of Captain McGowan, in harness, and the tricycle a little over a minute behind. We next look at fifty miles, and see both bicycle and tricycle to the front, the records being: Ives (bicycle), 2.33.54; Webb (tricycle), 3.11.15; Ariel, in harness, 3.55.40 1-2, and Sprangle, to wagon, 3.59.4. This shows the bicycle one hour and twenty-five minutes ahead of the horse, and the tricycle also about forty-seven minutes in advance.

Twice, and twice only, has a horse been pushed to the distance of one hundred miles; whereas numerous cyclists have made that distance in wonderful time. The horse Conqueror made one hundred miles in 8.56 away back in 1853, the cycling record for that distance being 5.50.5 3-5, made by Fry.

A glance at the table will also apprise the reader how the different athletic records compare with that of the bicycle at distances. Above one hundred miles some great feats of endurance and time have taken place. A. A. McCurdy, on the Star bicycle, holds all road records from one hundred and fifty to three hundred and five miles, which he has travelled in twenty-four hours. W. A. Rowe, on a Columbia, covered over twenty-two miles in an hour's run at Springfield last fall, and John S. Prince has travelled seven hundred and sixty-seven nine-tenth miles in forty-eight hours on an indoor track, riding an "American Champion" wheel:

World's Record.	1 Mile.	2 Miles.	4 Miles.	5 Miles.
	M. S.	M. S.	M. S.	M. S.
Trotting in harness	2.08 3-4	4.43	11.06	13.00
Trotting to wagon	2.16 1-2	4.50 1-4	10.34 1-2	13.43 3-4
Bicycle	2.29 4-5	5.11	10.41 2-5	13.23 4-5
Tricycle	2.40 4-5	5.37 2-5	11.26 4-5	14.27 3-5
Tricycle (tandem)	2.43 1-5	5.34 2-5	11.30	14.22 3-5
Skating (rollers)	3.11	6.17 1-2	.....	15.50 1-4
Skating (ice)	2.12 3-5	6.56 1-5	14.10 1-2	17.45
Running	4.13 3-4	9.11 1-2	19.36	24.40
Walking	6.23	13.14	27.38	35.10
Rowing (single) 1½m.	8.36	13.21 1-2	27.57 1-2	33.56 1-4
Rowing (double) 1½m.	7.46 3-4	12.16	24.40	30.43 3-4

World's Record.	10 Miles.	20 Miles.	50 Miles.	100 Miles.
	H. M. S.	H. M. S.	H. M. S.	H. M. S.
Trotting in harness	27.23 1-4	58.25	3.55.40 1-2	8.55.53
Trotting to wagon	28.02 1-2	58.57	3.59.04	.....
Bicycle	27.07 1-5	54.25 2-5	2.33.54	5.50.05 2-5
Tricycle	29.26 1-5	59.10 3-5	3.11.15	6.43.32 1-2
Tricycle (tandem)	29.44 3-5	1.00.52 3-5	.....	7 57.00
Skating (ice)	36.37 1-5	1.14.07 1-5	4.13.36	11.37.45
Running	51.06 3-5	1.54.00	6.08.00	13.26.30
Walking	1.14.45	2.39.57	7.57.44	18.08.15
Rowing (single) 11-2m.	1.23.00	.....	8.55.20	.....

In a private letter commenting upon the recent remarkable skating at Newburg, Mr. James G. Lathrop of Hemmenway Gymnasium, Harvard College, says:

"Don't be deceived in the matter of distances straightaway and the times therefor. I think no one has had sufficient opportunity to note the difference between a straight course with the wind and a circular one half with and half against the wind. I was not surprised at the skating record at Newburg. You will remember what Lon Myers says in regard to my opinion about the matter, and I do not hesitate to make the following predictions concerning running or other tests straightaway with the wind, by first-class performers: Man running — Quarter mile, 45s.; half mile, 1. 45.; three-quarters mile, 3m. or better; one mile, 4 m. Man on bicycle — One mile, 2 m. Horse trotting — One mile, 2 m. Horse running — One mile, 1. 35."—N. Y. Mercury.

CORRESPONDENCE.

The editor wishes it distinctly understood that he is not responsible for the statements and opinions expressed in these columns.

FROM DR. BUTLER.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — Kindly permit me to say, in reply to Rep. Luscomb, of Brooklyn, that it is NOT my purpose to withdraw from active participation in League affairs at the present time. So long as designing and unscrupulous men are found foisting themselves upon the organization for the purpose of robbing it, you will find me ready to make any sacrifice that will assist in ridding the League of their presence. No friend of the L. A. W. will forsake its standard now, nor fail to support those members who have given so much time and done such grand work during the past nine months.

C. S. BUTLER,
Rep. in and for New York.

BUFFALO, March 5, 2887.

ELECTION BY POPULAR VOTE.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — It seems a great pity that wheelmen cannot dwell together in unity, but the history of the League goes to show that most of us would rather fight than to either ride or eat (a comparison that I fancy fairly illustrates cycling combativeness); and I expect to be greeted as a benefactor to my race for proposing a brand-new casus belli which does not involve the washing of any dirty linen, and which consists of so general an assault on the Board of Officers that it will be impossible to create the rankling of personal feeling in the matter. Very possibly, there are a good many League members who feel with me that if our organization is worth anything, it should by this time have grown beyond the necessity of annoyance from incessant bickerings about individual grievances, real or fancied; and certainly that no one or two men have a right of ownership to 11,000 members. To those who take no interest in these petty squabbles, a discussion of real policy will come as a boon, whichever side they may take or however warmly it may be waged.

Now, my special grievance against the Board of Officers is that they have disobeyed the membership at large, and that while the theory on which they did so may have been correct — although I think not — our form of organization must be radically changed before such a theory can be justly put into practice. At the General Business Meeting in Boston last May, I submitted a motion which was adopted, instructing the Board to so amend the By-Laws that the President and Vice-President should be elected by the whole membership in General Meeting, instead of by the Board of Officers as now. This was the original mode of election, and when the change was made at Chicago, the report of the meeting does not indicate that the members had any distinct intention to give up the power which they have lost. In obedience to my resolution, the Chairman of the Committee on Rules and Regulations (without concurrence of his colleagues) reported an amendment to the By-Laws at the September Board meeting, covering the point at issue: which was referred back to the committee without comment; and at the January meeting the matter was ignored in the committee report, I presume because the chairman despaired of getting his associates to join him in its favor. My most intimate friends on the Board now tell me that it is no use to bring the question up, as nearly all the officers are against it.

The officers may be right and myself wrong, in the position we respectively take as to the expediency of the several modes of election, but have they a right to ignore instructions from the very body which delegated this power, and which is certainly in equity entitled to resume it? I think not.

Wise or unwise, it was at least their duty to consider the resolution, and if they could not conscientiously approve it, to come back to the membership with their reasons. So far as I have been able to ascertain, individual opinions of those who disagree with me on the subject, their idea is that the Board is better fitted to judge the merits of candidates, and that an election by the General Meeting would mean simply a choice of the locality where the meeting is held.

The first objection I consider of no weight at all; the second is worthy consideration, and I might be led to think that the mere weight of numbers proved me to be wrong, were it not for the invariable reluctance of all bodies of officials to let slip any power once in their hands. Remembering this trait of human nature, common to us all, I can readily see how it occurred to no one in the Board to bring in an alternative proposition to elect the Executive on the same mail vote by which Consuls and Representatives are chosen. This would at least meet the danger of a locally packed meeting; which, however, I do not believe we need fear when clubs can vote by proxy, and when distant members find some reason to attend the meeting in the fact that such important business is to be transacted.

The main object of my proposition indeed was to introduce some element of interest to the meetings, now that so few members care for the parade, and the races have become overshadowed by Springfield and Roseville. But should the majority think this a consideration of little importance, there is still the very great need that our president should be the direct choice of the League, and not of a class only, however selected. The fact is, that our growth has been so rapid that we now have a mongrel association of the most illogical kind. We started out with almost pure democracy and we have gradually drifted into an oligarchy. The intention has undoubtedly been to provide representative government, modelled on the Federal Constitution, but we have conceived instead a body corporate that resembles nothing in heaven nor on earth, or in the water under the earth. All our lives, liberty, and pursuit of (cycling) happiness are in the hands of officers who, presumably our servants, have in reality such absolute power that they can change the mode of electing their own successors in any way they please, even to the extent of re-electing themselves.

If the League were formed in strict analogy to the American Constitution, the manner of electing neither the President nor Consuls and Representatives — who are the congress of the League — would be prescribed by the By-Laws, but by the Constitution; and be subject to change only by the whole membership. We have a national organization whose practice is based on that of a petty stock company; but even the directors of a bank or a cotton mill are subject to fundamental law which they cannot amend without the consent of the stockholders. Our Constitution should be our fundamental law; our By-Laws the enactment of the representative body, made only in strict accordance with the powers which had been delegated to it by provisions of a Constitution subject to amendment by nothing but the popular vote. The failure to recognize this cardinal principle has reduced us to a necessity of piecemeal alterations that are never more than half satisfactory and always incomplete.

Let us be one thing or the other. If the League is a democratic body, then every member should have a voice in the election of executive officers, and the enactment of important laws should be done only by meetings open to all. But if this is impracticable — and undoubtedly it is — then make our form of government really representative; give our Board delegated, not irresponsible power, and incorporate in the constitution about half the provisions that exist now in the By-Laws. Whichever method of transacting business is pursued, when it comes to elections we should go back to the good old plan of popular rule. If we of the rank and file are competent to vote for representatives, many of whom we do not know even by name, we are certainly able to choose a president, when all the League is discussing the various candidates. Just as elections to State Legislatures turn on who shall go to the United States Senate, not on who is best fitted for the other duties of a seat in the Legislature; so it might easily come to be under our present system, that we would all vote for this or that Representative or Consul solely in view of which candidate for the presidency he was pledged to support. The clumsy national Electoral College is better than the League plan, because presidential electors are admittedly mere machines, and have no other duties in which to do mischief; but we ought to place the League beyond the possibility that the Board of Officers might ever come to be a copy of the Electoral College.

I have had my little growl, and in order to stir up a hornet's nest more effectually, I will adopt Mr. Herring's plan and send copies to all the papers. Unfortunately I've been unable to step on any individual toes, because I don't know who is responsible for smothering my resolution; so each and every member of the Board will please consider himself personally entitled to accept the challenge and "go for me" with all the controversial ability of which he is possessed. Very truly yours,

EDWARD J. SHRIVER.

NEW YORK, March 17, 1887.

VICTORY FOR WHEELMEN.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — We Paris wheelmen are feeling happy this morning, and I write you this letter, hoping that some parts of it may find room in the L. A. W. BULLETIN. It is a matter that will interest the wheelmen everywhere. On Monday evening, March 7, the City Council of Paris passed an ordinance, that any person riding, or in any manner propelling any bicycle on any sidewalks in the city, should be fined not less than one or more than twenty-five dollars, Of course this made our boys hot. We did not say anything, but went quietly to work to get the ordinance changed. We got up a petition, signed by all members of the club, and nearly all the business men (every one that we asked), to change the ordinance so that we could ride on the sidewalks any where in town but those on the Public Square. Last night (March 15) the Council met and granted our petition, with a condition that we either use a bell or whistle as an alarm. We feel that we have gained a point in favor of cycling.

M. O. D.

PARIS, ILL.

A BETTING BOOK.

ST. LOUIS, MO., March 19.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — In view of the fact that the Spectator of this city, in its last issue, publishes a statement to the effect that I have opened a betting book on the road race that is to take place at Clarksville, Monday, May 23, and that I am the first, etc., to take such bicycle event into the pool rooms, I write this letter denying the charge in toto.

I have not opened a betting book on the road race, or taken it into the pool rooms in any sense whatever, nor have I at any time ever entertained any idea of doing so. In fact, the entire thing is so utterly absurd that no one who knows me well would give a moment's credence to the report.

It all hinges on this: As a matter of news, and just as I would and do publish any other gossip, I published in the March issue of the American Wheelman a copy of a book which had been made out by two prominent wheelmen here who are fond enough of betting "to make the thing interesting."

As a reflex of the standing of our fast road riders, I knew the book would be interesting to wheelmen at large, and such it has proved to be.

This book I clipped out of the A. W. entire, head and all, and handed to a Globe-Democrat reporter, who called on me for an item, and next day, much to my surprise, the book appeared credited to me as the maker. This is the whole story, and, had not the Spectator man been only too glad to avail himself of the thus offered chance to stab me in the back, the truth of the matter could have been learned by a call at my office, which is in close proximity to the Spectator's.

This explanation through the League organ would not be forthcoming were it not for the fact that an effort is being made by the writer of the paragraph to drag the League in, by a needless and thoroughly gratuitous pairing of the League meet and the road race.

The road race is not a part of the League meet programme, it being merely set to follow the meet so as to afford wheelmen a chance to attend both events at one expense of time and travel. We have never tried to convey the impression that it is part of the programme. It is throughly able to stand upon its own bottom, as it did last year.

It may perhaps seem strange that I should thus wish to contradict, in a paper reaching 10,000 wheelmen, a paragraph published in another that reaches probably not more than 100, but the evil lies in the fact that the Spectator exchanges with all the wheel papers, and they are almost certain to give credence and a wide publicity to its vindictively prompted assertion.

Trusting that, for this reason, you will give me the first space I have ever asked for in the BULLETIN, I remain Yours fraternally,

L. S. C. LADISH.

Editor American Wheelman.

MR. LUSCOMB IS WANTED.

EDITOR OF BULLETIN: — The manly and gentlemanly letter of Mr. C. H. Luscomb, in reply to the charges made against the Credential Committee seem to call for a word of comment — and commendation from League members, who believe in fair and business-like methods of conducting the business of the League.

I think the League is to be congratulated upon being able to command the services of men who can act so fearlessly and honorably, and who can give so clear and conclusive a statement of the reasons for their action.

It seems to me that the concluding paragraph of Mr. Luscomb's other letter, that in reference to Dr. Butler, may very fitly apply to Mr. Luscomb himself; and I take the liberty of quoting it here, merely substituting the name of Mr. Luscomb for that of Dr. Butler, remarking at the same time that I fully endorse it as it originally stands in reference to Dr. Butler.

"Others, besides myself * * * * , have expressed an opinion that the League would seriously lose by his withdrawal from office or his declination to labor whenever the association shall call upon him, and, in referring to this matter, I desire to speak for those who know of Mr. Luscomb's official career, and believe him to be a representative who can be relied upon to stand and speak fearlessly for the best interests of the L. A. W. The proceedings of our Board of Officers show his integrity and directness of purpose, and indicate that he is too valuable a man to be permitted to get out of the harness."

GEO. E. BLACKHAM.

DUNKIRK, N. Y., March 17, 1887.

THE UNIFORM.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — The new L. A. W. uniform seems to be a subject which interests most of the League members at this season of the year, and as every one has the privilege of airing his opinion in the BULLETIN, I cannot refrain from making a few remarks on the question. The two gentlemen who have written on the subject lately, Messrs. N. L. Collamer and "One of the Owls," have both expressed their preference for a semi-military costume such as a neat, close-fitting, black coat, with standing collar, pants to match, and a low flat cap with straight vizor. I agree with them that such a suit is very neat indeed and where a club propose to have a distinctive club uniform they could not do better than to adopt the above for parade use and club room wear. But here is the rub. Do the members of the League want a parade uniform or do they want a good, strong, serviceable suit for road use and touring? My opinion is that the majority of us want something of a negligeé suit, and what will fill the bill better than a plain or mixed brown, or grey cloth, cut the same as the uniform adopted last year? Norfolk jacket, without belt, knee breeches, stockings to match, and a low flat cap with turn down vizor to shield the eyes from the sun and rain. The breeches are easier to the person when not reinforced and also look far better from a rear point of view. The above is a suit which looks well when worn by a single wheelman, a club, or a League parade, and what more do we want? I think a great many will be sorry to have to change again to the straight jacket cadet style of uniform suggested. Having had some years' experience in that kind of dress, I can say for one, that wearing a tight-fitting suit is decidedly the reverse from my idea of comfort when on the wheel. H. W. POTTER, 3361.

READING, PENN.

UNIFORM.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — Well, every one to his own opinion, but, to my mind, it would be much more sensible of the League to retain the uniform now in use than to adopt such a wholly unserviceable one as that suggested by "one of the Owls" in your last issue.

To begin with, I will venture to say that every wheelman, who has been foolish enough to do any amount of touring in a black suit, has found out to his cost that black is the most unsuitable of all colors for road use. There is no color that shows dust and grease as quickly. Besides this, it is hot, your correspondent to the contrary notwithstanding. As for the cadet collar suggested, it is uncomfortable and necessitates wearing a linen collar at all times. Our friend recommends wearing celluloid collars and cuffs, and says they are dressy enough for almost any occasion. Now, I confess I am not up on Chicago style, but I do know that, in the neighborhood of New York gentlemen, do not wear celluloid collars and cuffs upon any occasion, and never will as long as linen can be obtained.

Now, my idea of a good, serviceable uniform for the L. A. W. to adopt would be one made of a strong, light-weight material of a dark, steel gray, cut perfectly plain and made without lining. The coat to have a turned down collar and outside pockets; knickerbockers to be reinforced in the seat. For the cap I think nothing can be obtained that will be more becoming and serviceable than the style at present in use, i. e. with the dropped visor. Upon one point, and just one, I fully agree with his "owlship," and that is in regard to corduroy: it is a delusion and a snare.

A MEMBER OF THE BROOKLYNS.

PENNSYLVANIA NOMINATIONS. OPPOSITION TO H. S. WOOD.

PHILADELPHIA, March 22, 1887.

To the Members of the Pennsylvania Division: — In the list of names presented by the nominating committee of this Division for election to the offices of representatives for the ensuing year, appears the name of H. S. Wood.

For every intelligent and well informed member of the Division, the offering of this name must appear preposterous, as well as highly amusing. Mr. Wood has not been for months a resident of this State, and if elected could not represent Pennsylvania in any manner whatever. His election would entail serious complications in future Board Meetings, similar to, if not identical with, the recent proceedings in New York, in which his name figured prominently in this very connection, i. e., the right to his representing Pennsylvania.

It seems to us that Mr. Wood himself should recognize the manifest injustice of keeping his name on the ticket, and should withdraw it. To a man of his calibre, we are astonished that he should seek such cheap notoriety as to place himself in a position which will in the future cause inestimable strife in the meetings of the League, and which will give Pennsylvania the insignia of upholding a man who cannot represent her.

It also seems to us that the Nominating Committee has not done justice to one who has been a faithful servant to its interests for years, and who has given his time and services without remuneration for at least two of those years. The present Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. T. Houard Wright, has proved himself to be very highly fitted for a place on the ticket, and instead of that of Mr. Wood, we substitute his name, in the earnest belief that he will be elected. His record proves conclusively that he will represent our State intelligently and conscientiously.

PENNSYLVANIA MEMBERS, SCRATCH H. S. WOOD, AND VOTE FOR T. HOUARD WRIGHT.

"PHILADELPHIA."

THE CLUB.

PLAINFIELD BICYCLE CLUB, Plainfield, N. J. — Officers elected March 14: President, Dr. J. H. Cooley; vice-president and captain, A. L. C. Marsh; first lieutenant, R. F. Murray; second lieutenant, H. W. Stover; secretary, F. L. C. Martin; treasurer, Townsend Rushmore; historian, Harold Serrell; bugler, George Beebe; color bearer, J. W. Smilford, Jr.

The fair held at the Club house, Feb. 21 and 22, netted $550. A communication from the president of the A. C. U. asking for the coöperation of the Club was laid on the table.

WANDERERS BICYCLE CLUB, Toronto, Ont. — Officers elected for 1887: President, C. H. Briggs; vice-president, C. Robinson; first lieutenant, A. Daniel; second, H. Grenfell; Secretary-treasurer, F. J. Morphy.

CALUMET BICYCLE CLUB, Brooklyn, N. Y. — Officers elected for 1887: President, R. Maybie; vice-president, W. Bonner; treasurer, I. G. Davis; secretary, J. W. B. Quale; captain, W. L. Mills; lieutenant Chas. Richards.

COUNCIL BLUFFS RAMBLERS, Omaha, Neb. — Officers elected March 15: President, F. C. Cook; vice-president, A. E. McFarland; secretary-treasurer, I. N. Parsons.

NORWALK WHEEL CLUB, Norwalk, Conn. — Officers elected March 7: President, W. J. Olmstead; vice-president, C. E. Miller; secretary, E. M. Jackson; Treasurer, O. B. Jackson; captain, H. Van Ness.

MERCURY BICYCLE CLUB, Minneapolis, Minn. — Officers elected March 8: Secretary-treasurer, T. M. Slosson; captain, S. F. Heath; first lieutenant, D. R. Fuller; second lieutenant, Paul E. Archard.

N. Y. AND N. J. TEAM ROAD RACING ASSOCIATION. — Offices elected March 5: President, E. J. Shriver; vice-president, F. A. Miller; secretary-treasurer, M. L. Bridgman.

NEW JERSEY WHEELMEN, Newark, N. J. — Officers elected March 3: President, T. A. Ball; vice-president, Paul Brango; secretary, C. Dennison; treasurer, A. G. Winters; captain, M. Longacre.

MONTCLAIR WHEELMEN, Montclair, N. J. — Officers elected for 1887: Captain, Samuel J. Jones; lieutenant, Jos. M. McFadden; secretary-treasurer, W. S. Hare; color bearer, J. S. Porter; bugler, B. G. Hutchinson, Jr.

DORCHESTER CLUB, Dorchester, Mass. — Officers elected for ensuing term; President, G. L. Haynes; vice-president, H. C. Gallagher; secretary-treasurer, W. N. Forbes; captain, A. V. Wallburg; first lieutenant, B. W. Gould; second lieutenant, A. Benson; bugler, Chas. I. Drake; color bearer, W. A. Clapp.

CYCLETS.

ILLINOIS voters should send their ballots to the secretary-treasurer of their division, S. B. Wright, 186 Monroe street, Chicago. The Illinois officials will count their own State votes, and all that come to this office will be returned to Chicago.

THE Bristol County (R. I.) Wheelmen have voted to offer a prize for the longest distance covered by any rider this coming season, distance to be recorded by actual cyclometer measurement.

ROWE accepts Wood's challenge, and stipulates only that the race shall be run at Lynn.

THE new tandem of the Pope Manufacturing Company is now on view at the warerooms of the company.

THOMAS STEVENS has prepared a lecture which he will give at Brooklyn, N. Y. and Scranton, Penn., under engagements already made. If he meets with good success in these ventures, for he considers them ventures, he will enter the lecture field as a business.

THE Maryland Division, L. A. W., held a meeting at the rooms of the Maryland Bicycle Club on Wednesday evening, for the purpose of nominating officers for the ensuing year.

THE Derby Wheelmen, of Ansonia, Conn., nominates Edwin B. Gager, of that place, for representative from Connecticut.

VOTES are already coming in. We expect a large ballot this year.

WM. A. ROWE will ride a wheel for the Pope Manufacturing Company this year, and be prepared to meet all comers When the Colonel told the young man he was engaged, Wm. A. Rowes and immediately went into training.

ALBERT MOTT, of Baltimore, Md., wishes us to say that he is not the author of "Oriole News," by "Lone Star Wheelman," which was published in our columns.

A MOVEMENT is being made in Albany towards the adoption of knickerbockers as a regular business suit for everyday wear, and over one hundred and fifty names have already been enrolled towards the formation of the Comfort Club, as it has been very appropriately called.

CHARLES E. PRATT and A. S. Parsons have declined to serve another year as L. A. W. representatives from Massachusetts.

SINGER'S "Victoria" seems to be capable of an almost unlimited extension. On March 2d, it was rigged to carry eight persons and a merry party took a run on it. The Cyclist reports that the machine ran well and steered easily. It measured 15 feet, 7 inches.

W. F. MOSS, of Thomasville, Ga., has sent us an L. A. W. table made of southern mahogany and bearing on its top the League badge. Duplicates of this he offers for sale in our advertising columns.

AN exchange says, "It is unnecessary to take a D. K. to be O. K. if you have a B — I — K — E." A chestnut bell is what we o.

THE Columbia Bicycle Club, of North Attleboro, Mass., held its sixth anniversary supper on March 10.

THE annual meet of the Canadian Wheelmen's Association will be held at Brantford, July 1.

THE Springfield Bicycle club admitted eight members at the last election. They have adopted a black uniform with military collar. Not a word was said of holding a tournament this year, but it is generally understood that, if the local business men and hotel keepers would go down a little way into their pockets and guarantee to cover part of a possible financial loss, the club would lose no time in voting to hold their annual tournament. "It is a matter of business," said one prominent member last night. "There is an expense of at least $12,000 a year on us, and we have barely cleared ourselves. Now, no business man would conduct a $10,000 business of any kind without a surety of ten per cent gross profit. The Springfield Bicycle Club have got to take all the chances of poor weather, weakened enthusiasm, and an unsettled condition of bicycle affairs. We are getting along socially very well, and prefer to rest on our oars for a year."—Herald.

CAPTAIN EWING L. MILLER is retiring in his present condition of mind. He has retired from the Racing Board, where he has served for many years, and he has retired from the captaincy of the Philadelphia Club. He can ill be spared from either place.

THE capital stock of the New Jersey Cycling and Athletic Association will be sold at auction next week. The venture was not a paying one.

THE international cyclists' meeting at Berlin will be held during the first week in June, when the amateur bicycle and tricycle championships will be decided.

THE Expert Columbia which was ridden by Thomas Stevens in his tour around the world is now on exhibition in B. W. Currier and Co.'s window on Washington street.

THE Wheel has been taking some kind of an invigorating tonic, if we can judge by what we see of it Editor Priall is giving it a place in cycling literature that it never held before.

MASSACHUSETTS is sending a copy of the Constitution of the State Division to each member. It is inclosed with the ballot that is being sent out. Thus does the old Bay State kill two birds with one missile.

"What produces a feeling of prostration in the spring?" asks a correspondent. Two things will do it—doubting the veracity of a pugilist, and trying to coax a bicycle over a stone.—Ex.

WORD came to us on Monday that blank tickets would be shipped to us that day from Philadelphia. When we get them we shall put all our force at work to get them to members. When this paragraph is read the tickets will certainly be going out.

THE Massachusetts Club entertained lady friends on Saturday evening last. The club-house was thrown open from billiard hall to gymnasium for the accommodation of the ladies, and the officers of the club were assiduous in their attentions to their guests. A very fine entertainment was given in the parlors. Music, vocal and instrumental, readings by Mr. Colbath, some fine selections by the Boston Banjo quartette, solos by Miss Ayer, Miss Williams, Mr. Shaw, and Mr. Grover on the banjo were rendered with fine effect. Dancing in the gymnasium and refreshments in the billiard rooms were other features of the evening's entertainment, and the affair was in every way a success.

PRESIDENT BECKWITH has been elected one of the governors of the New York Athletic Club. "Yer 'and, guvnor."

PHILADELPHIA wheelmen are looking ahead. They expect to wake up some morning and find Broad street covered with ashphalt and eager to feel the press of the rubber tire.

THE annual meeting of the American Cyclists' Union will be held on Saturday at the United States Hotel.

ANNUAL dinners seem to be just now in fashion in and about Boston. One would think that spring gave birth to many cycle clubs.

WE regret that the Boston Club can see no further benefit to be derived as a League club. We ought to have the oldest club in America with us, but the members do not care to remain, and they have rescinded the by-law necessary to constitute the club one of us.

THERE is great room for improvement in this League Club business. As it is now we can tell when a club becomes a League club, but we have no way of knowing when it lapses. We propose to regulate the thing when we get time.

THE Nonantum Club of Newton is going to put itself into a more beautiful environment, or, in other words, they will have a new suite of rooms for club purposes.

THE Manchester, Eng., Athletic Bicycle Club has presented Dan Canary with a gold medal "as a token of admiration and esteem." The Westchester Cycling Club presented him on the occasion of his benefit with a silver cigarette case.

SEVERAL of the makers are showing us that there is little more difference between a tricycle and a safety bicycle than is required by the extra wheel. In front, the two are as near alike as peas in a pod.

THE Spartan Harriers of New York will hold games at the Madison Square Garden, on Saturday, May 7, at 8 P. M. Among the events will be a two-mile bicycle race (handicap). Handsome gold medals to first and second, silver to third; entries close April 30, with Chas. Rennor, Secretary, 203 East 41st St., New York.

A CALIFORNIAN wrote to the Butcher Cyclometer Company last week and offered to sell it a "list of butchers." He thought the Butcher cyclometer was an instrument for counting butchers.

THE Eurotas, of St. Louis, at the last meeting resolved not to take any offices within the gift of the Missouri Division. The sentiment was that they were riding for pleasure, and that they will do what they can in that line to advance cycling, but will go no further. Of course they will claim none of the advantages that go with League membership.

WE have tried to comply with the many demands for application blanks, but may have missed some one. We have now a good supply of these, and shall be very glad to place them where they will do good.

THE Hagerstown (Md.) Bicycle Club recently gave a minstrel entertainment, which afforded a deal of fun and put some money in the treasury. And now they talk of a big race meeting in the early part of June.

THE Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and Maryland road-book is out of print, and no more copies can be supplied.

CHIEF CONSUL BIDWELL, of New York, has printed a circular, which he is sending to some thousand or more wheelmen in New York State. The circular points out the advantage of membership in the L. A. W., and urges all wheelmen to join it. Other Chief Consuls may take a hint from this.

THE Missouri Club opens the riding season tomorrow with a run to Kirkwood, with bugler Williamson in command. It is Capt. Brewster's idea to make the road officers useful this year, instead of being merely ornamental as heretofore. They will alternate in conducting the weekly run, and each officer will have carte blanche to do what he wishes to make his run interesting. Capt. Brewster and his assistants had a meeting this week, and outlined a programme of runs for the season. April 3 the club will make the DeSoto trip, going down Saturday night, the 2d, by train, and riding back next day. A general invitation is extended by Capt. Brewster to all wheelmen, whether club members or not, to join the party, as the maxim, "The more the merrier," is especially true of the DeSoto run. Two weeks later the run will be to the county line. — Post Despatch.

AN INSURANCE COMPANY.

EDITOR BULLETIN:

The following Prospectus sets forth the underlying principles of the "Bicycles Loss and Repair Insurance Co.", an organization which it is proposed to form for the purpose of assisting its members in recovering their machines when lost, or paying for heavy repairs when an accident has occurred. The subject of accident insurance in connection with the League has been agitated slightly through these columns in the past, but, so far as I know, no proposition similar to the one below has ever been made. The costs in this association are to be paid on the assessment plan, since there are no statistics from which regular insurance rates could be obtained.

Copies of this prospectus have been posted and circulated in the cities of Washington and Baltimore, and are meeting with much approval, readers subscribing their names as soon as the value of such an organization is realized from a perusal of the prospectus.

May I ask you to publish it entire, in order that the L. A. W. membership at large may have the full benefit of reading it, and becoming charter members if they wish. Any questions the reader may desire to ask, I will cheerfully answer; and would be happy to enroll not only the necessary hundred, but three times that number, within a month from to-day.

Yours fraternally,

N. L. COLLAMER.

The Bicycle Loss and Repair Insurance Company.

PROSPECTUS.

This organization is formed for the purpose of reimbursing its members for loss or repairs on their machines, and will be conducted on the following basis.

Each member joining shall sign an setting forth that he desires to become a member, and pledging his conscientious support of the association, and shall deposit two dollars with the Secretary-Treasurer.

APPLICATION BLANK,

When by unavoidable accident a member's bicycle becomes broken to an extent not to exceed twenty dollars at any one breakage, or fifty dollars during the year, and after such breakage has been made good, he is as follows. A full recital of the nature of the damage done and the details of the accident, together with a statement to the effect that it was purely accidental, and the bill of the repairer — all acknowledged and witnessed before a Notary Public —must be sent the Secretary-Treasurer within thirty days after date of accident. Upon its receipt, and as soon as approved by the Directors, the Secretary-Treasurer will send the repairer check covering the amount of the bill, and demand acknowldgment of payment from both the member and the repairer. Such letters of acknowledgment will be attached to the sworn statement above referred to, and kept on record for inspection. In case a member's machine becomes accidentally

AT LIBERTY TO RECOVER

LOST OR STOLEN,

a full statement of the facts and description and value of the bicycle should be at once drawn up, sworn to, and sent to the Secretary-Treasurer. Thereupon, the Board of Directors will take the matter under advisement and render such assistance in the recovery of the lost 'proprety as may be possible — offering rewards, in no case however to exceed two-thirds of the value of the machine, and reimbursing the member to this extent if the bicycle be not recovered within a reasonable time. The amounts thus paid for losses or repairs being deducted pro rata from each member's deposit and the members notified. If this deduction is not made good within the time specified, the delinquent member forfeits membership and the balance of his deposit. At the end of each month assessment notices will be sent every member, apprising him of each application for reimbursment allowed during the month, with the amount of bill, nature of breakage, details of loss, etc., and his share of each bill, together with five cents in addition on each assessment,

WILL BE DRAWN FROM THE ASSOCIATION'S CAPITAL,

MUST BE REMITTED

within thirty days after notice, or membership is forfeited. The amounts paid out by the association will therefore be reimbursed by its members in sums which will not be felt, and the trifling addition of five cents on each assessment will cover all running expenses and compensate the Secretary-Treasurer for his labors. It will thus be seen that the following

ADVANTAGES ARE GAINED.

Wheelmen who ride old wrecks have no fear of their falling to pieces under them; hence, older and cheaper wheels may be ridden to better advantage by impecunious bicyclists.

Riders having new or expensive machines need not exercise such particular care over them or be continually in mortal terror of their breakage, as repairs cost them practically nothing and their wheels will be kept in perfect order for at least a year.

Tourists contemplating a long ride need not apprehend expensive accidents to their wheels, and can ride with less thought and care than otherwise.

No rider will fear the loss of his machine, since the association in that event will lend its best efforts towards its recovery, and reimburse the loser if unsuccessful.

All members are thus protected from loss or damage to their wheels, and their only care while riding is of personal danger. As this is not an Accident Insurance Co., we cannot attempt to cover that field. What money the members pay in is only asked for and at the end of the month. Its payment will scarcely be felt, especially at that time. Your annual expenses for repairs, or for loss in case of theft, are promptly paid when due, and you reimburse in driblets. The Board of Directors will probably arrange to

IN SMALL SUMS,

LIMIT THE NUMBER OF ASSESSMENTS PER MONTH, in order that they may be spread over the entire year and not fall due too rapidly during the riding season.

UPON THE ENROLLMENT of one hundred names of would-be members, application blanks for admission and voting slips for officers will be sent them; the former containing necessary regulations to be agreed to in the act of signing, and the latter giving every member a voice in the election of a President and Vice-President. With the application, duly signed, should be sent the two dollars deposit and the votes. The officers will constitute

A BOARD OF DIRECTORS, and will serve until December 31, 1887. Another election will be held in that month for the year 1888. Their first duty will be to frame a Constitution containing detail provisions necessary for the successful operation of the plan outlined above. As new members are added to the roll, the proportional amount of

EACH ASSESSMENT WILL DECREASE;

hence every member is an agent for the company.

I will be pleased to receive suggestions from you, and will cheerfully lay them before the Board for consideration, or will answer any inquiries that may be made. Please show this to your friends or post in your Bicycle Club rooms.

If the idea strikes you favorably, drop me a line to that effect, and I will enroll you among the first and necessary hundred and send blanks and slips when that number is reached.

N. L. COLLAMER,
Temporary Secretary-Treasurer.
St. Cloud Building, WASHINGTON, D. C.

CYCLING APHORISMS.

SEVEN years' experience with cycles demonstrates: —

That for everyday use the best is the cheapest and most satisfactory.

That, when properly used, the bicycle and tricycle are safe and practicable means of locomotion.

That they can be too light as well as too heavy.

That they can be used with good practical results on ordinary roads.

That safety depends upon experience and not altogether upon pattern.

That no means of exercise is better for the health.

That scorching is unsafe and leads to discord.

That careful riding gives the most pleasure and satisfaction to the rider, and contributes to the comfort of others.

That it also favorably impresses the non-cyclist.

That "smartness" may cause a smart.

That the cycle has to bear not only the rider but his faults.

That "road hogs" are not always horsemen.

That the wheel ought to be ridden more.

That when riding, you had "better be sure than sorry.

That every wheelman and wheel*woman* should become members of the "L. A. W."

That the omission to do so is a mistake.

That poor roads make the best "all around" rider.

That a cobble stone is a poor tool.

That a "stopped up" oil hole is the cause of many a squeak.

That a few drops of oil are better than a canful.

That American wheels are in most respects equal to, and in some better than, foreign.

That tricycling is healthier, more graceful and enjoyable, for ladies, than any other exercise.

That pleasure and ease, in riding the tricycle, depend greatly upon proper adjustment of the saddle.

That adjustment for a level will not do for a hilly country.

That a two-track is better than a three-track tricycle for ordinary roads.

That it will more easily follow either wagon or horsecar tracks or straddle ruts.

That a careless adjustment of the main bearings of a tricycle may cause a jam.

That a tight chain runs hard and causes wear.

That a good brake is absolutely necessary.

That the bicycle is for use, not ornament.

That the "bugbear" of non-cyclers is the header.

That the interchangeability of parts is a great convenience.

That, all things considered, the ordinary pattern of bicycle is the best and most graceful.

That the use of too large a wheel to learn on discourages the beginner.

That too large a wheel should never be used for touring.

That it is the chief cause of falls and the "safety fever."

That too long a reach makes you lose the pedals on rough roads.

That a long reach impairs the proper control of the wheel.

That it brings too much work on the hands and arms.

That to relieve the arms the feet should do most of the steering and sustain part of the weight of the body.

That a proper reach should allow the body to be lifted from the saddle by the pedals when down.

That riding "without hands" is actually necessary at times, and should be practised.

That it can be more easily learned on a small wheel.

That a novice can become proficient in less time by practising "without hands."

That most light roadsters are too light for the uses they are put to.

That a full roadster is the safest, surest, cheapest, and most durable for touring.

That a long saddle is best for touring, as it requires no adjustment for up or down hill.

That it is safer and gives less trouble.

That dropped handle-bars, as a rule, enable you to climb a hill more easily than straight.

That loose or broken handle-bars are chiefly due to carelessness.

That a brake should be carefully set and intelligently used.

That a thick tire is an advantage to wheel and rider.

That it lessens vibration and saves the wheel.

That its traction is greater than that of the small tire.

That a loose tire may cause a bad fall.

That a tight tangent spoke is liable to snap on rough roads, and is better for the race track.

That a direct spoke is more elastic and better for rough roads.

That it can be replaced more easily.

That a well-made ball-bearing is indispensable to a good wheel.

That few know how to properly adjust it.

That most bearings are allowed to take care of themselves, and often rattle.

That they can be adjusted so there is no play and yet run freely.

That they will run hundreds of miles with one oiling.

That round pedal rubbers, when loose to turn, are dangerous.

That nickeled forks and backbone look better than enameled after long use.

That nickel shows scratches less, and requires but little more care than enamel.

That enamel is better for spokes and felloes on account of their greater liability to rust.

That vaseline is a good and durable lubricant for ball-bearings.

That plumbago as a lubricant is dirty and not so good as oil.

That when used in the head it will necessitate its being frequently tightened.

That a good accurate cyclometer can be had.

That properly used it is a pleasure to yourself and a benefit to your neighbors.

That lamps are not entirely satisfactory.

That they should be securely attached.

That a good burning oil is difficult to find.

That "sperm signal" or "olive" is very good.

That one of the greatest pleasures in cycling is riding a properly adjusted wheel.

That a light or hollow-frame wheel is unsuitable for the beginner.

That an abundance of cycle sundries stamps the novice.

That night riding is generally risky.

That a long crank and good judgment help you up a steep hill.

That it is often better to walk down than up a hill.

That coasting is not the safest way to descend a hill.

That it is selfish when carelessly indulged in.

That unknown hills should never be coasted.

That liquor and the wheel are enemies.

That civility on the road goes a long way.

That the wheel "is a thing of beauty and a joy forever." L. A. W., 2,747.

JANUARY 20, 1887.

THE OWL.

FROM the present indication of the extended boom in tandems for the coming season, I am willing to wager something pretty that tandems will make as many matches this summer as any parlor match factory in the country.

THE stenographer's bill for services at the recent L. A. W. Board of Officers was $165, and the printing of it in full in the BULLETIN will cost as much more. It was in an attempt on the part of the Executive Board to save the League this extra expense, that a condensed report was made in the columns of the BULLETIN, and not to suppress any facts or figures from the membership at large, as the mugwumps so loudly proclaim.

MR. A. KENNEDY-CHILD is a cousin to Parnell, the great Irish leader, and at one time it was Mr. Child's intention to stand in the Parnell interests for one of the seats in the House of Parliament, but his family's influence to the contrary was brought to bear upon him, and England's loss became America's gain.

WHAT think you of this compliment paid me by an anonymous admirer in a recent issue of the Spectator?: —

THE OWL.

"Bright gleams from yonder moated hall
The ruddy glow that strikes the rafter;
Like Dreamland's twilight echoes, fall
The strains of music, and the laughter;
Soft moonbeams o'er my drowsy pate
(Sloped sideways) steal, and set me blinking,
Yet dazzle not the thoughts sedate
That muster when an Owl is thinking.

"Like jays is man's fantastic brood, —
So owls decide, — all mirth and chatter;
But Wisdom's court is solitude,
Her "happiness no laughing matter,"
No cares this tranquil soul assail,
Past, present, future, calmly linking;
The universe in mental scale
Is balanced when the Owl is thinking."

MR. HENRY MONETT, who, as general passenger agent of the West Shore road, did so much to benefit wheelmen in his official capacity, has been appointed to the same position on the New York Central, where he will, as formerly, do everything to further our interests.

THE Inter-State commerce bill is causing the Committee on Transportation much trouble in regard to securing reduced rates for L. A. W. members attending the Meet at St. Louis.

I UNDERSTAND that Harry Corey is still true to his love for racing, and if certain hints I have received go for anything, I hope to see him upon the track once more, and witness him redeem a prediction of mine, made several years ago, that with proper training, he has in him the making of a scratch man. I am certain that he can lead over the tape any amateur of last season, and in the middle and long distances push record pretty close.

WILLIAM M. WOODSIDE, in his racing career, has accumulated quite a snug sum; just how much no one knows, but it will certainly employ five figures to designate it. I understand he is a part owner of the troupe now playing Erminie successfully on the road.

YOU can say what you will about there being nothing in a name, but it does seem as though anything with Springfield on it comes pretty near getting to the top of the heap in cycling. Mr. Kirkpatrick resides at Springfield, Ohio. Are you on?

SOMETHING peculiar about a lamp. No matter how you drop it, it always lights on its wick — if it lights at all.

THE park commissioners want to spend $366,000 on Central Park, $300,000 on Riverside, and $250,000 on Morningside Park. As the most of this will go towards improving the roadways, they have the hearty support of all metropolitan wheelmen in their efforts.

R. V. R. SCHUYLER dropped in to see us the other night, while here on a flying trip from his mine in the West. He will be remembered by old riders here as one of the early riders, and, astride of a 64-inch Special Club, which he had gold plated and equipped with ivory handles, he was one of the sights at all the early meets.

TALKING with Tom Stevens is like drawing tacks. He answers all questions, asks none, and says nothing about himself or his adventures, unless in answer to some direct inquiry. He should be called the Gen. Grant of cycling, on account of his taciturnity.

THERE is a tricycling field of great promise in Vassar, which some enterprising manufacturer should proceed to take hold of, and while he would thus spread the gospel of cycling to an advantage among lady riders, as he could in no other way, he would also be practically without any competition.

IT is not altogether improbable that in the near future New York will be blessed or cursed with a six-day bicycle race, the promoters of former six-day go-as-you-please and skating races believing that cycling will reap the profit and glory that was formerly the result of these matches. Perhaps it will, but I doubt it.

THE Ilderans, of Brooklyn, will be the next club into line with a club-house scheme.

FROM the present outlook, whether it be from that of the rider or that of the manufacturer, the season of '87 will be the greatest that the wheel world has ever seen. New men, new machines, and our present tracks, will push old father Time yet closer to the wall, and when the tournament season, now approaching, is past, the scythe of the enemy will have many new nicks bearing the name of record.

THE OWL.

THE CLUB.

ILLINOIS CYCLING CLUB, Chicago, Ill. — Officers elected, January 18: W. A. Davis, president; W. B. Smith (D. D. S.), vice-president; C. R. Griffith, Jr., secretary-treasurer; Jno. F. Palmer, captain; W. B. Buckley, M. D. Wilbur, Frank Riggs, F. K. Boyden, lieutenants; Jno. Mason, bugler; M. Bowbear, color bearer; T. W. Broadhurst, Geo. A. Mason, A. F. Street, business committee.

SAN FRANCISCO CLUB. — Officers elected January 27: Columbus Waterhouse, president; George J. Hobe, secretary-treasurer; Harrison Houseworth, captain; Chas. A. McDonald, first lieutenant; Chas. B. Wheaton, second lieutenant; John W. Gibson, bugler; Harry A. Green, and Frank F. Osborn, club committee.

ARIEL WHEEL CLUB, Poughkeepsie, N. Y. — Officers elected, January 11: W. C. Sterling, president; F. I. Schwartz, secretary-treasurer; G. L. Sterling, captain; Fred Atkins, lieutenant; W. I. Ward, I. R. Adriance, executive committee.

COLDWATER CLUB, Coldwater, Mich. — Officers elected, February 7: H. A. Grube, president; Ed. Herring, vice-president; Thurlow Titus, secretary-treasurer; H. J. Bassett, captain; E. E. Colburn, lieutenant; Will Franz, bugler; C. A. Conover, color bearer.

MILWAUKEE WHEELMEN, Milwaukee, Wis. — Officers elected for 1887: H. R. Miller, president; H. Altschwager, vice-president; H. P. Andrea, secretary-treasurer; F. J. Schroeder, captain; W. F. Kassuba, first lieutenant; V. J. Schwenecker, Jr., second lieutenant; L. Dorsch, bugler.

IXION CLUB, New York City. — Officers elected, February 1: F. A. Egan, president; I. L. Hall, vice-president; F. I. Stott, secretary; C. A. Dunn, treasurer; M. G. Peoli, captain; A. V. Pringle, first lieutenant; I. M. Shaw, second lieutenant.

ELMIRA BICYCLE CLUB, Elmira, N. Y. — Officers elected, February 1: C. L. Nichols, president; G. W. Shoemaker, secretary-treasurer; E. H. Coykendall, captain; Chas. Morehouse, lieutenant; J. C. Zimmerman, color bearer.

ORANGE WANDERERS, New York City. — Officers elected at annual meeting: R. M. Sanger, president; C. W. Baldwin, vice-president; A. E. Cowdrey, secretary-treasurer; L. H. Porter, captain; C. Hening, first lieutenant.

CORTLANDT WHEELMEN, Peekskill, N. Y. — Officers elected, March 2: W. E. Flockton, captain; S. A. Mead, lieutenant; D. C. Hasbrouck, secretary-treasurer; B. F. Ferris, and S. Wessells, were also elected members of the executive committee.

HUDSON COUNTY WHEELMEN, Jersey City, N. J. — Officers elected, February 3: Chas. Lee Myers, president; Hugh Hartshorne, secretary; Carman Nichols, treasurer; W. S. Woodward, captain; M. C. Jenkins, and H. M. Platt, lieutenants; M. F. Fisher, right guide; Geo. H. Short, left guide; E. P. Jenkins, sergeant; F. Eveland, color bearer; E. P. Baggot, bugler.

MEMPHIS CYCLE CLUB, Memphis, Tenn. — Officers elected, February 9: Wade Hampton, Jr., president; Ferd Trek, secretary and treasurer; Abe Friedman, captain; Chas. Maydwell, bugler.

MASSACHUSETTS CLUB, Boston, Mass. — Officers elected for 1887: Chas. Richards Dodge, president; A. Douglass Salkeld, vice-president; Wm. M. Farrington (69 Pearl street, Boston), secretary; Wm. H. Minot, treasurer; D. W. Colbath, librarian; Alonzo D. Peck, Jr., captain; J. M. Burr, first lieutenant; W. A. Shockley, second lieutenant; John T. Williams, tricycle captain; Dr. W. D. Ball, tricycle lieutenant; E. R. Benson, and F. W. Perry, buglers; W. H. Minot, and C. D. Cobb, color bearers; Chas. R. Dodge, W. M. Farrington, W. H. Minot, A. D. Peck, Jr., C. B. Goldthwait, E. R. Benson, F. Alcott Pratt, A. E. Pratt, A. E. Pattison, F. Lane, and H. B. Salkeld, club committee.

LOS ANGELOS WHEELMEN, Los Angeles, Cal. — Officers elected, March 2: President, H. S. M. Judson; vice-president, W. W. Downing; secretary-treasurer, A. E. Little; captain, R. C. Woodworth; first lieutenant, O. C. Smith; second lieutenant, H. C. F. Smith; bugler, F. E. Olds.

RUTHERFORD WHEELMEN. — Officers elected for ensuing year: S. W. Higbee, president; E. M. Bulkley, vice-president; S. L. Magie, secretary; H. R. Jackson, Jr., treasurer; W. Wallis Hill, captain; E. W. Dean, Jr., first lieutenant; W. C. Ireson, second lieutenant.

PAWTUCKET CLUB, Pawtucket, R. I. — Officers elected for ensuing year: A. H. Littlefield, Jr., president; Wm. H. Hodges, vice-president; B. W. Gardner, secretary and treasurer, Geo. C. Newhall, captain; Herman Wilbur, sub-captain; Herman Wilbur, guide.

RACINE BICYCLE CLUB, Racine, Wis. — Officers elected, December 8, 1886: President, H. G. Mitchell; vice-president, Harry Von Assdale; secretary-treasurer, W. J. Hogskins; captain, F. L. Mitchell; lieutenant, H. J. Rogers.

NEW JERSEY WHEELMEN, Newark, N. J. — Officers elected, March 1: President, F. A. Ball; vice-president, Paul Branzo; secretary, C. Dennison; treasurer, A. G. Winter; captain, C. B. Longacker; first lieutenant, T. E. Theberath; second lieutenant, L. S. Klotz.

FLORENCE CYCLE CLUB, Florence, Mass. — Officers elected at annual meeting: O. M. Smith; vice-president, H. B. Haven, Jr.; secretary and treasurer W. Haven; captain, E. A. Brainard; first lieutenant, C. J. Shearn; second lieutenant, C. E. Davis.

TOLEDO CYCLING CLUB, Toledo, Ohio. — Officers elected, March 7: President, A. H. Brown; vice-president, L. Thompson; secretary-treasurer, J. M. Tryon; captain, Walter Morgan; lieutenant, Lyle Hubbard; bugler, H. E. Richards; color-sergent, J. H. Kitchen; Wm. Grab, Jr., and E. F. Austin, club committee.

NEW YORK CLUB, New York City. — Officers elected at annual election: Edward J. Shriver, captain; H. S. Raven, first lieutenant, Dr. Morris L. King, second lieutenant, George S. Daniels, secretary; R. R. Haydock, treasurer; F. W. Kitchen, Fred. M. Daniels, club committee.

RHODE ISLAND WHEELMEN, Providence, R. I. — Officers elected: W. H. Thurber, president; W. W. Whitten, vice-president; J. A. Kinghorn, secretary; H. L. Perkins, treasurer; O. M. Mitchell, captain; J. L. Spiers, and W. A. Morgan, lieutenants; Dr. E. Y. Bogman, N. H. Gibbs, executive committee.

BICYCLE CLUB, Cincinnati, Ohio. — Officers elected, January 1: H. Kessler Smith, president; H. G. Ellard, secretary; Clarence Meyer, treasurer; Wm. Bahmann, captain.

CAPITAL CITY CLUB, Sacramento, Cal. — Officers elected at annual election: H. Bennett, president; C. H. Oatman, secretary-treasurer; John Brenner, Jr., captain; Byron L. Ball, first lieutenant; W. C. Heveuer, second lieutenant; Henry G. Toll, bugler.

NORRISTOWN CLUB, Norristown, Penn. — Geo. R. Kite, president; J. C. Crawford, secretary; W. H. Richardson, treasurer; H. E. Gammons, captain; L. L. Bickings, and E. S. Mitchell, lieutenants.

CAPITAL BICYCLE CLUB, Washington, D. C. — Officers elected last election: John M. Killitts, president; R. Kauffman, vice-president; C. A. Barnett, recording secretary; W. S. Dodge, corresponding secretary; J. E. Leaning, treasurer; L. W. Seeley, captain.

CAMBRIDGE BICYCLE CLUB, Cambridge, Mass. — Officers elected March 7: President, H. W. Hayes; secretary, J. H. Grimes; treasurer, George B. Adams; captain, Charles L. Smith, first lieutenant, H. M. Howes; second lieutenant, G. A. Perkins; bugler, E. S. Hilton; star and bearer, W. J. F. Shirreff; executive committee, president, secretary, treasurer captain, E. B. Colman, and John Amee.

PITTSBURG BICYCLE CLUB, Pittsburgh, Penn. — Officers elected, March 2: President, C. F. Siedell; secretary-treasurer, J. W. McIlwain; captain, H. E. Bidwell; first lieutenant, F. S. Cornback; second lieutenant, T. B. Lee; color bearer, C. A. Smith; directors, C. M. Clarke, and R. F. Smyth.

ATALANTA WHEELMEN, Newark, N. J. — Officers elected for 1887: President, W. S. Gregory; vice-president, W. A. Drabble; secretary-treasurer, W. E. Cuddington; captain, A. W. Snow; lieutenant, Samuel Drabble.

CLINTON CLUB, Clinton, Mass. — Officers elected, February 8: George B. Jackson, president; E. A. Evans, secretary-treasurer; R. O. Burns, captain; W. H. Jackson, sub-captain; A. G. Mungan, bugler; F. B. Evans, color bearer; S. C. Amstden, and S. S. Smith, with first three officers, club committee.

ALBANY BICYCLE CLUB, Albany, N. Y. — Officers elected, February 3: F. L. Ames, president; Robert C. Folger, vice-president; Wm. Honig, secretary; E. B. Noble, treasurer; F. G. Michael, financial secretary; A. H. Scattergood, captain, H. C. Foster, first lieutenant; J. C. Neville, second lieutenant; C. L. Gove, first bugler; T. E. Hubbard, second bugler, A. D. Grant, color bearer; J. S. Patterson, R. H. Robe, and W. B. Safford, trustees.

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

APPOINTMENTS.

MISSOURI. — Chief Consul Rogers has appointed W. M. Brewster, of St. Louis, as Representative to fill out unexpired term of James W. Neill, who has removed from the State and resigned his position.

MISSOURI. — Chief Consul Rogers has appointed the Lindell Hotel, St. Louis, a League hotel, and it will be L. A. W. headquarters during the meet. Regular rates, $4.00 to $5.00 a day; League members, $2.50 a day.

MISSOURI. — Chief Consul Rogers has appointed Prof. C. H. Stone, of St. Louis, a member of the Touring Board, to fill vacancy caused by resignation of James W. Neill.

NEW YORK CHAMPIONSHIPS.

THE following State Division Championships for 1887, viz: One half mile bicycle, one-mile bicycle, two-mile bicycle, three-mile bicycle, five-mile bicycle will be assigned to L. A. W. Clubs upon application to W. S. Bull, Vice-Consul N. Y. Division L. A. W.

ANNUAL ELECTIONS 1887. NOMINATIONS.

OHIO. — The Nominating Committee of this Division has recommended the following names: — Chief Consul, James R. Dunn, of Massillon. Representatives, J. M. Tryon, Toledo; R. B. Cary, Elyria; F. T. Sholes, Cleveland; W. P. Harmony, Sidney, O.; H. B. Hane, Marion; A. P. Seiler, Mansfield; F. S. Casselberry, Canton; Dr. C. H. Griffen, Ravenna; H. S. Francis, Uhrichville; F. W. Hughes, Columbus; A. A. Bennett, Cincinnati; F. M. Smith, Portsmouth.

WEST VIRGINIA. — L. A. Beall nominates Dr. F. S. Morrison, of Wheeling, for Chief Consul.

NEW JERSEY. — The Montclair Wheelmen nominate for Representatives, Dr. A. J. Wright and Jas. McFadden, both of Montclair.

NEW YORK. — The Ariel Wheel Club, of Poughkeepsie, nominates I. R. Adriance for Representative in the district.

INDIANA. — Nominations by a committee of the Division, Chief Consul, A. B. Irvin, of Rushville. Representatives, Fred J. Probst, of Terre Haute, and W. H. Pontious, of Crawfordsville.

CONNECTICUT, — The Meriden Wheel Club nominates Williams Collins, of Meriden, for representative.

MARYLAND, — The Rambler Cycle Club, of Baltimore, nominates C. W. Abbott, of Baltimore, for chief-consul.

VERMONT, — The Mt. Kilburn Wheel Club, of Bellows Falls, nominates the following ticket. — Chief-Consul, L. P. Thayer, West Randolph; representative, W. I. Russell, Bellows Falls.

MASSACHUSETTS, — The Cambridge Bicycle Club nominates for Chief-Consul, Herbert W. Hayes, of Cambridge; for representatives for the 2d Middlesex district, John Amee, of Cambridge, W. R. Maxwell, of Somerville, W. S. Slocum, of Newton, J. H. Grimes, of West Somerville.

MASSACHUSETTS, — The Chelsea Cycle Club nominates John B. Seward for representative in the first district.

CONNECTICUT. — The Derby Wheelmen nominate Edwin B. Gager, of Ansonia, as representative.

PENNSYLVANIA. — A special committee nominates T. Houard Wright, of Philadelphia, for representative.

PENNSYLVANIA. — The Nominating Committee announce that F. A. Deans, Dr. Geo. A. Bean, C. A. Roberts and C. D. Williams decline to serve as representatives, and they nominate in their stead, John D. Kaercher, Pittsburg, E. L. Russell, Blossburg, Samuel Jackson, Jr., Philadelphia, and C. Edward Stout, Bethlehem.

PENNSYLVANIA, (Telegram) Pittsburg, — Doctor Bean positively refuses representative. He favors Banker. — W. C. COFFIN.

PENNSYLVANIA. — The Allegheny Cyclers of Pittsburg nominate W. D. Banker, of Pittsburg, for representative.

TO PENNSYLVANIA MEMBERS.

THE Pennsylvania Division has purchased a supply of the L. A. W. Hand-books, which will be sent free to such members as send a postal-card request for them to the Secretary-Treasurer. I am informed that Messrs. C. A. Roberts and C. D. Williams have declined the nominations for representatives, and that Messrs. Samuel Jackson, Jr., of Philadelphia, and C. Edward Stout, of Bethlehem, will be recommended by the Nominating Committee. I would suggest that members attach (by mucilage) the corrected printed ticket to their voting blanks, as it will be much easier for the committee to count printed ballots. Changes, to suit individual preferences, can, of course, be made in the printed tickets by any members who see fit.

T. HOUARD WRIGHT,
Secretary-Treasurer, Penna. Div., L. A. W.

IMPORTANT TO NEW YORK MEMBERS.

Members New York Division L. A. W.

DEAR SIRS: — The apportionment of our divisions, membership of March 1, entitled to vote in the present elections, into districts, as provided for in our constitution and by-laws, results as follows:

1st district, 424 members, entitled to vote for 8 representatives; 2d district, 356 members, entitled to vote for 7 representatives; 3d district, 195 members, entitled to vote for 2 repre-entatives; 4th district, 122 members, entitled to vote for 2 representatives; 5th district, 167 members, entitled to vote for 3 representatives; 6th district, 290 members, entitled to vote for 5 representatives. Not districted, 1. Total accepted, 1,555. Total to be elected, 28, entitling us to 31 representatives, and leaving to be appointed 3 at large by our chief consul in due season.

If you reside in either of the following counties, New York Co., Richmond Co., or Westchester Co., you are members of the First District, and entitled to vote for eight representatives, residents of that district.

If you reside in Kings Co., Queens Co., or Suffolk Co., you are members of the Second District, and entitled to vote for seven representatives, residents of that district.

If you reside in Columbia, Greene, Rensselaer, Albany, Schoharie, Schenectady, Montgomery, Fulton, Saratoga, Washington, Warren, Hamilton, Essex, Franklin, or Clinton Cos., you are members of the Third District, and entitled to vote for three representatives, residents of that district.

If you reside in Monroe, Wayne, Oswego, Cayuga, Jefferson, St. Lawrence, Lewis, Herkimer, Oneida, Madison, Onondaga, Seneca, Yates, Ontario, or Schuyler Cos., you are members of the Fourth District, and entitled to vote for two representatives, residents of that district.

If you reside in Chemung, Tioga, Tompkins, Cortland, Broome, Chenango, Otsego, Delaware, Sullivan, Ulster, Dutchess, Orange, Putnam, or Rockland Cos., you are members of the Fifth District, and entitled to vote for three representatives, residents of that district.

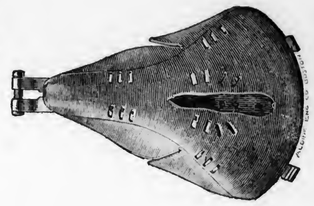
If you reside in Niagara, Orleans, Erie, Genesee, Wyoming, Livingston, Chotauqua, Cattaraugus, Allegheny, or Steuben Co., you are members of the Sixth District, and entitled to vote for five representatives, residents of that district.

Envelopes covering ballots must be plainly marked, "Mail vote, not to be opened until April 10."

Do not vote for more representatives than your district is entitled to, and remember that polls close April 10, and nominations will be put before you for your consideration.

Trusting that all of the foregoing may be satisfactorily explicit.

Yours respectfully,
E. K. AUSTIN,
Secretary-Treasurer.



BROOKLYN, March 18, 1887.
Address, 55 Hart street, Brooklyn.

THE TOWNSEND
Combination Spring and Saddle.
STODDARD, LOVERING & CO., Boston, Mass.

It is light. It is easy. It does not chafe. Try it. It fits any machine. Thoroughly ventilated. It does not sag or get out of shape. It combines the advantages of every saddle extant. It is fitted to all RUDGE machines.

PRICE, $6.00.

SOLE U. S. AGENTS,

STODDARD, LOVERING & CO.,

152 Congress St., Boston, Mass.

SPEAKING of the League Meet the American Wheelman says: "The most important work at this date — that of the finance committee — is well under way, and though much hard work remains to be done, the money needed ($5,000) will be forthcoming at the proper time. About $2,000 has already been subscribed. In this connection we may say that the bicycle manufacturers will not be called upon for a dollar, it being the committee's intention to raise the entire $5,000 in St. Louis.

THE TRADE.

DR. F. C. PIERCE, of Smethport, Pa., writes as follows: "My 1887 Rudge Light Roadster came in good order, and is a beauty. Most every young man has been to see it, and they say it beats them all."

A PROMINENT rider of Poughkeepie, N. Y., writes that the Townsend saddle is much admired and excels all others for ease and comfort.

H. T. HEARSAY, the popular bicycle repairer, of Indianapolis, Ind., has opened a general repair shop, at 147 Delaware street, and has secured the sole agency of the Rudge bicycles and tricycles for his city and immediate vicinity.

1887 Rudge samples are now on exhibition.

NOTES AND QUERIES.

1. CAN any of your readers inform me whether the old National Pike from Hagerstown, Md., to Columbus, O., is in ridable condition or what is the best route between those two points; also, what is the estimated distance? 12146.

2. WILL some of your readers who have had experience kindly inform us why the tandem bicycle is not popular. Two of our clerks are talking of procuring one, but would first like to know the objection that has kept the machine from being more generally used. 2545.

12678. — THE Committee on Uniform is at work and expect to report soon. We do not have an idea what they will recommend.

10592. — THERE has been a very great demand for a change of uniform. Many who have the present uniform have sent it to the dyehouse, and now ride in black. They have what you recommend, — a fast color and a strong fabric.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

The following is a list of applications for membership received up to date, and published in accordance with Article III. of the Constitution, which is as follows: —

"Any amateur wheelman, in good standing, eighteen years of age or over, shall, with the indorsement of two League members in good standing, or of three reputable citizens of the United States or Canada, be eligible to membership in this League upon payment of an initiation fee of one dollar, and such dues for the year as may be provided for in the By-Laws. Upon the approval of the Board of Officers, or a committee thereof, two weeks after the publication of the name in a list of candidates in the official organ of the League, the applicant shall become a member."

Applicant will please bear in mind that in addition to the two weeks, as above, it must necessarily take several days for their ticket to be issued, as it passes through two hands before being mailed to them. After four weeks from date of publication you may look for your ticket.

It is expected, and it is the duty of all members to examine the list of applications for their respective States, and report at once any error in name or address, and see that no objectionable person is admitted to the League. Any objection must be made to the Secretary within two weeks from date of publication. It will be considered confidential.

Candidates will please notice if their names and addresses are correct.

List 79 — Total 92.

BOSTON, March 21, 1887.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION — 6.

Los Angeles Wheelmen.
13982 Leslie, Fred L., Los Angeles.
13983 Lindsey, C. M., 331 South Hill St., Los Angeles.
Unattached.
13952 Ehrenberg, I., 51 Fremont Street, San Francisco.
13965 Henderson, J. E., Hayes St., " "
13943 Knox, Thos. R., r. 56, Nevada Block, " "
13966 Negra, Herman I., 1406 Sacramento St., " "

COLORADO DIVISION — 1.

Unattached.
13945 Berkey, Benn. S., P. O. Box 2017, Denver.

CONNECTICUT DIVISION — 2.

New Haven Bi. Club.
13989 Pani, C. E., 314 Broadway, New Haven.
Norwalk Wheel Club.
13932 Hubbell, William K. J., Wilton.

GEORGIA — 5.

Unattached.
13925 Bowker, C. F., Thomasville.
13926 Hall, H. W., "
13927 McDougals, F., "
13928 Smith, Davis, "
13929 Wetmight, G. W., "

ILLINOIS DIVISION — 7.

Owl Cycling Club.
13990 Skinkle, W. A., 185 Dearborn St., Chicago.
13991 Vassall, L., 122 Adams Ex. Bldg., "
Paris Bi. Club.
13934 Cook Frank, Paris.
13962 Cretors, Fred. G., Paris.
13963 Logan, John, Jr., "
13964 Reedy, S. O., "
Unattached.
13939 Smith, Frank J., Woodlawn Park.

INDIANA DIVISION — 8.

Terre Haute Bi. Club.
13992 Bernhardt, John, 517 E. Wabash Ave., Terre Haute.
13993 Blei, Otto, 1141 E. Wabash Ave., " "
13994 Calder, Ira, 603 North 4th St., " "
13995 Murphy, A. T., 115 North 14th St., " "
13996 Miller, J. F., 522 Wabash Ave., " "
13997 Murphy, Thos. C., 505 South 8th St., " "
13998 O'Boyle, J. H., 620 E. Wabash Ave., " "
13999 Pfranck, Francis, 24 South 5th St., " "

IOWA DIVISION — 1.

Unattached.
13956 Armstrong, R. L., Indianola.

KENTUCKY DIVISION — 2.

Louisville Wheel Club.
13967 Johnson, G. E., Courier-Journal Office, Louisville.
Unattached.
13984 Cowan, Albert A., 912 4th Ave., Louisville.

MASSACHUSETTS DIVISION — 8.

Hyde Park Ramblers.
14006 Howes, Alfred E., Hyde Park.
14007 Kenney, Geo. F., "
Tech. Cycling Club.
13940 Aldrich, W. S., 50 Union Park, Boston.
Unattached.
13944 Loring, E. Bradley, Hingham.
13968 Mitchell, Edward W., Medford.
14008 Nash, Willie B., South Weymouth.
13985 Simonds, J. O., Belmont.
13947 Torkelson, R. T., Waldo House, Worcester.

MARYLAND DIVISION — 2.

Mercury Wheel Club.
13958 Brown, T. Morris, 251 W. Hoffman St., Baltimore.
Unattached.
14000 Coale, W. N., Havre De Grace.

MAINE DIVISION — 1.

Portland Wheel Club.
14009 Sparrow, J. P., 126 Winter St., Portland.

MISSOURI DIVISION — 4.

Paynesville Club.
13959 Temple, Frank, Paynesville.
Unattached.
13986 Provenchere Felix, 2714 Dayton St., St. Louis.
13946 Romasser, Gus, Maryville.
13969 Updegraff, John F., Carthage.

NEW HAMPSHIRE DIVISION — 2.

Concord Bi. Club.
14001 Barrett, W. K., 133 No. Main St., Concord.
14002 Leavitt, F. A., 11 School St., "

NEW JERSEY DIVISION — 3.

Trenton Bi. Club.
14010 Skirm, Benj. C., 21 Clinton Ave., Trenton.
Unattached.
13970 Brower, T. H., Trenton.
13957 Waiser, Geo. N., 330 York St., Jersey City.

NEW YORK DIVISION — 20.

Auburn Cycle Club.
13988 Cothell, John H., Auburn.
Brooklyn Bi. Club.
13971 Smith, B. C., 219 Washington Ave., Brooklyn.
13972 " E. C., 219 " " "
13973 Stratton, C. A., 28 Third Place. "
Buffalo Bi. Club.
14012 Frick, Henry L., 253 W. Utica St., Buffalo.
14013 Hetherington, J. N., cor. Conn. St. and Fargo Ave., Buffalo.
14014 Letchworth, W. C., 68 Irving Place, Buffalo.
Ilderan Bi. Club.
13930 Boody, C. A., 206 Berkeley Place, Brooklyn.
13931 Ropkins, Edw., 98 So. Fourth St., "
Long Island Wheelmen.
13935 Hutchinson, E. B., 621 St. Marks Ave., Brooklyn.
13936 Schumacher, Wm., 1053 Sixth Ave., "
13937 Shepard, John S., 311 Lafayette St., "
Rochester Bi. Club.
14011 Cross, F. H., 72 Spencer St., Rochester.
Unattached.
13961 Beckwith, J. P., Westmoreland.
13948 Calkins, John R., Tonawanda.
14003 Fulcher, John H., 44 Lincoln Place, Brooklyn.
14004 Hardenbrook, D. L., Jamaica.
13985 Hunt, Lincoln, 329 Clifton Place, Brooklyn.
13951 Roy, Albert U., Wappingers Falls.
13949 Schachtel, Geo., 151 W. 19th St., New York.

OHIO DIVISION — 2.

Toledo Cycling Club.
13950 Vollstorf, A. W., care Blade P. & P. Co., Toledo.
Unattached.
14005 Martin, S. C., Huron St. Hospital, Cleveland.

PENNSYLVANIA DIVISION — 9.

Allegheny Cyclers.
13975 Groetzinger, Emil, 441 E. Ohio St., Allegheny City
13976 Staley, James, Box 159, Tarentum.
Unattached.
14016 Bush, Harry P., 62 River Ave., Allegheny.
13974 Fuller, Geo. L., Catasaqua.
13960 Holder, W. G., E. Smethport.
14015 Quinby, F. G., 2230 Page St., Philadelphia.
13938 Shepherd, J. G., Jermyn.
13955 Wible, R. E., Gettysburg.
13943 Woods, Chas. D., 933 Pine Ave., Pittsburg.

RHODE ISLAND DIVISION — 4.

Unattached.
13978 Carpenter, Howard L., 19 Arch St., Providence.
13979 Hubbard, Allen, 9 Custom House St., "
13980 Lukey, Wm. B., 5 School St., "
13981 Smith, J. M., 9 Custom House St., "

WISCONSIN DIVISION — 5.

Milwaukee Wheelmen.
13977 Schoenecker, V. J., Jr., 614 Island Ave., Milwaukee.
13941 Wegner, Wm. C., 110 Grand Ave., "
Racine Bi. Club.
13953 Marcher, E. M., Racine.
13954 Quarles, W. C., "
Unattached.
13942 Geer, Will, Menasha.

RENEWALS.

No. 15. Total, 7. BOSTON, MASS., Mar. 21, 1887.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA DIVISION — 3.

7653 Croxall, M. L. 8960 Williams, J. W.
12922 Pelouze, F. H.

DELAWARE DIVISION — 1.

2753 Moore, J. R.

NEBRASKA DIVISION — 1.

12271 Heartwell, C. L.

NEW JERSEY DIVISION — 1.

43 Waring, E. J.

NEW YORK DIVISION — 1.

2425 Valentine Eugene.

IMPORTANT.

The Grand Union Hotel, opposite the Grand Central Depot, New York City, is the L. A. W. and C. T. C. Headquarters. European Plan. Rooms, $1.00 per day and upward. First-class Restaurant, at moderate prices. Good care taken of wheels.

FOR SALE, EXCHANGE, ETC.

Advertisements will be inserted in this column as follows: $1.00 for four lines, first insertion; 50 cts. for each subsequent insertion. Extra lines at proportionate rates. About nine words to a line.

WANTED.—54-inch Rudge Light Roadster. FOR SALE.—54-inch Harvard Special, in good condition, cheap. R. W. MUNS, 41 Water St., N. Y.

FOR SALE.—Rudge Rotary Tandem, $125; 52-inch "Expert" Bicycle, $90; 38-inch "Rudge Safety" $90. "Bicycle," Box 1783, New York.

FOR SALE.—$100, 54-inch Rudge Light Roadster, spade handles, Kirkpatrick saddle; Lakin cyclometer; run one season; scarcely any wear on either tire, perfect order. Also, for $120, 53-inch, 1887, Columbia Light Roadster, spade handles, never used. LOCK BOX, Holyoke, Mass.

FOR SALE.—52-inch Expert, '83 pattern, straight handles, ball pedals, originally full nickelled, wheels new enamelled, warranted sound except tires, which are considerably cut, but still serviceable; McDonald cyclometer. Best offer above $60 takes it. A. B. REID, Clarion, Pa.

FOR SALE.—54-inch Expert Columbia, 1886 pattern. Wheels enamel, balance nickel. Good as new, only used two months. Price, $115.00. Also, 52-inch Expert, 1885 pattern, full nickel, first-class order. Price, $90. Address, C. B. CLARK, No. 25 Murray St., N. Y.

MANAGER WANTED by the New Jersey Cycling and Athletic Association, for the ensuing season. Address J. C. WILLEVER, Sec'y, Newark, N. J.

WANTED.—54-inch bicycle, in good condition. State make, finish, and price. FREDERICK A. NORRIS, No. 502 Third St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

SECOND-HAND BICYCLES WANTED for cash or in trade. Highest price paid. Give full particulars with your prices. Catalog free. GEO. W. ROUSE & SON, 25 G. St., Peoria, Ill.

QUICK! 52 Victor, good as new, newly enamelled and nickelled, $80. 52 nickelled Rudge Roadster, new, $95. 54 Expert, A1 condition, $90. All with ball bearings. Who speaks? CROWTHER & POTTER, Reading, Pa.

FOR SALE.—Royal Mail two-track Tricycle, 1886 pattern, in perfect condition, new last August; centre gear, ball pedals. Cost $175, price, $115. Address J. B. SEWARD, 31 Milk Street, Boston, Mass.

TANDEM.—A Rudge Humber Tandem, good as new, with ball pedals and Lakin cyclometer. Cost $270, price, $215. Address XXX, this office

FOR SALE.—"Expert" Columbia, 54-inch, 1886 pattern, full nickel. Excellent condition. C. J. EARL, 245 Harrison Street, Brooklyn.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE.—52 Expert, '83 pattern, nickel and enamel. Needs new tires, and new rim for small wheel. Otherwise good for several seasons yet. $40.00 cash buys it, or will exchange for D. B. breech-loading shot-gun of good make, 12 gauge. Address, C. V. REID, Clarion, Pa.

FOR SALE.—A 50-inch Standard Columbia, enamel, nickel-plated, cowhorn handle bars; in first-class order, with lamp. Price $65.00. Address, L. A. PERKINS, Tallahassee, Florida.

FOR SALE.—A new tricycle, only $65. Write to W. I. WILHELM, Reading, Pa.

SPECIAL BARGAINS in New and Second-Hand Machines, prior to removal April 1st to more central location in Orange. Bicycles, Tricycles, Tandems, and Safeties. Send for list. Write to us what you want, it will pay you.
L. H. JOHNSON, East Orange, N. J.

A FEW WHEELMEN can be accommodated with large, well-furnished sunny rooms, in immediate vicinity of Riverside and Central Parks (West Drive) and Boulevard. Half block from "L" Station. Excellent facilities for storing wheels ("Bikes" and "Trikes"). Breakfast if desired. Call or address H. W., 138 W. 104th Street, N. Y.

BARGAINS.—New 56-inch full nickelled Expert Columbia, 1886, Cowhorn bars, ball pedals, swing spring, only ridden a few miles, and in splendid condition, cost $160, will sell for $110. Good reasons for selling, call or address C. S., 225 Palisade Ave., Jersey City, N. J.

BICYCLES FOR SALE.—Bicycles and Tricyles—all kinds, descriptions, and prices—from $35.00 upwards. Call and examine, or send for list to RUDGE AGENCY, 152 Congress St., Boston, Mass.

FOR SALE.—48-inch Special Star, enamel finished, hollow levers, cones to front wheel, cowhorn bars, cricket saddle. Used three months. Tires excellent. Price $80. Lakin's cyclometer, $8. A. B. SCHNEIDER, Thomaston, Conn.

BARGAINS IN SECOND-HAND BICYCLES.—48, 50, 52, 54 and 58-inch EXPERTS; 50, 52 and 54-inch STANDARDS, etc. Also, 36 x 54-inch KANGAROO; excellent condition; $65.00. Second-hand sundries at less than half price. JAMES A. SPEAD, So. Newmarket, N. H.

The Keystone Bicycle Saddle!

Improved for '87; fits any Bicycle. Price, $5,00.

—MANUFACTURED BY—

W. J. NEWMAN,

Member C. B. C. and L. A. W.

10 Brattle Street - - - - CAMBRIDGE, MASS.

Agents wanted all over America. Patented.

NOTICE TO BICYCLISTS.

The McClintock Home Trainer.

You can ride at home, rain or shine, snow or mud. It discounts all Home Trainers. It is independent and superior to such machines generally used, from the fact that you can use any style of bicycle. You can adjust to suit the rider's muscles. You can raise or lower to any height wheel. It has no equal for a bicycle stand. It is superior to any invention to hold a bicycle to clean or wipe, also tightening the spokes and truing the wheel. It requires no more room than the bicycle does without it. Price $15.00 (Fifteen Dollars). Heavy discounts to all dealers. Send for circulars. Patent allowed, January 13, 1887. All infringers dealt with according to law.

Address all orders to

JAY McCLINTOCK,

No. 208 Hepburn St. Williamsport, Pa.

STRIKES DID IT!

They have caused the delay in the delivery of the L. A. W. RUG, which important event will positively take place this week. I might here mention that this beautiful specimen of the weaver's art, which is known as the L. A. W. Rug, is a Smyrna one, 5 feet long by 2 1-2 feet wide, containing 21 colors, the prevailing ones of which are old gold, cardinal and black. Upon a moresque background there is woven in the Rug the L. A. W. badge, 19 inches in diameter. There is a border completely around the Rug composed of 5 different arrangements of the League stencil-board. The Rug weighs 5 1-2 pounds; is alike on both sides, and fringed at both ends. All of this amalgamation of color and design is being fairly thrown away at the price of $5.00 per Rug, to all members who are smart enough to know a good thing when they see it, and in consequence send their early orders to

WILL R. PITMAN,

851 West 59th Street - - - NEW YORK.

We make a specialty in

SECOND-HAND BI TRI CYCLES.

Have large stock, many as good as new. Enclose stamp for List.

PRICES LOW.

SOLE AGENTS

For New York for the celebrated New Rapids, Quadrant, Sparkbrook, and New Mail.

New York Bicycle Co,

38 PARK PLACE, NEW YORK.

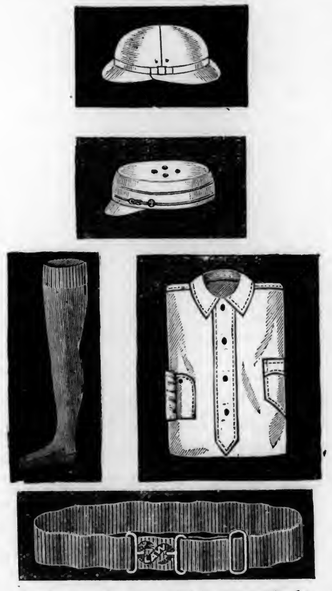
Send for Circulars.

SPECIALTY IN COLUMBIAS.

Second-Hand Machines

TAKEN IN EXCHANGE

For COLUMBIA, New Rapid, Quadrant, Sparkbrook, Star, New Mail, Facile, Rover, Humbers, or any other machines made



CORRESPONDENCE SOLICITED.

Ira Perego

128 and 130 FULTON ST., 87 NASSAU ST., New York.

The only Official Outfitters to the L. A. W.

L. A. W. Regulation	Cap - - - -	$1.50
" "	Helmet - - -	1.50
" "	Shirt - - - -	2.25
" "	Hose - - - -	1.10
" "	Silk Belts, in color to match the League Uniform - - -	1.00

All orders must be accompanied by money order for the amount, also name and League number.

English C. T. C. Cloth, double width, $4.00 per yard.

$3.00.

TOULMIN'S BUFFALO

Is made of the Finest Kangaroo or Dongola, in any size or width

Price, per pair,

$3.00.

BICYCLE SHOE

and warranted superior to any Bicycle Shoe made.

$3.00.

These shoes being laced to the toe, afford comfort to the wearer, in whatever position the foot is placed; and, also, are the most durable shoe made.

LIBERAL DISCOUNTS TO CLUBS

Ordering six or more pairs. Sent by express on receipt of $3.00, or by mail for $3.30. Send for circular containing prices of other shoes, and directions for self-measurement. Address,

W. B. TOULMIN,

152 to 160 Seneca St. - - BUFFALO, N. Y.

BIKE DRY POLISHER. The plated parts of any machine kept polished like new with little time or trouble. Satisfaction guaranteed. Price, $1.00, by mail. Circular free.

E. TAYLOR & CO., Cleveland, O.

STAR! ★ STAR!

NEW YORK HEADQUARTERS,

A. M. HALL - - - - MANAGER,

115 LIBERTY STREET.

BROOKLYN AGENT - - H. J. HALL, Jr.

Large stock constantly on hand to select from. Repair parts and sundries supplied.

H. B. SMITH MACHINE CO.

Works and main office SMITHVILLE, N. J.

SPADE HANDLES!

Handsomest, Strongest, and best Handles in the Market.

Only $3.50.

WE HAVE THEM TO FIT ANY CYCLE MADE.

C. W. SPINNEY - - Fitchburg, Mass.

ST. LOUIS WHEEL CO.

Difficult Repairing a Specialty.

Enamelling, Nickelling, Etc. at Lowest Prices

LARGEST STOCK OF SECOND-HAND BICY LES in the WEST. WRITE FOR LIST.

THE BROOKS IDEAL CYCLOMETER.

SIMPLEST, MOST RELIABLE AND BEST.

FULLY WARRANTED, only $5.00.

SEND FOR CIRCULAR TO

BROOKS' ODOMETER CO., LOWELL, MASS.

L. A. W. TABLE.

Made of Georgia Mahogany.

Presenting the brightest and most attractive finish of any of the native American woods. No pains or money has been spared to make these tables the most attractive piece of furniture ever offered.

L. A. W. SYMBOL,

Finely painted, ten inches in diameter, making the handsomest Card Receiver ever offered. Read what they say of it:

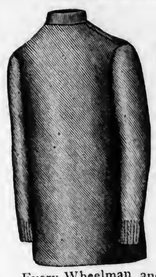
The beautiful finish and fine appearance of these Tables render them so attractive that L. A. W. members must prize them, as both ornamental and useful.
(Sgd) AUG. H. HANSELL, Judge Superior Court.

The Georgia Mahogany works beautifully in all finishing work, and we should think that this Table would be very attractive for the L. A. W. members for whom it is designed.
(Sgd) A. P. WRIGHT & CO., Bankers.

Mr. W. F. Moss: It affords me pleasure to commend the beauty and strength of the L. A. W. Card Receiver manufactured by you. The bright and pleasing color will make it attractive to Wheelmen or any one else. Yours,
(Sgd) S. G. McLENDON, Rep. Thomas Co.

There seems to linger in the delicate and peculiar shade of Georgia Mahogany lumber, something of the rich sunlight that has fed it and nourished its sturdy growth. It would strike the eye of an artist anywhere, and it exquisite finish would rival the famed hard woods of the world Mr. Moss deserves and should receive encouragement, he is taking the crude elements of our wealth and turning them into money.—Thomasville Enterprise.

Photograph sent on application. Every L. A. W. member should have one in his house or room, and every League Club should have three to ten in Club rooms. Special discount given where three or more are ordered.



PRICE $2.50. When five or more are shipped to one address, the freight will be just one-fifth of what it would be on shipment of one. Address

W. F. MOSS,

THOMASVILLE, GEORGIA.

Jersey-Fitting Underwear Company.

We Call Special Attention to our

BICYCLE JERSEYS.

Long sleeves, standing collar. Laced front, long sleeves.

LAWN TENNIS.

Plain Colors or Stripped.

Long sleeves, standing collar. Laced front, long sleeves. Jersey jacket, a new thing.

YACHTING.

Long sleeves, low neck. Long sleeves, half high collar.

ROWING JERSEYS.

Low neck, sleeveless. Low neck, long sleeves.

Every Wheelman and Sportsman will give them his approval when he examines the Shoulders, Arm Holes and Neck, as they are made to fit. These goods are PATENTED, and all infringements will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

OUR BICYCLE FULL TIGHTS

Are knit with a selvedge edge, in two separate parts from the waist to the feet, and formed while being knit to fit the limbs, so the strain upon the garment is equally divided on every part of the body. The seam, being a selvedged edge, is small and flat, and will not rip.

BICYCLE KNEE TIGHTS.

Made same as full tights, to three inches below the knee.

TRUNKS

Are a great protection to tights, receiving all the wear from the saddle, and can easily be removed, and thus save the more expensive garments.

JERSEY FITTING KNEE PANTS,

Buttoned in Front, same as Pantaloons, without Certain Objections.

We offer them to the trade and clubs as SOMETHING NEW, and invite all to examine them.

LADIES' JERSEY FITTING TRICYCLE PANTS.

A NEW THING

These Pants are close fitting, come three inches below the knee, are very elastic, and the most comfortable garment a lady ever wore. Made in Cream-Colored Cotton, Drab, Red, or any colors in Worsteds. Racing Wheemen tell us it is a loss of fifteen seconds in a mile to have some slight irritation from a non-elastic pair of cloth pants.

Patented April 7, 1885.

LADIES' UNION UNDER GARMENT.

We make the same thing for men, suited to outside wear, and of the same worsted as we use for Jersies and Tights.

Would like to have every Wheelman see these

JERSEY-FITTING STOCKINGS,

As we believe there is nothing better.

Send us your order for any of these garments, with your measure and a Post-office order for the same, and we will send by mail or express the garment ordered; and if you do not find them satisfactory, you can return them, and we will return the amount paid for them, or we will send them C. O. D., with the privilege of trying them on. Address,

HOLMES & CO., 17 Kingston St., Boston, Mass.

"In a word, a cycle bearing must be in that apparently paradoxical condition, at the same time very tight and very loose; that is, perfectly free to spin, and entirely rigid, allowing no shake in the parts."— Victor Catalog.

IT BEATS THE WORLD!

AND THE WORLD IS HARD TO BEAT.

1405 MILES IN 142 HOURS!!

Ridden by ALBERT SCHOCK, at Minneapolis, in competition with most of the great American professionals.

Mr. Schock writes:— "I am pleased with the Victor in every respect. I soon found it a vast improvement on all other wheels ridden by me."

Victor Wheels are built to ride. Bicycles, Tricycles, Safeties. Catalog free.

OVERMAN WHEEL CO. - - - 182 Columbus Avenue, Boston.

SEE HERE, GENTLEMEN!

THE RECORD CLAIMED BY THE ABOVE COMPANY REALLY BELONGS TO

THE AMERICAN CHAMPION.

It is true that SCHOCK started on their wheel, but it BROKE DOWN, and he rode two thirds of the distance on the CHAMPION.

How the above Company can claim that Minneapolis record of 1,405 miles, when they are well aware it is a FALSE claim, and mean fair, is beyond our comprehension.

Respectfully and sincerely,

GORMULLY & JEFFERY MFG. CO.

SINGER ✲ CYCLES.

◄BUY THE BEST!►

THE APOLLO

LIGHT ROADSTER

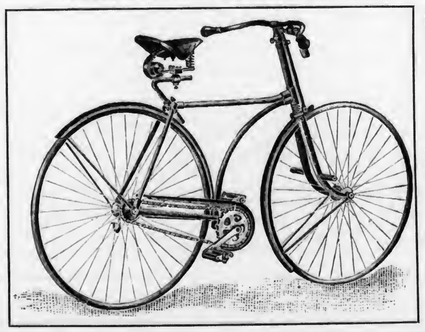
HAS A

Ball Bearing Head,

Spade Handles,

Detachable Bar,

AND



Double Ball Bearings.

THE EASIEST RUNNING AND FASTEST COASTING MACHINE ON THE MARKET.

1887 CATALOGUES

NOW READY.

APOLLO SAFETY. FAST AND LIGHT.

◄BUY THE BEST!►

SINGER'S

CHALLENGE

IS THE

Best Wheel ever put out at the Price,

$105.

Balls to Both Wheels,

Detachable Bar,

Spade Handles.

WEIGHT OF 50-INCH, 40 POUNDS.

A Well-Built, Durable Machine. All Steel

W. B. EVERETT & CO., Sole U. S. Agents,

6 and 8 BERKELEY STREET, BOSTON.

TO WHEELMEN.

PRINCETON, N. J., Feb. 9, 1877.

VAIL BROTHERS:

Gentlemen,— I have used your QUININE AND SULPHUR SOAP, and find it the best article I have ever tried for chafes and blisters after a day's ride on my wheel, and I have been very badly chafed, especially on hot days.

Yours very truly,

J. A. CALHOUN.

If you choose, you may publish this, as my feelings are somewhat enlisted as regards the comfort and success of brother wheelmen.

USE IDEAL TOOTH POWDER. Price 25 cents per Bottle.

The Jersey Fitting Underwear Co.

Manufacture a large variety of

JERSEY FITTING GARMENTS,

For Men, Women and Children.

TRADE MARK.

We call the special attention of

BICYCLE RIDERS

To our

TIGHTS AND JERSEYS.

Full Tights, Knee Tights, Knee Pants.

A New Thing,

TRUNKS & KNEE PANTS

For Lady Cycle Riders.

BOYS' TIGHTS AND JERSEYS.

We manufacture the best Fitting Bicycle and Lawn Tennis Jersey in the country, and commend every one to examine these goods before buying any others. Each garment bears our trade-mark, and is indorsed by the best manufacturers of Bicycles and Professional Riders. We invite dealers to examine these goods.

☞ Send for Circular. We send samples to any responsible party in the country.

HOLMES & CO.

17 Kingston Street, Boston, Mass.

STEEL BALLS FOR ANTI-FRICTION BEARINGS.

OF BEST CAST-STEEL,

HARDENED, GROUND, AND BURNISHED.

3-16" to 3" diam. Samples and prices on application.

SIMONDS ROLLING-MACHINE COMPANY, Fitchburg, Mass.

BROOKLYN RIDERS

TAKE YOUR WHEELS TO

SCHWALBACH & WILLDIGG,

PROSPECT PARK PLAZA,

AND HAVE THEM OVERHAULED.

Call and inspect the

WHEEL OF PERFECTION, THE NEW MAIL.

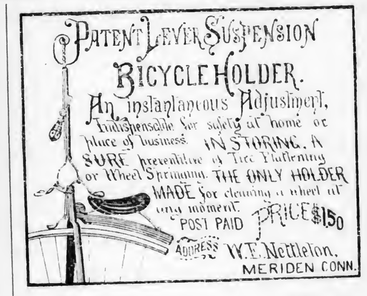
REPAIRS.

☞ Send postal card and have us call for Repairs.

PATENTS secured on reasonable terms. Work reliable. Papers carefully and legally drawn. Special attention given to inventions in cycling by an experienced wheelman and League member. Write for particulars. N. L. COLLAMER, Patent Attorney and Mechanical Engineer, Room 47, St. Cloud Building, Washington, D. C.

BICYCLE AND GYMNASIUM GOODS.

THE KINGSTON KNITTING CO.



No. 17 Kingston Street - - - - Boston, Mass.,

—)o(—

Manufac... in the Finest Worsted Stock all of the latest novelties in Jer... erseys, Knee Tights, Full Bodied Tights, Hosiery, etc., and ... Popular Colors—in Plain, Striped Trimmed.

We make a specialty in t... e Garments, and our prices are very reasonable. We refer to a large number of wheelmen, and who use our goods.

ORDERS SOLICITED.

Patented 1881. L. A. W. BADGES.

For Gold Pins of the Official Design, send direct to

CHAS. H. LAMSON,

177 Middle St., Portland, Me.

The Designer and Sole Authorized Maker.

Price for handsome Solid Gold Pins (stone centres) $3.50, $5.00, $7.00, and $8.00, according to finish and fineness (kt.) of gold. Diamond Badges, $15.00 to $50.00 for the larger pins, and $10.00 to $30.00 for the small size. Send for circular free. Orders by mail, inclosing money order and League number, will receive prompt attention.

Also for sale in New York at M. J. Paillard & Co's, 680 Broadway; in Philadelphia by H. B. Hart, 811 Arch St.; in Boston by The Pope Mfg. Co.; in Chicago by The John Wilkinson Co.; in Newark, N. J., by Howard Smith & Co.; in Minneapolis by T. F. Heath & Co.; and in San Francisco by Osborn & Alexander.

New Style H.

BROWNING, KING & CO.

406, 408, 410, and 412 Broome St., New York.

THE ONLY OFFICIAL CONTRACTORS FOR THE

LEAGUE ✲ UNIFORM.

LIST OF PRICES.

Plaited Blouse, $9.50; Knee Breeches, $6.00; Suit, $15.50. Regulation League Cloth, made by the Middlesex Mills, cost $2.00 per yard. League Buttons, large size, 5 cents each; small size, 2 1-2 cents each. Full set for suit, 55 cents.

TERMS.

All uniforms or parts of uniforms sent C. O. D., with privilege of examination. All orders for cloth or buttons must be accompanied by Money Order. Blank forms for self-measurement furnished on Application. Orders for L. A. W. Goods will be received at any of our branch stores, as follows:

136 and 138 Madison St., 144 to 148 Clark Street, 76 and 78 West Fourth St., CHICAGO, ILL. Cincinnati, Ohio. 210 and 212 N. Broadway, St. Louis, Mo. Wisconsin and E. Water St., Milwaukee, Wis. 910 and 912 Chestnut St., Phila., Pa.

All orders must be accompanied by League number.

TWO LEADERS!

THE "NEW RAPID."

FULL ROADSTER, 50-inch, 40 pounds.

LIGHT ROADSTER, 50-inch, 36 pounds.

ROVER PATTERN SAFETY.

All with TRUE TANGENT WHEELS.

THE "QUADRANT" TRICYCLES.

No. 8 FOR GENTLEMEN. No. 14 FOR LADIES.

No. 15 TANDEM,

For Two Gentlemen, Two Ladies, or Lady and Gentleman.

BICYCLE STEERING FRONT AND BACK.

You will do wrong if you order your new mount before seeing these machines or reading our catalogue, which illustrates and describes them and their IMPROVEMENTS FOR 1887.

SAMUEL T. CLARK & CO. - - - BALTIMORE, MD.

BEFORE YOU BUY A BICYCLE

Of any kind, send stamp to

A. W. GUMP - - DAYTON, OHIO,

For large Illustrated Price-List of New and Second-hand machines. Second-hand Bicycles taken in exchange and bought for cash.

Largest Stock of Second-Hand Bicycles in America.

BICYCLES REPAIRED AND NICKEL-PLATED.

A. W. GUMP, Dayton, Ohio.

SECOND-HAND GUNS TAKEN IN EXCHANGE FOR BICYCLES.

THE SPRINGFIELD ROADSTER,

MANUFACTURED BY THE

SPRINGFIELD BICYCLE MANUFACTURING COMPANY,

(YOST & McCUNE PATENTS),

19 PEARL STREET - - - - BOSTON.

The only absolutely safe wheel against "Headers" made. It is the best, and it is also the cheapest. Do not buy a wheel before you see the Springfield Roadster. Coasting without danger. Hill-climbing to perfection. Invented by riders of experience.

PRICE, COMPLETE, $75.00.

JOHN P. LOVELL'S SONS, 147 Washington Street, Boston, Sole Agents for New England.

THE "NEW AMERICAN" TRICYCLE,

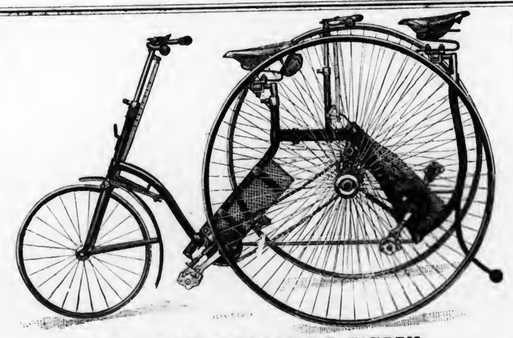
639 ARCH STREET, PHILADELPHIA.

We make but one style of machine, and that the BEST. There are NO EXTRAS.

NO DEAD CENTRES. FULL POWER UTILIZED. CLIMBS ANY HILL.

The best machine for ladies, as there are no revolving pedals to catch the skirts. The only Tricycle that can be ridden equally well by lady or gentleman, grown person or child.

Either Rider Can Steer.



May be Ridden by Two Ladies.

Has Automatic Steering.

Reduces in Width to 27 Inches.

Has Folding Handle Bar for Easy Access to Front Seat.

Is the Most Unique Machine of its Class.

THE CUNARD CONVERTIBLE TANDEM.

CUNARD

BICYCLES,
TRICYCLES,
TANDEMS,
SAFETIES.

D. ROGERS & CO.

SOLE U. S. AGENTS,

75 Clinton Avenue - - Newark, N. J.

Catalogues Free.

COPY OF TESTIMONIAL FROM T. J. KIRKPATRICK, Esq., VICE-PRESIDENT OF THE L. A. W.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Jan. 11, 1887.

D. ROGERS & COMPANY,

GENTLEMEN: — Respecting the Cunard Tandem, I have to say that it is, beyond question, the best tandem yet produced. Its compactness, ease of handling, light running, safety, and the ease with which it may be mounted or dismounted, by either a lady or gentleman, leave nothing to be desired. Its folding handle bar, and the fact that it can be quickly and readily taken through a common door, are features which make the machine a pleasure. I have owned other tandems, but this is the only one that was worth house-room as a convertible machine. I find it a perfect machine, in perfect balance, either as a single or a tandem. I have sought carefully, for some three years now, for the best tandem, and have given the matter a great deal of thought and attention, and if asked to-day to suggest an improvement in the design and arrangement of the Cunard, I would be free to say that it is as nearly perfect as this type of machine ever will be.

Yours truly, [Signed] T. J. KIRKPATRICK.

SEND YOUR ORDERS AT ONCE FOR SPRING DELIVERY, AND DON'T GET LEFT.

ACTIVE AND RESPONSIBLE AGENTS WANTED.

Send for list of shopworn machines, which must be sold to make room for spring stock.

Before purchasing your Mount for this Year, see the Celebrated

"ROVER" BICYCLE.

FITTED WITH EVERY POSSIBLE IMPROVEMENT.

FASTER THAN A BICYCLE.

SAFER THAN A TRICYCLE.

The "ROVER" BICYCLE,
As ridden by the Right Honorable Viscount Bury, President of the National Cyclists' Union.

No Skidding or Side-Slipping on Greasy Roads

And no Fear of Falls.

Starley's New Patent Spring Fork is now ready, whereby entire insulation from shocks is obtained in handles, pedals and seat.
This fork can also be applied to any tricycle.
Price lists, testimonials, etc. (including one from Viscount Bury, which every rider should read), post free.
Complete catalogue of all our machines, two stamps.

STARLEY & SUTTON, Meteor Works - - Coventry, England.

A LONG-FELT WANT SUPPLIED.

DO NOT BUY A LAMP FOR YOUR BICYCLE OR TRICYCLE BEFORE SEEING THE "MONARCH."

it is the only Lamp that can be Guaranteed not to Jolt Out on any Machine.

When ridden over very rough roads, the Lamp has a slow, parallel vertical motion, which is effected by means of noiseless rubber joints, which prevents the vibration of the machine from jolting out, or even diminishing, the light while going over rough roads where light is most needed.

On Sale about April 15, Due Notice of which will be given to the Public.

The Sensation of 1887!

ABSOLUTE PERFECTION!!

The Latest American High Grade Wheel,

THE NEW MAIL.

A Perfectly Made Light Roadster.

OUR SPECIALTY,

Perfection Strengthened Backbone and Forks.

BACKBONE.—Warwick's pattern, new this year. It is well known that in all machines, backbones are liable to and do break, causing bad accidents.

The place of breakage is usually if not wholly at the upper end, under the saddle, where is the greatest strain.

We have adopted Warwick's new pattern backbone which has greater thickness of metal at the large, or neck end, and tapers thinner to the small end; thus obtaining a stouter and stronger backbone, with no danger of breakage, while there is no increase in weight.

Also we preserve the oval shape, which is handsomer and stiffer than the round.

FORKS.—Warwick's "Perfection," having the same construction as the backbone, viz., thicker at the large end and tapering or decreasing in thickness at the small end.

This gives a very strong rigid fork.

A SUPERB LIGHT ROADSTER.

At least, Examine one before purchasing your mount, or get a Circular!

With Our Specialty, Trigwell's Ball Head.

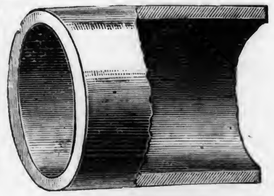
Extract from a London letter to the L. A. W. Bulletin January 8, 1887.

Speaking of manufacturers with "big stock" crying down improvements, a firm introduced a ball-bearing head, put it on their own machines, and induced one or two other firms to adopt it.

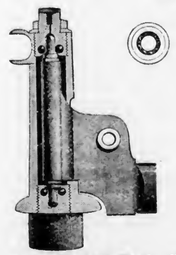
What a howl went up from the big stock people! They pooh-poohed it right and left; they wrote and talked it down, and tried in every way to smother it,—but it would not down. It grew steadily in public favor, until this year it is recognized as a sine qua non to a strictly first grade bicycle, and those who do not have ball heads will not rank among the highest grade mounts.

Of course the extra cost of construction will preclude its being used on second grade machines, but that is a vast improvement over the Stanley head, with cone or hemispherical centres, however true and well hardened, is a fact that the experience of 1886 has settled beyond the peradventure of a doubt.

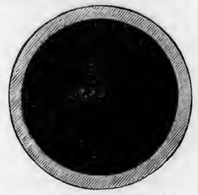
AGENTS WANTED EVERYWHERE.



SEE THIS WHEEL BEFORE PURCHASING.

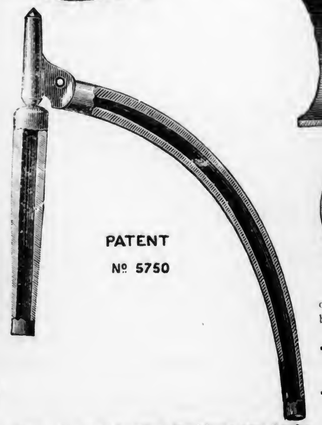


ASK YOUR DEALER FOR IT.

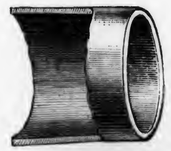


Warwick's New Hollow Rim,

With thickened bottom. Seamless and perfectly smooth outside.



Trigwell's Ball Head. Greatest Modern Improvement.



Sectional and end view showing strengthened neck end of Backbone.

PATENT
№ 5750

Sectional view showing Backbone and Forks when made up. A Splendid Improvement.

Sectional and end view of back fork end of Backbone.

Handsome Photograph OF THE NEW MAIL Sent for 14 Cents in STAMPS.

CEMENTED TIRE.

Good Agents Wanted in Every Town.

SEND STAMP for Fully Illustrated Circular of this Perfect WHEEL, with Full Representation of All Parts.

WM. READ & SONS, Manufacturers - - 107 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

How is this for a line of Wheels, Gentlemen? We think it about fills the bill and our prices, mind you, are reasonable.

THE AMERICAN CHAMPION, with many improvements, such as a superior crank fastening, which dispenses with use of a hammer, new bearings that are adjustable without loosening a screw even. Price, for 48-inch, $100.00.

THE AMERICAN LIGHT CHAMPION, a light roadster of highest possible grade, with a ball-bearing head, true tangent wheels, and embodying many novel and peculiarly useful inventions. Price, for 48-inch, $115.00.

THE AMERICAN CHALLENGE, much improved and fitted with cow-horn bars, as formerly the best machine on the market for the money. Price, for 48-inch, $70.00.

THE AMERICAN SAFETY, sold last year under our positive guaranty that it was the easiest running bicycle in the world, improved wherever possible. Price, for 40-inch, $74.00.

THE AMERICAN LIGHT SAFETY, after the lines of the regular Safety, but made hollow wherever possible, and will be sold under a guaranty as to its superiority over all other bicycles in easy running. Price, for 40-inch, $115.00.

THE AMERICAN IDEAL, as heretofore, the only high grade and honestly constructed boys' bicycle in the world. Finished in black, with artistic real gold stripes. Price, from $25.00 to $60.00.

THE AMERICAN IDEAL TRICYCLE, two-track, the young ladies' companion to the bicycle of same name, a really beautiful little three-wheeler, in two sizes, 30 and 34 inches. Price, $40.00 and $50.00.

THE AMERICAN CHALLENGE TRICYCLE, two-track, a high grade and honestly constructed three-wheeler, in two sizes, 42 and 44 inches. Price, $80.00 and $95.00.

THE AMERICAN IDEAL TANDEM, a convertible two-track for boys and girls, in two sizes, 30 and 34 inches. Price, $60.00 and $75.00.

THE AMERICAN CHALLENGE TANDEM, a convertible two-track for ladies and gentlemen, in two sizes, 42 and 46 inches. Price, $120.00 and $135.00.

1887 Catalogue, containing detailed description of the foregoing Cycles, will be ready early in March, and will be mailed on application.

RESPECTFULLY SUBMITTED,

GORMULLY & JEFFERY MF'G CO., Chicago, Ill.

THE L. A. W. BULLETIN

THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN. A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA. PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

$1.00 A YEAR. 3 CENTS PER COPY. | BOSTON, APRIL 1, 1887. | VOL. IV. No. 13. WHOLE NUMBER, 92.

Some Records on Columbia Bicycles

CHAMPIONS OF THE WORLD.

AROUND THE WORLD, = = THOMAS STEVENS.

GREATEST DISTANCE EVER MADE INSIDE THE HOUR,
22 MILES, 150 YARDS, BY ROWE, AT SPRINGFIELD, OCTOBER 25, 1886.

ACROSS THE CONTINENT, - - - F. E. VAN MEERBEKE.
ACROSS THE CONTINENT, - - GEORGE B. THAYER.
PENNSYLVANIA TO NEBRASKA AND RETURN, HUGH J. HIGH.

GREATEST DISTANCE EVER MADE WITHOUT A DISMOUNT, 235 MILES, BY MORGAN, AT MINNEAPOLIS,
DECEMBER 20, 1886.

	MILES.	TIME.
WORLD'S RECORD, - -	1-4	35 1-5
WORLD'S RECORD, -	1-2	1.12 4-5
WORLD'S RECORD, - -	3-4	1.50 1-5
WORLD'S RECORD, -	1	2.29 4-5
WORLD'S RECORD, - -	2	5.11
WORLD'S RECORD, -	3	7.48 4-5
WORLD'S RECORD, - -	4	10.41 3-5
WORLD'S RECORD, -	5	13.23 4-5
WORLD'S RECORD, - -	6	16.12 3-5
WORLD'S RECORD, -	7	18.59
WORLD'S RECORD, - -	8	21.41 3-5
WORLD'S RECORD, -	9	24.26 4-5
WORLD'S RECORD, - -	10	27.07 1-5
WORLD'S RECORD, -	11	29.51 3-5
WORLD'S RECORD, - -	12	32.35
WORLD'S RECORD, -	13	35.18 2-5
WORLD'S RECORD, - -	14	38.01 2-5
WORLD'S RECORD, -	15	40.41 2-5
WORLD'S RECORD, - -	16	43.26 4-5
WORLD'S RECORD, -	17	46.14 4-5
WORLD'S RECORD, - -	18	48.58
WORLD'S RECORD, -	19	51.40 1-5
WORLD'S RECORD, - -	20	54.25 2-5
WORLD'S RECORD, -	21	57.07 3-5
WORLD'S RECORD, - -	22	59.46
WORLD'S RECORD, -	23	1.08.22 3-5
WORLD'S RECORD, - -	24	1.11.38 4-5

14 TO 22 MILES, INCLUSIVE, BY ROWE, 23 AND 24 BY WOODSIDE, AT SPRINGFIELD, OCTOBER, 1886.

POPE MFG. CO.

BOSTON. NEW YORK. CHICAGO. HARTFORD.

A FAC-SIMILE BLACKBOARD, CONTAINING THE MATTER UPON THIS PAGE, SENT BY MAIL FREE TO ANY ONE WHO WILL HANG IT UP IN A CONSPICUOUS PLACE.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

In order to aid as many purchasers as possible, we give below a list of our larger agents who make a specialty of the RUDGE, and where sample machines can shortly be seen.

GEO. R. BIDWELL, 313 West 58th St., New York, N. Y.
DAVIS, HUNT & CO., 147 Ontario St., Cleveland, Ohio.
EDWIN MOHRIG, Golden Gate Ave., San Francisco, Cal.
SMITH BROS. & CO., Pennsylvania Ave., Washington, D. C.
WHITTEN & CO., 4 Westminster St., Providence, R. I.
S. H. VOWELL, 179 La Salle St., Chicago, Ill.
F. C. HAND, Scranton, Pa.
E. N. BOWEN, Buffalo, N. Y.

DENVER WHEEL CO., Denver, Col.
SAGINAW WHEEL CO., East Saginaw, Mich.
KENNEDY BROS., Minneapolis, Minn.
KIRK BROWN, 6 South Broad St., Philadelphia, Pa.
E. C. MEACHAM ARMS CO., St. Louis, Mo.
GEO. L. KNIGHT & CO., Amesbury, Mass.
ART. A. TAYLOR, Toledo, Ohio.
THOMPSON & KENFIELD, Rochester, N. Y.

Have You Seen Our 1887 Catalogue?

Have You Seen Our 1887 Catalogue?

RUDGE ✻ BICYCLETTE.

FASTER THAN A BICYCLE. SAFE AS A TRICYCLE.

STODDARD, LOVERING & CO.

152 Congress Street, Boston, Mass.

New York Headquarters, GEO. R. BIDWELL, 313 West 58th Street.

THE BULLETIN

OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN. PUBLISHED WEEKLY. A JOURNAL DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF CYCLING IN AMERICA.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY

ABBOT BASSETT,

SECRETARY-EDITOR,

For the Executive Committee of the League of American Wheelmen,

AT THE L. A. W. OFFICE,

22 SCHOOL STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

P. O. BOX 5267.

Entered at the Post-Office as Second-Class Matter.

SINGLE COPIES - - - - - - - 3 CENTS.
SUBSCRIPTION PRICE TO OTHER THAN LEAGUE MEMBERS, $1.00 A YEAR.
CLUBS OF FIVE - - - - - - $4.00 "

A. MUDGE & SON, PRINTERS, 24 FRANKLIN ST., BOSTON.

Subscribers should be careful to notify the EDITOR promptly of any change in their address. Great care is taken with the mailing list. Failure to receive THE BULLETIN may usually be traced to carelessness on the part of the subscriber.

All matter for publication, whether reading or advertising matter, should be addressed to the EDITOR. All checks should be made payable to his order.

Reading matter, to insure publication in the following issue, must be in the EDITOR'S hands not later than Saturday afternoon; advertisements not later than Monday morning.

The EDITOR must in all cases have the full name and address of the authors of contributed articles, as a guarantee of good faith. As the Executive Committee has decided that it is best to discourage the use of assumed names by writers for THE BULLETIN, the EDITOR will publish the author's name unless particularly requested not to do so.

For List of League Officers, Statistics of Touring Department, and directions "How to join the L. A. W." see special page in Advertising Department.

OUR esteemed contemporary, the Bicycling World, charges us with taking a pessimistic view of the financial situation of the League. We plead not guilty to the charge. We propose to let members know just where we stand, to look the situation squarely in the face, and to meet it bravely. We have faith to believe that the officials will be equal to the emergency, and that we shall come out of our troubles with flying colors. Our correspondence convinces us that we have no reason to doubt the loyalty of our members, and we know that they can be depended upon for any assistance that may be needed.

MEMBERS need not fear that the BULLETIN will be discontinued. It will come to them every week in the future, and the quality of its contents will not be impaired. We have found it impossible to free ourselves from contracts now in force with advertisers without resorting to methods which would not commend themselves to honorable business men, and we believe the members will prefer to stand a small loss rather than have its officials pursue any course that cannot be defended before those who demand the strictest fairness and integrity in all commercial transactions.

WE shall carry out all of our contracts to the letter, and no one shall have the opportunity to say that we have been unjust. Our new rates go into force with this issue. We have written several contracts at the new figures, and we are promised many more. Many large advertisers who failed to secure yearly contracts under the former management will doubtless feel at a disadvantage beside their rivals in business who are enjoying privileges at much less expense. This we cannot help. We wish we were able to put all advertisers on the same footing, but it is impossible to do so and get the income we must have to meet our expenses.

THE BULLETIN labors under the disadvantage that the paper is given away. It will be clearly seen that if we had received one dollar a year for the paper in 1886, — and one dollar a year is a very low price for a twenty-page weekly paper, — we should have made a clear profit of $6,000 instead of losing $5,000.

WE are under great obligations to the many advertisers who have said to us, "We are willing to help the League, and we will release you from our contracts if the others will." All such we shall not ask to stand aside. We appreciate the kind offer, nevertheless.

THE League is standing up well under the severe fire of criticism that is being turned upon it from all sides. The cycling press finds in the association a fine target for its shafts, and scarce an issue comes to us that does not contain criticism of some kind. And yet the League does not turn from its course, nor is the loyalty of its membership shaken. It speaks well for the faith of wheelmen.

BY an official order, Mr. John A. Wells is removed from the chief consulship of Pennsylvania, and Mr. Aaron is also removed from office. The President has not taken this step till he felt sure that there was good cause for it; and, having taken it, we believe he will be endorsed in his action by an overwhelming majority of League members if it should come to a question of standing by President Beckwith or Messrs. Wells and Aaron.

THE friends of Mr. Holly, of Philipsburg, Penn, are out with a circular in behalf of the candidacy of that gentleman for representative. The circular charges what it calls "the Wells Nominating Committee" with a want of fairness in leaving Mr. Holly's name off the ticket, and goes into the campaign with a cry for justice. We are in a position to know just how this matter stands, and we believe that both parties to the controversy will accept a statement from us. In the first place, Mr. Holly's friends should consider the make-up of the committee. It was composed of those who desired to see the State rise above the boy's play that has characterized some of the proceedings of the last few months, and others who felt that Pennsylvania had grievances to be righted. The committee could not make a harmonious report unless they met upon the common ground of setting aside Mr. Wells and Mr. Aaron on the one hand, and Mr. Holly on the other. Mr. Sanderson writes us:

"Our action was not taken until we had studied the question carefully, and consulted with some of our oldest and most respected members. I am willing to take a large part of the responsibility on my own shoulders. I determined that no name should go on the ticket, which, being there, would cause strife and bitter feeling, — at least, with my consent. Had it been otherwise, had the rest of the committee insisted on Mr. Aaron or Mr. Wells or Mr. Holly, I should certainly have made a minority report. It was my earnest desire to preserve harmony in our division, and it was the duty of every one of these gentlemen to second the committee's effort. I have nothing to say against Mr. Holly. I understand he has made a zealous officer, but a considerable number of our members, be they right or wrong, are hostile to him. A considerable number are hostile to Mr. Wells. We tried to allay these feelings by nominating a non-partisan ticket."

That is the side of the committee. On the other hand, we think no harm can come of Mr. Holly's candidacy. There are many in Pennsylvania who will be glad to endorse Mr. Holly's action in New York, and it is well that they should have a chance to vote for him. He goes into the canvass without the prestige of a nomination by the committee; but it will be all the more satisfactory to his friends if he scores a victory, and want of success will not discredit him.

THERE seems to be great unanimity in the nomination for president, and the division comes on the second place. One paper nominates Miller, of Philadelphia; two papers bring forward Welch, of San Francisco, and several papers want Hayes, of Massachusetts. Either man would serve us well.

MASSACHUSETTS is going to do a good thing for cyclers. A bill has passed one branch of the Legislature making it compulsory upon cities and towns to erect guideboards at every cross road and corner. The bill was drawn up by a wheelman who had the interests of the craft at heart. If it goes through the division will see to its enforcement.

WE are now in the second quarter of the League year, and applicants for membership should now send but $1 75 for initiation fee and dues to December 31.

FROM A FEMININE POINT OF VIEW.

MY advent as correspondent of the BULLETIN was followed very closely by an increase of correspondence, and if I ever doubted the need for a treatment of cycling subjects from a feminine point of view, I can no longer do so. The number of lady riders in America has now become very large, and I have good reason to believe that we shall see a very material increase the present year. These new recruits will find it greatly to their advantage to borrow from the experience of older riders, and that they may do this, a ladies' column has become a necessity in a journal which has such a constituency as the BULLETIN has.

"WHAT shall I wear?" is the most oft-recurring question, and those who have written me will, I know, excuse me if I answer them one and all through my column.

THAT one must have a special dress for riding no one will dispute who has been through the dusty and oily experiences of wheel life, but that it must needs be an expensive dress does not follow. A great deal of money can be spent on a wardrobe if one's purse is plethoric and her tastes proportionately luxurious, and on the other hand a good and sufficient outfit can be provided at very small cost.

FOR the gown, select some material medium in weight and inconspicuous in color. The League cloth of last year was very satisfactory, for it made up well and "wore like iron." The skirt should be without back drapery, and each one can suit her taste and pleasure about the front. A little drapery in front can do no harm in riding, and is of decided advantage in relieving the plainness of the skirt when one is away from the wheel; make the skirt of ordinary walking length in front, with a slope of three inches at the back.

THE present style of waists with revers and vest fronts are very pretty and look well on the wheel, and as the rider is not restricted to any particular form of bodice it may be well to follow the fashion in this regard, always remembering that a dress will catch and hold dust in inverse ration to its simplicity.

UNDERNEATH wear flannel next to the skin, dispense with both crinoline and corsets and have but few skirts. The jersey garments made in Boston are worn by many ladies, and are well adapted to riding purposes.

FOR head gear wear a small hat or cap. Let it be of light weight and of the same color as the dress. I have worn and like very much a ventilated helmet. By no means wear a kid glove. The silk and linen or the lisle thread gloves are elastic and will stand a good deal of wear. Do not go out without an extra wrap strapped to your wheel; you will need it if you stop for any length of time.

ONE writer suggests a V-shaped pocket in the skirt behind to prevent the lifting of the dress by the saddle. I see no objection to this, nor do I see any advantage over the sloped skirt, and certainly when off the machine the latter would be more easily handled, and perhaps attract less attention than the former. I think I voice the sentiment of all lady riders when I say "that the less conspicuous a dress is while at the same time it is appropriate to its uses, the more satisfactory it is."

I AM in hopes the League officials will not forget the ladies when they select the cloth for the new uniform. The ladies' weight material will not find a very large sale at first, but the opportunity to purchase cloth to match that of their husbands, will advantage many ladies.

"MERRIE WHEELER" has sent me a little poem, and as this effort of mine has been largely on dress I will let her bright verses give it relief:—

THE RETURN.

A 'cyc'er, worn out and weary,
Homeward wheels his way,
He 'd travelled far and travelled long
On unknown roads astray.

His "Norfolk" soiled and dusty
He 'd tied up with a string,
A neat and pretty parcel,
From the saddle's rear to swing.

His muscles tough and hardy
Were reaching fast a point,
Where every movement of the wheel
Seemed stiffening every joint.

His throat was parched and dusty,
His visage dark and grim,
For as he rode a dreadful thought
Had just occurred to him.

His wife was young and pretty,
His home a cozy nest;
He knew his comrades envied him
His quiet place of rest.

That morn he 'd started early
To make a two hours' run,
But, tempted by the skies so fair,
Full fifty miles he 'd spun.

Then came to him the query:
Can I get home to-night?
Hmt, I have myself to blame
For this most dismal plight.

He turned his wheel so trusty, —
The shadows longer grew;
The passers-by in wonder gazed
As on and on he flew.

With fear his brain grew heavy,
With doubt his heart was filled,
Now beating with tumultuous throb,
Now slow, and almost stilled.

The evening air grew chilly
As near his home he drew,
He muttered low, beneath his breath,
"If I only, only knew."

And walking thro' the open door
He paused his nerves to steady,
His wildest fears were realized,
His supper was n't ready.

It is well that "Merrie Wheeler" rang down the curtain where she did. I know how a famished cycler can conduct himself. DAISIE.

THE SOUTHERN DISTRICT LEAGUE TOUR.

Public Circular No. 2.

THE programme published in the BULLETIN, dated 4 March, is hereby declared final. Those who so desire are at liberty to make detours from the regular route to inspect points of interest other than those listed, but the line of march cannot be interrupted to accommodate such (de) tourists.

It is not thought necessary to issue a map of the route, as it is well known to wheelmen all over the country; and the popularity of the Lancaster pike, the Western Maryland thoroughfares, and the Shenandoah Valley road will at once command the route to the favorable consideration of tourists.

The plan of riding will be patterned after that adopted on Elwell's tours, and which has met with such universal favor, though with a slight modification. A captain will be selected from the tourists, and he will always ride at the head. The marshal will maintain a position at the rear. In entering, riding through, or leaving a town en route the military order of "by twos" will be adhered to, and the tourists will be expected to ride in good line in this form; but on the road each man will be permitted to choose his own companions and his own pace, providing he does not pass to the front of the captain or drop behind the marshal. The disagreeable results of a too great pace or too close order in riding upon the road, and the unsightly appearance of a straggling line in towns, will thus be effectually avoided.

Many inquiries have been received in relation to railroad fares, and a brief statement in relation to this matter may not be amiss. The fee for the tour (estimated at $22, exact figure to be published shortly in these columns) includes everything, from the start at Philadelphia to the finish at Staunton. The regular fare, Staunton to St. Louis and return, is $42, besides reduced fare for round trip, $21, if I can get it. The commission appointed by President Cleveland to put a legal construction on the terms of the Inter-State Commerce Bill have not yet given out their report; when this is forthcoming, the railroad magnates will be able to state positively what they can do for us. If reduced rates are decided lawful under the terms of that act, the C. & O. R. R. will give us the above rate. If not, we are up a tree. The regular fare from Staunton back to Washington is $5, to Baltimore, $6.20; and to Philadelphia $9, via either C. & O. or B. & O. roads.

Coöperation and support, gentlemen, is the life of a tour, and that denied, the success of this enterprise will receive a vital blow. I therefore earnestly exhort every wheelman who can spare the time to "fall in" at once, and with a goodly number of jolly fellows, all with one aim and one destination, we will ride "on to Staunton," united in sentiment, and bound together by the fraternal bands of our League membership.

I have been successful in my efforts to secure a bugler, and the clarion notes of the festive "reveille" will wake us every morning. The bicycle code published in the League handbook (of the secretary-editor, ten cents) will be adhered to, and the different calls will be used for order to mount, dismount, assemble, disperse, ride in twos, ride at leisure, take meals, etc. Tourists should procure this book at once, and familiarize themselves with the different calls. A sharp-eyed photographer is also booked as one of us, and if a tourist dares to be caught in any compromising attitude we 'll have him on a dry plate in a jiffy.

Many correspondents have asked probable size of the party. To such I would say in advance, "don't know." My personal enthusiasm says a hundred, my experience where cash and wheelmen are factors, pulls it down to a dozen, but returns so far, and probabilities which may be relied on estimate it at between twenty-five and forty.

The very best hotel accommodations have been secured at reduced rates, ample attendance will be in waiting. All principal points of interest along the route will be inspected, the local press will herald our coming, and the natives — cyclists as well as others — will receive us with open arms and a hearty welcome.

Arrangements are rapidly nearing completion, the prospectus is already partly in type, the time is ripe for volunteers, and my Roll Book is open for signatures. Receipts will be given for advance deposits of not less than a dollar, and these receipts will secure to the depositors a place in line. Let the doubtful ones, then, send on their little shekel before the limit is reached, in order that the size of the party may be kept within reasonable imits; and

"DON'T ALL SPEAK AT ONCE!"

N. L. COLLAMER, Marshal.
ST. CLOUD BUILDING, Washington, D. C.

RECENT CYCLING PATENTS.

J. HARRINGTON, Hadsworth, England, bicycle wheel.

T. B. JEFFERY, Chicago, Ill. (2), bicycle backbone and velocipede.

A. O. PETIT, Chicopee Falls, Mass., bicycle brace.

C. A. E. T. PALMER, Coventry, England, velocipede.

UNDER the new tariff made by the Boston and Albany Railroad under the Inter-State Commerce Bill bicycles will be carried distances of fifty miles for fifty cents, and one cent will be charged for each additional mile. Tricycles will not be received in baggage cars.

CORRESPONDENCE.

The editor wishes it distinctly understood that he is not responsible for the statements and opinions expressed in these columns.

NICKEL PLATE.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — Some time back, I saw an inquiry in the BULLETIN asking how to keep a nickel bicycle in a bright condition. The Secretary-Editor answered that if he had such a wheel, he would sell it and buy an enamelled one, as he had found it next to impossible to keep a nickelled wheel in a presentable condition, unless he devoted much time to scouring. Such is not my experience, nor that of other cyclists in this locality. Any one acquainted with nickel will know that it is a very hard metal, and not easily cut down or rubbed away except by means of some compound designed to reduce the surface of metal to a lustre.

By continuing the use of compound, the nickel will become rubbed away until one comes down to the metal whereon the nickel has been deposited. I have tried all kinds of pomades for polishing mediums, but found nothing so satisfactory as finely ground pumice stone. In cleaning my wheel, I have a dish of oil at my right hand and pumice stone at my left. Taking a soft cloth, I moisten it in oil, dust some pumice on it and go to work, taking care to rub lightly.

One will find almost instant removal of rust from the nickel. Care must be taken simply to clean wheel, not to rub a second after rust is removed. Patented boxes of paste, composed of rouge and oil, are all very good, as one can rub a week, getting tired of the process, doing no harm, and wearing oneself out, to keep a nickel machine presentable. The worst shape a nickel wheel can get into should be as good as new in an hour; thirty (30) minutes a week should keep a wheel as if it had never been used. With pumice and oil it scarcely needs more than rubbing over.

Stop as soon as possible!

It simply accomplishes in a moment what rouge will in an hour, and rouge will not remove rust. Watch carefully and see if you are polishing on steel when the nickel is gone, or whether the rust has worked through the nickel. If the nickel has previously gone, all one can do is to remove the rust, and the polished steel will show, leaving an unnoticed difference in the general effect of a handsome new wheel. I have cleaned my wheel in this way for two years, and am as proud of its handsome finish to-day, as when it came from the factory. It only gets wiped off with a dry rag about twice a week, not expending ten minutes at a time on each occasion. When I find spots very bad, I put my pumice on them, and then go lightly over the whole wheel. In this way you will never feel that a nickel wheel entails any trouble, and one will have a beautiful object to look upon. One's friend's black wheels go bespattered and grey, and because they are black the spots pass unnoticed. It's like wearing a black shirt, — a white one shows when it needs washing, a black one fools the easy wearer into thinking that his friends will take it for clean.

I am glad to see that the ladies' column is being appreciated, as it will tend to bring forward comments from the gentler sex, and help advance cycling. I trust at some near date to have the pleasure of forwarding two cold dollars for the application of Mrs. Six-twenty-four to the fold. No. 624.

BALL HEADS.

EDITOR BULLETIN: — We have noticed recently in the columns of your paper, that some of your English correspondents disagree with me in regard to the advantages and disadvantages of certain specifications in bicycles and tricycles, which were my candid impressions, obtained from examining them while in England, and which I gave to the papers upon my return.

Now I do not intend to go into a lengthy warfare over the merits or demerits of any specification of any particular machine, for I believe that every one has a right to his own opinion; and while it may be that I differ from such writers, I do so for the simple reason that I do know to a certain extent that which is best suited for American roads and riders, gained from an experience of eight years as a rider and four years as the manager of an importing firm.

It appears to me that your correspondent believes that I gave the American public an erroneous opinion regarding certain so-called improvements, and in justice to myself I claim the right of proving the truth of my statements.

In the first place I wish to quote the following from my report to the Boston Herald on the subject of ball heads: —

"The subject of ball heads was being agitated, but from what I could discover none had appeared as yet that had proved to be specially valuable. They were introduced last year, and were found to be rather a taking attraction, but beyond an advertisement no good results were obtained. I went into the matter as fully as possible, and almost without exception every manufacturer that I saw remarked that in the first place the ball head was entirely unnecessary, and it only made the machine more complicated, thereby adding a greater risk of broken parts; and even if it did work well there was not the slightest advantage over the thoroughly well made cone head of the present time. The English manufacturers have found that it is well to adhere to the old rule, viz: 'If you have a good thing, hold on to it.' . . . To be sure, they say we must improve our machines every year and add some attractive selling feature. Yet if we have any doubt, we cannot afford to make our machines and run any risk, because one novelty would prove useless and would ruin our reputation, so it is better to go slowly."

The above opinion was obtained after looking into the matter as carefully as possible, and I am more than ever convinced that they are quite true. I do not mean that the ball head is not, or will not ever be a good thing, but I do mean to say that in my humble opinion the ball head has not reached that stage of perfection necessary to have it attached to a bicycle for use on American roads.

I have seen one or two ball heads which I think are very good indeed in principle, but they have only been tried a very short time, and in the present state of affairs it would be unwise to have it fitted to a bicycle without being properly tested. One thing that the English writers must recollect is, that England is a very small country, and that a rider buying a machine with a ball head can have it repaired with comparatively little difficulty, no matter where he may be; while in America, the repair shops being few and far between, it is a very different affair.

I admit that when the ball head has reached its state of perfection that it will probably be attached to bicycles in some form or other, but not believing it to have reached that state, I do not think that I can be blamed for keeping on the safe side of the line, but I also note that two of our largest manufacturers are on the same side with me.

I notice also that in a recent edition of your paper that another writer takes me to task for my opinion on the bearings on a tricycle axle. In his opinion four bearings are what is needed.

In this matter I quote as follows: —

"In conversation with a number of riders in London one night, I found the general opinion seemed to be that the weight of the tandem at the present time would be increased rather than otherwise. From what I could learn, it seems that a great many axles have been breaking, which is due to the fact that the riders wanted light tandems, and insisted upon it. This the manufacturers would not do unless they took the responsibility, and they took it, as well as the consequences. It is impossible for one to realize the tremendous strain to which the tandem is to be put, and I believe that in making this style of machine that strength and durability are more to be thought of than weight. A number of makers are putting four bearings on the axles, but I do not think that this is nearly as good as two, providing you can get your axles to stand. With the four bearings it will certainly not run as easily as two bearings; although it may strengthen the axle to a certain extent, it will take much less strain to throw the four bearings out than if there were only two. I think that two bearings placed somewhat further apart, say about eleven inches instead of five, as before, would divide the strain without any increased friction." In proof of this opinion I wish to state that out of the many tandems which my firm sold last year, we did not have one axle break.

It is all very well for some one to look over the trade in England and state the novelties which appear, and give his opinion of them; but I think that if that individual had to buy all of these novelties and sell them again, he would have rather a greater task on his hands than he had imagined, and I am inclined to believe that he would think that my "impressions" were not quite so bad, after all.

As I stated in the beginning, I have not written this for the purpose of entering into a controversy with your esteemed correspondents across the water, but simply in defence of my own opinions, and should any one else not agree with me, I bid them welcome to their ideas, but at the present time mine remain unchanged. H. D. COREY.

BOSTON, MASS., March, 1, 1887.

KARL KRON'S BOOK.

EDITOR BULLETIN: Though two paragraphs in the Wheelmen's Gazette of March refer readers thereof to my monthly report of progress "in another column," the report itself had the ill-luck to get crowded out. Hence I should like to say to League men, through your columns, that the main text of my book (800 pages) is actually printed; that 64 pages of Preface, Table of Contents, and Indexes are in type; and that the general index of 16 pages is yet to be compiled.

I intend to date the book on April 19, which will be the fourth anniversary of the fated day I conceived the notion of it; and cash orders for the "autograph editions," at $1.50 each, will be accepted until that date, though all later purchasers will be charged $2. "May 4" is the day I now hope for as seeing the volume actually completed, but I don't know how severe a task the preparation of the "general index" may prove to be. For six weeks, now, I've been trying to resume work on the "last three quarters of it"; and I have n't advanced a peg! Let me hope that the weeks just ahead may show a better result of "trying."

League men who have lost all patience with my apparently never-ending delays, are respectfully reminded that the 880 pages of "XM Miles on a Bi." will contain 657,000 words; and that if sold at the same rate as the 300,000 words of "Gen. Grant's Memoirs" (2 vols., 1,232 pages, $7), its price would be $1.5 a copy. Though my words may not be valuable or interesting, I have at least dragged a good many of them together.

KARL KRON.

WASHINGTON SQUARE, N. Y., March 26, 1887.

CYCLETS.

HAIL, April 1.

NOW get ready to ride.

SCRUB up the wheel, oil the bearings, and go upon the road.

FAST DAY opens the season in Boston, and sees southern cities well into the riding season.

1887 will see more variety in machines than any previous year has given us.

THE old forms will be inconspicuous, and clubs on the road will present a better study of wheel architecture than ever before.

PERHAPS another year will see us settled down to one particular form, but this year wheelmen will be experimenting.

THE tandem is to be more popular than ever, and when the tandem comes we shall be sure to see the ladies in greater force.

GASKELL has joined the forces at the Pope Manufacturing Company's. He will be the company's salesman. His many friends will be glad to see Herbert in his new place.

WHEELMEN want all the time they can get during the riding season, and it is therefore with some degree of satisfaction that they remember that the six weeks that are Lent are in the months during which we cannot ride.

MR. LAMSON, of badge fame, is reported on the Pacific Coast receiving attentions from Los Angeles Wheelmen.

THE Bay City Wheelmen, of San Francisco, have called a century run for next Sunday. The weaker riders will have an hour's start.

THE American 'cycling team, Woodside, Morgan, and Temple, were at last advices sojourning at the residence of Woodside's father, Dunduan House, near Coleraine, Ireland.

ENGLISH ladies who have heard of the success of the North Shore tour which the Massachusetts ladies have conducted the last two years are talking of organizing a tour to the Lakes of Killarney in Ireland.

THE Citizens' Club of New York now boasts one hundred and twenty-five members. "Smokers," receptions, and social gatherings have kept up the interest and enthusiasm of the members during the winter months, and with the opening of the riding season club matters are booming.

THE Gormully and Jeffery Manufacturing Company write us as follows: "We have entered suit against the Pope Manufacturing Company for infringement of our Smith ball-bearing and Lillibridge Saddle patents."

THE last pages of the New York Road Book are in the printer's hands. The index has references to 1641 towns.

THE Gormully and Jeffery Manufacturing Company is out with its catalogue for 1887. It has the same tasty cover as the catalogue of last year and contains a full description, with cuts, of the machines made by this company.

A FORMER member of the Ramblers is said to have given utterance to the following, when he heard that the races were postponed: —

Oh; ye gods, for a gold medal!
Must I always race in vain?
For when I get a soft snap,
Why, bless me, it must rain.
— Oakland Enquirer.

IN building their new club house the Philadelphia Club did a thing that will bear imitation. They made especial provisions for the accommodation of the ladies, and now they may have social gatherings in which the fair sex may join and share the benefits of the new house.

THE Cambridge Club men have kept in training all through the winter, and expect to show to advantage on the road the coming season. Their particular kind of training has been in the festive dance halls, and it is said that the more enthusiastic dancers have to keep in the affections of at least three young ladies, for no one young lady could stand the wear and tear incident to six nights a week in the ball-room.

IN two successive afternoons at the middle of February, Karl Kron pushed his bicycle straight away for fifty miles, over the ice, snow, mud, and slush, from West Springfield, Mass., to Meriden, Ct., where a heavy rain forced him to abandon the idea of wheeling another hundred miles to New York. This excursion was designed as a relief for "six weeks' steady indexing, which completed all the 'X. M.' indexes but the last." — Gazette.

THE interstate commerce bill is a bitter pill for the League. No reduced rates to St. Louis is now the prospect before us. No reduced rates means reduced attendance. If we were in the tight little island we might go on our wheels, but we can't ride a thousand miles, you know.

MASSACHUSETTS men will go to the meet at St. Louis in a special car. At Rotterdam Junction the New York contingent will be taken up, and then the train will move along, taking up new recruits at Buffalo, Cleveland, Springfield, and Indianapolis. They do say that a band will be taken on during the journey. Truly there will be music at St. Louis.

GEORGE M. HENDEE writes from the West that he has struck something vastly more profitable than racing, and will not train for any tournament this year unless a change comes over the spirit of his dreams. He had been "on the road" in the commercial traveler's sense just twenty days at the time of writing, and had booked bona fide orders for 1200 Springfield roadsters. This is the Yost & McCune wheel, invented and perfected at Chicopee and made at Worcester. Hendee has shown this machine through Pennsylvania and beyond, and everybody was "taken" by it. If his rate to the trade is $50, his sales in three weeks aggregated $60,000 at least. — Republican.

CHIEF CONSUL DUNN, of Ohio, has been visiting in Florida. We shall hear, at St. Louis, whether shooting alligators or knocking oranges off the trees was the more attractive sport.

THE Cambridge Bicycle Club held its annual dinner on Thursday evening of last week. A very large number of wheelmen, members of the club, sat down at Young's and discussed the liquet. President Hayes presided, and a number of informal speeches were made at the close of the feast by invited guests and members. Representatives were present from the Roxbury, Boston, Somerville, and Chelsea Clubs.

THE consideration in selecting the ticket ought not to be so much the personality of the candidates as their loyalty to the League. The meeting in May promises to be tempestuous, and those who wish to see the strongest and best friends of the L. A. W. in power, those who have had no connection with rival organizations, will see that their votes are cast wisely, as with the A. C. U. and the Aaron faction blazing away at the grand old League ship she needs loyal sailors aboard. — Spectator.

CONGRATULATIONS are in order. Gentlemen, here's to Colonel Pope, of Boston, and George D. Gideon, of Philadelphia; may the two boys be endowed with all the grace and beauty of their respective fathers, and may they win to themselves by their sterling good qualities as many friends as those fathers now can boast. Drink heartily.

THE annual meeting of representative members of the American Cyclists Union was to have been held at the United States Hotel, Boston, last Saturday forenoon at 11 o'clock, but only four members being present, the meeting was adjourned until 3 o'clock, in hopes that a quorum would report. According to the constitution, ten members must be present to hold a meeting. The afternoon session was equally as fruitless as the forenoon, and an adjournment was had, subject to the call of the president and secretary.

IT is rumored that a Victoria "six-in-pedal" will come to Boston.

C. P. DANIELS is training Rhodes at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium for the 100-mile road race at St. Louis in May. Rhodes is in better condition than ever. He weighs 180 pounds, and will begin regular training on the road about April 1. He has already ridden about 400 miles this year.

THE Columbia tandem has been tried on the road several times within the last week, and it is pronounced a great success.

PHILADELPHIA riders have been enjoying the early riding season for some weeks now. The park roads are reported in good condition, and the Lancaster pike is all that could be expected at this time of the year.

MR. GEORGE H. DAY was, on Friday of last week, elected president of the Weed Sewing Machine Company of Hartford. Mr. Day began his connection with that company as assistant secretary, and was subsequently elected to the full office, which position he held for eight years. For the past six years he has been manager of the bicycle department, and three years ago was chosen treasurer.

MR. W. C. HERRING, of the Ixion Club of New York, arrived home last week from a two months' southern trip. He is making preparations for his departure for Japan, which will be made between the 1st and the 15th of April. He will journey to San Francisco by rail, sail to Yokohama, spend about two months in Japan, and return home via Europe, making a somewhat extended stay in London. Mr. Herring will ride a tricycle, and will take a camera along.

HERBERT W. GASKELL, for six years with the Coventry Machinists' Company of England, and for the past three years its American representative, has connected himself with the Pope Manufacturing Company as head salesman. Mr. Gaskell was born in Liverpool twenty-seven years ago, and graduated from Liverpool college He is popular, and celebrated in cycling circles on both sides of the water. Among his achievements are: The English one-mile amateur championship of 1881, the two hundred-yard finish in handicap races, and as the hero of the Springfield tournament of 1883. Mr. Gaskell is the second English wheelman who has given up selling foreign made machines upon American soil, and is attending to the interests of Yankee wheels in Yankeeland.

MR. A. M. HALL has withdrawn from the firm of Howard A. Smith & Co., and assumed the management of the H. B. Smith Machine Company's branch house at No. 115 Liberty street, New York City, where he will carry a large stock of Star bicycles and woodworking machinery. Mr. Hall has associated with him C. W. Higgins, formerly of the works at Smithville, and both will be glad to see their friends at all times.

OUR thanks are due the Scranton Club for an invitation to the Thomas Stevens reception, lecture, and banquet on April 12.

A LUDICROUS scene is described in an English paper. A club had called a run to a certain village in which from past experience they knew provisions to be scarce. In order to be prepared they carried suspended from their handle-bars some meat, which being scented afar by dogs caused them to be followed by a troop of canines, making things as unpleasant for the riders as it was amusing for the people along the way.

A MRS. GOWAN has started on a tricycle tour from Perth to London. She carries an eight-months old baby with her.

THE C. T. C. Gazette costs the club £1,600 a year, and comes out but once a month.

ENGLISH wheelmen are just now talking about the ride of James McIntosh from Dundee to London. This ride becomes marvellous when we consider that the rider has lost both legs. The machine was an old Excelsior rear steerer with three unequal size wheels, and fitted with hand levers. He was twenty days making the trip, and he arrived in London in fine condition. As he is in somewhat depressed circumstances, the News, which has a picture of rider and machine, has started a subscription in his behalf.

A STRING of a dozen tricycles, each engineered by a miss of not more than fourteen years of age, was seen encircling one of the blocks east of Broadway. "Yes, this is a tricycle club," said a modest and pretty child who was asked the meaning of the procession. "We have nearly forty members. Most of us live in this part of the town, and some of us are out riding every afternoon. The club has no name yet." And with this information she started vigorously in pursuit of the rest of the machines, which had kept steadily on their way. It is a pretty and healthful sport for girls. — Oakland (Cal.) Enquirer.

EXPERIMENTS were made last week at Puteaux, near Paris, with the steam tramcar of M. Trépardoux, and with a steam tricycle of the same inventor. In both cases the motor is placed on the vehicle itself, thus increasing by its weight the adhesive power of the wheels, and facilitating the ascent of steep gradients. The complete tramcar weighs 8 tons and carries 48 passengers. The steam tricycle weighs 150 pounds, and on a level road attained a speed of twelve miles an hour. — Industries, 18th February.

LAST Saturday evening (18 March), while riding up Mahoning street on his bicycle, Frank Meyer was driven into and run over by two men in a heavy one-horse wagon, the wheels going over his left leg and arm, and the steering bar of his machine; but luckily, the ground being soft, both rider and machine escaped with little damage As the collision happened within nine feet of the right-hand curb-stone and to the right of the beaten track, the cyclist was clearly entitled to the right of way. A warrant for the arrest of the parties was sworn out, and they will be prosecuted to the extent of the law. — Canton Roller.

THE question of hats has been disturbing us now for nine long years, and though we fancy we have discovered the most suitable for all-round work, we are not sufficiently convinced to persuade our readers to give up all other styles and follow our example. The polo, in 1878, was, of course, the only cap suitable for cycling, everybody wearing it, from the silver-braided clubman down to the despised — at that time — unattached. It was fairly comfortable when it had not been soaked through many times, but the wearer of it never felt comfortable in it unless he also wore the knee-breeches and tightly-fitting jacket which accompanied it when on the machine. The straw was our next venture; this, on a hot day, was deliciously cool and comfortable, and, judging by other men's appearance, looked well; but alas! in wind or rain, the wearer was the most unhappy being imaginable, the former delighting to curl itself around the brim and take its victim far, far away; the latter persuading the fast color of the ribbon to run to any extent into the plaits of straw, and make the "tile" sodden and heavy. The jockey cap, we are glad to say, never played a part in our experience. Then came the cricket cap, which was decidedly comfortable, but which looked hideous on the wearer when off a cycle, and diminished in size after a wetting or two. Now we have reached the Scotch travelling cap, or whatever it is called, with a soft brim or peak back and front, which pleases us mightily; for we think it comfortable, quite sensible looking enough for touring in, or when wearing trousers, and without many of the disadvantages enumerated above. We may be mistaken, but we think we have found the rational head gear at last. — News.

THE manager of the Coventry Machinists Company, writes us: "The Coventry Machinists Company, Ld., find that rumors are being circulated to the effect that they intend entirely withdrawing their United States agency. Such statements are unauthorized and inaccurate, and are calculated to do them considerable injury. They therefore wish to assure their numerous friends and customers that any fresh arrangements that may be entered into at the end of the season will be with a view of extending and increasing their trade in the States, and the numerous admirers of the club machines may rest assured that they will at all times be able to procure not only the latest patterns of these world-renowned wheels, but also any parts of them which may be required."

JUST before going to press, we received this telegram from the chairman of the Uniform Committee: "Expect full report from Uniform Committee next week. Cloth now in process of manufacture. Specially made for the League. Contract will be awarded for manufacture of suits by April 15. Orders for uniform will be received after April 20.

MR. AARON accepts the issue, and so far as he is concerned, we shall have no mail vote.

MARYLAND DIVISION.

A MEETING of the Maryland Division L. A. W. was held on Wednesday, March 23, '87, at the Maryland Bicycle Club, Baltimore.

The meeting was called to order at 8.30 P. M., with over one hundred members present.

Chief Consul Bartlett stated that the principal objects of the meeting were to nominate officers for the ensuing year, to map out the details of the annual division meet, and to consider the advisability of appointing an official organ for the Maryland division.

On motion, a committee consisting of the present Board of Officers, and one member from each club, was appointed to take charge of the division meet.

The following is the committee: Messrs. I. Kemp Bartlett, Jr., R. M. Lockwood, C. W. Abbott, S. T. Clark, W. L. Seabrook, G. F. Updegraff, H. W. Barrington, and H. E. Brown, of the Maryland Club; C. R. Eisenbrandt, of the Centaur Club; J. W. Eberman, of the Rambler Club; A. E. Mealy, of the Baltimore Club, and C. W. Zerkle, of the Alert Club.

On motion, a committee of three was appointed to consider the advisability of selecting a paper to be the official organ of the Maryland division, and to report at the next meeting. The chair appointed Messrs. R. M. Lockwood, C. F. LeCato, and W. T Norris on the committee.

On motion, a committee of five was appointed to make nominations for officers of the Maryland Division for the year 1887. After an intermission of ten minutes, the committee reported the following ticket: Chief Consul, J. Kemp Bartlett, Jr., of Baltimore; representatives, C. W. Abbott, of Baltimore; Geo. F. Updegraff, of Hagerstown; and W. L. Seabrook, of Westminster.

The secretary-treasurer was instructed to have ballots printed, and mailed to each member of the division. On motion, the meeting at 11.30 adjourned.

R. M. LOCKWOOD,
Sec.-Treas. Maryland Division.

INVITATION FROM OTTUMWA BICYCLE CLUB.

OTTUMWA, IOWA, March 28, 1887.

To the Members of the Iowa State Division:

I am requested by the Ottumwa Bicycle Club to extend to all Iowa members an invitation to join us on our trip to St. Louis, leaving Ottumwa Thursday, May 19, P. M., arrive in St. Louis, Friday, A M. All wheelmen contemplating going are requested to let us know as early as possible, previous to May 15, as we are securing rates, and accommodation for wheels. Fraternally yours,

J. A. PALLISTER,
Capt. Ottumwa Bicycle Club

P. S.—Cut this out and paste it in your hat for future reference.

CAPT. PECK, of the Massachusetts Club, was bitten by a dog last week while riding a Safety. He says he shall carry ammonia after this. He tried the virtue of throwing stones, but his aim was not good enough.

THE OWL.

TENNYSON tells us that "in the spring the young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love." That may have been the case forty years ago. Nowadays the average young man spends the time trying to discover whether he will be able to get a new wheel, or be forced to ride his old one for another season.

HE had just turned down the lamps on the tandem, so that the light might not prove annoying, and taking his seat upon the grass beside his fair companion, he said, "My precious sweet, life lingers to me as a petunia streaked with the glorious golden fretting of a soul which knoweth no love, so" —— "Oh, Henry," said she, "how you do smell of oil!" Moral: Don't make love and tend lamps simultaneously; one or the other is bound to be a failure.

THEY are going to bring out a new bicycle, called the "Boston." It is intended to meet a long-felt want on the part of that class who decry Sunday riding. It will be intended solely for riding during Lent. In honor of this and its name, it will be equipped with ball bearings of a "fish" pattern.

THE club cad thought that as his father, who had made a fortune out of tobacco, had a motto upon his carriage, that he too ought to have one upon his wheel, so he applied to the college member for some appropriate latin inscription, but he did not adopt the one the college man offered. It was quid rides. He thought it would be too personal when ignorant readers mistook it for English.

THERE ought to be laws enacted forthwith making any citizen holding or owning stock in any company whose affairs are regulated by Congress and Legislature, ineligible to these law-making bodies. Nor should a congressman or legislator be allowed to be retained as counsel in any lawsuits whatever. His time belongs to his constituents as a law-maker, not a lawyer. These remarks are called forth by the recent appearance of no less a person than the President of the State Senate of North Carolina, in the dual role of presiding officer of that body, and a "lobbiest" against the attempts of the bicyclers to get justice against the Wilmington and Coast Turnpike. When a president will vacate the chair of a State Senate to become a lobbiest and defender of corporate monopolies, with which he may be allied, it seems, indeed, time to cry halt.

DR. W. G. KENDALL, of Boston, is known throughout the United States wherever a camera or a cycle has an amateur proprietor. Probably no less famous is the doctor's bulldog Bess, a handsome creature, with the wickedest eyes that ever twinkled. When doctor and the fair Bess were yet but upon speaking terms he thought to immortalize her beauteous form and face in a photograph, as it is now the fashion to do with all famous beauties. Having tied Bess to the leg of an arm-chair, he adjusted the camera, arranged his curtains, and, with the cord which governs the instantaneous slide in his hand, he cast an admiring glance upon the now interested Bess, and prepared to complete the job. But he did n't. Incautiously, from sheer force of habit, he lifted his forefinger, and pointing it at Bess, was just going to tell her to keep her eyes fixed upon a sign on the wall which read, "Terms: cash," when the proceedings were rudely interrupted. Bess mistook this friendly caution for a gesture of defiance, and, snapping the cord that bound her to the chair leg, went for the doctor with all the impetuosity of a fighter, which her blue-blooded ancestory entitled her to claim. When the janitor had argued with the irate Bess with all the convincing logic contained in an iron poker, the doctor climbed down from the mantel, pinned up a rent in his knee breeches, and, limping to his desk, struck the word "dogs" from the list of subjects to be photographed in that atelier. Photographically, the canine no longer charms him. The most seductive pug that ever shed tears down the back of his own neck delights him not, and he greets the humbler members of the family, especially bulls, with the coldest disdain.

